Detailed Program Announced For Library Dedication

Three Nationally Known Speakers Here Saturday May 23; Academic and Military Processions to Precede Exercises

7000 INVITATIONS ISSUED

The dedication of the War Memorial Library here, made possible by the contributions of some 26,000 citizens of Delaware, will take place next Saturday afternoon.

Seven thousand invitations have been issued by the University, and if the weather is favorable, perhaps the greatest crowd in recent years will invade Newark.

The building is finished and being used daily. The big feature of the dedication will be the establishment of Memorial Hall in the rotunda on the main floor. At the exercises, furnishings of the Hall will be first opened for public view.

Three National Speakers

Three addresses by men prominent nationally will also be features of the exercises. General Robert L. Bullard, President Josiah Penniman of the University of Pennsylvania, and Col. James A. Drain, National Commander of the American Legion.

Prior to the services, a combined academic and military procession will form on Frazer Field and march to the Library. Dedication exercises will begin at 2.30 o'clock Standard Time.

The detailed program follows:

Program

President Hüllihen, presiding. Invocation. The Right Reverend Philip Cook. Singing. Address, President Walter Hüllihen, representing the University. Address, Major General Robert L. Bullard, representing the American Expeditionary Forces. Music. Address, President Josiah H. Penniman, University of Pennsylvania, representing Colleges and Universities. Address, National Commander James A. Drain, representing the American Legion. Music. Delivery of the Keys to the Trustees, Dr. Joseph H. Odell, Director of the Service Citizens of Delaware, representing the Contractors; Mr. Henry B. Thompson, President of the Board of Trustees. Presentation of the Memorial Book to the State of Delaware, Acceptance and Dedication, Hon. Everett C. Johnson, Chairman Library Memorial Committee; Honorable Robert P. Robinson, Governor of Delaware. Benediction, Reverend Disston W. Jacobs.

BOYS' PIGEONS STOLEN

Settlement Is Expected This Week In Theft Charge

Some twenty pigeons were stolen and several squabs killed one night last week when a raid was made on the nests on the Jacob Shew residence, on East Delaware Avenue. A young son of Mr. Shew, who owned the birds, was heartbroken over the loss.

Later, it is reported, a youngster living in the East End was apprehended and admitted the theft. A settlement will be made in the case in a few days and the defendant released from the possibility of going to a reform school.

On the same night the pigeons were stolen, thieves broke into the home of Philip Meyers, also of East Delaware Avenue, and made off with a large quantity of eatables.

GOVERNOR SPEAKS HERE

Addresses Sunday School Class In Presbyterian Church

Governor Robert P. Robinson addressed the members of R. W. Heim's class at the Presbyterian Sunday School on Sunday last. The Governor, who is superintendent of the Hanover Church School in Wilmington, spoke on "The Value of a Good Example." His audience comprised Women's College students, who make up Mr. Heim's class.

Clarence A. Short, of this town, also spoke at the session, following up the same general theme as given by the Governor.

C. A. SHORT RESIGNS

Severed Connection With Continental Company Yesterday

Word was received late yesterday afternoon that Clarence A. Short, chief of the Bakelite Department of the Continental Fibre Company here, had resigned his post at noon yesterday. The resignation, it is understood, took effect when tendered. No additional information has been received by this office.

BUSINESS MEN TO DINE

Spring Banquet Tomorrow Night In Old College

Tomorrow night at 6 o'clock standard time, the annual Spring dinner of the Newark Chamber of Commerce will be held in Old College.

Departing from the usual custom, there will be no stated speaker and no formal program. The members of the body will join in a general discussion of subjects affecting the civic and mercantile growth of the town. The only entertainment will be a group of selections by the Presbyterian male quartet. Group singing will be led by A. D. Cobb. President J. K. Johnston will preside at the dinner.

Elected President

Dr. Ezra B. Crooks of the University faculty has been recently elected president of the Consumers League of Delaware. Dr. Crooks has taken an active interest in the work of the league for the past year or more.

Wesley Davis, At 80, Still Hale And Hearty

Veteran Trucker Is Honor Guest At Birthday Party Here Sunday Last

Still able to enjoy life to its utmost, Wesley Davis, one of Newark's older residents, passed his 80th birthday surrounded by his near relatives and friends here Sunday.

Mr. Davis is a veteran of the Civil War, through which he served as a member of the First Delaware Cavalry, Company E. Since the War, he engaged in the trucking business in this locality. He has been a resident of Newark all his life. Despite his advanced age, Mr. Davis sturdily hopes to keep on serving his customers during the current season as in the past.

It will be remembered by many of his friends, that, at the age of sixty-five, Mr. Davis suffered fractures of both legs, and for a time was in a serious condition. He has recovered his strength, however, and maintains consistent good health now. His wife, who helped celebrate the birthday Sunday, is not so well, however.

During the course of the party at the Davis home here, the old gentleman was presented with a purse of money by his children and grandchildren. Besides several of these descendants, he has five sons and one daughter living.

STRUCK BY AUTO SUNDAY

Daughter of D. Lee Rose Escapes Serious Injury

Dorothea, young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. Lee Rose, was painfully bruised about the legs Sunday last, along the Wilmington-Newport pike, near Elmhurst, when she was struck a glancing blow by a passing auto.

Miss Rose had alighted from her machine and was going to the assistance of friends in another car, who were repairing a tire. The driver of the passing car was exonerated from blame. The injured girl is able to get about on a cane.

PUZZLE SOLUTION TO BE PUBLISHED SOON

The Cross Word stickler which has appeared in the last two issues of The Post, creating no end of interest in the community, was to have been solved for the fans today. Owing to the absence of the maker of the puzzle, the date for the solution to appear has been set ahead one week. It will appear in these columns on Wednesday, May 20th.

The puzzle-maker, whose name has been withheld at his wish, was evidently stumped the fans. No correct solutions have as yet been turned in.

Elkton People Shocked By Death Of Mrs. Stanley

Popular Church Worker Sudden Victim of Ptomaine Poisoning Saturday Morning; Three Others Sick

Tragedy stalked in Elkton Saturday.

Suddenly stricken with acute ptomaine poisoning at her home on West Main Street, Mrs. Arthur F. Stanley, wife of a well-known newsdealer and merchant of that town, died in a few hours despite desperate efforts of three physicians to save her life.

Three other women, all members of a hospital committee which served refreshments at a missionary meeting in the M. E. Church house the previous evening, were taken violently ill the same evening. They are Mrs. Joseph Lort, Mrs. Edward Deibert and Mrs. G. A. Allender. They will recover. Still others are reported to have been sick following the party.

Mrs. Stanley, however, was not taken sick until Saturday morning. She is said to have felt fine upon returning home from the church house. Her critical condition alarmed the household and doctors were sent for. She never regained consciousness and died about 10 o'clock.

Strawberries and ice cream were served at the close of the missionary meeting Friday night. So far as is known today, no official investigation has been started in the case. That either the strawberries or ice cream or the combination of both, caused the tragedy, is the belief of many townspeople.

Brief funeral services for Mrs. Stanley were held at her late home last evening. Today the body was taken to Salem, N. J., for interment. She is survived by her husband and three small children. Mrs. Stanley was active in the affairs of the M. E. Church in Elkton and was very popular with her associates there.

Veteran Papermaker Resigns Position Here

A. L. Beals Brings To An End 27 Years Work With Curtis & Bro.

Arthur L. Beales, for twenty-seven years superintendent of the Nonantum Mills of Curtis and Brother, Inc., paper manufacturers, resigned his post Monday.

Alfred A. Curtis, president of Curtis and Brother, gave out the following statement yesterday morning:

"Arthur L. Beals, superintendent of Curtis & Brother Paper Mill, has resigned the position he has held for 27 years.

"The relations between Mr. Beals and the Company have always been the most cordial and understanding and it is a source of mutual regret that the relationship is to be broken.

"Curtis and Brother, Inc. Alfred A. Curtis, President."

Beales A Veteran

Mr. Beales, who came to Newark as superintendent of the paper mill here, has been instrumental in the development of the product of the plant to its present high state. He was here when the old mill was rebuilt and modern machinery installed in the late nineties.

He is considered an authority in this country on the making of paper. In addition to his work at the mill, Mr. Beales has taken an active interest in town affairs, and is now serving his third term in Town Council. He has been chairman of the street and sewer committee for the last two terms. His plans for the future are as yet undecided. It is understood that he has been seeking retirement for some time. He will be succeeded next week by James Stewart, who is coming down from Massachusetts to take over the work.

Pastor Reads Paper

Rev. Frank Herson, pastor of the Newark M. E. Church, read a paper on "The Law of Heredity," based on the 17th chapter, 2nd verse of Ezekiel, at the weekly meeting of the Methodist Preachers' Association, held Monday morning in Grace M. E. Church House, Wilmington.

More Street Work Here Authorized By County

F. W. Lovett Gets Contract For Constructing Academy Street; Mill Creek Job is Let

Over $45,000 worth of new concrete paving was ordered to be laid in Newark and vicinity at the weekly meeting of the Levy Court yesterday.

Floyd W. Lovett, local road builder, was awarded the contract for the rebuilding of a part of Academy Street near the new school in Newark at his bid of $7,314.10.

