ASK CLUBS TO FINANCE CAMP TRIPS FOR GIRLS

To Resume Seasonal Program At Camp Otonka

A. in consultation with other agencies.

The camp schedule lists dates for the Senior Group, including girls between 13 and 17 from June 29 to July 27; dates for the Junior Group of girls between 10 and 12 are from July 27 to August 24.

EXHIBIT HERE IS PART OF ART FETE

Town Group Holds Display Of Heraldry At Local Gallery

An exhibition of Heraldry and Old Samplers opened yesterday in the Memorial Library, University of Delaware, and will continue until May 7 as a feature of Newark's participation in the Delaware Festival of the Arts.

The project is being sponsored by the Town Committee headed by Mrs. Harry Clark Boden. Many of the exhibits have been provided by Newark residents, with others coming from Wilmington, New Castle, Middletown, Del. and Elkton, Md.

Heraldry is an ancient, technical art, points out Mrs. Boden. It has a definite system and is governed by laws, limitations and conventions. The form developed out of the usage of family or tribal marks for identification.

A five-year apprenticeship, usual for artists in heraldry and illumination, crowns art education in Dublin's Metropolitan School of Art for those choosing to specialize in this field.

The present exhibit is shown from the artistic standpoint only. Any historical or genealogical significance the arms on exhibit may display is not under consideration. The committee does not make any claim of authenticity for the arms shown. The exhibition will continue until May 7 daily during the usual gallery hours.

Town Committee includes Mrs. Cyrus L. Day, Mrs. Harry L. Bonham, Mrs. George Bull, Mrs. Robert Kase, Mrs. J. H. Lacher, Mrs. Carl B. Rankin, Mrs. Parker Thomas, Mrs. Gunnar Winekler, Mrs. Victor M. Patterson, assisted by Miss Harriet Baily, head of the Art Department, University of Delaware, and Chairman of the University's participation in the Art Festival.

SCHOOL TAX ISSUE APPROVED BY VOTERS

Work On New School Is Not Likely To Start For Six Months

Voters of the Newark Special School District turned out in force last Saturday to pass both measures on the school tax issues here by substantial majorities. Net result of the balloting is that the town will get its long-planned new elementary school building here, plus funds to enable the school board to meet maintenance and salary needs of the district.

Of the 537 votes cast on the first measure covering the $300,000 bond issue, a majority of 79 favored the proposal, 318 ballots being for and 239 against the issue. Voting was less heavy on the second measure proposing the raising of $18,000 for maintenance and salaries. The issue was carried by 105 votes, 292 favoring and 187 opposed, the school board announced.

Passage of the first referendum means that school board officials have been given the go-ahead signal on plans for the new elementary school building here.

Next step in the program will be the issuance of bonds, following which, when sufficient funds are raised, the responsibility for the project will be handed over to the Building Commission.

The latter group will select an architect, direct the drawing up of final plans, and supervise the erection of the structure.

Actual construction, said a school board official yesterday, is not likely to begin before six months due to the extensive planning and detailed preliminary work which must yet be completed.

Members of the Building Commission in 1942 were: W. Frank Wilson, Norris N. Wright, H. C. Boden, from Newark, and Jacob Spicher and W. R. MacIntyre, representing the State Board of Education. Also on the board is Dr. H. V. Holloway, superintendent of Public Instruction for Delaware.

WRITING CONTEST DEADLINE

Winners Will Be Announced Next Thursday

Winners in the Creative Writing Contest sponsored by the English Department of the University of Delaware will be announced on Thursday, May 9, at a special assembly in Mitchell Hall. The contest, which closed April 6, is the first of a series of annual ones planned by the department. Because of the exceptionally high calibre of the work submitted, the judges voted that in addition to the three prize-winners two honorable-mention awards should be made. The assembly program at which the winners will be revealed for the first time will also commemorate the National Festival of the Arts being held in May throughout the entire country. Judges of the contest were Mr. George Henry, Delaware school authority and prominent writer on educational subjects; Major Frederick P. W. McDowell, a former English instructor at the University of Delaware now preparing to resume his graduate studies at Harvard University; and Mrs. Thomas Rogers, a member of the University's English Department staff. Winning entries will be published in the university undergraduate magazine, The Cauldron, which will make its appearance in May after a war-enforced absence of several years.

May 12 Is Proclaimed Mother's Day By Truman

President Truman this week proclaimed Sunday, May 12, as "Mother's Day," and called for its nation-wide observance.

In another document, he proclaimed the week commencing July 21 as "National Farm Safety Week."

The Mother's Day proclamation said that it was especially appropriate this year to "express the debt of gratitude which each of us owes to his own mother and which we all owe to the mothers of America."

