U.S.O. GOAL SHORT WITH THREE DAYS REMAINING

Quota May Be Reached Only If All Aid Fund

The $2,500 U.S.O. goal for Newark is still far away, with only three days remaining before the conclusion of the drive announced H. L. Bonham, chairman in charge, with assistant A. W. Perry.

"On the basis of returns thus far, the town will not make its quota," said officials as they voiced grave disappointment with the community's response to date.

Again, as in past drives, most generous response has come from the laboring group, other classes holding aloof and bearing out the trite but true axiom, "those who have the least give the most."

Typical example was a lady on S. Chapel St., who, when the U.S.O. collector stopped at her door, went for her pocketbook and resolutely emptied the contents into the collector's hands.

"It's the only thing I can do," she said with some regret, bringing to mind the "Widow's Mite" of Biblical renown.

U.S.O. posters with pictures of Newark Boys now serving in the Armed forces have been on display the past week, bearing out literally the slogan, "Do give to someone you know when you give to the U.S.O." Apparently, they have not been read too thoughtfully by many residents.

Collectors will be on the streets today, Saturday, and Sunday, and the committee hopes for an improved response so that Newark will "breast the wave" when the returns come in from the rest of the state.

DR. KERR SPEAKS AT LIONS CLUB

Gives Interesting Account Of Life In Iran

Dr. Stanley Kerr brought members of the Newark Lions Club a vivid and interesting account of experiences in Turkey, Syria and Iran at their weekly dinner meeting, in the country club, Tuesday evening.

Introduced by Dr. P. K. Musselman, program chairman, Dr. Kerr held the attention of his audience with stories of hitherto unpublished accounts of incidents and incidents that occurred during his twenty-three years of foreign work, and obstacles surmounted in returning to America last fall.

Dr. Kerr first went to Turkey as a chemist in a Near East Relief expedition and remained to become a professor of chemistry in the well-known American University at Beyrout. It was his opinion that the Near East would become the scene of tense action before winter.

Dr. Musselman also had as his guest Lt. Donald M. Ashbridge, C. Frank Darrell was the guest of A. W. Perry.

President John K. Speicher conducted the business session and made an appeal for contributions to the U.S.O. drive now being conducted. T. D. Booth reported that plans for a gala Ladies Night observance assure the success of this event next Tuesday evening.

Officials Warn Against Storage Of Gasoline

Fire Chief Elmer Ellison yesterday issued a warning to residents of Newark against the storage of excess gasoline within city limits saying such practices would create a fire hazard endangering residents and property to possible damage.

Chief Air Raid Warden A. W. Perry also strongly advised against the storage of quantities of gasoline stating that it would be hazardous to an extreme degree. He pointed out that confined gasoline is strongly explosive and inflammable.

Persons storing quantities of gasoline on their premises expose members of the family to extreme danger and possible loss of life as well as endanger the property and that of nearby residents.

6240 SUGAR APPLICANTS SIGN IN FOUR DAYS

6134 Ration Books Issued With 1034 Stamps Removed

Newark's sugar registration was carried off in excellent order when 6240 persons granted 6134 ration books were signed here in the four day period, announced C. E. Douglas, Supervisor of Rationing Board No. 6.

Fine cooperation of the community with the request to register alphabetically is shown in the daily distribution of figures: Monday, 1864 applicants with 1827 books granted; Tuesday, 2137 applicants with 2097 books; Wednesday, 1496 books issued; Thursday, 714 books issued.

The number of stamps removed from books issued was 1034. Persons with between two and six pounds on hand when signing had one stamp removed for each pound. Those with over six pounds in stock were denied books.

The school's entire teaching staff conducted the registration working in shifts, meals being served them in the cafeteria. Cooperation of the faculty was pronounced one hundred percent. Much credit should go to the officials and registrars for a difficult task, well organized and carried out.

Public Invited To Inspect New Quarters, Engine

The public of Newark and vicinity is invited to attend the 'open house' being conducted by the Aetna Hose, Hook & Ladder Company Saturday afternoon and evening and view the enlarged quarters and new engine recently purchased, fire company officials said yesterday.

Residents of the community are urged to attend this open house and view the interior of this structure, inspect the equipment and have explained to them the operation and maintenance of the Newark volunteer brigade.

Salvage Committee Makes Request For Water Cooler

Mrs. Jos C. Beatty, chairman of the Newark Salvage for Victory Committee, has made an appeal for a new or used water cooler to be placed in the baling warehouse of the Salvage Committee.

With warmer weather, the baling of scrap materials has become a hot job and volunteers working at the warehouse direly need a water cooler as town water is not available in the building.

