Summer Recreation Program Will Get Underway On Monday

Instructional And Recreational Swimming; Supervised Playgrounds To Open; Hours Listed By Fred Sposato, Program Director

A varied summer recreation program, including swimming classes, playground activities, hard and softball leagues, will open here on Monday, Fred Sposato, director, announced this week.

The duration of the program will depend on available finances, Mr. Sposato said, adding that the latter will be determined by the outcome of the current fund drive being conducted by the Newark Recreation Association.

NRA officials hope to raise enough to carry out at least a six-week program, Mr. Sposato explained, adding that, although tomorrow is the deadline for the drive, contributions will be accepted indefinitely.

Schedules for the swimming classes and playground programs also were outlined by Mr. Sposato. The former will be given by trained instructors at the University of Delaware women's pool.

The beginner' class, which in previous years has proved highly successful, will open Monday, June 18, with sessions every Monday, Wednesday and Friday, the boys meeting from 10 to 11 a.m. and the girls from 11 to 12 noon.

To enter the class, a youngster must be at least six years old and 40 inches in height, Mr. Sposato said.

The intermediate and advanced swimming classes will meet Tuesday and Thursdays, the boys from 10 to 11 a.m. and the girls from 11 to 12 noon. The Life Saving course for both boys and girls will gather on Tuesdays from 1 to 2 p.m.

Recreational swimming will be offered every afternoon.

Instructors will be Joan Leahy, U. of D swimming star, and Henry Correll, current Newark High graduate and former counsellor at Camp Barnes.

July 27 is the tentative date for the closing of the swimming program.

Three playgrounds will launch programs on Monday, Mr. Sposato said. The locations are the high school athletic field, the legion home in Read Village and the New London Avenue school grounds. Hours for the last two will be from 10 a.m. to 12 noon and from 2 to 4 p.m. The high school area will be open only in the mornings from 10 a.m. to 12 noon. No afternoon session will be held there to avoid conflict with the recreational swimming sessions at the nearby women's pool.

As last year, a wading pool will be available to younger children at the Read Village playground. Hours for this will be 2 to 4 p.m. daily.

Ted Davis, Duke University freshman, will direct the morning playground at the high school. Janet Barnett, high school student, will be in charge at Read Village. The New London supervisor has not yet been named, Mr. Sposato said.

The playground activities are scheduled to close on August 3.

Also a part of the summer program will be a softball league for young adults and a hardball league for youths between 12 and 15 years. Both circuits will play on the high school field.

Competition is already underway in the hardball league, with games Tuesdays and Thursdays at 6:30 p.m.

The softball league will open competition Monday with double headers every Monday and Wednesday, starting at 6:45 p.m.

High School Careers End For 79 Seniors At NHS Exercises

'Live As Well As You Know', Dr. Perkins Advises Graduates; Two $300 Scholarships Awarded By Principal Kutz; Diplomas Presented by McVey

"Knowing is not enough—we must be able to use and live what we know," Dr. John A. Perkins, president of the University of Delaware, told graduates of the Newark High School at commencement exercises on Tuesday night.

A class of 79 seniors, plus two ex-servicemen, received diplomas from Josph McVey, president of the school board, at the 58th annual exercises.

One can know all the rules and not be a good player, Dr. Perkins told the graduates. "You can understand economics and be a poor businessman. You can know all about government, but he a poor citizen. The essence of what I suggest to you is, 'Live as well as you know'."

He admonished the seniors to take their citizenship responsibilities seriously and urged them to "live intensely in the here and now," making the most of each day. Prepare for the future, he said, but do not live in it. Each day is a commencement to be faced with the same enthusiasm as one's graduation, he pointed out. If this is done, he concluded the future will take care of itself.

The seniors also heard a talk by Dr. Allan P. Colburn, university provost. The student address was by John Speicher, president of the graduating class. Wilmer E. Shue, superintendent of schools, formally presented the class. The senior solo was offered by Joanne Barczewski. The invocation was by the Rev. Dr. John J. Bating, Jr., minister of the Newark Methodist Church, and the benediction was given by the Rev. Leo W. McNeil, pastor of St. John's R.C. Church. A number of selections were offered by the Senior Choir and the school orchestra, the latter under the direction of Ernest Wilder.

