Filming Starts On Documentary Of Newark's Fluoride Program

Warner Pathe News Crew Shoots Scenes Of Newark
Youngsters; Exterior Views Of Main Street
Planned; Town Meeting Scene Tonight

Newarkers are invited to some free movies tonight and possibly tomorrow. Instead of seeing a picture, the audience will be in the film.

A large scene of a town meeting is scheduled to be shot tonight for the documentary movie of Newark's fluoride story now being made by Pathe News.

The scene which will be the climax of the short film "A Drop In The Bucket" will be filmed in the elementary school auditorium tonight and possibly tomorrow night, according to Joe Henaberry, director of the Warner production team here.

Any Newarker who wants to sit in the audience and become part of the movie is urged to be on hand at the elementary school by 7:30 p.m., Mr. Henaberry said.

The scene will be the turning point in the film story of the development of Newark's fluoridated water program for curbing tooth decay in young children.

According to the script, members of the audience will fire questions at civic officials and health experts on the auditorium stage. The answers of the latter clear up the public confusion and lead to general approval of the plan to fluoridate the town's water supply.

An 8-man Warner film crew arrived here late Monday afternoon and filmed interior scenes at the Newark schools Tuesday and yesterday.

Tuesday's scenes were of the school nurse, Miss Martha Coverdale, examining youngsters' teeth in the school office. An off-screen voice, describing how sodium fluoride in the drinking water cuts down tooth decay, was recorded on the sound track during the shooting.

Local youngsters taking part in the scenes were T. W. Scripps, Roy Brader, Steven Thomas, Carolyn Thomas, Ann Godwin, George Wilson, Barbara Spilne, Barbara Berry, Bibb Egnor, Conale Lasardo, and Jane Steele.

Fred Sponto, Newark High instructor, who is serving as contact man for the Warner crew, stressed this week that he needs more children between five and six to take part in several playground scenes to be filmed soon. Interested parents may reach him at the new elementary building on Academy Street.

Another scene filmed Tuesday pictured a conference between Newark school officials and Michael Keene, a professional actor. Those taking part were: Wilmer E. Shue, school superintendent, Henry M. Brader, elementary supervisor, Roland Anderson and Elwood Bittenbender.

When the weather permits, the movie men are also planning to film exterior views of Main Street, showing a dentist walking through the town to the school playground where he mends over a group of romping youngsters.

Fire Destroys Car And Pumping Shed

A speeding car shot through the dead end at the foot of South Academy Street early Tuesday morning, skidded 168 feet across a vacant field into a light pole and then crashed into a small water pumping shed owned by the city.

The driver, James Buchanan, 17, and a passenger William Hodge, both of Elkton, crawled out of the wreckage uninjured, according to police.

The car burst into flames, which gutted it along with the pumping shed and equipment, also damaging the light pole. The damage was estimated by police at about $1500.

The driver is being held at the detention home in Wilmington, pending a hearing before the Family Court.

Aetna firemen were called to extinguish the flames. The car was virtually demolished and the pumping shed and machinery were destroyed.

The accident took place slightly south of the city's water pumping station at the foot of Academy Street.

Dollar Day Sale Best In Years, Merchants Say

The names of the Newark Department Store and H. F. Feinberg Furniture Company were accidentally omitted from a list of firms in an advertisement in last week's Post thanking Newark shoppers for their excellent support of the recent Dollar Days here.

Both the department store and Feinberg's joined with over 20 local business establishments in sponsoring the sales event.

The merchants were almost unanimous in calling the three-day sale one of the most successful merchandizing efforts in the history of the community.

Several business reported this year's Dollar Day sales doubled those of last year. Clear weather, excellent promotion and the variety of exceptional values offered by the participating stores accounted for the unusual response, the merchants said.

No School Bus Service For Students In Newly Annexed Areas Of City

School students living in the rural areas recently annexed by the city will not get school bus service during the coming term, Supt. Wilmer E. Shue stressed this week.

He pointed out that state supported transportation is open only to students living in the district rural areas outside the city limits.

Mayor Wallace Johnson said yesterday that the city is considering the operation of a municipal supported transportation system but that nothing definite has been worked out yet.

Youngsters living just within Newark's extended boundaries face quite a trek to class unless either private or public transportation is provided.

Plans For Southside Sewer To Be Ready By September 1st

Drawings To Be Completed
By Engineers

The engineering plans for the long delayed southside sewer lines will be completed by Sept. 1, Francis Neide, city supervisor said, in his latest monthly report.

Whitman, Requardt and Associates of Baltimore, the city's consulting engineers, are making the drawings for the lines which will give the south-eastern section of the city sanitary sewer service for the first time.

According to latest plans, the southside system will be attached to the county interceptor sewer line now being extended from Stanton to the Chrysler Tank Plant.

This will make it unnecessary for the city to erect a costly addition to its sewage disposal plant.

Mr. Neide also said that the firm of Pleasant and Edgell was the low bidder on the storm sewer installation near Wilbur Street with a price of $5,644.25. The same company received the contract for trenching and backfilling a water line in Nottingham Manor, Mr. Neide said.

Moves Into New Home Without Changing Address

J. E. Dougherty, 37 West Park Place, moved into a new stone home recently yet he never changed his address.

He built the new house in his backyard, moved into it sometime ago, then on Monday he had his former dwelling moved away to give him a broad front lawn.

Moving day at the Dougherty's provided quite a spectacle. Art Moore and his crew of Paul Bunyans, known throughout this section for their ingenuity at moving houses, jacked up the old Dougherty home, put it on rollers and inched it slowly north on Indian Road to its new address on Sunset Road.

