REPUBLICAN CHAIRMAN URGES VOTERS

First Of Five Registration Days To Be Held Saturday

Saturday will be the first of five days when citizens who expect to go to the polls in November must register in order to be eligible to cast their votes at the national election. Registration will be made on July 20, August 3, or August 8 for the delegate election and on July primary. Thereafter, two other registration days remain, falling on August 21 and October 19.

Registration places for White Clay Creek are: Representative District No. 9, District 1—Deer Park Hotel; District 2—Washington House; District 3—Washington Fire House; District 4—Girl's Club House, Academy Street; District 5—F. Mole's Garage, 57 Elkton Street.

Eugene Severy, chairman of the Republican State Committee, urged citizens to register in a public spirit this week. He said: "I call upon all citizens of this state, regardless of party affiliations, to exercise a privilege now lost to millions of men and women in other parts of the country. I refer to the privilege of registration so that you may vote at the national election. It is not only a privilege, but a patriotic obligation of every man and woman of 21 years and upward to go to the nearest polling place and have your name placed on the registration books for 1940.

"We are living in one of the last outposts of civilization," he continued, "and the majority vote still rules. It is in order to carry out the wishes of the majority of our citizens, it is the duty of all persons of voting age to register so that they can march to the polls on November 5. Any citizen who fails to register is shirking a patriotic duty, especially in these times when important issues confront us, and our very liberties are being threatened."

DOLLAR DAYS INTEREST INCREASING

All Merchants Invited To Participate In Event

Plans for Newark's annual Dollar Days on Friday and Saturday, August 2 and 3 are progressing rapidly, said George F. Jackson, member of the committee in charge of arrangements, yesterday.

A large number of local merchants have already signified their intentions of participating in the event which is again sponsored by the Newark Chamber of Commerce. Among those merchants who have announced their intentions to take part in the event are: Wilmington Auto Sales Co., Jackson's Hardware Store, National 5 & 10c Store, Newark Department Store, M. Pilnic and M. S. Dale.

All merchants in the community are heartily invited to take an active part in this event and offer special bargain attractions for the two days in the effect to attract as many rural and out-of-town shoppers to Newark as possible.

Dollar Days have been successfully staged in Newark for the past several years and have proven to be of great benefit in stimulating sales during the warm, summer months. In this they perform a two-fold duty in also bringing many sentimental values to customers at less than their usual price.

The Chamber of Commerce is participating to the extent of furnishing all participating stores with Dollar Day price tags and defraying the cost of preliminary newspaper advertising. There is no cost to the merchant for participation other than his newspaper space which is sold directly by the newspaper at its regular advertising rate.

Friday, July 26 is the deadline for receiving Dollar Day advertising. All merchants desiring to run Dollar Day ads are urged to get their copy in early. A phone call to 4941 will bring a representative to call and help plan or prepare your advertising at no additional cost.

Water Causes Delay In Laying Sewer

Town Engineer G. C. Price reports that the obstruction on East Main Street, caused by excavation to install the sewerage system in the Harry Bonham development, will be removed shortly.

For the past several days dirt has been piled high on Main Street causing one-way motor traffic in that vicinity. In excavating for the sewer water was struck causing some delay in laying the sewer lines.

The use of pumps has kept the excavation clear of water and permitted work to progress to the point where it will be completed shortly.

CRUSADERS RETURN FROM 1,035-MILE TRIP

Rev. Rickabaugh And Eight Boys Motor Through Eastern States

The White Clay Creek Crusaders' Club accompanied by the Rev. Clyde E. Rickabaugh, pastor of the White Clay Creek Presbyterian Church, returned home last Saturday evening after a six day motor-camping trip thru New Jersey, New England, New York and Pennsylvania.

Covering a distance of 1035 miles, the eight members and Rev. Rickabaugh, traveled in two cars, carrying with them food supplies, a charcoal stove, cots and blankets, and a small ice box.

