Advanced Work At Various Colleges And Universities This Summer

Half of the 36 faculty members at Newark High School are studying advanced degrees at various colleges and universities this summer, according to Principal Frederick B. B. who is himself currently working on his doctor's thesis in school administration.

Some of the teachers who have turned their attention to advanced study during their vacation are at the University of Delaware. They are: Miss Doris Dean, home economics; Ray Celsinski, science; Frank Hauff, agriculture; Elsworth Hauff, industrial arts; and Mrs. Catherine Flaney, mathematics.

Those now studying at the University of Pennsylvania are Raymond Justin, and Miss Elsie Belz, Spanish. Those attending mid-west schools are: Mr. Miller, working on his master's degree in science at Kansas City University; and William Morrison, who is taking mathematics courses at the University of Michigan.

Miss Smith, commercial instructor, is studying at the University of Virginia.

Faculty members are also keeping busy. Fred Sposato, social sciences department head, is directing New-summer recreation program. Eugene Klichava, art teacher, is serving as counselor at a boys' camp in Maryland and Ernest R. Wilder, director, is operating a summer camp for band members and instrumental students.

During the course of his talk, "Sense and Nonsense," Mr. Adams will discuss among other things his experiences in the world of journalism. Launched on a journalistic career like many other young men, his first assignment consisted of writing weather reports for the Chicago Journal. The story of his life from this point on will be contained in his talk, accompanied by the anecdotes and incomparable sense of humor which has made him famous—and related as only F.P.A. could relate it.

Mr. Adams' informal talk will make an interesting and entertaining beginning for the second summer school series of weekly programs open to the public. The arrangements were made through the director of recreation, J. Robert King, and everyone is cordially invited to attend without charge.

9-Day Legion Carnival To Open July 28; Prize List Includes Television Set

Continuing the carnival spirit stirred up by the firemen a few weeks ago, Newark's legionaires are planning to take over the area behind the Academy building for their annual carnival, which will open Friday, July 28 and continue through August 5.

Aiming at outdoing the firemen if possible, the O'Daniel Post members will set up a wide variety of concessions and kiddie rides. Among the latter will be a roller coaster, ferris wheel and merry-go-round.

Nightly ground prizes will be offered. A television set tops the list of valuable awards.

Proceeds from the event, which is under the direction of Conrad Lewis, Jr., will go to finance the O'Daniel activities during the coming year.

The Auxiliary will operate a booth, offering fancy work, fish pond, etc., throughout the carnival. Baked goods will be sold July 29 and August 3.

Franklin P. Adams At U. Of D., July 26

Public Invited To Hear "Information Please" Expert

The University of Delaware's second lecture and concert series of the summer will begin on Wednesday, July 26, when Information Please's most famous contestant, "the greatest living expert in useless information," Franklin P. Adams, will talk on the subject, "Sense and Nonsense," in Mitchell Hall at 8:15 p.m.

Mr. Adams, generally known as F.P.A., has been before the radio public for over ten years on Information Please, but his fame as a whimsical commentator on life and repository odd bits of information began long before this. His well-known column, The Conning Tower, ran for almost 40 years. Through this and his other writings such as "Christopher Columbus," "Melancholy Lute," and "Innocent Merriment," he established himself as America's leading collector of unusual and unpredictable literary tidbits.

During the course of his talk, "Sense and Nonsense," Mr. Adams will discuss among other things his experiences in the world of journalism. Drop In Town Cash Reserve Fund Is Not Due To Expenditure

Last Week's Report On Decline In Town Treasury Gave Wrong Impression

The sizable decline in the town's cash reserves reported last week in the Post was not due to any large expenditures, according to Mayor Wallace Johnson.

In an effort to correct a misimpression given by the article covering the June treasury report, Mayor Johnson said the dip in reserves was due chiefly to a change in bookkeeping methods.

About $11,000 in customers' deposit money, normally included in the town's general fund, was transferred to a special account. Since the money technically does not belong to the town, the new set-up gives a more accurate picture of the Council's financial standing.

Last week, the Post reported the town's reserve had dropped from $33,442.85 in May to $15,874.01 at the end of business in June. The impression was given that the town had spent the difference in the intervening month.

Mayor Johnson stressed the fact that no heavy expenditures were involved and that the town's financial standing is as sound as ever.

No Issue Of Post On Thursday July 27

Continuing its policy begun last year, the Newark Post will skip an issue the week of Thursday, July 27 and the office will be closed the week of July 24-29 in order to give the staff a vacation.

Correspondents and advertisers are advised to schedule their releases accordingly. The Post will resume publication as usual the following week. The office will reopen Monday, July 31.

The skip-issue plan was first introduced last year. Formerly the practice had been to stagger vacations, but with a small staff this proved too cumbersome.

Two Newark Youths Start At Annapolis

Enter "Plebe" Class at U.S. Naval Academy

Two Newark youths, Ricky William Diehl and Steven John Barczewski, were recently admitted as midshipmen to the United States Naval Academy, Annapolis, Md.

Ricky is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Diehl, Nottingham Road, and Steven's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Steven Barczewski, Glasgow.

The two youths will be under instructions for the next four years in preparation for a career as naval officers. Naval education begins the moment they are sworn in as students at the Academy. They are indoctrinated into naval life, issued clothing and lodgings, given thorough physical examinations and mental tests to determine their exact qualifications.

As "plebes," the Academy's term for new students, they will spend the remainder of the summer participating in a wide variety of drills and academic classes and will receive pre-graduate courses ultimately leading to a degree in engineering.

