Around Town

The Council has been advised to pass an ordinance prohibiting posters on poles and painting signs on sides of buildings. THE POST heartily agrees with this. We are cranks on this subject. We refuse to place these patent concoctions in our paper.

A Timely Warning

Why don't our Town Fathers make the railroad authorities put gates at the crossing of the Pomeroy tracks on North Chapel st. It is a death trap for the driving as well as the walking public.

"One Who Knows"

Just as sure as the Town Authorities do not take notice and take some action regarding the crossing at the Pomeroy Railroad on Chapel street, just so sure will Newark be shocked by a terrible accident some day.

Though no fast trains run here, it is, however, the most dangerous crossing in town.

I should like to ask the Mayor of the town is something can't be done. Our Mayor is a young man and has made a good record in spite of heavy odds. He does not say much. Rather—he does things. Now, add another laurel to your administration and win the approval of some good citizens.

Town Development

Newark. What a splendid little town. Rich in natural environments where everybody is doing well, and everybody, generally speaking, is too busy with his own affairs to sit down and find himself, and analyze his relation to the community and the communities interest to himself—the well-to-do men of Newark do not know each other well enough in a friendly business way; they never meet together and talk over town affairs and town industrial development. They just wonder about it; but do not think about it; thought and action is what is needed for Newark.

A good LIVE BOARD OF TRADE would then become the POWER HOUSE for TOWN DEVELOPMENT.

It may be observed by the average commentator: we have tried that. Did we? Yes! organized, put up two sign boards, hired an expert on town development and quit; the very best that can be said—we made a good start.

Have we the interest of our town at heart?

The greatest factor is civic pride; however we may be divided on other questions, we as a people should be united upon everything that affects the prosperity of our town and not "Jeremiahs".

The army of "knockers" is overcrowded; there is no room for a Newarker; we can however, organize a company of "Boosters" that will compel very desirable people to sit up and be attracted our way.

Now if you want to define your attitude, take off your "little jacket" and force the situation in a confident and masterful spirit. We can do what we think we can do; if we start out thinking we can't do much—we are pretty sure not to do anything.

What is wanted to develop Newark is the general presence and activity of her citizens as boosters—and an entire absence of QUITTERS. Every individual who boosts reduces the number of quitters by one.

THEREFORE, LET EVERY MAN—"DO HIS POSSIBLE." You know, of course, TOWN DEVELOPMENT is sorely needed. Help, then, like a decent philanthropic Newark loving man—and don't start by expressing faint-hearted doubts belittling the chance of success. Get busy without waiting to be coaxed—let each man be subjectively honest with his own conscience as to what he should and will do for the immediate development of the Town of Newark.

Where is the "Moses" to awaken the BOARD OF TRADE? "SECRETARY."

NEWS

Here and There

The Oratorical Contest was a great success. Dr. Rowan had arranged a pleasing program of music in connection with the speaking. The audience was composed of a good part of the student body—seven members of the Faculty, four of whom had a part in the audience and thirty-one people from town. Several of these were directly associated with the College. There is a moral to all this. What is it? Those who were absent missed a fine evening. The speaking was exceptionally fine this year. And lovers of music missed a rare treat.

Joint Meeting Of Agricultural Club And Grange A Success

The Delaware College Agricultural Club held a joint open meeting with the Newark Grange at the College abouday evening. The Advantages of Fruit Farming and topic for the evening was "The Grain Farming." The Fruit Farming side was discussed by Messrs. Kirby and Gilliam and the Grain Farming by Messrs. Houchin and Hill, all of the Agricultural Club.

Following this there was a general discussion, in which most of the members of the two organizations took part. The meeting was a success. The papers read by the Agricultural students were much appreciated and showed preparation and thought. Several farmers expressed themselves as well pleased with the showing made by the boys.

The Agricultural Club will hold a meeting next week, and discuss "Delaware as a Truck Farming State."

