RENAMED TO POST

Carleton E. Douglass

Silencing rumors of important changes among officials of the local school system for next year, the Newark Board of Education reappointed Carleton E. Douglass as superintendent for his fifth term. The action took place at the regular board meeting last Friday night.

Other appointments announced by the board included the renaming of M. James Parsons as assistant superintendent, and Mrs. Clara E. Cranston as secretary to the superintendent. Mr. Parsons came to Newark last year, while Mrs. Cranston is completing her third year in office.

SMYRNA GIRL WINS

Egg Essay Test Concludes With 200 Entered

Thirteen budding writers will meet in Governor R. C. McMullen's office in Dover, Friday afternoon, to receive awards they won for writing the best essays entered in the Delaware Poultry Association's recent essay contest on the subject "The Value of Eggs as Food."

Matilda F. Wisk, 18, whose home is south of Smyrna, will receive the first prize of $20. Miss Wisk is a sophomore in the Smyrna High School and a farm girl enrolled in the home economics classes.

Milton Girl Second

The second prize of $10 will go to Beatrice M. Wells, 17, of Milton. In addition she will receive 50 New Hampshire Red baby chicks for writing the best essay in the contest submitted by a 4-H Club member. Miss Wells is a post graduate student in the Milton High School and is the daughter of Harvey H. Wells. She is a member of the Milton 4-H Club.

A prize of $5 for writing the third best essay and 50 Barred Rock baby chicks for writing the best essay submitted by a member of the Future Farmers of America will be presented to Robert B. Walker, Jr., of Hockessin. Young Walker is a student in the Henry C. Conrad School and a member of the FFA Chapter in the school.

Stanton Lad Winner

One dollar prizes, for writing the 10 next best essays will be given to Betty Callaway, Harrington; Jane Scott, Houston; Thelma Duke, Greenwood; Earl Obier, Greenwood; Lester E. Cannon, Greenwood; Marion Watson, Harrington; Frances Simmons, Wilmington; Jane Nichols, Greenwood; Julian B. Collins, Townsend, and Duncan Boyce, Stanton.

According to Charles H. Conway, Greenwood, chairman of the egg publicity committee of the poultry association, who was in charge of the contest, more than 200 entries were received at his office. He said, however, that many home economics and vocational agriculture teachers eliminated several hundred essays before they could be sent in.

WOODLAND MEETING TUESDAY

Demonstration To Take Place At Danby Farm

Final arrangements have been made for the farm-woodland demonstration meeting to be held at the George Danby farm, Bear, at one o'clock Tuesday afternoon. The site of the meeting, which is located on the north side of U. S. Route 40, will be marked with signs.

The meeting and demonstration are being sponsored by the County Extension Service, in cooperation with the Delaware project of the Soil Conservation Service, U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Woodland Management

Demonstration of proper farm woodland management is the purpose of the session. Proper methods of marking, cutting, marketing, proper quantities to cut, and other woodland features will be discussed.

It will also be shown that the farm woodland should be considered as an important unit which, if properly managed, will actually aid in increasing the farm income.

County Agricultural Agent George M. Worrilow will be in charge of the session.

Objectives and Scope

Following introductory remarks by Mr. Worrilow, Richard S. Snyder, manager of the Delaware SCS Project, will outline the objectives and scope of the conservation program.

A tour of the farm woodland and discussion of its features will be conducted by L. Russell Albright, forester connected with the local SCS office.

Clarence S. Foster, chief warden, State Game and Fish Commission, will discuss wildlife and farm woodlands. A woodchopping contest will follow.

Description of the soil conservation program on the Danby farm will be given by Allen McClellan, conservationist connected with the Newark SCS headquarters.

Prizes Are Offered

Prizes will be awarded the winners in the woodchopping contest. These awards are being made by Jackson's Hardware Store, 90 East Main Street, and Thomas A. Potts, hardware, 44 East Main Street, Newark.

Axes for the contest will be furnished by the Soil Conservation Service, but the contestants may use their own if preferred. The public is invited to attend the affair.

Many Local Women To Attend Drexel Reunion

A number of women of this vicinity will attend the renunion luncheon for women who were undergraudates at Drexel Institute of Technology 25 or more years ago, and faculty members of that period which will be held on Saturday, March 19, at 1:00 p.m., at the Penn Athletic Club, Philadelphia.

Dr. Parke R. Kolbe, president of Drexel, will make the principal address of the occasion, bringing to the guests the news of Drexel of today. The toastmistress, Miss Mary Farr, librarian of the South Philadelphia High School for Girls, will present the deans of the four schools of the college, as follows: Dean Grace Godfrey, school of home economics; Dean Marie Hamilton Law, school of library science; Dean W. Ralph Wagenseller, school of business administration, and Dean R. C. Disque, school of engineering.

Harriet E. Worrell, alumni secretary is chairman of the luncheon committee, which includes Alice A. Johnson, Jennie Collingwood and Mary Farr.

Three-Act Comedy To Be Given In Newark Church

A three-act comedy, "Sis Perkins," will be presented in the social hall of the Newark M. E. Church by the dramatic club of the Red Lion Church on Tuesday evening, April 5 at 8:15 o'clock. The play is being presented under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society.

TENTATIVE PROGRAM ARRANGED

Former U. S. Judge Morris To Be Main Speaker

A tentative program has been arranged for the celebration of the 300th anniversary of the beginnings of Delaware, which will be held in Mitchell Hall, University of Delaware, on Tuesday, March 29.

Former U. S. Senator Thomas F. Bayard will preside over the affair. Following greetings from Governor Richard C. McMullen and from the Swedish minister, brief addresses on "The Development of the State" will be given by Walter Dent Smith, Charles W. Bush, Charles W. Clash, W. C. Newton and Francis A. Cooch. Former U. S. Judge Hugh M. Morris will deliver the main talk of the evening. At the organ, Firmin Swinnen will play the national airs of Sweden and America.

Tentative Program

The tentative program is as follows: invocation, Rev. Oliver J. Collins; "America," the audience; greetings by Gov. McMullen; greetings from the governor of Sweden by the envoy, extraordinary and plenipotentiary of Sweden; "Development of the State of Delaware since 1638"—Walter Dent Smith, government; Charles W. Bush, education; Charles W. Clash, religion; W. C. Newton, agriculture; Francis A. Cooch, commerce and industry; organ medley of Swedish airs by Mr. Swinnen; "The Beginnings of Delaware," Hugh M. Morris; Swedish national anthem and "Star Spangled Banner" by Mr. Swinnen; benediction, Rev. Joseph C. Wood.

Work Started On Road; Cooch Land Is Valuable

Work was started Monday morning on construction of the concrete highway from Glasgow to Newark under direction of the State Highway Department.

Vincent Schiavi, Wilmington contractor, is building the new road over the 4.11-mile stretch.

Lieut.-Governor Edward W. Cooch is asking for $34,790 damages to his property for the land to be taken by the state for the construction of the new highway. His claim was filed at a hearing of a condemnation commission Monday in the Public Building, Wilmington. The State Highway Commission contends the amount is excessive.

The commission completed hearing testimony Monday and will announce its rewards later. An 80-foot width is being taken for the new section of the road.

1938 FARM ACT TO BE DISCUSSED

Educational Series Plans Announced

The new 1938 Farm Act and Agricultural Conservation Program will be discussed at a series of educational meetings scheduled throughout New Castle County next week.

The purpose of the meetings, according to E. H. Shallcross, of Middletown, president of the New Castle Agricultural Conservation Association, is to acquaint those interested in agriculture with the details of the program as far as compliance is concerned, and with the financial benefits farmers may derive by participating in the program.

Participation Increase

County Agricultural Agent George M. Worrilow, secretary of the association, points out that farmer participation in the program has been increased 300 per cent over the old crop control programs, and that generally the farmers have received what they expected in the way of benefit payments.

In some instances, however, farmers who thought they were fully complying with the program were disappointed when their payments were not as great as they had anticipated, due mainly to the fact that they did not fully understand the provisions of the program.

The main purpose of these educational meetings is to avoid a recurrence of this condition by fully explaining each phase of the program.

Schedule Is Drawn

R. O. Stelzer, extension economist and state executive officer for the AAA; County Committeemen E. H. Shallcross, Middletown, H. B. McDowell, Jr., Middletown, and George K. Ball, Marshallton; community committeemen, and County Agent Worrilow will aid in the explanation of the program at the following meetings: Tuesday, Wolf Hall, Newark; Wednesday, State Road Chapel, State Road; Thursday, Fire Hall, Middletown; Friday, Public School, Townsend. All meetings are set for 7:30 P. M.

All farm landlords, tenants, and operators are invited to attend any of these meetings.

NEW FARM MEASURE IS DRAWN

Designed To Aid Consumers, Says Taylor

An analysis of the new farm act recently passed by Congress indicates that it gives American consumers more certainty of continuously abundant food supplies than they ever have had before, according to C. Arthur Taylor, Harrington, president of the state committee on the agricultural Conservation program.

To safeguard consumers, the act encourages continuous storage of additional reserves of wheat and corn.

Wheat and corn are the principal grains on which consumers depend for food-wheat for bread, cereals, and to some extent for livestock and poultry feed; and corn mainly for fattening meat animals.

Marketing Quotas Set

After the storage requirements are filled the act provides for marketing quotas by which producers can move to prevent excess marketing of corn and wheat. Before any quota becomes effective it must be approved by two-thirds of the farmers voting in a quota referendum.

For wheat, the normal carryover is set at about 100 million bushels; acreage allotments under the program will aim at production which allows for over 200 million bushels in storage. Marketing quotas could not go into effect until supplies were 250 million bushels over the average consumption and expert figure.

For corn, a normal carryover is approximately 180 million bushels; acreage allotments under the program will aim at production which allows for approximately 350 million bushels in storage; marketing quotas could not go into effect until approximately 440 million bushels would be available for storage.

Adequate Supply First

The act provides that marketing quotas are to become effective only after accumulations of cotton, tobacco, and rice have exceeded an adequate supply.

The act specifically directs that the powers conferred "shall not be used to discourage the production

Legion Safety Rally At High School Tuesday

Prominent New York Leader Listed As Principal Speaker

Sponsored by the J. Allison O'Daniel Post, No. 10, American Legion, a safety rally, promising to disclose significant information for everyone in the community, will be held in Newark High School Tuesday night at 7:45 o'clock.

Through the cooperation of the Delaware Safety Council, the services of an outstanding speaker have been enlisted in the person of John J. Hall, representing the National Conservatoion Bureau of New York.

Mr. Hall has a wide background of experience in the traffic safety field and has long been a leader in nationwide efforts to promote safety control.

Urges Uniform Laws

In his activities as a member of the National Conservation Bureau's staff, he has worked with state motor vehicle administrators and other public officials throughout the country on such projects as uniform traffic laws and regulations, community traffic programs, and the promotion of good driving movements in high schools. He was an early participant in the development of plans and techniques for official inspection of motor vehicles.

Mr. Hall has organized educational street and highway programs utilizing the radio, motion pictures, billboards, and newspapers, and engaging the participation of public officials and the national motor, tire, and oil industries. He is widely known as a speaker on street and highway safety.

