Uncle Tom stereotype

Portrayals of an enslaved man or a man in a servile position, most often middle-aged or older, who is content in his enslavement/servitude and loyal to the white individual or family he serves. This stereotype often includes imagery of any white-haired older Black man with a docile appearance. The term "Uncle Tom" had its origins in the character from Harriet Beecher Stowe's novel.

Uncle Tom stereotype

The clam of all the birds that swim,
And fish that cleave the air,
Doth first of all, both great and small,
Adorn the bill of fare.
In stew or fry, or wet or dry,
In fritter, shell, or bake,
Nor lamb, nor jam, nor ham, nor yam,
From clam can take the cake.
