Present Splendid Example of "Safety First" Idea Found in Newark

Nine children from the Eighth grade, Newark Grammar School, as a result of the recent work in community civics, directed by Dr. W. Dunn of the Federal Bureau of Education, and Miss Rich, of the Women's College, gave short talks at the Women's College last Friday on the development of the "Safety First" campaign, throughout the country. The children presented the subject from three standpoints, first, what the Federal government is doing. The boys told of the lighthouses and the life-saving stations along the coast. The need of the development of "Safety First" in mines was illustrated by the statement from the United States report according to the proportion of thousand workmen more accidents occur in the mines of this country than in any other of the world. Hence the government is taking up the problem of "Safety First" and its application to the mines.

The second topic considered, that society is doing for the protection of humanity, was illustrated by the work of the Rockefeller Foundation. Special stress was laid upon the effort expended to the nation of the hookworm which has been found responsible for so much disease in the South. Statistics show that one-half the inhabitants of the world live in a district infected by the hookworm disease. 548,942 children over 99 per cent in our Southern States have been found infected with it are well-known.

The third division of the subject included state and local laws for protection of the public. The children told of the laws for the protection of the schools, the necessary approval of all buildings by the state architect; the action of the Hupmobile Company in Detroit in providing a playground, to keep the children off of the street; the campaign of the Pennsylvania Railroad, illustrated by a moving picture entertainment in Newark several weeks ago. Reference was made to the recent bulletin published by the du Pont company, which presents to their employees the necessity of wearing goggles when at work in the paper mills. The goggles are supplied by the company. The traffic laws and the means of safeguarding the street corners are discussed. Of purely local interest was the reference to the Heneral Fibre Company and its campaign for "Safety First," directed by their fire-proof buildings, their system of sprinklers and fire drills. The talk by the children brought out the fact that Newark has at least one national corporation which has adopted the principle of the "Gold-Rule in Business." At the local fibre plant all the employees have been organized into fighting companies, each company in charge of hose houses located at various points on the end of the Company. Inside the mill there are twenty stations for fire protection. The company has in reserve, solely for fire protection, at all periods of the year, 110,000 gallons of water, pumps capable of throwing hundred gallons of water a minute. The fire brigade is under the direction of John W. Chamber. The fire protection has been implemented by the installation of automatic sprinkler heads throughout the buildings. Perhaps as many as fifteen hundred hose reels have been placed in the various workshops and offices of the company. The reels are automatic arrangements made upon the principle of the valves on our ordinary fire plants, which when the pressure reaches a certain degree, swings the door wide, and the drafts on for us. In this case, however, when the temperature reaches a certain degree, the valves snap back, and a general

"Bob" Gallaher Urged For Representative

Robert H. Gallaher is being strongly spoken of as Republican candidate for Representative from White Clay Creek. It is not known whether Mr. Gallaher will accept the nomination. He has been urged by friends for several years but has never consented. When spoken to, Mr. Gallaher admitted he had been approached by several citizens, but refused to make any further statement.

White Clay Republicans Name Delegates

White Clay Creek Republicans met on Monday evening at the Deer Park Hotel to select delegates to be voted upon at the primaries at the coming State Convention. A more than usual crowd was present and every one was enthusiastic to get in the campaign.

Those elected follow: First district: Dr. Arthur T. Neale, delegate; Elmer Thompson, alternate. Second district: Charles L. Medill, delegate; Geo. I. Durnall, alternate. Third district: Charles Palmer Dickey, delegate; William G. Singer, alternate. While delegates have several days more in which to file their names there is no indication of any contests in this hundred.

Members of the hundred committee who will also be members of the County Committee were selected as follows: First district Robert H. Gallaher, Dr. Arthur S. Houchin and Rodman R. Lovett. Second district: J. Rankin Colmery, Robert L. Armstrong, and Harvey Hoffecker. Third district: Thompson Eastburn, John Levy William G. Singer.

Pencader Opens Campaign

Republicans of Pencader Hundred turned out on Friday evening at Glasgow for the opening of the campaign. Representative W. H. Evans, Hundred chairman, stated the object of the meeting, introducing Senator Harris who presided. Several short talks were made after which delegates were selected for State Convention and the Hundred Committee elected as follows:

Delegates: 1st district, Jehu W. Davis, W. C. Brooks; alternates, W. K. Brooks, W. H. Evans. 2d district, H. C. Ellison; alternate, G. L. Townsend, Jr. The Hundred Committee elected are: 1st district, W. H. Evans, W. C. Brooks, W. D. Hall; 2d district, H. C. Ellison, G. L. Townsend, Jr., and Daniel Thornton.

LIFE IN THE TRENCHES

Dental Surgeon Relates Experiences

Dr. W. G. Speakman of Wilmington, who last year spent six months in the trenches of northern France, where he gave his services in behalf of the American Ambulance Society, discussed "Life in the Trenches," at the Women's College on Saturday evening. Dr. Speakman was one of a staff of surgeons who effected wonderful operations to prevent facial disfigurements in soldiers mangled in the war.

Dr. Speakman presented the human side of the subject, giving interesting glimpses of the soldiers, and their remarks, when preparing for battle. He related the custom of the French soldiers, in the treatment of their prisoners—cutting all belts, buttons and shoestrings, thus compelling them to march with hands in their pockets and a becomingly shuffling gait in order to hold their clothing on. Many townspeople shared the opportunity of hearing the lecture.

Engineer Addresses Students

Mr. E. F. Mullin, '95, chief engineer of the Link Belt Company, Philadelphia, addressed the freshman class in English last Friday on "The Successful Engineer." Mr. Mullin is one of the most prominent men graduated from the engineering courses. This lecture is the first of a series to be given before the class by men prominent in the business and professional world.

