NEWARK'S SINGERS RENT AIR WITH CHRISTMAS CAROLS

EVENT ON ACADEMY GROUNDS SATURDAY NIGHT PROVE BIG SUCCESS

"BILL" WHITE LEADS SONGSTERS

That old Newark spirit of "Do or Die" showed itself on Saturday night and as a result the Community Christmas celebration on the Academy grounds was the biggest success in a public event that the town has had for a long time. For many months the community spirit of Newark has been at a low ebb but on Saturday night, young and old joined hands and voices and brought about the biggest celebration held in any place in the State, except Wilmington.

The weather of Saturday was fit for most any thing in the world except open air singing but the grounds in front of the High School were packed with the people of Newark who braved the inclement weather to make a success of the Christmas celebration. And they were rewarded, for the affair was a success, and will go down in the annals of Newark as such.

The committee in charge of the affair felt a little shaky in "their boots" when the bad weather set in for, as stated above, the community spirit has been bad and it was feared that the rain might result in the crowd not turning out, but never have so many people of Newark gathered at an event of this nature.

This was Newark's first Community Christmas service but from the interest shown Saturday night it is only a starter to be followed with even bigger events. Many of those present on Saturday asked when the next holiday would come when a similar celebration could be held.

William White, of Wilmington, was a great aid in making the success of the affair. The city song leader set his time in Wilmington back almost a half hour to be present at the local affair and he "pepped" things up and helped the crowd to carry out the spirit of the affair.

Old men and women who had not turned a tune for twenty years found themselves under that spirit on Saturday night and joined in with their younger neighbors and made the air ring with the Christmas carols and the ever dear hymn, "Nearer My God to Thee." Although the latter is not a Christmas carol several persons requested Mr. White to have the gathering sing it and the old Academy grounds rang out as never before, as everyone joined in the singing of this hymn.

Not once was there a lull, both town bands, the Minnehaha and the Continental Fibre, supplied music where there was not singing. Both bands should be given credit for their work as they turned out without receiving a cent for compensation.

The affair started about 6.45 o'clock with "Bill" White taking his stand in front of the High School steps. He mounted on a chair and started things rolling by urging the importance of co-operation of all those present to make the celebration a success. Mr. White said that the weather was anything but suitable for the sing but that the spirit of the people present was too high to allow the weather to interfere. Those present must have taken Mr. White's word to heart for they certainly cooperated and although many of them stood in mud over an inch deep it did not dampen their enthusiasm.

The program opened with the singing of "America," this was followed by selections by the bands. Then came the singing of Christmas carols known to every man, woman and child and everyone joined in the singing.

The Christmas tree which was set in the grounds near Main Street was one of the big features of the evening and persons from Wilmington stated that the local tree had the edge on the majority of those in Wilmington. During the celebration Mr. White suggested that the crowd give three cheers to the committee that had charge of erecting the tree and the gathering then resembled a throng of college students urging their football team on to a touchdown.

Mayor Frazer was called upon to make an address but the mayor did not seem to have much to say, his address being of very few words in which he thanked Mr. White for his coming to Newark to help in the affair and he also thanked those present for their efforts to make the affair a success.

Mr. White in turn thanked the people for their appreciation of his work and for the large turnout and stated that the singing was about the best he had heard.

Everyone who was present congratulated the Newark Choral Club for the success of the affair. The choral club, a new organization, proved by the affair on Saturday that it will give the people many affairs, well worth while and many persons who have not been supporting the club stated that in the future they will put their shoulder to the wheel and help make a success of the club.

Before Mr. White left on Saturday night he was given three rousing cheers by those present. Paul Steel led the High School students in a yell for the sing leader.

Judge Heisel Loses Battle

JUDGE T. B. HEISEL

After a six-weeks' battle against death, Judge T. Bayard Heisel, associate judge-at-large of the Supreme Court of Delaware, died at his home in Delaware City, on Monday evening at 5 o'clock. The Judge had been a sufferer from valvular heart trouble and this was given as the cause of his death.

The deceased was 53 years of age and one of the best known members of the bar in this State. Judge Heisel was a staunch Democrat.

He was a son of Joseph and Martha Heisel and was born at St. Georges, October 1, 1868. The deceased received his early education at the St. Georges School and later attended Delaware College from which institution he graduated in 1887 with the degree B. A. After his graduation he went to Chicago and there engaged in the real estate business. On his return to this State he read law with the late Chief Justice Charles B. Lore. ### Six Town People Down With Typhoid

Board of Health Warns
 Everyone to Boil
 Their Milk

With six people of Newark confined to their homes with typhoid fever the townspeople have a scare which is worrying them to a state of great precaution. All six cases have developed in the past few days and although none of the patients are reported seriously ill they are all confined to their beds and the health authorities are making a thorough investigation of the town's water and milk supply to try and see if the source of the fever cannot be traced and wiped out. At the present time the water supply is claimed to be up to the standard and it is not thought that the trouble is from this source. As a precaution a great many people of the town are boiling their milk and this meets with the approval of the Board of Health.

The Newark Board of Health called a special meeting yesterday to take the matter under advisement. Dr. Watson reported that he made a thorough investigation of the water of the town and had found it to be in the best of condition. The milk that is sold is now being tested and until a report can be issued by the Board it is asked that all milk be boiled.

Further reports will be submitted at a meeting of the Board on Friday.

The members of the Board feel no fear that the fever will spread to any great extent if the people comply with the request that all milk be boiled.

It is understood that the Board of Health and Town Council will hold a conference on the matter on next Monday night.

Those ill with the fever are Mrs. Laura Hossinger, widow of the late Joseph H. Hossinger, who is secretary of the Town Council. During her illness this office is being filled by Miss Alice G. Kerr. Mary Armstrong, the six-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Armstrong; Harold E. Tiffany, Jr., four-year-old son of Prof. and Mrs. Harold E. Tiffany; Frank Springer, of East Main Street, who is employed in a local fibre mill; a young son of Mr. and Mrs. Pyle, Main and Corbit Streets, and a Negro living in "The Row."

Dr. Herbert J. Watson is making an investigation of the matter and although as yet he has issued no official statement he has warned the people to take all precautions possible to prevent any further spread of the disease.

All the cases reported thus far are of a mild nature but if the fever is not gotten under control it is feared that the authorities of the town will have a job on their hands to fight its spread.

CHRISTMAS NEWARK'S BRIGHTEST SEASON

Real Home Xmas in Newark

With the Holiday Falling on Sunday, Home Ties
 Closer Than Usual

A real Home Christmas was celebrated this year. Christmas and Sunday coinciding made last Sunday more of a home day than in years. Everyone, young and old, gather around the home on Christmas but the double holiday this year made it possible for many more to gather there than generally is the case.

When Christmas falls on a weekday the public is offered many attractions that are not on a Sunday's program. Every year hundreds of people of Newark go to Wilmington to attend the theatres or some sporting event, but not so this year which was a real home Christmas in a real home town.

The streets of Newark were practically deserted last Sunday, even the majority of automobiles were "given the day off." Within the homes, however, were life and bustle, in marked contrast to the quiet of the streets.

