NEWARK POULTRYMEN WIN AT BIG SHOW
Diamond State Association Exhibit Draws Many Fanciers

LATE AWARDS

Final awards completed today include the following, given to Newark exhibitors:
Best display of barred rocks: Best male, W. E. Renshaw.
Sweepstake Special: American class, Samuel Little.

The Diamond State Poultry Association exhibit, being held this week at 836 Market Street, Wilmington, has drawn one of the largest groups of fanciers in its history. This is the fourteenth annual show, and poultrymen from Maryland, Delaware, Pennsylvania and New Jersey are entered. Samuel Little of Newark, who has always been a regular exhibitor at the show, again came off with prizes with his White Wyandottes. Mr. Little won first and third prizes with his male bird, first and third with his hen, and took second in the pullet class. William S. Evans, of Elkton, gave Mr. Little a fight for all the prizes in this division.

Other winners from nearby were Clyde Robinson, whose male S. C. White Leghorn took third prize in its class, George Hyatt, Marshallton, and W. G. Moody, Elkton.

One of the features of this year's exhibit is the scarcity of many of the fancy fowls such as houdans, frizzels, roughnecks and other breeds. There are two capons in the show and only two Dark Cornish.

The judging was being done by the following officials: Poultry, Newton Cosh, Vineland, N. J., and H. H. Verderly, Philadelphia, Pa.; Pigeons, William J. Splan, Wilmington; pet stock, L. S. Fell, Wilmington.

Other awards involving local fanciers were as follows:

Barred Plymouth—W. E. Renshaw, first, second and fourth hen; first, second and third pullet, third cockerel, second cockerel, first and second old pen.

Special Awards

By Samuel Little, $25.00 for best Buff Rock female, to William E. Renshaw.

By Conner's Sanitary Market, one ham, for best Barred Rock pullet, to William E. Renshaw.

MILLION AND HALF IN COUNTY TAXES

Tax collections in New Castle County for the six months' period ending December 29 amounted to $1,596,995.11, according to a report submitted to the Levy Court at its meeting today by Commissioner Hamilton Stewart.

The total amount of taxes collected represents about 80 per cent of the taxes due, Mr. Stewart stated.

The amount of taxes collected, Mr. Stewart pointed out, includes about $60,000 in back taxes.

HEAVY FOG BLINDS Many Narrow Escapes Monday Evening As Clouds Come Down

One of the heaviest fogs of the year descended upon Newark and vicinity about 6 o'clock Monday evening last. For a time it was almost impossible to see ten feet in the gloom. Street lights on Main Street guided motorists and pedestrians through town, but in the open country many narrow escapes from running into ditches, streams and off bridges were reported. Careful driving was necessary to an extreme.

A Willys Knight sedan said to be owned by an Elkton party strayed from the "straight and narrow" path early in the evening while coming out of Cleveland Avenue into Chapel Street. The fog was so dense that the driver missed the intersection altogether and before he discovered his mistake the car was placidly jumping along on the ties of the P. and N. railroad, headed for Newark Center station.

It is reported that auto parties headed for down State points were forced to get out and walk in front of their cars to see the road ahead.

NEWARK RADIO SET MAY "GET" ENGLAND

Strongest Apparatus In Town Set Up In Badenkopf Home This Week

An eight tube radio set, capable of receiving at great distances, is being installed by C. M. Badenkopf, in his home just north of Newark. The set did not come complete, but is being built from separate parts of the highest grade radio material.

Professor George A. Koerber, head of the Electrical Engineering Department of the University, is assisting Mr. Badenkopf in hooking up his set. Prof. Koerber was one of the pioneer radio fans in Newark and is an authority on the subject.

The set, equipped with a loop aerial, will be able to pick up broadcast casts from all parts of the United States and is powerful enough to tune into stations in England.

Newark is rapidly becoming a "radio town." Men who have in the past been unable to insert a new fuse plug in their home, are now fiercely engaged in building and then tearing down radio sets, and talk in terms which would bewilder the ordinary bystander. Several fine sets have been erected here in recent months.

