OPEN-AIR BOND RALLY HELD AT LIBRARY

Newark Boys, Wounded Veterans Are Speakers At Ceremony

The news of the surrender of Italy was most gratifying. It was stated last night by Mayor Frank Collins at the open-air bond rally held at the Memorial Library on the University of Delaware campus.

The rally officially opened Newark's Third War Bond Drive following a parade on the street, and was in charge of Arthur W. Perry who so successfully conducted the last Bond Drive. The occasion was by Rev. H. Everett Hall, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Newark.

Yeoman 3rd Class Dorothy Stow who is a member of the WAVES stationed at the office of Naval Procurement at Pittsburgh, Pa., gave a short talk and said it was the duty of everyone on the homefront to back up the boys in the service and there was no better way than to purchase War Bonds.

Mr. Sgt. Paul E. Robinson, a member of the 198th who is home on leave from the South Pacific said that military censorship prevented him and the other boys in the service from telling about their experiences but he said that all the boys from Newark were well and in fine shape and aside from buying bonds the home folks did a lot toward keeping up the morale of the boys by writing more letters. He stated that with all the boys in the service buying bonds, it please turn to Page—8

Lester Billings, 18-year old war worker from Wilkesboro, N. C., a Triumph Explosives, Inc. employee was killed at the Elkton plant shortly before noon Tuesday when an explosion hurled him outside of a one-story frame building where he was working into a field.

Triumph officials stated that Billings was the only one working in the building at the time. They said the cause of the explosion could not be determined until results of a complete investigation are made known.

Dr. C. R. Dodson, Cecil County Medical Examiner conducted an inquiry and took charge of the body which was shipped to Wilkesboro for burial. The explosion was felt within a mile radius of Elkton.

LEGION BOWLING ALLEYS TO OPEN

Open Play Begins Saturday; Leagues To Start Last Of Month

The American Legion Bowling Alleys will officially open the 1943 fall season Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, it was stated by the newly appointed manager, James E. Meglilgan. The Legion Bowling Alleys are located on Main Street at the intersection of Haines Street.

Although no formal ceremonies are scheduled, local bowlers are expected to turn out in large numbers, eager to start the balls rolling down the alleys after the summer closing period.

The eight alleys have been completely overhauled and refinished during the past few weeks by Morris Adams, former manager of the alleys who has been called into the Armed service of his country. New pins have been provided and all bowling equipment has been put in first class shape.

Legion officials stated that there will be no increase in the cost of bowling over last year's popular prices.

It is expected that the five leagues annually operated by the Legion will get under way the latter part of the month. Clubs are being reorganized and new players are requested to get in touch with Jim Meglilgan, the new manager.

All details regarding starting time, handicaps, and incidentals based on past experience will be determined before formal play starts. Team berths are open to all players.

The eight alleys with facilities for both Ten Pins and Duck Pins is the most complete layout of its kind in Delaware outside of Wilmington. Play and leagues are open to women as well. Please Turn To Page—8

RESEARCH AUTHORITY SUCCUMBS

Dr Kraemer Dies While Attending Luncheon

Dr. Elmer O. Kraemer, 45, of Greenbank Road, Marshallton, internationally-known scientist, died suddenly yesterday in St. Joseph's Hospital, Pittsburgh. He was the holder of the Lolar Foundation Fellowship and was a recognized authority on the colloid chemistry of large molecules.

Dr. Kraemer was stricken while attending an American Chemical Society luncheon at the Fort Pitt Hotel in Pittsburgh. He had been scheduled to deliver a paper at the convention on "Research Tools of the Colloid Chemist."

For the past three years Dr. Kraemer has done research at the Bio-Chemical Research Foundation of the Franklin Institute and has taught special colloid chemistry courses at the University of Delaware.

Born at Liberty, Wisc., on Feb. 27, 1898, Dr. Kraemer received his early education in schools there. He received his B. S. degree at the University of Wisconsin in 1918 and his doctor's degree at that university in 1924 after studying one and a half years with Prof. The Svedberg in Sweden and with Herbert Freundlich in Berlin.

He is survived by his wife, the former Huldah F. Cook of Cleveland, Ohio; two sons, Herbert F. and Paul M. Kraemer of Wilmington; his parents, Fred L. and Stella W. Kraemer, Madison, Wisc., and a sister, Miss Vera Kraemer, Baltimore.

NEWARK SCHOOLS OPENED YESTERDAY

Enrollment Largest In History Of Schools

The Newark Public Schools opened yesterday with a full schedule and with no vacancies existing in the teaching staff according to a statement issued yesterday by Carlton E. Douglass, superintendent of local schools.

While no figures on the extent of the enrollment were available it was stated that the figure will far surpass earlier expectations due largely to the two new housing developments located in Newark, namely the George Read Village and the Colonial Village projects.

A faculty meeting was held in the high school on Tuesday and while our country and their Allies have adopted the slogan "Fight to the Finish" it is felt that it is very necessary that the younger children be instructed in how to live in a changed world with all the newly imposed restrictions.

It is felt that there is no possibility that more than the two upper classes at the most could be called into the various branches of the service even if the war should last for another couple of years.

Speaking about football Mr. Douglass said that an effort was being made to put a football team on the field and that he had held a conference with Mr. Jackson, physical education director for boys at the school and if games could be scheduled by other schools Newark would not abandon that favorite sport. He further stated that he would personally do everything in his power to keep sports on the school calendar.

ANTHRACITE COAL ORDER TO EQUALIZE DISTRIBUTION

OPA Issues Ration Order Controlling Coal Delivery

An announcement of the Delaware State Coal Club, published elsewhere in this issue on behalf of the equipped coal dealers of the State, conveys important information summarizing the new ration Order 19 recently issued by the Office of Price Administration as it applies to users of anthracite coal.

Objectives of the ration order are to equalize distribution of coal stocks, to prevent some consumers from accumulating inventories early in the season which would exceed their ration allotment if any further rationing program becomes necessary, to implement administration of Solid Fuels Administration for War Order No. 2 which restricts sales and deliveries of anthracite to dealers.