The Best Service

"And he gave it as his opinion, that whoever could make two ears of corn, or two blades of grass, to grow upon a spot of ground where only one grew before, would deserve better of mankind, and do more essential service to his country, than the whole race of politicians put together." Swift.

Presbytery of New Castle

The Presbytery of New Castle met in White Clay Creek Church at 1:30 p. m., on Tuesday, and was constituted by prayer by the Moderator Rev. Alexander Allison, Pastor of the West Church, Wilmington.

Rev. B. J. Brinkema, Pastor of the Rock and Zion Churches, was unanimously elected Moderator for the next six months. Rev. Mr. Keiffer, Pastor of the Green Hill Church, and Mr. Vincent, elder of the East Lake Church, Wilmington, were elected clerks.

The stated clerk, Rev. Dr. Milligan, read the minutes of previous meetings and the records were approved.

The Rev. Alexander Allison presented the report of the Board of Education, showing a favorable condition of the cause and increased contributions. The young were pursuing their studies in our colleges and theological seminaries were reported as presenting excellent records.

Mr. Downs, who had been licensed to preach at the meeting of Presbytery a year ago, presented himself for ordination. After examination on Theology and Church Government, he was ordained to the Gospel ministry. Mr. Downs, is a young man from Dover and a member of the Church at Dover. He is a young man of excellent ability and will doubtless make his mark as a minister of the Gospel.

The Presbytery of New Castle comprises all the churches in the State of Delaware and on the Eastern Shore of Maryland. The Presbytery holds two regular meetings during the year, one in April and one in October. Sometimes meetings for special purposes are held between the regular meetings. The Presbytery is made up with the pastor and one elder from each church.

The people of White Clay Creek Church made every arrangement for the comfort of the members of Presbytery. An excellent dinner was ready on Tuesday at noon, when most of the delegates had arrived. The delegates were met at Ruthby and conveyed to the church in carriages.

Considerable routine business was gone through with, and some very important business.

The report of the Committee on Church Erection was made by its Chairman Rev. J. Edgar Franklin, recommending that $500 be granted to the Ocean City church as a loan, for the purpose of aiding them in the erection of a Manse. This church was organized a year ago and already they have been compelled to build an addition to the church to accommodate the increasing audiences. And now, they have under progress plans for a house for the pastor. The pastor, Rev. John Rusbridge, on behalf of the session of Ocean City invited the Presbytery to meet with it at the October meeting. This invitation was unanimously accepted.

The call of the White Clay Creek Church for the services of the Rev. J. W. Lowden was read, promising him a salary of $1,000 a year and the free use of the manse, with a month's vacation. The call was found in order and placed in the hands of Mr. Lowden and accepted by him. Arrangements were made for his installation, to take place in the evening. Rev. Alexander Allison to preach the sermon. Rev. J. D. Blake to charge the pastor and Rev. Samuel Polk to charge the people.

Rev. B. J. Brinkema read the report of the Christian life, showing a healthy condition of the various churches.

After a recess, during which the ladies of the church ministered to the physical need of the members of Presbytery with a delightful supper served in the basement of the church.

At 7:30 in the evening the Presbytery reassembled and the service was opened by an anthem by the choir of the church. Rev. E. B. Welsh read the Scriptures and offered prayer. Rev. Alexander Allison, Jr. preached an impressive sermon on Loyalty to the Faith.

The young man, Mr. Downs, whose examination for ordination, which took place in the afternoon, was sustained, was ordained by the laying on of the hands of the Presbytery. The Rev. J. B. Turner, of Dover, the pastor of the church of which Mr. Downs has been a member, delivered the charge to the newly ordained minister, after which Rev. Mr. Downs was enrolled as a member of Presbytery.

At this point Rev. G. W. Lowden was installed as pastor over the people of White Clay Creek Church. Rev. J. D. Blake, of the Red Clay Church, gave the charge to the pastor, and Rev. Samuel Polk charged the people, impressing upon them the various duties they owed to the minister.

Thus closed a delightful day spent with the good people of the White Clay Creek Church.

