Christmas Formal To Be Held December 19

U. of D. Engr. Dept. Proves Its Mettle

Four University of Delaware scientists have a major role this week at Oak Ridge, Tennessee, in a Symposium on Heat Transfer, supported by the Atomic Energy Commission. The week-long sessions are sponsored by the NEPA (Nuclear Energy for Propulsion of Aircraft) Division of Fairchild Engine and Airplane Corporation.

Of 28 lectures, the four to be presented by the Delaware representatives will be equalled in number only by the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, of all the nation's topflight engineering schools.

The four University of Delaware engineers are Dr. Allan P. Colburn, assistant to the President and adviser on research; Dr. Robert L. Pigford, professor of chemical engineering; Dr. Olaf P. Bergelin, associate professor of chemical engineering; and George M. Dusinberre, professor of mechanical engineering.

The papers to be presented by Dr. Colburn and Dr. Bergelin will be based upon research carried out at the University of Delaware, where the field of heat transfer has been among special topics for research in the last 10 years. Dr. Bergelin's paper will be on "Heat Transfer to Oils in Tubular Exchangers." Dr. Colburn, who until recently was chairman of the Department of Chemical Engineering, will lecture on "The Effect of Vapor Velocity on Condensation Inside Tubes." This paper will report on research work conducted with the cooperation of the Andale Company.

Dr. Pigford, who joined the Delaware faculty this year from the DuPont Company, will have as his subject "Heat Transfer to Granular Materials," and Mr. Dusinberre, added to the faculty from Virginia

RSSO and DSCA Hold Joint Dance

The decision was made this week to combine the dances of the RSSO and the DSCA into one dance scheduled for Saturday, December 13. The chairman of the RSSO, John Geyer, and Earl Tull of the DSCA are working in cooperation with their committees on this affair. This informal dance will be the fourth in a series of dances planned by the RSSO.

Despite the merged dance program, those bearing RSSO tickets will be admitted; others may attend for customary price of 15c each. The Delaware Students Christian Association and the Resident Students Social Organization are pleased to combine their efforts in presenting this social event in Brown Hall. All students are welcome to the Christmas dance and may come stag or bring dates. A large crowd will be expected to come to the dance after the basketball game.

Decorations are planned to lend a holiday atmosphere to the occasion. Refreshments will be served. Due to the basketball game the same evening, the dance will take place from 9 until 12 o'clock. Special late permission has been granted by the Dean of Women allowing the girls dates until 12:30, provided they sign out for the dance.

The RSSO has one more dance planned for this semester, which will take place the second or third week in January.

Rush Week Closes With House Parties

With each of the seven fraternities now active on the campus of the University of Delaware holding gala parties on Saturday night, the Interfraternity Council culminated one of the most successful Rush Weeks ever held on the campus.

Each of the fraternities entertained freshmen at smokers on Tuesday and Thursday evening during the week, and the five fraternities with houses entertained at house parties, and the two Greek letter organizations who do not yet have houses held smokers in Brown Hall and Old College, and also held parties on Saturday.

The other fraternities offered various entertainment, refreshments, and advertisements in general for their specific organization. The once lowly freshman reigned for one week at least at Delaware.

While the fraternities have not yet announced the names of the pledges selected from the freshman class, it is expected that a near-record number of future fraternity members will be drawn from the new class. Each individual fraternity has found that their chief problem with respect to the prospective members has come in the paring of the number of pledges from the large number of interested freshmen. The facilities of the fraternities cannot cope with the memberships which would be involved if every interested freshman was pledged.

Georgetown To Be Drama Clinic Host

A drama clinic for Kent and Sussex County participants in school, church or community dramatic production work will be presented by the University of Delaware Dramatic Center on Monday, December 15, at Georgetown High School, it was announced by Dr. C. Robert Kase, Director of Dramatics.

The clinic idea, originated in the state last year, is being continued at the request of the Delaware Dramatic Association, whose president, Miss Virginia Wiley, is Director of Dramatics at Georgetown High School and is host for the clinic. The University's Academic Extension Division is cooperating in the program.

Divided into two sessions—3 to 6 p. m. and 7 to 9 p. m.—the program, under Dr. Kase's direction, will be informal in order to meet the needs of the individuals attending. Dr. Kase describing the clinics as "providing an opportunity for people with problems to take them up," said the program will include such topics as: play selection, organizing for producing plays, dramatic programs for high schools, the annual Play Festival to be held in the spring, and the services available through the Dramatic Center, including the play-lending library. All phases of technical production will be discussed by Harry Bidlake, technical director of the University's Department of Dramatics Arts.

Invitations have been sent to directors of dramatics in all schools of Kent and Sussex counties, to representatives of service clubs, women's clubs, granges and other community organizations doing dramatic work. Dr. Kase said another clinic is to be arranged for New Castle County this winter, and it is hoped to repeat the clinics in the spring.

The Delaware Dramatic Center is an extension service of the University for school and community theatres in this area.

Bob Shebley To Play For Dec. 19 Date; S. G. A. Helps U. W. R. F. To Reach Quota

This is to introduce to the campus the gigantic snowman who will preside over the Christmas Formal on December 19. Entrusted with the job of getting him ready for the big event are Bev. Dietrich, Ruth Stazesky, and Jack Smith.

Vacation Clause In G. I. Bill Changed Univ. Hr. Dec. 18 To Be Xmas Program

Veterans Administration today reminded all veterans attending colleges and universities full-time under the G-I Bill of an important vacation clause in VA regulations.

Under a new procedure, which went into effect this fall, all eligible student-veterans will be granted leave automatically at the end of the first semester, unless the VA receives a request not to give the leave. Such a request must be received in writing at least 30 days before the end of the fall quarter or the end of the fall season.

The new leave policy was adopted in order to allow unbroken subsistence payments to all veterans attending college full-time under the G-I Bill. Under the plan, a veteran-student receives payment for the full enrollment period certified to VA by the institution he attends, providing there are no more than 15 days between terms.

Time on leave between terms and at the end of the school year, is charged against the veteran's entitlement. VA said that many veterans probably would prefer to forego the leave privilege in order to make use of their entitlement for actual study.

