PHYSICAL TEST SHOWS 74 PER CENT. FIT FOR SERVICE.

LARGE MAJORITY FILE EXEMPTION CLAIMS AND 1000 MORE MAY HAVE TO BE EXAMINED

The rural New Castle County Board of Exemption is completing the physical examinations today of the first contingent of conscripts from which at least a portion of the districts quota (which is 214) for the Draft Army will be selected. The first 428 men on the conscription list were notified to report for the examinations the first three days of this week and judging from the progress made so far it is evident that at least 1000 more will have to be examined before the 214 are secured for the army if any where near the number who have filed claims are exempted.

J. Pilling Wright, Dr. W. Owen Snyder and Dr. Walter H. Steel, members of the board, are much concerned because of the large number of young men who have failed to report for their examinations. Of 286 who were notified to report Monday and yesterday 25 failed to appear and members of the board cannot account for their absence. In some instances it has been found that the notices were delayed for days in the mails but even granting this the responsibility for failure to report rests with the conscript even though he did not get a notice. This has been made plain time after time through the newspapers and there seems to be no way to account for so many delinquents except to put them down as slackers. After today the board will have to turn in the names of those who failed to report for examination and the Federal authorities will then deal with them.

Drs. H. G. M. Kollock and Chas. H. Blake of Newark, and Dr. Norman L. Beal of Middletown, again assisted Dr. Steel in making the physical examinations yesterday. Monday 108 were examined, 80 passed and 28 were rejected. Yesterday 100 were examined, 74 passed and 26 rejected. For the two days 208 were examined, 154 passed and 54 were rejected. This is a percentage of about 74 percent physically fit which is considered under all the circumstances an excellent showing.

In addition to the 54 who were rejected 127 of the 208 examined Monday and Tuesday filed claims for exemption. It was estimated that the grounds of at least 80 percent of those claiming exemption was for dependents and a large majority are married men, many with families. The remaining 20 percent are made up of 16 aliens who filed claims and 3 men who have enlisted in some branch of the service. In addition to the three enlisted men who have filed exemption claims the board knows of 11 other men among the first 428 drawn in this district who have enlisted but have not filed the claims for exemption they are supposed to file up until this time. In some instances these enlisted men it is thought, are probably at sea or at distant points and have had no opportunity to put in their claims.

From the figures and data given out by the board last night it is very evident that only a very few who passed the physical examinations failed to put in a claim for exemption and even some of these will file claims with the State appeal board, as all agricultural and industrial claims for exemption are filed and heard by the State board and not the local board. There will be a number of claims filed with the state board in both of those classes.

The men rejected on the physical tests Monday and Tuesday were as follows:

Silent Policemen For Main Street

Six modern traffic standards will soon be placed at the most congested points in Newark, probably most of them along Main street. Mayor Frazer has ordered the standards which are often referred to as "silent policemen" and they should arrive this week. This is something that has long been needed owing to the constant increase of automobiles through the town. The standards really do the work of a traffic officer and will assist materially in preventing accidents. They are being used in most every city with much success.

Boy Drowned In Pool

The body of Lucius Cole, aged 16 years, of Philadelphia, was found drowned in the swimming pool at Arden, the Single Tax colony, near Wilmington, at noon on Sunday of last week. It is thought he went to the pool alone and either fell into the pool or waded beyond his depth. Dr. J. W. Mallin used a pulmotor to revive him but failed. The boy's father is a violinist in the Philadelphia Orchestra.

COLLEGE MAY REMOVE FLAGSTONE PAVEMENT

Town Ordinance Provides It Must Be Of Concrete

The laying of flagstone for pavement in front of the new Dormitory on Main street was the subject of considerable discussion at the meeting of Council last night. A letter was read from Day and Klauder, the college architects in which it was stated that when the plans were made for the flagstone pavement it was not known that an ordinance provides that only concrete pavement shall be laid on Main street and that the work was under way when that fact was learned.

While they desire to settle the matter without any controversy with the college officials or contractors some members of Council were firm in their stand that the flagstone could not remain and must eventually be removed. Mayor Frazer explained that he is the only member of the grounds committee of the college trustees now in the state, the others being on their vacation. He thought the matter could be settled to the satisfaction of all concerned as soon as H. Rodney Sharp, chairman of the committee, can be seen but Mr. Sharp is now away for his health. It was finally agreed to postpone any action until September.

A communication was received by Council from the Jacob Thomas Company objecting to the assessment on its property being raised to $35,000. As the appeal was not filed on the appeal day set several weeks ago Council could do nothing in the matter at this time.

Mayor Frazer reported that he had heard the Sewer Commission was contemplating the building of a sewer extension on Wilbur street but that he had no definite information to that effect.

Police Officer Apsley, at his request, was granted a vacation of four days.

Council granted authority to George W. Griffin to remove what was formerly the Leak home on South College Avenue to Elkton Road. The building will be moved by way of Amstel Avenue.

