BIG MEDICAL BILLS!

Here's a new advance in health insurance for individuals and families — New York Life's LIFETIME MAJOR MEDICAL EXPENSE POLICY. This modern protection is guaranteed renewable throughout your life, with no reduction in benefits or benefit period —even after age 65. What's more, no matter how many times you collect benefits you cannot be singled out for a premium increase. Premiums can be increased only for all policyowners in your class.
You can have one of three plans best suited to your income. Your plan will specify sensible deductible and maximum benefit amounts to help protect you against the really big bills, at a reasonable premium. You, your wife, and your children can be covered by the same policy. If any covered person requires medical care, your policy will pay 80% of eligible expenses in excess of your deductible amount — up to your policy's maximum benefit — for each separate accident and unrelated illness.
These are only a few of the many valuable features of this outstanding new LIFETIME MAJOR MEDICAL EXPENSE POLICY. Call me for additional information.

PAUL D. LOVETT

Some few men find time to do many things well, and America has been fortunate in having such men. Paul D. Lovett was one of these — a husband, father, scholar, athlete, soldier — a leader in the business world, in his state, and his community of Newark where he lived with a host of friends since boyhood.

With the infinite number of demands upon his time, Paul Lovett continued to serve with calmness, kindness, and very real ability in his immeasurable contribution to Newark, the State of Delaware, and to America itself with its Boy Scouts grown to good manhood as a result of Mr. Lovett's influence.

Superintendent

Dr. Ernest E. Grosse

Washington district superintendent, Church of the Nazarene, Dr. Ernest E. Grosse will be the speaker in the Newark church at 27 North Chapel Street this Sunday at 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m.

In his annual visit to the congregation, Dr. Grosse will accept final payment on a loan made to the Newark church. Three years ago the local church received financial aid from the Washington district, with the amount to be retired in 10 years.

The local pastor, the Rev. Joseph D. Biscoe, Jr., reports that the expansion program then inaugurated, already is proving inadequate.

Trustees William Todd, Gilbert Dancy, John Gibbons, William Sweetman, Floyd Reynolds, and Calvin Houghton will participate in burning this portion of the church mortgage.

Parkland Planning County Need Cited By Mrs. Purcell

Mrs. Ralph E. Purcell, Democratic candidate for the White Clay Creek Hundred seat in the House of Representatives at Dover, issued a statement today on development of White Clay Creek parklands.

"Despite the rapid growth of Delaware since 1950 with a 40 per cent increase in population, little has been done to set aside public lands for recreation areas. Before lands become prohibitively expensive or occupied by housing or industry, space must be reserved for parks.

"Flood plain areas along our streams are natural sites for parklands. Keeping these areas free of buildings helps to control erosion and to maintain a healthy balance of nature. Both public authority and private groups need to merge their interests to see that such areas are reserved for the best use of the community and state," Mrs. Purcell stated.

"A non-partisan citizens committee for development of White Clay Creek parklands is being formed with David Doehlert as chairman.

"As a candidate for our state legislature, I heartily support such a move and feel the effort of such a group could become a great asset to the Newark area," she concluded.

Nuptial mass was performed by Father Roberto Baldvcelli and a reception followed at the Fournier Memorial Hall.

The bride, given in marriage by her stepfather, wore a gown of peau de soie enfashioned with scoop neckline and three quarter length sleeves and princess paneled skirt accented by three white rosettes at the waist in the back ending in a chapel train. Her veil was a mantilla edged with embroidered flowers around the frame and she carried a white lace Bible covered with an orchid.

Mrs. Raymond Panaro was matron of honor.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Richard F. Deery, sister-in-law of the bride; Miss Maureen Fahey, Miss Judith Punt, Miss Lois Southard, and Mrs. Theodore Kempski. Flower girl was Miss Victoria LeJeune, sister of the groom. All of the attendants wore empired styled floor length gowns of acetate rayon, with Mrs. Panaro wearing gold and the other attendants wearing green.

Mr. Daniel Alfred LeJeune, twin brother of the groom, was best man. The ushers were Mr. Richard F. Deery, brother of the bride; Mr. Donald Williams, Mr. Edward Machulski, Mr. Kenneth Kendzierski, and Mr. Wayne Crissman. Ernes Nepa was ring bearer.

The bride is a graduate of P. S. duPont High School and is employed by the duPont Co. The groom is a graduate of the Newark High School and is employed by Budd Co., Polychem Division, Newark.

