Homecoming Highlighted By Choosing Of Football Queen

Opening Of Stadium, Float Parade Are Among Activities

Seventeen candidates have been chosen from the fraternities, dormitories, and other organizations on campus to vie for the title of Homecoming Football Queen on Saturday afternoon. The opening of the new stadium marks the first game to be played in Newark since 1945. The float parade including all floats, candidates cars, and participants of any group will begin the activities of the afternoon. Formation will begin at 12:45 on Delaware Avenue between South College Avenue and Academy Street. The Newark police force will escort this parade to the new stadium. The university band will be on hand to march down with the parade.

When the parade arrives at the stadium, the floats will be displayed at the corners of the field. In event of rain or bad weather, Coach Nelson has announced that the floats will not be allowed on the field.

Before the game the Delaware Rifles, the University drill team, will perform in an exhibition of fancy marching. There will also be ten high school bands marching prior to game time.

At half-time the float sponsored by The Review will be moved to the center of the field where Polly Goller will greet the new queen. Five convertibles will circle the field with the candidates and line up in back of this float. Each girl's name will be announced—the last one being the new queen. Bill Nicoll, president of the S. G. A., will crown the students' choice.

Neal Robbins, editor of The Review, introduced the candidates to the student body on Thursday morning during College Hour. Voting for the queen began immediately after College Hour and will continue until Friday afternoon at 4:00 p. m. in The Review office. The name of the queen will be kept a secret until the queen is presented at the game during half-time.

Notices of the Homecoming activities have been mailed to some 8100 alumni-alumnae of the university. Preceding the game a luncheon will be held in their honor in Kent Dining Hall. Following the game, the annual Goal Post Party for alumni, alumnae, and friends will take place in the Newark Country Club.

To complete one of the biggest days at the University this year, The Delmelodians will be featured at the Campus Chest Drive Dance at the Carpenter Field House.

Refer to the box opposite this article for names of the candidates and their sponsors.

Scholarships Offered By NYU For September

The New York University School of Law has announced that applications are now being received for twenty Elihu Root-Samuel J. Tilden Scholarships with a value of $6,000 for study leading to the LLB degree.

These scholarships are awarded to men on a competitive basis for study beginning at the NYU School of Law in September, 1953. Interested senior men who expect to complete the baccalaureate degree by September, '53, may see Dean Hocutt, 118 Hullahen Hall, for additional information.

Dance Highlights Charity Campaign

Two events of interest will culminate the Campus Chest Drive being held this week. At the Lafayette game on Saturday afternoon the members of Tassel will be selling chrysanthemums, complete with blue and gold ribbons. O.D.K. and S.G.A. are sponsoring a dance on Saturday night in the Field House. The proceeds of both will be donated to the $1800 quota for the Drive.

Lem Lilleleht, chairman of the dance committee, has announced that for $1 a couple or $.50 per person, students may dance to the music of the Delmelodians from 8 to 12 p.m. The dance will be informal.

Members of Tassel will sell the mums for $.50 at the football game.

As of the end of the first actual day of contributions, November 10, the average donation of the twenty five dormitories, fraternities, and commuters was 22 per cent. This amount could be considered an exceptional start, providing the daily income stays at this level.

Collins, Hocutt Speak To Parents

Both Dean Collins and Dean Hocutt will be speakers at the opening session of the Parents Conference on Saturday, November 15th at the University of Delaware.

Dean Bessie Collins, as a newcomer to the situation, was very much impressed and is looking forward to meeting the parents. "It (Parents Conference) gives the parents a chance to review the school life of their sons and daughters on the academic level, their activities, their housing, and many other phases. The parents are then given an opportunity to ask questions. It is important for a college to receive constructive criticism from parents and also to have an opportunity to interpret its task to parents. It is both the university's responsibility and privilege to work with the 'university family'."

Dean John E. Hocutt's statement was also one very favorable to the conference.

"The Mothers and Fathers who will visit the Delaware campus on Saturday for the Second Annual Parents Conference will have an

Isaacs Announces Plans For Interfraternity Ball

ELLIOT LAWRENCE

Alfred Isaacs, president of the Interfraternity Council, has announced that the annual Interfraternity Weekend will be held November 21, 22, and 23. Elliot Lawrence and his orchestra will be featured at the Interfraternity Ball on Saturday, November 22.

The weekend promises to be a full one. Friday night, each of the nine social fraternities on campus will give a party at its house. Traditionally, each couple visits the various parties during the evening. The Delaware-Bucknell game in the new stadium will close the football season Saturday afternoon. Saturday night, the Interfraternity Ball with its theme of "Black and White" will be given in the Field House from 8:00 to 12:00 p.m. Each fraternity has its own functions planned for Sunday.

Elliot Lawrence, who is 26 and unmarried, has been acclaimed the most popular college maestro in the land, topping the 300 mark in dance bookings. In addition, the nation's disc jockeys voted the band tops among young orchestras. Lawrence, featuring Rosalind Patton as vocalist, promises to give one of the standout performances of the entire social year.

The Field House decorations will be most unusual. The "Black and White" theme will be carried out in the ceiling which will be covered in a black and white pattern, and on the walls which will be hung with black and white streamers. Each fraternity will be represented by a poster on which its initials are to be outlined in gold glitter.

Chaperones for the Ball will be Dr. and Mrs. John A. Perkins, Dean and Mrs. Francis H. Squire, and Dr. and Mrs. J. Fenton Daugherty.

The following IFC members have been active in planning for the Weekend: AEPI — Alfred Isaacs, president; Sig Ep—John Roseberry, social chairman; OX — Andy Schmidt; ATO—Don Renshaw; Phi Tau—Jack Beatty; KA—Don Reath; PIKA—Jim Cowan; SN—Bob Wilcox; and DTD—Dewey Showell.

Dean Hocutt Releases Report About Dining Hall Situation

Last year there were many questions about the university dining halls that the student body was unable to answer. A committee was originated consisting of students and representatives of the administration so that many problems could be solved and answers to student inquiries could be made. The committee consisted of Bill Nicoll, chairman; Dean Hocutt; Dean Collins; Mr. Condra; Mrs. Morris, head dietitian; Dr. Sommers; Paul Mueller; Janet Leary; and Caroline Cook. The group was designated to discuss problems such as the package plan, cost of mealbooks, quality of food and service, etc.

The first meeting of the committee, October 28, concerned the price of mealbooks and the profit of $17,000 for the dining halls shown in the financial statement of last year.

Dean Hocutt volunteered to make an investigation of the financial aspect of the past two years. After a thorough consideration of the facts, he released the following statement:

"The information in this statement is based on data published in University financial reports and obtained in conversations with Mr. Charles Grubb, Business Administrator, and Mr. Harold Condra, Director of Dormitories and Food Service.

