Police Chief Haussler Offers Burglary Prevention Week Aid

Newark Chief Of Police Urges City Residents To Help Prevent Summer Burglary Surge With Precautions Before Vacation; 63 Burglaries Reported Last Year

In observance of Burglary Prevention Week, June 23-29, Newark Police Chief Arthur S. Haussler urges all city residents "to help reduce the surge in burglaries which result each summer when families leave their homes for vacation trips and weekend outings." During this week, the Newark Police Department is providing information to help protect homes from burglars.

"Failure to know and practice the fundamental techniques of home protection, was largely responsible for the 63 burglaries in our city last year," Haussler said.

"Although most people didn't intentionally invite intruders to ransack their homes, they might have a sign on one's home, burglars welcome," Haussler continued.

"A stroll around your neighborhood will tell you at a glance who's away; their porches will be cluttered with circulars; there may be an accumulation of milk bottles on the stoop; an unkempt lawn; an empty garage with the door open; or a bulging mailbox. All of these are tip-offs that'll broadcast no one's home to anyone canvassing the neighborhood," Newark's police chief added.

Lights

Light is one of the best deterrents to crime, yet most homeowners go out for an evening and leave their homes completely dark. Or, they'll go off for a weekend and leave the same light burning day and night. No light at all, or a light burning continuously is a good giveaway "no one is home," Haussler advised.

Chief Haussler went on to say that most burglars pick the easiest targets they can find. They want to get in, get the loot and get away as quickly as possible. Therefore, if you put several obstacles in his way, he is less likely to try to break into your home.

Preventives

- 1. Close and lock all doors, including porch, basement and garage. Use safety latches on the windows.
- 2. Connect a lamp to an automatic timer to turn lights in the home on and off each evening.
- 3. Protect all doors and windows with inexpensive, portable burglar alarm.
- 4. Be sure all screens are fastened from the inside.
- 5. Notify your police department when you'll be leaving and how long you expect to be away.
- 6. Cancel all deliveries.
- 7. Have a neighbor or your post office hold all mail until your return.
- 8. Leave shades and blinds as you normally do; closed blinds keep the sun out, but also make an effective screen for the burglar.
- 9. Never advertise your departure with an item in the local paper. Give the story about your vacation to the newspapers after you've returned.

Dr. E. S. Overman Resigns As Chief Of Urban Affairs

Director Of Division At University Accepts New Position In Texas

Dr. Edward S. Overman, director of the division of urban affairs at the University of Delaware has resigned to set up a similar organization in Texas.

Overman will leave Aug. 31, to head the new Institute of Urban Affairs at the University of Texas at Arlington.

The division of urban affairs was created in 1961 with the aid of a Ford Foundation grant, and has grown to one of the largest at eastern universities, with a staff of 11 professionals, eight to 10 graduate fellows and a secretarial and data processing staff.

Dr. George M. Worrlow, vice-president for university relations, praised Overman for an excellent job in organizing the division, staffing it, and for his leadership in its accomplishments.

He said a new director is being sought and that the division will continue its services to state and local governments, and the citizens of Delaware.

Overman made a speech at the Texas institution last fall, when he described the organization and services of the division of urban affairs.

The division was set up primarily to help Delaware communities deal with problems arising from population and industrial growth. It has been helping cities, towns and counties in a way somewhat similar to that which the university's agricultural extension service does for farm areas.

As a fact gatherer, the division does census work and prepares population, housing and other statistics. These are stored in a data center.

The division has conducted studies on contracts for the Greater Wilmington Development Council, including a broad economic study of the Wilmington area, and has made studies for the State Planning Office.

The division served as a consultant on government reorganization and revenue, and helped reorganization of New Castle County's government.

Proposed Housing Legislation Amended, Rescheduled July 8

Fair Housing Board, Church Exemption Deleted In 4-3 Vote As Mayor Handloff, Fassnacht, Thomas Support Councilman Mayer's Amendments For July 8 Hearing

Action on the proposed fair housing law was deferred until July 8, as pending legislation was amended for the third time since its introduction last March 11, with a 4-3 vote at the regular meeting of Newark City Council last Monday night. Councilman Arthur P. Mayer's proposed amendments replacing a fair housing board with the existing bi-racial committee, will delete some five pages of the law concerned with the fair housing board. The Greater Newark Council of Churches requested that Church property be excluded from exemption as written in the proposed law, and such exemption is to be deleted in the revised ordinance.

