In announcing the scholastic standings of students for the second term of the college year of 1932-1933, Dean G. E. Dutton, of Delaware College of the University of Delaware, wishes to call particular attention to the improvement in the quality of work done as compared with that done in the second term of 1931-1932. The average scholastic standing of the entire student body for the second term of 1932-1933 was 1.31, as compared with 1.16 for the second term of 1931-1932. There were ninety students who earned an average grade of B or better in the second term of 1932-1933, as compared with sixty-nine in the second term of 1931-1932.

The average of students from Delaware for the second term of 1932-1933 was 1.32; the average of out-of-state students was 1.29. The ninety students on the Honor Roll came from the following high schools and preparatory schools: Wilmington, 59; Dover, 2; Friends, 2; Newark, 2; Salesianum, 2; Wesley Collegiate Institute, 2; Bridgeville, 1; Delmar, 1; Georgetown, 1; Milford, 1; Selbyville, 1; Smyrna, 1; Tower Hill, 1; Out-of-State, 14. Of these students forty-two were in the School of Arts and Science; forty-six were in the School of Engineering; and two were in the School of Agriculture. Thirty were Seniors; twenty-three were Juniors; (Continued on Page 4.)

"I Don't Want to Go Home," Shrieks Pohl in Desperate Agony

"Stretch" Pohl, stalwart Delaware end and "Things I Knew You Didn't" er of the "Review," lies disconsolate on a hospital pallet. "Stretch" is situated near a window and gazes vacantly out on the campus, being careful not to disturb the wrenched knee that caused him to be carried from the football field Saturday on a stretcher—the first time such an accident has happened to Pohl in his entire athletic career.

From time to time "Stretch" mumbles, "I don't wanna go home." The mumbling grows louder and louder—"I don't wanna go home" is a shriek that pierces the ear! Anxious friends rush over to the bedside of the wounded warrior. "What's the matter, "Stretch"? Why don't you want to go home?" "I don't wanna go home. I've got a pretty nurse."

PEERADE, SHOE-RUSH
FOR ST. JOSEPH GAME

Council Also Sets Monday, Nov. 13
As Date For Annual Fresh-
Soph Class Contests

November 17 and 18 were set by the Student Council as the dates for the Freshman Peerade and Pyjama Parade and Shoe-Rush, respectively. The Peerade will be held Friday evening, November 17, and all the Freshmen will be required to masquerade and will be paraded through the streets of Newark. A mammoth pep-fest in preparation for the St. Joseph's College football game will then be held in Wolf Hall and each Freshman will be required to make his contribution to the amusement of the assembled upper classmen and guests. On the morrow, the Freshmen will attend the football game in pyjamas and hold a shoe-rush on Frazer Field between the halves of the football game. This is one of the gala events of the year and will doubtless be viewed by a vast audience.

ACTIVITIES FEE

Seniors who have paid their five-dollar activity fee for four years, and who have subscribed separately to the "Review" the year they entered, are entitled to a refund of two dollars if they can offer satisfactory proof of the above. This action was taken at the last meeting of the Student Council when it was pointed by a Senior member that this condition caused Seniors to pay twenty-two dollars in the course of their four years, whereas the requirement is that they pay twenty. Seniors wishing further details are advised to see Walter Mannsberger, Treasurer of the Student Council.

"A MURDER HAS BEEN

"Puppet" Ghost Play To Be Given
In Mitchell Hall; All-Star
Cast; Time—8.30

When the trio of delightful persons Fran McGee, Bill Laurence, and Pat Matlach give to the University of Delaware the performance of "A Murder Has Been Arranged" in Mitchell Hall, Thursday, November 2, they will be giving a play of unexcelled quality. Never before at this college has such a play been given, nor has any play promised to be such a box office attraction.

"A Murder Has Been Arranged" is a mystery play of unusual plot. Based on a psychological motive it moves swiftly through the three acts to a climax startling as it is thrilling. Picture the Saint James Theatre, the place of a murder, dark, sombre, cold. Sir Jasper is murdered—poisoned. Enter a deaf and dumb woman. Vera McCall, all in accordance with the prediction of a certain ill-famed book; she sees the spirit of the murdered Jasper; she mysteriously disappears into the threatening darkness of the outer theatre. Now all the members of the cast feel some unknown terror which they cannot see or describe slowly sweep them in a mesh of fear and dread. Hysteria threatens, and slowly begins to materialize. The atmosphere of the play grows step by step to the final denouncement of the murderer, breaks the spell.

The murderer was clever—so clever, but so was Sir Jasper's wife and her skillful, horrifying means of breaking down the defense of the murderer is a tribute to the extent a woman will go to bring justice to its wrong doer of the man she loves.

"A Murder Has Been Arranged" is like a fantastic bed-time story yet it is real and human. Its appealing moments of humor and thrilling dramatic scenes make the laughs and chills blend wholesomely with an emotionally agitating effect that is at once overpowering and disturbing.

Tickets for sale in Mitchell Hall from 4:10 to 5:00 daily. Price, 35c to students.

