Kiwanians Gather Here For Fourth Annual Visit

Blast of Escaping Steam Fatally Injures Veteran Employee Here

Samuel T. Fulton Dies From Terrible Burns Received When Valve Blows Out Monday

FUNERAL IS HELD TODAY

Samuel T. Fulton, a veteran employee of the Continental Fibre Co. here, died in the Homeopathic Hospital in Wilmington Monday afternoon from terrible burns received early the same morning, when a six-inch globe valve burst while he was opening it in the boiler room of the plant. Following the accident, which occurred a few minutes after 6 o'clock a. m., the injured man was rushed to the hospital and valiant measures were employed to save his life. His entire body was seared by steam and boiling water, and the skin in some places hung in shreds.

Mr. Fulton was 49 years of age and was one of the oldest employees of the Continental Co. in point of service. He became associated with Mr. S. J. Wright when the present plant was in its infancy, and was considered one of the most valuable employees. Several years ago, he miraculously escaped death when he fell into a tank of boiling acid. His life was saved by quick first aid work.

The bursting of the valve, aside from causing the death of Mr. Fulton, forced the entire plant to shut down Monday. The valve was on a main steam line from the boiler house.

Officials of the company yesterday stated that it is the first fatal accident which has occurred in the long history of the company. From the officers down to the newest employees, messages of sympathy were sent to the widow and family of the dead man when news of his death arrived here. The funeral was held from Mr. Fulton's late residence on South Chapel street, at 3 o'clock this afternoon, and was in charge of the Rev. Frank Herr, pastor of the M. E. Church here. As a mark of respect to their fellow worker, the Continental plant closed down completely at 3 o'clock for the balance of the day. Beautiful floral offerings from the officials and workmen at the plant were sent to the stricken home. After a brief service, the body was interred in the Methodist Cemetery.

The deceased is survived by his widow and six daughters: Ethel Cade, and the Misses Laura, Minnie, Ella, Margaret and Louise Fulton. One son, Daniel, died about three years ago.

The deceased was extremely well known throughout the community and was highly respected. His passing is the cause of deep mourning on the part of his scores of warm friends and fellow workers.

EVANS TAKES CHARGE TOMORROW MORNING

Announcement was made today that William H. Evans, newly appointed postmaster of Newark, will assume his duties here tomorrow morning, and will be handed over the work of the office by the retiring postmaster, Levi K. Bowen.

The change in administration does not affect the personnel of the office, as they all come under the jurisdiction of the Civil Service Commission.

There will be no ceremony attached to the transfer, and it is understood that Mr. Bowen has consistently refused to be the guest of honor at a testimonial dinner.

The successor to Mr. Evans as Trust Officer of the Newark Trust Co. has not as yet been named, although action in this matter is expected at a meeting of the directors tonight.

Thieves Get Away With Brand New Auto

Even Force Open Gas Pump and Fill Car With Fuel at Strickland Garage

NO TRACES FOUND YET

A brand new Overland "Bluebird" touring car, valued at $870, was stolen last night from its place on the floor of Mackenzie and Strickland's garage along Elkton Avenue. At a late hour this afternoon no trace of the stolen car had been found. Police in all parts of the State and upper Maryland have been notified of the theft. State Detective Chandler and motor policeman are on the hunt today.

Unusual boldness marked the visit of the thieves to Newark. Not content with forcing the lock on the front door and pushing the car out, they opened the cash register, stole the keys to the outside gasoline pump and filled the new car to the brim with fuel before leaving.

Neighbors say they heard a slight noise at the garage about 2 a. m. this morning, but nothing serious was suspected. An empty oil can was found near Elkton Avenue and Delaware Avenue, this morning, and residents in that locality say they heard a car stop at that point late last night for a few minutes.

Mr. Fred Strickland did not discover the loss until he went to the garage this morning. He found the front doors ajar, and the interior of the showroom in disorder.

A hasty survey indicates that the marauders took out two window panes in the rear of the building to gain entrance.

Due to the conspicuous blue color of the car, the police believe that they will come up with it in the course of a day or two. They have as yet reported no clues on which to base an organized hunt.

Fight Over Oil Tanks Finds Forces Deadlocked

Talk of Injunction Against Hearn Oil Co. Holds Interest —Council Washes Hands of Affair

WORKMEN GO ON DIGGING

Workmen in the employ of the Hearn Oil Co. of Wilmington are placidly digging away for the foundations of the two 12,000 gallon gasoline tanks on the Richards lot near Newark Center Station this week, regardless of the storm of opposition raised by nearby property owners.

Developments during the past few days involving the oil company officials, property owners, Council and the Chamber of Commerce indicate that a resident property owner may force a temporary injunction against the Hearn Company, restraining them from going on with the building until the Courts hold a hearing of both sides. It is understood that plans for just such action are being formulated by a resident of Newark, but the action had not been taken up to this morning.

Council Cannot Act

The original permit granting the oil company their request for what is termed "a wholesale and retail distributing station for oils and gasolines," was obtained from Town Council. Appeals from property owners were heard by Mayor Frazer and turned over to the attorney for Council, Charles B. Evans. It followed that at a conference between the Mayor and Mr. Evans Monday the former was advised that Council could do nothing whatever in the matter at this time.

This decision automatically throws the situation into a deadlock, as Council is the only local body which can revoke a permit. In speaking of the situation last evening, the Mayor stated that he understood that deep dikes would be placed about the two large tanks to prevent leakage and danger from an explosion, and that the fire underwriters had agreed to indemnify all property owners within the prescribed fire area. He said that

EXPRESS TRAIN KILLS ODESSA MAN NEAR HERE

George P. Collins, Paint Salesman Blinded by Rain at Harmony Crossing

Apparently blinded by rain on the windshield of his small closed car, George P. Collins, of near Odessa, was instantly killed Monday afternoon when a fast north bound express on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad crashed into his car at Harmony station about three miles east of Newark. Collins was riding alone at the time. He was dragged several feet underneath the train before the engineer succeeded in stopping. When picked up by trainmen, he was dead. Both arms and legs were broken, his skull fractured and his body covered with cuts and bruises.

The body was brought to Newark to the establishment of Undertaker R. T. Jones, at the instance of Deputy Coroner Elliott. The remains were sent yesterday to his home near Odessa for burial.

Dr. Bullock, in the absence of President John W. Morris, is presiding at the Kiwanis Dinner tonight. Mr. Blackwell is Kiwanis District Trustee and a guest tonight.

FARMERS AND BANKERS OF STATE GATHER HERE FOR MUTUAL HELP

Over fifty farmers and bankers of Delaware gathered in Newark yesterday for a conference, the first of its kind ever held in the State, and the 30th meeting of similar nature held in the country. Two sessions were held in Wolf Hall at 10.30 a. m. and immediately after luncheon.

That a closer co-operation is necessary between the country banker and the farmer of his community was emphasized throughout the course of the meeting, particularly with regard to establishing quick markets, educating the farmer away from antiquated methods, and prompting the banker way where the good of the community is at stake.

The principal address of the day was delivered in the afternoon session by D. H. Otis, of Madison, Wis., director of the Agricultural Commission of the American Bankers Association. Mr. Otis, after explaining in detail the phases of the work accomplished by the Commission, devoted his speech to an appeal for a better understanding between the financial and agricultural forces of the country.

Robert P. Robinson, president of the Delaware Bankers Association, to meet the farmer more than half presided at the afternoon session. Mr. Robinson is president of the Central Bank of Wilmington.

