Good Prospects For Football

On Thursday, the sixteenth, Coach McAvoy made a call for football men. The first day about twenty-five men reported in very light togs because of the hot weather. Since then, more men have been out and for the past ten days, about thirty-three men have been out every night.

The positions which are giving the Coach most concern are left end, left tackle, right guard and halfback. New men will have to be developed for each of these positions.

The manner in which the men are fighting this year clearly indicates that every man on the squad is out there "to do something."

The schedule this year is much harder than the one of last year and every man will have to do his full share in order to give Delaware a successful season. The schedule for this year is as follows:

- October 2, Pennsylvania Military College at Chester.
- October 9, Haverford College at Haverford, Pa.
- October 16, Pennsylvania Military College at home.
- October 20, Lafayette College at Easton, Pa.
- October 23, Western Maryland College at home.
- October 30, Catholic University at Washington, D. C.
- November 6, Dickinson College at home.
- November 13, Mt. St. Mary's College at Emmittsburg, Md.
- November 25 (Thanksgiving) William and Mary College at home.

DELAWARE DEFEATS P. M. C.

Delaware opened her football season on Saturday, October 2, by defeating Pennsylvania Military College by the score of 7-6. The game was well played throughout and many brilliant runs featured the contest.

In the opening quarter, P. M. C. kicked off to Delaware. By a series of rushes Delaware carried the ball to P. M. C.'s five yard line, where they lost the ball on a fumble. P. M. C. then kicked, the ball rolling the length of the field. Once more Delaware began to rush the P. M. C. lads back until they reached the eight yard line. Here the whistle blew, ending the first period.

Shortly after the second quarter started, Captain Handy carried the ball over for the first score of the game. Taylor then kicked the goal, and Delaware had the advantage of a 7-0 lead. This advantage was not held very long, however, for P. M. C. came back strong. After Delaware kicked off, the ball was carried to the middle of the field on two end runs. A well executed forward pass by P. M. C. at this point resulted in a touchdown for the Pennsylvanians. Campbell failed in his try for goal. The score at the end of the first half was, Delaware, 7, P. M. C., 6.

Twice in the last half of the game Delaware had the ball on P. M. C.'s five yard line, only to lose the ball on fumbles. During most of this half, however, the teams saw-sawed back and forth and when the final whistle blew P. M. C. had the ball in mid-field.

Although all of the men played well, the work of Captain Handy deserves special comment. Time and time again he hit the opposing

New Instructors At Delaware

The greatest increase in the faculty that has ever occurred at Delaware in a single year took place this year with the addition of four new instructors. These men come to Delaware with excellent records and cannot fail to add enthusiasm to the various activities of the college.

One of the new instructors is connected with the department of History and Economics, one with the Modern Language department, one with the department of Chemistry, and one with the department of English.

Dr. K. R. Greenfield of the department of History and Economics, took his degree of Bachelor of Arts at Western Maryland College in 1911. From there he went to Johns Hopkins University where he spent four years specializing in History, Economics, and Political Science. He received his Ph. D. degree in 1915. In 1914-1915 Dr. Greenfield was University Fellow in History at Hopkins.

Dr. E. H. Sehart, the new instructor in the Modern Language department received both his degree of Bachelor of Arts and Doctor of Philosophy at Johns Hopkins. In 1913-1914 Dr. Sehart studied at the University of Leipzig in Germany, specializing in Dramatic Philology.

Dr. W. S. Putnam, instructor in the Chemistry department, also took his Ph. D. degree at Johns Hopkins in 1915 after receiving his C. E. degree at Worcester Polytechnic Institute. Dr. Putnam was an assistant to Professor Jones of Johns Hopkins before coming to Delaware.

Mr. F. J. Pohl of the English Department came to Delaware from Columbia University where he received his M. A. degree in 1914. Mr. Pohl also completed the residence requirements for his Ph. D. degree while at Columbia. Before entering that institution he received his degree of Bachelor of Arts at Amherst college in 1911. From 1911 to 1914 Mr. Pohl taught at Ohio Wesleyan University at Delaware, Ohio.

Senator Burton May Visit Delaware

It is very probable that Senator Burton of Ohio, one of the most prominent men in the Republican party, may visit Delaware College sometime during the winter and deliver a lecture. Senator Burton has recently returned from South America where he has been studying economic conditions. Needless to say, a talk from him would prove an educational treat. Here's hoping that he decides to come to see us!

