

The Woman Voter Speaks

Always before, I asked you what you thought
And shaped my thought by yours—the way I cut
My garments by a pattern: "He says this,"
Or "He says that," I'd quote, with wifely pride.
Almost I smile at the absurdity
Of setting up my thought against your own
You, whose approval gave my heart content,
Whether it was for hat, or dress, or shoes,
Or for the dish you thought I seasoned well,
And yet—do you remember?—childhood's cares,
Bedtime, and prayers, and food, you left to me,
"Go to your mother, children," you would say:
"She knows what is best for you to do!"

How did I know?

And how, again today,
When the sad world is crying at my door
For food and clothing, and maternal care,
How know I what is right for me to do,
Or how to use the power so strangely given?
I grope, and grope, and try to feel my way;
And yet, as birds are guided through the air
This migrant autumn, so I seem to see
A Light—a Light like that which guided once
The shepherds to the Babe of Bethlehem.
I cannot argue—I can only feel!
I find no answer for your clever words:
It may be in the centuries to come,
When I have grown as wise as you are now,
I, too, shall smile, as at a twice-told tale,
When poets yearn for universal peace,
But yet—I know not! Let me dream my dream—
Maternity is going to the polls!

For The Homemaker's Eye

Chicken or Veal Patties.

Pare six medium sized potatoes that have been left over, or one may boil potatoes for this purpose. Put through meat grinder, and also grind two cups of veal or of left over chicken. Add this to the potatoes and mix thoroughly. Make them into little round flat patties. Dip them into a beaten egg and then into cracker crumbs. Fry on hot griddle.

Rump Pot Roast with Dumplings.

Three pounds beef rump, 1-4 pound salt pork, 1-4 cupful carrots, onion, celery and turnips, 1 teaspoonful parsley, 1 bay leaf, 4 cloves, 1-4 teaspoonful pepper, salt, 3 cupfuls water. Wipe the meat, dredge with flour and brown the entire surface in pork fat. Place on a rack in a kettle, surround with vegetables, spices and water. Season, cover closely and simmer slowly four hours, keeping the liquid below the boiling point. Remove meat and vegetables to hot platter. Thicken stock and serve with vegetables as a sauce around the meat. The sauce may be strained if desired.

Dumplings—2 cupfuls flour, 4 teaspoonfuls baking powder, 1-2 teaspoonful salt, 2 teaspoonfuls fat, 2-3 cupful of milk, more if needed.

Mix and sift dry ingredients. Work in shortening, add milk gradually, pat out one-half inch in thickness, cut with small biscuit cutter. Cook from 12 to 15 minutes. Do not lift the lid while cooking.

This mixture may be made slightly thinner and dropped from a spoon into the stock for cooking.

Salmon Loaf.

Take one small can of salmon, two eggs beaten lightly, four tablespoons of butter substitute, half a cup of fine bread crumbs. Season with salt, pepper and minced parsley. First chop the fish, then rub in the butter substitute until smooth. Beat the crumbs with the eggs, and season before mixing together. Put in a buttered mold, and steam for one hour; when cold arrange on a platter with a border of parsley.

To Make Fluffy Mashed Potatoes.

If you have a bread mixer, mash the potatoes in it, especially if you want them unusually light and fluffy. A tiny pinch of baking powder is another means of giving them an appetizing fluffiness. It should be added after milk and butter and seasoning have been added and should be followed by brisk beating with an egg whip or in a bread mixer as suggested.

Snowballs with Fruit.

Make a batter of one cupful of cream on top milk, two tablespoonfuls of sugar, the yolks of four eggs, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder, and flour to make a drop batter. Fold in the stiffly beaten whites. Fill buttered cups and make in a hot oven. Serve with crushed fruit and cream.

Chocolate Cream Pie.

Make a custard. Bring two cupfuls of milk to a boil, take from the fire and add one-half cupful of sugar, yolks of two eggs which have been beaten to a cream, two squares chocolate melted, then replace on the fire and stir smooth and creamy; add one-quarter of a cupful of corn starch dissolved in a little milk; stir all the time; when thick add one tablespoonful of vanilla and pour into the baked pie crust. When cold cover the top with thick layer of whipped cream.

To Utilize All Kinds Of Fat.

Bacon fat with warmed over baked beans makes a delicious combination.

Sausage fat for ginger bread and molasses cookies gives a spicy flavor. Also saves using other spices.

Ham fat for frying eggs and potatoes is a good substitute for ham.