"The occasionally heard allegation that the Dining Halls are operated at a profit is false. The Dining Halls and Dormitories at the University of Delaware are set up as an 'auxiliary enterprise,' and charges are established at such levels as to enable this enterprise to operate on its own without profit and without subsidy from other university income.

"As is the case in any sound business, it is essential to put aside each year out of the business income some money to cover equipment depreciation and as a reserve for replacements. The fiscal policy for Dining Halls at the University of Delaware provides that approximately ten percent of the gross income shall be placed in this reserve each year. For 1950-51 the amount placed in the reserve fund was approximately twelve percent of the Dining Halls' income; for 1951-52 the figure was

Of This 'n' That

A cold, wintry day gave Blue Hen fans a taste of afternoon football in Wilmington Park last Saturday, and left them with the hope that the afternoons of the rest of the season will prove equally successful for us. From our purely biased standpoint, it was the most enjoyable game of the year — and leaves Delaware undefeated in daylight contests.

Old man weather began to show his power with that bitter cold wind, and everyone is aware of the power this whimsical fellow holds at the homecoming game tomorrow. We hesitate to mention the word, but rain would throw an extremely large monkey wrench in the elaborate plans for both the float parade and the crowning of the homecoming queen, to say nothing of the elaborate plans for the bands. And in the minor matter of a football game, the new turf will be in sad shape if the game is played in the rain.

Two minutes of silent prayer, please.

If you haven't contributed to the C. C. yet, get your money up. When something like this comes along, we regret there is no way you can shout in print. It all boils down to this oft-repeated phrase—this is the only campus charity drive of the year, six charities benefit and you are solicited only once.

How about a "Parents Conference" for those of us who aren't freshmen or transfer students? This is a fine program being offered tomorrow, but those of us who are seniors and juniors have not had the opportunity for a certain "day" when our parents can see what's going on here.

We realize how much work and planning goes into one of those days, and Dean Penrose and his committee are to be congratulated on the efficient way this conference was arranged. Just an invitation to our parents for some day when they could meet our teachers and advisors would be enough.

Get up to the Athletic Office and get your tickets for the game. Student books will not be honored at the gate—have your ticket and your identification card. Don't say we didn't warn you.

We often wonder how many people take advantage of the numerous offers of scholarships which appear almost weekly in the pages of the Review. Here are a lot of good opportunities for someone—are you passing them up?

Editorial

Commendations are in order to the students and, in particular, the cheerleaders for the pepfest last Friday night. It was a novel idea executed in a novel fashion. One weakness, however, was in evidence when no cheers boomed back at the cheerleaders in answer to some of the names on the rollcall.

Campus spirit should be automatic, a matter deserving of practical restraint rather than thankless encouragement. College signifies an end to the era of close-mouthed cheering sections of high schools.

In hopes of fostering a universal feeling of campus "pep," a cup was offered. This proved somewhat beneficial, but with the football season rapidly becoming history, some of the enthusiasm seems to have been spent, with ample opportunity for expressing such still ahead.

A cup is indeed something to be cherished. It gives alumni a favorable impression, gives a definite atmosphere to fraternity houses, and provides a periodic pledge duty for pledges. To those who miss the goal, however, should go the realization that they did their best.

Letters To Editor

To the Editor:

A suggestion that I would like to make for improvement of the Review is that of cartoons—drawn by students of this campus. I am under the impression that this would not cheapen the paper but rather would insert more life into the pages. Many situations arise each week which could be most capably portrayed by the use of cartoons suited to the situation. I am sure that many students would share my appreciation of such an addition.

S.G.A. Notes

With the rap of the wooden gavel last Thursday evening, November 6, the weekly meeting of Delaware's Student Government Association was brought to order by the president, William Nicoll. The exacting question of the annual budget was brought to the floor after having been debated in the Committee of Appropriation. Richard Okonow, treasurer, in his message of the budget revealed the healthy status of the university's finances, as he showed an S. G. A. fund of $2,040, social fund of $2,436, and a sinking fund of $9,150. The assembled representatives approved the allocations to various campus organizations as determined by the appropriations committee.

The agenda concerning new business was crowded due to the pressing social schedule, campus drives, and the town-school parking problem. In regards to publicity programs it was suggested that the individual classes maintain standing publicity which will be coordinated with the S. G. A. facilities. Meanwhile it was announced that the junior class has organized the program for the annual Junior Musical as all ads and patron lists meet the deadline of November 10, and tickets go on sale in the basement of Memorial Library. In conjunction with the activity of the junior class is the action of the senior class concerning the Float Parade for University's first Home-Coming Game to be held in the new stadium. A statement was issued by the Committee on Stadium Seating to the effect that the student section will be from the 50 yard line to the 15 yard line.

The entire Student Government Association pledged itself to further the goal of the Campus Chest Drive. The Social Committee chairman announced the dance to be held November 15, from which all proceeds will go to the drive. For benefit of the undergraduate a huge thermometer will be located on the campus to indicate the contribution of each dormitory and fraternity.

Debate was then enlivened with two perplexing questions. The parking problem, which has made news for so long, has resolved once again into a demand by the people of Newark for action. President Nicoll immediately urged all representatives to arouse the student's sense of common decency in an effort to halt the throwing of trash on private lawns and the disrespect of parking restrictions. The sporadic trial of faculty rating is being reviewed again by a staff composed of both S. G. A. members and instructors.

In the closing moments of the meeting it was disclosed that a series of notes have been exchanged between West Chester State Teachers College and the University of Delaware concerning attempts of both schools in pre-game paint raids on October 9 and 10, resulting in a bill for $78 being sent to West Chester along with a formal apology for the expedition staged by Delaware undergraduates.

Adjournment was then held in order.

Guest Editorial

By F. X. GALLAGHER

Tradition and ivy-covered walls are always associated with a university. We have the ivy-covered walls here at the University of Delaware. The consensus seems to be that we should work towards building traditions.

A tradition that is worth having is a practice which links the present with the past and the future. Perhaps the most enduring traditions are those which begin spontaneously and evoke popular repetition. It's usually very hard to "make" or "force" a tradition. If the practice in question was not appealing the first few times it was tried, the chances are that it's not the stuff from which tradition springs.

Those who are students at Delaware now are anxious to build traditions which will forge ties with tomorrow. Universities are slow in the building and endure for a long time. It is natural that we should wish to root ourselves, familiarly, in their reflected glory. This does make for that so desirable 'feeling of belonging' in our own lives. Now, how to build a real tradition — that's the question!

Let me suggest that traditions grow out of what we give our university rather than a firm resolve to grab all we can — then vanish. Inspiration, like all else in life, is two way traffic. The inspired teacher loses his inspiration in the vacuum of no response.