FIREMEN ELECT OFFICERS AND BOARD OF DIRECTORS FOR YEAR FRIDAY NIGHT

Aetna Hose Co. Annual Meeting Expected To Be Marked by Keen Contest for Chief and Five Directors

SUMMARY OF FIRE REPORT ANNOUNCED

A meeting of great importance to firemen will be held in the new Fire House on Academy Street on Friday evening next, at which time a complete list of officers and members of the Board of Directors will be held.

For the past several weeks evidences of a keen contest for Chief, have been evidenced. The two candidates for this office are the present incumbent, E. C. Wilson, and Daniel Stoll, well known plumbing and heating contractor. Mr. Wilson has been chief for many years. Last January he was returned the winner for the office by the margin of one vote. Both candidates have rare followings in the Fire Company and a spirited vote is expected.

Five men are to be chosen Friday night to make up the Board of Directors for 1924. Of the names on the ballot, three are holdovers—R. S. Gallaher, George W. Rhodes and Frank M. Lutton.

President Robert J. Crow is unopposed for reelection to the office and is sure of victory. Three other offices will have no contests, they being those of treasurer, fire recorder and pipe-man, held by A. L. Beales, F. M. Lutton and Benjamin Devonshire respectively.

Worth $60,000

According to a report to be submitted at the meeting Friday evening, the Aetna Hose, Hook and Ladder Company is worth nearly $60,000. This sum includes the value of the new building, equipment and fire apparatus in their possession. It is believed that Newark's fire unit has the distinction of being both the oldest and the richest volunteer company in the State.

The period of prosperity commenced about twelve years ago, when the idea of holding an annual carnival in the summer was started by E. C. Wilson. Mr. Wilson has directed these carnivals ever since. Proceeds from them have enabled the Company to build the new home and purchase much needed apparatus.

Several appointments will be made by the new chief when he is elected Friday night. The most important one is that of Chief Engineer, now held by Ira Shellenner. The Engineer in turn appoints our assistants.

ISSUE 600 LICENSES
Magistrate Thompson Busy These Days Satisfying Newark Motorists

Magistrate Daniel Thompson announced this morning that from a hurried examination of his records applications totalling about 600 have been made for owners' and operators' licenses of motor vehicles for 1924. These applications come from Newark and surrounding community. This tops the mark set this time last year. Every indication points to a larger number of cars in Newark than ever before.

The last-minute rush for license plates is on now, as the five-day limit expires on Saturday next.

35th WEDDING ANNIVERSARY OBSERVED

Prof. and Mrs. Conover Entertain Friends at Home Here

Prof. and Mrs. Elisha Conover entertained a few friends at their home on West Main Street last Thursday afternoon, the occasion being a quiet observance of their thirty-fifth wedding anniversary.

Prof. and Mrs. Conover were principals in a mock wedding ceremony, entering the room where the guests were assembled to the strains of the "Wedding March" played by Mrs. William E. Holton. Mrs. Conover wore the same dress and coat she wore at the wedding 35 years ago. The Conovers were showered with compliments on the delightfully original party and congratulated by each one of the guests.

Professor and Mrs. Conover were married on December 27th, 1888, in Georgetown, Del., by the Rev. Kemp, then pastor of a church in that town. Mr. Josiah Marvel, of Wilmington, the only living member of the wedding party today, was invited to attend last Thursday but due to his absence in New York City was not able to come. Prof. and Mrs. Conover moved to Newark in 1897, and he holds the position of second oldest member of the University faculty in point of service, being preceded by Dr. George A. Harter.

Schools Open

Newark Public Schools opened today after the holiday vacation period. A very good enrollment for the first day was reported, and the recital of various vacation experiences made the day lively.

The University convenes for its second semester at 11 o'clock Thursday morning.

1924 WILL MARK MANY IMPROVEMENTS
New Library and New School Probably Largest Single Items To Be Completed

With the advent of 1924, Newark looks forward to a year of great improvement and enlargement of interests to which the townspeople are linked.

Ground will be broken in a few days for the foundation work of the new school building on Academy Street extended. The Northeastern Construction Company's field engineer is already on the ground and the survey has been made for the foundation. A concrete mixer and tool house are ready for workmen.

Despite the inclement weather, the Memorial Library groundwork is progressing very well. Engineer Taylor is almost a daily visitor to the scene of the operation and a force of about twenty men are busy every clear day. The digging has about been completed and several forms of concrete have been poured.