As the days previous to Sunday had been days of preparation, that was the day of realization. Christmas began very early in most homes, entirely too early for the fathers, mothers, sisters and brothers who had helped Santa in his work on Christmas Eve, but they were all full of that spirit which comes only once a year and shook off the tiredness to join in the gladness of the younger ones. Many was the daddy, mother, uncle and aunty who spent the greater part of the day on the parlor floor acting like "two year olds." No one ever grows too old to realize the meaning of Christmas and this year's real home Christmas demonstrated this better than for many years.

Sunday morning for the greater part saw the many gifts to all members of the family being examined and criticized. But at noon, the meal of meats with turkey as the foremost dish, brought a halt to most activities and many were the doses of peppermint and other remedies for indigestion that were taken between 1 and 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

In the residence section, the quiet that prevailed on Main Street was not so noticeable. New roller skates, roller coasters, pushmobiles and other gifts, every one red and shiny, attended to that.

Music in which the great masters have caught the spirit of Christmas, and the story of the manger at Bethlehem and the Christ-child, and the star that guided the Wise Men, told in simple words in the Sunday School room, and later repeated with greater eloquence to the worshippers in the vaulted, dim-lit chapels, marked the services of the churches. As its greatest day but one, the Church claimed and gained more than ordinary attention.

Newark's Merchants Make Showing

Shoppers of Town Find Their Wants Satisfied
 At Home

The phone rang down here in the office this morning and a lady on the other end said, "I know newspapers are not much on giving free advertising but really I think that you should congratulate the merchants of Newark on their Christmas showing this year."

Strange as it may seem, just such congratulations were being prepared when the phone rang. This is not the sentiment of one person, but many of Newark who went through the routine of Christmas shopping.

Not in the history of Newark have the merchants come across with such a complete line of merchandise as this year. Many of the ladies of the town have expressed themselves more than pleased with the service rendered at the local stores. Christmas has always been a featured season with the local merchants but never have they presented such stocks as were forthcoming this year. "That it pays to advertise" was the slogan of many of the merchants and they, through the papers, presented a list of their offerings to the people of Newark and vicinity and the people grasped the opportunity and did much of their shopping this year from the local merchants.

Many persons of the town who as a rule go on shopping expeditions in nearby cities found their wants satisfied right in Newark this year and already many of the merchants have been congratulated on their Christmas showing.

FIREMEN GET A PAT ON THE BACK

Dean Robinson Congratulates Fire Laddies for their Efficient Work

That the prompt responding to an alarm of fire at the Women's College by the Aetna Hose, Hook and Ladder Co., on last Wednesday evening saved that institution from a much greater loss than was suffered, is evident from a letter written by Dean Robinson to E. C. Wilson, chief of the fire company. Previous reports made it seem that the fire company did not arrive until the blaze had been extinguished but according to the firemen this was not the case and in reality they poured several gallons of fire extinguisher on the blaze after their arrival.

The fire was in Sussex Hall and started in the clothes room which is in the basement of the building. The smoke attracted the attention of persons on the first floor and the kitchen help. These ran to the scene of the blaze and found the room full of smoke. They grabbed anything that would hold water and dashed it on the blaze. In the meantime some one had notified the fire company which made a quick run to the place and went into service. Although no plug streams were used on the fire, the firemen were of much aid in extinguishing the blaze which is evident from the Dean's letter, which follows:

"Mr. E. C. Wilson, President, Newark Volunteer Fire Co., Newark, Del.
 "My dear Mr. Wilson:—I wish to express my great appreciation of the quick and efficient service which the fire company rendered last evening to the Women's College. We realize that without your aid the loss might have been very serious. Thanking you for your quick response, I am Yours sincerely,
 WINIFRED J. ROBINSON,
 Dean."

Boys and Girls of State Here

About 100 Young People Attending Junior Farmers' Short Course

Sessions Will Close Friday

With about 100 of the young people of the State who have a special interest in farming on hand; the third annual Junior Farmers' Short Course opened here yesterday. The young people started to arrive yesterday morning and by the middle of the afternoon they had all arrived and been assigned to their quarters which they will occupy until Friday.

With few exceptions all of those in attendance at the course are members of various Boys' and Girls' Clubs in the three counties who have won scholarships by finishing their allotted projects for the year. These scholarships were offered by the banks of the State, and many individuals and institutions both in and out of the State. So anxious were the youngsters of the State who know something of the course to attend, that several who failed to win a scholarship have by application secured the privilege of attending by paying their own expenses. In addition there are several local leaders in attendance (Continued on Page Eight.)

OBITUARY

Anna J. Morrison

Anna J. Morrison, aged 79 years, wife of Robert Morrison, died early today at the home of her husband on East Main Street. The deceased had been ill for some time, but her death came as a shock to her large circle of friends. Mrs. Morrison lived here for many years and was well liked by all who knew her. Funeral services will be held from the residence of her husband at 2 o'clock, Saturday afternoon. Interment at the White Clay Creek Cemetery.

Obediah Henry

Obediah Henry, aged 88 years, one of the best known colored residents of Newark, died at his home on December 24th. Dropsy was the cause of his death. The deceased was well known by everyone of Newark. At one time he was connected with the janitor force of the University of Delaware.

W. L. Dockstader Dead

Many are the persons of Newark who will be shocked to learn of the death of William L. Dockstader. The former proprietor of the Garrick Theatre, in Wilmington, died at his home in that city last night.

No Special Session

Governor Denney announced today that he will not call a special session of the Legislature when the Senate is convened to confirm his appointment of a successor to Judge T. Bayard Heisel, who died on Monday.

Communities of this vicinity who are interested in the school situation were of the opinion that this matter would be threshed out if a special session was called.

Safety First?

"Safety First" is not a part of the R. R. policy at the Old Depot in Newark. The local officials are not to blame as they do every thing possible but somebody higher up is in for trouble. The simplest provisions for safety are lost sight of.

This is not only the opinion of the Post observer but of the entire community.

The 5.47 p. m. Pennsylvania train going north observing the "Public-b damned" policy, stops at the platform for baggage and express while the passengers walk down the track and crawl on as well as possible. Some day there will be a story of an accident with its usual flood of official explanations.

Fast freights and passenger trains going in the same direction still speed by at the same time. Narrow escapes and warnings are of no avail. A death will stop it—and only fortune has prevented it so far. Certainly precaution has had no part in it.

New Flag Staff

The new flag pole to be erected at Frazer Field has arrived and will be erected this week. It is expected that a flag raising in charge of Major Rowe will be held next Thursday.

Choral Club

The regular meeting of the Newark Choral Club will be held in the High School at 7.15 o'clock next Monday evening. Everyone in Newark is invited to attend this meeting.

Miss Ospina Ill

Miss Mary A. Ospina, Spanish instructor at the Women's College, is ill.

Unclaimed Letters

The following list of unclaimed letters has been posted by Postmaster Bowen: Warren Shortlidge, John Owens, James Nelson, John Tully, Johnie Shelton, Edith Johnson, Elmer E. Campbell and Edward Clifton.

Council Meeting

Although next Monday will be observed as New Year's, the Town Council will hold its regular meeting in the evening.

Community Affair Cost But $71.65

Ugly Rumor That Saturday's Night's Affair Was Expensive Nipped
 in Bud

Committee Extends Its Thanks

The Newark Choral Club gave to Newark on last Saturday night one of the finest Christmas celebrations ever held in the State, yet someone started an ugly rumor that seemed to turn the minds of some against the club. The rumor was to the effect that the Choral Club was spending several hundred dollars on the celebration, and that this money should have been donated to some of the poor of Newark to make their Christmas happy. When this matter was taken up with the committee in charge of the celebration they were astonished to hear that such a rumor was having the rounds and at once prepared an itemized statement of the expenses. The committee has written as follows to the Post:

December 26, 1921.

