SCHOONOVER ART WEEK SPEAKER

Stella Hawkins Poster Prize Winner

The intimate life of Howard Pyle and his students was the topic of an address by Frank E. Schoonover, one of the best known pupils of the late artist, Tuesday evening in the Hilmarium of Warner Hall at the Women's College, University of Delaware as the feature of Newark's participation in the tenth annual Delaware Festival of the Arts.

Mr. Schoonover told of many incidents and anecdotes concerning Pyle which he personally remembers and which are not included in the published works of his life. He said that Howard Pyle was very persistent with his pupils that they project themselves into their work.

To be able to paint a certain thing, you must feel the character of that person that you were painting and he said that Pyle was very much concerned in the accuracy and the correct design for his historical paintings.

Following the lecture Mr. Schoonover judged the Art Week posters made by the pupils of Miss Mildred Burney's class in elective art of the Newark schools. First prize went to Stella Hawkins, a senior at the school; Thelma Thompson, a tenth grade student was the second place winner and Arthur Goessman, another tenth grader won third prize. ## PAPER, TIN CAN NEED CRITICAL

Committee Asks Cooperation In Collection

The local salvage committee urges that the people of Newark continue their cooperation in the salvaging of waste paper and tin cans. The results of the collections this month thus far have been gratifying but the evidence indicates that there is still a great deal of these two materials which does not find its way into the salvage channels.

Because of some confusion which exists regarding tin cans, the committee wishes to reiterate the request that every tin can be prepared for salvage by removing the label, rinsing, taking out both ends and then flattening. The cans thus prepared will be collected on the FIRST MONDAY in every month and will be used as a raw material for the vital needs of the war.

Inventories of waste paper continue at the lowest level for some years. This deficiency can be overcome only by salvaging at least two-thirds of the waste paper that comes into every home and place of business in the United States. Newspaper, magazines, wrapping paper, cartons, and "waste-basket" paper can all be utilized. It should be kept and tied in bundles of convenient size. Some Boy Scout will probably come around to see about getting it out on collection day. If anyone is missed, he is urged to watch the paper or look out for the Girl Scouts to find out about collection day. The next collection will be on the north side. The date of this collection will be announced in The Post next week.

MAY 26-27 DESIGNATED AUXILIARY POPPY DAYS

Proceeds of Annual Sale Contributed To Welfare

"Every penny from poppies that will be sold on the streets of this and thousands of other towns, villages and cities in the country, is contributed to the welfare and rehabilitation work of the J. Allison O'Daniel Post No. 10 American Legion Auxiliary," Mrs. A. E. Tomhave, chairman, said today. "Because this work is being done by volunteers the money goes a long way."

"Many people have wondered what will become of the money collected by the volunteer workers on Friday and Saturday, May 26 and 27. I wish everyone could see what help this money brings to the disabled and their families. Children left fatherless by two world wars are the special concern of the Legion and the Auxiliary. Their needs are often great, especially their human needs. We try to give them comfort both for the body and the mind."

"Of course the government looks after the physical welfare of the disabled men who are in hospitals in almost every state, but there are things which the government cannot provide, such as the understanding aid and the personal attention that so often helps a disabled man and which often helps to keep a family together when the chief breadwinner is incapacitated."

"This is what the money from the poppy sale helps to accomplish. And we hope that this year more and more people will buy the poppies and show their interest in and their sympathy for the men who have fought for them and are now struggling to get back to the point where they can again become self supporting."

PHILLIES BREVITIES

The Phillies are making rapid strides in building a farm system. A year ago they had a working agreement with one club. Now, they have three clubs to use as experimental stations for young players and the Phillies own these clubs outright.

Bob Carpenter was president of the Wilmington Inter-state League Club when he became the head man of the Phillies and it wasn't long before the Blue Rocks became a part of the organization. About a month ago the Phillies acquired the Bradford, Pa., franchise in the Pony League and their latest link is Utica, N. Y., in the class A Eastern League.

To be acclaimed the most valuable minor league player of the year is quite an honor. It ranks a player as tops among the hundreds in the minor leagues throughout the country who are giving their best in the hopes that they will win major league recognition. The Phillies have two on their roster who have been selected by the Sporting News as the minors' number one players.

Ever since he was a youngster, Elvin Adams has been known as "Buster". Now the fans are calling the Phillies' powerhouse "Bustin" because his bat has been smashing baseballs that have been important in Phillies' victories.

The Phillies have an off day before they go into action next Wednesday against the Chicago Cubs. It will not be an idle one, however, because Fred Fitzsimmons will take the club to the Great Lakes Training Station for an exhibition game.