Mayor Norma B. Handloff, and Councilmen John H. Fassnacht and Orlan R. Thomas supported Mayor's proposed amendments in the 4-3 vote, with another final reading scheduled for July 8.

Rotary Club President Opposes New Legislation

Councilman William M. Coverdale opposed the amendments, along with the entire fair housing ordinance.

"I have never had before me... any documented evidence of wholesale discrimination in housing in Newark," Coverdale said.

"At any time did council, by motion, based on a mere, authorized drafting of an open housing ordinance," Coverdale continued, "a former member of council borrowed one from a nearby municipality, and with considerable zeal and propaganda, brought his ordinance before council. Tonight is the result."

"We continue to witness a constant applying of massive pressure tactics. In fact, it impresses me as though open housing laws have become the rate of professional dissenters and moralizers," Councilman Coverdale declared.

"This is the sort of thing that creates and intensifies suspicion in black and white. It is a tendency toward an indictment of one race as the sole cause for all of our social ills," Coverdale concluded.

Chicken Salad for a Light Luncheon

Cool, light, and delightful are adjectives worthy of use with this summer chicken and orange salad. Just the appropriate luncheon dish for bridge clubs, coffee klatch extensions, or feting old school chums who've come to town.

The main ingredient in this ambrosial concoction is canned boned chicken with broth. . . . The handy summer aide that blends well into the hot weather menu schedule. The family will enjoy it tossed in a salad for a cool entree patio-style, or in a sandwich for Saturday lunch.

But here for the party atmosphere, the boned chicken is mixed with paper-thin cucumber slices and the "meat" from oranges. Easy does it when removing the orange pulp. You'll want to save the orange peels to carve into summery containers for the salads.

When all is assembled, top the chicken mixture with a sour cream and dill blend. Toasted bread strips topped with Parmesan, and an easy dessert made from bakery angel food cake with a strawberry glaze are just enough to round out the luncheon.

CHICKEN ORANGE CUPS
2 oranges
2 cans (6 ounces each) boned chicken with broth, cut up
1 cup thin cucumber slices, cut in half
1 cup sour cream
1/2 teaspoon dried dill leaves

Halve oranges by making zig-zag cuts to center. Separate halves and carefully remove orange sections from shells; combine with chicken and cucumbers. Fill orange shells. Combine sour cream and dill; spoon on chicken. Makes 4 servings.

Be Careful With That Spray!

What happens to that cloud of mist you spray from an aerosol container?

If you could watch a greatly magnified view, you would see that it doesn't just evaporate into nothingness in the air. Instead, it settles on the nearest surfaces.

The mist may be breathed in by little children in the room. It may settle on uncovered dishes on top of mugs of milk or glasses of soda pop. It will settle on counter tops, table tops, all of the surfaces where, when you have finished spraying, you may be working.

Be extra careful with sprays, whether using them inside or outside the house, says the Council on Family Health, a non-profit organization sponsored by members of the drug industry as a public service, to promote safety in the home and family health.

What's the first thing to do when using any spray? Read the label, read every word of it, and follow directions exactly. You may find that some insecticides contain flammable chemicals. The label may advise you not to smoke and to turn off any open fires such as stove burners when spraying.

You may be cautioned to spray away from yourself to avoid inhaling the insecticide. If you are using the spray out-of-doors, there may be a caution to stand upwind from the area into which you are spraying.

Before spraying, send the children out of the room. Out-of-doors, keep them at a good distance from the area being sprayed.

Cover or remove all exposed dishes and food. Cover or remove bird baths, dog dishes and fish bowls.

After spraying, wash counter and table tops before preparing food, or serving food on them.

When you have finished using the insecticide, or any other spray, store it out of sight and reach of small children.

