Delaware Students Like Ike

Susie Ries

G. Richard Price

Gilbert Smith

Frosh Elect Price President, One Out-of-Stater as Officer

Members of the Freshman class have elected G. Richard Price their first class president.

Other officers who were selected in last Monday's balloting include: vice president, Barbara Bilancioni; secretary, Susie Ries; treasurer, Gilbert Smith and SGA representative, Ronald Nowland.

Price, who edged his nearest opponent by eight votes, is a graduate of Smyrna High School, where he was president of the Student Council, president of the Junior class, editor of the school newspaper and president of the Methodist Youth Fellowship. As his first official duty, Price will deliver a welcome address at the opening session of the Parents Conference on November 10.

P.S. duPont Grad

Miss Bilancioni was vice president of her sophomore, junior and senior class at P. S. duPont High School, a member of honor society, leader corps, the yearbook staff, class council, and a May Court attendant.

Miss Ries, the only out-of-state officer, comes from Haddon Heights High School in Haddon Heights, New Jersey, where she was a student government secretary, national honor society president, the recipient of the DAR good citizenship award, prom chairman and a member of the yearbook and newspaper staffs.

Smith, a Mount Pleasant

graduate, was treasurer of his student government and sophomore class, a member of honor society and choir and participated in football and basketball for four years.

Close Contest

Nowland, who emerged victorious in the closest contest of the election, comes from Smyrna High School, where he was president of his class from seventh to twelfth grade, a senator to Delaware's Boy's State, and attended Roanoke College, Virginia, where he was president of the Wesley Foundation and served on the Honor Council.

The results of the elections, in which 234 freshmen voted, terminated two weeks of campaigning by the candidates. Petitions were handed in on October 19. "The turnout was only average," commented Alfred J. Walter, SGA president, who blamed the light turnout on the inclement weather.

Candidates were introduced at the class meeting on October 16 on the steps of the Memorial Library where each presidential aspirant gave a brief speech.

Other candidates for office included: President—Robert Bruce Weaver, Neal F. Warrington, Jay M. Wilde, Steve Potter and Buddy Melvin; Vice president—Patrick Renaid; Secretary—Lois Carl; Ginger Sheffer and Christine Van Dine; Treasurer—Kate Bailey; SGA representative—Thomas Maddux, Phyllis Mikell and Martha Skeen.

Polls Closed

A number of freshmen went to Mitchell Hall shortly before 5 p. m. at which time the polls were supposed to close, but found no one there to take their votes. The matter was referred to Charles Thompson, chairman of the SGA elections committee, who stated that "the matter is now under consideration."

Kent Reveals Secret To Winning Success

By Carol Jones

What makes Kent Hall a winning team? What's the inside story—what goes on in the game room of Kent Hall the week before a home football game?

It all began at Kent's first house meeting when Mary Lou Mauro, social chairman, asked for volunteers to work on the West Chester game decorations and received a list of names including the majority of the girls in the dormitory. The girls said they were willing to help with the decorations for any game, so Mary Lou divided the list into groups of six or seven.

It has not been, therefore, an especially talented few who have dreamed up the ideas or carried out the work; instead, for each of the three home games, a different group has been in charge of decorations. In fact, with the exception of one junior, the Homecoming decorations' group was composed entirely of inexperienced freshmen.

Thus far, each particular group has voluntarily devoted practically all their spare time to making the decorations a success, but they have by no means been working alone. The general dormwide spirit has been an important factor in Kent's success. Ideas for the theme and suggestions as the decorations progress during the week are heard from one and all. Very often, as girls not on the committee walk through the game room, they get caught in the spirit of things and pitch in to help, and many girls join in the struggle of setting up the finished product. Every girl in the dormitory has helped in some way, large or small, with the decorations this fall.

Despite rumors to the contrary, no resident of Kent Dormitory has served on a decoration judging committee as yet. The cheerleaders chose two professors to judge the decorations, but they decided to ask Interfraternity Council and Women's Executive Council to provide them with judges after that. The judges for the last two home game decoration contests have been members of IFC and WEC, but not residents of Kent Dormitory.

'Review' Straw Vote Predicts Landslide Win by Republicans

President Dwight D. Eisenhower gained an over-whelming majority of votes in the Review Straw Hat Poll conducted last week.

Of the 411 people responding to the poll, 283 expressed a preference for the Republicans, 107 for the Democrats, while 21 were undecided.

Among the 149 eligible voters who replied, the Republicans outnumbered the Democrats better than 2 to 1—104 to 45.

Two striking similarities in the opinions of the two parties appear in the issues concerning foreign policy and the farm problem. Of the eligible voters, 87.5 per cent of the Republicans and 91.1 per cent of the Democrats chose the foreign policy as one of the most important issues in the campaign. In a like-wise manner, 43.8 per cent of the Republicans and 56.7 per cent of the Democrats selected the farm problem as an important issue.

'Lab' Theatre To Introduce Frosh Actors

Freshmen thespians will make their university debut Tuesday night as the E-52 Laboratory Theatre is presented in Mitchell Hall at 8:15 p. m. There is no admission charge.

The program will consist of two one-act plays, "The Monkey's Paw" by W. W. Jacobs, and a cutting from Phillips Barry's "Spring Dance." Mr. David Owens, director of dramatics at the Claymont High School will give a critique of the performances at the conclusion of the two plays. Mary Minkiewicz is directing "The Monkey's Paw," and Peter Ellsworth is director for "Spring Dance."

Eight freshmen predominate the cast in "Spring Dance": Carol Sinkinson, Joanne Collier, Jan Cox, Mary Jo Kane, Pat Seney, Bob MacDonald, Joe DiAngelos and Jim McGuinness. Two upper classmen will also appear in Peter Ellsworth's play; they are Ginger Bruce and James McKenney.

In "The Monkey's Paw" the cast is composed of upper classmen: Phyllis Jones, Earl Alger, Rav Kitchen, Carl Seitzer and Jack Scott. Mary Minkiewicz's play is a thriller concerning a withered monkey's paw which has the power to grant to its owners three wishes. "Spring Dance" is a light comedy about the preparation for the big spring dance at a New England girl's school.

Mary Minkiewicz and Peter Ellsworth are senior Drama majors and active members of the E-52 University Theatre. Although Mary wasn't seen in the first production this year, she appeared in all three productions last season. Peter is presently the production manager for the E-52 University Theatre.

Aggies to Sponsor Hop on Saturday

The Del-Melodians will provide the music for an informal dance to be held tomorrow night in the Ag Hall.

Sponsored by Alpha Zeta, honorary agricultural fraternity, in conjunction with the faculties of the Schools of Home Economics and Agriculture, admission is free. However, it is restricted to students of Home Economics and Agriculture.

Perkins Entertains

President and Mrs. John A. Perkins are holding a faculty reception in Warner Hall on November 2 at 8 p.m.

All faculty are invited to attend. The evening will be highlighted by dancing.

Opinions Split
Significant differences of opinion were expressed on the following points: Communism, the President's health and the labor policy. The greatest margin is illustrated in the issue of Communism—38.4 per cent of the Republicans as opposed to 2.4 per cent of the Democrats considered it important.

Opposition in another case was that of the effect of the President's health in the campaign. Only 10.5 per cent of the Republicans in contrast to 35.3 per cent of the Democrats felt that this was an important matter.