At his low bid of $38,700, the same contractor was given the contract for the construction of about four miles of concrete road in Mill Creek Hundred, from Pleasant Hill to near Corner Ketch.

More Improvements Soon

County Engineer Grubb was authorized to prepare plans and specifications and advertise for bids for the following road and bridge work:

Stone arch bridge over Mill Creek and the bridge on the Creek road in Mill Creek Hundred.

Widening and reconstructing Telegraph road from Newark town limits to the top of Quality Hill.

Road in Christiana Hundred, from Christiana to Newark via Ogletown; Limestone road to Milford road, via Pleasant Hill; Townsend toward Dulaney; Ridge road to Naaman's road; Wilmington to New Castle; Middletown to Mt. Pleasant to St. Ann's; Adam's Dam to Perry's Tavern; extension of road leading to Deakynville; road from Newport to Richardson Park, and Washington Avenue in New Castle.

The county engineer was authorized and directed to prepare notices and place them in a conspicuous place to notify traffic of the dangerous condition of the highway approach to the bridge over the Chesapeake and Delaware canal at Summit Bridge, due to operations of the government in widening and deepening the canal.

FAMOUS OLD HORSE DIES

"Roxie," 33 Years Old, Was Feature In Old Home Week Parade In Kennett

Roxie is dead, so went forth a special news in southern Chester County Monday afternoon. Roxie was the famous 33-year-old brown horse on the farm of Harry Jenkins, near Toughkenamon, where he had a good home for several years, after the owner, Warren W. Sharpless, now of Kennett Square, gave up business in the county. The age, thirty-three years, is an actual fact, and is very unusual. This span of animal life is about twice the age of the average horse.

Roxie was purchased by the Sharpless family when four years old, and soon developed into a saddler of renown, attracting attention everywhere by his superb stepping and prancing. The horse had oftentimes followed the hounds during a fox hunt, and won many ribbons in shows and parades. Roxie was the last of Hamilton stock in that section.

FARMER FATALLY STRICKEN

Mr. Robert Thompson, an employee of Mr. L. C. Garrett, near Strickersville, became unconscious while returning from the creamery at Landenberg last Tuesday. He was found on the road leaning out of his wagon by Mr. John Moore and Mr. Warrington. He was given medical attention and later taken to the West Chester Hospital, where he died without regaining consciousness, Thursday morning. Funeral services were held in the Faggs Manor Church, with interment in adjoining cemetery May 9th. He is survived by five children.

MOVE PRIMARY SCHOOL

It was announced at the Board of Education offices today, that on Monday next the entire Primary School, and the Fourth Grade of the Grammar School, will be housed in the new High School building on Academy Street for the balance of the term.

ALUMNI DINNER

The annual dinner of the Newark High School Alumni Association will be held in the new High School on Friday evening, June 5th next, it was announced today. Eugene Kennedy is president of the Association.

Vaccination Spree Swamps Doctors Here

Doctors in Newark have been nearly swamped the past two or three days by scores of residents, bent on vaccination for smallpox. Arms (and legs, too) by the score have been ceremoniously scratched and inoculated.

Last night, it is reported that nearly a hundred men and women were vaccinated in Newark alone. The doctors' offices were jammed from late afternoon until nearly midnight.

Rumors of a case of the dread disease on New London avenue could not be confirmed today. Dr. Raymond Downs, president of the Board of Health said he had no knowledge of such a case.

SONS OF DELAWARE

Philadelphians To Make Annual Trip In Autos

The annual Spring outing of the Sons of Delaware of Philadelphia to Newark and the University is scheduled for Saturday afternoon. The trip this year will be made in a caravan of autos, instead of a special train.

The May Day fete at the Women's College, baseball on Frazer Field, inspection of the new Library, and a banquet in Old College in the evening will provide the major part of the entertainment for the visitors. A prominent speaker has been secured for the evening. Group singing at the banquet will be led by William P. White.

Lifelong Resident Summoned By Death

Miss Ada Wilson, Aged 78, Passed Away This Morning; Funeral Set for Friday Next

Following a span of 78 years, through which she resided in the same home on Main Street, Miss Ada Wilson, aunt of E. C. Wilson, of this town, died this morning after an illness of about a month. She was 78 years of age.

Miss Wilson was born in the little frame house next door her nephew's home and kept her residence there unbroken. In the 78 years, many changes took place all about her; she watched the town grow, the people come and go; and, until a few years ago, took an active interest in church and civic affairs. Of late, however, she had been in retirement. The death of her aged cousin, Miss Catherine Minck, on April 28th last, is believed to have contributed to her general breakdown shortly later.

The funeral will be held from the residence of Mr. Wilson at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon.

WILLIS WINS BIG SHOOT

Yorklyn Crowded With Sportsmen Saturday Last

The third annual spring registered tournament of the T. Clarence Marshall Gun Club of Yorklyn, Delaware, was held Saturday afternoon. This shoot is a forerunner to the Annual August three day tournament.

One hundred and three different shooters took part in the event.

L. D. Willis, of Wilmington, led the field on the 150 target event with 146 followed closely by Steve Crothers and G. D. Baldwin with 144 each.

High professional was grabbed off by A. J. McDowell, of Philadelphia.

In the handicap shoot S. M. Crothers was high at 22 yards, M. Connor at 20 yards, J. H. Mitchell at 18 and E. M. Ludwick at 16 yards.

Baseball This Week

Saturday, at Yorklyn—Continental vs. National (Fibre League).

Saturday, Frazer Field, 2.30 p. m.—Delaware vs. St. John's College.

Driver Pays $530 For His Part In Bad Smashup Here

Costs Include $200 Fine For Driving While Intoxicated. Crash Follows Race on Slippery Macadam Monday Night

ONE PASSENGER IS HURT

Still another tragedy was in some manner avoided Monday night, when three big cars figured in a triangular smashup along the Newark-Elkton road, near the Mayer farm.

Ray Kitchens, of Marcus Hook, Pa., piloting a Flint touring car, was arrested by Officer Lewis, following the smashup and at a hearing held yesterday afternoon before Magistrate Thompon, was fined $200 on charge of driving a car while intoxicated. Damages to another car sent the total costs of the case, including the fine, to slightly over $530. He pled guilty to the above charge.

Nearly Loses Ear

Kitchen's car collided heavily with a Hudson touring car, owned by Ward Smith, of Roxboro, near Philadelphia. Harry A. Roberts, of Roxboro, who was driving the car for Mr. Smith, was the only witness to testify at the hearing yesterday.

He stated that the Flint suddenly turned out from behind another car while going at a high rate of speed, and wavered across the road an instant and struck the Hudson a glancing blow, throwing it over into the ditch. He said he did not see Kitchen's car until it was almost upon him. The roadway was wet from the rain and all three cars involved skidded badly.

An occupant of the Smith car, whose name could not be learned by the local police, was the only serious sufferer from injuries. An ear was so badly torn that twelve stitches were required to place it back in position. Mr. Smith suffered about the face. Kitchen was unhurt.

It is understood from a witness to the accident that Kitchen endeavored to have another occupant of his car pose as the driver. At the hearing, he first denied that he drove the car at the time of the crash, but later pled guilty after a conference with Mr. Smith and Magistrate Thompon.

The Flint machine is badly wrecked, while the Hudson was able to run under its own power. The third car, said to be a Buick was slightly damaged, and the owner did not figure in the hearing.

Car Held For Damages

Efforts of Kitchen and his companions to raise the $530 had failed up until a late hour last night. Their car is being held by authorities here awaiting settlement.

GIRL RESERVES' BAKE

Plan To Send Two Members To Summer Camp This Year

Under the direction of Miss Agnes Davis, a Girl Reserves' Bake will be held at Blocksom's corner on Saturday morning of this week, beginning at nine o'clock standard time.

The girls are endeavoring to raise money for a fund to send two of their number to Camp Nepahwin in Pennsylvania, the official Girl Reserves' camp for this section. Misses Elma Robinson and Agnes Davis have been selected to make the trip.

Pies, cake, rolls, bread and many varieties of home-made candy will be on sale Saturday.

W. C. I. BEATS NEWARK

The Newark High School track team took a heavy drubbing at the hands of Wesley Collegiate Institute in Dover yesterday afternoon, losing the meet, 58-8.

Wesley is a Class II team and presented a strong combination on both track and field. Several track records were broken by the Dover runners yesterday.

LATE ELKTON NEWS

Thomas B. Miller, president of the National Bank of Elkton, and Irwin T. Kepler, treasurer of the Elkton Banking and Trust Company, are attending the Maryland Bankers' Association Convention being held at the Hotel Traymore, Atlantic City.

Board Of Health Urges Cooperation Of Householders On Clean-Up Days

Today and tomorrow are "Clean Up Days" in Newark.

From end to end of the town, relentless war is being waged against rubbish, tin cans, mosquito-breeding places, open garbage dumps, and other unsightly and unhealthy trash.

Housewives are urged by the Board of Health, to co-operate to the fullest extent; to see to it that their particular property is clean and neat. The town has arranged for conveyances to haul away trash left on the curb. It is entirely up to the individual residents whether Clean Up Day will be a success.