The group departed on Monday of last week and visited George Washington Bridge across the Hudson, Yale University at New Haven, Conn., Brown University at Providence, R. I., Plymouth, Mass., Old Ironsides in Boston Navy Yard, Old North Church, Bunker Hill Monument and Harvard University, South Berwick, in Maine, the New Hampshire State Prison and Granite Quarry at Concord, Brattleboro in Vermont, the famous Mohawk Trail in Massachusetts, Taconic Trail, and home by the way of the Hudson and Delaware River Valleys.

As in previous years the club located camping sites early in the evening and settled down for the night. Rev. Rickabaugh has always acted as chef on the trips, preparing meals on a small charcoal stove.

On the fifth night of the trip last week, the group camped along the Deerfield River at beautiful Mohawk Park. This is the seventh motor-camping trip the club has taken since its organization nine years ago. Two summers ago the club lived for three days in New York City visiting principal points of interest.

Included in the party were: Daniel DuHamel, William Godwin, Eugene Campbell, Lewis Godwin, Manlove McMullen, Ralph Godwin, Robert Gallaher, Robert Godwin and the Rev. Rickabaugh.

The club is made up of members of the church school at White Clay Creek Church. To become a member, a boy must be twelve years of age and must have been an attendant for two months, after which he must maintain an attendance record of no less than seventy per cent to be in good and regular standing in the Club.

The purpose of the annual trip is educational, as well as to learn how to work, play, and live together. Since the Crusaders' Club was organized twenty-seven boys have been members.

RAGWEED CAMPAIGN

Complete cooperation is urged by F. C. Houghton and W. H. Phillips, members of the Newark Garden Club's committee on ragweed eradication, in the annual drive to eliminate this source of hay fever.

According to a pamphlet published by the Garden Club of Wilmington, sponsor of the campaign, hundreds of thousands of persons are afflicted with hay fever, which causes inflammation of the eyes, nose, and throat.

The following suggestions are given for the eradication of the weed. Don't let ragweed pollen ripen. Pull it up by the roots before the pollen spikes appear.

Keep an alert watchfulness for them, and weed them out as fast as they appear. If ragweeds are allowed to grow to full maturity bearing pollen spikes, then the weed must be burned, spike and all, so that the pollen does not have a chance to be borne away by the wind.

TOTAL OF 808 CARS APPROVED BY CREW

Test To Be Continued Until Next Wednesday

Faulty foot brakes and insufficient and improperly adjusted lights caused most of the trouble for 180 motorists who failed in their attempt to pass cars through the Amstel Avenue lane, being operated by the Delaware Motor Vehicle Department in its twelfth annual inspection campaign. The figures cover the period from Monday until five o'clock last night.

A crew of six men, under the direction of Clarence Foster, handled a grand total of 1,014 cars up until five o'clock last night. Of this number, 808 were passed as being safe for travel on the highway. Temporary rejections were handed 206 motorists, pending adjustments and repairs, according to the report made.

Improper brakes leads the list of defects with 103 cars being turned back for changes, while faulty lights have brought woe to 72 motorists. Rejections have been handed out on other inspection points as follows: windshield, 19; tires, 4; emergency brake, 3; windshield wiper and horn, 2 each, and steering gear 1.

The inspection, which opened on Monday, will be continued until next Wednesday. Hours of inspection are from 8:30 a. m. to 6 p. m.

Of the 808 cars passed, 650 were approved on the first attempt, 142 on the second, and 16 on the third. A total of 235 was passed on Monday, 310 on Tuesday, and 223 yesterday. Only one truck was turned back due to lack of flares.

An inspection official expressed his appreciation to Newark's motoring public for the courtesy and consideration shown his force during the current tests. "We have done our best to cooperate and have endeavored to extend every courtesy possible to owners in Newark," he stated, "and we have been treated in the same manner."

He expressed the opinion that motorists were becoming more educated to the examinations and stated that in a number of instances, drivers voiced appreciation of the tests that proved their vehicles safe for travel on the highways.