"U. S. RELATIONS WITH

Head Of History Dept. Releases
For Review His Prize
Winning Publication

On July 14 of this year a book, written by Dr. George H. Ryden, head of the History Department of the University of Delaware, appeared on the bookshelves of the leading book stores of the country. This book, "The Foreign Policy of the United States in Relation to Samoa," is regarded by leading political scientists of the day as a major step towards the classification of the United States' foreign policy to Samoa from the time that Island was first explored in 1721 until 1930 when President Coolidge appointed a congressional committee to investigate conditions in Samoa.

Dr. Ryden has been engaged in the writing this book for over eight years, working intensively upon it during his summers spent (Continued on Page 6.)

FINE ADDRESS ON POETS

College Hour Speaker Entertains
With Comments On Whitman,
Masefield, And Others

One of the most interesting speakers to step upon the platform of Mitchell Hall was here yesterday in the person of Dr. Cornelius Weygandt who spoke on "Poets Off Parade" in which he spoke informally of the poets he had known.

Several years ago Dr. Weygandt was connected with the Philadelphia Record, and at present, he is a professor at the University of Pennsylvania. He has discovered many interesting facts about the contemporary poets. During the course of his talk, he threw a new light on these men who before seemed to be mysterious and colorful to the average human being.

Dr. Sypherd, a personal friend of Dr. Weygandt, introduced him to the audience. Dr. Sypherd stated that the speaker was an unusual fellow, very different from other college professors, but his extraordinary ways seemed to have been (Continued on Page 5.)

Sypherd, head of the English Department, and an alumnus of the University, is chairman of the Committee of Arrangements and will soon have definite announcements to make.

The students of the University will be represented on the committee by the president of the Student Council and by the heads of the various fraternities. It is expected that the individual fraternities will hold reunions on the day of the celebration.

Extended Motion

COUNCIL & FACULTY TO CONFER

In accordance with a pledge made last Spring, the Student Council has voted to submit a motion on the abolition to the Student Body. This decision came as a result of an open meeting held last Monday by the Student Council. The Council also took a vote on the question at hand but refused to let its decision be published. Every fraternity and its upper-classmen pledges will vote on the motion Wednesday evening and the non-fraternity group will hold a special meeting at 4.10 Thursday in the West Wing. For those members of the non-fraternity group who cannot vote at this time, a written ballot handed to Francis Lambert, Max Mayer, or John Greer will be counted in the final tally.

The motion to be voted upon will be as follows:

Resolved: That the Honor System be abolished. At the same time a motion that embodies the Council's present developments as a substitute will be presented for a student vote. This motion is:

Resolved: That the Honor System for conduct in examinations and tests be abrogated for a period of three years.

PEPPY PUP PUNISHES

Donald "fuzz" Hill (not the platinum) visited Grandfather's last week, with results disastrous to his boyish countenance. As the result of a fray with a little wiry haired terrier, his is sporting two wounds, one above his left eye and one on his knee.

It started when the pup came in and found Don occupying the favorite spot on the davenport. The pup was highly insulted but resolved to take it like a man, and share alike. When little Peppy crawled up and settled down, Don, in a playful mood, growled. Perhaps he said something which, when translated, didn't sound nice in dog language. The mut (the little one) growled back, and followed up with a ripping uppercut to the upper lid of Don's left eye. For a few minutes the fur flew.

Grandpa, Cousin Harriet, and the two cats finally separated them just as Don was going to "bite 'im back." Nevertheless, the damage was done. Score: two-nothing, in favor of fox terrier; terror to Hill.

The moral, my children: "Speak not a language ye know not." You may know what it means in one language, but not in all.

THE HONOR SYSTEM

In returning the Honor System to the Student Body for a last vote, the Student Council has very courageously admitted what past Councils have been too cowardly to do. Last Spring the Council asked the Student Body for one last chance to put the Honor System over. The chance was granted and resulted in failure, as must result all trials made while the morale of the University of Delaware is at its present low ebb. The action taken last Monday night should go down in the annals of the school as veritably epoch-making. Now we have a real opportunity to go into the matter thoroughly. The Student Council has refused even to make its vote public lest it be accused of trying to influence public opinion unduly. So now it is directly up to the Student Body.

There is no doubt as to the situation. In response to a challenge from the floor, NOT ONE member of the Student Council would stand up and say that the Honor System worked. Most of the members, as are we, were heartily in favor of the theoretical idea of an Honor System, where students conduct themselves as perfect gentlemen, and professors are unnecessary in an examination room. However, it is a far-cry from such conditions to the cheat-infested classrooms of our own school, where normally rule-abiding students are forced by an iron rod of fear to sacrifice their self-respect and cheat to pass a course because the next fellow is doing the same thing.

We appeal to you, Men of Delaware, to give yourself this chance to regain your self-respect—to be able to look the world in the face and say you earned your grades and your diploma from this institution. This is the crucial period—"There is a tide in the affairs of men, which, when seized at the flood, leads on to glory"—let's seize the current as it serves" and go to make this, our centennial year one in which we can celebrate our having rid ourselves of this Old Man of the Sea that has been hanging on to us all these years—Vote OUT WITH THE HONOR SYSTEM.

IN THE EDITOR'S MAIL

To the Editor:

In my opinion there is not any system under the sun that is able to abolish cheating in Delaware College, because the most of the grades are based upon the final examinations. Therefore I suggest that an exemption grade of 85 be established for every subject. The reason I set the grade at 85 is because I believe that 85 is in the reach of most of the students if they have an incentive to work for.