The couple will reside at Concord Pike following a wedding trip to New York City.

Teen-Agers Offered "In-Orbit" Program With Spacemobile At Ogletown School

"In orbit" has been used to describe today's teen-agers, and at Ogletown Junior High School tomorrow, this will be especially true as the National Aeronautics and Space Administration Spacemobile arrives for its only stop in this area.

The Spacemobile is a specially designed panel truck equipped for NASA science lecture-demonstrations.

The Spacemobile visit will be for one day with a program on the Ogletown school stage.

Mrs. Catherine Y. Bonney, coordinator of science for the Newark special school district has announced that NSA speakers will trace the origin and development of rockets, using models and live demonstrations; explain principles recognized and stated by such men as Isaac Newton; and will discuss NASA projects including Mercury, Gemini, Apollo, Ranger, Surveyor, Prospector, and Tiros.

A highlight of the demonstration will be an operating scale model of a passive communication satellite system. This includes operating miniatures of the transmitter at Goldstone, Calif., the receiver at Holmdel, N. J., and the pastic Echo satellite system.

Arrangements for this program were made through Edward Hart, science supervisor of the State Department of Public Instruction in Dover.

A total of three shows will be put on to accomodate all the junior high students.

That man is truly free who desires what he is able to perform, and does what he desires.

Villanova To Invade Delaware Stadium In Saturday Test For Nelson's Gridders

Delaware and Villanova will meet for the first time since 1924, at Delaware Stadium this Saturday.

There have been three previous meetings of the two Eastern football powers, with Villanova holding a 2-1 edge. Delaware won the first meeting in 1895 by 10-6; lost 14-0 in 1896, and 17-3 in 1924.

Both teams have been high in regional and national rankings this year, and all seats for the contest have been sold for almost a month.

Delaware has defeated three Middle Atlantic Conference rivals—Lehigh, Gettysburg and Lafayette, scoring 104 points to opponents' 14, and the Blue Hens lost a 20-19 heartbreaker at Buffalo last Saturday. Villanova defeated West Chester, VMI and Buffalo, losing only to Boston College.

End coach Irv (Whiz) Wisniewski has scouted all four Villanova games this season, and the former Michigan grid star feels the Wildcats are as tough a team as the Hens have played in years.

In 1961, Ohio University provided the season's biggest test, and barely escaped with a 17-16 victory achieved on a 48-yard field goal in the final second of play.

Wisniewski believes Villanova is considerably stronger than the Bobcats were, and emphasizes that nothing less than an all-out effort will give Delaware its fourth win on Saturday.

Wisniewski reports that "Villanova has excellent depth and manpower, and their multiple-T offense is capable of some 32 variations.

"They've got a big strong line," the former Rose Bowl performer continued. "Their linemen block straight-on; there have been comparatively few plays where the guards pull to lead blocking; and the total picture is one of massive power up front. And they've got the backs to go behind the blocking, too."

A long, windy, fishless last Saturday on the North East River flats just west of the town bearing the river's name, was terminated an hour ahead of schedule with our arrest by two grim, unsmiling young representatives of the Maryland Department of Tidewater Fisheries.

We had no fish, so we were safe on that score, but we had no life preservers, either, in the rented rowboat with its 3.3-hp outboard motor —and this latter lack resulted in a trip to a magistrate in North East and a fine of $10 and costs.

The common complaint that "it wasn't the money, it was the principle" doesn't cover this case. This was a matter of money and principle, but with particular emphasis on principle.

Saturday's session on the North East River had involved some quiet, uneventful but pleasant fishing with a 14-year-young son who was unpleasantly exposed to his first bit of law enforcement, and with Fred Fernengel, an Ohio and Lake Erie sportsfisherman making his first start in local waters.

A warning would have sufficed, but the summons was duly written out and we followed the Maryland officer in our boat to the North East landing where we had rented it; waited in our car while he waited for a Maryland State Police car; and followed the Maryland Tidewater Fisheries representative and the state trooper to the nearest magistrate where required bond was posted.

Ignorance of the law is considered no excuse—and we were ignorant of that particular bit of legislation that stipulates life preservers must be provided for each person aboard a power boat—even a 3.3 outboard-powered rowboat. So, apparently, was the professional boatman who rented us the flat-bottomed skiff, because he said nothing while observing the entire embarkation operation.

