NEWARKERS IN PLAY

Edith Counahan In Title Role At Delaware

Six local students will play a large part in the production of "Mrs. Moonlight" on Thursday, November 11, the first presentation of the year by the E 52 players, University of Delaware dramatic organization.

The title role will be played by Miss Edith Counahan, and her sister, Miss Dorothy Counahan, besides having one of the leading parts, is also chairman of the makeup committee.

Others taking active parts are: Miss Helen Black, chairman of properties; Miss Mary Louise Steele, prompter; Miss Janet Grubb, assistant chairman of scenery; and Harold Tiffany, assistant stage manager.

Reception Planned

A popular Broadway success of several years ago, "Mrs. Moonlight" is based on a most unusual theme. The principal character is a woman who never grows old.

Action of the play covers a period of three generations, from 1878 to the present time. Fanciful and original in its plot, "Mrs. Moonlight" represents a distinct departure from the types of plays which have been presented heretofore on the Mitchell Hall stage.

The play will be given two performances at Temple University, Philadelphia, in December, marking the first time a full-length University of Delaware production has been presented away from the local campus in six years.

J. H. POLK FETED BY MASONS

Has Been Member Of Armstrong Lodge 56 Years

By Miss Emma S. Maclary

Newport, October 27.—Armstrong Lodge No. 26, A. F. & A. M., of Newport honored its oldest living past master at its meeting in Masonic Temple on Thursday evening, Mr. James H. Polk, formerly a resident of Newport, who now lives at Hockessin, Del., was made a Mason in October, 1881, and the special meeting last Thursday was known as "Jim Polk Night," in honor of his 56 years as a member of the lodge. Mr. Polk is now in his 84th year. Another special guest at the meeting was Dr. Barnard, of Kennett Square, Pa., who is in his 89th year, and is the only living member who was present the night Mr. Polk was made a Mason. Dr. Barnard was the speaker of the evening, and related some interesting events of Armstrong Lodge and activities of its members.

Committee In Charge

A special committee composed of Worshipful Master Paul Yearley, Stephen J. Leach, C. C. Campbell and Kemper B. Pierson were in charge of arrangements for the celebration. Mr. Polk was presented with several gifts by the lodge as a token of his friends and the esteem in which he is held. Gifts of flowers and candy were also presented to Mrs. Polk, in honor of Mr. Polk's long affiliation with the fraternity. Mr. Polk served Armstrong Lodge as master in 1887. Guests were present from other Masonic Lodges in the vicinity. Refreshments were served. The fifth grade pupils of the Krebs (Please Turn To Page 8)

FARMERS GET FULL PAYMENTS

Conservation Awards To Be Made In Full

The Agricultural Adjustment Administration announced today that payments to farmers participating in the 1937 Agricultural Conservation Program will be made at the maximum rates provided under the program as announced last December. The 1937 program as originally announced included a tentative schedule of payment rates subject to a 10 per cent adjustment upward or downward, depending upon the extent of participation by farmers.

H. R. Tolley, administrator of the AAA, said today that payment of the maximum rates originally authorized will fully carry out the offer made to cooperating farmers, while still staying well within budget requirements.

Local Expenses Deducted

"A factor in the decision to pay the maximum was based on the unusual character of local administrative expenses which this year are deductible from payments to farmers," Mr. Tolley said. "Local expenses during recent months have included a considerable amount of aerial mapping work which will be used in administering the program in future years. Also, since the 1938 program was drawn up much earlier this year than in the past, a disproportionate amount of current local administrative expenses incurred in 1937 are in connection with the 1938 rather than the 1937 program.

To offset those unusual expenses, the maximum rates will be paid to cooperating farmers in the continental United States. The maximum rates will not be paid farmers of the insular regions because local administrative expenses are not deducted from their payment."

Matrimonial Request Brings Rapid Action

"Here's Health," recently launched weekly publication which is issued in the interest of departmental unity by the State Board of Health, aims to please, if a classified advertisement in the October 20 number is an indication.

A nurse (her identity a secret) connected with the Newark office, made a request for L. C. Messick, editor to "find me a husband." Editor Messick, always anxious to please, "ran" the following advertisement:

John R. Fader, chairman of the club's Charter Night Committee, announced November 16 as the date the celebration will take place.

Service Scheduled At Head Of Christiansa

Services will be held Sunday by the Head of Christiansa Church at 10 o'clock in the morning with Rev. A. N. Stubbline preaching on "Troubled Souls and Troubled Seas."