Organized Veterans' Program

An active member of the American Legion, Mr. Hall has played a prominent part in organizing the veterans' traffic safety program. He shared responsibility for the writing and publishing of the Legion's traffic safety handbook, "The American Legion and Traffic Accident Problem."

He is chairman of the safety committee of the New York State Department of the Legion, and is commander of the Advertising Men's Post in New York City.

As a special feature of the program, a safety pageant will be presented by students of Newark Public Schools. Two motion pictures, showing the latest safety activities in the motion picture industry, will be presented. Members of the Newark Board of Education, the high school faculty and orchestra are cooperating with the Legion in presenting the program.

Governor Is Invited

Among those scheduled to participate are: Governor Richard C. McMullen, Lieut-Governor Edward W. Cooch, Department Commander Daniel Conant and his staff of American Legion state officers, and Walter Dent Smith, president-manager of the Delaware Safety Council.

Mayor Frank Collins and members of the Council of Newark, leaders of community organizations, local and state police representatives are participating in the rally.

As safety activities are among the prominent community service programs of the American Legion, commanders and safety representatives of all posts in Delaware are expected to attend.

The committee in charge of the affair is: W. Floyd Jackson, vice president of the Delaware Safety Council, chairman; Clarence H. Hopkins, John R. Fader, superintendent of state police, and James Q. Smith.

Thompson Takes Post With Newark Lumber Co.

James H. Thompson, son of Magistrate Daniel Thompson, 34 West Main Street, who has been working for the Peoples Gas Co., Pitman, N. J., since 1936, has accepted a position with the Newark Lumber Company.

Mr. Thompson took over his new duties in the sales and service division of the building supply concern on Monday.

Eight Newark Students On Delaware Honor Roll

Eight graduates of Newark High School have been placed on Dean George E. Dutton's honor roll report, which was released last week.

There are 98 men on the list with an average of B or better. Two students, Reid F. Stearns, Newark, a sophomore, and Carroll E. Cox, Kennett Square, Pa., a senior, had perfect records for the first semester.

In addition to Stearns, Newark boys on the report are: James R. Hutchison, Leo J. Laskaris, R. Hoffman, H. R. Hushebeck, J. C. Robinson, R. R. Roberts, and A. C. Huston.

FOOD SHOW AT ARMORY PROVES SUCCESS

Extended Extra Day As Bad Weather Forces Continuation

Attractively decorated booths, displays, and door prizes offered at frequent intervals throughout the affair served to attract some 10,000 people to the merchandising and food show held in the Newark Armory on Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Monday.

Sponsored jointly by the Newark Chamber of Commerce and Battery "E," Delaware National Guard, the show was the first of its kind to be staged in this locality in several years and judging by the success whch it enjoyed, the event is expected to become an annual one.

Extended One Day

Originally scheduled to be held from Thursday afternoon to Saturday night a heavy snowfall on the opening day forced continuation of the exhibit to Monday evening.

Holding the balcony spotlight was the Newark Public Schools exhibit which consisted of displays by the Newark Chapter of Future Farmers of America, the home economics department, industrial arts group, and paintings, drawings and crayon work done in the art classes.

The following students displayed their work in the exhibit: drawings, Vivian Zimmers, Catherine Lucas, Raymond Chalmers, Grace Grant, Jackson Levis, Jean Collins, Evert Brown, James Davis, Patsy Park, Christina Laskaris, Herman Gray, and Elizabeth Brown, all of grade eight; Walter Keith, William McLaughlin, Carl Nelson, Robert Geesman all of grade seven and Elizabeth Zabenco and Jane Blake of grade nine; notebook cover designs, Lois Detjen, Jane Blake William Merrick, Evelyn Correll, all of grade nine; Robert Arnold, Mary Dean, of grade ten; Paul Schorah, John Rose, grade eight; Marie J. Reeside, William Gray, Eleanor Grundy and William Burnett, all of grade seven.

Water color work, William Burnett, Nancy Cooch, Michel Brinton, Marjorie Dougherty, Clifford Lee, Paul Virdin, Ruth Hitchens, Dorothy Jordan, Levina Donovan, Edson Detzen, and John Botluk, all of grade seven; poster work, Florence Cranston, and Herbert Slack, grade eight.

Industrial art work was displayed by Albert McCall, Everett Brown, Daniel Reed, Raymond Foraker, George Thornton, Charles Leisure, and Robert Wollaston, of grade seven; Paul Schorak, Paul Cochran, Robert Loeffel, Kennard Harris, and John Tierney, grade eight; Conrad Lewis, Stephen Gilligan, James Hicks, James Kelly, Robert Morrison, Joseph Moore, and Albert Aiken, grade nine; Warren Eastburn, Lewis Godwin, Joseph Gaylor, Clement Lenhoff, James Moore, Kennard Harris, and Thompson Eastburn, grade ten; Norval Robinson, and Gilbert Moore, grade eleven, and Albert Gregson, grade twelve.

Weaving Exhibits

Designs carved on wood were displayed by Evelyn Correll, and William Merrick, grade nine and Patricia Wilson, grade ten.

Exhibits of weaving were placed on display by Charles Reed, Robert Buckingham, Robert Loeffel, and John Rose, grade eight; Lillian Beeson, grade nine and Alice Douglass, and Fred Ingham, grade ten.

Exhibitors from the New London Avenue School were: drawings, Phylis Quacks, Arthur Wright, Joseph Saunders, Glona Hacket, Sara Watson, Sara Pennelton, William Lewis, and Joseph Saunders; carvings, Alexis Congo, and James Conkey.

Nineteen business men and concerns displayed their products and distributed samples and souvenirs to the visitors. The 40-piece Newark High School band, under the direction of Lester Bucher, instructor in music, drew a large crowd each evening from 8:30 until 9:15.

Another chief attraction was the Delaware Power and Light Company's cooking school which was conducted every afternoon by Mrs. Mary V. Gambeau, home service director.

Salesmen representing products displayed by local merchants were:

County 4-H Club Members Exchange Letters With Students In Sweden

The forthcoming tercentenary anniversary of the landing of the Swedes in Delaware is developing some interesting angles regarding contacts between Sweden and the United States, according to Miss Laura B. Rutherford, 4-H Club leader in New Castle County.

Under Miss Rutherford's direction, members of the local organization have made personal contacts with students in Sweden and considerable correspondence is being exchanged across the Atlantic as an outcome.

Donald Eastburn, a seventh grade student in the Christiana-Salem School, is among the group of New Castle County pupils writing to students in Sweden. His correspondence is being carried on with a young lady, Sigrid Ekbom, of Westeras, who shows a good command of English.

Located Near Stockholm

One of Miss Ekbom's recent letters follows:

"I have got your address from my teacher in English language and I will try to write some lines to you and hope you will get an opportunity to give me an answer!

My name is Sigrid Ekbom and I'm studying at the college in Westeras. Westeras is a town in the middle of Sweden, about 60 miles from Sweden's capital, Stockholm.

County Achievement Day Is Set For Home Demonstration Clubs

The New Castle County Home Demonstration Club will celebrate the tenth anniversary of its County Achievement Day next Thursday in the Newark M. E. Church. The home demonstration council, headed by Mrs. John Tally, of Talleyville, has planned a well rounded program for the day.

Reports by clubs and committeewomen will occupy the morning program. Achievements in homemaking during the past year and an exhibition of candlewick spreads will take place.

Address Is Listed

The first speaker of the afternoon will be Mrs. Elva S. Bonahan, of the Rural Electrification Administration, Washington, who will offer suggestions concerning the use of electricity in the home.

Following Mrs. Bonahan, Mrs. Thomas Ledig, who has resided in Peru for a great number of years, will speak on living conditions in the Andes.

Mrs. Ledig will wear a native Peruvian costume and will exhibit handicraft and relics of the ancient tribe of Incas.

Mrs. Kate Henley Daugherty, county home demonstration agent in charge of the work, anticipates an attendance of 300 or 400 women for the program. The meetings are open to the public.

Luncheon will be served from noon until one o'clock by the Ladies' Aid of the church.

KEEPING THE BODY STRONG

LESSON TEXT—Mark 6:53-56; Judg. 13:12-14; 1 Cor. 3:16,17; Rom. 12:1,2.

GOLDEN TEXT—Now therefore beware, I pray thee, and drink not wine nor strong drink, and eat not any unclean thing.—Judges 13:4.

PRIMARY TOPIC—The Body God Gave Us.

JUNIOR TOPIC—For Jesus' Sake.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—What Liquor, Drugs, and Tobacco Do to Health.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—How Intemperance Affects Health.

The universe of God is perfectly organized in every respect. Beings that function in the spirit realm are spirit beings, not subject to the limitations of the physical world. We who dwell and serve in the physical world are equipped with physical bodies which are ideal instruments for our present existence.

With all their shortcomings and frailties, however, our bodies are indeed marvelous machines, intricate and delicate, yet unbelievably hardy and durable. They are a gift from God, and it is our express responsibility to glorify God in our bodies (I Cor. 6:20). This means that we must do everything in our power to make our bodies well if they are sick, to keep them well, and to use them for God. No follower of Christ can either carelessly or willfully do that which may or will injure or lessen the efficiency of his body.

I. How to Have a Strong Body.

It is obvious that not every one has equal physical strength and health. In some measure this is by divine providence or at least by God's permissive will, and those of us who find ourselves thus limited do well to count on his grace for patience to use what we have for His glory. But not one of us wants to yield hopelessly to our inability. Rather we will do our best to overcome it. We want to know

1. How to cure weakness (Mark 6:53-56).

God alone can heal the sick. Even in our day when science has made such strides in the healing art, we note that the most successful remedy or system of treatment is the one that clears the way for what men call nature, but we know to be God, to work. Jesus healed the multitudes in the land of Gennesaret; He heals in America.

2. How to prevent weakness (Judg. 13:12-14).

The mother of Samson, who was to be a Nazarite, was to drink no wine and to observe careful dietary regulations before he was born. That is the time to prevent weakness in the body of a man, before he is born. One wonders what is to be the harvest in our modern times with liquor-drinking, cigarette-smoking mothers as well as fathers. The next generation is starting out with a serious handicap.

Note also that if it is bad for a man to have such poisons in his veins before he is born, surely it is poor judgment to put them in after he comes to the age where he controls his own life. We need to watch our diets, and we have much valuable help on that point. We also need to give serious attention to the use of narcotics. It may surprise some to know that the term narcotics includes not only drugs and alcoholic beverages, but also tobacco, and such common things as tea and coffee.

Other abuse of the body, such as overwork, neglect of rest, etc., may well be mentioned. The besetting sin of some Christian workers is the destruction of their bodies, the very temple of the Holy Ghost, by overwork.

II. How to Use a Strong Body.

Unfortunate as it is to observe that some who would serve the Lord have to struggle with the weakness of the body, it is far sadder to note that all too often those who have strong bodies forget to use that strength for God. Our Scripture portions give us two excellent guiding principles. Our bodies should be

1. Kept for God (I Cor. 3:16, 17).

These verses refer to the body of the Christian, for only of him can it be said that his body is the temple of the Holy Ghost.

The Holy Spirit is a person, the third person of the blessed Trinity. He comes to dwell within the soul of the Christian immediately upon his being regenerated, thus making his body the temple of the Holy Ghost. A clear grasp of that truth solves the problem of what we should do with and for our bodies. We must keep them well and clean. We dare not defile them in any way. The body of the Christian is kept for God.

