Republicans Win by Pluralities Unprecedented In History of Republic Delaware Falls in Line; Elects Entire State Ticket-- Medill Wins In This District

WARREN G. HARDING
PRESIDENT-ELECT OF THE UNITED STATES

"Republican Landslide; Harding Wins," this laconic headline in the special edition of the Dayton News, James M. Cox's own newspaper which was issued late last night, tells the whole story of yesterday's election.

The herculean task facing those whose duty it is to assure the correctness of the official count makes any attempt to give actual figures this afternoon a dangerous thing. All indications, however, points to the greatest victory in the history of the Republic.

The people have given to Warren G. Harding and Calvin Coolidge not only the largest popular plurality ever recorded but have by their ballots given them a sympathetic majority in both Houses of Congress.

Incomplete returns from the State concede the victory to the Republicans by a large majority. The entire State ticket and the county offices with few exceptions were captured by the Republicans.

PRESIDENT OF DELAWARE COLLEGE INSTALLED WITH IMPRESSIVE CEREMONIES

Many Visitors Attend Exercises and Enjoy Luncheon Speeches

With impressive formality, in the presence of hundreds of alumni, friends of the college and distinguished visitors from other colleges, Dr. Walter Hullahen was installed president of Delaware College last Saturday. The ceremony took place in front of Old College which presented a holiday appearance with decorations of blue and gold. The college orchestra was stationed on the landing and furnished music for the imposing procession. Many out of town guests and some prominent educators, including President MacCracken of Lafayette College, President Demerest of Rutgers College, President Onwaka of Ursinus College, President Gould of Washington College, Dean Rurham of Temple University, Dr. Yocum of the University of Pennsylvania, Professor Ryder of Drexel Institute, Dean Curtiss of Goucher College, and Dr. Charles L. Reese of the University of Virginia, were present. Governor John G. Townsend and his staff were present. The Governor and his staff were met at the Armory by a committee of the faculty and (Continued on Page Four.)

WOMEN'S COLLEGE OBSERVES SIXTH ANNIVERSARY

Interesting Ceremonies and Inspiring Speech Mark the Occasion

The cold winds which had marred somewhat for the spectators the exercises at Delaware College, had subsided by 3 o'clock and the sun shone warmly during the outdoor portion of the celebration commemorative of the Sixth Anniversary of the founding of the Women's College, held last Saturday. The students in colorful procession, accompanied by the guests, marched to the South campus where according to custom, a tree was planted by the Sophomore class. The beech was chosen and its symbolism explained by Miss Rose Roberts, president of the class, in a graceful speech in the course of which the spade was presented to the Freshman Class and accepted by Miss Elizabeth Macintire, captain of the Freshman class. Another pretty ceremony was that of the presentation of the color, gold, to the Freshman class by the Junior class, who as Freshman had received it from their sister class. The acceptance speech was made by Miss Greta McKinsey, sub-captain of the Freshman class. Upon the return of the classes to Warner Hall, where further (Continued on Page Four.)

METHODIST PREPARE FOR BIG RALLY

Milton McCann and T. B. Ely to be Present Next Sunday

Comprehensive plans are under way at the Methodist Church for Rally Day which will be held next Sunday, November 7. Rev. Frank Herson, Superintendent Earle Dawson with his aids, are planning a program of special music, recitations and songs which will be of special interest to all.

The Sunday school has recently been graded so that a pupil may advance continuously on merit from the oradle roll to the Senior Department.

The Beginners' class has two grades under the direction of Mrs. T. T. Martin and Mrs. Norma Thomas. The little tots have a handsome, colored crayons, pictures and everything to bring the lesson within the comprehension of the child.

The Primary Department is under the direction of Miss Martha Pennington, assisted by Miss Florence Butler and Miss Willis.

The Juniors and Intermediates are under supervision of Dr. T. F. Manns, and the Seniors who occupy the auditorium of the church are directed by C. A. Short.

The attendance has increased greatly during the pastorate of Mr. Herson whose aim is to have an average attendance of more than 500.

Every member and friend of the church and the Sunday school is urged to work in an endeavor to have present next Sunday every Methodist in the vicinity.

NEW CENTURY CLUB HEARS OF DUTCH INFLUENCE

The Bible to be Subject of Discourse Next Tuesday

Owing to Election Day activities, the attendance at yesterday's Century Club meeting was very small. Those present, however, were splendidly entertained by a paper, "Dutch Influence in New York" by Mrs. Emma Wilson. Mrs. Wilson brought out by giving her hearers a glimpse of the life in their own country.

She showed the Dutch influence on commerce, education and religion in this country. The Dutch were first to establish a free school in New York State. They also founded the first Protestant Church in America.

At next Tuesday's meeting, Dr. W. O. Sypherd will give a talk on the Bible.

FRIENDS ARRANGE BIRTHDAY SURPRISE

A delightful birthday surprise party was tendered Miss Elizabeth McNeal at her home on South College Avenue last night. The evening was pleasantly spent in dancing and playing games. Those present included Misses Dora Law, Edith Spencer, Sara Lovett, Edna Green, Eleanor Duffy, Fred Harmer, William Lilly, J. W. Olcott, Wallace Cook, Charles Howard, and Gray Carter.

MISSION CIRCLE TO HOLD BAKE

The Mission Circle of Mrs. Ed. Steele's class at the Presbyterian Sunday school will hold a bake next Saturday, November 6, beginning at 11 a. m., on Claringbold's porch, adjoining C. B. Dean's store. The young people will have on hand all sorts of homemade good things at reasonable prices.

PRESBYTERIANS GETTING READY FOR ANNUAL SUPPER

The ladies of the Presbyterian Church are making plans for their annual poultry supper which will be held on Thursday, December 2.

At the same time other good things will be no sale as well as articles suitable for Christmas giving.

SOLEMN REFERENDUM

America still lives. By solemn referendum, the people have shown in mind as well as heart, that the idea of government given us by our fathers still prevails. Government by law under our Constitution, and not domination by theories of men was the real issue of this campaign. Camouflaged by the League of Nations and Extravagance of the War Administration, the vital thought was whether America as conceived and fought for in '76, as constituted in '87, as preserved in '65, still lives. And truly serious was the issue.

The spirit of Washington, of Lincoln and of Roosevelt called—and America heeded the call.

Will Hays is right when he says "There is a new glory in the Stars and Stripes today. Law and order! Under them, pursuit of happiness at home, and by them, 'Peace, Good Will to Men.'"

Thus, have spoken the people of this Nation.

To those representatives elected, comes this opportunity and responsibility. To the Republican Party comes this obligation. To all citizens comes this duty.

America is the hope of the World.

SPECIAL DISPATCH 4.15 P. M.

At the Republican and Democratic Headquarters it was undecided at this hour whether the House of Representatives in the General Assembly would be Democratic or Republican. The doubtful districts are understood to be Baltimore Hundred in Sussex County and St. Georges Hundred in New Castle County. W. H. Evans, running for State Senator, appears to be defeated by a slight margin.