Additional services will be held at Rock Presbyterian Church at 11:15 o'clock Sunday morning.

To Address Dairymen

HENRY A. WALLACE

MARVIN JONES

Agricultural legislation in the forthcoming session of Congress will be one of the principal topics of discussion at the 21st meeting of the National Cooperative Milk Producers' Federation at Baltimore, November 1, 2 and 3. Scheduled on the second day of the program are Marvin Jones, chairman of the House Agricultural Committee, at the afternoon session, and Henry A. Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture, at the night meeting.

DAIRYMEN TO GATHER

Meeting To Be At Baltimore November 1-3

Dairymen delegates representing approximately 350,000 farm families in 41 states will meet in Baltimore, November 1 to 3, for the twenty-first annual convention of the National Cooperative Milk Producers' Federation.

More than a score of nationally known authorities are included on the program which will focus discussion on marketing trends and on legislation directly and indirectly affecting the dairy farmer. Declarations of policy are expected on proposed wage and hour enactments and on laws tightening up sanitary requirements on imported dairy products.

Maryland Producers Hosts

Hosts to the group will be the Maryland Cooperative Milk Producers, Inc., one of the oldest of the active dairy marketing associations in the United States; the Maryland and Virginia Milk Producers Association of Washington; and the Interstate Milk Producers Cooperative, Inc., of Philadelphia.

Price maintenance of manufactured dairy products by governmental purchase will be one of the first day's topics, with speakers including E. W. Gummitt, chief of the AAA dairy section. Cooperative transportation of milk will be discussed by B. F. Beach, secretary-manager of the Michigan Milk Producers Association, and Fred T. Flynn, manager of the Falls Cities Cooperative Milk Producers Association of Louisville.

To Discuss Legislation

Subjects on the second day's program will include the advantages of reserves for cooperative associations by B. B. Derriek, secretary-treasurer of the Maryland and Virginia Milk Producers Association and base surplus plans by I. W. Heaps, manager of the Maryland Cooperative Milk Producers, Inc., and A. H. Lauterbach, general manager of the Interstate Milk Producers Cooperative, Inc.

Marvin Jones, chairman of the House Committee on Agriculture, is scheduled to discuss agricultural legislation in the coming session of Congress, with Fred H. Sexauer, president of the New York Dairy-men's League Cooperative Association, Inc. analyzing the effect of the Black-Connery Labor Standards Bill upon the farmer. Henry A. Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture, will be the principal speaker at the banquet session.

CONTEST SEES MRS. ZEBLEY WINNER

Drive Ends As Mrs. Barnes Is Second; Elliott Takes Third

Mrs. Elizabeth Zebley, who resides on Nottingham Road near the state line in Maryland, won the first prize of $500 in the subscription campaign which closed at the offices of THE NEWARK POST Saturday night. Mrs. Zebley polled a total of 11,000 votes.

Offered the choice of a $671 Chevrolet, two-door sedan or $300 in cash for her winning effort, Mrs. Zebley selected the money.

Mrs. Geraldine B. Barnes, Lumbrook, was second with 9,415,000 votes and collected $200, while Robert R. Elliott, Christiana, winner of the 1936 campaign, finished third with 7,885,000 votes. Mr. Elliott's reward was $50 in prize money.

Four Additional Finalists

Other finalists were Mrs. Helen Irwin, 215 West Main Street, 1,930,000 votes; Mrs. Oliver Leverage, 121 East Delaware Avenue, 1,872,500 votes; Miss Rachel Greenplate, R. D. 3, Newark, 1,600,000 votes; Miss Susie Pruitt, 13 Choate Street, 375,000 votes; Mrs. William Wideman, 22 Prospect Avenue, 352,500 votes; and Rev. Clyde Rickabaugh, R. D. 3, Newark, 337,500 votes.

Mrs. Zebley's winning total was almost three million votes greater than the 8,749,500 votes polled by Mr. Elliott in winning last year. Mrs. Barnes, runner-up for the second straight year, exceeded her 1936 poll of 7,385,000 by more than a million votes.

Conducted on a high plane throughout, the contest was handled personally by John E. Montgomery, president of the J. E. Montgomery Circulation Company, of Watertown, New York. He was assisted by Miss Regina Bradley, also of Watertown.

Stated Case Early

In the beginning, Mr. Montgomery made it clear to all candidates that the contest would be conducted with the utmost fairness. He lived up to that principle as was borne out by the commendations made to and concerning him by workers in the drive.