And the Maryland Department of Tidewater Fisheries officers were tied up at that particular landing, well ahead and waiting for us, without our having told them where we had rented the boat.

And no fish!

Atlantic flyway duck hunters from Delaware northward, are reminded by John S. Gottschalk, director of the northeast region, Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife of the Department of the Interior's Fish and Wildlife Service, that current regulations permit the taking of two scaup ducks as bonus birds in the daily bag, and four bonus scaup are permitted in the possession limit, as this species remains in good supply.

Canvasback and redhead are still scarce and are protected.

Duck hunters are encouraged to identify the scaup in flight, thereby increasing their hunting opportunity.

To supplement educational material published by fish and game departments, the U. S. Department of the Interior has published a field guide for hunters — "Know your Ducks" — which is available at state fish and game department offices.

Ringneck ducks are quite similar in appearance to scaup, but are not to be included in the hunter's bag as bonus birds.

We're happy to have the legal opportunity to add a pair of scaup to the daily bag limit of two blacks, mallard, teal, baldpate, ringneck, gadwall, goldeneye, or shoveler — but scaup are next to impossible to distinguish from redheads and ringnecks in flight.

Many duck hunters don't even know the scaup by this name which varies from blackhead to bluebill to broadbill depending upon geographic hunting nomenclature. And one of the surest ways to meet a magistrate is to be caught with a dead redhead duck—or two bogus bonus ringnecks.

Mikolitch Scores 2 TD's As Newark JV's Win 12-7

Halfback Earl Mikolitch ran for two touchdowns last Monday as Coach Ed Bearer's Yellowjacket Jayvee football team defeated the Mt. Pleasant junior varsity at Newark, 12-7.

The Newark junior varsity is scheduled to play in New Castle against the William Penn Jayvees next Monday at 4 p.m.

Distaff Big Three At Delaware Park Gets Money Boost

Delaware Park, which first emphasized the distaff side of Thoroughbred racing in 1955 by establishment of its unmatched quarter-million-dollar series of filly and mare events, has increased the overall value of its Distaff Big Three to maintain high distinction in this field.

Donald P. Ross, president of the Delaware Steeplechase and Race Association, has announced an increase in added money value of both the New Castle Stakes and the Delaware Handicap, middle and climactic events of the triad. In addition, significant changes were made in conditions.

The New Castle will now carry $35,000 added money, (estimated gross $50,000) an increase of $10,000; and the Delaware Handicap, world's richest race for fillies and mares, will in future provide $125,000 (or more) added money, a $15,000 increase, (estimated gross $150,000).

The $50,000 added Oaks, (estimated gross $60,000) is the first of the Distaff Big Three races which are traditionally renewed on the final three Saturdays of July.

The total purse money for the Distaff Big Three in 1963 is certain to surpass the record $257,800 value of the 1961 series. The previous eight runnings have resulted in a total Distaff Big Three distribution of $1,966,475, for a yearly average of $245,809. No other series approaches this record.

Watson's Hen Soccermen Face PMC On Saturday

Coach Gene Watson's Delaware soccer varsity will play PMC on Frazer Field this Saturday at 2 p.m., and the Blue Hen booters are scheduled to play at Lehigh next Wednesday.

In the season opener here last week, Delaware tied Washington College with one goal, and last Tuesday, away, Watson's soccermen lost a 3-1 game to Ursinus.

Hens Lose To Buffalo In Final Seconds With 20-19 Thriller For First Setback

A passing drive by the University of Buffalo, culminating in a two-yard touchdown plunge with 36 seconds remaining, enabled the underdog Bulls to edge Coach Dave Nelson's Delaware Fightin' Blue Hens last Saturday 20-19.

It was the first loss of the season for the Hens who had defeated three Middle Atlantic Conference foes. Last year, the Hens also opened with three straight wins, then were defeated in their fourth game.

Delaware held a 19-6 lead well into the fourth quarter, only to see a fighting Bull squad complete pass after pass until the clincher.

Three reasons for the collapse stood out—the loss of corner halfback Ron McCoy, Delaware's top secondary man, who retired in the fourth quarter after taking a fearsome physical pounding; atrocious tackling by Hen defenders who repeatedly allowed receivers to slip away for extra yardage; and most significantly, the fantastic passing of Bull Quarterback John Stofa, who completed 10 of 14 passes for 224 yards and was successful in his final eight tosses.