ELECTION DAY

By JOHN GREENLEAF WHITTIER

The proudest now is but my peer,
The highest not more high;
Today, of all the weary year,
A king of men am I.
Today, alike are great and small,
The nameless and the known;
My palace is the people's hall,
The ballot-box my throne!

Who serves today upon the list
Besides the served shall stand;
Alike the brown and wrinkled fist,
The gloved and dainty hand!
The rich is level with the poor,
The weak is strong today;
And sleekest brocloth counts no more
Than homespun frock of gray.

Today let pomp and vain pretence
My stubborn right abide;
I set a plain man's common sense
Against the pedant's pride.
Today shall simple manhood try
The strength of gold and land;
The wide world has not wealth to buy
The power in my right hand!

While there's a grief to seek redress,
Or balance to adjust,
Where weighs our living manhood less
Than Mammon's vilest dust,—
While there's a right to need my vote,
A wrong to sweep away,
Up! clouted knee and ragged coat!
A man's a man today!

For The Homemaker's Eye

There was a time when no dinner was complete without a soup; when every woman had a stock pot if she ever made any pretense to being a cook of any kind. But somehow the soup has disappeared from most tables as a regular course.

Dietic experts claim that a thin soup is valuable for a hearty dinner because the hot liquid taken into the stomach first starts the flow of the digestive juices, and is so easily assimilated.

A heavy soup, meat juices, vegetables and the like, is a real food as are the cream soups and purees and they are so nutritious it is not necessary to have so heavy a dinner to follow.

Soups are divided into two main classes, those with stock and those without stock.

It may interest you to know the kinds, or headings, rather, under which they come.

There is bouillon, for instance, made from lean beef delicately seasoned and usually cleared. Clam bouillon is an exception to this, however.

Consomme is usually made from two or three kinds of meats, sometimes beef, veal and fowl being employed. It is highly seasoned with vegetables, sweet herbs and spices and is always served clear.

Brown soup stock is made from beef as a rule, two-thirds meat and the other third bone and fat. This is also highly seasoned with spices, sweet herbs and vegetables, and forms the foundation for most of the meat soups.

White soup stock is, as a rule, made from veal or chicken, and with this one use delicate seasonings.

Potato Soup

One quart milk, 1 tablespoon butter, 6 potatoes, 2 onions, 1 stalk celery. Boil potatoes and mash fine. Boil onions and add to milk, which must be hot, and celery; add butter, pepper, and salt to taste; sift through strainer. A cup of whipped cream is a great addition. This soup must not stand—serve immediately.

Baked Spinach

Wash two pounds of spinach and cook without adding more water. Drain when tender, chop. Mash the yolks of two hard-cooked eggs and mix with the spinach; season well with salt and pepper. Line a deep buttered baking dish with the spinach, dot with bits of butter or cubes of salt pork. Beat three eggs lightly, add four table-spoonfuls of milk, three-fourths of a cupful of grated cheese, the chopped egg whites, one-fourth teaspoonful of mustard and paprika to taste. Pour into the spinach, mold and bake till the custard sets.

Veal Potpie

Use two and one-half pounds of breast veal for stewing. Cook until tender in sufficient water to cover. Put in baking dish and add one carrot and three onions, peeled and cut in dice. Thicken the gravy slightly, season with salt and pepper and one teaspoonful of finely chopped parsley. Cover one inch thick with cooked hominy grits. Dot with bits of butter. Bake for thirty minutes in a moderate oven. Serve in the dish.

Eggless Corn Gems

One rounded cupful cornmeal (lard, butter or beef drippings may be used), one teaspoonful salt, pour boiling water over, stirring all the time. Have batter thick and smooth. When cool stir in one cupful sour milk in which has been dissolved one teaspoonful soda. Bake in gem pans in hot oven.

Graham Gems

One quart sour milk, level teaspoonful soda, one-half cupful sugar, one teaspoonful salt, flour enough to make a stiff batter. Drop by spoonfuls in gem pan and bake in hot oven.

Buttermilk Gems

Two cupfuls buttermilk, one-half cupful cream, one teaspoonful soda dissolved in a cupful buttermilk. Stir quite thick.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Nitrate of soda is a good tonic for house plants that need it. Dissolve one teaspoonful of nitrate in a quart of water and use it to water the plants every week. This tonic will produce rapid growth in young, healthy plants. Cold coffee or tea infusion is good for all kinds of ferns. Use it instead of water once a week, soaking the roots well.

To keep a cake moist, cover with an icing while it is still warm, then put a small jelly glass of water in the cake box. The air in the box is kept moist by the water and the cake will not dry out. An apple is used instead of the water by some.

A clothes basket with two parts is convenient for keeping white and colored clothes separate.

Pure chloroform will remove paint and grease stains from colored garments. Apply in open air.

Turpentine will remove the shine from a dark skirt. Hang in open air to remove smell of turpentine.

An attractive dessert is apple snow heaped roughly in a glass dish and sprinkled with pink sugar.

The fishing season is on. A business man was reminded of it by a small son who called him on the phone and asked:

"Daddy, will you bring home some goldfish?"

"Why?" the man asked.

"Well," answered the boy, "I've got a couple of worms and don't know what to do with them."—Worcester Evening Post.

TELEPHONE PROBLEMS

IN the past few years this Company has faced many serious problems.

During the dark days of 1917 and 1918 when every thought was concentrated on one object—the winning of the war—the volume of telephone calls grew to be so great that the congestion in our exchanges became very critical.

It isn't necessary to mention the splendid work done by our operators during those trying times. You know as well as we how they met the situation, and what it meant to the public.

The industries of our State were engaged almost exclusively in the manufacture of war products and in helping feed the nation. It was necessary that they be given the very best of telephone service.

Then the serious epidemics still further burdened the lines and switchboards, and cut down the operating forces by absence due to sickness.

Through the press we told the public our problem. We asked your co-operation. We asked you to eliminate unnecessary calls.

It was a question of service, and you met us more than half way.

As a result, we were able to continue to furnish a very high quality service in the face of what seemed at the time to be insurmountable difficulties.

Now we face another problem. This time it is a question of revenues, which is also a question of service!

Our present revenues are not sufficient to pay the owners a return on their investment. Therefore new invested money cannot be secured to extend and improve the plant and its operation.

The people of Delaware have a vital interest in their telephone service. They want it kept at its present high level. They want it to expand and improve so as to be always of the fullest usefulness to all.

The issue does not rest in our hands; it rests in yours! We feel confident that with a thorough understanding of the problem, you cannot fail to realize that only by placing the Company on a safe and sound financial basis can the service be saved from going down hill fast!

RED CROSS TELLS OF MANY PEACE ACTIVITIES

Elects Officers and Prepares for Annual Membership Drive

Miss Jane Maxwell and Miss Elinor Harter, local delegates attended the annual meeting of the Delaware Chapter of the American Red Cross held on Friday at the Hotel duPont. Reports of the various departments showing the work that has been accomplished since peace came, were read, and following the business session there were addresses by Dr. Livingston Farrand, chairman of the American Red Cross and Colonel Olds, who is the Red Cross Commissioner for Europe.

