

Goodyear To Triple Plastic Production

Production of plastic packaging material and foam rubber for cushions will be tripled by Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. through a $10,000,000 program at an Akron O. plant recently acquired from the government. E. J. Thomas, president, said recently.

Thomas, here for a meeting with eastern sales personnel, told a news conference that the company's export business has begun to fall off a little, either because of the approach of more normal markets conditions or for lack of dollars, but said he expected a continued strong volume of over-all business in 1948.

He estimated the rubber industry would produce from 92,000,000 to 93,000,000 automotive casings this year and said current output was at the rate of 100,000,000 annually.

BUILDING PLAN FOR FARMERS

Working Drawings Available

Working drawings of farmhouse plans are now available to Delaware farmers without charge from the Delaware Agricultural Extension Service.

This service is made possible through the cooperation of the Division of Farm Building and Rural Housing of the U. S. Department of Agriculture at the Beltsville Research Center. At the present time this Division is developing a set of low-cost farmhouse plans for one, one and one-half and two story masonry and frame homes. As each plan is completed Jack F. Bell, extension agricultural engineer, is supplying blueprints to each county agent where they may be gotten merely for the asking.

In addition to these new plans farmers may secure copies of Farmers Bulletin No. 1738 "Farmhouse Plans" from their county agricultural extension office. Blueprints for any of the plans contained in this bulletin may also be secured upon request.

Bell calls attention of farmers to the fact that a similar service is available for all other types of farm buildings. Farmers who plan new homes or other buildings are invited to visit their county agent's office and inspect these plans for they represent the results of studies to provide the farmer and his family with the maximum comforts and conveniences required in modern farming and rural living.

Dairymen Are Urged To Join DHIA

Far more important than the type of litter used in the poultry laying house is the care that is given it.

J. Frank Gordy, extension poultryman, suggests that poultrymen build up their litter from six to ten inches in depth before cold weather begins.

Fine litter acts as a floor insulation and prevents the condensation which takes place when the warm air in the poultry house comes in contact with the cold floor.

Each year a study of Dairy Herd Improvement Association records in Delaware indicates that many cows in herds starting in the herd improvement program for the first time are not paying their way.

If the same situation is true in other herds where no records are kept—and this is apt to be the case—there are too many cows that are not paying for their feed and the other costs necessary in milk production.

Delmar Young, extension dairyman, says that the answer to this problem is first of all joining a dairy herd improvement association to know what each cow is doing and then feeding according to her production. His next recommendation is breeding to good sires and raising these heifers as herd replacements. This is possible in Delaware through artificial breeding.

44 Per. Gain In Life Insurance

Americans are spending 40 per cent more for life insurance than in 1941 and now have 44 per cent more insurance protection than in that year, the Institute of Life Insurance said recently.

Premium payments are at the rate of more than $6 billion annually, compared with $5,700,000,000 in 1946 and $5,079,739,000 in 1941, the institute said. Total protection amounts to $180,000,000,000 of face amount, supplemented by annuities which represent future annual income to the annuitants of $932,000,000.

Premiums paid for life insurance and annuities last year averaged $150 per American family and will be larger this year. The figure compared with $114 per family in 1941, the institute reported.

STRESS FIRE SAFETY RULE

"Every day, one hundred farm fires take the lives of ten farmers. One farm fire in ten results in death," says the National Fire Protection Association.

Sponsor of Fire Prevention Week, October 5 to 11, the National Fire Protection Association, in cooperation with the U. S. Department of Agriculture and the Delaware Agricultural Extension Service urges farm people to take part actively in guarding themselves and their farmsteads against fire.

According to the NFPA "at least twenty per cent of all farm fires are preventable. Unlike fire fighting, fire prevention is not hard. There are few farm fires which cannot be prevented by carefulness."

Confirming the fact that most farm fires can be prevented, there is a noticeable decrease in the number and severity of farm fires during and for a few weeks following Fire Prevention Week. Then, the curve of fire losses once more resumes its upward trend, the reason is obvious. For a few short weeks farm people remember what they have heard about the destructive power of fire and are alert to its causes. Then they forget that fire and carelessness don't mix, perhaps in the mistaken belief that "it can't happen to me."