THEY BALANCE

INDEPENDENCE DAY — 1968

In the midst of turmoil throughout the world, we should reflect on the fact that that which had its beginning 192 years ago, still endures, making the United States one of the oldest continuing forms of government on the face of the earth.

The Declaration of Independence statement that "a decent respect to the opinions of mankind" has been and is uniquely suited to the needs of all.

The freedom which had its start at Independence Hall in Philadelphia continues to be our responsibility as heirs to the principles of this Declaration.

We must continue to support honest law enforcement without any personal privileges or exceptions. If we demand free speech we must not suppress it in others. If we wish our savings and property to be free from seizure, destruction or theft, we must zealously protect and secure these rights for every citizen.

As Herbert V. Prochnow, former president, First National Bank of Chicago said, "If you demand that the government of the people, by the people and for the people, you must exercise your right of franchise at the ballot box. If you demand that the government give you complete economic security, you must not forget that a nation's greatest strength comes when each person to the best of his ability stands on his own feet and courageously seeks to discharge his responsibilities.

Freedom is everyone's responsibility. And it isn't free.

City Council

Paul McCortick expressed favor with the proposed law, amending that private hearings were conducted with the fair housing board "before being taken into court," and M. E. "Dick" Prettymen, Jr. said that he thought recent state legislation required public hearings. Ecklund replied that he did not know whether such legislation had passed both houses and City Manager Raymond R. Stiff said "the bill was passed."

"Hastier For All"
William E. Barker used "hastier" for all with passage of the open housing measure, and to Rockwell's comment that with deletion of the fair housing board, it has "all the ingredients of a good law." Daniel Nelson pointed out that the idea of the fair housing board is to help people solve their problems.

The Greater Newark Chamber of Commerce and the Newark Real Estate Association opposed open housing legislation on the local level, but stated their support of state legislation.

Harlan C. Williams, president of the real estate group, pointed out that the Newark community included areas beyond the city limits, and that city rather than state restrictions would prevent additional residents.

DIZZING HEIGHTS ARE CONTEMPLATED BY YOUNG AVIATORS AND AVIATRIXES: airplane cockpit check-out by these youngsters is what's happening in the Hall of Aviation of The Franklin Institute Science Museum in Philadelphia. There's a much more to see in the Institute—stars and ships, man-made lightning and a picture-phone talk with the Hemistair in Texas, a spooky walk through a mammoth palpitating heart. The Museum and its 2000 exhibits are open every day of the week from 10 a.m. until 5 p.m., Sundays, the Institute opens at noon.

Seminarian Richard B. Cox Wins Center Valley Honor

Center Valley, Pa. — The Rev. Daniel G. Gambet, dean at Allegheny College of St. Francis de Sales, has announced that Richard B. Cox, OSFS, an Oblate seminarian, and son of Dr. and Mrs. Clyde M. Cox, 416 Paper Mill Road, Newark, has been named to the dean's list for the spring semester.

Richard is among 21 undergraduates who achieved high academic honors with a quality point index of 3.25 or more out of a possible 4.0 points. He is a senior major in French.

"Passage in Newark would be one of the most effective ways to get the state to pass such a law," James R. Neal advised Williams.

With the 4-3 vote of council for amendment, the fair housing law was scheduled for another final reading on July 8.

Council authorized expenditure of $2,500 from the city allocation of $8,000 to the Senior Center, for paying the parking area at the center.

The city manager was authorized to obtain options to purchase vacant land outlined in the recent bond referendum, and to obtain proposals for finalizing engineering plans for these parcels. Covadone opposed the expenditure of some $42,000 for this engineering work by other than the municipal staff, since "another play lot" could be purchased.

Stiff said that the city had "just lost one engineer," and that outside professional help was necessary.

Monday night's meeting was adjourned at 10:30 with an unofficial awards program. Frederick A. Lane's nomination petition, the first reading of a bill to amend subdivision regulations for sidewalks in RT zoned areas; and requested approval of the Arthur J. Mathews plat at South College Avenue and Marvin Drive.

WOOD UTILITY POLES A KEY NATIONAL ASSET

BY ROBERT O. HAYES
AMERICAN WOOD PRESERVERS INST.

