UNIVERSITY OF DELAWARE

VOLUME 45. NUMBER 21

NEWARK, DELAWARE, APRIL 12, 1929

PRICE 10 CENTS

Delaware Granted Charter By A. S. M. E.

Objects Of Organization Explained; National Secretary To Address Society In May

On April 1, 1929, Dean Robert L. Spencer, was notified that the University of Delaware petition had been acted upon by the governing board of the A. S. M. E. and accepted, thereby establishing a Student Branch of the A. S. M. E. at Delaware. This was the climax of the efforts of Dean Spencer and several seniors for the formation of such an organization. It is hoped that the Delaware branch will forge ahead and takes its place among the leaders of the country.

There are at present 95 student branches in colleges throughout the country. This number is gradually increasing as the several engineering schools learn of the value of such an organization.

The principal objects for the existence of a student branch are:

1. It provides a medium through which the student in Mechanical Engineering may more readily divine the practical application of the theory and laboratory experiments which are developed in the regular curriculum.
2. It offers the student an opportunity to develop his initiative and his ability to publicly express his ideas, which is a necessary qualification for a successful engineer.
3. It gives the student an opportunity to form closer and more fraternal contacts with his fellow engineering students.
4. It enables him to become acquainted with those actively engaged in the profession.
5. It informs the student concerning the American Society of Mechanical Engineers and gives him an insight as to how the society is conducted.

The U. of D. Student Branch is planning its first real meeting in May. At this time it is hoped that the secretary of the A. S. M. E. will be the speaker. It is confidently hoped that this organization will be a help to all engineering students on the Delaware campus.

The officers are: President, Hugh B. Holt; vice-president, Mitchell Smith; secretary, Lyndon C. Jones; treasurer, Clayton Hesselberg; honorary chairman, Dean R. L. Spencer.

Dr. Crooks Corrects Blue Law Rumor

Has Introduced Two Bills For The Consumers' League But Is Not Connected With Any Blue Law Bill

Dr. Ezra B. Crooks, head of the Department of Philosophy and Social Sciences, wishes to correct the impression given by the Wilmington papers, that he is sponsoring a bill in the legislature for stricter enforcement of Blue Laws and the more rigid observance of the Sabbath. The committee of the Layman's Conference of which Dr. Crooks is chairman, passed a resolution which contained, among other purely church matters, a congratulatory mention of the work done by the Lord's Day Alliance in keeping the Maryland legislature from passing the bill that would make Baltimore a "wide-open city" on Sunday. There was nothing in the resolution, however, that intimated that any bill would be introduced into the Delaware legislature by the committee.

Dr. Crooks has, however, introduced two bills in this session of the legislature. They are not in any way connected with this resolution since the professor sponsored them as President of the Consumers League of Delaware. One of these bills establishes a definite method of checking up on true weights and measures. There is at present no other method than an occasional inspection by a man who receives a small fee. This has proved very unsatisfactory and the new bill should prove a benefit to every consumer in Delaware. The other bill asks for an increase in appropriation for the Employment Bureau which the Consumers League has established in Wilmington.

MARSHALL MANNS GOES TO HONDURAS

Marshall Manns, '27, who has been working for the past two years in the Soil Bacteriology laboratory, left this morning for New York, from where he will sail on Monday for Honduras, where he will take up his duties as an Assistant Soil Bacteriologist for the United Fruit Company. He will be gone for eighteen months.

Southern Trip Netted Two Wins; Crossgrove And Hall Show Up Well

On Sunday morning the baseball team returned from a week's trip in Virginia where five games were played. Of these the locals won two and lost three. The team was somewhat handicapped by the fact that long trips had to be made between each game and there was little time to rest. These were the first games and it is expected that the team will turn in a number of victories this season. The Blue and Gold won from Lynchburg, 8 to 4, and from Virginia Medical College, 3 to 2, in ten innings, and lost to Bridgewater College, 3 to 2; Hampden-Sidney, 8 to 5, and Washington and Lee, 8 to 5.

LOST TO BRIDGEWATER
On the first day, despite the brilliant ball pitched by Charley Garrett, the locals lost to Bridgewater in a close and interesting ball game by a score of 3 to 2.

Errors were the cause of the defeat. Until the fatal ninth inning, Garrett had held the southerners hitless and Delaware led 2 to 1. Then two errors and a two-base hit caused the winning tallies to come in.