They will get by despite their carelessness, but too many lose to make the risk worth while.

ADDITIONS TO FACULTY AT U. OF D.

Begin Classes

Forty-two previously unannounced additions to the faculty of the University of Delaware are among those who began classes Thursday, September 25, as the fall semester officially got underway. A few are replacements at the university, but the majority represent expansion of the faculty to meet the needs of the record student body, now slightly over 2200.

Four assistant professors, 13 new instructors, and 26 graduate assistants, part-time instructors and research fellows are included in this total.

A new assistant professor in the mathematics department is Dr. Harry Goheen, a graduate of Stanford University. Dr. Goheen comes to his post directly from the Navy, where he served as a civilian in the Office of Naval Research (Boston Branch), following his release from active duty with the rank of full lieutenant. In 1939-40 Dr. Goheen was a member of a selected group of math teachers who studied under Prof. F. L. Griffin at Reid College in Oregon various ways and means of improving undergraduate instruction in mathematics. The following year he joined the faculty of the University of Wisconsin, where he was an instructor until he entered the Navy in 1942. A member of the American Mathematics Society, he has written a number of papers on applied mathematics. He is married and the father of two children.

Dr. Alfred R. Jumikis joins the staff of the School of Engineering, with the rank of assistant professor of civil engineering. Having received an Engineers' Diploma (summa cum laude) from the University of Latvia in 1937, he returned to his alma mater for the degree of doctor of engineering in 1944. His background experience included supervision of a great deal of private, civic and even national construction work.

By special arrangement with Temple University, Dr. Gordon F. Hostetter, head of the speech department of the Department of Theatre, Speech and Radio, will teach public speaking on Tuesdays and Thursdays at the University of Delaware. This is a required course for all engineers, which means that there is very heavy enrollment in it this year. Dr. C. R. Kase, director of Dramatics at the University of Delaware, and Mr. Thomas B. Pegg, who joined the faculty last year, will also have sections in public speaking.

Dr. George G. Lane is a new assistant professor in the psychology department, coming to the University of Delaware from Ohio State University, where for the past two years he was on the faculty, in addition to serving as Assistant Director, Research in Aviation Psychology. This past summer he was a member of the visiting staff at George Washington University. He is a member of several professional organizations, including the American Psychological Association, the American Association for the Advancement of Science, and the Society for the Psychological Study of Social Issues.

Among the 12 new instructors three are in the English Department. These include Miss Ann Weygandt, a graduate of Bryn Mawr who earned her doctorate at the University of Pennsylvania. She has had teaching experience at both Wheaton College and Lassell Junior College. Edwin C. Heinle, an alumnus of Drew University, completed the course work for his master's degree at Columbia University this past summer. From 1941-46 he was in the Army, holding the rank of captain at the time of his release to inactive duty. Part of his army service included working with the re-education program for German prisoners. John G. Chantiny the third new member of the English Department, also completed the work for his master's at Columbia this year. A graduate of Michigan State Teachers College in 1942, he went immediately into the Navy, where he served in the Hospital Corps. A pharmacist's mate first class, he spent some time in the Pacific area, including a tour of duty along the China coast.

Charles G. Taylor, a graduate of Syracuse University, joins the faculty as an instructor in civil engineering, while Gilbert Kasky a graduate of both Rutgers and the University of Pennsylvania, will be a mathematics instructor.

Miss Hilda Somers, a full time instructor in voice, has joined the music faculty. A graduate of Greensboro College, she has for the past four years been connected with the Burlington (N. C.) Schools as a special voice teacher.

The Department of Modern Languages has four new additions. Madame Marie-Elisabeth Giesbert, a graduate of the University of Caen, will be an instructor in French. Mme. Giesbert received her Certificate de Stage pedagogique in Paris in 1943. She was an instructor in philosophy at the Institute Lamartine et Cours Fenelon, 1945-46, and this past summer she was on the staff of the School of Advanced International Studies, Foreign Service Educational Foundation.