When placing an order, the consumer must tell the dealer the amount of anthracite he used during the base year (April 1, 1942 to March 31, 1943), the amount on hand and the amount the consumer wishes to acquire. If this information is furnished orally, it must be confirmed in writing not later than seven days after placing the order. Please turn to Page—8

4-H CLUB VICTORY FAIRS ARE SCHEDULED

Individual Achievement Exhibits To Be Conducted

C. E. McCauley, county 4-H club agent supervisor for the Delaware Agricultural Extension Service, has announced that individual club groups throughout the State are planning their own 4-H Victory Achievement fairs for this year. Wartime conditions made it necessary last year to discontinue regular county 4-H achievement fairs for the duration, so several clubs held their own in 1942. This year many more have adopted the idea.

This year's Victory Achievement fairs will feature exhibits of club projects. Prizes will be awarded winners, as was the practice in the county shows. Programs scheduled for public attendance will include demonstrations on various phases of club work.

Several clubs are cooperating with others in their vicinities to present combined shows. Drought conditions in Kent and Sussex Counties have made it impossible for some of the clubs to hold shows planned earlier in the year.

4-H Victory Achievement fairs scheduled already include the White Oak Club on September 11, at the Lamborn Library in Hockessin; Friendship, Blackbird, and Stump's Corner clubs at Taylor's Bridge School on September 24; Newark and Forest Oak clubs in Newark, September 25; Smyrna club at the Smyrna Church on October 1; Lewes, Hollymount, Cedar Grove, and Overbrook clubs at the Coolspring Community House on September 25. The Paradise and Canterbury clubs are cooperating with the Felton Grange in presenting a 4-H and Grange Victory Show at the Felton Grange Hall on October 1, at 8 o'clock in the evening. The Houston and Clayton clubs are planning separate Victory Achievement shows for later in the fall.

NEWARK'S BOND DRIVE OPENS WITH PARADE

Col. Ashbridge Is Marshall; Soldiers & M. P.'s In Parade

If the parade and open-air Bond Rally was any indication of the success of Newark's Third War Bond Drive, the committee in charge of the Drive should not have any trouble in putting the Drive over-the-top.

The parade, which was held last night, was one of the most successful and colorful held in Newark for several years and also served to give the residents of the town some small idea of the local Civilian Defense groups. While the entire personnel of the local Civilian Defense groups did not turn out in the parade it was a very representative group and served to give the drive, which opens today, a big send-off.

The parade last night was headed by the trainees stationed at the University of Delaware with their colors and color guard and members of the military department at the university. Colonel Donald M. Ashbridge, head of the military department acted as chief marshal for the parade.

Next in line was the Newark High School band which had been very hurriedly gotten together through the efforts of Professor Frederick B. Kutz, director of music at the school. Members of the Continental-Diamond Fibre Company band were mixed with our children musicians and were a great

BUSINESS MEETING AT LIONS

Reports Made By Committee Chairmen

Absentee members of the Newark Lions Club missed a thoroughly interesting meeting held at the Country Club Tuesday evening when President E. A. Curtis conducted an informal discussion of internal affairs of the club.

Continued lack of attendance was scored and members proposed their ideas of solution. As a result next week's meeting will begin promptly at 6:15 and each member will serve himself in an effort to combat the caterer's help situation.

Committee chairmen reported progress of their committees and Herman Handloff reported War Bond and Stamp sales as follows: bonds, $350.00; stamps, $29.75; total of bonds, $18,725. stamps, $446.20. The campaign to sell $25,000 by Labor Day was extended to include the Third War Loan Drive ending on September 27.

A. W. Perry, general chairman of the Third War Loan Drive reported that John R. Fader and Dr. John R. Downes would sell "jeep rides" on Delaware Avenue Wednesday evening following the parade and rally officially opening the campaign.

Paul D. Lovett served as secretary of the meeting in the absence of Secretary C. W. Mumford, who is on vacation this week. All members are urged to be present, and on time, at next week's meeting for which an interesting program has been arranged.

THE 3rd WAR LOAN DRIVE STARTS - TO BACK THE INVASION!

What you will be asked to do—

MARK WELL the date—Thursday, September 9th. For on that day, you must answer to your country's call.

On that day, the 3rd War Loan Drive opens. To you—and to every other true American—a clarion call goes forth to rally to the support of our flag.

You will be asked to back our fighting forces to the very limit of your resources. You will be asked to go ALL-OUT FOR INVASION by investing in EXTRA War Bonds—more War Bonds than you perhaps think you can possibly afford.

To meet the national quota, every individual in the country who earns a wage or draws an income or has accumulated funds must invest, if he possibly can, in at least one EXTRA $100 War Bond. Those who can, must invest more—thousands of dollars' worth more. Each and every one must do his full part.

Scrape up the money from every source you can... turn in all the loose cash you carry with you... dig out what you had tucked away "just in case." Go without pleasures, luxuries, even necessities this September. And give our fighting men the things they need to fight with—and win.

These men are throwing everything they have into this fierce invasion push. They are giving their blood, their lives. No one can put a price on such courage, self-sacrifice, devotion. But you can show you're with them to the limit! You can say it with Bonds... EXTRA Bonds this month.

FATHERS MUST SIGN FOR JOBS IN WAR WORK

September 15 Deadline For Shift To War Work or Draft

While it appears that pre-Pearl Harbor fathers aren't likely to be inducted under the October draft calls, September 15 has been set as the deadline for their intentions to transfer to war work if they want a cushion against induction ahead of other fathers.

Those who have actually obtained the non-deferrable list or registered with the U. S. Employment Service for such jobs and given proof of their intentions to their draft boards by Sept. 15, they will be the first fathers to be drafted, and can be taken before Oct. 1.

A recent announcement took the form of an amendment to a regulation issued three weeks ago. It laid down the rule that the 30-day immunity from reclassification gained by registering for a job-transfer cannot extend beyond Oct. 15 under any circumstances.

