Tubby Raymond

The Fightin' Blue Hens' colorful coach

by Bill Clark

More than 30 years ago Tubby Raymond discovered how to temporarily relieve the pressures associated with coaching.

Every Thursday he paints a portrait of a different senior player.

"Generally speaking, the tension is greatest on Sunday night, Monday and Tuesday," said Raymond, who came to the University of Delaware as an assistant to then-head football coach Dave Nelson in 1954, "so that by Thursday morning there's a break and that's when I do the picture.

"It's not an elaborate thing. I don't spend more than a half hour on it, and another 10 or 15 minutes on the printing" of the caption.

On a white poster board, Raymond sketches the athlete's face alongside a Blue Hen, who is known as "Dick."

"The player says something to the team and Dick makes another comment across the bottom," explained the 20-year head coach.

Raymond painted a remarkable likeness of captain Vaughn Dickinson before the 1985 season opener against Rhode Island.

The coach used the accompanying caption to suggest the best way for Dickinson, a defensive lineman, and his teammates to handle the Rams' much-heralded quarterback Tom Ehrhardt: "Vaughn sez, 'He can't throw from his back!'"

Dick sez, "Opportunity knocks — rush Rhode Isl!" "It looks like me," said Dickinson of the portrait which appeared in the Delaware Field House locker room bulletin board before the Thursday practice. "You always wait for Tubby Raymond escapes the pressures of coaching by painting portraits of Blue Hen seniors, such as running back Ron James.

Scouts 'green' Newark

Newark will be bustling with activity Saturday morning when approximately 100 Boy Scouts and their leaders from the Lenape District will plant trees along Cleveland Avenue and several other sites in cooperation with Newark's Clean and Green Committee.

The city will provide transportation for the Scouts, who will be camping in Carpenter Park that weekend.

The sites for the trees have been chosen by the Newark Conservation Commission in cooperation with the property owners to replace the taller shade trees that are dying out in the older areas of town. Funds for the tree purchase are from a grant authorized by the Community Development Committee.

Charles Maass, district program chairman and a member of Newark's Clean and Green Committee, stressed that "Boy Scouts, individually and in troops, are often involved in 'clean up' efforts, but this will give them an opportunity to participate in something of lasting value to the community."

He believes that everyone participating in this event will take pride as they watch the trees grow to maturity.

City Councilman Betty Hutchinson, chairman of the committee, indicated that the city public works and parks departments were cooperating fully in the planning of this operation by helping with the details of transportation, tools, and general back-up support.

Rick Colbert, the city horticulturist, has selected the trees and will supervise the planting.

Community Services, Inc., a local non-profit training agency, will stake and mulch the newly planted trees the following week.

Clifford Armour

Methodist pastor nearly became doctor

by Neil Thomas

As a senior at Duke University, Clifford Armour, the son of a Chesapeake Bay waterman, was well on his way to becoming a doctor.

Armour had done well in the pre-medical curriculum and had been accepted into several medical schools when he arrived at a fork in the road.

"I decided one morning I had to say no to the acceptances and apply to seminary," said Armour, who is the new pastor of Newark United Methodist Church on Main Street.

"I had known for about five years the ministry is what I should be doing."

Armour, a native of nearby North East, Md., entered Wesley Theological Seminary in Washington, D.C.

He later returned to Duke for post-graduate work in Old Testament studies and archaeology, then was assigned to Peninsula Conference churches in Elkton, Salisbury, Ocean City and Claymont before coming to Newark in July.

Although Armour chose not to become a doctor, he finds the role of minister similar in one respect - he is always on call.

"The phone rings quite often," he said, "but that's the way I want it to be. I'm available 24 hours a day and try to make myself as accessible to the congregation as much as I can."

Unlike doctors, Armour has neither an expensive car nor a glamorous house. But he finds the ministry has its own special rewards.

"I find there is a reward in seeing people whose lives have fallen apart and putting them back together again, in helping people who are down and out find new direction in life, in helping someone who has lost a loved one in death."

"The biggest reward, I suppose, is just helping people."

The Newark church represents quite a challenge to Armour because it is the largest in the Peninsula Conference, with 2,300 members.

"I went from a church (Claymont's Atonement) with 1,100 members to one with 2,300 members," Armour said. "That's quite a jump."

It is a challenge he relishes because of the wide range of people in the congregation.

"One of the things I find exciting about the Newark church is we have such a diverse population: students, single adults, married adults, middle aged adults with teenagers and retirees with talents they are willing to share with the congregation and community."

Now that he has settled in, Armour hopes to begin three important thrusts as minister.

"Number one is membership care," he said. "How do we keep tabs on 2,300 people so we can minister to them in their sorrows and their joys?"

"I'd like to get so we can take care of the members."

Armour also hopes to help members "develop spiritual discipline through creative, innovative and meaningful worship." The goal, he said, is to have the congregation become "more God-centered and so more person-oriented."

Thirdly, Armour hopes to "continue to develop the social action emphasis of this congregation." He firmly believes in "being involved in issues confronting a community."

Armour has set ambitious goals but believes he can meet them because of an excellent church staff and members who are willing to give of their talents.

"One of the exciting things here is that people come in and say, 'I want to do something. That's fantastic. The first time it happened, I just about passed out,'" he said, laughing.

Armour is married (his wife Jeanette is a substitute teacher in the Christina School District) and has a 20-year-old son who is attending Elon College in North Carolina.

He is the first minister in his family, his father, grandfather and great-grandfather all having been watermen.

It is a career choice with which he is well pleased. "Although I had anticipated being a doctor, I knew it was not the direction I should take," Armour said.

Rev. Clifford Armour enjoys contact with congregation.

Clean and Green visit

Mayor, council to call on city businesses

Newark Mayor William Redd and members of City Council will begin visiting businesses on Wednesday, Oct. 16, launching the Clean and Green campaign.

The campaign is a partnership between the city and its business leaders to promote a clean community.

"The purpose is to create a clean and green city," said Redd, "which is important for attracting commerce and trade to the city. This is a full scale community effort involving every citizen and visitor to Newark."

As part of the campaign, Newark Police will issue litter bags in place of traffic tickets to parking violators that day.

Following a 10 a.m. coffee kick-off meeting at Jimmy's Diner, the mayor and members of council will be presenting the merchants of each store with a proclamation, which both parties will sign, pledging full cooperation in encouraging their customers, suppliers and employees to keep Newark Clean and Green.

Chairman of the Clean and Green Committee is City Councilman Betty Hutchinson.

She said, "Businesses are a vital part of the community and it's important for them to take part in these efforts to improve Newark."

Hutchinson also thanked the Delaware State Chamber of Commerce for assistance and participation in the Clean and Green project.

Merchants to be visited include stores along Main Street and South College Avenue, as well as the stores in the Fairfield, Park 'N' Shop, College Square and Newark shopping centers.

Anti-apartheid march Friday

Campus organizers expect 'good crowd' for events

Organizers of Friday's march to protest South African apartheid "expect a good crowd," according to Ken Weinstein of the Campus Coalition for Human Rights.

The Coalition is the lead organization of 23 groups co-sponsoring anti-apartheid activities Thursday and Friday on the University of Delaware campus.

The events are being held in conjunction with the National Anti-Apartheid Student Protest Days.

Activities will begin at 7 p.m. Thursday in 140 Smith Hall with a panel discussion on apartheid.

Panelists will be: Sumi Matabane, the Washington, D.C. representative of the African National Congress; Dr. James Oliver, chairman of the University of Delaware political science department; Dr. Kassau Chocole, professor of political economy at El Colegio de Mexico and publisher of Africa World Press; and Dr. Mark Huddleston, professor of political science at the University of Delaware and vice-president of the U.D. Faculty Senate.

The panel discussion will be followed by a Dance Against Apartheid at 9 p.m. in the Bacchus Room of the Perkins Student Center on Academy Street. A variety of music will be played by Superior Sound.

Students, faculty and community members will be meeting on the Perkins Student Center Patio at 2 p.m. Friday to begin a march through campus to show their opposition to apartheid.

The march will return to the back of Perkins Student Center at Harrington Beach where a Rock Against Apartheid will be held. The rally will include a keynote speech by Sumi Matabane, several faculty and student speakers, and performances by two local bands, Vic Sadot and Bridges.

In addition to these activities, Sumi Matabane will be speaking to political science classes on Friday morning.

The co-sponsoring organizations include: Alpha Phi Alpha, Belmont House, Black Student Union, Christiana Towers Hall Government, College Democrats, Cosmopolitan Club, Delta Tau Delta, Friends of Palestine, Gay and Lesbian Student Union, International Relations Club, Martin Luther King House, Minority Affairs, Minority Student Program Advisory Board, Mortar Board, Pencader Student Government, Sailing Club, Student Leadership Council, United Campus to Prevent Nuclear War, Women Working for Change.

Weinstein said campus organizations have joined together to show the student body's opposition to "the atrocious system of government in South Africa, and to put pressure on local and national authorities in the U.S. to help bring about a peaceful change."

Although the general theme of the Anti-Apartheid Days is "Let Them Be Free," Weinstein said many of the sponsoring organizations have chosen to make issue of the University of Delaware's $47.5 million invested in corporations that do business in South Africa.

According to Michael Beer, one of the organizers of the event, the goal is "to educate the students, faculty, and community about apartheid, provide a global perspective on human rights, and show our general opposition to the South African racist system of government."

Weinstein added that "if we do not show our opposition to this atrocious system, we are, in a sense, supporting apartheid through our silence."

Aetna

Prevention Week

Aetna Hose, Hook and Ladder Co. of Newark has announced that National Fire Prevention Week will be observed this year from Sunday, Oct. 7 through Saturday, Oct. 13.

Locally, the fire department conducts fire prevention and safety programs all year to help citizens protect themselves from fire. This concern for public safety is highlighted during Fire Prevention Week.

National Fire Prevention Week marks the anniversary of the Great Chicago Fire which happened on Oct. 9, 1871. On that day, fire killed 250 persons and destroyed 17,430 buildings at a cost of $168 million. This was one of the worst conflagrations in American history.

Reported to have been started by the now famous cow of Mrs. O'Leary, the fire swept through the wooden buildings and sidewalks of Chicago.

It was not until after the tragedy that fire prevention codes were written requiring safer construction.

Carper

Town meetings

Delaware Congressman Tom Carper announced that he will hold town meetings in New Castle County in mid-October.

On Monday, Oct. 14, at 7 p.m., Carper will meet with constituents in the City of New Castle at the William Penn High School Library on Basin Road.

A Wilmington town meeting with Carper will be held at 7 p.m., Tuesday, Oct. 15, at the State Office Building Auditorium, 9th and French streets.

All meetings are open to the public, and all constituents are encouraged to attend the meeting most convenient to them.

"I really look forward to meeting with fellow Delawareans and hearing where they stand on the Congressional issues that are so important to all of us," Carper said.

Red Cross vols

More than 100 American Red Cross Delaware Chapter volunteers and staff turned out Sept. 26-27 to operate 17 shelters opened in Delaware by the Red Cross to accommodate evacuees from Hurricane Gloria.

A total of 11,600 Delawareans were sheltered overnight in the American Red Cross shelters and in six additional shelters opened in fire halls to hold the overflow, according to Steven Massey, director of disaster services for the state Red Cross.

"We were very lucky here in Delaware that Gloria passed us by so quickly and that we missed the full force of the hurricane," Massey said.

