Student Union, Non-Profit Store, Sees Another Successful Year

With the fall term almost half way over, many campus activities are just beginning to shift into high gear; however, the Student Union, better known as the Scrounge Lounge, has been in full scale operation since the first day of classes. Under the capable leadership of Student Union Committee Chairman, Bill Nicoll, and new Union Manager, Mrs. Josephine Hewes, the student enterprise looks forward to a very successful year.

The scope of operations has widened considerably since the time of the beginnings of the Union and now include a wide range of tasks and student services. An example is the sale of supplies for group picnics.

The Union's policy is governed by the manager and the Student Union Committee, along with Faculty Adviser Mr. Bernard Clements and Financial Adviser Mr. Abraham Shuchman. The financial statements are checked monthly by an informal group consisting of Mrs. Hewes, Bill Nicoll, Mr. Clements, and Mr. Shuchman.

Financial activities are regulated by the "fiscal year," which began on July 1 of this year. Although July is a "slow" month for the Union, the report for July, '51 showed an almost even break in the profit and loss columns. August and September figures, however, revealed undesirable losses. Small summer school attendance and the drop in fall enrollment are believed to be important reasons for the slump. October, one of the best months, is not expected to yield any operating loss, but rather a profit. In fact, profits for the best months of operation are anticipated to hit a net total of between sixteen and eighteen hundred dollars. The sand dollars. Nevertheless, as the estimated yearly gross income is between sixty and seventy thousand dollars, the University is not primarily a profit-making organization.

Frosh Girls Asked To Sigma Nu Party

Attention all Freshmen girls and Transfer Students! Tonight, Friday, from 8 to 11 P. M. Sigma Nu will hold its annual get-together.

The men of the Fraternity will escort the girls from their dorms to the Sigma Nu house.

As in previous years, the highlight of the evening will be the famous tag dance. The girl dancing with the greatest number of brothers will receive a prize. The brothers will also provide entertainment and refreshments.

President Paul Catts on behalf of the fraternity hopes that every girl will attend.

Tony Catoia Appointed SGA Education Representative

Replaces Leggett

Tony Catoia has been appointed by the S.G.A. as representative of the School of Education. Kate Leggett was elected last year to the position but has withdrawn from school.

According to the S.G.A. constitution, when a person withdraws from an elective office, a replacement is elected by the members of the S.G.A. Catoia was nominated and reelected at the October 25 meeting under the provision.

Catoia, a Senior majoring in Physical Education, is a native of New Canaan, Connecticut. During his stay at Delaware, he has been very active in campus affairs. He is a member of Omicron Delta Kappa, the leadership fraternity, president of Kappa Delta Pi, the honorary education society, vice-president of his fraternity, Theta Chi. He is also an active member of the Newman Club.

Harvest Hop Rates Over Stork Club

He: "How's about going out Saturday night?"

She: "What'll we do?"

He: "Drive to Philadelphia, dinner at the Warwick, Academy of Music concert, clubbing . . ."

She: "I don't know . . . got a Thermodynamics test Monday. I had better study . . ."

He: "How about flying to New York . . . Stork . . . 'King and I' . . . Copa . . ."

She: "Maybe I'll rest in the dorm. Rough day in Strength Lab Saturday."

He: "Wait a minute . . . walk 5 miles to the Collegiate Hop at Carpenter Fieldhouse?"

She: (Breathlessly) "Sure! What time shall I be ready?"

That was an absolutely spontaneous conversation overheard on campus. And if you ponder a bit, it is a very credible incident. "Leave me clue you," as they say at Harvard.

On November 3 at Carpenter Fieldhouse there's a dance from eight to midnight, a big production called the "Collegiate Hop" featuring the melodious meanderings of Jimmy Dorsey et al.

It's strictly informal, but don't get carried away . . . no dungarees, please. All this for $3.60 (American money) per two heads (on separate bodies, of course).

Don Cherr, Social Chairman, is in charge of the fiasco.

Dean Forms Men's Affairs Committee

Buechele Heads Group & Plans Active Schedule

The Men's Affairs Committee has recently completed its initial organization. Problems of dormitories, commuters, and fraternities will be the Committee's chief concern.

By co-operating with Dean J. Fenton Daugherty and the Co-ordinator of Men's Affairs, W. A. Pemberton, the communications committee will be able to disperse information to resident men and commuters very quickly. Arrangements have been made to post notices from Mr. Milton Roberts' office weekly.

The committee is also making a temporary directory of all men living on campus, which will later be replaced by the permanent student directory.

The committee is sending a letter to the director of Student Affairs praising the recent action to let girls in fraternity houses go unchaperoned on week day afternoons. The letter states that the organization feels the students are mature enough to accept the responsibilities that go with the privilege.

"We hope the Men's Affairs Committee will someday be as active and influential as the Women's Affairs Committee and the Inter-Fraternity council," said John Buechele, Chairman. The organization consists of the presidents of the nine fraternities and representatives from each of the four dormitories: Brown, Harter, Mosher, and the Training House. Committee meetings are held every other Sunday evening in Brown Hall Lounge at 10:15 p.m.

Miss Polly Goller Crowned 1951 Football Sweetheart

Nineteen Coeds Vie for Honor

Halftime at the football game against Muhlenberg on Saturday night, October 27, presented a spectacular array of campus coeds. Polly Goller, blond, blue-eyed, peppy cheerleader of the class of '53, was crowned Miss Blue Hen. At halftime, a float trimmed in blue and gold and having as passengers Queen Polly and her six runners-up, came onto the field followed by three convertibles each with four of the other nineteen contestants.