However, if the non-deferrable father's order number would bring him up for induction earlier than Oct. 15 even if he were not in a non-deferrable job, he will get no added immunity and will be subject to call whenever his number comes up after Oct. 1.

Meanwhile draft boards authority to reduce induction of men in the 149 high-priority positions recently designated as "essential occupations" to give them preferential eligibility for extended occupational deferment was restricted sharply.

The boards, which hitherto have had complete control over each individual's case, are now subject to appeal board rulings. They were forbidden to order the induction of any man with the required deferment without first referring the case to the employment service.

Furthermore, they were ordered to refer the case to the Employment Service if an appeals board has ruled against them that the particular man does not deserve occupational deferment despite his qualifications to that occupation.

In doing so, they must give the man at least a 30-day postponement of induction, and then, if the Employment Service directs it, reconsider his case and give "the most serious consideration" to granting him the deferment if he has previously refused.

Lumber Preference Ratings Are Issued

Since the 1,000,000 board feet of lumber allocated to Delaware for farm maintenance and repair during July, August, and September have not been received, the State War Board has issued preference ratings to a dealer in each county for a share of the 10 per cent of the total amount which has been set aside as the War Board's reserve. This 105,000 board feet—three per cent—will be divided equally among the three counties to serve as a stockpile for dealers.

County war boards will issue purchase certificates to farmers who show that this lumber is necessary for maintenance and repairs in order to produce essential war crops. Application forms are available to farmers through lumber dealers.

WPB Releases Copper, Brass For Civil Goods

Some 5,000 tons of brass and copper are available for manufacture of household ware, clocks and similar "permitted civilian goods," the War Production Board has announced.

The materials have been "frozen" in manufacturers' inventories, WPB's consumers durable goods division said, and transfer to manufacturers able to use them in their present form will be made through the Copper Recovery Corporation, a Government clearing house for frozen or excess stocks.

MANPOWER UTILIZATION CONSULTANT EXAM OPEN

To qualify for $4600 grade, applicants must have had at least 6 years' responsible, successful full-time paid experience in manufacturing plants covering the general problems encountered in labor replacements, production controls, work loads, incentive systems, machine capacities, machine lay-outs, flow of materials, with successful relations with labor supervision and management.

Applicants for the $3800 grade must have had 5 years' experience as shown above.

Applicants must be citizens of or owe allegiance to the United States and physically capable of performing the duties of the position. There is no age limit.

The standard Federal work week of 48 hours includes 8 hours of overtime. The increase in compensation for overtime amounts on an annual basis to approximately 21 percent of that part of the basic salary not in excess of $2900 a year.

Announcement and application Form No. 57 may be obtained from first- or second-class Post Offices and should be filed with the Director, Third United States Civil Service Region, Customhouse, Philadelphia 6, Pennsylvania, not later than September 13, 1943.

ENROLLMENT INCREASED AT STANTON

Urge Early Mailing of Soldier Gifts

Stanton, Sept. 9th — Mrs. Alma Boulden, Postmaster at Stanton urges residents of this community to mail Christmas packages to service men doing foreign duty between the dates of Sept. 15th and October 15th to insure their being received by Christmas. The U. S. Govt. is asking postmasters to stress the necessity of getting packages off between these dates to keep up the morale of our men, and let them know their families and friends are thinking of them on Christmas. Packages mailed later than the dates in question will not arrive in time for the holidays.

The Stanton School re-opened Wednesday morning, and Miss Lora Little, Principal of the School, states the enrollment is considerably increased this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Smith of Philadelphia have returned home after spending a few days here with Mr. and Mrs. John Narvel.

Mrs. Melvin L. Cox of Stanton has returned home from Seattle, Wash., where she has been since May, spending sometime with her husband, Corp. Melvin L. Cox.

The Women's Society of Christian Service of the Stanton Methodist Church held a Covered Dish Supper on Thursday evening in the basement of the church. An evening's entertainment followed the supper. This was the first meeting of the fall season.

The Young Women's Sunday School Class of the Stanton Methodist Church met on Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Emily Lucas. Mrs. Lillian Wilkinson and Miss Virginia Taylor were the hostesses.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer R. Boulden of Radford, Va., are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son on Sept. 4th in the new Altomont Hospital at Christianburg, Va.

Mrs. Boulden was formerly Miss Louise Thorington of Delmar, Del., and was a graduate nurse of the Delaware Hospital. The new 8 lb. son has been named Frank Townsend Boulden. Mr. Boulden formerly lived at Stanton.

WIRE QUOTA INCREASED

For the third quarter of this year, Delaware's quota of copper wire for farm electric wiring has been increased to 5,500 pounds.

This wire may be purchased by securing a certificate from the County USDA War Board. Its use is limited to farm use, excluding farm dwellings.

To secure a purchase certificate farmers needing wire should contact their county war board.

OBSERVANCE OF TRAFFIC RULES URGED

"Will your child be one of those injured or killed in a traffic accident this year?" asks the State Board of Health. This is no idle question since more than a hundred youngsters between the ages of 5 and 14 were injured or killed in traffic accidents in Delaware last year.

Though a majority of these, as would be expected, occurred on busy Wilmington streets, there were 15 traffic accidents to children outside of Wilmington last year and 11 more in the 7 month period ending July 31st, according to the accident reports of the State Police. The Safety Through Education Program, conducted by them is felt to be responsible for some of the reduction in traffic accidents to school children in 1942, since last year shows 44 per cent less pedestrian accidents to school children between the ages of 5 and 14 than there were in 1941.

Crossing Highway Dangerous

Highest hazard in the state outside of Wilmington during 1942 and so far this year, was crossing streets or roadways at places other than at intersections. This fault caused 12 accidents to school children age 5 to 14. Seven were injured coming out from behind parked cars and 3 were hurt playing in the roadway. Two more were hurt walking in the roadway where sidewalks were not available, and 2 crossing at intersections where there was no traffic signal and cars were too near for safety.

15,483 Young Children in School

Last year's statistics show 15,483 children were enrolled in kindergarten and the first 4 grades of the public schools, corresponding to the 5 to 9 age group where the most traffic accidents to pedestrian children occurred.