The other proclamation asserted that farm accidents not only rob the nation of thousands of lives each year but millions of dollars worth of food and other property.

Farm Tour Made By First Graders

All sections of the first grade visited the College Farm to climax their unit on farming.

This was a new experience for the children, and it gave them a chance to study small animals and their habits.

A guest (or a delivery boy, messenger, employee or neighbor) trips and falls on the walk leading to your door. Can you be held liable for resulting injuries?

Answer: The injured person can sue for damages—and may collect too! But for as little as $10 a year, you and your family can have the broad protection of Hartford "Damage Suit Insurance." It's a big, big package of protection. May we tell you all about it?

Voters of the Newark Special School District last Saturday approved two referenda proposals to raise $318,000 for local school construction and maintenance purposes by a goodly margin.

The fact that both issues were passed does not mean that they were unanimously approved by a long shot for no less than 238 taxpayers opposed the $300,000 building proposal with 187 voting against the proposal of $18,000 for maintenance and teacher increases.

Overwhelmed by very near 100 majority on both issues, the minority opposition nevertheless registered strong disapproval of the increased taxation measures. Personally we're glad that the way has been paved for increased housing, teacher and maintenance facilities which have been badly needed for the past several years.

We only hope now that the forces that pushed this accomplishment to achievement will not rest on their laurels but show the same intense interest in seeing that no further delay in putting the proposals into effect is forthcoming.

Notice that the Sunday Star made no comment this week on the lack of progress in the Charles Williams vs. Magistrate Rumer and Town Police-men case. Nor was there any account of this in the past week's Post due to the fact that the postponed hearing was held on Wednesday night.

Facts in the matter are that the defendant (or, in this case, the complainant) failed to show up for the hearing. His counsel, Attorney Wise, was on hand and moved that the proceedings be squashed.

Now that that's disposed of we wish to express our sorrow at the passing of faithful and likeable Fred Crocker, steward at the Newark Country Club for the past twelve years.

Apparently hale and hearty the day before, Fred was found dead in his room last Thursday afternoon after he had failed to make his regular appearance that day at the club.

Congenial and very popular with club members and visitors, Fred will be sadly missed by his host of friends and associates.

Born and reared in the "dark and bloody ground," where we lived for the first twenty-one years of our life, we've never been privileged to see the running of the Kentucky Derby, although we have visited historic Churchill Downs.

Imagine, then, our feelings when Sunday our son (attending Kentucky Military Institute near Louisville) phoned to say he was going to the Derby, Saturday.

Personally we're inclined to favor a nag called Rippey (owned by William Helis) although Willie duPont's Hampden should make his presence felt keenly if he repeats his Chesapeake Stake performance.

We've always contended that horses are more intelligent than humans for THEY don't bet on people. Jimmy Powers quotes one Bluegrass veterinarian as saying:

"I wish human beings had as much sense in raising children as they employ in raising horses. A man will give a horse perfect drinking water, a perfectly balanced diet, clean quarters, regular exercise and watch over him like a hawk even if he is a 20-year-old stallion—which is equivalent to a man in his 50's."

"Humans let their kids drink out of glasses in drugstores. We won't let a valuable horse drink out of any utensil that has not been thoroughly sterilized. Humans let their kids eat refined packaged foods, white bread, sugar candy that rots their teeth, hot dogs on rolls smeared with mustard."

"Humans let their kids ruin their eyes at movies or by reading late at night, or they let them dance and drink and keep irregular hours. A horse is assured of regularity, pleasant sleeping hours and proper rest. Humans do everything to ruin their bodies, avoiding natural foods, filling up on caffeine, nicotine, alcohol and drugs."

"Why, there isn't a horse in Kentucky that's neglected or abused. The average human neglects not only his children but himself as well."

Could be that we'd be better off to raise our children like horses... they already have appetites like them. Wonder if you forgot to file your State Income Tax return, too.

Thirty day warning—Delaware motor vehicle and chauffers licenses expire May 31st... no permanent licenses will be issued during May.

The United Press reports that possession of Erskine Caldwell's novel, "God's Little Acre," in St. Paul, is cause for arrest as the book has been banned there and tabbed as immoral, obscene and lewd.

The Chief of the Police Department's morals squad promptly obtained a copy and gave it to a patrolman to read... the city prosecutor then heard his review and banned the book.

McNeil James Gray, literary critic of the St. Paul Dispatch, said he didn't think banning the book would keep it from being read.

We quite agree with him in this... such publicity will only promote the sale of the novel. Anyone know where we can borrow a copy?