Commander Mickey Cochrane has three former Phils on his team and it is possible all of them may see action against their former teammates. Si Johnson may get the pitching assignment and Merrill May is ready to take over the hot corner. Cochrane in an effort to add some batting punch to his lineup, may use Schoolboy Rowe in the outfield.

COUNCIL OF NEWARK

This is no time to lose your memory!

IN NEARLY ALL Americans there's a streak of natural optimism.

We know the war won't be over tomorrow. We know there may be a long hard fight ahead.

But we can't help looking forward to the beautiful and wonderful-seeming days of Peace.

This is all right unless . . .

Unless ~~it~~ makes you relax your efforts to win the war . . .

Unless it makes you lose your memory of what happened after the last war was won.

Don't lose that memory now. Don't forget the depression . . . the poverty that hit the farmers . . . the breadlines in the cities . . . the soldiers looking, looking, looking for jobs, and not finding them.

Remember that Peace brought difficult economic problems, economic stresses. And this time, we must be ready to meet them.

This time we must make sure of having a real financial cushion . . . to ease the transfer to normal peacetime business, peacetime employment, peacetime living.

That's one big reason why you should buy War Bonds . . . and hold on to them.

Every War Bond you buy, every one you hold to maturity will keep bringing you $4 for every $3 you invest today.

And that steady flow of buying power will make jobs. It will create markets for peacetime goods. It will do a lot to insure an America that's prosperous and sound . . . the kind of America we all want when this war is won.

So let's not forget the lesson of World War I. Keep buying Bonds. Keep hanging on to them. They're your security . . . your Country's security . . . for the days of Peace!

DELAWARE FARM FRONT THIS WEEK

Present Land Boom Increases Sale of Farms

Delaware's wartime farm land boom has increased voluntary farm sales by 30 per cent and has boosted farm land values by 3 per cent during the last 12 months and by 19 per cent over pre-war prices, according to a survey by the Delaware Crop Reporting Service, says Clarence E. Ocheltree, chairman of the Delaware Agricultural Adjustment Agency.

The present level of farm land values is 40 per cent above the 1933 prices paid for Delaware farms. Half of all farm sales now are for cash.

Fifty-nine per cent of the farms purchased by farmers will be cultivated in 1944.

In forty-three per cent of the cases, farm land sales since the beginning of the war have been due to the death or retirement of the owner. More than 16 per cent of Delaware farm operators are 65 years of age or older. The percentage of farm sales to non-farmers for tenant operation or for speculation has dropped from 53 per cent in 1941 to 29 per cent during the last twelve months.

Farms and the feed industry in Delaware have been allocated 75,428 bushels of feed wheat and 210 tons of soybean meal for May.

Clarence E. Ocheltree, chairman of the State Agricultural Adjustment Agency, estimates that this allotment will meet the May farm feeding requirements.

With few exceptions Delaware farmers buy these supplies through regular trade channels in which equitable distribution is being maintained through government direction.

Feed wheat from the Ever-Normal granary is available to farmers for dairy herds, hogs under 200 pounds, beef under fair finish, and for laying hens and flock replacements.

So much has been said and done about building up a home food supply—and innumerable homemakers point with justifiable pride to rows of jars and cans of fruits and vegetables on their shelves—that possibly more stress should be placed on making use of this food as a regular part of the daily diet. Ordinarily, such food is used during the season of the year when fresh supplies are limited or not available. However, under the stress of wartime conditions, there is a tendency among some to think of this food as being for use only in case of a mechanical dire emergency. Last season's supplies should be used to make way for the coming season's home canning.

About the gardening program for 1944, Secretary of Agriculture Wickard says, "There has been some evidence of a letdown in interest. I think this is due largely to the failure of some people to understand the true situation on ration points. When point values were first reduced not long ago on canned vegetables, many assumed that the battle of food was already won, and that they could take things easy this summer. The truth is, of course, that this is the season to clear the warehouses of last year's canned goods to make room for the new crop. But this very favorable situation for the consumer is not temporary. Chester Bowles, O.P.A. Administrator, made this clear last week when he said that 'higher point values will have to be restored to spread new supplies evenly throughout next winter.' Although farmers are counted on to turn out a record supply of food again this year, the supply of canned fruits and vegetables for civilians is likely to be short because increased military needs will more than offset expected production gains. . . . 'We not only want more gardens, but better gardens.'