2. Yielded to God (Rom. 12:1, 2).

It is a high and noble sacrifice to die for Christ.

But our call just now is to be a "living sacrifice." There are times when that may seem harder than to be a martyr. We do know that it is not always easy to live through the drab, difficult, and sometimes dreadful days, with a clear and shining testimony for Christ. But it can be done and is always to His glory. It is by the transforming grace of God that we are enabled to live such a life.

International law formerly recognized a "Letter of Marque," which was a document given by the Naval authorities to the owner of a ship during war time. This granted him the authority to attack merchantmen of an enemy nation. Ships receiving such orders were known as "privateers."

Gebhardt Baking Co. Wholesaler of Best

Strictly wholesale, Gebhardt Baking Company, of North Broad Street, Middletown, serves stores, hotels, restaurants, institutions and other important centers with the finest of products.

Max E. Gebhardt founded the enterprise at Lewes, Delaware, 37 years ago and has maintained the present location for the past 11 years. He has a vast experience in this field and is known as one who adheres to the highest quality standards. This plant is modern, sanitary and equipped in the entirety.

Only the purest of ingredients are used in the making of the full line of baked products sold. There are 12 employes engaged in furthering the services under the personal direction of the proprietor. Five trucks cover the territory from Dover to Wilmington, bringing the wholesale bakery products fresh daily. These products are in wide demand for their delicious appeal.

Samuel Sonaio, Tailor Makes Fine Clothing

Possessing an invaluable background of a lifetime's experience as a first class tailor, Samuel Sonaio, 610 West Eighth Street, Wilmington, specializes in the making of distinctively-styled new clothes.

Mr. Sonaio personally completes the entire details of the work and is known as one who is skilled in achieving outstanding creations. He has a full line of materials from which the customer may select the proper pattern to suit the individual preference and taste. Particular attention is given to specific desires in order to make the finished work entirely satisfactory.

Alterations are handled in the varied phases with the same high calibre workmanship. A large and increasing patronage finds the service ideal for personal clothing requirements. Present location has been maintained since 1919.

Workmanship Excells At Camp's Cleaners

Gaining in scope, services and patronage during the year in which it has occupied the present modern quarters at 408 North Union Street, Wilmington, Camp's Cleaners has attracted the favor of all who appreciate first-quality workmanship. FLAYS NEW DEAL

Senator John G. Townsend, Jr.

Branding President Roosevelt's new economic philosophy a failure, Senator Townsend, Delaware's senior member of the Upper House, urged the Senate to defeat the government reorganization bill last week.

Putting the full responsibility for the nation's economic situation directly upon President Roosevelt, Senator Townsend pleaded with his colleagues not to give the President the powers sought in the measure.

GOVERNM'T ISSUES WARNING

"Civil Service Schools" Are Misleading

The United States Civil Service Commission issued the following statement on March 8:

"The public should not be satisfied by promises of Government positions by so-called civil-service schools, their agents or their advertisements. No school is able to fulfill any such promises. The public is also warned against schools or agents that would lead one to believe that they represent the Government or are connected with the Government in any way, or that give assurance of success in passing civil-service examinations on the completion of their courses.

"Extravagant claims of this type are bringing some such schools under Government investigation. Recently the Post Office Department issued fraud orders against a number of these schools denying them further use of the mails after evidence had been submitted that they had used the mails to defraud. In one of these cases prosecuted by the Government, the promoters of the school were later tried in criminal court and given jail sentences. The Federal Trade Commission also investigates complaints.

Aim To Protect

"The aim of the Government is to protect the public against misrepresentation by any of these schools. It is of course impossible for the Government to secure or aid in securing the refund of money paid into the schools. The public is therefore urged to heed this warning and to cooperate with the Government by making inquiry in every case concerning such claims by civil-service schools or agents before enrolling for courses.

"Caution is particularly made against claims by schools that their courses are required in order to take the examinations of the U. S. Civil Service Comission; that they are given advance information regarding civil-service examinations; that they have influence with the Federal Government to procure employment for applicants; that they can secure special advantages for those taking their courses; that they have been authorized by the Federal Government to give examinations. Such claims are false.

Information Available

"Anyone can obtain civil-service information free from the Secretary of the U. S. Civil Service Board at any first or second-class post office or from the office of the U. S. Civil Service Commission at Washington, D. C.

"Upon request, the Commission will place a person's name upon a mailing list to send him notice, without cost, of the next examination held for any particular position in which he is interested. The Commission will furnish upon request sample announcements of any examination."

Minnehaha Tribe Degree Team Visits Philadelphia

The degree team of Minnehaha Tribe No. 23, I.O.R.M. visited Philadelphia on Saturday night and conferred the all-American degree on a class of 1,000 at the Mercantile Building, Broad and Master Streets, before a capacity audience. Prior to the meeting, the team participated in a short parade.

On Wednesday, March 30, the team will confer the degre on a class at Lenape Tribe No. 6, Wilmington.

Awaiting "Buzz"

The time for the Yelow Jacket Buzz is now nearing its goal and it is just loaded with interesting articles filled with the idea of spring and Easter. The basketball squad and Senior play cast photographs are included in this issue. On March 21st it is supposed to come out and we hope it is as good as, and, if possible, better than the last one.

The "Citanard" dramatics club, under the direction of Mr. Kern, presented the last assembly in a series that are being given as a contest. The best play will be chosen from this group and some reward will be given the winner. "Squaring It With the Boss" was a humorous playlet in which everyone was angry near the end until one fact was brought out, making a fairy tale ending.

Miss Stauter is scheduled to give the next production in this contest.

Honor Society

The Junior Honor Society has arranged a tentative schedule for the rest of the year in preparation for the coming meetings. The officers are: president, Dorothy Daugherty; vice-president, Mary Alice Hancock; secretary, Jane Eissner; treasurer, Jean Runk. The last meeting, on Tuesday, consisted of a spelling bee.

Winning in a tie for first place, are the faculty and varsity teams, in the basketball tournament held recently. This eliminates the varsity and All-Stars, and the final winner will be decided in a later game.

Honor Roll

Second Roll

Bake Planned

On Wednesday, March 16, the new F. F. A. members will be initiated and on March 18 and 19 another bake will be held.

In the exhibit in the Armory last week the art, home economics and industrial arts projects were shown.

In Miss Bierney's art class during activities many different projects are carried on—weaving, fashion designing, picture mounting, transportation and World's Fair posters, carving, lettering, basket-weaving, and clay work.

Presbyterian Stalwarts "Revived" For Assembly

150th Session Scheduled For Philadelphia May 26

Presbyterian stalwarts of a century and a half ago will walk again when the general assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A. meets for its 150th session in Philadelphia next May.

Their descendants in the church of today will re-enact the principal episodes of that historic assembly in a dramatic pageant to be given the opening night of the 150th general assembly, Thursday, May 26, on the great stage in thePhiladelphia Municipal Convention Hall.

On that stage will be presented the Rev. John Witherspoon, moderator of the first general assembly, and president of the College of New Jersey, later Princeton University.

Also portrayed will be the Rev. Dr. John Rodgers, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of New York at that time; the Rev. Dr. George Duffield, pastor of Third Presbyterian Church, Philadelphia, and chaplain of the first Continental Congress, and Dr. John Ewing, provost of the University of Pennsylvania and pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Philadelphia.

Other leading figures of the first general assembly who will live again are the Rev. James Sproat, pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church of Philadelphia; Dr. Samuel Stanhope Smith, vice-president of the College of New Jersey; Dr. Alexander McWhorter, of the First Presbyterian Church, Newark, N. J., the pulpit now occupied by the Rev. Dr. William Hiram Foulkes, present moderator of the general assembly; Dr. Patrick Allison, of the First Presbyterian Church, Baltimore, and Dr. Robert Smith, of the historic church then at Pequea, near Lancaster, Pa., and father of Dr. Samuel Stanhope Smith. Both father and son lived to be moderators of later general assemblies.

Each of the 34 commissioners to the original general assembly—23 ministers and 11 elders—will have parts in the pageant which is but one of the special commemorative events planned by the four Presbyteries in Philadelphia and vicinity which will be hosts to 150th general assembly.

Author of the pageant is the Rev. Dr. Thomas Clinton Pears, Jr., manager of the department of history of the Presbyterian general assembly office, and secretary of the Presbyterian Historical Society. The society with its rich library is located in Philadelphia. Jae Van Arden has been engaged to direct the pageant.

Although the only actual records of the first general assembly available are the minutes of its six days of deliberations, Dr. Pears has made an extensive study of contemporary documents. With these as a basis, he has reconstructed some of the speeches delivered from the assembly floor.

Even the prayers offered during the sessions will be repated. For that purpose Dr. Pears will use the draft of a Book of Worship offered by Witherspoon and others to their own synod several years before, but which was not adopted.

The full text of a letter of congratulations and good wishes addressed to General Washington as first President of the United States will also be read. Washington was inaugurated only a few months before the first general asembly convened. A forceful suggestion of the intense revolutionary feeling which still prevailed will be found in the assembly's endorsement of the "Collins" Bible. This Bible, printed in this country, was recommended because the usual dedication to King James was omitted.

Critics too, will have their place in the pageant. The Rev. Adam Rankin, commissioner from Kentucky to the first general assembly, will again denounce the Rouse version of the Psalter as too worldly. Rankin failed to convince his colleagues, however, and was later convicted by his own synod as a troublemaker.

Selection of the cast for the pageant is in charge of the Rev. Dr. W. Sherman Skinner, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Germantown, Pa.

The original commissioners will be played by commissioners and other members of the 150th general assembly who most resemble them. Costumes of the period will be faithfully reproduced. Every detail will be carried out with the utmost historic accuracy. The pageant will be set in a typical church of the time with white box pews and the traditional "wine glass" pulpit. No picture or description of the old Second Presbyterian Church in which the first assembly met is extant. A prologue enacted before a great curtain picturing the street scene about the historic church will precede the pageant.

Demonstration Club Members Revive Custom

Home Demonstration Club members of New Castle County are reviving the Colonial custom of making candlewick bed spreads as a part of their home furnishing demonstration. Mrs. Kate Henley Daugherty, county agent, is teaching this work through her clubs.

Two hundred candlewick bed spreads have been started in the county since February 1, says Mrs. Daugherty, a number of which have been finished and will be displayed at the County Home Demonstration Achievement Program in Newark on March 24.

The women are seeing to it, too, that the spreads they make are plenty wide and long enough to cover the modern beds with box springs and innerspring mattresses. None have been made less than 114 inches long, states Mrs. Daugherty.

Candlewick spread-making is easy and fascinating as well as profitable, continued Mrs. Daugherty. They are inexpensive to make and easy to launder as they require no ironing, the crinkled appearance being an earmark of its Colonial ancestry.

An enlisted man in the United States Navy between 16 and 20 is eligible to take exams for admission to the U. S. Naval Academy.

The Standard Tudor Sedan

The Ford effort to make your dollars buy a constantly better car is well illustrated in the Standard Ford V-8.

It has all the basic Ford advantages. It is built on the same chassis as the De Luxe Ford V-8. It gives you a choice of smooth 85-horsepower or 60-horsepower V-8 engines. But it sells at low prices, and includes bumpers, spare tire, cigar lighter, twin horns and other equipment that make it a still bigger bargain.

