Parents Ask Study For School Buses As Safety Factor

School Board To Request State Reevaluation Study For Central Jr. High Aid

A state study to reevaluate hazardous conditions faced by children walking to school, with a view to providing bus service, is to be requested by the Newark Board of Education after parents of pupils attending Central Junior High School requested such action at last week's school board meeting.

A study, conducted by the Unique Hazard Committee, would determine whether children within bus limits set by the state should receive transportation because of dangerous conditions. The limits are one mile for elementary children, and two miles for secondary schools.

Twenty-two parents attended the board meeting, and their spokesman, Mrs. Thomas J. Coffey, explained their case.

Mrs. Coffey said children face obstacles in getting to school by either walking, riding bicycles or being taken in car pools.

If they walk, she said, they have to use streets where there are no sidewalks, and have to cross railroad tracks, and intersections, where there are no traffic lights.

Car pools merely add to the congestion at the school, she said, pointing out that there are two University of Delaware parking lots close by.

George V. Kirk, district superintendent, said the Unique Hazard Committee studied the Nottingham Green situation last October and concluded that the problem wasn't great enough to require buses. He added that he didn't agree with the committee's findings.

The committee, Kirk said, is composed of a state policeman, a member of the Delaware Safety Council and the state school director of transportation. Its decision is final, Kirk said, in relation to getting state-supported buses.

Kirk said if the committee again reaches a negative decision, the alternative would be for the district to hire buses and charge the parents for them.

In other action, the board authorized sale of $1 million worth of construction bonds.

Council Past Half-Way Point In 88-Page Zoning Proposals

Public Meeting Attracts Eight As Newark City Council Considers Proposed Revisions To Zoning Ordinance; Session Recessed Until Nov. 4, To Continue Review

Before an audience that eventually included a total of eight persons last Monday night, Newark City Council again waded into the 88-page proposed revised zoning "classifying, regulating and restricting the height, number of stories, and size of buildings and other structures; the percentage of lot that may be occupied; the size of yards, courts, and other open spaces; the density of population, and the location, use and extent of use of buildings, structures and land for residence, trade, industry and other purposes."

and with more than half of the 88 pages reviewed, the public meeting was recessed for further consideration on Nov. 4.

To proposed amendments recommended by Harlan C. Williams as a Greater Newark Chamber of Commerce spokesman, William C. Long of the Newark Planning Commission pointed out that the chamber had opportunity to present such proposals at five public hearings held by the planning commission in drafting the revised zoning regulations and said he felt "that was the time to bring these up."

One of the objections raised by Williams was the 5,000-sq. ft. limit proposed for building in a district, which he said would preclude a major chain food store.

Small Complex Long replied that in a BY district he was intended "to set up a small neighborhood complex" for local rather than transient shopping.

Councilman Arthur P. Mayer objected to any deterrent of proposed amendments from the audience with "what are we doing here tonight except holding a public hearing? I could sit home and read this — and watch the Olympics."

Mayor Norma B. Handloff urged that "we pass this ordinance as presented by the planning commission — but no amendments without planning commission review."

Court Cases? Concerning the proposed zoning ordinance, Francis M. Sullivan in the audience said he felt it would be "a grave mistake to approve this and have it resolved in the courts."

Councilman John H. Fasnacht urged some control of gas station construction by zoning, pointing out benefits obtained by other communities with such legislation—and the mayor cited one type of architecture as "that's the limit — an Early American gas station!"

Contracts were awarded to Rittenhouse Motor Co. and to University Motors for city purchase of two trucks and three automobiles.

One-half and three-quarter ton pickup trucks are to be purchased from Rittenhouse for $4,000, and three 4-door sedans from University Motors for $6,742.28.

Corn Growers Speak Up for Fall Plow-Down

"Since I started plowing down Southern States fertilizer early, my average corn yield has increased 10 bushels per acre." Kenneth Porter, Gracey, Ky.

"Plowing down Southern States fertilizer early gives me a chance to plant early, and that almost always means a better crop." William McAtee, Cadiz, Ky.

"Corn utilizes plant food better when it's plowed down early. That means a better-paying crop." Rudy Horak, Chester, Va.

"Early plow-down eliminates the soil compaction caused by driving over wet land in the spring." John Orrock, Fredericksburg, Va.