Parents' Responsibility

Dr. Marion Hotopp, Acting Director of the Division of Maternal and Child Health for the State Board of Health, suggests that parents take their primary grade children to the busy streets or highways that they must cross on their way to school and let the children say when it is safe to proceed. Only then, she says, can parents be reasonably sure that the little folks realize how important it is to look both ways before crossing and to stay on the side when cars are near.

See that children understand how traffic lights work and what the colors mean. Have them understand that traffic policemen and school boy safety patrols are on duty to help them cross streets or highways safely—and that their orders MUST be obeyed.

Plan Children's Routes

Based on last year's attendance reports of the public schools, it is expected that about 4,195 children will enter the first grade of Delaware schools this fall, and Dr. Hotopp points out that if parents would plan the safest route for these children to take when they walk between home and school, and see that the children follow it, instead of going hit or miss as the children wish, many accidents could be avoided. Often it is possible to plan a route that does not take them across a street or highway at a busy or dangerous intersection. But it takes a grown-up, not a six-year-old mind to determine this, reminds Dr. Hotopp.

Children Must Cooperate

Motorists, it is true, are often to blame in traffic accidents, but children, too, break the rules and it will take the co-operation of children, parents, teachers, as well as car drivers, to prevent future traffic accidents and deaths to Delaware youngsters. The Delaware Safety Council and the State Police join the State Board of Health in asking parents to teach their children how to cross streets and roadways safely, and not to dart out from behind parked cars, chase balls across streets without looking for traffic or to run after dogs or play tag on busy streets and highways.

IMPORTANT NOTICE

To Consumers of Anthracite Coal

To facilitate an orderly and equitable distribution of Anthracite coal and to prevent unfair and unnecessary accumulations of consumer inventories the Office of Price Administration has issued Ration Order 19, effective 12:01 A. M., September 1, 1943.

The order applies to INDIVIDUAL PREMISES and not to a consumer's entire requirements where the consumer owns or manages more than one building. The requirements of each premise is handled separately. This means that all Anthracite coal delivered in Delaware to householders and commercial properties is covered by the order.

THE FOLLOWING IS A SUMMARY OF THE ORDER:

A consumer at this time may not acquire any Anthracite coal, if he has on hand an amount of such coal equal to or more than fifty (50%) percent of the amount he used from April 1, 1942 to March 31, 1943 inclusive (called the base year). This limitation on purchases runs for the period September 1 to December 1, 1943, subject to further order.

A consumer may not acquire an amount which, when added to the amount he already has on hand, will give him more than fifty (50%) percent of the amount used during the base year.

A consumer may not acquire any Anthracite coal so long as he has one or more outstanding orders or contracts for particular premises with more than one dealer unless it has been customary for him to have acquired Anthracite coal from more than one dealer for these premises.

A consumer desiring to acquire Anthracite coal, regardless of the fact that he may have an order already placed with his dealer, must first give him the following information:

1. The amount he wishes to acquire.
2. The amount he used from April 1, 1942 to March 31, 1943.
3. The amount he has on hand.
4. The amount of outstanding orders for Anthracite coal placed elsewhere.

Between September 1 and September 20, 1943 this information may be given orally but must be confirmed by a signed statement WITHIN SEVEN DAYS, or, at or before the time of delivery.

On or after September 20, the dealer may not deliver the coal unless he receives the signed statement BEFORE DELIVERY.

If a consumer did not use Anthracite coal as his principal fuel in each month during the period November 1, 1942 to March 31, 1943 he may substitute the amount of such coal he will need from April 1, 1943 to March 31, 1944 inclusive.

It has been suggested that all dealers as soon as possible will forward to all customers who have placed an order with him, or who thereafter may place an order, a form covering the required information which the customer will fill out and return promptly to the dealer.

Consumers making false or misleading statements may be subject to the penalties of Federal statutes. Dealers who know or have reason to believe that a consumer may not lawfully acquire Anthracite coal under this order may not deliver such coal to him.

Deliveries will be made in the following order:

FIRST: To consumers who have on hand less than one-fourth (1/4) of the amount they used during the base year.

SECOND: To consumers who have on hand one-fourth (1/4) or more, but less than one-half (1/2) of the amount used during the base year.

It is planned to increase the percentage in any community whenever all consumers in that community who normally fill up have received half of their annual requirement.

The wholehearted cooperation of every dealer and every consumer is requested in complying with the above program, thereby helping to assure fair treatment and equitable distribution to every consumer of Anthracite coal.

How About That!

By Ruth Safran

Bronze, lean and clear-eyed, Johnny is back from Hawaii—on a two-month leave.

In the Air Corps at the start of the war, a crash injured Johnny and he got a medical discharge.

Lending new weight to the legend that "you can't keep a good man down", Johnny scoured the field for a civilian piloting post—and found it in Hawaii. He's blithely happy behind the controls—with his feet off the ground.

Getting Launched
The Lt. (j. g.) Walter Stuards moved to Newark last week. Figuring out his own way of being launched, Lt. Stuard tripped down the steps of a grocery store, sending the contents of two bottles of milk flowing in all directions.

The Soldier was Distressed
He hadn't had time to buy his stripes (he had been upped from Pfc. to Corporal to Sergeant within a week). His outfit was going to be shipped and his Commanding Officer wanted him back at once (the urgent telegram said so). Now he was fuming, perspiring freely, and sharing his problems and brood grin with all the folks on the Wilmington train platform.

The telegram had come to Wilmington in the morning—not delivered until the evening because suburban telephone office was closed—No time to catch the train—the plane had no openings—Now it was the next morning—He didn't have his blouse—and he feared the Washington MP might not consider field jacket "Class A Uniform". He hadn't eaten—didn't expect to sleep—His shirt was heavy—and the sweat flowed freely—a combination of heat, watch-scanning because the train out of Wilmington was 25 minutes late—and he was figuring out his answers if they planned to court-martial him.

"I don't mind being busted to Pfc. so much," he confided to everyone in general, "but I don't like the idea of a court martial."

