NEWARK POST, NEWARK, DEL., SEPTEMBER 22, 1920

NUMBER 32

The Most Important Issue Before Newark is a New School Building

Republicans to Hold Mass Meeting Tuesday Night

"Circus Wagon" a Unique Feature

Moving Pictures, Singing and Speaking to Constitute Program

According to plans made by cooperation of United States Senator L. Heister Ball, chairman of the Speakers' Bureau of the Republican State Committee, and William P. White of the Entertainment Bureau, 36 meetings will be held throughout the State beginning next Monday.

Newark is the second town listed. A meeting will be held here next Tuesday evening. A second meeting will be held October 30.

The plan at present is to have a "circus wagon," painted white with red and blue trimmings, and illuminated by fifty lights of the patriotic colors. Painted on the sides will be the legend "Vote for Harding and Coolidge and the Republican State Ticket." This wagon will invade the town and the territory adjacent to Newark the first of the week, distributing campaign literature and dodgers to advertise the meeting. It will carry a motion picture machine which will show campaign films and comedies.

The program of the meeting Tuesday evening will include singing, moving pictures, addresses by national and local speakers.

The wagon will be in charge of Ferris Giles.

The itinerary includes Marshalltown, Middletown, New Castle, Delaware City and all of the larger towns in Kent and Sussex counties.

A meeting for colored voters will be held on Wednesday evening. Mrs. William Saunders is a leader in this section.

HARVEST MOON CARNIVAL OPENS SATURDAY EVENING

All committees for the Harvest Moon Carnival are ready for action and will be prepared on Saturday night to serve the crowd with all of the usual carnival features. The supper on Saturday evening is the pivotal event of the whole week. Everything good, prepared at only Newark households, on the committee know how to prepare things to eat, will be served from 5:30 until all are satisfied.

No tickets will be sold but ample provision has been made to serve all who come for supper.

Provision is made, too, for those who desire to purchase the materials for the Sunday dinner. All sorts of good things of that sort will be on hand.

The dinner under the management of Mrs. Anna Armstrong, will also be one of the features. Excellent music will be provided for the evening and everything done for the pleasure of the dancers.

The Casino Club members and their friends anticipate a record-breaking attendance.

AMERICAN LEGION TO HOLD IMPORTANT MEETING

Mr. J. Allison O'Daniel Post, American Legion, will hold an important meeting next Tuesday night when officers for the ensuing year will be elected and reports read from the State Convention at Dover. J. W. Ramsey and Fred Strickland were delegates. A full attendance is essential.

GRAND MASTER TO VISIT ORIENTAL LODGE SEPT. 30

R. Arthur Derrickson, Grand Master, I. O. O. F. of Delaware will pay an official visit to Oriental Lodge, No. 12, of Newark, Thursday evening, September 24. Election of officers will take place at that time and every lodge member is arranging to be present.

BURGLARS AGAIN VISIT DEPOT ROAD HOMES

Use Same Tactics as Marauders on Previous Occasions

After a period of inactivity sufficient to permit the Depot Road dwellers to feel a sense of security and to relax their vigilance to a certain extent, burglars who annoyed that vicinity several months ago, or miscreants who have adopted the same tactics, visited that neighborhood last night and succeeded in gaining entrance to the homes of C. P. Wollaston, Benjamin Wakeland, and George Van Sant. An attempt was also made to force entrance to the home of Robert J. Colbert but attempts to open a window aroused the family and frightened the thieves.

At the Wollaston home they entered the reception room and ransacked the rooms down stairs, securing a dollar and a small amount of change. A porch rocker pushed up to the window aided them in effecting entrance. They were evidently frightened at this place for they left behind them in their haste to depart, a chisel and other tools.

Three dollars were secured at the Van Sant home, where a portion of an express wagon was used to pry open an entrance. At the Wakeland home about $3 and an overcoat were secured.

While some are of the opinion that the robberies are the work of young boys, others have an apparently well-founded suspicion that young men who are familiar with this section and who have given trouble to the authorities before are the guilty ones.

PRESBYTERIANS CONSIDER CANDIDATES FOR PASTORATE

Will Hold Second Congregational Meeting this Evening

An unusually large congregation assembled at the Presbyterian Church for the Sunday services. Rev. S. W. Steckel, of Cynwyd, Pa., preached interesting sermons. After the morning service a congregational meeting was held to discuss the matter of a choice of a pastor to succeed Dr. Rowan and to make plans for securing and hearing candidates. Free discussion took place and a decision was made to hold another meeting this evening after the usual Wednesday prayer service.

Rev. Alexander Mitchell, of Baltimore, Md., will fill the pulpit next Sunday when a full attendance is likewise expected.

RELIGIOUS SERVICE HELD AT RED MEN'S FRATERNAL HOME

Through the efforts of George W. Russell, manager at the Red Men's Fraternal Home, an undenominational religious service was held there last Thursday evening.

A truckload of Wilmington friends comprising in all about fifteen of different denominations and a number of interested Newark folk were present. Brother George Dougherty, of Wilmington, conducted the service and led the singing. A number of Wilmingtonians including James Stirling, Rae Dubell, Charles McKaig and others, together with a number of Newarkers, participated.

After the service a delightful social hour was enjoyed at the close of which Mr. and Mrs. Russell served refreshments.

SUSTAINS SEVERE CUT ON THE FOOT

Barclay Armstrong, 16-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Armstrong, nearly severed two toes from his right foot on Sunday while cutting wood.

Dr. H. O. Sargent, of Washington, D. C., spent Tuesday and Wednesday, September 21st and 22nd, with Mr. R. W. Heim, State Director for Vocational Education.

HOLD CONFERENCE TO CONSIDER COMMUNITY ORGANIZATION

High School Alumni Committee to Initiate Movement

A conference was held at the High School building last evening in which the Community Organization Committee of the Newark High School Alumni Association, the Education Committee of the Century Club, and the teachers of the public schools participated. The object was to consider plans for Community organization in line with the project advanced by the State Central Committee for state-wide organization to advance the cause of education and to better the condition of the public schools.

Dr. R. W. Cooper was present and urged the necessity and the advantages of community organization. He told of the tentative plan to use representative groups already organized in each locality instead of forming new organizations or reviving old ones.

Superintendent J. H. Owens reviewed the local situation, pointing out the immediate necessity for a new school building.

Free discussion brought out the fact that the Alumni Committee which had pledged itself enthusiastically to the promulgation of the community organization idea for school betterment at the reunion last June, was awaiting the statement of plans which will be evolved as a result of an executive meeting of State and community organizations to be held at Dover October 5.

Following this meeting a call will be issued by the Alumni Committee for a conference to make definite plans for such an organization.

Local Republican Women Effect Speedy Organization

Mrs. James McKelvey, Chairman for Hundred, Appoints Heads of District Committees

Mrs. James McKelvey was made chairman for this hundred at a meeting of Republican women of rural New Castle county held at Wilmington on last Thursday.

The plan evolved at this meeting is to organize each election district in each hundred by naming a chairman who will name a committee of three to handle the work in that district. The following appointments were made by Mrs. McKelvey immediately:

Mrs. Robert L. Armstrong, chairman First District.

Miss Etta J. Wilson, chairman Second District.

Mrs. John Levy, chairman Third District.

The other representatives from this vicinity were Mrs. H. N. Reed, Mrs. Robt. Armstrong, Mrs. A. T. Neale, Misses Elizabeth Lindsay and Eleanor Harter. The meeting was held in the rooms of the Young Men's Republican Club, 810 King Street, Wilmington, and was attended by an enthusiastic body of women who were imbued with a spirit of sincerity and interest that augurs well for the success of the party in the rural county. Their ready grasp of the intricacies of political organization and appreciation of the responsibilities of enfranchisement were also distinguishing features of the meeting.