Democrats, 42.2 per cent of them, considered labor policy of importance, while only 18.2 per cent of the Republicans marked it as such.

Nixon Issue

A marked controversy was shown in the issues of integration. It was certainly more important to the Republicans—a ratio of 3 to 1.

The greatest difference of opinion was evident in the effect of Richard Nixon as a help or hindrance to the Republican party. He was the choice of 60.5 per cent of the Republicans to be a help while 77.8 per cent of the Democrats felt that he will be a hindrance.

The ineligible voters outnumber the eligible voters by approximately 2 to 1.

As with the eligible voters, the foreign policy and the farm problem were considered the most important issues. The feel-

Brown Residents Invite Campsites To Party Tonight

Brown Hall will sponsor its first Inter-Dorm Open House of the season tonight from 8 to 11 p. m.

Dancing, ping-pong, cards and refreshments will be offered at the party, where the theme is Halloween. An invitation is extended to all university students.

Committee chairmen include: clean-up, Bruce Chappelle; refreshments, Stan Tobasso and Ciro Poppitt; posters, Ed LaFond and decorating, Neil Warrington.

Chaperones for the party are Mr. Stanley Thomas, and Mrs. Elsie B. Lawson, resident director.

See you at the polls!

Honor Codes Become Coed's Voting Issue

The honor system, a code by which each woman student is responsible for her behavior, is now in the process of being accepted by the women of the South-Campus dormitories.

Most of the dormitories have already accepted the honor system, and have the approval of the Women's Executive Council indicating that they may use it. Kent Hall and Johnston House were the first dormitories to bring their petitions before the honor system committee of the WEC. Later petitions that were approved include those of Sussex, New Castle and Cannon Halls. This honor system committee consists of Ellen Hoffman, chairman, Helen Briggs, Jean Leonard and Gail Wossey.

With the dormitory's acceptance of the honor system, each individual residing in the dormitory will be expected to obey the honor system rules which are posted in all women's living quarters.

All offenses against the honor system will be reviewed by the House Council of the dormitory involved. At the discretion of the Council, the person involved may be referred to the Judicial Committee of the Women's Executive Council for further action, which may cause the entire dormitory to be removed from the honor system.

Loretta Wagner, chairman of the WEC, expressed her hope that every dormitory will accept the honor system. "It is every girl's duty, not just a privilege, to take part in this system," she said.

Committee Reviews Problem of Judging Homecoming Floats

Loretta Wagner, Earl Alger, Jerry Goosenberg, Dave Tompkins and Pat Lyons have been appointed by the SGA to investigate the possibilities of having separate men's and women's division of float awards for Homecoming 1957.

This committee met yesterday with Mr. Gordon Godbey, director of extension, to discuss the problem. The inquiry was prompted at the request of various living groups on campus who felt that the rules for the men and women should be different.

Parents Receive Invitations To Conference November 10

Invitations have been issued by John A. Perkins, university President, to parents of new students for the sixth annual Parents' Conference on November 10.

The planning committee has set up a program for the conference which includes an opening session at Mitchell Hall with John E. Hocutt, Dean of Students, presiding. This meeting will feature a welcome by Alfred J. Walters, Jr., SGA president, the introduction of deans and the Freshman class president, and an address by President Perkins.

Group discussions will follow. They will be held in the various schools and are to be supervised by faculty members and students appointed by the deans as discussion group leaders. After the discussions, individual conferences with instructors will take place. From 12:15 to 1:30 p. m., there will be a cafeteria luncheon.

Parents registered at the conference will be university guests for the Delaware-Rutgers game at the stadium. Following the game, President and Mrs. Perkins will entertain the parents from 4 to 5 p. m. in Warner Hall Hillarium.

Cooperating student groups for the Parents' Conference include: SGA; Alpha Phi Omega service fraternity; Delaware Student Teachers' Association; Junior Counselors; Omicron Delta Kappa, men's honorary leadership organization and Tassel, women's honorary leadership organization.

Student members of the planning committee are: Alfred J. Walter, Henry Gerstenberg and Patricia Samples. Faculty members are: Dr. Evelyn Cliff, associate professor of history; Mr. Harold W. Condra, director of food service; Mr. F. Francis Lindell, associate professor of mechanical engineering; Dr. Wallace H. Maw, associate professor of education; Mr. Stanley C. Thomas, head resident adviser and Miss Margaret H. Black, guidance counselor, chairman.

Tassel Sponsors Last Get-Together For Away Games

The final "Listening Party" of the season, sponsored by Tassel, will take place tomorrow at 1:30 p. m. in the Scrounge.

As at the former gatherings, members of this honorary women's scholastic and leadership organization will work behind the soda fountain, facilitating the purchasing of the usual refreshments. No sandwiches or grilled products, however, will be sold.

Tassel holds these informal get-togethers so that sports enthusiasts who are unable to attend the away football games (University of Connecticut in this case), will have a chance to hear the radio broadcasts while relaxing in the Student Union. Radios will be located at strategic locations throughout the Scrounge to enable clear listening.

University Offers Second Polio Shot

The second Salk polio vaccine injection will be given to those students who have had their first, on the following dates: October 31 from 8 to 9 a. m., November 1 from 11 a. m. to 12 noon, November 2 from 1 to 2 p. m. and 4 to 5 p. m. and November 9 from 1 to 2 p. m. and 4 to 5 p. m.

UD To Present Drama Conclave November 1

The 17th Delaware Dramatic Conference will be held at the university on November 1.

Four hundred delegates representing community theaters, college theaters and high school organizations are expected to attend. The highlight of the conference will be an address by Pauline Koner, nationally known dancer and choreographer. Appearing with Miss Koner will be the Jose Limon modern dance company. Miss Koner will also give a dance lecture demonstration at the evening meeting.

The program includes a scene from "Two Crooks and a Lady" presented as old-fashioned melodrama, tragedy, and farce by Newark High School, William Penn High School, and Wilmington High School. Mrs. Mabel Wright Henry, recently returned from a year's study of Children's Theater on a Ford Foundation Fellowship, will discuss "The Place of Children's Theater in the Theater Program" at a section meeting in the afternoon. Also included in the program is discussion of "The Practical Aspects of Scene Design" by Thomas Watson, Technical Director of the Department of Dramatics Arts and Speech here.

In the afternoon, the students will conduct panel discussions on "Staging the Play" and "Selecting the Play." A student recreation hour will follow the evening meal.

University students with ID cards will be admitted free of charge to the conference. Interested students and faculty members are invited to attend the reception immediately following the evening meeting.

Home Game Tickets Available to Students During Coming Week

Tickets for the remaining home football games with Bainbridge, Rutgers and Temple will be available on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Students may pick up the tickets at the athletic office upon presentation of their ID cards from 8:30 a. m. until 5 p. m.

At this time, new students will also receive complimentary tickets for their parents who will be university guests at the Rutgers Game, following the Parents Conference on November 10.

Dean Penrose Receives Education Grant to Hague

Dr. William O. Penrose, Dean of the School of Education at the university has been granted a leave of absence of one year to attend the Institute of Social Studies at the Hague in the Netherlands and to conduct research on the system of higher education following in that nation.

The university official plans to sail from New York on Saturday, December 22, and arrive in Le Harve, France, six days later. Dr. Penrose expects to spend one year in the Netherlands, six months attending the Advance Diploma Course in Public Administration at the Institute and the remaining period conducting individual research. He will return to his post at the university in December, 1957.