Polly made the following statement when she knew she had won: "I couldn't believe it. I thought Phil was kidding me because he seemed so calm, and I was so excited. I never imagined I would win."

After circling the field several times, the procession stopped in front of the Delaware stands. Queen Polly was escorted to the center of the field by Gil McCurdy, co-captain of the cheerleaders who sponsored the winning candidate. Each of the other contestants was then escorted onto the field. The University of Delaware band marched into a heart formation and played "Let Me Call You Sweetheart." Bill Hearn, President of S.G.A., then presented the Queen with a bouquet of red roses.

The six runners-up who rode on the Sweetheart Float with Queen Polly were Peggy Mooney, sponsored by Theta Chi; Patti Ingram, by Hanover; Lois Alava, by Sigma Nu; Jean Thomas, by Warner; Ellen McQuaid, by Kappa Alpha; and Betty Kem, by Phi Kappa Tau.

The other coeds and their sponsors who participated in the festival were: Claire Alava, Windsor; Jane Banks, Sussex; Mary Lou Conover, Pi Kappa Alpha; Lee Dannewer, Topsy, Turvy, and Boletus; Marty Forsythe, Alpha Tau Omega; Joan Liebert, Alpha Epsilon Pi; Betty Menges, Knoll; Martha Murphy, Eaton; Lorraine Robinson, Sigma Phi Epsilon; Edith Sand, Delta Tau Delta; Grace Schulze, Civil Engineers; and Soncie Twiford, New Castle.

The Miss Blue Hen contest as a climax for Homecoming Week has received its initiation this season. It is expected to continue in subsequent years and become a tradition on the Delaware campus. The widespread interest of the students as shown by their active campaigning prior to the election is an indication of the success of the idea even in its initial stages.

Colonel Hafer Cites 18 ROTC Students

Eighteen University of Delaware ROTC students have been designated as "distinguished military students" by Col. Joseph B. Hager, professor of military science and tactics.

Heading the list is Elmer P. Catts, Jr., regimental cadet colonel. John DeGasperi, football captain and commander of the First Battalion, also was among those cited. The others are:

Well Done!

Polly and The Grain Game

A new tradition was inaugurated last weekend—the selection of a Football Sweetheart and the designation of the last home football contest as the "Blue Hen Grain Game." May we congratulate Mr. Phil Dynan, originator and chief promoter of the projects on a fine beginning.

We cannot yet understand much significance in the title of "Grain Game," but we realize that it will be changed in the next few years to the "Homecoming Game." The building of our own stadium and the return of football games to the campus will add much to the festivities that were begun last weekend.

The project was managed as efficiently as possible for a beginning, and we hope that in future years it is promoted even more than has been done this time. We suggest that future "Grain Games" be sponsored by a committee of the S.G.A. with the full cooperation of the Women's Affairs Committee, the I.F.C., and The Review.

Congratulations, Polly, on your election as our 1951 Football Sweetheart.

Grounds

The Beaten Paths

Many students still seem to have no regard for the beauty of their campus. After every class, there is a parade across the grass. Once again a beaten path is appearing between the library and University Hall.

The S.G.A. sponsored a campaign last year to keep our grounds in good condition. They requested the students to keep off the grass. The plot of ground between the library and University Hall was seeded and fenced off. After the grass appeared, the fence disappeared—evidently, the S.G.A. thought the students had learned the proper respect for beauty.

Fences, especially one-wire fences, are not always attractive or desirable. Nevertheless, it appears as though the S.G.A. must resort to this action again.

If you want an attractive university, support the campus clean-up campaign next week. When the campaign is over, show visitors, parents, and the citizens of Delaware that you want a beautiful, clean campus. Keep off the grass, throw paper in trash cans, and follow the suggestions the committee makes.

Keep in mind these things: you or your parents pay the Maintenance Fee; destroying the grass helps to raise this fee; and trash in the wrong places makes more work for employees who could be doing more useful work.

It's still your campus! Take care of it.

Letters To Editor

Open letter to President and Mrs. Perkins:

The senior class expresses its thanks for the hospitality you so graciously showed us at the senior tea last Wednesday. We enjoyed being with you in your home and appreciate your warm interest in our activities.

The Senior Class.

Dear Sir:

Here is what we think of the University of Delaware band. We think the band is composed of a group of students who are striving, under many hardships and criticisms, to continue the good name of the university and to produce a topnotch band.

We realize the hardships that the members face due to lack of practice time. There are other inconveniences, however, which have not been mentioned. How many students on this campus would be willing to go to the games every week-end and have their dates sit with them in the middle of the band section, or else turn down all Saturday night dates because they prefer not to have their dates sit with the band? Also, the band uniforms are not the most comfortable things in the world to wear to the games. When the weather is warm, the members roast; when it's cold they freeze.

The band isn't handicapped because of the material it already has, but because of the potential material who assume a lackadaisical attitude and would rather sit back and criticize the organization rather than participate.

Perhaps these people who are so quick to find fault with the band haven't seen the movies taken at half-time of the band at the Delaware-Connecticut game. Connecticut has a student body of approximately nine thousand students; Delaware has about seventeen hundred students. In comparison the Delaware band is superior to that of Connecticut and many compliments were received from the Connecticut rooters.