Loyalty, goodwill, enthusiasm and esprit are not acquired in the junior year. They begin to flower as traditions along about that time.

GLUCK'S CORNER

By Joe Glick

I'm sure that a few are very interested in what I'll write this week. Some will be surprised that I'm writing at all. But it's evident I'm writing, and it will soon be evident I am not eating humble pie, crow, or reasonable facsimiles thereof.

In past issues, I spoke out for what I thought right; I see no reason to keep silent now—or even worse, to cover my real thoughts with a self-conscious, sheepish "I like Ike."

I gave the voting intelligence of the American people too much credit. I thought the man with ability coupled with independent realism would win — a man who would not be a front for reaction — a man who would not stop the Korean mess singlehandedly — a man who would really be a representative of the people.

I do not judge myself a character assassin, and I am not narrow-minded. More than anything else in the world I would like to see myself proved wrong — by what is to happen in the next four years.

College Costs Listed; Delaware Rated As Low Cost College

University of Delaware, it seems, is rather unique in its relatively low student charges. Compared to many of the nation's colleges of similar enrollment, campus set-up, problems, etc., the U. of D. is found in the extreme lower bracket.

In a bulletin published by the Fidelity Mutual Life Insurance Co. of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, "What Is It Worth and What Does It Cost?", some 1700 institutions were listed. The following list is not complete, but it does constitute a fair basis for comparison.

Yea for carrots! Rabbits love 'em as exemplified by Flopsy, Mopsy, and Cottontail last week. After Peter brought home the bacon, he was disinherited by his old man. His old man was also a carrot eater and he couldn't stand for one of his own children to break family tradition. Shedding one large rabbit tear he went lipity, lipity, lipity out of the burrow and out into the cruel, cruel world. After walking a far, far piece Peter was suddenly surprised from behind a hedge. Out popped Farmer Brown and grabbing Peter he took him home and put him on toast proving there is meat in Welch rabbit.

Wow!

"Have you a little fairy in your home?"

"Nope, but I have a little miss in my engine."

South Campus Dimwit: "I'd love to go sleighing."

Hater Freshman: "My, you're bloodthirsty."

Instructor: Are you psychic?
Student: Yes, seer.

I'll admit this one's kind of low but you know that Delaware weather.

"What is it, slosh?"

"Naw, it's snow matter."

Blue jeans on campus and some of those other outfits I've seen.

"New suit?"

"Yep, isn't it a swell fit?"

"Fit, hell—it's a convulsion!"

"Say man, what you got there?"

"A clump."

"Oh, so you're a vice guy."

She: Tell me the story of the girl who bleached her hair?

He: I never tell girls off-color stories.

Another of those girls meets big man on campus jokes.

She: Are all extremely bright men conceived?

He: I haven't any idea. I'm not.

First Shark: What's that funny two-legged thing that just fell in the water?

Second Shark: Dunno, but I'll bite.

In view of the tearing down of that temporary building by the library.

"Say, what's that building there?"

"Where?"

"You looked too late. It's gone."

He: I could go on loving you like this forever!

She: Oh, go on.

Joe College was in deep thought. His wife, Herbie, wanted to know what was on his mind. "What is it, Joe—the truth, now?"

"Darling," he said in his most sentimental tone, "I was just thinking—if anything happened to either of us, I intend to spend the rest of my days in Paris."

It was Ruck's first hunting trip. Seeing a duck high in the sky, he took a shot, and down it came. Telling one of the boys about it later, he said, "I shouldn't have wasted that shot—the fall would have killed him."

"I hear your uncle has a little cold."

"He's dead."

"So serious?"

She looked tenderly at her husband and said, "Do you want to take me into your arms, George, and kiss me?"

"Not tonight, Honey, I can't think of anybody."

Well, the old scrounge lounge has really started to rock since the Treniers have moved in with a rendition of their own song, "Rockin' On Sunday Night." The Treniers feature a lot of loud jazz with a red hot sax backing up the vocalizing of the Trenier twins. This is their second big hit, and it is on the same order as their first success. Few can forget their initial smash, "Go, Go, Go."

Have you heard the Dean Martin rendition of the now popular "You Belong To Me"? Is it terrible!! Dean, who is always very relaxed, is a bit over casual on this waxing and it sounds like he might have made this recording while in a drunken stupor. The flip side, "Hominy Grits," doesn't offer much relief, and after hearing the two of them, you wonder how he gets away with it. Oh well, he's a comedian anyway.

There's a rumor circulating about the campus that Don Cornell may appear here on Interfraternity Weekend with Elliot Lawrence's Orchestra. About the only information we can give is that Don Cornell is currently touring with Elliot Lawrence. Whether or not he will appear here we don't know, but we doubt it very much. He may book an engagement in New York or Philadelphia or spend the weekend at his home on Long Island.

Billy May's Orchestra will make a six week concert tour beginning in May of '53. He will travel Scandinavia, Belgium, Italy, Switzerland and France. June Christy will be an added attraction on the tour.

We have finally heard the much talked about, "It's In The Book." It's quite a novelty job, which sounds like it was made at a party. Musically, it is worthless and there is no great humor in it. It merely contains a few subtleties or puns, yet it's been selling like mad and is one of the top songs throughout the Midwest. Its popularity apparently lies in the fact that it is different, but like most novelty numbers it will probably be a short-lived success.

Leonard Bernstein, prominent young classical composer and conductor, "broke it up," reports Variety, at a one-night jam session at Hub's Stareyville, Boston. The spot was reopened for one night to raise funds for musicians whose personal effects were lost when their rooming house at Stareyville, Gloucester burned. An overflow crowd heard Bernstein's jazz treatment of "How High The Moon," and a stanza of boogie backed by drums and brass.

ALICE MARTIN

One of the most tedious and unrewarding experiences there is to plow one's way through a book merely to find out what, if anything, happens to its characters, only to learn that nothing does. Even though this confirms one's earliest suspicions, the joy that comes from saying that I knew it all the time does not cancel the feeling of self-disgust at being so weak as to finish the book. Such a book is the recently published novel by Joyce Cary, The Prisoner of Grace.

In the first paragraph we are informed that this is to be the personal confessions and memoirs of the wife of a famous parliament leader. By the end of the second chapter it is evident that it would be hard to find a more selfish and insipid person than Nina, the wife, unless it is her husband who has, however, the redeeming quality of being a brute. Blest with the power that comes from knowing and making use of his enemies' weaknesses, Chester wields this power over Nina to keep her from her true love, Jim. This would make a beautiful serial for the Ladies' Home Journal except that even the lover is endowed with that same insipid quality which so characterizes the others. However, it is by this very sameness of character that the author has been clever enough to keep his readers from any feeling of partiality toward one member or the other of this intriguing triangle. And his unique solution of it is equally successful—all three live together happily ever after. This arrangement, a bit hard on Nina perhaps, is felt to be a justifiable reward for a woman whose every other sentence is bounded by parenthesis.