Other speakers at the afternoon session were W. R. Titlow, president of the Federal Land Bank of Baltimore, who told of the purposes and scope of this type of bank, and J. D. Reynolds, of Middletown, who pointed out the practical viewpoint of the situation which now confronts the Delaware farmer. Following these addresses, a round table discussion was held with Dean C. A. McCue leading, at which time many valuable ideas were exchanged in short talks.

It appeared to be the opinion of most of the speakers that both the farmer and the banker need prodding in Delaware as well as in other States and communities to reorganize their viewpoints toward one another, to create new policies of production and financing, and to co-operate for their common good. As one speaker aptly put it, "the community needs the bank and the bank needs the community."

Morning Session

Dr. Walter Hullihen, president of the University, opened the conference yesterday morning by extending a

INJURED MAN WALKS 10 MILES IN RAINSTORM

Clarence Kilmon Picked Up In Dazed Condition Following Leap from Train To Make Survey

Found in a dazed condition ten miles from the spot where he leaped from a moving P. R. R. train, Clarence R. Kilmon, brother of Ira E. Kilmon, of this place, was picked up by a track walker near Iron Hill station last Sunday evening, and taken to Union Hosital, where severe lacerations of the head, face and arms, were treated by physicians.

His brother in Newark was sent for and removed him yesterday to his home in Wilmington. Although badly cut and shaken up from his experience, the injured man will soon be on the mend.

Kilmon was on his way home to Wilmington on a Pennsylvania train Sunday night, according to reports. When the train pulled in the French Street station, he was dozing, and did not wake up until passing through the west yards. Thinking he could safely leave the train, Kilmon jumped from the steps of the coach and rolled down the embankment. The force of the fall, however, shook him up severely and left him in a semi-conscious condition. According to the injured man, he was in a daze until found wandering along the tracks near Iron Hill, over ten miles from the point where he jumped. Most of his journey was made through a heavy rainstorm. The train did not stop at Newark or Elkton, and he chose this route rather than being carried on to Baltimore.

BACK FROM FLORIDA

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Griffin have returned from the winter's sojourn in Orlando, Fla., and are occupying their home on West Main Street. Mr. Griffin reports that the climate down South seems to agree with him, as he feels better each successive spring.

PROMINENT ELKTON BUSINESS MAN DEAD

Samuel J. Keyes Succumbs At Home Monday Night After Long Illness

Samuel J. Keyes, one of Elkton's oldest business men, died at his home there Monday evening, after an illness that has kept him confined to his bed for some months. He was 75 years of age.

Mr. Keyes was senior partner of the lumber and grain firm of Keyes & Miller, and owned one of the largest lumber sheds in the county. He was a native of Dorchester County and came to Elkton when a young man. He has been in the same business all his life.

The deceased was prominent in many activities in and near Elkton. He was for many years a director of the Second National Bank of Elkton, and is said to have lost heavily when the bank went to pieces a few years ago. He was also a member of the Official Board of the M. E. Church, and of the Masons, Red Men and Odd Fellows.

Mr. Keyes is survived by an adopted daughter, Mrs. John Kinkley, of Philadelphia. His wife died several years ago.

Local Committee Is Swamped With Guests

Over 325 Wilmington Kiwanians and Their Wives at Banquet Tonight in Old College Hall

JOHN DENNIS MAHONEY IS PRINCIPAL SPEAKER

With an unprecedent demand for tickets to the dinner and dance this evening, the fourth annual pilgrimage of the Kiwanis Club of Wilmington to Newark and the University is scheduled to break all records set by similar affairs held in the past and will be the largest single outing ever held by the club.

Up to early yesterday afternoon 320 covers had been reserved at the banquet table, with scores yet to be heard from. A. G. Wilkinson, a member of the club, is in charge of the local arrangements for the visit and intimates that emergency methods may have to be used tonight to handle the crowd. One hundred and ninety people constituted the group last year.

The Kiwanians left Wilmington this afternoon at 4.30 standard time, in autos, and will motor down in a body. Scores of cars were in line, and the path was cleared by two members of the State Police. They arrived in Newark shortly after five o'clock this afternoon and proceeded to the University where the dinner began at 5.30, standard time.

The interior of the spacious dining hall was beautifully decorated for the occasion with shaded lights on the tables and flowers in profusion. Practically every Kiwanian was accompanied by his wife, mother, or sweetheart, as it will be "Ladies' Night." Following the dinner, the tables will be cleared away and dancing will be enjoyed until a late hour.

English Teacher Speaks

The principal address of the evening will be made by John Dennis Mahoney, head of the department of English in West Philadelphia High School. Mr. Mahoney, beside his work in the school is a literary advisor and critic of real merit and has an envied reputation as an afterdinner speaker. His subject will be "Education For Bread and the Blue Sky." He will be introduced by Dr. C. Q. Bullock, vice-president of the club, who is presiding at the dinner in the place of John W. Morris, president.

A supporting musical program has also been arranged and will be given after the dinner. Vocal solos by Miss Jane Poole Dutton and violin solos by Oswald W. Mosher, Jr. of the Faculty here, will be accompanied by Miss Dora Wilcox at the piano. Guy R. Ford, immediate past president of the club, will again assume his old role of song leader and instill pep into the ladies and their escorts. The University Orchestra will play during the dinner and later on at the dance.

Interest In College

The club has instituted a scholarship amounting to $250 to run for a term of four years, and it is whispered about that an additional sum may be appropriated in the near future to help continue the scholarship. Many of the Kiwanians are alumni of the University, and the visit tonight will no doubt bring back old memories.

CHURCH WORKERS ATTEND CONVENTION

Those in attendance at the Women's Auxiliary meeting were the following: Mrs. D. C. Rose, Mrs. William Coverdale, Mrs. Herbert Owens, Mrs. Walter Geist, Mrs. J. W. Christadore, Mrs. Elma Creswell, Mrs. Robert Tweed, Mrs. Howard Jester and Mrs. Charles Tryens.

HAM BATTLE BRINGS CADET INSPECTION TO CLOSE--HIGH RATING PREDICTED

Army Inspectors Witness Manouvers on Hills North of Newark Saturday—Company B Wins Competitive Drill

Quiet confidence that Delaware will again be designated by the War Department as a "distinguished college" in military affairs is expressed by officers down to privates in the ranks of the R. O. T. C. battalion here. Throughout the two-day inspection made by Regular Army officers detailed by the Department, the University cadets never faltered and all who witnessed the drilling last year are of the opinion that this year's demonstration was quite a bit better.

The chief interest to townspeople and visitors Saturday was the war game over undertaken by the battalion in the hills back of Newark along the Williamsville road. The attacking force was despatched about 9.30 a. m. from lower Depot Road and moved north through the town to the tracks of the Pomeroy railroad. The problem was to envelope the hill occupying the hill just east of the Country Club.

Soon the rattle of musketry and the rapid spitting of a machine gun in the center of the defenders' line told the attack was launched under the watchful eyes of the inspectors and several hundred townspeople.

The men on both sides behaved like regular veterans and carried the problem through with flying colors. It was all arranged that the "enemy" was to be dislodged; the main question was whether they were dislodged according to the best standards of manouvering. The student officers and men were on their own in the "battle" and showed a remarkable coolness and military technique in handling the situation. One platoon, however, attacked too hurriedly and exposed themselves to opssible annihilation. Eagerness to get to the objective caused them to leave a hole through which the "enemy" might have rushed and thein turned on the attackers. However, the victorious "army" came marching home with colors flying, tin hats and all.