The disaster services director said the shelters were furnished with medical supplies by American Red Cross and that between 25,000 and 30,000 meals were served at the shelters at the expense of American Red Cross.

TUBBY/ from 1a

your picture. Finally, when it's up there, you realize it's your last year."

Following each game, the player takes his portrait home. "Some of them are good; some of them I like. And some are really bad," said Raymond through a smile. "I don't have time to do them over, so I'll put 'Apologies to Mrs. So-and-So.'"

Blue Hen assistant coaches Bob Sabol and Gregg Perry played for Delaware in the mid-'70s. Like most players, Sabol was surprised to learn the identity of the locker room artist.

"Your first reaction is, 'No way!'" recalled the 1977 U.D. graduate.

Perry's portrait is hanging in the home of his parents, in Washington, N.J. "Seniors are special to Tubby and the paintings are a way for him to show his appreciation for the player. In turn, each senior knows his painting is extremely unique and appreciates Tubby that much more," he said.

Former Blue Hen quarterback Tom DiMuzio said of Tubby Raymond, the artist: "I think he portrays in his paintings a different side of football, in the sense that he captures the individual, the personality, involved. The game actually turns out to be extraneous from the artwork itself."

Raymond, who'll turn 59 on Nov. 14, remembered how he began his artistic career, growing up in Flint, Mich.

"I went to a Saturday morning art school when I was about 12. I used to get 35 cents and that took care of bus fare, two Coney Island hot dogs and a movie after our class. I didn't do that for long, and I wasn't very sophisticated, but I did enjoy it."

Upon coming to Delaware in 1954, Raymond began sketching cartoons for the team's bulletin board at the request of Coach Nelson.

"It was just to have a little smile going occasionally," said Tubby. "The kids would know the coaches were alive."

One of Raymond's early favorites was a 1956 portrait of trainer Roy Rylander giving the haggard Blue Hen an injection. "At that time nobody heard anything about shooting up," Raymond joked. "He's giving Dick 'offensive juice' because we hadn't been moving the ball." The Hens went on to beat Rutgers, 22-0.

"Then I got the idea that I ought to be doing the kids — the players. So from that point on, I have done a portrait of every senior who has ever started for us, and often the non-starters, too. Every once in awhile, I'll do two a week."

That's in the neighborhood of 300-to-400 portraits. But while working in the high-pressure world of collegiate football, Raymond has enjoyed every single one.

Foss appointed school advisor

Helen K. Foss of Hockessin, executive director of the Delaware region of the National Conference of Christians and Jews and a former teacher, has been named special assistant for education by Gov. Michael N. Castle.

Foss will join the governor's staff in November.

"I am extraordinarily pleased that Helen Foss has agreed to take on this responsibility," Castle said. "She brings both experience and commitment to the position, and I am looking forward to working with her to improve public education in Delaware."

Foss received a bachelor's degree in education from the National College of Education, Evanston, Ill., in 1961. She taught in public schools in Illinois, California and Delaware between 1961 and 1972, then spent four years as a private tutor.

She served as a consultant to the Department of Public Instruction on human relations from 1975 to 1976.

In 1977 and 1978, she organized a series of meetings of human relations officers from New Castle County schools to improve communications in advance of desegregation of the school districts.

Beginning in 1977, she was involved in a wide range of activities involving various elements of the community in the desegregation effort. Since 1978, she has chaired a series of regular meetings involving community leaders and policy and decision makers from New Castle County's school systems.

She has been director of the NCCJ in Delaware since 1977.

This year she became a member of the Governor's Judicial Nominating Commission. She served on Governor Castle's Transition Team, and was a member of the Task Force on Education for Economic Growth in 1983-84.

She has been chair of the State Board of Education Desegregation Advisory Committee since 1982.

ATTENTION NEW HOME BUILDER:
SCHAGRINGAS Gives You 6 Reasons To:

"DUMP THE PUMP!"

What you don't know about electric heat pumps can hurt you! Families who bought and paid for an electric heat pump in the 70's—are still paying, in high heating & cooling bills, expensive maintenance & lowered standards of comfort. Here are the "cold" facts:

FACT #1:

A "BACKWARD" HEATING SYSTEM: Electric heat pumps work the other way around. They deliver the most heat when the outside air is relatively warm—say between 45-50°F. Their ability to deliver heat actually goes down the colder it gets.

FACT #3:

A PROPANE GAS FURNACE COSTS LESS: Initially, the purchase price of an efficient gas furnace is hundreds of dollars lower than a heat pump. Plus a high efficiency gas furnace doesn't need a backup system.

FACT #5:

ELECTRIC HEAT PUMPS: THE TECHNOLOGY OF WASTE: Heat output is reduced the colder it gets outside; heating bills then are higher because the unit has to work harder & harder; electric heating strips are often needed to maintain warmth.

FACT #2:

THE INDOOR "WIND CHILL": The heat pump has to move a great deal of air—creating drafts—because this air is at a low temperature (say 95°, as opposed to 130° for a gas system) electric heat pump owners complain of chills.

FACT #4:

PROPANE GAS HEAT REQUIRES LESS MAINTENANCE: A propane gas furnace is a simple technology that has had the bugs worked out of it for years. Its life expectancy is 20+ years! Compared to 7-10 yrs. of the electric heat pump.

FACT #6:

YOU SAVE WITH PROPANE: Propane gas is 50% cheaper than electricity per BTU. The more electric appliances that are replaced with propane, the MORE you save.

THE SOLUTION:

Don't settle for an inferior and outdated heating system! Ask your builder for the Lennox Pulse gas furnace—or call the experts at Schagrin Gas today!

THE LENNOX "PULSE" GAS FURNACE

- The World's Most Efficient Gas Furnace!
- Up to 97% Efficient!

UNIVERSITY

University to celebrate homecoming

Homecoming at the University of Delaware will be celebrated with a variety of events on Friday and Saturday, Oct. 11-12.

Kicking off the homecoming festivities will be the Delaware Diamonds and Century Club reception Friday, Oct. 11, in Clayton Hall on the university's north campus in Newark.

The evening will begin with a social hour at 6:30 p.m., with music for dancing provided by the band Diversity starting at 7 p.m. Members of the Delaware Diamonds are individuals who have contributed $1,000 or more to the university during the year, and Century Club members are those who have contributed $100 or more annually.

Also on Oct. 11, a homecoming dance will be held from 9 p.m.-1 a.m. in the Dover Room of the Perkins Student Center on the campus. Featured will be Walter Wagner and the Serenaders. Admission is $6 and $4 for university students.

A dance party featuring Tommy Conwell and the Young Rumbler and other bands will be held Saturday, Oct. 12, from 9 p.m.-1 a.m. The Tommy Conwell band will entertain in the Dover Room of the Perkins Student Center and locations for the other bands are to be announced. Admission is $3.

Combined ticket prices for both dances are $7 for the general public and $5 for university students. Tickets are on sale from noon-4 p.m., Monday through Friday, at the main desk in the Perkins Student Center.

The main attraction of the weekend will be the homecoming football game as the Delaware Fightin' Blue Hens take on Boston University at Delaware Stadium. Kickoff is scheduled at 1:30 p.m.

For ticket information, contact the ticket manager at the Delaware Field House on De. 896, telephone 451-2257.

The Alumni Marching Band will perform during half-time, and the university choir alumni will perform the national anthem, the alma mater and the fight song.

Alumni, students, parents and friends of the university are invited to join in other homecoming activities on Saturday, Oct. 12.

A campus visitation program for prospective students and their parents will be held by the Office of Admissions at 10 a.m. Saturday in Room 115 of Purnell Hall on the corner of Orchard Road and Amstel Avenue. Application procedures, fees, financial aid, housing and curricula will be explained. Emphasis will be placed on the colleges of Agricultural Sciences, Education, Human Resources and Physical Education, Athletics and Recreation.

A Special Alumni Association meeting for representatives of the 1986 reunion classes will be held at 10:30 a.m. at the Blue and Gold Club, 44 Kent Way. Alumni representatives of all classes ending with the numerals "6" and "1" will meet to discuss plans for reunion celebrations on Spring Reunion Day, May 3, 1986, or Homecoming, Oct. 18, 1986, when the opponent will be William and Mary.

An alumni homecoming luncheon will begin at 11:30 a.m. at the Tavern at the Blue and Gold Club. Cost of the buffet luncheon is $6.25 per person. Reservations should be made with the university's Office of Alumni Relations, telephone 451-2341.

Post-game festivities will take place at the annual Goalpost Party, behind the Delaware Field House. Alumni of all classes and their guests are invited to enjoy ethnic foods and a cash bar.

Reunion activities for the classes of 1935, 1940, 1950, 1960, 1965, 1970, and 1975 are also scheduled for Saturday evening.

For more information on homecoming events, contact Peggy B. Sullivan in the University's Office of Alumni Relations, telephone 451-2341.

Theater season features variety

The University of Delaware Theatre's 1985-86 season will feature a variety of drama, comedy and fantasy.

Opening the season will be "Days to Come," by Lillian Hellman. This pertinent labor drama, which investigates the tragic consequences of strikebreaking in the 1930s, will be presented Oct. 25-27 and Oct. 31-Nov. 2.

"We Won't Pay," a hilarious farce written by Dario Fo, is obligatory viewing for anyone battling the high cost of living. It will be presented Dec. 6-8 and 11-12.

"The Good woman of Setzuan," by Bertolt Brecht is scheduled Jan. 31 - Feb. 2 and Feb. 13-15. This imaginative and entertaining story is about three gods who visit the earth in search of one good woman.

"The World We Live In," written by Josef and Karel Capek, will be staged March 14-16 and 20-22. This production presents a funny, macabre and uncanny look at humanity and this planet as it explores the connections between being human and being butterflies, ants and caterpillars.

A warm and gentle search for roots and reconciliation with the family is the theme of "Levitator," a play by Timothy Mason, scheduled April 25-27 and May 1-3.

Completing the season will be an energetic dance program featuring the Delaware Dance Ensemble, presented May 15-17.

All performances, including evening performances at 8:15 p.m. and matinees at 2, will be held at Mitchell Hall and the Hartshorn Building on the Newark campus.

Season tickets for all six productions are available now by mail at $20 for the general public, $15 for university faculty and staff and $12 for all students and senior citizens.

Special "twofer" rates entitling the holder to two tickets for Thursday or Sunday performances also are available at $25.

For more information, call the University Theatre box office in Mitchell Hall, telephone 451-2204.

Conference to address resources for women

"Resources for Women Facing Change" will be the subject of a one-day conference, scheduled from 9 a.m.-4 p.m., Saturday, Oct. 26, in the Virden Center on the University of Delaware campus in Lewes.

Examining issues associated with change in women's lives, the conference is being presented by the university's Division of Continuing Education in cooperation with the University's Women's Studies Program and the Delaware Cooperative Extension Service of the university and Delaware State College.

Opening the conference will be an address on "Women and Self-Esteem" by Annabelle C. Kressman, co-owner of Kressman Consultants Inc., which was served as a resource in women's issues for 10 years.

Participants will be able to choose two workshops from the five different topics offered during the day.

Workshops are scheduled on

• "Looking at the Changing Financial Picture," how to set and adjust financial goals, keep records, plan spending, credit, taxes and retirement.