With the thrifty 60-horsepower engine, the Standard Ford V-8 is priced especially low and gives the greatest gas mileage in Ford history. Hundreds of owners report averages of 22 to 27 miles a gallon—or even more.

Your pocketbook will approve of the Standard Ford in every way. And so will you when you drive it!

AFFAIR MERITS CONGRATULATIONS

Newark's revived and up-and-coming Chamber of Commerce can feel proud of its accomplishment in staging a spectacle such as the Merchandising Show and Food Exhibit that took place at the State Armory last week-end.

The fact that more than 10,000 people, according to official figures, visited the affair is an indication in itself that surprising interest was created. Exhibitors have indicated their satisfaction with the show as a whole by filing requests for another affair next year.

An overnight venture, so to speak, the show proved a success through the untiring efforts of the Chamber of Commerce's President George F. Jackson, Captain H. Wallace Cook, commanding officer of Battery E, 198th C. A. C., A. A., D. N. G., co-sponsor of the project, and the wholesome cooperation of Newark and Delaware busines concerns.

Affairs of the kind are not only of benefit to the town itself, but they show a surprising amount of return for a community as a whole.

There is ample reason for those who made the show possible to take pride in that which has been accomplished.

SAFETY IS AN IMPORTANT MATTER

While the majority of people are inclined to dismiss efforts to spread safety education with a mere shrug of the shoulders and a terse, "It can't happen to me," the idea is an important one. More than that it involves people of all classes.

Regarded in many quarters as propaganda spread by insurance companies in attempts to reduce payments for claims, safety, on the other hand, is an important and vital factor in the advancement of this very Nation.

A vivid demonstration of its worth and importance will be brought to Newark next Tuesday night when leading authorities will appear on the program being sponsored by the J. Allison O'Daniel Post of the American Legion in the high school auditorium.

Newark, like every center, cannot afford to slight the question of safety. Every resident of the vicinity should attend the meeting next week to learn what it's all about.

REAL AMERICAN MUSIC

What is real American music? Is it Gershwin or Grofe? Tin Pan Alley or Torch. A recent survey among artists and orchestra leaders brought forth some surprising and conflicting answers, of which we quote only a few:

Ted Weems, who leads the band for Fibber McGee and Molly's broadcasts, thinks swing music typifies the American spirit more than any other kind, naming tunes like "Stompin' at the Savoy" and "The Merry Go Round Breaks Down."

That's just Ted's opinion, with which many heartily disagree, including Eric Sagerquist, musical director for the First Nighter program, who says: "Real American music is sweet music, like Grofe's 'Grand Canyon Suite' or Gershwin's 'Porgy and Bess' score. Swing music may be all right, but you won't hear much of it on our program. If we stomp at the Savoy, we'll do it in rubber sneakers, and if the merry go round breaks down, it'll break gently. In my opinion real American music has lots of rhythm but no razz-ma-tazz; it's melodic but not mounrful; it's sweet but not hot!"

But Captain Baker, star of the Hollywood in Person program, disagrees with both, and votes for mountain music, which he calls sidelights on life, whose songs are fact, not fiction—folk music, pure and simple.

Bruce Kamman, former cornet player for John Wanamaker's Boys' band, now playing the role of Professor Kaltenmeyer in the Kaltenmeyer Kindergarten program, perhaps has the right answer.

"It's band music," he said, "The Stars and Stripes Forever."

AN EDTIOR'S DILEMMA

North Carolina's libel laws seem reasonable enough, as it is said that a newspaper may clear itself of liability if it retracts offending statements within a reasonable time. But it appears that in a case which has recently arisen a retraction would only make matters worse.

Commenting on the candidacy of F. D. Grist for the United States Senate, the Greensboro News said the gentlemen would make "an elegant dog-catcher." Mr. Grist demands a retraction of the statement, which was highly offensive to him.

The editor seems willing to do the right thing, but points out that retracting would imply that the gentleman would not make an elegant dog-catcher; in other words, was not fit to be a dog-catcher. And the News admits that "there is nothing whatever in the public record of this distinguished citizen that would warrant such a conclusion."

So, at last report the News was standing by its original statement, refusing to retract, and declaring "it will stand a law-suit first."

STATE THEATRE BRIEFS

Friday

One of the greatest casts ever brought together for a motion picture appears in Cecil B. DeMille's epic production of America's struggle for survival during the War of 1812, "The Buccaneer." Fredric March, the lead, portrays one of the most colorful and important, but least known, characters of American history, Jean Lafitte, the pirate king of the early nineteenth century who held the entire Caribbean in his grasp. DeMille's glamorous importation from the stage and screen of Budapest, Franciska Gaal, makes her debut in American pictures as March's leading lady. She plays the part of a Dutch girl, "Gretchen," whose wide-eyed charm and innocent loveliness turn Lafitte from an out-law into the hero of New Orleans. The seasoned character actor who came to Hollywood from the Moscow Art Theatres and won world fame as the general in "The General Died at Dawn," Akim Tamiroff, is seen as Lafitte's steadfast lieutenant. In addition to the stars named many other stars including Walter Brennan, Ian Keith and Hugh Sothern, a direct descendant of General Jackson, appear in the film.

Fredric March

The management of the State Theatre announced—"Due to the length of this great production there will be no added Western on Saturday.

Monday and Tuesday

New York in its most glittering and romantic mood, the mood of the Gay Nineties and the Naughty Hundreds, the period that saw "Diamond Jim" Brady, "Jubilee Jim" Fiske and other bon vivants at their gayest, is the background of curvaceous Mae West in her new film comedy, "Every Day's A Holiday." Set at the turn of the century, Miss West's latest adventure is the story of a girl with a penchant for selling the Brooklyn Bridge to unsuspecting strangers, an idiocyncracy which gets her into difficulties with the police, particularly Edmund Lowe, a detective. Lowe is assigned to the task of "bringing in" the elusive Miss West, a job which is not an easy one for him since he happens to be in love with her. A cast of brilliant players support Miss West and Mr. Lowe, they are: Walter Catlett, Charles Butterworth, Charles Winninger, Lloyd Nolan, Herman Bing, Chester Conklin and Louis Armstrong and his band. "Every Day's A Holiday" is from the original story by Miss West herself and was produced by Emanuel Cohen.

Wednesday and Thursday

What happens when a timid young banker goes to Hollywood to take over a $10,000,000 motion picture studio and tries to run it by the science of mathematics is hilariously depicted in "Stand-in," the Walter Wanger comedy starring Leslie Howard and Joan Blondell. This merry Gene Towne-Graham Baker screen version of the Clarence Budington Kelland Saturday Evening Post story kids Hollywood as it's never been kidded before and shows the cinema city as the fantastic place the world has come to believe it is. Howard has his gayest role as Atterbury Dodd, the banker, and Miss Blondell is cast in the title role of Lester "Sugar" Plum, the stand-in who helps him over the Hollywood hurdles and flies in the face of fictional Hollywood tradition by staying a stand-in and not soaring to stardom. All the familiar figures of Hollywood-as-the-world-thinks-it-is parade across the screen. There's the genius producer played by Humphrey Bogart, the fabulous foreign director, in the person of Alan Mowbray and many others to make up the background of this picture which gives you the low-down of the city filmland.

WASHINGTON NEWS

FROM OUR CONGRESSMAN
WILLIAM F. ALLEN

I HAVE RECEIVED—many inquiries concerning the so-called fuel oil bill, introduced by Rep. Boland of Pa. This bill has not been considered by the committee before which it is pending. However, it amendment was proposed to the tax bill yesterday which would have had the same effect as the passage of the bill. This amendment was voted down and I am inclined to believe this matter will be before Congress again at this session.

FEDERAL LICENSING OF CORPORATIONS—The Senate Committee on Judiciary held hearings on the Borah-O'Mahoney bill for Federal licensing of Corporations. The bill was supported by Senator Borah who charged that four corporations, whose names he omitted to state, set the price of food for this country.

TAX BILL—The tax program, after many months of hearings and study, has been released from the House Ways and Means Committee. The program deals with modification of the present tax structure. The aims of the bill are to remove inequities, equalize tax burden and stimulate business activities.

NAVY BILL—By a 20-3 vote, the House Naval Affairs Committee has reported a bill emboding the President's naval demands. The bill calls for a ship and plane building program to cost, exclusive of extensive personnel expansion handled in separate legislation, the sum of $1,121,546,000. It was originally estimated the cost of the program would be $800,000,000 but now it looks as though the program will be at least 40 per cent greater.

REORGANIZATION—In the Senate, debate centered on the President's reorganization bill. Many opposed the bill as they felt it gave the President power to shift and change the structure of Federal bureaus and agencies and also the fact that it would put an end to bipartisan Civil Service Commission, and interfere with the present Comptroller General office.

HOME CONSTRUCTION UP—An indicated steady upturn in home financing and construction activity throughout the country since the beginning of the year, especially since the signing of the amended National Housing Act on February 3rd, is shown by the records of the Federal Housing Administration. Business transacted during the week ending February 26th, exceeded that of the corrresponding week of last year. Week-by-week tabulation of home mortages selected for appraisal during the past three years has proved to be a consistently sensitive index of residential financing and building activity.

VEGETABLE SITUATION—Indications point to liberal market supplies of most of the spring vegetables. To date this season the combined acreage of 18 vegetables including fall and winter plantings, is about 502,418 acres, or only slightly more last season but 27 percent above the average acreage for 1927-32. Prices advanced during recent weeks for snap beans, broccoli, cabbage, celery, eggplant, tomatoes, and old-crop turnips.

WOMEN'S COLLEGE

By SYLVIA PHELPS

Swing Time

Springtime sems to be dance time at the Women's College. It started with the Y.M.C.A. tea-dance held last Saturday afternoon in the Hilarium. Profits were given to the "Far East Fund," which is used to help victims of the war in China.

Following the tea-dance to be given by the sophomore class in the Hilarium on Saturday afternoon, March 18, the Spring Formal will be held in Old College that evening. Stan Gallagher and his orchestra will furnish the music for the affair.

The annual Freshman Formal will take place on April 19 in Old College to the tune of Alex Bartha's musicians. Preparations for the dance are being made under the direction of the general chairman, Mildred Griffith. Chairmen of committees are: Lillian Marshall, orchestra; Betty Hutton, favors and programs; Edith Counahan, decorations; and Rita O'Hara, finances.

Music Director

Elva Wells, of Newark, directed the music in Chapel on Monday. Because our regular song leader, Amelia Kozinski, is a senior, Mr. Loudis is grooming several musically-talented girls to take her place. Each member of this group is to take her turn at leading college singing.

Evelyn Wallace, a brunette senior has been chosen maid-of-honor to the May Queen, blond Dorothy Hanby. Betty Grimm, Emily Morrell, and Jessalyn Gordy have been nominated for Senior Duchess. Besides the queen, her maid-of-honor, and four duchesses, the May court will include two attendants from each class.

The Y.W.C.A. Supper Club will hold a meeting in Kent Dining Hall on Thursday evening, March 17. The speaker will be Dr. A. H. Kleffman, Pastor of West Presbyterian Church of Wilmington.