No leaves, other than the automatic 15-day extension of training status, will be authorized by VA except scholastic leaves offered all other students by the educational institution.

Veterans who do not want leave must notify VA in writing at least 30 days before the end of the fall term.

Kase Delivers Talk At J. H. Playshop

Dr. C. Robert Kase, professor of dramatic arts and speech at the University of Delaware, delivered the second in a lecture series sponsored by the Johns Hopkins Playshop in Baltimore, on the evening of Monday, December 8. His topic was "American Theatre, 1948."

The Johns Hopkins Playshop presents a series of plays, in connection with which lectures are given. The first lecture in the current series was delivered by Lenox Robinson, Irish playwright.

The University Hour's last presentation was the Oratorio Choir of the Westminster Choir college, who sang the "Requiem" by Giuseppe Verdi.

The seventy-six voice choir has been described by music authorities "as one of the finest examples of all choral literature." This was proved by the fine turnout and splendid comments of the student body.

The next University Hour will be a special Christmas Program to be held on the 18th of December, at which the E-52 Players will present "The Gift of the Magi." Also on the same program will be a presentation of choral music by the Department of Music.

Dr. Mosher Speaks At A.C.S. Meeting

Dr. William A. Mosher, professor of Chemistry and chairman of the Department of Chemistry at the University of Delaware, was the speaker at the Dec. 4 meeting of the Central Pennsylvania Section of the American Chemical Society, at the Pennsylvania State college. Dr. Mosher, who spoke on Organic Oxidation Mechanisms, presented information recently obtained at the Chemistry Department of the University on the manner in which molecules of foodstuffs, gasoline, paint oils, rubber, and alcohols are first attacked by oxygen from the air or by oxidizing agents.

Dr. Mosher is active in both Delaware and National American Chemical Society affairs, now serving as councillor for the Delaware Section and chairman of the National Committee on Professional Relations and Status.

NOTICE:

In order to give everyone an opportunity to attend the Class of 1949 Benefit Fashion and Variety Show, the School of Education meeting for all students who are preparing to teach has been postponed until January 14th.

Women Given Permission To Stay Out Until Two

The Christmas Formal will be held this year on Friday, December 19, in the Field House from nine to one. The S.G.A. has announced that all proceeds from the dance will go to the United World Relief Fund in order to help meet the $5,000 quota which has been set for the university.

This Formal, which has traditionally been one of the biggest dances at Delaware, will feature the music of Bob Shebley, who in his former appearances has been warmly received. When Shebley played here on March 16, he occasioned the Review's Bob Bell to write the following in his Covering the Campus column—"Applause and cheers to the Social Committee (and especially to Frannie Cox) for their fine selection of a band for the St. Patrick's Day dance. Bob Shebley and his boys did a grand job." He was booked again for a return engagement on April 26 to play for the Inter-Fraternity Formal of that year.

A former drummer with the famed Benny Goodman sextet, Shebley is rapidly becoming one of the most sought after bands on the East Coast, having played at the Steel Pier in Atlantic City where he was asked for a return performance. He has also played at Penn, Princeton, and Drexel, as well as at many other Eastern colleges and prep schools.

Every member of his band is an outstanding instrumentalist, and although Shebley is rated by the country's musicians in their polls

The Blue Hen Staff, pictured above, is endeavoring this year to bring you a yearbook which will combine all the good features which are expected to grace the pages of such a publication. This year for the first time the staff, under the capable leadership of co-editors Ruth Green and Bob Levine are preparing a yearbook which must sell. As one of the economizing measures of your Student Government Association, this year you will pay a portion of the cost of your Blue Hen.

In every university with which we have had any contact whatsoever, the yearbook has been strictly "you buy if you want" proposition. The S.G.A. is slowly trying to bring the University of Delaware around to this system, but is again faced with the hesitancy to make a change in a system which prevails on our campus.

We hope that the efforts of the Blue Hen staff will be well received among the student body, and we feel that a better, more capable staff could not possibly have been chosen. We hope there's still time for you to get a subscription if you haven't done so already.

Weather Angle

By BILL "DOC" BERGMAN
(Writ By Hand)

Colder weather is forecast for the coming week. December 11 and 12 should be fair with low temperatures in the range of 24°. Flurries of snow may be encountered Saturday and Sunday, as the temperatures remain low and the humidity rises. As much as three or four inches of snow will remain on Monday, December 15. December 16 and 17 should find a warm front present and southerly winds. The snow should be melted completely by December 18, and cooler weather is forecast for December 19. A severe cold wave is forecast as coming on December 20, and possibly continuing until Christmas. Warmer weather will come on December 26, and the week after Christmas will be generally rainy in this section of the country.

TO EACH HIS OWN

By JACK BEACH

CARTOON: It was interesting to watch the people look at the cartoon on page two of last week's issue and laugh. Evidently they believed there was a hidden meaning that they didn't understand and laughed to cover their apparent thickness. Others just looked confused while still others worked out detailed explanations. One fellow even tried working out the fragment of a problem that appeared on the black-board in quest of the point.

If you were one who found it funny or thought of a good by-line for it how about dropping the editor or I a line. We'd like to get in on the joke too, for as far as we were concerned it was just a stray cartoon that had been around the office for months and no one knew what it was for or where it came from.

ALONE

When shadows deepen the earth,
In twilight's fading phase,
And frozen stark branches show no mirth

Through the hovering evening haze,

Then 'tis time to dine in solitude,
And drink one's port alone,
For gloominess in magnitude
Darkens the character tone.

Looks like Typod Livizos will have to start sharpening his quills if he expects to remain Poet Laureate for the REVIEW. The above poem was written by Richard Tyles and Harry Stringer, Room 22 Baracks "C." Have you fellows thought of submitting some of your work to the CAULDRON?

A THOUGHT: Give to the U.N.-W.R.F., observe meatless and eggless days, eat but one slice of bread with your meal, donate to the freedom train, conserve gas and oil, save fats, give to the Red Cross and brush up on your manual of arms for when the cattles fat they will have you back over for the slaughter.