Down State delegates to the meeting came to Wilmington this morning and were entertained at luncheon, being received by various officers and heads of departments of the Delaware Chapter. There were no speeches at the luncheon.

Henry P. Scott, chairman of the Executive Committee, referred to the late president of the Chapter General Charles Bird, stating the action taken by the local, State and national Red Cross bodies over his death.

Henry N. Canby, treasurer, presented his report of the finances of the Chapter.

There were $97,196 receipts and expenditures of $42,084.46, leaving a balance of $55,111.54. There are 27,828 annual members, contributing 36, sustaining 8, life, 1, patron, 3.

Many Knitted Articles Made.
A report for the Women's Bureau of which Mrs. William Hall Porter is chairman and Mrs. Henry P. Scott, vice-chairman was presented by Mrs. Scott who has been in active charge of the work during the absence of Mrs. Porter.

After stating that the old city hall had been closed on January 15 this year as a headquarters for the knitting department the report added that the knitting was looked after very ably by Mrs. Donald S. Ashbrook and knitted articles such as sweaters, caps, shawls, stockings and mufflers have been distributed among the Italian Mission, Sunnybrook Farm, Sunshine Society, Associated Charities, Home Service department, Coast guards and residents of Dover, Camden-Wyoming, Smyrna, Newark, Harrington, Felton, Cheswold, Bridgeville, Georgetown and Odessa.

The report referred to the appeal for the manufacture of 250 layettes for use abroad, and stated that all of these will have been forwarded by the end of this month.

Mrs. Pierre S. duPont submitted the report of the Bureau of Supplies; for the motor corps by Captain Ethel Ball Staniar; for the publicity department Mrs. Thomas W. Wilson reported hearty cooperation on the part of the press of the State and her gratitude for their advice and help. For the Bureau of Development Miss Emily Bissell reported 22 schools to have been visited by "Cho-Cho," the Health Clown. The Modern Health Crusade under the leadership of Miss Helen Hale has enrolled 10,000 school children, although the work has just commenced.

Bureau of Hygiene
Mrs. Joseph Bancroft presented an extensive report of the bureau of Hygiene of which she is the director. The bureau has had both a busy and important year, which was also the first year of the peace program. Showing the work of the home nursing branch the report announces 32 classes in home hygiene, with 28 classes graduated; 625 students under instruction, 214 graduates and 23 students received cards for modified course. The teacher centers are in progress at the Women's College at Newark High School, Wilmington high schools at Selbyville, Frankford, Millsboro, Lawes and Dover schools, at Middletown and Odessa, parochial schools at Wilmington, classes in Delaware Industrial School, St. Hedwig's Catholic Church, classes at Hagley Community House; Italian Settlement, Peoples' Settlement, Y. W. C. A. and classes for young mothers and adults in towns where school classes were held. A traveling equipment used in this work proved very beneficial.

A program to include Red Cross home nursing has been placed in the curriculum of the public schools here. A first-aid class of 22 students was a factor in the work at the Women's College at Newark.

Under the heading of community nurses, the report announces the appointment of four nurses. Among the work done the figures for the year show 410 children examined at Claymont since February, 862 bedside visits made, baby clinics held once a week since June, and 89 visits to the Girls' Industrial School.

In special nursing a nurse was engaged who was assigned to the Visiting Nurses Association and who did valuable work at Sunnybrook Farm in addition to her regular duties. An-school nurses the report says: "The State Industrial School and also at the workhouse.

Recounting the work of six county school nurses the report says: "The six county school nurses have visited 82 schools, given the preliminary examination to 4,931 school children, and made 763 home visits, resulting in a great number of children being taken for treatment by their parents to the family physician and dentist and also to hospital clinics."

The report shows the vast amount of work done for public health, thru lectures, in conferences, and of the unusually interesting display made at the State Fair.

Home Service Bureau

What the bureau of home service and civilian relief, of which Miss Madeline Draper is the director has done, was reported by Miss Sibyl M. Gordon, secretary of the bureau. The report in brief follows:

"Since the opening of the home service bureau in 1917, 3,110 service men and their families have come to us for aid.

"There were 1,354 cases under our care the past year. Care of 450 disabled soldiers. Of this number, all but 94 have had their claims for compensation adjusted. Over 300 were examined and their claims, including affidavits necessary, filed through the home service office.

"With the exception of the county work we are planning to wind up the activities of this bureau on January 1. We believe that after that date the service rendered to the families could be handled by the Associated Charities, the information concerning allotments, insurance, etc., can be properly cared for by the American Legion. As to the disabled soldiers, our biggest problem, we hope by January 1 to clear up all claims that have been entered to date and to urge men who have not yet filed claims to do so at once, as after January 1, we will only have one stenographer on duty to refer cases to the proper agencies, and handle any left-over claims of the disabled men.

Judge George Gray was made president of Delaware Chapter at the business meeting that followed the reading of reports. Judge Gray has always taken a keen interest in whatever the Red Cross has done and has always aided it in whatever way he could. Other officers elected were: Vice-presidents, Pierre S. duPont

Henry M. Ridgely, Dover; Dr. S. Layton Grier, Milford; secretary, Miss Emily P. Bissell; treasurer, Henry M. Canby; executive committee, Henry F. Scott, Mrs. Joseph Bancroft, Miss Madeline M. Draper, Pierre S. duPont, Mrs. George W. Marshall, Mrs. Lewis Mustard, Mrs. Willard H. Porter, Mrs. Henry B. Thompson, Mrs. Pierre S. duPont, S. D. Townsend, Mrs. Henderson Weir and Mrs. Thomas W. Wilson.

BOTH HANDS SHOULD BE TRAINED

Regnault asks in La Presse Medicale for April 21, 1920, xxviii, 24, if it is advisable that one make himself ambidextrous. Plato, Aristotle and Marcus Aurelius believed that the left hand is defrauded of its birthright by a certain negligence and that it is a duty to restore its equality. Franklin once wrote a whimsical "petition of the left hand to those who superintend the education of man." The same view is held by many physiologists today.

Nevertheless there is something to be said on the other side. It may be asserted that the work of the left hand is different from that of the right. We need one free hand and one to carry luggage or equipment, and hence the right is used for emergency while the left is continuously occupied. Emergencies call for rapid and skilled actions, so that the right hand specializes in these, the left arm having the greater endurance. "The right arm is the dynamic, the left arm the static arm." The left arm is also a reserve arm when the right has become exhausted. It is very difficult to train the left hand and to execute rapid, complicated and delicate maneuvers, but it can sometimes readily reverse the movements customary for the right hand, as in mirror writing. Hence it would appear that to some extent the education of the left hand should consist not of copying the activities of the right but of reversing them.

True ambidexterity would seem to imply teaching the left hand to execute individual movements entirely distinct from those of the right so that the individual can perform two radically different tasks at the same time. Taylor, the American efficiency engineer, advocated the cooperative use of the two hands in a single task along strict efficiency lines, in that both hands could be busy at the same moment, and this appears to be the gist of ambidexterity in practice.—Medical Record.