Wednesday proved to be a busy day. The important report of sustentation and Home Missions was presented by the chairman Rev. Dr. Gillilan, and in the afternoon delegates were elected to the General Assembly which meets in Atlantic City in May.

But going to press at this time, we are unable to give a detailed account, which will appear in our next issue.

Reunion At "Old Drawyers"

The annual reunion will be held at Old Drawyers Church, near Odessa, early in June. The services will be in charge of "The Friends of Old Drawyers." The officers are: President, D. W. Corbit, of Odessa; vice-president Thomas J. Craver, of Salem, N. J.; secretary Miss Cornelia Bowman, of Wilmington; treasurer, George Janvier, of Middletown.

Arrangements are being made for an interesting meeting. Rev. Dr. Warren H. Wilson, of New York City, will preach in the morning. In the afternoon, an address will be made by Chief Justice Pennewill.

New Castle To Be Club House

The old jail at New Castle, one of Delaware's historic buildings, is to be turned into a social clubhouse. The east and west yards, known as the rogue yards, will be converted into tennis courts.

This old building, one of the old types of architecture, replete with his tory of olden days, will make one of the finest club houses in the county.

The Continental Fibre Co. is making extensive additions to their plant.

The Burglar

The little, one-act farce, "The Burglar", will be given in the lecture room of the Presbyterian Church, Thursday evening, April 28. This little play will be rendered by home talent. The cast is: Mrs. John Burton, hostess

..... Mrs. Edna Cooper
Mrs. Valerie Arnsby, a young Widow
..... Miss Agnes Medill

Mrs. Charles Dover, a bride
..... Mrs. Edward Cooch

..... Miss Freda Dixon, Miss Waters
..... Miss Edith Brent

..... Miss Etta Wilson

The proceeds from this play are to be devoted to the needs of the church. It is being given under the management of Miss Elizabeth E. Wilson.

There will be instrumental music by Miss Hawthorne, of Chester, also vocal solos by home talent.

The so-called Book Farmers gave the old tillers of the soil some good advice and showed them that they, too, were on the job. This was at a joint meeting of the silk stocking agriculturists and the plain old blue-jean-overall farmers. The boys showed that brains as well as muscle on the farm. Let us have more of these meetings.

NEWARK—AN APPRECIATION

A WRITER in this week's Westminster tells us that "Fashion and Pride are thought to be the closest neighbors, but they may live thousands of miles apart. There is no pride in a new hat more than there is in a new stem on the leaf of a flower."

He bases his argument on the fact that nature seems to have a passion for new attire, each spring re-creating the trees with the fresh and delicate leaves and re-furbishing the floors with a carpet "fresh from the looms of God."

What a Newark greeted our eyes after last Sunday's rain! The trees were resplendent in their Spring finery, each one glorying in its favorite shade of green and all blended into such a harmonious whole as only nature could produce. The sunshine as it sprinkled through the tender young leaves seemed a little more golden than on its last appearance; the grass of a more velvety and richer smoothness.

"I tell you, Newark is a pretty little town." "Hasn't it some beautiful trees?" and the like were the exclamations heard along the street.

We are favored in our location. For those who delight in the "Peace of the silent hills" — Music of birds, murmur of little rills," it means a much loved home indeed.

A short walk in any of three directions will bring us to the rolling land of the Piedmont, the most beautiful country of all—escaping the wildness and ruggedness of mountain lines and the monotony of the level, but presenting hill and valley, all at the height of cultivation, where the wheat fields not only give beauty to the landscape, but signify a day of prosperity and land of plenty.

The happy medium struck by nature in our surroundings prevails in our social relations.

We have our college, gathering around us the students themselves, and the more scholarly professors; the factories each night pouring out their streams of toilers—the home-makers each hurrying to the enjoyment that follows his labor; the merchant, the farmers (whom we do not mean to count least), all rubbing shoulders in our streets as they hurry to and fro.

If we all work together for a GREATER NEWARK, is our population not well balanced enough to make possible and actual our most ambitious dreams?