The Blue Hen

The "Blue Hen," which is being published by the class of 1916, will be ready for delivery by December 1st. H. M. Foster, the editor-in-chief, has nearly all the material in ready to go to the printer. This year's "Blue Hen" will be somewhat different from those of previous years in that it will be bound in Fabricoid instead of leather or card board. A special feature of this year's Annual will be the Woman's College Department edited by the students of that college. In order to prevent having an over supply, the business manager has decided to have printed only the number of books subscribed for by November 1.

Freshmen Rules Are Out

The following rules were adopted by the committee on Freshmen Rules, and are to be obeyed strictly by the Freshmen.

- I. All Freshmen must know their Alma Mater.
- II. All heads must be bared during the singing of the Alma Mater.
- III. Freshmen must wear no high school or "prep" school insignia.
- IV. No Freshman shall smoke on the campus or in the Oratory until the second term.
- V. No gaudy colors will be tolerated. Freshmen must wear plain black neckties and socks.
- VI. All Freshmen must salute members of the Faculty and upper classmen.
- VII. Freshmen must wear their regulation caps from October 1st until Commencement. Note:—the button is part of the cap.
- VIII. Classes leave chapel according to their order. Freshmen must remain seated until the Sophomores have left.
- IX. Freshmen must not deface college property.
- X. Freshmen must obey without question the orders of all managers and assistant managers of the various teams.

These Rules Must Be Observed

All infractions thereof will be dealt with accordingly.

Horticultural Students To Make Inspection

A tour of inspection through the finest orchards of Kent county was made on October 12th by Professor C. A. McCue and the students in Horticulture. Professor Wesley Webb, of the State Board of Agriculture will accompany the men on this trip.

Agricultural Club To Give Play

The Agricultural Club, under the direction of Mrs. Herman R. Tyson, is preparing to present a play sometime before the Christmas holidays. "The Jonah," given last year by the Agricultural Club and directed by Mrs. Tyson, made the greatest hit of any play given in Newark for several years. It is claimed that this play will be even more popular than "The Jonah."

The name and date of this play will be announced shortly.

Secretary Huston Visits Delaware

On Thursday afternoon, September 30, Secretary of Agriculture, David F. Huston and United States Senator, Willard F. Saulsbury visited us. Upon their arrival from Washington in Senator Saulsbury's automobile, they, in company with Governor Charles R. Miller, took lunch with President Mitchell. At two o'clock they came to the Oratory where they were greeted by the students of both colleges and by many people of Newark.

Governor Miller presided over the meeting. Senator Saulsbury introduced Secretary Huston, the speaker of the afternoon. In his opening remarks Secretary Huston congratulated Delaware upon her new President, saying "I can assure you there is no finer college president in the country. It is only fair that such good men of the country should be handed around from state to state. Dr. Mitchell's presence here is one of the good things that South Carolina and Virginia have contributed to Delaware's advancement." In regard to his own field of work he said, "The field of agriculture today presents as many great problems and as many demands for talent as any other great field of endeavor. The Department is confronted by the great problems of distribution—as great as the problem of production itself." He told us of the amount and kind of work the Department of Agriculture was doing. In closing his talk, the Secretary spoke on the value of good judgment to the nation.

From Newark, Secretary Huston and Senator Saulsbury went to Wilmington. On the next day, Friday, October 1, they intended to take a trip down the State, for Secretary Huston wanted to see this section of the country. Owing to the heavy rains, however, the trip was postponed until a future date. As a result Secretary Huston returned to Washington on Friday.

Dr. Rowan Resigns

Dr. W. J. Rowan, Professor of Rhetoric and Oratory, has been forced to give up his college work due to the pressure of his church duties. Dr. Rowan was popular both among the faculty and the students and his presence among us will be greatly regretted. It is said that the English department will take over Dr. Rowan's subjects.

Organization Of College Early And Efficient

That the efficient organization of Delaware College this year has been accomplished much more rapidly than in previous years is due to the fine work of Dean Edward Laurence Smith and Registrar Miss Eleanor E. Todd. In previous years the affairs of the college have not been settled until about the middle of May, but, with the establishment of Dean Smith as head of this department, the business affairs of the college are this year already settled. Great credit is also due to the entrance committee, consisting of Professor C. A. Short, chairman, Dean Harry Hayward, and Dr. W. O. Sypherd.

