Fraternities To Resume Activity

Rushing Will Start About December 1st

At a recent meeting of the interested members of the Faculty and Fraternity Alumni it was decided to reopen the five fraternities on campus. These organizations were suspended early in 1943 because membership on campus dwindled from 20 to 40 persons per fraternity down to 0. Housing conditions are to be remedied by next semester. The fraternities will resume activities with the "rushing" season starting December first.

The ASTRP have been occupying the Sigma Nu house, and the MP units previously used the Sigma Nu and the Sigma Phi Epsilon houses. The Kappa Alpha and Sigma Tau Phi fraternities rented their homes to private individuals during their inactive period.

The Theta Chi's have already opened their house, repainted their rooms, and are in part now occupying it.

A list of the fraternity men on campus, graduate and undergraduate, includes the following:

Theta Chi: Gordon Brewer, William Moffett, Scotty Duncan (transfer), Harry Huxford (pledge), Robert Campbell (pledge), Joseph Hearn (pledge), William Whedbee (pledge), Albert Lenhart (graduate).

Sigma Nu: John Ott, Richard McHugh, Robert Lauer, Charles Lauer, Charles Mitchell, Thomas Mertes (graduate).

Kappa Alpha: Russell Newcombe, Randall Broderson, Stewart Hild, Lawrence Webb (returning).

Sigma Phi Epsilon: James Maxwell, Henry Maxwell, Harry Beik (graduate).

Sigma Tau Phi: Richard Shapiro.

Atom Power Theory Discussed During Last College Hour

Dr. Vincent E. Parker, acting head of the Department of Physics, presented an interesting discussion on the subject of atomic energy at the College Hour held on Monday, October 29, in Mitchell Hall. He stated that the United States should propose an international commission to control the use of atomic power in every nation of the world. Because the fundamental knowledge of atomic energy is the property of scientists throughout the world, the United States cannot long expect to be the only nation possessing the secret for the release of this energy.

Dr. Parker gave two reasons why this proposal should come from the United States: first, to dispel international suspicion of the use which the United States intends to make of her secret, and second, to indicate to our government, in the event that this proposal is rejected, those who might desire to use atomic power in warfare.

Grad Student Will Address Meeting Of Newman Club

Next Assembly to Be Held Nov. 6th

Miss Antionette De Marie, a graduate student in bacteriology at the University, will address the Newman Club at its meeting on next Tuesday, November 6, in the Commuters' Room of Robinson Hall.

Last June Miss De Marie, a resident of Dover, was graduated from Immaculata College, where she was president of the Inter-American Action Club. She is currently studying for the master's degree here and will write her thesis on the subject of soil bacteriology.

Edmond Vaklyes, the president of the club, has appointed two committees to investigate the possibilities of two proposed activities. The one which will formulate specific plans for a club publication has as its members: William Kirsch, chairman; Mary Bukay, Ella Grim, and Jack Harty. The other, which will lay the foundations for a club library, is composed of: Miss De Marie, chairman; Marie Di Sabatino, Louise Dougherty, and James Mays.

Both committees will meet soon to consider the nature each of scope, and probable operating these proposals will take, their budgets. It was made clear, however, that additional ideas from club members will be welcomed.

Mary Tierney, chairman of the Program Committee, has added the additional names of Helene Clark and Miss De Marie to the list of those serving on this committee.

At the last meeting, the Rev. William Jennings, assistant pastor of St. Mary's Church, Wilmington, spoke on the subject: "Is the Church Modern?" He defined and explained the fundamental and immutable principles of morality and right reason which establish the Church as modern to all ages. Afterwards, he answered and discussed questions on a variety of subjects which were put forth in an open forum session.

E-52 Players Will Present 32nd Drama Tomorrow Night

Curtain Time 8:15 For The Great Big Doorstep

Tomorrow evening at 8:15 the curtain will rise on The Great Big Doorstep, the 32nd production of the E-52 Players to be given in Mitchell Hall. This will be the first production of the players to be directed by Dr. C. R. Kase, Director of Dramatics, since his return from the armed forces.