Advice From Prof. Smith

Professor M. Van G. Smith, secretary of the local Board of Health, in a statement to THE POST this week, asked the townspeople to begin at once the annual war on mosquitoes and flies.

"If everybody in the town," said Prof. Smith, "will lend a friendly hand there is no reason why this should be practically free from mosquitoes, flies and disease this coming summer. All that is necessary is that everybody go out in the back yard and see what rubbish there is to be removed and then get busy and remove it."

"Tin cans or anything that will hold a few spoonfuls of water are ideal breeding places for mosquitoes. Mosquitoes travel only a few hundred yards from the place of their birth, therefore it behooves everybody to look for old tin cans and such like in their own back yard if they want to be as free as possible from mosquitoes."

"As to flies," continued Prof. Smith, "Flies breed in such places as garbage cans, manure piles and open toilets. In fact they breed in almost any kind of a dirty, filthy place. If we are careful to abolish the breeding places of the flies we shall have fewer of them. Flies are not only a nuisance, like mosquitoes, but they are a real menace to public health. It is well known that the mosquito transmits malaria. Malaria is an uncomfortable thing to have, but few ever die from it."

"But the fly! The fly is one of the filthiest things on earth. He will walk over and fed upon every conceivable filthy thing and then within the next twenty minutes or so he will be walking over the food on our tables if he can get into the house. His feet and legs are all hairy and the filthy stuff he walks over sticks to his feet and legs. In this way he carries it in and deposits it on our food."

The Town Council says it is willing to do its part if every property owner and tenant will only do his. To this end Council has arranged to have all tin cans, rubbish, etc., collected on Wednesday and Thursday, May 13 and 14. Get busy now and CLEAN UP.

Memorial Day Plans Are Announced

At a meeting of Newark's Memorial Day Committee held last Wednesday afternoon, preliminary plans were laid for the observance of the annual holiday in the community.

Major Clarence A. Short was named chairman of the day's program by the Mayor's Committee.

The plans call for the customary exercises at the Boulder on the upper campus of the University at ten o'clock standard time. Prior to the exercises, it is expected that the parade of school children and patriotic organizations, led by a band, will visit the various cemeteries in town.

The following appointments were made: Major Short, to secure the speaker; Dr. W. O. Sypherd, in charge of the program; Captain Roy Sparks, to arrange seating; Miss Q. Drake, to secure chorus of Women's College students; Captain Buckingham will read Lincoln's Gettysburg address; Captain J. C. Hastings will lead the singing.

LODGE NOTES

All members of Osceola Lodge No. 5, Knights of Pythias, are hereby earnestly requested to be present at a meeting on May 18, at 7.30 p. m., standard time, in Fraternal Hall. Supreme Representative Harry Fritz, of Wilmington, will give an interesting talk on Pythianism. Refreshments will be served.

MANY ATTEND SERVICES FOR "JACK" MORRISON

Delaware Avenue Home Crowded With Friends of Dead Boy Last Friday

Funeral services for John Morrison, 19-year-old Newark boy who was drowned in the canal locks at Chesapeake City Tuesday of last week, were held from his late home on Delaware avenue Friday afternoon.

Hundreds of people called at the house on Thursday evening and Friday to pay respects to the memory of the boy. On the day of the funeral, cars were lined up on both sides of the avenue from Wolf Hall to Academy street. The house could hold but a portion of those who attended the services. Rev. Frank Herson, pastor of the M. E. Church, where "Jack" was a loyal Sunday School worker, had charge of the funeral services, and preached a splendid sermon.

Mr. and Mrs. George Morrison, parents of the dead boy, were under the care of a physician during the day; they stood the ordeal as well as could be expected. Mr. Morrison showed the strain more than his wife Friday.

Floral offerings in abundance filled the little home. They came from the church, lodges Jack belonged to, a tribute from a group of his chums; from business institution where he worked, and from many individual relatives and friends.

Following the services, the body was interred at Union Cemetery, near Childs, Maryland.

Farmers' Club Head

At a recent meeting of the Cecil Farmers' Club held at the home of Reuben Reynolds, A. H. Mendenhall, a merchant at Blue Ball, was elected president to fill the unexpired term of the late Frank B. Evans, of Elkton.

TOWN COUNCIL SUED

Among the cases scheduled to come to trial in the Circuit Court for Queen Anne's county, which convened in Centreville last week, is a suit of Abraham Spitz, of Hartford, Conn., against the Mayor and City Council of Elkton, for $10,000 for alleged personal injuries. Shortly after the State of Maryland took over the road-bed of Main street here, and built the concrete road through this town, Spitz, who was enroute through Elkton in his automobile, ran off the road-bed and crashed into a telephone pole near the corner of Main and North streets. His car was badly damaged and he was injured. The town of Elkton claims that it was not responsible for the condition of the street, because it did not have jurisdiction over it—the State of Maryland having assumed control of the street. The City Council will show that it passed an ordinance in 1920, transferring the street jurisdiction to the State. States Attorney Joshua Clayton will represent the Mayor and Town Commissioners of Elkton, while Ex-States Attorney Henry A. Warburton will represent the plaintiff. The case is set for tomorrow.

M. E. LADIES AID GUESTS OF MRS. HERSON

The Ladies Aid Society of the M. E. Church was most delightfully entertained on Thursday afternoon, May 7th, by Mrs. Herson at the parsonage. The meeting came to order with the new officers in charge. After the usual business was completed, a tour of inspection was made that everyone might see and appreciate the recent improvements made possibly the Aid Society.

Delicious refreshments were served then followed a social hour much enjoyed by all; after which, the ladies departed with most pleasant memories of the afternoon.

Commissioner Cann Hears Goodyear Case

Reserves Decision Involving Former Elktonian, Held Again For Making Alleged Liquor

After several unsuccessful attempts Luke Goodyear, whose name is a by-word among Elkton folks, has finally landed a United States government indictment.

Luke, it will be remembered, played around the county courts of Maryland on sundry and numerous occasions, was fined intermittently, and generally annoyed for his alleged activities in distilling "barb wire" liquor.

Some months ago Luke, facing another indictment, jumped his bail and fled to the protecting arms of Delaware. Until a few weeks ago, no news from him was quite naturally good news.

On April 14th last, however, Luke broke into the news with a bang, this time in the eminent town of Kenton, near Dover. Officers in Kent County claim Luke and two companions, Messrs. Blanchfield and Lofland, were operating a high power still under full steam. Thus, the Law boomeranged back.

Goodyear and Blanchfield were brought before Commissioner Cann of Newark, sitting in Wilmington, Monday. The third member, Lofland, is understood to have escaped.

Decision was reserved in the case. Blanchfield, who was represented by Martin E. Smith, was the principal witness for the Government against Goodyear. He said he was to receive 50 cents for each gallon turned out by a still in a woods near Goodyear's home. Blanchfield stated he and Charles Lofland were hired by Goodyear to operate the still.

Goodyear's attorney objected to his client being held, on the grounds that Blanchfield's testimony was uncorroborated. U. S. District Attorney Reinhardt head that the testimony of Ira H. Melvin, a prohibition enforcement agent, Sergeant Cole, of the State Highway Police and John D. Marr, who raided the still showed there was a path leading from the Goodyear home to the still. Blanchfield who admitted working at the still said Goodyear carried away ten gallons of liquor the day prior to the raid and he had received $5 from him for his share of the work. Blanchfield said he was hired to fire the stove under the still while Lofland was to attend the still. Goodyear he said made up the mash.

NOTED PHYSICIAN DIES

George M. Stump, Veteran Practitioner of Perryville, Was 74 Years Old

Dr. George M. Stump, for nearly forty years a leading physician of Cecil County, died at his old home Sunday last, aged 74.

Dr. Stump was beloved by a host of friends for his loyalty, great skill as a physician and surgeon, and his public spirited policies. At one time he owned practically all of what is now Perry Point government station. He was a pioneer surgeon in the lower end of the county, and many are the lives which have been saved through major operations performed with his skilled hands in his own little office. In later years, his surgical skill made this specialization a distinctive part of his practice.

The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon from his late residence in Perryville with interment in West Nottingham cemetery.

PASSES BAR EXAMS

G. Stewart Lynch, son of Francis E. Lynch, 1502 Franklin street, Wilmington, is one of 414 law students who passed examinations held on Saturday for admission to practice before the New York State Bar. Eleven hundred young men and women took the examinations.

Mr. Lynch is a graduate of the University of Delaware, class of '19, and of the Harvard Law School. He is well known to many Newark people.

Dover Choral Club In Final Recital On 19th

Miss Ruth Wilson Sachs To Assist; Large Crowd Expected In Dover Opera House To Enjoy Affair

The Dover Choral Society announces its final concert for May 19th at 8 o'clock in the Dover Opera House under the direction of Mr. T. Leslie Carpenter, of Wilmington, conductor. The Society will be assisted by Mrs. Ruth Wilson Sachs, formerly of Dover, who will sing two groups of contralto solos. Mrs. Sachs is a cultivated singer who possesses a contralto voice of rare beauty. Another attractive feature of the program will be the Sonata for piano and violin. The chorus will render 9 numbers. All these chorus numbers will present a most pleasing variety and the full program is as follows:

- Part One
1. Bridal Chorus (from the Cantata "The Rose Maiden"), Full chorus with orchestra; 2. Dring to Me Only With Thine Eyes, Unaccompanied Chorus; 3. Who Will O'er the Downs So Free (an old English song), Full chorus; 4. Ruth Wilson Sachs, Contralto solos, (a) Strike Thou Hour, (b) The Questioner, (c) Song of the Shepherd Lehl, with violin obligato; 5. Santa Lucia, Full Chorus.