The University of Delaware band is not a proving ground for high school talent, but an independent organization representing our school and as such contains only students of this school.

We're not making excuses for the band because they don't need any; but after reading "Neath the Arches" in last week's Review, we were and still are so thoroughly disgusted, we felt some reply had to be made.

New Castle Girls.

Dear Sir:

I have been attending the University of Delaware for the past four years. To my mind the campus offers just about everything to its students. We have an excellent academic program, a beautiful campus, and numerous social functions. For years there have been complaints about our school spirit, and even that situation has improved considerably this past fall. The Senior Pep-Fest is an example of the terrific school spirit that we can put forth. Everyone participated and an atmosphere of real collegiate enthusiasm filled the campus from seven o'clock until eight o'clock.

The question is what happened to these cheering participants after the pep-fest? There was a record dance in the Field House, but you would never have known it from the appearance of the gym. There were numerous girls seated on the bleachers while the male stage grouped themselves, coyly standing at the edge of the dance floor nearest the exit. Approximately one third of the persons were dancing throughout the evening. What kind of participation is that at a dance where everyone supposedly came to mix and have a good time?

Don't the people who attend the dances realize that you only get out of a thing what you put into it? Here at these informal dances we have our best chance to meet and get acquainted with those members of the student body whom we do not see in classes or on campus. Could the situation be improved by better organization? The square dances usually go over well. How about mixing Paul Jones' to help everyone get acquainted? I suggest that the Coordinator of Student Affairs (or whoever would be in charge) look into the situation to see if anything could be done to save these Friday night dances which are dying on their feet.

Sincerely yours,
 Betty Davies

Notice

The International Students Club will hold a joint meeting with the International Relations Club in the Brown Hall Lounge on November 5 at 7:30 p.m. All foreign students of the University and students interested in international relations and understanding are cordially invited to attend. Refreshments will be served.

Improvement

Howaboutabooth

For years, the sale of tickets for social functions has been handled over a table next to the mailboxes in the basement of the library. It would be practical and becoming to put a ticket booth where the old table now stands.

A ticket booth would be much more attractive than the present set-up. Students would easily recognize a ticket booth, whereas the table is often by-passed. Furthermore, a ticket booth would provide more pleasant working conditions for ticket sellers. It would be easier to handle the money and the sale of tickets through a window, rather than having purchasers crowd around a table.

Since the Maintenance Department and the S.G.A. have made many desired improvements in the basement of the library, a ticket booth would be one more attractive innovation.

Why wait until our social season is in full swing? Do it now!

Joseph Cleaver Diary Story

Reviewed by GIL KOFFLER

"No kindling. A very slow fire. Bad breakfast. Dull prayers." Thus wrote Joseph Cleaver almost one hundred years ago when he was a student at Delaware College, the forerunner of the present University. These and other comments on college life a century ago are to be found in his diary, recently published by J. H. Furst Company and edited by our librarian, William Ditto Lewis.

Mr. Lewis has done a thorough, competent, scholarly job of tracking down references and cross-checking statements with other available literature. The more than ample footnotes are replete with quotations from another diary, from faculty minutes, literary club minutes, and other sources.

The diary itself is an interesting commentary on life in 1853-54, and more specifically, on life at a small, relatively new college. From our present viewpoint, the most outstanding feature of college life in 1853 was the lack of female companionship. Mr. Cleaver only rarely mentions women.

Apparently "Joe College" at that time spent his day largely in the pursuit of knowledge, with time out for prayers, debating, and the usual high jinks. Cleaver mentions cannon-firing which unsettled the residents, but adds that everyone knew who the guilty parties were. This similarity to the recent "Harter Incident" shows that "boys will be boys," or perhaps that "there's nothing new under the sun."

He mentions buying a silver spoon for sixty-five cents, a feat that would be impossible today, and in one place diligently notes that he gave his boots to an escaping slave who was passing through Newark.

Other comments are that he had trouble studying—no surprise even today—and that he was made sad by a homesick boy. On various occasions he fell into a ditch; thought his penmanship was improving; found the morning prayers dull; got something in his eye; cut his ear shaving; and put out his boots to be cleaned, only to get another pair back.

Mr. Lewis says: "It is, however, not the man but the diary which interests us. He shows us something of himself to be sure, something of his friends, something of his background; but, chiefly he shows us the old college, tells us the state and temper of the chimneys, leads us up and down stairs and lets us hear the tinkle of a rented piano down a corridor a hundred years long."

Pilferages

The preacher finished his sermon with "All liquor should be thrown into the river." . . . And the choir ended by chanting "Shall We Gather at the River?"

—The Bona Venture

Student: "Isn't this the same test you gave last year?"

Professor: "Yes, it is, but I changed the answer."

—The Springhillian

Irritated Professor: "If there are any morons in the room, please stand up."

A long pause, and a lone freshman stands.

Prof: "What, do you consider yourself a moron?"

Frosh: "Well not exactly sir, but I do hate to see you standing by yourself."

Attention Faculty

When members of the faculty and administrative staff of the university have news items that they believe should be covered in The Review, they should contact the News Editor through the College Mail or by telephone at the Review office, and make arrangements for a reporter to get the story. When minor items arise, it is easiest to simply write the necessary facts on paper and send it or bring it to The Review. We invite more faculty and university news.