Two publications available from the Extension Service in Newark or from county extension offices which will help farmers in their effort to meet production goals are Wartime Extension Folder No. 8, "Produce Your Share," and Extension Bulletin No. 40, "Care and Feeding of Sows and Pigs." The first gives specific suggestions for increasing production from Delaware's various essential war crops; the second gives more detailed information on the efficient production of hogs.

Corn Still Subject To Ceiling Prices

Corn, whether sold by the producer to other farmers or to other persons for feeding purposes, is still subject to ceiling prices, according to Charles W. Hardisty, State Director of OPA.

The corn regulation definitely states that the ceiling price of corn grown in Delaware and nearby states, when sold at the farm where produced, is $1.54 per bushel.

If the farmer sells the corn produced by him and hauls it to a mill, a feed dealer's warehouse, to a railroad siding or to another farm, his ceiling price is $1.25 1-2 per bushel.

Shelled corn is to be figured at 56 lbs per bushel. Ear corn is to be figured at 66 lbs per bushel and the cob is considered to be part of the corn and is not to be sold separately.

GARDEN PLANNING

A balanced garden should contain 12 or more kinds of leafy, root, fruit or pod vegetables. Vegetables can be used right from the garden about five months while stored or preserved vegetables must be used the remaining seven months of the year. In order to have enough for fresh use as well as for storing or preserving, one should allow the following for each member of the family: 50 feet of row for tomatoes, 30 feet for cabbage, 20 feet for carrots, 30 feet for beets, 100 feet for sweet corn, 20 feet for spinach, 10 feet for broccoli, 40 feet for lima beans, 50 feet for snapbeans, and 25 feet of row for turnips.

Other leafy greens such as lettuce, endive, or kale should always be grown for fresh use. Crops such as Irish potatoes, sweet potatoes, squash and pumpkins may be grown if sufficient space is available. One should allow for each member of the family 200 feet of row for potatoes, 30 feet for sweet potatoes, and 25 feet of row for either pumpkin or squash in order to have enough for year around use.

Not all of the above mentioned plantings should be made at one time. A succession of crops should be planned. Tomatoes, lima beans, sweet potatoes, and squash will occupy the ground the whole season. Beets, bush snapbeans, cabbage, carrots, sweet corn, spinach, turnips, and lettuce which are planted as soon as possible in the spring may be followed by late beets, snapbeans, late cabbage, carrots, late sweet corn, spinach, broccoli, kale, endive, lettuce, turnips and late potatoes.

In any case if good cultural practices are followed, vegetable crops will respond both in quality and quantity, and cash savings from having a garden may amount to as much as $100 to $300 per year.

THE WAY TO AVOID BANKRUPTCY

More people would take more interest in the problem of the growing Federal debt if they were told frankly that unless the solvency of the government is maintained, every war bond will be worthless. They should be told frankly that buying bonds will not save the country from bankruptcy. But there is a way to keep out of bankruptcy—by paying taxes and by rigid government economy. Everyone who owns a war bond, a life insurance policy or a dollar of savings has a direct interest in this problem. It is no longer a matter for "the other guy" to worry about.

It is now estimated that before the present war is over the Federal debt may reach the staggering sum of $300,000,000,000. If this debt be divided equally and spread over the entire population, it would mean a debt of about $2,300 for every man, woman and child in the United States, a debt of about $4,700 for every person gainfully employed, and based on four persons to the family, a debt of $9,200 for each and every family of the United States.

This debt cannot be passed on to the other fellow or evaded. If the American people value their freedom, they will insist upon meeting the debt squarely—the hard way—by taxation, and frugality in government.

SHORTAGE THREAT BECOMES TIRESOME

If American industry had fallen down on the job and failed to meet its quotas of airplanes, ships, tanks, guns, farm output, transportation, electricity, etc., every time the draft cut in on its labor supply, where would our country be today?

And yet, when the draft threatens to interfere with the younger labor supply in the coal mines, the Federal Fuel Administrator immediately threatens to curb the use of coal next winter. The government took over the coal mines as an excuse for settling a labor controversy. If the coal mines were again free and in the hands of their private owners, they would be expected to get out coal in spite of the draft.

If public officials can only threaten the people with shortages every time they meet a little production problem, the people should begin to realize pretty soon that the more the government keeps out of business, the better off the country will be. It's a pretty poor record for government in business if its Federal Fuel Administrator can't figure ways to keep up production in the face of the same labor problems under which private enterprise not hampered by Federal administrators and government control, must meet its quotas and often exceed them.

DIGNIFIED HONOR

Union leaders are vying for the "honor" of being the first to break the government's wage and price stabilization program wide open and start another inflationary spiral. They have compiled statistics professing to show why the "soldiers of production" must have more money. They call strikes at the drop of a hat. Disrupting war production is their club. They get what they want, or else. The government's stabilization laws are currently the subject of their wrath and every attempt will be made to smash those laws.