The Great Big Doorstep gives us a perfect picture of life in the incredible region known as the Deep Delta Country. The inhabitants are known as Cajuns, descendants of the Acadians, the French settlers who were exiled from Nova Scotia. Their tale has been well told in Longfellow's Evangeline. The Cajuns were driven to the Delta region where the Mississippi meets the sea and have completely become a part of the country.

Papa Crochet, called the Commodore and played by our guest actor Taggart Evans, is a shiftless, fat rascal, who is always hoping that prosperity will be dropped into his lap. His good luck charm turns up in the form of a "stupendable" white doorstep which has been fished out of the flood swollen waters of the Mississippi, probably belonging to an old plantation house up the river. The doorstep is proudly placed in front of his three-room Delta shack. The problem of the Commodore and the rest of the Crochet family now is to find a house to match the magnificent doorstep. And so the play moves on, with a series of near tragedies, to follow the adventures of the Crochets in acquiring their new house.

Perhaps one of the biggest headaches of the production was to find old enough clothes for the Crochet family. The clothing drive last year robbed most of us of any suitable garments. The Crochet family is clean, but their clothes are extremely tattered and faded. According to Dr. Kase it was easier to get the Spanish Moss shipped up from Louisiana than to find old clothes in Delaware.

The members of the cast are: Taggart Evans, from the University Drama Group; Sybil Levenson, Jane Booker, Dorothy Catts, Joseph Woods, Parker Thomas, also from the University Drama Group; June Anderson, Betty Hutchinson, Bill Merrion, Charles Rogers, Marilyn Greenberg, and Jean Tullar.

Assistant director for The Great Big Doorstep is Nancy McQuaid, and the Production Manager is Astrid Delitzsch.

Chairmen of the various production committees are: Jack Harty, Stage Manager; Joan Cauffiel and George Irving, Lighting; June Anderson, Make-up;

Art Exhibit Now Shown in Library

The first Art exhibition of the term is now being shown in the Art Gallery of the Memorial Library. The exhibition entitled "Artists Paint People," consists of reproductions in the Carnegie Collection. It will be shown until Nov. 14.

Exhibitions of this type are held regularly in the Gallery on the second floor of the Library. Anyone interested in Art will find these showings very interesting and informative because explanatory labels accompany each picture. The gallery may be reached by the steps on the left side of the Library foyer.

Special Studies To Be Offered Vets Respective Deans Will Handle Most Problems

The possibility of offering special, accelerated courses for returning veterans this term was one of the subjects of discussion in a meeting of the administrative group on Monday, October 29. If no further complications arise with the GI Bill or other hindrances, this course might be started about the middle of November. Men would only carry two subjects but would meet their classes more often for eight weeks and thus receive six credits.

Furthermore, the incoming and present veterans, men or women, shall henceforth deal directly with their respective deans in all matters. The deans will refer them for any needed additional advice to the proper authorities.

Also, it is hoped that beginning courses required of all students can be offered during the second semester for the benefit of the veterans. This would eliminate the restrictions on the semesters when the numerals of some of these courses would seem to indicate that they would be given.

Letters to The Editor

Dear Editor:

I attended one of the leading Universities where men and women were both under the honor system. The system flourished for a while on its tradition, and at no time was there any major objection raised from the ladies of the University. However, the honor system caused strong objections from the gentlemen; that is, from the ones upholding a gentleman's code of regard for human values. Students reveling in drunken slug fests are the students not only flourishing under such a system, but also administering it with the threat of physical violence as the attempt to prosecute said administrators when they themselves have committed unquestionable violations of the honor system. Should we subject ourselves to a system which may not prosecute the very officials of the system? Furthermore, no red-blooded man wants to be placed in the position where he is required to squeal on his fellowmen each time they make a misstep. It is not only an undemocratic system, but neither is it the system to which we will be subjected when out in the business world. It is the latter system which we are supposedly preparing to face in the light of reality and not in the blinding light of ethereal idealizations.

There is a large proportion of veterans in the men's enrollment who have been used to relying on their buddies for their very lives, rather than being used to a set-up where the man next to you will knife you in the back as soon as you make the slightest slip.

I cannot see how the honor system can flourish at a prison if the disgraceful penalty of being expelled from the institution is punishment for a violation of the honor code. I can see how it would meet with hearty approval from the inmates, however. Let us at least hope that the advocates of said honor system do not deem it necessary to take the same measures with the students of the University of Delaware as have been necessary with the inmates of the prison of Delaware.