Anyone having or willing to donate a cooler for this project is asked to contact Mrs. Beatty, telephone Newark 4971.

1850 SIGN GAS CARDS IN FIRST TWO DAYS

997 Issued First Day, With 442 B-3 Type Cards Making up Majority

A total of 1850 Newark car owners enrolled at the Newark High School in the first two days of gasoline registration, announced C. E. Douglas, supervisor, with William K. Gillespie in charge.

On Tuesday, 997 cards were granted, a majority of 422 applicants receiving the B-3 cards entitling them to 57 gallons for the 47 day period between May 15 and July 1.

Second highest number issued on Tuesday was 399 of the A type cards, granting the lowest ration quota of 21 gallons.

Amounts issued in other classifications the first day were: 48 B-1 cards good for 33 gallons, 72 B-2 cards good fod 45 gallons, and 56 X cards good for unlimited purchases.

The figures apply only to the A to K group assigned the first day. Gas rationing proper goes into effect on Friday.

The honor system was employed in most cases in classifying applicants, teacher-registrants taking a person's word regarding his gasoline needs.

The honor system will also be used for the first period in gas sales, no direct check-up being placed on either dealers or motorists. Dealers will not turn in coupons, merely cancel them.

Strict penalties, however, exist for infringements.

Persons still to register should come provided with all information necessary in determining their classification. Mileage to work or during work must be known in filling out form B. The registration card for each vehicle must be presented at the time of registering.

PLAYGROUND COMMITTEE ASKS FUNDS

Money Needed For Operation Of Summer Project

The Newark Playground and Recreation Committee will meet Monday evening at 8 o'clock in Robinson Hall, Women's College, according to notices sent out by Miss Edwina Long, secretary, to hear the first financial report since the campaign for funds began last week.

With only about $130.00 received this year from the Lions Club Card Party and with some funds in the treasury, it is estimated that it will be necessary to raise approximately $500 this year for maintenance of the Pool and Playground for the eight week period beginning June 22.

The committee will need public contributions this year worse than ever to make up for some organizations that are not able to make their usual donations, it is said. Contributions are sought from all individuals, firms and organizations in town to carry on this work which has proven its worth during previous successful seasons.

Miss Barbara Coxe has accepted the post as handicraft instructor in the Playground project, Miss Long stated. Other officials chosen at last weeks meeting were Wm. K. Gillespie, director, and Ralph O'Connell, swimming instructor, but they have not yet indicated their acceptance.

EXAMS FOR STATE JOBS IN JUNE

Apply To Merit System Head; Many Jobs Open

The five State agencies now cooperating under the Merit System of Personnel Administration in Delaware and the Delaware Division of the United States Employment Service will set examinations in June for various types of positions. Case workers, Field Workers, Interviewers, Stenographers, Typists, and Junior Accounting Clerks are needed by several or all of the agencies, which include the Mothers' Pension Commission, State Board of Charities, Old Age Welfare Commission, State Board of Health, Unemployment Compensation Commission, and the U. S. Employment Service. In addition, the Unemployment Compensation Commission wishes to establish a list of eligibles for the position of Attorney.

The closing date for filing applications is June 4, 1942. All applicants must be citizens of the United States, and for positions with the U. S. Employment Service and the Unemployment Compensation Commission, applicants must also have been residents of the State of Delaware for two years. Application must be made on the official form which may be obtained by writing to Charles W. Bush, Merit System Supervisor, Post Office Box 1911, Wilmington. The Supervisor will also provide interested persons with a description of any one or several of the positions open.

This week poster announcements were sent to all post offices, libraries, etc., throughout the State, and these list the positions open for examination, and give salary ranges in the different agencies. It is expected that the majority of applicants for the clerical and stenographic positions will come from the State of Delaware, but there are not enough professionally trained persons within this State for Case Worker positions in the Mothers' Pension Commission and State Board of Charities, and for these positions, out of state applicants may be eligible.

These examinations will be given under the direction of the Merit System Council, comprised of Robert Ferriday and Miss B. Ethelda Mullen of Wilmington, and George Ehinger of Dover. All communications relative to these examinations, however, should be addressed to the Merit System Supervisor.

FOWL POX PREVENTION EXPLAINED

Booklet Lists Vaccine Methods

A new circular issued by the Delaware Agricultural Extension Service is entitled "Fowl Pox Vaccination." Numbered Extension Circular 48, this four-page leaflet has been prepared by H. L. Richardson, Extension poultry specialist for the Delaware Agricultural Extension Service, and H. R. Baker, poultry pathologist for the State Board of Agriculture. Poultrymen will find in the circular a complete discussion of the symptoms of fowl pox, types of pox vaccine, methods of vaccinating, and dangers to guard against while vaccinating the poultry flock. Since fowl pox is prevalent in Delaware, poultrymen of the State will want to obtain a copy of this leaflet on this important poultry disease.