Millions of Americans watch these union abuses in helpless fury. Those in the armed forces do not expect wage increases every time the going gets harder. They are at war and know it. Many more in civilian life do not expect providence or a labor union to hand them more money to make up for rising taxes and bond purchases and high prices.

Labor leaders should consider well and long before they decide to smash by force the laws designed to protect the nation from runaway inflation. If the unions pit themselves against the government as ruthlessly as they have against industries, public opinion may destroy the unions.

A burglar entered the bedroom of W. H. Bailey, Memphis policeman, and took 40 cents from a pair of trousers.

KGE To Initiate

About thirty new members will be initiated into the Knights of the Golden Eagle Lodge on Saturday evening next. Aetna Company Averts Serious Blaze
The fire company responded to two calls during the past week and by prompt action averted what might have become serious fires.

On Friday some children playing with matches, by accident set fires to an outbuilding which adjoins the kitchen of the house occupied by Harlan Herdman on East Main Street. The blaze had assumed serious proportions before the alarm was turned in and only the prompt arrival of the firemen saved the entire section, nearly all of which is of frame construction.

On Monday afternoon an outbuilding at Ex-Mayor Hossinger's residence caught fire in some mysterious manner and for a time threatened the adjoining garages. Friends of Ex-Mayor Hossinger, who has been in poor health for some time, feared that the excitement would prove detrimental to him but he stood the affair with great fortitude and calmness.

MORE CORN PLANTING STRESSED

Heavier 1944 Corn Acreage Suggested

This year Delaware farmers are trying to produce as much as possible of their own feed, since supplies coming in from outside have not been sufficient for our increased numbers of livestock. Since acreages of war essential crops are also being increased, this means that farmers need to get highest possible production from each acre of grain they plant. Here is a suggestion on increasing corn yields from C. E. Phillips, extension agronomist for the Delaware Agricultural Extension Service.

More stalks, more ears, and considerably higher production can be obtained by planting more corn per hill, particularly when hybrid seed is used. Mr. Phillips says that most corn growers try to produce large showy ears. The large ears are produced when the corn is planted farther apart so that more of the soil fertility goes into each plant. But these large ears do not give maximum production.

The heavier plantings give higher yields in normal and good years, more plant residue to plow under, better weed control, and partial insurance against loss of stand through poor germination. On the other hand, they may produce more bobbins, require more labor per bushel in hand harvesting, mature a little later, increase danger of stalk breakage, and reduce chance of getting in cover crops such as domestic ryegrass or crimson clover. In any case, remember that more stalks per hill require more plant food and will not produce good ears without fertilization except on very fertile land.

Fuel Oil Users Should Have 2 Per Cent Left

Home fuel oil consumers should have two per cent of their annual allotment remaining Charles W. Hardesty, state OPA director, said today.

Starting early in June OPA will start distribution of renewal application forms for next season's ration coupons. A simple reapplication form will be received by all fuel oil users. Consumers are urged to fill them out promptly and return them so ration boards may act upon them.

HOME MANAGEMENT CLASS MEETING IS PLANNED MAY 12

The House Planning and Furnishing class of the Women's College invite the people of Newark to tea at the Home Management House on Friday, May 12th. The class has recently planned and decorated a student studio-dormitory which will be open for inspection that day. This was the practical problem of the course which consisted of selecting the wall paper and paint, planning the color schemes, drapery and making drapes, curtains, bed spreads and other accessories. The class did all of the refinishing of the furniture themselves. From a mass of dark oak finish it was transformed into a delightful soft color with a natural finish. A low coffee table grew out of an old typewriter and the old fashioned dresser became a modern chest of drawers.

Gertrude Barth, Jean Brumbaugh, Mrs. McClokey, Carolyn Medill, LaVerne Gordy, Alice Williams, and Phyllis Denny are responsible for this morning room, which two of them hope to use next year when they live in the Home Management House.

Tea will be served by the students of the class between four and six. Come and help them enjoy their room.

DATE FOR BAKE AND GOOD SALE CANCELLED

Due to unavoidable circumstances the bake and good sale scheduled for Saturday, May 13, will not be held. This was to have been sponsored by the ladies of the First Presbyterian Church and they advise that another date will be named.

IN MEMORIAM
In memory of my dear Mother, Annie M. Higgins, who passed away March 4, 1944.