The monthly report of the treasurer follows:

Balance last report	$2,149.91

GROUNDS FOR EXEMPTION MUST BE MADE PUBLIC

Suggestion Of Gov. Townsend Made National Rule By General Crowder

The following telegram was received by Governor Townsend today from Provost Marshal General Crowder relative to registered lists, exemptions and publication of reasons for exemption, etc., which is in direct line with the suggestions made by Governor Townsend last week in a telegram to General Crowder, showing that the suggestion of the Governor has been adopted as a national order:

"Governor of Delaware, Dover, Delaware.

"The names of all registered men are on a list arranged in the order in which they will be called for military service. Wherever any registered person imposes upon a local board and improperly secures a certificate of exemption or discharge he advances the time of all other uncalled persons on the list; for this reason every registered person and, to some extent every person in the community is more or less directly interested in seeing that the true facts are brought to the attention of the Governor. For every local board a person has been designated who will receive information of such cases and take appeals to the district board or inform the local board. For this reason the public is entitled to know the grounds upon which claims for exemption or discharge are being asked by registered men. Local boards should therefore be instructed immediately to make available to the press from day to day the names of persons claiming exemption or discharge, the grounds on which such claims are based and in general the number of cases that are being disposed of by the boards from day to day. This instruction does not apply of course to discharges on the ground of physical disqualification.

Committee Appointed To Give Soldiers Send Off

Mayor E. B. Frazer at the meeting of Council Monday night stated that he had been approached by a number of citizens who thought a farewell of some kind should be given Company E before the soldiers leave for the training camp at Anniston, Alabama. He stated that he had no suggestions to make on the subject but thought it was probably a matter more for the citizens at large than it was for Council to look after.

Other members of Council were also of the opinion that the citizens should arrange for any farewell that is given the members of Company E and consequently Mayor Frazer appointed the following committee of citizens to arrange for the affair: George W. Griffin, chairman; William E. Hayes, George W. Rhodes, Walter C. Curtis, James A. McKelvey, A. L. Beals, Edward L. Richards, Leslie E. Hill, Louis L. Curtis and Norris N. Wright. The committee will likely meet soon to talk over plans for a reception.

Now Is Opportunity To Help Red Cross

Every Newark housewife now has an excellent opportunity to assist in the work of the local branch of the Red Cross with little expense. The Newark branch is making an appeal that every home in town put up at least one extra jar or glass of jelly for the Red Cross. Such a gift will some day no doubt mean a lot to some American boy in the trenches in Europe fighting our battles for us, or to the soldiers' family at home this winter. The jars of jelly can either be delivered to the branch headquarters in the former home of Dr. Walter H. Steel or by notifying headquarters they will be called for. Anyone who desires jars or glasses for this purpose can secure them by stopping at the Red Cross headquarters.

CARNIVAL RECEIPTS NEARLY $7,000--- MRS. ASPELL AWARDED AUTOMOBILE

With the largest crowd that ever congregated in Newark on one night the firemen's carnival closed Saturday night. As usual the carnival was a great success due to the able management of Chief E. Clifford Wilson and his hard working band of assistants including the women of Newark.

The crowd Saturday night is estimated from 8,000 to 10,000 and they came from practically all over the state and hundreds from Pennsylvania and Maryland. There were also many automobile parties from Wilmington. The arrangement of the ground made it possible for such a large crowd to move around without much trouble and it was a typical carnival crowd with everyone out for a good time. The excellent manner in which the crowd was handled was also a credit to Newark.

Long before dark the automobiles and teams started to arrive. The town officials had made arrangements for such a crowd and special officers were located along Main street to see that the machines were properly parked. By 8 o'clock there was hardly a vacant foot of parking space from the Centre to the B. and O., cars being parked close on each side of the street. In addition to Main street cars and teams were also parked on all side streets and Delaware Avenue. The officers claim that at least 1,800 machines were in Newark.

The total receipts were $6,796, but this does not include the lumber that is to be sold and some minor receipts not in which will probably bring the total to $7,000—just about what it was last year. Members of the local chapter of the Red Cross are elated over the great success of the affair and they helped materially in making it a success. The chapter will receive 25 per cent of the profits and this will likely be in the neighborhood of $1,000.

Mrs. William Aspell, who held ticket R-43, was awarded the Automobile. The profit on the machine was $1,922.

The winners of prizes at the carnival were, Mrs. George S. Ferguson, half barrel of flour; George Pemberton, cake; Miss Anna Crow, night dress; Mrs. Henry Heipel, centre piece.

Second Summer School Term Is Now Open

The second term of the Delaware College Summer School opened on Monday and will continue four weeks. In connection with the second term there is a special two weeks course for rural ministers. Thirty-eight teachers who attended the first term have remained over for the advanced course. The school authorities have secured the services of the Rev. Matthew B. McNutt of the Presbyterian Board of Missions and the Rev. W. W. Voght of the Methodist Church both specialists in rural church problems to assist with the course. Announcement has been made that tomorrow night an address will be made to the students by Robert McElroy of Princeton University, who succeeded President Wilson as head of the department of history and politics. Only a few entered the course for rural ministers.