• "Time Management Skills," way to develop, build and use time management skills both personally and professionally.

• "Knowing the Legal System to Cope with Special Problems," an overview of the courts and administrative agencies, a look at divorce, property division, child support and child custody and information on employment discrimination, sexual harassment and comparable worth.

• "The University and Women in Transition," what the University of Delaware can offer women entering or re-entering the work world or college.

• "Widows on Widowhood," perspectives on how to meet the challenges of widowhood.

Workshop leaders will include Sandy Facinoli, interim county extension director for Worcester County, Md.; Sally Foulke, extension home economist in Sussex County; Ann Lopata, counselor in the Adult Center for Continuing Education Student Services at the university; Susan Paikin, director of support with the Family Court of Delaware; Dolores Fenix Sapienza, director of continuing education at Delaware State College; Patricia Tate Stewart, staff attorney with the Family Court of Delaware; Debbie Walker, Delaware state family living agent in Sussex County for the Delaware Cooperative Extension Service; and Roxanne Whittaker, extension home economist in Kent County.

Cost of the conference is $20, including lunch. Enrollment is limited, and registration should be completed by Oct. 22.

Agent earns award

Bob Mulrooney

Bob Mulrooney, extension plant pathologist for the University of Delaware, has been named second place winner in the videotape/television category of the 1985 public information awards program of the National Association of County Agricultural Agents.

The award was presented Oct. 1 during the 70th annual meeting of the NACAA in Hershey, Pa.

The 1985 program was sponsored jointly by R.J. Reynolds Industries, Inc., Winston-Salem, N.C., and the NACAA. The purpose of this professional improvement program is to recognize outstanding Cooperative Extension workers who make effective use of the media and other communications to extend agricultural information to their clientele.

In presenting the award, Richard C. Reich, Reynolds' agricultural research and development coordinator, said Mulrooney was selected for this honor from about 1,500 entries received from the 51,000 members of NACAA.

Mulrooney, a native of Wilmington, holds a bachelor's degree in biology and a master's degree in plant pathology from the University of Delaware. He began working for extension in 1974 as a Kent County agricultural agent, and became extension plant pathologist in 1977.

As a specialist, his responsibilities cover commercial and noncommercial plant production problems, including those of homeowners.

His award-winning entry was a videotape of a program he presented last fall on KYW-TV (Channel 3, Philadelphia) on the Farm, Home and Garden show hosted by Gary Geers.

The Newark Post was founded on Jan. 26, 1910 by Everett C. Johnson, who came to Newark in 1905 to attend Delaware College. Johnson became interested in the town immediately. While serving as a state legislator and Secretary of State under Gov. John G. Townsend Jr., he envisioned Newark becoming an educational center as well as an industrial center and is quoted as saying, "Factories and more honest working men would be an advantage to our educational atmosphere. Let Newark be the center of learning in the state and let it also be a place where good work is well done."

The first issue of the paper included a speech by a Newark agricultural professor; a college basketball score; an article entitled "Farmers Dissatisfied with Price of Milk; Agricultural Experiment Station news; a picture of Old College and several local ads.

This variety of stories was representative of the Newark population in 1910 because people here were either associated with either the local industries or the college, were farmers or were businessmen serving those three.

Johnson's first print shop was located at the corner of Main Street and Depot Road, known today as South College Avenue. After a few years, the press relocated to an improved location called The Press of Kells.

Kells was a Monastery in

NEWARK: PAST & PRESENT

by Bob Thomas

Ireland where, in the 7th Century, a young monk produced the Book of Kells, so perfect in design that it was said to be the most beautiful book in the world. It contains four Gospels and is preserved at the University of Dublin.

The building was constructed of stone from nearby Iron Hill on a site then considered the outskirts of town. This building is now the home of the Newark branch of the YWCA at South College Avenue and West Park Place. Nearby Kells Avenue was named for the printing plant.

This is the first of a four-part series on the history of the Newark Post. Next week's column will consider the newspaper 1919-1963.

'Wild Africa'

Roger Tory Peterson's film "Wild Africa" will be shown at the Ashland Nature Center on Monday, Oct. 14.

Starting at 7:30 p.m., distinguished naturalist and documentary film producer Herman W. Kitchen will personally present and narrate the production. Admission at the door is $5.

The film is sponsored by the Delaware Nature Education Society.

An ardent supporter of wildlife film series as important to conservation education, Peterson chose Kitchen, who has been to Africa numerous times and has photographed its wildlife, to be his spokesman for this film.

In Africa, a remnant of the Pleistocene remains but it exists by sufferance, mostly in national parks and reserves. The Dark Continent is changing with increasing speed and Peterson got there just in time to film its magnificent mammals, birds, butterflies, lizards, plant life, and tribesmen living in the ancient way.

Kitchen, as film producer and natural history tour leader, has covered 70 countries around the world, 39 in Africa alone. He produced the award winning series "Animal Secrets" for NBC-TV and has presented another film to the Royal Geographic Society of London.

Women artists topic

Programs slated at Rehoboth, Newark

The University of Delaware Division of Continuing Education and Delaware's two branches of the National League of American Pen Women will present two free public programs on women artists this month — one in Rehoboth Beach on Saturday, Oct. 12, and the other in Newark on Sunday, Oct. 13.

Both are in conjunction with the Delaware Pen Women's 1985 State Juried Biennial Exhibition at Clayton Hall, located on the university's north campus in Newark.

A similar juried exhibition is held every other year in every state of the nation by artist members of the National League of American Pen Women, an organization of professional artists, writers and composers of music.

Winners in every state show are eligible to compete in the Pen Women's national juried exhibition the following year. Jurors of this year's Delaware show are Dr. Daniel Teis, professor of art at the university; and Pennsylvania artists James G. Windram and Daphne Landis.

The Rehoboth Beach program will be presented from 4:30 - 5:30 p.m., Oct. 12, at the Rehoboth Art League, 12 Dods Lane, Henlopen Acres. The Rehoboth Art League's founder Louise Corkran was an honorary member of the Pen Women.

A key feature of the program at both sites will be a color film on the work of Louise Nevelson, whom many critics consider the grande dame of American sculpture today. Now in her mid-eighties and enjoying large retrospective exhibitions at major metropolitan museums, Nevelson did not begin to receive national attention until her mid-sixties.

Her relief sculptures are totemic, abstract and poetic on a grand scale. The artist herself is widely noted for her creative vision, wit and theatrical flair.

Also featured at both sites will be color slides of the Pen Women's past national-level, jury-selected art works. In addition, Pen Women's state president Harriet Myer and representatives of Delaware's Diamond State and Holly branches will be on hand at both sites to explain the nature of the national and state organization and to welcome membership inquiries.

The program will be repeated from 2:30-3:30 p.m., Oct. 13, at Clayton Hall in Newark. The Newark program also will include presentations of the 1985 Delaware exhibition's awards. The exhibit, including 100 works by 38 artists from all three counties and nearby areas of surrounding states, is on free public display through Oct. 24.

Clayton Hall hours are from 8 a.m. - 8:30 p.m., Mondays through Thursdays, and from 8 a.m. - 4:30 p.m., Fridays. For weekend hours, call the front desk, telephone 451-1259.

For sales or exhibitor information, contact Patricia C. Kent, telephone 451-8841.

Islamic world

A talk on "The Islamic Revolution in World Context" will be held as part of the University of Delaware's One World forum.

Dr. Daniel Pipes, an associate professor at the U.S. Naval War College and a specialist on Middle Eastern and Islamic affairs, will speak at 7:30 p.m., Monday, Oct. 14 in the Rodney Room of the Perkins Student Center on Academy Street.

The event is free and open to the public.

It is sponsored by the University Honors Program, with partial funding provided by the Delaware Humanities Forum and the National Endowment for the Humanities.

Pipes has served in the Department of State on the Policy Planning Staff and in the Office of the Counselor. He edits the Harvard Middle East Paper, directs the Middle East project at the Lehrman Institute and serves on the editorial board of The Middle East Review.

His books include "Slave Soldiers and Islam," "An Arabist's Guide to Colloquial Egyptian" and "In the Path of God: Islam and Political Power."

His articles have appeared in such newspapers and magazines as the Chicago Sun-Times, New York Times, Wall Street Journal, The New Republic, Business Week and Commentary. His articles also have appeared in Europe, the Middle East and Japan.

Pipes received his bachelor's and doctoral degrees from Harvard University.

The University Forum series demonstrates how seemingly disparate events in different parts of the globe actually form a comprehensible picture — a picture of change from discrete nation states to one world, where major trends and problems link all peoples around the world.

Speaking next in the series on Monday, Oct. 21, will be Dr. Michael Teitelbaum, program officer with the Alfred P. Sloan Foundation. He will speak on "Immigration, Refugees and Foreign Policy."

Program

Boat people

A film program and lecture on "Voyage of Dreams," a documentary about the boat people who fled Haiti by Collis Davis, will be held at 7 p.m., Wednesday, Oct. 16 in the Rodney Room of the Perkins Student Center on Academy Street.

The event, sponsored by the Minority Center at the university, is free and open to the public.

Davis produced, directed and wrote "Voyage of Dreams." One reviewer called the film "a commendable effort that uses cinematographic technique and aesthetics to bear witness," and another wrote, "Its power lies in its portrayal of the Haitian people in terms of their culture as well as the major issues of their exile."

An independent filmmaker, Davis received WNET-TV's artist-in-residence award of $19,000 for "Voyage of Dreams."

He serves on the media panel of the New York State Council on the Arts and is a member of the graduate design faculty of the Pratt Institute, where he teaches multi-image production.

Davis earned his master's of fine arts degree from the Graduate Institute of Film and Television at New York University.

U.N.

Celebration Oct. 24

The Delaware Division of the United Nations Association will celebrate the 40th anniversary of the United Nations with a dinner at Clayton Hall, University of Delaware, on Thursday, Oct. 24.

Dr. Shien Biau Woo, lieutenant governor of Delaware, will address the gathering on the subject "The Benefits of the United Nations: United-States-China relations."

Woo was born in Shanghai, China, but has become "an American by choice." A professor of physics at the University of Delaware, he was the first president of the collective bargaining chapter of the American Association of University Professors at the university, and later a member of the Board of Trustees there.

He was elected lieutenant-governor in 1984, and has been appointed co-chair of the Task Force on International Trade by Gov. Michael N. Castle.

Kevin Canavan, national field director of the United Nations Association-USA, will give a short speech on the U.N.'s 40-year history.

In this span, the U.N. has helped settle disputes in more than 70 trouble spots around the world, and in many cases has kept them from escalating. Through its agencies it has helped people and resolved problems on an international level.

One agency, the World Health Organization, has wiped out smallpox world-wide. Another, the World Meteorological Organization, issues more than 100,000 weather reports daily.

The recent World Conference for Women, sponsored by the U.N. was held in Kenya, and closely examined issues important to all women, such as employment, health and education. UNICEF has improved life for over 960 million children in 104 countries.

Dinner at Clayton Hall will be at 6:45 p.m. with cash bar at 5:45 p.m. It will cost $14 per person. Reservations may be made by calling 762-1266 or 762-2753.

Lung Assn.

Christmas seals

One of Delaware's most cherished traditions is again making its annual appearance. The Delaware Lung Association announces that the 1985 Christmas Seals are in the mail.

Long before the Christmas Seal Campaign concludes at the end of the holiday season, more than 60,000 households in this area will have received their supply of the charming and decorative seals.