WE have been asked to give a few words of advice to the new Council. This sounds like a joke. Our best advice to Council is to take no advice.

A few suggestions based on observation will be given from time to time—merely a one man's opinion.

IN answer to inquiries why we do not publish news of New Century Club, will say that we refuse to publish proceedings of any club or organization without having it from official source. Those organizations that have press correspondents are welcomed to our columns. But we feel in justice to the clubs and to ourselves it is not advisable to publish accounts of meetings not received officially.

THE last number of "The Presbyterian" exhausted its space with a fine local reference to Hon. L. Irving Handy's lecture on the "Resurrection of Christ," delivered the previous Monday in Witherspoon Hall, before a large audience of ministers, who accorded the lecture the most enthusiastic praise. We are not criticizing "The Presbyterian." We know what it is to be cramped for space ourselves; and can understand the difficulties confronting this good old church paper in trying to handle the Handy lecture, while providing the proper display in its columns for "Swamp-Root,"

"Hood's Sarsaparilla," "Ayer's Hair Vigor" and the various other nostrums, the advertisement of whose virtues is so essential to the edification of the readers of a religious weekly.

"My duty is to my Master," said the clergyman, while his servant perished of want.

"My duty is to my own," said the sailor as he grabbed his chest while the ship went down.

"My duty lies at home," said the wife as the prostitute passed her door.

"My duty is to the Church," said the truly good, while the grafters seized the town.

"Our duty is to our families," said the citizens as they moved their household goods, while the town burnt down.

"So long as we love we serve; so long as we are loved by others, I would almost say we are indispensable; and no man is useless while he has a friend."

Hard work is the only cure for hard luck. Society is made up of the working class, and the shirking class, and it is not necessary to say which of these is prosperous and happy.

He has achieved success who has lived well, laughed often, and loved much, who has enjoyed the trust of good women, and the respect of intellectual men, and the love of little children, who has filled his niche and accomplished his task, and who has left the world better than he found it, whether by an improved poppy, a perfect poem, or a rescued soul, who has never lacked appreciation of earth's beauty or failed to express it, who has always looked for the best in others and given them the best he had, whose life was an inspiration, and whose memory is a benediction.

I can be friend to whom I will, nothing and no one can prevent, and death only fulfills. And my friendship so environs her to whom I am a friend as to effect, though I will it not, the quality of her day. Yet may she never know why the sunshine is more golden, the wind wilder and purer, the night more set with stars; nor yet that together we face the storm and boldly and joyously abandon ourselves to its wrestle. Thus is my love returned.

Suggestion For Newark—A Unique Celebration

The Town Council of Seaford has inaugurated a novel celebration to take place in that town on May 2. It will be known as Town Cleaning Day. The Town Council Business Men's Association, all the male and female clubs, the teachers and pupils of the public school will take part. Managers of the different manufactories will set their employees to work. The Board of Health will direct the work. It is the ambition to make Seaford the cleanest and most attractive town on the Peninsula.

Suggestions to Borden Farmers

The importance to every dairyman of being able to take his herd through the hot dry months of summer season when pastures are brown with dry weather and are pestering the cattle, is a problem that has not been duly considered in its true relation to commercial dairying and the importance of a good flow of milk through July, August and September.

This is the situation: The majority of dairymen produce the greatest quantity of milk during the months of the year when the market offers the lowest price, and correspondingly they also produce the least quantity during the months when the market pays the highest price. The dairymen should control production, holding it to a more uniform quantity throughout the year. This illustrates the two extremes as influenced by production; however, doing with this comes the question of how to keep the cow milking when the pasture is poor.

During the past two years dairymen have encountered several weeks of drought in the midst of summer, reducing the growth of hay, and completely drying up the pastures, so that cows freshening during the spring months have not produced a normal quantity of milk for the season, in consequence of the drought, causing a heavy loss to dairying.

With the experience of the past two summers fresh in the mind of every dairyman, it sets one to thinking that now is the time to make ready to meet the possible return of a like condition during the coming summer.