Kids from throughout the neighborhood came to see the thrill show. They became so fascinated watching the two-story frame home moving dignifiedly along the street that they began to get underfoot.

The movers feared some of the youngsters might be injured and finally summoned the police to hold the audience in check.

The largest totaled $18,620 and went to the Farrell Electric Company, Wilmington, for the rewiring of the entire electrical system of the main high school building.

Other contracts were as follows: Painting of the interiors of the New London Avenue and the Main Street buildings, $1,615, to William C. Long, Wilmington; electrical rewiring of the Main Street building, $997, to Joseph H. Pierson & Son, Wilmington.

Repairs to roof of the New London Avenue building, $377, Edwards Roofing Company, Newark; repairs to the steps and fire escape at the Main Street building, $400, Santow Brothers, Wilmington; window shades for the Main Street building, $289, Sheaffer, Newark.

The board also approved the installation of an oil burner and oil storage tank in the Main Street building, which is being prepared for possible elementary use this fall.

The board accepted the resignation of Leon Moyer, sixth grade teacher the past two years, and appointed Mrs. Priscilla Vanech of Teaneck, N.J., to the elementary staff. Mrs. Vanech is a graduate of the New Jersey State Teachers College with one year's teaching experience. Appointed to the high school staff was John Leland, graduate of Pennsylvania State, who will serve as math, agriculture and shop instructor.

Tuition for out-of-district students was increased $25 by the board. The new scale follows grades one to six, $200; seven to eight, $205; and nine to 12, $210. The increase was based on last year's costs.

Hearing On Wilson Tract Rezoning Is Slated For Tuesday

Zone Change Is Sought
To Permit Duplex
Apt. Project

A public hearing on the question of rezoning the Wilson tract south of Read Village to permit the erection of a large apartment development will be held Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the City Council offices in the Academy building.

Plans for the 400-unit apartment, proposed by the Collins Realty Company, have drawn objections from the residents of Read Village and Tyre Avenue, bordering the 50-acre section now restricted under the zoning law.

The protesting citizens have filed a court suit against the city's Board of Adjustment over the issue. The suit is now pending in the Superior Court.

Council has moved to take the question from the authority of the Board of Adjustment and now plans to rezone the area by a direct vote amending the zoning ordinance.

Following the public hearing, Council is scheduled to give the second and final reading to the amendment, which will rezone the area.

In the vote at the first reading, the Council secured a three-fourths margin. Councilman William Coverdale, who is on record as opposing the rezoning, was not present at that session, but his negative ballot would not have reduced the three-fourths margin.

Accompanying herself on the guitar, Mrs. Killian sings songs of many lands, some in the native language. Her program will include songs from Mexico, Sweden, France, Germany, England, China, Hawaii and the United States.

Mrs. Killian's program developed as a result of singing in hospitals, service clubs, and cantenets during the war. She is a native of Seattle who began her singing career in operettas at the University of Washington.

Referendum Soon On $275,000 For New School Construction

Vote Will Seek Authority For Bond Issue To Cover
Newark's Share In Cost Of Capitol Trail Building, Gym Extension, Shop Work

A referendum seeking authority for a $275,000 bond issue for new school construction in the Newark Special District will be held Sept. 8, Wilmer E. Shue, superintendent, said this week.

The bonds are necessary to provide the district's share of $700,000 in school building projects planned for the immediate future. The projects include erection of a new elementary building on Capitol Trail, a large scale addition to the high school gymnasium and funds to provide equipment and additional materials for the new shop-agriculture building now under construction at the high school.

These projects will be part of the $1,817,600 building program recently approved for Newark by state authorities. The district is obligated to provide $681,000 as its share in the total program, but the Newark School Board has decided to ask for only $275,000 in the forthcoming referendum to cover the three immediate projects. A referendum on the remainder of the over-all program will be held later as the need for specific buildings arises, Mr. Shue said.

Tentative plans for the Capitol Trail building, Mr. Shue disclosed, call for 12 classrooms, plus a cafeteria, described as a combination gymnasium, cafeteria and auditorium.

The board, which is still seeking a site for the new building, estimates its cost at $475,000. State authorities have requested the board to hold up on the appointment of an architect in view of the new state rules for the standardization of school construction.

The high school gymnasium extension, estimated at $390,000, and first planned over a year ago, will double the size of the present gym and greatly ease the crowding in physical education classes.

The equipment and additional material for the farm-shop building will cost $19,000. This, Mr. Shue said, was not covered in the original building contract. The building, expected to be ready for the fall term, is now going up on the high school grounds just off Lovett Avenue.

The date for the referendum was set, Mr. Shue said, at the August meeting of the board of education last Friday night. Hours and voting qualifications for the special election, which will be held in the high school, will be announced later.

An open meeting at which the public will be given a general outline of the proposed building program will be held Thursday evening, Sept. 6, in the high school auditorium. Citizens also will be given an opportunity to ask questions regarding the building program.

State Cited On Car Inspection Program

Mayor Johnson To Attend
Ceremonies

Mayor Wallace Johnson and members of his official family will attend ceremonies Monday in Wilmington when Gov. Elbert N. Carvel will accept on behalf of Delaware the National Safety Council's Traffic Safety Contest award.

The state is receiving the national citation for its program of periodic motor vehicle inspection.

The plaque will be awarded at a luncheon to be given by the Delaware Safety Council on Monday at 12:15 p.m. in the Gold Ballroom of the Hotel DuPont. The meeting will be open to the public and a number of industrial firms, commercial vehicle companies, civic organizations will attend.