Copies of this circular may be obtained from George M. Worrilow, New Castle County agricultural agent at Newark.

The farmhouse hot-water heating system should not be drained of old water and refilled with new for the summer, according to engineers of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. They say that during the heating season much of the air in the water is driven off so that old water now in the system has little corrosive action on pipes. Fresh water, however, contains air that may cause considerable corrosion.

They give these additional tips for summer care of the farmhouse hot-water heating system: (1) Stop leaks and drain sediment from system; (2) inspect and clean all pipe connections to boiler, including those to gages and controls; (3) paint connections with asphaltum to prevent future rusting; (4) inspect, repair, and adjust all valves and controls; and (5) test check dampers to see if they work automatically and smoothly.

Poppy Days In Newark For War Disabled, May 22-23

Dimes, quarters and dollars dropped into the coin boxes of the "Poppy Girls" this year will aid the victims of the present war, as well as those of the first World War, according to Mrs. Frank Balling, president of J. Allison O'Daniel Unit No. 10, of the local American Legion Auxiliary.

Poppies will bloom in Newark on Friday and Saturday, May 22 and 23, and will be worn as a "badge of patriotism". "This year", said Mrs. Balling, "the poppy not only honors and aids the men who defended America twenty-four years ago and their families, but also those defending America today and their families. Funds collected on Poppy Days will be used in the work the Legion and Auxiliary are doing for the disabled of both wars, and for needy families of men in the present conflict as well as those of veterans of the first World War.

Victims of the present war are naturally turning to the Legion and Auxiliary for aid, and we want to give them the benefits of our service. The increased burden calls for increased funds. We hope that the public will be generous on Poppy Days this year because from the contributions made for the poppies comes the principal means of support for our work during the entire year ahead. Ever since the first World War the poppy has been worn in tribute to the men who gave their lives in that conflict. Now new names are being inscribed among America's heroic dead.

"Making the little red crepe paper flowers has given many disabled veterans in government hospitals and poppy workrooms employment during the winter and spring months, and the work is limited to men receiving little or no government compensation and those with families to support. More than 13,000,000 of them have been made this year, the largest number since the observance of Poppy Day was begun twenty years ago. Orders for poppies from Auxiliary Units everywhere have been increased this year in anticipation of greatly increased demand for the flowers of patriotic remembrance. More than $1,000,000 is contributed annually to the welfare of the war's living victims by the wearers of the poppy."

William S. Carhart, 86 year-old resident of Newport was found dead in his home Thursday afternoon by neighbors. According to Coroner William Smith, Mr. Carhart had been dead 12 to 15 hours. Neighbors recalling that they had not seen Mr. Carhart around during the day on Thursday, went to his home here, where he lived alone, and found him dead in his bed. Mr. Carhart's health had been failing for several years, and his death was undoubtedly due to a heart attack suffered during the night. Delaware State Police investigated the case, Officer Sherman in charge. Mr. Carhart was the husband of the late Anna M. Carhart who has been dead for several years. Surviving members of the family are Mrs. Nettie Manlove, 2024 Gilpin Avenue, Wilmington; Mrs. Ella Vandegrift Smack of Philadelphia, and Charles Carhart of near Marshallton, and several grandchildren. Funeral services were held on Sunday afternoon, with interment in St. James P. E. Cemetery, Newport.

What about

now that everybody is talking about

CEILING PRICES?

- Now, and after May 18th (when ceiling prices become effective), all A&P Super Markets and A&P Food Stores will continue to give you real low prices on fine foods every day, just as they have been doing.
- The new "ceiling price" regulation will not alter in any way A&P's low price policy. This means that every day at A&P you will continue to get the best foods the markets afford at our lowest possible prices.
- And here is another important fact to remember. FOOD PRICES WILL NOT BE IDENTICAL IN ALL FOOD STORES on and after May 18th. Prices will continue to differ in food stores on the same articles—just as they have heretofore.

OUR CUSTOMERS SAVE MONEY

A&P, during the last eight years, has made big reductions in its operating costs. These savings have been passed along to our customers, so that today they have 9c more of every food dollar to spend than they did in 1933.

It is A&P's policy to continue to conduct its business as economically as possible, thus to give you the utmost for every food dollar you spend at A&P Stores.