WEDDING

Weinberg-Handloff

Miss Freida Handloff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Aron Handloff, 58 East Main Street, and Mr. Joseph C. Weinberg, of 2129 North Thirty-third Street, Philadelphia, were married by Rabbi Simon Greenberg, of Philadelphia, in the Benjamin Franklin Hotel, Philadelphia, on Sunday.

Miss Dorothy Handloff, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Mr. Herman J. Weinberg, brother of the bridegroom, was best man.

Mrs. Weinberg is a graduate of Newark High School and of Drexel Institute, Philadelphia. She also attended the University of Delaware. Mr. Weinberg is a graduate of Temple University.

Mr. and Mrs. Weinberg are on a honeymoon in New York City. Following their return they will reside in Camden, N. J., where Mr. Weinberg is associated in business.

Joint Birthday and Wedding Anniversary

Walter A. Seydell was the guest of honor at a birthday party Saturday evening at his home. The occasion also marked Mr. and Mrs. Seydell's sixteenth wedding anniversary.

Guests at the party were: Misses Katheleen and Alice Quillivan, Dorothy Biddle, Hazel Stradley, Peg Seelig, and Irene Murphy; Mr. and Mrs. R. Joiner, and Mr. Allen McLane, all of Wilmington; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Jordon, Mr. Claude McFarlin, Mr. Julian C. Wooleyhan, Mr. Willis Jackson, Mr. Robert A. Morrison, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Seydell, and sons, Walter, Jr., and Jimmie, all of Newark.

Noted Designer Retained To Produce Beer Label

Richard Loederer, artist and designer of note, has been engaged by the Delmarva Brewing Company, Wilmington, to originate a label under which the concern will distribute its products.

Delmarva Brewing Company is a new organization formed to operate initially in Delaware, Maryland, and Virginia. It has acquired the plant of the old Bavarian Brewery at Fifth and duPont Streets, and is expected to place its products on the market by the first of June.

4-H Letters

Westeras is an old town from about the tenth century, but has during the last fifty years developed to an important industrial town and is the headquarters for Sweden's electrical and metal industries.

"In our college we are 700 pupils and in my class we are 8 girls and 15 boys. Next year I hope to end the school and I'm after that ready to go to the university.

"But we also enjoy ourselves. Here are great possiblities for winter sport as well on the ice of Welassea as in the woods and hills round the town, where we are skiing. Three miles from the town we have a sport-cottage and we often use to ski there, where we can have coffee and tea and where we can dance. This year we have had a fine and cold winter with much snow. But now spring is soon coming and we enjoy ourselves with dancing, sporting and visiting pictures and theaters. Sometime ago I saw the American film "Lost Horizon" and "Captains Courageous." Perhaps you have also seen them?

"Now I must finish this letter and go to bed for it's already 10 o'clock and I am really tired.

"My kindest regards to you and your friends!

Yours sincerely,

I hope you will soon write

Varied Program Presented At Meeting Of Centre-Harmony Granges Monday

By Robert Yearsley
Lecturer Delaware State Grange

Hockessin Grange met Monday evening with visitors present from Centre and Harmony Granges. Members of Centre Grange furnished the program which was as follows: piano solo by Miss Doris McLane; a paper, "What Grange Means To A Community," by Mrs. Walter Carpenter; readings by Mrs. Florrie Frederick. Talks were given by Paul W. Mitchell, New Castle County Pomona master; W. H. Naudain, county deputy, and Horace Woodward, master of Centre Grange. Arrangements were made for a covered dish supper to be served in the I. O. O. F. hall April 11. On the committee are: Mrs. Leslie Woodward, Murray Nicodemus, Mrs. S. S. Dennison, Mrs. Lewis W. Colmery, and Mrs. Robert Yearsley.

Harmony In Session

Harmony Grange met Monday evening in the Grange Hall. Four new members were received: Mr. and Mrs. L. Wilton Porter, Mrs. Horace P. Dennison, and Robert Woodward. The Grange decided to sponsor the three-act play, "The Dust of the Earth" to be given by members of Kemblesville M. E. Church, April 4. Harmony Grange will entertain the members of Kennett Grange on March 28. A humorous debate, "Resolved that husbands should eat all new dishes prepared by their wives," was the feature of the literary program. The men's team, composed of Paul Hodgson, and B. W. P. Hicks, won. The affirmative side was taken by Mrs. Harry Brackin, and Mrs. Marvin Klair. Talks were given by W. P. Naudain who spoke on "A Vacation Trip to Florida," Willard Ball, who told how to take a vacation, and Mrs. Paul Hodgson, "The Difference Between a House and a Home." Solos were sung by Miss Ruth Ball and Miss Wanda Gilmore with Miss Marion Gilmore accompanying. Master Harvey Moore, of Cetral Grange, was present and gave a brief talk.

Class Initiated

Delaware Grange No. 46, initiated a class of eight candidates in the third and fourth degrees on Monday evening. It was announced that a supper would be given, for the benefit of the Grange, on April 21 with Mrs. Irene Ruth, general chairman. The Grange voted to send their lecturer, Mrs. Mary E. Gebhart, to the Middle Atlantic Grange Lecturers Conference to be held at the University of Cornell, Ithaca, New York, the week of August 16. The Grange members will collect canned goods and eatables to be distributed to the needy of the community. Visitors were present from Diamond State Grange.

Catchers In Demand

At the Catholic Athletic Council dinner in Wilmington last month, three outstanding individuals in their respective professions and classes—Bill McGowan, ace umpire of the American League; Jimmy Wilson, manager of the Phillies and one of the greatest receivers ever to don a mask, and our own Dick Roberts, a good enough college catcher to rank as a star—got together.

If you think we are evesdropping when we reveal that the trio discussed baseball, you're crazy. What else could they talk about?

Boosted by McGowan as a young catcher worthy of consideration, Roberts was greeted by Wilson with such warmth that people nearby thought Dick was Jimmy's long lost brother.

When Lena Blackburne, coach, and Ira Thomas, scout of the Athletics, and Herb Pennock, hurling coach and scout for the Boston Red Sox, who were chinning in the immediate sector, learned that Dick was a receiver, they also added some genuine handshakes and a few healthy slaps on the back.

And that's the tipoff for youngsters just starting to play baseball, who have a measure of ability, but can't decide upon what position to concentrate.

RWR

Need Is Great

Looking over the list of big league teams in training, the only outstanding catchers out of the more than 500 players striving for gold and glory are veterans. Many of them are near the end of years of stardom.

In the American League, Bill Dickey will last awhile for the Yanks, but who will ever take his place? Rick Ferrell of the Red Sox and Luke Sewell with Jimmy Dykes' Pale Hose are the only other big league receivers in the American circuit, and they are both ready for the rest cure due old men.

Rudy York may develop as a successor for Mickey Cochrane at Detroit, but it's a cinch he'll never show his boss' all around ability with the big mitt. Hemsley could, if he would, at Cleveland, but "fun" comes first with him it seems.

RWR

Here's A Chance, Mama

In the National League, the Cards are endeavoring to nose their way back into the pennant picture by developing a catcher from an outfielder, a pitcher, and a crop of untried rookies. Hartnett is tops at Chicago, but unlike time and tide, Gabby can't go on forever.

Danning and Mancuso do pretty well for the Giants, Grace and Todd aren't exactly flops for the Phils, Lopez satisfies the fans in Boston, Padden and Todd hold their end up at Pittsburgh, as do Lombardi and Davis at Cincinnati, but who will take their places?

That's why unseasoned youngsters, perfect strangers such as Dick Roberts are greeted by big league scouts like money from home. The catching crop is scarce and few are coming along.

A wise mother will make her Clarence cease annoying the neighbors with his piano lessons by chasing him out on the lot with instructions to git behind da stick!

RWR

Pop's Having Fun

Not many of you know him, of course, but the gentleman who shingled our seat as a youngster, took us to our first big league ball game in 1909, and paid our bills for years on end, is having the time of his life.

Ever since January he's been heckling us with letters from Florida, where he's wintering (with Mom, thank you) at Lakeland, training site for the Detroit Tigers. And ever since the baseball camps opened he has been shooting the works like a kid at a circus.

His last letter reveals the interesting information that Harry Heilmann, one of the American League's great hitters of yesteryear and a sports commentator via press and radio at present, is residing in the room next door. Bet Harry knows Pop's around, too!

The same letter stated also: "I had several talks with Schoolboy Rowe. He's as busy as a bee and says his whip is OK. They played a 7-inning tie game yesterday (Saturday). Rowe looked good and was in fine humor. On Friday, Mom and I called on the Gas House Gang at St. Petersburg and found them in top form. They should go places."

And thats's news from the front under Pop's by-line. We hope it's correct.

LOCAL BLUE HEN SPORT FOLLOWERS CAN TAKE PRIDE IN THE election of Reed Stearns as captain of the University of Delaware swimming team.

A graduate of the Newark High School, his election re-emphasizes the worthiness of local athletes who have matriculated to the Blue and Gold institution and have made good in athletics. Reed is number four in the list of recent local sport leaders at Delaware which includes Dick Roberts, football and baseball captain last year; Roland P. (Boney) Jackson, ineligible hurling leader and Co-Captain Elect Ernie George who will lead the Hen gridders along with Tommy Ryan next season.

Unassuming and quiet, Reed is to be commended for gaining this recognition in his sophomore year at college.

Equally as unassuming and respected is Bruce Lindsay, newly-selected leader of the Blue and Gold basketball quintet, who is well-deserving of the honor after three impressive years of performance on the boards.

Both are gentlemen and both should make capable leaders of University of Delaware athletic teams.

IF YOU HEAR A WEEPING and wailing and knashing of teeth, gentlemen, it's really nothing to cry about, just the expressions of sorrow forthcoming from admiring female fans whose reserve broke at the announcement by Tommy (Lights Still Out) Ryan.

Sez Mr. Ryan, and we quote: "I don't know whether I'll go out for track or not. After all, there are so many other things to do in the springtime."

Tra la la . . . need we say more?

WE'LL TELL THIS ONE BEfore somebody else does and the odd thing about it is that the joke's on us. Believe it or not.

It goes like this: we visited Thunderbolt I (the 1932 Ford) at the Fader hospital for sickly automobiles and found our sturdy horseless carriage almost recovered and ready for another brief jaunt prior to another nervous breakdown.

Heat coming from the radiator prompted us to search for a water bucket which we found and then we retraced out steps to give Thunderbolt a drink of the essential beverage.

Not thinking, we poured the H 2 0, not in the radiator, but the gas tank and we'd probably still be pouring if a yell from Ernie Gillespie hadn't arrested our actions and called them to an abrupt halt.

We won't deny that we did it—there were too many witnesses to the crime and about the only excuse we can offer is that we were counting the profits caused by Temple Connolly's gamble on the typewriter recently awarded to Fred Stiegler. (Temple took one (1) chance.)

Anyway, it's a doggone good way of cutting down expenses, or is it? Need we mention the fact that Thunderbolt is now back in Fader's Hospital having her gullet cleansed.

JOHN R. SINGLES, BREEDER and raiser of bird dogs (deluxe, ultra ultra) is blessed with a firm belief in his pride and joy, "Buck," despite the fact that he bowed to the skill and cunning of Walter Clark's little lice lugger, "Nan."