This year's seal design, a whimsical and perky snowman, will soon be enhancing holiday card envelopes, letters, packages, and gifts. There are also matching Christmas Seal gift tags.

But these charming decorations have a serious meaning, too. They symbolize that the user supports the work of the Delaware Lung Association which is dedicated to the control and prevention of all lung disease such as emphysema, chronic bronchitis, and asthma.

The physical and economic costs of lung diseases continue to mount rather than diminish. Now the third most common cause of death in the United States, lung disease kills over 246,000 Americans each year.

A total of 86 million Americans — more than one-third of the population — suffer from chronic respiratory illnesses ranging in severity from emphysema to chronic sinusitis. The direct economic cost of respiratory illness is estimated at 30 billion dollars annually.

The Delaware Lung Association's annual Christmas Seal Campaign accounts for the major share of its funding, 90 percent of which stays in the state and helps support local programs.

Big Brothers

Help wanted

The Big Brothers/Big Sisters program of Delaware offers volunteers the opportunity to spend time with children ages 6-14 on a one-to-one basis.

Everyone needs a friend and volunteer Big Brothers and Sisters, guided by a professional staff, offer a child friendship and adult guidance. Sharing a laugh, eating ice cream, or enjoying a night at the ball game become special when shared with a friend.

A Big Brother or a Big Sister is someone with whom to share both the happy and sad times.

Little Brothers and Sisters come from diverse backgrounds, as do volunteers. "Littles" are matched with "Bigs" on the basis of their interests and personality.

If you would like more information about the Big Brothers/Big Sisters program, call 368-0202.

company's new theatre facility in Wilmington, was authorized on a challenge basis. This requires the raising of the remaining funds to insure completion of the project.

The Delaware Theatre Company is one of only 140 charitable organizations awarded new grant commitments out of 1,369 proposals reviewed.

"It is significant that, given the brief history of the Theatre Company, a foundation of such national importance as Kresge has recognized the merit and potential of the Delaware Theatre Company," said Charles F. Richards Jr., chairman of the DTC board.

The Kresge Foundation of Troy, Mich. is an independent, private foundation created by the personal gifts of Sebastian S. Kresge and is not affiliated with any corporation or organization.

The Delaware Theatre Company's construction of its new ment facility has been an integral element in the revitalization of the Christina Gateway area of Wilmington.

"The Theatre Company's project reflects both the pioneering spirit of all those involved and the Company's commitment to the City of Wilmington and its future as a center for the arts," said Cleveland Morris, founding member and artistic director of DTC.

The company has scheduled the opening of its new theatre and its seventh season in late November.

4-H

Teen leaders

Three Delaware teens have been selected to attend a national 4-H leadership conference, "Profiles For Tomorrow," at the National 4-H Center in Chevy Chase, Md., Oct. 12-15.

They are David C. Morneau of Newark, James R. Roy Jr., Dover and Janelle G. Taylor of Seaford.

New Castle County 4-H agent Eva Deese will accompany them.

Delegates must be eligible to participate in 4-H programs for a minimum of one year following training, and are chosen on the basis of outstanding leadership, citizenship, active community service and commitment to local and state 4-H programs.

Morneau, 17, is beginning his sixth year as a 4-H'er. In 1984 he was the state winner in citizenship and attended the National 4-H Congress in Chicago. This summer he was one of two teens to organize the New Castle County 4-H Day Camp.

Roy, 16, is beginning his eighth 4-H year. He has concentrated on gardening and horticulture projects and was just elected treasurer of the Kent County 4-H Junior Council.

After attending workshops in goal setting, decision making, communications skills, group process and team building, delegates will design plans of action to extend their training to other Delaware 4-H teens.

A goal of the conference is to increase the involvement of 4-H teens in determining needs of their states and communities and securing resources to meet those needs.

The program, which is sponsored by the Monsanto Fund, will also feature UPI White House Bureau Chief Helen Thomas as a guest speaker. Thomas, who has covered the White House since 1961, will give an insider's view of seven presidential leadership styles in her address, "Thank You, Mr. President."

Players stage 'Doubles'

Newark's Chapel Street Players' next production will be their one-act showcase.

This year's selections are two interwoven comedies by Fred Carmichael with the single title, "Mixed Doubles."

There will be four performances, Oct. 11, 12, 18, and 19, all starting at 8:15 p.m. in the Players' theater at 27 N. Chapel St.

The plays take place in connecting suites of a Mexican motel, both visible to the audience.

In the first act, a separated middle-aged couple are both starting flings with new partners and, unknown to each other, have been booked into the suites. In the second act, the suites are occupied by a Golden Age couple, unmarried because of the tax benefits, and a gang of inept heroin smugglers.

Throughout the plays, the conversations from the two rooms overlap in clever counterpoint.

The Chapel Street cast, under the direction of Craig A. Hall, includes Ed Abramson, Mike Bernard, George Brown, Marilyn Bryant, Trisha Franey, Eleanor Dill Geaghan, Claire W. Johnson, Bob Jones, Nancy Parker, Tracey Parker, Geoff Sawyer, and Joel Watson.

Tickets, at $3 each, may be ordered by telephoning 368-2248.

Joel Watson (standing), Claire W. Johnson and George Brown in a scene from "Mixed Doubles."

In the past week the Delaware Symphony Orchestra opened not one but two seasons for this first time in its 57 year history.

The first season is the one we all expected and have enjoyed for so many years, the full orchestra in its classical series. Even though we are most familiar with that one, some may not realize that because of the growth in prowess and popularity the orchestra now does three performances of each concert in the classical series.

The second opening was not in the usual setting for the Delaware Symphony, the Grand Opera House, but the Gold Ballroom of the Hotel duPont. This second season saw the first concert of the new Champagne Chamber Music series. The name is literal, the audience is treated to both champagne and chamber music.

The full orchestra was directed by music director Stephen Gunzenhauser and featured Mozart's Symphony No. 40 in G minor, K. 550, Lutoslawski's Little Suite and Brahms' Piano Concerto No. 1 in D minor, Opus 15 with Joaquin Achucarro as soloist.

The Mozart was the best I have heard the orchestra do with this composer in quite a while. I was afraid they were losing touch with this genius. It was a perfect start to a perfect night.

The highlight of the evening came as Achucarro made his fifth appearance with the orchestra in as many seasons. The Brahms is not my favorite concerto, but the way he played it, it might move up in my preference. The orchestra and soloist were one, my favorite number during any performance. From the first moments of the maestoso movement to the finale, professionalism and musicianship reigned supreme.

The second season found a small group of the Delaware

THE ARTS

by Phil Toman

Symphony under the creative baton of Leo Ahramjian, the concertmaster of the DSO. Talk about a program, the first two works were Pachelbel's Canon in D major and Mozart's Serenade in G major, K. 525, the glorious "Eine Kleine Nachtmusik."

Both were played with all the feeling and carefully selected tempi that would win the approval of the most discerning ear. Nothing was left to chance. "What," I thought to myself, "could they do to follow that opening?" They quickly showed me.

Mary Bishop Gigliotti, principal viola with the orchestra, was the soloist in Telemann's Viola Concerto in G major. Not only did she play beautifully, every note came with real depth of understanding and execution. I think we should hear more from this lush instrument and it would be fine with me if Gigliotti were performing.

Rossini's Sonata No. 6 and Dvorak's Serenade in E major ended the evening.

A Tip of the Toman Topper to the board of the orchestra and all who had anything to do with this year's two seasons. Bless you all!

Trip

Hudson River

The Delaware Art Museum will offer a day trip to the Hudson River Valley on Thursday, Oct. 24.

A bus will leave the museum at 2301 Kentmere Parkway in Wilmington, at 8 p.m.

At noon, participants will arrive at Storm King Art Center, where more than 200 sculptures are on display, 100 of which are outdoors on 200 acres of landscaped gardens and rolling fields. The collection also includes paintings, graphics and smaller sculptures.

The next stop will be Boscobel for a 2:30 p.m. tour of one of the most beautiful mansions of the early 1800s. Boscobel is furnished with a superb collection of New York federal furniture and is surrounded by acres of lawns and gardens commanding spectacular views of the Hudson River.

A visit to the Vanderbilt Mansion is next. This three-story American "royal palace" is one of the finest examples of Italian Renaissance architecture in the United States.

To top off the day, participants can enjoy dinner at the Culinary Institute of America at 8:30 p.m. The restaurant has been awarded three stars by the New York Times and four stars by the Mobil Travel Guide.

The cost, including round-trip transportation, all entrance fees, and dinner at the Culinary Institute, is $87 ($82 for museum members).

For reservations or more information, contact Carolyn Lester at the museum, 571-9590.

The puppets are made of a variety of materials and have numerous moving parts.

Puppet Arcade has been made possible, in part, by a grant from the 1985 Wilmington Flower Market.

Call the museum's Education Department in advance at 571-9594 to insure your visit will not conflict with prescheduled school tours.

Tours, lecture

In conjunction with the exhibition "Calder Creatures Great and Small," the Delaware Art Museum will offer two free tours on Tuesday, Oct. 15 and Saturday, Oct. 19 at 2 p.m.

OPINION

Newark will be brimming with activity this weekend. Old grads will be flocking back to campus for the annual University of Delaware Homecoming. The Fightin' Blue Hen football team will be battling Boston University, while Newark and Glasgow square off in an important high school showdown. Heck, there will even be an Oktubafest on the university's north Mall!

One thing I hope doesn't get overlooked in the excitement is a camporee being held by the Lenape District of the Boy Scouts at Walter S. Carpenter State Park just north of Newark.

It will be a special event because the Boy Scouts are marking their 75th anniversary.

Part of the camporee will be a special exhibit of Boy Scout

POSTSCRIPT

by Neil Thomas

memorabilia collected by district representatives from Newark area Scouts and former Scouts.

Also, the Scouts will be performing a special service during the camporee. They have gotten together with Newark's Clean and Green Committee and will be planting trees around the city.

I urge you to salute the Scouts if you come across them doing their work. And, if you have a chance, stop by their campsite and take a peek at the display.

It is pleasing to see the Clean and Green Committee, headed by City Councilman Betty Hutchinson, starting to shift into high gear.

A number of people have expressed concern about the decreasing number of trees, litter in the streets and graffiti on walls and bridges. The Committee will be addressing these very issues and deserve the support of all Newarkers.

It seems that Americans, or at least Delawareans, have discovered the joys of European autumns.

Taking a cue from the rollicking party sponsored annually by the Delaware Saengerbund here in Newark, many organizations are putting on Oktobefests. And they're giving them a special twist.

The University of Delaware music department, for instance, has planned an Oktubafest. It will be held Sunday on the university's north Mall and should raise the omphal consciousness level of Newarkers.

Not to be out-punned, Claire's Bears and Collectibles and the Nottingham Inn have scheduled an Oktobearfest. It, too, will be held Sunday at the Inn in Nottingham, Pa.

Sometimes in newspapers — actually, oftentimes in newspapers things that are meant to be humorous simply don't come out that way in print.

Such was the case with a correction run several weeks ago when reporter Bruce Johnson misinterpreted cross country scores, thinking that, as in other sports, the high score wins. In cross country, however, the low score wins.

We ran a correction which began: "Due to the ignorance of a sports reporter..."

