Frosh Sponsor Bermuda Ball Tonight at 7

Freshmen will have an opportunity to take advantage of this week's mild weather when they gather for a "Bermuda Ball" tonight in Carpenter Field House.

Ping pong, volleyball and dancing will comprise the activities of the evening. The affair will be held between 7 and 11:30 p. m., with dancing beginning at 9.

"Dress will be informal and Bermuda shorts will be welcome," Susie Ries, co-chairman of the dance, said. Refreshments will be provided free of charge by a committee headed by George Barczewski and Peggy Ramsey.

This is the first and only freshmen class function for the year. It is open only to freshmen, who may come "stag or drag," and their guests.

Committee chairmen are: Judy Storm and Rowena Stanley, publicity; Nina Matheny, dance; Kelly Turner, special activities and Sara Lu Kline and Carol Jones, chaperones.

Miss Adrienne McNaughton, instructor of physical education; Dr. Roger Ervin, instructor of geography; and Mr. Marvin G. Lesser, instructor of English, will chaperone the affair.

Admission to the dance is free.

TAKES IFC HELM — Louis P. Morris, junior in the School of Arts and Sciences, has been elected president of the University Inter-Fraternity Council for next year. A resident of Wilmington, Morris rises from his present position as vice president of the organization. He succeeds William R. Baldt of Kappa Alpha.

Lack of Interest Kills Junior Class Musical

There will be no junior musical this year. Nancy Stewart, show director and Dick Brady, class president, said the annual presentation was cancelled due to a lack of class support.

After consulting members of the junior class and her staff, Miss Stewart stated that the "number of people attending rehearsals has been too small to even consider production. The combination of lack of interest and a relatively poor date has proven to be too much of an obstacle to overcome.

"Rather than put on a show which would certainly be inferior to those in the past," the director continued, "we feel that it is wiser to call the show entirely off."

Also commenting on the show's cancellation, Brady explained, "I hope that this will not set a precedent for classes in the future. I feel that although the poor date was no one's fault, it is nevertheless a definite contributing factor to the failure of the Musical, as well as the small amount of interest on the part of the students."

p.m. outside the Women's Gym. The "pops" concert at 4:30 p.m. will be presented by the university's symphonic band and concert choir on the north steps of the Memorial Library.

Reunion class meetings will be at 11 a.m. and will be followed by an alumni luncheon at Kent Dining Hall. At the general membership meeting in the afternoon the results of the election of new officers will be announced. The 1957 election marks the first rivalry between men and women candidates and is the result of a new Alumni Association constitution. Previously, there had been separate Alumni and Alumnae Associations.

Following the May Day ceremonies, there will be a reception for alumni sponsored by the Women's Executive Council outside Warner Hall and a Home Economics Tea at the Home Management House. The Alumni-Ae Banquet will be at 6:15 p.m. in Kent Dining Hall.

Editor Announces Date of Delivery Of '57 Blue Hen

Marty Simmerman, editor of next year's Blue Hen, has announced that the 1957 edition will be available to students on May 10.

This edition has many new features, including complete coverage of the Artist Series, he emphasized. The cover, Simmerman added, will be done in black and white, and the dividers between sections will be done in pen and ink instead of the usual pictures.

The Junior Musical and the May Day celebration will not appear in this issue because they take place after the Blue Hen goes to press, the editor continued.

Military Regiment Parade Highlights Honors Program

Delaware's Reserve Officers Training Corps Regiment will pass in review on the university mall on Thursday, May 2, as part of the annual Honors Day.

The agenda for Honors Day opens with a luncheon at Old College at 11:30 a.m. Members of the administration, military staff and students who were honored will attend.

General parade will form on Old Campus and march down the quad to Wolf Hall, where the awards will be given out.

The ceremony will be concluded as the entire group of companies passes in front of the reviewing stand.

On the reviewing stand will be those who will give out the various awards. Governor J. Caleb Boggs, governor of the state of Delaware, will present the rifle trophy, Colonel Sundt will present the Superior Cadet ribbon award, Dr. C. Rees, Dean of the University, will award the General J. Ernest Smith Awards. Present at the ceremonies will be Brigadier General John B. Moore, representing the Delaware National Guard and presenting the Delaware National Guard Medal.

Class Schedules Available for '57 Pre-Registration

Pre-registration for the fall semester will be held from May 6 to 9 in Brown Lab Auditorium from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. According to Mr. Robert Gebhardtshauer, Assistant Director of Admissions and Records, the pre-registration will be held on an alphabetical basis and he urges all those who are registered with their draft board to be certain to preregister.

Schedules Available
Schedules of classes will be available on Monday April 29, one week prior to pre-registration, which will give all students time to check with their advisors on their courses.

The complete process is as follows: cards are to be picked up in the registrar's office, signed by advisors and the approved form is then to be checked and collected in Brown Laboratory.

Pre-Register
Mr. Gebhardtshauer excepts the pre-registration to run with the same ease that it did last December and expects everyone to preregister because of this relative ease. He added that pre-registration now will make it easier to register in the fall.

Mr. Gebhardtshauer further stated that students expecting to attend Summer School should advise persons at the pre-registration tables of their intention to do so. This would facilitate registration in the summer.

Honors Day Convocation will be held on May 2 at 11:00 a.m. in Mitchell Hall. Norman Cousins, editor of the Saturday Review of Literature, will be the speaker.

Classes are to be shifted in time to make it possible for the student body to attend.

Eleven o'clock classes will meet at 12:00, 12 o'clock classes will meet at 1 p.m., etc.

Lunch will be served at both Kent and Commons dining halls from 11:45 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. on May 2.

Mrs. Erwin F. Seins, Regent of the Delaware State Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution, will present the Clark Churchman Award to the outstanding cadet in the company. (Continued on Page 7)

Dance Culminates May Day Agenda

To culminate the May Day festivities, the Women's Coordinate Board is planning an outdoor dance.

The dance is to be held on the women's tennis courts, which will be illuminated by Japanese lanterns; and it will be free to all students, faculty and alumni. It is being sponsored by the Alumni Association, the Student Government Association, the Commuters Organization and the girls of south campus, all of whom have donated to the financial support of the affair.