The meeting was called to order by the temporary chairman, Charles A. Patterson, chairman of the county committee, who, prophesied one of the greatest victories this state has ever experienced, thanks to the help of the woman voter. He had been hoping and praying, he said, for the right of women voting and was glad the first ditch had been crossed.

"No Mud-Slinging" Says Chairman

The Republicans, he declared, would not throw mud, but would just vote a straight Republican

REGISTRATION OF WOMEN HEAVY IN THIS DISTRICT

Officials and Voters Pleased With Expeditious Work Saturday

Newark women accepted the first duty and responsibility of citizenship last Saturday in the same spirit that has always characterized their attitude toward other duties and responsibilities in the past. In numbers greater than the local workers on the registration boards anticipated they came to be enrolled as prospective voters, answered quickly the questions asked and permitted expeditious work which kept no one waiting unduly long.

At the Deer Park Hotel in the First District, 200 women, of whom 48 were colored, appeared for registration. They came in groups of two to ten which crowded the room early in the morning to such an extent that it was necessary to admit only one at a time. 88 were registered in the morning and 143 in the afternoon. Only 31 men appeared for registration.

In the Middle District the work was handled expeditiously also. Here 129 out of the 204 appearing for registration were women, all white; in the Third District, at Christiana, 79 out of the 98 who registered were women.

At the Deer Park, four applicants were challenged on educational grounds. Three of these were colored women, all of whom "passed" when tested by the registrar. The fourth, a man, was rejected for inability to read or write.

According to estimates made by registration officers, about half of the women in the districts registered on Saturday.

WORK OF EXCAVATION FOR WATER MAINS BEGUN YESTERDAY

Contractor Robinson Tries Out Machine On New Street South of Newark

The work of excavation for the new water mains and the digging of the wells was started yesterday. Contractor Robinson had his excavating machine on the ground Monday afternoon and tested it out on the Charles P. Wollaston property where a new street will be opened soon. Rapid progress was made yesterday in the matter of excavation. The well digging is completed and pumping was begun yesterday. The pumps will be kept going today, it is expected, to test the constancy of the flow. Work will begin soon on the enlargement of the pumping station, which will be extended 14 feet.

The resurfacing of Main Street and South College Avenue is being done this week by a force of workmen under direction of Contractor F. W. Lovett.

RECENT PROPERTY TRANSFERS AND IMPROVEMENTS

The Farmers Trust Co. has sold recently 5 acres, a portion of the T. F. Manns property, to W. E. Thompson of Lewes. Mr. Thompson recently purchased a property on Elkton Road from George W. Griffin, and expects to occupy it soon.

J. E. Dougherty purchased a short time ago, the S. L. Conrad property on Park Place.

J. C. Willis is building a bungalow on the property adjoining that of Professor C. O. Houghton.

CHAUTAQUA COMMITTEES PLAN FOR BIG EVENT

Great Interest Manifested at Meeting Held Monday Evening

A meeting of the general Chautauqua Committee was held on Monday evening at the home of Mrs. E. V. Vaughn on South College Avenue, to make plans for the affair which will be held here October 16-19. They have received a list of speakers and other attractions which will constitute the series of entertainments. They give ever assurance that these will be of a very high order. Since this is an educational, not a money-making scheme, the price of season tickets has not advanced.

In order to facilitate the work in Newark, it was decided at Monday's meeting to enlarge the committee to comprise 50 or 60 persons who will aid in the sale of tickets and in arranging for other phases of the work.

The committee considers it a matter for congratulation that the above dates could be secured, thus practically assuring good weather and providing entertainment at a time previous to the beginning of the winter's social activities. When the dates bridge one Sunday, it is customary to give a sacred concert free to ticket holders. This will doubtless be done here October 17th.

DATES SET FOR RALLY DAY AT NEARBY PRESBYTERIAN CHURCHES

Sunday, October 10th, has been announced as the date for Rally Day at White Clay Creek Presbyterian Church. Good speakers and vocalists will be procured.

Rally Day at Christiana Presbyterian Church will be observed on the following Sunday, October 17. Frank L. Middleton, a prominent patent attorney of Washington, D. C., will be the speaker, and James A. MacElwee, also of Washington, will be the soloist.

NAME DIRECTORS OF MUTUAL BUILDING AND LOAN ASSOCIATION

At a meeting of the Mutual Building and Loan Association held last week, Charles L. Medill, G. Irvin Durnall and J. Earle Dougherty were named directors.

Will Probably Add Additional Room to Grammar School

County Board Submits Plan to Provide for Pupils from Country Districts

At a meeting of the County Board of Education held on Monday, a proposition was submitted to Superintendent J. H. Owens, representing the local Board of Education, whereby pupils from outlying districts may be accommodated in the Newark public schools.

At the beginning of the school year the pupils from White Clay Creek sought entrance here and as many as possible were provided for. A half dozen or more could not be accommodated with seats and were sent home. In addition to these, a number from Welsh Tract, McClellandsville and Milford Cross Roads, who have completed the first six grades and for whom under the law provision must be made in a nearby High School, could not be received owing to the already crowded conditions.

To provide for these two groups comprising in all about 20 children, the County Board proposes converting the room in the Grammar School now used for a library into a class-room and procuring an additional teacher. The present office room will doubtless be used for the library. The Board stated that necessary desks and equipment are on hand and can be loaned to the local Board in order to expedite matters.

A delegation from White Clay Creek Hundred, it is understood, petitioned the County Board to open their school. The fact that the building is badly out of repair added to their inability to secure a teacher makes it seem unwise to do this. Those of the children who were admitted to the local schools are conveyed thither in a motor bus.

MRS. THOMAS A. POTTS DIES MONDAY

After a lingering illness, Mrs. Irene Potts, wife of Thomas A. Potts, died shortly before noon on Monday.

Mrs. Potts before her marriage was Miss Kendall, of Iron Hill, Md., and was one of eight children. She has lived in this vicinity all of her life and has hosts of friends who mourn her untimely death. She was a consistent member of the Presbyterian Church and was a devoted wife and mother, a good friend and a kind neighbor. The grief expressed by all who had ever come in contact with her, when news of her death became known, testified to the esteem in which she was held in the community.

Funeral services will be held at her late residence tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 and interment will be made in Newark cemetery.

Her husband; three children, Charles, Leon, and Stanley; four sisters, Mrs. W. F. Lindell, Mrs. Clara Sweetman, Mrs. Ella Brown and Miss Laura Kendall, all of whom reside in this vicinity; and three brothers, Richard, Harry and Bayard, who reside near Wilmington, survive.

SINGERLY FIRE CO. PAYS OFFICIAL VISIT TO AETNA CO.

A goodly number of members of the SINGERLY Fire Co. of Elkton brought their new engine to Newark and made an official visit to the Aetna Co. on Monday evening. They were entertained by Chief E. C. Wilson and others of the Company who were enthusiastic in their admiration of the apparatus which the Elkton boys received on Saturday.

STORK VISITS DELAWARE AVENUE

Mr. and Mrs. Rowland Herdman are receiving congratulations on the birth of a fine baby girl, born Thursday, September 16.

The Little Gingham Lady

You may smile at queer wax flowers
In a case of shiny glass,
And the sleek, black horsehair sofa
In that corner, when you pass.
You may wonder why the shutters
Are all closed and fastened tight,
When, outside, the world is brimming
With its benediction light.
You may grin at rag rug patterns,
You may joke at all of these—
But the album on the table
Is excepted, if you please!