The line was meant to be funny and, in fact, was written by Bruce himself. Unfortunately, most people did not think it was humorous and thought it the work of a nasty editor.

We are sorry if the correction did not come off as hoped, and promise to avoid such "inside jokes" in the future.

POSTBOX

Welcome back

Thanks for correction

Editor:

I am writing to tell you how much I appreciate the expanded version of the Newark Post that began a few months back. I was really disappointed when the paper was reduced to an advertising paper only, several years ago. The recent upgrading is a welcome change.

I had planned to write to you regarding the cross-country article in last week's paper. I enjoyed reading about this minor sport in your paper, but had planned to tell you about the scoring. However, I found a correction on the front page of today's paper. On the front page! Keep up the good work.

Newark will be brimming with activity this weekend. Old grads will be flocking back to campus for the annual University of Delaware Homecoming. The Fightin' Blue Hen football team will be battling Boston University, while Newark and Glasgow square off in an important high school showdown. Heck, there will even be an Oktubafest on the university's north Mall!

One thing I hope doesn't get overlooked in the excitement is a camporee being held by the Lenape District of the Boy Scouts at Walter S. Carpenter State Park just north of Newark.

It will be a special event because the Boy Scouts are marking their 75th anniversary.

Part of the camporee will be a special exhibit of Boy Scout

POSTSCRIPT

by Neil Thomas

memorabilia collected by district representatives from Newark area Scouts and former Scouts.

Also, the Scouts will be performing a special service during the camporee. They have gotten together with Newark's Clean and Green Committee and will be planting trees around the city.

I urge you to salute the Scouts if you come across them doing their work. And, if you have a chance, stop by their campsite and take a peek at the display.

It is pleasing to see the Clean and Green Committee, headed by City Councilman Betty Hutchinson, starting to shift into high gear.

A number of people have expressed concern about the decreasing number of trees, litter in the streets and graffiti on walls and bridges. The Committee will be addressing these very issues and deserve the support of all Newarkers.

It seems that Americans, or at least Delawareans, have discovered the joys of European autumns.

Taking a cue from the rollicking party sponsored annually by the Delaware Saengerbund here in Newark, many organizations are putting on Oktoberfests. And they're giving them a special twist.

The University of Delaware music department, for instance, has planned an Oktubafest. It will be held Sunday on the university's north Mall and should raise the omphal consciousness level of Newarkers.

Not to be out-punned, Claire's Bears and Collectibles and the Nottingham Inn have scheduled an Oktobearfest. It, too, will be held Sunday at the Inn in Nottingham, Pa.

Sometimes in newspapers — actually, oftentimes in newspapers things that are meant to be humorous simply don't come out that way in print.

Such was the case with a correction run several weeks ago when reporter Bruce Johnson misinterpreted cross country scores, thinking that, as in other sports, the high score wins. In cross country, however, the low score wins.

We ran a correction which began: "Due to the ignorance of a sports reporter..."

The line was meant to be funny and, in fact, was written by Bruce himself. Unfortunately, most people did not think it was humorous and thought it the work of a nasty editor.

We are sorry if the correction did not come off as hoped, and promise to avoid such "inside jokes" in the future.

Welcome back

Thanks for correction

Editor:

I am writing to tell you how much I appreciate the expanded version of the Newark Post that began a few months back. I was really disappointed when the paper was reduced to an advertising paper only, several years ago. The recent upgrading is a welcome change.

I had planned to write to you regarding the cross-country article in last week's paper. I enjoyed reading about this minor sport in your paper, but had planned to tell you about the scoring. However, I found a correction on the front page of today's paper. On the front page! Keep up the good work.

Yellowjackets swarm St. Mark's

Margin of victory pleasant surprise to Coach Simpson

by Andy Walter

The last time the Newark Yellowjackets played a big football game against Salesianum in their season opener—they were pretty excited.

Make that, a little too excited. "We were like crying in the lockerroom and going crazy and everything," said Newark tri-captain Ken Chandler. "We got a little too psyched and didn't have our minds really on the game. We had our minds on just going out there and beating up Sallies."

The Yellowjackets should have kept their minds on scoring a few points that day as they struggled to a 0-0 tie.

Well, Saturday morning the Yellowjackets played another big game, this one against powerful St. Mark's, and their attitude was a little different. "It was under control," said Chandler.

And the outcome was very different. Newark (now 2-0-1) didn't have any problems scoring as they overran the Spartans 33-6 to stretch their unbeaten streak to 15 games while ending a St. Mark's (now 3-2) streak at three.

Newark Coach Butch Simpson was surprised at the margin of victory. Pleasantly surprised that is.

"I was greatly concerned coming in," he said. "You never know how you're going to match up. Are we going to tackle (Spartan running back Mike) Benefield or not? I think he's one of the finer backs and competitors that we've gone up against in a few years.

"So to go so completely this other way and have such a satisfying win is certainly a surprise to me."

"We were hoping to beat them," agreed defensive end Henry Wagner, "but I never planned on beating them 33-6."

The difference in the game was that Newark had a dazzling offensive arsenal to choose from while the Spartans, well, all they had going for them was Benefield. The senior tri-captain had St. Mark's only touchdown, five of its six first downs and all but 36 yards of its 168 yards of offense.

But that's what the Yellowjackets expected from him.

"Everybody wants him," said Chandler. "He's a very good running back and our defense was wild for him all week. They were hurting our little guys in practice."

"We like challenges like Benefield," said Wagner, who contributed six tackles and two fumble recoveries to the effort. "We were ready for him. Defensively, we haven't played any better."

But it was the offense that put the game out of reach in the second half after Benefield's 62-yard touchdown scamper on the second play of the third quarter put the Spartans very much back in the game at 14-6.

Dragons pound Riders

Glasgow defense playing aggressive football

by Bruce Johnson

Above everything else, the Glasgow High School defense is proud.

Even though the unit had just defeated a determined Caesar Rodney football team 18-13, defenders were unhappy that they had given up their first points in ten quarters of play.

"Don't taint the victory," said head coach Rennie Clements to players who gathered around him at midfield following the game. "It was still a good win."

A good win indeed. Rebounding from an early season setback to Dover, the Dragons (2-1) continue to look impressive.

"We're a very strong defensive team," said Clements. "Defense again won the game today. Even though they got 13 points on the board, you have to credit the defense."

The 13 points that the Riders scored are a bit misleading because seven of those came against the second string defense late in the game. In fact, the starting unit has only allowed 12 points in three games.

It has also grabbed turnovers and provided the offense with good field position.

But all the statistics in the world could not make the Dragon defense happy about giving up the shutout.

"We can shut out teams and that's why people were upset after the game," said Weldon Hall, who plays both offense and defense. "But we know we can and we'll get our chances and we will."

The Dragons defense is not large but relies heavily on team quickness, intensity and aggressiveness. The aggressiveness sometimes gets the team into trouble with the referees.

"Penalties," said Hall. "They've been haunting us from the beginning of the year. But the coaches explain to us that the referees are going to be looking for that because we're an aggressive team and we like to hit."

"That's what we center everything around—hitting. The referees will realize that we're just ball hogs and then start letting us play our game."

The Glasgow coaches realize the penalties are due to the team's intensity, and are faced with the problem of the referees taking away the strength of the defense.

"We really feel like people are picking on us," said defensive coordinator Dave Scott, who had a bench penalty called against him in his attempt to understand one of the referee's calls.

"Aggressive penalties the kids respond to. They feel they're being taken out of their game. Stupid penalties wear you down emotionally but aggressive penalties, well, you hate to say you like them but how do you teach the kids an aggressive game without being aggressive?"

Despite the penalties, the Dragon defense was able to control the tempo of the game with their hard hitting and gang tackling. In fact, the first two Glasgow touchdowns were set up by the fine play of the defense.

In the first quarter, after the Riders had driven into Dragon territory with help from two 15-yard personal foul penalties on the defense, Vaughan Bond intercepted a Phil Murdock pass on his own 12 and ran it back to the 34. From there the Glasgow offense was able to mount an eight

Newark booters edge Vikings

by Neil Thomas

Slogging through the swampy sideline following a last second, double-overtime win over archrival Christiana, Newark High School coach Charlie Blackwell shook his head.

"You have to be a masochist to coach this sport," he said, only half-kidding.

Although Newark won 2-1 on a goal by center Eric Hartsoe with just three seconds remaining in the final overtime period, Blackwell said the Yellowjackets could just have easily lost.

"They nearly had us down 3-0 in the first half alone," he said.

Indeed, coach John Kendall's Vikings had much the best of it in the first half.

After a brief thrust by Newark to open the game, Christiana moved the ball into the Yellowjackets' half of the field and there it remained nearly the entire 30 minutes.

Christiana attacked relentlessly, and yet managed just one goal, that by Kevin Maloy. Maloy struck a bouncing shot which eluded a Newark fullback and the goalkeeper.

After the halftime break, however, it was an entirely different game. Although both teams had serious scoring chances, Newark generally controlled the flow of action and knotted the game on a goal by Hartsoe.

Both teams narrowly missed scoring winning goals during the final minutes of regulation and through the first overtime period.

Hartsoe scored the winner—his second of the day—with just three seconds remaining in the second overtime period.

The goal left Christiana players lying in the mud in disbelief. It was a hard loss, Kendall said, because the Vikings had been "really psyched" for the intra-district struggle.

Blackwell said Newark had trouble getting its offensive game going in the first half because players were not adjusting well to a change in strategy.

Blackwell shifted a pair of

Blue Hens slog past West Chester for important win

by Bruce Johnson

Three weeks ago, Division I Navy sailed into Delaware Stadium anchored on the sturdy shoulders of Heisman Trophy candidate Napoleon McCallum. Saturday, a similarly clad but less heralded Division II West Chester team entered.

Three weeks ago their was pagentry, clear skies and precision on the football field. Saturday, there was skepticism, overcast skies and a team literally stuck in the mud.

Yet despite the differences and the level of play, Saturday's 37-22 win over West Chester might be the most important victory of the 1985 season for Delaware.

"It was a big win," said Ron James, who played another fine ball game. "Like anybody will tell you, just getting back on the winning track is a good start."

"I think this is going to be a new beginning for us," said offensive lineman Jeff Rosen, who spent most of the afternoon ankle deep in mud. "Last year we had to win six in a row. This year, although we're looking at it one game at a time, ultimately we're going to have to win seven games in a row."

Coach (Tubby) Raymond said we're going to have another tough week of practice but we're looking forward to it because it feels a lot better to win than to lose."

"We came a long way from last week," said Tyrone Jones, who contributed six tackles, one fumble recovery and one blocked punt on defense. "I think we're going to have to start building it up now. It's like we're starting all over again. Those two weeks are gone and now it's time we start playing football like we know we can."

play, 66-yard drive with Hall scoring from six yards out to make it 6-0.

The second touchdown was set up by a fine defensive stand which forced the Riders to punt from deep in their own territory. The defensive series was spearheaded by Glasgow defensive tackle Michael Munroe, who penetrated through the offensive line to drop the Riders for a loss on third down and short. The ensuing punt traveled just seven yards and the offense once again had good field position on the Rider 31.

Quarterback Robert Sipple scored on a one yard plunge to make it 12-0.

Both scoring drives were highlighted by key pass plays and successful fourth down conversions.

