TALK ON COLONIAL HOMES TO BE GIVEN

Century Club Program Will Be Feature Of Art Festival

An illustrated talk, "Colonial Houses and Gardens" will be given at the bi-weekly meeting of the Newark New Century Club on Monday, April 29, at 2:15 p. m., as a feature of the club's participation in the Delaware Festival of the Arts.

Mrs. David Eastburn, Art Chairman, has arranged the program. Assisting on her committee is Miss Harriet T. Baily, who is also chairman of the University of Delaware's part in the Festival.

Mrs. H. Rowland Clapp and Mrs. Richard H. Randall of Baltimore, will present the subject with an illustrated talk. The slides are all in Kodochrome and show the important places of the Eastern Shore from St. Mary's County (where the ships Ark and Dove landed in 1634) to the lower part of Talbot County and the tide-water counties. The picture include both the exteriors and interiors, as well as the gardens, of charming and famous old Maryland.

Both ladies are members of "The Colonial Dames of America, Chapter I, Baltimore." This society has done much in the restoration of old historical houses. They will be entertained at luncheon, prior to their talk, by Mrs. Harry Clark Boden, a member of "The Colonial Dames of America, Chapter II, Philadelphia," and general chairman of the "Newark Festival of the Arts."

Mrs. Clapp is a member of the Pilgrim Committee of Federated Garden Clubs of Maryland and will be in a position to answer any questions regarding the Garden Pilgrimages which are to be resumed this year during the week of May 1-6 and to which club members have been invited.

FM RADIO DISCUSSED AT ROTARY

G. E. Expert Outlines War Time Advances

A sound film "The Story of FM Radio" was presented by Harold Jackson, representative of the General Electric distributors in Wilmington, at the weekly meeting of the Newark Rotary Club Monday evening.

In his introductory talk, Mr. Jackson pointed out the remarkable impetus given the development of FM Radio by wartime research, when advancements, which under ordinary pence-time conditions would have taken nearly fifty years, were achieved in a short time. Frequency Modulation, the advantage of which lies in the blanking out of static and other forms of interference common to radio reception, will soon be standard equipment on all commercial sets, he said, although regular broadcasts by national networks on a full-time schedule will probably not come for another two years due to the lack of broadcasting facilities.

Full-scale television broadcasting will probably not go into effect for another four years, he claimed, due also to the lack of adequate broadcasting facilities.

New member inducted into the club at the meeting was William S. Martin, of the Athletic Department of the University.

Guests present were: Benjamin Ambrock, of the Newark Department Store; Cleaver Price, Town Engineer; and Dr. John Hughes. Bob Major and Mr. Disney, of Wilmington, were also present.

A discussion of the forthcoming Delaware Festival of the Arts will feature next week's meeting when I. B. Finkelstein, general chairman of the event, will be the speaker.

The summer round-up of children planning to enter the first grade at the Newark Public School next September, when prospective pupils will be registered and given a complete physical check-up, will be held May the 7, beginning at 10 a. m., in the high school building, it was announced yesterday by school officials.

Registration day for the colored school will be on May 6, it was said.

The physical exam, which will be a thorough check, including eyes, ears, teeth, etc., will also include the giving of smallpox and diptheria immunizations if the parents desire.

Age requirements for the young pupils on registering is six years of age on or before January 1, 1947. The child's birth certificate must also be presented, it was stressed.

School officials emphasized the fact that there will be no registration of pupils on the opening day next September. Due to an unexpected influx of entrants last year at the beginning of school, organizational plans were completely upset, it was claimed.

NEWS STAND SOLD AGAIN

Fisher Buys Property Back

The Newark News Stand, 70 East Main Street, is back in the hands of Irvin Fisher as the result of negotiations concluded earlier this week whereby Oliver G. Billings, Jr., returned the business to the same party he purchased it from three months ago.

Fisher, who had operated this establishment for several years, sold the news stand to Mr. Billings about three months ago with Billings, assisted by his wife, assuming active management. However, Fisher regained ownership and management of the popular store Tuesday afternoon after negotiations were completed. It is understood that the building involved also remains in the possession of Mr. Fisher.