Uncle Joe Lutton Resigns From Council

After many years service to the town Joseph B. Lutton, known to his many friends as "Uncle Joe" has resigned as a member of Council from the eastern district. His resignation which he requested should take effect at once was read at the meeting of Council Monday night. He gave as his reason for desiring to leave Council, failing health, which prevents him from attending the meetings regularly. After the communication had been read Mayor Frazer commented on the value and long service that Mr. Lutton has given Newark. His term will expire next April and it was the sense of all the members that an effort be made to have him reconsider his action and serve out his term, and Councilmen Wilson, Thompson and Barton were appointed a committee to ask him to serve out his term.

Mr. Lutton is a member of the local Post, G. A. R. For many years he was a blacksmith from which business he retired some years ago.

Killed While Mending Tire

An automobile, driven by John F. Scott of 1512 West Fourteenth street, Wilmington, early on Sunday morning of last week ran down William Lanahan, aged 42, and James King, aged 30 years, both of Chester, who were repairing a tire on their car which had blown out at Claymont. Lanahan's skull and jaw were fractured and his chest was crushed. He died in Delaware Hospital about an hour later. King was cut and bruised about the body. Scott claimed he was not speeding and did not see the injured men until too late to avoid the accident. He did not stop his car however, and was searched for by the police.

Council Provides For Curfew Law

Acting on a petition from residents of the negro section of the town requesting it, Council at a meeting Monday night adopted a resolution providing for a curfew law for Newark. The resolution provides that it shall be unlawful for any child under 14 years of age to be out on the streets after 9:30 o'clock at night unless with a parent or guardian and also provides for a small fine for violations. The resolution also states that the Officer shall tap the bell in the school house on Cleveland Avenue four times at 9:30 o'clock each night. The resolution will be read in the three colored churches on Sunday.

STATE FAIR IN GOVERNMENT SERVICE

Hoover Proposes Special Department

The Delaware State Fair, September 3-7, inclusive, is now in the service of the United States government.

In a recent statement Herbert C. Hoover, government food administrator, designated the Delaware State Fair a food training camp, at which all the people in its territory can study the problems of food efficiency which he intends to place before them.

"It is the intention of the government to co-operate with the agricultural fairs in every way possible in convincing everyone of the absolute necessity of producing more food and wasting less of it," said Mr. Hoover recently.

The action taken in naming the Delaware State Fair as a food training camp is the result of a conference of prominent fair officials from all parts of the United States, at which the services of the larger fairs were tendered to the government.

"Because of the importance of this great movement, and the possibilities offered by the food training camps in assisting the government in its food conservation work, I believe that the fairs should organize a special bureau at Washington to co-operate with my department and other governments in helping to bring the war to a successful conclusion," said Mr. Hoover at the close of the conference.

This bureau will be established at Washington at once, with Ray P. Speer, publicity manager of the American Association of Fairs and Expositions in charge. The bureau will work out plans, in cooperation with the government, by which the great food problems and their solution can be presented to the American people in the most satisfactory way.

It is not known definitely what lines this work will follow. This remains to be worked out; but it is probable that a series of exhibits and demonstrations will be placed at the different fairs by the government. A conference is to be held at Washington on this matter sometime this week.

This is the first time in history that the national government has co-operated with the fairs of the country in a general way, or has attempted to make use of them in an official way.

How To Increase The Yield Of Wheat

Wheat requires more careful soil preparation than most field crops. The labor required to put the soil in good condition for seeding will depend largely on the character of the previous crop and the nature of the soil. Hence, an important factor in producing satisfactory yields of wheat is the proper rotation of crops.

The proper place for wheat in a crop rotation depends on local conditions, but generally in Delaware it is after corn, potatoes or some cultivated crop, or after cowpeas or soy beans.

Seed bed preparation is one of the most expensive items in growing wheat. Plowing may often be omitted and disking substituted. Where wheat follows corn it pays to cultivate thoroughly the corn crop keeping the soil mellow and free from weeds throughout the summer.

condition. Disking of the land would lessen the labor and seeding might be done earlier. The labor necessary for properly compacting the soil after plowing is often as great as the preparation without plowing. Where wheat follows potatoes, tomatoes or other hood crops a disking or harrowing will fit the soil satisfactorily.

To Enforce Motor Law

Attorney-General Reinhardt has decided to enforce most rigidly the motor vehicle laws of the State, and through Deputy Attorney-General Percy Warren Green has sent a circular letter to the various police commissioners, chiefs of police and justices of the peace throughout the State, requesting co-operation.

It is requested of these officers that they see to it that the laws is observed in all its provisions, and especially so with reference to equipment, rate of speed and the use of headlights. The regulations in the latter respect were formed with the intention of eliminating the blinding dazzle of high-power headlights, so dangerous to traffic on the road.