ARUNDEL CO. GETS NEW CANAL JOB

The Arundel Corporation, Baltimore, was awarded a contract Friday to dredge 1,000,000 cubic yards of material from the Chesapeake and Delaware Canal between the Summit and Pennsylvania Railroad bridges, west of St. Georges.

The Arundel bid was the lowest of four received recently the U. E. Engineering Office, Sixth and King streets, Wilmington. Its bid was 23 cents a cubic yard, which would make the contract approximate $230,000.

On Saturday, May 17, the canal will be closed for two days to permit the entrance of another large dredge.

Recruiting For Panama

Uncle Sam is now offering a fine chance to young men who desire to see the Panama Canal, the great waterway connecting the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans. Enlistments are open in the Infantry, Field Artillery, Coast Artillery, Medical Department, Ordnance Department, Signal Corps, and Engineers of the U. S. Army stationed in the Canal Zone. This assignment is one that is usually much sought after by those who desire foreign service, due to the delightful climate as well as the opportunity afforded to visit some of the old historical cities of Central America which have been the scene of many episodes of history, and romantic tales of fiction. Anyone desiring information regarding enlistments for this station can secure the same by communicating with Corporal George W. Dickerson, U. S. Army Recruiting Station, Sixth and King Streets, Wilmington, Delaware.

ETHERIZING THE LAW
HEADIN' FOR THE BARN
THE SILENT SIREN

Discussed Ad Lib For "The Post" by Mr. Joe Spivus

Cooch's Bridge, Del.

Mister Editor:

I realize that people oughtn't to lean over the fence and tell their neighbor how to keep the pansies bloomin' when their own back yard is full of weeds, but your correspondent can't hold hisself in any longer and has got his long range guns plumb focused on Elkton this week. I been readin' in your paper about that Decker case, and the Goodyear "fountain of youth and hydrophobia" and many others of which they is too numerous to mention; but not content with that, I went and interviewed some of the residents who claim Elkton as their bailwick, and honest, Mr. Editor, they just ain't enough space in your paper to tell about the way them lawyers down there etherize the Law and make it roll over and play dead. As far as I can learn, there isn't no reason why most of the cases docketed for the court there have to be dragged down to Denton or Chestertown for trial unless it's because evedybody enjoys the scenery on the trips down and back.

If I was to commit a crime in Elkton, Mr. Editor, all I'd have to do would be to see some of them second rate lawyers and I could get my case tried in Kalamazoo if I wanted to. Everybody knows the situation, but it don't seem like anyone wants to tell tales.

I guess the only thing to do is to wait until they step on thin ice and get good and wet. You know that old poem about "give him enough rope and he'll hang himself," don't you? They got enough lawyers in Elkton today to handle a county three times its size, but it's guns on the table for me when doing business with most men unable to make a livin' outside what's known as illegal perfesshun.

You folks up there at the "seat of learning" maybe don't think anybody what hauls manure and goes to the creamery ever was blessed with a college education. Howsomeever, I happened to be in attendance at old Delaware College when Poverty Row was in full bloom, and all the really good men lived there.

And even now I takes a real and fervid interest in the old school. Nobody knows me when I come up to see the boys play except maybe you and Clarence Short and Sypherd and a few others. But country people has a peculiar faculty for puttin' two and two together and generally comin' out with four—all of which leads me to remark that the editorial in the Review of last week, "Are We A University" certainly hit the old nail on the cranium. I calls up Doc Sypherd after I read it, and I told him that if the Officials didn't hush that boy up, he would tell somethin' pretty soon, for he is sure headin' for the barn.

I don't aim to have no panacea or thirty day cure for the college. Maybe they is so far ahead of us, that we can't see that far, but I think I can speak for a few of the "old timers" when I says that we all might get together for to scrub the kitchen and clean the dirty dishes instead of sittin' in the parlor in our best clothes and entertaining on installment plan furniture.

We understand that if we all live to the 4th of July, what among the best families is said to be Independence Day, we will hear that new Fire Company siren whistle go off. I hope they let us all know a few days ahead so that Sally Ann and I can get some glad rags together and make a day of it in Newark.

First they couldn't get all the pieces together when they put it up and since it was awful to waste any, they sent for the factory feller, and he got it fixed up. Now after they got it up and tried it once, some of the folks say that the durned thing makes too much noise, and that it's no use wakin' up New Castle county for a fire out at Appleton. But that's neither here nor there, as the poet says. We folks down here at Cooch's ain't much wrought up about it, for it looks pretty standin' up there behind the fire house, and if the fool thing refuses to work, that oughtn't to worry Mr. Frazer and his playmates, for Tom Green says he'll buy it, cause his windmill needs a new tower anyhow.

We're most drowned out down here, Mr. Editor. Hopin' you're the same, and with respeckt, etc., I am

CLEAR GOOD SUM FOR ELKTON BALL TEAM

Leap Year Dance In Armory Draws Big Crowd Friday Night

The girls of Elkton proved themselves quite adept at handling the men, as a result of the dance given for the benefit of the Elkton ball team in the Armory there last Friday evening. It was a Leap Year affair, and about 100 fortunate young men were present.

The big drill hall was cleverly decorated with laurel, lilacs and spring foliage. In the center a varicolored hoop trimmed with crepe paper hung from the ceciling. Below it was suspended a transparent lantern with the words "Let's Go" shining out. In one corner was a sign in national colors, "Enlist In Co. E."

Music for the occasion was furnished by Bob Arthurs' Orchestra from Dover, Del. Dancing started at nine and lasted until two o'clock.

An innovation which caught the attention of all, was the receiving line, composed entirely of men of the town who are interested in the ball team and all other doings of the young folks. The dancers reported that the staid old chaps behaved just like society leaders, and save for occasionally planting a kiss on the face of a passing girl, remained well within their dignity. The receiving line was composed of Messrs. W. C. Feehly, H. M. McCullough, H. W. Lewis, D. J. Ayerst, S. Ralph Andrews, Russell George, C. E. Deibert, J. H. Terrell, J. A. Taylor, J. W. Clay, H H. Mitchell, and Warren W. Boulden.

The dance was arranged and promoted by the entire younger set of the town, headed by Katherine Minster, Kitty Bolton, Elizabeth Lewis, Natalie Ayerst, and several others.

Refreshments consisting of homemade sandwiches and delicious lemonade were served during intermissions. Guests were present from Wilmington, Newark, Chestertown, Middletown, Dover and other points nearby.

It was reported that the sum of $75 was cleared for the ball team from the proceeds of the dance.

Dangerous Curve To Be Straightened Out

The dangerous "S" curve of the Lincoln Highway, about three miles below Elkton, where the road crosses the overhead bridge over the Pennsylvania Railroad tracks will be straightened out, according to reports from Elkton, Monday.

Instead of making the sharp bend to cross the tracks, the road will be continued in a straight line and will cross at an angle, thereby eliminating an every present danger of crashing through the high board fence at the approaches and dropping thirty feet to the racks.

The agreement to alter the course of the road is said to have been made by the County Commissioners, the State Road Commission and the railroad company after a prolonged controversey.

Elkton Rally Day Plans Are Completed

Four Bands Will Be In Line of Mammouth Parade on May 23—Hundreds of Kids Expected

Final arrangements have been made, according to reports from Elkton, for the annual Cecil County School Rally Day, to be held there on Friday, May 23rd.

This is the biggest school event of the year in the neighboring county and at least 2000 school children, their parents and friends from all parts of the county will be on hand.

Hugh W. Caldwell, county school superintendent, working in conjunction with the Elkton Council, Chamber of Commerce and Rotary Club, has mailed to the various schools, large and small, detailed instructions for their participation in the program.

