Newark Parents Hear Lively Discussion

P. T. Meeting Thursday Night Addressed By W. H. Jump—Pleads for Better Schools

Confer With Collins

At a rousing meeting of the Newark Parent-Teacher Association, held last Thursday evening in the High School, a committee of five was appointed by acting Chairman Shaw to visit Representative Frank Collins and to lay before him the sentiments of the Newark citizens concerning the School Budget, now before the Legislature.

The committee consists of John S. Shaw, chairman, Mrs. C. O. Houghton, Mr. W. H. Evans, Mr. C. C. Hubert and Mr. G. H. Stewart.

The resolution moved in the meeting and carried unanimously by the members stated that "the Newark Parent-Teacher Association is in favor of the Appropriation Program as laid down by the State Board of Education for the purpose of building new and better schools and earnestly requests its adoption by the State Legislature."

In the absence of Mrs. George L. Townsend, the chair was occupied by John S. Shaw, vice-president.

The principal speaker of the evening was Wilbur H. Jump, of the State Board of Education. Mr. Jump, in a lengthy and earnest appeal, urged upon his hearers that the budget for the schools of the State is not in excess of that which is absolutely needed if the program for better schools, better children and better citizens is to go forward. He called attention to the good roads program of $3,000,000 for the next two years and, although heartily in favor of improved highways and proud of Delaware's standing among other States in this respect, declared that the proper education of the 39,000 or more children in the State is just as important.

In his final appeal, he asked Newark to join the ranks of boosters for the appropriation and that they do all in their power to help its passage.

O. E. McKnight also spoke briefly upon the question as president of the State Educational Association, and his talk, along with Mr. Jump's, was enjoyed very much.

Following the two speeches, Chairman Shaw called for open discussion of plans or suggestions that might help the local association in its future actions. Prof. Wilkinson, Mrs. C. O. Houghton, George L. Medill and Dr. Walter Hullahen occupied the floor for short periods and asked several questions, which were answered by Mr. Jump.

One of the matters which seem not at all clear to many of the members was the matter of a method of increased revenue which might have been the subject of a bill. The State actually does not have money available to meet the budget, then some means would have been taken to provide for new source. The following day being the last day for the introduction of new bills, and the fact that "skele-bills" have been prohibited effectively tied up action along these lines. Then Mrs. Houghton moved the resolutions and asked that a committee be appointed to call upon Representative Collins on behalf of the Association.

Mr. King felt that the whole matter has been away from us," said Mr. Shaw at the meeting. "There would have been little more to do than we have tonight under the circumstances, and some valuable suggestions and some have been voiced tonight which a few weeks ago would have resulted in more definite action on the part of the Association."

NEWARK RESIDENT WEDS "DOWN EAST"

Friends of Harry T. King have read word of his marriage to Miss Katharine Knapp of New Britain, Conn., on January 20, 1923. Miss Knapp was graduated from the University of Minnesota in 1921 and the Y. W. C. A. Secretary at New York. Mr. King is chemist for the Welch company at Westfield, a position he held for nearly three years. It is to that he was connected with the chemical department of the University of Delaware.

INSTRUCTION NIGHT WITH LOCAL MASONS

Former Senator Robinson Among Guests Present Monday Night

Hiram Lodge of Masons held a lodge of instruction Monday night that was largely attended. The Grand Lodge officers present included Harry F. Newlin, Grand Instructor, and Stewart Allmond, Junior Grand Warden. Former Senator James W. Robertson and some other Wilmington Masons also were present. Following the lodge session, the members and visitors went to a restaurant for a supper party.

NEW CENTURY CLUB HEARS OF CONFERENCE

Absent Members Miss a Splendid Meeting. Club Paper Read

The many absent members of the Century Club missed a most enjoyable program yesterday. Dr. Ryden, of the University, accompanied by Miss Dora Wilcox, gave rare pleasure to all by his singing of "On the Road to Mandalay," "May Morn" and "Requiem."

Miss McManus, Director of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children in Wilmington and also the Children's Bureau, was present and announced the program of the Delaware State Conference of Social Workers which is to be held at the college, February 27, and in Wilmington February 28th. Miss McManus then gave an interesting outline of the work of the Children's Bureau. As the State of Delaware assumes no responsibility towards the dependent child, the Children's Bureau is trying to fill the gap until the State awakens its duty toward the child who is either a foundling, has improper parents or parents not able to care for it.

Mrs. Lasher then gave several piano selections. Mrs. Mitchell, wife of the former President of the University, had sent, in lieu of a letter, a portrayal of a typical day of play in her childhood home in Greenville, South Carolina, which Mrs. Carl Rankin read.

Mrs. Everett Johnson read the Club Paper which she had edited—a most entertaining, witty collection of questionnaires and answers, editorials, quips and want ads touching on the serious and weak sides of the Club life.

Mrs. Johnson also read letters from Mrs. Tobenhaus, Mrs. Edward Cooch, Mrs. Handy and Mrs. Dawson.

The women present felt the program was one of the best the Club has had this club year and regretted more were not present to enjoy it.

FRANCE IN WAR TIME THEME OF SPEAKER

Mrs. Baldwin, Associate of Anne Morgan, Tells Young People of Experiences

At the weekly meeting of the Young People's League of the St. Thomas Church last Sunday evening Mrs. Ethel K. Baldwin, of New York City, a representative of the Committee on Devastated France, gave a splendid address to a large audience on her experiences during those dark days of war.

Mrs. Baldwin spoke particularly of the work being done to restore happiness and homes in the battered parts of the country and of what force America may be in future help along this line of charity. Her talk was warmly received and her charming manner won her many friends in Newark.

A splendid musical program was given during the evening including solos by Mrs. Eleanor G. Kemery, Mr. J. Frank Ayres, Mr. J. Frank Huss and Miss Jennie Slack, all of Wilmington. Ellwood Souder, a member of the State Board of Education, was also present and introduced Mrs. Baldwin.

CHOATE STREET IMPROVED

The cinders which have been carefully placed on Choate Street have met with the approval of most of the residents of that neighborhood and has therefore given rise to many complimentary remarks. Council ordered the cinders laid, upon receipt of a petition signed by residents thereon. Contractor Lovett had charge of the work.

Mrs. Agnes E. Miller Buried From Late Home Yesterday Afternoon

Newark's Most Interesting Character Passed Away Saturday in 84th Year—Was Intimately Associated With Early Life of Town

Host of Friends Mourn Loss

The body of Mrs. Agnes E. Miller, one of the best beloved women of this community, was borne to its last resting place yesterday afternoon. The funeral was held from her late residence on Delaware Avenue at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. Elder Coulter, of Philadelphia, and Elder Eubanks, from local church, officiating, and was largely attended by relatives and friends, come to pay their last tribute to her memory. For Mrs. Miller was a friend to all, and in her death Newark and the surrounding section have sustained a great loss.

She was ill but a few days, and until the last retained a complete command of her mind. For the past several months, however, she had been failing rapidly and, in the opinion of near relatives, the end was not far off. She had been practically blind for some time, but always retained her cheerful ways and extreme thoughtfulness of others.

The deceased is survived by two sons, James, of Philadelphia, and John, of Newark; eight grandchildren and several great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Miller's Life

Agnes Elizabeth Miller was born on a farm in Pender County, North Carolina, on January 4, 1840, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Lindsay. Her mother before her marriage was Miss Francis Barr Griffith.

Early in childhood, she then Miss Lindsay attended the old Welsh Tract School, and later came to Newark, where she studied in the private schools then prominent in those days. One of them which attained great prominence was in charge of Miss Hannah Chamberlain.

As a young girl, the deceased was a social leader of the highest type, in the days when the town was a center for this whole section of the country. Among other activities, she was a prominent member of the choir of the Presbyterian Church. Well educated, witty, beautiful and gracious.

LAWMAKERS TO SEE UNIVERSITY FEB. 26th

Change of Date Due to Absence of Trustee

The members of the General Assembly of Delaware are planning a visit to the University of Delaware on February 26th. This date was decided upon early this week. The visit is more or less of a biennial custom and is taken as a means of getting first hand information upon the affairs of the institution.

The trip was originally scheduled for Friday of this week, but owing to the enforced absence of former Governor Charles R. Miller, chairman of the finance committee of the Board of Trustees of the University, the postponement was made.