Highway Official Advises 1-Way Traffic Here Before Opening New Thru Streets

The question of one-way traffic for central thoroughfares here was revived at a recent Town Council meeting by Councilman William Coverdale.

He challenged an article that appeared in the Newark Post on May 10, giving an account of a talk by Richard Haber, state highway department engineer, at a meeting here on local traffic problems.

Mr. Coverdale questioned a paragraph in the article which said that Mr. Habar "would advise against instituting the one-way street system for Main and Delaware Avenues until the extensions of Cleveland and Delaware Avenues is completed."

Mr. Coverdale displayed a letter he had received in answer to a query he had sent Mr. Habar. The latter indicated the highway official favors establishing one-way traffic here at once rather than waiting until new through streets are opened.

His letter to Mr. Coverdale said in part: "In answer to your particular question, it is our feeling that the new streets should be opened and also that your existing streets should be designated as one-way thoroughfares. The immediate designation of one-way streets would help to alleviate your traffic problems; however, no permanent solution can be affected until the new streets in question have been opened."

Later in a conversation with the Post, Mr. Habar said he felt one-way traffic would help ease Newark's congestion, but he stressed it would not be a final solution. He denied he had advised waiting until new streets are opened here before setting up one-way traffic on central thoroughfares.

Charter Referendum Is Set For July 10; Registration On June 28

Time For Both Is 7:30 A.M. to 7 P.M. In Council's New Quarters In Academy Building; All Unregistered Voters Must Enroll For Special Election

A referendum on Newark's proposed new charter will be held July 10.

This will be preceded by a special registration on June 28.

Both will be held in the Town Council's new quarters in the Academy Building from 7:30 a.m. to 7 p.m.

The dates were fixed at a special Council meeting on Tuesday night.

If the Academy Building, which is now being renovated for use as a town hall, is not ready for occupancy in time for either the registration or the referendum, both events probably will be held in the firehouse, according to the Council.

The proposed charter, which contains provisions for expanding the town boundaries nearly a mile in all directions, will be put to a vote of both the electors within the present limits and those in the areas to be annexed, according to regulations outlined Tuesday night by John P. Sinclair, town solicitor.

A majority of those voting in both groups will be required for approval of the charter, he said. He stressed that the fate of the entire charter and not merely the proposed boundaries will hinge on the outcome of the referendum. The comparatively few voters in the areas to be annexed can play a decisive part in the voting, since a majority of them can either approve or kill the charter.

All citizens within the present boundaries who were eligible to vote in the 1951 town election last April are automatically qualified to vote in the coming referendum, Mr. Sinclair said.

The special registration day is for unregistered voters within the present boundaries, including those enrolled for the first time after last April's election, and for all citizens living within the areas to be annexed. All such unregistered citizens who have resided in the state for one year and within the present town limits or within the proposed limits for three months, may register June 28 and thus become eligible to vote in the referendum.

Formal notices of the registration and referendum will be posted in 10 places. Both events will also be advertised in the Post.

A map of the town, showing in detail the proposed new boundaries, will be put on display soon at the Council Offices in order that citizens residing near the dividing lines may determine whether they are eligible to join in the election.

The Council also has ordered the printing of 1,000 copies of the proposed new charter for public distribution.

Tuesday night's special meeting, which was scheduled to be held in the Academy building, was switched to the old Academy Street offices, when it was learned that the new quarters were not yet ready for occupancy.

The story of a faith that paid off

YOU KNOW IT'S TRUE BECAUSE IT'S HAPPENED TO YOU AND YOUR FRIENDS AND NEIGHBORS

PROBABLY YOU'VE never thought of yourself as a maker of history. But you are. And here is how you, as a citizen of the United States, are creating the greatest success in all history.

Remember back in 1941 when the Defense Bonds you were buying suddenly had to become War Bonds? How you and your neighbors pitched in to buy them in ever-increasing numbers, to back our fighting men and to help achieve the victory of World War II? After V-J Day, when those bonds became Savings Bonds, you continued to buy them because you had learned how regular saving could build security and contentment for yourself and those you love.

The face of the land has undergone some dramatic changes in those years since V-J Day. Now the landscape is dotted with new homes that Savings Bonds built. Thousands upon thousands of new automobiles travel the highways—Savings Bonds cars, bought with the product of individual thrift. On the farms, Bond-purchased equipment has helped produce bumper crops and prosperous years. Everywhere in America, man's urge to get into business for himself has become a bright reality. So has the ambition of loving parents to send their children through college. Time and time again, Savings Bonds have made those dreams and many others come true.