Charles Stockly.

Dear Editor:

The Honor System has proved its worth in Womens' College and in other universities throughout the nation. As I took my classes with the women last year, I worked under the Honor System. I saw no cheating of any kind.

Before the war I studied here under the old student-faculty "cops-and-robbers" game. I can remember no test on which the students did not cheat. Crib sheets were in regular use and ghost-writing was rife.

It is clear that those who oppose the Honor System would rather not be on their honor to not cheat. They would prefer to cheat and take their chances on being caught than take a chance on a guilty conscience.

Without an Honor System this University is dodging its responsibility to the students, the State of Delaware, and the United States of America. It should build moral strength.

I therefor call for an Honor System!

Meet the Cast

June Anderson

June is a brown-eyed Sophomore at the U. of D. from Fairmount, Delaware. She went to Georgetown High School and was vice-president of the dramatic club there. She had a part in the play which won top honors for Sussex County in Delaware's last Play Festival. Here at the University she has acted in The Cradle Song and the Christmas pageant.

June plays the piano and likes loud, fast music. As far as studies are concerned, English is her favorite. She loves to watch football games but admits that she's not at all athletic herself. Frilly clothes and collie dogs complete her list of "likes." Believe it or not we couldn't pry a single aversion out of her.

June is taking the part of one of the twins, Fleece, in The Great Big Doorstep. She thinks her part is interesting and likes the character role.

Marlyn Greenberg

Marlyn is a curly headed transfer student from Selbyville, Delaware. She's come to the University from the University of Connecticut and is a Sophomore.

In The Great Big Doorstep she has the part of Mrs. Dupre. Marlyn acted in her class' Senior play, and we think that you should ask her about her rendition of torch songs. She is seriously interested in singing but hasn't yet decided on her major subject.

Her "likes" are particularly hamburgers with onions, eating 'most any time, wearing men's sport jackets, Billy Holliday's recording of "Lover Man," and rooms with a surplus of bulletin board paraphernalia.

Jean Tullar

Probably all of the upperclassmen will remember Jean from last year's production but we would like to introduce her to our new students. Jean's from Lansdowne, Pennsylvania, and went to high school there. In Lansdowne High School she was production manager for the dramatic organization. She is now a Sophomore at the U. of D. and is a sociology-psychology major. She acted in The Cradle Song and The Physician in Spite of Himself last year. This year she is taking the part of Mrs. Beaumont Crochet, the florist, in The Great Big Doorstep. She is also business manager for this production, and that job is more worrying to her than her stage part.

Betty Hutchinson

Betty is a Freshman and new to the campus, though not to the stage. She is from Chatham, New Jersey, and was graduated from Chatham High School. She was quite active in high school dramatics. She had the part of Jane in Pride and Prejudice and also appeared in her high school's production of the traditional Charlie's Aunt. She is taking the part of the other twin, Elna, in The Great Big Doorstep, and insists that she has a few more words to say than Fleece.

Betty wants to major in English, and enjoys reading as all good English majors should. Her musical tastes run to boogie-woogie and records of the King Cole Trio. She likes all kinds of sports but horseback riding is her favorite. She will admit to one violent dislike: sewing.

Publications Committee Holds First Meeting

Last Friday afternoon the Faculty Committee on Student Publications met in Dean Daugherty's office. The meeting was called to talk over the revised Constitution of the REVIEW that was presented to the committee for their approval. As you know the REVIEW started publication last year after a two-year term of idleness. There were many things that were changed when the paper came back into publication, and these changes called for a new Constitution. The committee discussed the content of the proposed Constitution and unanimously approved it as it stood.

Other publications that have been out of print for some time were discussed, and as soon as it is possible for them to reorganize it should be brought to the attention of the committee or Dean Daugherty, who is the chairman of the committee.

The students of the University should also begin to think about the yearbook. As yet no plans have been made because it is not known whether the students want a yearbook or not. If sufficient interest is shown plans can be made. The university has never had a yearbook that was put out by the joint efforts of the men and women. Now that we are a university this will probably be the nature of the yearbook. But there is no established name for such a yearbook. In the past such titles as THE BLUE KEY, THE BLUE HEN, and THE BLUE AND GOLD have been used. What's your viewpoint on the subject? Shall we have a yearbook? What should the book be called? Let us hear from you.