A. B. Catts Award

Charles Laskin and his orchestra will provide music for the dance. During the evening, the A. B. Catts Award for the most outstanding women's dormitory will be presented to this year's winning dormitory. The dance is open to students with or without dates and the dress is informal.

Along with students and faculty, Delaware alumni and alumnae will be taking part in all activities on May Day.

The cornerstone laying ceremonies for the Pierre S. duPont Hall, the new engineering building on central campus, will take place at 11 a.m. The May Day ceremonies, at which the dorm dances and the Maypole dance will be given, will begin at 2:30

Sr. Class Notices Available Monday

Graduation Announcements will be on sale in the basement of the library on April 29 and 30 between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m.

Karin Venetian, senior class treasurer, asks all seniors to bring their receipts in order to facilitate distribution.

A limited number of announcements will be available for those seniors who failed to order them.

Maj. Gen. Pepper, Class of '17 Retires from Marine Corps

Major General Robert H. Pepper, a 1917 graduate of Delaware, will be retired from the US Marine Corps on April 30, with the rank of lieutenant general.

Since September of 1955 General Pepper has been Commanding General, Headquarters, Department of the Pacific, in San Francisco.

A Marine officer since 1917, his service before World War II included command of a Marine detachment at sea and expeditionary duty in Haiti and China.

The general was commanding the Third Defense Battalion at Pearl Harbor when the Japanese struck on December 7, 1941; and he later led that unit in the Guadalcanal campaign, winning the Legion of Merit with Combat "V" for outstanding service from August to November, 1942 in the defense of Henderson field.

In addition to the Legion of Merit with Combat "V" and the Letter of Commendation Ribbon with star, the general's medals and decorations include the Presidential Unit Citation with one bronze star, the Navy Unit Commendation Ribbon, the Marine Corps Expeditionary Medal with two bronze stars, the World War I Victory Medal with West Indies Clasp, the Haitian Campaign Medal, the Yangtze Service Medal, the American Defense Service Medal with Base Clasp, the American Area Campaign Medal, the Asiatic Pacific Area Campaign Medal with three bronze stars and the World War II Victory Medal.

Review To Publish Daily Newsheet Freshman Week

A daily newsheet will be put out by the editorial staff of the REVIEW in conjunction with Freshman Week activities next fall.

Plans are presently being made by a student committee under the direction of Margaret Black, guidance counselor, for the four-day orientation period. Tom McThenia, William Walston, Jim Zawicki, Jim McGuinness, Mary Beth Carney and Dorothy Levy, working in conjunction with the men and women junior counselors, Alpha Phi Omega and the Senate have scheduled events such as assemblies, pep fests, open houses and dance which will serve to acquaint the entering students with the campus and the services, personnel and activities associated with it.

See Shakespeare At Campus Movie

William Shakespeare's "Hamlet," to be presented May 4 and 5, will be the last campus cinema presentation of the current school year.

There will be a showing on Saturday at 8:15 and two on Sunday at 3:15 and 8:15.

Laurence Olivier and Jean Simmons will star in this Shakespearean tragedy which is the story of a man of great thought who failed to be a man of action.

Children's Theatre Presents 'Rapunzel' on Four Day Tour

TRICKY MAKEUP — Franklin Moody, director of Rapunzel puts finishing touches to Connie Goodman's makeup. Miss Goodman portrayed the witch in the E-52 Children's Theater production. The group finished its week of presentations today with a matinee at 3:30 p. m.

Hocutt States Rules About Housemothers

"Fraternity houses without eating facilities will not be required to have housemothers in the near future," stated John E. Hocutt, Dean of Students, but he added that it is strongly suggested by the administration that fraternities do acquire housemothers as soon as it is practical and feasible to do so.

A previous ruling by the administration required that any fraternity eating in the fraternity house had to have a housemother by September 1956, but due to shortage of space in the dining hall, this request had to be extended until the new dining hall is completed.

The administration realizes that the fraternity houses are not equipped to house a woman, and feels that it is unfair to ask the fraternities to remodel their houses or to move at the present time to accommodate a housemother. However, with the opening of the new dining hall, all fraternities desiring to eat in their houses will be required to have a resident housemother. Bill Starkey, past president of the SPE, commented that he definitely recommends housemothers to other fraternities. "As Sig Ep has really enjoyed the benefits of having Mrs. Quillin, benefits such as having girls in the house more frequently and better meals (due to her care in the buying and supervision of the food)." He added that when meals are served in the house, it cuts the expense of a housemother considerably.

Scholarship Aid Applications Due

According to Dean Bessie B. Collins, all forms for the renewal of financial aid for 1957-58 must be returned to the dean's office by May 1.

All students desiring such financial aid must file an application. Any non-scholarship student who now needs help financially should take advantage of this opportunity, also.

Three Day Frat's 'Binges' Feature Dinnerdance, Picnic

Four campus fraternities will be out to make the final "blast" a big one starting tonight, as their social programs will culminate with annual spring weekends.

The four fraternities are Alpha Tau Omega, Delta Tau Delta, Sigma Nu and Sigma Phi Epsilon. Each has prepared a three-day "binge," all ending in picnics on Sunday afternoon.

A formal dinner-dance will start the weekend for ATO. To be held at the Northeast Yacht Club, Northeast, Maryland, the affair will be highlighted by the announcement of the ATO Dream Girl. Music will be furnished by Clyde Bessick and his orchestra.

Saturday night, the ATO's will pick the Sweetheart at the pledge houseparty. At this party, all preparations will be under the supervision of the pledges. A picnic just off the White Clay Creek Road will climax activities on Sunday.

The Deltas will start their weekend with a dinner dance tonight at Scraeffers' Restaurant in Chesapeake City, Maryland. Art Mann and his combo will play for the dance. Taking full control tomorrow night, the brothers' dates will direct entertainment and decorations for a houseparty. Sunday's picnic will complete (Continued on Page 8)

Foreign Born Co-ed Not Foreign Student

Although of foreign birth, Velta Peterson makes it clear that she does not consider herself primarily a "foreign student." Velta, union chemistry major and president of the Cosmopolitan Club is a native of Riga, Latvia, but she is now an American citizen seven years. In fact, she was graduated from Wilmington High School. She has commuted to Delaware for three years and says she really likes commuting.

