C. OF C. TO DISCUSS PARKING CONDITIONS

Public Invited To Meeting At High School Tonight

Recently elected officers of the Newark Chamber of Commerce are entering upon their duties with vigor. It was demonstrated here this week when President D. A. McClintock and vice president Alfred Deck called a public meeting of all members together with merchants and professional men of Newark at the Newark High School tonight.

Called for seven thirty o'clock, the meeting will be held in Room 117, on the first floor of the high school building, for the purpose of discussing present traffic regulations and parking conditions on Main Street.

The general public is invited to attend and take part in the discussion in a sincere attempt to arrive at a more generally satisfactory regulation of traffic and parking conditions. Personal invitations have been mailed each Main Street merchant and member of the C. of C. by the secretary.

It is hoped that a public discussion of the situation may lead to concrete proposals to be placed before the council at their meeting on Monday, February 3.

Due to the fact that approximately one hundred business and professional men are expected to attend the meeting, it was thought advisable to hold it in the high school where adequate seating capacity could be assured.

President McClintock will preside over the meeting.

Many of the surplus products have been absorbed since the wage scale has shown a tendency to increase, he pointed out.

Dr. Bausman endorsed the Surplus Commodity Program, but only as an emergency and not a permanent measure.

Jos. M. McVey, chairman of the committee appointed to investigate present elementary school building conditions, reported that although the district is still indebted on the high school addition, there would be no difficulty in floating an additional bond issue providing the necessary referendum and legislation were secured.

APPROVAL GIVEN NEW ELEMENTARY BUILDING

P. T. A. Favors Bond Issue If Funds Are Not Available

If the people of Newark expect a new elementary school building to replace the present outmoded one located on the corner of Delaware Avenue and Academy Streets they may as well be prepared to pay for it through additional taxes, more than a hundred members of the Newark Parent-Teacher Association were told at their regular monthly meeting held in the high school auditorium last Thursday evening.

Mrs. Milton L. Draper turned the meeting over to former president George M. Haney, following the presentation of a short film, who conducted the "question box" routine. Most questions dealt with routine school problems which were answered by Assistant Superintendent M. James Parsons.

The fireworks commenced when Mr. Haney pulled the question pertaining to the probability of obtaining a new school building during the present session of the General Assembly. Speaker of the House George W. Rhodes was present and called upon to express his views of the subject, warned that the present legislature is 'economy minded' and that appropriations requested already exceeded the estimated income for the biennium by more than four million dollars.

Mr. Parson quoted figures on the present bonded indebtedness of the Newark Special District and estimated that a new building consisting of from twelve to sixteen rooms would cost approximately $10,000 to $12,000 per room.

Jos. M. McVey, chairman of the committee appointed to investigate present elementary school building conditions, reported that although the district is still indebted on the high school addition, there would be no difficulty in floating an additional bond issue providing the necessary referendum and legislation were secured.

Mr. McVey's committee was named to further investigate every possibility of securing funds from the legislature during this session and report at the next meeting.

Speaking on the subject were Representative Rhodes, Mr. McVey, Paul D. Lovett, Kenneth J. Kadow and others. Superintendent C. E. Douglass gave a brief account of his appearance before the budget commission and said that their proposals did not include any allotment of funds for new buildings this biennium.

The consensus of opinions expressed was that funds would not be forthcoming from the State and that the people of the district would prefer to levy and pay additional taxes than continue sending their children to the present elementary building.

Just before the conclusion of the meeting a petition addressed to the Town Council and objecting to the proposed erection of a garage and filling station on Academy Street, across from the school property, was read and those present requested to sign it upon leaving the meeting.

Tea was served at the conclusion of the meeting by Mrs. R. M. Thompson and Mrs. A. L. Osterhof's committee, Mrs. C. E. Douglass and Mrs. Wm. K. Gillespie poured. Assisting with the serving were Mrs. M. James Parsons, Mrs. Anthony J. Doordan, Mrs. A. W. Perry, Mrs. Howard B. Jernee and Mrs. Frank Balling.

To the Citizens Of Newark . . .