MAYOR COLLINS ENDORSES "POPPY DAYS"

Recognizing that victory for America in the first World War was purchased at a frightful cost in lives and suffering, and that new names are being inscribed among America's heroic dead in the present conflict, I deem it fitting that the citizens of our City should this year again honor the dead and aid the living by wearing the Memorial Poppy of the American Legion and Auxiliary and the Veterans of Foreign Wars and Auxiliary as a "badge of patriotism". All contributions made for the flowers are expended for the welfare of the living victims of both wars. Wearing the poppy performs the dual purpose of paying tribute to the dead and contributing to the welfare of the living.

Now, therefore, I, Frank Collins, Mayor of the Town of Newark, do hereby proclaim Friday and Saturday, May 22 and 23, as "Poppy Days". I urge that all citizens of Newark observe these days by wearing the veteran-made poppy. I further urge that the citizens of our town remember on these days not only those who were called upon in past years to give so gallantly of their services, health and strength, but also those in the present war, and when purchasing a poppy be as generous as their means will permit in order that the women of the Auxiliaries may continue their work of mercy and relief during the coming year.

(Signed) FRANK COLLINS,
Mayor

BUY YOUR WINTER'S FUEL NOW

We've all been advised not to hoard—and that's necessary advice indeed. But there is one basic commodity which the government wants us to "hoard" now—coal.

High officials are urging individuals to purchase next winter's coal stocks before summer ends—and preferably immediately. This, of course, isn't "hoarding" at all. It is, instead, a definite contribution to the war effort.

The reason for it is simple. If everyone waits until cold weather arrives before ordering coal, the drain on the mines and on the agencies which must transport the fuel, will be tremendous. Worst of all, that drain will come at a time—early and middle fall—when crop movements are at their peak. And in addition, war freight of all kinds will be substantially heavier in the fall than now.

The point is to get every possible ton of coal into the hands of the ultimate consumer at the earliest possible time. So, buy your winter's coal today. Then you'll be doing your part to clear the transportation lines for war traffic. And you'll also make certain that you won't be out of fuel when you need it.

THREAT TO SMALL BUSINESS

The gravest threat to small business that has yet appeared, is found in the proposal to freeze all prices as of a given date.

A very large percentage of small businesses are in the retail field. These concerns sell food, hardware, clothes, furniture—a thousand and one commodities which the consumers of the nation must have. And retailing will be subjected to incredible disruption if the "freeze everything" policy is adopted.

Retailers have been among the most active opponents of price inflation. They have cooperated to the fullest possible extent with the government in every effort so far made to hold prices down. As part of that work, and at the direct request of high government officials, thousands of retailers have refrained from basing their prices on replacement cost. Instead, they have based their prices on original cost—even though the wholesale cost may be much higher than when their stock was bought. In some instances, present wholesale cost is as high or higher than the price charged at retail for goods bought some time ago.

If prices are arbitrarily frozen, retailers will not be able to make the adjustment between wholesale and retail costs that is necessary if they are to earn sufficient profit to stay in business. In some cases, they would be legally bound to sell goods for less than they must pay for them—and in a great many cases they would do no better than break even. Bankruptcy would be the eventual result.

Sound price control means, first, a reasonable ceiling on farm prices and wages—two of the most dangerous inflationary factors. Then the balance between wholesale and retail prices must be carefully and fairly established. "Blanket price fixing," which does not take into account the wide lag between wholesale and retail prices, and which leaves labor free to make any additional wage demands it wants, would be ruinous to our economy. And small retail business would be hit first and hardest.

After being unopened for 40 years, a box thought to contain old documents was knocked open with a hammer at the town hall in Sanborntown, N. H. Inside five sticks of dynamite with set caps were found, but they did not explode.

The United States is now turning out steel at the rate of about 80 million tons a year, or more than all the rest of the world is producing. All the steel required for ships of our new two-ocean Navy will be less than one million tons.

When he left to join his regiment at Camp Croft, S. C., Private Jerry Callahan of Chicago asked his friends in an office building where he had been an elevator operator to write to him. He recently received a letter 247 feet long, bearing messages from more than 1,800 persons.

PATRIOTIC EMBLEM GIVEN DRIVERS OBEYING 40 M. P. RULE SAVING GAS AND TIRES

This is the emblem of patriotism which will soon be made available for those motorists complying with the State Highway Department request that they keep their speed within a 40-mile limit to conserve gasoline and tires.

The emblem, in the form of a colorful red, white and blue economy sticker, was prepared through the State Highway Department and will be obtainable at any of the offices of the Motor Vehicle Division of the Department, police stations, automobile clubs and automobile dealers.

Shaped as a speedometer, the sticker shows an eagle with its wings in a "V" angle, pointing to the 40-mark. Printed on the face of the "speedometer" is the timely slogan, "Slow the Speed to Meet the Need". The State emblem also appears on the "speedometer".