As in past years, Rally Day will open with a big parade through the streets of Elkton, beginning at 9.45 sharp. The route of the parade will be from Main Street and Delaware Avenue, west on Main Street to Bridge Street, north on Bridge Street to Railroad Avenue, and east on Railroad Avenue to the Elkton Ball Park, and a final review inside the park.

Four bands have been engaged for the occasion, the Elkton Band, Cecilton Band, Oxford Band and a band from Newark.

Following the disbanding of the parade, lunch will be the next event in order.

Practically all the schools will bring their own lunches, but aside from that Elkton storekeepers are preparing for the annual rush on their candy, soda, and ice cream departments by hordes of hungry kids. If there ever was a big day for the children, it comes on Rally Day in Elkton.

The afternoon will be devoted to athletic sports between the various schools, and keen rivalry is assured. The pupils will be divided into classes from High School down to primary grades. Medals and banners will be awarded the winners in each event.

The attractive school exhibits, always a feature of Rally Day, will be displayed in the Armory and will be open to public inspection on Thursday evening, May 22nd, and all day Friday, the 23rd.

Members of the Rotary Club and the Chamber of Commerce are taking active parts in preparing to handle the throng of youngsters. Special police arrangements are being perfected in order to minimize the possibility of accidents.

We Build

The Kiwanis Club is welcome to Newark. Good fellows, good Citizens, they merit well their motto—We Build.

Visiting the University once a year is a Kiwanis tradition, and as with all traditions it has good cheer, fellowship and service. Their interest in the University is not mere Good Times and Social Gayeties but by their Endowed Scholarship, they have shown a sentiment and civic interest in their State University that is practical and worthy of emulation.

We-Build-Citizens is what the State needs, so a visit from such an organization is an honor of no mean compliment. The University does not belong to men nor to a town; it belongs to Delaware. So, Welcome Kiwanis, to what is really yours.

Delaware Does Not Forget

Memorial Tablet for World War Soldiers

At a meeting of the Memorial Day Committee last week, it was decided to make possible the placing of a tablet on the stone on the University Campus, marking the spot where the Selective Draft men from Rural New Castle County took the oath of allegiance. Rather than a drive or solicitation of funds, it was agreed that opportunity would be given at the exercises for voluntary contributions. The point to be stressed is that the tribute shall be the same as a floral tribute. Organizations that have heretofore placed floral tributes at the Shrine of Honor, may give equal tribute this year by dropping their contribution in a floral basket to be provided.

The affair will be absolutely void of solicitation or collection and void of credits or advertising—merely an opportunity for those thus inclined to make permanent this mark of appreciation and memory to those who offered and gave so much.

So this is to say that those organizations or citizens, desiring thus to contribute, will send same by a Representative to the Exercises.

Of the success, there is no doubt—the amount needed will not exceed $300. It is hoped that it can be made a tribute of the University, the Community and the County.

Roads Rule the World

Roads rule the world—not kings nor congresses, not courts nor constables, not ships nor soldiers. The road is the only royal line in a democracy, the only legislature that never changes, the only court that never sleeps, the only army that never quits, the first aid to the redemption of any nation, the exodus from stagnation in any society, the call from savagery in any tribe, the high priest of prosperity, after the order of Malchisedec, without beginnings of days or end of life. The road is umpire in every war, and when the new map is made, it simply pushes on its great campaign of help, hope, brotherhood, efficiency and peace.

The above expresses a Truth that should prompt every citizen of Delaware of whatever rank, station, party or creed, to take part in acknowledging the civic outlook, the generous spirit, the practical genius of Coleman du Pont in the construction of Delaware's first great Highway.

It is planned that when the gift of the du Pont Road, costing nearly four million dollars, is formally turned over to the State, that citizens give General du Pont a reception on the Dover Green. Striking in conception, unusual in generosity, dramatic in execution, this Road, with its economic and civic values, has done more to begin the newer Delaware than any one thing.

To express this fully, will be impossible, but this Dream is now a Realtiy and Good Roads in Delaware is a Fact at home and an ambition of other state's observation.

This demonstration is not sectional, not personal, not political, but civic—and Delaware is a good citizen, always.

Welcome Home

AFTER WHILE

After while—we have in view
A far scene to journey to,—
Where the old home is, and where
The old Mother waits us there,
Peering, as the time grows late,
Down the old path to the gate.

How we'll click the latch that locks
In the pinks and hollyhocks,
And leap up the path once more,
Where she waits us at the door!
How we'll greet the dear old smile
And the warm tears,—after while!

Sons of Delaware—Glad you are coming Home again. On Saturday, the Sons of Delaware from Philadelphia will pay their annual spring visit to the University, it being the one spot where all can well feel at home. We are glad to have them—both Newark and the University.

In recent years as Sons of Delaware always do, they bring a present to the Home folks and this year marks another Scholarship continued. They will be pleased to see the new Library, too, in its construction. The Philadelphia boys pledged $5000 to this fund for building. Well do we remember the cheers and tears of joy when Jennings Hood made that dramatic announcement during the drive—Delaware does not forget—in practise no more than she does in sentiment.

The Delaware Kids from Sussex Sands, Kent Creeks and New Castle Woods will all be here. May Day and Girls, Base Ball and Boys, Songs of yesterday and cabaret, laugh, good cheer, How do ye'do, "Hire ye," Dinner, Smokes, jokes and speakin—all will be here. Then a story of years ago—a handclasp and back to work and Success. Glad to see you—

Come again.

Great Athletic Event

Several hundred young men from seventeen different universities and colleges of the Middle Atlantic States will be in Wilmington and in Newark on May 23 and 24. They will take part in the Middle Atlantic States track and field championships, which will be held on Frazer Field at Newark.

This is perhaps the most notable athletic event that has taken place at the University of Delaware for a long time. And the students and the alumni, realizing its importance, are preparing to give the visitors a cordial welcome.

A good impression of Wilmington and of the University of Delaware should be made upon these sturdy young athletes, so that when they return home they will talk and talk about their visit to this State. A committee in Wilmington and in Newark is arranging for the entertaining. It is quite an undertaking, and the committee needs help. The authorities at Newark are doing what they can.

One proposal is to have a big dinner Friday evening at the University, with all the visitors present. What a fine time they would have with the groups cheering and every one in a jolly mood. Such an entertainment, a speaker or two and a dinner and music, would not cost very much, but it would be a financial strain upon the University's athletic council.

Here is a chance for some good friend of the University and of colleges in general to come forth and help financially. If it could be generally understood what this meet means for the University and for Wilmington, all the aid needed would be promptly given.

We trust also that the University Club, recently organized but not yet functioning, will see its way clear to assist in looking after the visitors. The club would be a big help. This matter should, we think, attract the attention of the Chamber of Commerce. One tentative plan is to take the young men automobile riding on Saturday morning and show them the beautiful sights around Wilmington.

This city has become famous for its luncheons and entertainment and for cordial welcomes. It now has another splendid chance to do something worth while—show these visiting college athletes a good time.—Morning News.

Are We a University?

(From the University of Delaware Review, by the new Editorial Staff.)

The one who wrote this article is the type of student that America needs—Delaware is included in the term America—he is keen, observant, a student, honest and unafraid. If not suppressed, and we doubt it's possible, he will serve his college and his State well by expressing an individual point of view.

In some respects, this institution of ours falls so far below the dignity and performs so feebly the mission of a university that one, at times, wonders if the title of University were not adopted as a joke on the outside world. But one has only to survey the countenances of those who make up the University to see that there has been no conscious attempt at humor, and that if this is a bit of fun that the outside world is not alone the butt.