Accepting the final verdict with fine sportsmanship, workers exchanged mutual congratulations as the contest ended. Mrs. Barnes was especially fluent in her remarks of congratulations for Mrs. Zebley and in her praise for both Mr. Montgomery and Miss Bradley.

Less than 20 people witnessed the closing of the campaign which was meticulously handled by Hon. John R. Fader, Speaker of the House of Representatives; Hon. Cyrus E. Rittenhouse, postmaster, and Dr. John R. Downes, head of the State Board of Health unit in Newark.

University Fosters Dramatics

New Center To Aid Amateur Groups In Producing Plays

A new department established by the University of Delaware this year under the title of the University Dramatic Center is designed to provide encouragement and technical assistance to all groups in the state engaged in producing plays, according to Dr. C. R. Kase, professor in charge. The center was formed as the result of requests for such assistance which have been made with increasing frequency during the last few years.

The department will operate through a state-wide dramatic organization soon to be formed. This organization will hold its meetings at dramatic institutes to be held at intervals through the year. In this manner members may discuss their problems and also hear them discussed by authorities in little theatre work.

Additional Facilities

Providing facilities for holding a dramatic festival in the spring, when members may produce plays in the campus theatre, the center will also issue bulletins of practical information concerning play production, such as play lists, the making of off-stage effects, procedure for a performance, suggested methods of organization and the like.

Further information concerning the date and nature of the first dramatic institute will be issued periodically. Organizations desiring to receive announcements from the center and invitations to such institutes are requested to contact Dr. Kase, director of dramatics, University of Delaware. Information concerning the type of dramatic work done by a group is essential.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

The title for our lesson is well-chosen—"The Moral Issue in the Drink Problem."

First, let it be clear that there is an issue. Those who have business, social, or political connections with the liquor traffic would like to have us believe that the repeal of prohibition settled the matter once for all. But let us be sure of this fact—the liquor problem is at our very door, and it must be met.

In the second place, many would have us think that the matter of drunkenness is a social, political, or even a physical problem, without any moral implications whatever. But those who are informed know that even the supposedly innocent beer is inextricably tied up with vice and crime.

A talk illustrated by charts on "Your Value as a Homemaker" was given by Mrs. Kate H. Daugherty. Mrs. Essie Little read an original poem by Mrs. Samuel Pierson dedicated to the club members.

The Ladies' Mite Society of Ebenezer M. E. Church met last Thursday night with Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Buckingham as hosts.

The Society arranged for a package social to be held November 11 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lynch, Strickersville.

A program was given as follows: Piano duet by Mrs. L. T. Staats and Miss Jane Staats, piano violin duet by Misses Kathleen and Dorothy Little, readings by George Alcorn, Mrs. A. T. Buckingham and Mrs. Essie Little, vocal duet by Miss Dorothy Little and Miss Jane Staats, piano solos by Dorothy Hollingsworth and the society journal by Mrs. Essie Little.

Luncheon Marks Birth Mrs. Maris Miller, of Cochranville, a former Delawarean, was given a luncheon in honor of her birthday anniversary last Wednesday by her Delaware relatives and friends.

Those attending were: Mr. and Mrs. Paul Woodward, Mr. and Mrs. Abner Woodward and daughter, Margaret, Mr. and Mrs. William Moore, Walter Lynam, of Roselle; Mrs. Leslie Woodward, Robert Woodward, Donald Woodward, of Hockessin; Mrs. Joseph Woodward, Horace Woodward, of Price's Corner; Miss Annie Sayers, of Wilmington; Mrs. Walter Gregg, of Cranston Heights; Miss Elsie Lynam, of Marshallton; W. P. Naudain, Mr. and Mrs. Ferris Yearsley, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Woodward, Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Woodward and daughter, Doris, Mr. and Mrs. I. G. Klair, Gheen Stephenson, Miss Annie Klair, Mrs. Bertha Armer, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Klair and daughter, Esther, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Dennison, all of this community.

Choral Club Active Milford Cross Road Choral Club has started its ninth consecutive term with a large attendance each Tuesday evening. Miss Helen Martin is again directing the club and plans are now underway for the annual Christmas concert. The group plans to sing a number of the old folk carols. There are more than 35 enrolled for this fall term.