- Part Two
1. Sonata for violin and piano, Mrs. J. Hall Anderson, violinist; Mr. Chas. Ven Leer, pianist; 2. The Parting Kiss, Full Chorus; 3. The Bells of St. Mary's, Full Chorus with Orchestra; 4. Duna, Male Chorus; 5. Ruth Wilson Sachs, Contralto Solos, (a) War; (b) The Captive, (c) What's in the Air To-day?; 6. Italian Street Song, from the Comic Opera Naughty Marietta, Mrs. Frank Hall Davis, Soprano Soloists, assisted by the Full Chorus and Orchestra.

Governor Robinson and his family and Secretary of State Taylor and his family will be present as the guests of the Society.

Tickets are now on sale at James Wise's drug store, Dover. Any out of town patrons may secure their tickets through letter or telephone from James Wise. The chart is now open for the sale of tickets.

Wilmington Fine Arts Society Announce Exhibition May 26-June 13

The Wilmington Society of the Fine Arts announces an exhibition in black and white and monochrome to be held in the Gallery of the new Library Building at Wilmington, from May 26 to June 13 inclusive. Invitations are extended to all Delaware artists, members of the Society and pupils of Howard Pyle to send samples of their work. Certain other artists from outside the state have also been invited. The exhibition will consist of originals in black and white oil; also drawings in pencil, charcoal, wash tempera, pen and ink—any medium that has for its final rendering an effect of black and white or tint. Pictures must be those that have never been shown in Wilmington.

In addition to the exhibition, there will be shown the work of the pupils of the various schools of the State of Delaware. All drawings submitted by the pupils must be delivered to the rooms of the Society, Public Library Building, Wilmington, any afternoon of May 18th, 19th and 20th, from 1.30 p. m. to 5.00 p. m., Daylight Saving Time. Drawings by the pupils need not be framed, but must be mounted on cardboard with a margin of not more than two and one-half inches to permit of hanging. All drawings will be passed upon by the committee. It is suggested that the pupils seek the advice of their instructor in art so that only the very best work is submitted. There will be two prizes for the work of pupils, the first of $10.00 and the second of $5.00. There will also be an Honorable Mention. The committee for the exhibition consists of Dr. Barker, chairman, Frank E. Schoonover, Stanley M. Arthurs, Walter Kumme, and Gayle P. Hoskins.

May Day at Women's College

The annual May Day celebration at the Women's College, University of Delaware, will be held Saturday, May 16.

The Freshman girls will have their mothers as special guests that day, and a Mother-Daughter luncheon will be served at 12 o'clock standard time.

At two o'clock in Red Men's Grove, the May Fete will take place. This always centers about the crowning of the May Queen, who is the most popular girl in the senior class. This year Mary Katherine Bradley is the chosen Queen. The Fete takes the form of a group of aesthetic dances by the various characters of Story-book fame. The Prince of the Land of Make Believe has invited the entire court to a wonderful entertainment in honor of his queen, and it is at this time that everyone will have an opportunity to see again some favorite character of his childhood days. Peter Pan and his Shadows, Mistress Mary, the Rabbit and all will be there to add to the celebration. The Fete will conclude with the winding of the May-pole.

Home Economics Play

Immediately after that part of the program, the students of the Home Economics Department, in place of their annual exhibit, will present two plays in Wolf Hall. The first will show how practical application can be made of the knowledge derived from the courses in Home Economics. The points that will be stressed are budgeting of time and money, the value of labor-saving devices, the importance of the right kinds of food in the diet. Special emphasis will be placed on particular types of food necessary for health, growth and development. There will also be suggestions as to the wise use of leisure time.

The second play deals with the clothing side of the course. Emphasis is laid upon clothing selection, the clothing budget and art principles as applied to clothing. This will be illustrated with a fashion show by the students using the dresses which they have made in the various classes.

Art Work Exhibit

The exhibit of Art Work will be open to the public from one until two and from four until six, and will be held on the second floor of Science Hall, according to the custom established two years ago. The Teacher Training students will show their work in Room 15. The work of the other courses will be shown in the Art Studios. The Teacher Training exhibit will show the scope and character of problems suitable for children of the first six grades. The work of the other courses will consist of charcoal studies, oil paintings, and work in design and color. The students will be glad to explain the content of any of the art courses given during the year. Demonstrations of various activities such as wood block printing, dyeing, and weaving will be given during the exhibit.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Emma Null

Mrs. Emma Null, aged 72 years, of Providence, Md., died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Ward Smith, at Roxborough, Pa., early Sunday evening, May 10th, 1925. Mrs. Null was the widow of the late Jacob A. Null who died May 19, 1923.

Mrs. Null has suffered with heart trouble for a number of years, but had failed steadily since the death of her husband.

Funeral service will be held from her late residence in Providence, tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock, standard time. Interment will be made in St. John's Cemetery, Lewisville, Pa.

She is survived by the following children: Mrs. Carl Rumsey and George Null, of Covington, Va.; Mrs. George Hoover and Mrs. Ward Smith, of Roxborough, Milton Null, of Providence. Several grand, and great grandchildren.

KING-SMITH FAUVETTES

King-Smith "Fauvettes" will appear in Wolf Hall, May 25th, at 8 o'clock (Daylight Saving time), under the auspices of the University of Delaware.

A music critic says of the group: "It is a delightfully artistic combination of pantomime with vocal and instrumental music, in a unique program of old French and Russian period songs, old English singing games, American folk melodies, and picturesque pantomimes."
"Beautiful voices, entrancing instrumental music, charming costumes, and settings designed by Robert Bell, the well-known master of American stagecraft, combined to make an ensemble of tone, color and motive, unsurpassed on the concert stage or platform."

LODGE NOTES

On next Tuesday evening there will be another meeting of the Degree of Poochontas, to which all the ladies of the town are invited to attend. The meeting will be called at 8 p. m. Daylight Saving Time. It is the desire of the Committee to have a large attendance so as to get organized. The meeting will be held in Fraternal Hall.

American Flag Council No. 28, Jr. O. U. A. M., held an enthusiastic meeting on Monday night, May 11th, when a class of 21 candidates were obligated and will be initiated in a class initiation in Wilmington, Del., on May 21st, which will be the 72nd anniversary of the founding of the Order. The number of candidates expected to be initiated in this class coming from Rural New Castle County and Wilmington is two hundred.

A large number of members of Oriental Lodge No. 12, I. O. O. F., visited National Lodge No. 32, I. O. O. F., at St. Georges on Sunday, May 10th, and attended Divine Service in the Presbyterian Church and were interested in a sermon on the "Three Links," which was very ably rendered.

Comments On The Times

Brief Summaries Of National And Foreign Events Of The Past Week Prepared By Newark High School Pupils

NATIONAL AFFAIRS

Secretary Mellon again comes to the front in the tax question. In brief, his plan is to lower the super-taxes on the high incomes to a reasonable figure. This will induce the rich to take their money out of tax exempt securities and put it into lines of production and more profit. Mr. Mellon does not denounce the existing law, but thinks his plan would help the man of average means by making the rich pay more and easing the burden of the average class.

The 1927 budget sheet will be started in earnest within a few days. President Coolidge hopes the reduction will be as great as $300,000,000. This will mean the elimination of surplus government activities. Coolidge wants to go a little further than just reducing the taxes; he wants to lower them still more by reducing the level of expenditures from which that surplus draws.

As a member of the Foreign Relations Committee, Senator Pepper sees hope for a world court. He believes the Senate will ratify it in one form or another. The difference will revolve around the question of whether the International Court of Justice shall be entirely free from the League of Nations or whether there shall be simply reservations safeguarding American interests. Personally he believes in the complete separation of it.

"Rum Row" is disintegrating! Another week, it is reported, and the whole Row will be starved into submission. This Row, for some time, has been giving the coast guards a great deal of trouble. Now it seems a way has been found to put an end to rum running along the Atlantic Coast. Their food and water supply is very low and the Coast Guard is still on the job. Officers at Stapleton report that "not a drop of liquor is getting through the blockade." The breaking up of this fleet will go a long way toward enforcing the "dry" act.

With the sham battles from the Island of Oahu completed, Admiral Robert E. Wontz and Major General John L. Hines have sent, from Honolulu, a summary of defects in their fleet. The principal weaknesses displayed were in the aircraft operations. Both the land and sea fleets need to be strengthened and enlarged.

Ambassador Houghton's London speech has irritated Europe quite a little. It seems he said most everything he wanted to and it rather pricked them. No one else would have dared to talk in such a schoolmasterly tone. To quote him: "America will help only those who help themselves."

The Raphael portrait of Guiliamo de Medici was bought by an unnamed American for $250,000. It was smuggled out of Germany, and is said to be the only authentic portrait, by that master, in private hands.