This question can be met easily and economically. There are certain forage crops that are well adapted to our climate and will do well on any dairy farm, if proper care and attention is given to cultivation, furnishing a fresh succulent food as early as July 1st, and with rotation would continue until frost in the fall.

A herd of 20 cows would require three acres of soiling crop to carry them through six weeks of drought. To begin with it is necessary to select a suitable piece of ground—corn stubble or potato ground would be the best. If this is not available, select a sod on loam or gravel soil, plowing as early in the spring as the ground will do to handle, and plow deep, roll down and harrow thoroughly, sow to oats and peas, well mixed, with a grain drill, one bushel of the former to the acre, and one and one-half bushels of the latter, and roll down again. If this crop is put in not later than the tenth of May, it will be ready to cut by July 1st. The three acres should not be planted all at one time, it should be divided into six equal parts, planting one part each successive week. This will provide progressive cuttings, extending into the later part of August. As soon as this crop has been removed from the first portion, which would include the first cutting the first week of July, re-plant that portion of the ground, harrow down with care and sow with Japanese Millet, and so continue to re-plant each portion with Millet as each portion of the oats and pea crop has been cut up. This rotation method will furnish green fodder from July 1st to the middle of September, and in connection there should be one acre of sowed corn planted to finish out the soiling up to November 1st. In preparing a piece of ground for a soiling-crop we should not overlook the importance of feeding the soil with well rotted stable manure or good fertilizer. A soluble soil food of this kind encourages a rapid growth which more than repays the expense of fertilizing.

Such a method applied in the cultivation of soiling crops would carry the average herd of milk cows through a dry summer, maintaining a normal flow of milk, and keep the cow in good condition at the same time. The yield of such crops would be sufficient for the purpose for which they were planted, and if there was a surplus, it could be cured and put into the mow for winter feeding.

Good Words From The South

(From speech of General James Gordon, of Mississippi.)
Down in Mississippi, where I live when I go home and go to my bed to sleep and dream sweet dreams of the hours I have spent here in the Senate, I will sleep with the sword of Damocles hanging over my head. We have a problem there that I want you to help me to settle. I do not ask you to disagree with me, but to talk with me and listen to what I have to say in kindness and friendship. I want to see Mason and Dixon's line obliterated from the map of the United States and on it written the words, "Our Country." I am tired of sectionalism, God knows I have seen enough of it. I don't want any more of it. I do not want to hear any speech in the Senate or any where else that stirs up the strife between old soldiers or citizens. I am an old Confederate; you are old Union men, perhaps. We disagreed, and you are the victors. But our people were good people, and we do not dispute that yours were just as good. Our people are not quarreling over these things down South. We have a few blab-mouth fellows that always want to make a fuss, but they are not even worth cursing. We want you to think well of us, and there is no use in calling us traitors.

Nobody can take away the glories of either side. A man might as well attempt to scale the ramparts of Jehovah and pluck from the heavens God's brightest star as to snatch the laurel from the brow of the conqueror or conquer that stood under that apple tree at Appomattox. They were all good men and famous. They disagreed and they fought, but when conquered we took our oath of allegiance and I can hold up my hand before high heaven and before the Senate to-day and say I have never violated that oath, and I do not know a soldier of the Confederacy who has violated the obligation.

This is my father's house, I am proud to be in it and proud to be associated to-day with the men whom I see around me. I have read the papers and have heard you all abused and censured. But I find that this is the finest working body of men I was ever associated with.

"That ye love one another—that is my commandment; that is what I want to bring about here. That is my object in standing here to-day to talk to you as I do. I want to implant in you just as it is in my heart a growing love for the country I live in and the people I live with. I want you to help me wipe out all lines."

OVERLAND IS THE CAR

The Reason

The car is amazingly simple. Three of the models operate by pedal control. Push a pedal forward to go ahead, and backward to reverse. Push another pedal forward to get on high speed. It is as simple as walking. A ten-year-old child can master the car in ten minutes.

The Overland has less parts than any other highgrade car. One invention alone does away with 47 pieces. The car is almost trouble-proof.