The students of Milford Cross Roads School presented a program appropriate to October last Wednesday night at the monthly meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association. PARENTS NIGHT AT NEWPORT

Entertainment Given In School Building

By Miss Emma Maclary
 The Stanton school observed "Parents' Night" last evening at a supper meeting and entertainment in the school building. Approximately 30 parents were present for supper, after which a program of songs, plays, and historical films, arranged by the 4-H group, was presented. The 4-H group had arranged for the evening. Guests of honor were Laura B. Rutherford, New Castle County 4-H agent and Ed. McCullough, assistant state club agent. Both Miss Rutherford and Mr. McCullough congratulated the school on its accomplishments. Miss Little, principal of the school, also gave a 4-H leader at school and Mrs. Margaret Wier, who is sewing leader, were present.

Attendance Record
 The Stanton School had a record of 97.4 per cent. for attendance at elementary schools of New Castle County for the month of September. The fifth and sixth grades of the Stanton school, headed by Mrs. Helen Wright, made a trip to Philadelphia last week to visit points of historical interest. Pupils of the sixth and eighth grades visited Franklin Institute, and were accompanied by Miss Lora Little and Bell teachers. The group on the trip in a chartered bus. Parish Aid of St. James P. E. church, Stanton will hold its anti-liquor party on Thursday evening, October 28, in the parsonage.

P. T. A.
 The Stanton School held its first meeting of the season on Thursday evening in the school house, with Hedlicka, presiding. Plans were discussed for the conduct of educational classes during winter, and the committee will make definite arrangements for the November meeting.

Committee Appointed
 Hedlicka outlined a program for the ensuing year, and appointed committees in charge of various branches of activity, as follows: Miss Ruth Bell, Margaret Wier, Mrs. Jane Murray, Charles Wilson, and Michini and Merritt Newell; health: Miss Lora Little and V. V. Lynum; ways and means: James J. Harold Mitchell, Irvin B. Ralph Stradley, Charles E. C. Reed, C. E. McVey, J. O. Hedlicka; hospitality: Alice McCormick, Mesdames Stradley, and William Bradley; Mesdames Helen Dickey, Mary Dickey; publicity: Ada Helmreich; adult education: Mesdames H. V. Lynum and Mrs. Wilson, and Miss Lora Little.

The next meeting of the association will be held on November 18. Rev. E. H. Collins, pastor of Stanton M. E. Church, continued series of sermons at the morning service on Sunday speaking on "Christ in Gethsemane". Rev. Collins announces that plans are made to observe "World Temperance Sunday" on October 31, and the fiftieth anniversary of the signing of the Stanton M. E. church will be held on November 7, and Mrs. R. Earle Dickey returned from a motor trip to Canada.

Grass Seed Cleared Of Weed By Magnet

Do many gardeners collect their own seed each fall? If so, no doubt they have experienced chagrin at planting flower seeds and raising a fine crop of weeds in the bargain. A Hungarian seedsmen has been issued a patent for his novel method of separating valuable plant seeds from weeds by a magnet.

He sprinkles a mixture of magnesium or calcium chloride, calcium oxide and powdered iron over the seeds of plantain and clover for instance, with the result that plantain seeds absorb the chemicals and are attracted to the magnets. Thus pure clover seed is left.

Clippers Looking Up
In winning over the Brooklyn Bushwicks at Pennsy Field last Sunday, the Wilmington Clippers looked more like a football team than they have on any previous occasion this season.

Joe Dulkie, former Fordham and Boston Shamrocks' back, provided a bit of punch to give the Clippers something akin to an offense, an important department that has been missing throughout the fall. Bill Christopher, popular speedster from Villanova, seems to have overcome a bad case of fumbling and his work, as a result, was outstanding in the 21-0 rout of the green-clad Brooklynans.

Cochman Dutch Slagle has given the team a new set of plays and they clicked. There isn't much variety as yet, however, and we'd like to see Christopher in action with Dulkie and Gurynski, a converted guard who is giving great guns as a blocking back.

We have a hunch that the former Wildcat could do some tall and fancy stepping if Dulkie and Gurynski, who appear as Slagle's only capable pair of blockers in the backfield, could shake him loose in the opposition's secondary.

A Distinguished Guest

An unexpected and pleasant surprise came our way last Friday, when Harry S. Russell, newly elected president of the Eastern Shore Baseball League, dropped in on our cubicle for a bit of rag chewing.

In addition to his new post, Russell aids in editing THE TRANSCRIPT, a Chestertown weekly, writes the best column on the Delmarva Peninsula entitled The Lancer and handles publicity for Washington College athletic teams. During his spare moments he does a bit of football and basketball officiating.