Another thing that I would like to suggest even though it does not have anything to do with the honor system, is that the faculty should be made aware that every student has more subjects than one. By this I mean that no one faculty member should give any student so much work that he will have to spend all of his time on that one subject, because if he spends all his time preparing one subject he is unable to prepare the others. Therefore I would like to see the work divided so that every student will be able to do all his work all of the time.

PEPYS IN COLLEGE

Tuesday—

Up this morning with barely time to get overnight book to Library before breakfast. Stiring hither and thither with the busyness of college.

Met three radio "Hams" at an organization meeting of the Radio Club, and talked shop most pleasantly for several minutes.

SENIOROGRAPHIES

H. IRVING ETHELLES

"Irv" Etchells is one of our outstanding students who hales from Wilmington High School. During his high school days he was very active, serving as president of his class both his Junior and Senior year in addition to holding many other offices.

Irv has been equally active during the period he has spent at this University. In his Sophomore year he was elected treasurer of his class. He is a member of the Blue Key and Derelict Honor Societies. An active member of his fraternity too, he is now Comptroller of Sigma Phi Epsilon. Being one of the most energetic members of the Junior Prom committee last year, much of the success of the affair can be accredited to him.

Etchells is very interested in swimming and is stated to serve as manager of the Delaware swimming team.

One of the "generals" who struts his stuff on each drill day, Etchells holds the rank of first lieutenant in the University R. O. T. C. Unit. The manner in which he gives his commands demonstrates his natural executive ability.

Irv is studying chemical engineering, a profession in which he is sure to succeed because of his sincerity and earnestness.

Thense to lunch and busy later with "Review," getting a feature rejected and worrying with the task of writing a new one before the dead-line.

By 4 p. m. to Wolf Hall to sing in the new Glee Club, led by the vocalist, Mr. Howells, who has a pleasing and dynamic if "artist-y" personality.

Dinner at commons and then on the books til eleven, and so to bed, tired but satisfied.

Wednesday—

Up and at work on philosophy to be interrupted by George Prettyman, and talked on the somethingness of college. Then to breakfast, feeling a peculiar sense of freedom at not having an overnight book to return to the Library.

Three classes in a row, ending at the Library, where I searched unsuccessfully for Kipling's "Without Benefit of Clergy." The circulation department seemed listless and loath to part with any books. And so to lunch, wishing I had been more firm with those women and thinking how firm they would have been with me, had the circumstances been reversed.

To the Library in the afternoon, dodging the reclining sun from table to table, trying to master Aristotle, but with little success in either. The whistling of the wind without, and the warmth of the Periodical lull me to thinking of an idea for a theme on "Winter Dates" which would be soothingly cozy. Settled down to work just as the Library closed.

To dinner and glad of an overcoat against the winter breeze—October's bright, blue, and cold.

HENRY BRADY

Bringing with him from Middletown High School a decidedly active spirit in athletics and other lines, "Hen" Brady has become one of the most popular men who has ever worn a Delaware "rat cap." "Hen" secured a good start in high school where he was very popular with his fellows because of his versatility and likeable personality. While in high school he was outstanding in soccer, football, and baseball. Brady was also a student of superior merit, having been valedictorian of his high school class.

He has carried on much of his athletic activities in college. He is expected to resume his position in left field on the varsity baseball team during the next baseball season. Being capable on the cindered oval as well, Brady has brought glories to his fraternity, Sigma Nu, in the interfraternity relays during the past three years.

Last year Mr. Brady admirably executed his duties as business manager of the Blue Hen. He was also treasurer of Sigma Nu and one of its representatives to the Student Council during the same year. He now ranks Lieutenant Commander in his fraternity.

Brady's ambition is to become an educator in agricultural subjects. He says that although he has no desire to spend his life in strenuous farm labor, he has no scruples against teaching others the science of agriculture. In his studies Mr. Brady is markedly hard-working and earnest, and his interest in his future profession is displayed by his activity in the Agriculture Club of which he is the present president.

Back to Dorms and a letter from a High School friend, of whom I had not heard these four years.

Read "Review" and wondered what I could do to help improve it, dissecting a fellow contributor's article with delicious malice. On the books, and transported myself to the land of the American revolution with the aid of Muzzev and Krout. May they someday suffer as I did.

A visit from Norman Coleman, and news of Bill Ott, who is in the U. of P. law school, in the morning, and Wilmington in the afternoon.

And so to bed, wishing the six week quizzes over and the mid-years over, as who hasn't?

Thursday—

Late abed in celebration of lack of classes til ten o'clock. Off to library for a discussion of Aristotle which left me quite bilious.

Much ado about passing in review before the Major and things went exceptionally well til the Band began a parade of its own across the intersection of Delaware and South College Avenues.

Two afternoon classes fittied by and then to the Dorms, copying some back notes till the pages swam. Borrowing "Doc" Mayerberg's reading glasses, I set to work again and finished in two hours.

Away to dinner, trying to rest afterward, but haunted by the thought of an Education test til I listlessly returned and renewed the battle. Working an hour, I was interrupted by Potts and Larry Brown who manufactured sunshine for quite a while.