There is no doubt that a certain amount of very commendable effort is being made to lift us up to the level of our name. But the most notable feature of this work is being performed upon another continent, and only the men are allowed to take advantage of the benefits of the Foreign Study Plan. No really beneficial, unselfish attempts are being made at home to make us a university in the broader and spiritual sense of the word. And herein lies the absurdness of us calling ourselves a university.

The spirit of the University is too "little," too colloquial, too selfishly self-satisfied to warrant the name of other than a preparatory school. In spirit we are a "prep" school. Instead of intellectual leaders we have headmasters; in place of teaching by setting examples, which is the only logical and worthwhile method of conveying knowledge, we are taught in the old-fashioned, dogmatic way of the "grade" schools; and instead of producing men and women who accomplish something, the actors, we produce the average citizens, the audience. (Surely no one will deny that, as the audience is produced wholesale from life, the colleges should "turn out" the actors.) Here someone will name two or three graduates who have actually accomplished something. But these are just the few who did not succumb to the "university" environment. The great majority of our graduates are no more and do no more than the great number of men and women who never had a college education.

The attitude that is taken toward the students by those who constitute the "working-unit" of the University does not tend to product a sense of manhood or of womanhood in the students. The student is continually being suspected of trying to "put something over," "to get away with something"; he is often indirectly called a liar. The things we have learned about the powers of suggestion through means of psychology show that this suspicious attitude tends to develop anything in the student but a sense of responsibility and honor. Suspicion breeds cause for suspicion, even where there was none originally.

If those who take this attitude are really interested in developing men and women, rather than cramming facts down our throats, why do they not see and recognize the value of treating us as human and honorable beings? Which is of more importance, graduating a person who is an "A" student, or one who is a moral vertebrate to the backbone of the community? Just at this period in American history, which is the more needed, a sense of honor and responsibility toward our fellowmen, or a knowledge of the minute irregularities of French verbs? If the function of a university is merely to teach us to learn to use "may" and "can" properly, why have the needless expense of the upkeep of such an institution? The libraries could take care of our educations.

But obviously the mission of the university is to develop character through knowledge, personality through example, and morality through confidence.

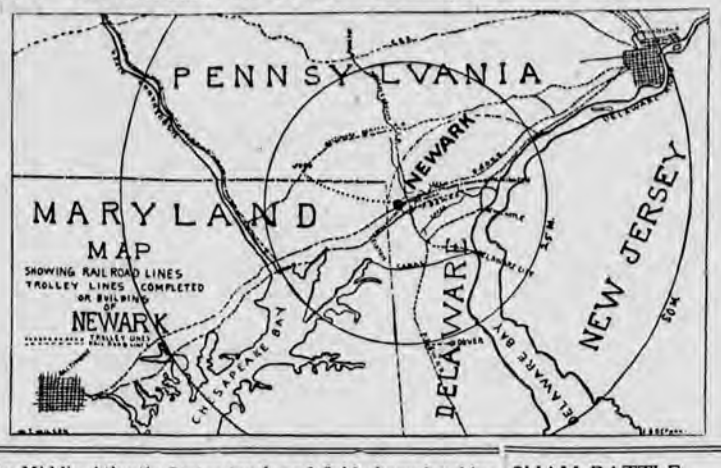
Those who do not trust others, do not trust themselves. Something in their own personalities makes them suspicious of humanity in general. Though humanity in general is good, essentially good. Good with a goodness that can be developed or atrophied, depending upon the environment of the "plastic age."

Suburbs of The East

Words, phrases, sentiments, records often exaggerate facts. Pictures, Cartoons and Paintings add color or drab to Realities. But diagrams and maps never do. They explain themselves, challenge and defeat contradiction and create no optical illusion.

In times past and present, too, residents of Newark received the smile, good natured or sarcastic, over their enthusiasm for Newark. Their words and description are considered rather high colored.

So here is a map showing the advantage of this State town and its setting in relation to the East. Set here amidst the hills of New Castle, its location as shown is rather fortunate. Without words or phrases, picture or description, we ask that you look at the map.



SHAM BATTLE ENDS INSPECTION

Company B Wins

The inclement weather held up the inspection on Friday and for a time it looked like the whole show would be called off. The inspectors, however, decided to go through with it and the battalion was called out.

The annual competitive inter-company drill was held on Frazer Field during the day, and afforded the most interest for the onlookers. Beside the inspectors, two officers from Fort du Pont and Capt. J. Wilson O'Daniel, on a visit here, passed on the drill. Under these trained eyes the boys went through their paces with scarcely a hitch.

Company B, Captain Wilbur S. Shockley commanding, won the coveted Roberts medal for the best all round company, and the decision was met with favor by the entire student body.

Other drills consisted of parade and review, tent pitching, open and closed order drills, first aid, machine gun, automatic rifle, trench mortar and scouting. Class room inspection was also made by the officers.

The inspectiong was done by Lieut. Colonels Maybach and Hayne of the War Department.

NEW JERSEY PASTOR TO ADDRESS DEL. SONS

200 Expected in Newark Next Saturday Afternoon and Evening

The annual trip of the Sons of Delaware of Philadelphia to Newark will be made next Saturday, the 17th, by special train, arriving in the B. and O. station about 1.10 p. m. standard time.

In the afternoon their time will be divided between witnessing the May Day fete at the Women's College which begins at 2.30, and two athletic contests on Frazer Field later in the afternoon. Blue and Gold athletes will take part in a baseball game and a dual track meet on that afternoon, so there will be plenty for the visitors to watch.

At six o'clock in the evening the members of the delegation will be served a banquet in Old College Hall. It is expected that over 200 places will be filled when the banquet starts.

The speaker of the evening will be the Rev. Warren Giles, pastor of the First Reformed Church in East Orange, New Jersey.

FARMERS-BANKERS MEET IN NEWARK

welcome in behalf of the institution. He pointed out that in his opinion the keynote of the whole meeting was "Co-operation,"—through the three great agencies now extant in the State, the Farmer, the Banker and the Agricultural School and Experiment Station.

Dean McCue, who presided at the meeting, then called on Frank A. Zimmerman, of the Chambersburg Trust Co., Chambersburg, Pa. In a very interesting talk, Mr. Zimmerman outlined some few of the many good things accomplished in the past four years in his home county, through the aid of the A. B. A. Agricultural Commission, the country banker and the farmer. Several new crops have been introduced there, new markets found for old crops and a general agricultural prosperity throughout the community obtained. In speaking of the Commission, he suggested that the local Chamber of Commerce take a hand in the game by appointing an Agricultural Committee composed of a banker, a farmer, the County Agent, and a Railroad man. This type of a committee will do a world of good for the farmer and for the town itself, he said.

CARS SIDESWIPED AT CECILTON SATURDAY

Wilmington People Reported Hurt In Accident Near Bohemia Bridge

One man was hurt and several others badly shaken up Saturday night when two large touring cars collided on the Cecilton-Cheapeake City road, near the south end of Bohemia River bridge. The injured man was placed in a passing car and hurried to the hospital.

From reports of witnesses it appears that the injured were all Wilmington people, and that following the collision with a Baltimore car, their car crashed through a fence along the roadside. They were riding in a Hudson sedan. No particulars of the accident could be obtained. It was later learned that the Hudson was driven by John Bowers, of Wilmington.