In this game Garrett and Snowberger were the hitting leaders for the Blue and Gold. Score:

DEFEAT LYNCHBURG 8-4

At Lynchburg the next day, the Blue Hen's Chicks came back strong and trounced Lynchburg College 8 to 4. The Delawareans bunched their nine hits in the sixth and eighth innings and that effectively told the story. Glasser and Shellady made the game all the more interesting and exciting by whalloping circuit clouts with men already on the sacks.

Hall pitched this fracas and allowed only four hits. However the fielding of the travelers was bad, and there were five errors chalked up against them. Chivalrous Lynchburg also obliged by doing the same thing. Glasser held the hitting honors for

Tennis Team Has Unsuccessful Trip

Major Glassburn Gives Lack of Practice as Reason; Schedule Changes Made

Friday morning, March 29, the Delaware Tennis Team started off on its southern trip from which they returned the following Wednesday evening, after an unsuccessful tour. Before leaving Major Glassburn, the coach, had expressed the lamentable fact that on account of inclement weather the team had been unable to get much outdoor practice. "But," he added, "we'll put up a stiff fight, and if the other side wins they'll have to put up their very best front."

Delaware competed against the following colleges:
University of Richmond (called off on account of rain).
William and Mary—lost, 5-4.
Hampden-Sidney—lost, 8-1.
John Hopkins—lost, 7-0.

The following men made the trip: Major Glassburn, coach; MacAllen, manager; Alex Taylor, captain; Joe Moran, Howard Pyle, Harold Brown, and Ted LeCarpenter.

The following corrections are to be made to the schedules that have been distributed:

- April 19—Swarthmore—away.
- April 20—Drexel—away.
- April 27—Ursinus—home.

Art Exhibit In Library

Etchings and Wood Block Prints Being Displayed This Week

There will be an exhibition of etchings and wood block prints in the Art Gallery of Memorial Library, University of Delaware, from April 9 to April 15.

This collection of forty prints by thirty-two contemporary artists evidences the great diversity today in manner and handling among print makers, for here we have examples of the work of the most conservative, those who adhere closely to tradition and the most revolutionary, the so-called progressives. Among the conservatives are such men as John Taylor Arms, President of the Brooklyn Society of Etchers; Chauncey Rider, a printer as well as etcher, Herman Webster, of international repute, and Charles H. Woodberry, of Boston, painter, etcher, and teacher.

Between the works of these men and the so-called modernists are the works of etchers like Kerr Eby and Childe Hassam. Then come the individualists, George Biddle, Arthur B. Davies, part modernist, part classicist, and Thomas Handforth, one of the younger men who looks at things from an unusual viewpoint and sets them down as he sees them.

Finally among the workers in black and white are the extreme modernists such as Wanda Gág, Eugene Fitch, Emil Canso, Louis Sozowick, and Arnold Ronnebeck, forceful expressionists.

Rockwell Kent, painter, illustrator, block printer, and lithographer, one of the really great men of today, is represented in this group. So also are J. J. Lankes and Thomas W. Nascon, two of the finest makers of wood blocks of the present day.

Side by side with the works in black and white are shown a few in color, landscapes by Gustave Bauman, Frances Gear, Norman Hall, Ernest Watson, and others.

With this collection of prints there also are some plates and blocks demonstrating the processes of etching, soft ground, dry point and block printing in color. This exhibition not only illustrates method, but has the appeal of art which must always be to the sensibilities, the emotions, and the intellect, both through the skill of the artist, and the significant charm of his or her result. Beauty, strength, humor, and charm mingle here for the enjoyment of the observer.

RUSH WORK ON THEATRE

The fancy plastering and decorative painting is under way in the interior of the new State Theatre, which Louis Handloff is erecting on Main street, and work is being rushed for an early opening. All the equipment for the new showhouse has arrived, including the apparatus for sound and talking pictures and the $10,000 organ.

Appropriation Bills Pass Legislature

Delaware College Allowed $110,000 To Complete Engineering Building; W. C. D. Gets New Gymnasium

Among the bills recently passed by the Senate of the State Legislature were two bills appropriating money for new buildings for the University, one allowing $110,000 for the completion of the engineering building, and the other appropriating $160,000 for the erection of a gymnasium for the Women's College. Another bill was also passed by this body allowing $500 annually to the School of Agriculture to pay scholarships to 4-H Boys' and Girls' Clubs and maintenance of the Junior Short Course. These bills had been previously passed by the House of Representatives, and so need only the signature of the Governor to become effective.

With the passage of these bills, the University will acquire one new building and the completion of another, which will add greatly to the beauty of the campus. With these and the new Auditorium, the campus will be greatly improved, and several great needs will be met.