SPENDING BILLIONS TO SAVE

The overhead electrical delivery system carried by wooden utility poles represents an investment of more than $36.5 billion.

But, that's just a drop in the bucket compared to the $287 billion it would cost to replace them.

According to researchers at the American Wood Preservers Institute, individual electric bills could increase as much as $74 each month if overhead wires went underground!

Besides keeping costs down and holding wires up, wooden poles perform another service — they aid forest conservation. Five to seven million poles are preserved each year with chemicals that enable them to last five times longer than untreated poles, thereby removing the need to cut down vast quantities of timber for replacement.

It is estimated that enough timber has been saved since 1969 to build 50 million seven-room houses — or a replacement for every dwelling in the United States today!

Mary Keller Offers Tips On Summer Camp Choice

Pick your child's summer camp to fit his personality. The time is past when parents chose a camp because the neighbor's child went there, says Mrs. Mary Keller, extension home economics agent for New Castle county.

Some children will do well in a competitive situation; others will enjoy individualized camps. Special interest camps might appeal to the gifted child, while Y camps, Scout and 4-H camps give a more rounded experience.

The covered camp could supply the experience of substitute brothers and sisters that a child may lack at home. On the other hand, a boy with two or three sisters may have a real need for boys camp.

Dr. Quizme, our information specialist, is happy to answer his readers' questions in his weekly column. All responses are verified by Funk & Wagnalls Standard Reference Encyclopedia.

The 25-volume sets of Funk & Wagnalls Standard Reference Encyclopedia were your desk last week for asking "Please tell me how Magnetite Hill, near Monroton, New Brunswick, Canada, got its name?"

It is a natural, optical illusion. Because of the configuration and coloring of the terrain, a var rolling down the hill seems to be rolling backward toward the top. A giant replica of the hunchback magnet at the top symbolizes the phenomenon.

Gerald Stuphin, Jr., who asks: "Do Indians have whiskers?" Most physical anthropologists believe that American Indians were originally Mongoloid people who migrated from northern Asia—and Mongoloids have no facial hair.

David H. Braunstein, whose question is "How and when did the word 'freedom' originate?" It comes from the Japanese word "taikun," meaning "mighty lord," used as a title for the Shogun rulers of Japan from the 12th century until 1868.

$1-Million Plant By All-American Planned In Area

All American Engineering Co. has purchased land on Rutby or Red Mill Road adjacent to the C&D Railroad just east of Newark, for construction of a $1-million office and manufacturing plant for the firm's commercial products division.

Completion is scheduled for next spring.

In announcing the plans for the Newark plant Charles W. Wendt, of the Delaware firm said the choice of the area for the new commercial products division headquarters was made after an extensive study of Northern Delaware and neighboring states.

"We decided on the Newark site for a number of very good reasons, not the least of which is the healthy growth and expansion that has taken place in this area in the last few years. We fully expect this to continue and we want to take part in it," Wendt said, citing ample labor, water, power and transportation resources of the area, and housing and educational opportunities.

In addition, the site also has ample land for expansion, and finally it best meets our present and future plans and requirements," Wendt added.

The new plant will initially have 100,000 sq. ft. of offices, and 50,000 sq. ft. of manufacturing and storage area.

The building will be basically a square steel frame and concrete block structure with a two-story office wing facing on Red Mill Road.

The new plant will employ some 150 people when operating.

The winners of this week's prize of the 25-volume sets of Funk & Wagnalls Standard Reference Encyclopedia are: Jerry Covey who asks: "Why was our country called 'America'?"

After American Vesputcius, an Italian navigator, thought by one German geographer to be the discoverer of our continent. Most scholars, however, do not believe that Vesputcius arrived before Columbus.

One Thomas for asks: "Is it grammatically correct to use the words 'awfully' and 'good' together?"

No, because the word "awful" usually connotes a sense of fear in addition to reverence. It's far more correct to say "very good."

Sarah Poston, who asks: "Does the male sea horse really give birth to the offspring?"

No, but he does take charge of the eggs, carrying them in an abdominal pouch until they hatch. The eggs draw nourishment from the male sea horse's blood stream.