Turn the pages over slowly
'Till you come to this one—there!
To that little girl in gingham
With a head of brownish hair.
Eyes that flirt a bit, and tease you,
Lips just pouting for a kiss,
Cheeks so full of rose and dimples
They seem strange locked up like this.
Songs grow old that once were sweetest,
Flowers fade that once were bright,
But that Little Gingham Lady
Is still winsome to my sight!

Every time I turn and see her,
In her leather-bound estate,
Mixed with aunts and dads and uncles
And the weak ones and the great,
I'm reminded of old gardens,
Of old melodies and years,
Of old laughter and old friendships
And old happiness—and tears!
And my youth comes back a-winging
With a sigh or two, I guess,
Arm in arm with that same lassies
In her little gingham dress!
—W. Livingston Larned in People's Home Journal.

For The Homemaker's Eye

THE BANANA IN THE DIET

Whole tribes in Central America live on a diet of which the banana is the chief article of food. So it is probable that the old cry of "bananas give me indigestion" must be caused by something more than the fruit itself—the way housewives serve them, unripe, for instance.

When bananas are ripe they are easily digested, because the percentage of fruit sugar is then the highest and the amount of non-assimilable starch lowest. The average time for the digestion of a ripe banana is one and three-quarter hours, in comparison to three and one-half hours for soft-boiled eggs, and five hours and 20 minutes for roast pork. The effect of ripe bananas in the intestine is valuable because it reduces decomposition through a lactic acid fermentation and has an antiseptic action on the products of decomposition.

Baked Bananas With Brown Bread Cereal

Dry out pieces of left-over brown bread in a very slow oven. When dry and crisp roll, not too finely, with the rolling pin. Keep them in a covered preserve jar and you will have a "brand new" cereal without expense. To serve with bananas, peel the fruit and lay in a buttered baking dish. Cook together for three minutes half a cup of water, a pinch of salt, a teaspoonful of margarine and two tablespoonsful of brown sugar. Remove from the fire; add the juice of one lemon and pour over the fruit. Bake until tender, basting with the syrup and serve with the crushed bread crumbs sprinkled over them.

Bananas Baked in Skins

Ripe bananas quickly baked in their skins until they are soft and the juice starts to run give a delicious, delicately flavored product that may be used as a vegetable. If the bananas are baked without their skins with the addition of sugar, lemon juice and water, and pieces of butter, this dish is changed to a dessert, or fruit compote, to be served with meals.

Banana Dainty

Another dainty banana dessert is made by lining a buttered pudding dish with pieces of sponge cake. Cover with slices of banana and pour over this a thick boiled custard, using only the egg yolks. Make a meringue of the egg whites, sweeten slightly and spread unevenly over custard. Brown lightly in oven and serve cold. A vanilla layer cake, with thin slices of bananas fixed with boiled frosting for the icing and filling, is a pleasing variation of plain cake. Banana shortcake is still another change. Place the sweetened sliced bananas between and on top of the shortcake, and garnish with whipped cream.

Fruit in Cake

Have you made a cake, pudding or other dessert containing raisins, citron, currants, figs or dates, only to find on serving it that the fruit, in a most trying manner, has dropped to the bottom instead of distributing itself in proper fashion through the mixture? A cook who has solved the problem says that she always stirs the fruit with ever so little melted butter before adding it to the rest of the mixture, and the result is an entirely satisfactory product.

Crab Meat Au Gratin

Crab meat au gratin is a pleasant change from the inevitable deviled crab. Mix the crab flakes with a cream sauce, highly seasoned with cayenne, a little nutmeg, chopped parsley and a teaspoonful of mustard rubbed into the butter and flour thickening. Fill individual baking dishes, sprinkle with grated Parmesan and dots of butter and cook in the oven until a delicate brown.

Pickled Beets With Horseradish

Chop finely three quarts of cooked beets, add three cupsful of grated horseradish, three teaspoonsful of salt, one and a half teaspoonsful of paprika and sufficient boiling vinegar to cover the ingredients. Reheat to the boiling point and turn into sterilized, heated jars. Fill them to overflowing and seal air tight with rubbers and hot covers.

IS WELL PLEASED WITH ATTITUDE OF DELAWARE WOMEN

"Since meeting the women of Delaware and speaking at their enthusiastic meetings Thursday afternoon and evening," said Miss May Stewart, in charge of the Women's Speakers Bureau of the Republican National Committee, "I am convinced that they will return the same sort of answer as Maine women have done."

"Maine has shown two things conclusively; one of the alert, aggressive interest of the women in practical politics; the other is their general condemnation of the Democratic administration and specifically the Wilson League. They have been quick to see and condemn the weak spots."

"They are eager to know what the issues are; they make their decisions only after they are thoroughly convinced. They are not at all misled by the Democratic slogans. They accepted the 1916 slogan—to their sorrow. They intend to know what the 1920 slogan really means before they approve it through their ballots."

"The organization of the women of Maine is a splendid example of their 'rapid-fire' work when they believe in a cause. They had but three weeks from the ratification of the federal suffrage amendment until the election. With the men a paramount question was how the women would vote. The women showed the same patriotism in their political attitude that they showed in meeting war issues. The Maine vote shows conclusively the end of the Wilson administration."

AMERICAN LEGION TO HOLD NEXT CONVENTION AT MILFORD

Instructs National Convention Delegates to Vote Against Political Affiliation

At the annual convention of the Department of Delaware, American Legion, held at Dover Wednesday, John P. LeFevre, of Dover, was elected department commander, and George L. Evans, of Wilmington, vice-commander.

Other officers elected were: J. C. Bolton, Smyrna, chaplain; O. N. Smith, Wilmington, sergeant at arms; F. C. Hughes and C. M. Smith, Wilmington; E. H. Clauser, Marshallton; J. C. Bolton and H. J. Pettijohn, Milford, members of the department executive committee.

Colonel Thomas W. Miller, of Wilmington, was re-elected national representative of the Delaware Department on the National Executive Committee. Colonel Miller, Colonel J. Austin Ellison, George J. Schultz, of Wilmington; H. C. McSherry, Dover; John A. Lindsay, Milton, and Dr. R. R. Spahr, Middletown, were elected delegates to the National Convention which meets in Cleveland September 27, 28 and 29.

Dr. Meredith I. Samuel, department commander, presided. About forty delegates were present, representing 21 posts. In the morning the delegates met in the House of Representatives and perfected the usual preliminaries of organization, and following luncheon settled down to actual business.

The convention adopted the national fourfold beneficial legislative program of the American Legion and instructed its delegates to the National Convention to enter a vigorous protest against the action of some of the Southern departments in declining to approve applications for charters from posts comprising colored soldiers in their respective States.

The convention directed that a tax of ten cents per member be imposed on the members of the women's auxiliaries of the different posts.

A resolution was adopted, extending the thanks of the department to Adjutant-General I. Pusey Wickersham for his assistance to the State Department and its various posts in permitting the organization the use of the armories throughout the State.

Another resolution directed that delegates to the National Convention be directed to advocate greater energy in the apprehension and detention of deserters and slackers now at large.

The convention also went on record as favoring the decentralization of the war risk insurance, public health reserve and vocational training bureaus, and the simplification of the machinery for distributing legal benefits to ex-service men and their relatives who are entitled to such.

The convention endorsed a resolution commending the Pennsylvania Railroad for its action in distributing service medals to its employes who had served in the war.

Interesting reports were received from Department Commanders Dr. Samuel and Captain Clarence M. Dillon on the operation of their offices during the past year.

The convention adjourned to meet at Milford next year.

A WORD FOR THE TEACHER

There are a great many other things I would do different if I were going through school again. Here is just one more I would mention; I'd be a little more considerate of the teacher. There is once in awhile an ornery one, I admit, but on the average they are a mighty nice, patient, friendly, helpful lot of girls. They work hard, get none too much pay and even less appreciation, and do us all a great deal of good.—The Cave Scout in Boys' Life for September.