INTERSTATE BUS LINE HAVING A MERRY TIME BREAKING INTO SELECT SOCIETY

Directors of Wilmington Committee Again Wag Their Heads and Defer Action; New Entry In Field Makes Plans for Early Opening

DEAR OLD PUBLIC GETS IN GAME

Efforts of the Interstate Bus Line to horn into the passenger bus business and haul various and sundry patrons from Chesapeake City, Elkton, Newark and way stations up to Wilmington and back again have given rise to more worry and travail on the part of the Wilmington Street and Sewer Committee than was bargained for when they took the job.

Another attempt was made by the Committee to settle the argument and for all yesterday morning and they entered the arena wearing determined and forbidding looks. But when they saw the legal talent lined up on both sides, when they heard the wealth of voluble arguments which seemed to turn the meeting into a debate on the Rules of Competition, and when the time came to decide—they wagged their heads and again she was always in demand at every social function of that period. Among her friends and companions during those brilliant times were Mrs. John L. Elliot, the late Mrs. Clara Chamberlain Kerr and the late Mrs. Kate Platt Gault.

Marriage and Later Life

In the year 1865 the deceased was married to Mr. George Platt Miller, in Newark. The ceremony was conducted by the late Elder Thomas Barton, pastor of Welsh Tract Church. With the exception of a few years spent in the West, after her marriage, and for a time, when a girl, she lived in Maryland, she spent her whole life in this community.

For many years she lived in Newark and kept house for her brother, that most beloved and interesting character of the old school, George Lindsay, who died a few years ago.

On her mother's side, Mrs. Miller traced a proud ancestry back to the founding of the original church at Welsh Tract in the year 1701. The first pastor was Thomas Griffith, who came from Wales with a party of sixteen followers, bringing with them the authority for the first constituted church of Primitive Baptists to be built in America. In passing, it may be said that the doctrine then expounded at Welsh Tract has undergone no change through the passing of the years. And no one in this community has so intertwined her life, her efforts, her hopes in that church than the deceased.

Not only was Mrs. Miller known to every resident of Newark, but she had a host of friends throughout the State. Her interest in modern day issues, both local, State and National, remained keen until the last and this, coupled with her powers of description and her ability to recall hundreds of historical incidents connected with this community, made her by far the most interesting woman in this modern day.

ALUMNI OF W. C. D. TO HOLD DINNER HERE

February 24th Date For Annual Meeting and Good Time

Graduates from The Women's College of Delaware from this and nearby States will gather at their annual alumni dinner on the evening of Saturday, February 24th, in the Blue Hen Tea Room on Main Street.

Previous to the dinner, business meetings will be held at the College. The Committee on Arrangements are planning an attractive program for the day and it is expected that many reservations will be made. The entire Wilmington contingent is planning to come in a body.

CLEVELAND AVENUE TO HEAD THE LIST

Street Program of Town Places This Street at Top of List

Residents of Cleveland Avenue have been for some days under the impression that their earnest requests for a better roadway had gone unheeded in the last Council meeting. Such is not the case.

Through an error the street was not listed in last week's Post along with Delaware and New London avenues and for many inquiries and embarrassing questions have resulted from residents of that section.

It is the intention of Council to push along the work of improving Cleveland Avenue just as soon as the weather will permit. Plans and specifications have already been drawn and a much better street is assured.

SMITH PROPERTY SOLD

It has been officially announced that the property on Delaware Avenue, owned by the estate of the late E. Laurence Smith, has been sold to Mr. R. J. Colbert, a well-known resident of South College Avenue.

The sale was closed this afternoon about three o'clock. Terms were not made public.

NEW SCREEN FOR OPERA HOUSE

The management of the Newark Opera House has recently equipped the theatre with a new and expensive gold fibre screen for the better projection of their pictures.

The screen is exactly similar to the kind used in the larger Metropolitan photo-play houses and is sure to meet with the approval of local patrons of this theatre.

SENATOR WATSON TO SPEAK AT ALUMNI DINNER

Preparations for the annual Alumni Banquet of the University of Delaware are almost completed and a large return of old grads is expected on the night of the 24th of this month. The affair will be held in the Hotel duPont.

Senator James E. Watson, of Indiana, will be the principal speaker, having taken the place of Senator Medill McCormick. Madden's Orchestra will be there to furnish the music.

IT COSTS MONEY TO FIGHT THESE DAYS

Arthur Moore and William Sullivan, both of this place, and both gravely differing in opinions and regard for each other, decided to settle the affair in the good old-fashioned way just outside of town two or three Sundays ago.

The boys were brought before the Magistrate this week and a small fine was imposed upon Moore. Both were under age. Charges were brought by a parent, it is alleged.

HIGH SCHOOL WINS, 25-20

With two regulars out of the game, Newark High travelled to New Castle last night and walloped the boys from that town in a fast game, 25-20. Rupp played a forward position and Doyle went in at guard and both played very creditable basketball. The victory was a brilliant one for Newark, and the result naturally elated the local followers.

G. Chalmers led in the scoring with 2 field goals and 13 out of 15 fouls. Hubert netted four baskets from the field. McNiff was high scorer for New Castle.

MANY OFFICIALS TO ATTEND AMERICANIZATION DINNER

Governor Denney and the legislative and judicial branches of the State government will attend the dinner February 21st at 1.30 p. m., in the ballroom of the Hotel duPont, arranged by the Committee on American Citizenship of the Delaware Bar Association, at which the chief speaker will be John W. Davis, president of the American Bar Association and former Ambassador to the Court of St. James.

In a circular sent out by George N. Davis, secretary of the committee, it is emphasized that the dinner is by no means intended as solely for members of the bar, but for all citizens of the State, men and women.

Former Ambassador Davis' subject will be "The Essentials of American Citizenship." Delaware was the first State to ratify the Federal Constitution, and the slogan of Wilmington is "The First City of the First State."

Farmers of County Plan Seed Pools

Soy Beans and Seed Potatoes Principal Attractions—Orders Must Be In by Feb. 24th

Cars On Option

Members of the New Castle County Farm Bureau are preparing to purchase large quantities of certified seed potatoes and soy beans at the annual spring pool managed by the group.

A car of potatoes for seed is held on option and will arrive about April 1st. They are of the Green Mountain and Rural Russet variety and considered very choice.

The soy beans are of the Wilson variety and very popular in most localities. Farmers of the County have been growing to like this crop for the hay value while some of them will grow them for seed this year.

It is urged that farmers hand in their orders as soon as possible to the Farm Bureau Office in Newark, or to the following solicitors, so that they may be taken care of promptly and without confusion.

The solicitors are: Hockessin, F. F. Yearsley; Fairview, W. W. Buckingham; Stanton-Newport, C. P. Dickey; Middletown, Geo. C. Burge; Newark-Kirkwood, H. C. Milliken; Bear, L. C. Hoffecker; Odessa-Mt. Pleasant, L. Pleasant; Townsend and territory south, A. B. Johnson.

Y. W. C. A. DRIVE NOW ON

The Spring Drive of the State Y. W. C. A. opened yesterday and will continue on until the 20th of this month. Efforts are being made to raise the sum of $3400 during this period for building up the organization and carrying on the work throughout the State.

Miss Edith Spence is chairman for Newark and the community.

READY TO HELP

A representative from the office of U. S. Collector of Revenue John W. Hering arrived bright and early this morning at the post office here and will remain today, tomorrow and Friday for the purpose of assisting local residents in making up their income tax returns.

It is believed that many will take advantage of the assistance offered.

WINTER'S COLDEST DUE TOMORROW

Mercury 32 Below in the Far Northwest

Winter today spread its fiercest grip of the season over the Upper Mississippi Valley, Plain States and the Great Lakes Region, already having embraced the Northern Rocky Mountain Region and the Northwest. The sweeping chill from Alaska and the Canadian northwest was continuing and intensifying and was forecast to extend to the eastern half of the country and the southwest by tonight or tomorrow, tumbling temperatures in all sections excepting Florida.

Reports from throughout the storm area indicated seven deaths directly attributable to the severe weather.

In the wake of the storm in the northwest, trains were reported stalled by snow drifts and transportation and communication generally demoralized. Thermometer readings in that section ranged from four to 32 degrees below zero.