His ire kindled to a raging inferno by his friend's boasts, Jack, speaking for "Buck," challenged "Nan" whose invitation was accepted by Clark.

Dawn broke and seven o'clock, the time set for the field trial, rolled around, but Singles failed to appear, whereupon Clark cast himself into the role of "Big Ben" and aroused the slumbering dog fancier.

The day was ideal and after "Buck" had cornered three fleas and four field mice, the contest finally got underway.

After rolling up a total of seventeen false points, "Buck's" performance began to slump and Single's pride and joy seemed to find things far more interesting in the next field where a "Shanghai Lil" of the canine race did her best and almost succeeded in luring the working dog from his duty.

Whereupon, Sportsman Singles seized a young sapling (not Clark), pulled it up by the roots, and began to flay the tempted pooch who was being torn between two forces, the love for his work and the love for his woman.

While "Buck" was casting his one good one in the general direction of a lady love, "Nan," not to be tempted by such frivolous matters, finally succeeded in sniffing a quail, whereupon she immediately did what a good bird dog does—point.

Dissatisfied with the results of the first trial, Mr. Singles has requested a rematch of the two animals, basing his claims on the fact that it was a woman at the bottom of "Buck's" trouble.

EASTERN CLUB HOST SATURDAY AND SUNDAY

More Than 100 Hounds From Seven States Expected To Vie In Classic Tests; Strict Rulings Announced; Judges Named

By Ben Beagle

With entires coming in daily from breeders in seven states, more than 100 dogs are expected to compete in the classic field trials to be conducted by the Eastern Beagle Club over the S. Hallock du Pont estate, near Milford Cross Roads, Saturday and Sunday.

Entries have already been filed from Delaware, Maryland, Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey, Virginia and Ohio, it was announced this week by Charles Marlow, secretary of the sponsoring body.

Licensed Events

In addition to the main event which is licensed and approved by the American Kennel Club, there will be two classes for owners of dogs and bitches over 13 inches and not exceeding 15 inches, and another for owners of dogs and bitches not exceeding 13 inches.

This pair of trials will be run in conjunction with the annual spring derby trial, which is approved by the Eastern Federation of Beagle Clubs.

The following running order will be observed: Saturday, 13-inch derbies, combined; 15-inch derbies, combined, and 15-inch all-age, combined; Sunday, 13-inch all-age, combined.

Special Provisions

Entry fee for the derby classes is $2, with $3 being required to enter a hound in the all-age events.

Judges for the derby classes will be Harold Lund, Landenberg, Pa., and John Hartmann, Wilmington. For the all-age events, Herb Edwards, Malvern, Pa., and Roy Ware, Woodstown, N. J., will award prizes.

The committee in charge has issued strict stipulations concerning the schedule and conditions of running the tests. All derbies and hounds not measured previously for record by the Eastern Beagle Club, must be measured at these trials.

A special notice has been posted as follows: "In view of the fact that an entry of additional hounds is expected in the 15-inch all-age class, there will be a special class for all hounds eligible for competition in the final class for the 'Coweview's Lady Mary Memorial Stake,' (a prize of $100 cash to be divided). This class will be held on Sunday and will be drawn at 10 A. M. Entry fee is $1."

Requests have been made of owners to have their hounds prepared in proper time for each event in order to avoid jockeying of dogs after drawings have been made.

Notoriously lenient in their treatment of owners at most events, the importance and size of the tests for the week end will force members of the Eastern club's committee to disregard all excuses in enforcing regulations.

Newark Boys Awarded Letters At Fishburne

At a meeting of the Fishburne cadets held in the school auditorium Monday, Captain Phil Brooks, director of athletics, awarded the Fishburne monogram to members of the basketball and swimming teams.

Paul Skillman and Robert Ewing, graduates of Newark High School, were among the ten court performers to receive awards. The team was coached by Ed Thompson, former all-around athletic star at the University of Delaware.

Both Skillman and Ewing won letters in football. The former is a leading candidate for the track team, while Ewing lines up as one of the pitching stalwarts for the baseball squad.

Home-Game Pitcher Needed By Sisal Sox

Wanted—first rate pitcher—apply to manager, Sisal Sox, Stillwater, Minn.

The job will be one of honor and no traveling. But a pitcher ringing the bell will have no outside competition.

The Sisal Sox plays all games "at home," the Minnesota penitentiary yard.

Applicants do not bother about contract agreements or releases because money and time are no considerations here. All they have to do is file their numbers with the manager (deputy warden) and wait for two feet of snow to melt from the diamond.

Wilmington Bowlers Avenge Setback Here

The Hurley-Powell bowling artists of Wilmington downed the championship Elkton team of the local Wednesday Night League at the Legion Alleys Saturday night to avenge a setback by the Marylanders earlier in the season. The final score was Hurley-Powell 2763, Elkton 2486.

With the Elkton rollers slumping below their usual form, the Wilmingtonians scored a shutout by winning all three games in the match.

Newettes Triumph To Extend Lead In League

Winning three out of four games in a postponed match against the Condifico team, 1936-37 champions and winners of the first half in the current race, the Newettes extended their lead in the Ladies' Bowling League at the Legion Alleys this week.

With Ann Chalmers, versatile star, upsetting 474 pins for the match, the Newettes had a total score advantage of 2087-1901. The winners copped the first two games, 724-636 and 713-612, but dropped the final tilt, 663-650.

Mike Wilson's Charges Seek Twilight Berth

In an open letter to officers and managers of the Newark Twilight League, Mike Wilson, manager of the Zigzags, a colored combine, applied for a berth in the circuit this week.

Wilson, a popular veteran of the game, guarantees a fast, clean club. Several games were played between the Zigzags and other local teams at Continental Field last summer.

Patent Office Is "Open Door" For Inventions

Under our laws convicts and aliens, as well as minors, can apply for patents for their inventions. A U. S. patent gives one the exclusive right to make , use, or sell his invention for a period of 17 years.

Big names, such as Red, Ben, San and Joe, are being carried over from last year, so matters look favorable for the squad to continue piling up big scores against the semi-pro teams that come to the big house.

TWILIGHT LEAGUE TO MEET

Cullen Angling For Franchise In New Circuit

By "The Roamer"

Baseball, which was handed an overdose of knockout drops at the start of the season here last year, is beginning to show signs of life with the advent of spring.

With Secretary-Treasurer Ellis P. Cullen scheduling a meeting of the Newark Twilight League in the offices of the Continental Diamond Fibre Company Friday night, there is every indication that the baseball bug is still alive in Newark.

In announcing the meeting yesterday, Cullen gave vent to some interesting feelings he nourishes about the diamond sport. "Baseball," he said," like all amusements, is proper both as to kind and degree just so far as it makes us better Christians. It keeps a good morale in our community. It keeps the minds and talents of young fellows occupied in a good clean sport. That is why we plan to reorganize our Twilight League for another season."

Aim For Six Teams

It is Cullen's desire to have six teams in the circuit. Continental is a sure starter and James Houston threatens to revamp a team at the National Vulcanized Fibre plant in order to accept a berth.

LeRoy Hill, manager and coach of the American Legion Junior champs, is angling for backing to put a boys' club team on the field. Feelers have been sent also to Marshallton, Cranston Heights, Glasgow, Hockessin, Yorklyn, Elkton, and Elk Mills concerning entries in the loop.

Delegates have been invited to attend the session Friday night, which gets under way at seven-thirty.

Plans call for the playing of all games at Continental Field, which is maintained and kept in condition by the fibre concern owning it. There are accomodations for 500 people in the stands, which were provided by the fibre company.

Cecil-Harford League

Cullen has been in touch with Taylor Biles, Rising Sun, pilot of several championship teams in this sector, concerning the posibility of Newark landing a franchise in a proposed Cecil-Harford County League said to be in the process of formation.

While no meeting to organize such a loop has taken place as yet, the prospects of another Saturday-Sunday wheel are said to be growing by leaps and bounds in the Maryland communities.

Bel Air, Aberdeen, and Haver de Grace are being mentioned as potential starters in Harford County, with Providence and Elkton in Cecil County, and possibly Newark, the lone Delaware entry, in the proposed setup on this side of the Susquehanna.

Biles, it is said, may again associate himself with Don Cole, of Perryville, in placing a team on the field under the name of Mt. Welcome. That team, if formed, will hold forth at Kilby's Corner on U. S. Route One near the Conowingo Dam and will be ideally situated in a league such as the proposed Cecil-Harford loop. Biles and Cole were associated in managing the Perryville Pandours that outlasted the Newark Yellowjackets in a great scrap for the Bi-State League flag in 1936.

Urges Support

In endeavoring to keep baseball alive in Newark, Cullen draws the conclusions that "we have more ball players here than exist in any other town in this section. They are all good fellows and love to play ball. Organization is needed, however, and there is no time to be lost. An early start is necessary."

Central Florida Golf Association has been organized with nine clubs. Each will engage the other once during the season.

NEW AAA DIRECTOR

W. G. FINN

Tobacco Specialist Is Director

W. G. Finn, Kentuckian, Heads AAA In East Central Division

W. G. Finn, a native of Kentucky, has been appointed director of the east central division of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, R. O. Stelzer, extension economist at the University of Delaware and state executive officer of the AAA, reports.

Mr. Finn grew up in Boone County, Kentucky. He was graduated from the University of Kentucky in 1923 and later did graduate work at Iowa State and American University. He was a member of the staff of the University of Kentucky until 1931 when he received an appointment as economist by the bureau of Agricultural Economics of the Department of Agriculture. While in the BAE, he was engaged in studies of tobacco prices. In 1935 he was sent to Europe by the BAE to gather data on the consumption of American tobacco in European countries.

Mr. Finn became affiliated with the Agricultural Adjustment Administration when the tobacco program was inaugurated in 1933. He was made assistant director of the east central division in 1936. In 1937 he became acting director and served in that position until his recent appointment as director.

The east central region includes the following states: Delaware, Kentucky, Maryland, North Carolina, Virginia, and West Virginia.

Delaware Rifle Team Closes Good Season

Seven of Eleven Tilts Against Other Schools Copped By Hens

The University of Delaware's rifle team finished its 1937-38 season with a final match against all R. O. T. C. teams in the Second Corps Area in which the Hens placed seventh among eleventh competitors.

Moving along at a high-scoring rate, the Blue and Gold team was believed to have had an excellent chance to place high in the Corps Area Match and the Hearst National Trophy Match, until high-shooting members were lost by academic difficulties or sickness. The mid-year tests eliminated three fine shots in Zabenko, Tynall, and Szoda, while sickness overtook Dave Taxter in the midst of the Corps Area and Hearst matches.

Everhardt High

Winning eleven out of eighteen inter-collegiate matches, the team showing for the entire season was encouraging. High scorer for the year was U. Seth Everhardt, with Phil Derrickson in second place. Leach followed in third position.

Prospects for next season's squad look exceptionally good with only one man of the present team, Sam Arnold, scheduled to graduate. T. J. Leach, class of 1939, has been elected captain of next season's team and Phil Derrickson, also of the class of 1939, has been chosen manager.

Troop No. 8 Wins Cookie-Selling Award For Work

Members of the local Girl Scout troops are expected to be busy on Thursday and Friday delivering the 781 dozen cookies for which they took orders several weeks ago. This number exceeds last year's sale by 134 dozen.