Back to the books til eleven and so to bed, wondering what is in store for the bewildered teachers of tomorrow (or the next day). Friday—

Awakened to the sounds of early morning activity:—Norris, the Janitor sweeping, boys opening and closing doors on the way to breakfast, and the sleepy comments of those who had stayed late the night before. The sky was yet a dull blue gray, and hinted of snow.

And so off to classes and interested to find Dunn in room 6, finishing a test paper with a little yellow kitten perched upon the writing arm of the next chair, watching his pen.

To the Library in the afternoon with Vosseler, an toiled peacefully with Marcus Aurelius and the Stoics, finishing about 4.10 and taking Vos' notebook back to the room, while he headed south.

Then to Frazer Field to watch the finishing touches before the Lebanon Valley game, and one of my editors there. Received a burning criticism of my news article, cutting the more deeply for its appropriateness. Resolved to be more careful.

To the pep-fest and heard Dr. Withum speak artfully and forcefully on the virtue of enthusiasm. The Alma Mater, and then to the movies with Ricards and to the DeLuxe with Anderson.

Back in the room and outlined twenty pages of history before Vos came in from a midnight date.

Saturday—

To Saturday morning classes and a lovely day for a walk or a ride, cooling toward noon just enough to make enjoyable the football game.

Lunch and a game of touch football on the quadrangle, stopping in time to dress for the Lebanon Valley game. And disappointed at the 13-6 score.

Then to the W. C. D. Hallow'en dance and enjoyed the whole affair immensely, nothing that the members of the orchestra looked more like humans than most professionals, but disappointed that they didn't play "Goodnight Little Girl of My Dreams." And so to bed; tired, sleepy, and satisfied.

Sunday—

Late abed and invitation from "Doc" Mayerberg to join him in his Ford "Religion" for a ride to celebrate such riding weather.

And so to the Women's College where we picked up a bevy of fun-loving lassies and spent an enjoyable morning clattering about and being uncivilized, but thoroughly pleased.

Back to New Castle Hall where we decorated Religion with big yellow thorn apples and had her picture taken, formulating in the meantime an idea for a song to the tune of "On Wisconsin" which will begin

On Religion, on Religion,
Hail to Mayerberg's crate!
Take these hills a little faster,
We will get there late.

Back on the books to study for a Sociology test. Then to Sigma Nu house for a short visit noting the more-than-average beauty of their lounge and hospitality.

Late awake to talk with Curtis Potts of this and interesting personal interest.

It's fun to be fooled—it's more fun to know when "A Murder Has Been Arranged."

Tools made from deer antlers have been found in an old flint mine being excavated by the British government. The mine was used by ancient English warriors as the supply for their flints.

LEBANON VALLEY RALLIES IN LAST QUARTER TO WIN, 13-6

Score 13 Points In Last Period
Pass From E. Thompson To Kemske Scores For Del.

By Carl Compton

Outclassed, and outplayed for three full periods, Lebanon Valley finally came back in the last period to score two touchdowns and triumph over University of Delaware by a 13-6 score on Frazer Field, Newark.

The Blue Hens, playing smart and aggressive football, scored a touchdown in the middle of the second period and apparently seemed headed for their third victory until they weakened in the last quarter when Coach Mylins' charges tallied a pair of six pointers on two well executed plays.

On numerous occasions, Delaware had the pigskin deep in Lebanon Valley territory, only to have their advance checked before they could cross the final chalked stripe.

Ed. Thompson played a sterling game for the Hens. His kicking gave the locals a decided edge in that department and his ground gaining was a great factor in the Blue and Gold offensive for three periods. Captain Branner and Green were also a thorn in the side of the Pennsylvanians.

Whiting and Smith starred for Lebanon and were instrumental in their team's victory.

(First Quarter)

Thompson kicked off for Delaware to Lebanon Valley 15-yd. line, the ball being returned to the 20-yd. stripe. Unable to gain, L. V. made a poor kick to L. V. 30-yd. line. Delaware made two successive first downs with Thompson and Branner bearing the brunt of the attack, bringing the ball to L. V. 7-yd. line. Picking up only 5 yds. in three plays, Delaware's attempted lateral pass was unsuccessful and L. V. took the ball on its own 2-yd. line. L. V. made another poor kick to its own 24-yd. line, but Delaware was unable to gain and L. V. took possession of the oval on its own 16-yd. line. On next play, Whiting carried the ball to Delaware's 44-yd. line for a first down. Unable to penetrate the Blue and Gold defense further, L. V. kicked to Delaware's 26-yd. line. Green made 5 yds. and after another futile attempt at the line, Thompson kicked to L. V. 30-yd. line where Smith returned the ball to the 42-yd. line. An L. V. pass was completed for first down on Delaware 46-yd. line, but on next play Green recovered a fumble, giving Delaware the pigskin on its own 47-yd. line. After an exchange of punts, Delaware took the ball on its own 48-yd. line as the period ended.