"We ran well today but we also threw well too. We hit those two key pass plays," said Clements, who did not want the play of his offense to go unnoticed. "It was a team effort. Our offensive line did a great job. Keith Truitt (center) was our honorary captain today and he deserved it, he played great."

"We ran up the middle and when you choose the middle you're really relying on your center and guards and I think they played very well today."

"We've got a lot of confidence in our line and our backs and that's why we go on fourth down situations," said Hall. "We're learning to trust each other and we've put the bad times (Dover) behind us and now we're just concentrating on Newark."

Against Newark next Saturday, Glasgow will begin its conference schedule and no one has to tell the Dragons the importance of beating the Yellowjackets if they want to be conference champions.

"If we're going to beat Newark, this is the year," said Clements. "We're confident that we can. I think Newark's aware that we're here. They're coming to our turf, to our homecoming and I don't think coach (Butch) Simpson is going to have to say anything at all to them. This is the big game."

"All last year we could see that this year was going to be the big year for us. Our first goal is conference champions and you've got to beat Newark to do it. There's no question about it."

JACKETS/ from 1b

cond and third touchdown passes of the game in the next eight minutes. First he hit Chandler from 19 yards out on a fourth-and-12 play.

The second one was a 69-yard bomb to Derrick May on which St. Mark's defender John Giordano had the play covered but tipped the ball to May, who ran the remaining 35 yards all alone. It was the second touchdown of the game for both May and Chandler.

Jeff Conkey's 85-yard punt return on the last play of the third quarter was the final nail in the coffin.

St. Mark's could have made plenty of excuses after the game. Like the fact that they had to play Monday afternoon (a 28-6 win over McKean) or the fact that five starters were missing including quarterback Dan Kempinski. But St. Mark's Coach Jack Smiley wasn't taking anything away from the defending Division I champion Yellowjackets.

"As far as I'm concerned, they're the state champs," he said. "They're number one in the state until someone beats them."

Still, Smiley thinks his team is a lot better than the score indicates. The Spartans will have a chance to get going again when they take on Malvern next Friday night.

"We lost the first game (of the season) and came back stronger for three weeks," said Smiley. "I think our kids will come back strong. They're tough kids."

As for Newark, they face another challenge when they take on Glasgow Saturday morning. But if the yellowjackets keep playing like they did on Saturday, they're going to start drawing more than a few comparisons with last year's undefeated Newark squad.

"We'll never be as good as last year," Wagner said, and then breaking into a smile added, "(but) we're trying."

Goal posts — May was the leading tackler for Newark with eight followed by Wagner with six and Mike Reeder with five. Benefield has now scored nine of the Spartan's 10 touchdowns this season. The other one came on an interception return...Chandler has six of the Yellowjackets' 11 touchdowns while May has three.

Caravel smashes Pocomoke

Buccaneers' Wing-T offense beginning to roll

by Bruce Johnson

Caravel Academy head coach Jim Flynn was worried. He was facing his fifth straight undefeated team, he did not have a scouting report on his opponent and he would not have the services of his most potent offensive weapon, Anton Blue, who is still nursing a shoulder injury.

But the Buccaneers proved his worries to be unfounded as they disposed of Pocomoke City, Md. 33-8 Saturday to boost their record to 4-1.

Mark Gatewood filled in for Blue and gained 235 yards and scored four touchdowns, one on a 60-yard pass from Ned Mechling.

The defense provided its usual solid support but Flynn was most impressed with the offense's ability to move the ball through the air.

"The emergence of our throwing game helped our offense in that it allowed us to do other things," said Flynn. "It was our fifth game of the season and we keep improving. We feel that no team is going to be able to put nine guys on the line of scrimmage without getting hurt by the pass. We feel more confident in our passing game and we're not afraid to put it up."

Caravel quarterback Dan Flynn was 7 of 13 for 105 yards.

Flynn was also impressed with the play of Tony Bashore, who was playing fullback for the first time and will see more action in that position according to the coach.

Flynn said he was pleased with the team's progress, in particular that of the offense.

"We're a lot better now than we were in the past. How good that's supposed to be I don't know. But they are starting to understand the Wing-T," he said.

Next week, the Bucs face Oxford, Pa. (0-3-1) in a Friday night game at Oxford.

Flynn said that despite the record, the Oxford team is "just as good if not better than any team we have faced all year."

He is also concerned about playing under the lights, something Caravel has not done.

Glenn Wilson

K of C banquet

Glenn Wilson, centerfielder for the Philadelphia Phillies, will be guest speaker at the second annual Knights of Columbus sports banquet to be held on Sat., Oct. 12, at St. Peter's Gym at 6th and Harmony streets, New Castle.

Wilson attended Sam Houston University, where he played against Phillies teammate Charles Hudson, who was then a pitcher for Prairie View A&M.

Wilson was a collegiate All-American twice in baseball and All-Conference once in football. In the June, 1986 draft, Wilson was the first selection of the Detroit Tigers.

He was traded to the Phillies by the Tigers in 1984.

Last year's Knights of Columbus banquet raised $5,000 for the benefit of the Bayard House, a home for pregnant women.

Tickets cost $20 and include a full course dinner beginning at 7 p.m. with a speakers' program to follow at 8:15 p.m. For tickets, call Tom Skelly at 328-2075 or Tom Koval at 634-8983.

The local Knights of Columbus chapters were instrumental in opening the Bayard House in 1980 as an alternative to abortion. It has continued as one of the main support groups since then.

The home has provided housing and related social services to more than 127 women since opening in 1980.

Stilwell

rolling

along

Blue Hen home to Newark bowler

by Bruce Johnson

It's not every day that one has a surprise party. But if anyone ever deserved one, it was Carolyn Stilwell.

Stilwell was celebrating her 50th year of league bowling at the Newark Shopping Center's Blue Hen Lanes. Her friends in the Sparetimers League decided she deserved a celebration, complete with cake and plaque in memory of her service and dedication to women's bowling.

"I was really caught off guard," said the attractive Stilwell in between frames. "Boy did they surprise me. My glasses got all steamed up. I was shocked."

With her husband and close friends enjoying the festivities with her, Stilwell was still able to maintain her composure and bowl 181.

"I started bowling in 1935 with my father in the Brandywine Lanes and I've been bowling ever since," said Stilwell.

When asked if it came naturally to her, Stilwell smiled and shook her head. "No, I was more of a hop, skip and jump bowler."

Stilwell, who is 70 years young, prides herself on her active life. "I've gotten into a lot of sports activities since I retired from Du-

Carolyn Stilwell shoots for strike.

Pont," said Stilwell. "I retired at 60 because I wanted to do all the things that I never had the chance to do in my life."

"I play bridge twice a week. I'm in the garden club. I dry and grow my own flowers and I participate in the Senior Center. But I have Friday, Saturday and Sundays off," she said with a smile.

Stilwell, who has suffered through several operations, says the secret of life is to remain positive.

"I'm very happy," she said after she had taken time out to roll a three-pin spare. "I keep going and I never let anything keep me down. I also try and stay around young people because they keep you young."

Stilwell's highest single game is 246 and she has a high series of 646. Not a year goes by without her recording a 200 game and she was the charter member of the Women's 600 Bowling Club of Delaware.

She was also one of the founding members of the Wilmington Women's Bowling Association, which is the local arm of the Women's International Bowling Congress. She served as the second president of the WWBA and has been a delegate to the national convention as well as a member of the board of directors.

She has been chairman of the Heart Association and spent many years in the Navy Reserves, and is currently vice-president of the Sparetimer's League.

This year she also plans on traveling to California for the national tournament.

"We don't watch," she smiled. "We go to bowl. We won't win but we'll have fun and we'll see the country."

HENS/ from 1b

Because of the field conditions, it was literally impossible to determine how much the Blue Hen football team has progressed. The game was not pretty. Still, head coach Tubby Raymond saw enough to make him more optimistic than he has been in several weeks.

"Obviously, we're pleased to win a ball game. In particular this game since we've been in such a funk for two weeks. It's very obvious to anyone that we have not progressed in two weeks because we haven't been able to practice. We're better than we were last week but we're still behind. We haven't kept up with the rest of the world."

But, Raymond added, "I'm pleased because the team knows what I'm talking about. As a parent, you tell your kids something over and over again and they look at you as if you're crazy until it's indelibly engraved on their forehead."

"It's the same with this crowd. They think they know all the answers but now they know they can't fool around and have lackadaisical practices."

In terms of offensive punch, Delaware's 37 points were a bit misleading. The Hens gained a total of 229 yards and averaged only 2.7 yards a carry. Four of the five touchdowns they scored were set up by Ram turnovers deep in West Chester territory.

The longest the Hens had to go to score after the turnovers was 33 yards and the total distance of all four touchdowns was 109 yards.

The offense was only able to sustain one significant scoring drive, which went 68 yards in 14 plays and consumed 5:07 of the clock.

The Blue Hen offense matched West Chester in largest setting up each Ram score with a turnover in their own territory.

"The game was as aesthetically destitute as the field was," said Raymond after the game. "It really wasn't football we were playing out there. You couldn't do the things you practice."

"This team does not make 400 yards against William & Mary and then gain only 170 on the ground today. I'm not trying to take anything away from West Chester because those guys played great but this shows you the quality of the field."

In regards to the offensive breakdowns and turnovers, quarterback Rich Gannon was equally disappointed.

"We kept them in the game until the fourth quarter and we can't do that. We've got to get up on teams and then start walking all over them."

"It's just not characteristic of a good football team. I just don't think we're where we were against Navy."

Defensively, the Hens played well despite the 22 points they allowed. They limited the Rams to only 184 yards total offense and collected five turnovers.

Although the victory will not go down as one of Delaware's all-time great victories, its importance was echoed in the renewed confidence and determination that the Blue Hen players felt as they headed towards their locker room.

"We're much improved," said Rosen. "I think the practice we had this week really paid off. We hit four days instead of three. Assignment-wise, I think we came a long way even though the field conditions were tough. The hitting was up and the intensity was up, and so was the hustling."

"I think a lot of pressure is off our shoulders," said James. "Tonight we'll be able to take a deep sigh of relief and come back tomorrow and start all over again. I think we'll start rolling again. This is a lot like 1984 when we had tough times in the beginning."

"We want to come out of this season with something other than people remembering the last two weeks (Holy Cross and William & Mary)," said Jones. "People are asking, is the Delaware football team for real? We have to prove to everyone that we are for real. We can't slack off. We have to be ready to play every Saturday."

"We needed this game to get back into the flow of things. The two weeks are behind us and it's time for us to move ahead."

Hens prepare for Boston U.

by Bruce Johnson

Like an expert mechanic troubleshooting an intricate engine, the University of Delaware coaching staff has spent the past several weeks searching out the problems that have caused the potent Blue Hen football team to bog down.

But, like the mechanic who must face the moment of truth when the ignition is turned, the Blue Hens' acid test will come this Saturday as they return to Division I-AA football against an emerging Boston University team that beat them 27-3 last year.

"As far as last Saturday's game with West Chester, we were naturally very pleased that we got back on the winning track," said offensive co-ordinator Ted Kemp-ski Monday. "But more importantly, we were very pleased with the intensity that the football team put forth."

"I think the biggest concern we had coming back from Holy Cross was that we didn't have any intensity. Without intensity you can't have a football team. We think we have recovered that and we're looking for another good week of practice. We're anticipating a tough ball game with Boston."