Swim Classes Will End July 21; Final Program Is Planned

Academy Street To Be Roped Off Tonight For The Outdoor Dance

An outdoor dance will be held tonight on Academy Street as a feature of the summer recreation program.

The area opposite the carnival grounds will be roped off from 8 to 11 p.m., according to Fred Sposato, recreation director. Music will be played over an amplifying system by Johnny Wolleyhan's Band.

Another special event is scheduled for Tuesday, when the Brandywine Archers of Wilmington will stage a demonstration of the ancient sport on the high school field at 7 p.m.

Swimming classes at the university pool will wind up Friday, July 21, Sposato said. The final event will be an aquatic show starting at 7:30 that evening when students in the various classes will demonstrate their water skill.

Beginning Monday, July 24, the high school playground will be open in the afternoons from 2 to 4:30 p.m.

A recent feature at the Read Village playground was a pet show with entries by 12 children. Prizes were awarded the following pet owners: Carol Bogart, best dog; Bill Jarrell, smallest dog; Beverly Burris, prettiest dog; Joan Carol and David Douglas, second best dog; Lynn Colburn, biggest dog.

Bill Skold took honors for the best cat, with other awards going to Frances Lyons for the cutest kitten, Buster Riley, second cutest kitten; and Janet Riley for the kitten with the shortest tail.

First Presbyterian Picnic Draws Over 100 Church Pupils

Full Round Of Activities Enjoyed; Prize Winners Are Listed

The annual picnic of the First Presbyterian Sunday School was held last Thursday at the town recreation grounds with an enthusiastic group of about 100 pupils, parents and friends attending. The activities went on all afternoon, interrupted by an occasional dash to the shelter of trees during a shower.

The games were in charge of a committee headed by the pastor, Rev. H. E. Hallman, assisted by Barton Mackey, Ann Chalmers, Sara Steele, and Mrs. Mervin Dale.

Annette Ely won the prize for the senior department games. David Mackey won the prize for the intermediate boys while Johanna Miller and Carolyn Jones won first and second places respectively for the intermediate girls.

First prizes for the junior group went to Ricky Parker for the boys and to Janet Ely for the girls, while Lester Lewis and Connie Parker took second places. The primary and beginners group engaged in a number of games and ended with a peanut hunt which was equally amusing to spectators and contestants alike. All in these two groups were given balloons and lollipops. The prizes were in charge of a committee consisting of Mrs. George Lowry and Harvey Robertson.

The supper was served on the tables under the big trees which served both as a protection from the occasional showers and from the sun which came out between times to cheer things up. Fortunately, the real rain held off until the adults had finished their supper, following the first tables served to the youngsters. The dinner itself was in charge of Mrs. Edith B. Tiffany, assisted by Mrs. Ellsworth Carr and Mrs. John McCool.

Transportation was in charge of the Supt. Mervin S. Dale.

The general committee in charge of the whole affair was headed by Mrs. J. Owen Ely, assisted by Barton Mackey, Mrs. Mervin Dale, Sara Steele and Charles M. Cooper.

Private Enterprise Is Flourishing Here

Latest Main Street retail enterprise opened Monday, when 8-year old Jimmie Eubanks set himself up in the grocery business.

His chief item of stock, displayed on a fruit box next to the family barber shop, was a supply of fresh onions. Master Howard Cage was chief clerk.

The venture was shortlived. Jimmie closed down Tuesday after making a 70-cent killing. Now a staunch believer in private enterprise, Jimmie says there is nothing to equal the opportunities offered in America for young men of vision and imagination.

Wage earner Cage says private enterprise may be okay but what he favors is a broader share-the-profit plan.

Mrs. Paul D. Lovett Is Elected As President Of State Legion Auxiliary

Mrs. Paul D. Lovett

Mrs. Paul D. Lovett, Old Oak Road, was elected president of the Department of Delaware, American Legion Auxiliary, at the group's 29th annual convention last weekend in Dover.

Two other Newark residents, Miss Dora Gibb and Mrs. John Fader, were elected to department offices. Miss Gibb was named recording secretary and Mrs. Fader treasurer. Mrs. J. Harvey Dickey, South College Avenue, was appointed department executive secretary.

The state American Legion held its 32nd annual convention at the same time, electing Col. Edgar S. Stayer, Rehoboth, as Department Commander.

Two Newark legionaires, Paul D. Lovett, husband of the Auxiliary's new president, and Dr. Carl J. Rees were singled out for department posts. Mr. Lovett was named a delegate to the national legion convention, and Dr. Rees was appointed alternate to the newly elected national executive committee, Samuel Fread, of Rehoboth.

Mrs. Lovett was installed as the Auxiliary's new president by Mrs. Charles H. Mills, national eastern vice-president. Mrs. Lovett, who for the past two years has served as the department's first vice-president, has been highly active in the local O'Daniel unit. She is a past president of the group and has held a number of chairmanships. She is also a past treasurer of the department.

Among those named as delegates to the national Auxiliary convention this fall were Mrs. Lovett and Mrs. Dickey, Mrs. Lellie R. Little, Elkton Road, was named among the alternates.

No Recruiting Post Nor Draft Unit Here

Volunteers And Inductees Handled Thru Wilmington

Newark currently has neither a recruiting station nor a draft board, it was pointed out this week in response to a number of queries on enlistment and selective service procedures spread by Korean war news.

Young men and women interested in joining any branch of the armed services are advised to seek information at the Wilmington Postoffice, where the Army and Air Force, Navy and Marines maintain their nearest recruiting offices.

Any draftees from Newark will be handled through the Selective Service Board at 908 West Eighth Street, Wilmington.