The famous Dean Inge says England is on very friendly relations with America, mostly through the efforts of Mr. Page, whose memory will live long in England. When he goes home, he says, he will take among the happiest impressions of this country, its vast wealth, which he measures by its "countless automobiles," the grandeur of its cities, the beauty of New England, and the hospitality of the American people.

Senator Borah says France is able to reduce her debt. Her citizens are taxed less than Americans, her wealth is greater and growing, her army is the greatest in the world, but yet she wants to cancel her debt. If she would adjust her debt on the same basis as Great Britain did, it would be a simple matter to pay it off, he says. Why does she think it fair that American taxpayers should pay the principal and even the interest? It seems to be a trying problem for all concerned.

—Helen Barnard.

FLASHES FROM EUROPE

ITALY

Albertine, in the Italian Senate, delivered stinging criticism against the Mussolini government—declaring that if the Italian people were to express their wishes at the polls without humiliation or intimidation, the days of the Fascisti regime would be numbered. He resents restriction of the press, which he considers the inalienable right of any people. No demonstration, however, took place. In spite of the senatorial opposition it has been officially announced that King Victor Emmanuel conferred the post of Minister of Navy upon Mussolini. This entrenches the premier even more firmly in the Italian government.

GERMANY

A report from Berlin states that the German government decided yesterday to decline membership in the League of Nations unless the Allies evacuate the Ruhr and Rhineland territories.

RUSSIA

What effect the development of Russia will have on the future stability of Europe is a question. Today the Russian problem is more Asiatic than European, yet it hangs like a cloud on the horizon of Europe.

Leon Trotzki, deposed Soviet War Minister, returned to Moscow from a four-months exile in the Caucasus and is ready to accept any position the government will offer him on the condition that he will observe all the rules of strict Bolshevism.

Grand Duke Nicholas, Commander-in-Chief of the Russian army in the World War, urges the world powers to unite in a campaign to destroy Soviet rule. Their propaganda, he says, is stirring up revolutions in all countries, and menacing world peace.

ENGLAND

A veritable storm was aroused recently by Chancellor Winston Churchill's budget. Lancashire is in arms against a tax of artificial silk, which has been a valuable source of new industrial enterprise since the had condition of the cotton trade. There is also trouble over the restoration of duties on automobiles. It is argued that the reduction of income tax and the super tax is a relief to the renter class at the expense of trade. Mr. Churchill will probably be forced to surrender his position on some of the issues.

State And National Prizes Offered For Competition; June 1 Is Last Date
For Entries; Dr. Foster A State Judge

School pupils of Delaware between the ages of 12 and 15 years are eligible to compete for both State and National prizes in the big American Legion essay contest which begins June 1st next. It was learned this week.

From department headquarters in Wilmington comes the announcement governing the contest.

Three judges are selected for each State. The duties of the State Judges will be to select the three best essays from the winners in the counties of the State. In the case of Delaware their duties will be simply to judge the three winning essays from New Castle, Kent and Sussex counties as to relative merit.

Dr. H. V. Holloway, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, has chosen the following for the Delaware State Judges and their acceptances have been received:

Albert W. Cummins, Editor, Wilmington Morning News.

Dr. Finley M. K. Foster, Associate Professor of English, University of Delaware.

John Shilling, Assistant Superintendent in charge of High Schools.

The New Castle County Judges chosen are as follows:

Burton P. Fowler, Headmaster Tower Hill School; H. E. Stahl, Superintendent of Schools, Claymont; J. Herbert Owens, Superintendent of Schools, Newark.

Prizes

Attention is again called to the fact that in addition to the national prize of $750 first prize, $500 second prize, $250 third prize, which cash prizes will be used only for scholarships in colleges to be designated by the winners, there is the possibility of receiving one of the State prizes which are as follows:

First prize in each state, silver medal; second prize, bronze medal; third prize, certificate of merit issued by the National headquarters of the Legion.

Subject

The subject of the essay is "Why has the American Legion, an Organization of Veterans of the World War, dedicated itself first of all, to uphold and defend the Constitution of the United States of America?"

Rules

All girls and boys between the ages of twelve to eighteen inclusive, are eligible to enter the contest.

Each contestant may submit one essay only.

Essays must not exceed 500 words in length.

Only one side of the paper may be used. A margin of one inch must be allowed on both sides of the paper.

After the essay is completed the paper should be neatly folded—not rolled.

Spelling, penmanship and neatness will be considered in judging the winner.

Age will also be considered. All essays submitted by county school children must be received not later than midnight, June 1, 1925, by Burton P. Fowler, Headmaster, Tower Hill School, Wilmington.

JUST WHERE ARE WE AT, ANYWAY?

As my good friend Dr. Sypherd would say in his very best English, "this Daylight Saving device is the bunk."

In which I agree. For example, if I were to ask any normal citizen of Newark this afternoon what time it is, he would most likely say "Thursday." They all carry watches but they don't know how to read them. You know that story about the two Irishmen, Pat and Mike; or was it Terrance and Cornelius. No matter.

Anyhow, it's a good story, all about watches and chains and things.

Now you yokels up in Newark maybe think I don't know why I'm talking about Daylight Saving for. Now personally, it makes no never minds to me, which side the fence the cow jumps—just so she jumps some place.

Now take Tom Green and Dave Medill for horrible examples. Tom, being from Pencader, never heard of Daylight Saving until this spring. And Dave, being from Colorado, never kept track of time, anyhow. Dave is for setting up the clocks. Tom, with traditional Pencader gentleness, offers a polite No.

"So there she stands," says Tom.
"Durned if she don't," says Dave.

Now it's perfectly clear to nearly everybody, including myself, that you can't make a short sheet cover both ends at the same time. That's facts, that is. And you can't get up on new time and go to bed by old time and keep that School Girl Complexion.

As far as my figgerin will stand inspection, theys about 6 7/8 of the population crusin serenely along on the time of Washington, Jefferson, Caesar Rodney and the Democratic Party; the other 9/10 is always askin what time it is.

Take me for instance. I'm progressive. I went up to town the other night to Lodge. Well, it starts at 8 o'clock. When I got there at five minutes to eight, it was nearly over. I might just as well attended the Kluxer meetin, beings as I missed the Lodge.

So then I thought I'd fool 'em and so I went into the movies at nine o'clock new time to see the last show; got in and took off my hat, and in five minutes the show was over. Benny Blest, the Stage Manager and Motorman said they decided to start an hour earlier than usual. That was mighty nice of Benny to tell me, anyhow.

I always used to say that it don't do no good monkeyin with a watch.

Mayor Frazer and Council boys, in their regular monthly skit last week, didn't include Daylight Saving in their act, to the great disappointment of a small but enthusiastic audience. It was whispered about the wings that one of the star actors in the Council Boys, just wouldn't play if they put on this new act. So instead, they offered the well known melodrama, "New Streets For Old."

I never did see a town so tangled up in itself as Newark is now. It's about as dangerous to go up to somebody on Main street and ask him what time it is as to come home without something for the Wife.

Everybody's out of step; moreover, in their haste to get back, they're crawling all over each other. What you folks up there need is somebody to beat the Big Drum a little harder and get the old town back to normal. It's got to be either Daylight Saving, Standard Time, or throw all the clocks in the creek, and get up when you feel like it.

Old Drawyers Reunion
Planned for June 7th

The yearly meeting of the "Friends of Old Drawyers" will be held as usual at the historic old church near Odessa, Delaware, on the first Sabbath in June, this year being on June 7th. The sermon in the morning will be delivered by Rev. Robert L. Hallett, of Altoona, Pa., a former pastor of Drawyers Church. In the afternoon at 2.30 an address will be given by Judge Richard S. Rodney, of the Delaware Courts.

Since the last meeting one year ago the Church has been greatly improved by a new coat of paint on the outside and a new roof thereon. The old roof had served its purpose long and well, having been on since 1847, the shingles having come from the Cedar Swamps of South Jersey.

Phi Kappa Phi Members at University Hold Dinner Party Also

NEW MEMBERS ARE GUESTS

With the new 1925 members present as guests, the University of Delaware chapter of Phi Kappa Phi, the national scholarship fraternity, held an important dinner-meeting here last Thursday evening.

The election of officers for the coming year resulted as follows: President, Prof. W. A. Wilkinson; vice-president, Quaesita C. Drake; secretary-treasurer, Dr. A. S. Eastman.

Prior to the business meeting a banquet was held in Old College, at which time several short speeches were delivered. Prof. H. K. Preston acted as toastmaster. Among the speakers were Dr. Hullahen, Dean Winifred J. Robinson, Dr. George Paine, and Prof. Wilkinson.

Phi Kappa Phi is the highest scholastic honor attainable by a student at the University here. The election of new members takes place early in their Senior year.

Last year the seniors at the Women's College were invited to be eligible for the honor. Heretofore the fraternity had been confined to the men students only. In addition, a few members of the faculty are usually taken in each year.

New Members Elected

The 1925 list of new members includes the following: Faculty, Dr. George Paine, Dr. F. M. K. Foster, Prof. L. R. Detjen, and Marion McKinney.