When studying Boston University (2-2), one can be easily misled. They have a completely re-built defense in which personnel changes from week to week, and an offense that averages only 265 yards and 16 points a game. Still, Kemp-ski warns of underestimating the Terriers.

"Boston University is in a strange situation," he said. "Offensively, they should be one of the better teams we see, but their statistics don't bear that out. But when you watch them on films there are portions in which they are outstanding."

BU opened its season with losses to Wake Forest and New Hampshire. They have since looked much more impressive and appear to be coming together as a team.

One of the reasons for the Terriers' slow start has been the amalgamation of a new coaching staff and the inexperienced play of first year starters.

"I think our kids are getting more comfortable with what we're trying to do, and with new kids it takes a period of adjustment," said first year head coach Steve Stetson. "We just started off the season very poorly but we've been making progress and improving every week. We feel we're getting to be a good football team."

As fans who choose to remember last year's game may recall, BU has one of the better quarterbacks in Division I-AA in sophomore Pat Mancini. On a passing efficiency scale he is ranked 25th in the country while Delaware's own Rich Gannon is ranked 23rd.

Pairing with Mancini is one of the best wide-outs in the country in William Brooks. Brooks, who is ranked 11th nationally, had a field day against Delaware last year, including the game winning touchdown which netted 51 yards.

"We feel that Brooks is one of the best receivers we've played against in the last five years," said Kemp-ski. "He's capable of breaking the game wide open with one or two plays. Regardless of how well we're controlling them, they are still going to be in the game as long as he's running through our secondary."

One person who remembers Mancini and Brooks quite vividly is Blue Hen safety Tyrone Jones.

"Indeed it's a challenge," said Jones. "Last year they put three touchdowns over us. We stopped their rush but we couldn't stop Mancini from passing the ball."

Of course, a Kubota G-Series lawn and garden tractor is a great way to cut the grass. And with a liquid-cooled 2- or 3-cylinder diesel engine, a Kubota is designed to outlast ordinary gas mowers by several seasons.

But that's not all. A Kubota G has a live front PTO shaft drive and a variety of hard-working implements. For example, you can choose a snowblower, tiller or front blade.

There are four Kubota G models, from 10 to 14 horsepower. Some come with hydrostatic transmission as standard equipment.

Dragons down A.I. in hockey

Glasgow High School was the most active and productive local field hockey squad last week.

The Dragons upended a tough A.I. duPont team 2-0 on goals by Sheryl Sorg and Reginal Foreman. It was the first victory over A.I. duPont in the school's history.

"It was a big victory for us," said coach Rhonda Janeka. "A.I. has been known for their good hockey teams and we were hoping to put it together and beat them. I'm real proud of the girls and I'm sure they're proud of themselves."

Glasgow also defeated Middletown 12-0. The Dragons outshot Middletown 46-1. Sheryl Sorg had six goals while Robin Brown and Jackie Grant each scored twice. Katie Foster recorded the shutout.

Glasgow's record is 3-2. The team has lost to Mount Pleasant and William Penn but according to coach Janeka, the loss to William Penn proved to have a positive affect on the team.

"In a way that loss to William Penn was good because it happened early in the season and I think it woke the girls up and made them aware that they're really going to have to work hard if they want to play well and win this year," she said.

Janeka said the Dragons are led by a group of six seniors. Two of them, Sheryl Sorg and Jennifer Fox, were All-Blue Hen Conference last year.

But Janeka points out that the rest of the seniors — Robin Brown, Kelly Crane, Holly Ford and Jennifer Fox — as well as the underclassmen are just as important to the team.

Newark runners third

In a recent New Castle County coaches' poll, the Newark High School girls were ranked third and the boys were ranked sixth.

St. Mark's also made the poll, the boys team being placed eighth and the girls ninth.

Dickinson and Salesianum boys were ranked in first place with Padua and Ursuline claiming number one for the girls.

In area competition, Dickinson's girls upset Newark 22-33 to hand the 'Jackets their first loss of the season. Gillian Haskel led the 'Jackets with a time of 21:38 over the 3.05 mile Carpenter State Park course.

The Newark boys team split a pair of matches this week, losing to Dickinson 26-31 and defeating Wilmington 20-42. Steve Hutton paced the way for the boys.

St. Mark's had a disappointing week, with both the boys and the girls being defeated. The girls lost to a tough Ursuline team 16-43. Michelle Tannian paced the way for the Spartans. The boys were defeated by top-ranked Salesianum 15-50.

Christiana was able to split a dual meet on Oct. 1. The boys defeated Claymont 20-36, with Viking Bill Netta claiming first with a time of 15:17 over the 2.8-mile Banning Park course. Terry Rogers was close behind with a time of 15:47. However, the Viking boys were unable to defeat Delcastle, losing 25-32.

Both the boys and girls Glasgow teams lost to Concord in a meet held at Brandywine State Park's 3.1-mile course. The boys lost by a score of 15-49 and the girls were defeated by a score of 15-50.

BU/from 4b

"We let too many balls get over our head and too many receivers get behind us. We just didn't have the right technique or discipline at this time last year, but I feel this year we have the technique."

The secondary will be aided by the return of a healthy Phil Atwell, who has recovered from a shoulder injury. Jones said that Atwell's return "will be a plus but you can't put (Ken) Lucas down because he played well."

GOAL POSTS — Concerning the condition of the field after Saturday's game with West Chester, Kempinski said, "There's a decent chance it will be soft. But they'll roll it twice this week and if we don't get any more rain and get a little wind, it's possible to get it back to a good playing surface. If it's not an ideal surface, I don't think it will be significant for either team."

"Field hockey is a team sport and not an individual effort. If one or two of the girls are out, then it throws your whole game off," she said.

In other action, Newark captured its first victory of the season by defeating Delcastle 3-1 on overtime goals by Debbie Moore and Suzanne Sysko. With the win, Newark even its conference record at 1-1. The 'Jackets lost to Brandywine 3-0 earlier in the week.

St. Mark's lost a heartbreaker to Oxford, Pa. 3-2 despite outshooting Oxford 16-11. Julie Baggot scored both goals for the Spartans, who are 3-2.

Caravel lost a non-conference match with Tatnall 4-0.

Steve White sacrificed scoring to provide vital link between Newark's fullbacks and strikers.

strikers — including prolific scorer Steve White — to supporting positions behind the line. He believed that Christiana's larger players would win a contest of long passes and so placed his best ball handlers to carry the ball from defense to offense.

Also last week, Newark defeated Wilmington 6-0 as White scored three goals. He is just four from the school record. Tamir Klaff, Andy Geiger and Brett Tomashek also scored.

Newark lost to powerful McKean 5-0.

Christiana lost to Concord 3-1. Juan Diaz scored the Viking goal.

Glasgow had a difficult week, losing 2-0 to Dickinson, 6-1 to A.I. duPont and 6-2 to Brandywine. Robert Sobkow and Jay Bowersom scored in the Brandywine loss.

Caravel Academy tied Mount Pleasant 2-2 and defeated Howard 7-4. Dave Bugher had two goals against Mount Pleasant and one against Howard. Tom Wilcox had three against Howard.

Fair Hill racing

Some of the most famous names from the world of flat racing will be represented at the Fair Hill Races fall meeting Saturday, Oct. 12.

Although purses are larger for the flat horses running at major tracks such as Belmont and Aqueduct, many owners find the thrill of steeplechasing irresistible and have jumpers on the steeplechase circuit.

Fair Hill Races, which blends the relaxed, rural atmosphere of steeplechase hunt meets with the sophistication of metropolitan racing, is the only meet on the 37-stop steeplechase tour to offer pari-mutuel betting.

Bettors on the daily double, seven exactas and the win, place and show wagering available in every race are accommodated at 60 parimutuel windows ranged behind the spacious grandstands.

There are eight races carded for the afternoon with the $10,000 Indian Summer Allowance Steeplechase as the feature.

Horses aimed for the Indian Summer include Brushwood Stable's Retador and Spendthrift Farm's Cuckold.

Brushwood Stable, owned by Mrs. J. Maxwell Moran of Paoli, Pa., owns Creme Fraiche, winner of this year's Belmont Stakes and, most recently, the Super Derby at Louisiana Downs on Sept. 21.

Neck and neck at Fair Hill jump are Heavy Charge (left) and Jibaku.

Brushwood also owned Morning Bob when he won the Preakness Stakes.

W.B. (Burly) Cocks, who was inducted into racing's Hall of Fame in Saratoga on Aug. 8, trains for Moran.

Her Retador, a Chilean-bred 4-year-old, won a steeplechase race earlier this year before placing twice over fences at Saratoga.

Spendthrift Farm stands such famous race horses as Affirmed, Caro, Raise A Native, Sham and Wajima at its 2,350-acre Lexington, Ky. breeding farm.

Cuckold is the first steeplechase horse to run in the Spendthrift colors, and he has a perfect record of two starts and two wins over fences, one at Fair Hill this spring and the other at Meadowbrook Races Sept. 22.

Post time for the first race is 1:30 p.m. Fair Hill is located west of Newark on Route 273 at the junction of Route 213.

General admission is $2 in advance or $3 at the gate. Boxes are available for $100 in the Aintree Stands and for $75 in the Fair Hill Stands.

Dragon spikers playing well

Conference play starts for all area volleyball teams this week. Parity seems to be the rule this year, with all teams displaying winning records but no team dominant.

Glasgow collected its sixth victory with wins over Wilmington (15-3, 15-11) and Mount Pleasant (15-6, 15-11). However, the Dragons lost their first game of the season to A.I. duPont, which has been a thorn in area teams sides.

Head coach Sally Craig said the girls were disappointed in their effort against A.I. and are looking forward to a rematch.

"I think we could have played better," said Craig. "We started off with a lead and then we made some unforced errors and I think our confidence kind of went. Basically, they played smart and we made a lot of unforced errors."

"The kids were disappointed and hopefully we'll be able to meet them again in the state championship playoffs."

Craig said her most consistent player is co-captain Carla Krammes. Krammes has more than 90 percent of her serves and hits playable. Other players who have performed well are Michelle Brock and Chrissy Ohlinger.

Craig said that for the Dragons to continue their winning ways, they will have to become more consistent when facing the tougher Blue Hen Conference Flight A teams.

"We've had up and down games. We'll play real hard the first game with lots of intensity and then let up in the second game. We're concentrating on correcting that because we know that to get to the states, we have to be intense for every point," she said.

In other action, Newark got back on the winning track after suffering through a two-game losing streak.

Newark notched three victories this week without losing a game. The Yellowjackets defeated Howard (15-12, 15-12), Wilmington (15-3, 15-2) and Dickinson (15-7, 15-3).

With the victories, the Yellowjackets increased their record to 5-2 and seem to be ready for the Flight A challenge that begins this week with games against Delcastle and Concord.

Nada Haman played well in all three victories with Barbara Jones, Karen Herzig, Jessica Crook and Patricia Hendricks providing support.

Christiana is also playing well and appears ready to take on the Flight A competition. The Vikings

White Clay fishing

Prepare for fall season

by Eric Burnley

Fall is the busiest season of the year for area sportsmen. Between the opening of hunting seasons and the excellent fresh and salt water fishing hardly a day goes by when they couldn't be afield enjoying one activity or the other.

Unfortunately the more mundane of life's obligations crop up to rob them of their time. But those who can get these out of the way by completing them or putting them off until winter will find more than enough to keep them busy in the out of doors.