COUNCIL DECIDES TO CONTINUE LOCAL PLANT

New Engineer Appointed

Joseph Rhodes, for several years engineer at the Newark Electric Light Station has resigned to accept a position with the Continental Fibre Co. His successor is Albert Woodrow, who held the position previous to Mr. Rhodes' appointment. The plant has been closed for a week, while the Light and Water committee of Council tested out the advisability of buying all the current, and discontinuing the local station. It was found as economical to operate the home plant as to purchase elsewhere. Mr. Woodrow assumed his duties on Monday.

Extension Class Completes Work

The Extension class in cookery, held every Saturday at the Women's College under the direction of Professor M. V. Caudell, and open to every woman in Delaware, completed the work of the term last Saturday. Of the seven who entered the class, four completed the work. The course given was the same as the first course taken by regular freshmen in the Home Economics course of the College. All instruction was free, the members being charged only the regular laboratory fee to cover working expenses.

Lecture On Advertising

Mr. George Frank Lord, manager Advertising Division of Sales Department of E. I. du Pont de Nemours Company, will lecture on "Advertising" in room 11 at 1.50 Friday afternoon to the Seniors, and all others interested in advertising.

Improvements To Be Pushed

All preparations for improvements at Delaware College are being rapidly pushed. During the summer the land recently acquired between Delaware College and the Women's College will be graded and trees and shrubbery will be set out in the fall.

Resigns As Member Of Sewer Commission

A rumor to the effect that J. H. Hossinger has resigned as a member of the Sewer Commission was circulated on the streets today. Although this office has been unable to gain an official confirmation of the report, there is little doubt as to its accuracy. According to the law the remaining members will, at the earliest convenience, elect someone to fill the unexpired term. The new member must be elected from the Western district and must be the owner of real estate having an assessed value of at least two thousand dollars.

RURAL DELIVERY

The following letter from Hon. Henry duPont, addressed to Mrs. Hipwell, secretary of Capital Grange, Dover, relative to a resolution recently adopted by the Grange, regarding the miserable rural delivery service we are now receiving under the Democratic administration, is self explanatory.

Washington, February 3, 1916

Mrs. Anna Hipwell, Secretary Capital Grange,

Dover, Delaware.

Dear Mrs. Hipwell:

I am duly in receipt of the copy of the excellent resolutions recently adopted by your Grange, and which you have transmitted to me.

As a resident of rural New Castle County, I am writing to say that I am absolutely in sympathy with the tone and tenor of your resolutions, and fully agree with the members of the Capital Grange that the course pursued by the present administration with respect to rural mail deliveries in our State is an insult to the farmers of Delaware and to all those who do not reside in towns or cities.

I wish it were in my power to help you, but any representations that I might make, as a Republican Senator to the Postmaster General, would be wholly disregarded and my intervention would be more of a detriment than an assistance to the object we have in view. It is all the harder to bear with patience the uncalled for destruction of our excellent system of rural delivery which for many years has proved so satisfactory in every part of the State, when we reflect that the whole object in view was purely political and intended, under the hypocritical pretence of economy, to make possible the appointment of so-called "deserving Democrats" to be carriers under the new system.

Yours very truly,
(signed) H. A. duPont

GIRLS CONTRIBUTE TO RELIEF FUND

Splendid Method Of "Celebrating"

The Servanee Camp Fire girls were entertained last Friday evening by Mrs. George N. Brown, under whose direction the girls have undertaken active relief work for the children of Europe. March 18th marked the fourth birthday anniversary of the Camp Fire organization of the United States. The whole organization, pledged to service and the effort to make others happy, planned to observe their anniversary by preparing a birthday gift for the children of the nations involved in war.

The local Camp Fire girls have been making a baby layette, the girls sewing on the various garments at their weekly meetings. The layette was finished last week and has been sent to the Camp Fire headquarters in New York, where it will be handed over to the Belgium Relief Fund. Since all Camp Fires have been requested to furnish a layette, this splendid "celebration" will probably provide for four thousand children in Europe.

Carnival Date Changed

Actaa Hose Hook and Ladder Company has announced a change in the date for the carnival, which will be held from July 22nd to the 29th, instead of a week later as announced previously. No committees have yet been named.

Chairman of Advisory Board

The Egg Laying Competition now running at Newark, Delaware, was started four years ago last November at Storrs, Connecticut, and a year ago last November was brought to Delaware. In recognition of the aid given the competition by Hon. O. A. Newton, of Bridgeville, he has been made chairman of the advisory board. In addition to being an extensive breeder of White Rocks and White Leghorns, Mr. Newton became an entrant in the fourth and fifth competitions, his interest in poultry culture inducing him to support the highly constructive movement brought about through these widely exploited annual international affairs, but which have carried Delaware to the forefront as the creator of the greatest egg record ever made by a hen, 314 eggs in 365 days.

Concert Thursday Morning

On Thursday morning at 10.35 John A. Thoms, Jr., pianist, and Edward William Martin, violinist, will give a concert. Thoms played for Miss de Witt at the recent trip of the College Orchestra and his playing was well-received by all the down-state audiences.

Co. E. Shoots For Trophy

A team of five men picked from Company E, contested at the Armory on Monday evening for the Morning News trophy, offered to the team representing a company of the O. M. of Delaware, making the highest score in marksmanship. Members of the local team and their individual scores follow:

	Prone	Standing
Sgt. Ferguson	97	84
Capt. Jacobs	94	80
Sgt. Bounds	96	64
Corp. O'Daniel	85	67
Corp. Loomis	84	67

Total score 456 362
Lieutenant Berrell of Company F, Wilmington, is the official scorer in the contest.

M. E. Conference In Session In Wilmington

The forty-eighth session of the Wilmington Annual Conference of the M. E. Church, opened this morning in the Union Church at Fifth and Market streets, Wilmington. The session will continue until Monday, April 3rd, and many from the Newark congregation are planning to attend the meetings. Bishop Joseph F. Berry, D. D., LL. D. is the presiding bishop. He will be assisted throughout the session by the four superintendents of the districts making up the Wilmington Conference.