"By plowing down my Southern States fertilizer in the fall, I get my work done when there's less rush." Hunter Greenlaw, Fredericksburg, Va.

"We find that corn fertilized by the early plow-down method shows much less drought damage than corn fertilized in the row." Oscar Meier, Clarkburg, Md.

"Fall plow-down is economical because it lets you buy early when fertilizer prices are usually lower." Gregory Smith, Culpeper, Va.

"I get my Southern States fertilizer down and my plowing done in the fall when the ground is in good condition." Earl Page, Culpeper, Va.

"Fall plow-down makes my job easier in the spring. It's a real life saver if we have a wet spring." Robert Cramer, Adamstown, Md.

"We tried both ways and we got better results with some of our Southern States plant food plowed down early." Earl Page, Adamstown, Md.

"Plowing down early eliminates the problem of hold-up of delivery. We don't have delays at planting time." J. H. McDevitt, Culpeper, Va.

If you too want increased yields, better distribution of work load, better results in drought years, plus all the other benefits of Fall Fertilizer Plow-Down, see your Southern States Agency now. You'll find that it also pays to top dress small grains and pastures in the fall.

See your Southern States Cooperative Agency now.

HEALTH & SAFETY Mainly for Mothers by Carol Hart

Your Baby Sitter Needs Instruction
Play fair with your teenage baby sitter and you can leave your little children in her charge with greater peace of mind. Tell her what her responsibilities are, and be sure you leave safe surroundings for both your children and the sitter.

The Council on Family Health, a non-profit organization sponsored as a public service by leading members of the drug industry to promote home safety and family health, suggests some ways to help a proxy parent do a better job.

Put all medicines in their proper storage places where they cannot fall into the hands of your children.

Even though you have stored household cleaners and chemicals beyond the reach of little children, you should instruct both the sitter and the children that the kitchen is "off limits" for the youngsters. There are too many things that can cause accidents to children in the kitchen. Put matches and lighters where youngsters can't find them.

When the sitter arrives, hand her a written list: the address and telephone number where you may be reached, the telephone number of your doctor and the telephone number of your nearest friend or neighbor. Tell her when to expect you back.

Instruct her to keep the doors locked and not to admit anyone except her friend or yourself.

If she is to feed or bathe the children, be detailed in how to do it. Show her where the food is kept. Tell her of any habits or problems she should know about the children.

And, above all, speak to your sitter in a way that will increase her trust in you. If your sitter is afraid of being scolded if she tells you something went wrong, she may be inclined to keep important information from you—such as a fall or other accidents that may have happened while you were out.

Toffee Souffle Parfaits

Autumn is an exciting social time. Club functions. Mixers. Buffet dinners after the homecoming game. Now faces. Adventures. Plus refreshments in the same swinging spirit. Here's an easy, entertaining, prepare-in-advance parfait that makes its own wafers. And it has a surprise crunchy flavor from bits of chocolate covered English toffee candy bars. Try it. See how your party parades.

Toffee Souffle Parfaits
1 1/2 cups chopped chocolate covered English toffee candy bars (six 1 1/2 ounce bars)
1/2 cup water
1 envelope (1 tablespoon) unflavored gelatin
1/4 cup sugar
1 1/2 teaspoon salt
1 1/2 cups milk
2 eggs, separated
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 teaspoon rum extract
1/2 cup whipping cream, whipped

Combine 1 cup of the chopped candy and water in small saucepan. Place over low heat and cook slowly, stirring constantly, until most of the toffee candy is melted, 4 to 5 minutes. Cool. Combine gelatin, 2 tablespoons sugar, salt, milk and egg yolks. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until mixture coats spoon. Stir in remaining 1/2 cup chopped toffee, vanilla and rum extract. With rapid mixture begin to set. Beat egg whites until they hold soft peaks. Gradually add remaining sugar and continue whipping until stiff and glossy. Fold into gelatin mixture. Fold in whipped cream. Spoon alternate layers of gelatin mixture and sauce into parfait glasses or dessert dishes. Chill.

Yield: 9 servings.

Time For Pumpkin Pie!

Though apple may be the year around pie favorite, pumpkin has its acknowledged season of heading the dessert list. Acknowledged, too, is the fact that evaporated milk makes the best pumpkin pie, providing smooth richness to the golden and fragrant spiced custard filling.