- "Newark Post,
 "Gentlemen:—Following is a list of receipts and expenditures in connection with Christmas Community Service:
 Collected by Committee $74.50
 To Trees $12.00
 To Wire 3.00
 To Electric Bulbs 36.00
 To Sockets 9.50

Corn Growers' Annual Show

Program for the Meeting in Seaford Three Days Next Week

Local Men Obtain Honors

The fifteenth annual State Corn Show, under the auspices of the Delaware Corn Growers' Association, will be held at Seaford in the Junior American Mechanics Hall beginning Tuesday, January 3, and continuing until the evening of January 5. "We shall have not only the biggest show this year, in the history of the association, but the best," says John Ponder, Milton, president of the association. In addition to the $500 in cash prizes offered for the best exhibits of corn, small grain and forage, there will be awarded as sweep-stake prizes on best exhibits of corn four silver medals and a gold medal. Competition of these prizes promises to be the keenest in years as a result of the number of exhibitors who have been sowing at the various local and district shows in all three counties. Entries for the show will close on Tuesday, when all exhibits must be in the hands of Secretary M. O. Pence, at Seaford.

A special feature of the State Corn Show will be the annual business meeting and corn growers' program held on Wednesday morning, January 4, in the Opera House. The program of the meeting will be:

10 a. m.—Address by president, John Ponder; reports of vice-presidents, secretary-treasurer, Judge A. E. Grantham, Boys' Five Acre Club Contest.

Afternoon, 1.30—Address, "Fertilizing the Corn Crop," A. E. Grantham, director agricultural service for the Virginia-Caroline Chemical Co.; address, "Selecting and Exhibiting Corn," A. D. Radenbaugh, county agent, Cecil county, Md.; address, "How to Control Corn Root Rot Diseases," Dr. T. F. Manns, plant pathologist, University of Delaware; discussion, led by Norval Pepper, Seaford.

All meetings will be open to the public without charge.

In addition to the cash prizes and medals offered for the best exhibits of corn and small grain the Corn Growers' Association offers three scholarships to the Junior Short Course at the University of Delaware for the week ending December 31, to the boy in each county who stands highest in the Boys' Five Acre Corn Club. Each scholarship is valued at ten dollars.

To the best corn judge among the boys of the state will be awarded a sterling silver challenge cup, now in the hands of the first winner, Stanley Short, Cheswold.

The officers of the association are: President, John Ponder, Milton; vice-presidents—New Castle county, Roswell Schaefer, Granogue; Kent county, R. W. Willey, Dover; Sussex county, Norval Pepper, Seaford; secretary-treasurer, M. O. Pence, Newark.

Harry Armstrong, McDonough, and Herman McCarns, Newark, have produced the high yields in the Five-Acre and One-Acre Boys' Club Corn Growing Contest, and will be awarded free scholarships to the Junior Short Course now being held at the University of Delaware.

On his five-acre plot Harry Armstrong produced 95 bushels of corn and on the one-acre plot Herman McCarns produced 93 bushels. These yields were computed on a 20 per centum moisture basis.

The plots were supervised by Harry McDonald, agricultural instructor of Newark High School; E. P. Vogel, agricultural instructor of Middletown High School; R. O. Bausman, county agent, Newark. M. O. Pence, county agent leader, and A. D. Cobb, state club leader, are sponsors for the authenticity of the records.

Other members of the club who did good work in this contest are: Clark Burge, Lester Burge, Irwin Armstrong, Victor Kohl, Albert Daniels, Ernest Ratledge, all of Middletown; Herman Conner, Newark; Gordon Armstrong, McDonough.

Backfire

A current yarn about a liquor-loving Irishman has a smile in it. "Father," said he, on meeting the parish priest one day, "phwath is lumbago?" Seeing an opportunity for needed reproof, the good father replied: "Tis a terrible disease which comes from drinking up booze and chasing around nights."

"Is that so?" said Pat. "It says in the paper that the Pope has lumbago."—Chicago Journal of Commerce.

Worth Believing In

"Do you really believe in heredity?"
"Most certainly I do. That is how I came into all my money!"—London Mail.

AT THE PLAYHOUSE

AMERICA'S YOUNGEST STAR

Miss Helen Hayes, who is to be seen in Wilmington next week at the Playhouse for an engagement of three days, January 2, 3, and 4, as the star of "Golden Days," under the direction of George C. Tyler, is undoubtedly the youngest star on the American stage today. She is barely twenty, yet already it is conceded that she stands alone in her remarkable ability to present the perfect type of the up-to-date, high class American girl. Miss Hayes is a native of Washington, D. C., her father being a prominent Government official. As a little child Miss Hayes made a hit in amateur social entertainments and at one of these she was seen by Lew Fields who was so impressed by the child's artistry that he induced her parents to let her join his company. She remained with the comedians four years, playing child parts.

It was with John Drew that Helen Hayes made her debut in straight comedy. She was one, and the most delightful one, of the children in "The Prince Chap." It was here that George C. Tyler first saw her and engaged her to play the leading part in "Pollyanna," on the Pacific Coast. The following year she created the part of the "giggling girl" in Booth Tarkington's "Penrod," in New York. After this Mr. Tyler loaned her to the Frohman forces to create the part of the "Dream Girl" in "Dear Brutus" by Sir James Barrie, in which play she practically carried off the honors. Then she was engaged for a part in "Clarence," and later featured in Edward Child Carpenter's play, "Bab," which confirmed the critics of her genius, and now, barely out of her teens, she is the full-fledged star of the delightful comedy, "Golden Days."

"MARY"

At the Playhouse in Wilmington, December 29, 30 and 31, with a Saturday matinee, George M. Cohan's Comedians under direction of Sam H. Harris will be seen in the musical comedy success, "Mary." The book and lyrics are by Otto Harbach and Frank Mandel; the music by Lou Hirsch. Mr. Cohan has assembled a sterling cast and a chorus of girls who are an outstanding feature because of their beauty and grace.

The story of the piece has to do with a young man with an inventive turn of mind who is obsessed with a determination to reduce the prevailing high cost of living, and a Western girl who is the social secretary to the young man's mother. The book, although sentimental at times, carries a vein of humor that is irresistible, and the melodies are of the type that you will not easily forget.

Long-Distance Shooting

The new night watchman at the observatory was watching someone using the big telescope. Just then a star fell. "Begorra," he said to himself, "that felly sure is a crack shot."—Toronto Goblin.

I have been through five depressions during my business life. They all act alike. This latest one acts exactly like all the rest. The men, who, if business fell off 66 per cent, increased their selling effort 75 per cent, managed to pull through as if there were no depression, and the efforts of such men tend to shorten the period of depression.—Thomas Edison.

OVER AT ELKTON

Parents of Catherine T. Wilson and John Freeman, both of Lewes, Del., who are under age, the intended groom being 16 years old and Miss Wilson but 15, came to Elkton last week and secured a marriage license.

Henry M. Evans, son of the late Judge James M. Evans, of the Orphans' Court of Cecil County, was buried in West Nottingham cemetery last Thursday. He died at his home in Philadelphia.

Rising Sun public school has purchased a victrola with money made at a candy sale.