The Rev. Dr. William M. Baumgartner, retired Methodist minister, joins the staff as an instructor in German, with an MA from West Virginia Uni-

Another German instructor is Richard M. Major, who recently received his master's degree from the University of Pennsylvania. New instructor in Spanish is Moises Tirado, who comes to the University of Delaware from the University of Connecticut. Mr. Tirado completed his undergraduate work at the University of Puerto Rico in 1937 and received his master's degree from the University of Alabama in 1944. He is now a candidate for his Ph.D. at Columbia. From 1937-43 he was with the Department of Education in Puerto Rico. The following year he joined the staff at the University of Alabama, and in 1946 went to the University of Connecticut.

Rounding out the appointments in the Department of Dramatic Arts and Speech is that of Harry R. Bidlake, Jr., a recent graduate of Northwestern University who has also completed some graduate work at that school. At Northwestern he was an assistant to Dr. Theodore Fuchs, considered one of the outstanding authorities on stage lighting in this country. At Delaware Mr. Bidlake will be the technical director of the Dramatic Center, and will be the instructor for all the stagcraft courses such as Introduction to Theatre.

Two new additions to the women's physical education staff have been announced. Mrs. Annabelle Prettyman Wollaston, a 1946 graduate of the university, and Miss Maryann Waltz, a graduate of the University of Washington, with an MA. from New York University, are both new in instructors. Mrs. Wollaston last year taught at the P. S. duPont High School in Wilmington, while Miss Waltz has been on the staff of St. Mathews School, Long Beach, Calif., the University of Washington, New York University, and Sarah Lawrence College.

The chemistry department boasts 15 new part-time instructors, graduate assistants and research fellows. These include Esley O. Langerak, research fellow who at the recent Convocation exercises received his master's degree from the University of Delaware. Richard H. Gale, Allan F. Clifford, J. A. Weickel, J. J. McBride, Alda R. Johnson, C. H. Meiser, J. C. Cox, Edmund Emerick, G. L. Moore, Paul R. Wunz, Shirley June Mason, Mildred J. Hucks and Jeanetta M. Reneberger, and James F. Perkins.

Two graduate assistants in the School of Engineering are Walter J. Dougherty a graduate of the university in 1944 and Milton W. Harper. Three in the mathematics department are Helen Crosson, Mrs. Patricia Spraberry, and John Bruce Rankin.

In the Biology Department Constance Mitchell will be a part-time teaching assistant, while James C. Warren, a 1941 graduate of the university, will be a graduate assistant. Paul C. Murray and Martin D. Stewart are graduate assistants in the department of physics.

Two additional part-time instructors in the Department of Economics and Business Administration include Robert C. Le Frohn, a graduate of the University of California. After a period of military service he attended graduate school at the University of Southern California and was on the faculty of the summer school there this past season. He is now attending graduate school at the University of Pennsylvania. Jacob Seidenberg, the other appointee, earned a B. S. in Economics from Temple University, after which he earned the bachelor of laws degree from the University of Pennsylvania. Ware Abouts

Newark football fortunes were in their ascendancy over the past weekend the university Blue Hens ran true to form in our book by defeating the over-touted P. M. C. Cadets by a 25-13 score that easily could have been more, according to popular belief, had the Hen mentor seen fit to pile it on.

But, while the Hens were winning their next opponents, the University of Maryland Terrapins were also chalking up a 19-13 win over South Carolina . . . which doesn't bode any good for our Hens.

The mere fact that the Terrapins had the Gamecocks 19-0 in the third quarter then won only by a mere 19-13 is indicative to us that just maybe wily Jim Tatum also used a good quantity of reserves in the final stages of the game just to make it look like a narrow squeak . . . and that the Terrapins full power may be unleashed against the Delaware contingent when they invade College Park en masse tomorrow evening, seeking their 33rd consecutive win.