Favorite Pumpkin Pie
2 eggs
1 can (1 lb.) pumpkin (about 2 cups)
2 cup firmly packed light brown sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 1/2 teaspoons pumpkin pie spice
1 tall can (13 fl. oz.) evaporated milk (1 1/2 cans)
9-inch unbaked pastry shell

In medium size mixing bowl beat eggs slightly to blend yolks and whites. Stir in pumpkin, brown sugar, salt, spice and evaporated milk, blending well. Ladle into pastry shell. Bake to moderate (350 degrees) and continue baking until filling is set, about 45 minutes longer. Remove to cooling rack and cool away from drafts. When ready to serve, garnish with leaves cut from scraps of pastry and baked golden brown, if desired. Makes 8 inch pie (6 to 8 servings).

SOLID SHERIFF — WILDCAT, BEAR, EAGLE

Few sheriffs have been as strong, conscientious, able and at the same time kind and gentle, as Edward J. "Whitey" Michaels, who is completing a second two-year term as sheriff for New Castle County. A New Castle County sheriff cannot succeed himself in office — it's tough enough to succeed during one two-year tenure — but Mr. Michaels was reelected after a first two-year term and two years out of office, for a second successful session. Creditors and the hard-pressed, alike, have reason to be grateful for his administration.

Probably the greatest football player produced in Delaware, Whitey Michaels starred as a lineman for Salesianum, Villanova, the Chicago Bears and the Philadelphia Eagles — but Edward J. Michaels was born too soon to profit from the largesse lavished upon the current crop of professional football players.

"I remember when Beattie Feathers came with the Bears," Whitey said in recent reminiscence, looking like a kindly Rock of Gibraltar from his seat behind the sheriff's desk in Wilmington's Public Building.

Feathers, a Cherokee Indian, was a 1933 All-American halfback from the University of Tennessee — a mighty man with powerful piano legs that could step the 100 in a realistic 10-flat — a real live triple threat who had all the moves, and could run, punt, and pass.

"Beattie would let out a real Indian war whoop in leaping high in the air to catch a pass with both feet off the ground," the Sheriff said, "and I used to shudder at the good chance of his getting hit in the process and broken in two. But he kept coming back with the same off-the-ground jumps and Indian yells, too," Eddie Michaels added.

While starring as a front line halfback with Papa Bear George Halas' Monsters of the Midway in Chicago, Eddie Michaels was a teammate of Bronko Nagurski — "Feathers" rode the tail of the Bronk to stardom," a chronicler reported of the Indian's ground-gaining record set with the Bears in his freshman season — and Eddie Michaels' quarterbacks included Sid Luckman, Carl Brunbaugh and Keith Moseworth in the glory days.

Edward J. "Whitey" Michaels is a living legend for football fans, and we in New Castle County should be grateful for his services as sheriff. Well done, Whitey!

Police Investigate "Suspicious" Fire After Arson Cases

Newark police are investigating another fire "of suspicious origin," Detective Lt. William J. Brierley said Friday.

The latest suspicious fire occurred at 3:15 Friday morning behind the New England-style pizza shop at 57 East Main Street. It was extinguished with about $10 damage to the corner of a garage and a wood-gate.

Brierley said there was a dense fog at the time and no indication that the fire could have started by itself.

Newark police are investigating two arson cases and two cases of attempted arson. The most recent involved an ROTC building at the University of Delaware. State fire officials and FBI agents also are investigating the blaze. The other arson case occurred last spring when Betty's Flower & Gift Shop on Main Street was gutted.

Also last spring, two attempted arson cases were discovered, one at Western Auto Supply Co., 38 East Main, and Dannemann's, a fabric shop at 136 East Main Street.

Broad Scope Of 4-H Projects Keep Youths Busy

Heading the list of the top 10 projects undertaken by the nation's three million 4-H youths are animal science, clothing, foods and plant science. Recent figures released by the Cooperative Extension Service show that youngsters also are very much interested in health and physical fitness.

In addition to animal and plant sciences, the application of scientific principles is a part of nearly all 4-H projects, says the Extension Service. Recreation, engineering and safety are three more areas in which large numbers of 4-H members excel. Projects involving management and furnishings for the home show high enrollment, as does conservation.