Women's College: Misses Kathryn Ladd, Marion Neide, Alyce Watson, Madeline Wintrop, Dorothy Nunn.

Men's College: Raymond Fox, Alfred Harley, Frank Hedger, Ralph Jones, Alfred Francis, Paul Skewis, John Leach, Francis Cummings, and Frederic Houghton.

Newark Chapter No. 10, Order of the Eastern Star, recently organized, held an interesting meeting Thursday night when a number of visitors from Wilmington and Newark, N. J., were entertained. This chapter which was only organized about a month ago promises to develop into one of the largest chapters in the state outside of Wilmington. Mrs. Martha Krapp is the first worthy matron and Robert S. Gallaher is worthy patron of the chapter. Mrs. George W. Hook, of Newark, N. J., who is visiting her sister, Mrs. William E. Hayes, was a visitor at the chapter meeting and gave a short talk. Mrs. Hook is past matron of Delaware Chapter No. 1, of Wilmington and also past grand instructor for Delaware, she formerly having lived in Wilmington.

Several of the State Grand Chapter members and members of Delaware No. 1 and St. John's Chapter No. 4 of Wilmington were visitors and several gave talks. Among the Wilmington visitors were William H. Redmile, Grand Patron; Mrs. Alfred Clower, Grand Instructor; Past Grand Patron, Alfred Clower; Grand Secretary Mrs. M. Etta Keys, Grand Chaplain Mrs. William H. Redmile and a number of others.

Columbus Discovery Called A Myth

Magazine Writer Cites Harvard Professor's Research In Opposing Popular Belief That Noted Voyager Discovered America

"America Discovers Columbus" might be the title of a surprising story in the World's Work for May, in which the great Admiral's voyage is indicated by an impressive array of evidence to have been not one of literal discovery, but of business promotion, and the claim is made that America had been discovered long before Columbus, and that he was well aware of the fact and took a man who had been to America previously with him on his voyage to guide him.

Burton Kline is the author of the article which assembles the numerous claims of previous discovery of America which have been going the rounds, and adds some new ones. One of the principal authors whose researches he cites is Leo Wiener of Harvard.

The Columbus Fiction

After making out a most convincing case, however, Mr. Kline points out that while Columbus did not actually discover America, he did "put the idea over" by the shrewd use of publicity, and that he really did open a new world—the world of modern commerce. And he adds that the "Columbus fiction" is too firmly rooted in the belief of humanity to be abolished by facts.

"One of the newest but not the heaviest of these new strokes at the Columbus legend," he says, "is a three-volume work which has been appearing, a volume at a time, for the last three or four years. It bears impressive authorship—Leo Wiener of Harvard."

"By those who know, Mr. Wiener is held to be one of the leading authorities on the laws and phenomena of human speech. With such an equipment he approached the Indian tongues."

"What must have been Mr. Wiener's surprise to find these Indian tongues heavily 'coated' with foreign words! Some of these words were from the English, some from the Spanish, others from the French and Portuguese. Oldest of all, some words were unmistakably from the Arabic."

"It is now established beyond effective contradiction that for easily a century before Columbus and perhaps for a still longer period, French merchants of Dieppe and Rouen regularly sent their ships to the Guinea Coast of Africa, and probably to the bays of South America, for gold, ivory, spices, skins, precious stones and other exotic desirables. It is known that this commerce was organized on almost the scale of a modern American corporation. Yet for a reason all this business went on without pomp or advertising, and as much as possible under the seal of secrecy."

The reason, Mr. Kline explains, was that kings had the habit of levying on the wealthiest merchants for the cost of their numerous wars, and merchants, therefore, kept the origin and extent of their fortunes from public notice so far as possible.

Among these seafarers was Jean Cousin, a Frenchman, who in 1489 crossed the Atlantic to Brazil, re-crossed it to the Cape of Good Hope, thence felt his way northward along the African coast and back to Dieppe. He had with him a Spanish seaman named Pinzon, who, according to the reports, was a man of hot temper, and fired upon the natives. Cousin, wishing to keep their friendship for trade reasons, filed formal complaint against Pinzon when they got back to Dieppe, and the seaman was

Birmingham Boy Wins Big Prize

Robert Sessions Wins Out Over 1,400,000 Boys and Girls in Oratory Contest on Constitution

FINALS IN WASHINGTON

Robert Sessions, of Birmingham, Alabama, on Friday night won the national oratorical contest over six competitors chosen in regional contests from among 1,400,000 starters.

The finals, which were held in Washington's new auditorium with an opening address by President Coolidge, were judged by Chief Justice Taft, Justices Van De Vanter, Butler and Sanford, of the Supreme Court, and Attorney-General Sargent. All of the orations dealt with the Federal Constitution.

The winner, who is 15 years old, was the youngest of the seven contestants. Eugene F. McElmeel of Los Angeles, aged 16, was rated second; Max N. Kroloff, 17, of Sioux City, Iowa, third; Miss Flora Longenecker, 16, of Illion, New York, fourth; Miss Asenath Graves, 16, of Washington, D. C., fifth.

drummed out of the French mercantile service.

Knew Beforehand

"On his first voyage to America," Mr. Kline continues, "Columbus took with him three brothers Pinzon, all subscribers to stock in the enterprise; but record has it that one of these Pinzons he trusted sufficiently to place him in command of one of the three vessels. Also we know that the Admiral of the expedition learned with especial weight on this Capt. Pinzon for advice and counsel, but note this also; Columbus himself testifies, in his log of the first cruise, that Capt. Pinzon alarmed and angered the entire outfit by stubbornly and everlastingly urging a course 'more to the southward'—in short, in the direction of the land he already knew as Brazil. Moreover, Columbus furnished another point or resemblance between his Pinzon and the lieutenant of Cousin. He complains of Pinzon's temper."

"It becomes increasingly clear that before he sailed he knew what he was going to discover, and where it lay, for the excellent reason that a person or persons had been there before him, and he knew, that also."

"For years before 1492 the air of Europe had been full of the rumor of discovery, and Columbus would have been a fool—which he certainly was not—not to have shared in information which had become general. We have further proof of this in the visit he made to Maderia, where he nursed back to life a sea-faring man who had fallen ill. This fellow, having nothing else to give in gratitude for his recovery, presented Columbus with a map that outlined, better than roughly, the islands of the West Indies. Either this same map, or a copy of another map of the same period, but spotting the West Indies and another island pretty certainly Newfoundland, was lately found by M. de la Ronciere of the Bibliotheque Nationale, Paris, and has been published by Campion, with explanatory text by its finder, M. Jusserand has made an English translation of this brochure."

Mr. Kline quotes the "leading authority, Babcock," as thus summing up the facts as to the discovery of America:

"The maps which I have cited are well attested and seem to show: '1. That the Irish probably preceded the Norse in reaching Newfoundland. '2. That the Icelandic Norsemen certainly discovered America about the year 1000. '3. That a Breton expedition was thought to have reached a point apparently on or just off our coast at some unidentified period before 1367. '4. That some navigator from the Iberian Peninsula almost certainly coasted along Cuba and a few of its neighbors not later than 1435. '5. That some other navigator perhaps made the crossing from Cape Verde to South America in 1443."

Kline quotes Columbus's account of his third voyage as reporting the presence of Negroes and that he had received a present of "guanines," or pieces of gold with copper alloy, in exactly the same proportions as those already well known in Europe as coming from the Guinea Coast. The Indians told Columbus they got the guanines from "black merchants who came to us from the southeast." Kline points out that Negroes had long before Columbus been taken on every trading voyage as interpreters, and he explains this by the theory that the trading Captains from Dieppe often left volunteers from their crews at their mysterious ports of call to have commodities ready on their return.

Valuable Interpreters

The half-caste descendants of these men were valuable because of their knowledge of the languages and ways both of their fathers and their mothers. When Columbus took his own Negroes to America, he found Negroes of the same sort already there, "planted there by a voyager, or voyagers, who had been there before him." These, Kline believes, were the "black merchants from the southeast," who had brought to America the ## Coolidge's Father Not Scared by M. D.

(By National Press)

Colonel John Coolidge, who has always been a considerate father, even as the President has always been a dutiful son, journeyed to Boston last week to allow the doctors to look him over. The Colonel, who for all of his 80 years, jogged down in a day coach from Vermont to Boston, admitted that he really was doing it to please Cal, and that he guessed he felt all right considering his years. There is no one of us but will have a feeling of kindly satisfaction that the doctors have confirmed the Colonel's judgment, and also dissipated the worries of the President. They found he had a slow pulse, but no slower than his years would make natural development of, and the Colonel was released to return to his own chores at home, feeling as well as ever.

golden guanines, and also Arabic words, plants and traces of Arab culture, which have now been unearthed by the philologist Wiener in his study of the earliest recorded forms of the Indian speech.

Students find, according to Kline, that both the Aztec and Mayan civilizations were of African origin, and believe they were founded in America between 1150 and 1200 instead of at the much earlier dates supposed.

John B. Stetson, Jr., Appointed by President Late Last Week; Decision Interests Newark

In the appointment by President Coolidge of John B. Stetson, Jr., of Philadelphia, to be Minister to Finland, the keen struggle for the important diplomatic post among several candidates has ended. Mr. Stetson was recommended for the berth by both Senators Reed and Pepper of Pennsylvania. He is said to have been studying economic and international problems for some years, preparatory to entering the Foreign Service.