Despite the loss, Hen coaches agreed that the team had played well against a bigger opponent. A steady stream of Buffalo casualties flowed from the field to the sidelines.

There were fine individual performances for Head Coach Dave Nelson, with the greatest contribution coming from Quarterback Ted Kempski, senior letterman from Wilmington.

Kempski completed eight of 12 passes for 98 yards, including a second-quarter toss of nine to Halfback Joe Slobojan for a touchdown, and called his plays beautifully to the end of the game. It was the third time the 175-pound Kempski has been a standout despite defeat, over the past two years.

McCoy, 180-pound senior fullback from Smyrna, again showed the form that gave him Hen rushing honors as a halfback in 1960. The gutty letterman carried 10 times for 47 yards and scored Delaware's first TD in the second quarter on a ten-yard power play. McCoy's top stand-in at full, Senior Tom Michaels of Sayreville, N. J., scored the Hens' third and final six-pointer on an awesome one-yard dive in the fourth period.

Sophomore End Wes Frith, 6-2 Flourtown (Pa.) native, made two fine catches of Kempski passes for a total of 27 yards.

Two other sophomore wingmen —Ron Bianco, 190, and Jack Messina, 185, caught a pass each for 10 and 32 yards.

Slobojan, 160-pound junior from Glenside, Pa., enjoyed his first standout offensive day this season, carrying six times for 38 yards in addition to his TD pass reception.

Also finishing with 38 yards rushing was Junior Halfback Mike Brown, 195, who carried 12 times. Buffalo's success in stopping Brown on the line of scrimmage the last three times he carried was another factor in Delaware's final quarter demise.

Statistically, the Blue and Gold was out-gunned. They were outrushed 135 to 134; out-passed 251 to 98; and concluded the afternoon with a 232-yard total offense compared with the Bulls' 386.

First downs were 16 for Buffalo, 15 for Delaware.

A bright spot was the rise of the Hens' punting average, as Junior End Arnie Rozental boomed out five for 209 yards, an average of over 41 yards per punt. Buffalo punted only twice.

The Bulls thus avenged last year's 36-12 loss to Delaware.

Coach Wisniewski Confident To Win With Hen Cagers

Last season, Delaware's Blue Hen cagers won 18 games, lost five for their best record in history, as Coach Irv Wisniewski experienced his first winning season and saw his cagers tie for third place in the Middle Atlantic Conference. Wisniewski is confident of another winning season.

Center and Captain-elect Nate Cloud leads the seven returning lettermen.

The 6-6 senior from Wilmington, was given All-ECAC recognition last season, and was named to the second team All-MAC. He and forward Dave Sysko, 6-4 junior, tied for the team scoring lead with 359 points and a 17.1 per-game average.

Cloud and Sysko, however, are not the only stars. Nate's brother Pete Cloud averaged 12.1 points per game last season as a sophomore, and the 6-4 junior will probably be switched from guard to forward.

Ron Smith, 6-4 junior, is slated to take over a starting guard spot after scoring 132 points as a forward last season.

The other guard post probably will be manned by 6-0 Junior Bill Haggerty, a slick playmaker and ballhandler.

Top men up from the frosh team include Center-Forward Mike Rollands, Forward Mike Osowski, Center Bill Scott, and Guard Hank DiGiacinto. Scott is the tallest of these at 6-7; Roland and Osowski are 6-5; but DiGiacinto, a pesky 5-6.

Wisniewski's team could have done even better last year as two of the losses—to the MAC St. Joseph's champs, and to LaSalle, were by one-point margins.

Experienced gained as sophomores by Pete Cloud and Sysko, plus the steady brilliance of Nate Cloud, should make this year's Hens even more formidable than last season's aggregation.

Correll, Bandak Pace Yellowjackets In Cross-Country

Big Ray Ciesinski's unbeaten Yellowjackets face the 2-2 Colonials of William Penn in a cross-country test this afternoon at Rockford Park, and the Newark harriers recently added a pair of victories to their championship campaign with wins over De La Warr and P. S. du Pont.

The Yellowjackets nipped De La Warr 27-31 last Thursday, and defeated the Du Pont Dynahs 20-42 on Tuesday of this week.

Newark shares a 5-0 first place tie with Brandywine's Bulldogs for Blue Hen Conference championship honors, and the two leaders are slated to meet next Thursday.

The Yellowjackets run against winless Dickinson next Tuesday, with all meets scheduled at Rockford Park in Wilmington at 3:30 p.m.