Mr. and Mrs. Billings, who have been living on Tanglewood Lane, will remain in Newark temporarily. Mr. and Mrs. Fisher and their young son reside at 66 Kells Avenue.

PLANS FOR POPPY DAY SALE HERE ARE GIVEN

Members Of Local Unit To Conduct Annual Sale

Poppy Day will be observed in Newark and throughout the United States in the near future, Mrs. John R. Fader, Poppy chairman for the local J. Allison O'Daniel Unit No. 10 of the American Legion Auxiliary, has announced.

Memorial poppies to be worn in honor of the dead of both world wars will be distributed on the streets throughout the day by volunteer workers from the Auxiliary and cooperating organizations. Contributions received in exchange for the flowers will be used in relief and rehabilitation work for disabled veterans, their families and the families of the dead.

Extensive preparations for Poppy Day are being made by the Legion Auxiliary Unit under the direction of Mrs. Fader. The volunteer workers are being organized into teams and assigned to locations in the downtown area. Residence and factory areas also will be covered to give everyone an opportunity to pay tribute to the war dead by wearing a memorial flower.

The Poppies have been ordered from where they are being made by disabled veterans of both wars, working under the direction of the Delaware Department of the American Legion Auxiliary. They are crepe paper replicas of the European wild Poppy which bloomed on the battlefields of France and Belgium in both wars and which has become a world-wide symbol of remembrance of America's battle dead.

Poppies will be more generally worn this year than ever before, Mrs. Fader predicted.

"With peace restored and the men coming home," she said, "everyone will want to pay tribute to those who can never come back to us by wearing a Poppy in their honor on Poppy Day." Department chairman for the annual sale is Mrs. Paul D. Lovett.

WORKERS SOUGHT BY RED CROSS

Volunteer Sewers Needed To Fill Quota

Volunteer workers are urgently needed in the sewing rooms of the local Red Cross branch to work on garments desperately required in foreign countries, it was stated yesterday by officials here.

The rooms are open every Tuesday, and coffee is served by the canteen.

During the months of February and March 24 girls' capes, 10 pairs of boys' overalls, 13 pairs of rompers, 11 boy's shirts, 3 pairs of child's pajamas and one snow suit were completed. It is hoped that many more mothers in this area will want to reach a helping hand to needy children overseas.

Over 190 ditty bags were also made during these two months. Many who were unable to assist in the sewing have helped greatly in knitting, with a total of 10 children's sweaters, 18 men's sweaters, 14 beanies, and five pair of mittens being turned out.

Eight afghans were also completed, and Mrs. Harold Sheaffer presented one large afghan on behalf of the Navy Mothers.

Among those from this area who will attend the all-day conference to be held at Dover, Tuesday, April 30, are: Dr. A. P. Colburn, Mrs. J. Fenton Daugherty, Mrs. T. D. Mylrea, Mrs. Milton Draper, Mrs. Robert Levis, Mrs. W. O. White, Mrs Frank Simons and Mrs. H. K. Preston.

Daylight Saving Time Effective Here Sunday

Newark residents will advance their timepieces one hour this Sunday morning, when the town goes on Daylight Saving Time, it was disclosed by town officials this week.

Retail and industrial establishments, churches and schools will all observe the advanced time.

Plan for resuming Daylight Time in Newark this year was approved by the Town Council at a recent meeting in order to bring the town in line with other communities throughout this area.

TO ELECT HEADS FOR PLAY PLAN NEXT WEEK

Session Is Set For Thursday In Century Club

Officers for a community association which will direct the long sought summer recreation program here will be elected at an open meeting in the New Century Club tonight at 7:30 p. m.

The general public is being urged to attend the session at which all nominations for directorships will be open from the floor. The aim is to make the program a broad community project, with representatives of all civic and service organizations cooperating.

A tentative draft of a constitution for the new organization will also be considered, it was disclosed.