The anniversary of the Women's Home Missionary Society was held this afternoon Mrs. C. Wesley Weldin presided, and Mrs. Mae Leonard Woodruff of New Jersey was the principal speaker.

Returns From Bake

The bake, held in the Opera House building last Saturday to raise funds for the purchase of implements to be used by the class in school gardening, netted about thirty-three dollars.

Hand Severely Cut

David C., the four year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Rose, while playing one day recently, fell from a board, severely cutting his hand on a glass. Several stitches were taken by Dr. Blake to close the wound.

COMMITTEE TO DEVELOP EXTENSION WORK

Plan Includes Industrial Feature

In order that Delaware College may take its rightful place in the industrial work of the state, a committee has been appointed, consisting of Mr. H. M. Barksdale and Mr. W. H. Heald of the Trustees and Professors M. V. Smith and Koerber of the engineering faculty, to make plans for extension work among the industrial corporations of the state. The committee has already held two meetings, at one of which Mr. Yoder, who has charge of the Pennsylvania apprentice schools east of Pittsburgh, explained the ideas which he had formed with regard to this kind of work. The committee expects that this extension work will be started in Wilmington, as that city presents a field of unusual opportunities, having within its limits all of those industries which can be specially benefited by the extension work.

This step marks a decided advance in the work of the department of engineering. For several years, the number of students in engineering at the college has far exceeded the number in any other department. Sometimes it has been as great as the number in all the other departments. The same is true this year—there are at present 208 students enrolled, and of these 84 are in engineering. The remainder are divided as follows: Arts and Science, 57; agriculture, 53; two-year agriculture (admission to which course does not require the passing of any entrance examinations), 14.

Recovering From Operation

Mrs. Jacob Shew returned Saturday from the Crozier Hospital Chester, where she has been recovering from an operation performed about three weeks ago.

MOVING TIME IS OVER

A Few Still Hold to Twenty-Fifth of March

Although the legal moving day is set for March first, many residents according to special arrangements with the landlords, shifted the time to the accustomed March twenty-fifth. Consequently many moving vans have been seen on the streets this week. Among those changing residences are Albert H. Woodrow, from Wilmington to the Mrs. J. P. Wilson property adjoining Robert Morrison's residence; Elbert J. Burns from Cecil County, has moved into the brick dwelling on Academy street, adjoining the Hose House; Harvey Boyce from the house formerly owned by James Lewis on Welsh Lane, to the property of Ernest Frazer, directly opposite; John A. Knights moved from the Ernest Frazer property to Havre de Grace, Md., C. W. Shaw to New Castle from South Chapel Street; and Harvey Sentman from Deandale to the property vacated by Mr. Shaw; Harvey Gregg to the property on North Chapel owned by S. L. Cornog.

Mail Boxes to be Placed

When the free delivery is started in Newark next month, mail boxes will be located at the following places:

Northeast corner of North College avenue and Main street; corner of West Main street and New London road; northwest corner of West Main street and Corbitt st. northeast corner of New London Road and West Cleveland avenue; northeast corner of east Cleveland avenue and North College avenue; southwest corner of East Main st. and South Chapel street; East Main street in front of the Wilson estate; southwest corner of North Chapel street and Cleveland avenue; northwest corner of South College avenue and Delaware avenue.

OBITUARY

Richard Beers

Richard Beers, aged 71 years, died last Sunday March 26, after a week's illness with pneumonia. Funeral services will be held from the late residence near Appleton, Maryland, on Thursday, March 30th, at one o'clock. Interment Head of Christiana Cemetery.

Ten children, James A., Harry C., George R., Frank L., John T., Ernest W., Stanley and Laura U. Beers; Mrs. Carrie F. McCarns and Mrs. Sarah E. Richards, survive. Mrs. Beers died only three months ago.

Mrs. Mary Stiltz

Mrs. Mary Stiltz, aged 65 years, died last Tuesday, March 21st, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Arthur Livermore, of Bridgeport, Connecticut. Death was due to the bursting of a blood vessel. The body was brought to the residence of her son, A. C. Stiltz of Newark, where funeral services were held last Saturday. Interment in Riverview Cemetery, Wilmington. Two sons and three daughters survive.

Dr. J. L. Crossmore

Dr. J. L. Crossmore of Wyoming, Delaware, one of the best-known physicians in Kent County and president of the Kent County Medical Society, died suddenly just before midnight on Thursday, at his home in Wyoming, aged 43 years. Death was due to heart trouble, as certified by coroner W. B. Donovan and Dr. James Martin. Dr. Crossmore was in the best of health on Thursday and had attended to his practice as usual. A party of friends had been entertained at his home early in the evening by his daughter, Miss Beatrice Crossmore, well-remembered here as a student at the Women's College last year. Dr. Crossmore bade his daughter good night and prepared to retire for the night. Miss Crossmore later noticing the water in the bath room running for an unusual length of time, went to investigate and found her father, unconscious. Before assistance could be called, he had expired.

REMISCEANCES OF DELAWARE

GIVEN AT CHAPEL BY PROFESSOR ROBINSON

One of the most interesting addresses ever given at Delaware College was that of Professor Frederic H. Robinson, of the engineering department, last Friday morning. Professor Robinson will retire from the faculty in June. His talk dealt with the growth of Delaware College, during the twenty-six years that the speaker has been connected with the institution. Professor Robinson said:

"When here a few weeks ago I did not expect to return so soon. But to vary a well known saying, a request from our President is a command; so, complying with pleasure, I will recite in the brief time available some of the events of the College history since 1891 which at the time of occurrence or afterwards impressed me as interesting and important."