There was another bill proposed by Representative Brewer to appropriate money for a classroom building for the Women's College, but this bill died in committee. The appropriation for general expenses of the University which was asked was granted in full by both the House and the Senate as a part of the budget, and also needs only the signature of the Governor.

Delaware Nines Play Drexel Tomorrow

Varsity and J. V.'s Meet Engineers in Philadelphia

Tomorrow afternoon the Delaware baseball teams will play a double header with Drexel, at Philadelphia. The Junior Varsity will play the Drexel Junior Varsity, and the Varsity will encounter their Philadelphia rivals.

This will be the first game the varsity has had since the return from the South. There has been little chance for practice week due to adverse weather conditions, but the locals are out for Drexel's blood and are going to try hard to come home with scalps cut in the Philadelphia style of haircuts.

This too is the first chance of the Junior Varsity to show its mettle. This year for the first time a rather extensive schedule has been prepared and there is a lot of spirit among the boys who expect to make the trip and they want to start the afternoon off right by showing the Varsity just how a baseball game should be won when you go to the big city.

The line-ups for the two teams are as yet uncertain, and it is impossible to make any hazard as to who will see service in the two fray.

DR. RYDEN ADDRESSES W. C. D. ALUMNAE DINNER

Doctor George H. Ryden, head of the History and Political Science Department at the University, spoke before the Philadelphia Chapter of the Women's College Alumnae Association on Wednesday, April 10, at a dinner held in Philadelphia by that organization. His topic was "Reminiscences of Russia during the Revolution."

Dr. Ryden will also speak at Vespers next Sunday evening, to be held in the Hilarium at W. C. D. Miss Mary de Han is the student in charge of this Sunday's program. His topic has not yet been announced.

KIWANIS NIGHT, APRIL 24

The Wilmington Kiwanis Club will hold its ninth annual University of Delaware Night on Wednesday evening, April 24. The banquet will be held in Old College at 6:30. The Kiwanis Club committee planning for the occasion is composed of A. G. Wilkinson, vice-president of the club and business administrator of the University, chairman; Dr. J. F. Adams; V. C. Blackwell, W. E. Holton, and H. B. Dunbar. A. R. Robeson, president of the club, will preside at the banquet.

SIGMA NU HOUSE NEARS COMPLETION

Work on the new chapter house of the Sigma Nu Fraternity is practically completed. Only the installation of the electric fixtures and a few minor details remain to be done. The furniture for the house has been ordered and is expected to arrive soon. The house will be furnished throughout with furniture finished in walnut. The opening of the house is expected to take place early in May.

University Broadcast

Due to illness, Dean C. A. McCue, who was scheduled to broadcast on the University of Delaware program over Station WDEL, Tuesday, at 7:30, was not able to speak. New Castle County Agent Ed Willis, Jr., spoke in his place. Next week the University program will be broadcast Monday night, at 7:30, and the probable speakers are Mr. Willis and George Worrlow, New Castle County Club Agent. After next week the University program will probably be returned to its regular day, Tuesday.

W. C. D. Class Plays Presented Tonight

Four Excellent One-Act Plays To Be Offered In Competition

Tonight at 8:00 p. m. in Wolf Hall the Women's College will present their annual competitive plays. Each class is working industriously toward gaining the much coveted decision which for a time makes them the outstanding class of the school. These plays generally rank among the most interesting dramatic productions of the year and this year from advance reports will be no exception.

The Freshman class will present "Overtones" by Alice Gerstenberg, universally recognized as one of the most excellent one-act plays in existence. It is, however, extremely difficult to present, since it is a character sketch in which the overtones or primitive selves of the characters appear behind them and speak their innermost thoughts while the characters themselves speak only superficialities. The Freshmen are, however, expected to put the play over in fine style. The cast includes Dorothy Calloway, Mary de Han, Alice Hellig and Pat Anderson.

The Sophomore play will be "Peggy," the story of an actress and her son. She sacrifices her happiness for the sake of her boy, whom she leaves to the care of his aunt. The cast includes Marie Davis, Dorothy Kraemer, Becky Williams, Kate Kisselring, Peg Healey, and Peg Shalleross.

The Juniors are giving "Pierre," a play of French Canada, which deals with the return of Pierre to the home of his mother and sister, after an absence of eleven years. His actions upon his return constitute the main action. The cast is composed of Esther Pierson, Terry Tehan, Ann Barclay and Bob King.

The Senior class has chosen "Hop-o-me-Thumb," a good old stand-by that wins approval whenever presented. It tells of romantic love life of a little London waif, who tells her friends she is beloved by a man whom she believes dead. His appearance on the scene introduces complications. A very effective play which Edith Passmore, Kathryn Hubert, Dorothy Baylis, Alice Rawson, and Edith Dunton will interpret.