One of the units of the Victory Sparkler Company, on the Elkton-Cherry Hill road, caught fire on Thursday night, about 9 o'clock, and was destroyed. The Elkton Fire Company prevented the spreading of the fire.

Miss Anna May Bennett, daughter of Charles Bennett, and Daniel Hartnett Garrett, were quietly married Thursday evening, in the Roman Catholic parsonage, by the Rev. Peter Patrick Arnd. Mr. and Mrs. Garrett will reside on North Street, Elkton.

The Rev. W. H. Davies, pastor of Zion and Rock Presbyterian Churches, who has accepted a call to the Presbyterian Church at Little Britain, Pa., preached his farwell sermon Sunday afternoon.

McCool & Sentman, of Elkton, have been awarded the contract to build the approaches to the new twin bridges along the Elkton-Perryville State road, just on the outskirts of North East.

Thieves broke into the public school at Rising Sun, and stole several records used on the Victrola during the closing Christmas entertainment.

Edward Lynn, who recently resigned his position in the National Bank at Rising Sun, has notified his relatives that he has arrived at Pasadena, California, where he will spend the winter for the benefit of his health.

Alice F. Leffler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred N. Leffler, of Elkton, was awarded the handsome doll baby in the bean guessing contest conducted by a local merchant. The correct number was 4942. The number that was awarded the doll was 4949.

NEWPORT NEWS

The Christmas entertainment of Newport M. E. Sunday School which had been planned for Sunday evening, was held Thursday evening.

At the third quarterly conference of the Newport and Stanton M. E. Churches last week, in Stanton Church, Rev. W. Vaughn Moore, pastor of both churches, was invited to remain in his present position for the coming year. He has been at Newport and Stanton the past two years.

The children of Newport public school delighted a large audience last week with their annual Christmas entertainment, which was held in Masonic Temple. An elaborate program was rendered by children of the school. Favorite numbers included a dialogue, "New and Old Santa Claus," by a class; saxophone and piano solo, Catherine and John Williams of Wilmington; solo, "Jack Frost," Earle Cunningham, with chorus by a class; exercise, "Santa's Helpers," class of small children; vocal solos by Mrs. Robert O'Brien of Wilmington; playlet, "Birds' Christmas Carol." Leading parts in the playlet were Mrs. Ruggles, Miss Jeanette Dougherty; Mrs. Bird, Miss Margaret Cunningham; Carol Bird, Miss Margaret Hargan; Uncle Jack, Powell Murphy.

Proceeds of the entertainment will be used in purchasing a victrola for the school.

WANT BATTLESHIP SILVER SERVICE BACK*Movement Now Underway to Obtain Delaware's Gift to Navy as Memento

A movement has been started by Josiah Marvel to have the handsome silver service that was presented to the United States battleship Delaware, on October 5, 1910, returned to this State. The Delaware is one of the navy ships that is slated for the "junk heap" in the plans to cut down the fighting strength of the nations of the world.

Mr. Marvel who was vice-chairman of the presentation committee consulted with Captain Horace Wilson, chairman of the committee, who heartily endorsed the movement and asked Mr. Marvel to go ahead. While the battleship Delaware is the last vessel listed for the scrap heap, Mr. Marvel is taking up the matter with the Navy Department and is soliciting the aid of United States Senators Ball and duPont and Congressman Layton. If the silver set is returned it will be placed either in the archives of the Delaware Historical Society or the new Public Library.

The presentation of the silver set was a state-wide affair and created much interest as the money for the service was raised by contributions ranging from one cent. The battleship was anchored in the Delaware River off the mouth of the Christiana and the presentation committee accompanied by hundreds of citizens, journeyed to the vessel on the steamer City of Wilmington. Governor Simeon S. Pennewill made the presentation speech in which he dwelt on the desire of the world for universal peace. Mr. Marvel who looked after the details of the arrangement was presented at the time with a silver plate engraved with the autograph signatures of the members of the committee.

The battleship committee was composed of Captain Horace Wilson, chairman; Josiah Marvel, vice-chairman; George H. McGovern, secretary; L. Scott Townsend, treasurer; Congressman William H. Heald, former Governor Preston Lea, Mayor J. Harvey Spruance, Thomas F. Bayard, William G. Coxe, Charles S. Gawthrop, William W. Lobdell, Willard Saulsbury, George W. Sparks, Alfred D. Warner, Charles B. Miller, Judge Henry C. Conrad, Dr. Thomas O. Cooper, Edgar M. Hoopes, and John S. Rossell.

Apple Pie Most Popular

The plant of the Consumers' Pie Baking Company now covers more than one-half a Brooklyn block. More than 10,000 pies come out of their ovens daily. Around the holidays the place is as rushed as grandmother's kitchen of old was at Christmas and Thanksgiving—and there is the same fragrance of savory mince and pumpkin. At such times, a record of 15,000 to 25,000 pies daily is not extraordinary. Incidentally, the profit on a five-pound, thirteen-inch, fifty-cent pie is less than a cent; the company's prosperity depends on volume.

But even when baking pies in volume, a good baker takes as great pride in turning out a luscious, juicy, tempting, golden pie, as the artist does in creating a delightfully beautiful picture.

And pies have friends. The apple pie is the most popular pie in the world. It holds that superiority by sheer merit, for it comprises all the calories of a meal. All the year around it is the most widely eaten pie in the land. Pumpkin is good in season. Lemon meringue is liked in the winter, but tabooed in the summer. Huckleberry pie is the favorite berry pie. Coconut-custard pie is as reliable as a faithful old watch dog. But apple pie is the dazzling, glowing belle of them all.—Forbes.

Heat Your Home with Circulating Warmth*CALORIC PIPELESS FURNACE

The CalorC offers these fundamental advantages:

A more uniformly heated home. The Caloric establishes a natural circulation of air in the building—and the heat flows uniformly to every part of the house without resistance. No cold floors, cold corners nor frosted windows.

More pleasing and more healthful heat. Caloric heat is simple as sunshine and constantly circulating like outdoor air in summer. Balmly warmth and never a suggestion of that "stuffy feeling" in Caloric-heated homes.

More economical heat. The Caloric delivers practically all the heat from the fuel directly into the rooms and at the same time removes the cool air from the house, thereby effecting efficiency and fuel economy impossible with other methods of heating. Records in over 125,000 homes show that the Caloric cuts fuel costs one-third to one-half.

Happy New Year

New Year is just a day, after all. But like other anniversaries, it does represent a mile-stone in the calendar's routine. And this is well. In spite of all the jokes cracked on New Year's Resolutions, it is not amiss to look "before and after" and make new reckonings of our course. It is another beginning. Last year's events file past us in review and Yesterdays blur into Memories casting pleasing shadows that only Recollection can give. And Tomorrow, at New Year's time, leads us on, with Hope and Courage attending. Nineteen Twenty-One with its Ambitions and Regrets, its Success and Failures, is gone. We stand and read the inscription on another milestone,—"Here beginneth 1922." Whatever lingering regrets there may be, only tomorrow can forget. The same with men, business, communities, State and Nation, next year will be what we hope today and will-to-do tomorrow. To have lived and had a part in the stress and sorrow of war, and in the strain and suffering of the days following is a wonderful privilege. Now to remain and be a force in the dawning days of peace and reconstruction is an opportunity that should challenge all that is in us to do. It is with zest that we set our watch to the time of the New Year and start on the march of another. New scenes, new territory, new problems and difficulties—all lead on. So with the spirit that inspired the Past, let us resolve that our lives, our town, our State and Nation shall be better for us having lived in this day. Whatever the opportunity—whether of prominence or official or just a neighborly word or act—ours is the chance to hope, ours the will to do. With such a resolution projected into daily action and contact, why should we wish you a Happy New Year—for it will be. Then may it be.

