FIRST CONSOLIDATED SCHOOL DEDICATED

$18,000 Building Near Camden

The Caesar Rodney Consolidated School which was the first to take advantage of the State law providing for the consolidation of school districts, will be dedicated next week. The new building cost $18,000. The State Board of Education will be present and one of its members preside at the meeting. Judge Conrad, of Georgetown, will make the address. Under the provision of the new state law providing for consolidated schools, the Caesar Rodney consolidated district number one received $2,000 from the State Board of Education to assist in financing the building, and $1,000 per year thereafter for maintenance. The school is required to maintain a four year course of study, approved by the Board. The Caesar Rodney district lies between Camden and Wyoming in Kent County. The school will undoubtedly receive considerable support from the Smith-Hughes law, an act appropriating money to encourage the promotion of industrial education in the various states.

STATE BOARD ATTENDS CONFERENCE

Plans For Industrial Education Near Completion

Commissioner of Education, A. R. Spaid, Dr. C. J. Scott, superintendent of the public schools of Wilmington, and Dean H. Hayward of Delaware College, representing the State Board of Education, attended a conference held in Washington last Friday to discuss the provisions of the Smith-Hughes law, providing for industrial education in the various states. The plans of the Board of Education, which administers the law in Delaware, are now being formed and will be completed by the beginning of next month. Under the provisions of this law Delaware gets $15,000 from the State government, and $15,000 from the Federal government to encourage education in agriculture, home economics, and industry. It is felt by those familiar with the provisions of the act that it is the greatest step forward given to education in America for any years.

Claims for exemption on the grounds of dependents made by those who were called in the second levy and were examined the latter part of last week are being considered by the rural New Castle County Exemption Board today. Campaign For Greater Wheat Yield

Mr. M. O. Pence, state leader of county agents, is conducting a wheat campaign in co-operation with County Agent C. A. Zimmerman, in Kent this week. The object is not so much to increase the acreage, but by the introduction of better seed, better fertilizer, and better cultural methods to increase the yield. It is hoped in this way to make the Delaware wheat harvest 10 percent more in 1918 than in 1917.

Government Works For Greater Production

According to the Food Bill passed two weeks ago by Congress, Delaware receives $13,300 to stimulate greater food production throughout the State. This fund will provide for the appointment of one more county agent, one state leader of home demonstration work, and two county home demonstrators.

Last May he received appointment through the local Company to the Officers' Training Camp, at Fort Myer, Va., where he received his commission as second lieutenant in the Sixth Infantry, U. S. A., on August 13th. After a brief honeymoon Lieutenant Bounds will join his regiment at Chicomagua Park, Ga.

New Season Begins At Jacob Thomas Company

Operations were resumed at the Jacob Thomas Company on Monday, after a cessation of two weeks devoted to cleaning and repairing machinery in the factory. This practice has been customary for years, the break coming when the manufacture of the 1917 patterns ceases, preparatory to the manufacture of a new line of patterns. Officers of the Company attended the convention of wall paper manufacturers, held in New York City, last week.

Live Stock Deals At Farm

The College Farm recently sold to the St. Joseph Industrial School, at Clayton, a fine Berkshire pig, and purchased from them two registered Holstein calves.

Increase The Meat Supply

The State Board of Agriculture at Dover calls attention to the fact that one of the quickest ways to increase the meat supply is to grow poultry and while too late to do much this Fall in general lines, it is a good time to start into the quab business. Probably the price of grain will be considerably lower than it has been in the last few months and the price of meat will probably be higher rather than lower. There is always a demand for squabs and during the war times there will be an unusual demand for their use in hospitals and for wounded or convalescent soldiers.

Three Of Family Hurt

Samuel J. Callaway, a farmer, and his wife and son were injured on Wednesday at Bridgeville railroad station. He boarded the 1.24 a. m. train on the way to New Haven, Conn. Mrs. Callaway and her son ran back to the station to get her handbag and when they returned the train was in motion. Mr. Callaway saw them running toward the train and jumped but fell, his head striking the cement wall, causing brain concussion. His condition is reported serious. Mrs. Callaway and her son tripped over his body and were cut and bruised when they fell.