Wide popular support for the project is essential, it was stressed, if the youth of the town is finally to have a summer program. Need for such a plan has long been recognized by all community minded individuals, such projects being considered as a vital part of any modern community.

Active support, which can best be displayed by attendance at the organizational meeting, is necessary, however, if the plans so long considered here are to be pushed through.

Issues of prime importance to every voter in the Newark Special School District will be decided this Saturday when two referenda on questions of raising funds totaling $318,000 for erection of a new building plus provisions for maintenance and salary needs of the district will be held in the high school building.

Voters wishing to cast a ballot on both issues should be at the school between 2 and 5 p. m. Separate hours for each referendum are required by the Delaware School Code.

All registered voters who reside in the district are eligible to vote. The two referenda propose a 28 cent increase in the school tax rate here. If passed, the district will have a new over-all rate of 40 cents on $100 of assessment.

Estimates as to the number of citizens in the district eligible to vote in the election are unavailable, but heavy balloting is forecast with every indication that the total surpass all records for previous school elections.

BROILER FIELD DAY TO BE HELD ON MAY 16

All-Day Session At Georgetown Substation

Broiler producers of the Delmarva area will be guests of the University of Delaware Agricultural Experiment Station and Extension Service at its first annual Broiler Field Day. The event will be held at the University's Substation, located near Georgetown, Delaware, on May 16.

The morning session will feature an educational program. C. B. Denman, agricultural council, National Association of Food Chains, will discuss, "What the Retailer Wants In Poultry," and Alfred Van Wagenen, marketing specialist for the Northeastern Poultry Producers Council, will speak on, "Broiler Marketing Problems and Their Solution." A round table discussion on "Problems in Producing Broilers," conducted by W. C. Skoglund, Extension Poultry Specialist, will conclude the morning program. Participating in the discussion will be a hatcheryman, a feed dealer, a research man, a broiler grower, a dresser, and a government official.

Following a fried chicken lunch, an open house will highlight the afternoon session. Poultrymen will visit the Substation broiler plant and observe research now underway, including experiments in coccidiosis control and finishing of birds for market.

The Field Day is sponsored by the University of Delaware Agricultural Experiment Station and Extension Service, in cooperation with other agricultural agencies of the State of Delaware and State and county poultry groups. All interested poultrymen are invited to attend.

FARMLAND DRAINAGE STUDY IS UNDERWAY

New Program Is Begun In Gumboro Area By University

Farmers living in Gumboro Hundred in Sussex County whose lands are included in the Pocomoke River watershed will be interviewed in the next few weeks to determine the productivity of their farm lands prior to launching an extensive drainage program in that area.

This work is being conducted cooperatively by the departments of Agronomy and Agricultural Economics of the University of Delaware, the Soil Conservation Service and the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, to learn the effect of drainage on soil properties and crop yields.

The field study will be the first study of this nature in this area. Previously no research has been attempted to measure the effects of drainage on the agriculture of an area. It is expected that the results of this study will have a wide application in the Coastal Plains area.

Farmers in the Gumboro section have formed a drainage corporation and preliminary steps are underway to raise funds for the drainage project. Extensive operations have been underway on the Pocomoke in Maryland and it is expected that one dredging machine will reach the Delaware line in July, a second drainage machine coming on the other side of the river is expected to reach the line in September. It is hoped that shortly after September operations may be started on the Delaware side.

Following the completion of the initial study and the beginning of drainage operations, follow-up studies will be made to determine the effect of the drainage on the agriculture of the section. During the course of the work, farmers will receive guidance and recommendations for improvements in farm organization and management to take advantage of better drainage conditions.

1,000 Delaware Cars Without New Licenses

At least 1,000 cars of 33,564 on which licenses expired at midnight Sunday were without registration for the new license period.

Officials said, however, that a part of the registration lag may be caused by the fact that many of the older cars have "just quit" and the owners have decided not to apply for registration and also there are some instances where the car owners have, in recent months, left Delaware employment and are no longer residing in the state.