Wilmington and its Relation to the Trade of the Peninsula

Copyrighted—Used by Special Permission of Rand McNally Co.

During the past five years there has been much discussion as to Wilmington's claim to the trade of the Delaware and Maryland peninsulas and it is generally conceded that the efforts made on the part of local merchants to attract the trade has brought most satisfactory results.

Wilmington's merchants have adopted the slogan "If you cannot buy it in your home town come to Wilmington," as it will be observed they have not been altogether selfish.

The Del-Mar-Via Press Association, composed of newspaper publishers of Delaware and the Eastern Shore of Maryland and Virginia, has taken a keen interest in Wilmington's bid for the trade of their territories, and at the annual meeting of the association at Hotel du Pont in January last a committee was appointed to work out a plan to facilitate the people of Wilmington with rural Delaware and the Eastern Shore with a view of bringing them closer together.

"We will never bring disgrace to this, our city by any act of dishonesty or cowardice, nor ever desert our suffering comrades in the ranks."

"We will fight for the ideals and sacred things of the city, both alone and with many; we will revere and obey the city's laws and do our best to incite a like respect and reverence in those above us who are prone to annul or set them at naught; we will strive unceasingly to quicken the public's sense of civic duty."

"Thus in all these ways we transmit this city not only not less but greater, better and more beautiful than it was transmitted to us."

REWARDS OF THE DRAFT

The Liberty Loan, the Red Cross, the Registration, the selection have all been events that will be recorded in history as momentous days. Now this week we are entering another stage—that of examination and enlistment of the great National Army. The tremendous task involved! Only those directly associated with the work can realize the mass of detail. To register, draw and select an army of 687,000 men is what is being done. Tons of mail, thousands of telegrams, telephones taxed to capacity, over 500 different forms to carry in to effect the task. Not only this, the tremendous responsibilities resting on the various Boards throughout the nation. Men of wealth, men of profession and business, men of large affairs, used to a few hours work to big business are rushing at full speed way into the night hours in serving their County.

Out of all this time, this energy and sacrifice, there must be truly something worth while. It is taking away the sordid selfish ambitions. Men are more lenient with men. Petty politics, playing for position, graft, misnamed mercy are giving way to Truth. We are demanding from our fellows that they stand full square. Service, honor, responsibility, fairness—Justice are words that are becoming more prominent in our dealings with men.

These in part are paying for the sacrifice, tears and death. It is developing manhood.

DEAN SMITH URGES THAT ATHLETICS BE KEPT UP

Represented Delaware At Session Of National Collegiate Association

Delaware College was represented at a special meeting of the National Collegiate Athletic Association, held in Washington last Thursday at the New Willard Hotel, by Dean Edward Laurence Smith, President of the Delaware College Athletic Council.

When war was declared with Germany and the rush among students to enlist in various branches of the service and enter the training camps began many of the premier men in athletic ranks left the institutions of the country to take up patriotic service. Delaware College, along with many others, suffered greatly in this respect. Many institutions canceled the remainder of their schedules in the various sports. The question as to whether Delaware should take the same course came up at that time and after deliberation it was determined that to proceed with our schedules was the best course for Delaware. This was done and the results under the circumstances were very gratifying. From the results of this course of action in the spring Dean Smith believes that it would be a great mistake, not only for Delaware but for all educational institutions, to consider even the advisability of dropping intercollegiate football during the coming semester. He stated before the meeting of the National Collegiate Athletic Association that Delaware College would proceed to carry out all her contracts in athletic sports in so far as such a course would not interfere with the military training desired by the national government.

Dean Smith said in part: "For many years, as you all know, there has been a movement on the part of some of the members of this association to decry the practice of bending all our energies and finances to the highly specialized training of a few star athletes to the practical exclusion of many others whose physical welfare receives no attention. Many of us have long thought that a system of athletics that would bring out more candidates in all sports would be highly desirable. It seems to me that the situation that confronts us and the problem we have been specifically called to solve present the opportunity which some have been striving to create, if we will only see it in that light and take advantage of it. It is acknowledged that many institutions have lost their stars. In the language of a collegiate fan 'the team has been shot to pieces.' For this reason shall we acknowledge that our purpose in college athletics is merely to develop star athletes? Shall we cancel our schedules because our stars are gone or shall we adopt the spirit of true sportmanship by going ahead despite this fact by throwing the gates open to the whole body of students and filling the vacancies from the best material? Our experience in carrying out our baseball schedule proved that more men came out to try for the vacancies after various members of our team had left than had ever appeared under normal conditions. We are sure that the same situation will obtain during the coming session. Delaware College votes to carry on all athletic programs as heretofore."