There is at this time a petition being circulated in Newark designed to prevent the relocation of our Dodge-Plymouth Agency and repair shop from South College Ave. to a proposed new building on Academy Street. Citizens are being solicited to sign this petition by the statement that a hazard would be created to school children. This misrepresentation is not based on facts.

An actual survey proves beyond doubt that the pavement on the west side of Academy St. below Delaware Ave. is used by less school children than any other point in central Newark, is therefore the safest point of any available location.

Persons are requested to refuse to sign this petition unless solicitors can furnish proof and facts to uphold their statement.

Persons who have already signed because of misstatement of facts can withdraw their names by post card or letter addressed to Rittenhouse Motor Co. or to Council of Newark.

Do not be a party to the strangulation of business in Newark.

Yours for Service Safety Business

DON'T PARK HERE

Someone besides ourselves has finally realized that present traffic regulations and parking conditions on our Main Street are deplorable, it would seem.

We are in hearty accord with the public meeting being held by the Chamber of Commerce tonight to discuss ways and means of alleviating a stagnated situation that has been allowed to remain in the face of increased population, a greater number of new homes and other civic improvements achieved during the past twelve months.

Some months ago we wrote several articles in this column bemoaning conditions — we even cried a little and pleaded for just one person to agree with us . . . and that's exactly what we got — just one person who felt the way we did. So, conceding the futility of a one-man rebellion we gave up the ghost and resigned ourselves to being prohibited from double-parking on Main Street while huge trucks stand in the middle of the street daily and stop traffic unmolested.

We don't believe any parking regulation ever enacted will keep cars off the streets. We don't need more regulations anyway — what we need is a community parking lot where visitors will feel welcome to drive in and stay as long as they like without fear of having to pay a dollar if they stay in one place more than sixty minutes. We should be interested in having more cars come to our business sections and not trying to regulate them away.

The University might well lead the way by providing more parking spaces such as they have behind Wolfe Hall. That would help on Main Street some . . . and on South College Avenue, too.

Maybe business men and C. of C. members have also gotten tired of driving up Main Street and not having any place to park. Maybe they're tired of seeing business being diverted from their doors because motorists couldn't find a parking space to pull into while they ran in to make a purchase.

Maybe (it's a forlorn hope), just maybe, some of the rest of the people in this town think we need a community parking lot. We advanced that thought some months ago and it didn't get to first base. Anyhow we're interested in seeing what happens at the Chamber of Commerce meeting tonight and we sincerely hope enough real interest is shown to produce concrete results.

Not, in any sense, that we think the Chamber of Commerce or any other organization, or person, should attempt to dictate to the Town Council or try to run the town. But, the Chamber of Commerce members and business men of Main Street are vitally interested in Newark and we do think the council should welcome and consider any constructive suggestions they may offer.

AN OPEN LETTER

To Parents Of School Children

Dear P.-T. A. Member:

This is an emergency call to every parent who has children in the Newark Schools.

The Council of Newark has indicated its intention to grant a permit to the Rittenhouse Motor Company to build a garage and filling station on a lot on Academy Street directly across from the School property.

A meeting of the Council to reach a final decision on this question will be held at 8:00 p. m. on Monday evening, February 3.

Your Association has named a committee to appear before the Council and protest against this action because at the last meeting, there was an overwhelming vote expressing the opinion that such a building would create a hazard to the lives of our children.

It is now urged that all parents who are opposed to this garage at the entrance to their children's school, attend this Council meeting on Monday evening to lend their support to the committee, and to impress upon the Council the fact that Newark parents do not want such a permit granted.

Won't you be present on Monday evening, February 3, at 8 o'clock, City Building, 26 Academy Street.

Sincerely,
President
Newark P.-T. A. Ass'n.

Be Quick To Treat Bronchitis
Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. Creomulsion blends beachwood creosote by special process with other time tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics. No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough, permitting rest and sleep, or you are to have your money back. Flashes By Bill Fletcher members of the University of Delaware faculty, Joe Shields, faces an unenviable job in taking over the Blue and Gold basketball squad.