Alumnae Executive Council to Meet

The Fall Meeting of the Executive Council of the Alumnae Association will be held in Warner Hall next Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. President Olive Murray Jones will conduct the session. About fifty persons are expected to be in attendance coming from all parts of Delaware, and from Pennsylvania, New York, Baltimore, and Washington, D. C.

Guests of honor at the tea which will follow the meeting will be Dr. W. O. Sypherd, Dean and Mrs. W. Earl Armstrong, Dean Gwendolyn S. Crawford, and the members of Dean Crawford's Advisory Committee on the Education of Women: Mrs. Clarence Fraim, representing the State Federation of Women's Clubs; Mrs. George W. Rigby, representing the American Association of University Women; Mrs. Norman C. Hedges, representing the State Grange; and Mrs. J. P. Patnow and Mrs. R. O. Bausman, representing the Alumnae Association.

Student Council Notes

Dorothy Davis and Barbara Mitchell have been elected permanent Heads of the House for Harter Hall. We wish to extend our welcome to these two new Council members.

A committee for May Day nominations has been chosen. The chairman is Anne Swain and other members are: Blax Cummins, Dorothy Platt, Mary Anne Shipherd, and Caroline Storms.

We are asking the girls not to entertain the boys in the common rooms between dinner and 7:30 p. m. There have been cases where girls have stretched the 7:30 limit; if this privilege is misused, it will have to be withdrawn from everyone.

The point system has been revised on the basis of multiples of two so that the total number of activity points a girl may hold is sixteen.

Our congratulations go to the new Freshmen Class Officers. The Captain is Virginia Smith, and the Sub-Captain is Betty Jo Banks.

Dean of Women Is Active Off Campus

Dr. Gwendolyn S. Crawford, Dean of Women, is quite active in civic and social affairs elsewhere, too. She has been vitally interested in the welfare and success of her proteges here at the University, but that has not stopped her outside activities and associations entirely.

Thus far this term she has spoken at numerous meetings, including the Pilot Club (Business and Professional Women) of Wilmington, the American Association of University Women of Wilmington, the Temple Beth Emeth Sisterhood of Wilmington, and several others. She recently represented the University of Delaware and the American Academy of Political and Social Science at the 75th Anniversary Celebration of Wilson College's founding. This past week-end she attended the Regional Association of Deans of Women and Advisors of Girls, which met in Washington, D. C. She spoke yesterday, October 30, before the Lion's Club in Wilmington.

ASTRP Graduation

Certificates for successful completion of the basic course were awarded to fourteen members of the ASTRP on October 26, 1945, in Mitchell Hall. Brigadier General Paul Rinard, adjutant general of Delaware, delivered a short address to those present.

The graduates, all natives of New York, have completed three terms of twelve weeks each. The remaining ASTRP boys who have become eighteen years of age will go into active service, while the others will enter advanced training.

LET US KNOW YOUR OPINION

In the past corsages have been given for all formal dances. It is the opinion of many that the giving of corsages should be eliminated for the semi-formal Thanksgiving Dance. We should like to know the opinion of the student body, as a whole, on this matter.

Blue Hen Booters End Losing Streak

Defeat Gettysburg, 3-0

The University of Delaware booters came up with their first win of the season Saturday, October 27, against the strong Gettysburg team, 3-0.

The happy man, Coach Kurman, revamped his line-up after the Johns Hopkins game and displayed a team that showed the spectators plenty of drive and the most important thing of all—scoring punch.

In the first half the Blue Hens drove into enemy territory but were unable to score. Starting the second half Delaware came out with drive that was not to be stopped until Huxford scored the first goal of the game. Kurman's men out-rushed and out-kicked the Gettysburg team and went on to score two more goals in the second half. Cann kicked the second score on a corner kick that went right into the goal. Cann came right back to score another goal on a penalty kick. The opponents tried hard in the last few minutes to come back and score, but the backfield kept the ball well up field.