The sticker is a composite of suggestions by Police Officer R. D. Jones of Georgetown and Oliver M. Epperson of the Wilmington Motor Vehicle Division office, in a recently highway department sponsored contest.

Officials of the State Highway Department today expressed the hope all motorists will secure the stickers and cooperate in the patriotic theme behind them.

Parents Corner

The Child's Business of Eating

An adult employs the eating habits he formed as a child. It is important that these be good. What kind of habits are you helping your child to form?

Does the appearance, the odor, and the taste of food have any effect upon the appetite of children? Children are very sensitive to the way in which food is prepared. One serving of food that is burned gives the child a disagreeable sensation that may give rise to a prejudice which will not be overcome for months.

Do adults tire of food served repeatedly? Yes, and children do, too. Contrast in flavor, color and kind of food will doubtlessly please children as well as their parents and bring about that much desired interest in food.

Children's eating utensils should be suited to their small hands and mouth. Knives, forks, and spoons made like the regulation eating utensils but smaller in size may now be obtained. If these are used from the first there will be no need for re-education when they are outgrown. Plates with sides are advisable. A salad fork and a spoon with a deep bowl and short handle are most helpful to the child. Also, children will be more interested when the food is easy to handle. For example, a lettuce or cabbage leaf is easy to handle while shredded cabbage is very difficult.

What do you think of serving a smaller amount? Try doing this and let the child ask for more. For then you may stir his interest in a second serving and thereby stimulate a good appetite.

Don't indulge in your wish to give children the fun of between-meal piecings. A stomach which receives nothing but its stimulus of food regularly three times a day behaves itself far better than one which receives food more often.

Sometimes the child's balkiness over food is nothing more than his ardent desire to be the center of the stage. And three times a day gives him an excellent opportunity to be important when all efforts are turned to persuade him how good the food is for him. A child should feel his rightful importance in the family circle, but the feeling should not come about through scenes at meal hours. Wholesome food carefully prepared and given to the child without special comment but with the attitude that of course he will eat it, usually produces the desired results.

To summarize, the cause of the child's refusal of food may be in the preparation, service, variety, difficulty of handling, and large servings of food or it may be in the physical condition or poor management of the child. Investigate your "problem" child and help him to form the very important good food habits.

Forestors advocate planned fuelwood cutting to correct poor forest conditions resulting from mistakes in the past. Fuel wood can be obtained from mis-shapen trees, dead and insect-ridden trees and other cull trees, from tops of trees cut for saw logs and from trees cut in thinning and woodlot improvement operations.

FOOD for THOUGHT

Charlotte Spencer Hurley

"Dried Foods to the Front"

This war is pushing the production of dried foods.

Food shipped to our expeditionary forces and to our allies needs to be packed into as small a space as possible. If fresh vegetables are shipped, the cargo will be 70 to 93 per cent water. The percentage of water in milk is even higher. By drying these foods this moisture can be removed and the valuable shipping space filled with solid food, not water. Then, too, emergency rations for soldiers such as parachute troops must be concentrated.

The shortage of tin cans will certainly cause the use of more dried foods for civilians. The appearance of dried soups is probably just the beginning of the use of dried foods in the home.

Institutions and bakers have long had the opportunity to purchase some dried foods, usually at a substantial saving over the fresh food price. Dry whole milk and dry skim milk have been available for years in one hundred pound lots. Dry skim milk has been so cheap that it has been commonly stocked in feed stores for chicken and animal feeding. So much dried milk is now being shipped for human consumption that the price has doubled and tripled. Dry skim milk, because it lacks butter fat, can be stored without refrigeration and so is often more practical than dry whole milk.

Dry eggs have long been available, particularly to bakers. Their price compares with that of fresh eggs at their cheapest season. Of course dry eggs cannot be poached, fried or boiled but they can be scrambled or used in recipes calling for fresh eggs. One pound of dry eggs is about equal in food value to three dozen fresh eggs. U. S. Department of Agriculture plans aim at 150 millions pounds of dry eggs a year now compared to a former peak production of 10 million pounds.

Dried fruits — prunes, apricots, raisins and peaches have long been familiar. A new dry applesauce may soon become just as familiar. Dried orange juice has already found some users. Dried vegetables were tried at the time of the last war but were mighty unpopular because of their lack of flavor and unattractive appearance. The experts have been working since then to improve their quality and have succeeded to some extent. Dry vegetables of many kinds are now used in soups. Dry potatoes make good mashed potatoes.

The nutritive value of dry foods is being carefully considered in their preparation. Calories, proteins and minerals remain in the dry foods. Vitamins, particularly vitamin B-1 or thiamin and vitamin C or ascorbic acid, are more easily lost. The United States Department of Agriculture, many university scientists and the food industry are all working on methods to preserve these vitamins in drying.