TWO PROFESSORS HAVE HOUSES MOVED

Will Occupy Lot Adjoining Engineer- ing Sheds on Ground Recently Purchased by Rodney Sharp

It has been announced that Mr. H. Rodney Sharp has purchased the lot in back of the new theatre and adjoining the land on which the temporary Engineering Buildings are located, from Mr. Louis Handloff of Newark. The houses now occupied by Professors H. K. Preston and R. W. Thoroughgood will be moved from their present locations to this lot to make way for the new Auditorium on which work will soon be started.

Early this week ground was broken for the cellar for Professor Preston's house and the excavation is practically completed. The foundations will be set and the place for the other house will be prepared as soon as possible, so that the houses may be moved out of the way and work can be started on Mitchell Hall.

PRESIDENT SAILS FOR FRANCE

Dr. Walter Hullihen, president of the University of Delaware, sailed for Europe yesterday, on the S. S. Maurantia, on a flying trip in the interest of the Delaware Foreign Study plan. He will return on April 24, sailing from France on the French liner, France.

ADDRESSES FACULTY CLUB

William N. Cann, president of the Wilmington City Council, was the guest of the Delaware College Faculty Club, Monday, and gave the faculty members an interesting description of his coast to coast aeroplane flight. Dean C. A. McCue presided at the meeting.

Alpha Psi Omega Announces New Pledges

Dramatic Fraternity Elects Hill And Walker; Preparations For Spring Production Now Underway

At a meeting of the Beta Lambda chapter of Alpha Psi Omega, held recently, James Hill, '31, and John Walker, '31, were pledged to membership in this national dramatic fraternity. These pledges were chosen from the relatively small number who are at present eligible. After the spring production another election of members will be held and at this time, it is expected that there will be a great many more who will be eligible for membership.

The committee on selection of plays is busily engaged reading over plays in an effort to select that play which will do credit to the organization and at the same time meet with the maximum approval of the student body. Any suggestions will be greatly appreciated and should be in the hands of President deVallinger not later than Tuesday of next week.

The date of the spring production has been set but the announcement will not be made until next week when the committee will have selected the play which is to be presented.

All those who have in any way assisted in previous performances of the fraternity and who are interested in becoming members should get out and work on this show as soon as the play is selected. Due announcement will be made through these columns as to when tryouts will be held.

Col. Smith Teaches Riding to Ag Students

Obier Editor of Freshman Issue of Aggie News; Ag Club Meeting Next Monday

Instruction in the riding, selection, and care of saddle horses has been given in the Animal Industry Department during the past semester and has created a great deal of interest on the part of the students.

Colonel S. J. Smith, a resident of Newark and ardent enthusiast of saddle horses has been the instructor. The University has been fortunate in securing the services of the Colonel who is an authority on horsemanship and was at one time an equestrian instructor in the army.

At the "Ag" Club meeting to be held in the lounge room of Old College on Monday evening, April 15th, Mr. H. D. Davis, Production Manager of the Supplee-Wills-Jones Milk Company will be the speaker. Mr. Davis desires to make contact with the agricultural students, especially with the seniors and he will probably speak of the opportunities in the Dairy Industry.

Leslie Potts has placed the April publication of the "Aggie" News in the hands of the Freshmen. For this publication R. S. Obier, '32, has been appointed Editor-in-Chief, E. McCauly, '32, Associate Editor; W. R. Acton, '32, Circulation Manager; Deputy, '32, Sketch Artist, and W. Churchman, '32, P. Townsend, '32, S. Sloan, and J. McVaugh, '32, Reporters.

BLUE HEN GOES TO PRESS

The Blue Hen will make its appearance on the first of June. All material has been collected and is now in the hands of the publisher in Baltimore. It is expected that over five hundred copies will be sold, there being to date over four hundred orders placed. Virgil Van Street, who has worked most prodigiously on this publication, after a recent trip to the publishers, predicted that this will be the best issue of the Blue Hen that has ever been published. There are many new and novel features incorporated in this year's publication which should make of it a thing to be cherished and kept by those students who have signed for it.

P. E. TO BE OPTIONAL FOR SOPHOMORES

According to the new catalogue of the University which has just come off the press, the requirement for Sophomores to take physical education has been removed. This will be a great relief to all the men who had expected to have to take it next year. Hereafter, only Freshmen will be required to take the course.