As They Appear, another newly published work, is a collection of essays by John Mason Brown. Poorly written it is an attempt to be witty and brilliant about such

Dill, a Junior and an entomology-plant pathology major, receives the appointment following the resignation of Don Phillips. He has been a staff member for three semesters, and previously served as feature editor. In addition to REVIEW work, he is a member of Alpha Zeta, honorary agriculture fraternity; Delta Tau Delta; S.G.A. College Hour Committee; and the Needle and Haystack, joint publication of the agriculture and home economics schools.

Balick, also a Junior, is majoring in history. He succeeds Dill as feature editor. Marv is the possessor of a REVIEW key, denoting four semesters of service on the newspaper staff. ### NEW BOOKS AT THE LIBRARY:

Flight of Fancy by James Riddell. The story of a journey by airplane through the East to Australia. It is written in diary form and filled with adventure in such places as Burma, Malaya, and India. In My End Is My Beginning by Maurice Baring, the biography of Mary Queen of Scots is portrayed. For those interested in the romance of the past, especially those rich days of Elizabeth this book would be of reading value.

Shootin' The Breeze

By DORRANCE BARRELL

THE SKIES RAINED TOUCHDOWNS . . .

It never rains but it pours! After a frustrating six-game lack of touchdowns, David Nelson's oft-trampled-upon squad finally broke out in a rash of TD's last Saturday afternoon to run up what could easily be called in this election year a 43-20 "landslide" over Chester's Pennsylvania Military College. Wilmington Ball Park's curtain-ringer on Delaware's off-campus football saw a steady parade of Hen scores by Messrs. Carzo, Mueller, Hocker (2), Miller and Fannon smother Woody Ludwig's hardbitten and equally hard-fighting gridders in a ball game cram-packed with plenty of thrills and "oomp" for the spectators.

The contest at first appeared to follow a pattern familiar to Hen rooters who have alternately cheered and languished throughout this 1952 season. As if playing under the direction of an old script, the Blue Hens piled up their customary early game lead and then this margin began to shrink as per usual, as in past games. But just when the Cadets began pivoting and whirling like mad from their very much "out of this world" Flying Saucer formation, Paul Mueller and his mates applied enough pressure during the rest of the fracas to choke off any and all PMC scoring threats. So that reading of 21-20 which stood near the conclusion of the second quarter was the closest the Military Men ever came to edging Delaware. From that point on in the game, everything the Cadets did in quest of their third win of the campaign was to no avail, even when they tried that double reverse pass play, which had befuddled Delaware on its initial attempt, but failed miserably thereafter.

FROM THE SIDELINES . . .

Both teams, with patience worn thin after absorbing four defeats each, displayed more than a little rough-housing and temper demonstrations on the gridiron during the course of the game. Several times it looked as if fists might be thrown, but cooler heads prevailed and order was preserved. That pesky No. 17 for the Cadets, scrappy and hard-hitting Marchitto, came close to precipitating a rhubarb in the second half. After being forced out of bounds while carrying the ball Marchitto immediately sprang to his feet, only to be accidentally bumped by Tom Redfield, who had rushed over to cover the play. This enraged the volatile Mr. Marchitto so much that he was stamping around in a fit of anger dangerously close to the stretcher where the injured Jim Carbonetti was lying. In direct contrast to Marchitto was the gentlemanly conduct of PMC's Fini, No. 40, who kept patching things up between both squads. . . . With the exception of the injured members of the Delaware football contingent, all of the squad got into the action of the game, something which was different from previous contests in which usually a minimum of subs were used. As the fray was nearing the final whistle, Delaware's offensive backfield was composed of Don Montgomery at quarterback, Joe Gregg and Ralph Snowberger holding forth at the halves and bouncy Sal Gambone at fullback. What's more, the boys played creditably while they were in there. . . . The Hens were so elated after getting that safety by trapping Jody Ambrosius behind PMC's goal line that they forgot to field eleven men for the following kickoff, having only ten players on the gridiron until Marty Apostolico realized the man power shortage and raced onto the field.

SHORT STUFF . . .

Here's wishing the best of luck to Ken Steers and his cross country harriers who are playing the role of hosts today at the Newark Country Club for the 1952 Middle Atlantic championships. Jim Sullivan's face wreathed in smiles after that 7-6 edging of the Temple frosh on Frazer Field last Friday, bringing his freshman team's final season record to three wins, one defeat and a tie. . . . Varsity basketball team is now nightly scrimmaging freshman recruits in Carpenter Field House. . . . Let's hope that there will be a capacity crowd on hand this Saturday to witness the new stadium's baptism into the football wars. We don't exactly know why there was such a sparse crowd at the Delaware-PMC game, whether it was because both schools have had tough sledding this year, whether it was partly because of the TV attraction of the Notre Dame-Oklaoma engagement, whether it was because it was an afternoon game. Anyway, let's really turn out for tomorrow's Home-Coming tilt with Lafayette!

Blue Hen Of The Week

P. M. C.'s "Flying Saucer" came crashing down last Saturday afternoon as the victory-hungry Blue Hens, sparked by the superb play of Captain Paul (Eggy) Mueller, literally ran the Cadets into the ground. Paul was so undeniably effective that the foe's ball carriers found it extremely unpleasant to attempt to turn his end of the line. A case in point is the incident wherein a Cadet pass receiver gathered in the oval for what he thought was a first down, only to be dumped so hard by Paul that the ball shot along the turf for about fifteen yards.

Offensively, too, "Eggy" showed his aggressive play when he took a beautiful scoring pass in the end zone unmolested and also booted five out of six extra points squarely between the uprights. It is for this all-round playing ability and his outstanding leadership qualities that we toss this week's Blue Hen of the Week award Paul's way.

It is also greatly to his credit that Paul is an excellent student as well as an athlete, being a member of Omicron Delta Kappa honor society, and maintaining his position on the Dean's List. The six foot two inch, 188 lb. Senior hails from Egg Harbor, N. J., a town which seems to be producing not a few star Delaware athletes.

In his years as a Blue Hen Gridder Paul has compiled a justly enviable record, having been on the receiving end of enough important passes to be considered much more than a mere nuisance by the enemy. Paul will be a hard man to replace when the '53 campaign rolls around.

Delaware Meets Lafayette's Leopards In Saturday's Stadium Inaugural

Rocky Carzo, high-stepping Chester, Pa., Fullback, is Delaware's leading ground gainer this season. His net rushing total against PMC last Saturday was in the neighborhood of 135 yards.