ANOTHER THOUGHT: Buy Christmas Seals, give to the Salvation Army, help the Needy Family Drive in Wilmington, give to your Community Chest, support your church so that they may administer to the poor, contribute to the Olympic Fund, remember our Veterans in hospitals all over the country and send along a gift at Christmas, send a couple bucks to the Cancer Fund, and brace yourself, for any evening now Greer Garson's pleading eyes are going to meet you eye to eye in your local theatre and before you can slide under the seat there will be a basket under your nose, so give to the March of Dimes.

AFTER THOUGHT: If we haven't given all your money away for you yet, then drop us a card and we'll tell you were to send it. There are at least ten more organizations that we can think of that are making pleas for cash donations during this Christmas month.

FOR DEAR OLD DELAWARE: Buy your Christmas cards from the Yacht Club, go to the Jr. Class Fashion and Variety Show (which—for you people who pick up your paper Friday—was last night), go to the Christmas Formal, subscribe for a Year Book, and above all, go to all the basketball games and cheer like mad for if you don't someone will surely write the editor complaining about school spirit before next week.

DICK AND DOTS: They say there is something special going on down there every night. Floor show or some-em. Whatsay we run down some night this week.

Dr. Wohl's Informal Party Huge Success

On a Sunday evening, not too long ago, I was invited to an informal gathering at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Kurt Wohl. I had not yet had the pleasure of meeting Dr. Wohl, although I knew that he was a famous scientist in the field of Physical Chemistry and is now a member of the faculty.

The Wohls live in a small house in Newark, and their most prized possessions are the two pianos which occupy places of honor in the living room. On the walls of this room hang many fascinating paintings, which Dr. Wohl proudly told me were the work of his son, Helmut, who is now studying art at Harvard. When I arrived at the house, I discovered that several graduate students and their wives were there. After the introductions were made, the group immediately plunged into an intellectual conversation which touched on every topic from politics and science to literature and art.

The reason I mention this is that it was a great delight for me to meet a person like Dr. Wohl, who is not only a brilliant scientist, but is deeply interested in all forms of art, and in the fast moving affairs of the day. It was most stimulating to meet a man who is a product of the old world culture, with its emphasis on a broad education to equip students for living a full life as well as for the process of making a living.

Later in the evening Dr. and Mrs. Wohl played some piano pieces for us by Bach and Mozart. Their playing technique was sure and coordinated, and gave the illusion that they were continuing their conversation in the medium of music instead of words. The Wohls are strict classicists in their musical taste. They aided me in discovering an emotional highlight in Bach and Mozart that my ear had never detected before.

Then Mrs. Wohl served refreshments to finish off one of the most stimulating evenings I have spent since coming to this University. I only wish more faculty members would hold gatherings of this type for the purpose of informal discussion on topics of interest, and to prove to doubting students that they really are human beings underneath all those degrees.

Since that evening, Dr. Wohl has been kind enough to give some of the facts about his life before he joined the staff at the University of Delaware. He was a citizen of the Free State of Danzig, and studied at the Technical University in Danzig, Heidelberg, finally securing his doctorate at Berlin University, where he became a lecturer in the Department of Physical Chemistry. Soon afterward he was employed as the scientific adviser for the huge I. G. Farbenindustrie, a chemical concern, until Adolf Hitler just couldn't get along with him anymore.

Dr. Wohl then left Germany, and for the next one and one-half years, he did research work at Oxford on the photosynthesis of green plants and lectured for the Dept. of Botany. In 1940, Mrs. Wohl and her son came to the United States, but Dr. Wohl was unable to obtain a visa. At first he was worried about his family but they were living very happily among their new friends in America until he was able to join them once more. Mrs. Wohl was giving music lessons and concerts to support herself and her son.

At last, however, Dr. Wohl arrived in New York, where he was associated with the New School of Social Research and was lecturing on photosynthesis and respiration under the sensational title of "Life and Energy." Later he taught Physics at Princeton, but found that he was becoming too tied down with teaching to continue his research work.

Dr. Wohl is now supervising the thesis work of seniors and graduate students in Chemistry here at the University of Delaware. He has found a stimulating scientific life here with a fine spirit of research among his students. His own research now deals with the basic problems of combustion.

The only thing that Dr. Wohl misses at Delaware is the weekly chamber music concerts that he loved so well in Berlin and at Princeton. As a matter of fact, music has always been an important factor in the lives of the Wohls, as they were married on the basis of two grand pianos. The pianos took up one room of their Berlin home while they lived in the other. It seemed to Dr. Wohl that there was always a string quartet or a piano duet being played in that house. Even his son Helmut plays a violin.

"If only," says Dr. Wohl, "such an interest in chamber music could be brought about on this campus, then our lives would be complete."

I'm inclined to think that such weekly concerts would enrich college life for all of us. I also wish that everyone could know Dr. Wohl, and talk with him. Undoubtedly, the University of Delaware is privileged to have such a man on its teaching staff.

Am. Girls Come To College to Get Man

Since my arrival at Delaware, I have noticed that the main difference between college life in France and America is the appearance of the college itself. You are probably used to a beautiful campus and all the conveniences offered to the students. There is no such thing as that in France. Universities are usually very old and are housed in several buildings, some in the Gothic style, like the one in Dijon, for instance. I must except, though, some private colleges which are very modern and gorgeous things. And you could not dream of a more impressive and beautiful place in which to study than at La Sorbonne in Paris. But when you study there, it is a very serious thing. You go on with three or four class hours a day, while we have six or eight classes every day. Also you have much more of social life and activities than we do in France. Perhaps we could do with some more. It wouldn't hurt us a bit. But on this campus the only thing you hear talked of, outside of courses, is dates, parties, and fun. I don't want to forget the football games, which I have found to be one of the most passionately discussed topics. Now, a French student wouldn't think of combining sports and study if he really wanted to achieve something. Of course, there is always that happy-go-lucky type, even in France, who will fool around the whole year and wear himself out in the two months before the final exams. He will still make it, probably, though the finals are very tough over there. It is not merely a question of credits and decent averages. Ordinarily only half of the students who apply for degrees really get them.