Hundreds of local rooters will accompany the Hens on their 33rd quest . . . and we'll be right amongst them . . . which, we're afraid will be a tough nut to crack. In fact, we believe that if the Hens get by this one they'll have a better than average chance to complete another season in the undefeated ranks. We're still stringing along with the never-say-die boys on this one—but we're also keeping our fingers crossed until after Friday night.

Those fortune enough to have secured seats for the Friday fracas will, we believe, see the best game the Blue Hens have engaged in during their recent rise to fame . . . and it definitely promises to be a hair-raiser from start to finish . . . we're looking forward to it with keen interest and high hopes for the Murray-Brunansky-Martin coached aggregation.

On the high school front, the Newark Yellow Jackets lived up to advance dope and shellacked the lowly Lewes eleven by 45-0 in a strictly no-contest game that saw the light localities run roughshod over the invaders from Wayne Brewer's native bailiwick . . . which is no reflection on aforesaid W. C. B.

The Jackets, like the Hens, face a far sterner task this week-end when they tangle with Brown Vocational (6-6 tie with P. S. DuPont) on the A. I. DuPont gridiron Friday afternoon at 2:15 instead of Saturday as scheduled.

Brown elevens are traditionally big, rough and ready and they will truly test the metal of Newark's Matt-Ott coached brigade in their encounter tomorrow afternoon . . . in fact, must as we hate to say it, judgment over sentiment would indicate that the Jackets may well meet their first reverse of the season.

Furore over B. & O. Southbound trains new schedule which eliminates several stops here hasn't thus far gotten any more favorable results.

Oldsters as well as youngsters appreciate the cozy atmosphere of Dick & Dot's that permits of a late snack after the movie or football game . . . Try it, soon.

We're merely one of the paying customers at the Newark Country Club and, as such, our opinion probably won't be much respected or appreciated, but we know of many, many more just like us who think it is an injustice for the powers that be to continually permit tournaments of non-members on Saturday and Sunday—the two days of the week when most all members prefer to play.

Does it happen to you—That your phone rings, you hasten to answer it and are met by a mystifying silence? It's much too far to go just for dinner but Steel Howard's "Granary" on the Bohemia River, serves the BIGGEST piece of steak we've ever eaten . . . and good too. Hi, Doc!

Tuesday—consensus of opinion at our place of business was the Yanks, in six. We agree . . . but by Friday, when this printed, we may regret it. However, on the eve of the series we think the Yankees will take the Dodgers liked Armed took Assault.

Experience is the cheapest thing you can buy if you're smart enough to get it secondhand.

Commendable is the word for the Thrift Sale—to be conducted at Scott's Warehouse (opposite Richard's Store) from 10 to 6, October 10, proceeds from which go to the Newark School Fund for germicidal lamps.

fall show . . . this same association raised $500 for the nurse association last fall and $250 for the cancer fund last spring.

Harvey Robertson makes his debut into newspaper work next week when he assumes the editorship of this sheet, succeeding Frank N. Magargee, resigned.

End of daylight time sure plays hob with the workingman's after-working-hours outdoor recreation, N'est pas.

Joe Louis, Jackie Robinson and Bill Robinson have done more to promote their race than Eleanor Roosevelt can ever do.

Trend of the times: Last week this newspaper carried the first television advertisement in its history. This week it carries the first advertisement of a notice of intent to apply for license for a liquor store (in Newark) in more than a decade.

The Newark Post

The Newark Post, Newark, Delaware, Thursday, October 2, 1947

The Sports Post

By Sean N Hurd

Last Saturday night before about 12,000 fans in Wilmington Park, Coach Bill Murray unveiled, but did not take off all the wraps, of his 1947 University of Delaware gridiron aggregation. Apparently using only as much power as the occasion seemed to warrant, the Blue Hens registered in every period to offset two last-half touchdowns passes by the Chester Cadets and emerged on the long end of a 25-13 count.

Thus, in a convincing manner, Murray charges provided at least a partial answer to the many pre-season questions raised by Delaware rooters. The Hens do pack power. They do have another formidable forward wall, although they may not be as strong in reserves in the line department as they were in 1946.