Professor George H. Ryden, of Newark was a candidate for the post, having the backing of several prominent Wilmingtonians. Since his name was prominently mentioned in the race several weeks ago, nothing had been heard of the probable appointee until Friday last.

PAUL PEACH ON WAY HOME IN 60-FT. YACHT

Sails Boat Up From Florida Waters With One Companion; Has Been In South Some Months

The following appeared in the Wilmington Morning News on Friday last:

Word has been received by Mr. and Mrs. William P. Peach, of Mill Creek hundred, that their son, W. Paul Peach, is heading up the Chesapeake Bay from Baltimore to Wilmington, in a sixty-foot gasoline yacht on the last lap of a trip from Jacksonville, Fla. He is accompanied by a friend.

The amateur navigator, who has just experienced his first voyage as a commander on an ocean trip, is a graduate of the Wilmington High School and spent two years at the University of Delaware. He is 27 years old. His first ocean voyage was on a liner as a mere passenger on his trip to Miami shortly after last Christmas.

Peach, while in Miami, was engaged in the real estate business and became acquainted with the owner of the yacht "Kex," an author of Boston. The yacht owner took Paul and his companion, "Ted," with him to Jacksonville, where he had purchased an interest in a lumber business. They remained in that city for two or three weeks and then the owner gave Paul and "Ted" charge of the yacht to return it to the north.

The yacht flies the ensign of the Boston Yacht Club.

COMMENCEMENT AT WASHINGTON COLLEGE

Chestertown, Md.—The program for commencement week at Washington College will begin one day earlier than usual, due to the fact that important changes have been made in the list of traditional June events at the Chestertown institution. This year the graduation festivities will start on Wednesday night, June 10th, with a play given by the Dramatic Association, called, "The Talk of the Town." On Thursday night, June 11, the annual debate for the Samuel Towner Rodgers Prize will take place and on Friday morning, June 12th, the declamation contest for the Simpers' medals. It is planned to hold the Commencement Ball on Friday night and on Saturday afternoon, June 13th, President Titsworth will hold a reception at his home for visiting alumni and guests. On Saturday night the annual dinner and general meeting will be held.

Thomas F. Bradley

Bedfast two weeks as the result of a stroke of apoplexy, Thomas F. Bradley, aged 70 years, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Charles Snyder, Belleville, N. J., May 6, 1925. His health had been failing rapidly lately, he having been the victim of a stroke two years ago. Funeral services were held in St. James P. E. Church at Stanton Friday afternoon, Rev. Ernest W. Rich, pastor of the church, officiated. Burial was in the churchyard of St. James'. Deceased was born in Newark, Del., but had been living in Stanton since he was 21 years of age. When he was still a young man he entered the employ of the Pilling Woolen Company at Newark. When he moved to Stanton he took a place with the Kiamenai Woolen Company, which was owned by a brother to the owner of the Pilling Company. He worked there until recently. When he was first taken ill he lived for a year with his son, John F. Bradley, in Wilmington. A year ago he moved with his daughter. He was a member of the Knights of Pythias of Marshallton. In Stanton he was quite active in Republican politics and an ardent worker for the party. Besides the children mentioned he is survived by another son, William T. Bradley, of Philadelphia, and eleven grandchildren. There are also four brothers and two sisters. These are: Hollingsworth Bradley, Newark, Del.; William Bradley, Philadelphia; Frank, of Wilmington; Joseph of Kiamensie; Miss Clara Bradley and Mrs. Ella Cunningham, both of Newark, Del.

Thirty-six Tables Filled at Country Club Affair Saturday Night

With thirty-six tables of bridge, five hundred and mah jongg going full blast, no end of fun reigned at the annual Country Club benefit card party held last Saturday evening in the New Century Club House here.

Reports yesterday indicated that about $182.00 had been cleared, with a possibility of additions to the above amount. This sum compares favorably with net gains in other years.

The committee of ladies in charge of the affair arranged the auditorium of the club house most attractively. Five long rows of tables for cards were placed, and prizes were offered for each row. Golf clubs, home decorations, practical gifts for men, and eatables formed the greater part of the prize list. A large washtub filled with a dozen different varieties of spring vegetables caused a great deal of merriment when it was awarded as a prize. Dr. F. M. K. Foster was master of ceremonies when the gifts were distributed.

The money gained from the benefit will be used for much needed improvements in the Country Club headquarters.

Large Meeting Held Last Night In New School; Musical Program

Mrs. W. A. Wilkinson and her entire staff of associates were unanimously re-elected officers of the Parent-Teacher Association at the last monthly meeting of the school year last evening.

The gymnasium of the new High School was crowded with people when the meeting began. Selections by the Grammar School orchestra opened the program. The work of the youngsters was heartily complimented by the audience.

During the business session, it was moved and carried that $25.00 of the $39.93 balance in the treasury be used for music for the school. John S. Shaw then gave a report on the State Convention held in Dover recently.

Following the business meeting, the members were treated to a delightful program of music, with Misses Mary Houston, Anne Ritz and Mildred Toulson, soloists. Miss Toulson is a Women's College student.

Short talks on English were given by four students from the High School: Marion Phelps, of the Freshman class; Paul MacMurray, a Sophomore; Robert Thoroughgood, Junior; and Edna Doyle, of the Senior Class.

Delicious refreshments were served to everyone present at the close of the meeting. The new lunch room in the basement of the building was used for this purpose.

Weddings

MILLER—PLUMMER

Miss Ella C. Miller, of Wilmington, and Mr. George Dewey Plummer, of this town, were quietly married on Saturday last at the Little Church Around the Corner, New York City.

Mrs. Plummer is a graduate of the Women's Medical College in Philadelphia, class of 1922, and since that time has been nursing in Wilmington and vicinity. Mr. Plummer has been a resident here for some three years. He is linotype operator at the plant of the Delaware Ledger Publishing Company here.

Mr. and Mrs. Plummer returned this week from their wedding trip and are making their home in Newark.

Brady—Ager Nuptials

Among the June weddings in Delaware will be that of Miss Clara Rebecca Brady, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Brady, of this town, and Joel W. Ager, of Port Leyden, N. Y., which is to take place at four o'clock, on June 3d, in St. Anne's P. E. Church, Middletown. Following the ceremony a reception for the immediate families will be held at the home of the bride's parents.

Miss Brady is a former student of the Women's College, University of Delaware. She was prominent in all dramatic and athletic activities, and popular with all the members of the student body. Mr. Ager is a graduate of Colgate University, Hamilton, N. Y.

AGGIES HOLD BANQUET

Baltimore Poly Wins Schoolboy Meet; DuPont High Gets Class III Title

Newark High Disappoints In Inter-Scholastics Saturday; Accident Eliminates Them From Relay Chances; S. P. E. Wins Pan-Hellenic Race

IDEAL WEATHER BRINGS OUT GREAT CROWD

Baltimore Polytechnic, West Catholic High of Philadelphia, and Dupont High walked away with the three championship banners in their respective classes at the 12th annual renewal of the Interscholastic Meet held on Frazer Field, Saturday.

Each of these three teams outfought and out heaved their competitors handily. The scores of the teams entered showed the clear superiority of the winners.

"B" Lilly's Poly team kept up its splendid record for the past few years, in again sweeping the Class I field. With a well balanced team, placing in nearly every event, Lilly, who was a former track star here and a popular figure in the town's life while in college, had an easy time of it. West Chester pushed them hard in the field events, but were stopped on the track.

Gilman Country School of Baltimore showed its best form in the dashes, when Whiteridge won both the 100 and 220 in fast time.

Bennett and Coole scored heavily for West Chester in the broad jump, placing one-two.

Vineland Shows Well

Pitted against the sturdy Vineland High School team, West Catholic had plenty of opposition all afternoon. The New Jersey lads, with only a skeleton team and unable to compete in many events, ran the Philadelphians a worthy second.

Vineland's best effort was in the Class II sprint medley relay. Running well back in the field during the first three relays, and considered at the start of the final 440 as an also ran, the Vineland anchor man saved himself until the stretch turn, and then walked away from the field, to win easily in 2:43, remarkably good time. West Catholic, the favorites, were lucky to save second place from Wilmington High.

Mistead of Vineland won the half-mile after a keen duel with Grace of Millville, a neighboring city. Cosh, who took down a second in the pole vault and ran the relay was another point winner.

Broad Jumpers at Easton

Another feature of the meeting was the broad jumping of young Harts, of Easton, Maryland. Placed in Class III, Harts clearly outjumped any broad jumper on the field. While Bennett stretched himself to win a first for West Chester in Class I at 19 ft. 1 1/2 in., this young Marylander, sailed through the air to a new interscholastic record with a jump of 20 feet even. This leap drew the attention of everyone to this young man, as his performance was remarkable. His teammate Meintzer placed second in this event.

Du Pone High, by taking plenty of seconds, won the Class III banner with lots to spare from Dover High.