The main difference is our ambition to produce "cultured" people with a broad knowledge of everything, and yours is to produce "efficient" men and women who specialize in one or two subjects. But, as an American girl was telling me, "Culture does not mean a thing; it is your education, and feelings and the way you act that counts." And I guess she was right. I only regret that the main purpose of this girl in coming to the University, was to have a good time, to enjoy dorm life—which I enjoy, too—and to get herself a man. Now I don't want to say anything against those kids. There are the most charming girls I ever met. They are friendly and spontaneous, and are helping me a lot to get along with my new college life in America, (and to catch up pretty fast on their slang, too). I'm only too glad to help them with their French whenever I can. I must conclude by saying that no matter how different French education is from American, yours must not be so wrong, because, after all, America has certainly proved herself to be one of the greatest nations in the world.

The Poet's Corner

THE CHRISTMAS STAR

Dedicated to Dean Gwendolyn S. Crawford

Across the sky on Christmas day
A long long time ago,
The flicker of a star had shown
A King was born below.

And three wise men who saw that star
Rode many miles to bring,
Their humble gifts to Bethlehem
To Christ the new born King.

And since that time if up above
You look on Christmas Day,
From somewhere in the darkened sky
That star will shine your way.

And so tonight when you're alone
And whispered Him your prayer,
If you look up beyond the sky
You'll find that star is there.

Zeke Carrell, Bob Campbell Selected Leaders of 1948 Blue Hen Grid Squad

ZEKE CARRELL

BOB CAMPBELL

The University of Delaware will have co-captains again next football season. The team voted the honor to two husky linemen, Bob Campbell and Eugene "Zeke" Carrell. These line stalwarts will be playing their fourth year of varsity football in the 1948 season, including the undefeated sons in '42 and '45.

Campbell, a six-foot, three-inch tackle, came to Delaware after playing at Greensboro (N. C.) High School. Bob spent a couple of years in the Army Air Corps as a pilot. Big Robespierre returned to the Newark campus in the fall term of 1945 when he played on the informal team that year. During the past two seasons this popular tackle has been one of the mainstays of Coach Murray's line and has been giving opposing backs plenty to worry about.

Carrell, better known as "Zeke," is from Medford, New Jersey, and played football at Haddonfield High and West Nottingham Academy. Following the '42 season at Delaware, Zeke entered the Army and served in the C.B.I. theater of war. During the past two seasons, Zeke, a 190-lb. guard, has turned in some brilliant exhibitions of football. He is a devastating blocker and many an opponent has come out second best in their meetings with Mr. Carrell out on that gridiron. Zeke is a Physical Education major while Bob is in the School of Mechanical Engineering. Carrell has been the kickoff artist for the Blue Hens during the past season, and will probably continue in that capacity in the 1948 season.

These men have been defensive demons, as has been proven on numerous occasions this season. Campbell is especially adept at rushing the enemies' kicker when he is trying to punt, and several times during his playing career he has driven in to smother that attempted punt. Next year the two husky linemen will be out to lead the Blue Hens through another successful season. Here's wishing them good luck, and another good year.

Jack "Rock" Povey, erstwhile captain of the Blue Hen soccer team, talks over the situation with booter mentor Max Kurman. Povey, a senior, graduates from the University in January. In the diminutive but aggressive soccerman, Delaware will lose one of the finest competitors ever to don a Blue and Gold uniform. A great field leader as well as a top-notch academic pace-setter, the likes of the blond, former Upper Darby, Pa., High ace, are few and far between. Povey spent the war years amid the fury of the air war over Germany.

SPORT SHOTS

DON REYNOLDS

The preliminary to this Saturday's contest featuring Coach Joe Brunansky's hoopsters and the Sho'men from the Washington College will spotlight Delaware's newly formed Freshmen Basketball team, and their rivals the powerful quintet from Brown Prep in Philadelphia. This will be the first formal Frosh basketball team ever to represent Delaware in college competition, and from all indications it should be a good one.

This year Delaware is entering a team in the newly formed Middle Atlantic Freshman Basketball league. Coach Bob Siemen has had very little time to work with his men, and therefore has made no definite selections for a possible starting team. However, in scrimmages against the varsity several of the recruits have shown some fine skill at ball handling and other rudiments of the sport. Another encouraging factor in the freshmen's favor has been a height advantage over any previous Delaware court squad. This year's quintet will average over six foot. That is something that any coach likes to see.

This six foot group will include such future stars as Curt Turner, Joe Kwiatowski, Jim Middleton, Jim Thomas, and Art Sullivan. Kwiatowski, a Sallies grad, looks like a million dollars in workouts to date. Against the varsity he has been a demon under the backboards; also, his floorwork has been excellent. Joe is one of the large group of Freshmen football players who have recently gone out for basketball. Others in this group included Ed Carney, Jim Thomas, Ned King, and Dick Wells. Due to the fact that these men have had a limited amount of time to prepare for the first game, Coach Siemen has been unable to estimate the potentialities of his team.

No doubt there will be a great deal of interest focused on this freshman team. Freshman basketball is something new on the Delaware sports roster, and we all wish them the best of luck.

Martin's Maulers In Curtain Raiser

After two and a half weeks of hard work it appears that the University of Delaware varsity wrestling team will go into its first meet of the season this Saturday afternoon at 4:00, with Haverford, in only fair condition.

The squad and the coach would welcome a larger number of men out for the team. A sincere interest in wrestling is the only requirement for anyone who has contemplated coming out. Former experience is not necessary.

The freshmen, who work out with the varsity, have their own schedule of meets, and will represent Delaware in these meets as a Freshman team. Practice is held daily from 4:00 to 5:30. The wrestling squad needs your help and would appreciate your coming out for the team. Men weighing 132 lbs. and under, and those weighing 165 and over are especially wanted.