Jake Correll finished first in Newark's win over De La Warr, with Yellowjackets Jon Owens, Chris Shuster, Tom Davies, Dick Hawthorne, and Terry Crowe taking fifth through ninth place points.

Newark's Sam Bandak led a parade of Yellowjackets in finishing second to P. S. du Pont's Cooper, with Bruce Jones in third place, followed in order by Hawthorne, Owens, Correll, Davies, Shuster, Rod Gillespie, and Crowe.

Yellowjackets Outplay Knights In Face William Penn In Homecoming

Coach Bob Hoffman's Yellowjackets, who outplayed undefeated Mt. Pleasant in a scoreless tie last Saturday, return home for a 10:30 a.m. kickoff this Saturday against another unbeaten squad — the powerful Billy Cole Colonials of New Castle, who occupy the top rung on the Blue Hen Conference ladder with four wins. William Penn withstood a fourth quarter rally by P. S. du Pont last week to win a 7-0 thriller. Saturday's game will be Newark's Homecoming contest.

Newark came within one-yard and a split second of winning last Saturday's set-to with the Green Knights at Mt. Pleasant, as time ran out with the Yellowjackets a slim yard from their hosts' goal line.

Hoffman's gridders, plagued with penalties, rolled to 15 first downs while Mt. Pleasant was able to muster but seven; Newark outgained the Knights on the ground, 189 to 102; and outpassed their opponents 73 yards to 28.

Halfback Charlie Hayman missed the Mt. Pleasant game with a knee injury suffered against Dickinson; and Quarterback Norris Saunders and Fullback Reg Watson injured ankles in the Mt. Pleasant test and may be out of action against William Penn.

End Joe Brothers injured a shoulder against P. S. du Pont, and has seen but limited action since, and Sophomore End Les Baldwin is out for the season with a shoulder separation.

Hoffman's probable starting lineup for Saturday's session has Walt Jones and Art Durham at ends; Jim Walker and Jim Hayman, tackles; Doug Hunt and Jerry Wolf guards; Dan Suppe, center; Mike Kubico, quarterback; Harvey Folk and George McCaulley, halfbacks, and Co-Capt. Lee Hackney at fullback.

50,000 Acre Loss Of Cropland Cited By Gerald Vaughn

Delaware has experienced tremendous changes in its pattern of land use since the end of World War II. Land devoted to the production of crops has decreased almost 50,000 acres while housing developments, highways and parks have spread over an equal area.

Gerald F. Vaughn, U. S. Department of Agriculture economist at the University of Delaware, cites statistics from agricultural census and land use studies that show a decrease in the state's cropland from 501,000 acres in 1945, to 453,000 acres in 1959.

During the same period, pasture and grazing land decreased from 103,000 to 63,000 acres; land in farmsteads, farm roads, and farm lanes from 14,000 to 10,000 acres; and forests and woodland from 442,000 to 392,000 acres.

During this period Vaughn notes an increase in land devoted to cities and densely populated unincorporated areas from 23,000 to 62,000 acres—almost a threefold increase.

Land used for highways, railroads, and airports increased from 23,000 to 30,000 acres, and land used for rural parks increased from practically nothing to more than 4,000 acres.

Marshland, sand dunes, other unused land, and miscellaneous land uses accounted for the biggest acreage increase, jumping from 122,000 acres in 1945 to almost 209,000 acres in 1959.

Wildlife management, national defense and state-owned institutions accounted for another 5,000 acre increase from 38,000 at the close of World War II to 43,000 in 1959.

Vaughn believes these shifts in land use can be accounted for in two ways—technological advances that have permitted land to be removed from agricultural and timber production, and increased urbanization throughout much of the state.

Zimmerman Offers Farmer Advice On Wheat Program

Wheat diversion and additional price-support payments are new features of the 1963 wheat stabilization program. Jacob Zimmerman, chairman of the agricultural stabilization and conservation state committee, said today.

These payments were provided by the new farm law, signed by President Kennedy on Sept. 27. They supplement marketing quotas and price supports previously in effect for the 1963 wheat crop.

Zimmerman said that signup in the wheat diversion program is underway, and urged that questions about the program be referred to the ASCS county office.

Ways To Banish "Ironing Blues" Offered By Coral Morris, New U. D. Specialist

Homemakers can banish "ironing blues" with improved shopping, laundry or ironing practices.