Recreation, science and personal development are a prime concern of today's 4-H'ers as well, judging from the more than 200,000 participating. Most 4-H boys and girls spend their time on more than one project, as the survey shows. Boys may be involved in plant and animal sciences and engineering projects.

A girl may study plant science to make her horticultural project more meaningful. Or food science to get the most from her foods and nutrition projects. Overlapping areas are safety and conservation. Both affect the individual, the home, community and nation.

Specific programs or projects carried on under the 4-H main categories have definite objectives that help develop skills and stimulate young minds to "clearer thinking," 4-H leaders point out.

For example, a youngster working on an entomology project (science) will gain new knowledge, improve his surroundings, and possibly "turn him on" sufficiently to seek a college degree and ultimately a career. The 4-H program provides awards based on individual achievement. The awards are given annually by private industry through the National 4-H Service Committee. Among the 1968 donors are: Standard Brands Incorporated; John Deere; Oliver Corporation; Carnation Company; Simplicity Pattern Co. Inc.; Hercules Incorporated; Amchem Products, Inc.; Also General Foods Corporation; Eli Lilly and Company; The Skill Foundation, Inc.; All-Chalmers; Heisler & Nelson Farms, Inc.; General Motors; The Upham Company; American Oil Foundation.

These firms provide funds for trips to the National 4-H Congress, scholarships and other recognition awards. They also lend technical assistance in carrying out the various projects in cooperation with the Extension Service in all 50 states.

Services were conducted Sunday afternoon at the Schoenberg Funeral Home. Interment was in the Jewish Community Cemetery.

Green Thumb Tips

Winter rye sown in autumn will act as a cover crop for the vegetable garden, controlling erosion. Start sowing it in the rows as they empty, fertilize the rye and plan to spade or cultivate it underground in early spring.

This is a cheap way to add organic matter to your soil and thus improve crops for years to come.

If it seeks of perennials and biennials were sown earlier and you now have already planted, better transplant the plants to wherever you want them to bloom next year.

The little ones, if spaced far enough apart, can be left where they are for winter, protecting them with a straw covering.

Parsley and spinach may be sown in fall for use in spring. Both are hardy and will produce an extra-early crop.

If you have rabbits in your garden, expect to eat the spinach yourself, better fence the area now.

Fall is not only the best time of year to plant new lawns and renovate old ones—it's also the best time of year to weed the lawn.

Any product containing 2, 4-D will kill most broad-leaved weeds. Many others will die when a combination of 2, 4-D and 2, 4, 5-T is used instead of the 2, 4-D alone.

Be sure you keep one sprayer for weed killers only. Or, use the granular products that can be applied with a fertilizer spreader.

Don't waste those green tomatoes. Either turn them into green tomato pickle, dip them in batter and fry them to eat or pick them, wrap each in a separate piece of newspaper, and place them in a table in a place that is dark and warm. They'll gradually ripen, especially if they showed even a tinge of red when picked.

If the birds give you a chance to harvest sunflower heads before they have eaten all of the seeds, place the heads on a table in a dry place where there is plenty of ventilation.

In about 2 weeks the heads will have cured and you can remove the seeds from them.

Roast the seeds in the oven and taste them. They're delicious! Perhaps you don't want to give all of your crop to the birds after all? Why not share with them, keeping at least a few of the seeds for yourself?

THE DRAFT:

YOU CAN CHANGE TO A VOLUNTEER ARMY.

The draft is unfair to young men and a bad way to build our armed forces! Elect Richard Nixon President. Here's what he would do:

After Viet Nam, eliminate Selective Service completely. Change to an all-volunteer armed force, with better pay so that it becomes an attractive career. Professional, highly trained armed forces are needed for modern defense, and this "elective service" would remove much uncertainty from the lives of young Americans.

THIS TIME, VOTE LIKE YOUR WHOLE WORLD DEPENDED ON IT.

Tucker-To-Swann TD Pass Saves Newark With 6-0 Victory Over Dickinson In Mud

Torrential rain and a muddy field already churned into a quagmire after an earlier, morning game, almost topped the state champion Newark Yellowjackets short of their 20th straight success — almost, but not quite.