Probable Lineups:

Rittenhouse	121
Clover	128
Carter	136
Tawes or Runk	145
Scott	155
Pierne or Truono	165
Paris	175
Thompson	Unlimited

NOTICE:

Coach Rylander will welcome all freshmen who wish to try out for the Gymnastic team. Past experience is not necessary. The only pre-requisite is a genuine interest in the sport. Practice is in the afternoons at 4:00 in Taylor Gym.

Six All-Star Bouts To Fill Intra-Mural Ring Program

Delaware to Meet Washington Col.

This Saturday night, Coach Brunansky's Blue Hens will meet the Washington College quintet at the Field House. This will be the second game of the season for the Delaware hoopsters, who will be out to give the Sho'men the same medicine that they got last year when they came to the Newark Gym.

The Sho'men have practically the same squad that they sent against the Delaware five last year. Such stars as Jim Rook, "Sut" Tattersall, Jerry Voith, Bud Samele, Wilbur Barnes and Will Mullineaux have returned from last year's squad and will be seeking revenge come Saturday night. Samele and Voith have been the mainstays on the squad as far as point scoring goes. These boys are fast, deceptive, and can shoot well with either hand. The Hens will have to keep an eye on Rook, too; for this six-footer, who was injured in last year's contest, is an excellent ball-handler and is the defensive star of the team. Tattersall, a Kennett Square, Pa., boy, did not see much action last year, but will be out to show off in front of some friends from his hometown.

The Hens, captained by Gerry Bowlus, will be depending on their speed and short, fast passes to work a fast break against the Chestertown lads. Although Delaware will again give the height advantage to the opposition, they will try to put on a bustling, high-scoring offense centered around such mighty mites as Bernie Runcle, Jules Hoffstein, and Reds McFadden. The fifth member of the starting team will be lanky Vic Wood. To this 6' 4" lad falls the task of patrolling the backboards. This puts a lot of responsibility on the big fellow who is always giving his best.

This Delaware squad is plunging into the roughest schedule in the history of sport here at the Newark institution. Coach Brunansky hopes that this quintet can transform its hustle and fight into a winning season.

Blue Hen Tankmen In Initial Contest

The University of Delaware's swimming team will open its 1947-'48 season this Saturday when they journey to West Chester, Pa., to swim against West Chester State Teachers College.

Coach Harry Rawstrom reports a host of injuries and illnesses as preparations for the first meet swing into the final week of practice. Such stars as Hugh Dougherty and Capt. Bob Cofer have suffered serious injuries. Dougherty, who is suffering from an infected foot, will be out until January, while Cofer may see some action soon, possibly this Saturday, although he hasn't been able to take part in many practices. Besides these major injuries there are a host of colds which are bothering several members of the team.

The tentative starting lineup for the tankmen is:

- 220-yard free style—Smith.
- Diving—Grier, Harding.
- 150 backstroke—Ward, M. Kelleher.
- 200 breast stroke—duBell, Crumlish.
- 440 free style—Smith, Tracy.
- 400 relay—Lewis, Baird, Craig, and Frankel.

Tuxward-Lanci to Feature Field House Semi-Windup

On Wednesday evening, December 17, a new event will take its place on the long roster of intra-mural activities at the University of Delaware. This activity, the first intra-mural boxing show for a good many years, promises to be one of the outstanding sporting events of the year on the local campus.

Coach Max M. Kurman, director of intra-mural sports, will offer a card of events which will all provide lots of entertainment and thrills to spectators. The show will be staged in the Field House at 7:30 p.m., with no admission charge, and the sponsors of the show are hoping for a big turnout from the student body.

The boxers, who have competed in fast preliminary bouts to gain their places in the finals, will be classified according to six weight classes, ranging from 120 pounds to unlimited weight classification.

The bouts will be staged among all the airs of a professional show. Bill "Shack" Martin, himself formerly a top-notch boxer, will referee the matches, and judges will be Coaches Roy Rylander and Harry Rawstrom. Trainer Gus Seaburg will be on hand in his usual capacity as band-aid vender. Coach Ken Steers will be official timekeeper. Each bout will be a three-round limit, with the sessions 1½ minutes long each.

The first bout, with the gong sounding at 7:30, will feature the 120-pound contenders, and will find Ed Price, representing Theta Chi, and Arnie Greenhouse, wearing the AEP silks, squaring off. The 127-pounders will find Tommy Haupt, of Barracks "C", pitted against Hank Aldridge, another Theta Chi. Both bantam bouts should be fast and furious.

Dick DiSabatino, of Sigma Phi Epsilon, and Dick Rodney, unattached, will meet in the 135-pound finals. Both are speedsters, and clever boxers.

In one of the evening's top attractions, Keith Tracy and R. D. Meixell, who appear to be as even a match as any promoter could desire, will come toe-to-toe in the square circle to vie for 145-pound honors.

In the semi-windup, Al Lanci, unattached, and Harry Tuxward, unattached, will battle it out in the 155-voirdupolis limit field.

The wind-up match, and a real natural will pit the Badgers' entry, Jimmy Collins, a rangy fisticuff artist, against Tony Salerno, a rough New Yorker. Collins, a 6'1", 179-pounder, will have a definite reach advantage over the shorter but stouter Salerno. The Training House entry, who was a fullback on the freshman football aggregation, will make up in power and boxing ability what he might lack in reach. Both have had enough previous experience to guarantee a thrill-packed finale.

Max (Harry Balogh) Kurman will be on hand as announcer. The card was prepared, and the tourney handled jointly by Kurman and the Intra-mural Council, under the presidency of Barney Runcle.

A large turnout is anticipated, although the gate is hardly expected to pass the intake on a return Louis-Walcott engagement.

The show prepared is the fruit of hours of toil on the part of the sponsors and promises to provide a full evening of entertainment for everyone who avails himself at the ringside.

Mech. Engr. Hold Annual Meeting

At the annual meeting of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, held in Atlantic City during the week of December 1st, a paper by J. M. Drusinberre, professor at the University of Delaware, and T. S. Nickerson of E. I. Du Pont de Nemours & Company, was presented. The subject of the paper was "Heat Transfer Through Thick Insulation on Cylindrical Enclosures."