Pork fat for cake or frying potatoes.

Beef fat for anything which requires shortening, such as cake, pie, etc. All kinds of fat for soap, for which find directions on a can of lye.

Stuffed Prune Salad.

Cook prunes until soft and remove stones without spoiling the shape of the fruit. Stuff the prunes with a filling made of cream cheese and chopped walnuts. Add cream to make cheese and right consistency. Serve with cream dressing on lettuce.

Two busy stenographers in an office in The American Building were watching the crowd of men in the street gazing at the baseball score board.

Said one—"I wish they would send more heat up here, for I feel chilly." "No wonder," the other quickly replied. "The low temperature is due to the many 'fans' around."

A FEW QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

THE financial condition of a public service company cannot be readily discussed without bringing in figures. Yet figures, if they are of large amounts, are confusing to many.

There are certain questions which people often ask in a desire to get to the point quickly and clear up the perhaps natural misunderstandings they may have about the operations of a large telephone property. These we would like to answer for the benefit of everyone.

Q. How much Capital Stock of your Company is in the hands of the owners?

A. $2,000,000.

Q. How much of it is "water"?

A. Not a penny. Every share was paid for in cash by the owners, at par value.

Q. In what is this money invested? Is it in real tangible property?

A. It is invested in modern telephone plant. Just a few of the items are 138 sections of central office switchboard, 49,700 poles, over a million feet of cable containing 53,000 miles of wire, 12,583 miles of wire on poles, 24,000 telephones in service, and the necessary land, buildings, conduit, etc., etc.

Q. How does the value of the property compare with the figure at which it is carried on the books of the Company?

A. A recent inventory and appraisal shows that the value is greater by more than 50%.

Q. You say that owners have been paid no dividends since 1908. Were there any big dividends prior to that time?

A. The largest dividend ever paid was 5% in 1903, on the then capital stock of $100,000; since 1908 there has been no dividend at all.

Q. Have you in the telephone business experienced the same rising costs during the past several years that other business men have?

A. Yes; costs have just about doubled.

Q. Your rates were increased in 1919. Why are they now not sufficient?

A. The rates that were placed in effect by the U. S. Federal Government and that were continued in effect after the operation of the business was turned back to the owners were but 20% greater than those previously in effect. The Postmaster General, when he established those rates, did not seek to provide sufficient revenue to pay dividends. In fact, the rates were designed merely to provide enough revenue to meet in some measure the rising cost of conducting the business. As results indicated, they were not at that time sufficient to permit of paying a reasonable dividend, and they have become continually more inadequate during the period of their continuance. They helped a little, but no more than a 20% increase in your before-the-war income would have helped you meet the rising costs of the last four or five years.

Q. Has a fair dividend return to the owners of the property anything to do with the service at my office or my home?

A. It certainly has! The owner is the investor. He has put his money into the business and he is entitled to earn something on that investment. If he doesn't, he'll not put in any more money. Nor would you, or any other investor. But new invested money has to be had continually. The telephone plant must grow, to take care of new subscribers and those who move or change their type of service. If this new money is not forthcoming, it means that there'll be no more expansion and progress, and it also means that the property and service which are rendered are bound to head down hill fast!

IS DOING TO

RE-ESTABLISH PRE-WAR PRICES

Due to the many price lowering false alarms--sounded by many other merchants--many folks were skeptical when we put our new plan into operation. However, all had absolute confidence in Miller Brothers--and came here to see how genuine our claims really were--WE HAVE CONVINCED ONE AND ALL THAT WE HAVE BROUGHT OUR PRICES BACK TO A PRE-WAR LEVEL AND THAT MILLER BROTHERS have instituted a movement that is bound to react on all other lines--to the ultimate public welfare.

The Plan Further Provides For Liberal Credit For Folks Desiring Same

Not only have we succeeded in bringing down furniture prices to a pre-war level, but are able to permit our patrons to purchase at these astounding prices and enjoy long term payment arrangements. This is probably the biggest blow of all to those merchants who say, "It can't be done."

Miller Brothers have taken the initiative and "done it." Now let all others fall in line.

ATTEND WEDDING AT DELAWARE CITY

Several Newark friends attended the wedding on Saturday of Catherine T., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Schunder and Horace Parker Johnson, of Wilmington.