So suddenly were you called home. You have left a vacant chair that never can be filled. You shared my joys, you cheered when sad. Each day I think of you many times, as I journey alone. Sunday is Mother's Day. This year I cannot see you face, nor hear your sweet voice. It will be a sad day for me. Your kind deeds and advice will be remembered forever.

Your heart-broken son, Clarence

SHOTS

by J. H. (Sureshot) Rumer

Anything appearing in this column is purely the opinion of the writer and does not express the views or policy of the paper. Any exceptions should be taken up with the writer.

The other afternoon, Tuesday to be exact, three older members of the Newark High School student body were observed being stopped by Town Officer Morrison and asked to go back to the sidewalk and walk across the crossing at Delaware Avenue and Academy Street in the proper and approved manner. Those children who should have known better because they are much older were Jay Walking, not paying any attention to the Red, Yellow and Green light on the corner. They were just not setting a good example for the younger children. There is one thing that everyone must hand to our police force. They are trying their best to make this a safe place for the children and the older ones should set the example. Our police don't play any favorites. They don't care if you are a BIG SHOT or a BUM at the school corner. Everyone must pay attention to the light and cross the intersection when the light says WALK, at the hours when the children are going and coming from school.

The school children in Miss Mildred Burney's selective Art class have done a fine job making those posters for the Newark participation in the annual Delaware Festival of the Arts. All the posters that I had the pleasure of looking at were very well designed and showed considerable thought and effort both on the part of the student who designed the posters and on their instructor Miss Burney. Who knows, we may have some great painter develop from just this sort of thing.

We are told that there was quite a little discussion about the firemen holding a carnival to raise money to entertain the returning soldier boys. Well, that is fine. We really need something to stir the old town up a little. It is quite dull in the old town now 'days. What we need is to get this war over and get the boys back home so that the old place will look like it used to. There are so many faces missing on the main stem.

Every week as I wrap the copies of the Newark Post that are sent to the men and women in the service (I nearly said the men and boys) I look at the names on the wrappers and wonder where each and everyone of you folks are and what you are doing and how you are making out. It is really a shame that we don't have a chance to put everyone's name in this column and a story about each and everyone. But fellows, that is your fault. Any one of you who will write and tell me some of the things that you are doing (No military secrets) just some funny experience or you could make some wise-crack about some of the fellows back home or in the service and sure enough I will have it in the column for the very next week.

The only reason that Eugene Campbell or Admiral Joe Moore seem to have their names in the column most is because they are always under our care and protection. You know what I mean. If they did not get their names in the paper real often they would leave the scrap and come home and try to throw bricks through windows or something to get their names in the paper. Now step up boys and let us know who will send the next letter to Sureshot. Good luck to all of you, the girls all want all of you to come back real soon. The 4-Frs and the Wolves are not so hot we are told.

Elsewhere in this paper the readers will find a letter from a Fireman's Wife in answer to recent remarks in this column. Now, Sureshot enjoys to receive these letters and as long as they are signed by the writer they will be assured of being printed. This fireman's wife is O.K. But why she would want to sample any of Shelly's cooking is more than I know.

Fire Chief Elmer Ellison is now painting supervisor. By that we mean that he stands around and keeps his eyes open and directs traffic around the fellows who are painting the white lines on the town streets. If you know what I mean—He keeps autos from bumping into Slim Chalmers and Bill Crow when they are bent over painting.

As the bowling season nears its end we hear some great stories about some of the BIG SHOT bowlers. Probably the biggest laugh was when the Great Schultz of the Danita team was low man for just one game and had to SIT the next game out.

The other week Harry Usner, with a last half average of 149, bowled a score of 96 and the team was considering him a candidate for one of the girl's teams but we are told that there were some of the girls who felt that that was even too poor a score for a berth on their teams.

Then there is that story going around about the Great Tommy Schultz who passed his physical for the Army and his team-mates gave him a farewell party (with all the fixings). The next week Uncle Sam notified him that he was not needed YET. Well, you can't get ahead of that Schultz fellow.

SOPHOMORES AND JUNIORS TIED FOR FIRST PLACE IN SOFTBALL INTRA-MURALS

Seniors Lose Both Games And Are In Last Place In League; 8-B Team Is Leading In Junior League With 7-B Team In Second Place

The sophomore and the junior class teams at the Newark High School are tied for first place in the intra-mural softball league competition at the local school with both teams undefeated while the Seniors and freshmen are tied for last place positions.

On Monday the sophomores walloped the senior class team 13 to 9 and the sophomores earlier defeated the freshmen 27 to 6. The junior class team also cleaned up on both the seniors and freshmen and the playoff will come when the juniors and sophomores meet to decide which is the better team.

