

ASK COUNCIL FOR NEWTHOROUGHFARE

Would Cut Street Through From Main To Cleveland Ave.; Petition Presented

CHARGE POOR CURBING

On Cleveland Ave.; Other News Of Regular Meeting

An unexpected and interesting development marked the regular May meeting of Town Council Monday night, when James C. Hastings, president of the Chamber of Commerce appeared before the body and presented a petition signed by 104 citizens and taxpayers of the town, asking that Council approve and authorize the extension of Academy Street from Main Street to Cleveland Avenue, passing under the tracks of the B. and O. Railroad.

During the discussion of the matter which followed, it was generally conceded that the opening of the new Street would be of great benefit in two distinct ways.

First, it would eliminate the long route necessarily taken by residents of Cleveland and Prospect Avenue to reach the business district, and would eliminate two grade crossings over which school children pass four times daily, and Second, the new street would open up a real estate development in the heart of the town. There are several fine lots lying between the railroad and Main Street which are of no value to home seeker or builder.

Would Have Narrow Mouth

It is proposed to run the street directly north from Main, passing between the properties of J. P. Wilson and Dr. Charles W. Dunlevy, under the railroad tracks and on to Cleveland Avenue. The only building obstacles are a string of garages owned by Walter Powell which lie directly in its path.

It is understood that Mr. Powell, Dr. Dunlevy and Mr. Wilson are in favor of the new street, although there are still some matters yet to be cleared up before plans are laid.

The probable width of the opening on Main Street will not be more than 35 feet, but after passing between the two houses, the street may be widened to any width desired.

Council Funds Tied Up

At the close of the discussion of the project Councilman Wilson made the point that the town had gone the limit for street appropriations for this year, and that funds will hardly be available for the building of the new thoroughfare during 1923. This view was generally agreed upon by the entire body. It was moved and carried, however, that the Street Committee interview the property owners along the route of the proposed street and, after finding the approximate cost of the work, to report back to Council at its next regular meeting.

Discuss Speeding

Council was called to order by Mayor Frazer shortly after eight o'clock with Councilmen Widdoes, Wilson, Colmery, Patchell, Beales and Grier present.

Mrs. Hossinger, secretary, reported the sum of $8298.28, out of which $1500 was paid to F. W. Lovett on his account.

Mr. Colmery was officially sworn in as Councilman for the Middle District, not having been present at the organization meeting in April.

A lengthy discussion then ensued, all taking part, on the status of the town as regards speeding autoists. It appears that the State Law prescribes a limit of 25 miles per hour outside of cities. Magistrate Thompson gave notice to Council a few days ago that he would await the opinion of the Attorney General in the matter before arresting more speeders. A lively debate on the Town versus the State kept the meeting lively for a

LEVY COURT NAMES TAX COLLECTORS

Combine Sweeps Aside Opposition in Every Instance Yesterday

With the Republican-Democratic "combine" in full swing, the two Republican free lances in the Levy Court, Ball and Wright, were swamped in the election of the tax collectors for New Castle County yesterday afternoon.

Commissioner Truitt placed the winning ticket on the table. But two candidates were agreed upon by all, those in Brandywine Hundred and Christiana Hundred. The others went through by a 5 to 2 vote.

The men elected are: Brandywine Hundred—F. J. Meredith.

Christiana Hundred—George H. Carroll.

White Clay Creek Hundred—George Edmondson, Jr.

Red Lion Hundred—Newlin R. Buckson.

New Castle Hundred—Alfred J. Davidson.

Pencader Hundred—Benjamin W. Johnson.

St. Georges Hundred—J. T. Shallcross.

Appoquinimink Hundred—George S. Reithm.

Blackbird Hundred—J. S. Buckson.

The first three are Republicans. All others are Democrats.

Mr. Ball offered the following nominations:

Brandywine Hundred—J. F. Meredith.

Christiana Hundred—George H. Carroll.

Mill Creek Hundred—Alvin Satterthwaite.

White Clay Creek Hundred—J. R. Colmery.

New Castle Hundred—W. W. Leach.

Pencader Hundred—Edward O. Walton.

Red Lion Hundred—John C. Stuckert.

St. Georges Hundred—J. T. Carpenter.

Appoquinimink Hundred—Benjamin Lockerman.

Blackbird Hundred—John Beith.

Richardson Park M. E. Singers Entertain at Presbyterian Church Last Night

At the reception held in the Presbyterian Church last evening, at which time new members were welcomed by the congregation, a splendid entertainment was given by the choir from the Richardson Park M. E. Church. The choir consists of twelve trained voices and their singing was of a very high order.

Despite the inclement weather a large audience was present in the lecture room of the church when the program began.

Readings by Miss Helen Gregg, an accomplished elocutionist and member of the church, were also features in the program.

The visiting choir sang several selections in which all participated. The male chorus also was given great applause after their numbers. Solos, quartettes and chorus singing made up a very delightful musical program.

CLEAN UP DAYS

Next Wednesday and Thursday, May 16th and 17th, have been designated by Council Clean-Up Days for Newark.

The residents of the town are urged to cooperate with the authorities in making the movement a success.

Clean streets, tidy yards and spotless surroundings for every home reflect a well ordered town and a progressive community.

Clean up on the 16th and 17th.

LUTTON RESIGNS AS INSPECTOR

Colmery Appointed To Super-vise Work on Cleveland Ave. Paving Job

Frank Lutton, street inspector and the town's representative on the paving job on Cleveland Avenue, tendered his resignation to Mayor Frazer on Saturday last, to take effect immediately.

Charles W. Colmery, councilman from the Middle District, was appointed by the Mayor to take over the work. He will begin his duties as soon as Contractor Lovett completes the resurfacing of the streets in the central portion of town, after which his men will resume the Cleveland Avenue job.

Mr. Lutton it is understood became distinctly dissatisfied with the progress of the new street, and with the shaving of specifications which he alleges has been done. While it is in his power to stop the entire work if conditions warrant, he evidently was unwilling to do so. His resignation came as a complete surprise to the Mayor and Council.

Mr. Colmery, when appointed, suggested that a conference between Mr. Lovett, Mayor Frazer and himself be called immediately in order that any difficulty may be straightened out to pave the way for steady progress on the street.

The position of Inspector will undoubtedly hold until next August. He is required to be present whenever anyone is working on the street.

AMERICANIZATION CLASS HOLDS COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES

Prof. Kirkbride, Recently Returned From France, Addresses New Citizens; Twelve In Class; Interesting Program Given

The Americanization Class held weekly in the High School since last October, came to an end last Thursday night when twelve members received certificates at the Commencement exercises.

Under the direction and patient tutelage of Mrs. A. D. Cobb, assisted by Miss Jean E. Webber, a volunteer teacher, the men and women of foreign countries who make up the group have shown exceptional progress in the Americanization course. Once a week they gathered in the High School and the fundamentals of citizenship were taught them, and their eagerness to learn American ideals, customs and manners has proven the great need of many such schools all over the nation.

Prof. Kirkbride Speaks

Prof. Raymond W. Kirkbride, who has just returned from an extended trip to France, was the chief speaker of the evening. In an informal and plain spoken manner he pointed out to the graduates the possibilities as well as the responsibilities which they have as American citizens. He also spoke on the value of real Americanism not only in theory but in every day practice. His talk was greatly enjoyed by all who heard him.

Program Divided

The program was divided into two parts, the first part being the regular commencement exercises and the second part being an entertainment by the members of the school.

The evening opened with a recessional with the pupils each carrying an American flag together with the

DEAN SMITH CUP AS TRACK PRIZE

Philadelphia Alumni Chapter Votes Memorial For Inter-Scholastics

Members of the Philadelphia Chapter of the University Alumni Association have voted to place in competition at the next Interscholastic Track and Field Meet, the Dean Edward Lawrence Smith Memorial Cup. The cup is given in memory of the late Dean of the University, who was so actively connected with athletics in Delaware and who was known by almost every schoolboy in the State.

The cup will be awarded to the team in any class which wins the relay race in that class three years. The cup will be a large affair and beautifully engraved. Winners of legs on the trophy will also be engraved upon it after each meet. It is expected to be the most sought for school boy prize in the State.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

The engagement of Miss Dorothy Irene Aileen Calef to Mr. Graham Hilgard Barber, of Oakland, Cal., was announced last evening. Miss Calef is a member of the Faculty at the Women's College of Delaware and well known in Newark. No date for the wedding was given.