The bride wore a white imported organdy over white satin and carried white bride roses. The maid of honor was Miss Cardelle Williams of Crescent City, Florida, who wore a blue organdy over blue silk and carried pink roses and blue larkspur. The little flower girl, Anna Oberly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Oberly of Wilmington, wore white with pink ribbons and carried a bouquet of pink sweet peas. George M. Johnson, a brother of the groom, acted as his best man, and Miss Selma Bachrach of Germantown, Pa., played the wedding march.

The bride party passed through an aisle made of flower chains, which was held by all of the bride's girl friends present at the ceremony. Miss Bachrach played "Hearts and Flowers," followed by Mendelssohn's Wedding March. Rodney Schunder, Francis Warner and George Brice of Wilmington were ushers.

Immediately after the ceremony

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson left for a trip to California. Upon their return they will reside in Wilmington.

Guests were in attendance from Washington, Philadelphia, Wilmington, Newark, Delaware City and vicinity.

The Misses Schunder, Williams and Bachrach were college friends, all attending Women's College, Newark. Miss Schunder was graduated from Women's College in 1918 and for two years taught in No. 28 school, Wilmington.

MAKING MONEY

Some men make their money in business—some in stocks—some by toil—some saving of their daily wages. But we submit to you the unquestioned fact that more men have achieved a comfortable competence through the ownership of property—houses and land which bring in a fixed income—than in any other way.

A word to the wise is enough. Watch your neighbors gradually rise in the world and then ascertain how they are doing it.

In nine cases out of ten you will find they have purchased their home or farm—often on easy terms—while their less enterprising neighbor is still paying rent.

A word to the wise is sufficient. If you have not yet started on a place of your own do not delay. Get full particulars about some of the following properties.

- 158 Acre Farm, near Kirkwood Station, $10,000.
- 74 Acre Farm, near Stanton, $10,000.

BUSINESS RECORDS
INCREASE FARMERS'
CREDIT AT BANK

Simple System Showing Assets and Liabilities a Modern Necessity

Farmer Jones desired to negotiate a loan at his local bank. "Just what is your financial condition?" the banker asked him. "Why," said Jones, "I own a house and land, and a couple of horses and some cows and live stock, and an orchard and—"

"Have you a detailed inventory showing the value of these things?" the banker interrupted him.

"No—o", the farmer replied. "I haven't time to bother keeping books."

"Good gracious, man!" exclaimed the banker, "anyone can keep books. The way the thing's worked out nowadays it doesn't require more than five minutes' work a day. Then when you come here for a loan you could produce a sheet of paper and say, 'Here's what I've got, here's what I owe, and here's what I'd have in cash if I sold out tomorrow.' As it is, I'm afraid I can't let you have the money until I have this information."

Simple System Meets Farmer's Needs.

This conversation takes place in hundreds of towns every day, according to specialists of the Office of Farm Management and Farm Economics, United States Department of Agriculture. Of course, farmers are very busy men. They haven't the time to study complicated accounting methods. But, according to the Federal specialists once the principles of book keeping are understood and all farm conditions studied, a simple system of bookkeeping can be developed to meet the farmer's needs.

The foundation of any set of books is an inventory showing the farmer's assets and liabilities. The assets include real estate, live stock, machinery and tools, produce, feed and supplies, cash on hand and in bank, and accounts receivable at the date the inventory is taken. Each item under these headings should be valued at what it can be sold for under normal conditions; live-stock feed and farm produce at market prices, less cost of marketing; farm supplies at cost; machinery and tools at a price allowing for annual depreciation. The liabilities should include mortgages, notes, and accounts payable. The sum of the liabilities deducted from the total assets will show the farmer's net worth.

Classification of Accounts.

While an inventory is generally the first thing a banker asks for when making a loan, he also wants to know the sources of income. By going just a little further the farmer can keep records that will enable him to know his profits and losses. This requires a classification of accounts in which certain principles should be followed. The precise classification to be used is determined by the prevailing conditions on the farm in question.

STRAW MAKES GOOD ROUGHAGE FOR CATTLE

Agricultural Experts Tell of Economic Stock Feeding

Straw, as dry roughage, forms a very prominent place in a ration for cattle, either in the fattening lot or when fed to stockers and feeders. Even where alfalfa hay is fed, cattle will eat more or less of good straw, if they have access to it. It is a good idea to keep some straw before them. Let the cattle pick it over and use what is left for bedding.

Waste No Straw.