"Naturally we are attracted by what appeals to the eye, so think first of the physical condition of the College. In this period most of our improvements in buildings and grounds have been made. In 1891 there stood on the campus the building, since altered, in which we are now assembled, and the old frame mechanical building succeeded in '82-'83 by a new frame structure. When that was destroyed by fire in 1898 the present brick structure took its place, also the frame gymnasium and drill hall and the agricultural experiment station."

"In February 1905, when we walked out of the gloomy recitation rooms in this building and located in Recitation Hall we felt as if we were in palatial quarters. Later, when we could go from building to building without needing to consider the loss of overshoes, we felt as if we were really growing. In 1913 the new gymnasium was erected. With the recent construction of a greenhouse and a fine heating plant, our campus is in fine contrast with its condition when all these improvements existed only in imagination."

"Men are more important than buildings. To recall the names of some, who among others, stood by the College not only in its more prosperous days but in its days of adversity, is a pleasure. Their familiar forms again greet me as I name Lewis P. Bush, George B. Evans, Charles B. Lore, Lewis C. Vandegrift, all members of our Board of Trustees, and the respected and honored member whose long continued devotion to the welfare of the College entitles him to be called Delaware's 'Grand Old Man,' Manlove Hayes. To mention those of the present day is not necessary as they are known to you all."

"I suppose the large death rate amongst the members of the Board is due to the advanced age of many of the members. Of the twenty-nine who were members of the Board of Trustees in 1891 but five survive. All the officers are included among those who have passed away."

"The foregoing reference to the Board suggest a few words regarding its history. In 1862 the College was designated by act of Congress apportioning to each of the several States large areas of public lands as the basis of endowments for Colleges. In consideration of the establishment of Delaware College as the institution for Delaware equal representation upon the Board of Trustees was given to the State, the other half remaining from the original Board, 30 in all. It thus remaining until 1913 it came into sole possession of the State of Delaware, its interests to be safeguarded by a Board of twenty-eight members and four members ex-officio."

"From the Trustees the mind passes easily to the other body of men who direct the instruction in the College,—the faculty. With them high devotion to the interests of the College has been almost universal. It meant loyalty and devotion to high ideals when men of ability continued in the work of the College at a time it was run on only a few thousand dollars a year."

"By all who succeed to the bounty of the College those men should be held in honored remembrances."

"In 1839-1890 the faculty consisted of eight members as compared with three times that number at present; in 1890-1891 of twelve members with Albert N. Raub as President. At present ten of the twelve are living. Of the twelve three are now members of the present faculty. Death has reaped his harvest from the faculty as well as from the trustees—Albert N. Raub, president; the courtly and accomplished Wm. H. Purnell, at one time president of the College; the untiring worker, Captain Edward S. Avis; the diligent and painstaking Lewis A. Freudenberger.

"Before any of them had passed away there came to the College from the Naval Academy, a young man selected by the Trustees to take charge of the mechanical and electrical courses. He was a man of great promise and we hoped he would do much for the courses which had been unfortunate in change of instructors. But it was in vain that his friends and admirers hoped for cessation in the action of disease which was sapping his life, and on December 6, 1896, before any of those mentioned above, Howard W. Huffington yielded in the struggle, respected by his colleagues and beloved by all."

"There are teachers who seem to form a very part of an institution. When one is mentioned we think of the other. Theodore R. Wolf was a teacher of this character. He made his impress on the student body as few of our teachers have done. From him wrong doing received the scathing condemnation his direct and honest methods forced him to administer; but the honorable and upright student might seek in vain for a truer friend. He was a man firm in his convictions yet gentle as a child. Through the long and tedious years of growth he was one of the most devoted friends the College had. Though we all knew him as a colleague, it was for those who knew him socially really to come into close touch with the fine qualities of his kind heart and splendid mind. Several of us will recall many delightful hours spent with the Doctor as one of the best of hosts. In 1909 the unlooked for came to us with what seemed convictions, yet gentle as a child, not only the college but the town were pained to learn that Dr. Wolf had been stricken with paralysis. Eight days later he passed into the beyond leaving us all poorer at the departure of so noble a man."

"Those who were students at this period will recall at social gatherings and other public affairs of the College a woman whose very presence seemed to give to the occasion a fine dignity. Conscientious and firm of manner, yet with quiet and kindly bearing, when she was present the things that should not be, found no place. Not a member of the faculty, yet her high ideals and fine spirit inspired us in our appointed duties. So, when she was called hence and the great affliction fell upon our beloved President, our hearts went out in sorrow for our loss and loving sympathy for him so sadly bereft."

"With little or brief comment I would like to mention some matters occurring in the history of the College in the period before us—
"In 1890-'91 there was enrolled eighty-one students.
"In 1915-'16 there are enrolled two hundred and thirty-nine students.
"In 1890 four bachelor's degrees were conferred.
"In 1915 thirty-eight bachelor's degrees were conferred.
"In 1900 The degree Doctor of Laws was conferred on Honorable John Bassett Moore, who made the commencement address.
"In 1890-'91 the full courses in engineering were established and professors appointed to the respective chairs.
"In 1892 the general library contained nearly five thousand volumes. In 1916 about 11,000.
"The College catalogues for 1890 states that the trustees lately purchased for athletics and other purposes nine acres adjoining on the east the north end of College grounds and improved the northern campus. Those were the days in which we had not become possessors of the Frazer Field. College athletics were associated with the 'Pie Field' the scene of many and hard struggles. Indeed enthusiasm often rose to such a pitch that it was only the influence of the cooler headed that restrained our valiant and very enthusiastic Commandant, Captain Brown, from involving us in trouble with our opponents. But Delaware men were always 'good spirits' and it is with pride that I record that the same honor and integrity which now characterize your athletic work contributed to their honorable standing in the earlier days."