And all the folks in the waiting-room united in the kind of camaraderie this war has fostered—talked in unison and told the soldier "everything would come out all right!"

Who's Next, Please?
I guess I was about the thirty-first in line in the doctor's waiting room—so it gave me plenty of time to hear the conversation ping-ponging back and forth.

Two men were bemoaning the passing of the good old days—in a theme that varied from the usual "Whee-I-was-your-age-I-worked-eighteen hours a day."

The men were comparing the practical jokes they used to spring.

There was the canin-a-cat frolic when a poor pussy was "canned" outside the church door. "It sure broke up the meeting."

And the time the kids packed bricks in a boat and dropped them overboard—to be paid a penny a piece the next day to bring them back.

That was succeeded by lowering the Civil War cannonball into the Brandywine River and spending months to retrieve it.

... or putting limburger cheese on top of the steaming classroom stove.

Also, according to authentic report, they packed a green snake in a lunch-bag which was opened by the teacher. She passed out.

"Didn't need a car and lots of money to have fun in those days. It wasn't ornery fun—just plain mischievousness is about all. They don't have that kind of fun nowadays."

PRECAUTION NECESSARY IN CANNING

Many homemakers have reported spoilage of canned foods recently according to Miss Pearl MacDonald, extension nutritionist for the Delaware Agricultural Extension Service. Some of these reports come from women who have been doing home canning for years and who know and follow established procedures. Miss MacDonald says, that some of this spoilage is caused by changes in the new types of canning equipment, especially the jar closures.

Rubber rings are not of usual quality and should be tested by folding back on themselves and pressing. If they do not crack or break, they are safe to use. These rubbers must not be stretched.

Metal automatic seal lids do not have as thick a layer of rubber composition as usual, and extra care must be used to screw them tight. Unlike the glass lids, the metal tops have enough "give" to permit necessary escape of steam even when screwed down tight. Hold thumb or finger on the lid while putting on the screw-band so the rubber composition will not be cut or broken.

Walls of new glass jars are not as thick as usual so the sealing edge is not as wide. Therefore, more care is required in putting on lids and sealing to be sure that a good seal is made.

New glass lids require special handling. Before the jar is filled, place the rubber ring on the underside of the lid in the groove provided. Fill the jar, wipe the top, and put the lid on the jar rubber-side down. Screw the band firm and then give a quarter-turn, or a little less, back. Never seal this closure completely tight before processing, as expansion and steam from boiling food may break the glass. Never use this closure for any oven canning.

SHOTS

by SURE SHOT

Welcome Home—John Cunningham. We are all mighty glad to see John back in Newark even if it is only for a short time. The firemen are trying to make the boys feel at home.

On Monday afternoon we even had a small field fire so that John and Bill Frazer could get a chance to squirt the hose. They really turned out like they used to when the siren blew. Someone must have squirted the hose on Harold Grant.

The Beaglers held their first fall field trial last Sunday and they had a fine turnout. More than seventy hounds were entered and while game was very plentiful the running was hard on both the dogs and the handlers due to the heat and the dryness of the fields and underbrush.

Art Bowlby's hound, White Clay Blue Bob took third place in the 15 inch class and for a while this hound looked real good. Possibly Art had his mind on the checker game more than the running of his hound. Art is some checker player as well as being one of Newark's outstanding bowling artists.

The beaglers on Sunday really missed that hearty laugh and smiling countenance of the club secretary—Raymond Vansant Buckingham who we are told was competing his hounds at another field trial as well as John Cochran who is always good company.

Bob Connell had hounds entered in the trials. They did not come in for the pay dirt but they are fine hounds. Raymond Connell, another well known beagle sportsman had several entries. Other local beaglers included W. R. Conaway, Bill Lloyd, Eddie Lawson, Clarence Whiteman, Francis Cochran, Jack Edmondson, Herbert Henze and Harry Neave.

The local American Legion Bowling Alleys will open their doors to the public on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock when all the Ten Pin artists are expected to start the balls rolling down the alleys.

Jim Meglillian the newly elected manager of the alleys is a former bowling star of the Tuesday and Friday night leagues. Jim, it has been stated, rolls a well-controlled ball and he has many friends among the bowlers at the local alleys and another thing, he is a bang-up Airplane Spotter. In fact, we are informed that he is Day Captain for Thursday's at the Possum Park Observation Post and that fact alone makes him a real good guy.

Folks, The Third War Bond Drive started today and you might as well get your pocketbooks out and get ready to buy some bonds. By the way, The OPA forgot to figure out how many red or blue stamps it was necessary to use to purchase a bond. Someone is slipping. Another thing, there has been no ceiling price put on the amount of bonds that one person can purchase.

The Bond slogan this time is something about the Attack. Just wait until those Bond Drive Captains and their workers get after you this time. You will think that you have been attacked. The Newark quota is some high mark to shoot at and somebody is going to work like the duke to put the local drive over the top. But, Over-the-top it will go, said Wes Perry.

Three local Hot-Shots spent some few days in Rehoboth. One of the boys keeps thinking about Milton. Why?

With the lifting of the pleasure driving ban, it is time that the Newark High School higher-ups thought a little about football. The local schools boys are pretty good at that sport and it would be a shame to not have a football team this year at Newark High. How is Sureshot going to fill his sport page without a football team to highlight the pages of the Newark Post. If the teams around Wilmington don't want to play, why not get some games with the towns down state. The old town is pretty dead now and what will it be if we don't have a football team.

COAL PRICE TO INCREASE

Longer Week Due To Elevate Cost

There is little doubt but that the price of hard coal is in for a sharp increase in the very near future—or just as soon as the edict providing for a 48-hour mine workers week is placed into effect.

This was conceded by Secretary of Interior Ickes as he prepared an order to put in the longer work week wherever local conditions will permit. Many mines now work 42 hours. Time and a half pay is involved in the increase. How much higher coal will go is up to the Office of Price Administration. Officials here are studying the question. For miners, the longer week will mean a $9 boost in weekly pay. This is at the rate of time and one-half for the extra six hours.