Besides Foster, members of the crew are: Harry B. Krauss, of Marshallton; Edward Loveless, of New Castle; George Morgan, of Odessa; William Ayres, of Tuxedo Park; Guy Vale, of Delaware City, and Willard Vandenberg, of near Wilmington.

WEIGHT GAINED AT C.M.T.C. CAMP

9,000 Pounds Of Beef Eaten In Ten Days By Trainees

The fact that Citizens Military Training Camp candidates gain in weight during their 30 days encampment here is readily understood after one notes the amount of food consumed by these 2,000 young men," said Captain Victor E. Phassey, 18th Infantry and C.M.T.C. Mess Officer.

In his quarterly report to Colonel Eley P. Densen, 18th Infantry and C.M.T.C. commander, Captain Phassey stated that 18 tons of bread; 9,000 lbs. of beef; 27,120 half pints of milk; 18,500 lbs. of potatoes; 2,000 quarts of ice cream; 2,500 lbs. of bacon; 24,000 eggs; 10,000 cans of evaporated milk; 25,000 packages of cereal; 12,000 lbs. of sugar; 6,000 lbs. of apples; 75 crates of oranges; 6,000 lbs. of flour; and many tons of fresh vegetables had been consumed from July 5, to July 15. More than 18 tons of ice was used to preserve meat and other perishables.

"Rigid sanitary precautions designed to protect the health of the boys from New York, New Jersey and Delaware," Captain Phassey added, "are in effect at all times. Strict supervision of all food, drinking water, and living quarters is maintained 24 hours a day by medical inspectors. The kitchens and mess halls are kept scrupulously clean. Dishes, tableware and cooking utensils are washed in boiling, soapy water and rinsed in clear boiling water. No towels are permitted to touch the dishes. They are stacked neatly after being washed so they may 'air dry'."

"Kitchens and mess halls," he went on, "are kept tightly screened. Even the ice boxes are scrubbed out daily."

Captain Phassey stated the food handlers were subjected to a more rigid sanitary inspection even than the C.M.T.C. candidates.

"Particular attention is paid to hands, finger-nails and clothing of food handlers," he said. "Frequent hand washing is required of all mess and kitchen attendants. All food, food products and beverages are obtained only from healthful sources approved by the camp surgeon, Major William Kraus of the U. S. Army Medical Corps."

Range firing will begin here tomorrow when the youths will test the value of the three previous days instruction. First-year and second-year men will fire the U. S. Caliber .30 Springfield Rifle. The third year candidates will fire the Browning automatic rifle, and the fourth year or "graduating class" will try their skill with the caliber .45 pistol.

These candidates who are here for training in military science, athletics and good citizenship will leave for their homes on August 3. After completing four summers of C.M.T.C. training and the necessary correspondence courses, a trainee is eligible for a commission in the Officers Reserve Corps of the United States Army. Attendance at a C.M.T.C. Camp does not culminate with a future military obligation.

Two of the Reds, Bucky Walters and Morrie Arnovich, were great basketball players.

GARMENT WORKERS GET WAGE INCREASE

Delaware garment workers will receive hourly wage rate increases as a result of the Apparel Wage Order under the Federal Wage and Hour Law, according to Arthur J. White, Regional Director of the Wage and Hour Division, United States Department of Labor, for Delaware and New Jersey. The Apparel Wage Order, which went into effect Tuesday morning, was signed in Washington on May 15, 1940, by Colonel Philip B. Fleming, Administrator of the Wage and Hour Division. It established minimum wage rates of 32 1-2 cents, 35 cents, 37 1-2 cents and 40 cents an hour for twenty-five divisions of the garment industry. It was estimated that these rates will increase the wages of some 200,000 garment workers throughout the nation.

"I do not think it is any exaggeration to say that this wage order is welcomed by most manufacturers in lines which in the past have experienced cycles of wage cutting and price cutting," said Mr. White. "From now on, these manufacturers will be able to operate with confidence that future underselling will be made possible only by factors other than cut-wage competition. To that extent this wage order should bring stabilization in the garment industry. We have enough inspectors now to do a job and we are going to see to it that this order is enforced in New Jersey and Delaware."