Delaware's quota in the recently issued national draft call for 20,000 inductees is 45 men. Although there was no word this week on when Delaware's draftees will be given pre-induction physical examinations, it is expected they will all be inducted by Sept. 30.

The four Delaware draft boards, who have a pool of men in the I-A classification, will call on 25-year olds first.

The Army still maintains a recruiting sub-station in the Newark postoffice, but, due to a shortage of manpower, has been unable to staff it recently. Cpl. Joseph Haus, former recruiting chief here, has been called to the Wilmington station to assist with the increased activity there.

Final Registration On Oct. 21 For Nov. 7 Vote

The first of two general registration days for persons who are qualified to vote in the Nov. 7 election was held last Wednesday.

Another and final opportunity to register for the November election will be held Oct. 21.

All persons who have lived in the state one year, 90 days in New Castle County and in their present voting district for 30 days, may register to vote.

Final Registration On Aug. 22 For 1st Graders Next Fall

Transfer Pupils To Be Enrolled Aug. 21-25 At Local Schools

Final registration period for students planning to enter the Newark schools for the first time this September is scheduled for August 21 to 25, Principal Frederick B. B. announced this week.

Prospective first graders, not yet enrolled for the fall term, will be signed up Aug. 22 from 9 a.m. to 12 noon and from 1 to 4 p.m. in the elementary building. The youngsters should bring their birth certificates and be accompanied by a parent.

Transfer pupils will be handled on the other days of the registration period. Students in grades one to six should sign up in the new elementary building and those in grades seven through twelve at the main office.

The first grade registration will be the third and final one before the opening of schools. Officials warn that no registrations will be held the first day of school in order to facilitate the organization of classes. Latecomers will have to wait a day or two before they will be registered and assigned to a section.

Twenty-five more first graders enrolled for fall term at the second special registration day recently.

This makes a total of 132 students signed up thus far for the incoming class. The figure is somewhat below the number school officials expect to start here in the fall. They anticipate a first grade class of around 170.

The lag in registration is customary, they say, pointing out that there was a last-minute rush of registrants following the opening of school last year.

Officials seek early registrations in order to have time to test the new pupils for reading ability and other skills. Once this is done the children can be assigned to their proper group level, and classes can be formed with a minimum of confusion at the opening of school.

New U. D. Extension Course Program Set

Certificates To Be Offered Night Students

A new certificate program for evening school students at the University of Delaware is being arranged to start with the fall term.

Dr. Allan P. Colburn, acting president, said that the certificate program "will bring additional opportunities to many citizens of the state, who never have been able to study in a definite college program. This recognition can mean a great deal to employers and employees in indicating an educational achievement."

The certificate program, to be offered through the University Extension Division, now is before a faculty committee for arrangement of courses to be offered in four fields: General business, accounting, chemistry, and general arts. It is expected that 60 credit-hours will be required for certification. There is to be no maximum time limit for completion of a program by a part-time student, but in most cases at least five years' study would be needed. The 60 hours represent slightly less than one-half the credit-hours needed to win a degree.

All the first offerings will be within departments of the School of Arts & Sciences, but Dr. Colburn said that he and Paul M. Hodgson, university extension director, believe that "this is the start and additional programs probably will be developed as needs and the possibility of fulfillment develop."

Meet Newark's School Teachers

Nineteenth in Series

Director of both instrumental and vocal music, honored by 14 years experience in educational work, that's a substantial introduction to Mr. Ernest Wilder, who has been with the Newark High School for four years. He also has been Director of Bands at the High School in New Jersey and Supervisor of Music in some of the Pennsylvania schools.

Ernest R. Wilder

Mr. Wilder had already seven years of experience as music director in Philadelphia when the U. S. Navy presented him with a new suit in the service he rendered during his tour of duty in the Pacific.

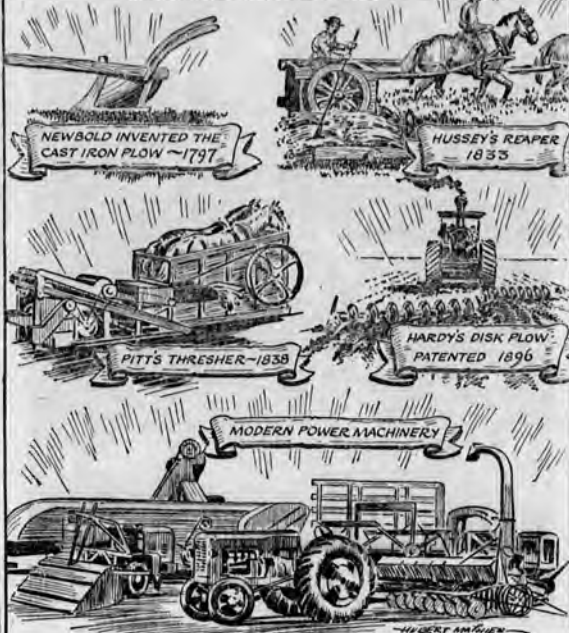

Mr. Wilder has a B. S. degree from the University of Pennsylvania in 1933, but it was in the Delaware County schools of Pa. that he got his start. All along the line he has been a champion of music competition and has been active in county and state association work.

Mr. Wilder is a member of the Delaware Music Week and Senior Activities Committees. Music is Mr. Wilder's life and his hobby is fishing. His wife, Sylvia E. Wilder is a Philadelphia pianist and they have two girls. He likes composing and arranging and his well rounded education and experience have given him both ability and personal charm which spreads its color and sincerity to those students who come under his baton.