Passenger and freight trains in the Rocky Mountain Region were either stalled or materially delayed by snow drifts. A Denver and Rio Grande Western railroad passenger train stalled at Marshall Pass, near the top of the Continental Divide, was released last night by 12 locomotives.

Early today 30 section hands were shoveling snow in an effort to enable a relief train to reach five carloads of live stock stuck in drifts near River Falls, Wis., on the Chicago, St. Paul Minneapolis and Omaha road.

A blizzard in Saskatchewan and Manitoba also interrupted transportation in those Canadian provinces and trains to the States were cancelled.

A Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul passenger train and a rotary snow plow collided near Lewistown, Mont., but the damage was slight.

Continuing snow-fall in the Pacific northwest and in the Sierra Nevada mountains of California let to predictions today of one of the heaviest storms in history.

Splendid Attendance Records In Public Schools Despite Sickness

January Report of Each Grade Shows Those Who Have Not Missed a Minute of School Work During January

31 High School Pupils Are Listed

The following lists of Perfect Attendance pupils in the Newark Public Schools were compiled under the direction of the Superintendent by Miss Charlotte Hobbs.

The wave of sickness which has swept many homes in town during the past month has somewhat cut down the attendance percentage, but the report is considered exceptionally creditable.

The Post takes great pleasure in placing the list before the parents, pupils and teachers.

AND THE BOYS KEEP RIGHT ON SKATING

Chapel Street Excited Over Threats of Arrest. No Damage

Roller skating on Chapel street caused more trouble a few days ago than the Housing Problem.

One resident of the thoroughfare became so annoyed at the bedlam caused by several small boys that she sent for Officer Lewis to come up and lend his presence to the occasion. The aforesaid resident has been ill and the rattle of the skates on the paved street made her wax very wroth indeed.

The officer courageously entered the arena and interviewed the mother of one of the boys. She immediately gave the officer and all those within hearing distance to understand that her boy could play on the street to his heart's content, all arguments to the contrary notwithstanding. The officer beat a very orderly retreat.

A threatened warrant for arrest was quashed and the incident is believed to be settled.

C. A. McCUE NAMED OFFICER OF APPLE CO.

Also Elected Director of Prosperous Concern Saturday

At the annual meeting of the Delaware Apple Company, held last Saturday afternoon in the office of Josiah Marvel, in Wilmington, Dean Charles A. McCue, head of the School of Agriculture of the University of Delaware, was named as vice-president of the organization for the ensuing year and also selected as one of the directors. Dean McCue has interested himself in apple growing for some time and his aid and advice will, no doubt, be beneficial to the company.

Other officers elected were: President, Josiah Marvel, and Secretary and treasurer, Roland H. Howe.

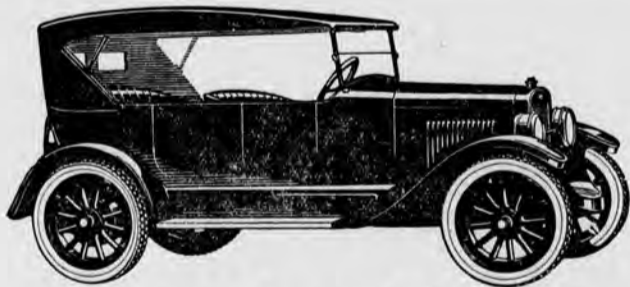

In the report of the president, which was read after the election, it was pointed out that under favorable circumstances the trees in the orchards of the company, at Bridgeville, are capable of producing between 200,000 and 300,000 bushels of apples.

NEWS OF THE NEIGHBORHOOD

AS TOLD BY CORRESPONDENTS AND EXCHANGE

Over Elkton Way

Elkton is again the butt of a seriously intended joke, this time from the pen of a rabid writer to the editor of the Sunday Star. Were the letter not so foolish it might have been good policy for some one to look up the gentleman in either Bradstreet's or the Police Gazette—he's certainly in one of them.

The epistle takes for its theme the proposed bill lately introduced into the Delaware legislature advocating the sterilization of mental defectives in the State for the purpose of purifying the existing race and the supposed decreasing of the number of inmates now in our asylum. So far so good; he is privileged to his opinion and as far as can be gathered from his hazy ideas, is a supporter of said bill.

But he brings Elkton into the limelight by suggesting that the method "be used there in conjunction with the marrying mill." Can you beat it?

Of course no one paid any attention to the article any more than to see what it was all about. But it's just this sort of thing that the uninformed devour at one gulp and cry for more. Real criticism and straightforward attacks from men and women who have facts to back up their convictions may cast shadows upon Elkton; if that be the case and be it true, then Elkton should be exposed to the very limit. But the type of notoriety which has been lately practiced and spread broadcast, some of it mentioned above, has fallen of late upon Elkton in large doses.

If the people who know nothing about sterilization would stop talking about it; if the folks who attack everything within range and forget themselves could be silenced until they have grounds for attack, they might have a little more time for fun and the good things of life.

The Johnny Rocks, the Busy Brokers, the Steel and Mining boys all banded together a few weeks ago and chartered a whole big liner for a 60-day cruise to Europe and points east, west, north and south. Only those who could write a check into six or seven figures strode up the gangplank. The start was made Thursday last from New York on the Mauritania. One of the principal objects is said to be a visit to the lately discovered tomb of King Somebody-Or-Other at Luxor, Egypt, where his highness, the King, got the idea of making money about 3000 years ago.

Among those who booked passage on the Millionaires' Special was Eugene Frye, president of the Jessup & Moore Paper Co. The company has mills in Elkton, Providence and Wilmington. Mr. Frye came up from the ranks himself and knows his business thoroughly. At one time an office boy, now the head of a prosperous and well-organized firm, his rise has the touch of the romantic in it. He is a frequent visitor to Elkton.

The State of Maryland through its Highway Commission, has purchased the highway bridge over the Susquehanna River at Perryville from its owners for a trifling amount, which is well over $300,000.

At one time not so very many years ago, it was reported that the State of Maryland could have purchased the bridge from the Pennsylvania Railroad for something like postage money.

Which shows that the State of Maryland let a good thing slip through its fingers, figuratively speaking.

Meanwhile citizens of the State of Maryland have paid vast sums of money into the rooky pockets of private owners for a number of years. And just to be sporty the owners let forty-seven other states in on the deal.

Which was mighty nice of them. There isn't much comment to be made on this subject. It's just a matter of opinion.

So we'll let it go at that.

Officers Elected By North East Firemen

The following officers of the North East Volunteer Fire Company were named at a recent meeting to lead the fire-fighters through the current year: George C. Rawson, president; Charles C. Bayard, vice-president; E. J. Campbell, secretary; G. W. Phillips, assistant secretary; J. F. Peach, treasurer; George C. Rawson, chief; Walter Preston, chief driver; Cheney Housekeeper, chief of suction hose; Robert Pugh, chief nozzlemans; Lyden Kibler, chief of chemicals; Irvin Reynolds, chief of ladders; Harry S. A dance was given by members of Company E last Saturday evening. A fair crowd was present. Music was furnished by the Serenaders.

Elkton was reminded of war times one day last week when a truck train stopped at the Armory. It was a familiar sight to see the trucks lined up in front of the Armory and the boys, with their mess pans, enjoying their supper. The town was made lively that evening by their presence.

Mrs. John K. Burkley has been on the sick list for the past week, but is better now.

The engagement of Miss Edith Risner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Risner, of Pennsgrove, N. J., to Mr. Hasson Turell, of Elkton, Md., was announced Saturday afternoon at a card party. Mr. Turell is a graduate of Delaware College and is now employed as chemical engineer at Sun Oil Co., Chester Pa. Miss Risner is graduated from Normal School, Trenton, N. J.

CAPTAIN BENSON FUNERAL YESTERDAY

Old Skipper of Chesapeake City Died Saturday Last

The funeral of Captain Frank Benson, who died at the home of his son, Groome Benson, in Chesapeake City, Saturday night, after a brief illness from paralysis, at the age of 69, was held at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon from the home of his son, Raymond Benson, in Chesapeake City. Interment took place in Bethel Cemetery. Captain Benson was for a number of years engaged as a marine engineer. His wife died some years ago. He is survived by four sons and two daughters: Noble Benson, Groome Benson, Raymond Benson, Frank Benson, Mrs. Ada Kirk and Miss Bertha Beenson.