Heading the Eastern Shore loop will be anything but a new task for Russell, who carried on (unofficially, of course) for Tom Kibler last summer when the latter suffered a heart attack. A two-sided guy with plenty of what it takes by way of intestinal fortitude, Russell should make a good leader for the Shore circuit. We wish him lots of luck—all good.

That Running Young

Russell wasn't over-enthusiastic about the current Washington College football team, but he did ven-

ANNAPOLIS GRIDDERS PROVIDE OPPOSITION

Several Shifts Made In Delaware Lineup By Coach Lyl Clark

With victory still eluding the clutching fingers of the University of Delaware grid team, Coach Lyl Clark's Blue Hens will oppose St. John's College of Annapolis, on Frazier Field, Saturday.

Turned back by a well-balanced Dickinson eleven last week, several shifts have been made in the Blue and Gold team which has suffered four defeats thus far this season.

Ware Back At Tackle
Olaf Drozdov, burly veteran tackle, will be forced to the sidelines in favor of Fritz Ware, who has been seeing action at an end position. Either Jack Daly or George Varga will be placed at Ware's flank.

Ken Lockwood, a freshman who has been performing at the pivot post, will be retired in favor of Dave Sadowski whose superior defensive play has earned for him the starting assignment.

Another new starting face will be seen in the Hens' backfield, with Eddie Graham slated to take over Captain Dick Roberts' place at the opening of hostilities. Graham turned out a creditable performance in the last quarter of the game with the Red Devils and as a result will probably be rewarded with a starting berth.

Eight members of the team that downed Delaware last year are expected to start for the Johnnies in Saturday's clash.

Captain Leonard DeLisio, a senior, has played brilliantly for the past three years and is hitting greater heights this season. His consistency of play, both offensively and defensively, has placed him among the best ends ever developed at St. John's. He is a sure tackler, a good blocker, great pass receiver and plays with an unusual ability to lead his team. He is five feet, ten inches tall and weighs 175 pounds.

147-Pound End
Ed Roache, another senior, occupying the other flank, is the baby of the outfit, scaling a mere 147 pounds. What he lacks in size, however, he makes up in aggressiveness and speed and the diminutive outsider is expected to prove troublesome to the Hens' blockers.

At the tackle posts will be Frank Townsend, recently recovered from a broken nose and Earl Sands, a veteran lineman. The former is one of the outstanding men on the squad. Besides opening wide gaps while on the offensive, Townsend plays a smashing type of defensive game that keeps him in the middle of every play. He scales 180 pounds and stands six feet, seven inches tall. Probably starters at the guard berths will be Mike Archie and Harrison Sadler, both outstanding performers thus far this season. Sadler, a sturdy lineman, tips the beams at 173 pounds and is five feet, ten inches tall. Packing 195 pounds of rugged, hard-driving determination, Archie is turning in plenty of good performances this year and he is expected to make things plenty tough for the Delaware buckers.

Dick Snibbe, a junior, who played running guard last year, has been converted into a center to take over the duty which his brother Bob so ably filled in 1936. He has developed fast at his new job and is a hard, aggressive, tireless worker.

Three seniors and a junior, boasting of weight, speed and power, are included in the Johnnies' regular backfield.

Martin To Bring Cue Stars To Newark Again

Articles Signed For Appearance Of Six Artists

By Cue Keeley
Arrangements were completed yesterday whereby six outstanding pocket billiard players of America, four of whom are participating in the current tourney for the world's title being staged in Philadelphia, will be brought to the State Billiard Parlor for a series of exhibitions covering a period of approximately three months.

Jimmy Martin, proprietor of the State layout, signed contracts with Sylvester Livingston, general manager of the National Billiard program, guaranteeing the appearance of the following cue artists in local exhibition matches this season.

Scheduled Changed
Deviating from the accustomed program of former years, Martin is bringing the touring artists to Newark on Saturday afternoons instead of on week-day nights. Incidentally, the change places Newark ahead of Wilmington on the schedule.

Erwin Rudolph, three times world's champion and holder of the world's exhibition high run of 277 balls, will start the procession on December 4. He will be followed by Joe Diehl, Rockford, Ill., star, on December 18, with Charles Seaback, Boston, appearing on January 1.

Willie Mosconi, Philadelphia, is due on January 15, and Joe Proctor, the Gloversville, N. Y., veteran, comes on January 29. Patsy Natalie, colorful Baltimore Italian, completes the list with his appearance on February 12.