Life With Father

By GIL KOFFLER

Most people will agree that "Life With Father," the E-52 Players' latest opus, is not the best production ever to have come down the pike. They will also agree, however, that it is far from the worst. All things considered, "Life With Father" is probably best described as a pleasant evening's entertainment. It has pep, continuity, some good acting, and a general, over-all appeal.

In brief, the best acting is done by those who play the biggest parts—a credit to Elbert Chance's casting committee. As Father, Professor Cyrus Day is blusteringly engaging. His interpretation of the role is somewhat calmer and less formidable than has been seen in the past, but none the less fitting; and his smooth handling of the solid dictums and logical arguments makes him less of an ogre and more of a representative of a type of father than is usually the case. As Mother, Jean Wilson gives her usual excellent performance. She creates a personality nicely opposite to that of Father, yet at the same time complementary. Her illogical financial thought processes are convincingly persuasive.

The two young members of the cast, Bill Colburn and Frazer Jones, are appealingly "cute" and give polished performances. The rest of the rather large cast has its share of hams, none of whom is unusually bad. This is practically inevitable, however, and does not detract seriously from the quality of the production.

On the credit side of the ledger might be put the work of the make-up, property, costume, and scenery committees. It is to be regretted that the red hair of certain members of the Day family, although the object of intensive work, did not show up better.

Judging by the audience reaction, "Life With Father" provided an enjoyable evening's entertainment for all.

The Autumn Garden

By HELEN LILLEY

Lillian Hellman, author of such successful plays as Watch on the Rhine, The Little Foxes, Another Part of the Forest, has recently added to her list of plays, The Autumn Garden. It was first produced last spring. A play from an eminent playwright is always anticipated with great interest and curiosity in theatre circles. The original production, however, was something of a disappointment; but since its premiere, the play has been cut and revised and is now most probably on the road to a successful run in New York.

The Autumn Garden, a wordy, conversational piece, is based on the theme of marital problems encountered after the bloom of spring and summer love is over and the couples are approaching the autumn of life. There are two contrasting couples in the play. One wife finds herself married to a trying, playboy artist (Fredric March). The other husband finds his wife has turned out to be a frivolous, shallow woman (Florence Eldridge). To add further to the marriage theme, there are two people who have somehow reached middle age without having had the courage to marry, plus a young couple who, through family pressure, are being forced into an incompatible marriage. After a complex plot, Lillian Hellman manages to end the play with no drastic changes in any of the relationships. The two unhappily married couples remain unhappily married but reconciled to endure their youthful mistakes. The unmarried couples remain single.

Despite the fact that there is no appreciable difference between the situation at the beginning of the play and that at the end, Miss Hellman has packed into the play some profound philosophy, brilliant dialogue, and living characters, all of which, in the final analysis, make for a noteworthy theatre experience.

SGA Grounds Committee Urges Cleanup Campaign

Frank Hewlett Named Chairman

By VERNA LAIR

The new chairman of the S. G. A. Grounds Committee is Frank Hewlett. Membership of this committee consists of representatives from the S. G. A. The purposes of the committee are to stimulate student interest in keeping the campus clean and beautiful and to formulate suggestions for the administration on ways of improving the beauty of the Delaware campus.

The problems which concern the committee are: (1) the paths worn through plots of grass because students will not take time to walk around; (2) the trash thrown from cars which park on Kent Way, Amstel Avenue, etc. Complaints of this sort have been raised by Newark citizens; (3) the problem of cigarette butts in buildings and on the grounds; (4) the use of trash cans near the post office instead of throwing notices on the floor.

The first problem—unsightly paths through grass plots—can be remedied only by student cooperation. The campus lawn will soon be rolled, and these bare places will be fertilized and seeded.

Suggestions Made by Committee

The committee urges that students use the available sand cigarette disposal urns instead of littering the buildings and grounds with their cigarette butts. The committee is considering the addition of more urns at strategic points.

Another item which the committee has under consideration is the construction of several outside bulletin boards to keep students posted on activities. Complaints about muddy conditions around the barracks, damage done by University trucks, and student cars tearing up the grass are being considered.

This work of the S. G. A. Grounds Committee is an attempt to improve the looks of the campus by student interest and cooperation. The campus grounds receive a great deal of attention and care. The campus contains approximately 86 acres and has numerous plantings to be cared for.

In order to increase student interest

Warner Hall Wins Car Parade Friday

Warner Hall has been announced as the winner of the car parade sponsored by the Junior Class last Friday night. A.T.O. was second and the third place was tied between Harter Hall and Hanover. The winning entry belonging to senior Mike Miller was decorated with blue and yellow crepe paper, branches of autumn leaves, and flowers. A football player on top was holding the reins of a horse, and the theme was "Blue Hens Hold the Reins."

interest in the grounds, the Grounds Committee is starting a publicity campaign today, Nov. 5. This campaign will begin to enlist student cooperation in handling some of the problems of cleanliness. All suggestions, which may be addressed to Frank Hewlett and dropped in Campus Mail, will be welcomed.

Photo Club Plans Lecture Series and 'Model Night'

The Photography Club will begin its classes in elementary color photography on Thursday, November 1. The basic ideas behind the color process and the various processes in use at present will be the subject of the first lecture. A second lecture will be held the following Thursday at the regular club meeting. This will be a talk on the use of Kodachrome and Kodacolor. This lecture will be given by a representative of the Eastman Kodak Company.

At the last meeting of the Photo Club, a "Model Night" committee was appointed to decide on the model for the club's first "Model Night", and to make the necessary arrangements. Members of this committee are Ralph Keil and Robert Gibson.