You KNOW they've come true, because it's happened to you or to some of your own friends.

And this is only the beginning of the story. Even after accomplishing so much, millions of American families still enjoy the financial security of owning more than fifty billion dollars—fifty thousand million dollars in Savings Bonds. More than at the peak of war-time Bond holdings!

How much money is that? It's enough to build a new $10,000 mortgage-free home for every family in San Francisco—and Sacramento—and Salt Lake City—and Denver—and Kansas City—and St. Louis—and Indianapolis—and Cincinnati—and Pittsburgh—and New York City—and the whole state of Texas!

And every week, everywhere in America, new millions of dollars are added to the total—as crisp new Savings Bonds are typed up with your name on them.

Kind of a king-size success story, isn't it? Your success story because you and the millions of your neighbors are living it right now. Your own faith in America—your own desire for the warmth of family security and independence—have made the story of United States Savings Bonds the thrift miracle of all time.

For your security, and your country's too, save now - through regular purchase of U.S. Savings Bonds

Kirkwood Highway

Fourteen accidents in ten months—that is the record for the short stretch of road on Kirkwood Highway, opposite White Clay Cemetery. This section becomes very slippery when wet. On Monday evening, June 4th, a car went out of control spun around two or three times and collided with Willard Johnston's car. Mr. Johnston, who resides on Possum Park Road, had pulled off to the side of the road, hoping to avoid being hit. Mrs. Johnston suffered a cut on the head and also injured her shoulder.

The State Highway Department has been notified of the hazardous condition of the road on other occasions. Residents of this area are beginning to wonder if someone will have to pay with his life before anything is done about it!

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Reynolds of Media, Pa., visited Mrs. Reynold's sister, Mrs. Nathaniel Richards, of old Capitol Trail, last Sunday.

Sympathy is extended to Mrs. Howard Bradley, of old Capitol Trail, in the loss of her father, Mr. H. L. Hollingsworth. The funeral was held on Friday, June 8th, at the Yeatman Funeral Home, Wilmington, with Rev. James H. Bishop of White Clay Creek Presbyterian Church officiating. Interment was in Mt. Salem Cemetery.

Besides his daughter, Mrs. Bradley, Mr. Hollingsworth is survived by two sons, H. Warner Hollingsworth, Ferris Road, and C. Wilbur Hollingsworth, R.D. 3, Newark.

Vacation Church School

The teaching staff of the Vacation School to be held at church during the last two weeks in July, met last Thursday to make plans for the first Vacation School to be held at White Clay Church. The school will be open to all children of the community from kindergarten through sixth grade.

Friends and relatives of Anson G. Gregg, of Old Wilmington Road, were shocked to hear of his sudden death last Thursday at his home. He was stricken with a heart attack and died just prior to the noon hour. He had been a mushroom grower for a number of years. The Rev. George T. Jamieson, pastor of the Red Clay Creek Presbyterin Church, of which he was a member, officiated at the funeral services Sunday afternoon. Interment was in the Hockessin Friends Burying Ground. Friendship Lodge No. 22 and Rural Encampment, I.O.O.F., held a memorial service Saturday night at the home. He was a past officer in both lodges. Mr. Gregg was the son of the late William and Sally Garrett Gregg, and had lived his entire life in the Hockessin area. He celebrated his 50th birthday last month. Surviving him are his wife, Mrs. Sylvia Chandler Gregg, two sons, Donald, and Norman, a daughter, Barbara Ann Gregg.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Mitchell of Woodside Farms, celebrated their 15th wedding anniversary June 6 with a dinner given in their honor by Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Leeds in Philadelphia.

Mrs. R. B. Walker and Mrs. Granville Eastburn represented the Waverly Club at the state federation meeting last week at Selbyville.

An original television show was staged by the male members of Union Grange No. 1 last Wednesday night for their competitive program. Richard La Fontain had charge. Vernon Connell opened the show with local news. A group of men sang, "Pa Read the Paper" was given by Melvin Dempsey as "Pa" and Gene Dempsey as "Ma." The Rev. Edwin Horney and Robert Woodworth illustrated the song "Let Me Call You Sweetheart." Raymond Davis served as master of ceremonies. There was a wrestling match and other musical selections. The actors watching the show were Clarence Dempsey and Harry Wirt, the latter wore female attire. Others participating were Clarence Little, Joseph DeStafney, Theodore Dempsey, Doniel Harris, Louis Dempsey, and A. T. Buckingham.