After finally jumping back into the win column by virtue of last Saturday's trouncing of PMC's Cadets, Delaware's Hens have been drilling hard all this week for tomorrow's tilt with defeat-ridden Lafayette. The PMC clash was the University's last game in Wilmington Park which was the spot on which the Hens of yesterday under Bill Murray piled up an impressive string of some 32 straight victories.

The Lafayette team, under their new coach, Steve Hokuf, has had anything but an impressive season; they have accumulated a 0-7 record thus far. And over a two year period, they have now dropped eleven straight. Muhlenberg walloped the Maroon with a 37-0 final count, but the Mules only defeated Delaware by a 21-12 margin.

Admiral Dave Nelson of the Blue Hens' football fleet doesn't altogether agree with the bright picture which seems to prevail over the Lafayette game. "In our physical condition, anything can happen. Lafayette has some good backs like Dubar, Herbruck, Cobson and Smith, and they could prove mighty rough on us."

Nelson lists Jim Carbonetti brilliant line backer who aggravated an old ankle injury against the Cadets, Johnny Borreson, defensive tackle who doubles as Hen's ace punter, and Bob Hagerty, hard-driving halfback and linebacker, all on the injured list, and said that they probably will miss the next encounter.

Since his squad is so riddled with injuries, Nelson planned no contact scrimmages this week, but concentrated instead on defense, particularly against the passing attack, where Delaware appears to be especially vulnerable.

The Lafayette Leopards first played Delaware back in 1915 with this game proving too much for the Hens, for they bowed 41-0. As it stands now, the Leopards are two games up in the old rivalry.

See you all down at the opening of the Stadium in Newark tomorrow afternoon when Nelson's crew attempts to whittle down that Lafayette all-time lead to a single game.

Blue Hens Crush PMC Gridders

Dave Nelson's injury-ridden University of Delaware Blue Hens ended their three game losing drought Saturday afternoon at Wilmington Park by scoring at least once in every period to crush PMC 43-20.

The welcome triumph gave the Blue and Gold a 2-4 ledger thus far this season with two games yet remaining.

Captain Paul Mueller sparked the Hens offensively by scoring one touchdown and booting home five out of six extra point conversions.

Delaware's offense went wild for the first time this season by rolling up 361 yards via the rushing route and 73 by means of passing. The team also racked up 22 first downs to 10 for the Cadets.

Rocky Carzo scored the initial T.D. after Meccariello had recovered a PMC fumble on the visitor's 46 yard line. A 62 yard drive shortly after resulted in the second tally with a spot pass from Miller to Mueller being the clincher.

The Blue and Gold added their third touchdown in the second quarter on a 53 yard push with Tom Hocker making the last bit of vital yardage.

After two quarters, the score stood at 28-20, but the Hens held the Cadets scoreless in the final half while adding 15 points to their score.

Regester Leads Booters To Win

A week ago Wednesday, the Blue and Gold soccer team, led by Bill Regester, a sophomore from Kennett Square, Pennsylvania, gained their first victory of the year by a margin of 4-1 over Western Maryland. The booters had lost five straight games until this decision. In the first period, co-captain Andy Schmidt scored to give Delaware a 1-0 advantage. Then, in the third period, Regester tallied three straight goals to give the Hens a 4-1 lead. The lone Western Maryland tally of the game was scored by Zile in the fourth quarter.

Tomorrow, on Frazer Field, the kickers engage John Hopkins at 2 p. m.

Mermen Open Season Dec. 13

Coach Rawstrom's aquatic caperers have begun a vigorous training schedule preparing for the coming swimming season.

Harry is concerned, however, over the physical condition of the team.

According to Harry, "We open our season on December 13 with La Salle College in Phila. Last year we beat them in the last relay race. They are good and we have to hit them with a well conditioned team in order to win."

After the Christmas vacation, the swimmers meet three more tough opponents: Franklin and Marshall, Lehigh, and U. of Penn. If the first four aquatic meets can be taken by the Blue and Gold then Delaware's mermen should have a successful season. Coach Harry Rawstrom is a bit worried about these first few meets because they are not only the toughest opponents of the swimming season, but the Christmas vacation may put the swimmers out of shape for the contests that immediately follow the holidays. Delaware's aquatic opponents have improved since last year. If the Blue Hens are going to stay in the winning column, the team members must improve. In fact, Harry is mainly interested in individual improvement, and he expects the boys to set new records from year to year.

Harry's proteges will not begin swimming for time until Thanksgiving is over. Then the boys will meet the Baltimore K-C Lakers, who are past college students that still like to swim, on December 4.

Coach Harry Rawstrom believes this year's team holds the best opportunity and is the best team potentially that he has ever coached in his eight years with Delaware's mermen.

Blue Chicks Defeat Temple Freshmen

Despite "old man weather," the Delaware Blue Chicks closed the books with a 7-6 decision over the Freshmen of Temple at Frazer field last Friday. It was a nip and tuck battle all the way as the home squad outplayed the lads from Philadelphia throughout most of the afternoon.

Although the game was played under adverse conditions, a surprisingly large crowd cheered the Frosh on to their third victory against one defeat and one tie.

The Blue and Gold's defensive platoon was outstanding throughout the game as they kept their opponents off balance by breaking up play after play. Temple, however, pierced the line in the second quarter to take a 6-0 lead, but Coach Sullivan's charges rebounded quickly. On a 40 yard pass from Jack Schonberger, hard working back from Allentown High School, to Warren Allen of Port Morris, N. J., the Frosh roared 65 yards down field to rack up the tally. On the conversion, Andy Wagner kept the pigskin and swept around end to hit paydirt.

Landscaping, Facilities Are Final Phases Of Improvement

By BILL EISENBERG

Special to the Review

LAST OF THREE ARTICLES

While the previous two articles have covered most of the major aspects of the university's Building and Improvement Program, there remain certain other items not directly connected with it but which are nevertheless important. Along with construction there is the problem of landscaping. However, except for relatively minor work around the new buildings, the university plans no major alterations of the landscape pattern of the campus. All possible effort will be exerted, though, to maintain the present state of the university grounds. Work is now under way to bring the grounds of the new Agricultural Hall up to the standard of the rest of the campus. This work is expected to take several years.

Also, since an increase in facilities requires an increase in space, and since the Ag. Bldg. and the new Stadium were carved out of the University Experimental Farm's land, 200 acres of rich farmland were recently added to that institution's holdings. The university Library also faces a space problem. A total of 10,000 books were added to its collection during the past year, the staff of the catalog department has been increased, and consequently more space is needed both for processing and storage. At the moment, the Administration does not know just where this space can be acquired.