M. R. Darlington, Jr., managing director of the Inter-Industry Highway Safety Committee, will make the keynote address and present the plaque in behalf of the National Safety Council to Governor Elbert N. Carvel. Mr. Darlington is well known in the automotive and transportation industries and the committee program he directs is based on the "Action Program" formulated by the President's Highway Safety Conference to support sound highway safety efforts.

Council Postpones Rezoning E. Main Street For Business

Objections to the rezoning of East Main Street to provide for an expansion of the business district east to Tyre Avenue led the City Council to postpone a decision on the issue at a public hearing on Tuesday night.

Another special meeting was set for August 28 at 8 p.m. in the Council Offices to consider the proposal further.

A petition from nine Tyre Avenue residents objecting to the rezoning was read by Councilman Donald Hill. A dispute arose as to whether this constituted 20 percent of the property owners adjacent to the area to be rezoned. Another question debated was whether a three-quarters vote or a simple majority of Council was required to approve the rezoning.

Councilman Hill moved that the question be postponed until an interpretation of the law could be secured from City Solicitor John P. Sinclair, who is absent on military duty. Mayor Wallace Johnson suggested the August

Talented Newarker Off For Art School and Cartoonist Career

Nancy Conte here gives a cartoonist's view of how she will look starting Aug. 25 for art school in Chicago.

Quite a sketch, as you can see from the accompanying self-portrait, is Miss Nancy Conte, 19-year-old Newarker, who will be flying high soon on her way to Chicago and the Academy of Fine Arts there.

But don't let that "fine art" stuff fool you. Nancy wants to be a cartoonist and, from the looks of the job she did on herself, the lady has talent.

A little uncertain about leaving home for the first time, Nancy will go by air so she can't change her mind on the way. "I'll be all up with me sure when I board that plane," she says.

Nancy, who has enrolled in a two-year commercial art course at the Academy, will leave August 25. She eventually wants to do cartooning for television—you know, those dangled, animated, ten-second interruptions.

After moving here with her family three years ago from Detroit, Nancy completed her senior year at the Newark High School. Next, she spent two years through scholarships at the University of Delaware.

She picked up some cartooning experience this summer working for the (Please Turn to Page 8)

Steel Scrap Drive Nets 3 Million Lbs.

Chrysler Recovers More Valuable Metal

Three million more pounds of scrap metal have been recovered in the last two weeks in Chrysler's new scrap drive, H. L. Weckler, vice president and general manager of the company, announced recently.

"During the first month of our new drive, Mr. Weckler said, we found 1,200,000 pounds of extra scrap metal, and during the last two weeks, 3,050,000 pounds more, a total so far of 4,250,000 pounds."

The drive is in addition to Chrysler's regular scrapping procedures which yield about 35,000 tons of scrap iron and steel every month. It was undertaken to help ease the present critical steel situation.

"Our program is to re-examine all tools and dies which we have stored for service work to see if we cannot find ways to get along with fewer of them," Mr. Weckler said. "We are doing this in our own plants and in plants of suppliers who maintain service tools and dies for us."

An analysis showed that the corporation could eliminate many tools and dies stored in Chrysler plants or vendors' plant by discarding those for early model parts no longer in demand.

So far during the drive Chrysler has recovered 2,155,000 pounds in its own plants and another 2,095,000 in vendors' plants.

The program is a continuing operation and calls for reviewing tools and dies for about 2,500 service parts every month.

Johne's Disease Is Threat To Cattle

A baffling disease of cattle which often creeps into a herd without noticeable symptoms is now causing losses to farmers in 41 states, the American Foundation for Animal Health reported here today.

The foundation's report said the condition, known as Johne's disease is regarded as one of the most difficult of all infections to eradicate from cattle herds. Slow to develop, it is very hard to detect in its early stages.

"The disease is caused by a tiny germ which attacks the intestinal tract. Affected animals develop scours and gradually lose weight for several months. The coat may become rough. Milk production slows up and eventually may stop. The infected animal may continue to lose weight until it becomes so thin and weak it dies," the bulletin said.

Symptoms are most likely to show up in animals from two to six years old. Such animals may have harbored the germ since calfhood and this long incubation period makes the disease difficult to stamp out once it shows up in a herd.

"Control depends on an accurate diagnosis, as there is danger of confusing the disease with tuberculosis," say Foundation authorities. "Clinical tests enable the veterinarian to spot the reactors which should then be removed from the herd and sold for slaughter. The premises should also be disinfected and young calves kept away from contaminated quarters if this dangerous infection is to be prevented from spreading."

Broccoli Meal Is Good For Broilers

Broccoli meal is just as good as alfalfa meal in boiler rations. Rations containing broccoli leaf meal produced the heaviest average weights in a test at the Delaware Agricultural Experiment Station.

Besides producing heavy birds, the broccoli meal produces a desirable yellow pigmentation in the broilers.

Rations with 1.5, 3, and 5 percents of broccoli meal were tested. The ration with 3 percent of the meal produced the heaviest birds. Commercially made dehydrated broccoli leaf meal was used.

New Method Eases Lima Bean Shelling

Fresh home frozen lima beans are popular with everybody except the housewife who has to shell them.

But home economists in North Dakota have come up with a revolutionary way of shelling them in less time, reports the Delaware Agricultural Extension Service.

If the pods are softened by preheating in boiling water, the beans may simply be squeezed out of the pod, washed, sorted and packed for freezer storage. Beans prepared in this way may be kept as long as those blanched in other ways, say the North Dakota specialists.

Here are the steps:
1. Wash the pods in cold water.
2. Scald in boiling water, small beans 2½ minutes; large beans, 3 to 4 minutes.
3. Cool in ice water, then squeeze the beans out of the pods.
4. Sort out over-ripe or imperfect beans.
5. Wash beans in cold running water, drain, then package.