Dr. Penrose was notified of his acceptance in the Dutch program by Prof. Dr. E. de Vries, rector of the Institute of Social Studies. It was also revealed that Dr. Penrose has been awarded a scholarship from the Netherlands Universiteits Foundation for International Cooperation to cover the cost of board and lodging during the first half year as well as an offer of free tuition from the Institute. It is expected that he will receive a fellowship from the Dutch government which will defray expenses incurred during the final six months of his visit. In reality, observed the Delaware educator, both systems of education have their own merits. He added that it might be possible to establish some middle ground between the system involving stringent check points in the education of college students and the concept employed by Dutch universities. Many universities in Europe do not possess the extensive physical facilities of American colleges. (Continued on Page 10)

Elliot Lawrence Band to Play At IFC Ball on November 17

The Elliot Lawrence Orchestra will play at the Inter-Fraternity Council Ball on November 17 from 8 p. m. to 12 midnight in the Carpenter Field House, where the IFC Queen will be crowned. Friday evening there will be house parties at each of the fraternity houses.

The orchestra has been playing from the time Lawrence was a student at the University of Pennsylvania, where he won the Hurley Cross Scholarship at the end of the first semester. He led the U of P band and the school orchestra. A member of the Mask and Wig Society, he took part in two presentations by that famous group. He was admitted to Kite and Key, national honor fraternity.

Immediately after graduating, at the age of nineteen, he became the youngest executive in radio by being appointed musical director of WCAU in Philadelphia. Shortly after taking the position, he composed "Suite for Animals" and guest-conducted the National Symphony Orchestra under the direction of the eminent conductor, Leon Barzen. He also accepted an invitation to arrange "Roumanian Rhapsody" for Billy Rose's stage production, "The Seven Lively Arts," which featured Benny Goodman. His recent original compositions include "The Ivory Tower," "Once Upon a Moon," "Willie," and "The Greatest Little Boy," all of which have been recorded by Columbia records.

After an unusually successful series of appearances in 1947, Elliot took his group to the famed Palladium in Hollywood, where he was toasted as the newest and brightest star on the horizon. As in '46, the band won all honors for college dates and won the annual Campus Poll conducted by "Billboard Magazine." They later triumphed in the Billboard Disc Jockey Poll and duplicated both accomplishments again in 1948. Other outstanding awards were made by "Orchestra World Magazine" and many independent college polls.

Elliot has become one of the most active conductors in radio and television. Currently, he is the musical director of "The Dunninger Show" (NBC-TV) and the "Amoco Show" (CBS Radio Network).

Conditions Signify Deficient Grades For Fall Courses

A great many carefree freshmen are in for a big shock. At the close of the first marking period, the six weeks ending October 27, instructors will issue notices of unsatisfactory work to all students doing poorly in their courses.

These conditions are also sent to the student's parents and advisor. The notices generally prove to the students that they aren't the only ones who know how little studying they have been doing.

The freshmen should realize that although these conditions are in no way final, they are to act as a warning as to what may occur if the student fails to study.

The Importance

Of College Votes

In little more than a week one of the greatest of American prerogatives will be put to use — the right to vote. This right to choose our representatives is one of the most important factors in the preservation of our democratic society. All too often, however, this privilege is abused by the millions of disinterested voters who fail to cast their ballots every four years. Past elections have shown that little more than half the eligible registered voters exercise this right.

Both of the major political parties look to the youth to set an example, as evidenced by the vigorous drives on college campuses by the Young Democrat and Active Young Republican Organizations. Unfortunately, student apathy on the subject of politics and elections in general is prevalent throughout the country, including Delaware where only half the students vote yearly in the Student Government elections.

Both parties recognize the voting of youth as an indication for the future. How the vote is likely to go in coming elections is of vital interest in the making up, by the parties, of future plans and platforms.

Fierce competition now exists for the youth's vote between the Republicans and Democrats. A recent nationwide survey by the Gallup poll indicates that President Eisenhower now holds a 48 per cent - 47 per cent edge over Mr. Stevenson among voters in the 21-29 age group, with 5 per cent still undecided. This is a slight switch from 1952 when 51 per cent - 49 per cent supported Stevenson.

The importance of voting to the eligible college student cannot be over-emphasized. By voting he is helping to make decisions that are bound to affect his future in the business world, in the labor market, in the field of agriculture and in the armed services. In addition he may be affecting the voting status, four years from now, of his younger counterparts — the 18, 19 and 20 year olds. And, he will be helping to preserve a great American tradition that appears to be losing its popularity — the right to vote.

Even Pogo says, "If you can't vote my way, vote any way — but VOTE (on November 6)!"

Letter to the Editor

If one had all of the Review issues which have appeared in the last year, a well lubricated pair of shears, a strong right hand and a stout heart he could become a better person. He could become a better person, an asset to the school, a man of high moral character and a flawless fighter for school spirit—a mature, well-behaved, respectful college student — by pasting your editorials in a scrapbook and perusing his collective sins altogether instead of in serial form.

"I am certain that the students do not have a lack of respect for the officials of this university. I believe that the unprecedented display, you speak of, was not personal but only an expression of the excitement which goes with a football game. It surely would not have happened at a convention exercise. If it were meant to be anything else, I can do nothing but suggest issuance of an "immaturity button" for each undergraduate to be displayed until the convulsions of each brain have reached their proper depth. Do not begin to order them yet, however.

In addition, I am certain that everything you are bringing us on the carpet for in your editorials is not correct. The carpet is merely over-used. We are not flawless and we have our imperfections. It is your tone and lecture-like pugnacity which is annoying. School spirit and pride in belonging to a good college is not accomplished by slapping the grubby fingers which drop the books, harassing the cheerleaders or doling out mass chastisement to a student body which thought an editorial page was for something other than a trip to the woodshed.

Alvin Riggs

Editor's Note: The kind of college student you speak of is exactly what we are striving for in our editorials. Also our "slapping of grubby fingers" has apparently worked—at least in the case of the cheerleaders. Your points are well taken and if our tone is pugnacious, we shall try to improve.

Weiver-gator waddled, slithered and swam down campus ogling the sights as he went. Now Weiver-gator is the Review mascot who has taken over the job of siphoning the choicest tidbits for this column.

As last week's paper was Weiver's first assignment, he got lost on the way to the printers and lost part of this column in the Delaware River. It, however, floated back on high tide. So here it is!

Many fraternity pins were dislodged last weekend. Kay Hammond and Richard Lewis, Carol Ferguson and Tom Simpson and Helen Briggs and Lew Miller were among the select. Phyllis Feige received an anchor from Jack Van Nimar, U. S. N. A.

Engaged were Joyce Gottshall and Pete Ellsworth. Anita Engwall and Alan Ellsworth were married two weeks ago.

Fancying himself as somewhat of a thespian, Weiver decided to attend E-52's production. Not wishing to take up several seats as he normally would, he viewed the on-and-off stage performers back stage. One of the things our mascot found the most enjoyable was the make-up—especially Amanda's legs. He was particularly tickled to find a male make-up artist drawing on the varicose veins.

Quick changes added to the fast pace. Members of the costume staff stood poised with apparel ready to accelerate. Of course, performers don't some outside apparel on stage. One enthusiastic lead nightly hastened the break-are of the menagerie.