In addition to exhibition matches, the tourists will offer advice and instruction to local players during their visits at the State.

BACK IN ACTION

Jimmy Martin

Popular proprietor of the State Billiard Parlor who announced the signing of the National Billiard program this week. Martin, burned when he grabbed a "hot" cable at Charlestown, Md., on July 12, lost his left hand as the result. Jack Fosselt, manager, was in charge of the recreation center during Martin's absence.

Previously Fort Monroe has been in the set-up class as far as Army teams are concerned, but this year, under expert coaching, the eleven is regarded as one of the finest along the Atlantic seaboard.

Thompson Was Starter
Oddly enough, it was "Big Ed" Thompson, University of Delaware graduate and coach at Fishburne Military Academy, who started the football renaissance at the Virginia post. Thompson served there last year as a reserve lieutenant and managed to install the same fight in the coast artillerymen that he did in Blue Hen teams during his undergraduate days at Newark.

Coach Cole will depend largely on the Binder-Atkinson combination to roll over the Virginians Sunday and has been active in developing a series of new plays developed especially for the talents of the two outstanding backs on his squad.

INJURIES HANDICAP GRIDDERS

Fort Du Pont Team Preps For Virginians

Following hard games with the Baltimore Fireman and Fort Jay, both of which resulted in setbacks for the gridders at Fort DuPont, their first in two seasons, injuries are proving a handicap as the Red Devils prep for an improved Fort Monroe outfit.

As an aftermath of the Fort Jay battle, Cassidy, regular center, is nursing a broken finger; Rynbrand, an end good enough for any man's ball club, has charley horses in both legs; and "Sixty Minutes" McDaniels, 225-pound tackle, is temporarily laid up by a collection of minor but painful hurts.

New Backfield Star
Coach John D. Cole dispensed a bit of the gloom hanging over Delaware City yesterday when he trotted out a new quarterback in the person of Leut. Julian Sollohub. A graduate of West Point in June, Sollohub is expected to add the spark that will return the Engineers to the victory column.

Contrary to previous seasons, the invaders from Fort Monroe boast of an exceptionally strong team this season and, like all other teams on the Red Devils' schedule, they are pointing for a shot at the Delawareans.

Previously Fort Monroe has been in the set-up class as far as Army teams are concerned, but this year, under expert coaching, the eleven is regarded as one of the finest along the Atlantic seaboard.

BEAGLES TO VIE IN TRIALS

Eastern Club Opens Fall Set Nov. 7

The new fall series of field trials will open at the Eastern Beagle Club on Sunday, November 7, and will be run monthly during the winter. A special stake event for 15-inch hounds will end the series in March when awards for the season will be made, according to a bulletin released to members this week.

Classes will be run for 13-inch dogs and bitches. Suitable prizes in each class will be offered owners of the first three hounds.

Covevew's Memorial
A special award pertaining only to hounds eligible for the class of dogs and bitches over 13 inches and not exceeding 15 inches has been offered by R. Wirt Willis. Known as the Covevew's Lady Mary Memorial, the award will be in the form of a trophy with $100 added. The winning dog will receive $50, second $30 and third $20.

The award will be based on a merit system with a given number of points for each place. In order to be eligible for the award a hound must run at four informal trials staged by the club and his or her score will be based on the first four trials in which the animal competed.

Low Score Count
Hounds will be placed in accordance with the lowest aggregate number of points earned. In the event of a tie at the fifth trial, hounds involved will run under judges selected by the club's committee.

All hounds entered in the regular classes for dogs and bitches over 13 inches and not exceeding 15 inches will automatically qualify for competition for the trophy.

JACKETS SEEKING SECOND CONQUEST

Devils Fresh From Victory Over A. I. du Pont School

Coach W. K. Gillespie has whipping his Newark High School gridders into top shape for an annual battle with an old rival, Wilmington High School, today.

Despite the Jackets' defeat last week at the hands of North Carolina, Coach Gillespie expressed confidence in the work of the forward wall which was the winning feature of the tilt. The defensive play of the line led North Coventry running attack forced the Pennsylvanians to score both touchdowns.

Shifts Made
An injury to John Grundy, an end, during the game, has shifted in the lineup which probably be maintained for the Devils' affair.

Bill Stevens has taken over wing post while Don Gulligan, a consistent performer at the end this year, was moved into the berth.