Troop No. 8, of which Fred Bellinger is captain, sold 330 dozen thereby winning the prize offered by the troop committee. Troop No. 4, captained by Miss Ann Chalmers, sold 275 dozen and the new Troop No. 13, headed by Mrs. Ralph O'Connell, took orders for 176 dozen.

Leaders of the three local troops met at the home of Mrs. Bellinger on Monday evening to discuss the change in the program of Girl Scouting which is to go into effect during the next year. Miss Marguerite Gunn, Delaware Girl Scout director, was present at the session.

Last Saturday marked the twenty-sixth anniversary of the Girl Scout movement in America, founded by Juliette Gordon Law at Savannah, Ga.

Iron-clad ships were introduced during the Civil War, although it was not until the Spanish-American War that steel was first used.

OFFICERS GUEST OF RED MEN

Mermaid Group Plays Host To Tribe Leaders

By Sara A. Pennington

Mermaid, March 16—The official visits of great Sachem John H. Geary of Wilmington and Deputy Great Pochontas Miss Helen M. Brown of Bear, were made to Wa Wa Tribe No. 45, I. O. R. M. and Leola Council No. 14, D. of P. at Union, on Monday night. The tribe and council held a joint meeting for this occasion.

Members of Little Bear, Minnehaha, and tribes and councils from Wilmington were represented. Yonah and Mineola Councils accompanied their deputy. Approximately 150 lodge members were present despite the very inclement weather.

Great Sachem Geary gave an interesting review of the work being accomplished and planned this year in Delaware. Reports from the councils in rural New Castle County and in Wilmington were given by Deputy Great Pocahontas Brown and Mrs. Ada Cooper, of Wilmington.

Talks were also given by the following members of the great Sachem's staff:Great Sannap Millard L. Sheppard, Great Mishinewa Elmer E. Cox, Great Chief of Records Edward L. McIntire; Great Representative George Lee Brown, secretary of Orphan's Board, Frank H. Zebley; chairman of publicity committee, W. H. B. Maxwell.

Past Great Sachems who were also guests included Charles Coleman known to Leola Council members as the father of their lodge, Milton Ferguson, Benjamin Cooper, all of Wilmington, and Frank H. Balling of Newark, all of whom gave short talks.

Refreshments were enjoyed after the meeting in the social hall.

Minstrels Presented

Members of Wa Wa Tribe gave a successful performance of the Corner Ketch minstrels last Thursday night in the hall which attracted a large audience. Jack Murphy directed the show and entertained with solos and tap dancing.

In the cast were: Ralph Kee, interlocutor; Ralph Buckingham, Bert Owens, James and Edward Mogilligan, end men; Joseph Cross, William Downham, Richard Charsha, Joseph Workman, Wesley Dempsey, and Miss Marion Murphy, soloists, Russell Cross, William Mitchell, Warner Hollingsworth, Robert McCall, and Donald Connell. Miss Ruth Connell was the accompanist.

The show was repeated last night in the Odd Fellow's hall at Hockessin for the Hockessin baseball club.

Leola Council will hold a card and bingo party tomorrow evening in the Red Men's Hall. Mrs. Sarah Croft, Mrs. Esther Connell, and Mrs. Elizabeth McCormick are the ways and means committee in charge of the party.

The Young Women's Bible Class of Red Clay Creek Church enjoyed a fellowship supper in Harmony Grange hall last Wednesday night previous to the monthly meeting. The class is arranging for a variety entertainment to be held in the church on March 27. The program will include a play, vocal numbers by Mr. and Mrs. George Lee of Elsmere, reading by Miss Anna Dennison, and musical selections by Howard Mutschler of Richardson Park.

Members and their guests at the supper were: Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Springer, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Naudain, Mrs. Mildred Chapman, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Klair, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Klair, Mrs. Joseph Pierson, Misses Ruth Ball, Elva Minner, Carolyn Mullins, Catherine Mullins, Laura Porter, Mabel Porter, Sara Pennington, Louise Lee, Harold Marvel, Earle Evans, and M. P. Pile.

Mrs. Kate Vansant who has been in the Wilmington General Hospital was moved last week to the home of her son Edward Vansant in Wilmington. Her condition remains unchanged.

Her brother, Joseph Higgins, a former of the Ebenezer community, is very ill at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Vansant.

Covered Dish Supper

The Red Clay Creek Missionary Society will meet tomorrow for a covered dish luncheon and meeting at the home of Mrs. Evan H. Klair. Mrs. Bertha Armor has charge of the program.

Members of the Milford Cross Roads Choral Club will meet tonight in Newark with the adult education music group to rehearse for the county music festival on April 11. The program this year centers around the tercentenary celebration as most of the music is Swedish. There will also be pageantry in conjunction with the music.

The Three-in-one 4-H clubbers had the county leader, Miss Laura B. Rutherford at their meeting last Friday night to dicuss further activities.

Business Women To Meet At Powell's On Tuesday

The Business and Professional Women's Club of Newark will meet at Powell's restaurant next Tuesday evening at six o'clock.

Dr. G. E. Landt, technical director of the Continental Diamond Fibre Company, will be the speaker of the evening.

Where Does Wind Come From? Here's Scientist's Answer

By MARIE BLIZARD

WHERE does the wind come from? What makes the wind? These apparently simple questions have proved to be the Waterloo of many a contestant in the popular question bees that are sweeping the country.

Marie Blizard

For the benefit of readers who have lost sleep trying to figure out the correct answers, the matter has been referred to no less an authority than Professor George Van den Bergh, famed Holland scientist, who gives a clear explanation of the phenomenon of the wind in his recent, best-selling book, "Astronomy for the Millions."

Briefly, according to the learned professor, the wind is caused by variations in atmospheric pressure. As everyone knows, warm air is lighter than cold air and therefore rises. And as the sun is constantly beating down on the earth and warming the air that falls within the scope of its rays, this air rises and cold air from adjacent areas rushes in to fill the partial vacuum thus created. It is the movement of this rushing air that causes the wind. Consequently, when we have a hot spell in one place and a cold spell in another, we can be sure there will be a movement of air, or wind, to equalize the difference in atmospheric pressure.

More Puzzlers.

The mystery of the wind is only one of hundreds of puzzlers that present themselves in the universe about us, as Professor Van den Bergh points out in "Astronomy for the Millions."

For example, did you know that a stone does NOT fall perpendicular to the earth? Experience in deep mines has proved that the stone is deflected slightly to the east, about an inch for every 500 feet of fall.

Again, did you know that the earth travels faster at certain times of the year than at others? It speeds up its pace around Christmas and New Year's, although this acceleration, the professor assures us, has no connection with the dizzy holiday whirl of mortals at this period.

Trip to the Moon.

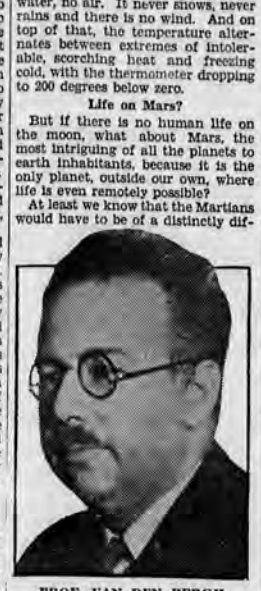
When Jules Verne wrote his fantastic story of an imaginary trip to the moon, he appealed to mankind's universal curiosity to know more about the mysterious universe we glimpse in the heavens. Everybody has wondered what it is like on the moon and men still dream of exploring the bizarre lunar mountains and valleys via rocket ships.

Science can give us a very comprehensive picture today of conditions on the moon, we find in "Astronomy for the Millions." And an amazing picture it is. We find ourselves traveling among vast craters and mountains that make our own mountains look like molehills. No trace of human life is to be found on the moon, for there is no food, no water, no air. It never snows, never rains and there is no wind. And on top of that, the temperature alternates between extremes of intolerable, scorching heat and freezing cold, with the thermometer dropping to 200 degrees below zero.

Life on Mars?

But if there is no human life on the moon, what about Mars, the most intriguing of all the planets to earth inhabitants, because it is the only planet, outside our own, where life is even remotely possible?

At least we know that the Martians would have to be of a distinctly different species than ourselves to adapt themselves to the peculiarities of their environment. There is no water on Mars—not a river, a pool, a lake or a sea. For drinking water, a human visitor would have to collect and melt the hoar frost which coats the planet during the extremely cold night.



PROF. VAN DEN BERGH

Succession of Wonders.

Indeed, once we start exploring the mysteries of the universe, we find ourselves greeted by a succession of wonders, each more fascinating than the last. It is an absorbing journey Professor Van den Bergh takes us on as he pilots us through the magnificent spectacle of the heavens, with close-ups of the planets, stars, comets and other celestial bodies.

Proving once more that truth is stranger than fiction, "Astronomy for the Millions" has increased popular interest in astronomy as a hobby.

Christiana Drama Group Plays Friday

Three Attractions On Slate At School; Many Performers Listed

"Almost Anything May Happen," "Taken for a Ride," and "Neighbors" will be presented in the Christiana-Salem School Friday night by the Class in Dramatics.

Helen Adams Gangwere in her one-act phantasy, "Almost Anything May Happen," presents a rare opportunity of glimpsing inside an artist's toy shop, where only the best of dolls are made by "Miss Lucy," Mrs. R. E. Dickey, and her assistant, "Jane," Doris Barker.

After dark, the dolls come to life when the American doll, Valerie McGrath, tells her cousins from other lands any number of strange things. Foreign dolls are characterized as follows: Frenchie, Anna Amoroso; Dutchie, Dora Thorpe; Sunny Italy, Delaita Amoroso; Polish, Sarah Murray; German, Nellie Edwards; and also the unhappy misses from Spain, Mabel Murray and Marion Elliott.

Second Play Comedy

"Taken for a Ride" is a schoolboy comedy. "Bob," Clarence Elliott, having too much conceit because of recent football victories, is the victim of the play.

Albert Thorpe, James McGrath, Charles Twining, Mildred Takach, Louise Moore, Adeline Burris, Burkie Edwards, and Valerie McGrath all have important roles.

Life in a small community is exemplified in "Neighbors," which features Mrs. Pauline Sweetman, Mrs. Norbert Cashell, and Dr. Edward Gangawere.

Other featured players are Michael Amoroso, Mabel Murray, Mareen Amoroso, Sarah Murray, and Mrs. R. E. Dickey.

The first English Navy was built by Alfred the Great—to fight the Danes.

Local Women Named To Aid Y. W. C. A. Drive

Delaware Association Raising $3,000 On New Program; Work Planned

Mrs. Richard L. Cooch and Dean Winifred J. Robinson, both of Newark, have been appointed on the initial gifts committee of the financial drive now underway by the Young Women's Christian Association of the district of Delaware, which has the goal of raising $3,000 for the support of its program.

Mrs. Charles P. Townsend, Dagsboro, has recently been re-elected president of the organization.

Dinner Opens Drive

Mrs. John Shilling, Dover, served as chairman of the dinner which opened the drive Tuesday night there.

Miss Marjorie Startweather, general secretary of the organization, hopes in the coming year to extend the work into those communities where a recreational and health program for young girls and women is not provided.