TO MAKE MUSH THAT DOES NOT LUMP

Recipes for the use of corn meal that will be useful everywhere are not easy to make, for the meal used in various parts of the country differs considerably. In general the granular, which is used more commonly in the North, requires more water and longer cooking than the water-ground, which is used more generally in the South. This extra cooking is needed to soften the meal and remove the granular quality from which it gets its name, and must often be given to the meal before it is used in making bread, or such dishes as waffles or doughnuts.

In order to produce a satisfactory flavor it seems necessary that the mush should at some time reach the boiling point. The most common way of preparing mush is to allow the water to come to the boiling point and to add the meal slowly, stirring constantly. The objection to this method is that there is considerable danger that the mush will become lumpy and oftentimes it is inconvenient to stand over a hot stove and stir the mixture sufficiently to make it smooth. A better method and one recommended by the United States Department of Agriculture is the following:

Put the corn meal, cold water, and salt together in the top of a double boiler. No stirring is necessary. Put the top of the double boiler into the lower part and allow the mush to heat slowly, cooking half an hour, or longer, if convenient. Many people cook it as long as four hours. Just before serving remove the top of the double boiler from the lower part and boil mush for two or three minutes. In boiling it at this time there is no danger that it will lump.

The Governor-Elect and the Ticket

Confirmation rather than congratulation is really in order for the State ticket elected yesterday. The election only makes officially sure what every thinking Delawarean acquainted with conditions knew would happen.

When Col. Denney was nominated it was assumed that Delaware would have another Republican administration. When the Democrats had their convention, the only doubt was the size of the Republican majority. Now we see these forecasts realized.

The Governor-elect has a wonderful opportunity. Our citizenship is in a thinking mood. Business Administration, Good Roads, Educational Advance, Health Legislation are still in Republican hands. Governor Townsend has aroused the State to its needs, and has initiated legislation that needs only continuance and advance.

Those who know the Governor-elect, know what to expect. With the confidence shown—the vote cast, he has a wonderful opportunity, and a thinking citizenship to support him in this work. To him and his associates we offer our best.

Hats Off To State Committee

To Charles Warner, Republican State Chairman; Charles Grantland, State Secretary, and Jeanette Eckman, Assistant Secretary in charge of Women's Organization, comes whole-hearted praise for the work accomplished by them and their cooperative organization. The task, always difficult, was this year truly serious. Scarcely had the campaign begun, than women were granted the right of franchise. To organize the women of a state in this short time and to effect the results attained was nothing short of marvelous.

The business methods and dignity of the campaign outlined by the State Committee has been carried out—and with success. Conducting a political campaign is a worthy and patriotic calling. It can be done. The Republicans have so proven it.

The disgusting and sickening propaganda against the Republicans, during the last week, has been met with a quiet dignity that appeals to our better citizenship. Congratulations to our State Committee and all those who so effectively served under their leadership.

SONS BORN TO BOYCE BROTHERS

W. Truxton Boyce, Federal Prohibition Director for Delaware, is receiving congratulations on the arrival of a son born Thursday morning at his home near Stanton. It is Mr. Boyce's sixth child.

Ten days ago a son was born to his brother, U. Lawrence Boyce, who is the Democratic nominee for Prothonotary, and who also lives near Stanton. The Boyce brothers are engaged together in the farming implements business.

LIFE

(From the Detroit Free Press)
Laughter and song
A friend and a smile or two,
Then a lonely and long
Hard pull for a mile or two,
Danger and fear
The despair and the doubt of it.
Then the skies clear
And the glad coming out of it!
Meet what you must
As a man, as a friend,
Joy shall come in the end.

conducted under escort of the Battalion to the "Knoll." The visiting educators had previously been conducted to the President's home by members of the Student Council. The whole group shortly before twelve o'clock, proceeded to the Green in front of Wolf Hall where the Academic Procession was formed. From there, the procession moved to the Old Campus where the installation exercises took place.

Henry B. Thompson, President of the Board of Trustees, presided. The Right Reverend Phillip Cook, Bishop of Delaware, made the invocation. Mr. Henry B. Thompson then made the address for the Trustees. He said in part: "The inauguration of a President of Delaware College of necessity marks a new era in its history. The State and College are fortunate in their choice of Dr. Hullahen as President. We believe we can look forward to another period of growth and progress, and that we can justly congratulate Dr. Hullahen for the opportunity that is given him to render great service to the State."

Mr. Thompson after briefly touching on the growth and progress of the college under Dr. Mitchell's leadership continued, "the material growth of the college is almost solely due to the generosity of Pierre du Pont, a citizen who by his personal work and by his splendid generosity, is lifting the entire educational system of the State to a higher level. * * * The serious problem which is confronting every institution of learning is a proper remuneration of the faculty. * * * The number of students, material equipment in buildings, laboratories, go for nothing without a strong faculty. It is the heart and soul of the institution; the driving power that makes a college worth while. I know that Dr. Hullahen feels this is the big problem that he is facing and unless our State responds to our needs in this respect, we must only hope for a weak institution."

In her address for the Women's College, Dean Winifred J. Robinson said, "In welcoming you to the Presidency of the Women's College of Delaware we are asking you to enter upon a task that is barely begun. * * * The labor which we bring to you is not light. It may demand many hours of thought and effort but it has the joy of all that is truly educational in that it is creative labor. * * * On behalf of my colleagues of the Women's College of Delaware, and of the alumnae and students of the college, I give you most cordial welcome to its Presidency."

Dr. Harter spoke on behalf of the faculty. He first gave a short sketch of the history of the college with which he is so well versed, and then welcomed Dr. Hullahen in the name of the faculty.

Everett C. Johnson, Esq., who was to have made the address for the Alumni, was prevented from being present by the serious illness of his wife. Dr. E. N. Vallandigham became the "mingte man" for the Alumni and made one of the finest addresses of the day. His address consisted of a statement as to "what the Alumni hopes of the college and what the Alumni sees as its duty toward its Alma Mater." He expressed the hope that "the Board of Trustees would more and more place the responsibility upon the President and his advisers and colleagues of the faculty and trust him and them with authority such as shall assure them the confidence, respect, and steady loyalty of the self-governing student body. Dr. Vallandigham also asked that an attempt be made to stabilize the faculty. In discussing the duty of the Alumni toward the Alma Mater, Dr. Vallandigham said: "we are loyal enough, but we must make loyalty practically helpful. We must give thought, time and money to the needs of our Alma Mater. With this new administration in the highest degree promising, we must take an attitude of friendly, constructive criticism. We must know Dr. Hullahen, and the faculty, we must learn what are his and their plans, hopes, and ideals.

Delaware College has proud right to live as a small college. She must now earn her right to expand to as large a college as the State needs."

The next part of the program consisted of the official installation of Dr. Hullahen as President of Delaware College. The ceremony was so impressive that the Review prints the entire installation charge of Mr. Thompson. He said: "On behalf of the Board of Trustees of Delaware College, and in its name, I hereby install you, Walter Hullahen, Ph. D., as President of Delaware College, and bestow on you all the rights and powers of the office and impose on you all its duties and responsibilities. In token whereof I give into your hands the keys of the colleges, a symbol of your responsibility to keep watch that none enter here unprepared or depart hence unfitted. I also give to you the charter and by-laws of the corporation, the source of your authority and your guide in the use of it. Having full confidence that your powers will be exercised with wisdom, courage, and patience, and your duties performed with fidelity, zeal, and efficiency and pledging you the support, loyalty, and co-operation of the Trustees, the Faculty, the Alumni, and the Students, we look forward hopefully to a realization of the high aims entertained for the upbuilding of this institu-that all of the educational links were strong and durable.