H. S. TEACHERS MEET HERE

On April 26 and 27 the University of Delaware will act as host to the annual conference of the Delaware High School Teachers Association. Professor W. A. Wilkinson is University committee chairman, and is planning the program. There will be a dinner in the Women's College dining room on the 26th and a luncheon the following day.

THE LEGISLATURE

As the sessions of this Legislature of the State of Delaware are coming to a close, it is well to look back and consider what has been done for the University by its actions this year. First, it has given the University all that was asked for in the budget for general expenses. Second, it has appropriated money in various ways for the continuance and enlargement, to some extent, of the work of the Department of Agriculture and Experimental Station. Third, it has appropriated money for the completion of the Engineering Building and the erection of a Gymnasium for the Women's College. This constitutes the largest amount ever given to the University by any Legislature.

The students of Delaware may well be grateful for the fact that the members of the legislative body are sympathetic with the University, and also that there are several loyal alumni of Delaware in both halls. We can cite Representative Brewer and Senator Hynson for examples; both of these men have worked hard and unselfishly for the interests of their Alma Mater. To these and to the Legislature as a whole, the University should be grateful. On behalf of the Student Body, the Review wishes to thank all the members who have helped the University by their votes and their influence.

LIBRARY FINES

The revised fine system at the library is an experiment which we do not believe will work out. While we admit that the idea that the students should return their books promptly for the good of the other students is a good one, we do not believe that the new system will bring about that result. So far we have noticed but two tendencies on the part of those who make use of the library. One student who was fined $2.00 for keeping a book over vacation has sworn never to take out another. And in the past week we have noticed several books in the possession of students with the library cards still in the folder—a thing we rarely if ever noticed before. Therefore, there is no doubt in our mind but that the present system has already done much more harm than good, since it discourages earnest students in their use of the library and encourages petty thievery.

Moreover, the whole method as applied at Delaware is so entirely undemocratic that there is small wonder that the student body should become incensed. A mere student is fined twenty-five cents for keeping a book a day over time. A professor may take the same book and keep it indefinitely with no charge whatever. Mr. Moses admits that he has had to buy extra copies of certain books because some professors entirely disregarded his request to return the original copies. The Faculty approves of the present fine system for students, but if the same method was applied to their use of books, drastic action would be taken and taken immediately. Therefore the Review demands either the repeal or the democratization, which will eventually lead to the same thing, of the present system.

Moon Worshipper

The dawn broke as though it would rather do practically anything else, and Baby Peggy rolled over in her trundle bed, yelled for coffee and lit a Murad—she was in an awkward position, d'you see, one foot was over the bed rail and the other in back of her neck. And that wasn't the first rail that foot had caressed in the last twelve hours; it had been a mean night and Childe Harold had been especially obnoxious. It was alright to want to stick the waiter in the ear with an oyster fork, and to pour the goldfish in the punchbowl, but when it came to starting a marble game with the Montmorency string of pearls that had been in the family since Herbert the Conquered, well it was too much. A girl couldn't be too careful these days—no telling when some little prank would cause no end of trouble.

(The above is simply a modernistic trick of atmosphere creation; it means nothing; merely getting the reader in the proper mental attitude for what may follow. It is an attempt to smatch a bloody fragment from the carcass of life, and throw it in the face of the ever gentle reader as a horrible example of what may happen if he (or, in some districts, she) doesn't cut down on cigarettes.)

It thus becomes increasingly evident that, if sin cannot be original, it can at least be ingenious. As the Blessed Damozel was once overheard remarking to the Forsaken Merman (you see he was never really altogether forsaken) "Truth crushed to earth will rise again, and, although lips that touch liquor shall never touch mine, the fact remains that spring is almost unanimously agreed upon as a great time for mating."

Those who tell you that "Cradle of the Deep" is interesting, unusual, and all the rest of the Woolcott adjectives, are not exaggerating. The book is nothing if not different, but my calm and judicial mind refuses to concede the possibility of it being true. Globetrotter Joan does more odd things in odd ways than Trader Horn himself, and yet comes through it all with a sweet naturalness that makes Roxane look like a brazen hussy. Read it.

"Elizabeth and Essex" isn't exactly hot off the press, I know, but I mention it merely by way of brightening up Strachey's clipping book by confessing that he knows his queens.

Another goodie is J. B. Cabell's "The White Robe" which I'll be charmed to tell you about as soon as I can get hold of it. Which reminds me; did you hear about the axe being swung on a couple of Cabell's books in the library? No sir, one can't be too careful what one allows the impressionable student mind to absorb.

Campus Chatter

The marathon sitters on the steps of the Health Center feel much safer now that the tree has been removed—the danger of aerial attack has diminished.