Several new houses are planned for the next year, and it is rumored that from the outlook now, another building boom may fall upon Newark before next New Year's Day.

P. M. SHERWOOD WINS A VALUABLE PRIZE

Nash Touring Car Awarded Him In "Every Evening" Campaign

P. M. Sherwood, for many years proprietor of the general store and news stand on Main Street now owned by Ernest Frazer, but now retired, won a Nash Six touring car valued at $1375 as the third grand award in the Wilmington "Every Evening" Salesmanship Campaign, which closed recently. The awards were announced Saturday. Mr. Sherwood devoted almost all his time during the drive for subscriptions in canvassing the community. He turned in a total of 10,001.750 credits.

Besides the valuable car, Mr. Sherwood won a cash prize of $100 for the highest standing in New Castle County outside of Wilmington for the period from October 18th to November 19th.

He is being congratulated by his fellow townsmen on his good fortune. Mr. Sherwood is over sixty years of age, but during the drive active work carried him not only throughout the town but well into the surrounding rural neighborhood almost every working day.

LODGE TO INSTALL

K. G. E. No. 23 Planning to Have Big Time Saturday Night

The members of Lodge No. 23, K. G. E. of Newark, are planning a large celebration in their rooms for next Saturday evening. The officers which were recently elected for the year will be installed with appropriate ceremonies. There will also be a large class present to be initiated into the Order. A big crowd will no doubt attend this meeting.

Announcement has also been made that a social meeting of the Auditing Committee of the Lodge will be held at the home of William J. Lovett on Academy Street at 2.45 Saturday afternoon.

DYNAMITE BLASTS AROUSE TOWNSPEOPLE

Klan Demonstrations at Three Points In Town Monday Evening

Three heavy charges of dynamite were set off in three separate parts of Newark Monday night about 10 o'clock, presumably by members of the Ku Klux Klan.

The first charge, it is reported, let go in the open lot to the rear of the J. P. Wilson property on Main Street, and caused no little excitement to Main Street strollers. A group of people in quest of the cause found a lighted cross burning in the open field. Other charges were reported placed near the Rehabilitation building in the south part of town and the third placed in the New London Avenue district. There was no meeting or gathering at the scenes of the three blasts.

CONDENSED REVIEW OF EVENTS IN NEWARK AND VICINITY DURING YEAR 1923

In looking backward over the events of the past year, one is quite convinced that Newark and the community has enjoyed in 1923 one of the most important twelve months in her history.

In compiling the facts found here, every issue of the Post was scanned. Nothing has been put down that has appeared elsewhere. Newspapers are not infallible. They cannot get every bit of every event in any one given community. However here may be found a true summary of the ups and downs, the sadness and joy, the good deeds and bad deeds which have become a part of this history.

If in the course of 10, 20 or 100 years in the future, one were to sit down to write a history of this community, there would be one almost inexhaustible source of information, the local paper. He would use in a large way, the Post for his work. Thus it is that the community newspaper reflects the history of that community.

Many Great Events
Events of extreme importance, events which have brought this little town into State and National prominence have occurred during the year 1923.

Chief, perhaps among them, was the visit made by the late President Warren G. Harding. It marked that great man's last visit to the people of the East, for shortly later he left Washington for the trip from which he returned stilled by Death. The Harding visit was an occasion into which everyone in Newark joined with a will.

Then the new Fire House of the Aetna boys. Quarters which have no peer in the entire state are theirs. Long was the struggle and many obstructions marring the way, but 1923 saw them installed in their new home.

Other events of importance which have happened during the year have been:
Commencement exercises at the University in which the largest class ever to be graduated went out from the institution.

The remarkable feat of the Farmers Trust Company in holding deposits of over one million dollars.

The visit here of the Dean of the Diplomatic Corps at Washington, Jules J. Jusserand.

The assurance of a new High School Building, to cost over $250,000, through the sale of bonds and the advancing of funds by the Delaware School Auxiliary.

The doubling of the capitalization of the Newark Trust and Safe Deposit Co. and the great rise in the price of the stock.

The completion of a splendid new Fishing Pond by the Newark Anglers' Association.