The War Labor Board disclosed that Ickes, war-time fuels administrator, hopes to freeze miners in their jobs. Ickes told the board that the nation is "dangerously behind" in its coal production and that substitution of an 8-hour for a 7-hour day in the mines may well spell the difference between a coal shortage and an adequate coal supply.

Tall Tree Stables String To Be Sold by Mrs. Navin

Mrs. Frank J. Navin, widow of the former owner of the Detroit Tigers baseball club, will sell her string of 28 thoroughbred horses, according to her trainer, Leo O'Donnell. She intends to keep the Tall Tree Stables at Anchorage, Ky., however, he said. Mrs. Navin's horses have raced on American tracks for nearly two decades. O'Donnell did not state why she was selling out. The Navin stable is headed by Ball Player, a 5-year-old which equaled an American record of 1:40 3-5 in 1942 for a mile and 70 yards. Last year the stable won $35,710 in purse money.

C. E. Oehlert, chairman of the Delaware USDA War Board announced this week that 15 additional car loads of shelled yellow corn have been ordered from the Commodity Credit Corporation for shipment to Delaware. Eastern Beagle Club To Meet Tonight

The Eastern Beagle Club will hold their regular monthly meeting on Thursday night in their club house on the estate of S. Hallock duPont at Milford Cross Roads.

At this meeting plans will be made for holding the annual fall American Kennel Club, licensed field trials which will start running on Sunday, October 3 and continue through Saturday, October 9.

Informal Class B trials will be held the first Sunday of November, December, January, February and March with the annual Memorial Championship Stakes being run in April. It was announced by Raymond Vansant Buckingham, secretary of the club.

PIMLICO TO OPEN OCTOBER 9

30-Day Meet Scheduled At Baltimore Oval

Followers of the bangtails are in for a full in nearby racing with the Garden State Park, at Camden, closing its 50-day meeting on Saturday thus bringing to an end racing at the track nearest to Delaware now operating.

Their repite will be short, however, as Pimlico is due to open for a thirty-day consolidated meeting on Saturday, October 9. The meeting at Old Hilltop will be conducted on the Baltimore oval under the auspices of Pimlico, Havre de Grace, Laurel and Bowie managements who will share in the proceeds.

The entire meeting will be run at Pimlico due to travel and gasoline facilities. Thus the combined meeting bids fair to be one of the best held in this locality in recent years as many of the best thoroughbreds in the country will see action in the many stakes events offered on the sparkling program.

12-Day Empire Race Meet At Jamaica Track

The New York horse racing entry will see continued action at their favorite tracks until shortly after the first of November according to an announcement that the Empire City fall meeting will be held at the Jamaica track because of transportation problems.

The Empire meeting will get underway with the closing of the Acqueduct session and begin its 12-day fall program on October 21, ending November 3.

Crimson Clover Seed Distributed In State

The Delaware Agricultural Adjustment Agency committee reports that to date sufficient crimson clover seed has been distributed through its local county offices to seed approximately 6,000 acres of land. This acreage is more than twice the acreage seeded last year from such seed secured through the Triple A.

Agricultural officials predict that the total acreage in the State of lands seeded to winter cover and soil building crops such as crimson clover will be increased over former years.

By seeding such soil conserving and building crops Delaware farmers are aiding in the conservation of chemical fertilizer materials and are at the same time increasing crop yields.

AMMUNITION RELEASED TO HUNTERS

One-Sixth Of Normal Supply

The limited supply of shotgun and rifle ammunition which will be released for the fall hunting season, together with supplies already in hunters' hands will, with judicious use, be sufficient for taking a reasonable crop of wild game, Secretary of the Interior, Harold L. Ickes said today.

The War Production Board announced this morning that it had approved release of 82,250,000 shotgun shells, 12,000,000 rounds of center fire ammunition, and an as yet undetermined quantity of .22 caliber cartridges. This represents about one-sixth of the quantities normally used by hunters.

The action of the WPB followed a fact-finding survey initiated months ago by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service and conducted in cooperation with an Ammunition Committee representing State Game Departments. Both Federal and State officials urged the WPB to allow the manufacture of some additional ammunition for civilians in order to permit the taking of the annual crop of surplus game, keep predatory animals in check, and protect agricultural crops from depredations.

Secretary Ickes pointed out that the major portion of the shotgun ammunition is being made with steel bases and does not require critical brass and that the manufacture of a reasonable quantity of ammunition for civilians will not interfere with production for war use.

Civilian hunting normally can produce a substantial addition to the nation's meat supply. Last year hunters took more than 250,000,000 pounds of meat as a by-product of hunting for deer, elk, wild rabbits, pheasants, ducks, and geese.

Ammunition is also necessary for the control of predators, chiefly in the Western States. It is estimated that coyotes, bobcats, and other predators take an annual toll of as much as 5 percent of the 37,000,000 head of sheep on Western ranges. Hunting is also one method of protecting growing crops and forage from destruction by prairie dogs, ground squirrels, woodchucks, and other rodent pests.

"Six dollars isn't enough to monkey with," a holdup man told a sandwich shop proprietor at Dixon, Ill., after looking into the cash register. The bandit then walked away.

RED CREEK MAZE, OWNED BY J. T. MULLINS, TAKES TOP HONORS IN 15-INCH TRIAL

Mullins' Beagle Wins 15-Inch Class; Hartmann's Concord Spot II Wins 13-Inch Class At Eastern Beagle Club's First Fall Trials

Red Creek Maze, owned by John T. Mullins of Boxwood, and Concord Spot II, owned by Charles T. Hartmann of Wilmington won top honors Sunday at the first fall A.K.C. Sanctioned, Class B field trials run by the Eastern Beagle Club over the club course and the Chalmers Blue Bell Farm at Milford Cross Roads.

Red Creek Maze, a 2 year old hound running its first field trial, is out at Graceland Cassy by Oakwood Chute Chat and bred by the owner. The hound out-footed and out-smarted three sets of bracers to take first place in the 15-inch class.