The Right Reverend Phillip Cook, Episcopal Bishop of Delaware, made a fine impression in his short speech. He complimented Delaware upon having a President who was idealistic enough to believe "the function of an education was to teach one how to live, not alone how to make a living." Bishop Cook said that he believed the wrong and selfish attitude of trying to "get all" and not trying to "give all" was responsible for a large part of our industrial strife.

Professor MacKellar, a former colleague of Dr. Hullahen at the University of the South, concluded the speeches in the Commons with a few complimentary remarks concerning Dr. Hullahen. He said that at the University of the South, Dr. Hullahen was known as a "hustler" and a "good sport" and that he had no doubt that he would deserve a like recognition at Delaware.

exercises were held, they formed on each side of the walk and steps a living line down which the faculty and the guests marched while the classes sang college songs.

At the indoor exercises, Dean Winifred J. Robinson presided. An orchestra composed of piano, violin and mandolin, played while the guests were seated by the ushers. Miss Madeleine Dixon, president of the Student Self-Government Association told interestingly of college traditions well established although the college is yet young.

A selection by the Glee Club was followed by an "adroit" address by Dr. Walter Hullahen who complimented Dean Robinson upon energy, perseverance and success in every endeavor at the college. He closed by introducing Mrs. Mary D. Bradford, of Wisconsin who was sent to Wilmington by the U. S. Bureau of Education to assist in the survey of the schools of Wilmington. A clever, forceful speaker, she delighted the audience with her telling epigrammatic phrases and unique comparisons.

She declared the purpose of education to be the development of a unique personality for and in a democracy. The making of good citizens, of persons "socially serviceable" was dwelt upon to some extent. The changed ideals which are necessary to bring the best men and women into the work of teaching was cleverly analyzed and the profession was defined as that calling for the highest type of salesmanship, since the job of the teacher is to sell education to an indifferent world. The importance of starting the education of children at an earlier age than 6 years was also emphasized. A comparison of the compensation received by the teacher and the iron worker was expressed thus: "The shaper of iron may receive a larger compensation than the shaper of souls, but there is a compensation that comes to the shaper of souls that is entirely lost to the shaper of iron."

Dean Robinson announced that the emergency dormitories are ready for occupancy. Gifts received from friends of the college were enumerated in goodly number.

Henry B. Thompson, president of the Board of Trustees, told amusing anecdotes of his trip through the West and announced that a new kitchen urgently needed by the Women's College, had been donated by the School Auxiliary of the Service Citizens.

According to plans later developed this will consist of an extension of the present kitchen, eastward, and the improvisation of the roof into an outdoor theatre.

DR. McELMOYLE WINS APPEAL TO SYNOD

Rev. Dr. John McElmoyle, pastor of Elkton, Md., Presbyterian Church, won his appeal to the synod of Baltimore from the decision of the New Castle Presbytery dissolving his pastoral relations with the Elkton Church.

In the controversy between him and the Elkton church there had occurred the many marriages Dr. McElmoyle had performed for couples who went to Elkton to be wedded because of the ease with which marriage licenses could be obtained there. The Synodical Commission which heard his appeal reported, vindicating him by sustaining it and the Synod approved the report.

The commission reported the members of the Elkton church elected by the congregation, and not the antagonistic to the minister, are the lawful officials. It also added he had not been properly notified before the presbytery. It added the presbytery erred in not properly notifying him. The Synod ordered the removal.

Wedding

AFFLECK-CARTER

The marriage of Miss Mildred Lee Carter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Carter of South College Avenue, to Charles Jackson Affleck, of Norfolk, Va., was one of the prettiest of the fall weddings. The ceremony which took place in St. Thomas' Church, was performed by Rev. Charles E. Berghaus, of Bridgefield Park, N. J., a cousin of the bride, assisted by Rev. Walter G. Haupt, the rector of St. Thomas'. The church was simply and effectively decorated with orchid-colored dahlias and palms. While the guests were assembling, selections were played on the pipe organ by Mrs. Homer E. Guyer, of Winchester, Va., an aunt of the bride. Immediately preceding the ceremony Miss Helen E. Tilghman of Wilmington, a student at Goucher College, sang, "O, Promise Me."

The bride wore a beautiful gown of radium lace over ivory satin, made with court train. Her veil of tulle, was arranged in cap effect with Duchess lace. She carried a shower bouquet of bride roses and white sweet peas.

She was attended by her cousin, Ruth E. Guyer, of Winchester, Va., as maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Edith Pilling Spenser, of Newark; Miss Madge Gladstone Affleck, sister of the groom, of New York; Miss Mary Adams Mitchell, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. S. C. Mitchell, of Richmond, Va., formerly of Newark, and Miss Mary Justine Armstrong of Flushing, L. I., a cousin of the bride.

Miss Guyer wore an orchid-colored taffeta creation and black velvet hat with trimmings of silver lace. She carried an armful of pink roses with maiden-hair fern, and a touch of lavender flowers.

Gowns of orchid-colored taffeta were worn by the bridesmaids. Their hats were of orchid-colored maline, with crowns of orchid-colored panne velvet. The hats had pretty little streamers attached that fastened on the shoulders of the bridesmaids. The maids carried bouquets of pink roses and maiden-hair fern, with small lavender flowers. All the attendants wore silver slippers and stockings.

Mr. Affleck had as his best man Mr. James A. Moore, of Norfolk, Va. The ushers were Messrs. S. McCall, H. Malcome Owens, C. H. Dalby, all of Norfolk, Va., and G. Gray Carter, a brother of the bride.

After the ceremony an informal reception was held at the bride's home, where hundreds of friends of the popular young people called during the evening. The reception and dance which was to have taken place at the New Century Club was cancelled on account of the recent death of the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Mary G. Foard.

Following the reception, the young couple left for a wedding trip. They will be at home after December first at Roxburgh Apartments, Norfolk, Va.

The bride's traveling suit was of dark blue French broadcloth trimmed with Hudson seal. With this she wore a becoming dark blue hat. Many relatives and friends of both the bride and groom were present.

Mr. Affleck is head of the customs and freight brokerage firm of Affleck & Co., Norfolk. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Affleck of Winchester, Va.

Miss Annie Johnstone Sheppard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David U. Sheppard, of Newark, and Clarence E. Stone, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Stone of 1842 E. Allegheny Avenue, Philadelphia, will be married Wednesday night, November third, at 8 o'clock in St. Paul's P. E. Church, Philadelphia, by E. J. Humes, rector.

The bride will be attended by her sister, Miss Ethel M. Sheppard of Newark. The groom's best man will be T. Harry Pillinger, of Philadelphia.