Old Home Week, the first ever to be held in Newark.

The successful completion of plans and the start of actual work on the new State War Memorial Library on the University campus.

Well-known visitors here to speak, including Josiah Marvel, Judge Hugh Morris, Glenn Frank, editor of Century Magazine, and ex-Governor Charles R. Miller.

A street paving and improvement program completed by the Town at a cost of $30,000.

The fourth consecutive football championship title won by the Newark High School team.

Improvements of stores on Main Street, particularly those of Geist and Geist and M. Pilsnick's.

Death Struck Heavily

The community did not, however, pass through the year without its share of sorrow, as Death called well-known people.

The sad deaths of Dean and Mrs. E. L. Smith, Mrs. Agnes Miller, Miss Sarah Campbell, Mrs. Charles Dunlevy, Clarence Eastburn, Mrs. Edgar Jacquette, Mrs. Walter Geist, F. Lindsay Curtis and many others were in each case great losses to the community.

In the following list of happenings in the community during 1923 they have been arranged in the order of their occurrence, week by week and months by month. No attempt has been made to change or alter them in the face of further developments and they are brief summaries of actual news stories appearing in the columns of The Post.

STATE GRANGE LAYING BIG PLAN'S FOR 1924

50th Anniversary of Organization in Delaware Will Be Held In December

In an interview given to the press of the State, Robert P. Robinson, head of the Delaware State Grange organization, stated that the affairs of the grange were never in better condition and that he looked forward to a banner year in 1924.

The big meeting at Milford, held last fall, at which grangers from all over the State were in attendance, showed an active interest being displayed.

The biggest event in Grange Circles in years will be held next year, when the 50th anniversary celebration will be held in December. Plans have not been made for the meeting yet, but it will likely be the biggest gathering of farmers ever held in the State.

The two nearby granges, Harmony and Diamond State of Stanton, have had very busy years, the former grange in particular, having a splendid membership and is an organization in which the entire surrounding community is interested. Harmony has been built up into one of the foremost granges of the State.

FIVE DAYS' GRACE FOR MOTOR LICENSE

Delaware Law Permits Use of 1923 Tag Until Next Saturday

Delaware, by legislative act, allows motorists to put 1924 license tags on their cars five days before January 1 and gives five days' grace after that time to secure the licenses.

Some surrounding states, one of which is Pennsylvania, has extended by ruling, thirty days' grace after January 1, to secure the new licenses.

While Delaware, interpreting its own law strictly, does not have to recognize outside rulings, pertaining to motorists who come to Delaware, it is likely that this will be done, unless it should be found that outside states, Pennsylvania, for instance, halt Delaware motorists who have no 1924 tags on their cars immediately following January 1. In that event it might be found necessary to enforce the Delaware law.

Shortly after January 1, of the current year, several Delaware automobilists, without licenses, were arrested in Chester but it is hoped that this will not happen again this year.

Magistrate Stradley is advising motorists who may get in trouble either through putting their license tags for 1924 on their cars in advance of January 1 or for not having the new tags immediately following that day, to get in touch with Secretary of State Benson at Dover immediately in case they should be stopped.

NEWARK PEOPLE BEGINNING TO INFEST FLORIDA IN WINTER--REUNION AT HOTEL

Mrs. N. B. Kennady, Former Resident of This Town, Entertains Local People at Her Hotel Near Daytona

DR. WEST AND FAMILY SETTLED FOR WINTER

The Post is in receipt of news from a few of Newark's migratory population, now sojourning under the palms and beside the blue waters of Florida lakes and bays.

Mr. and Mrs. George Griffin and Miss Annie Hosinger, of Newark, arrived at the Hotel Halifax, near Daytona, recently and were received by none other than Mrs. N. B. Kennady, proprietress of the hostelry and a former resident of Newark. Mrs. Kennady is very well known here and has been hostess to other Newark people in the past.

Mrs. Kennady gave the Newark visitors a treat by taking them through the adjacent country, one covered by unsightly sand dunes, but now a fertile section, covered by orange groves, flower gardens, beautiful homes, lakes and resorts. The evident transformation of the upper Florida coast country has been completed in the past few years.