Beans fixed this way are not only much easier, but score high in both color and flavor compared to those that are blanched after shelling.

The story of a faith that paid off

YOU KNOW IT'S TRUE BECAUSE IT'S HAPPENED TO YOU AND YOUR FRIENDS AND NEIGHBORS

PROBABLY YOU'VE never thought of yourself as a maker of history. But you are. And here is how you, as a citizen of the United States, are creating the greatest success in all history.

Remember back in 1941 when the Defense Bonds you were buying suddenly had to become War Bonds? How you and your neighbors pitched in to buy them in ever-increasing numbers, to back our fighting men and to help achieve the victory of World War II? After V-J Day, when those bonds became Savings Bonds, you continued to buy them because you had learned how regular saving could build security and contentment for yourself and those you love.

The face of the land has undergone some dramatic changes in those years since V-J Day. Now the landscape is dotted with new homes that Savings Bonds built. Thousands upon thousands of new automobiles travel the highways—Savings Bonds cars, bought with the product of individual thrift. On the farms, Bond-purchased equipment has helped produce bumper crops and prosperous years. Everywhere in America, man's urge to get into business for himself has become a bright reality. So has the ambition of loving parents to send their children through college. Time and time again, Savings Bonds have made those dreams and many others come true.

You KNOW they've come true, because it's happened to you or to some of your own friends.

And this is only the beginning of the story. Even after accomplishing so much, millions of American families still enjoy the financial security of owning more than fifty billion dollars—fifty thousand million dollars in Savings Bonds. More than at the peak of war-time Bond holdings!

How much money is that? It's enough to build a new $10,000 mortgage-free home for every family in San Francisco—and Sacramento—and Salt Lake City—and Denver—and Kansas City—and St. Louis—and Indianapolis—and Cincinnati—and Pittsburgh—and New York City—and the whole state of Texas!

And every week, everywhere in America, new millions of dollars are added to the total—as crisp new Savings Bonds are typed up with your name on them.

Kind of a king-size success story, isn't it? Your success story because you and the millions of your neighbors are living it right now. Your own faith in America—your own desire for the warmth of family security and independence—have made the story of United States Savings Bonds the thrift miracle of all time.

For your security, and your country's too, save now - through regular purchase of U.S. Savings Bonds

Safety Hints

"By all standards of measurement," John D. Reeder, president of the Delaware Safety Council, said today, "a legal-medical plan—which is separate." "But," he added, "so is the wire spring of a trap, a guillotine blade and a spear tip!"

The only appreciable difference between them, according to John D. Reeder, lies in the purpose for which each was designed.

"Railroad tracks—and the four-foot, eight-inch span between them—have regrettably become the scene of an annual slaughter that is a sad commentary on the driving public's idea of caution," he said.

Mr. Reeder pointed to the 1,523 persons in motor vehicles who were killed at highway-rail intersections in 1950 alone as an example of how badly safety education is needed in this phase of the traffic problem.

"The National Safety Council," he said, "names inattention, recklessness and disregard of warning signs and signals as the leading causes of such highway-rail intersection accidents."

This tendency on the part of drivers to trust to luck rather than to their eyes and ears, when approaching a railroad is one of the chief targets in the current program of traffic safety education being undertaken locally by the Delaware Safety Council.

"The Delaware Safety Council," Mr. Reeder said, "has cut out for itself a job that is as big as it is worthwhile. They certainly have the blessings and the cooperation of the police department in their work."

Mr. Reeder and the Delaware Safety Council listed the following hints for all motorists:

1. Slow down and double your caution at ALL highway-rail intersections.
2. At multiple crossings be sure that ALL tracks are clear before proceeding.
3. Never assume that you know the train schedule on railroad tracks familiar to you.
4. Be especially alert at night.
5. In cool weather be particularly careful. When car windows are closed the warning whistles of approaching trains may be muffled.

Advise Care in Use of Liquid Fertilizer, Anhydrous Ammonia

Safety Council Lists 8 Rules For Handling Chemical

With the increasing use of a new liquid fertilizer, known as anhydrous ammonia, by Delaware farmers, the hazards involved through its use are stressed by the Delaware Safety Council.

According to the Council, NH₃, as it is frequently known, is in liquid form and is contained in cylinders of two types: the tube (horizontal) and the bottle (vertical).

The tube type cylinder is normally used in the horizontal position. Two general types of valves are supplied. Depending on which type is involved, either the valve outlet or the valve stem is at an angle with the longitudinal axis of the cylinder. It is the position of this valve outlet or stem which determines whether liquid or gaseous ammonia will be discharged from the cylinder. When the valve outlet or stem is on top, the dip pipe on the inside of the cylinder is under the liquid, and therefore liquid anhydrous ammonia will be discharged. To discharge gaseous ammonia, the cylinder is turned so that the valve outlet or stem points downward.

The bottle type, or vertical cylinder, will discharge ammonia as a gas when placed in an upright or vertical position. Due to liquid ammonia expansion, a bottle type cylinder may, under certain elevated temperature conditions, discharge a small amount of liquid when the valve is opened, and it is recommended that bottle type cylinders be allowed to reach room temperature before the valve is opened. To discharge liquid anhydrous ammonia, this type of cylinder must be placed in a horizontal position with the valve outlet pointing up.

The rate at which gaseous ammonia can be discharged from either type cylinder depends upon the temperature of the surrounding atmosphere and the surface area of the liquid ammonia.

When the cylinder is empty, disconnect it insert the valve plug and replace the cylinder protective cap.