Velta's family left Latvia when she was eight years old and stayed in Germany for five years. In 1950 they came to America as Displaced Persons. They have been out of contact with people in Latvia since that coun-

"Rapunzel," the E-52's tenth annual Children's Theatre production, is transforming many of Delaware's liveliest students into witches and princes through the magic of dramatic glitter. The fairy tale which experiments with many of the latest make-up techniques opened last week and continues today with a 3:30 matinee.

Most bizarre in the facial preparations belongs to Connie Goodman, a senior education and drama major, who plays the wicked witch who imprisons the beautiful girl with long hair. Miss Goodman has designed her make-up to include sunken eyes, pale blue skin, black lips, a hooked nose and a long turned up chin.

Latex Rubber
For reshaping of her nose, Miss Goodman uses latex rubber which she glues to her face with a special adhesive. Before choosing latex, she experimented with putty and paper machee.

The title role of Rapunzel, played by Suzanne Kozak, a junior drama major, also involves a special make-up effect. Rapunzel is imprisoned in a high tower by the witch, and the only access to the tower is Rapunzel's golden locks which hang from the tower. The witch climbs up the hair to reach the top.

New Hair-do
Miss Kozak has long switches of hair woven into her own hair. During the scenes in which she is imprisoned in the tower, she will use unbraided rope up which the witch and prince will climb.

Franklin Moody, director of "Rapunzel," is also instructing a class at the university on stage make-up. The class consists of a laboratory period where the students practice, and an instruction period about the history of make-up.

Inter-Collegiate Chemists Confer Here Tomorrow

The university will act as host this year to the Inter-Collegiate Student Chemists Convention. The convention, with representatives from small liberal arts schools in the area, will start tomorrow at 9:15 with registration in Brown Laboratory.

The welcome to the eight participating schools will be extended in an address by Roger Thornton, President of the local American Chemical Society Chapter.

Eight papers will be presented. Roger Thornton, a senior chemistry major, will present a paper on the same research he has been doing. The paper, "Further Studies on the Chlorination Reaction," involves work done on the chlorination of alkyl and aryl sulfides.

Luncheon will be served in Old College west wing after the morning session.

try became a satellite of Russia. Velta remembers very little of the country in which she was born.

Velta plans to work as a chemist in industry after she graduates. She expects to take courses toward a master's degree in the university's extension school.

In the way of hobbies, Velta enjoys music and folk dancing, in addition to her activities in the Cosmopolitan Club. She is a member of the American Chemical Society.

The question friends ask her most often is, "How do you like America?" and Velta's answer is "great."

N. Whitten Recipient Of Graduate Award

Miss Nancy E. Whitten, senior history major, has been awarded a $600 graduate scholarship for study next year at Bryn Mawr College.

Working for a master of arts degree next year, Miss Whitten will use the grant to further her studies in 18th Century English history. The scholarship is awarded for non-resident tuition. Miss Whitten, a resident of Havertown, Pennsylvania, will commute to Bryn Mawr, Philadelphia.

An applicant for a Fulbright Scholarship to Great Britain, the Delaware senior said she accepted the Bryn Mawr award so that she will be able to pursue a graduate study program if she does not win the Fulbright prize. She expects to hear from the national committee by the end of May.

The award winner has not always been a history major. She specialized in Spanish, then political science before switching to history in her sophomore year. Appearing somewhat bewildered at the question of a doctor's degree in history, Miss Whitten quipped, "I hope I'll be married before then."

A student of notable rank, Miss Whitten has maintained a scholastic index of better than 3.60. She is now writing a thesis for a degree with distinction.

Its title is, "The Justices of the Peace in England during the 18th Century."

She is also a member of Phi Kappa Phi, national honorary scholastic society.

Dining Hall History Reveals Stormy, Amusing Incidents

By Jeanne Molitor

"From the earliest incidents recorded the evidence shows that the dining hall history has been both amusing and stormy," states Dr. William Lewis, Librarian.

Brass Kettle!

Criticism of the eating facilities began, as stated in the minutes of the board of trustees, as early as 1834. Dr. Lewis says that this early difficulty centered around the use of a brass kettle. Although today housewives use brass cooking utensils with pride, in those days cooking in brass was considered the equivalent of poisoning the food. When the rumor spread through the college that the food was being cooked in a brass kettle, a concerned board of trustees summoned a hurried meeting to discuss the problem. The disturbance was so serious that the board toured the kitchen seeking the fateful kettle. On demand the cook produced the kettle maintaining that it was used only to carry water.

As Dr. Lewis further traces the history of the dining hall he tells of evidence which indicates that there were times when the eating facilities were stopped completely sometimes for years at a time. In these earlier years there were no restaurants in Newark. In order to eat the students had to find one of the townspeople willing to accommodate them.

Early Criticism

Even in 1927 when meals at commons cost $6.25 per week, the dining facilities were criticized. On record is a letter from an irate father to his legislator concerning the "disgraceful" food at Commons. This father protested that for three years his son had complained about the food. He further stated that his son's health had suffered because he ate snacks instead of the school food which he disliked.

eating facilities for women. At that time, the women ate at Warner Hall, or as it was then known, Residence Hall. As closely as Dr. Lewis can discover the women ate in the north east corner of the basement of Warner. This area is now used for a laundry. Kent, the present women's dining hall came into existence about 1926.

The records show that the present criticism of the dining hall is not characteristic of only recent year.

Panel Discussion Reviews Problems Of Mental Illness

"Criminal Responsibility and Mental Illness" will be the topic for a panel discussion on May 3, at 8 p. m. in Wolf Hall. National Mental Health Week will run from April 28 to May 4.

Psi Chi, honorary psychology society, the Psychology Club and the Mental Health Association of Delaware are joint sponsors of the panel discussion. Program arrangements are being made by Dr. Ernest Barratt, associate professor of psychology, and two graduate students, Samuel Nord and Gordon Plzor. Dr. Halsey MacPhee, chairman of the psychology department, will serve as panel moderator. Dr. Jerome Kay, Wilmington psychiatrist, and Judge Elwood F. Melson of the New Castle County Family Court will be the speakers.