Leap May Cost Life

While returning from Ocean City on Sunday of last week, Mrs. Jacob Wooten, of Laurel, leaped from an automobile when her 4-year-old son fell out of the door which had come open. The child fell on the soft sandy shoulder of the road but the mother landed upon the hard cement surface and when the car was stopped the other occupants found her senseless. She was taken to the Salisbury Hospital where she became conscious about midnight. She was badly cut and bruised and it is said, was injured internally. The child escaped injury.

Farmers Fix Prices Of Milk

The wholesale price of milk was set at 7 cents a quart for September by the Farmers' Milk Organization, at a meeting at the Ford Building, Wilmington, last Saturday night. Palmer C. Dickey was placed in Washington at a salary to care for the milk situation. He will place milk in all dairies at 7 cents a quart, and take care of all association milk. These decisions were made after a lively discussion over several members wishing to sell at 6 1/2 cents a quart. Fifty new shares of stock were entered on the books. A plant to receive and distribute milk was considered. There was a large attendance.

URGENT CALL FOR KNITTERS

Five Thousand Needed in Delaware

An urgent call has come to the Newark branch American Red Cross this week, through Miss Emily P. Bissell, secretary of the Delaware Chapter, for knitters. Five thousand are needed in Delaware to finish work requested by October first.

The appeal as forwarded by Miss Bissell comes from Grayson D. Murphy, Red Cross Commissioner in Europe, for 1,500,000 sweaters, scarves, wristlets, and socks, hand-knitted for the use of our armies and to take care of the non-combatants next winter. Mr. Grayson says that the winter is looked forward to with indescribable dread on account of the great suffering last year, when the lack of coal made conditions very bad. This year they will be even worse and it is the part of the women of America to see that warm, knitted garments are provided.

The rural New Castle County exemption board at headquarters in Purnell Hall, Newark, completed the examination on Saturday of the second levy of men for the national army. Seventy-eight to whom notices were sent did not appear but many of these have enlisted in various branches of the service since they registered and others have asked for transfers to other districts.

TYPHOID REPORTED SOUTH OF NEWARK

Town Proper Free Of Cases

Three cases of typhoid fever, in a district adjoining the limits of town on South Chapel Street, have been officially reported to the Board of Health, and four others are known to exist on adjoining property. All of these cases are outside of the town limits, occurring in homes where town water is not used, and there are no sewer connections. Mr. Curtis, secretary of the Board of Health, in speaking of the matter today, stated, "The cases are in no way connected with the sanitary conditions of the town of Newark, where the official typhoid record is still one case since January first."

Since the outbreak of fever on South Chapel extended the local Board of Health which has jurisdiction over property within a mile of the town limits, has disinfected the premises where sickness has occurred, and rendered assistance wherever possible. Two of the patients were sent to the Delaware Hospital last week. The well water has been examined and found contaminated, and the owner of the property is arranging for the connection of town water at once.

Potato Crop At Women's College

The potato harvest in the war garden at the Women's College has amounted to 260 bushels—more than will be needed for the college during the year. The garden is a good demonstration of what is being done by similar institutions throughout the country.

No Outside Pupils Admitted

At a recent meeting of the commissions of Welsh Tract School district number 35, it was decided to admit no pupils living outside of the district during the coming year. Miss Mary C. Hoey, of Frederica, Delaware, has been appointed teacher. Miss Hoey comes highly recommended and the local board anticipates a splendid school year. Wilmingtonians Win Prizes Upwards of 100 Wilmington members of the Order of Eagles attended the meeting of the National Aerie in Buffalo last week. In the parade they won two prizes for having the most men in line from the most distant point and

Saves Infant From Flames

Close Calls In Runaways
 Milton O'Brer and his young son had narrow escapes at Seaford on Thursday morning when a pair of horses he was driving to a dearborn loaded with fruit, ran away and dashed over the railroad tracks, missing a train by a close margin. Going down a hill the wagon seat worked loose and fell on the pole, Mr. O'Brer going with it. The horses dashed down the hill and he could not get back into the wagon. The boy clung to the sides of the wagon which got across the tracks in time to avoid being struck by a freight train running at fast speed. D. P. Coates, a freight fireman, caught the running horses. Father and son escaped injury and the wagon and fruit were but slightly damaged.