ANNUAL FFA STATE MEET

Eight Honorary Diamond Farmer Degrees will be awarded to farm leaders and teachers at the sixteenth annual convention of the Delaware Association of Future Farmers of America at the Caesar Rodney High School on Friday.

C. E. Ocheltree, state director of Production and Marketing Administration in Newark and Dean George L. Schuster, dean of the School of Agriculture, University of Delaware, are among those who will receive Diamond degrees.

Three hundred vocational agriculture boys will attend from high schools throughout the state.

During the convention, ten Diamond Farmers will be selected and one will be named Star State Farmer. Keen competition is expected in this field.

Delegates from the Newark High School Vocational Agriculture Department are: Burke Cleaver and James Fox. Alternates are Richard Reed and Irvin McCall.

DELAWARE FARM FRONT THIS WEEK

Soil Content Important In Food Growth

N. E. Dodd, Director of the Field Service Branch of the Production and Marketing Administration, recently told the Associated Women of the American Farm Bureau Federation that research work was finding a definite relationship between the content of the soil and the food grown from the soil.

"The research job is not yet completed but enough has been done to indicate to me that if we want nutritious food we must look to our soils," he explained. "That's why the first job in nutrition for our people is up to the folks who farm the land. If we don't care for the soil, we will not be getting the full value from our food."

Commercial broiler producers are urged to continue their present rate of reducing flocks. The Department of Agriculture says that the serious feed situation demands that broiler output be at least 30 per cent below last year.

Delaware, Maryland, and Virginia broiler producers had 36 per cent fewer chicks started this January and February than during the same months last year. Because of the large number of chicks started last fall, the present rate of reduction must continue if output is to be held 30 per cent below 1945.

Victory Gardens planted in 1946 will help increase the American food supply, according to Chester Davis, organizing chairman of the Famine Emergency Committee. An abundance of home-grown food will be an important aid in releasing more wheat, fats, oils, and other foods for shipment to starving people abroad.

"The President and the Secretary of Agriculture have called for full effort again this year by the Victory Gardeners of the nation . . . This is a definite and positive way in which a large percentage of our citizens can help in relieving the suffering of the starving peoples of the world," Mr. Davis says.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture announced today that it will buy wheat from farmers, for immediate delivery to the Commodity Credit Corporation, at the market price on any later date the seller may elect on or before March 31, 1947.

The Department's offer is being made to speed the movement of wheat off the farms for the relief of the current famine emergency abroad.

The offer to purchase will be open to farmers until July 1, 1946, unless the CCC obtains enough wheat to fill its requirements before July 1.

Wheat eligible for purchase will be wheat which would have been eligible for CCC loans under the 1946 loan program.

The purchase price will be the market price as determined by the Production and Marketing Administration as of the date selected by the seller. Only one selection of a date for determining the purchase price may be made for any one lot of wheat.

Under a ruling of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, payments received by producers, who select a market price on or after January 1, 1947, for wheat delivered to CCC under this program, may be reported for income tax purposes as income received in 1947.

Gardeners who were out early this season with their hoes and spading forks to meet the first good gardening days have already made a number of plantings. But it is still not too late to make plantings of beet, carrot, peas, radishes and other vegetables recommended for planting during the period March 20 to April 1.

In fact, garden specialists at the University of Delaware say vegetables recommended for earlier planting will not mature many days prior to those planted now.

What's your score in this Money quiz?

Q. Will money make the mare go?

A. Yes, sir! Of course it doesn't mean putting your hay-burner on a diet of dollar bills. But this old saying does emphasize the fact that an income of hard, cold cash is necessary for the existence of any individual, any family, any business.

Every dollar you put into Savings Bonds now, assures you an income—in hard, cold cash—later on, when you may want or need it most!

Q. Are a fool and his money soon parted?

A. They usually are! But fortunately you and millions of other Americans are no fools. You've learned that the Payroll Savings Plan is the safest and surest way of piling up dollars for your future. That's why wise Americans keep on buying Bonds through the Payroll Plan—why they keep all the Bonds they buy!