DELAWARE ASPARAGUS BECOMING POPULAR

Growers Predict Large Crops In Few Years Time

The growing of asparagus in Delaware is rapidly becoming a very important industry. The season is just starting, and it is hoped that the growers will receive paying prices for this year's crop; however, one of the greatest factors in obtaining paying prices is the proper grading of the asparagus.

The first Delaware asparagus this season was sold in Philadelphia last week, and the prices ranged from three to seven dollars per dozen bunches, which was quite a little below the selling price of New Jersey asparagus, and this was due wholly to the fact that the New Jersey asparagus was better graded than the stock from Delaware.

It is the policy of many Delaware shippers of asparagus to mix both green and white in the same bunch, as well as to mix both large and small stalk in the same bunch. This does not hold true, of course, of all Delaware shippers, but it is a fact that a large percentage of them do not properly grade.

The Jersey growers make four grades; small, medium, large, and extra large; however, it is believed that three grades are sufficient for most shippers, and the green stalks and the white stalks should be put up in separate bunches. In order to obtain the best prices, the stalks should, by all means, be put into bunches according to size; that is, all small stalks should be put into bunches together, and the same way with the medium and the large, but the three sizes should not be mixed together in the same bunch.

The supply of asparagus, so far, has been light, and usually good prices have prevailed. Of course, when the markets receive a seavier supply, the prices will no doubt decline; however, proper grading, combined with the nearness to the markets, which would enable Delaware growers to get their asparagus to the markets fresh, should enable them to obtain the highest market prices throughout the season.

STRAWBERRY VINES LATE TO BLOSSOM

Farmers Down State Worried Over Unusual Delay In Big Crop

Says the State Sentinel, Dover, in its current issue:

The oldest residents of this community report that they have never known the strawberries to be so late before to blossom. The height of the berry season is usually about May 20 or 25, but now the fields have not begun to blossom and it is about one month from the time the blossoms form until the rip fruit is picked. The late spring, continued cool weather and the heavy rains during the past month, have been the cause of the late crop.

Farmers realized good profits from their berries last year, and this year set a larger acreage. If the crop is not to yield heavily this year, it will incur a heavy loss.

The labor question is causing some anxiety in respect to gathering of the berries. The pickers have, for the past several years, been coming from Philadelphia, but the Italians now claim they can make more money by staying in the city. Farmers have to depend upon colored help from Maryland and other places.

"BARNYARD GOLFERS" AT STATE FAIR

Contest Being Arranged For State Championship; All Invited

Delaware champion in Barn Yard Golf (pitching horseshoes) will be made this year, the week of September 9th, during the Delaware State Fair. Pitching horseshoes is a favorite pastime of President Coolidge, and there are hundreds of the fans in Delaware, who feel they are just a little bit better than their neighbors, when it comes to pitching a game of shoes.

From this time on until the Fair, horseshoe pitchers in every community in Delaware will be using spare time practising and getting ready to fling the shoes at the Fair. It is the desire of the management of the Fair to have the champion flingers from each community enter this contest, by writing or telephoning Lewis P. Randall, General Manager of the Fair. If you are a hoseshoe flinger write the manager and say you will enter the contest. This entry application is necessary in order to arrange the schedule of pitching.

In order that there may be no question about regulations, the rules of the National Hose Shoe Pitchers Association will govern all the contests. Copies of these rules may be had upon application to the Delaware State Fair office, Wilmington. Send a postcard giving your address. There are 25 regulations and these are used in every national contest. Prizes will be awarded the winners of the pitching contests at the Fair and the champion for Delaware will be amply rewarded. He may be entered in the contests to be staged at Springfield, Mass., the week following the Delaware Fair, when he would compete against champions from all eastern states.

The rules call for a pitching distance of 40 feet, for the horse shoes to be not larger than 7½ inches, to weigh not more than 2½ lbs., and to be not more than 3½ inches at the calk, the stakes to be 8 inches high and slanted one inch and with a foul line of three feet in front of the stake, over which no player must step in pitching. Games consist of fifty points.

Under the national rules, any one over 15 years is eligible, this limit being named because of the weight of the horseshoes and the distance. Every provision is made to have a rule that will cover every possible point that may cause a question to arise and everyone who has pitched remembers the arguments that can arise.

Quoit pitchers who are numbered by the hundreds about Wilmington, and who while not used to pitching such heavy things as horseshoes, are enthusiastic about the contest and there promises to be a big representation of city pitchers who think this is one game they can show up their country friends in.

Knowledge, comfort, wealth, even safety, are dependent on the highways over which men go. Every increase in a road's usability is a fourfold benefit.

Today permanent highways have proved that they are both most usable and also ultimately cheapest. And the one material that makes this possible is Portland Cement, which, despite wide general demand, remains the cheapest of all manufactured products.

Atlas, through developing the rotary kiln, did more than anyone else to make Portland Cement actually cheaper today than thirty years ago. And in selecting the building material dealer as the only link between Atlas and user, assured distribution economy.

Newark Unable To Play Ball Saturday

Mixup in Grounds Force Locals to Remain Idle—Five Points Win

Due to the fact that Marshallton and Diamond State Fibre use the same grounds for their county league games, and that the Five Points--Marshallton game was too important to shift to other fields, the fibre makers and Newark were forced to abandon their scheduled game Saturday last. Efforts made to secure another team to fill in the gap failed also, and as a result, local fans had to do without their regular Saturday afternoon recreation. The Diamond State game will be played later in the season, probably as part of a double header.

Five Points Win

Before the largest crowd that ever witnessed a ball game in Marshallton the local team went down to defeat before the strong Five Points aggregation Saturday by the score of 9-3.

McFadden, star pitcher for the winners, let the opposition down with five hits and twirled masterful ball throughout the game. Nitchie, former All-Wilmington star, also pitched good ball in the early innings, but weakened and was driven from the mound in the fifth inning.

Pugh, the winning team's catcher, led the field at the bat; while Johnny Naylor the, peppy manager, starred in the field. The score:

Yorklyn defeated Krebs Saturday in a fast and exciting game by the score of 5 to 3. George, who did mound duty for the Yorklyn team, had the Krebs boys at his mercy throughout, with the exception of the seventh inning when he went wild. George sent 16 men to the bench via the strikout route.

Clay's Pitching Helps Elkton Down Aberdeen

County Seaters Shut Out Enemy by 5-0 Score Saturday in Elkton

Clay's fine pitching and timely hitting by his teammates enabled Elkton to get back into the win column in the Susquehanna League at the expense of Aberdeen Saturday, score, 5-0.

A goodly crowd was present at the struggle and cheered loud and long as their favorites rushed into a three-run lead in the very first inning. This stunt is typically an Elkton feature, and rarely a game goes by without the County Seaters jumping into the lead. Their attitude appears to be "get the lead and then hold it." Which is very good psychology.

Ragan held the whip hand throughout save for the first and last innings, when his temporary lapses enabled the game to get out of his hands. On the other hand Clay pitched airtight ball throughout the nine innings and was rarely in iminent danger. Both teams were guilty of errors afield, but despite this fact the game was interesting and fast at all times.

Cleaver Potts, Elkton's dependable catcher, won the hitting honors with two solid hits, and drove in his share of runs. C. Brown matched him for the Aberdeen tossers but the latter's bingles came at the wrong moments and resulted in no damage to the run column. The score:

POWER, luxurious roominess, low upkeep and long life at low price! . . . . a world-famous Six, the outstanding sensation of motordom today at $1045.

Now ride in it. Feel the thrill of its powerful six-cylinder L-head motor. Note that it embodies features found only in the most expensive cars. Consider that it is a product of a $90,000,000 company with 72 years of fine vehicle making to its credit.