ATTEND C. E. CONVENTION

Six Newark delegates attended the County Christian Endeavor Convention in Wilmington, held Monday of this week. They were Miss Anna Frazer, Mrs. H. N. Reed, Miss Ellen Crow, Miss Catharine Steel, Miss Naomi Street and Miss Edith O. Lewis.

SONS OF DELAWARE HERE ON MAY 19th

Annual "Home Coming" Day to Have Many Features DINNER IN EVENING

The annual spring "home coming" outing of the Sons of Delaware of Philadelphia will be held in Newark on Saturday, May 19th.

This organization, one of the finest of its kind in the country have made it a practice for the past several years to return to their beloved State for a day of pleasure and association with old friends and familiar spots.

The University issued an invitation to the officials of the group to make their pilgrimage to Newark again this year, and it has been accepted. A special train on the Baltimore and Ohio will bring the members, their wives and guests down from Philadelphia, arriving here at two o'clock in the afternoon. Between four and five hundred visitors will flood the town that day.

Among the features planned for the entertainment of the Sons of Delaware will be the Annual Field Day at the Women's College, a baseball game between Delaware and Western Maryland and a big dinner and entertainment in Old College in the evening.

Ex-Governor Stokes To Speak

The principal speakers who will address the diners in the evening are Ex-Governor Edwin C. Stokes, of New Jersey, one of the foremost after-dinner speakers in the East, and Milton Harold Nicholls, D.D., of Philadelphia. Short talks will also be given by other members, liberally interspersed with musical selections.

University authorities are in charge of the arrangements in Newark and are planning to receive a record gathering of the Sons.

The dinner is not limited to members of the organization this year. Guests will be admitted on payment of the subscription price per plate. Reservations must be in the hands of the treasurer, Leonard C. Dill, Finance Building, Philadelphia, not later than May 14th.

The other officers of the Sons of Delaware are: President, John W. Graham, Jr., and vice-president, John L. Graham, Jr.

SCHOOL SENIORS OFF TO CAPITOL

Leave In Body Tomorrow Morning To Be Gone Three Days

The Senior Class of the Newark High School leaves tomorrow morning, shortly after nine o'clock, for a trip to the nation's capitol at Washington, D. C. They will be gone about three days, returning early Saturday evening.

The trip was made possible by several benefit affairs given by the class during the current school year, funds having been raised thereby which will almost cover the expense of the trip. So well did the benefits turn out that members will only pay a little over a dollar each for the trip.

The class will be joined by classes from other schools about five o'clock tomorrow afternoon in Washington. The Newark contingent expects to journey to Mount Vernon before the others arrive.

Sight seeing trips about the city in the daytime and visits to the Congressional Library and the theatres in the evenings make up the itinerary.

Miss Houston and Miss Gallaher will accompany the school people as chaperones.

DAVID C. ROSE SLIGHTLY IMPROVED

David C. Rose, one of Newark's prominent citizens, is resting easier, according to information received at four o'clock today. The doctors, while not confident of his recovery, have noticed a slight improvement since last night.

Mr. Rose was suddenly stricken early Monday morning, and for some hours his life hung in the balance. He is suffering with hardening of the arteries.

Members of the household and close relatives are in constant attendance at the bedside.

STATE TEACHERS DISCUSS ISSUES

Every High School In State Represented At Conference Here

TWO-DAY SESSION HELD

Vocational Education Proves Interesting Topic On Friday

The fifth annual meeting of the State High School Conference was held Friday and Saturday of last week at the University and was marked by both a large attendance and interesting and instructive programs for the three sessions.

Vocational Education and advances made in High School curriculums were perhaps the chief topics for discussion during the meeting. The former has been given a thorough tryout in Delaware and has proven popular in every section. The remarkable growth of vocational work has placed this State near the top of the list. Improved methods, the possibilities of vocational courses in rural high schools and many other phases were discussed at the Friday afternoon meeting held in the West Wing of Old College.

Friday Meeting

George Butler, president of the State Vocational Association presided at the meeting. After preliminary business had been disposed of, he called upon A. B. Anderson, State Supervisor in Trades and Industries, who delivered the principal address. He stressed the point that the whole idea of vocational training is to enable the boys or girls to make a living, and not the mistaken notion held by some that it is merely a novelty. The fact that so many children leave school without training in any line, prompts the need of vocational education in the High School and lower grades, where it will do the most good.

Dr. R. W. Heim, of Newark, State Director, also spoke briefly, as did L. C. Armstrong, State Director in Agriculture, Miss Elizabeth Amery, State Supervisor of Home Economics and J. C. Wright, Director on the Federal Board for Vocational Education in Washington. He later spoke upon the subject, "The Place of Vocational Education in a Complete Educational Program."

In the evening the delegates were addressed by Dr. David E. Weglein, assistant superintendent of Baltimore Public Schools. The evening meeting was presided over by Dr. Walter Hultihen.

Educational Tests

On Saturday morning the last session of the conference was held with Prof. W. A. Wilkinson presiding. Assistant State Superintendent of Public Instruction John Shilling read a report of the progress of educational tests throughout the State for the past year. E. C. Witham told of tests which will provide a more adequate means of promotion from grades to High School will be reached than that used at the present time. The report was very interesting and threw a new light on the subject of mental capabilities of children.

Others who spoke at the last meeting were Miss Agnes Snyder, assistant professor of education, Women's College, University of Delaware College, and Dr. H. V. Holloway, State superintendent of public instruction. The visitors in the afternoon attended the inter-scholastic field and track meet on Frazer Field.

MRS. J. M. WILLIS BURIED MONDAY

Mother of Mrs. Charles A. McCue Died Saturday After Short Illness

The funeral of Mrs. J. M. Willis was held on Monday afternoon of this week from the home of her daughter, Mrs. Charles A. McCue. The ceremony was private.

Mrs. Willis was ill but a brief period and her death was a distinct shock to her relatives and friends here. She was 66 years of age. She made her home with Mr. and Mrs. McCue at the Experimental Farm just south of town.

The deceased is survived by three sons, Leon of Philadelphia; William, of Eddystone, Pa., and Norman of Woodbury, N. J. Her husband, James T. Willis, died some years ago.

PRODUCING CLEAN MILK

Clean Cows, Good Stable Methods and Care Are Essential to Good Milk

THE PRODUCTION AND PROPER CARE OF MILK

By Courtesy of the Quality Control Department of the Philadelphia Interstate Dairy Council

Farmers producing milk for a liquid milk market have for years been faced with factors that have to do with the quality of their product. Consumers of milk have the same right to demand a safe, clean, wholesome product as they have in the other foods they purchase and, in fact, by the reason that milk occupies a place in the diet that cannot be filled by any other food, may be excused if they demand greater safeguards placed around this, the greatest of all foods.

Bearing this fact in mind and realizing, as we must, that in order to enjoy a satisfactory market for milk we must consider the consumer and do those things which will encourage a greater use of milk, it is well to consider just what steps will result in better quality and increased consumption.

First of all we must realize that the quality and cleanliness of milk depends far more upon the dairyman and his methods than it does upon his equipment and surroundings. Realizing this, the farmer who does not have a modern barn will not be discouraged and feel that the task of producing clean milk of quality is one that is beyond him. Experience has shown that much of the very best quality of milk is produced in barns that are far from modern. What, then, is required? First, a thorough understanding of the principles of clean milk production and rudiments of bacterial control.

The production of clean milk depends upon three important factors—first, clean cows—cows that have been well bedded and kept clean. Flanks should be clipped and also the long hair on the udder, belly and tail. Filth should not be permitted to collect on the animal. Second, clean milking methods. Clean dry hands while milking are very important, or clean, sterile milking machines,—when used—are absolutely necessary. More milk is contaminated by careless milking than by any other one cause. Third, clean, sterile utensils. Great care is required in keeping utensils clean and sterile. Cans, pails, strainers, in fact everything that comes in contact with milk must be rinsed with lukewarm water, thoroughly scrubbed with a good brush in hot water with washing powder, scalded, and inverted to dry in such a position that the water will drain out of the utensils leaving them dry. Drying should take place in the sun if possible.

After milk is produced in a clean, careful manner, the problem is to keep it in as good a condition as possible. Bacteria grows best at a temperature of from 60 to 70 degrees. Therefore, milk should be cooled to a point at least below sixty, or as cold as possible, but not allowed to freeze.