Source of Political Power

With the coming on of winter, forecasts are being made of next year's political campaign. Rumors of little conferences and leaks from committees, official and self-appointed, lead one, at all acquainted with the preliminaries of the game of politics, to prophesy a more than usual off-year election. Those taking now active part are ambitious either for office or influence. Experience tells us that at these conferences the wishes of the rank and file are not receiving much consideration. This can be counteracted—and easily, too, if that rank and file will just once sense the power that is theirs. Farmers, business men, mechanics and professional men—those who do the daily work of the country fail to realize their power and thereby neglect important duties of citizenship. This State can have as its national, State and district representatives whomsoever the voters want. This is not a platform platitude but a definite and serious fact. The great majority of voters leave the selection of candidates to the party committees or clicks, so called, in control. This makes the choice for the voter often a mere matter of selecting the lesser evil. The power of the voter is not so much in the election of the ticket as in the selection of the men who make up that ticket. The farmer or business man, having a civic and patriotic interest in his government, desiring only that his party be represented by men best equipped and by experience best qualified, can, through the primaries, absolutely control the situation in making his choice of candidates to be presented at the polls. No greater opportunity ever presented itself to the present voting generation. For with the women, honestly desirous of expressing an influence worthy of power, the ordinary citizens, unused to political mechanics, can control primaries, convention and election. But he must begin to work at the primaries or all is possibly lost. And he must begin to think—NOW.

JUDGE HEISEL LOSES BATTLE

1890 he was admitted to the bar and began his practice of law in Wilmington.

After the deceased had returned from Chicago he took an active part in politics and twice ran for a seat in the legislature. On one occasion he was defeated by one vote. The funeral will be held from the late home of the deceased tomorrow at 11 o'clock, with interment in the St. Georges cemetery.

He is survived by his wife, one brother, Herbert T. Heisel, of Frenchtown, N. J., and two sisters, Mrs. Walter Smith and Miss Beulah Heisel, of Wilmington.

In September, 1912, Judge Heisel was named a member of the Code Commission of Delaware to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Chief Justice Lore. Governor Charles B. Miller appointed Judge Heisel an associate justice on October 14, 1914, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Justice Victor B. Woolley, who was appointed to the United States District Court. His term would have expired October 15, 1926.

Prior to his appointment to the judiciary, Judge Heisel was a leading figure in the Democratic party conventions, and as a national delegate he supported former President Woodrow Wilson at the Baltimore convention in 1912. He also served as a member of the Democratic State Committee and the New Castle County Committee prior to going on the Bench.

Governor Denney will name the successor to Judge Heisel. Under the State Constitution the Senate will be called to convene within thirty days to confirm such an appointment.

The new judge will have to be a member of the Democratic party, the constitution providing that not more than three judges of the law judges shall be of the same political faith.

Among those whose names have been mentioned as possible successors to Judge Heisel are Richard S. Rodney, of New Castle; former United States District Attorney Charles F. Curley, of Wilmington, and James H. Hughes, of Dover, and former Judge William H. Boyce, of Dover.

Business Administrator Wilkinson yesterday had the flag at the University of Delaware placed at half-mast as a tribute to the memory of Judge Heisel, one of the most distinguished alumni of the institution.

The death of Judge Heisel was generally regretted by those who knew him, particularly by his associates on the bench and members of the bar.

"The committee wishes to thank through the Post the people of Newark and nearby points for the support they have given this first service, by their attendance. This was particularly gratifying considering the weather conditions that prevailed Saturday Eve.

"We also want to thank Wm. White for the spirit he showed in coming to Newark to lead our folks, and hope that we may have him with us again on similar occasions.

"We also want to thank Messrs. A. F. Fader, E. C. Wilson, F. Strickland, Mr. Shew, Mr. Jacobs, Mr. Gates for their able work on lighting tree and grounds.

"Also thanks are certainly due and extended to both Town Bands, which so ably rendered accompaniments to the carols and played before and after the meeting.

"Again extending thanks to all who helped to make Newark's first Community Christmas service a success.

"We remain,

"The Committee."

Why rumors of this nature should be started is a question that has long been unanswered to the people of Newark. But invariably when some public matter is started someone starts rumors that tend to take some of the brightness off the affair. In all probability this is the reason that the local community spirit is dormant but if Saturday night's celebration is a forerunner for the coming community events that are to be scheduled here it looks as though things were going to be much different.

DID YOU KNOW THAT

Newark is the only community in White Clay Creek hundred that does not support a Parent-Teacher Association.

There are in this country, every year, 350,000,000 more toll telephone calls than telegrams and 6,000,000,000 more communications by telephone than by letter.

The Roma, the giant army dirigible purchased from Italy was christened at Washington last week. The big airship made two successful flights.

A good beggar can collect between $25 and $50 a day in New York City. This is according to a "white wing" recently arrested there.

The four one-mile race tracks in Maryland will, it is approximated, pay the State this year about $763,000.

The prohibition order making the province of New Brunswick, Canada, dry, will go into effect January 10.

Newark is proving a haven for midnight prowlers. Several merchants are making efforts to have another policeman put into service.

Switzerland was the only country in the world, last week, where the American dollar was below par. The dollar was quoted at 5 francs, 12 centimes on the Geneva bourse.

Distribution of the war cross of Italy to all men of the United States army and marine corps who won the Congressional medal of honor during the war was made last week.

The de facto government of Guatemala will hold elections for president between May 21 and 27, 1922.

CAN'T BE DONE

"Dear just hold on to my skirt while going through this crowd." "I can't, Mamma, I can't reach it."

Understand the Post is settled—hack away at it but beware of knots.

A minister, criticising a church item, told us recently that he would tell us when he wanted anything in the paper—and the next week brought in a notice for a money-raising function at his church and requested first page position.

Winter Work and Hardware

With Holidays over, real winter usually sets in. Then it is the prosperous farmer get's fixed up for the approaching Spring. He goes over his implements and machinery, mends and oils his harness ready for the early work—thus saving time and delays when the real work begins. It may be a new part to the manure spreader, new teeth for cultivator, grinding pruning shears—any one of a dozen things, the real farmer delights in the advantages of a hard winter. Winter Work and Hardware work in harmony—they are real partners.

All Hardware and Farm Implement Supplies are hobbies of mine. I have spent years in studying them. I know this community and its Hardware needs.

I supply them.

In your winter work enthusiasm, don't forget the horse. A good blanket is not just a "horse proud" luxury but a business proposition—it saves the horse.

Let's have a visit from you progressive farmers.

Notes

Between Christmas and Easter the usual 7.30 service will be conducted as a Vesper service at 4 o'clock and will last three quarters of an hour. A course of brief addresses will be given on "What Men Live By," based on Dr. Richard C. Cabot's book by that name. A cordial invitation is extended to the public to attend these brief vesper services.

At 7.30 in the Parish Hall there will be a Young People's Hour to which both those who are young in years and young in heart are invited. The service will be bright and informal with a social half hour at the close.