For those who may have expected a more overwhelming defeat of PMC, let it be said here that the Cadets definitely fielded a much stronger eleven than last year—and one which will certainly go on to win ball games in 1947.

With the registering of last Saturday's win, Delaware extended its undefeated streak to 32 games. Now the record-breaking streak spans five football seasons and eight years. That should be some sort of record in itself.

Looking through the records of Delaware's undefeated skein we found that only four of their last 32 games did Hen opponents succeed in registering as many as two touchdowns. Then we noticed that PMC was the only outfit to achieve this trick twice.

This bit of research brought vividly to our mind the earlier game in which the Cadets tallied two TD's. And if you sat in Wilmington Park on October 31, 1942, a few facts are certain to bring back a mental picture of that clash between the Hens and Cadets.

On that clear, sunny Saturday nearly five years ago a previously unsuspectable PMC team which came to the Thirtieth Street Enclosure was looked upon generally as Victim No. 19 for Delaware's Hens. Then the game began. Before it was long underway those who follow and favor the fortunes of the Newark institution were biting fingernails and nervously chewing their cigars. The half-time score was PMC 14, Delaware 0. Even many of the strong-hearted were saying, "Well, the victory streak had to end sometime."

Came the second half. An eleven-yard end-zone pass from Paul Hart to Walt Paul, plus a conversion, renewed Hen hopes. This was followed closely by a 36-yard touchdown march by the Blue and Gold, but the attempt for the extra point failed.

Throughout the fourth period a wild, excited crowd, alternately cheering and beseeching, clamored for what, at half-time, had seemed impossible—a third Delaware six-pointer. The clock ticked on. With less than two minutes of play remaining, the Hens were still on the short end of a 14-13 count. Then a freshman named Walt Malyk suddenly cracked the PMC line, and the game, wide open as he plunged and pushed for four yards. Those four yards changed the whole aspect of things. Delaware turned almost certain defeat into a 19-14 victory. And new impetus was given to the yet unbroken victory streak.

But let's get back to 1947—and especially to the night of October 3 at College Park. Md. Then and there the surging Blue Hens will clash head-on with one of the toughest foes they've faced in years, the University of Maryland.

Hitting the comeback trail in collegiate gridiron circles, the Old Liners got off to a fine start last week-end by journeying down to Columbia, S. C., and returning with the tail feathers of the University of South Carolina's Gamecocks. Having enjoyed the taste of fowl, the Terrapins undoubtedly hope to remain on a similar diet this week. Nevertheless, we believe that the breed of the old Blue Hen will be a tough brood to handle.

Of course the double wing-back style of play used by Delaware will be well understood by the Maryland representatives, for assisting Coach Jim Tatum at College Park is none other than likeable Flucie Stewart, who coached the Blue Hen line in 1940—and who witnessed the Delaware-PMC game last week.

Here's hoping that after Friday night's tussle the number of Hen games played consecutively without a loss will match the big numerals on the broad back of Joe Coady. And if that comes to pass, certain it is that the superb punting of the said Joe Coady will have been an important factor.

Here's how other future Delaware opponents fared last week-end: Bucknell swamped Alfred, 25-0; Western Maryland felt the full brunt of Harlow's Harvard huskies, 52-0; Muhlenberg lambasted Lafayette, 38-0; and Washington and Lee squashed the Richmond Spiders, 16-3.

Delaware's other two opponents open their seasons this coming Saturday when Gettysburg meets Western Maryland and Franklin and Marshall sees action against Swarthmore.

Our own Newark High School opened the season nicely last week by administering a 45-0 drubbing to Lewes. We hope the Yellowjackets can put the sting on Brown Vocational this week

HENS FACE STIFF TEST ON FRIDAY NIGHT IN MEETING UNIVERSITY OF MARYLAND

Continued On Undefeated Path With Win Over P. M. C. On Saturday, 25-13, Hens Seldom Pressed, Score In Every Quarter; Cadets Scoreless Until 4th

Balanced gingerly atop their 32-game undefeated streak, Delaware's Blue Hens may be excused for being a little jittery as they look forward to this Friday when they face one of the severest tests of the season in the night clash with the University of Maryland.