Dr. Rowan's Resignation

With the resignation of Dr. Rowan, Delaware College loses an able and beloved member of the faculty. In his labor for the improvement of the institution, he has proved untiring; and altho his church duties have made ample demands on his time he has never neglected any phase of his duties as Professor of Rhetoric and Philosophy. Many graduates of Delaware College who have since made names for themselves and for their alma mater owe much to him,—to his personal help, his endless encouragement, and his intimate sympathy.

His resignation, in some sense, makes the separating point between the college and the Presbyterian church. In 1738 the Presbytery of Lewes sent a petition to Washington asking that an institution of higher learning be established in Delaware. The petition was granted, and ever since that time the Presbyterian church has been intimately connected with Delaware College. We know that, in no sense, will the interest of Delaware Presbyterians in the college be lessened because of Dr. Rowan's resignation. Nevertheless his resignation does have the historical interest to which we have pointed.

We are sorry to have lost him; but what will be our loss, will be this church's gain.

A. Gutowitz, a Freshman, of Lewes, Delaware, is suffering with a slight attack of malaria. We hope that he will soon be with us again.

Dr. Hamilton W. Mabie, one of the editors of the Outlook, and an author of note, will address the Women's College of Delaware sometime within the near future. The lecture will probably take place in the Oratory of Delaware College.

Robert B. Wolf '96, will make an address to the students, faculty, and community on December 13. His subject will be "Individuality in Industry." Mr. Wolf is a prominent manufacturer at Berlin, New Hampshire. He has achieved notable things along the line of personalizing industry.

Ellis (photographer) "Strike a natural pose."

Brayshaw (having picture taken) "Give me something to eat."

What do you think of a fellow that will use the Bible as a "pony" to get out his Greek lesson?

Fellows, drop down to the Women's College next Saturday night. "Bake" Taylor has consented to give his lecture entitled, "A Girl I Know in Laurel." This lecture has been given to full houses at the Men's College, daily since September 15. A treat.

The late husband catches the early morning lecture.

What do you think should be done to a freshman who asked if those buildings next door to Dr. Mitchell's home, were a jail.

"Yip" Groff has been promoted from bass fiddle player in the orchestra to bass drum player in the band.

"Biddie" Bounds said he thought he would drop into the football smoker Friday night to get some material for his thesis.

Well, we found out the trouble with the band last Friday night at the smoker. It seemed that all the smoke was rushing toward the alto section. "Billy" Martin noticing this current of smoke entering the alto horns, walked over and found that the four alto players were sucking instead of blowing on their horns.

The members of the Sophomore class were grieved to hear of the death of Postmaster J. W. Brown, the father of their classmate, Bond Brown. The earnest sympathy of the class is extended to Bond, and it is their sincere hope that he may shortly return to college.

Notes From The Women's College

Miss Marion Brassington of Wellesley College, is assisting Dean Robinson in teaching botany.

Thursday, Sep. 30, Dr. Dunn, of Washington, delivered the first of his series of lectures on Civic Education.

DELAWARE BEATEN BY HAVERFORD

In a game which was featured by many brilliant plays, Delaware was defeated by Haverford by the score of 37 to 14.

The Haverford boys got the jump on Delaware at the start, and at the end of the first quarter the score was 21 to 0 in favor of the Main Line team. After that, however, Delaware came back strong and held their opponents to even terms.

During the second quarter Handy scored Delaware's first touchdown after Lowe had grabbed up a fumble and had made a run of 65 yards. The second touchdown for Delaware was made by Handy during the last quarter. On the kickoff, Delaware's leader received the ball and ran 82 yards before Haverford brought him down on their own four-yard line. On his second try off right tackle, Handy carried it over. This was the end of Delaware's scoring.

The work of T. Wilson, Crothers, and E. Wilson on the line and Captain Handy in the backfield were the features of Delaware's playing, while Crosman, Van Dorn, and Ramsey were the bright lights for Haverford.

THE MANAGEMENT OF THE REVIEW HAS undertaken to issue a Weekly Paper. The idea has met with the approval of all those interested in the College.

TO MAKE THIS ATTEMPT A SUCCESS, every member of the Board of Trustees, every member of the Faculty, every member of the Student Body, every Alumnus, every Friend of Delaware must subscribe.

WE ARE DIRECTLY RESPONSIBLE AND WILL be so held by you—but, you have a responsibility too. Come on and get in the game.

MULHOLLAND, the Business Manager, is ready to send you a receipt for ONE WILSON DOLLAR.