She is survived by one son and two daughters, former County Commissioner Irvin G. Griffith, Jr., Mrs. Clayton Ellison and Miss Elva Griffith, all of lower Cecil county.

FARMERS CLUB ELECTS

The Cecil County Farmers' Club, an old and well-known organization, elected officers recently for the current year. The club combines a social program for the year along with informal discussion of the many problems confronting the tiller of the soil, and each meeting is largely attended. The farmers of the county hear splendid speakers, both from Maryland and other States, at the various meetings.

Officers who will lead the organization through 1923 are as follows: President, Frank B. Evans, Elkton; Secretary, C. C. Balderson, Colora; Treasurer, John S. Cullen, Rising Sun.

STANTON GRANGERS DRAFT RESOLUTIONS

Large Attendance Noted at Regular Meeting. Discuss Daylight Saving

The Diamond State Grange held a meeting in its hall last night, a very large attendance. The following resolution was adopted and ordered sent to our Representative and Senator from this district:

"Whereas, The Grange both State, Pomona and subordinate Granges have for years been complaining about the poor conditions in our Rural schools

"Whereas, The Laws passed the last few years have made great improvement and if continued will change the educational standard of this State

"Resolved, That we, the members of Diamond State Grange petition the members of the present legislature to continue the present educational law unless they have something better to offer that will further the cause of education."

The Daylight law was discussed. While there was no definite action taken, the consensus of opinion was that there should be one time for all. The installation of officers will take place on Monday evening, Feb. 26.

DEATH CLAIMS TWO NEAR MIDDLETOWN

Well Known Elderly Women Pass Away During Week

Two deaths of well-known women of the vicinity of Middletown occurred last week. Although the deceased parties did not live in Middletown proper, they were well known and respected by all the community.

Mrs. Agnes Miller

By birth and inheritance, an aristocrat of the old school, yet by her interests and human sympathies, a democrat of this modern day, Mrs. Miller whose death cast a gloom over this community was a character of unusual strength and interest. She represented that life of older days so full of history and romance, now almost passed away. Her girlhood and social life was such that glow so beautifully in those days before the Civil War. Birth, training and ability made her a leader in her set and friends of hers still speak of her as the Belle of the Community. Yet that was not all,—she knew her history and the men who made it and in discussion and repartee was their equal. In recent years, we thought, and truly so, of her as the authority on the events and descriptions of those scenes of yesterday. She was delightfully brilliant in conversation and made live those interesting days. Then, too while of the Past and its glories, she was interested in the events of the day. Public affairs, educational, political, and social, had her study, her interests and comment. She studied life in all its interests.

Her friends were from every walk of life. Her sympathy took in the worries of a College professor with no more interest than the misfortune of some old servant. And all loved her—and she loved life and smiled to the very last.

She typified all that was best in 200 years of history and tradition in and around old Welsh Tract Community. A brilliant mind, a kind heart and a noble character has left us. The Community will reflect her influence—and for her life and acquaintance, we face our duties with better heart.

MISSIONARY TEA IS A GREAT SUCCESS

Ladies of Elkton Church Clear Over $150 at Annual Affair

The Missionary Tea, given by the ladies of the Elkton Presbyterian Church last Friday evening, drew a large number of church members and invited guests to the feast, and all acclaimed it as a big success.

exacted at the door, but that fee in no way matched the quantity and excellency of the food served. Salads, hot rolls, cake, ham and a host of other home prepared delicacies loaded the tables and reflected a great deal of credit upon those who donated their efforts to make the affair a success. The Tea is given each year at the church and is looked forward to as one of the very best of the many church suppers prepared during the season.

A sum exceeding $150 was cleared for Missionary work of the Church.

Conference of Social Workers Slated to meet in Newark on February 27

University to be Host to Many Visitors from Delaware and other States at All Day Meeting. All Phases of Activities to be Discussed

Child Labor to be a Main Topic

At the instance of Dean Winifred J. Robinson of the Women's College of Delaware and the authorities of the University together with the local Americanization workers, a part of the Joint Conference of Social and Professional Workers of the State will meet in Newark on February 27th next for morning and afternoon sessions.

The meetings will no doubt be held in Wolf Hall although no definite word has been received.

The conference will be unique in that it will combine for the sake of discussion and help the leaders in Americanization, Child Labor committees, Welfare organizations, Consumers League and other well known organizations. The meetings scheduled for Newark are general and a part of the two-day conference. On the following day, meetings for the various divisions of Social work will be held in the Hotel du Pont both morning and afternoon.

Miss Robinson has been appointed Chairman of Arrangements for Newark and is busy completing plans for the entertainment of the many visitors to this town. Luncheon will be served between the morning and afternoon sessions.

The morning meeting on the 27th will begin in a general way, at which Miss B. Ethelda Mullen, president of the Professional Social Workers' Club will preside. The speaker of this meeting will be announced later. At 12.30 a luncheon will be held, Miss Clara Southwick of the Consumers' League presiding. A speaker of national reputation, Owen R. Lovejoy, general secretary of the National Child Labor Committee, will speak on "Child Labor."

The subject of children will be discussed at 2 p. m., with Miss Merle E. McMahon as chairman. J. Prentice Murphy, executive secretary of the Children's Bureau of Philadelphia, will speak on "The Obligation That Rests in Public and Private Children's Agencies to Observe Good Standards of Care for Children." At 3 p. m. the Division of Foreign Work, of which Miss Grace E. Hartshorn is chairman, will have as its speaker Miss Helen Hart, formerly of the Americanization Committee in Delaware, who will speak on "The Faith of an Americanizer."

The same evening there will be held in the Hotel duPont a large mass meeting which will be addressed by a prominent speaker and to which the public is invited.

Game and Dance For Saturday Night

Battery "E" basketball tossers expect to have their hands full next Saturday evening when they tackle the University of Delaware Freshmen on the Armory Court. A vast improvement has been noted in the play of the soldiers and they will work hard for this game.

After the fracas there will be a dance in the Armory. The Melody Makers of Wilmington are scheduled to be there with the needed music.

INCOME TAX FACTS

In the making of his income tax return for the year 1922, a taxpayer, if single, is allowed an exemption of $1,000. A married person, or head of a family, whose net income for the year 1922 was $5,000 or less is allowed an exemption of $2,500. The exemption allowed a married person or head of a family whose net income was in excess of $5,000 is $2,000. A head of a family is a person who actually supports one or more persons living in his or her household who are closely related to him or her by blood, marriage or adoption.

An additional credit of $400 is allowed for each person (other than husband or wife) dependent upon the taxpayer for chief support, if such person is under 18 years of age or incapable of self support because mentally or physically defective. A single man whose net income for 1922 was $2,000 and who supports in his home an aged mother would have no tax to pay, but would nevertheless be required to file a return. The fact that a person's income may be non-taxable by reason of the exemptions does not nullify the requirement to file a return if his income was within the prescribed figures—$1,000 if single and $2,000 if married.

The normal tax is 4 per cent on the first $4,000 of net income in excess of the exemptions, and 8 per cent on the remaining net income. The tax may be paid in full at the time of filing the return, or in four installments due on or before March 15, June 15, September 15, and December 15.

The revenue act of 1921 provides that an income tax return shall be filed by every person, married or single, whose gross income for the year was $5,000 or more. Broadly speaking, gross income includes all income received by the taxpayer during the year from salary or wages, or from "business, trade, profession or vocation," dealing in property, or the transaction of any business carried on for profit. Net income, upon which the tax is assessed, is gross income less certain specified deductions for business expenses, losses, bad

ODESSA HOME AND SCHOOL ASSOCIATION

A meeting of the Odessa Home and School Association was held last Thursday afternoon. After singing by the audience and prayer by Rev. William Little, this program was given:

"Why Did You Leave the Farm?" Anna Cleaver and Norman Reynolds; "Little Bruin's Mitten," Harry Peckard; song, "Whistle and Hoe;" "America For Me," fifth grade; "Sleighing Song;" address, "Impressions of the West," Mrs. J. B. Cleaver; address, "Nutrition," Miss Kathryn Wood, of the University of Delaware.

A beautiful framed copy of "The Angelus" has been presented to the school by the association, and the pupils that have the largest number of parents present at the meetings will have the picture for that month. For the first period the picture was won by Mrs. Ada S. Jolls' room.