A survey made on nearly two hundred farms in northern Delaware and portions of Maryland during August, 1922, showed the average temperature of the coldest water available to be 54.6 degrees. (This did not include any farms using ice.) The same survey brought forth the fact that many farmers were not using the coldest water available for cooling the milk. Water, in many cases, was drawn from tanks where it had stood for some time, and where the temperature was much higher than when taken direct from the well. Provisions should always be made for pumping direct from the well or spring for cooling milk. Those who depend on wind mills for their water supply should have a small gas engine for pumping to cool the milk and furnish water when there is not sufficient wind. With water at a temperature of 54.6 degrees, milk should be cooled to 37 to 58 degrees—thus insuring against trouble.

Milk carefully produced and properly taken care of is a big step in the direction of greater consumption and more satisfactory marketing conditions.

A REAL SENATOR

The death of Senator Knute Nelson, of Minnesota, removes one of the most prominent and dependable figures in our American life. Mr. Nelson, though 80 years of age, was one of the most active men, in the Senate, where he had served for 28 years. Born in Norway, he was nearer to being a 100 per cent American than many who proclaim themselves to be such. Senator Nelson was a veteran of the Civil War and a lifetime Republican, but he did not always agree with his party. Yet no man in the Senate was held in higher personal regard by his association, for the fact was recognized that in every official act he was guided solely by his own conscientious judgment.

The President is now waiting only for formal confirmation by the department of justice of his legal authority to proclaim the existence of a national emergency and order out the armed forces of the United States to break up liquor smuggling. It

Exiles in Delaware

"Five men in public life in this state must be retired during the next year because they talked too much or talked too soon."

"In the spiritual realm, thoughts are things and words are deeds."

The above quotations were given us by one of our readers as remembered from Dr. Richard W. Cooper in his sermon at the Methodist Church last Sunday morning. THE POST has been asked to give the answer—but prefers to refer the query to our readers. An interesting speculation,—who are the prospective exiles?—And what did they say? No more interesting speculation has come to our notice for a day and more.

Being Bits gleaned from the Columns of our Contemporaries

Paternalism

From the Centreville (Md.) Record. Various proposals are made to cure the evils which follow unrestricted immigration. The one now in effect is a drastic restriction which works well enough as far as it goes; at least with our present methods we are not getting a larger number of foreign-born than we can assimilate.

But the subject inspires wonder as to whether our methods do not leave something to be desired. Twenty years ago we had just begun to consider whether the public schools should not be something more in the community than buildings and teachers; today they are often community centers, provide books and play, as well as opportunity, and are, in effect, factories for the production of citizens, as well as education.

The cry of "paternalism" in government, raised against all expansions of the school system, have proved to be mere loud noises. We are still a free country, even if we do offend the reactionary by making our schools something bigger in conception than the "little red schoolhouse at the cross-roads" of song and story.

Why should we not make our immigration laws something more than a mere matter of restriction? Why not put all immigrants into training camps for 3 months, make them get sufficient colloquial English to enable them to understand their surroundings, give them sufficient training in American Government methods to prevent them being mere puppets in the hands of ward leaders, supply them with enough inspirational knowledge of American ideals and what they stand for, so that they, like their children in public schools, will want to stand at salute as the flag goes by?

"Paternalism?" Certainly! Why not? The more foreigners we turn into good Americans, the less trouble we will have with foreign ideas, flags, newspapers, methods, and worries! In other words, why not go beyond our present policy of "giving the foreigner a chance" to the policy of "making him accept the chance?" It would cost little, and might do much toward the greatly desired end of a thorough Americanization of all who come from abroad to make this land their permanent home.

REPORT OF COUNTY AGENT For New Castle County for Month of April

Junior Dairy Cattle Club

Fifteen members have been enrolled in the Junior Dairy Cattle Club. The County Agent spent the first week in May in selecting the heifers. After spending a couple of days in Susquehanna county, Pa., he found that heifers were too high priced to consider. He came down to Somerset county, N. J., and located a very nice lot of heifers on the Findern Farm, Somerville, N. J. These heifers are coming two years old, bred to freshen in the fall. Most of them are sired by King Valdessa whose dam has a record of 38.14 pounds of butter in seven days, being the world's record when made. The heifers had very recently been turned into a luxuriant pasture and as they were a little thin it was thought unwise to take them off at this time. A tentative option at an average price of $150 was secured on the choice of a car load out of the lot of 30 to be selected the first of August. The heifers will arrive in ample time for our fall shows and will be but a month to six weeks until many of them will be fresh.

It is to be regretted that the members of the club cannot take one of these trips when the heifers are purchased. They would be impressed with the scarcity of desirable heifers and the difficulty one experiences in getting the right breeding and type at reasonable prices. After looking over the large number of herds that he did and learning of the prices that were asked, the County Agent feels fortunate in being able to get this option on this lot of heifers at the price, especially considering their breeding.

Potato Demonstrations

The five certified seed potato demonstrations which have already been mentioned have been laid out and planted. During the season we expect to arrange a potato inspection tour giving the farmers an opportunity to see the variation in the different varieties and note the relative value of certified seed versus the one year old seed.

Annual Picnic

The County Agent has a communication from the office of the American Federation of Farm Bureaus to the effect that Mr. Walter Petzet, Director of Cooperative Marketing for the American Farm Bureau will be in the East some time this summer and that he could probably be secured to speak at a meeting. It might be well to determine the itinerary of his eastern trip and it is possible that we could arrange the annual picnic to fit in with his itinerary and secure him as our main speaker.

Extension Service Exhibit at State Fair

If feasible, the County Agent has in mind making the results of the certified seed potato demonstrations one of the main features of the extension service exhibit at the State Fair this fall. Suggestions from the members of the Executive Committee in this regard will be very acceptable.

Dairy Legislation

Some of the members of the Executive Committee doubtless noted that out of the twenty-three states in which filled milk bills have been presented in only two state legislatures that have taken action has it failed passage. In Indiana the bill failed passage and in Vermont it received the governor's veto. The false dairy advertising legislation has been equally successful.

County Agent on Vacation

The County Agent will take his vacation beginning this week end. He expects to spend most of his time at his home in Indiana.

CARD OF THANKS

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. McCue desire to thank their friends for the many acts of kindness shown them during their late bereavement.

HOCKESSIN FOLKS VISIT HARMONY Large Gathering at Grange Meeting Monday The regular weekly meeting of Harmony Grange was held on Monday evening with 65 members present. They had as their guests Worthy State Master Robt. P. Robinson and Sister Robinson and a large delegation from Hockessin Grange. After the reading of the minutes the general order of business was waived that Bro. Robinson could speak, as another engagement prevented his remaining all evening. He gave us a very pleasing and encouraging address, urging all Granges to boost, boost everywhere, as the Grange was a strong organization and capable of accomplishing much good along every line, social, educational, etc. Sister Robinson spoke befittingly of the pledge of the organization and its high ideals. Under the general routine of business the jar rubbers were reported here ready for distribution. Bro. Jos. Mitchell was appointed to purchase the binder twine. The law on the daylight saving was further discussed. Worthy Pomona Master Bro. F. F. Yearsley made some very befitting remarks, criticizing the ministry for the position they had taken on the issue, and encouraging evading the law. Several other members of Hockessin Grange spoke. As there were others present who were not members of the Grange, the lecturer's hour was an open meeting, consisting of a piano solo by Sister Edna Murray, humorous reading by Sister Lillian Dennison, vocal solo by Sister Blanche Sibley. A one-act play completed the program, entitled "That Blonde Hair Person," given by Sisters Emilie Mitchell, Cornelia Johnston, Carolyn Peach, Madeline Johnston, Helen and Sara Pennington.

ORIGINAL LIBRARY WAS FOUNDED 1788 The Wilmington Institute Free Library had its inception in the establishment of the Library Company of Wilmington, established January 9th, 1788. The capital was $50, and the library was open two hours a week. In 1846, a union was formed between the Library Company and the Young Men's Literary and Debating Society. In 1856, a second union was formed with the Young Men's Association for Mutual Improvement. Prior to 1861, the books had been kept in the old City Hall, in the old Market house at Fourth and Market Streets, and in various schoolhouses. On January 31st, 1861, the Library Building at Eighth and Market Streets was dedicated as a home for the Wilmington Institute, as the library has been generally designated. It was a subscription library, and as such, continued until 1893. In that year, it was made a free library, and became known as the Wilmington Institute Free Library. In 1916, the campaign for a new building was successfully held, and $325,000 for its construction was raised April 20th of that year. The erection of the present building at Tenth and Market Streets was delayed by the war, but was begun in September, 1921.