The members of the club also decided to establish the tradition of forming a permanent print collection. Members will submit prints that they feel are of salon quality. If approved, they will be retained by the club as part of the permanent collection. At the end of each year, the prints will be exhibited in the library.

The next meeting of the Photo Club will be held on Thursday, November 8, at 7:00 p.m. in Room 6 of Recitation Hall. Everyone is invited to attend and to become a member.

"Son, after four years at college you're nothing but a drunk, a loafer, and a damn nuisance. I can't think of a single good thing it's done."

The son was silent a moment. Suddenly his eyes brightened. "Well," he said timidly, "it's cured Ma of bragging about me."

NOTICE

Wrestling practice has started informally this week. All men interested please report to Capt. Paul Catts or Tom Schultz. Formal practice begins November 19. Let's get ready for Haverford on December 14.

Last Saturday night's much publicized game with Muhlenberg brought to a close the long series of home games. The first game of this series was fine; by the second one, everyone was really "in the mood;" but after that, the week upon week excursion to the same places before and after each game began to get monotonous.

We realize that athletic contests must sometimes be scheduled years in advance, but it should be possible to vary the program a bit. If the Wilmington Ball Park officials would consent, it would be ideal to have at least one afternoon game with a dance or some other social event on campus the same evening which the players themselves could enjoy. When planning the schedules, the Athletic Department should also consult the S.G.A. and the I.F.C. so that a more compromising Fall social calendar could be arranged.

We hope that the Athletic Department will consider these suggestions. We thank it, and especially Coach Nelson and the team, for a series of terrific games. We think home games will be more terrific if scattered.

IDLE CHATTER: The Saturday afternoon lull was very nicely taken care of by Phi Kappa Tau. They held a buffet supper for their visiting brothers from Muhlenberg chapter. They also arranged dates. Phi Tau's weekend was further capped by placing second in the house decorations contest... Sig Ep treated their Muhlenberg chapter socially and then turned around and treated them rudely by beating the visitors 13-6 in their inter-chapter football game... Earlier in the week, Sussex Hall had a Big and Little Sister Party, treating the Freshmen to spaghetti and meat sauce. The big sisters cooked the dinner with their own dainty fingers... Congratulations to K. A. who, for the second successive year, won the Grain Game decorations. The theme of their decorations was a glue factory... Turvey has extended an invitation to Brown Hall, inviting 20 men... Gracing Phi Tau's weekend were Alison Buckley with Dick Harper, Marilyn Colwell and Chick Carey, also Babs Nespar and Giff Crothers, just to mention a few... Theta Chi and Delta Tau Delta held afternoon TV parties which both houses seemed to enjoy. Among the many couples present at these two parties were Elaine Ough and Don Reynolds, Lee Dannehower and Don Kiddoo, Maggie Pyle and Hal Schmittinger, Sarah Ruffner and Jack Stowers, Ed Milligan and Marianne Kirkpatrick, and Will Brown squiring Carolyn Dickerson. After the game, the two houses adjourned to Chadds Ford (for a while) and the Du Pont C. C. respectively... Seen At The Game: Frank Baylis and Carolyn Clark, Jean Thomas and Dick Grossman, Bob Miller and Lorraine Robinson, Bob Wagner with Pat Reed... Congratulations to Polly Goller, our Grain Queen, and a fine choice... Many K. A.'s showed up with southern hats on; not to be outdone, a group of Sigma Nu's appeared with hats of union blue, renewing the Civil War feud... Don't forget Jimmy Dorsey this Saturday night—See you around the Quad.

Chem Engineers Disclose Plans for Coming Year

This is going to be another 100% year for the A.I. Che. The 100% means complete cooperation between the A.I. Che. and all student Chem. Engineers. Come out and join the fun. Our annual fall picnic started the year off with a roar, and we are gathering steam on the way. Don't be left out; see Byron Babcock or Art Eglington now and become a full-fledged member. A few of our planned activities include dinner meetings, plant trips, and our annual spring picnic; so join early, don't miss any of the fun.

The first dinner meeting will be a joint meeting including A.S.M.E. and A.I. Che. on November 5 at 6:15 p.m. The place is Kent Hall and cost will be $1.15 without meal ticket and no charge with a meal ticket. Mr. Roy Gretum, vice-president and manager of the Pusey and Jones Corporation, will speak on "Paper Making and Paper Making Machinery." The dinner meeting will be preceded by a short but important business meeting of the A.I. Che. in the Chemistry Auditorium at 5:15 p.m.

Seniors Let Off Steam At Friday Night Pep Fest

The weekend's festivities were initiated on Friday evening with the season's last major pepfest. It was sponsored by the Senior Class, and was highlighted by the final presentation of the 19 candidates for 1951 Football Sweetheart. Phil Dynan, athletic publicity director, and originator of the contest idea and the "Blue Hen Grain Game," acted as M. C.

A FOOTBALL GAME

By SUZANNE EMMERLING

This story was written by an ex-change German student, and reflects a stranger's first impression of American football.

It was Saturday evening; I had been for two days in the United States and one day on the campus. During the day I had desperately tried to finish my registration and to get my suitcases, but in vain; on Saturday nobody seemed to be accessible. Exhausted by the voyage, much more by the tremendous exertion of talking, reading and listening to English and nothing but English all day long, and by all the new impressions, I decided to go to bed early. Suddenly, however, a girl came in and asked me whether I wanted to go to the football game that night. After I had fought a short struggle between my common sense, which told me to go to bed, and my curiosity to see what a football game was, I yielded to that female weakness and decided to go.