Now is a good time to look at your straw stack. Trim up the stack by raking down the sides and properly topping so as to shed the fall rains. By spending a day on your straw stacks now you will save many a ton of straw which can be used in replacing considerably expensive hay next winter.

In some States, most of the corn is cut, shocked, and husked out by hand later in the season. Why not let a shredder do the husking and have a roughage left, the greater part of which will be relished by the cattle? The shredded fodder, which is refused by the cattle, makes one of the very best bedding materials.

Corn fodder, while it is a good roughage, is not an economical one. There is a very large waste in handling. A large percentage of the leaves are lost, and the corn itself is about all the cattle get from the entire corn plant. Run your fodder through a shredder, feed the ear corn separately, and the greater part of the corn plant will be utilized. Corn fodder, however, can be used advantageously at the beginning of the reeding period in the fall or early winter. Range cattle that have never seen corn or grain of any kind can be put on feed more rapidly by starting on green or cured corn fodder. This kind of cattle will begin nibbling at the leaves and gradually get to eating the corn. On the other hand, if ear corn was placed before them it would be days before they would begin to eat it.

The use of legume hays, where grown on the farm, will obviate the use of high-priced protein concentrates. Good hay, however, is high priced and should be fed in such a way as to avoid any waste.

Corn stalks in the field after the corn has been removed, should be utilized by turning a sufficient number of cattle on them to clean them up completely before sever winter and snows come.

Protect Contents of Silo.

The most important roughage, so far as economical beef production is concerned, is yet to be mentioned, and that is silage. Silage is no longer a cheap feed, but in the strictest sense of the word there is no cheap feed. Silage is worth at the present time from $10 to $13 a ton, depending upon local labor conditions and upon the quality of the yield of corn. Even at these prices it makes one of the most economical cattle feeds. More cattle can be handled on a given farm area where the silo furnishes the bulk of the roughage. More feed can be stored per cubic foot of space than by any other means. Cattle can be fattened on silage, supplemented with a small amount of a highly concentrated protein feed, such as cottonseed or linseed meal, and a little dry roughage, such as oat straw. Stockers and feeders can be wintered on silage alone.

How about your silo? Are there any hoops to tighten, any cracks to be repaired, or any painting to be done inside? Now is the time to get your silo in good repair. Frost will come before many weeks, and if your silo is still empty and not in shape you will have to fill it anyway in order to save the greater part of the corn intended for silage. After two or three heavy frosts hit your corn, you have very little of the leaves left to put in the silo.

I feel his soft breath o'er my cheek
And the gentle touch of his hand—
His very presence near me
Seemed a breeze on a desert sand,
He deftly sought my lips,
My head he did enfold,
Then he broke the silence with
"Shall the filling be silver or gold?"

NEWS OF THE NEIGHBORHOOD

As told by Correspondents and Exchanges

PLEASANT HILL
Mrs. E. C. Prettyman and sons, Robert and Eugene, of Wilmington, were the weekend guests of the former's sister, Mrs. Warren Buckingham.
Mr. and Mrs. Harold Mitchell and daughter, Eleanor, of Stanton, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. William Little.
Mrs. Warren Lamborn and daughter, Margaret, are spending some time with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. A. Springer, of Philadelphia.
Misses Rebecca Wilson, Madeline and Ruth Fell spent the weekend with Miss Edna Worrall.
Mr. R. G. Buckingham is visiting his nephew, Dr. E. De Buckingham, in Washington, D. C.
Mr. Clarence Harkness, of Wilmington, has been spending several days with his sister, Mrs. George W. Dempsey.
Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Dempsey entertained on Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Keolig, of Wilmington, Mr. and Mrs. Sam'l Johnston, of Milltown, Delaware.
Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Buckingham, of Newark, spent the weekend with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Buckingham.
Mr. Harley A. Mousley, of Wilmington, spent the week-end with his uncle, H. A. Mousley, and family.
Signs Point to Warm Winter
A warm winter is assured; wild geese are flying northward and gong low at that, and the comb in which the bees have stored their honey is very tin. Could anything be more convincing than these two tokens which from time to time immemorial have been accepted as gospel truth. The chances are just 50-50 that the predictions will be fulfilled. That's one thing in favor of the wise saws of our forebears that they are no more likely to be wrong than right.—Every Evening.

Cafeteria Now at Wilmington Station
A modern, up-to-date cafeteria restaurant, with a confectionery and novelty shop combined, is open for public inspection today in the main lobby of the French street station of the Pennsylvania railroad at Wilmington. The store will be operated by the Union News Company in connection with their string of other station stores throughout the country.