Secretary Baker, who later addressed the delegates, contended that competitive sports should be continued to equip men for the reception of military training. Mr. Baker, however, took exception to our former methods of conducting college athletics. He said: "The big, strong, husky men are made specialized athletes while the anemic and studious and unathletically inclined are left to fill the bleachers. Star teams and specialized athletes, while good and valuable in their way, are not numerous enough to make armies. The gospel of college athletics should be athletics for all." Commenting on this question, the Philadelphia Record, in an editorial in its issue of August 7, makes the following statement: "Every college boy—as well as every other boy—ought to have severe athletic training, and if it shall not be distinctly military, its chief aim should be to endow the college youth with a sound body and a physical development that will enable him to be a more efficient citizen, whether called to civic duty or to service in war. College athletics ought to have a higher objective than mere sport."

Upon the recommendation of a special committee appointed for the purpose the Association at Washington adopted the following resolutions:

"That we recommend that there be no pre-season coaching during the coming academic year."

"That training tables be given up."

"That professional coaching and other expenses incidental thereto be reduced to a minimum; that the number of officials at intercollegiate games and their fees be kept as low as possible."

"That the Association reiterates its belief in the eligibility rules which it has already endorsed, including the freshman rules, and recommends that there be no lowering of eligibility standards because of existing conditions."

Stayton, Morris R. Mitchell, J. P. Gumm, and J. Wilson O'Daniel, are at the Officers' Training Camp, Fort Myer.

Talk Among The Farmers

Aside from the terrific heat, farmers have been very fortunate with their harvesting. Crop reports received to date show normal yields. Wheat now being threshed run around 20 bushels to the acre. The price for immediate delivery is $2.25 according to today's quotation. Some dealers paying $2.50.

Hay was normal and was cured in fine shape. Prices ranging $12 to $16, according to quality.

Oats are running a little above the average yield, threshing out in some instances as high as 55 bushels per acre.

Help is very scarce but not embarrassingly so. The demands per day run in most instances $3.00 per day. The farmer who gets labor for $2.50 and board is fortunate. While price of wheat is advanced the cost of fertilizer and labor will offset considerable of the profit. With hay, the price is lower than in recent years, with almost twice the labor cost. The same is true with potatoes. At the price for which they are now selling, $1.00 to $1.50 per bushel, the profit is very small, if any. One farmer who is a large grower and exceptional in that he has a knowledge of his costs, said recently that unless he received $1.15 per bushel, he would lose actual cash put in the crop. This says nothing of the labor involved.

A great deal is being said about high costs of dairy products. But when we consider costs of concentrated dairy foods that is not raised in this section, this all fades away. Butter profits are far less than they were five years ago.

So while the farmer is doing his bit as never before he is not reaping the market profits that many newspaper readers believe.

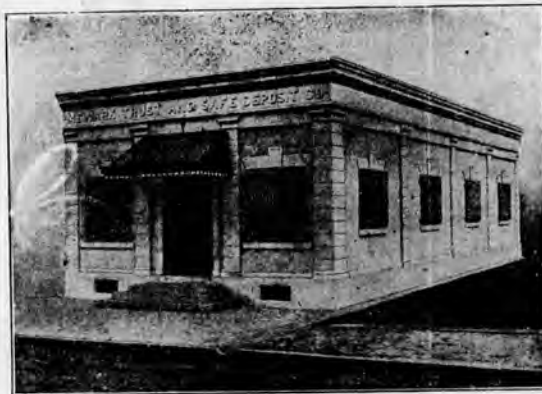

Notice To Alfalfa Growers

This month is the time to seed alfalfa. In order to assist those who are planning to sow the crop this year for the first time, the Department of Agronomy of the Agricultural Experiment Station will furnish free of charge, except for freight, sufficient soil to inoculate two acres. If a larger acreage is to be sown a charge of ten cents per hundred pounds of soil will be made to cover cost of the bags.

Inoculation is absolutely essential in securing a stand of alfalfa in Delaware.

Prospective growers should write for a copy of Delaware bulletin No. 110.

This department will be glad to give suggestions or assist in any way those who wish to seed alfalfa.

Now The Election

In so far as the constitutionality of the Wet and Dry question is concerned, that issue is settled. The contest is now one of opinion to be expressed at the polls. The Courts as well as the people at large have upheld the Governor in his action. The accusation of "contemptible peanut politics" in Wilmington and "damned unfair" from Rural New Castle is now off the slate. According to the law and decision of the Court, he did what he was authorized to do. Leaving out those directly connected with sale of liquor, everybody thought him fair.

Majorities are now the question. The Drys, says Wolcott, have as much right to be in majority as the wets.

Get registered in every man's duty, see that the opinion of the people is expressed. The progress of thought in Delaware will then be expressed.

Reunion

The annual reunion of the 4th Regiment Delaware Volunteers' Association will be held on August 16th at the Irish-American Hall, 6th and French street, Wilmington, Delaware. The business meeting will be held 10 o'clock. The afternoon will be devoted to speeches, recitations and music.