(Second Quarter)

In the second period Delaware opened up an air attack that resulted in two successive first downs. A pass Green to Pohl brought the ball to L. V. 39-yd. line, while another pass Green to Kemske put the ball on L. V. 26-yd. line. Green smashed through for 8 yds. and Thompson made a first down on L. V. 15-yd. line. However, the Hens could advance only 4 yds. further and L. V. was given the ball on own 9 yd. line. Delaware was penalized 15-yds. for holding. On three plays, L. V. made a first down on their own 36-yd. line. L. V. kicked to Delaware's 26-yd. line where Green called for a free catch. Thompson carried ball for first down on Delaware 45-yd. line. A pass Green to Hurlley made a first down on L. V. 40-yd. line. A pass Green to Kemske gained 9 yds. and Branner made a first down on L. V. 30-yd. stripe. Green made 2 yds. and on next play Thompson tossed a long pass to Kemske who slipped over the goal line for the Blue and Gold's lone touchdown. Green failed to kick extra point.

The remainder of the half saw both teams reverting to passing and kicking with the Blue Hens having a slight edge.

Delaware 6, Lebanon Valley 0.

(Third Quarter)

L. V. kicked off to Delaware's 10-yd. line, the ball being returned to the 20-yd. line. Delaware penalized 15-yds. for holding. Thompson kicked to L. V. 45-yd. line. On next play, Branner intercepted an L. V. pass on Delaware's 35-yd. line. Branner made 9 yds. and Thompson made a first down on his own 46-yd. line. Without gaining, Thompson booted to L. V. 20-yd. line. In an exchange of punts, Lebanon took the ball on its own 18-yd. line. Kemske intercepted an L. V. pass on L. V. 40-yd. line and raced to the 32-yd. line before being brought down. Green on an end run made first down on L. V. 17-yd. line. After three unsuccessful attempts at the line, Green's pass was incomplete and L. V. given the oval on its own 15-yd. line. L. V. penalized 15-yds. With the ball on their own 1-yd. line, L. V. kicked to Green on L. V. 40-yd. line, who returned the ball to L. V. 12-yd. line. On fourth down, Green failed to make a drop-kick from the 25-yd. line. L. V. kicked to Delaware's 40-yd. line and on next play L. V. intercepts Green's pass on L. V. 30-yd. line. L. V. passes for first down to Delaware's 45-yd. line. On two other passes, L. V. placed the ball on Delaware's 22-yd. line as period ended.

Delaware 6, Lebanon Valley 0.

(Fourth Quarter)

With the Blue and Gold defense weakening, L. V. made another first down Delaware's 15-yd. line. On the second play on a reverse play skirted right end for a touchdown. L. V. place-kick was blocked by Thompson. L. V. kicked off to Crowe on Delaware's 15-yd. line, who returned the ball to his own 34-yd. line. Crowe lost 10 yds. on a fumble. Kemske kicked to L. V. 40-yd. line. In three plays, L. V. had the ball on Delaware's 25-yd. line. After two futile attempts, L. V. completed a pass over the goal line for their second touchdown of the period. The extra point was good on a pass over the goal.

L. V. kicked off to Mayer on Delaware's 10-yd. line who returned the ball to his own 35-yd. line. Mayer's fumble lost 10-yds. Kemske kicked to L. V. 30-yd. line. The last few minutes saw Delaware making numerous substitutions in a desperate effort to score.

DELAWARE SOCCER TEAM CHALKS UP SECOND WIN

Locals Defeat Rider College;
Drop Another To Army
Aggregation, 3-0

Coach Bardo's Soccer team won their second game out of four starts by defeating the strong Rider College combine in a one sided contest. The final outcome was 5 to 0 for the locals. This is the first year that a Delaware soccer team has won two out of four starts. A rainy, muddy field welcomed the visitors to Trenton. Throughout the game the rain continued to hinder both teams, but because of the good team work and quick passing ability the locals were undaunted. Newman and Lambert both tallied twice while Minner tallied once.

The second game of the three day trip was with Army. In this game Delaware was defeated by a three to nothing score. Coach Bardo's team appeared to be leg weary, and could not keep up with the lightning passes of the Army booters. During the game the field was swept by a strong wind and the players were handicapped throughout the fray.

This Wednesday the Delaware team meets the strong Temple Combine on their own field. A week from this Wednesday the Soccer Team plays F. & M. on the home grounds. F. & M. tied Army early this season. At the present Delaware's average is .500.

THIS AND THAT

R. C. M.

For the first time this year "Charley" Rogers' grid squad showed some old-time form. During the first half of the Lebanon Valley game last Saturday, the Delaware gridsters played "heads-up" football. From the opening kick-off to half-time the Delaware followers were treated to something they loved to see—a fighting bunch of football players who were playing as underdogs. Last week we mentioned a lost forward-passing attack—it came to life when least expected. The pass which "Big Ed" Thompson tossed down the field was letter perfect—the pass was received by a receiver who knew how—net result—6 points. Kemske received the pass over his shoulder, a la Fesler fashion. What happened during the second half? To me it was just a case of a tired team facing one which grew stronger as the game progressed. Lebanon Valley should not have scored her first touchdown—just a simple reverse which should have meant little but in all it amounted to the ball game.