Finally, even with all the increases in space and facilities, some of the temporary buildings, such as the second Chemistry Annex, Topsy, Turvey, and Boletus Halls, and "Queens' Row" will remain in use until such time as university funds permit the erection of enough permanent structures to replace them.

It's From The Book

By METC

"It's in the Book;" this joyous little ditty has been circulating about campus lately. This column also came from The Book as will the following ones.

The Book this week is featuring Little J. H. and his big hand. Who's Little J. H.? Little J. H. was a little boy whose eating habits were atrocious. Because of his bad table manners he was forced to sit in a corner on a two-legged stool; I don't know how he stayed put, put, put, put—shut that outboard motor off. Well, as I was saying before I was so noisily interrupted, he sat on his stool, and since it was Christmas time, he was eating a beeg cherry Christmas pie (they didn't give presents in the old days), which his father had given him for stoking up the furnace every day before breakfast. Man, was this runt chowing down, no wonder, wouldn't you if you hadn't eaten in two days—his old man had to save in order to buy this pie—

He was really choking it down when he rammed in his whole thumb and pulled out a juicy plum. How that got in there he really didn't know, but he popped it into his mouth and when he pulled his hand away from his face he only had four fingers. Looking at his hand he said, "What a omniverous fellow am I, but nice."

Chick 'n Chat

By VIRGINIA WELLS

Last week the junior-senior team challenged both the freshman and sophomores. On Wednesday the junior-senior team pulled themselves together to win a decisive 3-0 victory over the highly-contesting sophomores. However, the score does not entirely give a clear picture of the game. The sophomores repeatedly pounded at the junior-seniors' back door throughout the game, and gave the upperclassmen many a rough moment while out on the field. Good passing, team work, a sound defense, and goals scored by Mary Brown pulled the game out of the bag for the junior-senior team.

On Thursday the junior-senior team took on the still undefeated freshmen. The freshmen, completely ignoring the fact that they were lowly underclassmen, promptly proceeded to romp down the field and hand the seniors their first defeat. The score—2 to 1. Oh unhappy day for the junior-senior team! However, there is another game scheduled between these two teams. The juniors and seniors say that they are really going to be in there to win by a large score, so that game will probably be the best one of the season. Take a look at the schedule on the bulletin board and try to see the match. It ought to be a dilly!

Wesley Club Plans Future Activities

On Sunday, November 16, University Sunday will be observed at the 11 a.m. worship service at the Newark Methodist Church. Dr. Hamilton P. Fox, District Superintendent of the Wilmington District, will be the speaker. All students at the university are invited to attend either singly or in groups such as dorms or fraternities.

On Tuesday, November 18, the Wesley Foundation meets at 7:15 p.m. at the Methodist Church. Dr. Bernard Phillips will be the speaker of the evening and his theme will be "World Religions." Everyone who has heard Dr. Phillips knows what an interesting and enjoyable night this will be. There will also be recreation and refreshments.

Fencing, the newest activity to be added to the Womens' Athletic Association program, is rapidly gaining in prestige and popularity. They now have enough masks, foils, and jackets to admit many more new students who might have an active interest in this field. However, the last opportunity for new members to join the club will be on November 20, the next meeting of the group. Be sure to be there! Please note that the club will not be meeting on November 13, due to a conflict with the playbill. If you cannot come on the twentieth and are interested in joining, be sure to contact some member of the club. Irene Klahr, Mary Jane Stricker, Lois Bowers, Mary Ellen Miller, Adilee Parks, Joan Homiller, and Ann Miller are a few of the members you might talk to about signing up. Miss Della Durant will also be only too willing to answer all questions. Joan Homiller, club president, says that no knowledge of fencing is needed. Just go and watch the first night. Then be ready to take up your equipment and participate in one of the most fascinating of activities. Join now!

Volleyball, table tennis, and badminton are coming up on the W.A.A. calendar. Keep an eye on the W.A.A. bulletin board for further information. Come out for W.A.A.

Don't forget the Southeastern Sectional Hockey Tournament to be held on the lower campus hockey fields this Saturday!

Junior Councilors Work On Campus

The Junior Councilors have been functioning since the beginning of this semester. Each junior on the committee has been assigned a group of nine freshman girls. The groups are comprised of students from each dorm, and commuters' groups have also been formed. The councilors meet with their own group of girls at their own discretion. The meetings are very informal, consequently making it easier to discuss the problems of the students.

The councilors send an individual report on each meeting to Miss Marjorie Black, student councilor. The information concerning the problems of the students will be compiled into a booklet for future Junior Councilors to aid them in helping future freshmen.

The councilors are over and above the "big sisters." They are between the student and the advisors, being more on the student level. This enables the freshmen to discuss their personal, as well as academic problems, with some one close to their own situation.

To make the plan of the Junior Councilors successful, it is necessary that the freshmen advisees attend the meetings which the Junior Councilors have taken time to schedule.

Delta Tau Delta

Last Tuesday night, many of us, like millions of others, sat in front of our television set and watched as Dwight D. Eisenhower became the president-elect of the United States. For some it was comforting, others shocking, but nevertheless, it was fun for all.

Saturday night found a noble experiment underway in the form of a low pressure party. Cards, television, dancing and just talk was the order of the day. Seen groping their way through the smog were Bob Hastings and Nancy Kroger, Bob Starks and Lois Devine, Art Hodges and BB Brown, Dave Menner and Edie Evans, and Ted Sandstrom and Jean Durgan.

Congratulations are in order for Jack and Pat Fairchild, the proud parents of an eight pound baby boy. Congrats, also, to Al Scala, '52, who was married last Saturday to Betty Mathewson.

KA

Another week, another step forward. Last Thursday saw picked fraternity personnel engaged in a 2½ mile cross-country run on the Newark Country Club Golf Course. The KA's took over the cross-country trophy based on team points.

Bobby Brown has been enthusiastically nominated by the KA's to represent us in the Annual Football Sweetheart Classic which will be held this Saturday afternoon between halves of the Delaware-Lafayette game.

At this time we, the KA Brothers, are happy to announce the pledging of Stu Melson. Congratulations, Stu, from all of us. We are happy to have you among us.

Friday evening following the dance in the Field House, many of the KA's headed for a nearby night spot — The Hilltop. Among those venturing forward were: Dick Gorman and Bobby Holmes, Dick Thompson and Joan Steinmetz, Dave "Wish You Were Here" Leerone and Jean "You Were Never Lovelier" Hayes, and last but not least, Neil "Hot Lips" Thomas, charged by Sue "Electron" Connor.

Well, that's it. See you next week.