Concord Spot II owned by Mr. Hartmann, breeder of field champions, won the 13-inch class. This hound is out at Field Champion Oakwood Patsy Ann and sired by Field Champion Concord Spot.

The trials Sunday were run under very adverse conditions. Although the game was very plentiful the fields were very dry and made the going hard for both the hounds and the handlers.

The hounds were judged by Charles A. Whiteman and Park Wallace for the 15 inch class and James Springer and Henry Pauszewski for the 13 inch class.

Other winners in the 15 inch class were: Huntley's Mac, owned by Bertlane Beagles, Coatesville, Pa.; second place; White Clay Club Bob, owned by Arthur Bowlby, Newark, third place; Kitt's Faithful Lad, owned by Mrs. Kittie Martin, Salisbury, Md.; fourth place and Shackleton's Pat, owned by Albert Shackleton of Wilmington and handled by Gus Mayer, was judged Reserve Hound.

The drawings for bracers took place promptly at 2 o'clock and four prizes were drawn as follows—13 inch class: Fisher Pepp, owned by William R. Conaway, Newark, with Eddie Tippy, Wicomico, owned by James Cook, Richardson Park, White Clay Spicy, owned by William Lloyd Newark, with Marlbrook Lady, owned by Lester Shockley, Salisbury, Md.; second place, view Hunter, owned by William R. The October call, it is believed, will be made up of youths who have recently reached 18 years of age, post-Pearl Harbor fathers, non-deferrables who have failed to register with the U. S. Employment Service, men whose deferments have expired, and married men with no children.

It was explained that the boards are approaching the time when there will be few men left to call except fathers and youths becoming 18.

The boards are now preparing to make a complete inventory report to state and national selective service headquarters in which they will list every man on their rolls, showing his classification as of Sept. 15.

Charles C. Kurtz, state director of selective service presided at the meeting. Lieut.-Col. Harry B. Van Seiver, state procurement officer, addressed the meeting on the inventory, and Maj. John Dugan, assistant state director, discussed the handling of appeals. Lieut. Edward A. Buttle, U.S.N.R., spoke on replacement schedules, and Capt. H. J. Dane, of selective service headquarters, discussed the induction of fathers and explained the method of figuring quotas.

WPB Orders Reduction In Newsprint Stocks

The War Production Board has issued new restrictions on newsprint inventories, and ordered publishers to reduce their September delivery orders immediately in order to conform to the regulations.

Publishers in 26 states in northeastern and central sections and the District of Columbia were ordered to reduce their newsprint inventories from 50 days' supply to 40 days' supply, and publishers in 22 states in the south and west must cut their inventories from 75 days' supply to 65 days' supply.

The amended order follows a recent recommendation of the newspaper industry advisory committee to WPB that inventories be reduced as a step in solving the newsprint supply situation.

FARM TAX ESTIMATES FALL DUE ON DECEMBER 15

No Penalty Involved Unless Tax Is One-Third Under-Estimated

The pay-as-you-go income tax system works a little different for farmers than for most other taxpayers. George M. Worthington, associate director of the Delaware Agricultural Extension Service, explains that since farm income cannot be estimated accurately in advance, specific provision has been made that farmers need not file their estimates of this year's taxes until December 15. For the same reason, no penalty is involved for farmers unless the tax is underestimated by more than 33 1/3 per cent. To come under these provisions, the taxpayer must receive at least 66 2/3 per cent of his gross income from the farm.

Income tax payments already made during 1943 are applied on this tax, and the payment which will accompany the estimated tax will be the difference between estimated tax due for 1943 and payments already made. Then some time before March 15, 1944, an accurate calculation of 1943 tax liability must be made and filed with the Collector of Internal Revenue. This is done exactly as in former years, except for the addition of Victory tax (which is also included in the estimated tax). If the final tax due is greater than the amount already paid, the farmer makes up the difference. If he has already paid too much, the excess will be refunded.

The tax payable this year is on either the 1942 or 1943 income, whichever is larger. On the smaller of the 1942 or 1943 incomes, 75 per cent of the tax has been forgiven. Half of the other 25 per cent of tax on this smaller income is to be paid with the final declaration in March, and the other half a year later.

In special types of farming from which most of the income is in by-products, farmers may prefer to pay earlier up-to-date on payments. They may file their estimates and make half of the payment by September 15, along with the other taxpayers, and make the remaining payment by December 15.

Civilians Won't Get Any Increase In Meat

The Office of Price Administration tonight dashed any hopes civilians may have had that a suspension of slaughtering quotas means they can expect more meat at lower ration points.

Meat ration points have been reduced slightly, but Chester Bowles, general manager of OPA, said it would not be possible to cut them any more during September.

The War Food Administration suspended the slaughtering quotas Sept. 1 for two months and officials said at the time one possible result was that there would be a larger supply of meat available to civilians than there has been for some months. Many persons have found themselves with ration points unused because of a scarcity of meat.

Bowles said "some people had misunderstood" the WFA's action "and had decided it meant more meat for civilians at lower point rates."

Many officers of the U. S. Marine Corps embarked upon their military careers as privates.

The Tent meetings which have been sponsored by the Bible Presbyterian Church during the past month came to a close on Monday night and it has been stated that they have proved an inspiration to the people of Newark.

The speakers in the tent included men of the Pocket Testament League: Rev. Edward L. Frizen, Rev. Gene Palmer, Rev. Edward Martin, and Peter Boyce. Others taking part were Pastor George A. Palmer of the "Morning Cheer" broadcast and Dr. Harold S. Laird of the First Independent Church of Wilmington.

The music in the tent was supplied by Miss Lillian Brown, Mrs. Thomas Cross, wife of the pastor, Harold Hufford, The Chapel Trio of Toledo, Ohio, Mrs. James F. Hurd, Miss Anna Mae Foster, Miss Betty Foster and Miss Melba Brierly.

Rev. Cross stated that the meetings were a great success and similar meetings will be held from year to year.

help in filling vacancies caused by graduation last term.