Professor Mitchell To Pick Out Non-layers

Two demonstrations which are part of the general conservation plans on the part of officials of the state have been arranged by Professor R. V. Mitchell, head of the Poultry Husbandry Department of Delaware College. One demonstration is being held this afternoon at the farm of C. Palmer Dickey near Stanton and the other at the farm of Irving Klair, Thursday afternoon. In these demonstrations Professor Mitchell will explain how non-layers can be picked out from a flock of poultry. This knowledge not only gives the poultry raiser a chance to dispose of the poultry that are not bringing in any revenue but also saves a considerable item in food.

Lightning Fires Barns

Lightning, during Thursday evening's storm, destroyed the large barn on the farm of Samuel Moore near Bear Station. Mr. Moore was ill at his home with gastric fever. Neighbors rallied to his aid and the Reliance Fire Company of Wilmington made a rapid run to the scene and managed to save other buildings. The loss is put at about $4,000. During the storm lightning also fired the barn on the farm of Harry Stradley, formerly the Satterwaite farm, near Churchman's Bridge in the Stanton section, which was destroyed with its contents, causing a loss of about $7,500. The stock was saved. The bolt that fired the barn stunned Joseph Davis and a cow he was milking. Lightning on Thursday night also fired and destroyed the stable on the farm of J. Frank Stalling of Dover, in Whitehall Neck, between Smyrna and Lepsic, with a lot of hay and harness. The chemical engine from Smyrna saved the barn and its contents. The loss is put at $1,000.

Farewell Dance For Soldiers

Mayor Lawson and the executive committee in charge of the farewell dance to be given to the soldiers of Delaware in Wilmington before their departure for Anniston, Ala. have decided to use the following sections of streets for the function: Eighteenth, from Washington to Jefferson; Nineteenth, from Boulevard to Van Buren; Twentieth, from Jefferson to Van Buren; Twenty-first, from Jefferson to Boulevard; Twenty-second, from Boulevard to Van Buren; Van Buren, from Eighteenth to Twenty-second; Boulevard, from Eighteenth to Twenty-second. The park grounds between Washington street bridge and Eighteenth street will be roped off for the public. It is estimated that Eight bands will be needed to place on the several streets set apart for the dancing. The date for the public reception and dance will be set when that fixed for the troops' departure is learned.

The yield in Cecil with the progress of threshing is generally reported better than last year's despite the Spring's poor outlook.

A nest of the Order of Owls with 227 members was organized in Elkton last night.

The receipts at the office of the Maryland Motor Vehicle Commissioner for July totaled $54,450.62, an increase of $17,926.91 over those for July of last year.

Rev. J. Emory Parks, of Newport, who declined a call extended by Trinity Church, Elkton, St. Andrews Andora, and the Church of the Good Shepherd, Chesapeake City, to their joint rectorship, has been tendered another by Trinity and St. Mary's, North East, which it is thought, he will accept.

H. M. Doyekine, of Rising Sun, landed a 17-pound rock fish with hook and line while fishing at Octoraro Junction on the Susquehanna, one day last week.

Lightning early on Wednesday morning fired and destroyed a large barn on the farm of Senator Joseph I. France, near Port Deposit along with 550 bushels of wheat a lot of hay and the threshing outfit of Samuel Fitzgerald. A valuable bull perished in the flames. The loss is put at several thousand dollars with partial insurance.

Baltimore City contributed $1,110,000 to the National Red Cross fund which will likely be increased by subscriptions not yet checked up. Frederick and Allegany Counties contributed together $100,000, and other counties varying amounts. Baltimore's expected quota was put at $920,000 and that of the counties at $580,000. The total given by the counties will not be known for some time as the work of collecting is still in progress.

Rev. Howard Davis, of Bridgeville, recently appointed Chaplain of the Trust Delaware Infantry, was mustered into the service on Thursday, at the Armory in Wilmington, as a first lieutenant. He expects to take his family to Anneton, Ala., so that they may be near him while in camp. Rev. Thomas E. Terry has been assigned as his successor as pastor of Bridgeville M. E. Church.

John F. Richards, who was exposed to ammonia fumes following the explosion on July 29 at the Middletown Farms Company's plant and otherwise injured, died at his home several hours later. He leaves a widow and several children. John F. Maul, who was also injured, is reported recovering at a Wilmington hospital.

Wilmington was shaken early on Wednesday morning by the explosion of 400 pounds of blasting powder in a wheel mill at the Hagley yards of the duPont Company, caused by a spark due to friction. No one was injured.

Charles Marvel, a well-known farmer of the Bridgeville section has sought the aid of State and town officials to locate his son, Norman, who has been missing since Sunday, July 15. He attended a moving picture show in Bridgeville the previous night and went to Greenwood, where it is said, he boarded a train for Wilmington. He was wearing a blue serge suit.

Of the 60 eligibles or registrants in Cecil County called to secure its quota of 30 men for the first draft about a dozen had already enlisted, four were aliens and less than a score passed the physical examination. Of these a number filed exemption claims. Probably about a dozen will be accepted and a second call will be required to secure the remainder of the needed quota.