SMYRNA CONSIDERS CITY MANAGER IDEA

The city manager idea is growing with favor as a step in the right direction for Smyrna, but to many the first thing desired is the changing of the town charter so as to do away with the districts or wards. It is contended by some business men that better and more efficient results can be obtained by selecting councilmen from the whole town.

Know how to give without hesitation, know how to lose without regret, how to acquire without meanness. Know how to replace in your heart the happiness that may be wanting in yourself.

INAUGURATES "GO TO SCHOOL" CAMPAIGN IN STATE

Reconstruction Commission Issues Attractive Material to Young People

Another step in the promotion of better things in education was taken during the past week when a "go-to-school" campaign was inaugurated in the State by the Reconstruction Commission. This was directed especially to children who are holders of provisional employment certificates, and to all children whose attendance is spasmodic and irregular.

Attractive material in the form of a souvenir ruler and a folder has been sent to 1,900 children. The ruler is an accurate and full measure ruler and bears terse sentences that indicate what should be considered a full measure of education, and why full measure education is desirable.

The folder urges parent and child to have children go to school.

"Boys and Girls of Delaware: 'Do you wish for wealth for your family, your country and yourselves? The surest way to get your wish is to go to school until you are at least 16, better still, go until you are 18."

"Government statistics show that the young person who goes to school until 18 earns 1.3 more salary when he begins work and 2 1/2 times more by the time he is 25 than a person who begins work at 14 or under. There are various ways that young people can be helped who feel their parents cannot afford to send them to school any longer. For this information, come or write to the Reconstruction Commission, Church Building, Wilmington, Delaware. Let your motto be, 'Learn More to Earn More.'"

The letter is signed by Mrs. Ina J. N. Perkins, special agent Federal Children's Bureau of Child Welfare for Reconstruction Commission of Delaware.

WANT 100 PER CENT CHILD WELFARE CONDITION IN STATE

Citizens Cooperating With Reconstruction Commission to this End

The Reconstruction Commission is required by law to devise and put in operation measures for Child Welfare. Accordingly, it has been doing things that are fundamental for the welfare of children.

Its most known activity is the establishment of thirteen Child Health Centers, and three dispensaries, which places sick babies and children are made well and well babies are kept well.

The most recent project of the Reconstruction Commission is a Child Welfare Study, which is an educational undertaking, in the form of a questionnaire—drawn up to give those relating to the welfare of children.

The study, although a project of the Commission, and under its direction, is a cooperative undertaking, in which the agencies which supply leadership in the different branches of child welfare are participating.

The study is in eight sections, the questions being composed under the following heads: (1) Public health and general social welfare; (2) child health; (3) educational opportunities; (4) employed women and children; (5) moral influences; (6) recreation; (7) children in need of special care (the dependents, the defectives and the delinquents), and (8) child welfare legislation.

The questions have been drawn up by the Reconstruction Commission, assisted by the State Board of Health, the Wilmington Board of Health, the State Board of Charities, the State Board of Education, the State Labor Commission, The Consumers' League, The Community Service, the Juvenile Court of Wilmington and the Children's Bureau of Delaware.

A representative of the Reconstruction Commission has just returned from a trip through the State, in which she has secured chairmen and committees in sixty-three towns, who have agreed to answer the questions in the study.

The answers will give an excellent account of all conditions affecting children in all parts of the State. The cordial response and cooperation offered in each town shows how deep an interest there is throughout the State in the welfare of children and what a determined desire there is to accomplish a 100 per cent child welfare condition for Delaware children.

Some of the committees, which will answer questions include men, for committees have been secured among foreigners as well and in some cases, ministers and priests have agreed to act as interpreters for their people.

In order to answer these questions, people are finding out things in their community and are taking means to remedy conditions.

When all these studies are returned to the office of the Reconstruction Commission, analysis will be made, as to the findings and, as a climax to the study, a child welfare conference will be held which everybody will be urged to attend. An interesting program will be given based on the findings of the study, and experts in the various branches will speak on child welfare and discussions will be led by chairmen and committee members who took part in the child welfare study.

NEW BISHOP TO BE INSTALLED NEXT MONTH

Local Episcopalians are interested in the announcement made recently that Dr. Philip Cook, bishop elect of the Protestant Episcopal Diocese of Delaware will be consecrated early next month in the church of St. Michael's and All Angels, Baltimore, where he is rector.

Delay in the consecration exercise is due to the fact that a majority of the bishops of the Episcopal Church of America have been abroad or are on their vacations. Under the laws of the church the election of a bishop must be confirmed by a majority of 100 bishops. So far, however, owing to the absence of the bishops only 18 have confirmed the election of Dr. Cook to the new office. By early October it is hoped that the necessary majority will be secured.

They say the paper in which the meat is wrapped costs more than the meat. Yes, and it makes lots poorer gravy.—Libertyville (Ill.) Register.

GET READY NOW TO GROW THANKS-GIVING FLOWERS

Put Away Bulbs Now In Water, Fiber or Pebbles

When school opens in September flowers are so abundant that we are likely to forget how soon Jack Frost will come along and spoil their beauty. But he comes just the same, and before Thanksgiving he leaves us only brown and blackened stems. So if we want flowers to decorate the dinner table on Thanksgiving Day, we had better prepare for them at least by the first week in October.

To grow in water—Find an old ginger jar, a hyacinth glass, an empty olive or pickle bottle, or anything that holds water and has a good space for the roots. Fill this with water, set the bulb on top so that the water touches the bottom of the bulb. Set it away in a cool, dark closet for two weeks, keeping the water at the right level. Then bring to the light and warmth in a window in a room that does not get too hot. Leaves will soon come out of the white sheaths, and flower stalk will appear a few weeks later.

To grow in pebbles.—Instead of a jar in which one bulb sets upon the top, choose a broad bowl. Fill with small, clean pebbles and water and set several bulbs down among the pebbles. This may or may not be paced in a cool closet for two weeks. The bulbs will come along nicely if not forced too rapidly.

To grow in fiber.—Many of the seedhouses are offering at small cost a specially prepared fiber for the growth of bulbs. Choose a small water-tight flower jar of dull color. Fill the jar half-full of this fiber, place one or more bulbs in the jar, fill in around them with more fiber, and add water enough just to soak the fiber. Invert the jar to pour off the extra water. Set away in a cool closet for two weeks, then bring to a light room for growth.

Joseph Jefferson's Son In MacLaren Pictures

There is scarcely a person in America who has ever attended a theatre who does not know the name of Joseph Jefferson.

Thomas Jefferson, the son of the famous Joseph Jefferson, was brought up in the company of his distinguished father, and naturally fell heir to the great roles made renowned by the elder Jefferson. The young Jefferson starred in such stage productions as "Rip Van Winkle," "Lend Me Five Shillings," "The Rivals" and other classics, thereby making a niche for himself in the Hall of Fame of American players.

He heard the call of the silent drama several years ago. Recently he was engaged by Universal for the part of Old Bill Reynolds, the notorious forger in "The Forged Bride," whose magic pen signs away his daughter's name and wins her happiness.

"The Forged Bride," in which Mary MacLaren is starred, will be shown at the Opera House next Thursday.

AMERICAN LEGION TO MAKE WAR ON H. C. L.

The American Legion announced recently the formation of plans to mobilize its forces throughout the country for a war against the high cost of living.

In every community where there is a post, the League contemplates organizing retail dealers into an association, prospective merchant members of which, it is said, already have pledged discounts approximating five per cent from current selling prices of all commodities to the 2,000,000 members of the Legion and their families.