Farmers' Day at College Park From Midland Journal (Rising Sun, Md.) Already plans are being made for Farmers' Day at University of Maryland which this year will be held Saturday, May 26. Exhibits and Demonstrations, which form important features of the annual event, are being planned and prepared by the various departments to show recent developments in agricultural investigations and the various lines of work which the institution is conducting.

COUNCIL MEETING (Continued from Page 1.) few moments. No official action was taken in the matter. Charge Poor Curb Laying The next item for consideration and one which again brought forth considerable discussion was the charge that Contractor Lovett was slipping up on specifications for the curbing on Cleveland Avenue. Inspector Luton first called the Mayor's attention to some bad curbing a week or more ago. The Mayor in turn called upon the services of Engineer Wilson, who condemned about thirty feet as not being according to specifications. The matter drew forth a consensus of opinion that Mr. Lovett should be warned about the curbing and asked to pay more attention to details in the work. It is believed that a conference to be held soon between Mayor Frazer, Inspector Colmery and Mr. Lovett will bring about a complete understanding as to future relations. Pass Fireworks Rule The recently drawn Fireworks Ordinance passed its third reading Monday night. The Milk Report was read and the secretary instructed to bring action through Alderman Thompson against H. A. Eastburn, whose milk ran high in bacteria in both April tests. Council adjourned at 10.15.

HITS AND MISSES

BREEZY and BRIEF Marked up for Battery "E" by "The Q.M."

Well, we celebrated our birthday last Thursday night.

Just two years since we were mustered into Federal Service and one until...

No! We didn't have any ice cream and cake.

There was 100 quarts ordered, but Lt. Mote was afraid 20 men couldn't handle it, so he sent it back.

You fellows who had to go to "church" missed a good time.

We had a free for all argument or rather, "get together talk."

Oh, no! Nobody was hurt, although a few were a little sore.

All hands on deck this week.

We are going to start a club that will set the world on fire.

Bring your dictionaries and prepare for some "argufying."

Some of the fellows got fooled the other week when we told them in this column that it was to be pay day.

They thought that this column was all bunk.

Some of it is.

But this club business is straight, so come out and do your part.

Six or seven fellows can't make it a success, it needs you and your buddy.

We are going to make the Battery quartet the degree team.

A half a dozen of their songs would be enough initiation for any man.

Heard in the...

"General Drumm wrote me a letter telling me to tell you fellows that this summer while we are in...

We have been expecting snow all week.

But to tell the truth I think that they want to get acquainted so that they can draw their cotton uniforms next week.

camp, he has made arrangements with the Loew theatres and the Hotel Pennsylvania to take care of all members of the 198th Artillery at any time they wish. All bills will be paid by him.

We hear that our old friend "Jack the Cook" has a car.

We have started a fund for flowers. Please drop your contributions in the box in the hall.

Sgt. "Inky" is now a full-fledged member of the "Hokus Pokus Fraternity."

He took his degree Sunday.

No! Not "Kick In," it was "Kicked Out."

The way we heard it was that he "Went West" and had a vision.

He told them his name was Duffy, but he really thought that he was Joan of Arc back in Gay Paree with orders to clean out a "frog" cafe.

'Ah! Qui, Encore, cognac.'

But the A. E. F. never had an M. P. like big Chief Lewis.

And instead of Ten and—a fellow got ten days K. P. and busted.

"Par bonne."

Another good reason why we need a good club.

A fellow then can holler "Hey Soldier" as in the days of old.

1st Sgt. Keeley, while calling the roll last week, had a sun stroke.

Pvt. Burton Reynolds and "Wakey" Smith answered the roll call.

The reason they did that was, they were broke and didn't have the price of the movies.

Any body knowing any thing of interest about old Company "E" please get in touch with the Battery Historian.

Last but not least, don't forget to come around this week and give your help to getting the club started.

CAR HITS CALF

One of Samuel Murray's prize calves wandered out upon the Lincoln Highway Saturday morning just in time to be struck by a new Ford sedan, driven by a Pennsylvanian.

Despite the fact that the animal was dragged about thirty feet along the hard road, it will recover.

FAST GAMES IN THE MARYLAND LOOP

Elkton Swamps Elk Mills with Shanner Pitching 8 to 0

OTHER RESULTS

By getting away to a fast start in the opening stanza Elkton defeated Elk Mills by an 8 to 0 score.

Lichtenstein, the enemy shortstop, was the feature player of the afternoon, putting up a scintillating game at his position and tearing off three safe hits.

Bobby Watkins pitched creditable ball for Newark and deserved a better fate. The Yorklyn lead, of three runs made in the first two innings was a handicap and could not quite be matched, although Newark's seventh inning rally had the Yorklyn rooters in hot water for a time. The score:

DELAWARE DEFEATED IN FAST GAME 8-5

Their Field Last Friday

Another defeat was handed the Blue and Gold's "pitcherless" ball team, this time by an old and bitter rival, when the garnet of Swarthmore triumphed in a fast game last Friday afternoon, score 8-5.

Inability to hit when hits meant runs and a continual pecking away by the Swarthmore batters on two Delaware pitchers were causes for the slip-up.

Mannix, an outfielder by nature but a pitcher by necessity, essayed to hold back the Pennsylvanians, after relieving Brandt, the Laurel boy suffered equally while on the mound.

Delaware scored but once in eight innings, then cut loose and shoved four markers over the plate, but that wasn't enough. Fast fielding marked both defenses. The score:

YORKLYN NOSES OUT LOCALS IN GOOD GAME

Early Lead Enables Snuff-Town Boys to Down Carter's Team

Newark lost its first game of the current season in the New Castle County League Saturday when Yorklyn turned the trick in a fast and interesting game. Score, 4-3.

According to reports from the scene of battle the enemy earned but one of their three tallies by hitting at opportune moments. Momentary mistakes by the local defense were responsible for the others. There were, however, several smart plays on the part of the Newark clan which served to bring applause from the crowd. Chief among the headline efforts were those of Moore and Steedle. The former ran almost to the creek in deep center and garnered a long drive which was labelled for a homer, while the old Rutger's star galloped far out of his territory on one occasion to appear a hot grounder.

Mote and Moore

From the offensive standpoint, Henry Mote and Griff Moore carried off local honors. Henry stepped in and whaled one to the far reaches of left center for a triple on one occasion and then to make his day complete he dropped a neat single over the infield later on in the game. Griff, an "old timer" in one sense, but still able to cover a few acres of ground on the outfield, also came through with a couple of timely hits. Challenger and Pierson garnered the remainder of the six safe blows during the fracas.

Lichtenstein, the enemy shortstop, was the feature player of the afternoon, putting up a scintillating game at his position and tearing off three safe hits.

Bobby Watkins pitched creditable ball for Newark and deserved a better fate. The Yorklyn lead, of three runs made in the first two innings was a handicap and could not quite be matched, although Newark's seventh inning rally had the Yorklyn rooters in hot water for a time. The score:

Shot-put, Class III.—Morris, Caroline H. S., 43.87 feet. Former record 38 feet 2 1-4 inches.

Coming back later he won the Class 3 half-mile, again in record time. He was the only representative of his school present and garnered 10 points.

Roser, the little duPont High sprinter, was the star in Class 3, winning both dash events and equaling the record in the 220. His efforts gave his school third place in the final reckoning.

The pole vault record was topped by Requardt, of Tome, in Class 1, when he beat Conly, of Wilmington, by leaping 10 feet 9 inches.

West Philadelphia Catholic High School had the largest number of entries of any school, and by carrying off firsts and seconds all afternoon, nosed out Coatesville for the banner in Class 2. The Philadelphia boys were everywhere and ran heady races.

Another feature was the appearance of so many new schools on the field. From as far down the shore as Pocomoke City and into Pennsylvania as far as Coatesville, came runners and jumpers to compete. While Class 1 had but three schools enrolled, a very small list, Class 3 was overloaded with eager athletes, and Clerk of the Course Ballentyne was forced to run several heats in most of the events. The 440-yard run found twelve men stretched across the track at the start.

The boys all appeared in the pink of condition. But one or two collapsed at the finish and these were quickly revived.