HEN NINE IN TILT WITH SWARTHMORE ON SATURDAY ON THE QUAKER DIAMOND

Delaware Steps Up Season's Pace With Two Triumphs Past Week; Defeat Washington 11-3; Rout Johns Hopkins By 11-4

After stepping up the season's pace with two straight victories the past week, the high-flying Blue Hen nine will invade the Swarthmore campus for a tilt with the Quaker batsmen this Saturday afternoon.

Giving undisputable evidence that they are developing into a power on the diamond, the Hens turned in two decisive victories last week, a 11-3 triumph over Washington College and a 11-4 win over Johns Hopkins University.

ALL-STARS FIZZLE IN 2 MATCHES PAST WEEK

Mason Keglars Hand All-Stars First Setback; Of The Season

As it must to all teams, defeat came to the arrogant All-Stars on the Newark alleys here last week when they were shoved from the forefront of local bowling ranks by a dark-horse Mason outfit.

Later, on Saturday evening, the badly shaken Stars fizzled out completely in a match with a tough outfit from Russell's Service Station in Wilmington. The Stars proved themselves merely a flash on the local bowling scene as they went down for their second straight defeat.

Before the Mason match, the overconfident Stars offered the under-dogs a 250 point handicap, but the Mason Keglars spurned the advantage and went on to outpoint the Stars by 57 pins in the three game match.

Top scorer for the Masons was Springer with 559 points, while Hill, Sheaffer and Gibbs all topped the 500 mark for the match. After dropping the first game, the Masons rolled back to take the next two from the bewildered and red-faced Stars by decisive scores.

In their second defeat at the hands of Russell's Service, the Stars lost every game except the last which they took by a bare 22 points. The spent Stars lost the match by 65 points.

Blue Hen Track Team Drops Meet With First Places out of 14 events, the University of Delaware track team dropped a dual meet to Johns Hopkins University last week, 69 to 37.

The Blue Hens made a clean sweep of all three places in the two-mile run, and also captured firsts in the pole vault, broad jump and the 220-yard low hurdles.

Jameson was high scorer for Johns Hopkins with a total of 15 points, while Jack Simmons of Delaware scored 12 by capturing the 120-yard high hurdles, the 220-yard low hurdles and finishing in a first place tie with Glenner of Johns Hopkins in the 440-yard dash.

The Hens also met Haverford on Frazer Field here yesterday afternoon; score was unavailable when the Post went to press.

Against the Jays last Saturday, the Hens piled up eleven runs on a barrage of 13 hits, while generously permitting the Medics to inch across four counters. Centerfielder Bill Shirk enjoyed one of baseball's biggest thrills when he rifled a home run with Hens roosting on every sack, putting the game in moth balls for Delaware.

Blue and Gold moundsmen, Mathewson and Doherty, were also in top form completely mesmerizing the Jay batsmen in every inning except the fifth and sixth when the latter collected two runs in each.

Against Washington last Tuesday, the Hens chalked up their first victory of the season, a brisk 11-3 triumph. The Hens opened the scoring with a four run rally in the second, Selby starting things off with a single and slipping to third on a safety by Shirk. Phil Doherty was hit by a pitched ball; Hart walked forcing Selby home, after which Gerald Doherty sliced out a single bringing in Selby, and Griffith climaxed the busy session with a safety scoring Hart and Doherty.

The Hens second big rally was in the fourth when they tabbed five more runs.

Mound duty for Delaware was shared by Doherty, Mathewson and Shirk who held the Shoremen scoreless until the eighth when the latter tagged their three runs.

NEWARK WILL MEET NORTH EAST IN START OF SUSKY LEAGUE PLAY THIS SUNDAY

Local Club Faces First Game In Susquehanna League; In Practice Games Recently Newark Trounces Kennett Sq. And Toughkennamon

Newark's community ball team will go into action for the first time officially this Sunday afternoon when it meets North East on the latter's field in the opening of the Susquehanna League competition.

Although team manager, Dick Roberts, declined to list his starting line-up, indications are that the newly formed local outfit will be out to make a strong bid for honors in the loop rivalry.

Newark, he claims, looks particularly good from the pitching angle, with a potent roster of experienced hurlers ready for the call. Among them are Paul Whiteman, Bill Butler, Phil Conway and Fuz McCormick.

If pre-season form counts for anything Newark should be a power, he reckoned with in the circuit competition. In two recent practice games the local outfit topped Toughkennamon 4-1 and later trounced Kennett Square 11-4.

Pre-season tilts are also scheduled for this week, the first starting at 7:30 tonight on the Continental Diamond, the second scheduled for Saturday afternoon with Elmhurst A. A. also on the local diamond.