If a bottle type cylinder has become frozen down during discharge, never use a pry under the valve end to loosen the cylinder. Use water to loosen the cylinder or wait for it to thaw out.

Store empty cylinders separately from filled cylinders and chalk "MT" on cylinders immediately upon emptying. Close valve, replace plug or nut on valve outlet, and secure valve protecting cap snugly.

The tightly compressed liquid is injected by a special type cultivator into the soil. NH₃ vaporizes at atmospheric temperature and pressure and during this process a gas is emitted which radiates into approximately seven inches of soil in every direction.

The Council offers the following rules for handling anhydrous ammonia cylinders:

- (1) Never subject cylinders to rough handling nor to abnormal mechanical shock such as dropping or bumping.
- (2) Avoid dragging or sliding cylinders. It is safer to move bottle type cylinders even short distances by using a suitable truck rather than by tilting or rolling them on their bottom edges.
- (3) Do not place or handle cylinders where they might form part of an electrical circuit.
- (4) Do not remove valve protection until ready to withdraw ammonia from the cylinder.
- (5) Cylinders, whether full or empty, should never be used as rollers for moving heavy or bulky articles.
- (6) Keep away from heat.
- (7) Do not store in sunlight. Storage should be dry and cool.
- (8) Be sure connections are tight.

The health hazards involved are numerous. Anhydrous liquid ammonia produces severe burns on contact due not only to its caustic action but also to the freezing effect produced by rapid evaporation of liquid ammonia. Do not get it in eyes, on skin, or clothing. In case of contact, immediately flush skin and eyes with plenty of water for at least 15 minutes. Call a physician at once in case of burns, especially to the eyes, nose and throat, or if the victim is unconscious.

Ammonia gas in concentrations of 0.6 to 1 percent by volume is lethal within a few minutes. Irritation of the eyes, respiratory tract, and throat results from concentrations as low as 0.05 to 0.1 percent; a concentration of 0.2 percent produces convulsive coughing and may be fatal after a short exposure, i.e., less than half an hour.

Anhydrous ammonia is shipped in tank cars and in cylinders of 25, 50, 100 and 150 pounds capacity as liquid gas under pressure. It is classified by the Interstate Commerce Commission as a noninflammable compressed gas.

Pamper That Dream Of A Chicken Farm; There's Cash In It

Do you ever dream of running out on your job and starting—let's say—a little chicken farm?

If you do, the experiences of one of the leading poultrymen of the country indicate you can make a success of it.

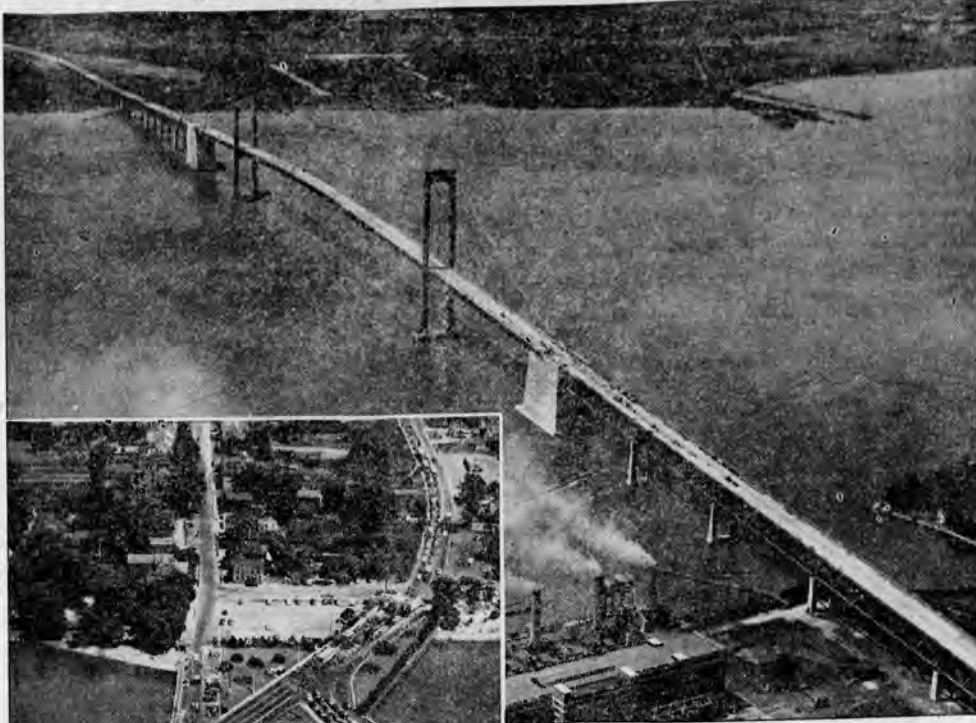

Half the 40 contestants in the recent National Chicken-of-Tomorrow Contest finals at Fayetteville, Ark., deserted established careers, records show, to become chicken growers. Take John G. Townsend, Jr., of Millsboro, Del., for instance.

Townsend, former Delaware governor and U. S. Senator, entered the poultry business when politics and peach growing lost their charm. With his son, another green hand at poultry growing, Townsend moved steadily up the ladder to poultry success and claimed a place among the eight winners who shared $7,000 in Chicken-of-Tomorrow Finals awards provided by A & P Food Stores, sponsor of the

Sixth Longest Bridge Ends Delaware River Bottleneck

Opening August 16 of the $44-million Delaware Memorial Bridge, sixth longest span in the world, ends one of the worst ferry bottlenecks on eastern seaboard's north-south traffic routes. The new span bridges a mile of water with towers rising 437 feet to support a four-lane roadway high above the largest ocean-going vessels. Engineers and workmen of U. S. Steel's American Bridge Company planned and labored a year-and-a-half to erect the mighty structure using 40,000 tons of steel to replace the Newcastle Ferry shown here at the height of a Sunday traffic snarl. Opening ceremonies, with governors of Delaware and New Jersey attending, dedicate the bridge to World War II dead of the two states.