Another paper, "Heat Transfer and Fluid Friction During Vicious Flow Over Banks of Tubes," by Dr. A. P. Bergelin of the University of Delaware, was also read.

In addition to Dr. Dusinberre and Dr. Bergelin, those attending from the University of Delaware were: Dean David Arm, who took part in a panel discussion on the mechanical engineering curriculum; Dr. J. W. Shields, professor of mechanics; J. I. Clower, chairman of the Mechanical Engineering Department, and Dr. A. P. Colburn.

I.S.C. Holds Panel At U.W.C. Meeting

Members of the recently-organized International Students Club at the University of Delaware furnished a panel discussion on reaction to American foreign policy in the countries represented by each at a meeting of the University Women's Club, December 3 in the lounge of Old College.

Participating in the panel were Alfredo Berguido, from Panama; Panayotis Lambropoulos, Greece; C. H. Chou and Kan Chen, China; S. M. Patel, India; Moises Tirado and Osvaldo Torres, Puerto Rico; Jacqueline Margolin, England; Herbert Singer, Lottie Mueller and Harvey Newton, Germany; and Ben Compagno, Italy.

Philip Page, president of the International Students Club, introduced the members of the panel. Mr. Paul Dolan, political science instructor at the University acted as moderator.

A cosmopolitan musical program followed the discussion, with Miss Peggy Chew, of Malaya, singing a Chinese song and Mr. Tirado singing "Cielito Lindo." Group carol singing was followed by "Silent Night," sung in Chinese and Spanish by Miss Chew and Mr. Tirado, and in German and English by the entire assembly.

Preceding the program, which was under the direction of Miss Bernita Short, a brief business meeting was held, over which Mrs. Cyrus Day presided.

Uni. Mixed Chorus To Give 'Messiah'

The music department will present a portion of Handel's "Messiah" as a Christmas program on Sunday, December 14, at 4 p. m. The concert will include the University Mixed Chorus of 95 voices, the Newark Civic Orchestra, composed mainly of university students, and soloists from the university and from Philadelphia.

Featured in the performance will be tenor Frank Ogelsby, outstanding oratorio soloist of Philadelphia; bass Duane Crossley, a member of the American Opera Company in Philadelphia; contralto Lucille Miller, also of the American Opera Company; and Miss Hilda Somers, instructor in voice at the University. The soloists will be accompanied at the organ by Miss Grace Berry, instructor in piano. Mr. John King, regular conductor of the orchestra and University Band, will direct the orchestral overture and pasorale to the work, and will furnish accompaniment for the chorus.

With the exception of two sections, the first part of the work will be performed in its entirety under the direction of Mr. Loudis, head of the music department. Probably the most familiar section of the "Messiah" is the Hallelujah Chorus.

The Athletic Dept. Holds Gym Clinic

The Athletic Department of the University of Delaware sponsored a gymnastic clinic, Saturday, December 6, at the Carpenter Field House.

All Delaware high schools and junior high schools were invited. Invitations were also sent to the surrounding high schools of Maryland and Pennsylvania.

The clinic served as a guide for the students and their coaches. There were personal exhibitions and demonstrations by the University of Delaware "Flying Blue Hens." The schoolboys performed under the guidance of the gymnastic team members.

They learned hand balancing, apparatus work, point scoring of meets, requirements of gym teams, and all the fundamental stunts.

The clinic started at 1 p. m., and continued until everyone had received instruction. Heading the clinic for the University of Delaware was the Swimming Coach, Roy Rylander, who was assisted by Track Coach, Kenneth Steers.

Newman Club To Meet Sun., Dec. 14

The Rev. Dr. John H. Donnelly, chaplain to Catholic students and of the Newman Club at the University of Pennsylvania, will be the principal speaker at the Communion Breakfast of the Newman Club of the University of Delaware in Newark next Sunday, December 14.

At least 100 students will attend Mass and receive Communion in a group at St. John-the-Baptist Church, Newark, and then convene for the breakfast at the Academy Restaurant. The Rev. Eugene J. Kraemer, past chaplain of the Delaware club and pastor of St. John's, and the Rev. Thomas A. Carlin, O. S. F. S., present chaplain, will be among the honored guests.

In addition to his ministry among approximately 3500 Catholic students at Penn., Father Donnelly teaches four courses at the Newman Hall School of Religion at the University: ethics, medical ethics, sociology, and church history. During his ten years as chaplain, he has been particularly effective in expanding and correlating the activities of the Newman Club. Several times he has held the post of chaplain of the Middle Atlantic Province of the National Federation of Newman Clubs.

Father Donnelly, together with the Rev. Dr. Anthony Ostheimer, conducts the Catholic Hour, a weekly radio program of Station WFIL, Philadelphia. His talents also extend to the field of sociology, in which he is active as a member of a non-sectarian crime prevention society made up of some of Philadelphia's most prominent civic minded residents.

In the field of literary activities, Father Donnelly reviews current books for New York and Philadelphia daily newspapers, and writes editorials for the "Catholic Standard and Times," the newspaper of the Archdiocese of Philadelphia. He is also in charge of the monthly Book Forum of Newman Hall.

At a recent meeting of the local group the following officers were elected for the current school year: President, William Woolley; vice president, Patricia Murphy; recording secretary, Mary Grant; corresponding secretary, Mary Agnes McCarville; treasurer, Joseph Bradley. These officers working with the club chaplain, Father Carlin, and the club's moderator, Father Kraemer, have been instrumental in providing an extra-curricular, religious, intellectual and social program for the 475 Catholic students at this University.

STA'B'D TACK

The Yacht Club had as its guest speaker this last Thursday Dr. Cyrus L. Day, of the English Department. Dr. Day is a foremost authority on sailor's knots.

Everybody was equipped with a piece of line and the professor proceeded to teach us a few knots. Two of these knots, the constrictor and the strangle, were stressed by the lecturer because of their unusual property of resisting expansion. The constrictor is a fairly recent invention, having first been described in 1931. This is a rare condition, for the origin of most knots is unknown. Both of these are pictured and described in Dr. Day's new book The Art of Knotting and Splicing a copy of which he presented to the club. On the fly leaf was this poem:

The sailor's knots have qualities he'd welcome in a bride,
Hold firm while they are wanted,
yet are easily untied.