Alpha Tau Omega

Last Thursday, seven weary men were carried back to the ATO House after placing seventh in the Interfraternity Cross-Country race. Our chapter was represented by Brothers Bob Jamison, 6th; Dyke Pollitt, 21st; Pledge Brother Stan Crewe, 23rd; Brothers Bill Phillips and Reds Pollitt, 24th; Al Spang, 32nd and Fred Werner, 33rd.

In the handball tournament, Brother Al Spang has advanced to the semi-finals.

Congratulations to Brother Harvey Renshaw, who pinned Miss Rae Stark shortly before last weekend. Best of luck to both.

Last Saturday morning, Brothers George Hammond, Dyke Pollitt, and Bill Phillips made a tour of South Philly. They returned with the latest thing in "lids," which the ATO's proudly displayed at the P.M.C. game.

We opened our social season last Saturday night with our first formal house party of the year. Everybody had a good time including a few of our friends from Sigma Nu. Thanks to our chaperones, Mr. and Mrs. Bueche and Dr. and Mrs. Parker.

Sigma Nu

Sunday, November 9, was this year designated as Sigma Nu Memorial Sunday in honor of those Brothers who have passed away. Morning Church Services were attended at the Presbyterian Church and the Reverend R. J. Hallman very kindly spoke at the house in the afternoon. The well planned program was arranged by Chaplain Don Rumer.

It felt good to watch the team come out on the long end of the score Saturday. Afterwards the Cedar Inn caught the brunt of the party boys such as Dean Dahlen and Art Vandepoole, but where in Bucks County did those two night owls, Jack Kinter and Fred Brown go?

Many thanks to our neighbors, Sig Ep and ATO. The Brothers and their dates attending Saturday night had a fine time.

Alumni back from the sands of Texas include Joe Lank, Jack Ponton, and soon Pablo Catts.

AEPi

This week the "Silver Streak," owned and operated by Teddy Zutz, made its initial debut on the Delaware campus. Seen taking a chance trying to get to the football game in it were Mark Rappaport and Marian Gansberg, along with Sylvia Field and the owner of said "car"??!

Due to limitations of space in last week's column, a grave oversight was committed. Performing at the "in" famous Poverty Party were four Cannon lovelies: Hope Orloff, Gerry Weinroth, Phyl Sklut, and Bobbie Itzkowitz. Last week their names were not mentioned and the writer was severely chastised for it.

The AEPi's have chosen lovely Hope Orloff as their Homecoming Queen.

OX

With Homecoming and IF Weekend coming up, Theta Chi is sure to be well occupied thru Thanksgiving holidays (may they come soon!). We wish to extend a cordial welcome to the alumni and hope they will get to the house to see our remodeled "crab room." Our hearty thanks to Brothers Cunningham and Zeise.

Congratulations to the football team on a fine victory Saturday. Especially do we commend Brothers Carzo, Fannon, and once again Captain Mueller. Let's continue on the victory path this week. Also, congratulations to Brothers Joe Miller, Bill Colonna, and "Cannon Mouth," pardon me, I mean "Eight-Ball" Messick for making such a fine showing in the cross-country race. Joe was a big fat third; pretty good for an old codger.

We're glad to report Brother Sullivan on the road to recovery. Hurry back, boy, we miss your "witty" remarks.

Last but not least, best of luck to Lois Alava, our nomination for Homecoming Queen.

Pi Kappa Alpha

First off we would like to extend our belated welcome mat to our three new pledges, Don Bunnell, Walt Timm, and Remo Mazzetti. Congratulations, men!

Brother Jack Torkelson made the society column last Saturday when he took that mighty step and tied the knot with Marie Hutchison. Congratulations!

We put on a pretty good showing last Friday at the pep-fest with our horned costumes. We sure looked like the devil—and just think, Bill Keyser thought up the whole affair by himself.

After watching Frank, the man with the educated foot, Serpico placed a few pretty good punts back in PMC's territory, the Pikes wandered back to their abode for a night of partying.

Phi Kappa Tau

Taking advantage of Delaware's first afternoon game, the Phi Taus held their first major party following the victory at Wilmington. Some of the couples at the party seemed to prefer the basement, some preferred the living room, and others wouldn't make up their minds so were continuously seen going up and down the stairs.

Heading the basement crew were Giff Crothers and Barbara Nesper and Chick Carey and Marilyn Cowell. Those who preferred upstairs life were Bob Rudrow and Chris Clark and Dave Hoyer and Sue Brown. The gang that couldn't make up their mind included Jim Bradford and Joan Snowberger and Ernie Chamorro and Mary Ann Kerrigan.

The Phi Tau runners fared quite well in the cross country meet as Jim Bradford came in seventh followed closely by Boyd Cook. Charley Rodriguez also did well finishing twelfth.

While the R.O.T.C. boys are engaged in their last drill, Bob Spencer and Chick Carey will be marching through Middletown with the National Guard.

To a raindrop, all umbrellas are the same

Yes, the nice part about umbrellas is their similarity. When the need is urgent, any one will work.

When it comes to telephone equipment, however, a general likeness isn't enough. Parts are engineered to be exactly the same no matter where they are used. Only such rigid standardization made possible the smooth and interlocking system that serves you from Penobscot, Maine, to Pescadero, California.

We're reminded of it sharply in times of disaster—from flood, blast or hurricane.

Telephone men from other areas can come and pitch right in with the same methods, tools and equipment.

But one Bell System asset isn't standardized. That is its people. It takes able, original minds to keep our business moving ahead. For college graduates qualified for and interested in such widely differing work as research, engineering, operations and administration, we offer many opportunities.

Your college placement people will be glad to tell you more about it.

"The Lithuanian Daily Trend", a Chicago Lithuanian newspaper, reports that nowhere else are underground workers still so active as in Lithuania. These unknown heroes, whose slogan is "death or liberty," do not give up to the threatening Soviet Government as they hide in the great forests of Lithuania.

Registration of students in the higher educational institutions in Lithuania was so slow that it had to be postponed for several weeks, and even that did not help much. In the University of Vilnius only 2,000 students registered this year instead of the former 2,500.

A cheating scandal recently was uncovered by the Soviet press. In the University Correspondence Course, it had become customary to hire students to pass examinations for absent students. For instance, a university student of the history faculty was paid 100 rubles by a Correspondence Course student for passing his exams in history.

Rollins College . . . . . Fraternity Dissolves

In an emergency meeting which was called last week, the members of Alpha Phi Lambda decided to dissolve their local fraternity which has been functioning at Rollins since 1946. The main reasons for this disbandment were that they had no house of their own; and with only twelve members, they decided that membership was too small to promote a successful organization. The Interfraternity Council and each fraternity accepted the decision of Alpha Phi Lambda. Its members will now be considered independent.