Ralph C. McMullen

Drexel next. The last time that Delaware faced the Dragons on their home gridiron the game ended in a 13-13 deadlock. Well do I remember the rain soaked field and the miserable overhead climatical conditions. I can see "Hank" Haney intercepting a Drexel pass and running 95 yds. for a touchdown. Later in the game Kemske snared a pass from "Joe" Green and scored the points which meant a tie game. Haney is gone but Green and Kemske still remain. The Dragons lost their first game in 17 starts on their home field last Saturday when they went down to defeat at the hands of the powerful Ursinus team. Why can't Delaware rub it in by making it two in a row. Drexel defeated Delaware last year in what might be called a "fluke" play. This hardly can happen again. I think this year that if they are to win from the Blue and Gold squad that they must have the better team. Have they?

Despite the importance of the game this Saturday, I can hardly wait for what I think is the real game of the year. You may say that Washington College or Drexel or Haverford or some other college is our outstanding rival but to me there is but one answer—P. M. C. The last time the Chester Cadets defeated Delaware was three years ago at Chester when they trounced the Blue Hen team to the tune of 10-0. In the last two games the Mud Hens have eked out close victories over the Timm coached squad. In 1931 "Boo" White got away for a 70 yard jaunt which gave the home team the spoils of victory. That year the score was 13-6. Last year's game was played on the same site where the game is scheduled November 11. It is hardly necessary to repeat the details of the memorable struggle which took place last year before the governors of New Jersey and Delaware. The margin of "Joe" Green's successful try for point after touchdown was the thing which did the trick—score 7-6. "Reds" Pollock is again on the warpath—can the grand fight made by the Blue Hen forward wall be repeated by the present line—I just hope and cross my fingers ? ? ?

"Ed" Bardo's soccer team is doing very nice, thank you. Up to date they have won 2 and lost the same number. We all talk and argue about school spirit but do these splendid bunch of fighters get the backing due them by the student body? I think not. "Ed" has taken the job of moulding a team together like he does everything else—to the best of his ability—do the rest of us?—I think not.

Pohl and Green complete the hospital list this week. . . . What happened to the Senior vs. Faculty grid game?—there was a "natural" which should not have been cancelled or delayed . . . even the W. C. D. was all "het" up about this fracas . . . let's take up a collection and buy them some pants . . . that's all they need. . . . Russo and Carey were blocking well Saturday but mostly the wrong men . . . three subs in Delaware backfield fumbled ball the first time they were called on to carry it. . . . Frankie Mayer made some nice gains but lost almost as many yards on fumbles. . . . What has happened to the outstanding player of the opening game—Frank Hirkness? . . . Delaware completed several passes but only one of them counted. . . . Tommy Thompson was guilty of poor passes for the first time in four games. . . . "Big Ed" played with a very bad ankle. . . . The last score by L. V. was just about perfect . . . you can't stop that kind.

Lineup for the game is as follows:

BLUE HEN GRID OPPONENTS

DREXEL

The powerful Ursinus grid team defeated the strong Drexel eleven last Saturday on the latter's home field, 7-0. This is the first time since 1930 that a Dragon grid team has gone down to defeat on their home gridiron. Although Ursinus were popular favorites to win this contest, they had tough sledding to hold their small margin of one ton children. Ursinus has not been defeated this year. They played one tie game with the powerful Villanova eleven early in the season. This marks the second defeat of the season for the Halas coached team. They lost the opening game of the season to a strong Lehigh team on the latter's home field.

P. M. C.

A powerful Pennsylvania Military College football team gave the strong Dickinson eleven a good trouncing at Carlisle, Pa., last Saturday afternoon by a 13-0 count led by the brilliant Reds Pollock, the Chester Cadets piled up a 13-0 lead during the first half, and they held that lead until the final whistle.

Stevens and Pollock each scored a touchdown in the downfall of Dickinson. This marks the second victory in three starts for the Big Red team, and they are showing improvement in each contest. The combination of Malinski and Pollock seems to be unconquerable so far this season.

P. S. They play Army this year—what do you think?

St. Joseph

A crippled St. Joseph grid team made a sorry showing against an aggressive Albright College eleven at Reading last Saturday afternoon and went down to defeat by the one sided score of 47-0. The unevenness of the game made it more or less uninteresting from the spectators point of view. With several of the regulars on the injured list, the Hawk team put up little resistance against the fast charging Albright eleven. Thus far this season the Hawks have been able to win only one game.

Juniata

Juniata College had an open date on their grid schedule last Saturday, but will resume activities the coming week-end. This team which terminates the Blue and Gold football season for 1933 has been playing better football as the season has progressed. In their last start they downed a strong Upsala team by a 21-12 score. It looks like Rogers' squad has a hard road to travel.

Even your best friend won't tell you that "A Murder Has Been Arranged."

How do you know that you can't shiver?—Just see "A Murder Has Been Arranged."

THIRTY-FIVE CENTS

Isn't Much!

Most college allowances go only so far. But even at that you can probably spare 35 cents once a week.

It isn't much—35 cents—hardly the price of a movie or hair cut. Yet for 35 cents, if you know the ropes, you can telephone as far as 100 miles.

That probably means you can telephone home! Can 35 cents buy more pleasure than that? You can pick up a budget of family news . . . talk over your problems . . . share your interests. There's nothing like a "voice visit" with the folks back home to brighten your whole week—and theirs.