It's no easy task to assume responsibility for any athletic team, successful or not, in mid-season, and the former Springfield athlete probably realizes as much as anyone what a problem he'll be forced to solve.

In the first place, no two coaches think alike and Joe will probably want to make changes in the methods now being employed—not that Flucie Stewart's weren't good—and to make any type of change is usually hard on the performance, at least for the time being.

Joe may draw some criticism because of these revisions in both the Hens' offensive and defensive, (after all, the Hens have won four and lost only three), but you can't expect him to stand pat on the present system any more than you would expect a substitute boxer to follow the same style as the replaced mitt-slinger.

ACCORDING TO REPORTS FROM

Taylor Gymnasium, the Hens will adopt a zone defense, a type which has practically always proved Delaware's downfall. On a small floor like the one in the local gym, the zone method of repelling an attack is obviously much more effective—at least it always kept the locals bottled up whenever they've been forced to face it.

Stewart worked wonders with a group that was made up mainly of raw material and plenty of height. He worked his former charges into a four-game winning streak that included a conquest over Washington College, the first win over the Shoremen since 1936 and the second win in the last 18 games which stretched out over a period of nine years. The spirit which he instilled into the team through his popularity had a lot to do with the performance of the team.

In his five years here, Joe has also made quite an impression and has established his popularity with students and townspeople alike. In this respect, he should meet Flucie on even terms—at least he won't be met by a squad of rebellious cagers who resent the fact that their coach is moving out.

Congratulations to Flucie for his step upward—and the best of luck to Joe in his new venture. They both deserve the best of everything, for to steal the slogan of a well-known product, "Such Popularity Must Be Deserved."

DEFEATED IN THEIR LAST TWO

starts, the Hens will move back to the wars when they face Western Maryland next Saturday on a foreign court. Washington College will be given its opportunity for revenge on Feb. 12 when the Shoremen will entertain the locals at Chestertown, Md., after which the Drexel Dragons are slated to invade Taylor Gymnasium on Feb. 15.

Coach Ed Bardo's swimming team has also launched a brilliant season and the Blue and Gold tankmen, riding the crest of a three-meet winning streak in the same number of starts, will entertain a top-notch Gettysburg outfit here next Saturday night.

Developed of winning teams for the past ten years, the experience of having his squad on the right side of the ledger is no new sensation to Ed who has, on numerous occasions, whipped together an excellent team out of inferior material.

WOODROW BECK AND BOB WALLS MOVE INTO SEMI-FINAL ROUND IN CUE TEST

Harvey Johnson Tumbles Before Chum Tweed, 100-98, To Join Ranks Of Defeated Favorites; Ken Barnes Trimmed By Jake Hogan, 100-89

Sporting a 40-ball handicap, Chum Tweed emerged victorious over Harvey Johnson in a nip-and-tuck battle to move into the quarterfinal round of Jimmy Martin's annual championship billiard tournament and treasure hunt, which is currently being staged at the State parlor.

Eking out a 100-98 triumph, Tweed spilled the fourth scratch player in the competition as Johnson followed the downward path blazed by Jack Daly, Bill Trigalet, and Dick Tweed.

Daly, who was favored to cop the 1940 crown, was eliminated in the first round when Woodrow Wilson Beck handed him a 100-65 trimming, while Trigalet was dropped 100-68 by Ken Barnes, and Dick Tweed tumbled, 100-86 before the stroking of Bill Smith.

With four of the favorites now out of the running, only Bob Walls, who entered the semi-final round via a 100-69 conquest over Jack Sanders, and Leonard Eubanks, who is slated to meet Herman T. Renshaw in the quarterfinals, remain as scratch players.

Continuing the hot pace he set in the first round when he trimmed J. Daly, Beck also marched into the semi-final division when he handed Ed Morgan a one-sided 100-56 lacing.

Jake Hogan, forced to yield 15 balls to Barnes, overcame the handicap and emerged with a 100-89 triumph to move into the quarterfinal round.

In The Doghouse

With
RAUL BRAM

"She's Only A Bird!! . . ."