Other such converts to poultry are George Cleveland, former atomic scientist, who left Oak Ridge to launch his poultry business in an abandoned bank building at Dana, Ind.; James White, Hay Springs, Neb., erstwhile New England five-and-ten-cent store chain executive who went west to poultry success on the urgings of his wife and the example of his brother, and Eden Booth, of Pleasant Hill, Mo., a one-time advertising man now operating the world's largest hatchery.

So, if a chicken farm figures in your day dreams, don't fear for your mental health. Dr. James F. Bender, author-psychologist and director of the American Institute of Human Relations, says such a pastime "is a natural escape dream in which the chicken raising satisfies the instinctive American urge to be doing something useful."

Once a light bulb becomes dark inside it may give only half as much light as a new bulb yet will use about the same amount of electric current.

Auto Looted

Residents of West Main Street were awakened at midnight Monday by clatter and hammering assumed to be an autoist changing a tire along the curbing.

Peering into the night, they could see two men working about a Ford roadster. There was nothing stealthy about the men, and none of the residents became suspicious.

Later that day, however, William Bland, well known Newarker, arrived on the scene to claim the car. He reported the theft of a tire, headlight glass, parking light, tire cover and other equipment—all removed under the eyes of the awakened residents.

The stripped car stood most of Monday waiting for its owner. The incident was the boldest theft committed here in many years.

Nelson To Open Pre-Season Grid Drills At Delaware On August 26

Dave Nelson, Delaware's new football coach from the University of Maine, has issued the call to his returning football players to appear for pre-season practice on August 26, four weeks before the opening game with Lehigh in Wilmington Park. Forty-two men have been notified of the practice, including eighteen lettermen.

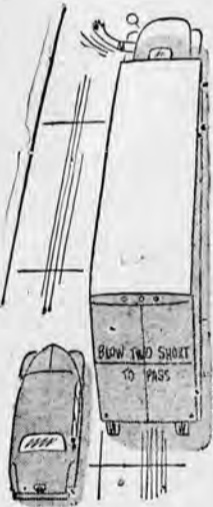

According to present plans, the griders will receive equipment and room assignments, and physical examinations the afternoon of their arrival. The first practice will be Monday morning, August 27. From that date until September 15, two sessions will be held each day, one at nine in the morning and the other in mid-afternoon. The week preceding the Lehigh clash, practice will taper off to one drill a day, and continue that way all season.

Nelson said, "We expect everyone to return in top physical shape to begin full dress drills immediately. We want them all at playing weight and ready for intensive practice. Delaware is facing a tough schedule of opponents this fall and every day of pre-season practice we get will make a difference. We're getting off to a fast start."

Nelson also announced that a squad of freshman ball players will arrive here in the Blue Hen football camp on Wednesday, August 22, before the veteran squad, and will commence drills the following day. Freshmen will be eligible to play in varsity games this fall for the first time since 1946. One of the most important problems of the men coaching staff in the early weeks of practice will be selecting promising freshmen to fill positions vacated by last June's graduates, and training the rest for reserve duty.

Because of the change in the freshman eligibility rule Delaware will play no regular freshman schedule, but Nelson indicated that several J.V. games would be arranged for the freshmen.

The varsity letter winners expected to return for the 1951 season are as follows: ends, Joe Lank, Marvel, McWilliams, Paul Mueller, Ray Wright and Larry Dalton; tackles, Milt Adams, Al Brodhaag, Frank Heilig, and Seymour Kaplowitz; guards, Milt Keene and John Meccariello; center, Bill Craver; quarterback, Kenny Reith; halfbacks, Don Carmichael and Earl Walter; fullbacks, Captain John DeGasperis, Bill Butler, and Jimmy Carbonetti.

10-Day Race Meet Opens At Bel Air

Many Improvements At 1/4-Mile Oval

Bel Air racetrack, where a 10-day meeting of thoroughbred racing opened Wednesday, is the youngest of Maryland's nine tracks for runners. Still, Harford County's picturesque three-quarter-mile oval has been a leader in the improvement of so-called half-mile racing.

It was the first minor-league track in the state to offer racegoers the comforts of a clubhouse. It was first to use the totalisator form of wagering and it also brought the Telautograph, which distributes payoff prices throughout the mutual department in a matter of seconds, to Maryland.

Bel Air brought turf racing on the flat to Maryland for the first time last summer. Now, the major tracks have made plans to follow suit with infield racing over sod and Laurel plans to provide patrons with turf racing this fall.

This year, the progressive Bel Air management has announced the first increase in purses for Maryland's fall racing season. Miss Vivian Elise Thayer, executive secretary and acting general manager, has announced an increase of $8,000 in the purses to be offered during the ten-day session.

A new well and water tower, constructed since last year's meet, will give added fire protection to the horsemen and their runners. Also, will permit additional water for sprinkling the track in order to reduce the dust from the flying hoofs to a minimum.

Bel Air's well-kept stabling area already is a beehive of activity as several hundred thoroughbreds from all sections of the country await Wednesday's opening. And, this weekend, a caravan of runners from Hagerstown will fill the 800 stalls to the bulging point.