You can't expect everything in this world nor any other, it's likely enough, and you will be much happier if you do not even expect some of the things you have a right to expect.

HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS GIVE HALLOWE'EN PARTY

The High School students gave a Hallowe'en party in the Armory last Friday evening, October 29. This event was looked forward to with interest by all the students of the school. Plans were in progress for some time; committees were appointed, everyone worked hard. The Armory was artistically decorated with autumn leaves, corn and pumpkins.

The fun began about 8 o'clock when the people began to arrive masked in gay and brilliant costumes. Some time was spent in trying to guess who each one was. After the grand march, all unmasked. Then games were played which had been planned by the entertainment committee. There was also a fortune telling booth, where fortunes were told by a witch. After the arrival of the orchestra about 9 o'clock, the remainder of the evening was spent in dancing. Refreshments were served, consisting of apples, cider, and cake.

A stirring speech was made by Paul Steel in behalf of the high school athletics. He urged the cooperation of every one in the Athletic Association in order to assure success in the athletic ventures of the year.

All present seemed to have a good time and express their appreciation to the three committees, the faculty, and to John Mayer, the president.

The decorations were left for the Women's College Hallowe'en dance on Saturday evening.

BIG CROWD ENJOYS PRESBYTERIAN HALLOWE'EN PARTY

More Than 150 Follow Farmer Cornstossel and Wife in Play

The true spirit of fun characteristic of Hallowe'en was manifest on Friday evening at the social given by the Presbyterian Sunday school. Each of the committees under the direction of Miss Naomi Street, who was general chairman, worked valiantly to make the affair a success.

G. V. C. Houghland, chairman of the entertainment committee, was assisted by Mrs. Lelia Richardson, Mrs. Edna Chalmers Dickey, Misses Edna Chambers, Edith O. Lewis, Messrs. Charles Johnson and Howard K. Preston. They prepared a program of games into which the guests old and young entered with holiday spirit. They were led by a "jolly farmer," G. V. Houghland, and his equally jolly wife, Mrs. Edna C. Dickey, both in typical costume, who performed surprising feats which the others emulated with more or less agility according to age, previous experience, and rheumatic disability.

The decorating committee of which Ira Steele was chairman, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Steele, had converted the Sunday school room into an autumn bower, with corn stalks, autumn leaves, and pumpkins. Simulated moonlight was cleverly attained by the use of yellow and black crepe paper.

Most of the little folk and many of the older guests came masked and added to the merriment of the occasion by their pranks.

After games had been enjoyed by the 160 or more guests, refreshments consisting of ice cream, cakes and apples were served under the direction of a committee composed of Miss Anna Smith, chairman, Mrs. Lelia Richardson and Mr. Ed Steele.

MECHANICS TO HAVE FEED

Junior Order American Mechanics will have a spread for their members next Monday evening in the hall and are looking forward to a good time. They expect all of the members to be in attendance for some business of importance is to be transacted.

PUPILS AT McCLELLANDS-VILLE SCHOOL GIVE HALLOWE'EN SOCIAL

One of the most enjoyable Hallowe'en parties given this season was held on Friday evening at School No. 27, at McClellandsville. The affair was arranged by the teacher, Miss Eleanor C. Davis. The party was attended both by the pupils and their parents, there being present about 75 persons.

The early part of the evening was devoted to an entertainment, the following program being pre-ented; Earl Pierce, "Hallowe'en Apples"; Agnes Seydell, "Hallowe'en"; Elizabeth Stuart, "Hallowe'en Faries"; Mildred Hobson, "The Hallowe'en Ghost"; Ethel Crowe, "Old Hallowe'en"; Arthur Disley, "The Elves' Prepare for Hallowe'en"; Elizabeth Buckingham, "Ma's Tools"; George Frame, "Bobbie Says." Leslie Crowe and Theresa Crowe also contributed recitations.

Musical selections were given by Miss Helen Davis and A. C. Davis. Adelbert Seidell, school director made a pleasing address.

The Columbia Graphophone Company loaned to the school for the evening a gramophone.

Following the entertainment, folk dances and games were played, after which refreshments, consisting of pie, ginger cakes, apples and cider were enjoyed. The refreshments were contributed by the children's parents.

The affair was such a success that through Miss Davis' efforts, a parent-teacher association is to be formed in that community. They are planning to hold a box social near Thanksgiving.

NEW JERSEY ENGINEERS ADMIRE DELAWARE ROADS

Commend Work of the Highway Department and Tell of Work at Home

Charles M. Upham, chief engineer of the Delaware State Highway Commission, together with about twenty-four New Jersey highway engineers, began a tour of Delaware roads last week to view the highways being constructed. The visitors were entertained at the Hotel duPont at luncheon in the duBarry room and had the system of State highways explained to them. Mr. Upham and Josiah Marvel, a member of the commission, made a brief address as also did Chief Engineer Wasser, of New Jersey, and Alexander Nelson, County Engineer of Atlantic County, member of the County Highway Engineers' Association. Mr. Wasser said the New Jersey road building budget for 1921 called for an appropriation of $18,000,000 to cover operations for the next six years. Next year $4,700,000 will be expended. The party made a tour of the roads about Wilmington, then went down the State. Many of the visitors expressed admiration at the progress that had been made in Delaware during the four and a half years the work of the State Highway Department had been in operation.

WILL EXAMINE TEETH OF DELAWARE SCHOOL CHILDREN

Dental Unit which is visiting the schools of the State

This truck and personnel has been donated to the State Board of Education together with sufficient funds to maintain it for two years. It is to go from school to school throughout the entire State and will be the means of correcting the almost universal dental defects which are found in the school children. The personnel is made up of three members, a dental operator and two hygienists. They will lecture to the students and teachers in every school as well as to any interested organizations. They will make thorough examination of each child's mouth, and record every observation which will be filed in the school. They will do any prophylactic preventive work that is necessary and will do operative —that is, extractions, fillings, etc.,—only in the case of those children whose parents cannot afford to pay a private dentist. A small charge will be made for this work and it is hoped that within the two years for which the funds have been supplied, every school child in the State will have had his mouth "cleaned up."

TOBACCO AGAIN TO INVADE WHITE HOUSE

Incoming President First User in Many Years

After an absence of over 19 years, tobacco will again, it is presumed, be used in the White House for Cox enjoys a pipe and Harding a cigarette.

The last President who indulged was McKinley. With his death the United States entered into an era of non-smoking presidents. Roosevelt and Taft were abstainers, as is Wilson.

From an interview with McKinley in 1896, Dan Quinn wrote: "McKinley produced cigars. They were good and well selected. McKinley never drinks of any of the gay beverages which corks confuse, but he smokes. Smokes like Vesuvius or General Grant. It is his one 'habit'."

President Benjamin Harrison broke his staid dignity and showed rare geniality over a glass of weak grog and a good cigar, it is said.

Cleveland lighted a cigar occasionally, although his greatest pleasure and hobby was fishing.

President Arthur loved to tell stories and smoke cigars. This we read from a correspondent of that time "What President Arthur loved to do was to drive out and then bring home a merry company of ladies and gentlemen to dinner, and afterwards spend the evening in lighthearted talk—telling stories, smoking excellent cigars and winding up with an elaborate supper at midnight or later."