Mrs. William Nichol and Mrs. Nichol returned recently to a big family picnic at their farm home. Mrs. Nichol's party included the Lesters of New London and her cousins, the John and Eddy, and sons Bobby and Eddy, and Randolph McCoy, all of Roanoke, Va. The party enjoyed the "reunion." The McCoy family has been guests at the Lathie Lester home for the past few years. To put a polish to the affair, a swimming pool was stocked. Bill caught a good many fish since the pool was stocked. Fire pools have a good many fish.

Jan Kalb, Doris Casaceli, and Doris Nichol attended the "The Church Mouse" at the Robinhood Theatre in Arden, July 1.

"The Telephone," and "Hansel and Gretel" were presented in Arden by a Philadelphia opera company July 1. I know a little girl named Cynthia who, when asked if she wanted to go, showed a doubtful face and said, "We-e-ell, yes, but not if it is going to be screaming!" But look at that shining face upon return from said entertainment, and listen to the attempt to get out all the humor and beauty of the plots in one big rush of enchanted words! Anyone who thinks children can't fully appreciate good artistry is so wrong. The burden of my theme is, skip a couple of westerns, and let Polly Piptails or Peter Pop-up hear some good music or drama, and they'll profit by it, never fear!

This Friday will be the final session of the Mennonite Bible School currently being held at the former Wesley Methodist Church on Route 896 between Newark and Strickersville. The Mennonites from Lancaster County vicinity of Atglen, have purchased the church and plan to hold a Sunday School there, too, should enough of the Bible School participants and others show interest. The members of the Mennonite group do not conduct foreign missionary efforts, preferring to concentrate their efforts on their own "backyard," so to speak, and they are bearing the full expenses of these sessions, even providing transportation, in a most sincere and helpful manner. Our commendations for practicing their beliefs!

May we suggest that anyone who is interested in a Civic Group of some kind, to cope with various matters of local concern, signify this interest by contacting Mrs. George Kalb?

Further, may we suggest as "ripe" material for such a group, those people, who, in spite of signs requesting them not to dump rubbish and garbage, persist in dumping all manner of stuff on private property? We saw one such party dumping stuff by a stream near Strickersville-Landenberg road, and we protest, in company with the owner of the property, that this is not only unhealthy, and attracts vermin, but it pollutes the streams. Several landlords around here have complained about this matter, and we appeal to anyone who sees people dumping things in this manner, to note down the license, and report it to the state police, who have signified their willingness to cooperate in this matter. May we welcome most heartily to this community, Mr. and Mrs. William

Folwell? Mr. Folwell, or "Bill" is the son of Mrs. Mary C. Folwell, and some member of the Folwells has made their home in this community since the 1700s. Bill has assumed the management of the Chambers Rock Farms for his mother, and he and Mrs. Folwell, or Anne, reside at that farm. The Folwells have come here from Indiana, Pennsylvania, where Bill was Assistant Agricultural Extension Agent after graduating from Penn State, where he met Anne, also a graduate of Penn State. State College, Pa., is Anne's home town. She majored in the Romance Languages, and Bill majored in Agronomy. They both love to square dance, and that sounds good enough to us! "Just call me uncle," says Jack Boggs, proudly. Jack's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. George Lee Jones of Del Monte Acres, were the proud parents, and we insist they should name that little boy "Davy" Jones.

Queries On Social Security Answered

Address All Queries To Social Security Administration, Customs House, 6th & King Sts., Wilmington, Delaware

Q. I was 65 in August 1947. I was employed from February 1945 to February 1948 at $20 a week. Can I receive social security benefits?

A. An individual who became 65 in August 1947 needs 21 "quarters of coverage" to be fully insured. A quarter of coverage is any calendar quarter in which you are paid $50 in wages. It appears you have only 13 such "quarters of coverage." You need eight more before you can become entitled to benefits upon filing an application.

Q. What jobs are covered by the Social Security Act?

A. Workers in commerce and industry generally—in factories, mills, stores, restaurants, etc.—are covered. Not covered by the law are, in general, jobs in agriculture, domestic service, Government service, and religious and charitable organizations.

Q. How much are retirement or survivors payments?

A. Retirement payments range from a minimum of $10 per month to $45.20 per month (1949). A wife's payment, a child's payment, or a dependent parent's payment is one-half the retirement amount; a widow's payment is three-fourths of the equivalent retirement payment. Survivors payments range from a minimum of $10 per month. The lump-sum is six times the worker's retirement payment.

Q. If a person who is receiving social security benefits dies, what becomes of his social security payments. Does his wife who survives him collect said payments in addition to her half?

A. In the situation above, the widow would not collect the deceased's payments in addition to her half. Her benefit would increase from one-half of the amount the deceased was receiving to three-quarters of that amount.

Q. I am a single person and support my parents. If I were to die would my parents be entitled to monthly benefits.

A. If your parents were chiefly dependent upon you for support and you were to die fully insured, your parents may be entitled to monthly survivors' benefits.

Q. I am married. My wife is three years older than I. Is she entitled to social security benefits before I reach

POLIO PRECAUTIONS

RECOMMENDED BY THE NATIONAL FOUNDATION FOR INFANTILE PARALYSIS

AVOID NEW GROUPS

DON'T GET OVERTIRED

DON'T GET CHILLED

KEEP CLEAN

WHEN POLIO IS AROUND, the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis recommends these simple precautions: Keep children with their own friends and away from people they have not been with right along. Don't become exhausted through work or hard play. Don't stay too long in cold water or sit around in wet clothes. And always wash hands before eating. Watch for feverishness, sore throat, headache, upset stomach or sore muscles. They may—or may not—mean polio. Call your doctor and then, if help is needed contact the National Foundation Chapter in your area.