Among the "Old favorites" returning to Bel Air are: A. T. Allen's Thin Dime, J. M. Rogers' Woodie; Mrs. R. E. Benton's Bungalow, Saggy Farm's Sir Sag, F. R. Schley, Jr.'s Chrysol, L. A. Hancock's Albatross, C. Hadaway's Elre, O. L. Nyberg's David N., B. S. Campbell's Guided Missile, and Piney Hill Stable's Longitude.

Miss Vivian Elise Thayer, who has been associated with Bel Air Track since its opening in 1937, will serve as general manager during the absence of G. Ray Bryson, who is convalescing from a recent illness.

A special race train, equipped with air-conditioned coaches and dining cars, will leave the nation's capital at 11:45 a.m. each day and stop at the Camden and Mount Royal stations in Baltimore to pick up additional passengers for the races. These trains will reach the track before the closing of the daily double windows at 1:45 p.m., fifteen minutes prior to the first race.

Newark Upsets League Leading Elkton Nine, 3-0, In Susky Tilt

Moxie Brown Holds Slugging Marylanders To Two Scratch Hits; Spike Barouth Aids Win With Sparkling Fielding; Rising Sun Here On Sunday

Newark upset league leading Elkton, 3-0, in a Susquehanna League clash last Sunday as Moxie Brown, turning in one of his best mound performances of the season, held the loop's big-gun to only two scratch hits.

This Sunday Newark returns to the Continental Field for a meeting at 2:30 p.m. with the strong Rising Sun team. Bobby Garvey will pitch for Newark, with Bill Stockley, University of Delaware player, scheduled to hurl for the visiting club.

A big factor in Newark's victory over Elkton was the sparkling glove work of Shortstop Spike Barouth, who looked like sure hits. Newark started its scoring in the very first inning when Buddy Calaldi singled to center field, moved to second on Gene Schaen's sacrifice, then ambled to third and home when Rising Sun's hurler, Bobby Cather, let go with two wild pitches.

Newark slipped across a quickie in the third. Jack Ketrick blasted a home run over the left center field fence. Ketrick's blow was the only extra base hit of the game.

The locals third and final tally came in the sixth inning when Ketrick walked and moved to third on George Jenkins' second single of the game. Bunny Blaney then grounded to second base and, on the attempted double play, Ketrick scored.

Moxie Brown retired the first 15 Elkton hitters and only faced 29 men during the game. Elkton's Cather yielded five hits and was relieved at the start of the eighth by Jim Burns, who blanked the Newark club during the last two frames.

Blue Cross has been paying benefits since 1938 for children suffering from polio. In more recent years, from $5,000 to $10,000 yearly has been paid for the care of polio sufferers of all ages, records show. In 1948, when the polio reached its peak in this area, Blue Cross paid out an average of $187.61 per hospital case for 110 cases, 73% of all the polio patients hospitalized during this period were members of the Delaware Blue Cross Plan.

Blue Cross coverage of polio includes 90 days at $5 a day in cases after prolonged illness going beyond the 30 days. The amount paid out for polio is but a small fraction, however, of the total benefits paid for Blue Cross members hospital care.

The coverage for polio also includes costs of routine laboratory examinations, drugs and medicines, and half the cost of X-ray examinations, as well as other benefits.

In addition, members of the surgical-medical plan—which is separate from the hospital plan—have their physician's bills paid by the plan when they are medical patients in the hospital. The surgical-medical plan provides $3 a day for doctor's visits beginning with the third day and continuing for up to 90 days.

Jays Defeat Curtis Two Straight Games For Softball Crown

Defeat Papermen, 7-6 And 10-2 In The Playoffs Last Week

The Blue Jays jauntily donned the community softball league crown last week after downing the Curtis Papermen two straight games in the final play-offs.

The Jays had a little trouble in the first contest, ceking through by a 7-6 margin, but they romped through the second and decisive game by a lopsided 10-2 count.

In the opener, the Jays had to come from behind to seize the victory. Curtis jumped to a 3-1 lead in the first inning, but the Jays canceled this out in the second when they pushed across a trio of runs to take a 4-1 advantage.

That proved the winning margin since the scoring ended in the fourth when both teams earned three runs to keep their distance.

Melrath's homer with two on in the fourth gave the Jays the three runs which retained their victory margin.

The second meeting of the teams last Thursday evening saw the Jays dominate the play throughout. They moved away to a 4-1 lead in the first, added four more in the third and wound up their scoring with two in the seventh.

Curtis produced their second and final run of the game in the fifth.

County Loop Play-off Listed Next Week

Splitting their games in the New Castle County league last week, Newark defeated Yorklyn again, then dropped its third straight game to Christian, this time by a 3-2 score.

Despite the loss, Newark still leads the league, with Christiana trailing in second by one game. The three defeats by Christiana are Newark's only setbacks so far in county league play.

Newark will meet the Workhouse tonight in its final game of the regular season.

Although first place is still undecided, the playoffs are scheduled to start next week with the top four teams in the standings battling for the loop title.

Newark, Christiana and Harmony are assured of play-off berths. The fourth team will be either Yorklyn or Workhouse.

The Workhouse will not participate in the initial play-off round. The winner of that will meet the Workhouse to windup the season's play.

Man Takes 13 Women On Vacation—Wife, Too

Harry Sarnes, of Pekin, Ill., will spend his vacation this summer with 13 women—one of whom happens to be his wife.

The Pekin restaurant owner said he will close up shop and take his all-woman staff, and Mrs. Sarnes on an expense-paid vacation at Nevis, Minn.

Out to put a stop to the young man's winning spree, however, will be Bobby Brewer, another Eastern Shore player, who is a member of the team owned by L. A. Workman of Sussex, Del., and driven by Johnny Workman.