As no curtain was used during scenery changes, property people were requested to wear dark clothing which included dark shoes and socks. One girl repeatedly appeared without dark socks, and so dark brown make-up was used to color her ankles.

The show was climaxed by the dimming of the lights for curtain calls. But judging from the applause of the audience, Weiver concluded that this didn't diminish their enthusiasm.

Unable to accompany the football team to New Hampshire, our friend joined the crowd at the Listening Party in the scrounge. He was quite over-joyed at our winning the game.

Resting awhile in the commuter's lounge, he overheard that Dorothy Long was engaged to Richard Gryzbowski and Mary Lou Reardon to James Walsh recently.

Last week, Sonya Roeburg received a diamond from Roddy Gross.

It's All Greek...

An audience of brothers at the Phi Kappa Tau house recently enjoyed a thrilling dance featuring the flashing feet of Zap and Deets, and the pulsating rhythm of Draper's drums. The performance owes its success to long hours of rehearsal lasting far into the night.

The carefully selected four-man handball squad took to the courts this week. They are defending their intramural championship which they won last year.

Welcome to Gene Wollaston, who joined the fraternity as a pledge last week.

Tonight, "Sigma Nu, in keeping with the season, will hold a costume party. Music will be provided by Clyde Bessick and his combo, and everyone can chug-a-lug cider to their heart's content. We hear that George Starzman and Frank Wickes are working feverishly on costumes.

Last week's party for Freshmen girls was a great success with a huge bevy of coeds coming up for a tour of the house, dancing and punch. Congratulations to Miss Serena Cook who won the title of Sigma Nu's Fresh-Sweetheart, 1956.

Thanks to Jimmy Smith and his team for the great job they did for Sigma Nu in the intramural football games.

The brothers of Kappa Alpha extend a hearty welcome to Lou Cash and Jean Luling. Both men became pledges last week.

Congratulations to the KA football team on winding up with a good season. Brother George Adams suffered a slight mishap in the last football game. It seems his head got in the way of somebody's knee. Boy, is he pretty!

Another brother, Skip Crawford, also gained a place of distinction last week. He got the "Mumps." Leave it to Skip.

Brothers Bill Baldt, Bob Hitchens, Dick Stewart and J. B. Welch took a little journey to Wilmington last week to see the Vice-President of the United States. Ask one of 'em about their journey and they'll say, "KA's fixin' to vote for Nixon."

The work day last Saturday was a great success although work was a little mingled with TV watching and record listening. Brother Tom Adams was in charge and did a great job of supervising.

As the University of Delaware social season progresses, so the Alpha Tau Omega social season progresses. In view this weekend is an "Old Clothes Party" to be held in the chambers of the Taus Mahal. For those who wish to dance, the Hammond Room will be transferred into a ballroom, while the cellar will be used for various games in recognition of Halloween.

Now that the football season has ended, many of the Taus are participating in handball and ping pong tournaments which have started. Brother Bob Woodruff, Dave Norcross, Bill Orlando and Gary Gill make up the handball team, while Brothers Alan and Bob Woodruff, Dave Norcross and social member Al Huebner make up the ping pong team.

Congratulations to Brothers Jim Davis and John Warren on their recent initiation to Alpha Chi Sigma.

The "Four Snaps" set the pace behind the Sigma Phi Epsilon "Big Red Door" for last Saturday night, as the brothers and their dates danced to the red hot sax, drum, bass, trombone and piano combination. If action is what constitutes a great party, we really had it and our first "house party" was a great success.

Tomorrow evening, Brother Simmerman, our social chairman, has made arrangements for another great party. Get out your "hood" clothes and get ready for a good time for at 8 p.m. tomorrow, the "Sig Ep Hood" party will commence. These will undoubtedly be a mass restoration of "pegged pants, suede shoes, Mr. "B" collars and six button beanies." Ivy league clothes will definitely be out of order, so don't come "la conservataire."

Congratulations are in order for our new pledges Don Hutton, Bill Taylor and Paul Nlekel.

Hearty congratulations also go to "Sig Ep" championship football team under the tutelage of "Uncle Billy" Barlow and Dick "Feathers" Matthews.

Thanks to the scotch-tape culprits, this Alpha Epsilon Pi article is being written in total darkness!

Congratulations to Roddy Gross and Miss Sonya Roeborg who announced their engagement last week.

Cha Cha Baskin is giving free dance lessons to anyone interested.

This week Delta Upsilon Chapter of Delta Tau Delta had the pleasure of entertaining pledge Harry MacFarland of Delta Sigma Chapter at Maryland; his quest was quite successful.

Condolences are in order this week for Bruce Furman who cracked his collarbone while wrestling, and to Chuck Becker and Phyllis Anderson, whose pinning announcement somehow wound up in the Sigma Nu column last week.

This Wednesday the annual scholastic steak dinner will be held; the losers in the index race will purchase dinners for their more scholarly brothers.

The IFC bowling trophy won by the Chapter last year was finally received and installed in the Chapter Room by athletic chairman Bob Dempsey.

On Thursday, many of the brothers and pledges of Pi Kappa Alpha and Alpha Epsilon Pi got together and went out to the Hollows for a Spaghetti dinner—a great time was had by all.

Last Saturday a party was held by Ken Campbell at his home in Wilmington. Everyone seemed to enjoy themselves, picnicking, socializing and dancing.

Congratulations to Chuck Wilson, who was recently pinned to Sue Chasteen.

Tomorrow the Pikes will hold their second house party of the year. It will be in the form of a costume ball and should prove to be of the biggest affairs of the year.

If you're registered, be sure to get out and vote on November 6.

Propagation of Race Becomes Week's Major Campaign Issue

Your Pogo pins are ready! The natural-born chairman received a fresh batch of 'em and they're ready along with the Review, to be picked up by your hot little hands.

Sidney, Australia—(Special) (Delayed in Transit)—Monotremes and other minority groups in this Australian city today protested against the invasion of this Island Continent by the American Marsupial candidate for president, Pogo Possum. "We are prepared to offer our own candidate, a Platypus by trade, who is the darling of the college and university students throughout the length and breadth of our land," said a prominent Echidna. "We feel that what the United States needs is a man who is right down to earth. And we are the people who can offer such a man. Our candidate is as flat on the ground as anybody can get." A spokesman for the Kangaroo contingent said that this was not the point. "The fact of the matter," explained the Kangaroo, "is that we don't care a fig as to where this man stands on the ground; we want to know how he feels about labor." The Echidna group replied that their man was for everybody having plenty of labor, except him. "He does not want to take a job from another man," said the leading Monotreme. "He is willing to take a back seat."

The Marsupial faction pointed out that the Monotremes have certain peculiar habits which might not be dignified and certainly would be out of place in the White House. "For example," said a source close to the Great Barrier Reef, "they lay eggs and suckle their young."

This has been hotly denied by the Monotremes. They claim that only the females of the species lays eggs. The Marsupials have countered with the explanation that the Presidency of a great sister Republic is hardly the place for such activity, no matter what part of the family engages in the pursuit. "There is no room in the White House for egg laying!" sternly warned an elder statesman-type of Marsupial, A. Koala.

"This is for the American People to decide," angrily points out the Morning Monotreme in a lead editorial. "Egg laying is not a criminal offense and where can it be done better than indoors?" The Kangaroos have not as yet replied.