Compare it with competitive cars at near its price; then with cars that sell for several hundred dollars more. Compare it for beauty, comfort, roominess, upholstery, for obvious refinements.

Compare it, too, for ease of handling, flexibility, power, quietness and lack of vibration. Don't take anyone's word that this car or that car at its price is "just as good." Find out for yourself.

Studebaker will place a Light-Six at your disposal for this purpose any time you name.

Being the world's largest producer of quality automobiles, Studebaker is thus in a position to give the utmost for the least.

MISS RICH ACCEPTS CALL TO WASHINGTON

To Be Director of Teacher Training

Miss Mary E. Rich has accepted an appointment as Director of the Training Department of the Bellingham State Normal School, Bellingham, Washington. Miss Rich has had a large part in the educational development that has been in progress in Delaware during the past ten years, since she came to the Women's College as assistant professor of Education at its opening in 1914. She served as Dean of Women during the Summer School, and also as Field Secretary of the Department of Education when that office was created by Service Citizens. Three years ago she left Delaware to do graduate work at Teachers' College, Columbia University, and since then she has been in charge of practice teaching at North Carolina College for Women, Greensboro, North Carolina. Her frequent visits to Newark have kept her in touch with her many friends in Delaware, who will regret the distance of her new location, though they are delighted to learn of her recognition and advancement as an educator. Miss Rich will be in Newark at Commencement.

DEADLOCK ON HEARN OIL STATION

the decision of Mr. Evans would be followed by Council.

Resident In Uproar

Following the news that about 26,000 gallons of inflammable oil and gasoline would be stored in a crowded section of town, scores of residents lodged protests claiming not only fire risk but the increased rates of insurance which they believe will ultimately follow. Appeals to the Chamber of Commerce, to the Mayor and to Councilmen have been coming in for the past week at a rapid rate.

President George W. Rhodes, of the Chamber of Commerce, stated last night that he opposed absolutely the placing of the tanks on the selected site, but that the organization officially could not revoke the permit, but could only work towards an amicable settlement of the trouble. He further said that rumors that the Chamber of Commerce were assisting the Hearn Oil Co. in coming here were absolutely false and unfounded.

Edward L. Richards, prominent local feed, coal and lumber merchant, probably speaks for the entire group of protesting citizens, of which there are daily additions, in a statement given to The Post last evening. In part Mr. Richards said:

"We protest against the erection of a wholesale gasoline and oil station in the residential section of our town for the following reasons:

It is dangerous and will be a constant source of annoyance and concern to those near it and in case of an explosion or conflagration to the whole town.

It will in all probability be a continuous source of serious legal and other trouble to our town government.

It is not needed here and comes with no philanthropic or civic motive, but prompted wholy by an outside company's recognition of an ideal location to further their own financial interests."

MAY REORGANIZE AGRICULTURE SCHOOL

A program involving the complete re-organization of the Department of Agriculture of the University, with drastic changes in the curriculum, was reported to have been the major topic of discussion at a meeting of the University faculty yesterday afternoon here. In just what manner the changes will come about was not learned. A voluminous report with the suggested alterations was placed before the faculty for approval. It is understood, however, that the new plans call for no change in the personnel, being more concerned with changes in the curriculum affecting the teaching of agriculture at the University.

WHAT IS WEALTH?

Be he a Croesus or a pauper, there come to every man three vital epochs — birth, marriage and death. To his well-being and peace of soul all are of about equal importance. From two there is no escape, but as to the third there is a chance of avoidance—if willing to take the consequences. These life dramas, swiftly moving along, are much more interesting and more closely appeal than in the larger centers of population, because we personally know the active dramatic characters and from day to day watch the evolution of the years and fixity of its laws.

We are so familiar with the hackneyed old copy book maxims, like "A rolling stone," "Save and have," "Pennies grow to dollars," etc., that they have long lost their significance. To put the whole problem briefly it is much easier to make money than to keep it. Money in hand creates constant itch to make more money, and this leads almost invariably to the mythical pot of gold at the rainbow end; unwise investments, glittering bubbles that burst into vacancy. Here is the rock on which is wrecked possibly the 90 per cent. of lost fortunes and disappearing competences.

Take a man who labors with his hands, who has not been accustomed to the ills and dangers, as well as the virtues of wealth; give him say $10,000, and it is a safe wager that inside of two years, possibly half the time, he will not have a dollar. Instantly his whole aspect or viewpoint of life changes; he becomes a shining mark for a horde of parasites and sycophants, flatterers and advisors, and he must be of extraordinary mental fiber if not stripped to bare poles almost before he has had time to count his fortune. Nor does sudden wealth affect only the humble type. It is that desire to "keep up with Liz," that everlasting and impotent struggle for social prestige and financial precedence, that breaks more men's backs and fortunes than any other agency in the world—rum excepted.

We may preach and preach these facts to hot-blooded youth until doomsday and it won't do a particle of good. That very heedless self-pride and sufficiency that we secretly so much admire, turn our earnest words aside with a light laugh. To them we are "old foggies," in their vernacular, "pineapples," and one of their chief intimate topics is the trouble they have to educate "Dad" on the proper line of thought and action. They are prideful of us in a sort of apologetic way, but of course Dad lived in the days of bustles and hoopskirts and has been never yet able to sweep them from his brain—otherwise he is a good scout and a good fellow. Nor is there any way that we can change this attitude. All we can do is to steer them as clear of the rocks as is humanely possible, and all the time instill into their minds and hearts to be clean and straight and fine American gentlemen. We can do no more.—W. T. D. in The Vineland (N. J.) Republican.

KENT COUNTY GETS ANOTHER CECIL TRIAL

John Lawrence Awarded Damages In Suit Following Accident On Road

Another Cecil County case, involving Cecil County people, was tried before a jury in Denton, Md., Saturday last and resulted in the awarding of damages to John Lawrence, of Elk Mills, in his suit against John Wallace Scott, of Elkton.

The suit grew out of an accident occurring on the Elkton-Newark Road some months ago, when the cars of the two principals crashed together. The plaintiff's car was badly damaged and a few weeks later suit was filed against Scott in the Cecil County courts.

Following in the wake of the Victory Sprakler, the Webb-Vaughn-Kassing, and the Goodyear cases, this case was tried out of the county, and argued before a Kent County jury.

FAIR PLAY

When you play, you should play fair. When playing hide-and-go-seek, if you are caught first, you should not tell where the other persons hide, if there is anyone else playing, and the rule was that the first one caught is it.

If you are playing dodge ball, and you are knocked out, you should not say that another person is knocked, when not.

BEAUTIES OF MAY

In May, the flowers are coming out and filling the air with perfume. The birds are pouring forth their songs which make you feel the beauty of May.

We can go fishing and boating for it is getting warmer every day.

The days are getting longer and the nights shorter, so that the sun gets up by five every morning and sets about seven.

The April showers are over so that we are not afraid of getting wet without warning.

May is really the most beautiful month of the year.

By Ellis Rittenhouse.

A FAIR GAME

We should all help towards making our paper better. It is not fair to make some reporters get all of the material together for the paper and let others be idle. We should all try to make our paper better each time, because we know more about it the second time and the third, fourth, etc. The reporters should try their hardest to get good material for their paper.

By Dora Handloff.

BEAUTIES OF MAY

How beautiful is May! All the apple and peach trees are covered with the sweet scented blossoms, which mean delicious fruit later on. The winding brooklets are babbling merrily away towards the brimming river. The green, fresh banks are covered with little pink and white spring beauties, and here and there amid them you may spy a dog-tooth violet.