The first interesting event was the ride in the bus, while I was going through a strange country, surrounded by a crowd of strange people who sang strange, fierce battle songs which I did not understand and whose melody reminded me of German days before the demilitarization.

Then we arrived in Wilmington among an immense multitude of cars, lights, and people. I tried desperately not to lose the few girls whom I knew, though I could not remember their names, and I was glad when I had stood the pressing, pushing and shoving crowd and had safely reached a bench.

Queer Figures

On the field many incomprehensible things were going on; for instance, a blue and yellow something, which had some similarity with a cock, was driven around on top of a car; girls and boys clad in yellow and blue and armed with long horns were jumping and shouting (Continued on Page 5)

With the fall term almost halfway over, many campus activities are just beginning to shift into high gear; however, the Student Union, better known as the Scrounge Lounge, has been in full scale operation since the first day of classes. Under the capable leadership of Student Union Committee Chairman Bill Nicoll and new Union Manager, Mrs. Josephine Hewes, the student enterprise looks forward to a very successful year.

The scope of operations has widened considerably since the time of the beginnings of the Union and now include a wide range of tasks and student services. An example is the sale of supplies for group picnics, toward the Student Union Building Fund.

Employment policy is left largely to Mrs. Hewes, who hires and fires the help, subject to S.G.A. approval. Mrs. Hewes hires as many students as possible, but schedule difficulties of most of them require that she have a permanent staff to assist her. Night Manager George Green, on duty from 5:00 to 10:00 p.m., also follows this policy.

Intramural Football Selections

This is the third in a series of Intramural Football Selections conducted by The Review. A three way tie resulted in last week's contest, so the prizes will be divided among the three winners, who were B. W. Janicki, C. Talpey, and Al. St. Clair.

The selection sheet below contains a list of the games to be played on the following Monday. Usually six games are played. Just as in regular football pools, each game is indicated with the probable winner and point margin.

The problem is to clip the list, encircle your selections, write your name in the space provided, and send it through the student mail to The Review. All entries must be in by 3 p.m. on the day when the games are to be played. Only one entry may be submitted by each person.

Three prizes will be awarded. They are: first prize, two tickets to next football game (Lafayette), plus a carton of Chesterfields; second, three passes to the State Theater.

Games for Monday, November 5, 1951.

Hen Booters Lose Match in Overtime To Lehigh, 2-1

The University of Delaware soccer team dropped a heart-breaker to Lehigh in overtime 2-1 to even their season's record at two and two. Fate turned her back on the booters as they completely dominated the play and outshot the visitors, 45 to 20, but could not push the ball through the uprights.

The first half was a succession of Delaware threats as Jair Dos Santos, Andy Schmidt, and Hal Betts constantly banged the ball goalward, but the Lehigh goalie seemed to lead a charmed existence. Delaware came back strong in the second half and finally broke through to score, as substitute half-back Neal Robbins kicked one in from out of bounds which bounced off a Lehigh fullback and into the net.

Delaware seemed to relax momentarily, and the Lehigh left-inner headed one in as Goalle Don Martin and Fullback De Francisco collided on a difficult high kick. The game ended in a 1-1 tie and went into two five minute overtime periods which proved disastrous for the Blue and Gold.

Mid-way through the first overtime period, Capt. Dick Gigon of Lehigh took matters into his own hands, dribbled three-quarters of the field and fired one in. Delaware tried desperately to tie it up, but the final gun finished the contest.

This week the Hen booters travel down to Annapolis to take on Navy's star-studded combine, and then on this Saturday they return to league competition as they take on the Drexel Dragons on Frazer field.

Twelve Seniors Face Muhlenberg In Hen's Final Home Encounter

SEYMOUR "KAPPY" KAPLOWITZ

The battling Delaware Blue Hens marked up victory number four with a score of 21-7 over the Muhlenberg Mules of Allentown, Pa. This victory assured the "Hens" of a .500 year in the win-loss column. Surely, this is an indication of the fine job done by head coach Dave Nelson and his staff on their first year at Delaware.

The game, though not of the hair-raising variety of the previous week, did bring into the lime-light former defensive ace, Don "Ducky" Carmichael, who was inserted on the offensive in place of Joe Scarcia. The "Mules," having scouted the fine running ability of Bob Hagerty, failed to cope with the Hen's new offensive threat and the result was devastating. Carmichael scored twice, once on a fifty-one yard pass play from Miller and the other on a four yard plunge with Tommy Fannon directing the team. The most thrilling play of the evening came on Carmichael's twisting, turning jaunt of seventy-four yards, only to be nullified by a penalty upheld. This was the first of two Delaware scores to be called back. The other came on a thirty-five yard pass from Fannon to McWilliams who was standing alone in the end zone. In all, Delaware was penalized seventy-yards which erased three touchdowns.

The 28 yard run of quarterback Don Miller was made on a bootleg play. The freshman sensation displayed fine running form on this particular scoring jaunt and several other times when he elected to keep the ball.

The victory over Muhlenberg marked the end of a fine home season for the Hens. Four victories and one loss were witnessed by Delaware followers in the Wilmington Ball Park. It was in good taste that this game be designated the Delaware "Grain" game with the coronation of Miss Polly Goller as Delaware's Football Queen. This game signaled a rest for the Hens until November 10th, when they tackle the Lafayette Leopards in Easton, Penna.