The Election Scene

Parties View Home, Farm Issues

by Frank Garosi

Nothing creates more sound and fury, more mud-slinging and sanctimonious bragging in national elections, than the issues of domestic policy. As in other fields, the major parties are unanimous in their desire for the best for America, but their methods of achieving this and their appraisal of the record is far from unanimous.

Domestic policy can be generally divided into three categories that cover almost all the segments of the population: farm, labor and small-business.

Aid Small Business

The Republicans, in their 1956 platform pledge the continuation and improvement of their drive to aid small business. In their own words they say, "Beginning with our creation of the very successful Small Business Administration and continuing through the studies and recommendations of the Cabinet Committee on Small Business, we have focused our attention on positive measures to help small businesses get started and grow."

Democrats are much more specific in their comments on the present administration's small business policy. In the Democrats' view, the hard money policy, resulting in higher interest rates and heavier costs for small business, is a "time-bomb against prosperity for all." They further claim that the Republicans water the economic tree at the top and ignore the roots.

Outlays for education, health, old age assistance, child care, slum clearance and resource development slashed from $57 per capita under the Democrats to $33 under the Republicans is cited as an example of their disproportionate economic theory.

For the benefit of the labor vote, the Republicans claim that the highest employment figures, the highest standard of living and the highest wages in history have been reached under their administration. Real purchasing power has grown "because soaring prices and rising taxes have not eaten (the worker's) check away."

Taft-Hartley Stand

They also pledge to continue the fight for revision of the Taft-Hartley Law to protect more effectively the rights of labor-unions, management, individual workers and the public despite the efforts of the Democrats to block all proposals for change.

The Democrat platform is much more specific. They "unambiguously advocate repeal of the Taft-Hartley law", which they call "inadequate, unworkable and unfair."

Without a doubt the most confusing and controversial aspect of domestic policy is the farm problem. The root of the problem lies in the fact that for many years now the broad base of the farming community has been faced with rising costs and declining income. Beginning with Truman's first administration, or more accurately, with the end of World War II, the question of farm surplus, falling agricultural prices and increased farm expenses has plagued the government in Washington.

Republicans say they are "committed to a program . . . which creates the widest possible markets and highest attainable income for farmers and ranchers." They do not wish to make farmers dependent upon direct governmental payments for their income.

They point to a seven billion dollar reduction in surpluses over the past four years and to the soil bank plan which will further reduce surpluses and permit improvement of soil, timber and water resources as evidences of a real attempt to alleviate the farmer's plight.

Farmers Considered

The Democrats pledge to help the farmers regain 100 per cent of parity by championing 90 per cent of parity supports plus commodity loans, direct purchases, direct payments to producers and other economic aids.

As an example of Republican dereliction in this field the Democrats point to the farm mortgage indebtedness for the year 1955 which reached the highest point since 1923.

An understanding of what the term parity means is absolutely essential to even a rudimentary comprehension of the intricacies of agricultural policy.

We quote from the Congressional Digest for August-September: "Parity prices are the dollars-and-cents prices that give to farm commodities the same buying or purchasing power the commodities had in a selected base period when prices received and paid by farmers were considered to be in good balance."

Briefly, parity supports are an attempt to balance a farmer's income with his expenses in order that he may show a net profit for his labors.

One final word on the farm problem—in ten years no one has found a solution acceptable to dairy farmers, poultry farmers, cereal farmers, ranchers, Democrats, Republicans, administrators or anyone.

Difficult Decision

For a discerning voter to try to make heads-or-tails out of the charges, counter-charges, interpretations and misinterpretations of facts and fancies which surround the discussion of domestic affairs would require research and comprehension worthy of a Tayntee or a Niebuhr. This may seem to be an exaggeration, but we feel the fact will bear us out. When two men or groups of men, representing the highest endeavors of a sovereign nation to govern itself, arrive at diametrically opposed conclusions deduced from the same set of facts, one cannot help but question one group or the other or both.

To the embattled voter besieged by contradictions and propaganda, we offer only sympathy.

E-52 Announces Choice for Second Major Production

An abridgment of Aeschylus' "Agamemnon" and O'Neill's "Homecoming" was announced by Joyce Gottshall as the selection for the second major production to be presented December 6, 7, 8. "The Homecoming" is based on "Agamemnon" and the people cast in "Agamemnon" will play the counter-parts in "The Homecoming." Dr. Cyrus L. Day has completed abridgments for both selections.

The dual program was originally scheduled for the first production with "The Glass Menagerie" as the second production. However, because of difficulties in securing production rights for "The Homecoming" from Mrs. O'Neill, the program had to be postponed.

Joyce Gottshall was recently appointed Chairman of the E-52-University Theatre's Play Selection and Casting Committee, replacing Richard Stewart, who resigned due to the pressure of other activities.

The Play Selection and Casting Committee recommends plays for production by the University Theatre. It also conducts tryouts for all plays produced by the organization and makes recommendations concerning the casting to the director of the production.

Chicks Claw Cubs To Stay Unbeaten

The Delaware frosh football team brought their season's record to 2-0-1 last Friday when they defeated the Lafayette team 26-12.

The Chicks kicked off to the Cubs in the first quarter and the Cubs carried the ball to the Delaware 6 where it was first and goal to go. The Chicks' defense then tightened and they threw the Cubs for two successive losses. On the third down the Cubs fumbled and the Chicks recovered on their own 25.

They then marched for their first touchdown which came on a 68 yard pass play from Gamby Pellegrini to Lee Ella.

In the second quarter another Pellegrini - Ella pass clicked for an additional touchdown, this time covering 52 yards.

Ella raised his season touchdown total to eight in the third quarter when he ran 85 yards for his third touchdown of the day.

Delaware completed their scoring in the final period when John Osman, reserve halfback, ran 32 yards for a touchdown.

Although the Chicks have scored two touchdowns on passes in each of their three games, Coach Scotty Duncan said their greatest scoring potential is still on the ground.

"This was a team effort," said Duncan, "and by far their best put out so far."

Next Saturday the Chicks play the Bucknell freshmen at Newark. This will be their last home game of the year.

Swarthmore Beats Delaware Harriers, Louth, Quigg Star

Delaware's cross country team received its second loss of the campaign last Saturday as unbeaten Swarthmore hung up a 27-32 victory. The Blue Hen harriers, unbeaten in 13 straight meets, before being edged by Lehigh last week, outmatched the Garner in individual honors as Captain Clyde Louth, and Jerry Quigg, both of Wilmington, finished the 4.3 mile course in first and second places, respectively.

Only Ken Callaway managed to join Louth and Quigg in the top ten finishers for Delaware, however, as seven Swarthmore runners scored to insure the victory. The Garnet opened the season a week ago with a win over Lafayette.

Earlier, the Delaware freshman cross country team dropped a one-sided meet with the Naval Academy Prep School as the youngsters from Bainbridge prevailed, 15-43.

The intramural football season ended up in quite a flourish. Sigma Phi Epsilon emerged as the new champion by defeating Kappa Alpha 19-6. Third place honors went to last year champions, Sigma Nu.

Sigma Phi Epsilon put on a dazzling display of speed headed up by Pete Laman and Neal Keogh. All members of all teams should be congratulated.

The handball tournament began with the first round elimination completed last Tuesday. Quarter finals will be completed this week.

Ping pong rosters are in with each team entering an average of four men.

Many runners have already started to work out daily for the cross country meet to be held early in November.

Some games that were rained out are still to be played.