Panel discussants will be Dr. Joseph Jastak, Wilmington psychiatrist, and Mrs. Samuel S. Arsh, a member of the board of directors of the Welfare Council of Delaware.

An audience participation question-and-answer period will follow the discussion.

How to make the most of your engineering career ONE OF A SERIES go where engineers are free to do creative work

One of the things that irks engineers most, surveys show, is getting burdened with dull, routine chores. This takes the fun out of engineering, and slows you down.

You'll be ahead, therefore, if you select a company that helps you avoid this kind of career impediment.

Take Boeing, for instance. Boeing frees engineers for creative assignments by hiring engineering aides and draftsmen to handle routine jobs. Boeing engineers concentrate on engineering.

Another point: you'll find excitement aplenty at Boeing, working with men who are literally writing the book in the field of long-range jet-powered aircraft. You'll work on such projects as advanced civil and military jet airplanes, the supersonic BOMARC guided missile weapon system, and top-secret research programs.

Boeing's rapid, steady growth assures constant opportunities for advancement—and career stability. You'll enjoy a high starting salary, and benefits that include retirement plans and a company-paid graduate study program. There are long-range Boeing openings for engineers and scientists of ALL types, and for mathematicians and physicists. It'll pay you to look into these opportunities now!

NOW is the time to start planning ahead. Consult your Placement Office, or write:

Good Reasons For

Intellectual Reluctance

There is little reason to wonder why American college students are conservative, quiet and conforming, compared to their European and South American counterparts. Intellectual independence and experimenting are too fraught with dangers to be attractive.

Take the case of the late E. Herbert Norman, former ambassador to Egypt from Canada. A report in March from a Senate Internal Security subcommittee charged Norman with being a communist. A few days later Norman committed suicide.

Among the evidence of his guilt, which is sparse and still confused, were his connections with Communists and "those who acted like Communists" while attending the universities of Toronto, Cambridge, Harvard and Columbia.

We are concerned only with the use of such evidence as the above in so important a matter as this, not in whether Norman was a Communist. While this example of guilt by association is not conclusive, it is certainly indicative of the suspicions of American officialdom concerning intellectual investigation or experimentation.

From Norman's long-ago past, when he was a youthful, inexperienced and probably immature thinker, those things were brought forth to indict him. In the heyday of McCarthyism, guilt by association threatened almost every person who had sowed political wild oats before and during the Second World War. Social ostracism is one result of this kind of thinking; suicide appears to have been another.

In any event, the general atmosphere of the post-war years seems to have made people in general, and college students in particular, especially wary of appearing non-conformist. Psychologists or sociologists may be able to determine whether some ages stress conforming more than others, and they may say that we are only in a cycle of conformity.

Until we come out of this cycle, it is no wonder that undergraduates strive to be popular, to conform — it would be social, political and economic suicide if they didn't.

Thoughts

By SIDNEY EZRAILSON

Letters! Letters!

It can hardly be disputed that the post office is an important place. Its job of carrying the mail is virtually a job of carrying the hearts and lives of Americans all over the country.

Big Place on Campus

The popularity of the post office can be shown right here at the University by the crowd in the basement of the library at ten o'clock any morning. It is no easy job finding your way through to your own mailbox amid the cries of "All the time empty —" or "I wonder who this is from —" Yes, one can hardly describe the anxious feeling upon bending over or reaching up to get what is in the mail box.

Recent Furor

In the past weeks the postal service of the country as a whole has come to the public eye. The most master general, in what some said was illegal and most agreed was not a good thing, cut the nation's mail services due to lack of funds. It was pointed out that the post office does not keep the money it gets from selling stamps or money orders. This money goes into the U. S. treasury. Therefore, the post office must operate on the same budget, as appropriated by Congress, no matter how many letters are sent. It seems that this year mail had been especially heavy and before the extra money was voted, the postmaster general felt it was necessary to curtail postal service. So for one Saturday there was no mail delivery and post office windows were closed across the United States. During the week, mail deliveries in business districts was to be limited to two a day and the hours of window service were to be limited to about eight hours a day. More cuts, such as the suspension of third class mail and money order sales, were suggested. Congress and the President acted quickly appropriating most of the money that the postmaster general wanted and many of the service cuts described above will be restored. Most of the post offices will be open again on Saturdays and home deliveries will be restored on that day. In some cities the number of mail deliveries to business districts will be brought back to normal.

Difficult Problem

It is hard to place the blame for the cut in service on anyone. The postmaster general knows the capabilities of the department with the money available and Congress is usually slow when it comes to giving money. But no matter how it is viewed, it is an awful thing to have the postal service curtailed. Similarly, it is bad to have the post office entirely dependent on momentary appropriations and the near whims of congress. Perhaps, a new system of control and finance is needed for the post office, where it would get more money from the treasury as the volume of mail is increased.

Should be Service

The post office department has never made money; it usually doesn't break even. Congress appropriates the actual deficit, along with the rest of the money, out of tax money. Like many other people, I think that the postal service does not have to make money. It is just as its name describes a "service," and like other government services should be supported by tax money. A senator pointed out that the Civil Aeronautics administration is not repaid for placing beacons and supplying safety devices at airports. These things are services of the government. Likewise, he thought that the post office should not be repaid for its service and it seems that he is right. The post office is perhaps the most important of the government services since its service affects almost all the people in the country. Its services and facilities should be improved and kept to a very high standard.

Frat House Opens

Delta Tau Delta's fraternity house at 158 South College Ave. will be open for residence this summer. Anyone interested in staying there during summer school or the entire summer should contact Bruce Furman, house manager, or the house.

Neath the Arches

By Nancy Stewart

With a new staff, a new writer takes over this column. Sure hope that I can follow in the footsteps of those columnists past with maybe an improvement here and there. At any rate, this is your column, and if you have any real scoops you think should be included, please contact me and let me know.