Dopesters are saying that if the Hens get by this one they can look forward confidently to another unbeaten year. However, the highly touted Marylanders, who last week topped South Carolina 19-13, appear fully capable of dealing Delaware its quietest and snapping off the nation's longest undefeated streak.

No hint of such a fate could be observed last Saturday when the well-groomed Hens blithely took up where they left off last season in their debut at Wilmington Park, when the Cadets of P. M. C. were sacrificed, 25-13, before 12,700 of the faithful. Despite the score, Delaware was never severely pressed, ramming across scores in every quarter, while P. M. C. remained dormant until the final session.

For the most part, Delaware's attack was a smooth, irresistible forward momentum. Only serious defect in the latest Murray model seemed to be in pass defense, which was spotty. Both of the Chester team's scores were made through the air.

Mario Stalloni, accounted for Delaware's first two tallies by line thrusts, after Billy Cole had brought the Hens into scoring position, the first time by a sparkling open field run and the second with a long pass.

The first six-pointer came after Cole ran back a punt for 52 yards, Stalloni then going over.

In the second period, Cole heaved to Hushbeck moving the ball from the Hens' 48 to the Cadets' six. Stalloni again providing the scoring drive.

Their third period tally came as the climax of a steady march from their own 48, with Cole, Tony Storti and Angelo Cataldi alternating in punching through the P. M. C. line. Cataldi accounted for the final seven yards to pay dirt.

The fourth period was a wild affair, with P. M. C. getting their first score of the game on a series of passes, the final one carrying seven yards from Copely to Margrave. The latter kicked the extra point.

A minute later Delaware surged back for its fourth score, Cole starting the action with a 53-yard sinuous trek from his own 42 to the end zone.

P. M. C. scored its second touchdown on a 26-yard pass from Bowley to Margrave.

By the game's end the Hens were again in the shadows of the Cadets' goal. Coady just missing a touchdown pass to Hushbeck from the eight in the final play.

With George Veneroso back at the helm, the Wilmington Clippers opened their league season in fine style with a 17-3 win over Wilkes-Barre. By the time you read this, we hope that they will have made it two straight at the expense of the Paterson Panthers, whom they meet on October 1. The Panthers merely nudged the Barons 7-6.

If you saw or heard the Army-Villanova encounter, you may recall that the Wildcats second-half threat was sparked by one Steve Romanik. That name sounds very familiar; and if we're not mistaken, this is the same Steve who was a promising member of the Delaware squad of 1942.

In football, hope springs eternal—and is sometimes rewarded. Note, for example, that Idaho for the first time in its gridiron history defeated Stanford last Saturday. But sometimes football also flares back. Witness the 27-0 defeat pinned on Tennessee by Georgia Tech. This represents the worst defeat ever suffered by a gridiron machine coached by General Bob Neyland.

The University of North Carolina, rated by many as the best in the South this year, managed to get past Georgia 14-7, but only after a stirring second-half comeback which overcame a 7-0 half-time deficit.

LOPSIDED WIN OVER LEWES SATURDAY PRIMES JACKETS FOR BROWN TILT TOMORROW

Contest, Originally Set For Saturday, Changed At Last Minute, Will Be Played On A. I. DuPont Field; Kick-Off Is Set For 3:30 P. M.; Jackets Swamp Lewes In Debut

The Newark Yellow Jackets rolled to an easy 45-0 victory over Lewes on the local field, Saturday.

The visitors, unable to pass Newark's 45 yard line, proved little competition for the Yellow Jackets.

The Jackets will meet Brown Vocational tomorrow at 3 p. m. on the A. I. duPont field. The game was previously scheduled for Saturday, but was moved ahead in a last-minute change in schedule.