Since childhood I have been profoundly interested in all forms of wild life and their habits. As a boy I raised Bob White Quail, Mallard Ducks and Ring Neck Pheasants in captivity. Many of my birds became perfectly tame but this week I ran across a very unusual case where a wild bird had become completely domesticated. Six years ago Chandler Gebhart of New Castle found a dove on the highway with a broken wing and leg. He took the bird to his home and set the breaks, and in due time it recovered and was placed in a cage. Through good care and careful handling she became perfectly tame.

The following spring Mr. and Mrs. Gebhart loaded the dove and her cage in the family automobile and took her into the country. The cage and bird was removed from the automobile, taken into the field always and the dove liberated. Not knowing what to make of her new freedom she circled the car several times and then finally perched on the cage. She was again tossed into the air and encouraged to fly away, but she again returned to her cage. The next move was to place the cage in the automobile, thinking that if the cage was not present she would fly away to the freedom she formerly enjoyed, but this little dove, which is recognized as one of our most timid game birds, was not to be separated from her kind friends so easily. This time she returned to the automobile and perched on the running board.

Completely perplexed, Mr. Gebhart returned the bird to her cage where she is getting as kind treatment as ever tendered a wild bird in captivity. She will perch on her owner's hand and listen to every word he speaks. When he suggests that she fight a little she will pick away with all her might, when he says it is time to get back in the cage he will carry her to the door and she will dutifully walk from his hand into the cage protecting her from the hunter, both human and vermin, that her less fortunate brothers and sisters are exposed to each day. Maybe the little lady knew something when she refused to leave her new found friends five years ago.

Competition Looms

George W. Robinson of Smyrna, whom I consider one of the best amateur trainers of bird dogs in the state, is serving notice on the boys for another year. He recently purchased a setter puppy from C. D. Jordan from that famous Timberson ex Georgia Rose Piedmont mating, which produced "Darbe" and "Rosetime." Both of these dogs have done considerable winning on the big circuit. Jim Dorian of Hartley has a Timberson puppy "Timberson's Tim," that has done some winning this past fall, and he has also purchased a litter mate to the Robinson puppy. This pair should furnish keen competition in the Derby Trials this fall.

Local Man Honored

In Wilmington this week I learned some news of interest to the dog fanciers of our state. Miller D. Darrell of Newark will judge the pointers at the Westminister Kennel Club show to be held at Madison Square Garden on February 11th, 12th and 13th, and Paul Leahy will judge Irish Setters at the North West Chester Kennel Club show, Katonah, N. Y. It should make all of our fanciers very happy to learn that two Delawareans have been so honored. Miller Darrell, President of the Delaware Setter and Pointer Club, is an old-timer in the game, and would be in constant demand as a judge but for the fact that he would much rather run his own dogs in Trials than to judge those of someone else, and he does not have the time to give from business to travel around the country as a bench show judge. Paul Leahy is more or less a new-comer in the game, in terms of years, but he has been very successful both as a breeder and exhibitor of Irish and English setters. Paul Leahy is an active officer of the Kennel Club of Wilmington. Will see you next week.

RACING SEASON TO OPEN MAY 30

30-Day Session Will Include Two Holiday Weekends

Delaware's fifth season of racing open on Memorial Day, Friday, May 30, for a 30-day meet, it was announced by Leonard Richards, secretary of Delaware Racing Commission.

The season will include two holiday week-ends, and four additional days. The track will be closed on Mondays, June 9 and 16.

Last year, the Delaware track had only five Saturdays and one May 29. By advancing the date a day, the 1941 card is expected to extend a day after the July 4 to a sixth Saturday, when the track two holiday week-ends.

No definite information is available on the stake races or distribution of purses. J. Dean, president of the racing commission, stated that the stake races of the Belmont and Aqueduct would have to be made known to the Delaware Park card which ranged to avoid conflicts.

With purses expected to be other tracks, the distribution of purses is now under consideration and may be expected to show a commensurate increase where. Total purses of the 1940 season were around $312,000.