Gettysburg . . . . . Booster Club has A Successful Year

The Booster Club of Gettysburg has found a source of income in selling hot dogs, coffee, and cokes at the Gettysburg home football games this year. The money which has been received is being used to secure new uniforms for the cheerleaders. The club also hopes to buy keys for the senior lettermen and present them later this season.

The Club has also accepted the Responsibility of selling refreshments at basketball and baseball games and for the sale of booster tickets to Gettysburg students. Future plans include the presentation of a small trophy for the second prize winner in the coming float contest. The club hopes that it will be able to provide transportation for the cheerleaders to the away basketball games.

Dolan Speaks At Youth Conference

The second annual conference on children and youth will be held at the Dover Field House on Saturday, December 6. One of the prominent speakers will be Dr. Paul Dolan, head of the Political Science Department of the university. Dr. Dolan's topic will be "Youth Participation and Citizenship."

The objectives of this conference will be to offer an opportunity to Delaware citizens to share their hopes for their children. They will decide what needs now exist; what progress has been made in meeting their responsibilities; and find possible ways to act on specific recommendations through legislation and cooperative community efforts.

Many Delaware citizens made splendid contributions to last year's first annual conference. At that time, priority recommendations were studied from the 1950 White House Conference and were used as a base for the work of the Delaware Commission during its first year of operation.

Barlow Featured At Contemporary Music Festival

Professor Anthony J. Loudis, chairman of the Music Department of the University of Delaware, announces the Fourth Annual Contemporary Music Festival to be held at Newark on Tuesday evening, November 18. The Festival Concert will feature the works of the American composer, Wayne Barlow. Dr. Barlow will spend two days on campus under the visiting scholar program meeting with the students in the music literature courses.

A performance of his solo, choral, and orchestral works will be presented during the evening in Mitchell Hall. Staff members will perform solo works, the A Cappella Choir will be heard in his choruses, and the Delaware Symphonette will interpret the orchestral compositions.

The Symphonette, with a playing personnel of Wilmington musicians and university students, has taken part in the previous three Contemporary Music Festivals held at the University of Delaware. The organization will be under the direction of Professor J. Robert King of the Music Department.

The orchestral numbers to be performed by the Symphonette include the "Nocturne for Chamber Orchestra," which was commissioned by radio station WHAM in Rochester in 1946; "The Winter's Passed," a rhapsody for oboe and strings; "Lyrical Piece" for clarinet and strings; and the Sinfonietta in C.

Two soloists will be featured on the program. Mrs. Helen Rairigh, oboist, and Mr. Franklin Hillman, clarinetist. Mrs. Rairigh has played with the Symphonette for five years. Previous to this she was with the Wilmington Symphony, the Kennett Square Symphony and the Alt Wien group. She has studied with a former Philadelphia Symphony oboist. Mr. Hillman holds degrees from Princeton, Eastman School of Music and the University of Indiana. He is a Newark resident.

The Music Performance Trust Fund of the American Federation of Musicians has given partial support for the appearances of the Symphonette at the university. Members of Local 311 of the American Federation of Music have given wholeheartedly of their time and energy to help make the orchestral phase of these Festivals a success.

The concert will begin at 8:30 p.m. in Mitchell Hall. The public is invited to attend. There is no admission charge.

Victory! Victory! Victory!
Houseparties! Houseparties! Houseparties!
With this auspicious beginning we give you the lowdown on last weekend's activities.

Sig Ep really threw a great one—first the game, then on to the house for a matinee, buffet dinner, and then houseparty. Seen circulating the Panther Room: Jim Cooper, Fergie, Bill Doppstadt, Jo Anne Wood, Bill Ritchie, Lois Humme, and Twig Daly with Barb Cramer, who was celebrating her twentieth, meaning she is no longer a teen tot. Bill Harkins and Gerry Dye dropped in and represented ATO at the gathering.

Over at the house on the corner, the ATO's Tom Hopkins really resplendent in derby and red suspenders set them up for Faye Meredith, Don Rittenhouse, Art Holvick, Joan Hayes, Reds Pollitt, Joan Russell, Dyke Pollitt, Cena O'Brien.

Phi Tau had their first party of the year. The house was rocking with old grads and married alumni. Bob Rudrow, Chris Clark, John Fernandez, Lois Malamut, Jim Bradford, Joan Snowberger, Bob Spence and Nurse were among the old regulars there.

Down at the Delts informality reigned with T-V and cards the main attraction. Seen around the set were Spen Hedger, Cynthia Fiery, Diz Day, Tracy Williams, Joe Gronde and Janet Boutin. Ellen Ungerleider and Sue Parrot dropped in with their dates, plus Ed Phillips, Bobby Bennet, Jim Nichols, Lois Pelligrine, Bill Harkins, and Gerry.

The Apes migrated to Hilltop for the evening. "Ikeing" it up were "Virile" Goldenberg, Lee Lang, Mark Rappaport, Marlon Gansberg, Ted Zutz, Sylvia Field, Harvey Porter, Ruth Kaplan, Larry Cooperman, and Bobbie ITZKOWITZ!!!

six percent. It is expected that the small increases in board prices made effective for 1952-53 will enable the University to come closer to the desired ten percent for reserve for this year.

"It should be of interest to you to know that at the University of Delaware students are not now, nor have they in the past, been required to pay through the fees charged a proportionate share of the cost of construction of University buildings. On many campuses students must do this. For example, when money is borrowed to construct a revenue producing building (e.g., a dormitory) the rates charged are fixed so as to pay interest and retire the indebtedness as well as operate and maintain the building. The board and room rates charged here do not include a sum to retire building indebtedness. It is quite possible that the University of Delaware will be forced in the future to finance the construction of new dormitories and a student union in this way.

"You may wish to know how each dollar paid by students for meals in the Dining Halls last year was spent. Here are the figures:

Food .....	.59
Salaries and Wages .....	.26
Supplies .....	.03
Utilities .....	.02
Telephone, telegraph, stationery, laundry, rent for dietitians .....	.01
Equipment .....	.01
Miscellaneous, including indirect charges .....	.02
Equipment depreciation, reserve and replacements .....	.06

Total .....

"In most commercial food businesses, about fifty percent of the income is spent on food. The above figures show that fifty-nine percent of the Dining Halls' income is spent for food.

"While it is true that the Dining Halls are not operated at a profit, I submit that as a matter of principle there is nothing wrong in making a reasonable profit on such an enterprise. A profit if made would not go into someone's pocket; it would go toward paying for the total university operation. Each student here pays less than one-half of the per-student cost of operating the university. Accordingly, if a small profit is made in the operation of one part of the university, it means simply that the student pays that much less for some other university service. In terms of total dollars the student pays no more, and this total is still considerably less than what his education costs."

Home Ec. Open House Given For H.S. Girls

Today the senior high school girls of Delaware are coming to the Home Ec Open House.