Here are some suggestions from Coral Morris, new University of Delaware home management specialist:

Buy articles that need little or no ironing. Avoid ruffles and complicated patterns in garments that require ironing. Choose good-quality merchandise, made of good material and with good seam construction. These garments are easier to iron than those that have been cut skimpily or made poorly.

Try to prevent unnecessary wrinkling in articles during laundering. The more wrinkles in clothes, the more time and energy-consuming ironing will be.

Clothes usually get less wrinkled if they are dryer-dried (but not too dry), even after being spun in the washer cycle, than if they are allowed to drip-dry. Folding articles as you remove them from the line or dryer also helps to prevent unnecessary wrinkling.

Do a good job of dampening clothes. Too much moisture slows up ironing; to little makes wrinkles difficult or impossible to remove.

For most effective dampening, sprinkle clothes with warm water. It penetrates more quickly than cold water. Place dampened, folded, articles in a plastic bag or basket liner to prevent loss of moisture. Let clothes stand long enough to distribute the moisture evenly.

Choose an ironing board that can be adjusted to your standing or sitting height. The padding and cover on the board should be smooth, firm and free from wrinkles. A holder to keep the iron cord out of the way while ironing is a big help.

Iron with long, smooth, slow strokes. These motions take less energy than quick, short strokes. Pressure on the iron is unnecessary and fatiguing.

To save time and eliminate extra handling, arrange garments on the ironing board so that you will have maximum ironing surface. Always iron on the grain line of a garment to avoid stretching it out of shape.

Iron white and light cottons on the right side unless they develop a shine; iron dark cottons on the wrong side. To avoid wrinkling and extra heat, move ironed parts away from you rather than toward you.

Plan to iron when you are fresh and alert. Listening to good music or an interesting radio or television program makes the task more pleasant. Ironing may also provide an opportunity to do some creative thinking or planning.

Finally, stop ironing before you become too tired, Miss Morris advises.

Governor Invites Visits To Schools With Lunch Week

$3,224,801 Program Aids Majority Of 91,940 Pupils In State Public Schools

Governor Elbert N. Carvel has invited parents and "all others interested in our schools" to visit during School Lunch Week — Oct. 15-19—public school cafeterias and "learn at first hand the scope and benefits of the school lunch program."

The chief executive pointed out that all but a comparatively few of the 91,490 children attending Delaware public schools benefit from this program. A few small schools lack lunch facilities.

Carvel stated that during the 1961-62 school term, 5,033,100 Type-A lunches were served in Delaware's public schools, and 112,062 of these were provided without charge to youngsters unable to pay for their lunches.

The cost of this program was $3,-224,801 of which $1,698,678 was paid by participating students; $454,917,-000 was paid by the state and participating school districts; and $129,-174.00 by the federal government.

City Council

In support of the Jaycee campaign for safety seat belts, council urged all city employees to buy and use them.

Requests from Roseville Park residents for city water main extensions of 2,940-ft. at an estimated cost of $21,000, were reported, and council is reviewing this problem with Tybout's observation that the Public Service Commission has declared this area as Newark service territory.

Barksdale Bridge

At a recent meeting with the State Highway Department in Dover, Neide reported "pressing for a new overpass on Barksdale Road over the B&O," and that the state will provide a wider bridge if the "Federal Bureau of Public Roads will help pay for it."

Councilman William M. Coverdale called attention to a trash dump within the city limits; an overcrowded fraternity house on Courtney Street in violation of the building code; and cited "an industrial plant as a "chronic offender" with air pollution.

"Put the pressure on them," Rankin advised after Coverdale's comment that "we passed an ordinance preventing our neighbors from burning trash." The mayor said that two plants had admitted stack trouble and had offered to pay for car washing necessitated by soot.

Neide is to arrange a meeting with those concerned in the air pollution problem.

At Mrs. McClendon's suggestion, council approved a policy of parkland purchase and recreation program approval, and Stanley Francis of the Greater Newark Recreation Association is to recommend playground areas desired within the city, with the GNRA staff to work with the city manager in such planning.

To expedite council approval of the annual municipal budget, Neide proposed to submit the budget for 1964, early in November of 1963—a month ahead of schedule.

Mayor Rankin called for a special meeting of council to be held Thursday, Oct. 25, at 7:30 p.m. to discuss the Public Administration Service professional survey of Newark's municipal government.