Victorious over the Wilmington team in 1936 when they chalked an easy 19-0 win, the local players are anxious to hang up another quest this year.

The Jackets' record to date is the strength of the local team and Saturday's opponents may find a trifle overconfident in their 7-6 victory over A. I. du Pont on Tuesday.

With only one win or two thus far, the locals' showing year is marred by two draws and two defeats. After being strong Millville aggressors last year, the Jackets downed the University of Delaware Junior team in an impressive 14-7 style last path turned downward this year.

New Castle High School has a surprise performance by the Jackets for three quarters, then running over two quarters in an impressive 14-7 style last path turned downward this year.

Flashes By Bill Fletcher

ANOTHER SATURDAY and another defeat for the University of Delaware football team—its fourth straight setback.

Anything half-way decent in the way of good breaks has failed to materialize for the Blue Hens up to the mid-way point in their schedule and perhaps the law of averages will see fate giving the local boys a boost in their next four encounters.

You can't help but wonder why the Delaware gridders haven't chalked up a victory to-date and we're mulling the same thing over in our own mind.

If you don't think the boys look like a winning ball club, go out and watch the practice some night this week—spirit, plenty of it; confidence, a goodly supply of that; coordination and smoothness of plays—fine, but they haven't won a game. Eliminating the Dickinson game for the moment, one can't help but be impressed by the performance of the backfield in executing its series of plays, built mainly around the speed and deceptive powers of the personnel.

WE DISCOUNT THE RED
Devil tilt simply because the condition of the field was not in harmony with the Delaware offense and is not to be considered in our observations.

The deception and speed with which the plays are executed is more than enough to throw the opposition off stride for the moment and a back invariably finds himself through the line of scrimmage. But, where does he go from there, Delaware's blocking is not enough to compensate for the lack of running ability of the Hen ball carriers and so you see, not a 20 or 30-yard run, but a five-yard advance, maybe a ten, but very seldom a long jaunt. A couple of the Hens are good blockers but they can't mow down eleven men.

The Blue and Gold representatives took the bull by the horns in the first quarter of Saturday's tilt and for a while looked as if they were going to make a serious bid for their first victory.

With Ernie George doing the leather lugging, the ball advanced 22 yards to rest on the Dickinson 48. We all like to do a little quarterbacking so you'll please pardon us if we suggest that perhaps a little variation at this point might have proved effective.

The Devil's defense was drawn in to stop these bucks, the ends were playing in close, and the backs had moved up, leaving them vulnerable to a passing thrust or a wide end sweep.

With the ball on the 48, George hurled himself twice more against the Dickinson defense which by this time had centered in an effort to stop this play—and they did. Viden kicked to Padjen on the 10, who took it back 10 yards.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hartenstine, Cranston Heights, are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son at the Wilmington General Hospital on October 20.

Earl Keller, principal of the Oak Grove School, with Mrs. Keller and their daughter, moved to Marshallton Saturday from Roselle. They are occupying the Hasker home.

Mrs. Ralph Flickinger, Mrs. Elizabeth Yeakle and her daughter, Emma, and Genevieve Flickinger were guests last Friday of Mrs. Elizabeth M. Speakman. Miss Genevieve Flickinger remained for a week-end visit with Mr. and Mrs. Henry Seeds.

Mrs. C. Aiken, of Rowlandville, Md., is the guest for two weeks of Mrs. E. M. Winchester.

Holy Communion will be celebrated next Monday morning at 8:30 o'clock in St. Barnabas' P. E. Church in celebration of All Saints Day.

Birthday Social

A birthday social followed the business meeting Tuesday night of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Mill Creek Fire Company. Mrs. Annie Chambers, who celebrated her birthday during October, was given a handkerchief shower. Mrs. James Eden presided at the meeting.

A Halloween dance will be held tonight by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Cranston Heights Fire Company in the fire hall. Mrs. Elva Curry is president of the auxiliary.

A "housewarming" is planned for November 10 in the parish house of St. Barnabas' P. E. Church. All members of the congregation are invited. Games and refreshments will be enjoyed.

Officers of St. Barnabas' Church School conducted a service Sunday afternoon at the Sunnybrook Cottage of Brandywine Sanatorium.

Funeral services were held last Saturday afternoon for Mrs. Lena T. Schneckenberger from the home of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Schneckenberger, Bringhurst Lane. Mrs. Schneckenberger, who was 63 years old had been ill for more than a year.