Against Lewes, Ford and Wallace paced the local eleven with two touchdowns each. Ford went for a forty-two yard jaunt, making the score, in the opening play of the game. In the same quarter Ford tossed a pass to Rumer who scored. Conetti and Evans also scored through pass plays.

Extra points were made by Conetti, Davis, and Gregg.

FROSH GRID TEAM FACES 5-TILT CARD

Pierson's Men Open Oct. 16 With Lafayette

A five game schedule for the first freshman football team sponsored by the University of Delaware has been arranged, with three of the games to be played on Frazer Field here, according to William D. Murray, director of athletics.

That will be the second game of the campaign, and will be preceded by a game with Lafayette's freshmen on the afternoon of Thursday, Oct. 16.

Three Friday afternoon games wind up the schedule, in successive weeks. On Nov. 7, Muhlenberg freshmen will be met on Frazer Field, on Nov. 14, the Gettysburg yearlings will be the opponent at Gettysburg; and on Nov. 21, Temple's freshman team will come to Newark.

An open date remains on the schedule for Oct. 21, but Pierson expects it to be filled before that time.

SCHOOLS OF STATE JOIN LUNCH PLAN

Orange Juice, Potatoes, Dried Eggs Distributed

Enough orange juice to fill about 85,000 eight-ounce glasses is now being made available by the U. S. Department of Agriculture to Delaware School children who are participating in the National School Lunch Program.

According to J. J. Ditttrick, who is in charge of the food distribution activities of the Production and Marketing Administration in the Northeast area, the beverage is being distributed to Delaware schools in the form of 750 gallons of concentrated orange juice. The rate of allocation permits distribution of up to one-sixth gallon per child per month—the equivalent of almost 19 eight-ounce glasses of the re-constituted beverage.

Concentrated orange juice is pure orange juice from which more than three-fourths of the water has been removed by distillation under a high vacuum. It is being bought by the Department of Agriculture under Section 6 of the National School Lunch Act. This section provides for using part of the funds appropriated by Congress for the National School Lunch Program for the purchase of commodities to be distributed directly to participating schools.

In addition to these "Section 6 commodities," the department has been distributing to schools and welfare institutions some of the foods which it acquires under price support operations. Extensive distribution of potatoes and dried eggs is now being made to Delaware schools in this manner.

FIRE SAFETY STRESSED BY HOME CLUBS

Members Study Measures For Curbing Losses

Delaware home demonstration clubs are making special recognition of national Fire Prevention Week, Oct. 5-11, by discussing at club meetings ways in which they can help make farm homes safer.

Safety chairmen in the clubs are pointing out to other members that families can learn to take proper precautions to prevent the high toll of property and lives lost annually in farm fires.

More than 90 per cent of fire damage is due to carelessness, say the safety chairmen. A list of the dangerous practices commonly carried out by farm families at this time of year will be discussed in the October club meetings.

During the early fall, when women are busy with fall housecleaning, closets and attics should be cleaned of all loose papers, old clothes, rags and other material that might cause a fire.

Also being stressed is caution in raking and burning leaves. Such fires sometimes get out of bounds and must not be built in dry, windy weather. And there must always be an emergency water supply available.

Other fire hazards that farm families are urged to eliminate are the use of dry-cleaning fluids indoors, use of gasoline to start a fire, smoking around supplies of gasoline or kerosene, the starting of furnace and stove fires this fall without cleaning out the pipes, and careless use of electrical equipment and faulty wiring.

Insurance Benefits In State Over 2 Million

Delaware families received $2,895,000 in life insurance death benefit payments in the first half of this year, compared with $1,840,000 in the corresponding period of last year and $1,803,000 in the first half of 1941, it was reported recently by the Institute of Life Insurance.

The number of policies becoming claims in the first six months was 2,641 which compares with 2,705 in the corresponding period of the previous year and 2,498 in the first half of 1941.

Of the aggregate payments in this state, $2,095,000 was under 528 ordinary policies; $389,000 was under 289 group life insurance policies, and $411,000 was under 1,824 industrial policies.