The week after Easter found all of Delaware's coed element decked out in their cotton skirts and blouses. Now if we just hold our breath, maybe the monsoon season won't come for another week or two.

Alpha Tau Omega, Delta Tau Delta, Sigma Nu and Sigma Phi Epsilon will hold their fraternity weekends starting tonight. These weekends are one of the major social functions of the year. The only disadvantage is that Monday "fagged out" feeling, with three hour exams the same day.

Venture is due to come out in a few weeks and from what I've heard, this issue is going to be a good one.

It seems that Cupid took a brief rest over the Easter weekend as little news of any pinning or engagements has reached this reporter. Congratulations to Ray Ritchie and Jane Allen on their recent pinning. However, after fraternity weekends, we expect to have a lot of information in this direction.

It seems that the basement next to Brown Hall already of the new men's dormitory has running water. I understand that there is a spring which fills up the embuttment faster than the water can be pumped out.

NOTICE

There will be a meeting of the Sophomore Class in the auditorium of Brown Laboratory on Tuesday at 6:30 p. m. The business of the meeting will consist of the introduction of the new class officers and a discussion of final plans for the class picnic.

I gotta leave! This space is reserved!

Offstage

By GEORGE SPELVIN

Again it's time for the George Spelvin Awards; this time it's the SECOND annual George Spelvin awards.

In all the student mail boxes this morning is a ballot for the George Spelvin Awards, an award of the campus recognition for the best actor and actress, supporting actor and actress, and the best production.

GEORGE SPELVIN AWARDS

On Honor's Day two awards are given to students participating in theatre activities on campus. The Tony Mitchell Acting Award was initiated two years ago to be given to the best actor or actress in memory of Tony Mitchell, an active E-52 member, who was killed in an automobile accident in 1954. The University Drama Group awards a cash prize to a student, usually a senior, who has made the greatest contribution to the dramatic program of the University.

Both students for these above awards are chosen by the Department of Dramatic Arts and Speech. Supplementing these fine honors the George Spelvin Awards will entirely represent the student opinion.

GEORGE SPELVIN AWARDS

The ballots have spaces for the best actor and actress and also the best supporting actor and actress. Question then arises—what is a supporting actor or actress? For your convenience, we will divide the show into leads and main supporting actors.

First major production, "The Glass Menagerie." Leads—Thomas J. Waters (Tom Wingfield), Connie Goodman (Amanda Wingfield), Suzanne Kozak (Laura Wingfield); leading supporting roles—Jack Scott (Jim O'Connor).

Second major production, "Agamemnon & The Homecoming." Leads—Mary Minkiewicz (Clytemnestra & Christine), Carl Seltzer (Aegisthus & Adam Brant), Suzanne Kozak (Lavinia Menon); leading supporting roles—Gretchen Berguido (Cassandra), Joanne Spitzer (Hazel Niles), Jack Scott (Peter Niles).

Third Major production, "The Gilded Hoop." Leads—Thomas J. Waters (Mart Campbell), Elaine Labour (Beanie Campbell), Jack Scott (Jim Campbell); leading supporting roles—Richard Swartout (Bill), Ginger Bruce (Louise).

Remember—complete cast lists can be seen on the Post Office or Mitchell Hall bulletin boards.

Ballots should be turned in before the REVIEW office before 5 p. m. May 3. Winners will be announced in the May 10 issue of the REVIEW. The awards are framable certificates of recognition. So till next week... enjoy yourself and don't forget to vote.

It's All Greek...

The pledges of Alpha Epsilon Pi Fraternity really outdid themselves. The party they put on this past Saturday night was a smashing success. The entertainment given by future brothers should not, I suppose, be taken at face value. We're hopping it had some underlying meaning.

Congratulations to brother Rubenstein who has recently become president of Alpha Zeta Honorary Fraternity and to Jerry Katz who is treasurer of Alpha Phi Omega. Brother Epivak is congratulated on becoming a Phi Beta Kappa.

The new flag has finally come, really sharp, too.

The Phi Kappa Tau weekend is taking shape and it looks like it will be another smashing success. The weekend will include a formal dance at the Granary, a barn party Saturday and a beach party Sunday.

For a holiday weekend, there was quite a lot of activity around here, last week. The setting was an old deserted barn and the participants were two groups of brothers, the campers and the raiders. Amidst gunshots and the cursing of the wounded, and figures silhouetted against the battleground, quite an illusion was created. Brother Simpson pulled a Lassie and somehow found his way home on foot, while everybody else rode home exchanging stories.

Somewhere on the hard, dirt-caked streets of Wilmington, a little brown boxer is lost... our Kim walked out on the Doughe y abode last Sunday and hasn't been seen since.

The brothers of Kappa Alpha welcome the 19 new brothers who were initiated Wednesday. It is an honor and a pleasure to welcome them to the brotherhood.

Right around the corner is the Old South Ball. The banquet will be held Friday, May 2, at Kennet Country Club. Brother George Madden will furnish the music. This event helps to stimulate the well known idea "the South will rise again."

The "A" team has won its games so far and the "B" team has a 1 and 1 record. The defeat being when the "A" and "B" teams met last week. There is plenty of sports activity around the house at the present time. KA also has two volleyball teams and a bowling team. All teams are doing well.

Tomorrow we will hold our annual Pledge-Brother field day. This event is always looked forward by all.

The Pledges (now brothers) did a swell job on a general overhaul of the front yard.

The brothers wish to congratulate all of the recent initiates of Pi Kappa Alpha and welcome them into the brotherhood. Those initiated last Wednesday are: Jerry Frankel, Frank Garosi, Don Trout, Thor Sveinbjornsson, Dennis Dorsey, Mike Klappinsky, Jim McKenny, Bill McCloy, Larry Jilk, Steve Mach, Harry Wilson, Dick Cannon and George Seidle.

Last week's "Riddle of the Week" was solved. Coss found his bed on the roof of our garage. What an odd place to sleep. There is not any riddle this week since everyone's furniture is intact.