A tractor upset may cost a limb or a life, so don't forget that overturning is four times as likely when the tractor speed is doubled. Be sure to go slow when working rough ground or along ditches.

How about the Country Club plowing up the Golf Links, planting Soup-Beans and potatoes and tilling the crop with the labor at hand every afternoon—both for physical exercise and food production. Further, it's a healthy expression of good citizenship. Nor is it unheard of. The wealthy clubs of the Country are doing this very thing. We look for our Newark members to lead in this movement.

FLASHES IN THE PAN

INDICATIVE OF AMERICAN FORbearance and patriotism is the spirit being evidenced on all sides as rationing becomes a more integral part of our daily lives and Newark Public School faculty members go around talking to themselves after spending several hours listening to hopeful motorists expound how many essential miles they drive weekly in a desperate attempt to obtain a B-3 card for gasoline.

B-1, B-2, E-3 — sounds more like bombers than rationing cards but B whatever they are, we'd be satisfied with a B-3 allotment even if it is less than our daily average.

If it wasn't so serious it would be right funny. Friends no longer greet you with a cheery "Hello"; now its an anxious "What card did you get?" fearing that some acquaintance may have fared a little better than themselves and just looking for something to gripe about.

ANOTHER INTERESTING PHASE of the gasoline situation is the sudden and acute shortage of five-gallon containers. Making the rounds of the business section yesterday about noon we failed to find a single five-gallon container, equipped with spout, available for sale. One merchant had two old wooden-rim cans and said he'd sell them before the day was over. Another merchant in town brought out a quantity of five-gallon cans he had received oil in and sold them for a quarter apiece. Still another had only one five-gallon can of cylinder oil left in his place of business.

SOME FILLING STATIONS BEGAN rationing their supply themselves, limiting sales to three-gallons per customer, when the run assumed greater proportions on Tuesday and Wednesday. Other stations continued to sell as long as they had gas in the tanks. At one station early Tuesday morning a man pulled up to the pump and said "fill 'er up". The attendant complied, then the driver opened the trunk compartment in the rear of the car and disclosed a quantity of one-gallon jugs which he demanded be filled with gasoline.

Airplane 'spotters' at local observation posts were given little encouragement in seeking additional gasoline for transportation to and from their posts. It is thought, however, that local rationing boards will make a reasonable supply of the precious fluid available for men on regular shifts.

THERE'S NO PARTICULAR OFfense in hoarding gasoline (todate) other than the offense one commits against society. No matter how tight you screw the lid, there's going to be some odor. No matter where you store your excess supply—there's going to be danger. Danger of fire and explosion, with possible injury or loss of life resulting.

Fire Chief Elmer Ellison yesterday issued a warning against storage of gasoline saying it created a definite and dangerous fire hazard and sincerely urged Newark residents not to store gasoline in or near any building that might cause a conflagration.

IF YOU MUST STORE GASOLINE, bury it. If put underground there is no danger of it becoming ignited or exploding and there is no waste from evaporation. Above all, DON'T store it in the house, cellar or attic—don't even put it in the garage. If any of our readers have extra gasoline they don't know what to do with—'phone us and we'll take care of it for you. The same thing goes for tires—and sugar.

APPRECIATION MUST BE EXtended to the faculty of the Newark Public Schools for their efficient handling of the truly gigantic jobs of sugar and gasoline registrations during the past two weeks. With little forewarning and less instructions, the men and women put in many weary hours after school that residents of Newark might register with a minimum of inconvenience. We know of no other local organization that could have done so well and publicly acknowledge our thanks to this group for their unselfishness and loyalty in rendering so distinct a public service.

New Jersey Racing Body Approves 49-Day Meeting

The New Jersey State Racing Commission, assured by officials of the Garden State Racing Association that its new track near Camden would be ready in time, has approved a 49-day horse race meeting starting July 18.

With racing banned on Sundays, the season would extend through Sept. 12. The meeting will be New Jersey's first legalized horse running races with parimutuel betting.

Formal approval of four appointments was voted by the commission.

Thomas J. Healy of Holmdel, veteran trainer and racing official, was named steward for the Garden State meeting in Delaware township; Dr. James L. Lindsay of Union City as veterinarian, and Frederick Wright of Elizabeth as supervisor of mutuels, both for the same meeting.

The attaches, representing the state's interests, will be paid by the track.

Theodore Maxfield of Bloomfield was named steward for the 11-day harness racing meet starting May 30 at the Freehold Trotting Association's track at Freehold.