In Delaware, more than 1,000 garment workers are employed in the manufacture of men's cotton garments. These workers are employed at a very low average wage, Mr. White pointed out, and it is likely that one-half to three-fourths of them will have to be given wage rate increases to meet the 32-12 cent requirement of the Federal Wage Order for this type of manufacture. Approximately 2,000 other workers are employed in the manufacture of women's underwear, dresses, blouses and sportswear. These workers will receive the benefits of the Apparel Wage Order which establishes various wage rates between 32 1-2 cents and 40 cents an hour.

The Wage Order directs that every establishment making garments by the cut-and-saw method display a poster. The Division has mailed these posters from Washington to some 15,000 garment shops in the nation. The Wilmington office has a number of these posters on hand and will be able to supply them to any manufacturers who need them. The poster, which outlines the wage rates, must be displayed or it is a violation of the law.

The figures of the number of workers involved, Mr. White said, are largely based on the 1937 Census of Manufacturers. The office of the Wage and Hour Division in Delaware is in the Federal Building, Wilmington, Delaware.

DON'T SQUANDER TAX NICKELS

The current world crisis, which has come home with a bang to the United States, should have at least one beneficial effect—and that is to discourage the proponents of certain costly, unnecessary and highly dubious political schemes.

One such scheme is the St. Lawrence river project, whereby the United States government would spend hundreds of millions for hydro-power development which we don't need, and for inland water transport facilities which would simply divert business from existing private carriers.

According to dispassionate surveys, the St. Lawrence project would result in cheaper transportation and cheaper power only if a large part of the cost were charged off to other purposes—only, in other words, if government subsidized the business with the taxpayers' money. If all costs were honestly figured, including the loss in wages and purchasing power that would result from displacement of existing business, the power and the transportation would prove to be excessively expensive.

We need the St. Lawrence project about as much as a cat needs five legs. Private industry in this country is prepared to give us all the transportation and power service we can possibly use. It will give it to us by spending private money, not tax money. It will create new and important sources of taxation, instead of destroying sources of taxation. It will provide real jobs in real productive industry—not political sinecures.

Even in times of world peace and bounding prosperity, it is doubtful if we can afford political projects to destroy private business. Certainly we can't afford them now, when every possible tax nickel must be turned to national defense.

KEEPING THE BALANCE

Mass distribution has been of great service to the entire country—and of special service to the smaller community.

In the horse and buggy era, our possible radius of daily or weekly travel was extremely limited. Persons living in villages were forced to trade at home, no matter how high prices were in local stores, or how poor the stocks of goods offered. Journeys of even twenty or thirty miles were lengthy, and made at rare intervals. Those were the days of real retail monopoly—the local "general store" proprietor, if he chose, could deal with his customers on a "like it or lump it" basis and they were virtually helpless.

Universal use of the automobile, coupled with the development of good roads, effected a rural revolution. In a half hour or so of driving, it was possible for the average family to reach a sizeable community, served by many stores. Competition in these cities had forced prices down and improved service. By buying for a week or two ahead, the cost of the trip was more than offset. And so, little by little, local business began to drift away from the smaller centers to the larger communities.

Then mass distribution effected another revolution. Independent merchants improved their methods, and some joined central buying organizations. The result was that prices in the small towns were as low as in the cities—and stocks of goods as wide and as attractively displayed. Local business began staying at home again—not from necessity this time, but because it wanted to.

Mass distribution has saved a long list of small communities from economic retrogression. And it is a powerful factor in keeping the proper economic balance between the village and the city.

GUARDING OUR HEALTH

A substantial part of the several billion dollars which constitutes the yearly sickness bill paid by the American public is due to general indifference to health. A survey by the Battle Creek sanitarium shows that every 3.2 seconds one patient entered American hospitals during 1939.

"In the same year," says Dr. John E. Gorrell, administrator of the Michigan health center, "9,879,244 patients were admitted to registered hospitals of the country, not including more than a million babies born in hospitals."