The line-ups:

Delaware (3)	(1) Gettysburg
Cann	O. L. Rankin
Povey	I. L. Schmitthener
Figenblatt	I. R. Reis
Edwards	I. R. Edrhart
Colona	O. R. Shievley
Mackey	L. H. Butler
Riggin	C. H. Enthwistle
Conner	R. H. Perry
Brewer	L. F. Smith
Scott	R. F. Beharry
Monaghan	Goal—Romig

Subs: Delaware—Riley, Barnes, Miller, Huxford, Bishop. Gettysburg—Kessler, Fink, Stistle and Jesurun.

Virginia M. Smith, Costumes; Anne Hulme, Properties; Jack Harty, Stage Crew; Malcolm Colton, Photography; Astrid Deltzsch, Publicity; Jack Harty, Scenery; Anne Scannell, Prompting; Jean Tullar, Business.

Ensign Miriam Lewis, USNR, and Sgt. Layton Mayberry, FA, visited Mitchell Hall recently when production was in progress. Ensign Lewis almost immediately rolled up her sleeves and started in painting the Crochet's shack. Before her induction into the WAVES she had been chairman of scene painting for the E-52 Players. She has just returned from a course in recreation given at the Army School for Personnel Service at Lexington, Va., and will leave soon for a new assignment in the Welfare and Recreation Division of the 13th Naval District on the West Coast.

Sgt. Maybrey, a paratrooper from the ETO, acted in the last two plays presented by the Players before the war. He decided to spend his entire furlough working with the Players on The Great Big Doorstep, and is serving in the capacity of Technical Advisor.

U. of D. Gridders Defeated by Johns Hopkins Team, 6-0

George Mullinix, big Johns Hopkins University halfback, plunged his way through the right side of the University of Delaware line in the second quarter of the game at Frazer Field Saturday afternoon to upset the Blue Hens, 6-0, before 2,000 fans.

Mullinix forced the Delaware eleven deep into their own territory with his line plunges, and finally drove over the goal line for the only score of the game. In the first half Johns Hopkins kept the Blue Hens on the defense.

Some fine kicking by Neff in the early minutes of the game put Hopkins deep into their own territory. Neff's first kick went 63 yards to go out of bounds on the five-yard line. The Jays came right back only to have Neff put it out on the one-foot line. The Blue and Gold finally took possession of the ball on the visitors 45 yard line and began to drive toward pay dirt, only to be stopped by a punt on the ten-yard line. The Jays came right back and carried the ball deep into home ground, but lost the ball on downs.

The second half showed an inspired Delaware team which took the kick-off and brought it up to the 50 yard mark. On repeated line plunges by Cataldi, the Blue Hens drove to the 20 yard line. On the next play Delaware suffered its second costly penalty that put them back on their heels. They lost the ball on downs and Hopkins kicked out of trouble. Delaware returned the punt into enemy ground and started another touchdown drive, but once again were penalized on the one foot line for pushing. Delaware tried desperately to score on the next play, but lost the ball on downs.

The remainder of the game was fought in mid-field with Hopkins holding on to the ball till the time ran out.

The lineup:

Delaware (0)	(6) Johns Hopkins
Barnes	L. E. Hagner
Campbell	L. T. McClayton
Stalloni	L. G. Eichner
Kingsberg	C. Carey
Northwood	R. T. Flynn
Julian	R. E. Miller
Hearn	Q. B. Thompson
Neff	L. H. Sandell
Doherty	R. H. Mullinix
Cataldi	F. B. Koerber

Score by Periods

Johns Hopkins	0	6	0	0	—6

Touchdowns: Mullinix. Substitutions: Johns Hopkins—Romos, Welch, Bonura, Thompson, Baake, C. D. Miller. Delaware: Duncan, Lockermann, Cunningham, Schied, Hartman.

Officials: Referee Kaufman, Princeton. Umpire, J. King, Princeton. Loyola. Field Judge, J. Springfield. Head Linesman, Huber, Penn State.

INTRODUCING THE HOCKEY CAPTAINS

Jean Dukek

Tall, blond, and good-looking, Jean Dukek will captain the senior hockey team in their big game to maintain their unbeaten record. Hailing from Lansdowne, Pa., where she held down such offices as secretary of Hi-Y, secretary of her sorority, and was a member of the National Honor Society, Jean came down here to the U. of D. in 1943 and soon showed her capabilities and is now the secretary of the Women's Student Council. (Secretarial work is right down her alley, because private sec. after college for a while).