Many moons have passed since Sigma Phi Epsilon has enjoyed its fraternity weekend. But this year, the story will be different as the house is looking forward to its best rest and best weekend ever. The festivities begin tonight when the brothers, pledges, alumni and their dates will dance to the music of Manny Klein and his orchestra at Kent Manor Inn. An annual highlight of this event is the naming of the "Girl of the Golden Heart" whose identity will be revealed tonight at intermission.

The program continues Saturday night when the brothers and their dates will journey to Boines. Restaurant for dinner and then return to the house for one of those famous Sig Ep house parties with the music supplied by those ever-rock-in' Five Snaps. The weekend will be topped off on Sunday afternoon with a picnic at Jack Miller's farm.

The Theta Chi Weekend begins on the third of May. It is eagerly anticipated by everyone planning to attend and is expected to be second only to the Bowery Ball. Friday night, there will be a party at the house. On Saturday, all the Thetas will go to Schaefer's for an evening of dining and dancing. Then on Sunday afternoon, there will be a picnic to top off the weekend.

All of you who wondered why the Thete pledges became exhibitionists on Monday and Tuesday can now put your minds at ease. It was forced on them by Russ Trimmer, our honorable Pledge Marshall, as part of "Hell Week." Tuesday night, "Hell Night," ended the formal pledge training. The pledges are to become brothers in the immediate future.

This evening Delta Tau Delta will hold its biggest social event of the year when the annual Delt Weekend gets underway with a formal dinner and dance at Schaefer's Restaurant in Chesapeake City. The music of Art Mann will be featured. Tomorrow night the usual procedure will be reversed and our dates will present a house party, complete with entertainment, for the brothers. A picnic on Sunday will climax the Weekend.

Our intramural teams were pretty busy last week, and they defeated ATO in both volleyball and softball. Theta Chi fell victim to our softball team while we lost to Sigma Nu and Sig Ep. After forfeiting to KA in volleyball we managed to pick up three points in bowling against AEPJ.

The brothers who attended the PIKA splash party last week would like to thank the men of Pike's Peak. We had a great time.

We would like to congratulate Brothers Rudrow and Mundy on being elected Senate fraternity representatives in the recent campus elections.

With ATO weekend coming up on April 26, 27 and 28, the brothers of Alpha Tau Omega have preparations well under way to make this weekend a huge success. Since this is traditionally the highlight of the Tau's social season, the brothers are anticipating a fabulous weekend. Friday night will feature a formal dinner dance at the Northeast Yacht Club with the music of Clyde Bessick's band providing the atmosphere.

The houseparty on Saturday has been turned over to the pledges for their annual party. Sunday afternoon's picnic at Col. Dunn's farm will bring the weekend to an exhausted close.

Congratulations this week go to: Brother Don Miller who was elected to Beta Beta Beta, Brother Yorke Rhodes who was selected as "Aggie of the Year" and to Brother Jim Davis who was elected to Tau Beta Pi and also to the presidency of American Institute of Chemical Engineering.

Brothers Bob Gore and Tom Lord were also elected secretary and representative to AICHE respectively.

Other "Aggies" in the news this week were Brother Hastings and Pledge Brothers Warrington and Boyce who were elected to offices in the Ag Club.

As the brothers of Sigma Nu returned from the Easter weekend they started to hit the books a little bit harder, realizing that there are only approximately three weeks of school left and that finals are just around the corner.

Our weekend will start off tonight with a formal dance at the Italian American Club in Kennet Square, featuring the music of Jack Dougherty. There will be a house party Saturday night with music of the Infirmary Five from the University of Pennsylvania. The weekend will come to a close Sunday afternoon with a picnic at brother Tom Maddux's farm.

Congratulations this week to Ray Richter and Miss Jane Allen on their planning. Congratulations also to Earl Alper and Don Jost on their initiation into Omnicron Delta Kappa and to Harlan White on pledging Alpha Zeta and Jim Crothers on pledging Sigma Beta & Blade.

Delaware's nine played you-give-me-some-runs-and-I'll-see-what-I-can-do-for-you with John Hopkins at Frazer Field last Tuesday but fortunately the Blue Hens did not give away as much as they took and wound up on top of a 12-2 score.

John Hopkins practically handed the Hens nine runs by mixing a generous number of errors, bases on balls, passed balls and wild pitches with the twelve Delaware hits. To be sure, twelve is an impressive number of hits, but only about half of them figured in the scoring.

The Blue Hens responded to their opponent's generosity by making a couple of boots of their own, but thanks to some stalwart clutch pitching by Tony De Lucas, won the game easily.

Larry Catuzzi, Jimmy Smith, Gene Watson and Dick Duerr got two hits apiece in the game, but Catuzzi's were the most authoritative, as they provided four runs.

The fans at the game were royally entertained between innings by some noise with a beat from the loud speaker. Most of the noise was almost completely unrecognizable but bore a resemblance to some current pop records.

Som of the following predictions for the 1957 Major League season may look pretty bad right now but maybe they won't look so bad at the end of the season.

Varsity Nine Wins 3, Drops 1 Ex-Infielder Pitches Shut-Out

Delaware's baseball team saw a lot of action during the past week as they won three out of four games. Losing only to Bucknell, 7-1. The Hens drowned Swarthmore, Drexel and Johns Hopkins, 11-5, 4-0, 12-2 respectively.

In the Swarthmore game the Blue Hens bombarded three Garnet pitchers for 11 runs and 11 hits. Jim Smith and Larry Catuzzi led the attack with three hits and two RBI's each. Gene Watson chipped in with two hits, one a double and two RBI's.

The Hens were jolted by Bucknell as Bob Beck gave up only one run and six hits. Beck's team mates reached Tony DeLucas for seven runs.

Jim Bryer and Larry Catuzzi stood out in the defeat. Bryer got three hits and smashed a home run and Catuzzi shone defensively, handling eight chances flawlessly.

Fred Walter's debut as a pitcher was successful he threw a four hit shut out against Drexel. Walter's also proved that pitchers can hit as he rocked Dragon hurler, Bob Buckley for three hits, including a round tripper.

The Blue Hens blasted two Johns Hopkins pitchers for twelve runs and twelve hits as they won their second straight game. No less than four Blue Hens had two hits as Larry Catuzzi led the way with a triple and four RBI's. Tony DeLucas and Bill Patterson gave up only three safeties to the Baltimoreans.