Leopards Repeat Winning Ways

The big game of the past week involving Delaware opponents took place at Lewisburg, Pa., where Lafayette's Leopards bumped Bucknell 13-7. The Hens lost 28-14 to the Leopards and rolled over the Bisons 26-7.

Lehigh, who dropped a 33-7 decision to Delaware, moved up a little in class with the same result — losing 21-3 to Virginia. Tomorrow's opponent, Connecticut, defeated Yankee-Conference rival Maine by a score of 13-7.

Glenn Killinger's West Chester Rams continued on their winning way and beat California (Pa.) State Teacher's College 26-7.

The hapless Rutgers University eleven from across the river in New Jersey absorbed a 32-0 defeat at the hands of rugged Boston College.

Victory Over New Hampshire Gives Delaware 3-2 Record

The University of Delaware football team will be at Storrs, Connecticut, tomorrow to play the University of Connecticut in the second and final contest of a two game road trip to New England.

Last Saturday the Blue Hens overcame the first of the two obstacles that they will encounter on the trip by defeating the University of New Hampshire for the fourth consecutive year.

Although the score was only 14-6, the New Hampshire team gave their large Homecoming Day crowd little to cheer about. On the other hand, the Hens put their seasonal record over the .500 mark for the first time this season as they won their second game in a row and their third in five starts.

Delaware took the opening kickoff and, sparked by the running of Bob Moneymaker and the clutch passing of Larry Catuzzi, drove 65 yards in 14 plays for a touchdown. Tony Toto climaxed the drive with a 15 yard end run into paydirt and Ben Klingler kicked the extra point.

After an exchange of punts, the Hens stalled a New Hampshire drive on the 11 yard line and the period ended.

Key Run

The second quarter was marked by sharp defensive play but Delaware finally started to move near the end of the half. Aided by a key 12 yard run by Moneymaker and a beautiful Catuzzi-Klingler aerial which covered 20 yards, they moved to the New Hampshire 10 yard line. However, this drive was halted abruptly by the Blue Wildcats when John Pasucci, a defensive guard, intercepted a Catuzzi pass. The half came to a close two plays later.

New Hampshire showed its first sign of offensive life in the third quarter when Bob Trouville, the Blue Wildcat quarterback, began to click with his passes. After a Trouville-Montagano pass had gained 32 yards and given new hamp a down on Delaware's five yard line, Trouville carried the ball over himself. However, John Oberg blocked the important extra point attempt and the Hens still held a 7-6 lead which was never threatened thereafter.

Defense Tightens

In fact, New Hampshire was only within reaching distance for a few minutes. After being forced to punt, the Hens again stiffened their defenses and this tight defensive play resulted in the final touchdown of the game.

A third down pass play was deflected in the line and Carmen Cella grabbed it and ran 39 yards for a touchdown. Klingler sewed up the game by adding the extra point and Delaware played inspired football for the rest of the game.

The Blue Hens regained control of the ball on their own 11 yard line midway through the final period and ran out the clock. They consumed yardage and time simultaneously with a powerful running attack and probably would have scored again if there had been enough.

time remaining because the ball was resting on New Hampshire's 12 yard line when the gun sounded.

Carmen Cella again starred for Delaware as he has in practically every game this year. Besides scoring the game-clinching touchdown with an alert interception and a fine run, he was a stalwart on defense and made many key tackles. Moneymaker, Catuzzi and Toto were the offensive stars in a backfield which did not seem to miss the absence of last week's star, George Jarome.

Hens Boost Statistics With Wildcat Defeat

As a result of the game with New Hampshire last Saturday, the Delaware football team surpassed the opponents in "every column of statistics."

They led their opponents in scoring 98-58. In compiling this margin, they have picked up eight more first downs, averaged 108 more net yards rushing than their opponents. They have passed them in net yardage gained by passing, 443-378 and in interceptions 10-6.

Another place where Delaware is more fortunate than their opponents is in fumbles lost. The Hens lost four to their opponent's seven.

Carmen Cella leads the Delaware team in points scored with 24. Close behind him are Ben Klingler (21) and George Jarome (18).

Tony Toto, who has carried the ball 38 times, leads the team in yards-per-carry average with 5.7. Bob Moneymaker is second with 4.9.

Moneymaker also holds the double honor of leading the team in total number of carries, 67, and in net yardage gained, 332. Jarome is second in number of carries with 56 and Toto is second in net yardage with 216.

In the New Hampshire game, Moneymaker gained almost one third of his total yardage while Toto compiled almost one half of his.

The complete record is as follows:

Blue Hen Of The Week

Anthony J. Toto, 170 pound reserve back from Old Bridge, New Jersey, is this week's Blue Hen of the Week.

In two consecutive games against Bucknell and New Hampshire, as a replacement for Bob Moneymaker in the first game and as a replacement for running-mate, George Jarome, in the second, Tony picked up 87 and 81 rushing yards respectively.

His fifteen-yard run in the opening quarter of last week's game capped a sustained drive of 65 yards by the Hens and resulted in their first touchdown. This was also the first time Tony had crossed the goal line this season and matched his scoring total for last year.

As a sophomore, Tony compiled a 4.14 rushing average, gaining 112 yards in 27 carries. This year, so far, he has a 5.7 rushing average and a total of 216 yards gained. Although able to fill either the full-back or right-half positions, Tony was rated behind Moneymaker, Jarome and John Oberg in the backfield at the beginning of the season.

The 5 foot, 10 inch, 21-year-old junior, was an All New Jersey State first team selection in prep school. He also received his varsity letter in football last year.

Tony is a member of Theta Chi fraternity and is majoring in plan; pathology-entomology.

This past week, the sophomores have been doin' a little swimming in gym class, and as in some other courses around here, they've had a coupl'a tests. One of these was in distance underwater.

Length of the pool in Taylor Gym is 25 yards; a little over this is about par for the course. But the phys-ed department has had a little somethin' to shoot the bull about as a result of these exams.

One of the swimmers, Russ Teeter, has just about broken the Delaware distance record — if there is any. He swam three and one-half lengths, or about 88 yards. We hear tell Coach Harry Rawstrom, an excellent swimmer in his own right, can make about three lengths.

Teeter, who came into class a little late, jumped in the pool and did his feat without even hyper-ventilating (breathing deep enough to get an over-supply of oxygen in the lungs).

This natatory exhibition didn't go without its costs, however. After rounding the turn and going for the fourth length, Russ became unconscious and had to be fished out by Rocky Carzo, the instructor. He was revived though, after a little artificial respiration.

Russ said he didn't feel he was in any trouble, even though he started "dreaming" near the end of his swim.

He didn't appear too upset about passing out, either. Next week he hopes to finish that fourth length.

Speaking of unusual feats, the university has acquired an excellent tennis player — one who has beaten Walt Kohler, star for the Hen varsity.

Only trouble is, this tennis enthusiast happens to be a girl. She is Anne Mesnel, a student from Paris, France, who is studying here only this year. A sophomore, Miss Mesnel is majoring in English.

Realizing that Delaware hasn't got the best tennis club around, Kohler suggested that someone look into the possibility of having the girl playing for the varsity.

What would the NCAA or the ECAC have to say about it?

Maybe Coach Rylander should find out.

Scotty Duncan is having a pretty fair season with his freshman football team this year. The Chicks have yet to be beaten.