Bud Roser has removed his name from the list of eligibles at the W. C. D. Yes, he is very much wedded.

Yes boys, the old triumvirate is again reigning at Rhodes, aren't they queenly—just a couple of Dots and Rooney. The exile was too much for them.

Bobby Hill seems to have wielded a very powerful thrust against evil here. Now Bobby remember that the Y. M. C. A. is only a social organization, and not an evangelical association for the betterment of the town police suffering from fallen arm pits.

"Fatty" Collins, alias Gumshoe, is now turning to the things that the W. C. D. has been waiting for all winter. Is not spring enervating, delirious, and starchy?

Oh woe, Dave Ward, who is the miscreant or was it the old standby, the door, that gave you that enlarged optic?

Social Notes

Who keeps all the girls at home—Mr. Harrington;
Who can stand the dark alone—Mr. Harrington;
Who's a better man than Gunga Din? Who's got "it", we're paging Madam Glyn;
Who's got a great big cannon—Mr. Harrington;
Shoots at all the stars that flicker by;

Who can keep our campus empty—Bet your life it's not Jack Dempsey! Mr. Harrington's the guy.

Who's the boy the girls all know—Mr. Harrington;
Who's red hot at two below—Mr. Harrington;
Who's not scared of bears or anything?
Who keeps the R. O. T. C. on the wing?
Who wakes all the roosters up—Mr. Harrington;
Don't believe he's ever closed an eye;
John Gilbert maybe keeps them busy—
But who's the man that knocks them dizzy!
Mr. Harrington's the guy.

Junior Class Song

Tune: I Fa' Down and Go Boom
We came to college quite demure—
Minds so pure, a scream for sure,
We needed "It" and lots of lure,
Mr. Squire told us so.

We got us a date each night
That wasn't right, it raised a fight.
We had to stay at home twelve nights
The Student Board told us so!

We hollered, then called the Kappy
Alphy House
We cried, they sighed, and sent us pictures
For our bureaux—
Boys don't like to kiss the gals
They like gals just for pals (!)
That must be wrong but Anyhow—
Mr. Blair told us so!

The Duke Power Company Turbine-Generators

Where do young college men get in a large industrial organization? Have they opportunity to exercise creative talent? Is individual work recognized?

THE largest steam-turbine generator units to be installed south of the Mason-Dixon line are now being built for one of the most unusual organizations of its kind in the world. The Duke Power Company is famous for the efficiency of its power plants—and for the fact that its operating profits are distributed largely to charity.

At a horseshoe bend in the Catawba River in the heart of the Piedmont Carolinas the Duke Power Company is building a generating plant which, if present plans are carried out, will be the largest of its kind in the southeastern United States. The ultimate capacity will probably be 600,000 horsepower. The first two units, which Westinghouse is now building, each are to have a generating capacity of 55,000 kilowatts. They will develop 150,000 horsepower.

By operating at practically full capacity during the entire 24 hours of the day, letting the company's hydro-electric plants handle variations in the quantity of power required, the new units will furnish the means to reduce current costs to a minimum.

The large jobs go to large organizations. Westinghouse holds a strong appeal for young men of enterprise and genius because it almost daily provides contacts with outstanding developments in the electrical field.

In the first frame Delaware opened up with a barrage of hits and collected two runs. Hampden-Sidney came back strong, however, and chased Crossgrove from the mound with three runs. Ryan rushed to his relief and scattered his eight hits throughout the rest of the game. The hitting was heavy on both sides, but erratic base running on both sides held the score down, as both teams tried to stretch their hits for too many bases.

In the game there were eight two-base hits and three triples. Sacrifice hits accounted for six runs. Delaware's fielding was much improved and there were no errors counted up for them. The score:

BEAT VIRGINIA MED. IN LONG GAME

At Richmond, the following day, Crossgrove was in fine form and in ten innings he allowed only six hits and two runs, which were less than enough to win. Incidentally the score was three to two in favor of Delaware.

There were few errors on either side and the game was featured by good playing. Crossgrove fanned six men. Roman played brilliant ball in the short position, having five assists and three put-outs to his credit. Shellady accepted five chances. Hill collected two hits.

It was also a big day for the fielders, Snowberger having four put outs, Taylor three, and Glasser two, with no errors among them. The score:

WASHINGTON AND LEE WINS

The trip ended with a defeat at the hands of Washington and Lee to the tune of 5 to 9. This game was comparatively free from errors, but the Washington and Lee team had several heavy hitters and these connected with Garrett's delivery in the second and annexed four runs. In the fifth inning they got two runs from Hall and in the sixth tallied three more and had the game in the well-known pocket.