Details of the program, which Legion officials say has been approved by large retailers in various cities were made public by G. Robert Baines, business manager of the American Legion Weekly. If sanctioned by the national executive committee, it will be submitted to the second national convention of the ex-service men's organization in Cleveland this month.

"All the large retailers whom we have approached pronounce the plan sound," Mr. Baines said. "In each city where the Legion has a post one or more stores in every line of business will be selected for membership in the American Legion Stores' Association.

"In the list will be grocers, clothing and department stores, automobile dealers, hotel keepers and dealers in many lines. No profits will accrue to the Legion or the association, which would be incorporated and controlled by the directing heads of the Legion."

HARDING STANDS FOR BETTERMENT OF WORKING CONDITIONS

Mr. Harding made it plain that he desires that high wages, shall remain. Speaking as a man who "has counted the contents of the pay envelope from the viewpoint of the recipient as well as of the man who pays the wages," the Republican candidate left no room for doubt that he stands for every possible betterment of the condition of those who work for a living. But he entertains no foolish notions of a Utopia in which men can receive constantly increasing wages and at the same time constantly decrease their hours of labor and their productive capacity.—Tucson (Ariz.) Citizen.

THE EASTERN STATES LAND CO. Middletown, Delaware

MR. TENANT FARMER. You dread to go in debt for a farm, yet if you and I could sit down and figure it out I believe that I could show you where you are in debt for a farm today which you will never own.

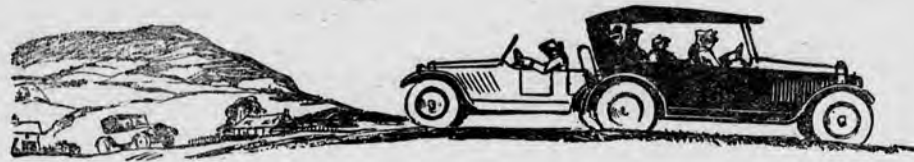

Why not pay for your farm as you go along so that in later years you and your family can enjoy the leisure and satisfaction, so well earned, that comes from owning your farm. Here is a description of two properties that are the right size for a man and his family and it is my honest opinion that both will increase in value in the next five years.

The first is a 158 acre farm near Glasgow, and adjoining the State Road. It has 115 acres of tillable land, the balance in woods and permanent pasture, with a young fruit orchard of 360 trees. The barn is 40x50 with a 25x16 offset, the granary, wagon shed, chicken house and other outbuildings are in good repair. The house is large and comfortable. The farm is well fenced with barbed wire, watered with a running stream and will carry thirty head of stock. It is one and one-half miles from R. R. and milk station, there is a school house across the road from the farm and the present owner will seed 45 acres of wheat this fall which is included in the price, $10,000, on favorable terms, and immediate possession given.

The second is a 74 acre farm six miles from Wilmington on the Lincoln Highway and only three-fourths of a mile from churches, school and electric line. The land is a good loam, slightly rolling, well drained and has a stream running down one side of the farm. The buildings are in good shape with the exception of the granary which needs some repairs. Price $10,000 and immediate possession given.

For further particulars call or write to me at Middletown, Del.

THERE isn't any "country" any more. The automobile has brought the most remote settlement almost as close to the center of things as the next county was in the old days.

To hear some tire dealers talk you might think that nobody knew anything about tires except the fellow from Broadway.

That's not the basis we go on.

We give every man credit for knowing what he is spending his money on, whether he drives up here in his small car from ten miles out in the country or is passing through from the capital in his limousine.

That's one thing we like about U. S. Tires.

They make no distinction between the small car owner and the owner of the biggest car in the country.

It's all the same to them. So long as a man owns an automobile—large or small—he's entitled to the very best tire they can give him.

Quality has always been the outstanding feature of U. S. Tires. There's no limit on the U. S. guarantee. All U. S. Tires are guaranteed for the life of the tire.

We have given a lot of thought to this tire proposition. There is some advantage in being the representatives of the oldest and largest rubber concern in the world.

CANDIDATES TO BE QUESTIONED

Candidates for office, State and County, can well prepare themselves for the public quiz that is coming to them. This will be no gum-shoe campaign. Especially is this true in Delaware. There are State issues and county issues, that are in the public mind and every candidate will be required to "speak out in meetin'" where he stands. There is an army of new voters this year, many of them independent. Politically, the woman voter is from Missouri. She will have to be shown. No casual reference to the party platform will satisfy. She is going to be convinced of where the candidate stands or she is going to be suspicious.

The woman voter of Delaware is interested in Health, Child Welfare, Factory Regulations, Education, Good Roads and Railroads. She knows what has been going on. She knows what is needed. She is going to ask publicly some very pointed and practical questions. She expects a very clear and definite answer, and sad will be the returns of the Representative or candidate for Levy Court that begs the question or shades the issue.

WOMEN DO WANT THE VOTE

The mass meetings of Republican women and the following registration show distinctly two things—the interest women are taking in state-craft and the effective organization work so quickly built up.

Congratulations are certainly in order to the State Committee for the success of their policy of urging the women to affect their own organization rather than trying to submerge them into their own. That the women appreciate this is clearly shown by the turnout at the meetings last week. Chairman Warner of the State Committee was on hand to offer assistance, and cooperation, but not in any spirit of domination and control.

With this policy continued, the result can well be reckoned.

LETTER TO THE POST

Newark, Del., Sept. 21, 1920. Editor Newark Post.

Dear Sir—Kindly permit a harassed motorist to issue a protest through your paper against persistent disregard by pedestrians of the walk on Depot Road recently constructed at great expense, for their safety and convenience. Yesterday groups of these, in many cases walking four abreast, obstructed the roadway imperiling their lives and interfering to a considerable extent with traffic. They paid no attention to the auto horn and hogged the roadway, compelling the motorist to take less than 1-3 of the right of way.

The offenders in this respect are not the members of the grand army of commuters except in rare cases. Experience has taught these the dangers of Depot Road at the periods when traffic is heaviest. Contact with the workers of the world has taught them "the rules of the road" and these they observe fairly, with few exceptions. The chief offenders are the college students, particularly those of the Women's College, who on occasions take up the whole roadway and in most cases avoid the sidewalk altogether.

In behalf of careful motorists, therefore, permit me to suggest that for the sake of safety and in the interest of fair play, pedestrians take the sidewalk, and that those who have charge of the offending students instruct them in the matter of "Safety First."

Signed, MOTORIST.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CLASS ENGAGES IN LAUDABLE ENTERPRISE

By their own initiative the boys composing Dr. Charles W. Dunlevy's Sunday School class at the Presbyterian Church made all arrangements for a very creditable and successful carnival which they conducted at the home of their teacher on Friday and Saturday evenings of last week. On Friday evening they secured a supply of "doggies" and ice cream, arranged a shooting gallery and a kill-the-cat alley. They secured drums with which they aroused the neighborhood and drew a very satisfactory trade.

The second night they had on hand a goodly supply of homemade pies, cakes and other good things in addition to the other attractions. Twelve dollars was cleared. This sum will in all probability be applied to the building fund of the church which is in urgent need of an additional Sunday School room.

The boys who made the venture a success are Vernon Steele, President, Leon Potts, Harry Williamson, George Chalmers, John Wagner, Walter Jarmon, Horace Wanamaker, and Robert Strahorn.

Women and the League of Nations

"I hear you are a Republican," a prominent Delaware woman was heard to say to a friend the other day. Now I am a Democrat because I want to cast my vote for the League of Nations and the prevention of war. The Republican Party is against a League of Nations."

"On the contrary," her Republican friend answered, "the Republican Party is strong for a League of Nations—but a League that will work."