The meet was managed very efficiently and great credit goes to the officials and to the University authorities for the complete organization and smooth manner in which the afternoon slipped by. The crowd was not believed to have been as large as in previous years, but those who attended were sufficiently entertained. Guard mount was held on the field prior to the opening of the meet, the R. O. T. C., under command of Lieut. Nutter, performing the ceremonies. The Commons was covered with athletes and officials at noon when the athletic luncheon was served. Many of the boys remained in town that night and attended the Student Council dance in the Armory.

Mr. Merchant

Do you realize the importance of getting your advertising copy prepared early?
 You know our old friend procrastination. He's a cousin to the cow's tail.
 Why follow, when you can lead?
 Supposing all your customers left their shopping in your store until an hour before you were closing up at night, what would happen? You know. It would make great confusion, you couldn't give service and your customers would leave the store dissatisfied.
 Well, in a way, that's what you often ask the newspapers to do. You wait until the ninth hour to prepare your copy, and when it reaches the office you expect the compositors to do two hours' work in one.
 It can't be done.
 The result is that your advertisement is slapped together in great haste, with a chance for errors and without proper display. It can't be otherwise.
 Stop that old habit of putting off till the last day, the last hour and the last minute to send your copy to the newspaper office.
 Get it out early when you have time to think and prepare it properly. Then send it to the newspaper office two or three days ahead. That will give the newspaper time to prepare your advertisement properly.
 You can see the logic of it. It will mean better ads, better service and better results.
 That's what you want. That's why you advertise.
 Give the newspaper a chance.
 Apply the Golden Rule.

"The Happy Home is the Well-Furnished Home"
 Ninth and King Sts. Wilmington, Del.

Favored by splendid weather and a very fast track, the 10th Annual Inter-scholastic Track and Field Meet sponsored by the University of Delaware and held on Frazer Field last Saturday proved to be a bug bear to existing record holders.

No less than twelve marks went by the boards before the afternoon was over, and new champions rose to take the places of old ones in many events. The awarding of the point score prizes to the class winners was delayed until the final event, the broad jump, had been completed. This came late in the afternoon and only then did the contestants know the winners.

In fact, the competition was keener than ever this year. Several schools in Class 3, who had not previously competed in the meet, and were considered as "also rans" by the rank and file came through to notable victories and beat out favorites with great regularity.

Newark Out of Money

Newark High failed to land up with the contenders in Class 3. Lack of material and difficulties in training have left their mark on the local track team. They placed eighth in the final point score. The outstanding performance was given by Lewis Green, captain and crack quarter-miler. Caught in the big field at the first turn, and shouldered to the outside, he came through with a sprint, going into the stretch, but just failed to cut down the big lead held by Kelly, of Oxford High. Green pushed his rival to a new mark of 54 3-5 for the event, and finished under the old record himself.

Several Features

During the course of the meet several features aside from the great abundance of competitors attracted the attention of the 2000 or more spectators.

Austin, an accomplished distance runner from Summerville, N. J., High, trained and advised by W. S. Lilly, a former Delaware star, jumped out of his class to win the mile run in Class 1. He outclassed his field and set a new record for the distance.

DEWEY STORMS THE HEIGHTS IN VAIN

Sunday Morning Peace of Main St. Rudely Disturbed By Belligerents

A ONE MAN RIOT

As the residents of Main Street adjoining the College campus were enjoying their final nap preparatory to a big breakfast, a glimpse at the "funnies" and a stroll to church, they were rudely awakened by the sound of battle, hard earnest battle, too, which emerged from the general vicinity of the dormitories. Then one of the doors opened and one of our young Newark citizens came flying out upon the turf, in a rather disheveled and undignified manner. His exit was made with great haste, and was aided by several lusty arms and legs from the doorway.

It all happened like this: Dewey Reed, the party of the first part, and a companion were strolling into town admiring the dawn last Sunday morning. Feeling in the need of strenuous exercise before he could do justice to breakfast, Dewey suggested that the two enter the dormitories and knock a few of the collegiate gentlemen loose from their collars. Dewey's companion demurred and otherwise objected, but Dewey would not be denied, and with a look of extreme disgust at his partner he spat on his hands and assumed the offensive right then and there. From now on the story is second handed.

It appears that the youthful crusader reached the third floor of the building without incident, and was in the middle of his oration to the effect that he "could lick any seventeen men in the place," when he found himself going down the steps in record time. Dewey didn't have time to finish his oration.

In the meantime staid citizens and citizenesses were peering sleepily out of windows, and Palace of Justice officials were running from several directions, one it is rumored, girded in a bathrobe. Fears of a general riot or a four alarm fire quickly abated when they saw the lone cause of the disturbance. Dewey was persuaded to return home, with the consolation of having reached the third floor, anyway.

A little matter of adjustment occurred in the Hall of Justice Monday morning.

BUSY LAYING SEWERS IN ELKTON STREETS

Aim to Widen Thoroughfares in Center of Town Thereby

The central business district of Elkton is to have wider streets and a new drain sewer system when the constructive work ordered by Council is completed.

Workmen are now engaged in laying a new sewer along Main street from flow to North and thence on North street to a point opposite Council Hall. Automobiles and pedestrians alike are suffering some inconvenience now but when the work is finished, the streets in the heart of the town will be wider and this minimize traffic jams and accidents on busy evenings.

ELKTON-GLASGOW ROAD TO BE PAVED

Bids Asked for Work by Maryland Commission

With the announcement late last week of the State Roads Commission of Maryland the bids are being received for the laying of a concrete road from Elkton to the Delaware line near Glasgow, another important link on the good roads system of this section is under way.

The length of the proposed road is about five miles and with its completion but a mile or less of dirt road will be left on the Delaware side. This new stretch of concrete will be of great benefit to autoists from Delaware who are driving to Baltimore and western Maryland. It will also serve to increase the trade in the Maryland town which at this time does elsewhere for want of better roads.

The Glasgow-Elkton road is one of the oldest in this part of the country, and the land adjoining it is of great historic interest, being the ground marched over by the British on the road to their invasion of Philadelphia during the Revolution.

YOUNG SCHOOLBOY KILLED NEAR ELKTON

Jumps Off Bus in Front of Teacher's Machine; No Arrests Made

A tragic accident occurred Thursday evening along the Chesapeake City-Elkton Pike when Clarence, the seven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Benson of the former town was struck and instantly killed by the car driven by Miss Alice C. Hager, also of Chesapeake City.

It appears that the little fellow was riding on the steps of the bus and leaped off as it neared his home. Before Miss Hager could stop her car the wheels had run over his body. He suffered injuries which, according to Coroner Magraw of Elkton and physicians, caused instant death. At the inquest, Miss Hager was exonerated of all blame in connection with the tragedy. She is a teacher in the Elkton schools and is well known throughout the northern part of the county.

HIS MAJESTY THE STORK ARRIVES IN ELKTON

Mr. and Mrs. Sterling E. Dunbar, of North Street, Elkton, are receiving congratulations upon the birth, on Monday morning of a son. The little newcomer is named Sterling Ayerst Dunbar. Both mother and child are doing very nicely.

Friends of the happy father predict that the youngster will no doubt be a leading feature of the Elkton band in years to come, not to say an accomplished saxophone artist.

NEW DIRECTORS IN FAIRVIEW SCHOOL

News Item for the Week from a Busy Community

Thursday evening, May 17th, has been set for the last Parent-Teacher meeting before the school closes. Mrs. John Kirk requests all to be present. As the field day meet is the following day, there may be some last minute arrangements to make.

Franklin L. Greenwalt was a Sunday afternoon caller on Samuel and John Kirk. He enjoyed by "radio" a fine sermon and excellent music from New York.

Mrs. Elwood Sheldon spent one day last week in Wilmington.

The school election held at Fairview school elected Mrs. John Kirk as a new member of the board. One member was re-elected and one goes out next year.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Davis and daughter visited Mr. Harley Mousley Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Whiteman and daughter, Anna Ray, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Campbell, of Wilmington, were Sunday guests of Mr. Wm. Little.

The pie social at Ebenezer M. E. Church, May 24th, will mark the 38th anniversary of the Ladies Mite Society. A treat is in store for those who attend. Miss Hobbs, of Newark, will give readings and Miss Anna M. Little will recite. Mr. Orville Little is making arrangements to have an orchestra from Newark to furnish music. There will be vocal solos and duets by local members and the usual treat of pie and coffee will complete the evening's program.