Q. Does it take money to make money?

A. It sure helps! And just about the best way to put your money to work is in U. S. Savings Bonds, where the $75 you invest today will come back as $100 in 10 years.

So, if you want your money to make more money—if you ever expect to have enough to buy a home, or to travel, or to quit work for good—put every dollar you can spare into U. S. Savings Bonds!

PLOWING THROUGH TRAFFIC JAMS and struggling for parking spots is real hard work. It is much easier to go by bus or coach.

As a matter of fact, traveling by bus or coach will help solve the growing problem of traffic congested streets. Public transportation makes more efficient use of street space by moving many more people with fewer vehicles.

Use your automobile for pleasure; use a bus or coach for business and shopping trips.

Later the same afternoon, the Aetna Company was called to the same sit Company was called to the same site area. The Hockessin, Mill Creek, Cranston Heights companies also responded to the latter call.

Sunday near noon a grass fire occurred near Milford Cross Roads and on Monday in the early afternoon a field fire was extinguished near the pumping station at Ruthby.

UNIVERSITY OPENS ART EXHIBITION

The University of Delaware Art Gallery is presenting an exhibition of painting by Margaret Prosser Allison, an instructor in the Art Department here. Eleven paintings comprise the exhibition, representing the artist's work over the last few years.

The subjects range from scenes in the North West around Puget Sound to the Sand Dunes and Mountains of Colorado and New Mexico and the more quiet landscape of Delaware. One painting, an unusual and beautifully rhythmic conception of a Skunk Cabbage created such interest in the last Seattle Annual Exhibition that it with twenty other paintings was selected for an exhibition that toured the North West. It has just returned in time to be entered in this exhibition.

Margaret Allison is a painter who has had unusual advantages in her instruction. Among the artists with whom she has studied are Achipenko and Ozanfant. And yet one feels that her style of painting, developing through different phases, is always distinctly an expression of her own. It embodies fine rhythm, meaningful and beautiful form achieved through sensitive color. It is interesting to notice that her color has grown more subtle with each year. It is always appropriate and significant in helping to produce the quality desired.

The exhibition is in the Art Gallery of the University. The Gallery is open on week days from eight to five, on Saturdays from eight to noon and on Sundays from seven to ten in the evening. The exhibition runs from April 16th to April 30th. The public is cordially invited to see the exhibition.

Before you read any further, let it be clearly and distinctly understood, in no uncertain terms, that what we are about to say is not intended to be either for nor against the Newark Special School District elections, to be held Saturday afternoon, at the high school building.

This is merely a statement of fact . . . . unopinionated, we hope. The result will be determined by the expression of opinion by duly qualified voters living within this school district, regardless of whether we or you like it or not.

Numerous stories clarifying the school situation, the proposed bond and taxation issues, the election to be held Saturday and the purpose thereof have been carried on the front page of this newspaper literally for months.

Yet, we wager not one person out of ten knows what it's all about. So, in a final attempt to acquaint you with the bare facts, for what they are worth:

The Newark Special School District Board of Education will hold an election in the high school Saturday afternoon between 1 and 8 o'clock to determine by YOUR ballot whether or not said school district shall issue bonds amounting to THREE HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS. The funds to be derived from such bonds to be used to build an addition to the present school building and equip same.

Simultaneously, from two o'clock until five o'clock, the same afternoon, the school board will conduct an election to determine by YOUR ballot whether or not the Newark Special School District shall levy and collect additional taxes in the amount of EIGHTEEN THOUSAND DOLLARS for school purposes, namely: money to supplement teachers' salaries and maintenance of school buildings.

Reams could be written about the need or lack of need of these two issues. However, that is not our purpose. Our sole idea is to try to make YOU realize that there is to be a school election involving issues totalling THREE HUNDRED AND EIGHTEEN THOUSAND DOLLARS that somebody is going to have to pay over a long, long period of time.

That somebody, if you own property in the Newark Special School District, is going to be you . . . . and your children.