Mushroom Flies Blight Northwest Dale Bray Reports

Many Delawareans, particularly those in the northwest corner of the state, are being plagued by mushroom flies, according to Dr. Dale F. Bray, chairman of the Department of Entomology and Applied Ecology at the University of Delaware.

Mushroom flies no bigger than the head of a pin, breed by the millions in mushroom soil and in mushroom houses, explains Bray. Growers control these pests with insecticides and management practices in mushroom houses during the time that mushrooms are growing.

After mushrooms are harvested, houses are left idle for a short time and the flies continue to breed. After a while, swarms of the tiny flies leave the mushroom houses and invade homes and offices.

Mushroom flies come right through ordinary screens, says Bray. And they can become so thick and annoying that it is almost impossible to even read a newspaper. The flies don't carry any disease, however, and they don't bite humans.

About the only controls for homeowners, faced with mushroom flies, are vapona insecticide strips hung and rotating screens with DDT.

Delicious Chowder In Minutes

Imaginative blending of two varieties of canned soup, a can of crab meat and a can of evaporated milk yields in minutes a hearty chowder suitable for family meals—or simple but elegant party fare. Evaporated milk smooths and blends the soups and flaked crab meat to chowder perfect, full-bodied richness. A marvelous menu mate for this delicious crab chowder is a salad combo of art and sweet fruits, chilled and served with a tangy dressing.

Elegant Crab Chowder
1 can (10 1/2 oz.) condensed chicken gumbo soup
1 can (11 oz.) condensed pepper pot soup
1 tall can (13 fl. oz.) evaporated milk (1 1/2 cups)
1 can (7 oz.) crab meat, drained and flaked

In a medium size saucepan mix the soups together. Blend in evaporated milk. Add crab meat and mix well. Cover and heat to serving temperature over low heat, about 15 minutes, stirring occasionally. Makes 4 servings.

Six Of Hoffman's Yellowjacket Champs Named To Gold Team For All-Star Game

Players from Salestamun, Archmore, Newark, and Middletown dominate the Blue and Gold squads announced today for the 13th Annual Delaware All-Star High School Football Game to be played Aug. 24, at Delaware Stadium. The squads include seven first-team All-Stars from the 1967 season, four on the Gold team and three with the Blue.

Newark and Salestamun will be represented by six players, the maximum allowed from one school. The Blues, who carry an 8-3 record into the game after last year's 21-6 victory, will be coached by Alex L. du Pont's Bob Steier. Delmar's Harry Bradley will manage the Gold team.

The southern city limits of Wilmington is the boundary line for the Blue Team selection, with the Golds coming from schools south of the boundary. The game again benefits the Delaware Foundation for Retarded Children.

Salestamun's representatives are: All-State End Angie Rossi, second-team guard Marty Pavelic, half-back Wayne Frier and Bernie Sewell, tackle Bill Brady, and end Rich Kapolla.

Archmore contributes All-State End Doug Harrison, as well as Quarterback Mike Pawlina, Fullback Pat Hurley, Tackle Bob Bette, and Guard Tom Ditzler.

The other Blue All-Stars is Tom Gary Giannone of Wilmington High.

The Blues will field eight two-standers, figured by Salestamun's Coach at 220. Thirteen different schools are represented on the team.

The Gold Team's nucleus is formed by two league champions—Newark's Blue Hen Conference champion and Middletown's Diamond State Conference title.

Newark's talent includes Tom first team All-Stars—Tackle Gerry McCormick and Center Tom Bratton. Other Yellowjacket representatives are Tackle Bob Dean, Guards Tom McDonald and Bob Russell, and Fullback Bill Fletcher.

Newark's other two All-State selections from Coach Bob Hoffman's Yellowjacket state champions of last fall—Quarterback Bob Tucker and Halfback Pedro Swann will be back at Newark High School as seniors in September, and are ineligible for this year's All-Star game.

Middletown's contingent includes All-State Halfback John Branner, Quarterback Greg Sincendiner, End Dave Webster, Back Quentin Stokes and Tackle Eddie Heverin.

The other Gold All-Stars is guard Chris Reeve of St. Andrew's.