Among the most important items in the returns of many taxpayers are the deductions for business expenses. In the case of a storekeeper, they include a reasonable allowance for salaries paid employees, amounts spent for advertising, premiums for insurance against fire or other business losses, the cost of water, light, heat and fuel used in his place of business, drayage and freight bills.

A professional man, doctor or lawyer, may claim as deductions the cost of supplies used in the practice of his profession, expenses paid in the operation and repair of an automobile used in making professional calls, dues to professional societies, subscriptions to professional journals, office rent, and the cost of fuel, light, heat and water used in his office, and the hire of assistants.

The farmer may deduct all amounts paid in the production, harvesting and marketing.

THE OBJECT OF THE CORPORATION

The Florida Discount Corporation is organized for the purpose of financing automobile paper, short term second mortgages and other well secured short term loans, and will be directed by a group of conservative, influential and successful business men.

There is an outstanding need in South Florida for a security company of this nature.

Auto dealers in this territory depend quite largely upon financial institutions in Jacksonville, Atlanta and other localities to handle their deferred paper. The formation of the Florida Discount Corporation will enable them to keep these profits at home. The demand for short term mortgages is always good because of the need for capital to start construction, prior to the building being financed. This character of business is now well established and is both safe and profitable.

The stock is conscientiously recommended as a safe, conservative and profitable investment.

High Losses to Dover

Coach Wilson and his players on the trip to Dover last Saturday minus the services of Hopkins. Whether that helps to do with the outcome is a matter of opinion. The locals lost a bitter game to City boys, 14-12.

At the end of the first half the score was 10-5. A shows, neither team could score except on occasions. The close game careful play in a large measure responsible for this.

When the last period began slowly and the gap in the score a gallant fight to swing the local boys could not get, however, and that feat from victory, for Chalmers great guns from Coach Wilson's boys were field goals in forty minutes some feat at that.

G. Chalmers was reported for Newark, while lanky Dover center, played all-around game for score:

People's Column

To the Editor of The Post:

When was the Constitution so amended as to give my old friend Senator Ball the privilege of recommending postmasters to the U. S. Senate? The President may, "by and with the consent of the Senate," appoint certain officers of government, among them postmasters, but I find nowhere in the Constitution that a senator may recommend persons to the Senate for such appointments. It is a little uncertain what constitutes the "advice" of the Senate in the matter of appointments to office, but in practice, it amounts to this, that important appointments are "spoils" handed over to individual senators, and used by them in rewarding the faithful, and building up their own influence with their party at home. Thus public office is sold to the highest bidder, not to him that pays most in hard cash, but in useful, if not always reputable work in aid of a senator's ambitions. The civil service rules have somewhat narrowed the patronage of senators, but the odor of scandal will cling about appointments so long as a first rate postmaster may be displaced after a few years' service by a party hack who has managed to pass a civil service examination. Newark for some years was sure of a pretty efficient postmaster by the neat arrangement which made the Republican deputy the ranking man in the office when a Republican sat in the White House, and his democratic fellow deputy, with a reversal of these relations when a Democrat displaced the Republican occupant of the White House. The arrangement had a comic touch, but it did assure at least that both postmaster and deputy were men of experience in office. It was a pleasing variant of the celebrated case of the "Vicar of Bray."

PLAYHOUSE

Another author, who believes like George M. Cohan that there is nothing better than American plays, is Thomas F. Fallon, who wrote "The Wasp," which comes to the Playhouse, Wilmington, next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights and Wednesday matinee. Mr. Fallon claims that in his "Wasp" he has a play that combines everything that Americans hold dear. A clever plot, with plenty of comedy to relieve heavy situations, besides furnishing enough thrills to hold one from start to finish, he has taken as a theme one that is sure to hold. It concerns motherhood, and the terrible injustice of circumstantial evidence, which every day is being shown as one of the greatest mistakes upon which many a case was founded.

Louis H. Kaplan, who is producing Mr. Fallon's play, has assembled a cast rightfully called "the cream of Broadway" among whom are, Emily Ann Wellman, Annie Mack Berlein, Frederic Burt, Ben Hendricks, Barry Townsley, Tammany Young, Louise Mudener, Sydney Shepard and Royal Stout.

HOLDING YOUR JOB

An old Southerner wandered along a small stream and came upon a darkey sitting on a footbridge below a small dam, his feet dangling in the water and a shotgun thrown across his lap.

"What are you doing, Sambo?"

"Oh, I've got a good job, workin' here fo' Marse Littleton," the darkey replied.

"What are you doing?" again asked the Southerner.

"I've shootin' muskrats under 'at dam."

Whereupon a muskrat appeared under the dam.

"Look, Sambo, there's one! Why don't you shoot him?"

"Oh, no, man. Do you think I've gwine tuh get out of a job?"

AN APPRECIATION

Mrs. Agnes Miller has been a remarkable woman. She was an outstanding, shining figure in our community. A fine type of gentlewoman, a rare combination of pioneer spirit, gentleness, sympathy, and varied interest. To have lived 83 years—for several years in blindness and to have retained her keen intellect, and her vital interest in other people, to think constantly of others' welfare, to have kept in step with the times is a wonderful record.

Her children who have helped her so consistently to maintain this poise will cherish the memory of a great mother and friends will take fresh courage.

NOW AS TO SPECULATING-

PEOPLE who keep large bank rolls rarely speculate; and people who speculate seldom have large bank accounts. The reason is simple. Speculating drains, rarely increases a bank account. Don't speculate; invest. There's a big difference, though many are confused on the subject. Cut this ad out, bring it into the bank and ask an officer to explain the difference.

BIG SOCIAL WEEK-END AT UNIVERSITY

Two Dances, Basketball Games Enliven Post-Exam Period

MANY VISITORS

Two dances preceded by a like number of Varsity basketball games made the week-end at the University of Delaware quite a lively one from a social standpoint.

On Friday evening the annual formal dance of the Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity was given in Old College. Music was dispensed by Patten's orchestra of Philadelphia.

On Saturday evening the Druids, a national Sophomore society, gave their first party since they have graduated from the Blue Lantern organization to this more well known body. The latter dance was limited to underclassmen with alumni included.

The decorations conceived for the S. P. E. frolic by Johnson Rowan and James Tilghman, the former a Newark boy, deserve marked commendation, and were admired greatly by all who saw them. The scheme was Oriental throughout, giving the impression that the whole of the hall was an oasis in a desert. Cleverly made palm trees were placed at effective points, and along the walls were draped yards of long thin strips of crepe paper in shades of pale green, blue and gold.

A booth, or bower it may have been, was constructed around the punch bowl, with heavy stones around the base. Lights were lowered and a soft crimson glow from a powerful spotlight suffused the room. The scheme and its successful execution reflects much credit upon the two men.

Light refreshments were served during the intermission.

Plenty of Visitors

The two dances combined with the basketball games served to make Newark the stopping place for a number of fair visitors for the weekend. From down State, Maryland, New Jersey, New York, and other points they came to enjoy Delaware hospitality and a Delaware good time. It has been the custom in the past many townspeople threw open their homes for the guests, a practice which is most appreciated.

TEN DAYS GRACE FOR TAX HOLD-OUTS

Many Reported Delinquent in Income Tax Report

The names of a large number of delinquents who have failed to pay their State income tax have been placed in the hands of Attorney General Townsend, by State Tax Commissioner Jester. The Attorney General stated that "the Legislature has enacted the law and I have no course to pursue other than to see its reasonable, not drastic enforcement."

Delinquent taxables under the State income tax law will be allowed ten days in which to make payments, in order to avoid having their names submitted to the grand jury. They are given this time to show legal reason why they should not file a return and pay the taxes.

ANNEX TO CHURCH

A new $50,000 community house will be built as an addition to the Newport M. E. Church. This action was taken at a meeting of the official board of the church. Subscriptions amounting to $23,000 have already been received to promote the work.

The new building will comprise 21 Sunday school rooms and recreation rooms for boys and girls as well as a kitchen and dining-room. Rev. W. Vaughn Moore is chairman of the committee in charge of plans for the new community building.

FACULTY ON THE RAMPAGE AGAIN, BUT LOSE

The basketball team of the University Faculty lost a hard fought struggle to the Mt. Salem Church quintet of Wilmington, Thursday night in the gymnasium here, by the score of 20-14. The Faculty team is meeting with more than ordinary success this season. Several games have been played with teams about town. The Mt. Salem boys are the champions of the Junior Church League in Wilmington. Several more contests are being looked for the current season.