As we understand this election, and we speak only from our own understanding without benefit of legal interpretation, any qualified voter living within the school district is qualified to vote.

That means, we believe, that anyone who has lived in the state one year, the county six months and the voting precinct thirty days, may vote PROVIDED they are over twenty-one and are qualified by having been registered for the last general election.

Those, we believe, are about all the pertinent facts that really matter.

If the two referendums are passed someone is going to pay the price of better building and teacher facilities . . . . if you are in favor of these issues and the manner they are being handled, vote for them. If you oppose them, vote against them. But, whatever you do, vote your sentiments. After Saturday will be too late for recriminations.

While we're still in a serious mood . . . . service men being released or moved from one post to another are requested to PLEASE advise us of your change of address as soon as possible in order that we may either stop your paper or forward it to your new location.

Erroneous change of address notices at the postoffice are driving Bill Morgan crazy and costing us too many onsey-twosey centses.

Notice that work on the municipal parking lot is progressing rapidly with the pretty weather. Hope this project is soon completed and put into use . . . . and that it serves the purpose of relieving Main Street parking congestion adequately.

If you like really good music, we urge you to buy tickets now to the first and only appearance here of the Orpheus Club . . . . outstanding Delaware male choral group to appear on the high school stage next Wednesday evening.

Delaware Park getting ready for new attendance and betting records by installing sixty additional betting booths under the shed at the north end of the grandstand.

Sorry we aren't able to bring you the latest low-down on the Charles Williams charges that local police beat him up then Magistrate Rumer fined him without properly preferred charges and authority . . . . but the postponed hearing was scheduled for Wednesday night and this was written, of all things, on Sunday.

The deviled crabs at Sheaffer's (Delaware City) are superb . . . . as usual, with the building undergoing enlargement and renovation proceedings.

All out-of-town eating places jammed to capacity on Easter Sunday, with Howard Johnson's literally mobbed.

"Some people can't tell what they think until they hear what they have said" . . . . and that ain't no joke, son.

And, there IS something in this life much bigger than money . . . . its BILLS.

FORMER RESIDENT HERE DIES

Both are former residents of Newark.

HENS DROP 5-3 COUNT TO LEHIGH

Ten Delaware Errors Spell Defeat Here

Although they earned only one of their five runs, the Lehigh University nine rode to victory on Blue Hen errors in a game here on Frazer Field Saturday afternoon.

Bill Roy and Phil Neff limited the Engineers to six safeties as against ten poled by Delaware batsmen, but Lehigh took the nine inning fracas by a 5-3 score.

Delaware scored its first run in the opening frame, when Gerald (Doc) Doherty led off with a single to left, stole second, and crossed the plate on Lempert's boot of Gene Gallagher's ground ball.

The Engineers took a lead they never relinquished in the fourth. Harris was safe on Lambert's bobble, Gold walked, and Lempert bunted safely. Attempting to catch Lempert on first, Gallagher threw past Selby into right field, then missed the return throw trying for Gold at the plate, and gave Lehigh its third tally when he overthrew third base, allowing Lempert to complete the circuit.

DEL. PARK STAFF FOR SEASON IS ANNOUNCED

Officials For Forthcoming Meet Listed By Track Head

Delaware Park has completed its official family for the forthcoming May 29-July 4 meeting with the men who functioned so ably in the past again at their posts, according to an announcement from Bryan Field, vice-president and general manager of the Delaware Steeplechase and Race Association.

The stewards will be Joseph F. Flanagan of Monkton, Md., representing the Delaware Racing Commission; George Brown, Jr., of Brooklandville, Md., The Jockey Club, and W. L. Harron of Brooms Island, Md., the racing association. For the steeplechase races, John Strawbridge of Philadelphia will represent the National Steeplechase and Hunt Association with George Brooks, 3rd, also of Philadelphia, and James Park of New York acting as alternates.