—Sir A. P. Herbert

Two weeks from today is Christmas, assuming that you are reading this on Thursday. Otherwise the time is shorter. Do you have your Christmas cards yet? If not, your best bet is not "Coronet," but the cards that the Yacht Club is selling. There is a snow scene of the campus as the illustration. The prices are reasonable; the Yacht Club has cut last year's prices in half.

We were down at Northeast, the Yacht Club sailing base, Saturday last and the place was as bare and forlorn as tundra, and if possible, colder. The wind blew freely since the only shelter was the Northeast River Yacht Club, there we went. Five hardy sailors when we arrived, five shivering pieces of flesh huddled up to the hot air registers two hours later. Now we will know that hauling a boat out in the first part of December is not the best thing in the world to do.

Hillel Party Dec. 15 Everyone Welcome

The Hillel Councilorship of the University of Delaware will hold a party next week in place of its bi-monthly meeting. The party will be held downstairs in Brown Hall, on Monday, December 15, at 7:15 p.m. and will be in celebration of Chanukkah, a Jewish holiday which commemorates the first war for religious freedom fought in the history of the world.

The party is open not only to members, but to all students, Jewish and non-Jewish alike, who are interested in religion and religious ceremonies, refreshments, and a general good time. Special invitations have been extended to the members of the D.S.C.A. and the Newman Club, and it is hoped that there will be a good turn-out of students representing all faiths on the Delaware campus.

Some of the ceremonies involved in the celebration of Chanukkah will be demonstrated by students, Rabbi Herbert Drooz of Wilmington, adviser to the University of Delaware Hillel, will give a history of the holiday and its significance.

Kirchner to Speak At Lehigh in Spring

Lehigh University at Bethlehem, Pennsylvania, has invited Dr. Walter Kirchner, a member of our History Department, to offer a series of lectures and conduct an adult education seminar there during the spring semester, from February to May, 1948. The subject will be "An Interpretation of the Objectives of the Soviet Union, Drawn from an Analysis of the Historic and Contemporary Policies of the Russian Government."

U.J.A. Drive To Be Held at University

Every Jewish student on the University of Delaware campus will be approached this week for a contribution to the United Jewish Appeal drive. The U. J. A. is attempting to raise $170,000,000 this year—the greatest sum ever attempted by any single charitable organization. The need for this money cannot be overemphasized. Jews are starving and in dire need throughout the world, and they look to the Jews in America, the only possible source, for succor, to meet the stupendous quota. American Jewry must give till it literally hurts.

The following are some of the problems confronting the agencies of the United Jewish Appeal: the Joint Distribution Committee must provide emergency and long range aid for Jews overseas. In January of 1946 there were 85,000 Jews in European D. P. camps—today there are more than 250,000—these people must have food, shelter, clothing, medical care, vocational and educational aid, and emigration help. Besides the D. P.'s there are hundreds of thousands of European Jews who need the same help.

The United Palestine Appeal must build and develop the Jewish homeland; 26,000 immigrants arrived in Palestine last year—they must have help to become self-sustaining, free men. Many of these immigrants are orphaned children, or sick men and women—all are ill-clad—they must be housed, fed, and clothed.

The United Service for New Americans needs funds to help recent immigrants into the United States establish themselves and become good Americans. There were 15,000 such refugees last year, and 2,000 more are arriving monthly.

Such dignitaries as General of the Army Dwight D. Eisenhower, Henry Morgenthau Jr., and Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, have heartily endorsed the U. J. A. drive.

The quota for this campus is $600 which means every Jewish student should give a minimum of $5. Ruth Cohen is heading the drive, which is under the sponsorship of the Hillel Councilorship on this campus. Any contributions from non-Jewish friends will be appreciated, and can be sent to Robert Simon, Treasurer of the Hillel Councilorship, through the college mail.

Engineering Dept.

Polytechnic Institute this fall, will lecture on "Calculations of Conduction."

A fifth engineer associated with the University also will present a paper. He is Dr. Richard H. Wilhelm of Princeton University who conducts a chemical engineering course in Wilmington under the University of Delaware's Academic Extension Division. Dr. Wilhelm's paper will be on "Heat Transfer, Reaction Rate, and Temperature Distribution in Fixed Bed Catalytic Converters."

The papers of Dr. Colburn, Pigford and Wilhelm will be presented Tuesday, Dr. Bergelin's on Thursday, and Mr. Dusinger's on Friday. On Tuesday night, Dr. Colburn, as a member of the national council of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers, discussed the Institute's organization and program, at a meeting of a new section of A.I.Ch.E. in Oak Ridge.

Of the 28 lectures, four each will be by Delaware and M.I.T. engineers, three from the University of Michigan, three from industry, two from Harvard, and one each from Iowa State College, Ohio State University, Johns Hopkins University, Purdue University, Washington University, Princeton University, and the universities of Iowa, Texas, Missouri, California, Tennessee and Alabama.

Hong Sit to Speak To I.V.C.F. Dec. 11

A meeting of the I. V. C. F. will be held on December 11, 1947, at 7 p. m. in the lounge of the Old College Hall. The speaker will be Hong Sit, a graduate of the University of Illinois, whose topic will be, "China: Chaos or Christ?". He is now a student at Faith Seminary and is a member of the staff of the China I. V. C. F. in Shanghai. He has just returned to the United States from China, where he served for several years as a captain in the United States Army. Everyone is invited to attend.

ROTC Witnesses Military Inspection

An inspection team consisting of Colonel T. M. Crawford, CAC, Colonel R. J. Hallock, FA, Major C. W. Simms, QMC from Headquarters, First Army, visited the Military Department of the University of Delaware on December 1st for the purpose of conducting an informal inspection of the unit. This is part of the annual program of inspections of all such units and covers every phase of the work. Actual results of the inspection will be a matter of report at a later date, although informally everything appeared up to standard. No interruption of the regular training program was necessitated.