And that is the truth. Read it in the national Republican Platform. The Republican Party is for a League of Nations soundly based upon the development of international law.

Unscrupulous Democratic propagandists are trying to deceive the new women voters—as the mothers of the boys who went to war—into believing that the only way to prevent future wars is to approve wholesale of the impractical covenant signed by President Wilson at Paris, whether they have read it or not, whether they know what is in it or not! They are actually trying to tell the new woman voter that a vote for the Republican Party is a vote for future wars—because the Republican Party opposes the President's League of Nations.

THE SOLEMN TRUTH IS THAT THE REASON REPUBLICAN MEN AND WOMEN ARE AGAINST THE PACT IN THE FORM IN WHICH THE PRESENT ADMINISTRATION APPROVES IS BECAUSE THEY BELIEVE THAT FAR FROM PREVENTING FUTURE WARS IT WOULD CAUSE THEM!

It would automatically involve us in every European quarrel. It would mean that thousands—even hundreds of thousands—of our boys would be forever doing military or police duty of one kind or another in some country or another, though over here in America we might not even understand what the quarrel was about. How much does the average American know about Hedjaz, for instance, and the right or the wrong of any claims it might make? Most of us could not even locate it on the map! And yet, under the President's League of Nations we could be automatically involved in the quarrels of Hedjaz, and we could not withdraw without practically repudiating contract obligations.

If you wanted to help your neighbor, would you do it by offering to take a hand in all his family quarrels, no matter what they were about? And by agreeing to send in some strong armed men to take a part in it—if the League of Nations told you to? Or would you reserve to yourself to decide in each instance, whether the quarrel was one you ought to mix in, or whether the cause was just or unjust?

Under the President's League of Nations we could never be the peacemaker because we would always be a participant. And in quarrels participants cannot be peacemakers.

Let us leave America free to be a peacemaker! That is 1920 Republican doctrine.

The Republican Party is for a League of Nations. It is not for a "selfish isolation." It would have America meet its full duty to civilization—and keep America free to do it!

When a crisis arises among nations, the Republican Party would have America (not the League of Nations) then decide whether America can best serve civilization by getting into the quarrel, or by keeping out of it altogether, or by acting as peacemaker.

The new women voters will do their own thinking. They will not be bamboozled by glib sentimentalists. They will vote for a League of Nations that will work, a League based upon sound statesmanship and the development of international law. Such a League is set forth in the national Republican platform adopted last July in Chicago!

"The Republican Party stands for agreement among the nations to preserve the peace of the world. We believe that such an international association must be based upon international justice and must provide methods which shall maintain the rule of public right by the development of law and the decision of impartial courts, and which shall secure instant and general international conference whenever peace shall be threatened by political action, so that the nations pledged to do and insist upon what is just and fair may exercise their influence and power for 'the prevention of war.'"

Such is the League of Nations of the Republican Party. It is the only League of Nations for which women who want to "cast their votes against war" can honestly vote.

"BLUE AND GOLD" WILL SHOW UP WELL AT PENN

Writer in Public Ledger Sizes Up Team and Gives Reasons for this Conclusion

Local Alumni of Old Delaware and other loyal supporters of the Blue and Gold are speculating upon the outcome of the football game with Penn which will be played on Franklin Field next Saturday and which will mark the formal opening of the season.

Walter F. Dunn in Sunday's Public Ledger gives a keen analysis of the make-up and the prospects of the team, which is in part as follows:

"There are three reasons why Delaware College will be a worthy opponent for the University of Pennsylvania in football at Franklin Field next Saturday. The first of these rests in the fact that Burton Shipley, former athlete of Maryland State College, who is again coaching the Gold and Blue, knows the Heisman system. Secondly the Delaware collegians, after spending several days in late summer training at Rehoboth Beach, are in first-class physical condition. For another reason these hardy athletes are determined to hold the Quakers to a smaller score than that rolled against them last year by 'Bert Bell's' powerful machine. The big line which has been getting due mention around Franklin Field has no terror for the young men who keep the grass down here at Frazer Field.

"The strange point of a recent visit to Coach Shipley's camp was that no mention was made by any one in the party concerning what was expected of the Delaware eleven in the coming opening match with the Red and Blue. Every member of the squad—larger in numbers than Penn's at the same time—gave impression that the knew football as it should be played in the advanced stages. It was truly surprising to note the manner in which those youngsters went about a system of training. While Shipley, in a style much to be admired, supervised the operations of the varsity, G. E. Hancock, a former Nebraskan end, directed the functions of the second team.

"Hancock's manner of handling his men meets with the same approval as that of Chief Shipley, whose personality is just right for an institution that is coming to the front as rapidly as Delaware."

Holton Classed With Stars

Concerning Walter Holton, another local lad, Dunn says:

"Although Repp and Holton are not of sufficient weight to classify them with major college tackles their spirit of playing warrants mention at this time. Holton will doubtless have a good year as tackle. He is taking the place of Bayard ('Bess') Carter, one of Delaware's recent all-around athletes who is now in England for the purpose of enrolling at Oxford on a Rhodes scholarship. Gray Carter, his brother, works out occasionally with the squad, but will not play this year. Baseball and basket ball hold his attention. Leamy, who prepared at West Philadelphia High, is a candidate for a tackle position, likewise Murray.

"Among the line aspirants is Lilly, another product of West Philadelphia High. He is fighting it out with Marconetti and Aiken for a guard position. Lynch is also in the running."

A squad of 22 men will likely be taken to Philadelphia for the big game on Saturday.

The next game will be against Ursinus on Frazer Field. The rest of the season's schedule follows:

October 9, George Washington College at Washington; October 16, St. John's College at Newark; October 23, Haverford College at Newark; October 30, no game; November 6, Stevens College at Hoboken; November 13, Swarthmore College at Swarthmore; November 20, Dickinson College at Newark; November 25, Pennsylvania Military College at Chester.

Comments on Shipley's Popularity

"Shipley came to Newark as an officer to instruct the aspiring officers of the Delaware College ranks. His associations with the men interested in the advancement of the noted place of learning were so thoroughly enjoyed that following the secession of war activities Shipley was engaged as coach in the big sports. While doing army duty in Georgia Shipley acquired a great insight into Heisman, who was at Georgia Tech. For this reason the Dela-

DECREASES INFANT DEATH RATE ONE-THIRD

Reconstruction Commission Does Notable Work Throughout State

The Reconstruction Commission has issued a pamphlet regarding the child health center and dispensaries operated by the commission. It explains the work the commission is doing and urges mothers to come to it for advice in regard to their babies.

The results of the efforts of this organization are shown by the fact that the infant death rate has been cut one-third in Wilmington during one year's work of the child health center service. Reports from other parts of the State are equally gratifying.

There is still much which the organization wishes to accomplish, however. Investigations by the commission show that nearly one thousand babies die every year in Delaware in addition to two hundred still-born; that many are born without attention of physician or nurse and the mothers receive no pre-natal instruction; that they have not proper food and care; that their surroundings are unsanitary, and that minor ailments and physical defects are not given attention.

These evils would be prevented by the continuation and extension of such work as the Reconstruction Commission is doing, it believes. The commission makes the indisputable statement that it is poor economy for a State to save dollars by wasting life and health. The work of the commission is supported partly by State appropriations and partly by private subscription. Contributions may be sent to the Woman's Committee for Child Welfare. Money is spent through the Reconstruction Commission by a regularly audited voucher system. The finance committee is composed of Mrs. A. D. Warner, chairman; Mrs. James N. Ginn, Mrs. William Coyne and Mrs. William H. Ward.

In addition to the five centers operated in Wilmington, there are 5 at various central points throughout the State.