Returning after years of war service is James Ross of Havre de Grace, Md., who once again will function as clerk of the scales. Edward Dennison of Baltimore, who handled this department during Ross' tenure in the army, assumes the newly created position of assistant clerk of the scales. Other assistants include the appointment of Tom Smith of Montchanin, Del., as aide to the paddock judge William Jennings and Richard A. Johnson of Laurel, Md., as helper to the stewards. Mr. Johnson has been a patrol and placing judge at Maryland, New Jersey, as well as at Delaware Park.

The veteran C. H. (Timer) Hughes of Lexington, Ky., one of the most colorful figures in the sports, returns with his watch in hand. Of the same vintage as Matt Winn, E. R. Bradley and Sam Riddle, "Timer" Hughes has seen most of the nation's greatest horses pass before him. As a trainer he saddled Lieutenant Gibson, winner of the 1900 Kentucky Derby.

George Palmer of Havre de Grace, who has sent the horses away every year since the track opened in 1937, again will be in the starter's stand.

Appointment of M. C. (Ty) Shea as racing secretary and J. Gilbert Haus as his assistant previously was announced. Both are from Baltimore.

Prompt Immunization Against Measles Urged

The State Board of Health, reporting that 276 cases of measles have been treated in the first four months of the year while the disease has reached epidemic proportions in neighboring states, has urged that all Delaware children be immunized immediately.

The 276 cases, a large proportion of which were in Wilmington and northern New Castle County, are less than one-fifth those reported in 1941, but the number is considered too high by the Board of Health.

Stating that measles are most contagious in the early stages when the symptoms are like those of the common cold, the board stated that cases detected should be reported immediately to the family doctor, the children stricken should be kept out of school and their eyes protected from glare. Measles, while not usually fatal, can have serious after effects, if not nursed carefully, it was added.

ALUMNAE REUNION TO FOLLOW MAY FETE, MAY 11

Frances Cox To Be Queen Festival Here

Several hundred women graduates and former students of the University of Delaware are expected to be on the Newark campus on Saturday, May 11, to participate in a full program of Alumnae Reunion activities and to witness the colorful May Day festival, according to an announcement made this week.

A high point of the May Day activities will be the traditional crowning of the Queen of the May. This year the royal regalia will be worn by Miss Frances Cox, a senior whose home is in Whiteford, Md. Chosen by popular ballot, Miss Cox will be crowned by her maid of honor, Miss Anne Stonesetz, of New Orleans, La., and Alexandria, Va.

Other members of the May Court are Miss Gloria Moat, of Wilmington, the senior duchess, and her two attendants, Miss Margaret McCarthy and Miss Jeanne Mary Balster, both of Wilmington, the sophomore duchess, Miss Dolores Tondat of Hartford, Conn., and her attendants, Miss Florence Reynolds, of Wilmington, and Miss Caroline Buell of Selbyville; and Miss Joan Marshall of Lewes, the freshman duchess, who will have as her attendants Miss Joan Brosch, of Wilmington, and Miss Ruth McCabe, of Millville.

Feature events on the Alumnae Day program include special reunions for the classes of '21, '26, '31, '36, and '41, and a supper in Kent Hall at 6:15 p. m., at which Dr. Gwendolyn Crawford, dean of women at the University, will be the principal speaker.

An informal dance in the Women's Gymnasium after the alumnae supper will conclude the day's program.

This year's May Day festival, to which the public is invited, is scheduled for the lower campus at 2:30 p. m. Its general theme is "Your Land and Mine," a portrayal of the development of America from frontier days to the age of nylon.

The entire pageant is under the guidance of Miss Beatrice P. Hartshorn of the physical education department. General chairman of the May Day Committee is Miss Annabelle Prettyman of Georgetown, who has as her assistant Miss Ann Scannell, of Wilmington.

Coast-To-Coast Pullman Service Is Inaugurated

Transcontinental rail sleeping car service was inaugurated last week by 10 cooperating railroads, with nine Pullman cars leaving the East Coast and a similar number departing from West Coast terminals.