None of the Delaware men had more than one hit to their credit that day. Hill alone had one double and his credit and the rest of the Delaware hits were singles.

In the seventh inning Skura went in for Snowberger at left field, and Snowberger took up catcher's post, replacing Smith, who had been behind the plate the whole trip. Snowberger played a fine game for the three innings he was in, and may be seen there some more this season. The score:

Golf Practice Gets Underway

First Match to be Held with Wilmington High School Next Saturday

The University of Delaware Golf Team will open this season next Saturday, the twentieth, against Wilmington High School with a four-man team. Practice was commenced last Monday. There are about twenty men out for the positions. Among those who look like varsity material so far are John Kane, former Salasium player, "Bud" Pié, a Freshman who is one of the topnotchers at the local Country Club. Lou Di Joseph, Frank Gladden, and James Crooks are going fine. After a bad year, Mose Collins seems to have struck his stride and is going strong. Roger Fulling, a former West Phillie star, is having trouble with his driver, but as soon as he overcomes his difficulty he may be counted on for a good many points. Lefty Lewis, interscholastic champion, expects to come through with a little more practice. Charles Owens will manage the team.

A tentative schedule is as follows: Wilmington High. Salasium School. Tome Institute. Franklin and Marshall College. Haverford. Newark Country Club. Faculty.

The position of the players will depend upon the scores of a thirty-six hole trial they turn in.

Take Your Choice

Jack had just been informed by his gov'nor that he was spending twice as much money at college than he should. "Son," remarked the gov. "I know you're spending it on whiskey and women. I don't mind your fooling with one of these, but you can't keep up the pace with both. You've got to cut out one of them absolutely." "All right, Dad, I'm willing. Which one would you advise me cutting out?" The old man thought in silence for a moment and then he answered: "Son, you can drink all the whiskey you want when you get old."

Yale men decide which is best cigarette...

[Reproduced from the Yale News, Jan. 25, 1929]

OLD GOLD CIGARETTES WIN FIRST IN TESTS AT YALE

In the recent cigarette test made at the University, OLD GOLDS were chosen by the students as the best. The cigarettes were masked by black labels so that the names of the brands were concealed. Each label was numbered. This was judged to be the most sporting way of testing the merits of the four leading brands. Some 208 Yale students were asked to smoke the four disguised brands without knowing their identity.

They were merely to choose, by number, the one that was most appealing to the taste.

The NEWS supervised the test on January 18 at various fraternity houses and in the NEWS office.

When the votes were recorded it was discovered that OLD GOLD (Cigarette No. 3) had won. Old Gold was given 63 first choices, which was 11 per cent ahead of Cigarette No. 2, 34 per cent ahead of Cigarette No. 1, and 53 per cent ahead of Cigarette No. 4.

INTERFRAT BASEBALL PROVIDES AMUSEMENT

Last Saturday, while spring seemed to be here, the Theta Chi's and the Phi Kappa Tau's took it upon themselves to open the Interfraternity baseball season. The game resulted in a victory for the Oxmen by the score of 5 runs to 3, and also brought into being "The Hitless Wonders," due to the fact that the Theta Chi's won the game without making a hit. The afternoon's entertainment, that is, the game, was divided into seven acts, although in some places they are called innings, and was resplendent in its bountiful supply of "slaps" and "rides," although hits and runs were so scarce.

As soon as the Sigma Nu's heard of the Theta Chi victory they challenged "The Hitless Wonders," and even the threat of what might happen if they should start to hit failed to deter the challengers from their purpose. Consequently, another seven act performance took place on Frazier Field Monday afternoon. Those determined Snakes crawled home with four runs in the opener, but thereafter everything went along smoothly until the third inning when the game almost ended. The cause of this was the sudden disbanding of the "Wonders," due to the fact that Bennett made a hit. This was a terrible blow! Nevertheless, after the audience had recovered from the shock, the show was continued and "Amateur Night" proved to be a success for the Sigma Nu's, 12-4.

DELAWARE FENCERS LOSE TO CENTRAL Y

What was probably the last fencing meet of the season was held in the gym last Saturday afternoon. Delaware lost to Central Y. M. C. A. of Philadelphia, 12-6. The meet was in two weapons, foils and sabres. In the foil bouts the Delaware men showed up well, scoring 5 wins to Y's 4. Ed. Williams fenced well. He won two bouts, 5-3, and 5-2, respectively, and lost one 1-5. Rodney won two bouts and lost one with scores 5-3, 5-4, and 4-5. Hare lost two bouts 5-3, and won one, 5-1.