Dr. and Mrs. F. B. West and family, of Kemblesville, are also settled in Daytona. They have been sojourning at several points along the coast, among them St. Petersburg, Bradenton, and Sarasota, but from word received here, they like Daytona best. They are living at 45 Second Avenue. From time to time, other Newark and Florida residents drop in on them and have regular reunions.

Mr. and Mrs. David C. Rose are at West Palm Beach for the winter, where Mr. Rose has extensive financial interests in which he has been busy for the past two or three winters.

Mr. and Mrs. Armand Durant are visiting relatives near Miami, and have been to Havana and other island and shore points as guests on a boat.

THE WINTER MEETING OF THE DELAWARE HOLSTEIN FRIESIAN ASSOCIATION

Will Be Held at the Farm of J. Harold Schabinger, at Felton, Friday, January 4

Mr. Schabinger's Holstein herd will be inspected at 11 o'clock and lunch will be served at 12:30.

The following program has been arranged for the afternoon:

"What the Extension Department of the National Holstein Association is doing for the small breeder and dairyman."—Allen N. Crissey, Field Man for Delaware, Pennsylvania and New Jersey.

"True Type Holsteins" with demonstration of the use of the new score card. A pair of True Type models will be shown.—Prof. T. A. Baker, Animal Husbandman, University of Delaware.

"What the State Board of Agriculture is doing to promote the dairy industry of Delaware."—A member of the State Board of Agriculture.

"The Holstein Cow—Observations of a Physician."—Dr. Henry R. Spruance.

This promises to be one of the most interesting meetings that the State Holstein Association has ever held.

LITTLE KNOWN FACTS ABOUT WELL KNOWN MEN

Brief Sketches of Members of the Faculty of the University of Delaware and Men Connected With The Experiment Station Here—A Feature of The Post for the Next Few Weeks

THOMAS FRANKLIN MANNS

Born in Canada, raised on the prairies of North Dakota, shooter of wild geese and antelopes, when a boy football player five straight years in college, educated through his own ambition and hard work, a student of plants and their diseases and a botanist of great ability, assistant Botanist at Ohio State and finally Plant Pathologist at the Delaware Experiment Station—that in brief is the record of the career of Dr. Manns, so well known in Newark and, for that matter, in all parts of the State.

In trying to place before readers of The Post, little known, yet intensely interesting facts about well-known professors and faculty members, it is felt here is one career which has in it a wealth of activity.

Early Life

Born of English parentage near Logan, Ontario, in 1876, he moved with his family when four years old to the prairies of North Dakota, near Jamestown. The father bought a farm and young Thomas was free to roam at will over the open spaces. At that time (early '80s) the West was still the West, and he had many things to take his attention. Shooting wild ducks and geese, trapping small game, killing badgers and hunting birds nest in the low trees were parts of his daily life. Herding sheep and cattle were his daily chores.

In the wake of the great buffalo slaughters of that time, Thomas, with other boys, made lots of spare money, burning off prairie grass in order to see the thousands of buffalo skeletons on the ground. At $12 a ton, the boys sometimes made as high as $40 or $50 a day gathering up the bones, which enjoyed a good sale.

Sitting Bull, the last of the great Sioux chiefs was held in reservation about 100 miles from the Manns home. At times the old war horse would get restless and cause trouble. The settlers had little faith in the ability of the government to hold him in check, and at night, young Manns' closing sentence in his prayers was usually "Please God, watch the Indian."

His early school days were opportunities offered between blizzards and other hardships. However, he received a good elementary education, being with his five brothers and sister, the only children of the district to attend school, which, by the way, was held in the "spare room" of the Manns home.

Young Manns later passed an examination for teachers certificate and taught school during four months of the year and went to college the rest of the time. He entered North Dakota Agricultural College and received his B. S., being valedictorian, a leading debater and captain of cadet company "C".

Here it was that Dr. Manns got his talent for football. He never saw a game played until he was 21, but while in college played in every game for five years, and starred at all times.

Then came marriage and removal to the Philippines on a commission to teach in the Provincial High School. He married Miss Alys Ethel Reid, who was a student in the Home Economics course at North Dakota Agricultural College. They spent three years in the Islands, returning home by way of India and Europe.