M. E. Church

The children of the Junior Epworth League of the Methodist Episcopal Church, this afternoon held a Christmas party in the lecture room. The event was one of the merriest of the Christmas season. Mrs. Leonard Rhodes had arranged an interesting game program in which the kiddies took part. "Gobble, Gobble and Quack, Quack," an original game of Mr. Rhodes' was one of the features of the afternoon. Other games arranged by Mr. Rhodes were "A Hen and Wild Cat," "Pinning Cherries on the Tree," "Buzz," and "Prince of Paris." After the games, ice cream, fruit and cake was served.

The mid-week services of the Methodist Church will be held tonight at 8 o'clock.

Rev. Herson will conduct a "Watch Night" service on Saturday evening beginning at 11 o'clock. This service will last one hour.

The Christmas music of the church made such an impression last week that many requests have been received to repeat the program and this will be done this Sunday.

10 o'clock, Sunday School.
11 o'clock, preaching by the Pastor. Subject: "His Name Shall be Called Jesus."

7.30 o'clock, preaching service by the Pastor. Subject, "The Religious Uses of Memory."

Last Sunday a special collection was taken up for the charitable homes of Wilmington, the starving children of Europe and the retired Methodist ministers' fund. All expectations were broken when the congregation contributed $429.41 to these worthy causes.

NEWARK HAD MANY ENTERTAINMENTS

Churches and Schools All Had Excellent Christmas Programs

George Carter acted as Santa Claus and presented the gifts to the Sunday School children of St. Thomas Episcopal Church last Friday night. The affair was one of the most delightful Christmas entertainments ever given by the church and the children had a delightful evening.

The early part of the program was taken up with recitations and singing of Christmas music by the children. Following this old Santa put in appearance and had a box of candy for every child and all other members of the Sunday School.

On behalf of Mrs. Mattie Dobson, Santa Claus presented a gift to each member of the infant class. Although past 80 years of age, Mrs. Dobson made these gifts and followed a custom she established several years ago in presenting them to the infants.

Never in the history of the local High School has such an excellent and original program been presented by the pupils in a Christmas program as that of last Friday afternoon. The affair was held in the Opera House and was well attended by the students, their parents and friends.

The program consisted of vocal and instrumental music; recitations; original poems and readings. One of the special features was the presentation of a short play written by the following girls of the senior class: Sarah Steele, Olive Porter, Marjorie Rose, Ruth Gieker, Emma Lovett, Delena Leak and Naomi Riley. The parts were taken by members of the junior and senior classes.

The complete program follows: Music, Mandoline Club; recitation, "Jest Before Xmas," George Chalmers; reading, "The Other Wise Man," Mildred Major; instrumental solo, Evelyn Worrall; recitation, "Annie and Willie's Prayer," Anna Little; original poems, "A Ballad," Erica Grothen; "The Newark Academy," Wilkins Cooch; instrumental duet, Alice Charsha and Gladys Rose; recitation, "Here Comes the Bride," Sara Pierson; play, "A Christmas Gift that Came Late."

The Christmas spirit was felt in the First Presbyterian Church last week as in all other churches and an excellent program was given. The children's Christmas party was held in the lecture room on Thursday night and was well attended.

The annual Christmas entertainment was held in the church on Friday evening and an unusually large audience was in attendance.

Last Wednesday night the entertainment of the Methodist Episcopal Church was held in the church. Old Santa with his pack was there and the members of the Sunday School received their gifts. The church was decorated in keeping with the season, a feature of the decorations being a large decorated Christmas tree.

WOMAN'S BIG POULTRY PROFIT

Mrs. Samuel M. Reynolds Cleared $1105.86 from Flock of 235 Hens

Mrs. Samuel M. Reynolds, near Milton, Del., who keeps an accurate account of receipts and expense of her flock of chickens, makes the following report: From 235 Rhode Island red hens for the year ending December 1, she sold on the market 1444 dozen eggs for which she received $541.18; 975 eggs set at 6 cents each, $58.50; 156 spring chickens, $150.88; 92 old hens, $130.75; 3015 day old chicks at 18 cents each, $547.70. Making a total of sales, $1,423.96. Aside from this she kept 640 chicks to raise. The expense account follows: 880 pounds of middlings at $20.70; 1600 pounds rolled oats at $9.75; 1000 pounds meat scraps at $50.25; 2700 pounds ready mixed feed at $74.50; 200 pounds scratch feed at $6.50; 200 pounds barley at $6.50; 15 bushels buckwheat at $15; 50 bushels corn at $26.50; 300 pounds ground shells at $3; mixture given in place of green feed, $3.00; laying pills, $6, making a total expense of $318.60; leaving Mrs. Reynolds a profit of $1,105.86 for her year's work.

TURKEY HIGH

Christmas Fowl Brought Top Prices in Newark

"How do they do it?" With turkeys touching the sky in the price many of the fowls graced the tables of people of Newark on Christmas. One farmer stated that he was surprised at the number of turkeys he sold for Christmas as the prices were the highest in years and many of the breeders were of the opinion that the birds would go a "beggin' for buyers."

Of course the Christmas dinner is the dinner of all dinners and although many people of the town may still be suffering from indigestion as a result of the holiday dinner, they are looking forward with interest to the New Year's Day dinner, another one in which turkey is always featured.

It was predicted that there would be a plentiful supply of turkeys for Christmas and that this would tend to bring the prices down but the prediction went astray and the prices stayed. The prices in this vicinity ranged from 55 cents to 70 cents a pound and those who were lucky enough to get them at less than 65 cents were considered by the other buyers as being "horseshoe mortals."

In the past turkey graced the Christmas festive boards of nearly every home and although they still hold the leadership, chickens and ducks were among the chief items of the Christmas dinners this year and even these brought top prices. The price of the former ranged from 33 cents to 40 cents a pound. Ducks brought in the average of 38 cents a pound.

Living High

Too much living may have something to do with the high cost of living. Secretary of Labor Davis intimated in making public Bureau of Labor statistics showing that the average American eats more than a ton of food a year.

"The exact amount," he said, "is 2,664 pounds per man per annum. In footing up the cost of living there's one thing we've got to remember—we certainly don't stint ourselves."

"Is such an appetite any better for the body than for the pocketbook? I notice by these same statistics that the average American wage earner manages to keep the spork of life in his body on 1,775 pounds of food a year, and, if I recollect rightly, the American soldier did some pretty fair work on that allowance."

"The medical authorities may make what they please of these figures," Secretary Davis added, "but I notice that the average Japanese consumes 905 pounds of food per year and the average Japanese adult gets only 30 pounds of fruit, as against 250 pounds average for us."

"What these figures may mean I don't know, except as something for appropriation reflection on Thanksgiving."

Don't Forget Taxes

A great number of people in Newark have failed to pay their taxes and have only to the first of the year to do so. After this time a fine of 5 per cent is added.

Book of Caricature

Mayor Frazer, of Newark, carries off local honors of having a place in George T. Maxwell's book of caricature, known as, "The Blue Hen's Chicks in Caricature." Prominent men of Delaware are sketched in this book which is the work of the well-known newspaper man and cartoonist mentioned above.