The South has depth and versatility in the quarterbacking department, listing five players who have operated at that position. In addition to Sincendiner, they include John M. Clayton's Wayne McCabe, Delmar's Fred Hammond, and Harrington's Steve Welch, who doubles as a linebacker.

The Blue team lists only three quarterbacks in Pawlina, in Brandywine's Chip Lamborn and Tattall's John Gordon.

Sixteen schools are represented on the Gold Team which includes six 200-pounders on its roster. Five of the six are tackles, with Newark's McCormick out-weighting all the All-Stars at 240 pounds.

Both squads will train at the University of Delaware for 10 days prior to the game.

Don Ross Jr. Stars With Five Goals For Polo Victory

With their best-of-three series tied at 1-1, Wilmington and Brandywine polo stars will clash in the rubber match this Sunday at 3 p.m. on the outdoor field at Touchkoman.

Last Sunday, Don Ross Jr., scored five goals to lead Wilmington to an 8-6 win that capped the series. Ross' tallies included four penalty-shot conversions, one from 70 yards and he scored the decisive seventh goal in the fifth chukker after teammate Mike Leydard's tie-breaking marker in the same period.

The closely contested match was tied three times.

Fred Fortugno, who paced Brandywine with two goals, brought the leaders within one point of the 7-6 goal when he scored their final goal on a pass from Will Parish in the final seconds of the fifth chukker.

Brandywine received two goals by Jonathan, and Capt. George Way, goals and Parish accounted for a goal apiece.

Richie Jones and Harley Williams completed the Wilmington scoring.

The series opener was won by Brandywine 7-2.

Down-Under Pacer Brandywine Star In 1968 Meeting

Brandywine's Brian Way and Pruts Of Hanover all have something in common. Each is a strong down-under pacer who has performed with great success at Brandywine Raceway this season.

Of course, this is only a fraction of the long and impressive list. Anne horses are being imported to the United States in unprecedented numbers, and many are finding the finely honed Wilmington half-mile oval to their liking.

Brian's Way, co-owned by Philadelphia Sportsmaster Jim Lassman and Stanley Dancer, set the fastest time of the meet to that point when he checked an impressive 2:01.3 triumph on May 15.

Terry Crowe, former Yellowjacket athlete and Navy underwater demolition expert, shifted attention from the Caribbean barrauda to the south of the Christina at Coach's Bridge last Monday evening in effort to provide a former neighbor with some native fish for an aquarium. Terry's catch may have appeared small to a diver accustomed to starting down man-sized groups of shark, and barracuda through a face mask, but his several sunnies and a catfish dwarfed and shocked somewhat the resident goldfish and erawad of the dining room tank.

Bill Fowler failed to locate much elbow room and any blowfish in last weekend's stand on the sand in the surf between Delaware's Dewey Beach and the Indian River Inlet. Cars were parked almost bumper-to-bumper behind the fish-way west of the dunes along the ocean front with a near Coney Island crowd on the beach, the surferman said.

Perhaps it's just as well he didn't come up with any blowfish. Fred Brown, a former blowfish or "sea squab" fancier, informed this cod for some time ago, that he had read where these puffers could be poisonous.

We didn't pay much attention to Brown, and in fact ate a hearty meal of blowfish taken in some surfing with Carroll W. Munford near Dewey Beach after receiving Mr. Brown's information. But they will be the last.

This week, in Underwater Expert Willford Eppes' office we picked up the January-February edition of Sea Frontiers, magazine of the International Oceanographic Foundation, to learn that as a result of eating blowfish "in some areas an estimated 60 per cent of those persons died, so it is wise to avoid eating puffers unless one is absolutely sure that they have been cleaned properly."

The toxin is so strong that some Pacific species are used by the Japanese to commit suicide, the article continued, further advising that death results in as little as 17 minutes and there is no known antidote.

Well, we never cared too much for blowfish, anyway.

Last summer, according to Capt. Billy Williams, manager of the Sea Gull 625-ft. fishing pier built out from the Chesapeake Bay Bridge-Tunnel three and a half miles off shore, two fishermen caught 45 bluefish in one night. "The fishermen could hardly bait their hooks fast enough to keep those fish happy," Capt. Billy reports.