A 40 h. p. Overland with 112-inch wheel base. Price with single rumble seat, $1,250—double rumble seat, $1,275—with 5 passenger Touring or Close-Coupled body, $1,400

OVERLAND "Model 38" is the first real car for $1000. Built by the same expert mechanics who made famous the costly Pope-Toledo cars. It is the only car at the price that gives plenty of room everywhere; that is really comfortable either on long or short rides or country tours; it is the easiest car in the world to drive—barring none; and it will stand up and give absolutely perfect service under conditions which none except the most expensive and carefully constructed cars will endure.

Like all our Planetary Models, the well known Overland Motto applies—"Only pedals to push and no noise but the wind."

The Reason

The Overlands' supremacy—wherever known—is due to the following reasons:

The Overland engine is a wonderful creation. It is so automatic, so silent and powerful, so free from the usual troubles, that it appeals to the average buyer.

The OVERLAND stands the test.

There may be stonger and more serviceable cars than this—but no one around here knows which one it is.

Look for the "Story of an Overland" in next weeks issue.

Overland Model 38—Price $1,000. 25 h. p.—102-inch wheel base. With single rumble seat, $1,050—double rumble seat, $1,075—complete Toy Tonneau, $1,100

Pete Mule No. 1—Amer. Vul. Fibre Co.'s Mascot

This mule is Mr. George Ferguson's side partner in construction of new building, as a recent photo will show. Mr. Cooper's pet and clown. He is a great big 3 year old baby jet black, long ears, fine silky hair, gentle as a lamb, can pick up either of his feet with safety and ties his ears in a bow knot whenever desired. He stands 16-2 bands high in his stocking feet and still growing, weighs now 1230 lbs. and has a 100 or 200 more to go.

Besides working hard every day with rare intelligence he has done many unusual things. Works perfectly by the word on single line block and tall for hoisting and lowering material and is given credit of stopping a runaway by catching his rein in his teeth and holding the fractious horse. The most remarkable of all was his quietly walking up a long scaffold to a height of about 30 feet above the ground and posing for his picture with the men for half hour or more. We can produce plenty of witnesses to all above; have more to follow, but will await news from other prize mules.

He was one of the mules that pulled the Wilmington fire engines to places the night of fire July 21—two mules to each engine, weighing over 8000 lbs. The Monday Club or Bachelor Girls Club seem to have quite a shine for him too. He has proven himself ready for straw rides. In fact, he is a wonder. Mr. Walter Townsend, cooled, is the mule's guiding star and comforter. Mr. Bert Robinson is his teacher.

Editors—An Essay

A little boy in town was given the stunt by his father to write an essay on Editors, and here is the result:

"I don't know how newspapers come to be in the world. I don't think God does he haint got nothing to say about them and editors in the Bible. I think the editor is one of the missing links you read of, and stayed in the bushes until after the flood; and then came out and wrote the thing up, and has been here ever since. I don't think he ever dies. I never saw a dead one and never heard of one getting kicked. Our paper is a mighty good one; but the editor goes without underclothes all winter and don't wear any socks and paw ain't paid his subscription since the paper started. I ast paw if that was why the editor had to suck the juse out of snowballs in winter and go to bed when he had a shirt waest in summer. And then paw took me out into the woods and he lickt me awoud hater. If the editor makes a mistake folks say he ought to be hung; but if a doctor makes any mistake he huries them and people dosseent say nothing because doctors can read and write in latin. When the editor makes a mistake there is lawsuits, and swearing and a big fuss, but if a doctor makes one there is a funeral, cut flowers and perfect silence. A doctor can use a word a yard long without him or anybody else knowing what it means; but if the editor uses one he has to spell it. If the doctor goes to see another man's wife he charges for the visit; but if the editor goes he gets a charge of buckshot. When the doctor gets drunk it is a case of being overcome by the heat and if he dies its from heart trouble; when a editor gets drunk its a case of too much booze and if he dies its the jim-jams.—Rapid River Hustler.