"The Legislature, according to its ability, has done much by its appropriations to forward the work of the college—as in the erection of Recitation Hall, improvements in the old dormitory, the erection in 1905 of the gymnasium and an arrangement in 1906-'07 by which the college might have the use of a farm, for a long time one of our most pressing needs."

"From time to time, as some of you know, an agitation in favor of removing the college to Wilmington breaks out, at times the agitation has been vigorous. In light of present developments this is not likely to be, in the future, a disturbing question."

"Another interesting item with which perhaps many of you are not acquainted: In 1903 a letter from the proper authorities requested the college to exhibit at the Louisiana Purchase Exposition, in 1904. An exhibit was forwarded and installed. Those who visited St. Louis and saw the exhibit recognized that it was a modest one doing its best to keep up the reputation of Delaware among the other exhibitors."

"I should like to make mention of two more matters not because they can be said to be closely allied to the history of the College itself, being private matters, but because the actors were a Professor and students. Professor William A. Pratt who in 1896 succeeded Professor Huffington as Professor of Mechanical and Electrical Engineering, seemed to be the adventurous man of the faculty. Disease, I am sorry to say, has since restrained him and in his home in Virginia he now lives in poor health. At the time of the Spanish War his enthusiasm prompted him to raise a company of volunteers. The Trustees granted him leave to command it. Some students joined the company. When the war was over we were glad to see them all returned unharmed to old Delaware. However much of a joke there may seem to be in that kind of military service, there is a serious side and a splendid side when we recall the alacrity of those in our institutions of learning to respond in time of trouble to their country's call."

Professor Pratt was a civil engineer, being at one time located on our division of the B. & O. He entered into arrangements with some New York parties to make surveys for railroad locations in Alaska. Having got his outfit together he spent a summer vacation in that country accompanied by Delaware men as assistants. I believe they enjoyed the experience and what they found there, with the exception of the numerous mosquitoes. I do not know whether or not the surveys were pushed beyond that summer's work. Professor Pratt did not return to do it."

"Regarding the work done by the College and the influence it exerted, the question persistently arises how was it all done with so little money. Though buildings were provided by the State, yet in 1863 the Federal aid from public land funds did not quite reach the meagre sum of $5000. This with a few dollars from fees was a ridiculously small amount on which to conduct a College. It was, therefore, with a wonderful sense of invigoration that in 1890 the trustees received the first payment, $20,000 under the 'New Morrill' Bill' passed by congress about that time. This was at about the beginning of the period covered by this paper. The faculty was immediately increased, the courses of study broadened, and the engineering courses established. From that time until the present, with further bounty from the general government for instruction in agriculture and the mechanic arts, the scope of the work has widened, the attendance has grown, and the influence of the College upon the State has largely increased."

"That the bounty of the general government is being more and more used is extremely gratifying. But we cannot too often remind you that a splendid collegiate training free from charge for tuition is here being offered you."

"Previous to the legislative session of 1869 there was a tuition charge for all but 10 students from each county; in 1890 the charge was: First term, $24; second term, $18; third term, $18. In 1892 tuition was made free for all Delaware students. In this day when other institutions are raising their rates of tuition, may we not call upon you to use conscientiously for your own development and the upbuilding of the State the splendid bounty so freely provided?"

"Delaware is a modest institution, rich in most interesting history. The good and true men who taught here have seen their labors rewarded by a long line of graduates who, on account of their training at Delaware are better lawyers, better engineers, better farmers, and, best of all, better men."

Fiends Wreck Farmers' Home

Joel Pierce, aged 60 years, a farmer, and his wife living about a mile from the Perry Tavern, along the Concord Pike, near Wilmington, were aroused about 4 a. m. on Sunday by a terrific explosion of dynamite which blew out the rear portion of their dwelling, wrecked hen houses, blew off doors of the barn and shattered windows. Mr. and Mrs. Pierce were sleeping in a room in the second story. The floor was torn away and they were dropped with the bed to the first floor. Mrs. Pierce escaped injury but her husband was struck in one eye by a piece of timber. The report was heard within a radius of several miles, and it was thought that a powder explosion had occurred at Henry Clay. The dynamite charge was placed under a corner of the house and a long fuse was attached to it and lighted. Mr. Pierce says he knows of no enemies and cannot account for the fiendish attempt to wreck his home and risk the lives of its occupants.

Boulevard Winning Its Way

With the purchase of the Isaac Simpson farm, a short distance south of Milford, for $8,000 and the condemnation of 13 acres of the Whitehead farm, near Lincoln City, at $953, which it is said, will be accepted, the entire right of way for the clear stretch of the du Font highway Selbyville to the Kent County line at Milford will have been secured. Bids for building the road from Georgetown north will soon be invited.

Aged Men Escape Flames

Fire of unknown origin early last Wednesday morning endangered the Minquedale Home for Aged Men between Wilmington and Farnhurst. City firemen hurried to the scene and saved the building. Superintendent Burke and his wife, the matron controlled the alarmed aged inmates and saved them from injury. George Dickerson, of New Castle, who was seriously ill was carried to another wing of the building. The loss is put at $3,000 and is covered by insurance.

A Wonderful Feed
NO MIXING NO BOTHER
Will positively produce more milk than any other ration either home mixed or purchased, and do it without giving your cows constipation or udder trouble. Ready to use right out of the sack without any mixing or bother.
Larro-feed
Absolutely free from adulterants and fillers, just like the feed you would mix for yourself. Is a special combination of choice oatmeal, corn, dried beet pulp, gluten feed, corn distillers' grains, wheat bran, wheat middlings and a little salt. Each quart weighs 4 1/2 lbs. and is automatically weighed by automatic scales and all thoroughly mixed in huge power-driven mixers, so that it is always absolutely uniform, and always good. An extra quart or two of milk daily from each cow may turn a loss into a profit. Try LARRO-FEED for more profits. Hold on a sack of Larro-feed if you are not satisfied.