Jacob Tasker, At 90, Looks Back On A Remarkable Life

Thought To Be Oldest Citizen of Newark--Escaped from Confederacy During War Has Decided Opinions On 20th Century

Jacob Tasker

Jacob Tasker is 90 years old today. This fact may mean little to busy people travelling along with a busy world, but behind lies a real story of a wonderful old man.

Mr. Tasker is perhaps the oldest resident of Newark. He makes his home with Mr. and Mrs. John J. Boland, at 14 Academy Street. Mr. Boland being the old gentleman's grandson.

At the age of 90, he is bright and active. He rarely goes out of the house, except now and then for short walks on the porch. He dresses himself, disdains aid in getting about the house. When interviewed, was comfortably seated behind the glistening kitchen stove, contentedly chewing his favorite tobacco and keenly alert to every question. He delved deep into his marvelous store of memories; sometimes he gaped valiantly for bits of his past life and lost them, but for the most part he was able to recall many incidents, all of which are set down in this article.

Mr. Tasker, at 90, has four generations of descendants, including 13 children, 21 grandchildren and 13 great-grandchildren. His wife, before her marriage, was Miss Susan C. Thorpe, of a prominent Virginia family. They were married some years before the outbreak of the Civil War.

Mrs. Tasker died about five years ago, after a splendid life of love, service and devotion to husband and children. Mr. and Mrs. Boland take every means necessary to make the old gentleman comfortable and happy. Deep in the twilight of life, his thoughts, as he sits there by the stove day after day, naturally throw back to the old days of his youth and vigor.

Ancestry and Parentage

Mr. Tasker's grandfather, James Tasker, was one of the pioneers of the 13 colonies before the Revolution. He was a native of Ireland and came to our shores, enlivened by the prospects of liberty and equality in America. James Tasker married while a young man, his wife being a native of Germany.

The head of the house of Tasker served faithfully through the War of the Revolution. He was a skilled mechanic, and after the struggle was employed by George Washington to help build the famous mansion at Mt. Vernon, where the "Father of his Country" spent the last days of his life.

James and his wife lived in Virginia most of their lives. One of their sons, Eli, by name, was the father of Jacob. This is traced through a family which were real pioneers and who are Americans of the highest type.

Jacob Tasker's Life

Jacob Tasker was born in Shenandoah County, Va., on February 14, 1833.

Little can be gained from the old man concerning his childhood. It's just a little too much for his memory. So we let that part go.

However, when the first cloud of rebellion swept over the South, the Taskers of Virginia were, of course directly involved, and in a tragic manner.

Here was a family, living in the heart of Virginia, the mother State of the South, which sent three sons to the Confederacy and three to the Union!

Imagine, if you will, the heartaches, the agony of suspense suffered by the mother of those boys, who had divided the house.

Jacob, much against his will, was drafted into the Confederate Army. He believed implicitly in the cause of the North, as espoused by Lincoln. But the influence of his Southern ancestry was stronger than his political faith—and at the age of 28 he joined the Gray.

Escape Through the Lines

Now follows an account of Jacob Tasker's daringly planned and cleverly executed means of escape through the battle lines in Northern Virginia, a tale which is at once thrilling, colorful and authentic.

Because of his skill with machinery, young Tasker was placed in a munition factory, where cannon balls were made for use in Confederate batteries. After some months, he convinced himself that he must get away from the South forever. Changing into civilian clothes, and with a last good-bye to his young wife, he started away in the spring of '63.

Slowly and by devious routes he made his way northward, travelling for the most part at night. Time after time he was halted by patrols of Gray-clad soldiers, to which he always explained that he was in search of the Second Virginia regiment, then stationed in West Virginia. Finally he reached the battle lines, then just south of Frederick, Md. He lingered around the regiments, never staying more than a few hours at each headquarters—always looking for the "Second Virginia."

At last he found a loophole in the lines, and made the dash across two or three miles of battered fields and crawled into the Union lines at day-break of a June day in '63.

Immediately Tasker changed his tactics. To every inquiry he replied that he "must see the General." Believing that the stranger bore important news, an orderly conducted him to a nearby farm, where at the foot of a crude observation tower stood the General's headquarters.

"I want to see the General," said Tasker.

"The General is up that tower," replied the aide.

"I'll wait."

So down came a short, stocky, heavily bearded man with a cigar in his mouth.

To this man went the story of Jacob Tasker, and with it a request that he be permitted to settle in peace somewhere in the North. Mr. Tasker says that he discovered that he had talked to Ulysses S. Grant, the hero of the Union cause.

So Jacob Tasker finally settled in Principio Furnace, Md., now but a cluster of houses, but at that time a booming iron town. Months later, he was joined by his wife, and they took up a new life.

The famous Principio Furnace was then owned and managed by George P. Whittaker, who developed the pig iron industry in this section of the country.

For thirty years Mr. Tasker made pig iron and ripened into old age perfectly contented and happy.

Views On World of Today

"What do you think of Suffrage for Women?" he was asked.

"Don't believe in it," instantly replied the old man. "Don't do 'em any good, and keeps them away from thoughts of their homes."

We chatted for quite a while on the problems and issues of the day, and he had his keen opinion on every important question.

In commenting on Volstead's famous law, Mr. Tasker remarked:

SHORT RUNAWAY ENDS IN DEATH OF HORSE

Main Street Gets Thrill As Steed Rushes Through Heavy Traffic

OWNER MOURNS LOSS

A valuable mare belonging to George Anderson, colored, of near Newark, dropped dead late Saturday afternoon in front of the Washington House after a mad dash down Main street completely out of control of its owner.

The team in which Anderson and one or two others were seated, stopped for a minute at the Deer Park. It was stated that the animal seemed to be perfectly quiet and nothing had happened to frighten it. Without an instant's notice, however, it made a lunge, caught the bit in its teeth and started straight down the middle of the street, at a full gallop.

Anderson clung to the reins at the risk of serious injury and did all he could to stop the runaway. Several men jumped out in front of the mare to head her off, but their efforts were in vain.

Finally the Washington House was reached and here the horse fell. When it remained still, an investigation disclosed that death came instantaneously.

The only explanation of the strange case offered by witnesses stated that the horse had suffered from some attack of the brain or heart which caused the unusual runaway and the tragic ending.

No one was injured, and the wagon only slightly damaged by the accident.

DELAWARE CITY RUM JOINTS RAIDED

Citizens Complain of Open Sale of Liquor. Raids Net Little Evidence

WILL KEEP UP FIGHT

Residents of Delaware City for the past several months have been making vain protests to State and Federal authorities concerning the alleged wide open sale of hooch in all its various forms. It is claimed that many so-called "joints" are well known and no effort has been made to clean them up.

So down from Wilmington Saturday came a dozen or more Prohibition agents. They entered several houses but some one had given the tip ahead of them and the wily bootleggers had evidently moved away for the weekend. At any rate, sufficient evidence for an arrest was lacking at the end of the day's activities.

It was reported that several suspects will be held under observation by the authorities. Varying amounts of alleged liquor were confiscated at various places along Clinton street, the main business thoroughfare of Delaware City.

It is a well known fact among the citizens of the town along the Delaware that liquor in large quantities has been flowing freely, and when it has been found that much of it is made right on the main street, they believe that it is high time to act.

Federal agents have promised that they will bend every effort to the improvement of conditions there.

REPRESENTATIVE LITTLE IN BITTER ATTACK ON FARMERS' BANK OF STATE

Tells House That Institution Has "Strangle Hold" on State Finances

RESOLUTIONS REFERRED TO COMMITTEE

Rising to a point of personal privilege in the House, February 8th, Representative Harry G. Little, Republican, of Bellefonte, launched into a bitter attack against the Farmers' Bank of Delaware and then presented three resolutions which, if adopted, would materially change the present methods of handling State funds. The first of the resolutions directs the State Treasurer to invest not less than three-fourths of the monthly balances of the general school and sinking funds of the State in securities of a ready realizable nature; the second resolution requires all depositories of State funds to pay 2½ per cent interest on monthly balances over and above $50,000; the third resolution directs the State Treasurer to sell at public auction all of the 5,700 shares of stock the State now holds in the Farmers' Bank and to invest the proceeds of such sale in securities paying not less than 5 per cent.