President Hayes did not use tobacco.

President Grant used enormous quantities of the weed. It is said he died of cancer of the throat superinduced by the excessive use of tobacco.

Andrew Johnson did not use tobacco in any form and seldom touched alcoholic beverages. One of his friends once said that he never knew Johnson to even go to a theatre.

Lincoln was also an abstainer.

Foremost among the earlier presidents who smoked was Andrew Jackson. His favorite was a pipe. Accounts say he liked to lounge, robe-de-chambre, smoking his pipe.

TO KEEP SLIM AN EASY MATTER

It is easier to keep slim than to get thin. Either process however, requires some self denial—if you are one of the fatly inclined. Make up your mind with stern determination to leave alone this winter, sweet puddings, ice cream, delicious little tea cakes, cinnamon toast and buttered toasted muffins. Use only a single thin pat of butter with your breakfast rolls and learn to like coffee without sugar. You can, if you try. Avoid batter cakes and syrup like the plague. Be wary of potatoes and refuse the gravy when it is passed to you. And drink water not at all with your meals, but very plentifully between meals. If you will do these things, and either walk two miles a day or exercise briskly night and morning in your room, there is no great danger of your laying on superfluous flesh.

He (after the quarrel)—Then what did you marry me for? She—Mother figured it up at the time and said it was for about a million and a half, I think.—Boston Transcript.

NEW QUOTA PLAN DEvised FOR SCHOOL SAVERS

Will Stimulate Interest and Set Definite Goal for Young People

New vigor and enthusiasm is animating the schools of the Third Federal Reserve District this year. The Government School Savings Plan, that last year converted thousands of pupils to the idea of thrift so that approximately $2,000,000 was saved by them, is now more popular than ever and there is every indication that this year will outdo all previous years.

A definite quota plan is being used this year in lieu of the vague "save as much as you can" plan of last year. Every pupil will be encouraged to save and buy at least two $5.00 Government Savings Stamps during the whole school year. The cost of the two stamps, averaged over the year, will be $8.35 and translated into weekly terms, would mean a saving of 16 cents every week by each pupil. The two stamp quota is intended as an objective for the pupil and will both stimulate and encourage individual interest and savings.

On the basis of two stamps per pupil, each school will have a definite allotment, apportioned by taking the number of pupils there and multiplying by the two stamps. This will create good local spirit and will establish a standard toward which the pupils will aim.

It has been figured out that while many pupils cannot save enough money to buy their quota of two stamps, it is certain that there will be many others who can go far beyond that. In this manner a mean average can be established.

"This human statuary is remarkable. How can a man remain perfectly motionless that long?" "I got a hired man kin beat him," declared old Farmer Heck. —Detroit Free Press.

"Women are queer." "What now?" "I've seen my wife let down the folding bed and then look under it for a possible burglar."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

ASK STATE TO TAKE OVER ADJACENT TURNPIKE

Organizations Petition Authorities to Complete the Christiana-Stanton Road

Improvement of the Newport turnpike is expected to be included in the program of the State Highway Commission next year. The improvement of the section from Christiana to Stanton, including the replacement of the "double bridge" over White Clay Creek, is being considered by the Levy Court.

A number of property owners who would be benefited by the highway improvement, feel the necessary work could be accomplished much more expeditiously by the State Highway Commission. The State authorities, it is claimed, have power to condemn the necessary right of way when a route has been adopted, while the Levy Court lacks that direct power and must first endeavor to arrive at an adjustment with the owners, consuming much time.

Petitions are being prepared by several granges and similar bodies representing property-owners along the road, to be presented to the department officials to be included in their program to be submitted to the next session of the Legislature.

NEWARK HIGH SCHOOL HAS WINNING TEAM

Takes Third Straight Last Friday from Strong Eleven

The result of diligent work and hard conscientious practice on the part of the Newark High School football team has developed a winning eleven. Coach Harry McDonald, instructor in agriculture, and his assistant, F. A. Brown, have succeeded in putting into the field a team that has not yet been defeated. It played its third game of the season yesterday without being scored on, defeating Middletown High 49 to 0. This makes a total of 156 points scored by the Newark boys in the three games played. They defeated Calvert, Md., High, 58 to 0; Elkton High, 49 to 0, and yesterday Middletown by 49 to 0. The local boys have not outweighed their opponents in any of the games played, but have demonstrated that they are much better trained. McDonald, agricultural teacher at the school formerly played on the University of Maryland team, and he has coached the boys and molded them into a crack team for a small school. The line-up of yesterday's game follows:

- Newark.

Snellenburg's Celebrates Silver Anniversary

The store of N. Snellenburg and Co., of Wilmington, is celebrating this week its Silver Anniversary, by conducting one of the largest sales in its history. The occasion is planned to signalize the successful accomplishment of a quarter of a century of business development in which faith in the city has been the paramount idea. David Snellenburg, the proprietor, opened the store in 1897 with the ambition to give the people a store that need fear comparison with none in the land. "Service first! Gain afterwards!" These are some of the slogans which have given the store a stronghold on the public.

During the strenuous times when prices were high many merchants were looked upon as profiteers. The Snellenburg store never profited. They were looked upon by the government as entirely trustworthy in the matter of their sales. The government itself through its agents who examined the store became convinced that the company was a model institution safely to be entrusted with serving the public and always keeping the profits within bounds.

COMMUNITY CORN SHOWS TO SUPPLEMENT COUNTY EXHIBITS

The New Castle County Corn Show will be supplanted this year by a series of community corn shows. The Farm Bureau Executive Committee recently decided on this policy thinking that more samples of corn would be exhibited and more farmers would view the show than would be possible through one central show.

Wherever feasible, local organizations such as granges and vocational schools will be cooperated with in conducting these shows. At this date it is impossible to announce the program, but if conditions will permit, shows will be held at Centerville, Newport, Stanton, Harmony, Hockessin, Newark and Middletown.

DISTINGUISHED REPUBLICAN SPEAKERS HERE

R. M. McElroy and Senator L. H. Ball Talk to Newark Audiences

Senator L. H. Ball addressed the students at the Women's College of Delaware on Monday evening at 7.30. His subject was the League of Nations. He pointed out the dangers to the constitutional rights of the citizens of the United States in adopting the League in its present form, gave his interpretation of the disputed points contained therein and told the history of the League covenant in Congress together with the suggested amendments.

Dr. Robert McElroy on Friday evening gave a bitter arraignment of the Democratic Administration of the past 8 years, depicting it as a three-reel "movie" with himself as the scenario writer. The first reel was entitled "The Administration that Fooled and Failed." In this he flayed the egotism of President Wilson whom he has known personally for 25 years and for whom he could find no word of excuse, of sympathy or of praise. Biting sarcasm and bitter denunciation of the fooling and fumbling of the Administration were supported by statistics which he quoted to show waste and extravagance during the war period, and to show the burden of taxation which has been loaded upon the public.