It is regretted by a large number that the installation of White Clay Creek's new pastor happens the same evening.

Wawa Tribe, No. 45 and Leola Council, No. 14, both of Union, Del., will attend the Mother's Day services at Ebenezer Church next Sunday. Special music is being prepared.

The school election was held in Fairview School Saturday afternoon. One of the Commissioners was re-elected. The clerk has one more year. The new member of the board is Mrs. John Kirk. As Mrs. Kirk was a teacher for several years it is hoped she will help get the school in a better condition in every way.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Worrall and son Wilson, were Sunday guests of her brother, Mr. Caleb Wilson, of Hockessin.

Mrs. Sarah L. Worrall and Raymond Devonshire spent Sunday with Mrs. Lida Whiteman.

MOTHER'S DAY

By resolution of Congress and by order of President Harding Mother's Day will be observed by all the people of the nation on Sunday, May 13th. At the National Capital and on all public buildings and in all foreign possessions, the flag of the republic will be displayed. It has also been decided that the wearing of any kind of flower in the buttonhole or on the breast will signify the intention and express the desire. But if "the best mother" be alive add to her happiness by writing a letter.

It is indeed fitting that one day in every year should be set apart in which the whole people can pay to the mothers of our country the tribute of their love. Hurried, worried, careless or harrassed as the best or the worst of us may be, it will be well for all to spare, once a year, the thoughts of one Sunday to the best mother who ever lived. The poet spoke truly when he said:—

The greatest battle that ever was fought—
Shall I tell you where and when?
On the map of the world you will find it not;
It was fought by the mothers of men.

The dear old flag has been unfurled many a time above the brave armies of America, but never have its sacred folds floated above a braver army than that of the heroic mothers of America. Another poet beautifully describes the feeling of all of us when he said:—

"The world at times has beat me back in the battles I have fought;
Not always has the god Success touched tasks in which I wrought.
Full oft has fortune dealt a blow instead of bent to bless
And heartaches followed close upon the heels of happiness;
And often when a solemn woe of grief my heart intoned,
And often when my spirit writhed and all my nature groaned,
There stole refrain that softened pain, not phrased by mortal tongue,
But born of memories, old and sweet—the songs my mother sung
When she took me in her arms and gently stroked my hair,
And bare me with her down to sleep in that old bye-bye chair."

Enshrined in our hearts and chiseled with indelible trace in our memories is the image of the one who gave us birth, nurtured us in infancy, shared our joys and troubles in youth, and smilingly sent us forth a mother's kiss and a whispered prayer to meet the fate of the unknown future.

All honor to the mothers of America. No thought could be more beautiful than that which prompts every man, woman and child to pay such a tribute to those dear ones to whom we owe so much.

BRING SUIT AGAINST THREE DIRECTORS OF DEFUNCT SECOND NATIONAL BANK OF ELKTON

Total of $219,832.12 Loss Due To "Gross Negligence" Filed In Complaint Before Baltimore Court

KEYS, REED AND LUNGREN INVOLVED

As an aftermath of the crash of the Second National Bank of Elkton, an event which shocked all Maryland last year, announcement has been made of a suit to be brought in the United States District Court of Baltimore against three former directors of the illfated institution in Elkton. Preliminary papers have been filed by Receiver Thomas W. Perkins, and plans are being made by him to collect evidence to support his claims.

The directors involved, all residents of Elkton or Cecil County are Samuel J. Keys, Russell J. Reed and John Lungren.

The announcement of the suit created a furore in the Maryland town and great speculation is rife as to the next move. It was a surprise to most citizens and is the largest single development in settling the affairs of the bank which has occurred since it closed its doors.

In the bill of complaint which was filed by the receiver through Keech, Deming, Kemp & Carman, Baltimore, attorneys, the bank's losses, for which the directors were alleged to be liable, were summarized as follows, under the heading, "Table of Losses":

Accommodation notes, taken by the bank to replace worthless paper... $37,000.00
Loans to William T. Warburton and members of his family... 29,489.55

Loans to William T. Warburton's defunct enterprises... 13,817.46
Loans to Wm. T. Warburton's stenographer, Miss L. Velma Pitt... 3,424.89
Other losses on loans and accounts... 54,952.22
Losses on judgments... 8,749.00
Losses on mortgages... 12,900.00
Losses on investments... 60,000.00

Total... $219,832.12
The bill of complaint stated that these may not be all the losses the bank sustained, but there may be others.

The outcome of the suit will alter to a great extent the status of the creditors. Providing the money is ordered paid by the defendants, the claims of the losers in the failure will be considerably augmented. At present the Receiver, Mr. Perkins, is arranging to pay another ten per cent to depositors.

Another director of the bank who still resides in Cecil County, Charles W. Johnson, was not named as a defendant. He was cashier and director at the time of the failure. William T. Warburton, another director, and president of the bank, died in February, 1922. Neither of these were mentioned in the bill of complaint.

Just what action will be taken by the defendants in the matter is not known.

BUY SCHOOL SITE

The Board of Education for Cecil County has bought the old baseball park on Railroad avenue formerly a portion of the Cecil County Fair Grounds upon which to erect the new Elementary school to be built in Elkton this year. At the election last November the voters of the county authorized a bond issue for $150,000 for new school buildings in the county.

MAKE IT HIGH!

In presenting the Prince of Wales with a branch from an apple tree, Col. George Harvey has put Peacham, Vermont, on the world map in a manner that Henry Ford with all his money and advertising genius never could have done. It is said that a movement is on foot among the Peacham residents to erect a monument to him.

LADIES AID HOLDS REGULAR MEETING

Miss Nickerson Hostess; Good Program

The Ladies Aid of the M. E. Church met at the home of Mrs. Clara Nickerson on Thursday afternoon, May 3rd, at 2:30 o'clock. The meeting was opened by a song, "One More Day's Work for Jesus," after which the president, Mrs. H. P. Williams, read the scripture lesson from the first chapter of Ruth, 1-17 verses.

Six new members were added to our list, one of the largest attendances of the year. Several new committees were appointed to further carry on the work and interest of the society.

After the business meeting a very interesting program was given as follows: Reading entitled "Old Hymns," Mrs. Clarence Short; humorous recitation, Mrs. Bunker's City Shopping, Mrs. Joseph Mote; reading entitled "Griggsby's Station," Mrs. Oscar Elliott. Refreshments were served and a pleasant time enjoyed by all.

WOMEN'S CLUB OF ELKTON ELECTS

The officers of the Women's Club of Elkton who will lead the organization through the current year are as follows:

President, Mrs. Katherine Budd Davis; first vice-president, Mrs. Irvin T. Kepler; second vice-president, Mrs. Thomas H. Harlan; corresponding secretary, Miss Mary Hollingsworth Jamar; recording secretary, Miss Gracia Wells Price; treasurer, Miss Susan Bratton; directors, Miss A. B. Farwell, Mrs. J. Frank Frazer, Mrs. Russell M. George, Mrs. Herbert D. Litzenberg; holdover directors, Mrs. H. M. Boulden, Mrs. Reginald Constable, Mrs. Standley Evans, Mrs. Henry Mitchell McCullough.

NEWARK REFEREES A SLIGHT BATTLE

Two Foreign Cars Collide Saturday Night; Settle Losses

The town of Newark acted in the capacity of referee at a bout between a Maryland and a Pennsylvania car when they came to dispute each other's right of way near the Deer Park early Saturday evening.

The outcome of the bout revealed that both machines were a little worse for wear, and the owners were invited to Magistrate Thompson's rest room for a calm discussion and settlement of their differences.

The incident finally closed with the payment of a matter of $17.00 and a cigar thrown in between the interested parties. They thanked Mr. Thompson for his mediation and went their ways rejoicing.

LECTURE AT APPLETON

Mr. E. F. Barker, of Rockville, Maryland, will deliver a lecture on "The Independent Farmer" in Appleton Hall on Monday evening, May 14th. The lecture will be held under the auspices of the Appleton Grange and a large attendance is requested.

Mr. Barker is a finished lecturer and he is in close association with the agriculture situation in the country today. His lecture is bound to be interesting and instructive to the farmers of the vicinity.

A pie social will be held by the ladies of the Grange after the lecture. All ladies are requested to bring a pie along to help the affair along.

STATE SCHOLARSHIP DATES ANNOUNCED

Candidates for the sixty scholarships to the University of Delaware, authorized by the recent session of the State Legislature, will be given preliminary examinations on the third Saturday in June, according to the announcement made Friday by the State Board of Education.