Car Recovered

To have one's car stolen and recovered over a hundred miles away, all in the space of 24 hours, is the experience of George R. Leak, garage owner of East Main Street.

Thieves broke into his garage Thursday morning and made off with his Ford sedan. William Dean, a neighbor, heard the car pull away toward Wilmington. Thomas Clarinbold later heard it tear past his farm half a mile away. With these leads, Mr. Leak traced this car, picking up its familiar tread near Wilmington where the thieves turned and back tracked. The trail was lost near Appleton.

On Friday, the Maryland police notified Mr. Leak the car had been found 30 miles north of Baltimore.

Safety Hints

America's greatest highway killer—speed—was named by the Delaware Safety Council today, as June's program of traffic safety education.

About 28,000 traffic accidents occur every year in which at least one person dies. Some 9,000 of these accidents involve a speed violation on someone's part. This staggering cost in human life can be eliminated or reduced only when the motoring public comes to realize that driving too fast for conditions is so hazardous that it makes throwing lighted matches at the bung hole of a powder keg look tame in comparison.

The National Safety Council estimates that the end of the year will have seen about 15 or 16 million American drivers involved in traffic accidents of varying severity. About one of every three of these accidents in which someone is killed will entail a speed violation.

The Delaware Safety Council listed the following tips for drivers:

1. Heed both legal and common sense speed limits.
2. Slow down for curves, intersections, and any place where vision is obscured. Always be prepared to stop quickly.
3. Maintain control over your car at all times. Do not let yourself be lulled into carelessness.
4. Keep at least one car length behind the car ahead for each 10 miles an hour of speed.
5. Avoid on-a-dime stops and remember your responsibility to the driver behind when coming to a stop.
6. Keep the range of your headlights in mind at night. At some speeds it may be impossible for you to stop by the time your headlights warn you of danger.

Bill For Equal Pay To Women Is Approved

The Senate Labor Committee approved a bill recently that would force employers to give women the same pay as men for the same work under threat of criminal penalties.

The measure, approved by a vote of 8 to 4, also would prohibit the granting of federal contracts to an employer found guilty of wage discrimination against women.

Violators would face punishment ranging up to one year in jail and a $5,000 fine. Senator Claude Pepper (D-Fla) sponsored the bill. Enforcement would be up to the secretary of labor.

It declares that lower wages for women cause labor disputes, depress wages generally, subject women to sub-standard living standards and endanger the national security.

Under the bill, complaints would be sent to the labor secretary who then would open hearings. If he believed the law had been violated, he could send the case to the federal courts for a final decision.

DO YOU KNOW —

your stopping distances* under excellent conditions?

At	Distance
20 MPH	40 ft.
30 MPH	73 ft.
40 MPH	115 ft.
50 MPH	166 ft.
60 MPH	226 ft.
70 MPH	295 ft.

Remember, these are excellent conditions — good brakes and straight, level, dry, smooth, hard-surfaced roads.

Some Sunday morning perhaps, when your car is standing at the curb, pace off a few of the above distances. You'll have a new appreciation of the dangers you face while traveling at high speed.

* These distances are based on a 1/4 second time lapse between the time the eye or ear detects danger and the time the brakes are applied.

FILLIN' IN

Just about the strangest malady we've heard of has afflicted a friend of ours. We found it hard to believe him when he told us his symptoms.

It seems he has days when he notices nothing except noses on faces and other days when ears occupy his attention exclusively. The ear days are the worse, he told us. "I get so I can't see people at all, just their ears. Once you begin to see them objectively, ears look fantastic stuck on the sides of people's heads. Sometimes it appears to me that the head is exuding the ears like a grotesque fungus growth, and at other times I get the feeling it's the other way around and the ears are slowly being sucked into the head."

"You can't imagine the social pitfalls this reads me into," he went on. "When my ear days come on, I can't carry on a sensible conversation. Old friends drop in for a visit, chat away pleasantly, and I can't listen. All I can do is stare at the garbled, misshapen things stuck on the sides of their heads. Naturally, people don't like being stared at in quiet horror hour after hour. Eventually, they sense something is wrong and, from the expression of my face, assume it is with them. They excuse themselves nervously and lurch off to worry about it in private, I guess. Usually, I don't hear from them for months."

We sympathized with the fellow, but there seemed little we could do. Later, though, we got to thinking about his problem and hit on what seemed to be a sure-fire solution. It occurred to us that the human head would appear even more ludicrous without ears than it does with them. With ears the head at least looks accessible, invites contact with the outside world. Without them the head would become as unapproachable as a cocoon.

As we saw it, our friend had fallen into the habit of regarding ears as unnatural things, with no proper place in the order of existence. If he could be made to see the alternative—heads without ears—his mental quirk would vanish. Ears would assume for him their proper perspective in the scheme of things once again. The thing to do was to plant in his mind the idea that the human head is better off with ears than without them.

Convinced that we had found the way to salvation for our friend, we dropped in on him that very night and breathlessly outlined our "cure." "Can't you see," we said in our final exhortation, "how silly heads would look without ears?"

Our friend did not answer. His eyes remained lusterless, his face vacant.

"Did you ever notice," he said as from a long way off, "the ridiculous way arms dangle from the human body and flip-flap crazily when people walk. Everybody's arms flip-flap revoltingly and no two sets of arms flip-flap exactly alike. Watch them sometime; it's fascinating."