The Rev. M. W. Riker, rector of St. Barnabas' Church conducted the services. Interment was in St. Barnabas' Cemetery.

Mrs. Schneckenberger is survived by her husband and eight children, Charles A., the son with whom she resided, Daniel H., and Mrs. Pauline McCallard, Marshallton; William and John L., Mrs. Ida Dolan and Miss Viola Schneckenberger, Wilmington; Mrs. Mamie James, Philadelphia. There is also one sister, Mrs. Mary Jeffers, of Philadelphia, and 10 grandchildren.

A Halloween party was held Monday night in the social hall of the Marshallton M. E. Church by members of the Epworth League.

Funeral services were held Tuesday for Benjamin Franklin Pierson, five-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Pierson, who was smothered in his crib early Saturday. The baby had been dead for more than three hours when discovered by his mother at about 9 o'clock Saturday morning.

School under the direction of Miss Alma Spencer, teacher, are conducting a unit of study of the state of Delaware. The first step was a study of the trees and specimens were secured by the children and leaf booklets prepared which are now on display in the class room. The children are now engaged in sketching scenes of interest in the state and a scrap book is being prepared with story descriptions of the pictures. The children have selected topics of interest to them and are now preparing stories for their booklet on their various topics. They also have secured exhibits from industrial plants in the state, and are making a study of the various operations. At the conclusion of their unit of work they will present an assembly program.

A feature of much interest to the children of the Krebs School last week was a visit of an animal circus. The animals delighted the children with their stunts.

The Krebs School had an average attendance of 96 per cent during the month of September in the elementary schools of New Castle County.

Miss Jennie Rickards, teacher of the fourth grade at the Krebs School has been confined to her home by illness this week, and Mrs. M. Reynolds has been substitute teacher at the school.

Mrs. Phyllis Heck, supervisor of New Castle County schools, was a visitor at the Krebs School this week, observing work there.

The Rev. J. C. McCoy, pastor of the Newport M. E. Church, spoke at the Sunday morning service on the subject "A Transformed Life," and at the evening service, "Having Eyes To See." The Rev. McCoy announces that beginning October 31, special services will be conducted at the church with Mrs. Cecilia Wilson, of Vineland, N. J., assisting with the meetings.

Monthly Meeting Held

On Wednesday evening, the Ladies' Aid Society, of the Newport M. E. Church, held its monthly business meeting and social in the new Sunday school rooms recently added to the church building. This was the first meeting of the kind held in the new building, and the finance branch of the building committee and Sunday school teachers were in charge of the program.

The St. James' Guild of St. James' P. E. Church, Newport, will serve a turkey supper on Thursday evening, November 4 in the Masonic Hall.

The Ladies' Aid Society, of the Newport M. E. Church, will hold their annual poultry supper on November 10.

The Minquas Fire Company and the Ladies' Auxiliary Association will hold a joint Halloween party for members and their families on next Friday evening, October 29 in the fire hall.

The Minquas Fire Company had as their guest of honor at a covered dish supper this week, Mrs. Nan Laws Woods, president of the New Castle County Auxiliary Association, as well as president of the newly organized State Auxiliary Association. In brief remarks, Mrs. Woods congratulated the group on its accomplishments, and stressed the importance of team work within such an organization if maximum results are to be obtained from their endeavors.

Dishless Meals

A new way of serving food has been evolved at one Army post's cafeteria dining room. Stainless steel trays containing six depressions for the food are used, thus eliminating dishes. The trays are cleaned in a dishwashing machine.

Throw A Little Light ON SANTA CLAUS

Let's make this a bright Christmas in Newark? Let's get together and do something that's done throughout the State, Peninsula--the whole United States?

Let's Light Newark Streets For The Christmas Season?

Simply because it's never been done here before is no reason why it can't be done this year. The big job is at the outset and money--nearly a $1,000 is needed to purchase and install the initial units for lighting Main Street. Next year and the years to come it will be comparatively easy.

THE NEWARK POST

.....Cooperating with the Chamber of Commerce is endeavoring to raise a part of the initial cost through public subscriptions.

WILL YOU HELP?

Something--anything--pennies and dollars--enough of them will do the job. Individuals, lodges, organizations, schools, classes--everyone can help.

CONTRIBUTE NOW!

Make Checks Payable to the STREET LIGHTING COMMITTEE, Newark Chamber of Commerce. Mail Your Contributions to J. E. Dougherty, Treas.

It's Never Too Early! Do It Now!