Theta Chi and K. A. Deadlocked For First Place in Touch Loop

Theta Chi and Kappa Alpha are tied for first place in the intramural league as the strong KA team suffered a stunning upset at the hands of the Commuters' "B" team 14-13. Each team scored two touchdowns, but the commuters' scored a safety as Bill Utt was trapped behind the goal line and that proved to be the winning margin. On Monday KA came roaring back to roll over PI KA 39-0, and Theta Chi scored a forfeit victory over the Commuters' "A" team.

Sig Ep's strong combine continued to push the leaders with a six-two record. Last week they dropped a hard fought battle to KA 13-0, and then defeated Commuters' "A" 16-0 and Commuters' "B" 14-9. ATO is living up to their pre-season rating as they compiled a 5-2 record with wins over AE Pi and Mosher last week. Sigma Nu is in fourth, adding a 12-7 win over the Phi Tau Indians and one over AE Pi. The two commuters' teams are tied for fifth with records of 3-4, while four teams have identical records of 2-5.

Next week the intramural rosters for handball and table tennis are due in to Coach Rawstrom by twelve noon on Monday, Nov. 5 and cross-country rosters by Tuesday, Nov. 6.

Delaware Beats Johns Hopkins For Third Win

Last Friday an inspired Delaware cross-country team triumphed over the Johns Hopkins harriers 19-43 to make it the third straight win for the season. Rooters watched Bill Reybold race over the home course of 3 5/8 miles to shatter the course record by 39 seconds and win with a time of 20 minutes, 17 seconds. The old record of 20 minutes, 56 seconds was held by Avery Harrington of Swarthmore. Don Manger of Johns Hopkins and Captain Stan Hughes also broke the record with times of 20:26 and 20:48 respectively.

The entire Delaware team showed great ability in the race. Stan Hughes ran well when he finally gained full confidence in himself. "Bo" Fouracre, suffering a foot injury and forced to slow his pace considerably, came in fourth. Frank Ewing, a freshman, who has never done distance running before, also turned in a good performance. Credit should be given to freshman Erv Carty, who despite an injured achilles tendon, still ran a fine race. He too is running cross-country for the first time. Bolton, Glick, Hodgson, and Holcomb all bettered their times considerably.

The Way The Ball Bounces By Neal Robbins

I guess The Sunday Star has had enough people on their backs about that picture, but we thought we would add a few straws to the proverbial camel's back. In case you missed it, a certain edition of The Star had a picture of Dr. Lewis, formerly of the Chemistry Department and presently under indictment as a Communist. This is perfectly all right in itself, but the picture was run on the sports page and underneath it said "Don" "Ducky" Carmichael, Blue Hen back, scored twice against Muhlenberg last night at Wilmington Park." Ducky says Senator McCarthy was on the phone in less than two hours checking up. Oh well, we all make mistakes, but please excuse us while we laugh, politely behind our hands. Tee-hee.

While we were looking at the pictures in The Star, we noticed that three girls on the All-Stars of the Delaware Field Hockey League are from the U. of Del. — Mary Brown and Adela Feldman from the undergraduate ranks and Judy Cooling from the Alumnae ranks. The girls will play a game with the Scottish Women's International Touring Team on Saturday, November 10, and with the grinding of gears and flashing lights, we have an idea. Why isn't the University of Delaware represented by a field hockey team in intercollegiate sports? Co-eds at other schools have varsity sports, and Delaware certainly has many classy and interested players. When we asked one girl why this has never happened, she replied that the "powers that be" said intra-mural sports gave more chance to participate. Well, the boys have both intra-mural and intercollegiate football, and every one can participate. So what? There's the ball, girls — let's see somebody pick it up and run.

Definitions on football:
 Pass — what everyone else gets into the game on.
 Quarterback — what you get for a five dollar bill when you buy a ticket.

Chick'n Chat By JANET VANSANT

People have often talked about the lack of school spirit here at the U. of D. Well, they can't say it has been exhausted in women's intramural athletics. Last week our hockey season began and it was mighty sad — two forfeits. The Frosh forfeited to the Seniors and the Sophomores forfeited to the Juniors. Things must be pretty low when a class can't even muster up enough get-up-and-go to put eleven players on the field. Come on, kids, get a little fire under you. Freshmen and Sophomores who don't have enough practices can still tap the ball around Monday and Wednesday afternoons. Let's try to make this tournament a successful one.

Janice Russo, President of the Modern Dance Club, has told me a little about their plans for this year. It really sounds as if they will be busy, gals. The first performance on their calendar is a Christmas program, The Nutcracker Suite, given in conjunction with the Music Department. They have been asked to execute two dances, "The Dance of the Flutes" and "The Dance of the Sugar Plum Fairies." Next term they will present the following: a college hour program, several high school demonstrations, and their second annual Spring concert. Their new director is Miss Ruth Malberg of the Women's Physical Education Staff, and their new members are: Barbara Joyce, Peggy Brenner, Merrily Burford, Sonny Day, Nancy Gast, Greta Gregerson, Betty Ireland, Patti Ingram, Kate Leibach, Harriet Lewis, Dorothy Lock, Hope Orloff, Janet Porter, Eleanor Russo, Joan Steinmetz, Joyce Steinmetz, and Audrey Villman.