A pair of Yellowjacket All-Stars combined to provide Newark with the winning six points in the first quarter when Quarterback Bob Tucker fired a short shot to Halfback Pedro Swann for a three-yard score as Coach Bob Hoffman's state champs edged a dogged Dickinson defense 6-0.

"One game had been played on the Dickinson field before we got there," Hoffman said of the heavy going for the Yellowjackets in the afternoon. Newark's fast-moving offense was bogged down by rain and mud.

Without Dickinson, now with three setbacks and a tie, had been beaten handily by Coach Sam Dixon's Christiana High School Vikings by a score of 26-6 the Saturday before.

Play for Newark last Saturday afternoon were Tucker, all the way at quarterback; Swann and Gary Connell, the halfbacks; and Paul Watson at fullback.

The ends were Gary Hayman, Ron Jackson and Don Stienick; the tackles, Gary Pyle, Leo Hoeseltine and Walt Williams; the guards, Randy McDonald, Dave Chapman, Wayne Lynch and Dave Knight; while Jeff Brown and Steve Stronari were the centers.

Newark hosts 1-3 Wilmington High School this Saturday at 10:30 a.m. and Saturday's postponement because of the rain, Wilmington rolled to an impressive 37-7 win over 2-2 Concord at Woodcrest last Monday.

Balthus' Bill McNertney, really recovering after a strong struggle against death and disability, had his happy Halloween fun on display yesterday afternoon as he entertained a former duck hunting companion taking a walk in the sun on East Park Place, several long blocks from his home where for months he had been bedridden.

Mac, a Pennsylvania native of the coal regions where ducks and other waterfowl are just something one reads about, received a large charge of indoctrination as a wildflower at the hands of veteran sportsman Ken Mathewson on Delaware's Thousand Acre Marsh between Port Penn and Delaware City. And Bill McNertney took to duck hunting like a good Chesapeake Bay retriever.

McNertney nearly perished on at least two occasions while engaged in this newly discovered sport — once, when the bottom dropped out of the thermometer on the Thousand Acre Marsh and he had to break ice the hard way; to and from Mathewson's bleak hole — and again, on the St. Jones River below Dover when with Paul Gainer, Horace Robinson and several other hardy Newark companions, the bottom dropped out of their boat in the cold, tidal torrent.

But these narrow escapes may have been good conditioning for his latest battle, and Bill McNertney — super-salesman, former Newark mayoralty candidate and always a gentleman-sportsman — is winning.

"We'll to the inlet and exercised my tackle a couple of days ago," Coach Joe Marousch wrote on Wednesday last week, "and caught one blue and about two dozen bluish."

"Also, on my first dove of the year," Joe adds, although this dove probably was obtained over the Merouese fields near Bear and not at the inlet with the fish.

We got our second dove of the season several weeks ago as Mr. Marousch's most from a stand among his head-high evergreen nursery stock.

"It's no use," Joe had advised when we dropped in on him after a discouraging round of motor vehicle inspection at the nearby lanes, where a dead parking light bulb sent an irrevocable lamp screw necessitated a return trip.

"There just aren't any doves," Joe Marousch resumed, referring to some proposed hunting for these elusive migrants.

Well, we walked out back in the fields adjacent to woodlots and hedgerows turning red gold in the autumn evening, and promptly needed a dove darting in fast and low from an unexpected quarter over the Marousch house to the east.

While watching the other way, we heard the whistle of a second dove coming from the same direction as the first, and turned in time to shove the 12-gauge automatic just far enough forward of the pointed-winged, long-tailed rocket to fold him in mid-air almost overhead.

"Never take your eyes off the spot where you think a dove hit the ground," Bus Humphreys ad-

MUDDY MISTAKE
Wilmington and Conrad wisely postponed Saturday's game because of field conditions, but Newark and Dickinson played that afternoon under conditions favorable for players and spectators alike — on a field that almost nullified the great offensive power of Coach Bob Hoffman's state champion Yellowjackets, and narrowly missed resulting in a scoreless tie and the end of a 27 game consecutive victory march for Newark's great team.

Both teams were handicapped by the muddy going, but the Yellowjackets were of a particular disadvantage with no traction for their running players and spectators alike — on a field that almost nullified the great offensive power of Coach Bob Hoffman's state champion Yellowjackets, and narrowly missed resulting in a scoreless tie and the end of a 27 game consecutive victory march for Newark's great team.