T. W. B. Gordy and his 10-year-old niece, Dorothy Hobbs, came to Laurel on Friday with a load of cantaloupes in a dearborn drawn by a mule. As they were about to leave for home with a load of empty carriers Mr. Gordy left Dorothy alone in the dearborn near the ice plant while he went to get a package. She knocked one of the carries out of the wagon, it struck the mule, which began to kick and run. The child was thrown between the wagon and the mule's heels. She clung to the single tree and was dragged half a block but was but slightly bruised on her sides. At C. W. Riggins' corner on Sixth street, C. W. Kenney tried to stop the mule which made at him and forced him to circle a tree until it became entangled and stopped. The wagon was wrecked and wedged against Mr. Kenney's house.

PLAN OF ARMY REORGANIZATION

Delaware Men To Encamp At Petersburg And Aniston

The complete plan of reorganization of the army is disclosed in general orders made public on Thursday prescribing the formation for all tactical units from divisions to armies. The composition of each division on the European standard is prescribed and provision is made for organization of all additional troops into training battalions of 612 men to be used in any way found necessary.

Designations of divisions by number begins with the Regular army division now in France which has already been reorganized on the basis of 19,000 and additional battalions of attached troops. That is the first division, United States army. Other regular divisions are numbered up to and including the 25th. This does not mean that 25 regular divisions are to be created immediately, but that the numbers from one to 25, inclusive, have been reserved for the Regulars.

National Guard divisions will be numbered from the 26th to the 75th, inclusive. National Army divisions will number from 76.

Today's order provides for the organization of 16 national divisions, designated from the 76th to the 91st, inclusive, and succeeding divisions will be numbered in order after them.

Composition Of Divisions

All divisions provided for will be infantry divisions composed of division headquarters detachment, one machine gun battalion of four regiments and a machine gun battalion of three companies each, one field artillery brigade of three regiments and a trench mortar battery each, one engineer regiment, one field signal battalion, one headquarters train and military police, one ammunition train, one engineer train without pontoon and searchlight sections, one supply train and one sanitary train of four field hospitals and four ambulance companies.

Each army corps will consist of an army corps headquarters force and three infantry divisions supplemented by necessary attached troops to be designated as army corps troops. Each army will consist of an army headquarters, three or more army corps and such additional army troops as may be advisable.

The order directs that the National Guard proceed to its training camps under its present divisional organization. It will be reorganized at the camps, however, on the new divisional basis and the excess troops formed into training battalions with a brigadier-general in command of the groups of training battalions at each camp.

Under the assignments of army officers just announced Major General Charles G. Morton of the United States Army, will command the Twenty-ninth division of the National Guard Army, in which the National Guard of Delaware will be trained and organized for service in France. The Twenty-ninth division embraces the guard organizations from Maryland, New Jersey, Delaware, Virginia and the District of Columbia. They will be mobilized not later than August 25 at Camp McClellan, at Aniston, Alabama.

Major General Adelbert Cronkhite, of the United States Army, will command the new Eighteenth division, which is to be organized at Camp Lee, at Petersburg, Va. This division will be composed of the national draft army troops to be formed out of the young men drafted from New Jersey, Maryland, Delaware, Virginia and the District of Columbia.

These are the two regular army officers who will be responsible for whipping into shape the major portion of the National Guard and all the draft army forces from Maryland for service in France.

The complete list of commanding officers assigned to the two camps is:

Camp McClellan, Aniston, Ala.—Troops from New Jersey, Virginia, Maryland, Delaware and District of Columbia. Major General C. C. Morton, commanding; Lieutenant Colonel Geo. S. Goodale, chief of staff; Brigadier General C. W. Barber, Fifty-seventh Infantry; Charles D. Gaither, Fifty-eighth Infantry; C. C. Vaughan, Jr., Fifty-fourth Depot; W. C. Rafferty, Fifty-fourth Field Artillery.

Camp Lee, Petersburg, Va.—Troops from New Jersey, Virginia, Maryland, Delaware and District of Columbia. Major General A. Cornkrite, commanding; Lieutenant Colonel W. H. Waldron, chief of staff; Brigadier General C. S. Farnsworth, One Hundred and Fifty-ninth Infantry; L. M. Brett, One Hundred and Sixtieth Infantry; H. Hall, One Hundred and Fifty-fifth Depot; G. G. Heiner, One Hundred and Fifty-fifth Field Artillery.

DRAFT ARMY TO MOBILIZE

First Entrainment On September Fifth

The entire 687,000 men composing the first increment of the army draft forces will be under training early in October. Under orders issued on August 14 the first 30 percent of the quota of each district will begin entraining for cantonments September 5, the next 30 percent September 15, another 30 percent September 30, and the remaining 10 percent will be mobilized as soon after that date as possible.