The Aquatic Club has released a list of their new "Aqua-maids." They are: full member, Pat Thompson; probationary members, Barbara Wynn, Mary Emily Miller, Margaret Smith, Eileen Ritchie, and Mary Lou Pinder. Probationary members are required to do some extra practicing and will be re-tested for official acceptance or rejection at the end of November.

Theta Chi

Theta Chi welcomed home an illustrious brother over the weekend in Marine Sgt. Joe Miller. He was quite a "show" at the game Saturday night, helped along by brothers Hadfield, McCarthy, and Colona.

Word from the Theta Chi's has it that brothers DeGasperis, Carzo, Fizzano, and "Joe D." Bochetta want an Italian Column. Sounds good, if you can read Italian.

Congratulations this week go to Bill Colona who pinned Miss June German, and a belated announcement by Doug Greenfield who pinned Miss Alice Gorney. Congratulations also to Polly Goller and Peggy Mooney, "1951 Football Sweetheart" and runner-up, respectively.

Latest dirt from the Theta Chi house: "Robot" Kiddoo still peevish about a certain convertible top; Al St. Clair dreaming of I.F.C. weekend; John Allen as the "Military Wonder", and Mr. Sullivan and Mr. Nunn hoping to make the paper.

Alpha Tau Omega

Last Friday, October 26, the ATO "Hammers" football team rolled on, continuing its fine season by defeating a hard playing AEPi team 33-0. Our record now stands at 4-2. This Saturday night the ATOMIC Club will open its doors for the first social event of the year by holding an intermission party during the Harvest Ball.

In addition to a new piano, a 21-inch television set now adorns the house at 5 West Main Street.

Congratulations to Miss Polly Goller, Miss Blue Hen for 1951, and many thanks to Miss Marty Forsythe, ATO's nominee for this honor.

Hats off to Kappa Alpha for winning the Decorations Trophy for the second straight year and to Phi Kappa Tau and the Knoll girls who ended in the runner-up spots.

Phi Kappa Tau

Congratulations to Kappa Alpha for their prize-winning house decorations. Many thanks to all the brothers and especially to Dave Hoyer for the terrific job that was done.

The "theater" on South College Avenue was really rocking Saturday after the arrival of the brothers of Eta Chapter from Muhlenberg. A buffet luncheon at the house before the evening's activities. Then off to the game and finally a party at the Royal Oak.

Among those from our chapter, we saw Bob "Romeo" Reeves with Mary Ellen Bull, Dick Harper and Alison Buckley, and from the Eta Chapter such notables as Grant Ludder with Rusty Badertscher, and Jim Wagner escorting Ann Massoth.

Congratulations to our representative Betty Kem for making a terrific showing in the football queen contest.

Last Wednesday Chip Coleman took the oath of pledgeship in Phi Kappa Tau.

A. E. Pi

Rho Deuteron Chapter wishes to extend congratulations to charming Polly Goller on being voted Miss Blue Hen of 1951.

Friday night saw the beginning of what we all hope will be long and fruitful careers for two brothers. Friday night we were seated as usual at dinner and served with a delicious repast consisting of Petit Fours a la Jersey City and Filet Mignon a la earth. This called for a bow from the cook who is affectionately known as Lulu . . . but lo and behold what steps out of the kitchen of the Waldorf, "Cooper" and "Henrie of the Fluff" Bertuch. They were immediately surrounded by all but would divulge neither the whereabouts of the cook nor their recipes.

Congrats also to the E52 Players on their fine production, "Life With Father."

Sigma Nu

This week Sigma Nu salutes Polly Goller for being chosen the Blue Hen Football Sweetheart and K.A. for winning the decoration trophy. Also, we wish to express our thanks to Lois Alava for being our candidate.

Among the many brothers who worked on the decorations for the Grain Game, several deserve special mention for their all night vigil. They are: Ed Minchan, Hugh Mar- tin, Bud Keeler, Dixie Foster, and Paul Catts.

Along the line of football, Sigma Nu's squad once again began to roll by defeating the Commuters and D.T.D. by scores of 28-13, and 12-0 respectively.

Preparations have been under way for some time for another "original" freshmen girls' house party to be held this Friday night.

Our best wishes go with the announcement of the pinning of Ethel Clements by Skip Mayhew.

Delta Tau Delta

Eureka! After what seemed like eternity, the Television Set finally arrived last week. The various TV addicts are slowly being discovered around the Shelter; at present brothers Vinnikin, Pepper and Nagy plus about 30 others are suspected of being partial to "canned vaudeville."

Last Saturday afternoon before the game, the Shelter was opened for a TV party; and from all reports, the gang had a good time, breaking in "The Set", etc.

Congratulations are in order for Warren Beh, recently pledged to Delta Upsilon. And while we're handing out plaudits, here's a bouquet to Polly Goller on being named Miss Blue Hen of '51.

Special Notice To Intra-mural Football Captains

The Review Sports Department will conduct the selection of an all-league touch football team.

Each team captain should contact his team and submit a list of the best six men that his team played against during the recently concluded regular season of play. If it is impossible for the team captain to get a complete vote of his teammates, he is authorized to make his own selections. The six selections should include three linemen and three backfield players.

These selections should be placed on a large sheet of paper, in an envelope, and dropped in the student mail box addressed to:

Neal Robbins
Sports Editor, Review
The entry must include the name of the team, and the team captain selecting the players. Any selections from the captain's own team will be disqualified. Entries must be in by Monday, Nov. 12, 4:00 p.m.