Much of the nation's sickness bill could be saved and general health improved by only moderate effort and a first step should be a regular check-up on physical condition by a competent doctor who is alert to the danger signals, the survey report says.

"History repeats in health records as in other ways," declares Dr. Gorrell. "At the end of each depression many physical ailments appear among business men who give little thought to their health during the period of economic stress. The highest percentage of nervous disorders is found in persons who have been subject to severe mental strain. Less worry and proper attention to health measures would reduce the sickness bill and add greatly to vitality and longer life."

As the vacation season approaches, medical authorities point to the wisdom of rest and recreation under proper supervision.

YOUR BIG CAPITAL

The population of Washington, D. C., has increased 36.3 per cent in ten years, and the census takers now find that the population is 663,153. This is a spectacular gain that is "explained by the analogy that bees grow where the honey is." A big Washington newspaper expresses the belief that the New Deal is responsible for most of the influx.

Washington has more than doubled its population since the days when Woodrow Wilson was serving his first term as President.

NOT DEBATABLE

Long-winded statements concerning possibilities of Japan and Germany setting up "their own imitation Monroe Doctrines" seem to answer none of the questions.

Secretary of State Hull took the short cut when he advised Hitler that the American Monroe Doctrine is not open to discussion—that it means just exactly what it says! That was a straight shot, because the Monroe Doctrine is a chip on Uncle Sam's shoulder which Europe and Asia are warned they must not attempt to knock-off.

Secretary Hull understands the difficulties of the Western Hemisphere, and he is using all the forces of the Monroe Doctrine to hold the 21 American Republics together, even though some of them are ill-mannered and mostly anything except good neighbors. This solidarity appears to be for our own sake as well as for the Latins.

CONSOLIDATED SCHOOLS

Elimination of small rural school houses which have outlived their day and the development of larger schools that may be made real centers of community life is recommended by practically all progressive educators.

The old one-room schoolhouse served well in the period when sparse settlements and lack of good roads prevented the assembling of more than a few pupils in any one place for instruction. If it did not serve well, it at least was the best means available for its purpose.

Much progress already has been made in the direction of consolidated schools, but the movement has not everywhere kept pace with the need for better planned instruction. Educators believe that all small rural schools might well be eliminated in districts where good roads make transportation of pupils for longer distances practicable.

Where this is not feasible for all pupils, it is suggested that those of the sixth grade and above should be transported to the larger schools, which should be made community centers. In no other way will it be possible to give farm children and education comparable with that enjoyed by those of the towns and cities—and all children should have equal opportunities so far as it is possible to provide them.

The traditional "little red schoolhouse" was a great institution in its day, but it is rapidly giving way to the more efficient consolidated school, by which the cause of education is being steadily advanced.

SOMEONE ONCE said that if a smart businessman could buy Walter H. Clark's dogs for their real value and sell them at half of what he says they're worth, a small fortune would be placed at the guy's feet—at least enough to permit him to settle down comfortably for the next eighty years.

Clark, the sole owner and manager (nobody else wants 'em) of Slenek Kennels, is believed to have gone haywire due to the strain of too many business operations and it is said that his illusions of grandeur came following a bee sting during his operations as an apiarist.

OPERATING A LINOTYPE AS A sideline to finance his various ventures, Mr. Clark has invested his two pesos per day into everything from selling ladies' hose to hooking snappers for soup and in every case, the project has turned out to be a dead loss.

His selling episode found him holding a bag filled with no less than fifty pairs of silky women's stockings and it wasn't until he took unto himself a wife that an outlet for this excess was found.

At the present time, the Slenek project is estimated to be fleecing him at the steadily climbing rate of $2.00 per day, a sum which he immediately adds to the price of a dog.