Clean up the fence rows before turning livestock out on pasture this spring. Short bits of barbed wire, nails and staples from fence posts, if picked up by animals as they graze in tall grass along the fence, may cause internal injuries or death.

ELKTON TOPS THE WEDNESDAY NITE LOOP

For the seventh time in eight years, Elkton keglers won the championship of the Wednesday Night League, as Continental-Diamond, victors over Elkton in second half tie play-off last week, bowed politely out of the picture in three straight games of the five game championship match.

Continental pressed the victors hard in the first two games, losing the second by a mere two pins, but in the fatal third the sticks might as well have been nailed to the alleys as Elkton breezed through to win 990 to 865.

C. Hopkins struggled valiantly to hoist the losers into the crown amassing individual scores of 213 and 212, making him high point man of the match. Second was Marquess, of Elkton, with a 210.

JACKETS AND JAYVEES TANGLE TODAY

Newark Wins Opener With Smyrna 8-4, Tops Salesians 10-0

Coach "Irish" O'Connell's Newark High nine has blossomed forth a Deluxe edition this year, with two straight victories in the past week, the first against Smyrna 8-4, and the second, Monday, in the home unveiling, when they soundly cuffed Salesianum 10-0.

If the Jackets stay in form, prospects look bright this afternoon when they tangle with Delaware Jayvees at the college field. One bleak spot is the fact that Wallace Dunsmore, third sacker, injuring his knee in the Salesianum game, will be on the sidelines.

Last Monday, Albert Thorpe, veteran Newark heaver, kept the Salesianum batters busily flailing ozone all afternoon as he set them down with nine strikeouts and only three hits, while the buzzing Yellow Jackets pounded horsehide for 13 safeties, filling in their idle moments stealing 14 bases.

Scoring once in the first and again in the fourth, Newark merely whetted its appetite for the big fifth, when runs clicked across homeplate like rush hour at the turnstile. Cochran, Morrow, Thorpe, and Dunsmore hit safely, and, in slow moments, Salesianum nobly helped things along by throwing the ball gallantly over each others' heads. Three more runs were scored in the sixth.

All the Jackets hit safely, A. Thorpe, N. Laws, W. Dunsmore, and G. Schaen collecting two apiece.

Following today's game, the Jackets face New Castle tomorrow, and a return engagement with Smyrna on Wednesday.

In the season's opener against Smyrna, Thorpe also pitched a workmanlike three hitter, Newark garnering 13 safeties to win 8-4. Smyrna, taking a one run lead in the first, stung the Yellow Jackets into a five run rally in the second after which they were never headed, Smyrna later whittled it down to 5-4, but Newark hastily slammed the door with three runs in the ninth, sealing the victory.

DELAWARE PARK TO AWARD $374,900 IN PURSES DURING 30-DAY MEET AT STANTON

Minimum Purse Established At $1,100 With Three $10,000 Events Featuring Weekend Handicap Schedule of Thirteen Stakes Races

A total of $374,900, an all time high for the racing at Delaware Park, will be distributed at the meeting which gets under way May 29th, according to an announcement from General Manager, Edward Burke. The meeting runs to and including July 4th with the exception of no racing on the two Mondays, June 8th and 15th. Last year at Delaware Park the purse distributed was $341,450. Out of about sixty American racetracks Delaware Park ranks in the first ten as regards per diem purse distribution. This is because of the non-profit policy which turns income into either increased purses, or expanded facilities to the public.

Mr. Burke, a veteran who began great racing success at Havre de Grace just before the last war, is mindful of the increasing costs that horsemen face in these times of stress. Toward the end the minimum purse has been established at $1,100, and it is in the brackets for the ordinary run-of-the-mine thoroughbred that the main increases have been made.

Delaware Park will maintain the added money value in each of the fifteen stakes. These are headed by a trio of $10,000 features, Kent Handicap, Sussex Handicap and New Castle Handicap. The Kent, set for June 14th, is exclusively for three year olds, the Sussex, to be run June 20th, is for horses three years old and upward, while the New Castle, down for decision on the final day, July 4th, is exclusively for fillies and mares.

As in the past the Executive Committee will have the direction of Delaware's ultimate policy in what will be the first war meeting for the course just outside of Wilmington. J. Simpson Dean is President of Delaware Park and Chairman of the Executive Committee. The other members of the Committee are William duPont, Jr., and Donald P. Ross. Mr. Ross also has assumed a new post in the war activities he having been appointed Delaware State Administrator for the sale of war bonds and stamps. John P. Bowlby remains as Vice President and Secretary and an officer of the Delaware Turf Club.

The Stake schedule follows:

May 29 (Friday) Dover Stakes $1,100 added—for 2 year olds.