TO TAKE ADVANTAGE of the LOW NIGHT RATES . . .

Call after 8:30 P.M. and be sure to make a Station to Station call.

That means, ask the Operator for your home telephone, but not for any specific person.

If you've fixed a date in advance, the family will be sure to be there.

35 cents at night will pay for a 3-minute Station to Station call to anywhere within 100 miles.

approved to the highest degree by the student body. He was a humorous individual—one who gets the most out of life by seeing the good points of people and things.

Dr. Weygandt has met in his time such men as Walt Whitman, John Masefield, Robert Frost, James Stevens, Thomas Hardy, Vachel Lindsey, and William Butler Yates.

He spent most of the hour speaking of Walt Whitman, William Butler Yates, and John Masefield. A vivid description was made of the personal appearance of Walt Whitman during the later years of his life. Dr. Weygandt even went so far as to describe the hole in the floor of the Whitman home in Camden, New Jersey, caused by the steady pounding of his cane on a certain spot on the floor.

Another incident told by the speaker was that of the time when Yates visited him at his home in Philadelphia. Yates asked for raisins and nuts and upon receiving them, threw the seeds and shells on the floor while gormandizing the foodstuffs, much to the disgust of Mrs. Weygandt.

The Professor ended his speech by stating, "Poetry is the heart and kernel of all literature."

SUBMIT ABOLITION OF HONOR SYSTEM

AMENDMENTS

1. That the Honor System be re-established after three years upon petition of three-fourths of the Student Body—barring such action, the Honor System shall be deemed nonexistent until such time as students and faculty shall see fit to restore it.

2. That a tribunal of nine students be appointed by the President of the Student Council to try all violators of whatever code the faculty shall install to replace the Honor System.

3. That this motion shall be in noways an acknowledgment by the Student Body that it is unfit to govern itself, but, rather, a recognition of unfavorable conditions that prevent efficient operation of the Honor System.

4. That Freshmen be not permitted to vote on this motion.

Should this motion be passed, the Senior and Junior members of the Student Council will confer with the faculty next Monday to find a substitute for the Honor System. Any action taken at this meeting will have to be approved by the Student Council as a whole and will then become the accepted code of conduct.

Freshmen have been excluded from the vote because under the extended motion they will be the first class eligible to petition for the return of the Honor System and will thus not debar itself from that right of petitioning. Also, it is felt by the Council that the Freshmen are not conversant enough with Delaware ideals and institutions to be able to vote intelligently.

FRATERNITY SPIRIT WANING

Oxford, O.—Visiting Miami University, birthplace of nine national Greek letter social organizations, Dr. Francis W. Shephardson, pre-eminent in the fraternity field, said last week that interest in fraternities definitely is declining.

"From first hand observation of fraternity chapters all over the country," he said, "I am of the opinion that the fraternal spirit is not as strong as it formerly was, and consequently there are fewer students interested in fraternities."

There is a revolt, he said, against the inlooking attitude of chapters, in favor of a broader loyalty to school and community.

"U. S. RELATIONS WITH SAMOA" BY RYDEN

at Yale University and his spare time during the regular school year.

Dr. Ryden's essay on the Samoan Islands, out of which this book has grown, won the John Addison Porter Prize, Yale University, in 1928.

The introduction to the volume is written by John Basset Moore, a close associate of Thomas F. Bayard, who was in 1887 secretary of the Washington conference which met at that time to settle the conflicting claims of the United States, Great Britain, and Germany in Samoa.