Three Jeeps filled with Military Police from the 891st Guard Squadron stationed at the New Castle Army Air base followed. The M.P.'s were accompanied by their mascot and were in charge of Corporal John Korah. Next in line were 200 men of the 116th Signal Radio Intelligence Company from Fort duPont and four Jeeps in command of 1st Lieut. Sidney Brown-schweig.

Mayor Frank Collins, Town Supervisor George E. Ramsey, Arthur W. Perry and George L. Townsend III, manager of the Bond Drive followed in automobiles and were accompanied by two wounded veterans of the Tunisian campaign in North Africa who were speakers at the rally in front of the library.

Several members of Battery "E", 198th Coast Artillery who recently returned from 20 months spent in the South Pacific marched with the Newark Fire Company. The firemen were in command of Fire Chief Elmer Ellison.

A delegation of the Newark Branch of the Delaware Red Cross and surgical dressing workers were the next in line and they were followed by a large turnout of Air Raid Wardens, Auxiliary Police, members of the messenger service and the Gas Decontamination and Bomb squads.

Newark Troop No. 55, Boy Scouts of America, Newark Girl Scouts and Newark Cub Pack No. 55 brought up the rear of the parade.

Military Police and Newark Police on motorcycles headed the entire division.

The parade formed at the high school and marched north on Academy Street to Delaware Avenue, then east to Haines Street and north to Main Street, west to South College Avenue, to Delaware Avenue, to the college campus and to the steps of the Memorial Library where the rally was held.

AMMUNITION AVAILABLE

The War Production Board has announced that a substantial increase in the quantity of shotgun and rifle ammunition, mainly for use by farmers, will be available this fall. The chief purpose of this action is for the control of predatory animals and game birds now threatening crops and herds in some parts of the country. All orders filed by farmers must be accompanied by a certification that the ammunition will be used for such purposes.

WAR PLANTS NEED HELP

Many clerical workers, both men and women, are needed immediately in war plants of Wilmington according to a statement by Elmer H. Smith, area director, War Manpower Commission. Orders for 200 clerical workers for war plants for September have been received already, and many are required now.

Opportunities are presented to many women who have had experience and wish to help in the war effort by taking employment in war plants. Mr. Smith said. Jobs are available on day and night shifts. The jobs are salaried, with time and half for overtime.

Among the positions open to women are payroll clerks, general office clerks, blue print machine operators, messengers, duplicating machine operators, file clerks, stenographers, typists, and book-keepers. Men are required for the same position and also as timekeepers. A high school education is required in most cases, and in some cases a business school training or previous experience is required.

Construction workers in the Wilmington-New Castle area will go on the 48-hour week Aug. 15.

Open Air Rally

was as little as could be expected of us back home to help out by buying all we could.

Corporal Ralph Wilson, another member of the 198th and a local boy said no one knew how glad he was to be back in Delaware and the more bonds we buy, the sooner the war will be over.

Corporal William Frazer, the third member of the 198th to speak and one of Newark's own boys said that making a speech was the hardest work he had done in the past two years, but the war is like a game of football—we all can't play on the team, but we who are at home can back up and support those boys at the front by buying all the bonds we could afford.

Two wounded veterans of the Tunisian campaign in North Africa were present on crutches and told of their experiences on the fighting front and how we could back up the boys by purchasing all the bonds we could afford. Both of these boys are now convalescing in the military hospital at Valley Forge. Private John White, a Wilmington boy who formerly lived at 310 Pine Street was wounded by a land mine and the other veteran was Private Edward Tholey of 4318 Vista Avenue, Philadelphia who was a victim of shrapnel in North Africa. They both expressed the wish that every mother's son, every husband and sweetheart would soon be back in the U.S.A. with their loved ones.

Rev. Andrew W. Mayer, rector of St. Thomas' Episcopal Church gave a short address and spoke on how fortunate we at home were to live in the peace and security of America far from the scene of battles. Rev. Mayer said, yes, we're asked to only drive our cars 35 miles an hour. We are deprived of some of the gasoline we want to go pleasure driving. For the past few weeks we have had a draught and he stated that that shortage also extended to the breweries but he stated we should be more than grateful that we are here.

Here in America we're asked to buy bonds. Over in Europe the people are not asked to buy bonds—they are told to buy bonds and in some countries everything is taken from the people for the use of the military.

Mr. Perry, in bringing the rally to a close, told the audience that Newark's goal in the bond drive was $700,000 which is much higher than the amount of the last drive, but he said, we must Go-Over-The-Top.

Coal Rationed

On and after September 20, 1943, no deliveries may be made before the signed statement is received. Dealers must keep these statements on file for one year.

Every dealer is required to follow these rules in delivering anthracite coal to domestic consumers:

(1) He must first fill orders from consumers who have furnished statements showing that their inventory is less than one-fourth of the base year's consumption.

(2) Only after he has filled all the above orders, may a dealer fill an order from a consumer who has furnished a statement that his inventory is more than 1-4 but less than 1-4 of the base year's consumption.

(3) No dealer may make a delivery to a consumer if, on the basis of the statements furnished the dealer, that delivery will bring his inventory to more than one-half of his base year's consumption.

(4) A dealer may not deliver to a consumer whom he knows has one or more outstanding orders or contracts for deliveries during any calendar month which will bring that consumer's inventory during that month to more than the amount stated in rule 3. This rule prevents pyramiding the inflation of orders.

Identifying 'orphan' consumers as those whose dealers have discontinued business, who have converted from fuel oil to coal, or who have moved into new buildings having coal-burning equipment, the order states that such 'orphan' consumers must be able to buy coal and prohibits dealers from discriminating against them.

Coal dealers in Delaware, as well as throughout the nation, are faced with a critical problem in that their supply has been curtailed by ten per cent and in addition they are faced with increased populations, in most instances.

Especially is this true in Newark where the two recently constructed housing projects present a great demand for increased volume of coal for heating purposes. In addition several nearby dealers have discontinued business throwing a number of consumers without adequate bases of supply unless local dealers are able to obtain an additional tonnage to take care of them.

To this end consumers are especially urged to fill out their declarations immediately and return to their dealer.