Kappa Alpha Nine Tops Theta Chi, 20-12

Kappa Alpha's softball team spotted Theta Chi four runs and then struck back with twenty of its own to smash the Thets, 20-12, in a five-running interfraternity A league game.

Typ Morris, Roland Carson and Russ Tatman hit home runs to pace KA hitting attack, and John Partilla bombed one for Theta Chi.

Bill McCafferty and Tom Adams shared the mound duties for KA, and Hugh Mooney went all the way for Theta Chi.

The line score:

KA 067 62-20

TC 405 30-12

Blue Chick Baseball Team Faces Penn Frosh Tomorrow

By Gene Aronowitz

Tomorrow afternoon Delaware's Blue Chick baseball team will take on the University of Pennsylvania freshman squad on Frazer Field. This will be the second contest for the Delaware yearlings, who are being groomed for positions on future Hen varsity squads.

There are two pitchers. Al Neizer played with Wilmington High School last year, and during the summer led Durney Lehigh Post to the state championships. He is left handed and has been known as a "junk" pitcher.

Jerry Hayes, another lefthander, hails from Mt. Pleasant High, outside of Wilmington. He's tall and lanky, and sports a good fast ball. Otto Pad and Leon Dombrowski, who can also be called on for the pitching chores, are starting at different positions.

Two candidates for catcher are: Gibby Smith from Mount Pleasant; and Mark Hurm, who played with Newark High last season. Hurm was captain of the frosh football squad last fall.

The infield should be adequate. Homer (Sonny) Reihm from Middletown High looks like the choice at second. When the club is at home Carl Franz will be called on at short with Jack Turner filling in at third.

On the road Turner will play short with Mike Wolynetz protecting the "hot corner." Jerry Swartz, and other infielder, played with Wilmington High. Otto Pad holds first base.

Dombrowski, a long ball hitter with a strong arm, will start in center field. Jim Garvin, who served as a first sacker at his high school in Linwood, N. J., will be in left, while Bob Reeder will protect right field.

WAA Elections Set; No Softball Tourney

This may not be November according to the latest weather observations, but it is election time. That's right, Women's Athletic Association Elections will be held next week starting May 1 and lasting through May 7.

The elections will be held in the girls' dormitories for the active members of WAA. The active members are those girls who have participated in any of the WAA activities this year, including scorers, timers and managers, not to mention players.

Stickmen Record First Season Win Defeat F&M 9-5

Delaware's varsity lacrosse team was victorious for the first time this season, after four defeats, when it defeated Franklin and Marshall, 9-5, on Tuesday at F. & M.

Midfielder, Bob Cossaboon sparked the Hens from a 3-0 deficit to victory with five goals. He was assisted by Bob Seaman and Harry Kline who contributed two goals apiece to the Hen cause.

A nationally ranked lacrosse team from Washington College, Chestertown, Maryland, defeated Milt Roberts' squad 19-6 on April 17 on the Hens' home field.

Faced by All-American candidate Joe Seivold, Washington College jumped off to an 11-2 first half lead. Bob Seaman, who accounted for four of the six Delaware goals, tallied twice in the first half.

The candidates for the offices are: president, Lynea Mosteller and Barbara Jenkinson; vice-president, Jane Lotter and Joan Healy; secretary, Pat Seni and Nancy Spahr; treasurer, Carol Turner and Nancy Williams.

Please come out and vote. If you get good people in the offices you will have a good WAA program.

From last reports, it seems that the softball tournament will not be. There just weren't enough girls interested to have a tournament.

The Swim Marathon ends this week. So far the sophomores are ahead of the freshmen, which is very unusual. The Frosh usually win hands down. The meet will be held soon. The exact date will be announced later.

Last Monday night, Aquatic Club Elections were held and the new officers of that organization are: president, Gail Pierson; vice-president, Mary Beth Carney; treasurer, Brenda Baumgardner; secretary, Connie Alexander.

Congratulations and best of luck to all of you.

Netmen Defeat Johns Hopkins By Sweeping Doubles Matches

The University of Delaware tennis squad beat Johns Hopkins on Tuesday, April 23, on the Frazer Field Courts. The Hens captured all three doubles matches, while splitting the singles events 3-3.

Hen captain Allen Woodruff captured Delaware's first match of the day, in the third match, turning back Dan Switki 8-6, 6-0. However, Woodruff's brother, Bob, was defeated 6-2, 13-11 by Bob Spielman of Hopkins.

The Hens took the final two singles contests, Tom Jenkins quickly stopping Mike Garrick, 6-1, 6-1, and Dan Daniello gaining a victory over Joe Pedorella, 6-1, 4-6, 6-0.

The doubles matches belonged to Delaware. The combination of Walker and Daniello stopped Switki and Don Savari, 3-6, 7-5, 8-6. The Woodruff brothers turned back Spielman and Herb Butler, 7-5, 6-3 and Kaufman and Jenkins dropped Garrick and Pedorella.

Tomorrow, the Hens will take on Bucknell at home. The match will begin at 2:00 p.m.

NOTICE TO WOMEN STUDENTS

To try to clarify the women's swimming requirement:

1. Students who do not pass the swimming test by May 10th will receive an F in physical education.
2. Students who need and expect to take the swim test may do so any Thursday at 4 p.m. before May 10th.
3. Students who cannot come at this time may make a special appointment with Mrs. Rothacher to take the test.

Carmen Cella

"Cell" is playing his third year of baseball for the Hens. In his sophomore year he played second base and last season covered left field for Delaware.

Last fall, Carmen was a standout performer for the Blue Hen football team at end and was particularly well known for his diving tackles and down-field blocks.

Hailing from Linwood, Pa., Carmen attended Ridley Township High School, where he lettered in football, basketball and baseball. He is majoring in physical education at Delaware and hopes to enter some form of professional coaching after graduation this spring.

Students Participate In Sacred Festival

Four students of the university will participate in the second annual concert of the Wilmington Festival of the Sacred Arts Chorus to be held next Wednesday at 8:30 p. m., in the Playhouse, Wilmington.