The plan to assemble the new forces in installments distributes the task of furnishing supplies and equipment through September. It will also prevent serious shortages in any camp and will give the new officers from the training camps time to familiarize themselves with their duties gradually before responsibility for a great body of men falls on them.

The order issued means that about 12,000 men will reach each of the 16 cantonments soon after September 5. They will first be examined physically by army doctors and finally accepted or rejected. This will take some time and the men will have to be furnished with temporary quarters and rations while awaiting examination. If the full quota were assembled at one time great confusion would result.

Presumably the first increment will have been organized into skelton, companies, battalions or regiments before the second arrives. The newcomers can be quickly absorbed by a going concern in that case, and the third lot can be taken into the war machinery with even less disturbance when it reports 15 days later.

In farming communities local boards now will arrange the lists of those to fill the first increment with local crop conditions in mind. Harvesting is in process in many sections. Drafted men engaged in that work and who otherwise would go with the first third of the district quota will be used over to the second or third, as may be necessary.

Arrangements have been perfected for the transportation of the men through the Council of National Defence and the Railroads' War Board. The movement on the various dates is expected to be executed without delay and with as little interference as possible with normal railway traffic.

A BIG YIELD OF WHEAT

The Time And Rate Of Seeding Discussed

The best time to sow wheat in Delaware will vary from the 1st to the 15th of October. On account of the Hessian fly, seeding should not be made ordinarily before the 1st of October. The time of seeding will vary somewhat with the character of the soil. Fertile soil, well prepared may be seeded later than a poor soil badly fitted. In any case wheat should be sown early enough to allow the plants to become well established before winter. Winter-killing and heaving out are greatly lessened by a strong growth of the plants. Many of the poor yields in this State in 1917 were due directly to late seeding. Experiments at the Delaware Station on the time of seeding show that as good yields were secured by seeding October 22nd on well-fertilized land as by seeding October 1st on soil not fertilized.

The quantity of seed per acre for best results will depend upon a number of conditions, such as the fertility of the soil, the condition of the seed bed as to tilth and moisture, and the size and quality of the seed used. On well prepared, fertile soil with medium sized seed of good quality six pecks per acre are sufficient. On thin land or with late seeding seven to eight pecks have been found desirable. Experiments at this Station indicate that the bearded varieties tiller, or "stool" somewhat more freely than the smooth sorts. Many of the bearded sorts will make a good yield if sown at the rate of 3 to 4 pecks per acre, providing the soil is rich and the seeding made at the proper time. The grower should take into account the size of the kernels as some varieties produce kernels one-half again as large as others. The rate of seeding should be adjusted to the size of the kernel.

Birthday Party

Mr. and Mrs. Albert L. Lewis gave a birthday party at their home, Maple Grove, on Tuesday, August 21, in honor of their daughter, Adelaide. An enjoyable evening was spent; refreshments were served on the lawn. Games, music and dancing helped to wile away the hours. The guests were: Misses Alma Dunlevy, Sara Lovett, Anna Ritz, Brita Buckingham, Anna Frazer, Ruth Brown, Katharine Barnard, Marion Callaher, Armitage and Adelaide Lewis; Messrs. Richard Cooch, Granville Robinson, Pierce and Corbit Crompton, Eugene Kennedy, Johnson Rowan, Francis Lindell, Joseph Rhodes, Edgar Mackey and Ira Steel.

Victor Moore, who started tomato-canning at the Lloyd-Moore cannery last week, paid 65 cents a basket for tomatoes in the open market at Seaford.

Edgar Hyndinger, a hand on the tomato barge, Azolea, of Paulsboro, N. J., was drowned about 2 a. m. last Tuesday at the wharf near Canal lock gate in Delaware City. He jumped off the boat upon the wharf as he thought but as the planks had been removed to permit repairs he struck his head on a pile and was stunned, and drowned quickly when he fell into the water.