Race Prejudice Is Smoke Talk Topic

"What Is Race Discrimination, and What Can We Do About It?" will be the topic for discussion at the next Smoke Talk Meeting, which will take place in the lounge of Old College, Wednesday, December 17, at 7:15 p.m.

Dr. Gorham Lane, a new member of the Psychology Department will open the meeting by presenting the material for discussion.

The Smoke Talks are sponsored by a committee of faculty members with the purpose of enabling the students and members of the faculty to meet informally and discuss the topics of the day. It is hoped that anyone who is interested will feel free to attend.

Xmas Formal

as one of the nation's best drummers, his drums do not dominate the band, but rather give it a rhythm which is considered unequal locally. The rhythm section is backed up by the harmony of the saxes and blended with muted brass making all of his selections extremely danceable.

In accordance with the policy adopted by the S.G.A., this is to be a non-corsage dance. Instead of the usual half-hour, the women students have been given one hour after the dance. They do not have to check in at the dormitories until two o'clock. It is hoped that as a result couples will return to the dance after the intermission as they will have time to get something to eat even after the last dance.

Tickets will be on sale in University Hall and representatives will also sell them in the dormitories and in the fraternity houses. The price is $2.70 a couple. Students are once again urged to purchase their tickets in advance in order to alleviate congestion and confusion at the door.

Am. Math Assoc. Elects Botts Sec.

At a sectional meeting of the American Mathematical Association, held on Saturday, Nov. 29, Truman A. Botts, assistant professor, was elected secretary.

Dr. C. J. Reese, head of the Department of Mathematics and retiring chairman of the section, presided. Delegates from colleges and universities throughout New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Delaware were in attendance.

COVERING THE CAMPUS

By BOB BELL

SALUTE: Let's doff our caps to the Blue Hen football machine for playing a whale of a season against some mighty good competition. I heard one radio commentator state that in the Hen-Mule fracas, Delaware gained more friends in defeat than they had ever won over in victory. The boys were seriously hampered by injuries all season but still managed to play bang-up ball. Coach Murray should, indeed, feel might proud of his stalwarts. Technically speaking, we broke even in the win-loss column but the record speaks more than that as those who witnessed the contests can testify. It's all over, now, so we all can look forward to next year when we can again throw in our moral support for the boys.

THE CAMPUS RUMPUS: The biggest rumpus of a couple weeks ago happened when Jack Walls (of the strictly anti-frat faction) and Bob Winters tossed verbs, adjectives and ashtrays at each other on the subject "Value of Frats On College Camp"—with Joe Skura stepping in now and then to get right violent! . . . Does it really mean anything, now that little Louise Dougherty is pinned to grid star, Jack Coulter? . . . Our old fran and E-52 thespian, Basil "Goo-goo" Macknick, seen around the local haunts of late. Young Basil has a new stage name now, of all things—Buddy McCall! Woo, woo! . . .

Overheard in a dorm: "I don't think the dopes who toss those bottles from the top of the stands at football games are using good judgment. They might hit some pretty gal in the face and ruin her looks!"—Quipped a wise guy, "Not in a Delaware crowd, they wouldn't!" Got a big kick watching the faces of the characters who thought last week's "gag rag" was straight dope when they read that headline, "Murray Out—Seaburg In". Nobody got a bigger laugh out of it than Coach Murray, himself. He almost rolled on the floor in his office.—Front page laid it on a couple of campus characters a little too thick in this writer's opinion—and I almost got blamed for it—Glad to see Bill Bergman has joined the football squad. We need a husky stalwart like him in the backfield.—Oh, by the way, have you ordered your copy of "Delaware Forever"—oops, I mean "Forever Delaware"?

This happened in a Psychology class. Dr. McPhee was talking about the physiological limitations of the human body. "Now, it's very improbable," said Dr. McPhee, "that a man will, in our time, run the hundred-yard dash in less than nine seconds at the fastest, whereas, a dog can run the same distance in about five or six seconds—and, without ever having gone to college!"

Walt "Moose" Marusa made it! Honorable mention on UP All-American squad with 11 votes—along with Lu "Bambino" Gambino.

A COLUMNIST SHOOTING OFF HIS TYPEWRITER: The column disagrees with the statements in the editorial section of the REVIEW of several weeks back in their request that more students respond to the plebiscite to increase the Student Activities Fund, to wit: "We're through trying to rouse student interest in activities as a result of the comments of authors of various letters to the editor. It doesn't seem to be the place of the REVIEW to criticize the almighty(Y) student body."—Uh uh, we don't publish newspapers to please everybody. We attempt to print facts! I think it IS the place of the REVIEW to criticize ANYTHING that the editors think wrong or out of place. The REVIEW (or any newspaper, for that matter) should do all in their power to arouse public interest in any cause worthy of comment. Come on, Dick Kiddoo, you're the boss-man. Don't let criticism force you into a wishy-washy editorial policy! You and I, Dick, took opposite views in a recent controversy, but we neither one condemned the other's right to print his argument. You, as Editor of the college paper, could very easily have blue-penciled my script so it would never reach the press—but you didn't. By the same token, I don't want to see you censor yourself!

AND MORE STUFF: Jimmy LeCompte, after a few days rest, starts back breaking dishes at the Super-Deluxe. . . Radio Production Class records the half hour drama, "The Murder Of Lidice" next week. . . One frat on Campus got the cold shoulder from a few prospective pledges because of some members' superior attitude and lack of the old glad hand during rush week. . . Hugh Dougherty hobbling on a gimpy foot. . . Same with Andrew Scari. . . Ace Bradley is getting darned tired of one of his roommate's using four of his T-shirts as shoe-shine rags! . . . Don Christ, lying awake at nights and dreaming about Rita Patnovik—who, incidentally, is giving him a verrrry hard time! . . . Reports from "Bum City" have it that Buck Thompson is falling away to a mere nuzzing. . . Jane Barr and Joanne Marshall vocal-harmonizing as I strolled into the Deluxe the other evening. No wonder the place was deserted! . . . Ann Furth exclaiming, "Oh, I think Joe Skura is nice!—He doesn't look so old!" Ha, ha!