May 30 (Saturday) Wilmington Handicap, $5000 added—for 3 year olds and upward.

June 6 (Saturday) Brandywine Handicap, $5000 added, for 3 year olds and upward.

June 20 (Saturday) Sussex Handicap $10,000 added—for 3 year olds and upward.

June 24 (Wednesday) Georgetown Steeplechase Handicap, $6000 added—for 4 year olds and upward.

July 1 (Wednesday) Indian River Steeplechase Handicap, $6000 added—for 4 year olds and upward.

July 4 (Saturday) New Castle Handicap, $10,000 added—fillies and mares 3 year olds and upward.

P.M.C. NIPS BLUE HENS 2 TO 1 IN MOUND DUEL

Score In First And Never Headed In Avenging Former Setback

Pennsylvania Military College defeated the University of Delaware baseball team yesterday 2-1 to hand the Blue Hens their seventh loss of the year against eight wins and avenge a one-run defeat handed them by the Hens earlier in the year at Frazer Field.

Sam Lapolla, chunky little right hander, was a tough nut for the Blue and Gold to crack, especially with runners on the base. He gave up only six scattered hits, walked one, and scored the first Cadet run in the first frame on a single by Gil Gekoski.

Bill Tibbitt pitched quite a game himself and with a few more hits by his team mates would have fared much better. P.M.C. opened the scoring in the initial inning when with one down Lapolla singled, went to second on a ground out, and tallied on a single by Gekoski. The winning marker came across in the next inning when Sam Perkins, Cadet third sacker, led off with a three-base hit down the right field line and scored when Vince Bartolomeo grounded out to first base.

Delaware pushed across its only tally in the sixth inning on a triple by Bob Wilson and a squeeze bunt. Wilson with a triple and single was the only member of the Delaware club to solve the slants of Lapolla for more than one hit.

Clyde Robinson's Bird In Repeat Performance

A consistent winner, Robinson's bird is fast becoming the Whirlaway of the Air Waves, and, incidentally, a flying jackpot for Clyde.

To make the recent fly a completely local affair, George (Shorty) Chalmer's birds took third and fourth pool money.

Winning time for Robinson's birds were 1340.909 yds. per minute first place and 1340.727 yds. per minute second place. Chalmer's birds made 1332.578 and 1329.279 yds per minute third and fourth respectively.

Harness Racing Makes Debut Here On Saturday

The first local harness racing of the year will be seen on the track near the S. E. Dameron Farm, just outside Newark, Saturday afternoon, May 23, at one o'clock.

Horses from Dover, Townsend, Chestertown and Sudlersville are expected to compete with Newark equine stars for trotting and pacing honors in the affair being staged for benefit of the Army and Navy.

Five events are scheduled on the program.

Spring clean-ups and paint-ups are especially valuable this year to keep farmsteads in good condition, but discarded paint cans and brushes should be kept out of the barnyard. Because many lead paints have a "sweetish" taste, cattle will lick freshly painted surfaces, old paint cans and brushes, and sometimes die of lead poisoning.

TANKS ARE BACKBONE OF AMORED FORCES

American Made Behomoths Superior To Other Models

Pound-for-pound, tanks being made with American skill surpass any similar type in mobility and mechanical reliability. Hard hitting, tough, capable of out-running and out-lasting other models, American tanks didn't just happen to be good. Superiority was built into them by hundreds of precision tools. Each part is made to exact measurements and machine tools used to make them are of a special nature and size.

Thirty to fifty per cent of the weight of any tank is armor plate. To build a tank, hard thick steel that cannot be pierced by a rifle or machine gun bullet must be pressed, drilled and turned and reamed and milled to exact dimensions. Into a tank goes steel, nickel, brass, copper, aluminum, rubber, leather, glass, cotton, plastic, tin lead, and petroleum products. In its skeleton are rolled plates, castings, forgings, rivets, bolts, wire, tubing, ball and roller bearings, gears, electric motors, instruments, batteries and valves.

In a light tank are 14,000 individual pieces; in a medium tank, 25,000; in a heavy tank, 40,000, that must be machined, sub-assembled, and assembled. Many of the metal parts must be machined on boring mills, radial drilling machines, milling machines, and similar tools of much larger size than found in ordinary shops. The turret casting alone is as heavy as the average automobile. Armor castings and forgings are so tough that tungsten-carbide tools have to be used in nearly all turning and boring operations. Cutters of high-speed steel containing a high cobalt content must be used in milling and similar operations.

From beginning to end, the building of a tank is a task for machine tools. Without them would remain thin lines on drafting paper—with the right type of tools, they become the backbone of our armored forces.