The banks along the dusty country roads are covered with sweet little blue violets. In many a shady place you will see the beautiful "Dutchman's Breeches."

May is the ideal month to take a walk. The little twittering birds are always drawing your attention to their quaint ways. Besides all the lovely flowers there is always a nice cool, fresh breeze blowing in May.

STORIES

My Visit to the Country

One day I received a letter from my grandmother, asking me to visit her in the country. I was very happy, because I had never been to the country.

When I arrived at the farm, I saw grandmother at the gate to meet me. I was very thirsty so I said, "Grandmother my I have a drink?" "Certainly you may," said she, and she led me to an old-fashioned well.

Next, we had supper, which consisted of fine vegetables, fruits, honey, and milk. After supper I was shown around the farm. I met Rover, the dog, Squeek, Squeek, the pig, and many other farm animals.

The next day when I went around the farm I saw a funny looking thing hanging on the tree. I poked it with a stick. Out came the bees! I ran back to the house as fast as I could, and after that I never meddled with bees again. I had been at the farm a week, when I received a letter saying that I had to go back to the city. The next day I said goodbye to the animals, and as I went I was hoping I could visit the farm again.

Our Dog Bruno

It was a very cold and stormy night in December, when Mrs. Wilson's little three months old baby became very sick. There was no way to get a doctor, for they lived about twenty miles from a village. Mrs. Wilson told her husband that the baby would die if they did not get some medicine for him. Mr. Wilson said he would take Bruno and try to walk to the village and get the medicine. It was snowing and you could not see to walk, so Mr. Wilson and Bruno started about dusk. They ran half the way there. At last, they reached the doctor's and got the medicine and started home. They had walked fifteen miles when Mr. Wilson had become exhausted and lay down to rest. Bruno barked and ran around Mr. Wilson's head. He barked and barked until at last he ran home and barked at the door and scratched at it until Mrs. Wilson came. Then he took hold of her dress and pulled her. She did not know what to think of him. She asked him where Mr. Wilson was and Bruno would run and bark. Then she thought that Mr. Wilson must have died from the cold. She told Bruno to wait until she fixed the baby then she would go with him. She ran back to the house and fixed the baby, then she came and followed Bruno. At last they reached the place where Mr. Wilson was lying. Mrs. Wilson helped her husband up and took him home. They just got there in time to save the baby from dying, so Bruno saved the life of both Mr. Wilson and the baby.

SPRING POEMS

Spring is here at last,
The birds are coming fast,
The hard ground turns to mud.
Then we know that spring has come.

The birds begin to sing,
The bells begin to ring,
The bees begin to hum,
The ants begin to run,
Then we know that May has come.

When Billy First Opened His Eyes

When daylight broke and little Billy looked out,
He saw that the stream was flowing about;
He saw the mailman start off on his route,
And all at once he heard some one run.
Billy looked around, but could find no one,
So he jumped out of bed to have some fun.

SCOUT NEWS

Despite the rainy conditions of last Thursday evening, quite a number were marked present when the role call was taken. The evening was devoted to competition. In the elimination process of signallying, Harry Williamson received the most words; Robert Thoroughgood sent the most. The "process of elimination" was to have each scout who wished to tryout for sender, send as many words as possible; to have each scout who wished to receive, receive as many as possible. The one who sent the most words and the one who received the most made up the "winning combination."

In the knot tying, several different teams tried out. Here are some "times" for eleven knots: 1 min. 45 sec., 1 min. 31 sec., 1 min. 15 sec., 1 min. 10 sec. Several tryouts were made in first aid, fire-by-friction, and other scout events. Several games were organized and played. We then adjourned with the scout oath.—Scribe.

THREE RECORDS FALL IN SCHOOLBOY MEET DESPITE RAIN SOAKED TRACK

Big Crowd Turns Out to See Eleventh Annual Running of Inter-scholastics Saturday—Pennsylvania Schools Carry Off Honors

Despite the fact that the track was slowed up by heavy rains on Thursday and Friday of last week, three records were shattered at the eleventh annual Interscholastic Track and Field Meet held on Frazer Field last Saturday afternoon.

Sands, running for Lansdale, Pa., High School, provided the first thrill when he stepped away from his rivals in the Class 2 100-yard dash, doing the sprint in 10 seconds flat, and proved himself a sensation in schoolboy ranks. Sands won his event by five yards, coming up from fourth position with a rush that would not be denied. Just to make his day more glorious, Sands later won the quarter mile run for his school in 53.2, from a fast field.

The other two marks were broken in the field events. Meintzer, of Easton, Md., High School, carried off the honors in the Class 3 high jump with a leap of 5 ft. 5 in., lowering the record set by Deputy of Highland H. S. in last year's meet.

The third sensation was furnished by Norris of Carolina High, who tossed the 12-pound shot 44 ft. 2½ in. for a new mark in the Class 3 event.

Pennsylvania School Win

Pennsylvania schools swept away with most of the honors in the big meet. Northast High, of Philadelphia, by placing seconds and thirds consistently, carried off Class 1 honors after a close battle with Tome. The Maryland team was weak in track events, and disappointed a host of her followers who cheered them on from the sidelines.

Lower Merion with a steady if not brilliant team won Class 2 honors, and Jenkintown High beat out du-Pont High for the honors in Class 3.

The D. I. A. A. Championships were decided by a group of officials representing that body, on the basis of point scoring. du Pont High easily won, followed by Newark. The local boys surprised their followers and a great deal of credit is due them for their work. du Pont had a well balanced team which has been training faithfully for this meet.

It was the first time in some years that a Delaware school did not win in one of the three classes.

Twins Are a Feature

One of the interesting features of the meet was the clever performances of the Frankenfield twins, Henry and Howard, running for Jenkintown High. Officials at the watches looked twice and blinked their eyes when confronted by the two boys at the end of the 880-yard dash, class 3. Both inquired for their times, upon which fact the winner was adjudged. Both boys had won their heats and the officials could not tell them apart. It was finally discovered that Henry had run his race in 2.16 while Howard traveled in 2.16 3/5. Paradee, of Dover, however, managed to sandwich himself in with a 2.16 2/5 and thereby forced Howard to take third prize. Both the Jenkintown boys are well built young athletes and created a very favorable impression upon the host of onlookers.

Day Cool for Spectators

Although Saturday broke with clear skies overhead, the weather changed at noon and the meet was run off with rain threatening at any minute. Between 1500 and 2000 spectators were grouped around the field and were efficiently handled by a group of State Police, student police and officials. Every school had its group of rooters and intense excitement prevailed in the running of the track events.

The most noise came from the student body of the University when the Inter-Fraternity relay was called Sigma Nu won the event and the cup awarded by the Athletic Council. Johnny Scheaffer, running anchor for the winners, had a bitter battle with Barker of Sigma Phi down the final home stretch. Both runners were neck and neck at the finish. Barker closed up a gap of almost twenty yards in the 220 yards, and would have won in a few more strides. The running of Mike Underwood in the second relay gave Sigma Nu their lead in the race. Gamma Delta Rho ran third.

Schoolboys began arriving at the college at 10 o'clock in the morning of the races, coming by train, auto and bus, and at noon Newark presented a typical pre-race appearance. Restaurants were crowded to the doors by hungry visitors, the irrepressible "balloon man" was present with his cornet solos and nervous wares. Traffic at the main corners was handled with great ease by Sergeant Crow and Chief Lewis. As far as could be learned no accidents marred the big day for Newark.