The four students are James Hughes, sophomore; Gail Lambert, junior; Anne Tatnall, freshman; and John James, graduate student. They and other members of the 60-voiced chorus will perform Beethoven's Mass in C with the New Chamber Orchestra of Philadelphia.

Soloists for the concert will be Janice Harsanyi, soprano; Jane Ellis, alto; Howell Zwick, tenor; and Roy Wilde, bass. Nicholas Harsanyi, the soprano's husband, will conduct.

$1, $2 and $3 and student rates are 75 per cent of that. They may be obtained from Anne Tatnall, one of the participants. Those interested may also get tickets by calling SYcamore 8-5430 in Wilmington.

Alumnae Receives Grad Fellowship

Miss Filomena M. Giammarco, a university graduate now studying at the Sorbonne in Paris, France, has been awarded a $1850 fellowship for study next year at Bryn Mawr College, Philadelphia.

Miss Giammarco, recipient of a Fulbright Scholarship, has been studying at the University of Paris since last September. A resident of Wilmington, she was graduated from here last June. A candidate for a master of arts degree in French, her program at the Parisian university is connected with the Middlebury College Graduate School.

Wilmington Senior Receives $100 Scholarship In French

Miss Helen Rötter, senior at Wilmington High School, has received a $100 scholarship to the university as result of excellence in a French contest sponsored by the American Association of Teachers of French.

The announcement was made by Dr. Kimberley S. Roberts, chairman of the department of modern languages. Miss Rötter achieved the highest score among those contestants entering the university in the fall.

Judy Sutton, winner of the $100 Spanish award to the University, also placed in the French contest. She was second among fourth-year contestants.

Dr. Roberts has announced the complete results of the French contest which was given earlier this spring. The winners are all residents of Wilmington.

First year: Sandra Lowry, Warner Junior High School, first; Carol B. Thompson, Warner Junior High, second; Margaret Day, Tower Hill School, third.

Second year: Dana Dowling, P. S. duPont High School and Gary Webster, Tower Hill, tie for first; Jules N. Wright, Tower Hill, second; William S. Robertson, III, Tower Hill, third. Third year: Katherine F. Mawdsley, P. S. duPont, first; Laurence H. Beck, Tower Hill, second; Miss Rötter, Wilmington High School, third.

Fourth year: Joan L. Clough, Tower Hill, first; Miss Sutton, P. S. duPont, second; Margaret L. Moyer, Tower Hill, third.

Honors Day

Colonel Charles Woodrow, president of the Wilmington Reserve Officer's Association, will offer awards to three outstanding cadets in the company. Miss M. Catherine Dawning will present the award given by the Daughters and Founders and Patriots of America.

Dean John Hagerly, of the university and the Armed Forces will present the Communication and Electronics Award and the Military Engineering Awards. Mr. Harold Brooks, Post Commander of the Newark VFW will present VFW prizes to the outstanding cadet company commanders. Dr. John F. Lontz, representing the Armed Forces Chemical Association will offer a prize to the outstanding leader both in military and chemical engineering.

Mr. Arthur G. Logan, Secretary of Defense's Civilian Aid to the State of Delaware, will present the Association of United States Army Award for excellence in military. Mr. Elwood A. Daves and Mr. Herbert H. Ward, Jr., president and vice-president respectively of the Delaware Society of the Sons of the American Revolution will present two new awards. The first is to be given to a senior who has achieved excellence in military and mechanical engineering; the second will go to a junior who has exhibited military efficiency in ROTC.

Results Are Same if Interest Is, Asserts Engineering Professor

"In comparing the American college student to the European, you must look at the results which both have accomplished," comments Dr. Kurt Frey, native of Germany, who recently accepted a position as Professor of Engineering Mechanics at Delaware. He further states, "Although the education systems differ, the quality of the results is the same if the same interest in results prevails."

Dr. Frey's main interest is in the field of fluid mechanics. He states that his main desire is "to improve knowledge." This factor influenced his entrance into the field of fluid mechanics. Dr. Frey felt that this was an area in which there was much work to be done. He believes that engineers can become creative more easily in their special areas if they have not blinded their interests to one aspect of the vast engineering field. The varied nature of Dr. Frey's research projects are evidence that his work has not limited him to one specified area, but has carried him into many interrelated areas.

While in this county Dr. Frey states that his most interesting research work has been the development of paravanes used in mine sweeping by the Navy. Prior outstanding research has been, for example, the development of the aircraft diving break which increases accuracy when dropping bombs and torpedoes; the development of a propeller for use at top speed at low supersonic velocity and contributions to the control of eddied fluid flow for the improvement of design, construction, operation and economy of ducts, apparatus or engines, such as used in chemical and steel industry, in power plants, on board ships and other fields of engineering. Presently Dr. Frey is writing a book on fluid mechanics.

Dr. Frey sums up his feelings about America in these words: "I like the atmosphere of living in America."

Stone & Webster Engineering Corporation provides consulting engineering and complete design and construction services to industry in this country and throughout the free world.

Among recent representative projects designed and constructed by the Corporation are: an ethylene plant in Texas; a steam power station in Brazil; a hydro electric plant in the Pacific Northwest; an oil refinery in Canada; in Maine, the world's first commercial Chemi-Groundwood pulp mill; a phenol plant in California; and oil refineries in Italy and Australia.

From the inception of nuclear engineering at Stagg Field, Chicago, to current power and research installations, Stone & Webster Engineering Corporation has pioneered in engineering and construction for nuclear projects.

Stone & Webster Engineering Corporation has opportunities for a limited number of new engineering graduates. We are an organization with a 67-year record of growth and achievement; an organization with a high degree of stability and one whose primary function is to render highly technical, professional engineering service to its clients.

If you have the personal and technical qualifications we require, Stone & Webster Engineering Corporation offers you an opportunity to participate in the engineering and construction of projects in every branch of the steam power, nuclear power, industrial, petroleum, petrochemical and chemical fields. It offers you advancement limited only by your own ability.

If these considerations appeal to you — if you're interested in the idea of becoming a pacemaker in your engineering generation — we invite you to get in touch with us.