Delaware won only one sabre bout. This was taken by Frisbie from Noderer, 5-3. Sassé and Potts were the other sabre men.

Rodney and Williams were Delaware's best men in the meet, with two wins each. Groff, of Central Y, was the star of the afternoon. He fenced three foil bouts and three sabre bouts, and lost only to Rodney in the foils by the close score of 5-4. His other two foil bouts he won 5-2, and 5-1. His three sabre bouts he won 5-2, 5-0, and 5-1.

Teacher—That's no excuse; you could have gotten up.

Johnny—No, I couldn't. He sleeps on the outside of the bed, and if I wake him up, he beats hell out of me.

Third University Cruise Round the World Announced

New Cunard Cruise-Ship "Letitia" to Carry Students and Professors

The third University World Cruise, sailing from New York October 10, for a seven month's world tour during which students and professors will carry on a college year of study, was announced yesterday at the offices of the University Travel Association at 285 Madison Avenue, New York City. The Cunard Cruise-Ship "Letitia," a modern, oil-burning liner, has been chartered for the world cruise. Dr. James E. Lough, President of the pioneer Floating University, will have charge of all educational matters. The Cunard Line is to operate the steamship, and the En Route Service will manage the extensive shore programs.

The academic year of the Third University World Cruise consists of two semesters. The first semester is spent on a three months' European Tour. England, Holland, Belgium, France, Switzerland, Germany, Austria and Italy are visited.

The second semester, commencing January 28, is held on board the Cunarder "Letitia" while she cruises to Greece, Palestine, Egypt, Somaliland, India, Ceylon, Sumatra, Java, Straits Settlements, Borneo, China, Korea, Japan, Hawaii, California, Panama and Cuba. The students enjoy shore excursions at all ports, besides taking long over-land trips in India and through China from Nanking to Peking and Seoul.

Experience gained from two previous University World Cruises has been incorporated into this third cruise. The University Travel Association organized the student tours around the world on the S. S. "Pyndam" in 1926-27 and the S. S. "Belgenland" in 1928-29. The latter cruise is now visiting India.

The entire education program of these University World Cruises is under the direction of professors from leading American universities. Harvard, Yale, Williams, Dartmouth, Southern California, Colorado, Missouri Lafayette, Texas, Colgate, Michigan and Oregon are represented by faculty members.

The Courses are limited to those subjects which may be taught to especial advantage on a World Tour. History, Government, Economics and Foreign Trade, Sociology, Geography, Art, Geology, Comparative Religions and Navigation are offered, in addition to such standard courses as English and French.

Classes meet in the first (European Tour) semester during the periods of residence in European capitals and University towns, including Heidelberg, Oxford and Grenoble. In the second (World Cruise) semester, classes are held daily at sea. The number of class meetings in each semester equals the number held at land universities.

Field trips in the European cities and the ports of call, made under faculty supervision, constitute a part of each course. On the "Letitia" a complete reference library is to be installed.

A new feature of the 1929-30 University Cruise is a ruling allowing a student to enroll for either the first or the second semester. If he does not care to register for the entire academic year. Thus he need be absent from his campus for only a half year.

Arrangements have been made with more than 100 universities whereby the courses taken on the Third University World Cruise may be accepted for credits toward a degree. This enables students to take the world cruise or the "Letitia" and then, returning to their colleges early in May, to reinjoin their classes without loss of academic rating.

The cost of the Third University World Cruise has, for the first time, been brought within the reach of practically every university student. Many cabins on the "Letitia" are priced as low as $1450 for the second semester world cruise, New York around the world to New York. This rate includes tuition and all shore excursions and overland tours.

The very material reduction in rates have been made possible through the co-operated management of the University Travel Association, the Cunard Steamship Line and the En Route Service. This co-operation has resulted in many economies, for each of the three firms is a specialist in its field.

THIRD UNIVERSITY WORLD CRUISE, 1929-30

Under the direction of Professors from leading Universities, New CUNARD CRUISE-SHIP "Letitia," England, France, Belgium, Holland, Switzerland, Germany, Italy, Austria, Greece, Palestine, Egypt, Somaliland, India, Ceylon, Sumatra, Java, Singapore, Borneo, China, Korea, Japan, Hawaii, California, Panama, Cuba.

University courses in Art, History, Literature, Economics, French, English, Geography, Government, Sociology, etc., may be accepted for credit at over 100 Universities. From $1450 for World Cruise only, including tuition and shore trips.