We could see our friend's affliction had taken a new and ominous turn. We suggested lamely that he try imagining what people would look like without arms.

He shook his head. "There's no getting away from it. People would look decidedly more sensible if they could leave their arms at home when they go for walks."

We left him then. And we haven't tried to figure out a new "cure." In fact, we've begun to notice people's arms, too. They do flip-flap crazily. The worse of it is the feeling that ours do, too.

Eleven year old David Ottey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Ottey, Nottingham Road, summed up his case against parental dictatorship and the subservient status of children in family life recently with the remark, "I'll be glad when I get married and can do as I please."

Greener Pasture Judging Date Nears

Scheduled For November 13 To December 15

How green is your pasture? That's the question that will soon be answered for farmers participating in Delaware's Greener Pastures Program, according to Claude E. Phillips, Extension Agronomist at the University of Delaware. Pasture judges plan to visit all the farms in the contest during the first two weeks in August, he says. This will be the second scoring, and the whole summer feeding program will be carefully examined on each farm. Pastures, says Phillips, will get the most attention. They will be scored on both quantity and quality. Control of weeds, hay and silage, and the amount of grain fed to cows on pasture will be considered.

Besides Phillips, other judges are Delmar J. Young, Extension Dairyman at the University of Delaware, and William H. Mitchell, the University's Assistant Extension Agronomist.

"The farmers sponsoring this program," Phillips points out, "are convinced that milk cannot be produced profitably in Delaware without a plentiful supply of home grown pasture, hay and silage. If these forage crops are of high quality they can replace much of the high priced grain mixtures especially in the spring, summer and fall months. The judges then on their visits will score the farm on all points that affect the efficient production of milk. They will also make suggestions for improvement."

Always stop a machine before getting off to unclog, oil, or adjust. Keep all machine guards and safety devices in place.

Newark Golfers Dominate Play In Delaware Title Tournament

Single Stroke Spells Victory For Al Dollins Over Clubmate Ellis Taylor In Two-Day, 54-Hole Match On Dover Course

Newark's golfers stole the show at the 1950 Delaware State Amateur Tournament last weekend in Dover. Al Dollins beat out his clubmate and defending state champion Ellis Taylor by a single stroke in the grueling two-day, 54-hole tourney for the state crown. Dollins clubbed a 229, while Taylor came in with a 230.

New Turf Course Readied For 10-Day Meeting At Bel Air

Both Turf And Dirt-Track Events Slated For Aug. 16-26 Program

Turfgoers will have ample opportunity to compare turf and dirt-track performances of thoroughbreds during the Bel Air meeting, August 16 through August 26.

Having observed the great public response to racing on the grass at Hialeah Park, Arlington Park and Atlantic City, President G. Ray Bryson, of the Harford County Fair Association, announced recently that an infield flat-race will be scheduled over Bel Air's new turf course each afternoon of the forthcoming 10-day meeting.

Bryson's decision to construct the first turf course in Maryland came after failure on the part of horsemen to provide sufficient entries for steeplechases. Therefore, the jumping course was abolished this spring and the turf course has taken its place.

Turfgoers to Bel Air this year will undoubtedly discover that races over sod are exceptionally formful. This has been proven to such an extent at Hialeah Park that many of the largest single-race mutual handlings there last winter were on events run on the grass. Also, the two infield takes at the Florida oval attracted large crowds.

Many horsemen favor running their horses on grass as they feel that is a more natural surface over which to have their horses race.

Contrary to the belief of many fans, Bel Air is not a half-mile race track. The main oval is actually three-quarters of a mile in circumference. Therefore, even the infield turf course will be longer than a half mile.

Track Superintendent John E. Wells, who has developed a sod of clover and blue grass for the turf course, will work out distance for the infield races, most of which will be run at a mile and a sixteenth and a mile and a furlong. The inside "rail" of the turf course is an English boxwood hedge, approximately 3 1/2 feet high.

Neat and trim in every respect and decorated with flowers as well as the spreading oaks, which is the track's trademark, the Bel Air centerfield provides a picturesque and pleasant scene from the freshly-painted grandstand and clubhouse.

Farm Mortgages In State At New High

The farm mortgage debt in Delaware is now approximately $11 million, according to Dr. R. O. Bausman, head of the Department of Agricultural Economics at the University of Delaware. That is slightly in excess of the debt following World War I.

"This is an increase of 85 percent since 1946," he says, "and is the third largest increase of any state in the country. The farm mortgage debt in Delaware declined following World War I until 1946 when it fell to a low $6 million."

Dr. Bausman points out that some of this debt is due to inflated land prices. Land prices in Delaware are still near their post-war peak; roughly double that of the 1935-39 period. However, farm income in Delaware has increased by 20 percent since 1946. This is the tenth largest increase of any state in the country. Some of the Delaware debt has increased values back of it in the form of poultry houses, poultry equipment, and heavy farm machinery.

Newark A. A. Will Bid For Pen-Mar Loop Lead Sunday

The Newark A. A. meets the league leading Kennet Square Red Socks in a Pen-Mar contest on the Continental Field at 2 p.m. Sunday.

The game is a crucial one, since a victory will put Newark in the circuit's top spot once again. In their previous meeting, Newark handed the Red Socks their only defeat so far this year.

Last Sunday's match with New London was postponed because of wet grounds.

Newark Midget Nine Defeats Newport, 16-3

Local youngsters rack up easy victory

Newark's midget baseball team overwhelmed Newport's midget club, 16-3, in a game here last week.

Using substitutes freely, Newark sewed up the contest with a seven run outburst in the opening inning. Conway, Schuyler and Reedy paced Newark's 16-hit attack with three safe blows each.