A standout back for the Chicks, Lee Elia, looks like he'll make a valuable addition to Admiral Nelson's squad next year. From Olney, Pa., this ballplayer has scored eight touchdowns to lead the club to victories over Lehigh and Lafayette and a tie with Rutgers.

NOTICE
Try-outs for the varsity and freshman wrestling teams will be held on November 1 in Taylor Gym. Whitely Burnham is the wrestling coach.

J. Paul Sheedy* Wasn't Very Sharp Till Wildroot Cream-Oil Gave Him Confidence

"WHY do the girls act so stuck up?" moaned Sheedy. "It's quilling me the way they give me the brush-off." "It's your hair, J. Paul," said one of the lads. "It sticks out all over. Confidentially, it stings. You need Wildroot Cream-Oil." So Sheedy picked up a bottle. Now he has all kinds of confidence, because his hair looks healthy and handsome, the way Nature intended. Neat but not greasy. Try Wildroot Cream-Oil in bottles or handy tubes. It contains Lanolin, Nature's finest hair and scalp conditioner. Soon all the dates you need be yours for the asking.

Wesley Group Hears View of Republican

The Wesley Foundation heard Mr. William V. Roth speak last Tuesday on "The Issues from the Republican Viewpoint," as the third session in a series of five, featuring political speakers.

Mr. Roth is chairman of the Young Republicans Club and was a delegate to the national Republican Convention in San Francisco. He also discussed how a group of people who cannot vote can boost their interests in a political party.

At the fourth session, Mr. E. S. Wilson, an attorney in Wilmington, will speak on the "Issues from the Democratic Viewpoint." Mr. Wilson is chairman of the Democratic Committee, a member of the Democratic County Policy Committee, was a delegate to the convention this past summer in Chicago, and is director of the Young Democrats of New Castle County. He will also add some pertinent facts on the opportunities of a young Democrat.

The final session of political discussions will be held November 6, in the form of an election party.

Mrs. Samuel Handloff, chairman of the League of Women Voters, will be the guest at hand. She will speak on the history and various activities of the League of Women Voters.

No, Not Marines But ROTC Men In Army Green

No, the U. of D. campus has not been invaded by the Air Force or the Marines. Those new uniforms sported by the junior members of advanced ROTC, are official army issue. The new uniform will officially replace the present uniform next October.

Changes in the uniform include color: Army green, shade 44; no belt and lighter tan shirts.

Commenting on the possibility of the new uniform replacing the present cadet uniform, Captain Francis McCarthy stated, "It will be several years before all the present uniforms can be replaced."

Venture To Sponsor Fraternity Citation For Top Manuscript

The Venture Prose Award will be given to the fraternity whose member submits the best prose manuscript this fall.

Newly established, the award is a bowl on which will be inscribed the name of the winner, his fraternity and the year. Any fraternity winning the award three years will retain the bowl.

The Venture Prose Award for fraternities is the first of its kind on the campus. If it succeeds in its purpose, similar awards will be established for the other living groups of the university. The purpose is to increase the number of manuscripts to be considered for fall issues of Venture, and to broaden the scope of contents, thus creating more interest among students, according to Jim Chowning, editor.

The deadline for manuscripts this semester is November 7. As many members of each fraternity may submit manuscripts as desired. The work must be prose such as short stories, essays, non-fiction or fiction of any type.

Delaware Among Group To Aid Testing Program

Delaware was one of many colleges and universities throughout the United States which recently participated in a standardizing program for the purpose of trying out a new series of ability and achievement tests developed by the Educational Testing Service in Princeton, New Jersey.

The first twenty-four students from the Freshman and Sophomore classes whose names begin with Plo and the letters following Plo took these tests between October 1 and 5. Each student completed two forms of the college ability test and two forms of one of the many tests of educational achievement which included the following tests: reading, writing, listening, science, math and social studies. Taking the Listening Test was an innovation comprised of an examiner reading several selections just as a college lecturer might deliver a lecture and then quizzing the students on the "lecture."

These tests are believed to offer a more realistic evaluation of the student than tests which measure "intelligence, I. Q.'s, etc."

Dr. Pemberton stated that there is a possibility that this new series will be used here at the University of Delaware in place of the freshmen tests which have been given in past years. He also stated that these tests among others will be given to many of the Freshmen and Senior classes as part of a large scale research program which his office has undertaken as a two year project.

leges, being equipped only with classrooms and laboratories.

Dr. Penrose stated that he considers the year of leave, in study and research, to be a form of in-service education for himself.

The Institute which Dr. Penrose will attend is a recent development in the Netherlands educational program. In 1950 a Royal Commission was appointed by the Dutch government to investigate the possibility of adapting university education and research in the Netherlands to international cooperation. One of the immediate results of this investigation was a recommendation to establish an international center where the social sciences were to be studied at the postgraduate level.

Urnst and Ienst

(Continued from Page 4) nonetheless resumes thumbing through his books, determined to make one last mighty effort towards the elevation of thought and idea. This is somewhat impeded by the constant backslapping of a neighbor every time a statement impresses him. At last, Urnst feels prepared. He stands, coughs quietly, draws himself erect, hopes for the awesome silence that is inevitable due to the import of the statement to follow. As he begins the dexterity of his speech, the entire group files out—retiring at last to a more sober atmosphere—the D. P.

Urnst watches them leave, a tear of total discouragement glistening in his eye. Picking up Ienst, still babbling quietly, he makes his way back to the room not wholly discouraged, for though he has not given his message to the world, he has at least found a way to impress the DEAN.

Kent to Hold Tea

An optimist is a father who expects more from children than he can deliver himself.

Pauline Koner, Nat's Newest Find

Pauline Koner!

Those are the magic words for the next two weeks, guys and dolls. Pauline Koner is the star pupil of Jose Limon, the famous dancer. She will be here at the U of D on October 31 and November 1. A celebrity no less!

Being so nose-y I, "Nat" verbally, got wind of it first so I thought I would pass this little gem of news on so everyone could make arrangements in advance to see her. During the two days Miss Koner will be here, she will give a lecture demonstration at Mitchell Hall and a Master Lesson at the Women's Gym. The time hasn't been set as yet but you can bet your blue suedes I'll tell you first.

By the way, girls, all this dance work just might interest a few of the boys. Talk it up with them and try and see if the stronger sex won't drop in to Mitchell Hall to really see some dancing. Miss McNaughton promises a top-notch performance by Pauline Koner.

Now kids, here's something for you all to think about this week. It's been floating around via the grapevine that many of you card sharks want a bridge tournament. This tournament sounds like a lot of fun and could be sponsored by WAA. Also, it has been suggested and mentioned in various hen parties that the U of D needs a diving club. Prior to this year we had no one who had the time to advise such a club or enough participants sufficiently interested in it. There just might be a chance that this year if there were enough girls enthused about a club, one might be set up.

Both of these ideas are really tremendous, and I, personally think they would be a welcome addition to South Campus. Who knows, the bridge tournament might even be intra-campus. Of course the girls would win but it could be a lot of fun anyway beating the boys.

O. K. girls, if you all like these new ideas, how about letting us know. Pass on your opinion or ideas to your physical education instructors, your WAA representative, or drop me a note in Box 611. Just address it to "Nat."