Newark has a center for Wednesday at 9 a. m. to 5 p. m., with 134 patients; Middletown one on Thursday at 9 a. m. to 5 p. m., 1306 patients; Dover one, Wednesday, 1 p. m. to 5 p. m., 1283 patients; Georgetown, by appointment, 200 patients; Seaford, 1 p. m. to 3 p. m., 57 patients.

This makes a total of 6211 patients, and Newark and Seaford centers were open only a few weeks of the year. Dispensaries are operated in connection with the centers.

Local committees in New Castle, Hockessin, Yorklyn, Smyrna and Midway have opened Child Welfare Centers. The Reconstruction Commission cooperates by furnishing supervision and nursing service. All centers offer free health service for mothers, babies and children.

At the centers there are examinations and advice for mothers, babies and children. Trained child welfare nurses visit homes to give care and instruction. In schools the Reconstruction Commission medical consultant has examined 1066 school children, while commission nurses have examined 3583 school children.

Members of the commission include Mrs. William H. Laird, William G. Taylor, Frank R. Pool, Mrs. John B. Hutton, George H. Hall, Mrs. Ella C. Emery and Arley B. Magee, secretary.

Y. M. C. A. DIRECTORS VOTE TO SUSPEND ACTIVITIES INDEFINITELY

Athletic Equipment to Be Given to High School and Rehabilitation Unit

Regret and disappointment were expressed in many quarters when the announcement was made on Saturday that the Y. M. C. directors at a meeting the previous evening had decided to suspend all activities indefinitely.

The local branch of the association was formed about a year ago with Francis A. Cooch as president. Quarters were secured in the Armory and a trained secretary, W. Paul Bebout who had done excellent work in Trenton, N. J., was secured to direct the activities, which were begun October 2, 1919.

During the winter months, a basketball tournament in which the various industrial plants of the town together with the American Legion and other organizations of young men participated, excited much interest and enthusiasm. Sports and numerous athletic features were planned for the boys of school age and much good was accomplished.

It soon became apparent, however, that in spite of the generous support accorded by some of the citizens, the unit was too small to finance the venture. Funds for the purchase of equipment and for the current expenses of the year ordinarily secured through membership fees and donations, had to be augmented by a carnival given during the winter. This was eminently successful and received the hearty support of the townspeople, and friends of the movement in adjacent communities. Even with this aid and encouragement the directors deemed it impossible to raise sufficient funds to maintain the work.

Mr. Bebout resigned in May and upon his advice and that of other experienced "Y" workers, the directors endeavored to interest several adjacent towns in the movement, with the idea that the expense of maintaining a secretary should be borne by different communities whose activities he would direct for a part of the week. This proposition could not be established and the Board decided to suspend all activities indefinitely. The following resolution was therefore adopted:

"Resolved: That after a year's trial it has become evident that it is impossible to continue the work of the Newark Y. M. C. due to lack of financial support, and therefore, the directors agree to suspend indefinitely the activities of the association and to surrender the lease on the armory, with thanks to the State Armory Commission for its generosity and to the people of the community who in so many ways have aided the directors in their efforts to make the association a success."

The armory will be turned over to the State Armory Commission on October 12. The shuffle board which gave enjoyment to many during the winter and spring will probably be loaned to the soldiers at the Rehabilitation Unit at "Linden Hall," and some of the athletic equipment will likely be given to the high school.

WILL ASK CONGRESS TO RELIEVE TEACHER SHORTAGE

Friends of Education to Seek Immediate Passage of Smith-Towner Bill

The teacher shortage remains a menace to the public schools according to preliminary reports made public today by the National Education Association. Replies to questionnaires sent out by the Association have come from all sections of the United States. These reports show that in places where teachers' salaries have been increased one hundred per cent or more the situation is nearly always satisfactory. But such places are comparatively few, and in localities where salaries have been increased fifty per cent or less the teacher shortage is commonly greater than a year ago. Rural communities are hardest hit. Signed reports from superintendents of many counties indicate that a third of their rural schools cannot open for want of teachers. Tens of thousands of schools will be in charge of teachers who have had no professional preparation and whose academic training barely exceeds that of the children they teach.

Relief from this serious situation, which imperils the stability of American rural life, will be sought from the next session of Congress. Renewed efforts will be made to obtain the passage of the Smith-Towner Bill, which creates a department of education with a secretary in the President's cabinet and provides federal aid of $100,000,000 for education.

Historic Farm Changes Hands

The Ferry farm of more than 500 acres, on the Bohemia river, at one time the home of Augustine Herman, has been sold by Richard troops entered Chester county on their way to the Battle of Brandywine.

Bayard, Baltimore, Md., to Thomas F. Bayard, Wilmington. The farm is full of historic associations and each autumn several thousand people from Baltimore make their annual visit to the grave of Herman, the founder of Bohemia Manor.

About ten days ago representatives of the Chester County Historical Society, who will erect the marker, visited the scene of the Battle of Brandywine, followed the supposed route of the British to the Delaware line and decided upon the location of the marker.

During the trip the delegation was presented with a cannon ball recently dug from a tree in the vicinity.

Those comprising the committee were: Lewis K. Stubbs, treasurer; Professor Smith Burnham, Dr. Samuel G. Schumacker, Dr. Marley, Lewis Lafferty, John M. Walker, Hockessin.

NEWARK BALL PLAYER HOME AFTER SUCCESSFUL SEASON
 Ralph Robinson returned home on Saturday after a successful baseball season with Hanover, in the Blue Ridge League, which team he played third base most of the season.

Young Robinson signed with Waynesboro of the same league early in the season, but was later sold to Hanover. About a month ago that team was short of pitchers and tried out the Newark youth in the box. He made good in that position and defeated his former Waynesboro teammates in the final game of the season by a close score in an eleven-inning game. He has signed with Hanover for next year.

LOCAL W. C. T. U. LEADER DELEGATE TO INTERNATIONAL CONVENTION
 Mrs. Mary B. Donnell was recently named one of the delegates to represent the Delaware W. C. T. U. at the International Congress on Alcoholism which is in session at Washington, D. C. this week.

Governor John G. Townsend, Mrs. Georgia G. Pierce, State president, and her secretary, Mrs. J. M. Graves, both of Milford; Miss Lillian Cade, Milton, and Mrs. Ella D. Cordrey, Harrington, are also delegates.

AS THEY DEAL WITH THEM IN PENNSYLVANIA
 Declaring that Sophomores of Franklin and Marshall College who attempted over the week-end to plaster Lancaster with placards are suffering from a mild form of insanity, Alderman W. S. Dobler Monday imposed a fine of $6 upon Paul C. Scufft, Bedford county, the only student captured by the police. Scufft was also forced to pay 50 cents for the cleaning of a policeman's pants which were soiled in making the arrest.

Scufft's arrest followed a chase of the bucket and brush brigade through the tobacco warehouse section, in which shots were fired by the police. The plans of the students were completely upset.

"If the boys of this city who have no education must pay for their offenses when they are brought into this Court," said the Alderman, "then the college students certainly will not escape punishment."

WHO'S NEXT?
 Press reports last week of a cornstalk on the Lafferty property which measured 14 feet 7 inches, said to be the tallest in the State, has brought to light other aspirants in this line. William Lasier, better known as "Dutch Billy," reports a stalk measuring 16 feet 4 inches which he claims is the State champion.

The Ford One Ton Truck is one of the sure business utilities, and likewise just as big a necessity on the farm. Farming is surely a business proposition wherein success depends upon economical methods with up-to-date machinery. The Ford Truck will prove a great economy on the farm. The marvel is "how the farmer has got along without it all these years." It is a servant that serves, always ready and always economical. Price $600, without body, f. o. b. Detroit.