Bobby Brewer defeated the national Sally Fingo the other night, 2:08 1/5, and was a hit second to Bill Mist when she made her record-breaking jaunt.

Favorite topic of conversation along the highway this past week has been the weather. "Hot enough for you?" "Not so hot as I would like," "Next winter you'll be complaining of the heat," "It's not the heat it's the humidity!" "When conversation lags and we have some interesting news over the Koron, we can always fall back on the weather as a safe and sane subject which everyone is interested in."

Fay Canin Comedy To Open At Arden

"Goodbye, My Fancy" Set For Week's Run

A few weeks back, the audiences at the Robin Hood Theatre in Arden were asked to vote on one of ten plays as a replacement for "Goodbye, My Fancy" the week of August 20. To the surprise of Director Windsor Lewis, the voting turned out in favor of "Goodbye, My Fancy." Consequently, the Fay Canin comedy will open its run Monday, following the current production of the hilarious hit "Two Blind Mice" which is playing through Saturday.

There will be a stellar cast lineup for the production of "Goodbye, My Fancy," headed by Cynthia Rogers, Alan Furlan and John Drew Devereaux. Miss Rogers will appear as Congresswoman Agatha Reed who, returning to her Alma Mater for an honorary degree, discovers the college president to be a former professor with whom she was in love in her undergraduate days. A Life photographer, the president's daughter, and the Congresswoman's secretary prove to be complications in Agatha Reed's plans for her future.

Mr. Furlan will appear as the college president, with John Drew Devereaux in the other major role of the Life photographer, Pamela Simpson, in her second week of guest appearances with the company, will play the secretary, and Barbara Rush, the president's daughter. Others in the character listing will be Mary Diveny, Marguerite Morrissey, Howard Morton, and Tobey Thayer. "Goodbye, My Fancy" was a two-year Broadway hit with Madeleine Carroll and Conrad Nagel as the principals.

Announcement was made this week that the Robin Hood Theatre company, under the direction of Windsor Lewis, will present a four-week season at The Playhouse in Wilmington beginning November 6th. Further information on this innovation will be forthcoming at a later date.

Summer performances at the Robin Hood are at 8:30 nightly except Sunday, with reduced rates in effect on Mondays.

Inflation Fight To Continue, OPS Says

Under New Amendments To Control Act

The fight against inflation will be continued under the new amendments to the price control act just as it was prior to the enactment of those amendments by Congress, Joseph J. McBryan, director of the Office of Price Stabilization in Pennsylvania, southern New Jersey and Delaware, promised this week.

He reminded merchants, manufacturers and others covered by the legislation that it is the intent of Congress under the present act not only to provide for national defense but also to guard against everything that may result in increasing both the cost of living and cost of defense.

In order to accomplish this, McBryan said, it will be necessary to stabilize living costs of the millions of factory and office workers in the nation. At the same time, he added, it will be essential that production costs be kept at the lowest point for farmers and other businessmen.

To do this, most of the regulations issued by OPS before the former defense act expired on July 31, 1951, continue in force, according to McBryan. Major changes of wide effect include the elimination of the two price roll backs on retail and wholesale beef prices, he said, adding that these were originally scheduled for August 1 and October 1. Also no longer in force under the amended act is OPS' right to set up slaughtering quotas on cattle, sheep and hogs, McBryan explained, although OPS still has the very important right to license all livestock slaughtered just as before.

children and begins to tell, in a series of flashbacks, the story of the development of Newark's fluoride program. The camera, mounted on a specially equipped automobile, will move through the central business district and adjacent streets to the school playground off Academy Street.

One of the chief parts in the film is being played by Michael Keene, a professional actor. He will represent Dr. P. K. Musselman, who first proposed the fluoride program here. Another professional, Alex Campbell, will take the part of the mayor.

The movie is being produced by Warner for the United States Public Health Service for distribution on request to local health departments and other organizations in an effort to encourage the fluoridation of community water supplies.

Mr. Henaberry said yesterday the film will be officially credited as being produced through the cooperation of Newark, Delaware.

"MAKE HAY WHILE THE SUN SHINES" WAS A TIME-WORN MAXIM WHEN OUR NATION WAS FOUNDED. IT IS STILL VALID.

THE BROADER APPLICATION OF THE PROVERB IS TO USE OUR EVERY OPPORTUNITY TO STORE UP SOMETHING FOR THE FUTURE. Broiler Industry's Future Is Assayed By U. of D. Economist

Delmarva Firms Seen Eventually Losing Midwest Markets

The Delmarva broiler industry seems to have a long-time advantage in production and marketing costs in Eastern markets. But it will probably lose the more distant markets, in the Midwest, though it will do so gradually.

So believes S. T. Rice, of the department of agricultural economics at the University of Delaware, who takes stock of "Interregional Competition in Commercial Broiler Industry," with special emphasis on the Delmarva peninsula. The report has been published as an Experiment Station Bulletin.

He compares the local industry with broiler growing in the Shenandoah Valley, northern Georgia, Indiana, and Arkansas.

Says Rice, broiler production efficiency is about the same in all areas studied. But the Delmarva area has many advantages over other areas because:

1. It developed a credit system which encourages large scale production.

2. Delmarva has relatively low feed costs.

3. The size of the Delmarva industry has attracted large marketing organizations—dressing plants, by-products plants, trucking companies, etc.

4. These large scale operations give Delmarva many cost advantages.

5. Delmarva is near many major markets.

For a copy of this bulletin, write to the Bulletin Room, Delaware Agricultural Extension Service, Newark, and ask for ESB 290, "Interregional Competition in the Commercial Broiler Industry."