The new service initially linked New York and Washington in the East with Los Angeles and San Francisco in the West, on trains operating into Chicago. The cars will be transferred between trains in Chicago.

There will be no speedup of service. The only advantage at the present time is that it will not be necessary for the passenger baggage to transfer to another car for continuation of the trip beyond Chicago, railroad officials said.

FACTS ON SCHOOL TAX VOTE GIVEN BY OFFICIAL

Background Of School Finance Program Given By Supt. Shue

A summary of facts regarding the forthcoming school election this Saturday was given by Superintendent Wilmer E. Shue yesterday as follows:

"The first issue on the question of the new school building is one which has been delayed since 1941. At that time the voters agreed to an issue of $60,000 which was supplemented by State Funds of an equal amount. Twelve to fifteen rooms were planned at that time. However, a study of this problem has revealed that there is a need for at last twenty-four class rooms and, in addition to this, a new cafeteria. The program looks forward to using the present High School building for High School work only and using the new building for elementary work only. The Main Street building houses the Agriculture work at the present time and has house the Industrial Shop. This building is no longer adaptable for a modern school program and the Delaware Avenue building is also obsolete.

"The growing school population makes it imperative to provide additional class rooms even for the school year ahead and only temporary arrangements can be made to this. The class load at the present time is in excess of forty pupils per teacher. This, it is hoped, will be reduced considerably so that the pupils may receive better instruction.

"The School Board has worked out a plan of financing the entire program on which the people will be voting so that the tax need not exceed 40 cents on $100 with present assessment figures. There is a possibility of an increase in assessment which would in turn mean a reduction from the 40 cent figure.

"The question has been raised as to securing State help or some other form of tax other than that on real estate. Neither of these hold any prospect as a solution to the problem.

"The meeting held recently of school directors of all Special Districts of the State showed it was the general feeling of all districts that they faced the same problem that Newark is facing and would, in time, initiate a similar program. Many districts are already collecting local taxes for the purposes anticipated at Newark.

"As to the 40 cent tax rate, it means an increase of 28 cents. This is more than has been levied in Newark but other districts are levying as much or more. Mt. Pleasant School District is levying the same amount. A recent newspaper account indicates that Newport has set the tax rate at 75 cents for next year.

"There has been a great deal of criticism of the schools in Newark and various organizations in town have urged the School Board to initiate the election to be held this Saturday.

"The school administration and School Board would welcome any questions which may not have been answered to the satisfaction of those inquiring. They are desirous that everyone be informed of the issues at stake."

Eastman Garden On Public View Sunday

The garden of Mr. and Mrs. David Eastburn, of near Newark, will be open to the public this Sunday as a feature of the Delaware Festival of the Arts.

The announcement of the inclusion of the Eastman Garden in the State Garden Tours was made by Mrs. J. Paul Heinel, chairman of the garden committee for Art Week, who listed a number of other gardens which will be open to the public during the month of May.

Other gardens to be on public view are those of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Rigel, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Y. Jeanes, Mr. and Mrs. Lammot duPont Copeland and others.

Noted Male Choral Group To Sing Here May 1

Pictured is the twenty-three year old Orpheus Club, Delaware's premier male choral group, which will give it's first concert in Newark on the Newark High School stage, May 1st.

Fresh from concert triumphs in Wilmington and Seaford, the Orpheus will make their final appearance of the 1946 season at Longwood Gardens next month. Their appearance in Newark is indeed a treat to music lovers and is made possible only through the sponsorship of the Newark Parent-Teacher Association. Tickets may still be obtained at Rhodes Drug Store.

More than forty male voices splendidly blend together to bring you the delightful strains of Victor Herbert, Bach, Brahms, Schubert and Mendelshon's lovely melodies. The choral program is augmented by the solo appearance of specially chosen vocal and piano arrangements delightfully interspersed throughout the forty minute program.

Luncheon for the entire group will be prepared in the school cafeteria under the direction of Mrs. Phoebe Marshall. Members of the High School Student Council and of local Boy Scout and Girl Scout troops will assist in serving the meal.