The 8-B team in the younger group pounced on the 7-A team by a score of 32 to 2 when they limited the kids to only two hits for the entire game. The 7-B team nosed out the 7-C team by the score of 9 to 7. The 7-C team came back to even their score by beating the 8-C team 7 to 1. The 7-A team with only one defeat is now in fourth place and the 8-C team having been defeated twice in two starts is in the tail end spot in the younger league.

The girls intra-mural softball contests have also started at the school and to date the Juniors have defeated the sophomores 24 to 4 and the seniors won over the freshmen class team 10 to 2.

In the younger girls group the 8-B class defeated the 8-C team 2 to 1. Miss Linda Vogel, director of athletics and physical education for girls at the high school has announced that the following girls have been named as captains of the teams: Dorothy Hanson, captain of the senior team; Doris Hill, junior captain; Elizabeth Hyde, sophomore captain and Marion Flemming, freshman captain.

Miss Vogel also announced that the following girls had been appointed Play-Day Class representatives: Marilyn Fox, senior class; Sally Wolleyhan, junior class; Janet Godwin, sophomore class; Libby Dawson, freshman class; Elizabeth Zeiler, eighth grade and Aileen Ritchie, seventh grade.

The Play-Day will be held on the school athletic field on Wednesday afternoon, May 24 and there will be contests for both the boys and girls. Professor Stanley Gibbs, director of physical education for boys will be in charge of the boys groups.

The youngsters were broken by Howard Wells on his farm in Kentucky during the winter. Since shipping here, they have been through the light training stages and are awaiting the boots and saddles call by the bugler.

While Glenn Riddle is the biggest on hand at Delaware Park at the moment it was by no means the first establishment. In all there are about 300 head on the grounds, the first of them being the horses of several Delawareans who desired to begin work-outs as early as possible. While Delaware is known nationally for its 6 big stables, Christiana Farms, Brandywine Stable, Foxcatcher Stable, and the horses of Mrs. Esther duPont Weir and Bayard Sharp,—there are many others in the state who have turned to the thoroughbred sport. First to have a horse work over the trip this season was Mrs. Edwin S. Hineman of Wilmington. The stable area was opened April 15 and horses have been arriving steadily since then.

Captain Potts In Baltimore

Captain Robert C. Potts, of 323 East Main Street, former physical education instructor and athletic director at the Park School in Baltimore, has been assigned to Third Service Command headquarters as athletic officer in the Special Services Division, Major General Philip Hayes, Commanding General, announced this week.

A graduate of Newark High School and the University of Delaware, Captain Potts was a recreational advisor and private tutor before going into the Park School in 1938. He also had been a volunteer worker with the Boy Scouts of America.

Captain Potts who went on active duty with the Army in 1940 now lives at 1812 Eutaw Place in Baltimore. His present family residence is at 41 Townsend Road, Newark.

NEWARK PIGEONS WIN RACE

A bird owned by Leonard Moore of Newark won first place in the Wilmington Homing Pigeon Club, 1944 Wartime Conference, International Federation, A.H.P.F. race staged from Charlottesville, Va., to Wilmington, a distance of 200 miles with a speed of 1613.33 yards per minute and the second bird from the loft of George Chalmers, Newark, was second with 1612.54 yards per minute. More than 250 birds were entered from 23 lofts.

DELAWARE PARK NOTES

The Christiana Stakes, a five and a half furlong dash, to be run on July 4, is one of the three juvenile stakes at Delaware Park's forthcoming meeting which opens on May 29. The Christiana had its initial running in 1937, the year the plant opened, with Now Then defeating Dauber and Pasteurized for the major portion of the award. The following year, 1939, George D. Widener's Eight Thirty, who went on to become a top handicap performer, was returned the victor, with Del Second and Hants third. Stagefright beat Victory Morn for first place in the 1939 renewal, while Magic Stream was the class of the field in 1940. Cassie won in 1941 while Ringmenow captured the 1942 running.

No less than four thoroughbreds who carried the colors of Mrs. Payne Whitney's Greentree Stable hold track records at Delaware Park, where racing will start on May 29th. These record-breakers include Shut Out, one of the top money-winning horses of the country, Cherry Jam, Tangled and Corydon. Shut Out, whose major stake victories include the Kentucky Derby and the Belmont Stakes, is the five and a half furlong record-holder, being timed in 1:05 2-5 for the distance on June 26, 1941, when he was two years old, and making his first start.