"Since it has become rumored that I contemplated offering these resolutions here in the House" said Representative Little who is the Republican minority floor leader in that branch of the Legislature, "there has been much discussion in and about the halls of this State House relative to this contemplated step by me to try to stop a leak in the State finances amounting to more than $50,000 a year. Since this fact has become general knowledge I have been a marked man."

"Men of whom I had never heard and many of whom I did not know have come to me and patted me on the back and told me what a bright fellow I am, and how intelligent I am and they have painted to me a bright and rosy picture of my political future and to what heights I might aspire from my humble place here in this body. They have led me to the wonders and glories of the top of the mountain and shown me the wonders and glories of the world but for all these things I was to refrain from offering these resolutions to the General Assembly."

"I feel deeply my responsibilities to the people of the State of Delaware as one of their legislators and I will not retract nor will I retreat from the stand I have taken. I have been accused of representing certain financial institutions in the State of Delaware. I brand that as a lie and here declare it to be as false as the unscrupulous blackguards who started such a report.

"My only interest in this matter is to save the people of the State $50,000 or more of their money which sum is now practically given away every year by this State. I hold no brief for the Delaware Trust Company. But I feel that any independent banker or banking institution in the State should welcome the breaking of the strangle hold the Farmers' Bank has on this State and on its finances. It is the strongest and greatest political organization or association this State has ever known."

"Rumor has come to me that none of the newspapers in the State would say anything about my remarks here on this subject, but this I do not believe. I have been told that it means political oblivion for anyone who might champion this cause. But I am willing to be crucified. I want to go back to my people with a clear conscience and with the knowledge that I have performed my duties to the best of my ability as I have been able to see my responsibilities as their representative here."

"I beg of you not to betray the people of this State for a mere handful of political spellbinders."

All three of his resolutions were referred to the Committee on Revenue and Taxation of which Representative Elwood F. Melson, Democrat, of Frankford, is chairman.

The first of the resolutions submitted by Representative Little reads as follows:

Whereas, The average monthly balances of the general, school and sinking funds of the State of Delaware for the year preceding January 1, 1923, amounted to upwards of $12,300,000, and

Whereas, The State of Delaware now receives as an income from said funds two per cent per annum on the monthly balances, amounting to approximately $46,000 per annum, and

Whereas, The investment of three-fourths of the said average monthly balances in United States Government 4% certificates, would return to the State of Delaware the sum of approximately $38,800 in excess of the present income from said monthly balances therefore

Be it resolved, by the Senate and the House of Representatives of the State of Delaware in general assembly met:

EIGHTY-FIVE VACANCIES IN ARMY TO BE FILLED BY EXAMINATION THIS YEAR

University of Delaware and Fort duPont Designated Among Centres for Test. Open to Any Citizen of United States From Twenty-one to Thirty Years

FINAL EXAMINATIONS ON JUNE 25TH

Announcement has been made by the War Department through Major B. Row, Professor of Military Science and Tactics of the University of Delaware of competitive examinations for second lieutenants in the United States Army to fill eighty-five vacancies in various branches of the service. These tests are open to anyone, irrespective of past or present military experience and will be completed on June 25th next.

Application blanks and all other necessary information for possible applicants may be had by communicating with any of the officers attached to the University or stationed at Fort duPont.

Eligibility for appointment is fixed by law and the age at the time of the appointment must be between 21 and 30 years and candidates must be citizens of the United States.

At the time of the final examination each candidate must be in one of the following classes: A warrant officer or enlisted man of the Regular Army with more than two years' service as such; a Reserve officer or a member of the enlisted Reserve Corps; an officer, warrant officer or enlisted man of the National Guard; a graduate of a technical institution approved by the Secretary of War. Any civilian of the required age who passes the preliminary examination may, for the purpose of establishing eligibility, enlist in the Reserve Corps.

The final examination June 25 is held simultaneously throughout the country and is the same for all candidates. The scope of the mental examination is such as to insure the Army securing men of the requisite educational foundations for a career as an Army officer. The elementary part of this examination embraces the subjects of history, grammar, geography, arithmetic, algebra, geometry, trigonometry and physics. The advanced part of the examination consists of a large number of subjects including mathematics, advanced mechanics, spraying, languages, literature, electricity, chemistry, law and minor tactics. Examination is required in but three of the advanced subjects and these may be chosen by the candidate.

Candidates for appointment in the Air Service, Signal Corps, Engineers, and Ordnance Department are required to satisfy certain technical requirements either by examination or having graduated from technical schools.

Each candidate is permitted to express his first and second choice for the branch of service in which he desires to be commissioned and as far as practicable this is done.

ANTIOCH COLLEGE HAS BUILT UP A UNIQUE SYSTEM TRAINING THEIR MEN

President Morgan, Guest of University, Explains Some Methods Used in Ohio Institution; Make Careful Studies of Ability Before Placing Students

REORGANIZED WHOLE COLLEGE AT START

The members of the Faculty, a few students and some townspeople gathered in the Lounge Room of Old College Hall last Wednesday evening and heard a real educational message. It was the story of Antioch College, Ohio. Not many people here in Delaware know of Antioch, but those who heard the talk that night are more than convinced that Antioch should be up in the front rank of educational advancement.

The speaker was Dr. Arthur E. Morgan, president of the college. Dr. Morgan came here upon the invitation of Dr. Walter Hullihen and was the latter's guest during his visit.

The development of character and resourcefulness plays an important part in the Antioch System. The students, both men and women are under constant observation in an effort to straighten them out on the road to success. So many students, stated Dr. Morgan, are hampered in the fact that they are wrongly placed at school.

Ousts the Old System

In replying to a question as to whether the University of Delaware could be managed along similar lines, Dr. Morgan replied:

"When I took hold of Antioch the Board of Trustees did not suit my purposes, so I induced it to resign. Then I selected a Board of Trustees that would support my plans. We had a fairly good faculty, but it wasn't just what I wanted, so I built up a new faculty. I then got rid of all but about a dozen of our old students and then began rebuilding the college along what today are known as Antioch lines. Today we have 400 students who have come to us from all parts of the United States. Our limit is 600.

Training Engineers

"In training mechanical or civil engineers, for example, the purely technical courses are limited to such fundamentals as physics, mechanics, and dynamics; with aid for the student who wishes to pursue his own way in more advanced work in any technical subject through 'autonomous' courses. A very considerable part of his time is given to courses in the technic of management, such as cost accounting and analysis, employment relations, publicity, traffic, purchasing, production engineering, and industrial research. If he is to be a civil engineer, his relation to his calling will be primarily that of administrator, superintendent, proprietor or manager, rather than that of technical specialist. Similar preparation is given for administration in other professions, and in industry and commerce. The course requires six years of forty weeks each for the average student. Particularly able students can reduce this time by a year.

Broad Foundations of Training

"In its choice of training for administration and proprietorship as its special field, Antioch has endeavored to avoid so far as possible competition with our great technical schools where students aiming to become highly specialized technicians have facilities and an atmosphere suited to the purpose; it has endeavored to prepare its students for fields of effort where symmetrical development, including the education of the intuitions, is most essential to success.

"In its special field of training a small, selected group of students for administration and proprietorship, Antioch is typical only in that it suggests the adoption of definite and limited vocational purposes as the way out for our small colleges. In its determination to build its special training upon the broad foundation of symmetrical development, including practical experience with the affairs of life, we hope we may develop timely and valuable suggestions for the general field of engineering education."

MARVEL ELECTED HEAD OF BAR ASSOCIATION

Committee Makes Other Selections. To Hear Davis February 21

Following the luncheon of the Bar Associations of Delaware held in Dover Thursday last, the joint committees appointed at a recent meeting of the Association met and reported that the committee on by-laws, of which Robert H. Richards is chairman, with a few minor amendments were the same as had formerly been adopted by the State Bar Association. The report of the committee was adopted.

James H. Hughes, chairman of the committee on nominations, reported the selection of the following as officers of the Association to be approved at a meeting of the entire Bar Association to be held in Wilmington on February 21: president, Josiah Marvel, Wilmington; first vice-president, John Biggs, Wilmington; second vice-president, Henry Ridgley, Dover; third vice-president, Charles W. Cullen, Georgetown; secretary, Leonard E. Wales, Wilmington; treasurer, Thomas C. Frame, Jr., Dover.