After the game both teams joined in a swim at the university pool as guests of the Newark Recreation Association.

4-H Dairy Judging Team Is Selected

High scoring and keen competition featured this year's New Castle County 4-H Dairy Judging Contest held Friday, July 7th, according to Maurice B. Field, Club Agent. Eight classes of cattle covering the Ayrshire, Guernsey, Jersey and Holstein breeds were arranged by Mr. Delmar J. Young, Extension Dairyman, through the cooperation of breeders Richard Swan, John McVaugh, Paul Mitchell, and Mitchell and Woodward.

Heading the list with a top score of 725 from a possible 900 points was H. Wallace Cook, Jr. of the Penacader Club. Close on his heels was William Redding of Mt. Nebo Boys' Club who scored 715 points. Other high scores were made by Joanne Barczewski, Penacader; W. Levis Phipps, Jr. and David Woodward, White Oak; and Charles Savidge of the Y's Owls Club. These six club members will represent New Castle County at the state contest to be held in connection with the Kent-Sussex Fair at Harrington, Delaware, on Friday, July 28th.

Output Hits New Post-War Peak

The Federal Reserve Board said recently preliminary figures show that industrial production reached a new post-war peak in June.

A report to the Senate-Peace Economic Committee put production last month at 197 per cent, figured on the basis of 100 per cent for the 1935-39 period.

Mooreville Bows To Ogletown Nine, 20-7

In the only contest in the Little State League last week, Ogletown swamped Mooreville, 20-7.

The game failed to change the lineup in the loop race, which remained the same for the second straight week.

Ogletown, second to last in the standings, led from the start against third place Mooreville, piling up a 5-0 lead by the fourth and letting loose with an 11 run outburst in the fifth. Still not content, Ogletown continued to pour in on the final two stanzas, netting four runs in each.

Despite their total in the run column, the victors collected only seven hits, one less than their opponents in a game marked by ragged fielding. A Vandepole led Ogletown's attack with three hits.

Delaware Census Of Plants Shows Rise Of 34 Pct. Since 1937

Number of Workers Jumps 45 Pct. During 10 Year Period, Survey Says

The new report of the Census of Manufacturers, just released by the Bureau of the Census, United States Department of Commerce, shows a remarkable growth in Delaware in the last ten years.

The 1937 census showed 359 manufacturing establishments in Delaware and the 1947 census figures show 482, an increase of 34%.

The number of workers increased from 23,731, ten years ago, to 34,463. This was a 45% increase.

The salaries and wages of ten years ago paid these workers was $29,321,000; in 1947, $92,183,000, an increase of 214%.

The most spectacular increase was in the value added by manufacturers, which means the value of products less cost of materials, supplies, fuel, electricity, and contract work.

This was $56,404,000 in 1937, and rose to $182,088,000 in 1947, an increase of 212%.

"Why is it," inquiry has been made to the Chamber of Commerce, "that the report of the Delaware State Tax Commissioner shows 709 manufacturers in Delaware, but the Federal Government shows only 482?"

This is explained, in part, by the fact that the classification of "manufacturer" is different in the Federal regulation than in that of the State.

Still another question frequently asked is why the payroll employment figures in the manufacturers' census do not agree with those of the Unemployment Compensation Commission.

The latter show that in 1949 there were 93,193 workers covered, in Delaware, receiving salary and wages of $281,412,000. The Unemployment Compensation Commission figures include agriculture, mining and construction, transportation, communication and utilities, wholesale and retail trades, finance, insurance and real estate, which establishments are not in the Census of Manufacturers.

Of manufacturers in the census, 60 were in Kent County, 251 in New Castle County and 171 in Sussex County.

Those in New Castle County included 163 located in Wilmington. The largest number of manufacturers were food and kindred products, totaling 118 plants; the next group lumber products (except furniture), showed fifty plants. Third was the printing and publishing industry with 42 plants, and, next, chemical and allied products industry, with 38 plants.

One interesting situation in the survey was that Delaware is a state of small industry. Of 482 plants in Delaware, 403 employed less than 100 persons.

Seven plants with over 100 employees were in Kent County; 54 were in New Castle County; and 18 were in Sussex County.

At their July meeting, held at the home of Miss Hazel Johnston, the Young Adult Fellowship voted to contribute another $300 to the Improvement Fund. This raises their donation to $900.

The Westminster Fellowship has selected the following Adult Advisors to counsel members of four commissions responsible for program: Christian Outreach, Mrs. James H. Bishop; Faith and Life, Rev. James H. Bishop; Stewardship, Mrs. Howard Bradley; Christian Fellowship, Miss Hazel Johnston.

Miss Johnston has been appointed by the session as the official general advisor for the Fellowship, which covers the total youth group from age 12 to 24.

Sunday, July the 30th will be observed with a Young People's program in the church service at 11:00 a.m. The Junior Choir directed by Miss Hazel Johnston will sing "The Trumpet Calls to Triumph" and members of the Westminster Fellowship will have parts in the service. Richard Gifford will read the responsive reading. Gracie Allen and Bertha Bishop will have the scripture readings. Marion and Ellen Gallaher will take the morning offering which will be received by Anita Long.

The pastor, Rev. James H. Bishop, will present a challenge to youth in his message, "The Tide Is Out."

At 7:30 on Sunday evening, July 30th, an informal vesper and song service will be held on the lawn in back of the church. Music will be provided on the electronic chimes, by Miss Rosamayne McCormick, organist.