According to Mr. Clark's fantastic method of accounting, the Kennels and their contents are valued as follows:

BESSIE SLENK (BLUE FEMALE setter)—value, $1,467.43; Nancy Slenek (Black and white female pointer)—value, $994.32; Slenek's Canadian Ghost (Imported white female setter)—value, $3,000.00; Slenek's Little Dan (Liver and white male pointer)—value, $646.84; Slenek's Mighty Duke (Liver and white male pointer)—value, $678.90; Slenek's Doctor (Black and white male pointer)—value, $888.88; Slenek's Mark (Liver and white male pointer)—value, $2,048.67.

With the inmates of the kennels valued by Mr. Clark at $9,375.13, and the construction itself at $5.76, we can see that the master has a grand total of $9,380.89 invested in his present enterprise.

The $3000-tag has been placed on Slenek's Canadian Ghost because she was imported from Canada during prohibition days. Some say it was a case of love at first sight when Mr. Clark picked her up as a stray while touring the country while others say her long, shaggy coat made an ideal nesting place for the forbidden beverage.

Slenek's Mark has been tagged at $2,048.67 because he's been in Mr. Clark's hands for over 10 years. At $2.00 per day, you can readily see what a real sacrifice Mr. Clark would be making if he should sell at this price, but he insists that he's interested more in breeding than profits which probably accounts for his willingness to bear the loss.

A 500-page booklet recently published by Mr. Clark rings praises loud and clear of Slenek. The following description is given (bear in mind it has been written by Mr. Clark):

"Ideally situated in the rolling Chestnut Hill country, Slenek Kennels are designed to provide your pet with all the comforts of home. A lazy breeze from the west during the summer months is nature's air-conditioning unit in hot weather while an oil heater, thermostatically controlled, keeps every kennel at an even temperature throughout the winter.

"Surrounding trees provide the environment your dog deserves and personal care and feeding, handled by the master himself, puts every animal at his ease and in the proper frame of mind to enjoy a holiday in the country."

Home Tilts May Be Played On New Field

Two of the University of Delaware's four home football games may be played at Wilmington Park, it was announced this week by Gerald P. Doherty, Jr., graduate manager of athletics.

Lebanon Valley College, of Annville, Pa., will replace American University on the schedule, listed for November 23 and may be played in Wilmington along with the Pennsylvania Military College tilt, formerly held at Atlantic City, N. J., on November 9. A definite decision will not be made on the site of these games, however, until the athletic council meets in the fall.

The Blue and Gold gridders open their season on October 5 with Hampden-Sydney at Hampden-Sydney, Va., and will also play away the following Saturday, meeting Dickinson College at Carlisle, Pa.

The Ursinus Bears will come to Newark for the Blue Hens, first home game on October 19 and on October 26, the Drexel Tech team will return to the Delaware wars after a year's absence. This game will also be played at Newark.

Johns Hopkins is slated for November 2 and this game, although at first schedule for Newark, may be played at Baltimore at the insistence of Blue Jay officials. A two-year pact was agreed upon with Hopkins with the Baltimore institution now preferring the first game in Baltimore.

Following the P.M.C. game, Washington College will play host to the Hens on the 16th, with the season concluding with the Lebanon Valley game.

SOUTHSIDE PACES BOTH DIAMOND LEAGUES

Moves To Front In Both Soft And Hard Ball Circuits

Southside continued to set a fast pace in the Newark Playground Softball League when Martin's Cue Stars fell by a 7-4 count, the fourth victim of the loop-leading sluggers.

The Playground team moved into undisputed possession of second place, two games behind the pace-setters, by handing Continental a 20-7 count, thus splitting even in the four tilts to-date for a 500 percentage. Continental and Martin's are now deadlocked for the third spot with one victory each in four starts.

Southside and the Lumbrook Packers monopolized play in the Playground Baseball League as they divided the spoils of four games played last week. The former outfit took possession of the first spot by thumping the Cleveland Avenue Sluggers, 13-1, then moved its win total up to three when Cen-Choc was taken into camp by a 10-2 count. The leaders have won three tilts without suffering a setback while Lumbrook is in the second position with two wins against no defeats.