In 1907 Prof. Manns accepted the position of assistant Botanist at Ohio State and remained there until 1912, when he came to Newark as Plant Pathologist at the Experiment Station here.

In this, his pet profession, Dr. Manns (he received his Doctor's degree from University of Pennsylvania in 1913) is well known all over the East. He is a Fellow in the American Society for the Advancement of Science, the American Botanical Society, and a life member of the American Phytopathological Society, and an honorary member of Phi Kappa Phi and Sigma Xi fraternities.

Dr. Thomas F. Manns arrayed in football togs, which at the age of 47 he dons regularly each Fall to give the Seniors a tussle as member of the Faculty team. Dr. Manns played five years of college football.

Dr. Manns is a strong believer in the principles of prohibition and has done much active campaigning both in Ohio and Delaware for the dry forces, both prior to and since the passage of the 18th Amendment. He is superintendent of the M. E. Sunday School here, and actively interested in church work.

Being interested in the Farmers' Elevators in the Northwest, he took an active part in the Newark Cooperative Cannery, in which plant he is consulting chemist. He not only believes in the farmer financing cooperative concerns, but they should furnish the brains for such cooperation. He is strongly opposed to Wall Street furnishing the brains and the farmers holding the sack.

WHAT I THINK OF DELAWARE

By Dr. Thomas F. Manns

Delaware is fast coming to her own; with more faith in humanity; with more cooperation among men; with a keener sense for picking the gold from the dross; with less politics and more citizenship—we are surely making progress. Delaware has the finishing touches of God's Creation right here. Our "Acres of Diamonds" are all about us. There is no need for "wild catting" in oil or "gold bricking" "somewhere in the West." Let us utilize to the fullest, the mildest climate, the richest domain, the finest markets, and the grandest opportunities ever possessed within the boundaries of a state. Let us have men with desires for homes and for business opportunities; men who know not the "horse" or the gambler's "chance." Men who wish every boy and every girl an education equal to that of his own; men who love to see a successful neighbor. Then Delaware is First.

To Elect Officers

At the meeting of the Newark Society of Music and Fine Arts to be held in the Town Hall on the evening of January 8th an organization will be formed and officers elected for the year. A constitution and by-laws, the drafts of which have already been prepared, will be submitted to the meeting for adoption at this time. Several important plans for the year's work will also be discussed.

Postpone Meeting

The regular January meeting of the Newark P.-T. Association scheduled for tomorrow evening, has been postponed, according to President George L. Medill, to Thursday evening, January 10th. It will be held as usual in the Academy building.

RIGHT OF WAY LAW IN STATE

Driver Must Yield to Vehicle Approaching Him From Right

A DISTINGUISHED VISITOR

M. Jules J. Jusserand, Dean of the Diplomatic Corps of Washington, Ambassador from France to the United States, addressed the graduating class of the University here last June.

Many autoists, do not know there is a State law that requires a driver to give the right of way to a car approaching from the right, and gives a driver the right of way over a car approaching from his left. Wilmington has had that rule for several years, and the Legislature early this year enacted it into a State law. The same rule now applies in Pennsylvania and New Jersey. The Delaware law, passed March 23rd last, reads as follows: "Chapter 6, 254P., 217P. The operator or driver of a vehicle upon any street, road or alley within this State shall have the right of way over the operator or driver of another vehicle who is approaching from the left in an intersecting street, road or alley; and shall give the right of way to an operator or driver of a vehicle approaching from the right on an intersecting street, road or alley; provided, however, that wherever traffic officers are stationed they shall have full power to regulate; provided further, however, that on any principal highway outside the limits of any city or town, the State Highway Department shall have the right to declare that vehicles traveling on such principal highway shall have the right of way over vehicles approaching said principal highway from intersecting roads, and provided further that the State Highway Department shall erect and maintain wherever it is deemed necessary, clear and legible signs requiring motor vehicles before driving into or across such highway to slacken speed or to come to a full stop as the sign shall specify or require."

WE'RE PULLING AHEAD

A NEW YEAR, blessed with abundant crops, active business and some measure of prosperity in every home.

The cloud over Europe is casting no shadow over our prosperity. We're hoping for improvement over there but we're not waiting for it.