The examinations will be held simultaneously in the Wilmington High School, the State House in Dover, and the Court House in Georgetown. In the apportionment of the scholarships, it is revealed that New Castle County will be awarded 17, Kent County 17 and Sussex County 26.

The rules and regulations governing the examinations as issued by the State Board are embodied in Section 68 of the School Laws of Delaware,

KITCHEN CABINET ORCHESTRA PLEASURES

Novel Elkton Organization Surprises Newarkers Friday Night

The Kitchen Cabinet Orchestra, thought to be the only one of its kind in existence in this locality, and at present one of the leading groups of entertainers in Elkton, came over to Newark Friday night and gave a concert in the lecture room of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

To many in the audience, the musical treat was not entirely different from what they had expected. Applause greeted every number.

The members of the orchestra consisted of Gleaners, a live church organization in the Maryland town, and they were attractively gowned in brilliant red jackets with paper bag caps. The improvised instruments from pots, kettles, egg beaters, towel racks and other kitchen implements, augmented by the use of "gazoos." The leader, Mrs. Carl Currier, was energetic in her efforts and kept the musicians well in hand at all times.

The program was rendered in the vein of a story, with "Robin Adair" and "Annie Laurie" as the chief characters. As these two personages wandered about on their travels through Music Land, they met many other song characters, all of whom were included in the selections. Miss Gertrude Smith read the story while the orchestra provided the connecting links. Quartets, duets and solos were featured during the evening. Mr. Currier accompanied the orchestra at the piano.

In addition to the local people present, a great number of Elktonians came over to hear the concert. It was a success in every way.

ELECTION SUPERVISORS FOR CECIL COUNTY

Changes Made in Existing Laws Regarding Office Holding

The Cecil County Board of Election Supervisors has been reorganized for the coming year, according to reports from Elkton received this week.

Bayard G. Black, of Charlestown, was named president of the Board, Fred H. Laffer, of Elkton, clerk, and Albert D. Mackey, also of Elkton, counsel. Other business incidental to clearing the decks for the year's work was attended to at the meeting.

Drastic changes in the laws regarding terms of office was made by the recent Maryland Legislature affecting almost all the important county offices and reaching up into higher places. The Governor's term of office will be from henceforth three years instead of the customary four years. Other changes are as follows: County Treasurer, Assistant County Treasurer, Sheriff, to serve for three years instead of two years; County Commissioners to serve for three years, instead of two and four years; members of the House of Delegates, to serve for three years, instead of for two years; State Attorney to serve for three years, instead of four years; Comptroller three years, instead of two years; Attorney-General three years, instead of four years.

FRANK COLLINS TO GIVE PRIZES

$10 to Heaviest Hitter and Greatest Run Scorer on Delaware Team

Frank Collins, an alumnus of the University and a former president of the Association, has offered two prizes of ten dollars each to the individuals on this year's Delaware baseball team who makes the most hits and scores the most runs during the season. The prizes will probably be awarded during Commencement week.

NEW CASTLE NEXT

Newark engages in mortal battle with the New Castle team of the County League next Saturday afternoon in Newark. In all probability the game will be played on the Rehab diamond due to Fraser field being occupied. There is a movement on foot to start the game early in the afternoon in order to allow fans to see both the League and the College game, but no definite word has been received as to the starting time.

The New Castle team is leading the circuit and a victory for Newark Saturday will again place the locals in the front rank of the contenders for the first half flag.

FLOWER GARDENS WHICH REQUIRE BUT LITTLE ATTENTION

Many Possibilities For Pretty Beds For Local People Who Are Pushed For Time

Not all of us have as much time to put on our gardens as we would like to have. Some folk have so little time, indeed, that they feel they cannot have any garden at all, even though they would like to have gardens. Many folk who live in suburban towns and work in the city are in this predicament. They must leave home so early in the morning, and they get home so late in the day that there really seems to be no time for gardening, not even for flower raising. For such people plants that will take care of themselves are just the thing.

And there are such plants, though we all know well enough that the average flower or vegetable requires lots of attention if it is to thrive. What is needed for this sort of thing are plants that can be naturalized in the grass.

If we look around at nature a bit, we shall soon find our models. In nature we find violets springing up everywhere in the early part of the year. They grow in sun and shade, among the trees and in the grass, for nature has provided a kind of violet for every location. All that is necessary to have a good violet bed with little trouble is to get enough violets to make a dense mass. They will smother out competitive plants and flourish for years. One should try to have the soil they are planted in as nearly like the soil they came out of as possible. For some years the writer has made it a practice to lift with his pocket knife desirable violet plants encountered on walks and bring them home. Thus, little by little, he has accumulated dozens of fine violet plants, and the now has self-sustaining beds of blue, white and yellow violets.

They require virtually no attention whatever.

Iris is another plant that will get along well in the grass. To be sure, iris in the grass will not be as luxuriant as iris highly cultivated. But for all that, the plants will grow very satisfactorily and produce abundant blooms.

Wild lilies are especially good for this sort of planting. Once established, the lilies come up year after year in increasing numbers. Wood lilies, spotted field lilies, tiger lilies, the so-called lemon lily and many other varieties will flower well in grass. Their tall, graceful stalks tower above the grass at their base, the one really supplementing the other.

If you go to nature, you will find yarrow, Oswego tea, Queen Anne's lace, the evening primrose, the hawkweeds, the buttercup, the rue and innumerable other beautiful flowers growing thriftily in the grass. We can grow them in the grass in our yards just as successfully as nature can grow them out in the fields in grass. We can use cultivated plants, too, like crocuses, scillas, daffodils, and the like.

What could be more pleasing than a strip of grass bordering the yard that is filled with some of the plants mentioned? You can mow the grass close up to it, leaving the grass in the border untouched, with your flowers abloom among it. And although such a garden may be far from a model and its blooms may not be as fine as those from a highly cultivated bed, they will nevertheless be beautiful, and you will have a flower bed without much work.

REJUVENATING A
PEAR ORCHARD

The use of a nitrogenous fertilizer on apple orchards is now a common and approved practice, but it has not been customary to apply it to pear trees. An experience by Mr. C. F. Bobzien, of Burt, N. Y., indicates that pears may also profit by it. He had 450 pear trees, fifteen years of age, part Bartlett and part Kieffer, which had borne only one crop since they were set. They were in bad condition due to psylla, and looked about ready to die. Thinking that they were done for, anyway, and that any treatment he might give them could do no serious damage, Mr. Bobzien applied two pounds of sulphate of ammonia to each tree in the spring of 1922.

Instead of dying the trees took on a new lease of life. The leaves became a dark healthy green, and plenty of new wood was formed. Best of all, however, was a crop of 1,000 barrels of pears from the 450 trees, which were sold for $3.10 per barrel.

BANKS AND EXAMINERS

When a series of thefts can go on for years, as they did in a York, Pa., bank until nearly $1,000,000 was abstracted before detection, it ought to be conclusive evidence that the bank examining system is not protection sufficient. Such a condition would not be possible if the government made the Board of Directors responsible. When they are made responsible they will see to it that officers who set the Wallingford bee in their bonnets shall not have facilities for getting away with the funds, and depositors will be protected. A few years in prison does not pay back the losses to widows, children, working men or business men.

COTTON IN BRAZIL

Mr. W. Irving Bullard, who represented the American Textile Industry at the International Cotton Conference at Rio de Janeiro last fall, asserts that Brazil promises to become one of the greatest cotton producing countries in the world.

Fastest Pursuit Plane in World
Gives America War Mastery of Sky

Skeleton View of New Curtiss Pursuit Plane, Showing Metal Construction.

The test performance of a new Curtiss Pursuit Plane has caused a sensation in the Army and Navy services. Ever since the Pulitzer Race at Detroit, in which a new all-American motor finished in the first four places, it has been expected that military planes of a super-type would make their appearance at almost any time. The actual performance of the new pursuit ship of a series surpasses expectation.

In many respects, this aeroplane is a departure from precedent. It uses the same Curtiss motor used in the racing ships at Detroit. It is equipped with wing radiators, the most radical advance in the art of cooling a motor since 1917, and which reduces the resistance of the air almost to zero. These features were expected. The construction, however, is said to possess, also, a new feature, in that the entire machine can be stored for a period of twenty years, if necessary, and taken out of storage, ready to assemble and fly on twenty-four hours' notice. This machine is also stated to be the first real fighting ship of all-American construction and design. While tests are not completed, expert opinion is that it is not only the fastest, but also the most powerful fighting ship in existence in any nation today.