White Clay Creek is a perfect example of fall's opportunities. In the spring, the water is usually high and the banks are crowded with fishermen. The trout are straight from the hatchery and corn or cheese balls are the top baits.

This time of year sportsmen will find solitude along the stream and trout that are as close as we get to native. The fish taken out of White Clay in the fall are usually stocked in Pennsylvania and migrate downstream.

A few are stocked by local clubs but the state of Delaware does not stock in the fall.

The fly fishing section from the Pennsylvania line down to Thompson's Bridge is one of the better locations at this time of year. Fish which move down from upstream arrive here first and any stocking by clubs is normally done in this area.

Fly fisherman should check in with This Country Store on Cleveland Avenue for information on what works best at this time of year.

One possible fishery that is overlooked in the fall is the hybrid striped bass/white bass in Lums Pond. These fish inherit the traits of their parents and school up to feed heavily at this time of year.

State fish and wildlife officials report there are good numbers of hybrids in the pond and some have been caught weighing up to four pounds. However, no one has really gotten a pattern down for these fish so it is pretty much a learn as you go operation.

One thing to keep in mind is these are open water fish, not the kind to hug the shoreline looking for cover. They are more likely to be out in the pond, possibly holding along a drop-off or chasing bait on the surface.

Try a white bucktail, white shad imitation crankbait or live shiner for bait. Trolling may be a good way to locate the fish and a recording depth finder will be a big help.

For those who enjoy looking and dreaming, there is the Annapolis Power Boat Show Oct. 10-13. This is the biggest boat show in the area, with everything from 80-foot luxury yachts to 12-foot inflatables on display.

There are also lots of accessory displays in the tents with anything and everything that has to do with boats available for sale.

Annapolis is a little over an hour away down Del. 896 U.S. 301 to U.S. 50 and there is plenty of parking with shuttle buses to the show.

defeated Claymont (15-4, 15-4) and Wilmington (15-5, 15-3). Sallie Conner, Cristen Riddle and Kelly Scott combined for 20 service points against Claymont and Rena Michels, Barb Timmeney and Conner combined for 24 service points against Wilmington.

St. Mark's continues to look impressive under the guiding hand of first year coach Dave Stover.

The Spartans remained undefeated as they disposed of Catholic Conference foes Padua (15-3, 15-8) and St. Elizabeth's (6-15, 15-6 and 15-10).

Pattie Lensack continues to play well for the Spartan spikers, as she collected 16 service points in the win over Padua. Against St. Elizabeth's, it was Amy Tong's 18 service points which paced a come from behind victory.

St. Mark's is 4-0 in the Catholic Conference and 6-0 overall.

Caravel lost to Sanford, 2-1.

LIFESTYLE

The other day at lunch, my co-workers and I discussed this year's bumper crop of acorns which are mimicking thousands of slippery brown ballbearings determined to upend the unwary walker. Worse, without a hard hat, you can be bombed into senselessness by the acorns.

I suddenly realized where the legend of Henny Penny and the falling sky originated after this happened to me several times. Someone who takes this sort of thing personally might feel oaks are hostile trees.

One of my lunchtable companions maintained that a large crop of acorns presages a cold winter. If, indeed, a plethora of acorns predicts a cold winter, then Wanamakers and Bambergers better start Eskimo and Ice Age Boutiques. Another lady was sure the acorns are the oak trees' way of providing ample food for squirrels. If this is the case, the only skinny squirrels this winter will be either stupid, allergic to acorns, or watching their figures.

How an oak tree tells in the spring when it sets its acorns that bone-chilling cold is coming in nine months is a question which puzzles me. I, for one, never thought oak trees were particularly wise. Mostly they seem to stand around letting things happen to them like gypsy moths, woodpeckers, dogs, and swings made with old truck tires.

Are oaks really so much smarter than, say, woolly caterpillars who can't predict cold winters until just before they happen.

Even assuming that oak trees can predict the weather, why should they care about squirrels instead of other animals that hang around them, like birds, spiders, or iguanas? Are maples in charge of field mice, and do sycamores look out for raccoons?

If I were an oak tree, I don't think I'd want to make life easy for a furry, sharp-clawed creature who runs up and down me and builds nests in my navel, behind my ears, under my arms and in my hair.

Why don't oaks care about the humans who are left with the work of cleaning up after them. A genuinely thoughtful and truly considerate oak tree would drop its leaves all at once and in neat piles suitable for bagging. If my children could learn to put their dirty socks in the hamper, surely a tree can learn to drop its leaves neatly.

A basic question remains. Why would anyone want to be nice to squirrels? From my own observations, they don't need anyone to look after them. Those beasts are not on the endangered list, the about-to-be-endangered list, or even-in-the-very-distant-future-might-be-endangered list. They are like cockroaches and sharks, around forever.

You may wonder, as you read this, why I feel so strongly about squirrels. If you had spent dozens of backbreaking, sweaty hours each fall spading through your heavy clay soil planting daffodil, tulip, and crocus bulbs so that your garden would be beautiful to look at through the kitchen window as you wash dishes in the spring, only to find the squirrels one hole behind you, digging up and gulping down everything you had just planted, you, too, would not like squirrels.

At the agricultural extension agent's suggestion, I have dipped my bulbs in a chemical concoction guaranteed to repulse all living creatures. As the late U.S. Sen. Everett Dirksen proposed, I have sprinkled my garden with moth balls. And, in desperation, I have even encased my bulbs in bulletproof containers. Unfortunately, the chemical concoction adds a delightfully piquant flavor to the bulbs, the mothballs serve as fragrant signposts, and the steel containers are handy teeth sharpeners.

Wait, perhaps the oaks do have my best interests at heart. By dropping all the acorns, they are promising me that this year I can plant drifts of daffodils, torrents of tulips, and cascades of crocus because the squirrels will have plenty else to eat, unless, of course, they don't like acorns.

Winterize your lawn plants

Water stress most common cause of winter injury

As the bright colors and cool weather of fall set in, it's time to think about cleaning up your garden and protecting plants for winter.

University of Delaware extension horticulturist Sue Barton and Delaware State College extension agricultural agent Glen Layton have some suggestions on how to proceed.

For perennials, fall cleanup involves removing the frost-killed upper portions of plants. Barton recommends burning this debris rather than adding it to a compost pile as it may harbor overwintering disease and insect pests.

Water stress is the most common cause of winter injury, Barton and Layton say, to make sure trees and shrubs enter the winter with plenty of moisture. Because they must carry their leaves through the winter, evergreens are the most susceptible.

Harsh winter winds and bright sun cause plants to lose water (transpire) at a rapid rate. Some may lose more water than their roots can take up. A droughty fall or frozen soil compounds this problem. Without water, leaves dry out (scorch) and eventually the plant may die.

When rain is inadequate over the growing season, regular watering helps prepare plants for winter survival.

"A slow deep watering every other week during prolonged dry spells in the summer, and once in November before the ground freezes, should provide plants with enough water," Barton says. "If snows are light and infrequent, apply an additional deep watering during a mid-January thaw."

Extreme temperature fluctuations are another source of winter injury to landscape plants. During the day, sunshine warms and thaws the soil, which then freezes again at night. Expansion and contraction of the ground due to alternate freezing and thawing tears a plant's root system and may partially uproot it. This is called heaving.

Warm sun and freezing nights also cause fluctuating temperatures in tree trunks, making bark crack and split. Specimen trees that stand alone are especially susceptible to bark damage. So are young trees. Barton and Layton advise wrapping trunks of thin-barked trees with commercial tree wrap paper or burlap in mid-autumn to shield them from severe temperature swings.

Nature provides a layer of leaves and blanket of snow around plants to reduce temperature fluctuations and help retain soil moisture. However, home gardeners can supplement this protection.

Mulches help retain soil moisture and reduce winter injury due to water stress. They also buffer the soil, reducing temperature fluctuations which cause heaving. Barton considers a lightweight, porous material best for mulching. Leaves tend to pack down, she says, but if chopped first with a shredder or lawnmower, they can make a fine mulch. Spread mulch in a 4-inch layer around the base of plants and young trees.

The foliage of broad-leaved and needle evergreens may also be injured when exposed to winter winds or sun. Protect plants with either an antidesiccant spray or by erecting physical barriers to provide shade and shelter.

Antidesiccants reduce winter leaf scorch by decreasing the transpiration rate so that less water is lost from foliage. These sprays must be reapplied approximately once a month. The temperature should be above 40 degrees F during application, followed by above-freezing temperatures while the wax-like coating dries.

Apply the first treatment in mid-November. A thin covering is all that's needed. So that the sprayer doesn't become clogged, be sure to wash it out thoroughly afterwards with a detergent, Layton advises.

Burlap screens and snow fences are other ways to protect vulnerable plants from harsh northern winds and glaring winter sun. Support burlap with stakes driven into the ground, rather than wrapping it directly around plants. Never use polyethylene sheeting for this purpose.

Winter damage may also occur when the weight of snow or ice is too great for delicate branches to support. Layton suggests using tepee-shaped wooden frames to prevent injury.

Use stakes and guy wires to support newly planted or tall, slender young trees when strong winds and heaving threaten to loosen their roots. Space three stakes evenly around the base of each tree, then run heavy wire from each stake to the trunk at a level high enough to provide good support. Run the wire through a piece of old hose where it touches the trunk to protect the bark.

"Maintaining your plants' vigor may seem like a lot of work," concludes Layton, "but the rewards are much greater than the effort."

S.A.T. Prep

The SAT is a test of aptitude & logical thinking, rather than what a student has learned. Preparation has been shown to increase test scores, sometimes drastically.

Preparation for the PSAT (jr. yr.), as well as the SAT is very valuable. We offer small groups (4-5) teach strategy and lots of verbal & math practice. Flexible schedules (nites/wkends). Additional practice via computer! Incl. tutoring - algebra/geometry/sciences also.

MinistryBlack U.D. students

Ministry to and for black students at the University of Delaware was initiated by the Wesley Foundation in the first week of the fall semester with the naming of Yulanda Wheeler as recipient of a peer ministry scholarship.

"Throughout the last several years, parents of black students have expressed concern over the lack of meaningful religious experiences for their children, to say nothing of the needs expressed by the students themselves," said the Rev. Dr. Vernon Lee Schmid, Wesley Foundation director.

Ecumenical in scope the ministry's shape will be determined by expressed student needs, he said. Support for the new ministry comes from Newark United Methodist Church.

"Our hope is that churches in the Wilmington District and beyond will join in providing financial support for this priority project," Schmid said.

"Since the United Methodist Church has declared ministry to minorities a priority and our history shows its inclusiveness not found in many mainline denominations we seem the logical campus ministry to focus on this particular need," he added.

By: John Mascher

Don't be concerned if dashboard lights up when you start the car. To show a hot engine or poor oil pressure. This is just a test of the warning lights. DO be concerned if the light goes on later.

Scary statistics: 85 percent of all highway fatalities involve alcohol, according to the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration. Brakes and transmission fluids should be checked every three months, and changed at least as frequently as the owner's manual recommends.

Should slow drivers always drive on the right? On city freeways, with lots of on-and-off activity in the right lane, it may be safe for the slow driver to stay in the middle lane - as long as there's another fast lane to the left.

The easiest way to "move" some carburetor problems: change the air filter. A dirty filter makes for a too-rich fuel mixture.