In the second reel, "The Heir Apparent Who Didn't Inherit" he told of the nomination of Cox arranged by a group of New York politicians Murphy, Taggart and Nugent, and their belief that they were getting as far away from Wilsonism as possible in their choice. They were likewise fooled when their candidate too keounsel at the White House and came away converted by visions of support from the millions of government employes.

The issues of the campaign were touched lightly and in very general terms. John K. Johnston presided and introduced the distinguished speaker. On the platform with him were many of the county and local candidates for office. Continental Band furnished music during the exercises and for the parade which preceded it. A number of loyal Republicans participated in the parade in which was carried a float asking for support for Charles L. Medill, candidate for Representative from this hundred.

Faculty Club Entertains in Old College

On Tuesday night, the Faculty Club held a Halloween celebration and party at the club rooms in Old College. On this occasion, the Faculty departed from their usual staid and stern pursuits and engaged in a general merry-making which lasted from eight until two o'clock. The club rooms were attractively decorated in true Halloween style and the usual repast of pumpkin pie, ginger cakes, and cider was served during the evening.

The main attraction of the evening, however, was the announcement of the election returns as they were received over the wire. A special messenger delivered the returns, which were greeted each time by applause on one hand and an expressive silence on the other, as the respective favorites gained or lost ground.

Tuesday night's entertainment was the first of a series of special nights which has been arranged for the Club by the Social Committee, the program of which was given last week. Professor Kirkbride, as chairman of this committee, deserves much credit for the time and effort which he has put into these entertainments in order that they may be a success.

Artists' Concert Delights Audience

The first concert of the Annual Artists Series was a distinct success from all points of view. The Rich-Kindler-Hammann Trio, which was the attraction at this concert, pleased the large audience and the audience accorded the Artists a genuine appreciation.

Thaddeus Rich, Concertmaster of the Philadelphia Orchestra, and Hans Kindler, former first cellist in the same orchestra, are well known to all Delaware music lovers and their work was of the same meritorious kind which has caused them to become so popular. Ellis Clark Hammann's work at the piano was also above reproach. The program consisted of the best works of those master musicians, Beethoven, Mendelssohn, and Saint Saens.

"Rehabs" Join Ag Club

At a recent re-organization meeting of the Agricultural Club, the members decided to invite the Rehabilitation men to attend the club meetings and to become members later if they so desired. Several have responded to the invitation and turned out at the last meeting. These men have exhibited a keen interest in the plans of the club and should be of great assistance in its work.

MEDILL WINS IN THIS DISTRICT

In the local district the contest was especially close, unofficial figures give Charles L. Medill the victory by 15 for representative. In the Sixth Senatorial district, including Pencader and St. Georges hundreds, the Republican candidate William H. Evans lost by 23. He ran five ahead in Pencader.

Returns from Kent county concede the victory to the Democrats. Both parties claim Sussex and reports from there are conflicting. Unofficial returns in New Castle Co. give Denney a majority of 11,248. The State Senate is conceded to the Republicans. The House according to late returns may be Democratic by one or two majority.

ELECTION WELL HANDLED BY LOCAL OFFICIALS

With the ease and rapidity that comes of careful previous preparation, the election here yesterday was conducted without a hitch. Officers were at their posts early and had everything in readiness for the voters at a few minutes past 8 o'clock. Before that time in both of the districts within the town limits lines had formed and were waiting with the greatest good nature for the polls to open. Most of these were women who were eager to cast their first ballot and who were obeying the injunction to vote early. The rawness and unpleasantness of the weather made the waiting somewhat disagreeable but to the credit of the officials be it said that every effort had been made to expedite matters.

In the Upper district four booths had been provided and with this many voting at once few had to wait any length of time. Mrs. D. C. Rose was the first woman to cast a vote in this district. Mrs. A. L. Beals was first in line in the Middle district. In the main, the women were given precedence in the line.

Most of them had prepared their ballots at home and simply slipped them into the envelopes provided by the officials. Others had familiarized themselves with the process of marking the ballot and caused no delay. The majority voted in the early morning.

Before 11 o'clock in both districts, nearly 80 per cent of those registered had voted. Party workers on the outside with their lists kept tabs on those who had voted and as the afternoon wore on the delinquents were sought out and in many cases brought to the polls by the faithful runners who were provided with fast automobiles.

The count was a slow and tedious thing, for much cutting had been done, the women in particular showing a great deal of independence in their voting.

All indications previous to the election pointed to a close vote in this district and the returns were awaited with intense interest. According to long established custom, provision had been made at the home of S. J. Wright to receive the returns by special wire from headquarters. Here assembled many of the men of the town representatives of both parties. At the Faculty Club rooms at Delaware College provision had likewise been made to get the returns as fast as they were available. Because of the magnitude of the task the work proceeded slowly and many returned home to await the fuller returns this morning.

"Witchcraft Hop" Held in Armory

The students of W. C. D. held their initial dance of the year in the Armory Saturday evening, October 30. The spirit of Halloween was aptly carried out in the timely decorations—pumpkins, shocks of corn, autumnal leaves, and subdued, spooky lights. A "real live owl"—placed there, no doubt, because he is the symbol of sophistication, was perched in a leafy bower near the orchestra. The music was of the classic Madden type.

Many alumnae attended the affair, which was the first ever held outside the walls of W. C. D.

THE GOVERNOR APPROVES REHABILITATION MEASURE

Insures Aid to All Who Have Been Crippled in Industry

The Act which provides for the rehabilitation of persons disabled in industry, passed before the adjournment of the Sixty-sixth Congress, insures aid to all who have become disabled in the industries. The States are now engaged in mapping out a definite policy with regard to the rehabilitation of the industrially disabled and Governor Townsend, of Delaware, has approved the measure, thus insuring this training to those who may have become disabled in this State. As soon as the necessary machinery has been created it will be no longer necessary for cripples to depend upon public charity or sell pencils on the street. The cripple will now receive a square deal as he has never before, because his rehabilitation will be accomplished by the Government—State and Federal.

The average individual who does not think in terms of industrial conditions does not realize that there is going on in this country a war far more deadly than many a political one—a war not of men and guns, but of men and industrial machinery; a war not to destroy, but to build. The industries report annually tremendous losses, and during the nineteen months of our participation in war there were reported 126,000 killed in the industries as against 47,000 on the battlefields of France during the same period. The war has produced over 200,000 disabled men, ranging from a negligible and minor disability to a major permanent disability resulting in the loss of an arm, a leg, or an eye. Contrast this number with the 3,000,000 accidents a year in this country, an average of 10,000 per day. It is difficult to realize that there are so many people in this country, a number equal to twelve times the population of the State of Delaware.

Every casualty on the battlefield has its parallel in the industry. A soldier had lost a leg as a result of shrapnel explosion while the industrial worker, walking along a dark passage in the works, might step on an upturned nail, resulting in blood poisoning and the amputation of the member. A machine gun bullet caused the loss of an eye, while in a mill a flying piece of steel might cause the same disaster. High explosive shell, made necessary the amputation of an arm, while in the industries a machine operator might get his sleeve caught in the machine, thus resulting in the loss of his arm. The industrial work is in as much danger of his life and limb as is the soldier on the battlefield.