The American is adaptable. He is getting ahead because he has faith in himself and faith in his fellows. He "pulls altogether." And that is a big factor in prosperity, collectively and individually.

During 1924 let's "pull altogether." You'll find this bank always ready to pull with you, backing up its wish of a happy, prosperous New Year for you.

Team of Watkins and Buckingham Shoot Up Neighborhood, Scaring All Game Away

The Post's Pleasant Hill correspondent is authority for the following tale of mighty deeds by two Newark gunners one day recently. We tell the story as it has been told us:

"On last Saturday afternoon Bob Watkins, the hustling agent for the Grand Union Tea Company, and Raymond Buckingham, an employee of Uncle Sam, both residents of Newark, journeyed to Pleasant Hill, where they indulged in an exciting afternoon's gunning, the extent of their labors consisting of two cock sparrows for 'Bob,' one of which was frightened to death by being shot at so often, while 'Buck' bagged one rabbit, said to be blind on the side where it was shot. Not a bad afternoon for two crack shots, do you think?"

TESTED RECIPES

SPANISH MACARONI

1 cup cooked macaroni
1 cup grated cheese
2 onions
1/2 cup butter
1 qt. tomatoes
2 red peppers
Make a sauce by frying onions chopped fine in one-half cup butter. Add a quart of tomatoes and the pulp of 2 red peppers. Simmer until reduced to half. Butter a baking dish, put in a layer of the sauce, then a layer of macaroni and grated cheese, and so on until the dish is filled. Bake over one-half hour.

GINGERBREAD

1 cup sour milk
2 3/4 cups bread flour
1/4 cup shortening
1 egg
1 teaspoon soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 1/2 teaspoon baking powder
3/4 cup sugar
1 cup molasses
1 teaspoon ginger
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
Mix and sift the dry ingredients. Mix the molasses with the milk and slightly beaten egg. Add the liquid to the dry ingredients, then add the melted shortening. Bake in a large, shallow pan 35 to 40 minutes in a moderate oven (375 deg.). If sweet milk is used, leave out the soda and use 5/2 teaspoons baking powder.

COCOA BREAD

1 cake compressed yeast
2 cups milk, scalded and cooled
1 tablespoon sugar
5 1/2 cups sifted flour
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup cocoa
1/4 cup butter
1/2 tablespoon salt
Dissolve yeast and one tablespoon sugar in lukewarm milk; add 3 cups of flour and beat until smooth. Cover and set aside to rise in a warm place until light—about one-half hour. Add sugar and butter creamed, eggs well beaten, cocoa, remainder of flour, or enough to make a soft dough, and salt. Knead lightly; place in a greased bowl. Cover and let rise in a warm place until double in bulk—about two hours. Mould into loaves; place in well greased bread pans, filling them half full. Cover and let rise again until light—about one hour. Bake 40 to 45 minutes. The oven should be hot first, and then moderate.

MEAT PIE

1 large bunch of celery
1 large onion
1 pint water or meat broth
3/4 pound cooked meat cut up
1 cup strained tomatoes
1 teaspoon salt and pepper
6 tablespoons flour mixed with 1/2 cup water for thickening.
Cook the celery and onion in the water or broth, add the meat, tomato juice, salt and pepper, then the thickening slowly and boil five minutes.

HOW MANY LICENSE PLATES TO CARRY?

Maryland and D. C. Sign Temporary Truce

Ever since Maryland has had a good road program she and the District of Columbia have been at loggerheads over the question of reciprocity of license tags. Maryland contended that as she had hundreds of miles of good roads, while the District had few, she must collect a license from District motorists. The District authorities have a reciprocity law which recognizes those States which recognize the District of Columbia license. The result has been that for years all District of Columbia motorists carried both District of Columbia and Maryland tags, and all Maryland drivers who wanted to come into Washington carried District of Columbia tags. Now a temporary truce has been

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Grace E. Widdoes, who died January 1, 1923. These are the things death cannot take away:
The voice of welcome which was ours to know;
Though now those cheeks where roses used to blow
And those pure lips where smiles were wont to play,
Bright realms as lovely as the skies of May,
Lie as a garden blanketed with snow.
Until the day we, too, must turn to go,
Unchanged and constant shall her beauty stay.
Nor age nor tears nor pain nor cruel care
Can harm her now or enter Memory's hall,
She that we loved, so beautiful and fair,
Shall come to us still radiant, when we call.
From all life's dangers now secure is she,
Lovely she was, and lovely she shall be.
Sadly missed by father, mother and brother.
Mrs. Frank Widdoes, Newark.