Joseph Terry of the Rising Sun section, who enlisted in Company E, of Elkton, First Maryland Infantry, disappeared about two weeks ago and is charged with desertion. Efforts will be made to locate him.

Salaried employees of the du Pont Powder Company on July 31 received increases of pay. Those getting higher pay receiving 10 percent and those lower 25 percent increase per month. The cash bonus rate was charged to 20 percent of the new salary rate in all cases.

For only $15 Our Salesmen Will Be Glad to wait on you

This means that any Man or Young Man can come here today and buy any Suit in our light-weight Clothing Stock for only $15, no matter whether its present price is $20, $22, $25, $30 or $35.
And these savings will be from prices that positively are lower than the regular prices of any other Wilmington store for the same grades of merchandise. Furthermore, the cost of woolens, trimmings and linings has advanced tremendously—50 percent in many cases—and is still going up; so that next season you'll not be able to buy suits as good as these even at this season's full, regular prices.
Another thing to consider is that every suit in this sale is made of guaranteed, standard-dyed fabrics, something which, owing to the difficulty in securing dyes, woolen manufacturers claim they will be unable to supply next season.
So besides the big money-saving feature, there are other very important reasons why you should take the fullest possible advantage of this sale.
Why, then, you may ask, don't we hold this clothing till next year, when we could get even more than our regular prices for it, instead of selling it now at such a loss?
Because we will not carry any clothing over from one season to another, no matter what loss it entails. We must start each new season with fresh, new merchandise, and, although it means a very great sacrifice to do what we are doing, we shall not depart from our fixed policy.

SOME NOTEWORTHY FACTS ABOUT THIS SALE:

PRESIDENT WILSON NAMES APPEAL BOARD

Newton, Magee, Warner, Robin And Saylor Com-

President Wilson on Monday named the following military exemption appeal board for Delaware:

Arley B. Magee, of Dover. State Senator Oliver A. Newton, of Bridgeville. Dr. Albert Robin, A. R. Saylor and Charles Warner, of Wilmington.

This board will hear all agricultural and industrial claims for exemption, and will act as an appeal board in other cases.

These appointments were recommended by Governor Townsend some weeks ago.

Acting for Governor Townsend, Secretary of State Johnson, yesterday sent telegrams to each member of the Appeal or district board notifying them of their appointment. At his request the board met at Dover yesterday and after the members had been sworn in, organized. The board will make its headquarters in Dover.

On June 18 Governor Townsend received a lengthy communication from Secretary of War Baker relative to the appointment of district exemption boards, and requested the Governor to nominate the personnel of the board for Delaware. Governor Townsend promptly replied by sending him the names of the five men who have been named.

Notwithstanding the sending of many communications and telegrams since the latter part of June by the Governor to the War Department as to whether the names he submitted had been approved or would be approved, not a word was received from the War Department until Friday of last week, when the Governor received word that the names were on the President's desk and would be approved at once. On Saturday the Governor was notified that the appointments would be made that day and would reach Dover in a short time. As a matter of fact the appointments were not approved by the President until late yesterday afternoon, reaching the Governor late last evening.

In the letter to the Governor under date of June 18, the Secretary of War stated that the composition of the normal or Federal Board should be as follows:

One member who is in close touch with the agricultural situation of the district or State; one member who is in close touch with the industrial situation of the district or State; one member who is in close touch with labor; one physician and one lawyer.

The Governor in replying to the Secretary of War stated that Delaware has two very distinct lines of industry: First, Wilmington, manufacturing, the nature of which is of more than ordinary national importance, viz. munitions, ship building and car shops; second, practically the rest of the State is devoted exclusively to agriculture, fruit and canning industries being prominent.

In appointing the above men the Governor designated Senator O. A. Newton as interested in agriculture; Charles Warner, closely allied with the industrial situation, and A. R. Saylor, allied with the labor interests; the other two being professional men—A. B. Magee, the lawyer, and Dr. Robin, the physician.

The Secretary of War in the same communication to the Governor, briefly outlines the duties of the district boards as follows:

"To district boards will be entrusted the solution of one of the most vital problems of the war. Two things are to be accomplished—to raise armies, to maintain industries. As the war proceeds more and more men will be required for the battle line, and yet there are certain industries that must be maintained to the end. Any considerable diminution of man power must interfere to some extent with industry. The diminution must be made and hence it is self-evident that the problem is not to interfere with industry not at all it is to reduce interference to a minimum. A balance must be struck and maintained between the military and the industrial needs of the nation and the necessary sacrifice must be distributed with scientific accuracy, and in such a way as to accomplish both purposes of the nation. The very statement of the problem demonstrates most forcibly that in making this economic balance it is the interest of the nation solely that must be subserved; that the interest of individuals or association of individuals cannot be considered as such, and indeed, can only benefit from the action of district boards where the individual interest happens to coincide with the interest of the nation."