Cherry Jam, then a five year old, tied the six-furlong mark of 1:10 3-5 on June 28, 1941, after it had been made by Dawn Attack a week previous. Cherry Jam shouldered 121 pounds, while Dawn Attack, a three year old, carried 110.

The record for a mile and a furlong was set by Tangled, a filly, who sped over the distance in 1:49 4-5 on June 12, 1941. Tangled, a stakes winner in her own right, was a three-year old at the time and carried 113 pounds.

Last of the Greentree speed stars is Corydon, another good stakes winner, who holds the one mile and a quarter record for the popular course near Wilmington. On June 20, 1942, Corydon, with 111 pounds up, covered the distance in 2:03.

Among the better known steeplechase stables planning to campaign at the coming Delaware Park meeting which will begin on May 29th, are those of Mrs. Ester duPont Weir, Rokeby Stable, Bayard Sharp, C. Mahlon Kline, Brookmeade Stable, Kent Miller, John Bosley, Jr., Mrs. F. Ambrose Clark, F. Ambrose Clark, R. V. N. Gambrell, Greentree Stable, G. H. Bostwick, Mrs. Odgen Phipps and others.

Warren Wright's Calumet Farm has dominated four fillies for the June 8th Delaware Oaks, one of Delaware Park's two produce stakes. Among the Calumet nominees are two of the best fillies in training, Miss Keeneland and Twilight Tear. The others are Bibelot and Justa Note. The 30-day Delaware meeting begins on May 29th and concludes on July 4th.

The oldest record for flat racing at Delaware Park is the 1:43 4-5 for the one mile and a sixteenth made by Rosenna on July 24th, 1937. This was in the inaugural running of the New Castle Handicap, for fillies and mares, three-years-old and upward, carrying an added purse of $10,000. However, that mark was tied by Westnessa on June 8, 1940. The New Castle, one of the five $10,000 added stakes run at Delaware Park, will be renewed July 1st, 1944.

The late Joseph E. Widener's Fair Weather won the last renewal of the $5,000 added Dover Stakes, which will be the opening day feature of the Delaware Steeplechase and Race Association's meeting at Delaware Park on May 29th. Fair Weather covered the five furlongs in 59 3-5 second and finished three and a half lengths in front of Bullpen and Barkeep, who deadheaded for second. El Chico, the top juvenile of 1938, won the inaugural Dover that year, gaining the major portion of the award at the expense of Star Runner and Cherry Jam.

MERIT EXAM TO BE HELD THIS MONTH

The Merit System of Personnel Administration announces that Merit Examinations for three positions in the Delaware State Board of Health will be held in the near future. The positions are Pediatrician, Medical Social Consultant, and Veterinarian. Each position requires professional training and experience. While it is not expected that many applications will be received, it is believed that a sufficient number of qualified persons will apply so that the Board of Health may make its selection from among those eligible.

Charles W. Bush, Supervisor of the Merit System, has prepared specifications for the positions and will send copies together with application forms and other material upon request. Communications relative to the examinations should be addressed to him through Post Office Box 1911, Wilmington, Delaware.

Applicants are not required to be residents of the State of Delaware before filing application. The examinations will consist of an unannounced written examination and a rating on education and experience. Before appointment the applicants will be required to appear for an oral interview.

Since the examinations will be conducted later in May, those persons who are interested in the qualifications and salaries of each position should not hesitate to communicate with the Merit System Supervisor promptly.

AIRPLANE SPOTTERS Both Posts Are Manned

Mrs. Edna Lamborn, assistant chief observer at the Possum Park Observation Post was in charge of the operations at that post yesterday and accompanied by Mrs. Verna Ewing took the first shift from one to three o'clock. The post was manned on the second shift from three to five o'clock by Mrs. Charles Greer and Mrs. Fremont Loefel.

At the Chestnut Hill Observation Post, Day Captain Harry W. Dawson was the Lone Observer on the second shift from three to five o'clock. The first shift was taken care of by observers Dorothy Baldwin and Dorothy Lawson.

Newark's two airplane observation posts like the rest of the posts scattered throughout the eastern seaboard are manned each Wednesday afternoon from one to five o'clock.

Dick Barrett, the Phillies righthander, earned the title in 1942 when he was hurling for Seattle of the Pacific Coast League. The latest "most valuable" to join the Phils is Chester Covington whose pitching for the Scranton Miners in the Eastern League was responsible for the Sporting News picking him for the 1943 award. Covington, a lefthander, was the hero of a no-hit, no-man-reach-first game in addition to breaking almost every Eastern League pitching record.