Miss Mowbray to be Married
The engagement of Miss Agnes L. Mowbray, formerly of Elkton, daughter of Rev. Alpheus S. Mowbray, of Washington, D. C., and Thomas S. Farnsworth has been announced. The wedding will take place in December. Miss Mowbray has recently returned from a stay of nearly two years in Constantinople, where she was with the Near East Relief Commission.

Bishop Cook Assumes Duties Tomorrow
Bishop Philip Cook, consecrated Bishop of Delaware in Baltimore last Thursday, will take up his duties in this diocese tomorrow. Immanuel Church, on the Highlands, of which Rev. Charles W. Clash is rector, will be the scene of the new bishop's official activities. His first official function will be at the meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary, which will meet in Immanuel Church next Thursday.
As Bishopstead is in the hands of builders, who are making extensive improvements, and will not be ready for occupancy for several weeks, the new bishop will make his home temporarily at the Old Mill Homestead, the country place of Gen. T. Coleman duPont, in Christiana hundred.

Will Speak at Cowtown.
Miss Hahn, the Red Cross nurse, of Cecil county, will address the Jackson School Improvement Association near Cowtown, Tuesday evening, October 19. County Agent J. H. Knode, will also be present and make some remarks concerning community shows.

Objects to Open Fair on Sunday.
Harmony Grange, No. 12, P. of H., at its last meeting, adopted resolutions objecting to the proposed plan of opening the State Fair on Sunday, next year. The lecturer's hour was devoted to Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, and proved interesting. A sketch of his life was read by Harry Kendall, Jr. "The Psalm of Life" was given by Edno Brackin. Each member responded to the roll call by reciting or reading a verse or poem. Some of those selected were "Hawthorn's Courtship," "The Village Blacksmith," "The Children's Hour," "The Legend Beautiful," and a number of others.

Will Have Another Power Plant
Susquehanna river will have another electric power plant before long, a charter being applied for by George Bullock and E. C. Connette, New York, and R. B. Hull, S. R. Zimmerman and W. W. Griest, all of Pennsylvania. The men mentioned are interested in the Pennsylvania Water and Power Company at Holtwood, Pa.

ROBERT CONNELL WINS CHAMPIONSHIP
"If this heifer were given a little more finish she would make a good account of herself at the National Dairy Show," said Prof. T. A. Baker, of Delaware College, when he awarded the championship in the Boys' and Girls' club class to the heifer exhibited by Robert Connell, of Newark.
The heifer is nine months old and was secured last May at the time the second heifer club was organized. The competition was especially keen and although the heifer exhibited by Charlotte Dayett has held the honors up to date yet this year Charlotte exhibited some good sportsmanship and took a seat among the vanquished.—Extension Service News.

Jack owned a German-made watch. Recently it refused to run, so Jack took it to a jeweler. He made a post-mortem examination, and when Jack called for the verdict his watch was handed to him with a piece of crepe tied to it. "No hope," was the mournful verdict of the jeweler.
"What's the matter?" asked Jack, alarmed.
"Found a cockroach inside."
"That's what plugged up the works, eh?"
"No," replied the jeweler. "The cockroach had been keeping the thing going, but he died at his post."—London Telegraph.

NEWARK HIGH WINS SECOND GAME OF SEASON

Outplays Elkton High on Home Grounds Saturday Afternoon

A large body of enthusiastic rooters witnessed the second victory won by the Newark High School football team on Friday afternoon.

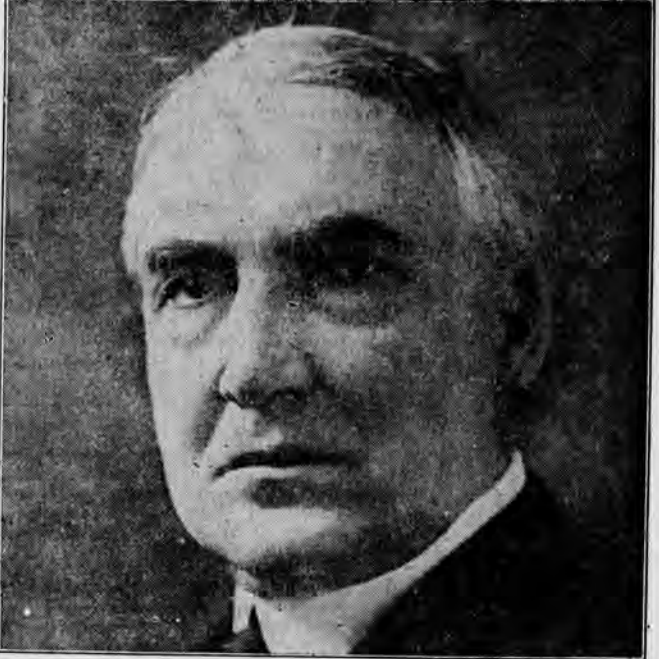

Newark scored a safety within a minute after the game was started. Armstrong kicked off for Newark and booted the ball back of Elkton's goal line.