North American Egg Laying Competition

The North American Egg Laying Competition will be conducted by the side of the duPont Road, at Georgetown, beginning on the first of next November and continuing a year. One hundred pens of five hens each will comprise the competition. The exact site was selected on Tuesday of this week by the Executive Committee representing the State Board of Agriculture and the Philadelphia North American. The one hundred colony houses, a reserve house and a building for the storage of grain and for an office are all to be put up in October. A driven well will supply the necessary water.

It is hoped that a large number of Delaware poultrymen will enter this competition. Liberal prizes are offered but the main benefit comes from the improvement of the egg laying capacity of the flock. Certified records of each individual will be furnished at the end of the competition.

Any breed or variety may be entered. The entry fee is $20.00, but at the close of the competition in past years more than one-half of this entrance fee has been returned to the contestant. The fee being used for certain necessary expenses.

Cut Down Deliveries —Release Men For War

The same Board which has rallied the women to co-operate in saving the wasted loaves, is calling on them now to co-operate in another saving—one vastly greater; one which if properly conducted will free not less than a hundred thousand men and a tremendous amount of equipment, to be used where they are really needed. Just as in the case of bread, this new saving comes through a reform in one of the every day practices of life—the way we get our daily groceries, meat, fruit, vegetables. They come to us almost like the Manna from Heaven. All you did in the case of Manna, I believe, was to pick it up; all we do in the case of our groceries is to ask for them—ask for them at any hour of the day—a dozen times a day if we will—in any quantity, a box of matches, a half dozen bananas, a pound of steak, and presto; it is put on the kitchen table.

The Bureau of Commerce has found that in the city of Washington is costs 7.4 per cent of the gross sales of food to pay for its delivery. On a food bill of about twelve and three-quarter million of dollars in 1916, Washington paid over $900,000 for sending the stuff to the purchaser. Naturally it cost more to deliver some things than others. Ice, bread, milk, ice-cream, cost Washington most.

What is true of Washington is true the country over, so the Commercial Economy Board finds. It estimates that the gross delivery expense of retail grocers in the country is over $75,000,000 a year. What is the sum used for? For the hire of men to put up packages, to run the number of wagons and trucks required, to put them in at your door, to go to your house not once but often a half dozen times a day.

Of course this means a reform in the method of ordering. One delivery a day is all that ought to be expected under present conditions. If a woman knows that is all she will get she will quickly and easily reform her ways—or carry her extra bundles.

A package in the hand will then be as truly a badge of honor as a Red Cross button on the coat lapel.

Improvements at Armory

The local chapter of the Red Cross Association has screened off a portion of the Armory to serve as the "Mess" Hall. Another portion has been screened by the Wilmington Red Cross Association for the Hospital Room. Mrs. Moore and Miss Johnston presented the Hospital Detachment with a Red Cross flag.

Traction Company To Open Supply House

Announcement has been made that the Wilmington and Philadelphia Traction which is now supplying electric current for Newark will open an electrical supply store in a few days in the store property on Main street owned by Wilbur Wilson and formerly occupied by George W. Rhodes, druggist. The Company has also entered into an arrangement with Council whereby citizens can pay their light and water bills at the store when it is opened if they so desire. A representative of the Company it was also announced by Council after this month will read the water and light meters without charge which will save the own $15 a month.

Storage Of Early Potatoes

A great many people have gardens this year who have never owned or worked on a home garden. Most of these amateur gardeners have grown potatoes, expecting that they will have enough potatoes to supply the table for some time. Most of the potatoes planted were of the early varieties and are now about ready to dig. A word or so about the storage of these potatoes may not come amiss: The early varieties of potatoes do not, as a rule, keep as well in storage as the late varieties. The principle reasons for the better keeping of the late varieties are, first, that they have fully ripened before digging, second, the tubers of the late varieties usually contain less moisture and thirdly, the weather at harvesting time is cooler and more favorable toward keeping root crops.

If one expects to store early potatoes for some time, we suggest the following precautions:

1. Have the tubers fully ripened before digging.
2. Have the tubers thoroughly dry before storing.
3. Have the tubers as clean as possible before storing.
4. Do not store large quantities in the same bin or pile.
5. Keep the tubers as cool as possible during hot weather, and have a free circulation of air, that is, plenty of ventilation in the storage room.

A ripe potato has a slightly roughened skin, covered with a fine network of slightly raised lines. The skin does not slip when pressed with the thumb.

For the ordinary home the early potato crop should be stored in barrels or boxes and kept in a cool, dry, well-ventilated cellar.

Hot Weather and Men

Fads and Fancies in Women's Dress has always been a stock joke with us men. But one thing we must admit, they know how to dress for hot weather. Until recent years, men insisted on wearing really heavy woolen clothes. Men are certainly conservative in dress. Gradually, they are beginning to dress according to the weather. White flannels and Palm Beach suits are no longer looked upon as foppish. They are sensible. Newark men are coming around. Palm Beach is the sane suit, just now. The price is such that it makes an extra appeal.