Tire Testing Fleet Passes Thru Town

The Atlantic Division of the B. F. Goodrich Rubber Company Tire Test Car Fleet passed through Newark last Monday, August 20th, from Philadelphia on its way for a complete tour of Maryland, Delaware, West Virginia, and Virginia. The Atlantic Fleet uses Philadelphia as a base and is one of the six units in different parts of the country which are making exhaustive tests of the endurance of Goodrich Tires on all sorts of roads. Cars of every type, from the lightest to the heaviest, are represented in the squadron, thereby tests of all size tires are made. This squadron of cars has nothing to do but wear out tires. The fleet is captained by H. H. Brown, of the Akron Factory, accompanied by Mr. A. J. Tyler representing the B. F. Goodrich Rubber Company in this vicinity. The orders under which the test cars work require that the cars must run for eight consecutive hours day after day until the tires are literally torn to pieces. In other words, they are not to be replaced by other cases until they are completely worn out.

In former years the Goodrich Test Car Fleets have been operating daily over the roads in the vicinity of Akron. Information obtained from these Test Cars, although of great value, was not complete in view of the fact that road conditions around Akron were not the same as those around Newark, or in the middle western states, and were again entirely different in Arizona and New Mexico, and there were still other problems to be met with in Pennsylvania and other Atlantic Coast States. The B. F. Goodrich Rubber Company, therefore, decided to test out the actual endurance of Goodrich Fabric and Silvertown Tires in connection with actual road conditions so far as possible, in every section of the United States.

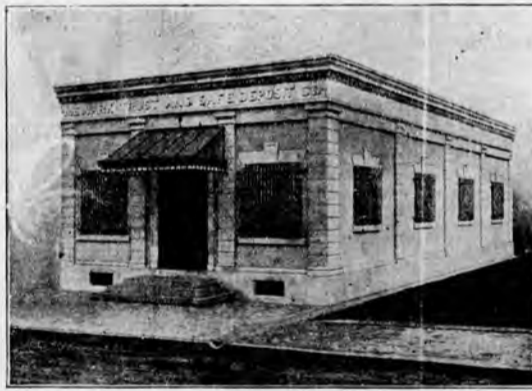

There are, in all, forty-six cars of different makes and types testing out Goodrich Fabric and Silvertown Tires on all sorts of roads and, so far as possible, under nor-

"WAR GARDENS" ALONG THE RAILROAD

Twelve Hundred Under Cultivation

Nearly 1200 "War Gardens" are being cultivated, this Summer on vacant land of the Pennsylvania Railroad and its Lines East of Pittsburgh, by employees, for the use of themselves and their families. The value of the crops raised will probably exceed a quarter of a million dollars.

Altogether more than 1000 acres have been planted, and are now producing crops of potatoes, peas, beans, tomatoes, corn, and various other garden vegetables. The average size of each plot of railroad land, tilled by an employe, falls just short of an acre.

Special arrangements were made this Spring, by the Pennsylvania Railroad, to induce employes to take up unoccupied land belonging to the Company, and plant it for the purpose of assisting in increasing the Nation's food supply. Through the Real Estate Department of the Company, a plan was worked out whereby any employe could, without formality, obtain the use of as much land as he could properly cultivate, and upon a mere nominal rental. All that was necessary for an employe to do if he desired to raise a "War Garden," was to apply to his superior officer and sign a simple form of lease. The land would then be placed at his disposal.

To encourage proper and scientific methods of cultivation, every employe undertaking to plant such a tract was supplied with a copy of "The Garden Primer," issued by the National Emergency Food Commission, and also a copy of a booklet on Potato Culture, which was prepared by the Agricultural Department of the State of Pennsylvania, especially for the use of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

Since March 1st, 613 new leases have been made covering garden tracts cultivated by employes of the Pennsylvania Railroad. In addition, 569 other tracts of the Railroad's land are being cultivated on leases dating from previous years.

Besides the land used for kitchen-garden purposes, under nominal rentals, the Pennsylvania Railroad has leased to employes and others 649 larger tracts of land, owned by the Company but not at present utilized for railroad purposes.

These tracts are being cultivated as farms, or are used for cattle grazing and similar purposes. Of these tracts, 231 consist of improved farms, and 89 of unimproved farms. There are also 315 large tracts used for pasturage, and 14 tracts for miscellaneous agricultural purposes.

HERE AND THERE

New regulations require all vehicles to drive north on Orange St. Wilmington, between Fourth and Eleventh and south on Shipley between Fourth and Tenth streets. Parking is allowed on both sides of the street but the vehicles must be headed north on Orange and south on Shipley streets.