Packer victories were both dug sessions as Toe-Nail Alley, winner of the first round, tumbled by a 9-7 count, and Cleveland Avenue was handled in 8-0 shut-out.

Women Shatter Skeet Records At Annual Championship Shoot

WOMEN are making sensational scores and new records in skeet shooting, and becoming increasingly enthusiastic over this sport. A striking instance of this was seen at the 12th annual Great Eastern Skeet Championships at the Remington Gun Club, Lordship, Conn., June 21-23, when Mrs. M. L. Smythe, of Aurora, Ohio, (right) surpassed all previous Lordship records in the women's event winning the championship with a score of 99 out of 100 targets in a field of nineteen entrants.

The runner-up, Miss Patricia Laurson, of Akron, Ohio, (left) holder of the national skeet title, was not far behind, with a score of 98 x 100. Tied for third place were Miss Diana Bolling of Old Greenwich, Conn., 1939 Great Eastern women's champion, Mrs. M. B. Orr of New York and Miami and Mrs. Lloyd Bissell of Williamsville, N. Y., with 94 out of 100 targets.

The contrasting personalities of these three experts indicate that women of all types are taking up the sport. Mrs. Smythe is a diminutive, vivacious brunette; Miss Laurson is a tall, 19-year-old blonde; and Miss Bolling, is slim, reserved and blue-eyed.

Mrs. Smythe, the new title holder, considers skeet ideal for women because it requires skill rather than physical endurance, allowing them

LEGION HANDED DEFEAT

Drop Behind In Series For State Crown

Deadlocking the series at two games each on Friday, the J. Allison O'Daniel Post No. 10, Junior Legion baseball team miscued its way into another 7-4 defeat at the hands of the Delaware Post No. 1 of Wilmington, Monday night. The game was the first played on the new Baynard Field diamond and a short ceremony preceded the tilt.

Mayor Walter W. Bacon, of Wilmington, made a few appropriate remarks, complimenting the park commissioners for the facilities they were affording the public and then threw out the first ball.

Wilmington, represented by the P. S. duPont High School team, was held to five hits by three Newark pitchers, but capitalized on errors and walks to score twice in the first frame and five in the fourth. The sixth game will be played on Tuesday.

The locals, after losing the first two games of the series, staged a comeback and finally evened the standing on Friday when they blasted out a decisive 9-1 victory.

Breaking the scoring ice in the first frame, the O'Danielmen enjoyed a six-run scoring spurge in the third, then added two more in the sixth while the Wilmington Club managed to push across a single tally in the final frame. Thorpe and Wells, with two hits each, were the batting stars for the locals in Friday's game while Brooks and McCormick each came through with a brace of singles Monday night.

"An agreement is in the process of being made with the U. S. Department of Agriculture by the Delaware Extension Service and the State Board of Agriculture by which Federal-State-licensed inspectors of eggs will be available in Delaware.

"The plan being developed is the outgrowth of recent efforts of the State Board officials which started with a tour to inspect egg grading stations operating in Virginia and the Washington, D. I MUST HAVE A NOSE FOR NEWS!

I guess it just comes from living close to folks around here, but I sure seem to have a pretty good idea when they're going to get excited about what I have to offer in the truck line.

When the 1939 Ford V-8 Trucks were introduced, with that big new 95-horsepower V-8 engine, I spotted it as a "natural." Shucks! Any truck buyer will get pepped-up about an engine like that. And when you think that now I can offer 95, 85, or 60 horsepower V-8 truck engines—well, try to match that in any other low-price truck.

Then along about mid-June, when the new Ford V-8 Three-Quarter Tonner came out, I knew I had another ace in my Ford Truck line. This truck really can save money for folks who carry bulky loads that weigh around three-quarters of a ton. Lots of room. Lots of power and speed. Choice of 95 or 85 horsepower engine. Big hydraulic brakes. Just about everything you could ask for.

And by the way, if you haven't seen this new truck, and gotten the full story about the big Ford V-8 Truck and Commercial Car line for 1940, drop in soon and look them over. I'll be glad to see you.