Pour this mixture hot into a casserole, cover with a crust made from the following directions:

3/4 cup milk
2 1/4 cups bread flour or 2 1/2 cups pastry flour
6 tablespoons shortening
4 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
3/4 teaspoon salt
Mix and sift the dry ingredients, cut in the fat thoroughly with a biscuit cutter, then add the milk slowly. Pat the dough out on a floured board. Make the crust about one inch deep. Place this on top of the mixture in the baking dish. The dish should be deep enough so that the liquid will not boil over the sides. Bake in a hot oven 20 minutes.

declared, Governor Ritchie having agreed that for the first two months of 1924, District of Columbia tags will be recognized in Maryland, while the District of Columbia authorities will recognize Maryland tags. The Commissioners of the District are pledged to attempt to secure from Congress a gasoline tax law in lieu of license fee, which will, with Maryland having the same law, tax all alike; that is, the Maryland man in Washington will pay the tax in Washington on what gas he buys and District of Columbia motorists touring in Maryland will pay the tax to Maryland.

Thus one more obstacle is removed from the passage, of the universal license law, a thing as inevitable, in the long run as the building by the government of the national highways on which motorists can travel through all the States from end to end, north and south, east and west. Every motorist in Maryland who ever entered the District, and all Washington motorists devoutly hope that Congress will make it possible for the "armistice" to be a "permanent peace!"

A Home Builders' Page, devoted to the Interests of the Trade which is making Newark a bigger and better town

LOCAL FACTORIES AND BUILDERS BUSY

Newark shared with the rest of the State in naming 1923 one of the best business years in the decade.

The three big industries here, the Continental and National Vulcanized Fibre Companies, and the Curtis Paper Mill, have been going at high speed the entire twelve months. The Continental Mill in particular has enjoyed a prosperous year. The building of a brand new office building, modern in every way, and the completion and fencing off of a spacious athletic field for the use of the employees are two of the progressive steps made during the year. The National Company plant here has also been on full time all year and the production here is said to have been the largest ever. Curtis and Brother, Inc., are always busy, but 1923 marked perhaps its biggest year.

Local contractors and builders have had no let-up all the year. The housing problem has been considerably eased by the erection of almost a score of new homes during 1923. Every section of town has its new house; Contractors Willis, Greer, Hutchison, Griffin and Whiteman have been busiest, and the other crafts have some on every job to help out. Robert Tweed and Sons, I. Newton Shaeffer, Daniel Stoll, William D. Dean, T. Ray Jacobs, have had a hand in most every new home in town this year.

The building material men also report busy years in their lines.

All in all, Newark has not only kept pace with the rest of the State in 1923, but from a casual survey of conditions has far exceeded any town of its size in rural Delaware in building and industrial activity.

1923 BANNER YEAR IN DELAWARE INDUSTRIES

The year 1923 was not only better industrially than the year previous, but it was the best one since 1920, when all things had their peak here. In practically all industries with the exception of shipbuilding, leather tanning and machinery, heads of corporations report a "satisfactory" year.

In textiles, hose and rubber, and plumbers' supplies, the year just closed was the best in the history of these plants, exceeding even war-time business. Banks had the best year, entered more depositors and made more money. Farmers who were conservative had a splendid year. Builders and architects had one of the best for several years. Retail merchants report business almost equal to that of 1920. There were 3000 more persons employed than in 1922.

The outlook for the coming year is even brighter. Many plants will make extensions or add night forces. In the building line, with approximately $4,000,000 worth of contracts to start with, the outlook is the brightest ever. All heads of corporations with few exceptions look forward to 1924 as bound to be better industrially than the year just ended.

Because their plant is unable to keep pace with present demands, the Joseph Bancroft & Sons Co., of Wilmington, have obtained a site in the south, where eventually they will erect a bleachery, if the present demand continues.

In the Long Run---