This novel edition is being presented to the public through Mr. Maxwell and the like of it has never before been seen in these parts. The book is a product of Delaware throughout as Kells right here in Newark, where Master Craftsmen work at the art of printing, is printing the book, which will be in two colors and bound in duPont Fabrikoid. The book will be a credit to any library, for it will not only be artistic, but Mr. Maxwell has prepared captions for each sketch which will serve as a permanent record.

It is free from all political prejudice and is not only amusing but educational as every sketch appearing is that of some Delawarean who through his efforts has brought the Blue Hen State to the fore and made it one of the finest in the country.

The book measures 8 by 12 inches and the high lights in the career of all those sketched appear in the captions. Those who appear are:

New Castle County—Alex. R. Abrams, Wilmington; W. Truxton Boyce, Stanton; Ezekiel Cooper, Wilmington; Wm. Coyne, Wilmington; Clarence M. Dillon, Wilmington; Wm. L. Announcement to Milk Consumers of Newark

While on an inspection trip through the largest dairy farm in New Castle County, I was impressed with the need of milk consumers of Newark to obtain milk from clean, tubercular tested cows. To give this service I have made arrangements with J. I. Dayett, of Cooch's, to handle his entire output. Mr. Dayett has just completed a new farm, installing the most up-to-date sanitary and cooling processes obtainable. These dairies insure the most uniform product at all times. "Purity," a word guaranteeing the best, is the name by which this milk will be known and sold. The price will be strictly in accordance with a slight increase in the cost of this super-production.

You are invited to make an inspection of our dairy and be convinced there that "Cleanliness is next to Godliness."

Behind in Games Laws

President of Delaware Anglers and Gunners Association Attends Conference

Delaware Lacks Funds
George L. Schuler returned last Wednesday from attending the eighth annual conference of the American Game Protective Association at the Waldorf-Astoria in New York City. He represented the Delaware Anglers and Gunners Association. He says there were submitted most interesting reports from representatives of all the States in the Union and Canada, which sent eight delegates, as well as a delegate from Alaska.

There was quite some discussion on the protection of migratory fish and a resolution was passed to ask the Federal government for aid in this respect. The report from all the states is that wild duck, goose and swan have made a phenomenal increase in the last year, therefore affording the runner a great season for this kind of sport.

There were shown at the conference and banquet which closed the session ten reels of moving pictures showing game farms raising Bob White quail, a goose hunt on the Mississippi, trout fishing, shooting Ihabo's canyons and goats with the camera, ranching reindeer, with Bob White in the sage and pine woods of Mississippi, Zeigler's field trial winners showing the bird dogs in action and reels of Field and Stream motion pictures.

Some interesting talks were given by Conservation Commissioner M. L. Alexander of Louisiana, Alva Clapp of Texas, Dr. A. K. Fisher of the U. S. Bureau of Biological Survey, Hon. M. L. Davey, Kent Ohio, Hon. Robert D. Carey, Governor of Wyoming, the Rev. Noel J. Allen, of Virginia, and many others.

"It certainly makes a sportsman sick," said Mr. Schuler, "to hear of the wonders that are being done by the Game and Fish Commissions of the different states by the dollar resident hunting and fishing license, buying thousands of acres of land in different sections of their state for a public shooting grounds, stocking their streams with game fish, giving protection to the game during closed season, thereby allowing the birds and animals to have peace during their breeding season."

"The State of Delaware is surely behind the times in game and fish protection and unless something is done in this matter, this state will be a lost paradise."

Mr. Schuler will give an interesting report to the association when it holds its next meeting January 3 and all the members are requested to be present then.

Some Riding

With all his riding success through eight seasons' leadership, Stephen Donoghue, the British leader, is far from Fred Archer's record. In the latter's career he rode in 8,084 races, with 2,749 winners, which included five derbies, four Oaks, six St. Legers, four 2,000 and one 1,000, one Prix du Jockey club, three Grand Prix de Paris, besides all the principal 2-year-old races, cups and handicaps. The only big English race in which Archer could not score, though he rode in seven, was the Cambridge-shire handicap.

His Method

A bellboy has invented an ingenious system of calling sleepy guests. The other night a man left instructions that he wished to be called early. Next morning he was disturbed by a loud tattoo on the door. "Well?" he demanded sharply. "I've a message for you, sir." Yawning until he strained his face, the guest jumped out of bed and unlocked the door. The bellboy handed him an envelope and then went away quickly.

The guest opened the envelope and took out a slip of paper bearing the words: "It's time to get up."—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

Unpropitious Setting

"Hum," said the magazine editor, "this is going a bit too far."
"What's the trouble?"
"A chap who says he has received 50 rejection slips from me in the last twelve months states in this note that he'd like to meet me."
"Well, you might grant the poor devil an interview."
"But he adds, 'in an alley, after dark.'"—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Bright Sports for Winter

High School and University Will Give Newark Basketball Galore

In a short time basketball "fans" of Newark will have an opportunity to see the best games that have been played here in many moons. The holiday season causes a lull in collegiate and scholastic sports and the teams of the University and High School are idle, and will be until the vacation is over. Then things will start and some of the teams that will play on the University schedule are among the best in the country.

It is seldom that a University the size of Delaware turns out a quintet of the calibre that is turned out in the local institution and therefore it is an opportunity offered, as a rule, only in the big cities to see the best college teams of the country in action.

Delaware this year has one of the hardest schedules of any college in the East. The local quintet will do battle with Princeton, Navy, Washington and Jefferson, Penn. Army, and other teams of the same calibre. The opening battle will be on January 5, when Hahnemann College, of Philadelphia, will be the attraction.

With such attractions as these the sportsmen of Newark can look forward to a very bright winter season, but it is a question if the University gym will accommodate the crowds that should turn out for these games.

Coach Shipley has been working candidates for sometime past and promises to put a better team in the floor than Delaware has sported for sometime back.

The local High School team is anxious to uphold the standard set by the football team in copping the championship of the State. Coach McDonald has several new men out for the team but he is working hard on the material and by the time the elimination series for the championship get under way it will not be surprising to again see the name of Newark on the top of the heap.

The boys of the Rehab also have organized a basketball team and from the present outlook might stage some very fast games as several of the players were members of the post teams during the war.

GOLF TITLE DOES FLANNAGAN

"On Again, Off Again," Act by Link Titleholders

1921 was a disastrous one for golf titleholders, practically every championship throughout the entire golf world changing hands. Chick Evans was the only man player who repeated when he retained his title in the Western amateur.

Miss Cecil Leitch, the English player, was the most successful in this respect of any other titleholder, as she not only repeated in two events—the British and French women's championships—but also added the Canadian women's event to her list of national titles. Two other 1920 titleholders complete the list of those who repeated this year. Mrs. D. Gaut in the Southern women's tourney and Mrs. D. C. Hurd in the women's North and South.

The following shows the champions as a result of this year's play:
Miss Leitch, British Women's.
Hutchison, British Open.
Hunter, British Amateur.
Miss Leitch, French Women's.
Boomer, French Open.
Lipscombe, French Amateur.
Miss Leitch, Canadian Women's.
Trovling, Canadian Open.
Thompson, Canadian Amateur.
Miss Hollins, National Women's.

Paul Steel was operated on at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon in the Homeopathic Hospital, Wilmington. "Doc" Steel was injured about the nose while playing football with the University of Delaware and the operation was the result. He is expected to leave the hospital today.