More and more fishermen intrigued with the idea of saltwater fishing from a stationary base instead of a rolling boat, are fishing from the pier. However, space is as plentiful as fish — the pier ac-

Mary Wisniewski Star In Michigan Invitation Track

Mary Wisniewski won 11 points in three events with the Midland (Mich.) Invitational Track Meet on June 15, as 300 girls from clubs in Ohio, Michigan, Illinois and Canada took part.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin C. Wisniewski, Mary took seconds in the 12-13-year-old young classes with a 15-5/8 1/4 mile jump, and a 7.6 time in the 50-yard hurdles, and was third with a 6.2 clocking in the 50-yard dash.

Her father, "Whiz" — veteran coach for the University of Delaware, and former University of Michigan basketball and football star who played for the Wolverines in the Rose Bowl — is conducting the Varsity Day Camp during the summer at White Lodge, Pinckney, Mich.

For the past two summers, Mrs. Martha Wisniewski has headed the Varsity Day Camp while Big Whiz was in Poland as a basketball and football representative of the U.S. State Department.

Carol Thomson Stars In Track For Three Records

Newark High School's Carol Thomson of the Delaware Track and Field Club set most records in the hurdles and long jump and added a DTF record with a second-place finish in the 200-yard dash at Fairmountale, N.Y. last Sunday.

Competing in the Metropolitan AAU Women's Invitational Track and Field Championships senior division, Miss Thomson won the 80-meter hurdles in 1:19 and the long jump with a flight of 18-3/4.

Her second place time of 2:27 in the 200 set a DTF record.

Saturday in the Middle Atlantic Junior Olympic Championships at West Chester, Pa., Carol won the 50-yard hurdles and long jump in the intermediate class. Although she ran the hurdle final in seven seconds flat, Miss Thomson set a Middle Atlantic and meet record and tied the national Junior Olympic mark with a 6.8 clocking in her final heat.

Her 17-2 won the long jump.

Bill Hart, Twin Winner At Newark Country Club

Bill Hart won the Flag Tournament at the Newark Country Club last Sunday with a 35-38-71, as B. F. "Senk" Richards took runner-up honors, and Chaucery Dean finished third.

Hart won the handicap vs. par golf event, with Dean second, and Richards third low net.

Ed Hightell carded the low gross 34-34-68.

Delaware Park Friday, Saturday Stakes To Offer Holly Tree Hurdles, Blue Hen

Two vastly different types of stakes races are on tap this Friday and Saturday at Delaware Park.

Friday's feature is the fifth running of the $10,000-added Holly Tree Hurdle Handicap at a distance of about two and one-eighth miles, to be followed on Saturday by the 11th Blue Hen Stakes for two-year-old fillies of two and one-half furlongs with a purse of $20,000-added.

The names of both these events are closely associated with the State of Delaware. The Holly Tree is the official tree of Delaware and the Blue Hen honors the state's official bird.

Hurdlers set their only stakes opportunity of the Delaware Park meeting in the Holly Tree, which is run over a course with obstacles shorter and easier to clear than the brush jumps of the steep-chase course. For this reason, hurdle contests usually draw larger fields than the tougher steeplechase.

Last year's Holly Tree was won by America's champion jumper of 1967 — Fortune P. Ryan's veteran Quick Pitch, who ran and leaped to a six-length success. While plenty of hurdlers seem available for the 1968 renewal, there appears to be no standout like Quick Pitch to scare others away.

The Blue Hen is the second and last stakes of the meeting restricted to juvenile fillies. The first was the half-furlong shorter Polly Drummond. That one was captured very

Wright, Oakes, Donovan Hurl GNRA No-Hitters

Greater Newark Recreation Association summer baseball and softball leagues are in full swing, with some 850 boys and girls, young adults, and men participating in nine leagues, using ball fields of schools in the Newark district.

Outstanding pitching performances in the season's first two weeks have included no-hitters by Jeff Wright of Colgate in the Ivy League against Dartmouth; Tommy Oakes of Dartmouth over the Giants; and by Rickie Donovan of the Colonels over the Blue Scouts in the Eastern League.