LOCAL POLITICS

The interest expressed in local Republican circles is of good omen. Never in our observation hereabouts has there been the enthusiasm coupled with co-operation and determination as seen during the past few weeks. Pender met on Friday evening, naming delegates to State Convention and electing their usual winning Hundred Committee. Monday evening, White Clay Republicans held an unusually enthusiastic meeting.

There appears to be a definite program with this section of Rural New Castle voters who usually take but little interest, are inquiring what is necessary to be done. Young men are getting in the game. Every thing to date is encouraging.

Locally, the Democrats, seem to be in the same predicament as exists throughout the State. Salisbury activities here during the past two years had aroused the fighting blood of some of the old line Democrats. Their first issue to settle will be, the local leader. This leadership has for years been a delicate issue but not until the recent Post office appointment did it become an open contest. No Democrat would dare say that the incident is closed. The contest was too acute. The appointment met then and meets yet the approval of the arty in general but surely it was a defeat for Salisbury interests. Out and out radical Salisbury men who had served for years his dictation were asked by a very decided popular vote to step aside. This defeat was not so much for local workers as for Salisbury himself. That it will prove a boom-erang is already apparent.

STUDY LOCAL CONDITIONS

nerous shower of water sprinkles everything. The sprinklers are adjusted to suit the temperature of the various rooms, in the average instance being set to operate at 160 degrees. In the drying rooms, however, they are adjusted at 212 degrees. During the summer months fire drills twice a month are a part of the routine of the mill.

Thoughts of Great Men

My life is not an apology, but a life.

I write on the lintels of the doorpost, Whim. I hope it is somewhat better than whim at last, but we cannot spend the day in explanation. Expect me not to show cause why I seek or why I exclude company.

—Emerson

The moment comes—

It is already come—when thou must write

The absolute total of thy life's vast sum.
The constellations stand victorious o'er thee,
The planets shoot good fortune in fair junctions,
And tell thee—'Now's the time.'
—Coleridge.

To watch the corn grow and the blossoms set; to draw breath over plow-share or spade; to read; to think; to love; to pray;—these are the things that make men happy.

Ruskin

"Greatness of soul consists not so much in mounting and in pressing forward as in knowing how to range and circumscribe one's self; it takes for great everything that is enough, and shows its stature by preferring moderate to eminent things. There is nothing so beautiful and so legitimate as well and duly to play th man; nor science so arduous as well and naturally to know how to live this life of ours; and of our maladies the most wild and barbarous is to despise our being—For my part then, I love life and cultivate it, such as it has pleased You to bestow it upon us"

—Montaigne

Story of A Well Tailored Man

John's wife had just finished reading the Sol Wilson advertisement in the Post.

"John," she began, "how is it that the man next-door always wears better clothes than you wear?"

John smiled.

"Simply because he's more extravagant," was his easy rejoinder. "You see, he has his clothes made to his measure, and I never felt that I could afford that luxury."

But John was wrong and Mary knew it.

"Of course, his clothes are made to his measure,—they plainly show that," was the reply, "but they're Sol Wilson Tailored Clothes—costing only $15 to $35."

"What makes you think they're Sol Wilson Tailored Clothes?" demanded John.

"Because his wife told me so the other day," said Mary, "and she actually gloated about the economical prices."

"H'm!" said John, and the next day he paid a visit to this store.

There are hundreds of men in this vicinity, who, like John, fancy that made-to-measure clothes are a wanton extravagance. That is simply because they do not know of Sol Wilson Made-to-Measure Clothes. For Wilson Tailoring means the uttermost in Made-to-Order, Custom Tailored Clothes at $15, $18, $20, $22.50, $25, to $35.

Come in some day and let me prove this to your satisfaction.

SHOP TALK

Head, Heart and Hand, are catch words, used much in advertising campaigns. They are good words, expressive, easily played on, full of texts for good Ad. Preachments. We have used them ourselves. One of our friends recently laughingly accused us of plagiarism from the writings of America's greatest Ad Writer. The other evening in nosing around, we find a Head, Heart, and Hand story by Ruskin so we print it here. Where Ruskin got the idea, we do not know. However it applies still to the printing done at this shop. We have the Head, Heart and Hand idea. To some this smacks of dreams, but in reality it is a business proposition.

The Linotype who came to us from New Hampshire via Boston, thinks this is a most delightful Spring. "Why you people have 'peas' before the Fourth of July, don't you?" This strikes us passing strange until he tells us about the winters up in the Hampshire Hills. He hears us complain constantly about the weather and wonders why. Watkins works at night, taking second shift. He thinks our nights are wonderful—Saturday he thought Delaware the garden spot of the world. And we agree, asking him to wait. The best is yet to come. Easter comes late, I know, but it is time you were ordering those Greetings. Have something distinctive.

Child Labor Commission in Quarterly Session

Delaware Child Labor Commission met at Dover last Tuesday at the State House, in regular quarterly session. Several actions of packers, canners, package makers, all of whom had to get an expression from the commission as to the employment of children between four and sixteen years of age in several canneries of the State during the coming season, appeared before them. As the State laws prohibit children working in canneries, there was practically no voice on the part of the canners.

Reports were received from the State Board of Health, from State Inspector Grantland and from Mrs. Malone, the woman inspector. The latter was instructed to make a study of the sanitary conditions of factories and other places coming under her notice and report back to the commission. The one object in view of improving sanitary conditions throughout the State.

Mr. Grantland gave notice of his being appointed to another position which he will likely accept. The next meeting will be in June.

The Apple as Medicine

A modern scoffer has recently asked whether it would be possible that Eve yielded to the serpent because he told her that apples were good for the complexion. Whether this argument was needed or not, there is a question that it is a true one. Nothing in all our varied and fascinating range of fruits holds quite the same quality as the apple. A raw, ripe apple at its best is digested in 85 minutes, and the malic acid which gives it its distinctive character stimulates the liver, assists digestion and neutralizes much noxious matter which, if not eliminated, produces eruption of the skin.