Every so often in Warner Hall there reverberates down the hall a ringing, "Chees-it" which means Jean is giving vent to her stirred-up feelings over something.

All sorts of fields of interest claim this versatile gal's time and attention. In sports, aside from liking hockey, tennis and basketball, her favorite is ping-pong and she has a wicked forehand smash. Music and Art also claim a good deal of her interest. Chorus couldn't very well do without her second alto, and in the several art courses she has taken, she's really shown talent and has consequently been perpetually pestered by all sorts of clubs to do posters.

Whenever there's a party going on, you can bet your last red points that Dukek's somewhere near because she loves parties and wherever fun and high spirits are holding forth. Knitting is another of her practices and she turns out the best looking sweaters and argyle socks that you ever saw.

Jean is ready and waiting for the final hockey game to come, and although she doesn't want to appear too confident, she thinks she's captaining a good team and her hopes are sky high.

Mary Ann Shipherd

If you will watch the hockey field you will see Mary Ann Shipherd, better known as "Shippy." As class manager of this particular sport she is a leading figure.

"Shippy" comes from Easton, Maryland, and graduated from Linden Hall in '44. There she participated in hockey, soccer and basketball. Here at the U. of D. you can see her earnestly cheering on both the soccer and football fields. Along with her all-around ability in athletics "Shippy" is Sophomore class representative on the Student Council. Since she is a chemistry major she is a member of the Math Club and the Science Club.

Jean Cameron

Jean Cameron, the diminutive captain of the Freshman hockey team, hails from Kentucky, but her present home is in Dover. That she is interested in hockey is shown by the fact that she played varsity hockey for four years at Dover High School. She is also active in many other sports, swimming and riding in particular. She likes dogs and the Air Corps. Her pet peeves are sweet potatoes and Sophomores. Because her favorite subject in school is Spanish, she some day hopes to go to Mexico to do public health work. Jean is one of the girls who commutes from Harter Hall.

Jean has organized the Freshman hockey team on which she plays wing and she thinks that the Freshmen have a very good chance of beating the Sophomores—(revenge, perhaps!)

Library Lore

Recent additions to the library's holdings include several items of unusual interest. The Biennial Report of Chief of Staff Marshall to the Secretary of War is accompanied by a war atlas which is something unique in its use of maps to express chronology of events. There is a double page spread for each month of the war, one side for the European area and the other for the Pacific area, with Allied losses and gains shown in color. Another item which should attract attention is the facsimile reproduction of the Instrument of Surrender, with the complete text and all signatures, both Allied and Japanese.

For those interested in the University's past, an index to the students, faculty, officers, trustees, and recipients of honorary degrees between 1833 and 1870 may be found helpful. This index, recently completed, was prepared by Mr. Lewis.

New faces around the library: Miss Barbara Beaman, December '44 graduate of the University, has recently been appointed circulation assistant.

Painting to Be Shown; Talk Given by Art Dept.

"Skunk Cabbage," a painting by Mrs. Margaret Allison of the Art Department will be shown at the thirty-first Annual Northwest Exhibition in the Seattle Art Museum, Seattle, Washington. Other works in the exhibition have been done by artists from Washington, Idaho, Montana, Oregon and British Columbia.

Another member of the Art Department, Miss Elizabeth Bailey, is going to give a talk at the Women's Club of Elkton on "The Painting of the Present Day." She will show excellent reproductions as well as a few originals, and will discuss the trends in present-day painting.

All together they spell a

BIG RUSH

on Long Distance

You can't see the rush on Long Distance, but it's bigger than ever. Many thousands of the calls are from returning service men. So please help them get their calls through faster by limiting your call to five minutes when the operator requests it, and by making only necessary Long Distance calls in the evening.

It won't be like this forever. We're hard at it to take the pressure off our lines and to "resume speed" once more with the Bell System's true standards of service. Next year—we can tell you now—2,100,000 miles of Long Distance Telephone circuits are to be added to the Bell System. That's more Long Distance circuits than there were in both Great Britain and France before the war.