At the Wilmington meeting, the members will be addressed by John W. Davis, of New York City, president of the American Bar Association.

New York Wants Delaware Water

Development of the watershed of the Delaware River as a future water supply for New York City and cities of New Jersey and Pennsylvania, was ordered recommended to Governor Smith by directors of the Merchants' Association last week. The project, it was stated, would far exceed in magnitude and cost the present Catskill system.

The association's committee on water supply reported that the city's sources would have to be augmented about 1935. Since the Delaware river runs through Pennsylvania and New Jersey, the association will recommend to Governor Smith that negotiations with those States be opened for the appointment of a joint committee to make a survey of the river's watersheds, which, it was estimated would require several years.

"The problem of water supply, although most pressing to New York, is already of grave moment to Northern New Jersey and to the City of Philadelphia," the committee reported. "All these communities would have a common beneficial interest in the development of the Delaware River."

REPRESENTATIVE LITTLE IN BITTER ATTACK

That the State Treasurer be and he hereby is authorized and directed to invest not less than three-fourths of the monthly balances of the general school and sinking funds of the State of Delaware in securities of a ready realizable nature, and

Be it further resolved, That the said State Treasurer, the Secretary of State, and the State Banking Commissioner be and they are hereby constituted a board whose duty it shall be to designate the securities in which said investments shall be made. The action of a majority of said Board shall be sufficient.

The second of the resolutions reads: Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the State of Delaware in general assembly met: That all depositories of funds of the State of Delaware be and they are hereby required to pay two and one-half per cent per annum on all monthly balances of the funds of said State over and above the sum of $50,000.

The third of the resolutions is as follows: Whereas, The State of Delaware now holds and is the owner of fifty-seven hundred shares of stock of the Farmers' Bank of the State of Delaware, out of ten thousand shares of said stock of the par value of $50 per share issued and outstanding, the book value of which is now approximately $740,000, and

Whereas, The income to the State of Delaware from said stock is now $28,500 per annum, and

Whereas, The income from the proceeds of the sale of said stock invested in other securities at the rate of five per cent per annum will return to the State an income of approximately $37,000 or $8,500 in excess of the income at present received from said investment, therefore

Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the State of Delaware in general assembly met: That the State Treasurer be and he hereby is authorized and directed to sell for cash at public auction, in blocks of not more than fifty shares each, at such place, and time within sixty days from the date of the approval of this resolution, as said State Treasurer may designate, the said fifty-seven hundred shares of the Farmers' Bank of the State of Delaware.

Be it further resolved, that the State Treasurer shall give notice of said public auction, stating the time and place of said sale by publishing the same in two daily newspapers published in the State of Delaware at least ten days before the date fixed for said sale.

Be it further resolved, That the said State Treasurer be and he hereby is authorized and directed to invest the proceeds arising from the sale of said stock, as soon as conveniently may be after said sale, in securities returning not less than five per cent per annum, as a part of and for the benefit of the school fund of the State of Delaware.—Every Evening.

FACTS THAT MAY HELP YOU WITH YOUR INCOME TAX PROBLEM

In making out his income tax return for the year 1922, the taxpayer is required to include all items of gross income. In the case of a storekeeper the gross income consists usually of the gross profits on sales, together with income from other sources. The returns must show the gross sales, purchases, and cost of goods sold. To reflect net income correctly, and to ascertain gross income, inventories are ordinarily required as of the beginning and end of each taxable year. The professional man, doctor, lawyer, dentist, must include all fees and other compensation for professional services.

The farmer is required to report as gross income all profits derived from the sale or exchange of farm products, including crops and live stock, whether raised on the farm or purchased and resold. A farmer who rents his farm on the crop sharing basis must report such income for the years in which the crops are sold. Profit obtained from the sale or rental of farm lands also must be reported.

In order that they may obtain full advantage of the deductions from gross income to which they are entitled, taxpayers are advised by collectors of internal revenue to study carefully the instructions on the forms for making returns under the head "Income from Business or Profession."

Liability to file an income tax return for the year 1922 is determined by a person's status on the last day of the taxable year, December 31st, if the return is made on the calendar year basis, as most are. If on that date he was single he must file a return if his net income for 1922 was $1,000 or more, and he is allowed only an exemption of $1,000. If he was married on December 31st he is granted the exemption allowed a married person for the full year, $2,500 if his net income was $5,000 or less, and $2,000 if his net income exceeded $5,000. The bride's income, however, must be considered with that of her husband, the larger exemptions being allowed married couples living together. A widow or widower whose spouse died before the end of the year is classed as a single person. Divorces and persons separated by mutual consent also are classed as single persons.

Similar conditions exist with respect to the head of a family. If, during the year, his support of relatives ceased he is entitled only to the $1,000 exemption. A man who has a dependent child, not mentally or physically defective, that attains the age of 18 years just before the close of the taxable year, can not claim the $400 credit for a dependent.

To avoid penalty, income tax returns must be filed with the collector of internal revenue for the district in which the taxpayer lives or has principal place of business on or before midnight of March 15, 1923.

Where additional time is required because of illness or absence of the taxpayer from home, the collector may grant, upon application before the return is due, March 15th, an extension of not to exceed 30 days. If an accurate return can not be made within the 30 days extension period, a request for a further extension must be made to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, Washington, D. C. Collectors have not authority to grant an extension exceeding 30 days.

Failure to make a return on time subjects the delinquent to a penalty of $1,000 and an additional penalty of 25 per cent of the amount of tax due. If the failure is willfully, however, or an attempt is made to evade the tax by filing a false return, the offender is liable to imprisonment and to a fine of not more than $10,000 and costs, in addition to a penalty of 50 per cent of the amount of tax evaded.

Farmers Having Great Success. Will Complete Pool Soon

"Soy beans is a coming crop in New Castle county. A crop that produces twenty-five to thirty bushels per acre and sells for $1.50 to $2.00 per bushel should be an omen to the farmers of this county." J. D. Reynolds of Middletown conducted this discussion at the monthly meeting of the Executive Committee of the Farm Bureau held in Wilmington last Saturday, by saying that he has arranged with County Agent R. O. Bausman to conduct a demonstration on his farm in growing ten acres of soy beans for seed. Mr. Reynolds stated further that all tests showed that crops following soy beans produced an increased yield and that after passing through the thresher the vine makes excellent dairy feed.

According to F. F. Yearsley, of Marshallton, President of the Farm Bureau, the certified seed potato pool this year would probably exceed a ton load. The potatoes will cost about $1.60 per bushel. Last year the certified seed doubled in yield the crops raised from home grown seed.

The soy bean pool will be completed during the next two weeks and the order placed in Sussex county.

B. & O. Officials Back Good Will Election for Funds

Taking the "Good Will" of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad to the devastated regions of France and to the orphans there bereft of fathers since the world conflict, is the honor bestowed upon Miss Nina Spengler, representative of the railroad company in the Good Will National Election now being conducted along the entire Baltimore and Ohio lines and sponsored by Daniel Willard, president of the railroad company.

Lined up behind Miss Spengler is the whole organization of the road and an appeal to the employes' loyalty to the "Baltimore and Ohio Girl" already has gone forth to all. Local committees are forming to push Miss Spengler's campaign to a successful conclusion. The campaign ends February 24th.

The object of the Good Will National Election is to raise funds towards the completion of the work of the American Committee in the devastated regions of France which comprise one-sixteenth of the entire country, at the same time conveying to the French people an expression of good will from the American communities which participate in the humanitarian work. So that representatives of the people who subscribe to the fund may see for themselves the good work that has already been done by the American Committee and what yet remains to be done in the rehabilitation of the war-torn regions, the voting contests were arranged.

Miss Spengler, the Baltimore and Ohio's candidate is the only daughter of C. W. Spengler, for 35 years agent at Strasburg Junction, Va. She was born in Strasburg, in 1895, and graduated from Strasburg High School in 1913, and from Lynchburg College in 1915. She was a school teacher at Hot Springs, Va., for two years and entered the service of the Baltimore and Ohio in 1918 in the office of the Auditor of Merchandise Receipts. Miss Spengler's campaign is under the management of J. S. Murray, assistant to President Willard, and F. H. B. Bullock is treasurer.