Sophs Hall, Kelley In Race To Break Wright's Record

Two Delaware sophomores, Fullback Chuck Hall and Halfback Dick Kelley — are in a race to determine the best ground-gaining soph in Blue Hen history.

Former Hen Halfback Brian Wright gained 624 yards in a sophomore both Hall and Kelley have a good shot at Wright's record with five games to play this season.

Hall, a bulldozing 198-pounder from Springfield Pa., is the team's leading rusher with 460 yards in 53 carries. Hall ran through and around West Chester's defense for 160 yards in the mud last week as the Hens posted a 26-0 victory.

Kelley, former Newark High School All-Star, is second to Hall in rushing with 391 yards in 71 attempts.

Junior Jim Lawarski is a distant third in the rushing race with 140 yards in 29 carries.

"Hall and Kelley have both run well," says Backfield Coach Jimmy Flynn, "but they are both still making mistakes. We expect them to continue to improve as the season progresses."

Flynn and Head Coach Tubby Raymond are looking for continued improvement from Junior Quarterback Tom DiMuzio. The 200-pound DiMuzio had his best day last week since the opener, gaining 174 yards passing and adding another 30 yards on the ground.

"Tom has played well," Raymond says. "He has been a leader on the field and we are generally pleased with his development."

DiMuzio has completed 46 of his 100 passes for 646 yards and five touchdowns. He has been intercepted six times. His 85 yards rushing give him a team-leading total offense of 731 yards.

Ron Withelder, who caught scoring bombs of 33 and 37 yards in the first quarter against West Chester, has solidified his position as the team's leading receiver.

Rare New Yorker

Most people equate the raising of Thoroughbred horses with the Rinegrass country of a Kentucky. Exceptions would be from California, Florida, and Maryland, Kentucky's closest rivals in the breeding industry. Thoroughbreds, however, are raised in every state except Alaska, and each state is justly proud when a homebred proves his worth in open competition in 1966, 297, or 1,285 were foaled in New York. But in 1967, only 106 were foaled in New York. This 150% increase compares favorably with the national increase of 47%. New York's growth is typical of a general trend among the less productive states and Kentucky's lead has diminished from 28% in 1967 to 18% in 1968. Many states are increasing in quantity, and each hopes to come a stakes winner. This for a Mr. Right to show its failed to impress the citizens of California, who let him go off

Kline's Hens Seek To Regain Scoring Punch At Ursinus

Coach Loren Kline will be looking for more scoring punch tomorrow when his Delaware soccer team travels to Collesville, Pa. to meet Ursinus.

Kline's Blue Hens, third in the Middle Atlantic Conference southern division with a record of 3-0-1, have scored only one goal in their last two games — a 1-0 victory over Philadelphia Textile and a scoreless tie with Gettysburg.

"We have been getting the shot, but we haven't been making the most of our opportunities," Kline says. "I hope we will break out soon."

Kline is particularly looking forward to the end of a scoring slump by center forward Mike Biggs, who scored 10 goals in the Hens' first four games. The sophomore from Brandywine needs only one goal to tie the Delaware season record.

"Our opponents have been jamming us in the middle on Mike and he needs some help," Kline says. "We should be getting more offense from our outside men and that will take some of the pressure off Mike."

Sam Dixon's Vikings Face 2-1-1 McKean After 20-0 Loss To Brandywine Gridders

Brandywine moved into a 2-2 tie with Christiana and Conrad for third place in the Blue Hen Conference A-Flight by defeating Coach Sam Dixon's Vikings 20-0 last Saturday afternoon on the Bulldogs' wet field.

Brandywine led 14-0 at the half after Batson's two-yard plunge in the first quarter, and Campbell's one-yard drive in the second period, with Hansen kicking both conversions.

The Bulldogs collected a third touchdown in the third quarter with Johnson's five-yard dash through the mud and water for the final 20-0 count, and Christiana held their opponents scoreless in the final frame.

Playing for Dixon's Vikings last Saturday were Quarterbacks Dave Webster and Max Mathes; Halfbacks Glen Thompson, John Fleckinger, Mel Brooks, Randy Glines, Dan Shanor and Lawrence Fullbacks Clyde Webster, Bruce Ryser, Neal Fairchild and Harold Reisinger.