The Y. W. C. A. is also hoping to make the facilities of Camp Otonka more varied. This camp yearly is the means for many girls to have an inexpensive, wholesome vacation and has been maintained by the Y. W. C. A. for a number of years.

CERTIFICATE OF REDUCTION OF CAPITAL OF DIAMOND IRON WORKS, INC.

We, the undersigned, respectively the President and the Secretary of DIAMOND IRON WORKS, INC., a corporation duly organized and existing under an act of the legislature of the state of Delaware approved March 10, 1899, entitled "An Act Providing a General Corporation Law," and the acts amendatory thereof and supplemental thereto, do hereby on oath certify that at a meeting of the directors of said corporation duly held at Minneapolis, Minnesota on December 30, 1937, the following resolution was duly adopted:

"RESOLVED that the declared capital of this Company which is now the sum of $700,000, represented by 40,000 issued and outstanding shares of stock without par value, each share of said stock now representing a declared capital of $17.50, be, and such declared capital is hereby reduced to the sum of $200,000, without changing the number of issued and outstanding shares, each of said 40,000 issued and outstanding shares to represent a declared capital of $5.; and that the board of directors recommends to the stockholders of this company the adoption by them of a similar resolution."

That a special meeting of the stockholders of said corporation for the purpose of considering said resolution was thereupon duly called, and that ten days' written notice of said meeting stating the purpose thereof, and setting forth said resolution, was duly given to all stockholders of record in accordance with the by-laws of the corporation. That pursuant to said notice, a special meeting of the stockholders of said corporation was duly held at the office of the corporation at 1720 North Second Street in the city of Minneapolis, Minnesota at 1:30 o'clock P. M., on February 14, 1938. That there were present at said meeting in person or by proxy, stockholders of said corporation holding a majority of the outstanding stock of said corporation entitled to vote. That at said meeting by the unanimous affirmative vote of the holders of record of a majority of the total number of outstanding shares of said corporation, the following resolution was duly adopted:

"RESOLVED that the declared capital of DIAMOND IRON WORKS, INC., which is now the sum of $700,000, represented by 40,000 issued and outstanding shares of stock without par value, each share of said stock now representing a declared capital of $17.50, be, and such declared capital is hereby reduced to the sum of $200,000, without changing the number of issued and outstanding shares, each of said 40,000 issued and outstanding shares to represent a declared capital of $5."

That the manner in and the extent to which the capital of said corporation is to be reduced is exactly as set forth in the foregoing resolutions. That the assets of said corporation remaining after such reduction of capital are more than sufficient to pay all debts of the corporation.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF we have hereunto set our hands and seals and caused to be affixed hereto the corporate seal of said corporation this 23 day of February, 1938.

College Bill In Amended Form Passed By Legislature

After a personal canvass of all members of the Senate the Affiliated College Bill in amended form passed the Senate last night by a vote of 14-1. The bill was carried to the House and voted on at 3:30 this afternoon. Owing to the fact that several members had left for the train the vote will not be announced until morning. There is no doubt, however, that the measure has passed and Higher Education for Delaware Women is assured.

Mr. Frazer's Car Damaged

The big Lozier touring car belonging to Mr. Eben Frazer was put out of commission last Friday. Fortunately none of the occupants of the car were hurt.

The machine had just been equipped with a compressed air self-starting apparatus and was being returned to Mr. Frazer's garage by Mr. Banks, of the Wilmington Auto Garage. The automatic cut-off valve failed to work and the pressure becoming too great caused the air-tank to explode. The running board and front of the car was smashed and the motor jarred and put out of running order, making it necessary to have the car towed back to Philadelphia for repairs.

Rev. H. B. Phelps Honored

Rev. H. B. Phelps, rector of St. Thomas' Church, has been elected President of the Standing Committee of the Diocese of Delaware, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of the Rev. Kensey J. Hammond, who will assume charge of a parish in Virginia.

Representing Lodge

Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Colmery left early Monday morning for Parkesburg, W. Va., at which place the former will represent White Clay Creek Camp No. 5, Woodmen of the World of Newark at the biennial convention of the head camp of the jurisdiction, composed of Delaware, Maryland, District of Columbia, and West Virginia.

Visit Elkton Club

An interesting program was given by the Women's Club of Elkton on Tuesday afternoon, the subject for the day being "Home Economics." Members from several neighboring clubs were present, among the number being Mrs. Rebeca Cann of the Middletown organization; Mrs. J. P. Cann and Miss Nellie Wilson, of Newark. Mrs. Cann sang several selections to the accompaniment of Miss Wilson.

PERSONALS

Mrs. Wm. E. Mathias of Rocky Hill, Pa., has moved to her new home along the Philadelphia and West Chester trolley line.

Mr. Andrew Harding was the Sunday guest of his son, E. A. Harding, of Media, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Cann of Kirkwood are spending a few days with J. Pearce Cann and family.

Mrs. J. M. Conner and son of Baltimore are guests of G. Fader and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred A. Curtis are now in Savannah, Georgia. They will not return home until after Easter.

Miss Harriett Evans left last week for Washington where she will be the guest of her sister, Mrs. Reed.

Miss Juliette Gibson, of Philadelphia was the guest of Mrs. Whittingham last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Griffin, of Ridley Park, Pa., were the guests over Sunday of Lieut. and Mrs. Herman.

Mrs. J. H. Jones, Mrs. Leslie Appleby, and Mrs. John Brown, of Wilmington, and Miss Jones, of Baltimore, were the guests of Mrs. Annie W. Moore last week.

Mrs. A. N. Raub, who has been ill at the home of her daughter, Mrs. George Henry, of Brooklyn, is improving.

Miss Lydia Fader has returned from a visit with W. L. Fader and family, of Pittsburgh.

Mr. Lewis E. Brown visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Brown on Sunday.

Mrs. A. R. Carlisle and Miss Florence Steele have returned from Philadelphia, where they attended the Spring opening displays of the leading millinery establishments of the city.

Miss Lucy McDonald, of Alderson, West Virginia, was the recent guest of her sister, Mrs. E. F. Burnite.

Social Notes

Cards have been received from Mrs. L. Irving Handy, formerly of Newark, now residing in Smryna, for an "At Home" on March 25th from 3 to 5:30 p. m. The card of Miss Laura Bell is enclosed.

Miss Lena Evans was hostess for the Bridge Club last week. The prize, a basket of fruit, trimmed with green ribbon and miniature pipe, was won by Mrs. E. W. Cooch, while the consolation prize, a large white pipe, which upon examination proved to be a fan, was awarded to Miss Maxwell. A most delightful afternoon was spent by those present.

Owing to Friday being Good Friday, the Bridge Club met today at the residence of Mrs. Whittingham.

Bayard Portrait In State House

Arrangements have been made by the Legislature to receive an oil painting of the late Ambassador Thomas Bayard to be hung in the State House, Dover. The Hon. John Bassett Moore, professor of International Law at Columbia University, who has accepted the office of councillor under Secretary of State Bryan, is invited to receive the portrait. Prof. Moore is a former Delawarean having been born at Smyrna.

of supplies of foods and fibers sufficient to maintain normal domestic human consumption. . ." It also directs the Secretary of Agriculture, in carrying out the purposes of the act, to "give due regard to the maintenance of a continuous and stable supply of agricultural commodities from domestic production adequate to meet consumer demand at prices fair to both producers and consumers."

Uncle Jim Says

"With limited exports of farm products, it's not hard to guess what will happen to prices if we have many more bumper crop years like 1937."

Competitive Plays To Be Presented At W. C. D.

Three Newark girls have been assigned roles in the annual Women's College competitive plays to be given in Mitchell Hall at 8 p.m. on Thursday, March 17. MUMPS CAN LEAD TO STERILITY

Pennsylvania Health Head Gives Reasons

Because its complications may lead to sterility in either sex, mumps should not be regarded lightly, says Dr. Paul A. Kennedy, staff member of the Pennsylvania Department of Health.

It is important to employ every effort to prevent the disease, and when once present to guard against its complications, he says.

Dr. Kennedy declares mumps usually develop during the third week after one has been exposed to a case. During these two to three weeks of incubation, there are no manifestations of ill health. The usual symptoms are first, a slight fever, chilliness, general malaise and some dizziness with pain in or behind the ear. However, in many cases the above prodromal symptoms are entirely absent, the first evidence of ill health being tenderness, pain, and swelling, involving one or more of the salivary glands.

Parotid Glands Involved

In nearly every case the parotid glands are involved and this swelling and tenderness is usually very noticeable below the ear and just anterior thereto. As the swelling becomes more marked it extends out onto the cheek. Usually one side of the face is involved, one to three days before the other side, and usually both sides return to normal about the eighth day.

"Complications in children before puberty are rather rare but cases of encephalitis, neuritis and complete deafness have been reported from time to time as complications of mumps.

Should Isolate Patient

"During an attack of mumps the patient should be isolated. While an attack of mumps is ordinarily of slight importance before the age of puberty, and while dangers of complications are greater after puberty, nevertheless, even early in life distressing complications may occur, and therefore, unnecessary exposure is seldom justified. While it is admittedly preferable for a child to have the disease before rather than after puberty, it must be remembered that many people never contract mumps at all, therefore, deliberate exposure of children to mumps is foolishness on the part of the parent."

Improved And Enlarged Quarters For The Newark Trust Company

THE COMPLETION ON FEBRUARY 1ST OF THE ALTERATIONS and enlargements of the Newark Trust Company's building may be regarded as the third milestone in the remarkable development of this banking institution.

The Newark Trust Company opened for business under the name of the Newark Trust & Safe Deposit Company on July 15, 1905, with simple quarters in the Opera House Building on Academy Street; the present bank building on Main Street was erected in 1913; the greatly improved structure, as we now see it, was finished in February, 1938.

These short thirty-three years have seen this little bank grow from its first day's deposits of $9,060, with a capital stock of $30,000 and deposits of $30,584.80 in September, 1905 to a capital stock of $50,000 and deposits of $260,000 on January 1, 1914. Its depositors at that time numbered 1500. On February 1, 1938, its depositors numbered 2600. Its Savings Department, which was started on October 24, 1905, with total deposits of $78.60 has, at the present time, deposits of over $800,000 and the total deposits of the bank are $1,430,000.00.

The Newark Trust Company was the first bank in rural New Castle County to pay interest on checking accounts and since 1915 has paid dividends continuously at the rate of 6 per cent or more on its capital stock. Through its affiliation with the Newark Building & Loan Association, one of the soundest associations of its kind in the United States, it has helped greatly in the physical development of the town and neighboring community. The integrity and solvency of the bank, even in trying depression years, have never been questioned.

The officers and directors extend a cordial invitation to all citizens of the community to inspect the new building and to become acquainted with the resident officers and the general personnel of the bank. Mr. Robert J. Boyd, Secretary and Treasurer, and Mr. Russell H. Morris, Trust Officer, will be more than pleased to show any callers the new quarters and answer any questions. The other members of the personnel of the bank are—

Mr. John Murray
Mrs. Lydia Stengle
Miss Katherine Steel
Miss Catherine E. Colmery
Miss Elizabeth Neal.

We feel sure that our neighbors and friends will read with interest the following comparative figures and we have added a list of the officers and directors at the opening of the bank, at the time the present building was built and at this time.