Miss Eleanor E. Todd Tells of Places and People of Interest in the Old Civil War Town

Miss Eleanor E. Todd, State Regent of the Delaware Daughters of the American Revolution, has returned from a ten days stay in Washington, D. C., where she attended the sessions of the Thirty-second Continental Congress, and presented the report of the work done during the year by the Delaware "Daughters." She remained over for the first meeting of the National Board of Management presided over by the newly elected President General, Mrs. Anthony Wayne Cook.

The next day the members of the Board went to Fredericksburg, Va., where they were most delightfully entertained as guests of the Washington-Lewis Chapter. This chapter has formed the Kenmore Association which recently purchased "Kenmore," the beautiful home of Betty Washington Lewis, sister of George Washington, who married Colonel Fielding Lewis, maker of the first guns of the Revolutionary War, the site of his gunnery being still carefully preserved. "Kenmore" was built in 1752, and later the interior was greatly beautified by stucco work designed by General Washington and executed by Hessian prisoners whom he sent there for that purpose. The ceilings and mantel-pieces are exquisite in design and in a perfect state of preservation.

Fredericksburg is rich in historic spots many of which have been preserved as national shrines through the interest and efforts of the Daughters of the American Revolution. Among these are the Mary Washington house, where General Washington's mother lived from 1775 until her death in 1789. Here on the boxwood walk in her back yard she greeted General Lafayette, in 1784; the Rising Sun Tavern built and owned by Gen. Washington's brother Charles, kept by General Weedon, and the gathering place of the patriots in the days before the Revolution; the only home in America of John Paul Jones; and many other places of great interest to the student of American history.

As the preservation and marking of historic spots is one of the chief objects of the D. A. R., the day spent in Fredericksburg, while planned in the interest of "Kenmore," was a joy because of the more than sixty of such places which the hostess chapter took such pleasure in showing their guests culminating in a substantial luncheon of delicious Southern viands which was served at beautiful "Chatham" across the Rappahannock, where General Washington paid his addresses to the widow Custis, General Robert E. Lee made love to a niece of Mrs. Fitzhugh, and the immortal Lincoln reviewed the Army of the Republic before the battle of Fredericksburg, in 1862. This historic house, built in 1727, is now owned by Colonel and Mrs. D. B. Devore who dispensed the Southern hospitality upon this happy occasion.

REFERENDUM ON BOOZE

The Massachusetts Legislature will undoubtedly adopt a measure to submit a referendum to the people of the State on the Volstead Act. The first question will be "shall Senators and Congressmen from the State be requested to support an amendment to repeal the 18th amendment;" the second question, "shall they be requested to support constitutional amendments to legalize the transportation of wines and beers." Aside from the issue involved, Massachusetts may establish a precedent for the other states and on other questions which have heretofore been left to the judgment of Senators and Representatives. Of course the referendum, and even the power of recall, is purest democracy, but careful analysis of the population of this nation makes it a very hazardous undertaking until some definite action has been adopted for Americanizing the balance of power.

HEARN GASOLINE

Is Uniform and Dependable
Because it is tested
before it is sold

One of the tests to which Hearn Gasoline is always subjected before it goes to the filling stations is the Distillation Test. This is important to every user of Hearn Gasoline.

A fifth of a pint of Hearn Gasoline is put into the flask. When this begins to boil, the vapor rises through the tube, is condensed, and passes into the flask as the liquid rises in the graduate.

Hearn Gasoline must always begin to distill between 123° and 127°F. The Distillation must always be complete between 427° and 430°F. The rise in temperature and the increase of the distilled gasoline must always be uniform. This is the Hearn specification for gasoline and it is more rigid than the specification of the United States Government.

Here is the significance to you of the Hearn Specification:

1. The low point at which distillation starts indicates a fuel which becomes a gas quickly at a low temperature, insuring easy starting.

2. The high point at which distillation is complete indicates a fuel that imparts high power to the motor.

3. The uniformity with which the rise in temperature and the distillation proceed indicates a fuel which burns evenly, insuring smooth action in the motor.

When you buy Hearn Gasoline you buy gasoline which has been put to the Distillation Test. You are certain of a gasoline that starts quickly, gives power, and burns evenly. The name HEARN on a filling station is a certification of a gasoline that is always of the same high quality and the same reliability.

THE DISTILLATION SPECIFICATION IS ONLY ONE OF THE REQUIREMENTS WHICH HEARN GASOLINE MUST MEET. ANOTHER SPECIFICATION WILL BE EXPLAINED IN THE NEXT ADVERTISEMENT

URGE REFORESTATION

Representative Martin L. Davey, the "tree dentist," urges Congress to further the cause of reforestation by removing all taxes on growing timber, and by appealing to state legislatures to do likewise. There are 81,000,000 acres of cut-over land in this country, useless for agricultural purposes. The farmer who reforests or reseeds cannot expect profitable results from it in his lifetime. If all taxes were removed for a given period of years on condition that it be reseeded, his heirs would have some chance of realizing a profit—providing it was not destroyed by fire.

CHAPPIES ON THE WAGON!

In spite of the defeat of the prohibition bill in the House of Commons England is sobering up. It consumed 40 per cent less beer and 75 per cent less whiskey and brandy last year than it did in 1913.

The decision of the Supreme Court limiting the operation of the Volstead Act to inside of the three-mile limit is an unexpected benefit and will permit the American merchant marine to compete with foreign vessels in dispensing liquid refreshments to parched passengers. It may do away with the demand for a subsidy. But it is possible the ships will be compelled to maintain supply stations outside the three-mile limit.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE WORK FOR THE BLIND IN THE STATE OF DELAWARE

The Workers for the Blind have much to be thankful for in the records of the past year. A large number of Blind Workers were introduced to occupations suited to their altered conditions, and many improvements were made to the plant. The new dormitories were much appreciated. These improvements account for much of the deficiency in receipts and disbursements during the year, but they will increase efficiency of the work and will accrue in later work. The cash balance at the end of the fiscal year, March 31, was $488.84 but a large amount of expenditures were met and the cost of tuition of our students at the University of Delaware, the Musical School in Philadelphia, and some blind children for whom there seemed to be no provision at the moment, all brought our disbursements to a higher figure, but all were met with the help of the State funds. Some of our departments, such as the Loom and the Broom Shop, showed deficits but this was all cleared by the other departments, and the Shop shows a solvent balance at the end.

The workers for the Blind were deeply gratified at their treatment at the hands of his Excellency, the Governor, and the Legislators. Such kind words were spoken of the Commission for the Blind by these good friends who are one and all deeply impressed by the work for the blind in Delaware.

Our Field Officer in Kent and Sussex counties makes an excellent report. We have just given him two blind babies, both of whom will come to Wilmington to interview a specialist here. The first is a baby, the second is a very weak child of eight years, and one of the hospitals will take her for observation as soon as she comes to Wilmington.

The Field Officer has six readers of the embossed type, down the State.

The Blind cripple boy at Milford has taken up reading, and is very much interested in it with his other work, procured for him by our Field Officer. Madeline Morris, of Wilmington, was instructed in embossed type by our teacher, Miss Burrows, and prepared to enter Overbrook, where she was favored by a warrant for her tuition by his Excellency.

The Workers for the Blind have been encouraged to investigate the case of Blind babies. We have sent one blind child, of an early age, to school in Overbrook; one child who was a helpless paralytic, died. All the others are watched over and well cared for by devoted mothers who have been much worried by the agitation for fear they would lose their darlings. They have no hesitation in bringing them to The Blind Shop, where they know they will be helped and provided for when they arrive at school age.

Our trip to Dover, consisting of our assistant secretary, and two others, with the chairman was provided with a car by Mr. J. T. Mullin, of this city, and was most acceptable and comfortable.

Miss Laura Price, one of our Blind girls, taught two of our men to do beautiful rush seating used in old-fashioned chairs. A new entrance was arranged for the Shop on the level with Eighth Street. This was affected by moving a door, which was not in use, and which has been boarded as not available, and put over in place of a window. The entrance to this shop always has been very cumbersome, and involved handling the merchandise and supplies up a flight of steps, or through the house. We will now be able to unload a bale of corn on a small truck and haul it up the west alley.

The loom must be provided with dyed material and as it is impossible