First home game for the club will be Sunday, May 12, when Newark will meet Darlington on the Continental field.

The schedule of Newark's competitive games is as follows:

May 12-Darlington 26-Havre de Grace 30-Afternoon, Rising Sun

June 2-Aberdeen 9-North East 23-Elkton

July 4-Morning, Kennore A. C. 21-Darlington

Aug. 4-Havre de Grace 18-Rising Sun 25-Aberdeen

Sept. 1-Open for the playing of any postponed games 8-Begin PLAY-OFF Series between teams finishing 2nd, 3rd and 4th.

Girls' 5C Baseball Team Wins By Rout

The girls of Miss Mary Melvin's group of the local high school piled up a top-heavy score of 12-2 when they defeated Miss Jean Wilson's 5C girls in baseball on April 17.

The 5C boys were not quite as fortunate, as they dropped a victory to Miss Jean Wilson's boys with a score of 5-0.

Two more girls' games are scheduled when and if the weather permits.

The 5C section also gave a fine good posture and the other sections of the 5th grade were invited.

ART FETE HEAD TALKS AT ROTARY

Finklestein Describes Art Festival Scope

I. B. Finklestein, chairman of the Delaware Festival of the Arts, discussed the growth and expansion of the festival with emphasis on its value to the layman at the weekly meeting of the Newark Rotary Club, Monday evening, with President Sam Handloff presiding.

Mr. Finklestein, who has been chairman of the festival every year since its inception, was also its originator, having first proposed the idea for the project 12 years ago to the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce. He described the growth of the program from a purely city affair to a project of statewide interest.

Widening the scope of the festival was also touched upon by the speaker, who pointed out that the program now covers a broad phase of the arts, including music, dramatics, crafts and painting.

A serving committee for May was announced by President Handloff at the session as follows: Newman Rose, Holger Schaumann, Joseph Shields, Nelson Sieber and Russell Silk.

Vincent Mayer introduced the new 4-H Club agent for New Castle County, Mr. Fields, who gave a brief report on the prize cow the club donated to a 4-H contest held here several months ago.

Guest of the evening was F. A. Cain of Newark, who accompanied Ernie Haussmann. Next week the club's regular business session will be held.

3 ALARMS THIS WEEK

Aetna Called To Elkton Fire

Three alarms were handled by the Aetna Hose, Hook and Ladder Company the past week.

Largest fire came Saturday, when the local volunteers were called on to assist the Elkton Fire Company in fighting a $10,000 blaze there in which a grain storage building, four automobiles and three garages were destroyed.

Owner of the storage building was C. A. Allender.

First call was last Wednesday for a field fire at Pleasant Valley. No damage was reported.

Final alarm of the week came Monday morning when an automobile on the Barksdale Road caught fire. The operator had been driving with the emergency brake on.

Bible Presbyterians Expand Sunday School Facilities

The pastor of the Bible Presbyterian Church announced this week that the basement of the new church is almost completed. This is being done in order to take care of the expanding Sunday School. The walls have been lined with Celotex and the floors have been covered with a new Mastipave to overcome any dampness.

One Sunday School room has been completed and new partitions will be put in soon in order to have individual class rooms.

The Sunday School under the direction of Mr. H. Lloyd Yarnall will meet this week at 10 a. m. and study the lesson, "Learning Good Will From Jesus." The other services of the day will be morning worship at 11, evening worship at 7, and a Young People's Meeting at 8:30 p. m. The Young People will meet at the home of the Misses Betty, Anna Mae and Jane Foster.

witness the parade from a special reviewing stand area.

The all-day festival will begin at 9:30 a. m. (D. S. T.) when Middletown High School will open the band division program by its appearance on the Newark High School auditorium stage. The other 16 bands will follow at ten-minute intervals throughout the morning.

While the bands are at the high school, the choral groups will be performing in Mitchell Hall on the university campus.

Luncheon for the participants will be served in the Newark High School cafeteria beginning at 10:45 a. m.

These events were disclosed today by Mr. Loudis, head of the university's music department, who also announced that performances by each band will be criticized and evaluated by Mr. Werssen. Mr. Loudis also stated that Miss Leah Thorpe, of the Peabody Conservatory in Baltimore, Md., will be the adjudicator for the chorus division.

The Band and Chorus Festival is non-competitive, and the judges will not announce their criticisms but will send them to the respective directors later.

General arrangements for the entire festival have been made under the guidance of Frederick Kutz, chairman, and his committee consisting of Bernita Short, Mr. Loudis, Miss Fitzsimmons and Mr. Wilder, all of Newark.