Dixon's 2-2 Vikings host 2-1-1 third place McKean this Saturday at 10:30 a.m.

End Ron Withelder Named To All-East Grid Team

Delaware End Ron Withelder was named this week to the Eastern College Athletic Conference's Division III All-East football team.

Withelder, a junior from Folsom, Pa., caught five passes for 119 yards and two touchdowns, in the Blue Hens' 26-0 victory over West Chester last Saturday.

Delaware Quarterback Tom DiMuzio, defensive back Dick Keller and Fullback Chuck Hall were nominated.

Pitching Features Autumn Exhibition For Hannah's Nine

Delaware's baseball team has completed its fall practice schedule, and the exhibitions were dominated by pitching.

"We have potentially the best pitching since I've been coaching here," says Blue Hen Coach Bob Hannah. "We lost some good college pitchers in Gene Waldman, Len Fischer and Tom Palmer — but we have a good group of young pitchers coming along."

Hannah stressed that as of now the Hens had only two proven pitchers, but he has high hopes for other young arms on his staff.

"Steve Tissot and Larry Walker are good college pitchers right now and we expect them to get better," Hannah says of his two junior right-handers.

"We are looking for Doug Hopper, Mark Brown, Ron Powell, Ted Zitek and Tom Millburn to develop."

Among the non-pitchers, Sophomore Dave DeRyder was a standout. The Hen third base candidate hit over 300 during the fall and came up with some sparkling plays in the field.

Hannah's Hens seem well-fortified at every position except catcher. Co-Capt Ricky Hale and Sophomore Joe Flickinger are head-to-head at first base, and Co-Capt Jim Robinson is the leading contender for second base.

Shortstop could fall to either Butch Dill or newcomer Willy Miranda, son of the former Baltimore Oriole shortstop.

Third base is the most unsettled position in the infield with DeRyder, returning starter Glenn Hinton, Hale and Junior Dave Yates all in the picture.

Yates, a speed merchant who is almost sure to be in the lineup somewhere, is also a candidate for a spot in the outfield.

Other outfield candidates include Dave Klinger, the team's leading hitter last year; Hinton; and two members of the Delaware football varsity — Bruce Fad and Bob Buckley.

"We will be competitive even with a question mark behind the plate," Hannah says "but we are hoping that one of our catching possibilities will develop in the spring."

The job will probably go to either non-letterman holdover Dave Wilford, Bob Young or Bob Masin. Young, the son of former Oriole Bobby Young, and Masin, a regular safetyman on the football team will be given a long look in the spring.

Harrington Racing Appreciation Night Scheduled Tuesday

Free admission to the clubhouse and grandstand will be offered next Tuesday as Harrington Raceway hosts patrons on annual Appreciation Night.

A gala program has been arranged for the open house event and some lucky fan will go home with a new automobile.

Tickets on the 1968 car have been distributed nightly over the past several weeks and will continue to be allotted through Tuesday night.

An impartial drawing will be held following the final race that evening. The winner must be present in claim the prize.

Appreciation Night will mark the 23rd fall meeting.

All-American Check List Includes Five Blue Hens

Five Delaware football players are on a checklist of potential college division All-Americans to be selected by the American Football Coaches' Association.

Offensive Guard Hank Vollendorf of Maple Glen, Pa., is the only senior mentioned. Vollendorf was named first team All-Middle Atlantic Conference last year and had been outstanding again this season.

The juniors are Quarterback Tom DiMuzio of Philadelphia; Middle Linebacker, John Favero of Parsippany, N.J.; Center Chip Vaccarino, Brooklyn, N.Y.; and Spread End Ron Withelder, Folsom, Pa.

"Each year over 70 per cent of all doves in North America are eliminated — a few by the forces of nature, but by far, the large majority, 65-million are massacred by bird hunters here in the United States," Mr. Caudle continues.

"The kicks are in seeing them fall in just ending a life," the Colorado conservationist concludes.

Well, Mr. Caudle, not quite. No sportsman enjoys ending the life of any quarry. It's the painful price he pays for the pleasure of the hunt — a love of the chase inherent in many — and the sense of freedom and exhilaration experienced in a day outdoors with gun or bow.

The passenger pigeon billions disappeared forever some 60 years ago, but not because of depredations by sportsmen.