Elkton High's only points came through the speedy stepping of Miller in the 220. This youngster broke the tape in 24 2/5 seconds. The Shot Put and Sprint Medley were the only events to be won by DuPont. Consistent placing in the other events, however, made it possible for them to keep well in the lead.

Newark Disappoints

Newark High entries in the Class III events, usually well up with the winners, and several times champions, were off form this year. Only three points were gathered in by the local lads. Justin Steel took second to Crouse of Caroline High in one of the best 100 yard sprints of the day. Steel was out in front most of the way, dropped back at the last, and came on in a last-stride sprint, but failed to get up in time. His three points was Newark's score.

Hard luck in the sprint medley cost Newark a sure place in the minds of many. Davis, Patchell, Doordan and Steel looked good in this event, but on the first relay, Amos Davis was caught in a jam on the lower turn and fell. The sprinters were away from him in an instant, and the valuable ground lost was never regained. Doordan ran a good strong race, and Steel took up the final relay with a rush. He was too far back to make a play for the leaders, however, and wisely jogged in. It was hard on the many Newark

Tri-County League In Second Spasm Of Season; Cleaver Potts Stars For Elktonians

PLAYING FIELD CHANGED

Although forced to play a scheduled home game in the camp of the enemy Saturday last, Elkton went earnestly to work and won a ball game from the Perryville Railroaders, 9-5. Consistent run getting throughout the latter stages of the game offset a Perryville rally in the third which garnered them four runs. Elkton jumped into the lead in the fifth, and were thereafter never headed.

Old Man Cleaver Potts, the veteran catcher, played one of his best games Saturday. He and Peterson led the club in hitting. Potts held up Robinson in great style in addition to his work with the stick. Eight of the nine men in the Elkton lineup got one or more hits showing that Mather and Captain Alexander of the river boys had not errors in their twirling.

It was reported that Elkton's new ball field was not in shape to play the game Saturday and the scene was shifted at the last minute. Several score of loyal rooters followed the team down the county. It is hoped that the new field will soon be ready for home games. The score:

Elk Mills Loses

Before a big crowd of fans, Elk Mills went down to its second defeat in as many starts in a league game Saturday. Three runs in the very first inning sent the Sun boys away to a lead that Elk Mills could never quite reach. Potter pitched splendid ball for the losers, only allowing five hits. Neither team committed an error. From the fifth inning on till the end, Elk Mills rooters were pulling for one run to tie the score. The last half of the game was airtight, and the Rising Sun boys were safe. Score by innings:

WOMAN HELD FOR MURDER IN ALLEGED ILLEGAL OPERATION

Centreville, Md.—Mrs. Lillian Nash of Kent Island, is lodged in the Centreville Jail on a charge of murder. Authorities allege that she performed an illegal operation on 18 year old Beatrice Chance of Chester, Kent Island, and that the operation was the cause of her death May 2nd.

The affair came to light through the efforts of Dr. Price of Queens-town, who was called to the bedside of the stricken girl. Just as soon as he sensed the situation he questioned his patient and learned how her illness was caused. He immediately got in touch with County authorities with the result that on Monday, Constable John P. Williamson of Centreville, went to the Island and arrested Lillian Nash on a charge of abortion.

According to claims the crime was committed in Baltimore, so the case will be tried in that city rather than in the local courts. However, the Grand Jury has the matter under investigation for the purpose of aiding the Baltimore court in getting at the truth of the question.

Chalmers' Bat And Ramsey's Arm Upset Diamond State In Fibre League Game Here

Continental Team Annexes Second Straight Victory; Enemy's Errors Help Along The Cause; Score Is 9-4

With Ramsey pitching gilt edge ball in the pinches and his battery mate, Chalmers, crashing out base hits with great abandon, the Continental team in the Fibre League had a very pleasant afternoon Saturday at the expense of the strong Diamond State aggregation, 9-4.

A large number of Newark rooters journeyed to the Diamond State grounds to watch the fracas.

Continental won the game in the last stages of the contest, when the enemy's defense broke down under the severe attack of the local batters. For the first six innings, the game was nip and tuck. Going into the seventh the was score tied at two all. From then on Continental took charge of the proceedings and went in to win. There was no doubt about the issue when seven runs trickled in during the seventh and eighth frames.

Ramsey Fans Fifteen Fifteen Diamond State sluggers whiffed the air and sat down during the game. Ramsey was liberal with his hits, allowing 10, but when danger drew near, he bore down hard and kept them away from the plate.

The Continental team, with a few changes in the lineup, displayed the hitting power which wins ball games. In the first game of the season, Lee and Lovett took turns in walloping the ball; Saturday it was Chalmers who smashed out four solid blows. Every man on the team can hit, and the League pitchers may look for plenty of trouble during the season.

Scott, a former Newark County League player, was high man at the bat for the losers. He spoiled his day somewhat, however, by committing three glaring errors, at crucial moments in the game. In all, Diamond State miscued six times, while Newark made three misplays.

PROVIDENCE WINS AGAIN IN SLUGFEST

Cecil County League Leaders Down Charlestown 18-5 Elk Mills Shut Out

Providence easily defeated Charlestown Saturday by the score of 18 to 5. Ward's wildness and the timely hitting of the Providence boys were the deciding factors.

C. Algard featured when he jumped the wire fence in center field and caught Peterson's long fly. Dean led the visitors in hitting with four safeties. The score:

WITH THE JOKERS

With Apologies to Longfellow

The shades of night were falling fast. The guy stepped on it and rushed past. A crash—he died without a sound. They opened up his head and found—Excelsior!—Baltimore Sun.

All Quiet In the Building Trade

Country Cousin (after prolonged inspection of building operations)—"I don't see the sense of putting statues on the top of your buildings." Friend—"Statues? Those aren't statues. They're bricklayers."—Punch.

Dunninger is worthy of much praise in that he can and does hold an audience's attention and interest so closely that upon the completion of his experiments the time has slipped by so quickly that he seems to have only just made his appearance. Dunninger holds his audience spellbound—thrilled—baffled, while all of the time he is master of the situation, bringing forth plaudits of praise and evoking riotous peels of laughter. With every eye and ear strained to penetrate his actions and catch some tell-tale code, Dunninger, with his calm and jovial manner, defies detection.

That Dunninger is an entertainer of rare and extraordinary ability is easily shown by the remarks of well known critics who have watched his tests and experiments at close range and within the four walls of the editorial rooms, where he has appeared under the most unsatisfactory conditions. He works his mental telepathy without the aid of a single confederate. There is no one who can say that he or she is seated in the audience as a "plant" or that they give Dunninger a code which in the instance of the general run of "mind-readers" is so obvious. He works from the stage and the audience may use their own note books or slips of paper or even bring their own slates.

STRICKERSVILLE

Mr. and Mrs. Corlies Morgan, of Philadelphia, were callers recently at the home of Mr. A. T. Lee.

Dr. and Mrs. A. S. Houchin entertained at dinner Sunday Mrs. George Pennington, Chester, and Mr. John Singles, of Newark.

Mr. and Mrs. Gates C. Gilmore were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Folwell, at their home in Philadelphia.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Van Hekle, of Wayne, Pa., spent Sunday with the former's mother, Mrs. Anna C. Van Hekle, who has been confined to her bed for the past week.

Messrs. A. S. Houchin, J. C. Mote, J. C. Vansant, Robt. Francois, Leon Garrett, Leonard Lewis, John Lewis, W. S. Kennedy, John Rubencame, Ross Pierson, and Norman Nivin attended the Annual Banquet of the Chester County Automobile Association in West Chester.

The many friends of Mr. Parke Norton tendered him a birthday surprise party May 6th. A very pleasant evening was spent in dancing and playing cards.

Miss Irene Singles had as her guests over the week-end Miss Ona Singles, of Newark, and Master George Pennington, of Chester.

Mr. William France was taken ill while driving to the creamery at Landenberg one day last week. He evidently fell from the wagon, but can give no account of how it happened. His team proceeded to the creamery without the driver and he was found later by the roadside with his faithful shepherd dog watching over him. He was taken to the West Grove Hospital and is improving nicely at this writing.

The annual Play Festival of Chester County was held in West Chester, May 9th. Those who attended from London Britain Township were: Mr. and Mrs. Hugh B. Davies, Misses Mary Ottey and Mary Singles, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Knotts, Alma and Harry Knotts, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Woodworth, Elden, Allison, Earl, Robert, Douglas, Doris and Olive Woodworth and Rebecca Pierson, and Mr. George Dunkle, the teacher of South Bank School.

MERMAID

Miss Ruth Jarmon spent the past week-end as a guest of Mr. and Mrs. William P. Peach.

Edward Rubencame, of Philadelphia, drove to the Pennington home near here Saturday, and took Misses Helen and Sara Pennington back to Philadelphia Sunday morning to attend services at his church. The return trip was made later the same day.

Mrs. Woodward is visiting her daughter, Mrs. William P. Naudain.

Mrs. Brackin continues to be very ill at her home here.

Owing to the stormy weather, there was no meeting of Harmony Grange Monday night. The Mother's Day program scheduled for that date will likely be postponed.

Joseph Sleeper, secretary of the Chester, Pa., Rotary Club, was the speaker at the Tuesday night dinner of the Elkton Rotary Club, which is termed Ladies' Night.