Among those receiving commissions at the Officers' Training School at Fort Niagara, N. Y., were First Lieutenants of Infantry in the Officers' Reserve Corps—John P. Heinel and Charles Whalen, Wilmington; Second Lieutenant of Infantry Daniel Chase, Rehoboth Beach; Second Lieutenant, John C. Blizzard, Jr., Havre de Grace, Md., who will be assigned to the regular army.

Lieutenant Albert Earl Matlack, of Wilmington, a recent Fort Myer graduate, who was assigned to the Quartermasters' Corps of the Army, and Miss Leona Walker, daughter of Dr. G. F. Walker, of Deming, N. M., where the couple met while Lieutenant Matlack was serving as a non-commissioned officer in the Delaware Militia last fall, were married on Thursday afternoon by Rev. W. A. Hearn at the home of the groom's aunts, Mrs. Emma F. Wood and Miss Frances Matlack, 905 Delaware Avenue.

Drafted troops from New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia and the District of Columbia will form the Eightieth division in the new National Army. Regiments and Companies from the same States and the District will form the Twenty-ninth division of the National Guard.

James Wilgus, son of Penrose Wilgus, and grandson of Dr. John W. Messick, of Georgetown, while working as a brakeman was struck and killed by the Norfolk express at Harrington about 1 a. m. on Friday. He was walking on the track to throw a switch for his own train and failed to hear or avoid the express.

Mrs. Martland Storer, of Philadelphia, formerly Miss Miriam Householder, of Delaware City, who was married about six months ago, died in a Philadelphia hospital on Thursday. She was 18 years of age and her sudden death was a shock to her family and friends.

Arthur B. Collins, son of W. F. Collins of Stamford, Conn., formerly of Cheswold, Delaware, has been commissioned Major in a New York regiment. He is 28 years old and was born in Cheswold and is a nephew of Mrs. H. C. Taylor and Mrs. John C. Hopkins of Dover. He was promoted from lieutenant to captain before reporting at the Plattsburg Camp.

George E. Marvil, a nephew of the late Governor Joshua H. Marvil, surprised relatives in Laurel who thought he was dead, by stopping off there while en route from New York to Norfolk. He had served four years in the Navy and resigned to enter the merchant service. His ship was torpedoed and he was supposed to have perished.

The Sussex County Draft Exemption Board having obtained less than 100 men from the first list called to fill the County's quota, has made a second call of 1500 registrants and recalled 100 men for physical examination. Many of the men called will ask for exemption as cannery or farm workers.

Fatal Risk On Crossings

J. F. Dooley, of Minneapolis, representing the Waterbury Electric Heater Company, who had been stopping in Seaford for about a week, left in an automobile last Tuesday on an order placing trip.
As he was about to cross the tracks at Cannon Station the flagman, it is said, warned him that the 10 a. m. express was due. He could not see the train which was hidden by the station and did not heed the warning. The train struck the car on the crossing and hurled it and the driver above 50 feet. He was picked up dead. Edward Short was driving a team directly behind the wrecked auto and was partly on the tracks but undertaker, of Seaford, took charge of the body. Proprietor

"The Newark Post" Entertains

On Friday, August seventeenth,
"The Newark Post" correspondents were entertained at Kells, in a most delightful fashion.

Miss Wilson, in the absence of Mr. Johnson, the editor, received the guests, who passing through the reception hall, were made acquainted and spent awhile socially in the north room, called The Whim, with its massive chimney made from Iron Hill boulders.
Later, all were invited to examine the artistic and beautiful work done at Kells,—dainty and original Christmas cards, wedding stationery, post cards, books of exquisite design. Governor Townsend's recent war message to the citizens of Delaware, Channing's "Symphony," enlarged copies in suitable coloring of the tents of Company E, First Delaware Infantry, photographed on "The Border" last year by a member of the Company, patriotic quotations surmounted by "Old Glory, beautifully colored and embossed, and many other attractive specimens.

Conspicuous upon the wall was
"The Newark Post" motto: "Good Roads, Flowers, Parks, Better Schools, Trees, Fresh Air, Sunshine, and Work for Everybody," with original lettering in gold upon a background of purple leather. Fine drawings and other works of art; an American battle flag, and quantities of goldenglow blossoms, added to an impression that shall not be forgotten.

Next was a visit to the press room, where various steps of the work were demonstrated to the pleasure of all. The different processes are truly wonderful and very interesting.

At the close of the afternoon's entertainment, delicious refreshments were served in the most dainty manner.