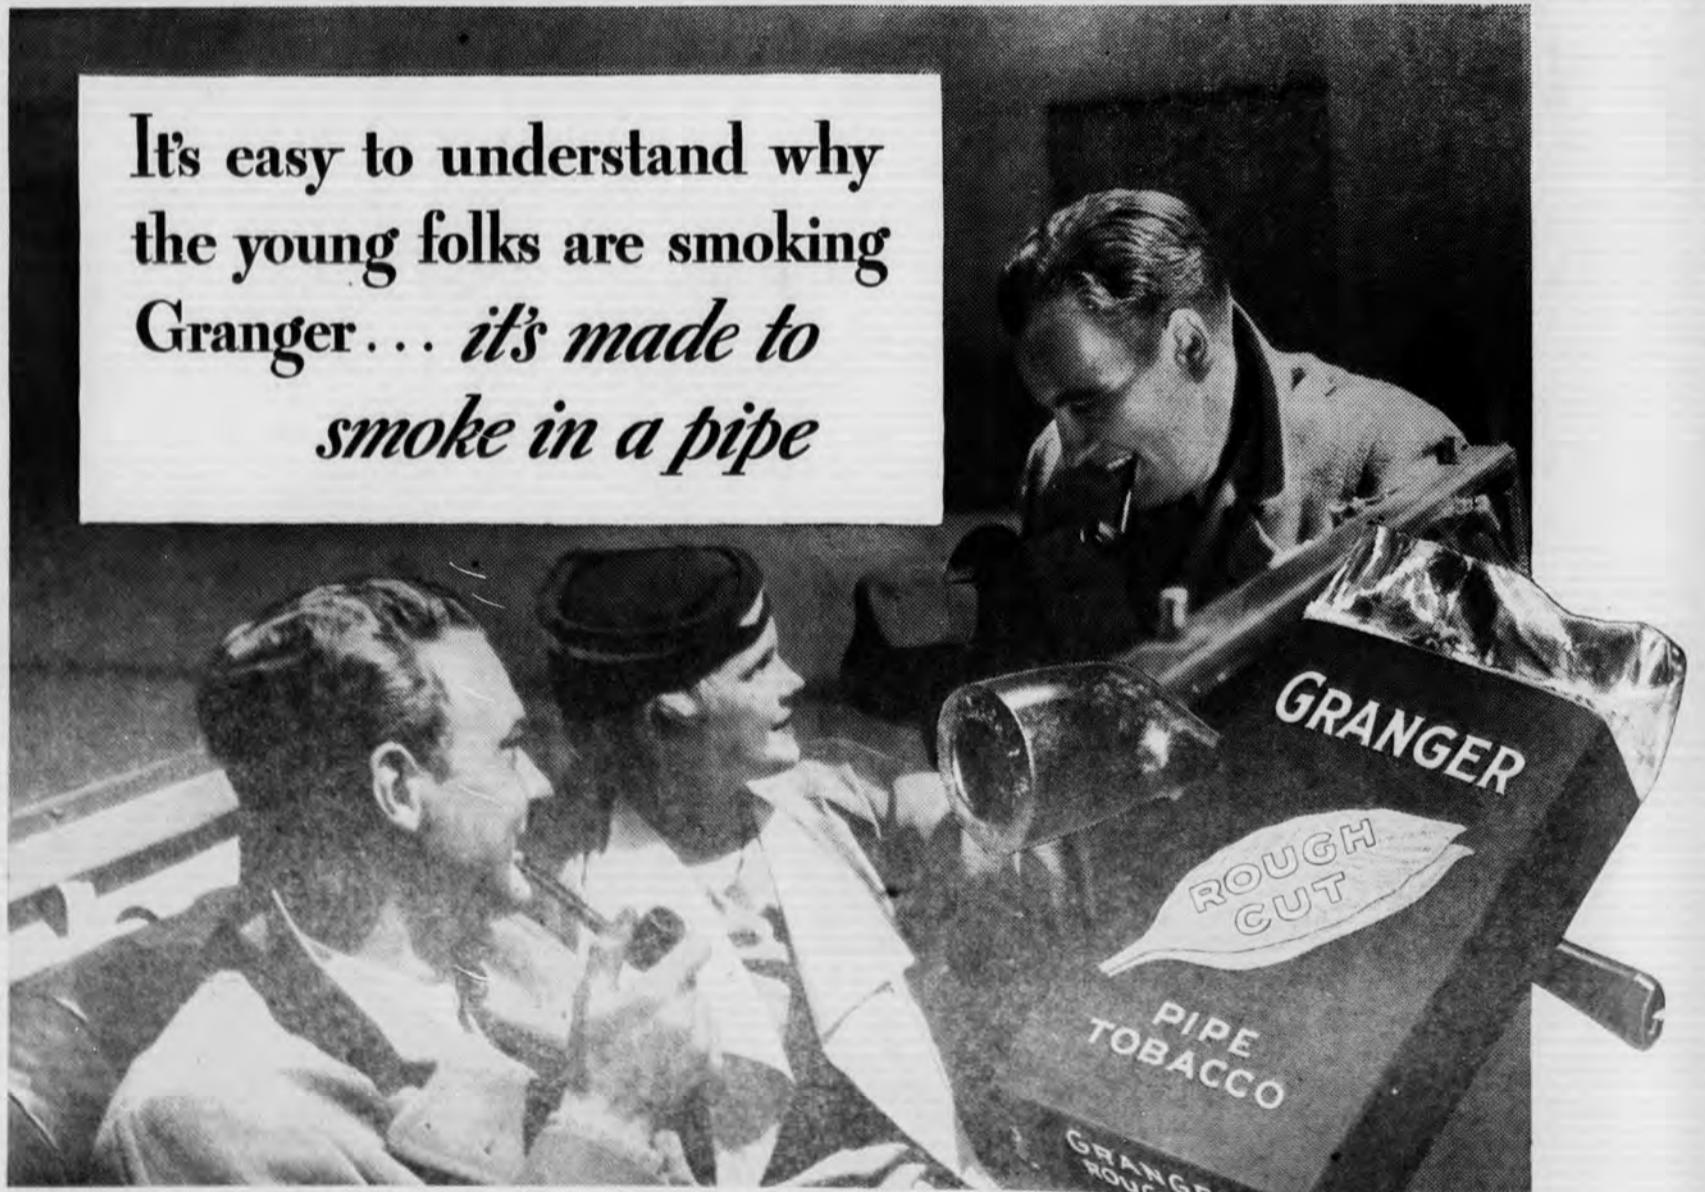

The book in its value as a distinct contribution to political science, is noteworthy because of the thoroughness in which all material necessary for the book has been investigated and analyzed for its true worth. Although the actual writing of the book has often entailed arduous research the result has been what is regarded as an irrefutable and authoritative book in that field.

Dr. Ryden's book was published by the Yale University Press as one in the series of Yale Historical Publications.