Burglars Enter Four Homes

Burglars early on Saturday morning entered four houses in the Highlands, in the Western section of Wilmington, but secured little plunder, owing to inmates having been aroused. At David J. Reinharts home, 2506 Willard street, the thieves got a wallet and 75 cents from his bed room but left his watch and jewelry and the silverware. They feasted on eatables in the kitchen but fled when they heard Mr. Reinhart moving in his room when he rose to get a drink of water. At William Carlson's home, 2438 West Eighteenth street, $2.00 was secured. Mrs. Carlson heard the robbers and called her husband who searched the house but the thieves had fled. Harry W. Roberts' home in the next block was also entered and the thieves got 50 cents. Another house in the same block was also entered but nothing was stolen.

Fall From Team Fatal

The dead body of John H. Walls, aged 48 years, a farmer of Prime Hook Neck in the Seaford section, was found lying along a country road on Sunday by Pagnter Sharp. It is supposed he fell under the wheels of his team which had passed over his head and face. There is no suspicion that he was attacked as $100 was found in his pockets.

Couple Drugged and Robbed

Burglars last Tuesday night entered the home of Clarence Hall at D. and Market streets, Wilmington, chloroformed him and his wife and carried off clothing, silverware and money. Mrs. Hall it is said had to borrow clothing from a neighbor. Her husband is laid up with a broken ankle and the robbery leaves the couple in sore straits.

Met Death on Railroad Crossing

An automobile owned and driven by Wallace Shackell, aged 34 years, living near Cheswold in which Robert Harris, one of his hands and Hally Saunders, both colored, were also riding was struck by a Southbound freight on the Cheswold Crossing about 8 o'clock last Tuesday evening. The car was struck broadside and its wreckage was scattered along the track. Mr. Shackell was horribly mangled and died in a few minutes. The colored men were more or less hurt, Saunders internally. Mr. Shackell's mother died a year ago and one of his brothers about a month ago. Another brother, William Shackell will take the body west for interment.

at this argument, for they show that high schools of every state in the Union are graduating more girls than boys, some of them twice and three times as many, which leads us to conclude that Equal Suffrage would increase the proportion of voters (women) who have received more than a merely elementary education.

Barn Fired By Lightning
 Lightning was severe in the Seaford section during last Wednesday's storm and fired the barn on William Dickerson's farm at American Corners which was destroyed with a quantity of feed and machinery. Mr. Dickerson and neighbors saved the stock with great difficulty.

Stole Pastor's Clothes
 Burglars entered the home of Rev. J. H. Beauchamp, pastor of Perryville, M. E. Church last Wednesday night, ransacked the whole house and stole the pastor's clothes from his bed room with his pocket book containing $18 and other valuables.

Run Over by Women's Car
 While John H. Minnick, proprietor of a motor and bicycle store at 603 Delaware avenue, Wilmington, was engaged near the curbing on his sidewalk repairing a machine on Thursday afternoon, an automobile driven by Mrs. R. W. McClellan, of 2007 North Van Buren street, rounding the corner at Jefferson street bounded over the curb. Mr. Minnick was knocked down, the wheels passing over his stomach and the car ran against a tree. Mrs. McClellan escaped injury. Mr. Minnick was hurried to Delaware Hospital where it was found he was hurt internally.

Washing and Leaching of Manures
 Farmers have been so accustomed to throw the manure from the stable in a pile in the barnyard and leave it until it is convenient to haul it to the fields, that they do not give the matter of loss by washing and leaching any consideration. Usually but little of the values of the solids of the manure is lost in the stable, but great losses occur after it is thrown in a pile. The manure in the stable, saturated by the urine contains more than 50 per cent water. The moisture in the manure holds in solution the greater part of the plant foods which the manure contains. When the rains fall upon the manure and the water from the melted snow soaks into it, the leaching process carries away much of the soluble plant foods and it is lost beyond recovery, for it is either carried away in the water as it flows in the surface to the streams, or sinks into the ground where, for all practical purposes, it is wasted.

HOW THE PICTURES WERE TAKEN

Daring Photographer In Wake Of Army

Pictures depicting the German Battlefields, will be shown in the Newark Opera House this coming Friday evening. The pictures are actual photographs taken by Edwin F. Weigle, Chicago Tribune's staff photographer on his second trip into the European war zones.

Shortly after Europe burst into flames, figuratively speaking, Mr. Weigle went to Belgium from where he brought back enough material, in the way of motion pictures, to give to this half of the world a vivid idea of what was actually going on across the water. The new Tribune pictures, it is claimed, are even more vivid than those obtained in Belgium. On the second expedition the photographer was thoroughly acquainted with conditions, and went fully equipped, having with him a specially made war camera, the lens of which was constructed so as to bring events from a distance apparently to the foreground. Mr. Weigle obtained permission to accompany the Austro-German armies on the condition that one-half the proceeds of the films be donated to the Blinded and Crippled Soldiers' Fund. He accompanied Austrian and German troops into three distinct war theaters. On the east he went to Poland and Galicia; on the south he scaled the dizzy heights of the picturesque Tyrolean Alps, where German and Austrian troops rushed to prevent the invading Italians from gaining a foothold in the country; on the west he accompanied the army to the French border line.

the racial life. "Eugenics," she defined as "the study of agencies under social control, which make or mar the welfare of future generations—either physically or mentally." The speaker dwelt upon the importance of free discussion between mother and child, and urged the selection of a time early in the child's life, for imparting a knowledge of sex, when it may be treated naturally before the period of modesty and shyness sets in. Mrs. Irwin urged also that a knowledge be given the young men and the young women of America, before they have selected their partners for life; "for," she declared, "if the selection has once been made all effort on the part of parent or friend, to convince those concerned of the lack of wisdom in their choice, is fruitless."