(SHOTS AT SURESHOT)

Dear Sureshot!
For an old married man, you don't seem to know much about women. Women would have a rim home for her hysterical when the fire whistle blows the women of today always carry their lipstick with them. Have you ever looked in a woman's pocketbook? The reason you men are afraid to let the women in the Fire Company, because we would show you what's down at Harrington, Delaware, we have a very fine woman driver who is always on hand. Also, I bet five home would look a darn lot cleaner than I have ever seen.

I recently heard a Newark fellow who wanted to know what kind of bluffs they used on the front window. She was told they kept the fire like that so that the soldiers returning home wouldn't get homesick for fox holes.

Neither would we be mean like men, when we had a big supper would invite you men. How about letting us sample some of Shelly's letting which I heard is Super?

It'd also have a special front of thing for firemen's cars so that would be given the right of Speaking of cars, how do they get the men to get to the fires on a stamp when it isn't enough for use.

What about putting those simple per rooms to some good use about getting up a class of boys years old and teaching them the simpler things about fire that might come in handy some. Also it might cure some of the from some of their mischief.

Sureshot, I sure approve of firing farmers $25 for all kind of it would help pay for ruined watches, torn pants and shirts about us women who see our best go out all cleaned up and come looking like a coal heaver. We to wash and iron those things about time you firemen paid us.

In a small way I was paid for my hubby sent me 15 red roses for our 15th wedding anniversary haven't gotten over the shock. I could go on and on but what use. What man ever listens to a woman says, anyway.

A. A. CURTIS OUTLIVES INSURANCE POLICY

Newark Man Cashes Policy In Effect For Sixty-Eight Years

The distinction of being one man in a million who managed to outlive an ordinary life insurance policy goes to Alfred A. Curtis of Newark, a retired industrialist, who was paid in full the face value of his policy which had been in effect 68 years, on Monday, May 8.

Searches through insurance records revealed that similar cases are rare. As far as insurance is concerned, 90 years is the limit of a lifetime, according to the American Experience Table of Mortality. Mr. Curtis will reach the extreme mortality limit on Oct. 30—his ninety-sixth birthday.

Today marked the maturity date of Mr. Curtis' policy. L. D. Rothensies, general agent in Wilmington for the Penn Mutual Life Insurance Company, in presenting the check for the cash value of the policy to Mr. Curtis at his home in Newark said:

"The American Experience Table of Mortality indicates that out of 100,000 persons living at age 10, three will still be alive at 95 and none at 96." Mr. Rothensies also said, "actually, of course, a few survive beyond 96 and still own life insurance. In outliving the mortality table, you are perhaps one out of several million. The late John D. Rockefeller was another outstanding example. The present experience is one which comes to but few individual underwriters as well as few policyholders."

Mr. Curtis, "grand old man" of Newark, took out his policy 68 years ago in 1876. Born in Newton Lower Falls, Mass., he has lived in Newark since childhood. His father was the founder of the Curtis Paper Company, whose plant was established by him along the White Clay Creek. Until a few years ago Mr. Curtis was active in the conduct of the business. He is in excellent health and has just completed his annual check-up at The Memorial Hospital. He displays a keen interest in all Newark civic activities.

The original policy was issued by the S. M. Knox Agency of Wilmington. The name of the medical examiner was Dr. Columbus Henry, and in the application for the policy Mr. Curtis stated his family physician's name was Dr. H. M. Clark of Newark. He gave the name of an intimate friend as John Pilling of Newark, all of whom are deceased.

ATTEND F.B.I. CONVENTION

Chief of Newark Police William H. Cunningham and Police Sergeant LeRoy C. Hill attended a conference of police heads sponsored by the Federal Bureau of Investigation at Dover on Monday afternoon.

Over 25,000,000 chocolate bars were sent overseas last year to be distributed to American troops and prisoners of war by the Red Cross.

State Wartime Baby Crop is Declining

Delaware's wartime crop of babies is apparently declining.

State Board of Health vital statistics just released show a total of 1,400 babies born in the State during the January, February and March of this year, or a decrease of 183 over the first three months of last year.

The 1,400 figure, however, is still in excess of the 1942 figure for the same period when 1,333 births were recorded in the state.

Delaware's falling birth rate is in keeping with a similar decline throughout the nation.

The Bureau of Census at Washington has revealed that the national birthrate, already past its wartime peak, is rapidly declining, and will fall until the war ends, perhaps reducing the 1943 record crop of 3,000,000 babies to about 2,100,000 yearly.

Christiana School News

The eighth grade will hold a covered dish supper in the school auditorium on Wednesday, May 17.

Receipts from the Bond and Stamp sales for the week amounted to $70.15.