The entire program was planned and carried out to afford perfect enjoyment for the visitors. As it seemed fitting, a unanimous vote of thanks was extended to Miss Wilson for the charming and cordial hospitality of the Craftsmen at Kells.

Are you Prepared to do your Fall Plowing?

Never before in the history of the nation have the eyes of the World been centered on the American farmer as it is today. The world-wide crisis in the world war makes it a most vital necessity for the farmer to do his bit and do it well. For the farmer to do his bit in his fall plowing he must have a good plow. The kind that has stood the test.

BOYS AND GIRLS HELP UNCLE SAM

Eight Hundred Thousand On Duty At County Fairs

Uncle Sam has just recruited and trained an army of 300,000 American boys and girls, who will be on duty at State and county fairs everywhere this fall. Their work now consists of helping their fathers and mothers preserve, pickle, dry and can the enormous surplus of America's war gardens. Their work at the fairs will consist of practical demonstration of methods.

It is estimated that this juvenile army will exhibit its prowess and products to about 20,000,000 Americans. They will be the principal attraction at the series of Food Training Camps the Department of Agriculture is organizing for every section of the country for late August, September and October.

The boys and girls in this great food drive are the members of the thousands of Boys' and Girls' clubs organized by and working under the direction of the United States Department of Agriculture. The national headquarters is at Washington with a specialist of the juvenile extension department in charge.

Each day at the Food Training camps the children will can and dry food products in different ways, giving the public a correct idea as to how it should be done.

The particular boys and girls who will demonstrate for the State colleges of agriculture and for the government are now being chosen through a series of competitive tests in practically every community in the country. These contests are being held in the schools, at community fairs and picnics, and at other public gatherings. Only the winners in the larger local contests, who have shown by their work that they are capable of discharging the tasks the government will give them, will be permitted to demonstrate at the Food Training Camps.

In addition to this the girls will conduct exhibits and demonstrations on home baking, cooking, methods of arranging the canned and preserved foods into balanced menus for the family efficient home management and garment making.

The boys in addition to their work in the field of canning and drying, will conduct exhibits on poultry husbandry, and the raising of farm crops and demonstrations with farm animals such as calves, pigs, sheep and horses.

Do You Watch The Crossing?

As an experiment, in California recently, 17,000 drivers of motor cars were observed at railroad crossings. People in automobiles are probably more careful than the average pedestrian who crosses a street. Yet 69.5 percent of these people looked in neither way before crossing the tracks, 2.7 percent looked only on one direction, and but 27.8 percent looked both ways.

This is a vivid proof of the impetuosity and thoughtlessness of the average citizen. No way will ever be devised that will insure safety to the pedestrian or to the driver of motor-cars, unless these same people will co-operate in carefulness whenever near a grade crossing. Moreover it demonstrates the necessity for still further education of the public as to the personal necessity of watchful care and the value of their own and other's welfare.

Roaring Comedy At Opera House

Jackie Saunders, affectionately known among her intimates as "The Tomboy," had one chastening experience during the filming of her latest Horkheimer-Mutual five-reel production, "The Wildcat," at Hollywood, California.

One of Miss Saunders' many admirers is "Tim" Cormeny, ostrich feather millionaire, and of course Miss Saunders was invited to ride out for a view of the long-legged birds.

Now, everybody knows "Miss Jackie" can ride anything with four legs, and although Cormeny tried his best he couldn't convince the star in riding breeches that special training was necessary to ride an ostrich.

"Nuff said," Miss Saunders rode the ostrich fourteen miles round a dirt track, too scared to fall off and totally unable to stop the bird. When Cormeny and his crowd tried to head off the ostrich it leaped over their heads with a squawk.

"But I rode him," persisted Miss Jackie, when the ostrich stopped out of sheer exhaustion—"and he was some rooster, too."

Miss Saunders will appear at the Opera House on Thursday, August 23rd, in "The Wildcat." —Adv.

Hot Weather and Men

Fads and Fancies in Women's Dress has always been a stock joke with us men. But one thing we must admit, they know how to dress for hot weather. Until recent years, men insisted on wearing really heavy woolen clothes. Men are certainly conservative in dress. Gradually, they are beginning to dress according to the weather. White flannels and Palm Beach suits are no longer looked upon as foppish. They are sensible. Newark men are coming around. Palm Beach is the sane suit, just now. The price is such that it makes an extra appeal.