We have been wont to believe that here in America we have developed a wonderful social conscience," Mrs. Irwin continued. "We have in the country a great many societies and organizations of various kinds, to further the study of the subject. These, however, usually deal with the black side of the question; the result of immoral living."

Fined for Disorderly Conduct

William and Edward Lorrimore, charged with disorderly conduct, were each fined $5 with costs by Magistrate Lovett, Saturday night. It was alleged that the two brothers were fighting with Thomas Lane and David Lewis, both colored. The latter two were also arrested but were released for lack of evidence. William Lorrimore had a badly lacerated nose, and contended that Lewis hit him during the fight.

Pro-Suffrage Argument

The objection is often raised by those opposed to Suffrage for women, that it would double the ignorant vote. Statistics recently published by the National Bureau of Education deal a mighty blow

SQUIBS

It has been rumored that the Board of Trade will hold a Bake to defray the expense of its approaching funeral.

Saturday was the Dawn of Spring. Think how fine it will be along about 8 o'clock.

"When a professor in a college finds a fact, he should make it known, even if it is inconsistent with something Moses said,"—or the Trustees.

Write out concisely your idea of what constitutes a good citizen. Read it over carefully and check up your rating. Can you qualify 85, 90 or 100 points. Try it.

Spring is almost here but how I dread that Fly Campaign.

No subject in this community so needs the thoughtful attention as the Public Schools. Reduction of Tax Rate is not the most worthy ambition.

An interesting problem Take the amounts invested in our church buildings, cost of salaries and running expenses. Then take the number of hours in the service of the public and see what the cost is per hour.

Executive Board Entertained

Mrs. H. Hayward, president of the New Century Club of Newark, entertained Mrs. A. D. Warner, the Rev. Mabel Irwin, of Wilmington, and members of the Executive Board of the local club at luncheon last Friday. The local guests were Mrs. Mitchell, Mrs. E. W. Cooch, Mrs. C. B. Evans, Mrs. Armstrong, Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Pilling, Mrs. Reed and Mrs. Dawson.

Lectures on Home Economic Subjects

Professor M. V. Caudell of the Home Economics department, Women's College, addressed the Apleton Social Club last Friday evening on the subject "Foods and Their Uses in the Body." Today Miss Caudell will talk on "Women as Spenders" before the New Century Club of Dover. Miss Caudell on last Saturday spent the week-end in Philadelphia where she attended a meeting of the Home Economics Association of Philadelphia. The meeting was addressed by Miss Carrie Lyford, specialist in Home Economics from Washington, D. C. On Tuesday Miss Lyford was a guest at the Women's College, addressing the Home Economics students on Wednesday, and also the entire College at chapel. On Friday Miss Lyford visited the Home Economics School at New Castle under the direction of Miss Jefferson.

Want Ad Opportunity

Sell the surplus, is one of the rules of Success. Around every farm, there is always something to sell. Not enough perhaps, to go to market, but still, if turned into money, would increase the year's sales and profits. A pair pigs more than you care to keep, a horse not needed, a few posts that you got out during the winter—all these could be turned to accounts by a little Sale Ad in the Post.

The same is true of little necessities around the farm, say potatoes for seed, a young horse, a fresh cow. Instead of neglecting this or wasting time chasing over the country looking for what you need, a little Want Ad costing 10 cents would most likely bring it to your door.

One farmer advertised for a fresh cow in the Post and had sixteen different offers made him. He got his pick for 10 cents. Another offered sow and pigs for sale, with the result of five inquiries in two days.

Of course, you don't always hit it. But it's a money maker, time saver, good business. Try it.

Sell the surplus—that makes for success.

Jackson Literary Meeting

Jackson Literary Society held an interesting meeting in Jackson Hall last Saturday evening. The program opened with the singing of Auld Lang Syne. A recitation, "The Watermelon," by Harry Beers, followed; a reading, "How Moses Counted Eggs," by Mr. Harvey Mitchell; solo, "Johnny Schmoker," by Mr. A. Davis; instrumental music, Mr. Weigle; reading "John Billingsby's Courtship," Miss Buelah Campbell; recitation, "When Company Comes," Miss Edith A. Robinson; instrumental music, Miss Anna Sanborn; reading, "The Old Ways and The New," Mrs. A. W. Scott; solo, "Believe Me If All Those Endearing Young Charms," Mr. Weigle; recitation "I Remember," James Beers. Mr. J. R. Shultz gave an interesting talk on "Country Life." The evening closed with the chorus, "My Old Kentucky Home."

GERMAN BATTLEFIELDS

YOU SEE

- The actual fighting, soldiers shot, wounded and dead.
- The powerful German War machine in fighting action.
- The ruins of Przemsyl.
- The destruction of the million dollar bridge over the River Sau.
- The construction of pontoon bridges.
- The Austrian armored trains with giant revolving guns.
- The erection of portable Red Cross hospitals.
- The peasants with their families and belongings driven from their homes.
- The 30-centimeter guns belching their crimson hell.
- The Shrapnel and bombs exploding.
- The transportation of 30-centimeter guns and ammunition.
- Soldiers blinded by gases.
- The pathetic scene of soldiers crippled and maimed for life.
- Train loads of wounded soldiers.
- The wonderful Red Cross System.
- Numberless women nursing the wounded.
- Surgeons attaching artificial limbs.
- Scouts climbing the sides of the perilous Tyrolean Alps.
- Brigade of soldiers on motorcycles.
- 100,000 people singing "Die Wacht am Rhine."
- The Kaiser "in person" bidding good-bye to the Austrian Embassy and 6,000 feet of films showing actual war truths taken on the grim battlefields.