Apples Plentiful in Lower New Castle Co.
 Apples are plentiful in the vicinity of Blackbird and are selling for 25 cents a basket. Many farmers are rying apples for winter use, as it is too early to bury or store them.
 The market for apples appears to be at a standstill, as they will not pay for picking and shipping. Vinegar is being made from the apples and stored in hogsheads. The farmers think they can find sale later in the season when the fruit may be in demand for evaporation and vinegar.

Newport Grange Holds Picnic
 Members of Delaware Grange held their annual picnic at Augustine Beach, Thursday. The trip was made in automobiles and was enjoyed by about 30 of the members. After supper the folks enjoyed a social time before motoring back to Newport.

Delivered by Mrs. Henry Ridgely before the Democrat State Convention

"For the first time women are included in the organization of the Democratic party of Delaware. As one of those women and as spokesman for the associate members of the Democratic State Committee, I ask your consideration of the woman's point of view on the important business before this convention.

"The women of Delaware are taking their enfranchisement seriously. They do not intend that its effect shall be only to multiply the electorate. There is always a certain number of voters on which a party can count at the polls. If the enfranchisement of women should merely double that vote for each of the parties what would their enfranchisement accomplish? But that will not be the result. The women of Delaware will not only demonstrate their interest in their government by voting on November 2, but they will consider carefully their ballots and vote thoughtfully and conscientiously. Many male voters consider that party fealty demands the casting of an unscratched ballot regardless of the character of nominees. That is not the woman's idea of party fealty.

"It is true that women are attaching themselves to the two great parties, many of them working actively for the party of their choice—and rightly so—there should be no sex in politics and no separate party for women. But women have a different idea of the relation between voter and party from that of the average party man. A man gives his party his adherence. A woman gives her party devotion. Remember, devotion cannot be kindled in the mists of mere profession, or in the dank atmosphere of corruption and deceit. To win and hold the devotion of its women, a party must demonstrate that it is worthy of their faith. A woman pledges herself to work for her party because she believes that through that party she can bring about good government. She will devote all her energy, strength and enthusiasm toward putting into office those whom she believes will be instruments for the advancement of right. Only candidates who are able and honorable will she believe worthy to represent her party. She will give devotion to her party, to the things for which it stands, to the service she can render to her state through it; not to any man or set of men in that party. To her the breach of faith to party is to write on the party ballot a name unworthy of its traditions.

Women Not Self-Seeking

"She will feel that she is no true partisan if she shall help to put in office men who use her party as a means of self advancement instead of the advancement of the state.

"In that sense the mass of women are absolutely independent, but they will be found more party-faithful than the mass of male voters when it comes to a question of principle. They will lift high the party banner and without thought of self or selfish seeking they will carry it on to victory. I say without selfish seeking for I have yet to meet the Delaware woman who is looking for an office.

"What we desire to do with our ballots is to make our country a better place to live in, to give our children every advantage that American children should have as their birthright, before everything else to see to it that when the youth of Delaware attain voting age they shall not be tempted as the youth of the state has been in the past, to sell their birthright.

Demand Clean Elections

"The women of Delaware demand clean elections, and the party which does not give a straight-forward assurance that it will countenance no corruption will not hold the Delaware woman's vote.

"But remember, it will not sufficient for her to know that no large corruption fund is being used at elections; there must be no corruption fund whatsoever. In exchange for her devotion to her party she demands absolute cleanliness both at the primaries and at the polls. Politicians appeal to the voters to put principles above candidates. This sounds fair, but their real object is to secure support for weak candidates by high sounding platform professions. Women will not be allured by such perverted doctrine. They know that from the days of the Pharisee down to the present time, sound principles can no more be expected from unsound and incompetent men than figs from thistles. The party who wants to hold the woman's allegiance must four-square its candidates with its platform, and its political practices with both. Women will become party women if you please, but not machine women. They will not surrender their independence of thought and of conscience. They will not be slavish partisans. I believe this to be true of Republican women as of Democratic women in Delaware. Republicans and Democrats alike, we have pledged ourselves to demand clean elections and clean and competent candidates for office. No political lines can divide us in the accomplishment of these ends. In this very fact lies a great hope, a great opportunity. We appeal to the delegates of this convention to give us a platform and a ticket that will justify us in appealing across party lines to the devotion and ideas of womanhood.

"Bind the woman's loyalty to the Democratic party. Assure this party of her unwavering allegiance by the support of candidates and measures that shall demand her respect. We, the associate members of your State Committee, ask this of you.

"But you, who are veterans of many campaigns, will tell us, who are recruits of today, that we cannot know the difficulties which stand in the way, that we do not realize that defeat so often is the price of straight dealing; that fearless action leads on to failure.

"We ask you to remember that never in the history of this State have so many fearless citizens come into their political freedom at one election; that never has such an army of voters stood ready to rally to the standard of right. The political organization, which Delaware women formed on the very day of the proclamation of the ratification of the Nineteenth Amendment is a League for Good Government. There is a National League of Women Voters with two million members. Its aims and those of its Delaware branch are the same; to work for good government, for wise legislation in nation and state, for the protection of women in industry, for the welfare of little children, against vice and corruption. They are working together to purify election practices and to put into office officials worthy of the best traditions of America. They stand ready to work for these things in Delaware.

"Our nation had its very beginning in revolt against corrupt practices, and weak though it was the things for which it stood prevailed over an old established order. Prove to the women of Delaware that the Democratic party of her State desires the best for her, for her men, for her children, that to attain this it will nominate able and honorable candidates unafraid to express honest opinions, able when elected to administer the State government wisely and fearlessly and you will win the support of great numbers of her new voters. Conduct this campaign in such a way that every page of its record can bear the earnest scrutiny of woman's eye.

"It is because we expect you to uphold high principles that we, the associate members of your State Committee, have agreed to work with you. We shall not fail you if you keep faith with us.

"Refuse to pander to mere expediency or the wishes of the narrow and selfish. In those historic days of 1797, when the statesmen of this country were assembled to frame a constitution, to give birth to a new nation, the young child of Western democracy, there came a dark hour of doubt and uncertainty. The members of the convention feared that some of the provisions in which they themselves believed might not please their constituents at home. The convention hesitated. Then George Washington, who had presided over the deliberations, left the chair and rising to his feet, thus addressed the delegates—'If to please others, we shall put forth what we do not ourselves approve, how shall we afterwards defend our work? Let us raise a standard to which the wise and honest may repair. The event is in the hands of God.'

She said also that the women did not want the politicians to play politics with the schools; if they do they will not get the vote of the women.

Although the campaign has scarcely started, it is generally conceded that the laurels for the best Republican speech will be awarded to L. Irving Handy for the exhibition given at the Democratic Convention.

Sussex has "lynched" the Democratic party.

Newspaper men are certainly in the spot-light. Cox, Harding, Lynch, editor of Sussex Journal, and Herman Taylor, Wilmington correspondent and Associate Press Representative.

With Charles Medill representing White Clay Creek, Newark can feel well assured that her needs in legislation will be carefully looked after.

Willard Saulsbury, "Tom" Gornley, "Tim" Mooney, "Bill" Coyne, all of Wilmington, were formerly prominent members of the Democratic party.

New Castle County Democrats do not believe in the League of Counties whereby the Anglo-Saxons of Kent and Sussex can outvote the Irish Republic of Wilmington.

One of the saddest things ever seen in Delaware was "Zek" Cooper trying to smile on the day of the Convention.

Frank Collins' long residence in Vermont will serve him well—his defeat as Democrat candidate, will come perfectly natural.

It is said that McNabb admits at last, that women in his district do want the vote.

It is understood that all Sussex candidates must show vaccination certificates before entering Wilmington.