Elkton was unable to make consistent gains, through Newark's line, and did not get but one first down until the last quarter.

Two of Newark's touchdowns were the result of forward passes intercepted by Armstrong, who made long runs for the touchdowns.

Newark line-up: Elkton, Plummer; Cornog, L. T. Miller; Stafford, L. G. Beers; Hubert, C. Dean; Hopkins, R. G. Heath; Schwartz, R. T. Ramsberg; A. Mayer, R. E. Taylor; Hayes, Q. B. McCune; Armstrong, L. H. McFadden; Evans, R. H. Deibert; J. Mayer, F. B. Cy Ramsberg; Safety, Newark; touchdowns, Armstrong, 5; Evans, 1; J. Mayer, 1; goals from touchdowns, Armstrong, 5; substitutions, Newark, Walton for Hopkins, and Henning for J. Mayer; Elkton, Reynolds for Plummer and Long for Beers. Referee, Holton; Umpire, Dantz; Head linesman, Challenger.

WARREN G. HARDING Your Kind of Man and—

The Next President of the United States

As certain as anything can be, in this world, is the election of Senator Harding. To readers of this newspaper, the many family groups to which it comes a regular welcome visitor, Senator Harding's face shines as that of a friend.

What is Senator Harding's outlook upon life? It is YOUR OWN. Read these extracts from one of his recent speeches: "This government is your government, not that of somebody who is placed in office."

How He Lives. He lives as you live, simply, in the old fashioned American way. The main residence street in any little American town, boasts half a dozen homes more elaborate than Senator Harding's, and many as good.

No hallucination there, no idea that Harding was made to rule, and YOU, who read this newspaper, made to be ruled, or preached at from above by your own elected servant. The duty of the American, whether he be President or simple citizen, is not complicated in Mr. Harding's mind. He says: "As I said at the outset, government is a very simple thing, government is only the regulation of our relationships to one another."

What Kind of Man. Harding is a big American in physical size, thanks to vigorous farming ancestors. He is a big American also in heart, in understanding, in sympathy and in simplicity. You read his speeches and know that he does not imagine himself created to tell all the world what to do.

Women Voting. Women especially have reason to congratulate themselves on the fact that Senator Harding will be the next President. Their sons and fathers are taxed to pay for war. They spend the lonely hours of dreadful anxiety, while the son is away.

Opera House Offerings

A Picture for October Couples. No married couple, or young people about to embark on the uncertain sea of matrimony, should fail to see "The Road to Divorce," the Universal photodrama starring Mary MacLaren, which is to be shown at the Opera House, Thursday.

Women's Rights Seen In Tom Mix Company. Three women whose husbands are employed in the William Fox studios in Hollywood were so anxious to help pay for the little farms they are buying in the neighborhood of Los Angeles that they got places as actresses with Tom Mix in "The Terror," which comes to the Opera House next Monday.

Mrs. Frank Good, wife of the cameraman, working under the name of Not Claire; Mrs. Pat Chrisman, wife of the right-hand cowpuncher of the Tom Mix company, and Mrs. Charles K. French, wife of the Sheriff Jim Canby in "The Terror," went to Sonora, Cal., when the exterior scenes were taken. Each of these families is buying a fruit orchard or alfalfa ranch near Los Angeles, and each is anxious to pay for the property as soon as possible.

Zangwill Plays Here With Shirley Mason. Lively interest has been aroused by Shirley Mason's latest picture to be presented here, not only because of the success recently attained by this young Fox star in "Her Elephant Man," "Love's Harvest" and "The Little Wanderer," but also because of the world-renown of the play in which she is to appear. This is "Merely Mary Ann," the great stage success by Israel Zangwill. It has been made into a motion picture by Fox Film Corporation, and will be shown at the Opera House next Tuesday.