PLAY ARMY-NAVY GAME IN DECEMBER

This Arrangement Indicated by Remainder of Middies' Football Schedule

The definite arrangement of seven games for next fall assures the Naval Academy the most interesting football season in its history. There is a possibility of three more contests. A game will be arranged for September 30, and a double bill probably will be fixed for October 7, to which Western Reserve has been assigned.

There is also a strong possibility that the Army game will be played on December 2 rather than November 18, and in that case a game will be arranged for November 18. No game will be scheduled for the Saturday just before the final contest.

The games now arranged are: October 7, Western Reserve; 14, Bucknell; 21, Georgia Tech; 28, University of Pennsylvania (at Philadelphia); November 4, Pennsylvania State; 11, St. Xavier College of Cincinnati; November 25 or December 2, Military Academy (at Philadelphia or New York).

Georgia Tech and St. Xavier are the newcomers on the Navy schedule. The latter is not well known in the football world, but its management has informed the Naval Academy that it has lost but one game in two seasons, Centre College being the team which defeated it.

Three interesting triangular meets will mark the field and track season of the Naval Academy the coming spring. On April 22 Harvard and the University of Virginia will be the midshipmen's opponents at Annapolis, and on May 6 Johns Hopkins and Lafayette will send their teams there. Another event of this kind is being arranged. The other track meets of the season are the dual match against the University of Pittsburgh on April 15 and a visit to Philadelphia on April 29 for participation in the University of Pennsylvania relay games.

A Sure Sign

The little suburb of Mudville cannot by any stretch of imagination be considered a busy place. The railway upholds the reputation of the village. A visitor to Mudville realized this recently after waiting four hours for an overdue train. He approached the porter.

"Isn't this train coming soon?" he inquired mildly.
Just at that moment a dog came trotting up the line, and a glad smile illuminated the porter's face.

"Oh, yes, sir," replied the official; "it'll be getting here now. Here comes the engineer's dog."—Edinburgh Scotsman.

AT THE OPERA HOUSE

THE SHEIK

What promises to prove one of the reigning sensations of the current screen season, "The Sheik," a remarkable Paramount picture produced by George Melford will be shown at the Newark Opera House next Monday and Tuesday. The photoplay is a picturization of E. M. Hull's remarkable novel of the Sahara Desert which is now numbered as one of the best sellers in the literary market.

The role of the Arabian tribal chieftain, Sheik Ahmed Ben Hassan, is portrayed by Rudolph Valentino, the handsome young actor who sprung into instant popularity by his work in "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse." He is a romantic actor and makes a perfect picture as the colorful warrior-lover of the desert wastes. Agnes Ayres, the newly created Paramount star, plays the feature lead—the haughty English girl who is captured by the Sheik and forced to do his bidding. The story tells of the strange love between these two characters and the many vicissitudes which are undergone before a perfect understanding is finally established between them.

THE BLAZING TRAIL

Lillian Rich, the beautiful English girl who was a favorite on the London musical comedy stage before coming to America a little over a year ago, has the leading feminine role in "The Blazing Trail," the Universal photodrama which brings Frank Mayo back to the Newark Opera House on Thursday of this week. Miss Rich, who is a talented actress as well as a raging beauty, will be remembered as Mayo's leading lady in "The Red Lane."

BOYS WILL BE BOYS

Two of the best known American humorists, Irvin S. Cobb and Will Rogers, combine in the making of the Goldwyn picture, "Boys Will Be Boys," which comes to the Opera House on Saturday.

DON'T NEGLECT YOUR WIFE

Josephine Crowell, who plays Mrs. Abbott in the latest Gertrude Atherton film play, produced by Goldwyn, "Don't Neglect Your Wife!" which comes to the Opera House, Friday, is a character actress of ability and experience, as film fans will recognize from her previous work in Goldwyn's "Bunty Pulls the String," in which she played Miss Simpson.

LAUNDRY AND POLITICS

To the wanderings of a man's mind there is no end. Women belonging to Card Clubs, Sewing Circles or women just calling for an hour's knitting and gossip, have long been the subjects of quip and jest. But for mental globe-trotting, man wins every heat. A few evenings ago, a few such were gathered together. Politicians, near statesmen, office-holders and seekers—all were there. Discussion on the Arms Conference soon gave way to Peeny and Internal Revenue. Then Layton's Maternity Bill was passed only to take up the new State Board of Charities. Who was the coming man, who going, had a few minutes, General Motors, Columbia Graphophone and Grafanolos, who slipped the who are now beyond the age limit but realizing from previous years the worth of the project are anxious to again take the course.

 There is one part of the program that every boy and girl who attended was especially interested in. This was the address delivered Tuesday evening by Theodore T. Martin, former State Club Leader, now of Springfield, Mass. The Junior Farmers' Short Course was started under the direction of Mr. Martin who endeared himself to every boy and girl club member in the State by the keen interest he took in their work. Mr. Martin returned to Delaware especially to address the young farmers on this occasion.

A. D. Cobb, who succeeded Mr. Martin as State Club Leader, is in direct charge of the short course. The short course students have sleeping quarters in Harter Hall, the University of Delaware dormitories, while meals are served at the University Commons, Miss Helen L. Comstock and Miss Dorothy Emerson, County Club Agents for Kent and Sussex counties, are the chaperons for the girls who stay at Harter Hall while Charles Ent, a rehabilitation student, is looking after the boys who sleep there.

While Mr. Cobb as State Club Leader is the responsible head of all he has able assistants among the various agricultural extension workers of the University and the State. M. O. Pence, leader of county agents, is on hand to help in any way possible. Among others who are assisting Mr. Cobb are the three county agents, R. O. Bausman, of New Castle; R. E. Wilson, of Kent, and M. C. Vaughn, of Sussex; county club agents, Miss Agnes P. Medill of New Castle county, Miss Helen L. Comstock of Kent and Miss Dorothy Emerson of Sussex, Miss Kathryn Wood, State Home Demonstration Agent is also on hand to assist.

The young visitors have the use of most of the equipment of the University including that of the gymnasium and the "gym" work is a feature. "Dick" Holton, captain of this year's University of Delaware football team has charge of the boys in the "gym" work and Miss Emerson is looking after the girls in "gym" work. There is in some instances a separate program for the boys and girls. For the girls there is demonstration work in various details of Home Economics while the boys get instructions in some of the most material lines of farming. There will be lectures and social features for the entire school.

THE TEACHER GAVE IT UP

Teacher—If your mother had 25 yards of stuff, and made a dress containing 18 yards, how much would she have left?

Little Girl—Mamma can't make her own dresses. She has tried often, and they are always either too—

Teacher—Suppose she sent it to a dressmaker, how much would the dressmaker send back?

Little Girl—Depends on which dressmaker she sent it to. Some wouldn't send back any.

Teacher (impatiently) — Suppose she sent it to an honest one? Little Girl—Some of the honestest ones cut things to waste, so that there is never anything left, no matter how much you send 'em.—Chicago Herald.

NEWSPAPER SPEED

On the opening day of the Conference advance copies of the addresses were given to the Press Correspondents as they entered the Hall. Included in the copy was the Invocation by the Chaplain of the Conference.

A French correspondent leaned over and whispered to an American, "I understand only part of this. Here is Harding's address and proposals of Hughes—but the Invocation, Now—"

"That is the prayer of the chaplain," replied the Yank.

"Ah," said the Frenchman, "you American newspaper men—remarkable. Even the prayers reach the eye of man before the ears of God—that's very fast work."