LITTLE THINGS about the STARS

RADIO * TELEVISION * HOLLYWOOD
By GEORGE LILLEY

NEW YORK, N.Y.—A choice as set of a dramatic radio interview is mood music. The best mood music you don't notice—consciously. If you are openly aware of it, it is distracting and not well written. A master of mood composition is Mrs. Oscar Bradley, who prepares music for interviews on the "We the People" simulcasts—Friday nights, NBC and NBC-TV. Wife of the show's late conductor, former scholar of Guildhall School of Music, London, Mrs. Bradley composes 25 to 30 different bits of music for each half-hour program. Bright mood, for glamour people, tragic music and "heart" music she does in stride. Music for a Bronx father of quadruplets puzzled her. She came up with an old glee club song, "One, Two, Three, Four, Sometimes I Wish There Were More."

OUT AT 12

Twelve-year-old Peggy Bruder is temporarily out of radio. She has been over-taken by old age. Peggy is a four year veteran of the popular Sunday afternoon Mutual network muppet show, "Juvenile Jury." Twelve years of age is the deadline for members of the jury. After 12, says producer Dan Ehrenreich, the average child becomes a bit more reticent, more inhibited. For the program's purpose they are apt to lose the sparkle of the 5 to 11 year olds who make up the panel. Adds moderator Jack Barry: "They're not as spontaneous as in their 'gay youth'." Peggy is the second regular to age out. Patsy Walker hit the 12 year millenium in the fall of '47.

FIVE CALLS—ONE WEDDING

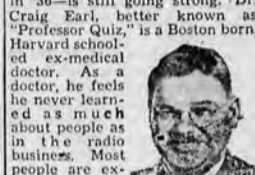

Barbara Weeks: Making an impatient man wait gained this young lady a husband. While radio actor Carl Frank fumed outside of a telephone booth at CBS, Barbara, popular actress, made five successive phone calls. This "introduction" ended in happy marriage and two successful radio careers. Barbara plays nurse "Anne Malone," wife and helpmate of "Young Dr. Malone" — ... all winds famed daytime radio drama afternoons, CBS. "Dr. Malone" is a name reported to be more familiar to American housewives than that of any other doctor in the U.S.A. The current air story brews ill winds for the Malones, with Jerry away from Anne in New York City.

NOTES ON PROFESSOR

The original quiz man—the fellow who put the first national network quiz show on the radio back in '36—is still going strong. Dr. Craig Earl, better known as "Professor Quiz," is a Boston born, Harvard schooled, ex-medical doctor. As a doctor, he feels he never learned as much about people as in the radio business. Most people are extroverts, he says, once the scare is out of them. Housewives readily lose fear of a microphone with a little encouragement. School teachers and lawyers, fighting up and are poor contestants. Easiest part of the quiz business is getting questions. The Professor has a file of 13,000,000—enough to last 150 years.

Dr. E. E. Dale, addressing a university of Southern California summer session audience, said that "once education of the Indian has sufficiently advanced," intermarriage would be practical.

"Indians are a great people and Indian blood is good blood," he said. "Indians have had an influence upon our history and culture out of all proportion to their number."

Farm Short Course Dates Set By U. Of D.

Contest To Be Held First 2 Weeks In August

The second annual five-week winter short course in practical agriculture will be held at the University of Delaware from November 13 to December 15, 1950, according to W. C. Skoglund, Short Course Director. The course, established to provide training in modern farming methods, was attended by 50 men and women last year.

Specialized training will again be offered in dairy, poultry, horticulture, grain and forage production, and general farming, says Skoglund. Free to residents of Delaware, the course is open to anyone 17 years old or older. There is a fee for out-of-state students.

"All the doors of the University are open to Short Course Students," Skoglund points out, "in order that they may learn as much as possible about this business of modern agriculture. Experienced teachers on the college staff, plus outstanding leaders in various enterprises will teach the Short Course classes. The research laboratories, the libraries, the University's experimental farms, and visits to nearby farms are available to Short Course students."

Full information on the Agricultural Short Course will be sent to anyone who writes to W. C. Skoglund, Director of Short Course, Box 150, Newark, Delaware.

Firemen Treat Orphanage Youngsters

It was a big day in the lives of some forty youngsters from Our Lady of Grace Orphanage, Ogletown, recently when they were guests at the Aetna Firemen's Carnival.

The volunteers with the help of a number of business firms and individuals treated the children to an afternoon's fun, complete with free rides and refreshments. Here the youngsters deploy over an Aetna pumper and beam their gratitude, while fire company officials look on.

Dairy Cows Need Plenty Of Water

It may not be practical for dairymen to give their cows ice-cold lemonade this summer, but it is practical—and profitable—to keep them in the shade and provide plenty of cool water.

Edward H. Schabinger, New Castle County's Agricultural Agent, says that keeping cows comfortable in summer is more important than dairymen realize.

He tells of a farmer who had a field of good legume pasture and another with a lot of shade, but not too much for cows to eat. Mr. Schabinger says the cows produced more milk when they were pastured on the legumes at night and kept in shade during the day than they produced when they couldn't get into daytime shade.

Camperships were awarded on the basis of merit and need.

Mrs. William Adams, Jr., has received a scholarship from the Wilmington area girl scout council and will leave July 19 for nine days at the Edith Macy Training School at Pleasantville, N.Y., where she will attend the Program Skills Workshop.

Department Store Sales On Rise

Department store sales during the week ended July 8 ran 7 per cent higher than in the same week a year ago, the Federal Reserve Board reported recently.

The gain was made despite the fact stores in some cities had one less trading day in the 1950 week, the board said.