Hold the presses. Here's a real scoop for super-snooping reporter—the results of the Aquatic Club tryouts:

Joan Stephens, president of the club, says the following girls made the team: Sandy Wilcox, Lynn Wright, Beatrice Clark, Brenda Baumgartner, Marjorie Finney, Charlotte Connor, Gertrude Feeney, Virginia Grinfell, Joan Smith, Carol Turner, Jo Ann Krumbek, Joan Thompson, and Laurie Bliss.

Congratulations, kids! That's all, see ya' gang!

String Quartet to Play At DTD This Sunday

The Claremont String Quartet will appear here again at the Delta Tau Delta Fraternity. Following the plan of the Quartet to devote evenings to the quartet literature of different countries, the evening at Delta Tau Delta will be devoted to Russian Music. The Quartet will play the Borodin Second String Quartet and some representative work by Shostakovich. On October 29, the Quartet will discuss and perform works by Beethoven in several music classes. Last Sunday evening, the women of Kent Residence Hall were hostesses to the Claremont String Quartet for an informal evening of chamber music.

On Monday, the Claremont Quartet visited the music appreciation classes in the Music Department. Various members of the group discussed the instruments and problems of chamber music performance. A comparison of the early and late string quartets of Haydn was followed by the playing of the Mozart Adagio and Fugue.

President

ing on the foreign policy was close between the Republicans and Democrats—82.1 per cent to 83.8 per cent. There was but a slight difference in opinion concerning the farm problem—Republicans, 51.6 per cent to the Democrats 56.1 per cent. The labor problem also received close consideration. The Democrats, 33.8 per cent of them, felt it was slightly more important than the Republicans, of whom only 31.3 per cent selected it. The ineligible voters were also divided on the relative importance of integration and Communism. Integration was considered important by 60.8 per cent of those with Republican leanings, but only by 22.3 per cent of the Democrats. A significant disparity was also revealed in the evaluation of the threat of Communism by the two groups—14.5 per cent of the Democrats chose it as compared to 34.1 per cent of the Republicans. In the case of the President's health, there was a drop of approximately 5 per cent in both Republican and Democrat opinions as opposed to the eligible voters. Only 6.7 per cent Republicans considered it important, while 29.3 per cent Democrats felt it was. The closest thing to unanimity reached on any issue was the 90.3 per cent of the Democrats who expressed an opinion—or hope—that Nixon would hinder the Republican's chances in November. Republicans, on the contrary, show a greater disparity of opinion on the subject. It is 54.2 per cent of them who believe that he will help while 32.4 per cent felt that he will hinder the Republican chances. The out-of-state students showed a decided inclination towards the Republicans by a ratio of more than 3 to 1.

ENGINEERING OPPORTUNITIES AT MELPAR TO BE DISCUSSED ON CAMPUS SOON

One Of Nation's Leading Electronic R & D Companies To Interview Engineering, Physics, Math Majors

Unusual opportunities for rapid professional growth and advancement at Melpar, Inc., one of the Nation's leading electronic research and development organizations, will be detailed to interested engineering, math and physics majors in a series of interviews to be held on campus soon.

A subsidiary of Westinghouse Air Brake Company, Melpar is now engaged in a program of expansion involving substantial increases in staff and facilities.

Despite Melpar's rapid expansion, the highest standards of personnel selection are constantly maintained. This selective process has produced a vigorous organization of great experience and competence in all fields of electronics.

Younger men who wish to apply their engineering knowledge to problems of a varied and challenging nature are required to fill important posts in Melpar project groups. Plan to interview the Melpar representative when he visits your campus.

Fine Living Conditions Offered By Melpar Locales

Melpar's R & D operations are centered near and in Washington, D. C. and Boston, Mass. Both are rich in cultural and educational facilities. The Northern Virginia area in which Melpar's headquarters laboratory is located is within easy driving range of beaches, lakes, mountains, as well as other recreational and scenic points. The climate allows outdoor recreation 215 days of the year. Fine homes and apartments in all price ranges are readily available.

Melpar's Boston area plants allow engineers to enjoy the pleasant tempo of New England living coupled with Boston's splendid cultural and educational advantages. Melpar pays re-location expenses.

Melpar Experiences Sure & Steady Growth

Founded in 1945, Melpar has doubled in size every 18 months for the past 11 years. Recently it completed erection of a complete new headquarters laboratory near the Nation's Capital, and is presently making substantial additions to its Watertown, Mass. laboratory (6 miles west of Boston), and to its research department in Boston.

Located on a 44-acre landscaped tract in Fairfax County, Virginia, only 10 miles from Washington, D. C., Melpar's main laboratories encompass over 265,000 square feet under a single roof. Fully air-conditioned, they are equipped with every facility. In addition to the new, ultra-modern headquarters plant, Melpar maintains additional facilities in Arlington, Virginia, Boston and Watertown, Massachusetts, for a total of 460,000 square feet.

Booklets Available

An attractive, fully-illustrated booklet describing living conditions prevailing in the Washington, D. C. area can be obtained from your campus Placement Officer.

Grads Go To Work At Once

The college or university graduate who joins Melpar is not required to undergo a formal training program. Instead, he immediately becomes a member of a project group and is assigned to work with an experienced engineer whose guidance and assistance enable him to advance rapidly. Members of Melpar project groups gain experience in all phases of engineering problems by free and frequent interchange of ideas during group meetings. Such experience is valuable in leading to eventual managerial responsibility.

University Courses Offered at Melpar

Melpar staff members, both holders and non-holders of degrees, may take advantage of the many fully-accredited courses in engineering subjects which are offered at Melpar's headquarters laboratory.

Qualified Graduates Offered Paid Inspection Trips

After a personal interview on their campus, qualified candidates may be invited to visit Melpar's headquarters laboratory at Company expense. Information on opportunities available for graduates together with details on living conditions in Northern Virginia is available by simply writing: Mr. William Schaub, Melpar, Inc., 3000 Arlington Blvd., Falls Church, Virginia.

October 31

To secure an appointment with the Melpar representative when he visits your campus, contact your Placement Officer today. At the same time ask him for booklets on Melpar and the Northern Virginia area. We believe you will find them of unusual interest.

No Waiting For "Automatic" Advancement at Melpar

At Melpar there is no waiting period for "automatic" advancement. Instead, an engineer, regardless of his age or tenure, may move ahead as rapidly as his skill and performance dictate. Each engineer's achievement is reviewed at least twice a year. In this manner engineers deserving advancement can be quickly "spotted" and promoted. As soon as an engineer is ready for more complex responsibilities they are given him.

Melpar Gives Financial Assistance For Advanced Study

The list of universities located near Melpar laboratories that offer graduate and undergraduate courses in engineering subjects includes: Georgetown University, George Washington University, American University, Catholic University, University of Maryland, University of Virginia, Harvard, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Northeastern University, and Boston University. Melpar offers financial assistance for study at these distinguished schools.

Many Extra Benefits

Melpar's personnel policies and salary structure compare most favorably with those of the industry as a whole. The Company maintains a liberal program of benefits too extensive to detail in this space.

Choose Assignments From Varied Fields

Engineers who join Melpar may choose their assignments from one or more of these challenging fields:

- Flight Simulators • Radar and Countermeasures • Network Theory • Systems Evaluation • Microwave Techniques • Analog & Digital Computers • Magnetic Tape Handling • UHF, VHF, or SHF Receivers • Packaging Electronic Equipment • Pulse Circuitry • Microwave Filters • Servo-mechanisms • Subminiaturization • Electro-Mechanical Design • Small Mechanisms • Quality Control & Test Engineering