The judges declared the men as the winners so the ladies will have to provide a supper as the losing group. Mr. and Mrs. Edward Williams of Pencader Grange, Mr. and Mrs. J. Walker Pennington and W. Steel Atwell, of Harmony Grange, were the judges. The ladies of the grange received corsages and the lady judges bouquets of roses.

As a surprise to Vernon Connell, the overseer, and his bride, Miss Elizabeth Phelps, a variety shower was given them by the members. The Connell-Phelps wedding took place last Saturday in West Grove, Pa. They will live at Pleasant Hill.

The grange will hold its annual strawberry festival Saturday evening at the hall. There will be ice cream, cake, candy, strawberries, and novelties on sale.

Safety Hints

Appalled by the recent upsurge of people being killed and injured on our highways, Mr. John D. Reeder, president of the Delaware Safety Council, has urgently requested that every citizen of Delaware join in the campaign for greater highway safety. He stressed a redoubling of everyone's efforts to make our highways safer and to stop this fearful slaughter during 1951 or face another year of hits and errors on our highways. "Delaware," he said, "cannot afford to continue this tragic loss of life."

"Safety on our highways," Mr. Reeder pointed out, "is everybody's business—adults, the teens and 20s, and children, too." To the teens and 20s, he suggested that they not think fun and excitement as the only things in life and that safe driving and safe living are only for old foggies and sissies. He urged them to put the brakes on the "whee for me" urge and they will get more out of life in the long run. To everybody, Mr. Reeder urged some sharper, deeper thinking. He said, "We are all fellow human beings, living together in one small explosive world. We had better learn to get along together better than ever for the good of all of us and, remember, we can be blasted by accidents as well as atoms unless we adhere to all the courtesies of the road."

SYMPATHY? — no,

he wants cash!

If the accident is your fault, what a relief it will be to have Hartford Automobile Insurance. The Hartford will provide lawyers to protect your interests, and pay all claims (up to your policy limits) if you lose the resulting damage suit.

Better get this policy before you drive another mile; after an accident is too late.

HOW TO BE A "GOOD SPORT"
on Party-Line Telephones

1. When you start to make a call and find the line in use, hang up gently and give the other person a few minutes to finish his call.

2. When, while talking, you realize that your neighbor is waiting to make a call, hang up in a few minutes and free the line.

The wonderful thing about these little courtesies is that they're returned . . . with dividends for all in good telephone service. When party-line neighbors are "good sports" on the telephone, everybody benefits!

Queries On Social Security Answered

Address all Queries to Social Security Administration, Customs House, 6th & King Sts., Wilmington, Delaware.

Q. When should application for Old-Age and Survivors Insurance be made?

A. Application should be made promptly when the worker reaches age 65 or after his death Benefits do not pile up Part of the payments may be lost by delay in filing. Remember, benefits are never paid automatically. They must be applied for.

I have two social security numbers. What shall I do?

A. Visit your nearest field office of the Social Security Administration as soon as possible so that one number may be canceled and all your wages credited to the other number. Otherwise you may experience considerable delay and difficulty in collecting either unemployment compensation or old-age insurance benefits.

Q. I am an honorably discharged veteran of World War II. If I should die, would my family receive social security benefits?

A. Under certain conditions, the Social Security Act now covers veterans of World War II who die within three years of discharge regardless of whether they were formerly covered under the Socal Security Act. The survivors should call at a Social Security field office for information concerning their eligibility to benefits.

Q. I will be 65 in November 1949. I have no birth or baptismal certificate. I have other documents in my possession which show my age. Will these be acceptable?

A. Such documents as hospital records, naturalization records, passports, school records, insurance policies, etc., may be accepted by the Social Security Administration as proof of age depending upon when the document was first issued and if it clearly shows your age. At the time you file your application for benefits, bring these documents with you so that the social security office may have an opportunity to examine them.

Q. I am a widow receiving a veteran's pension. If I get a job covered by social security can I still get my widow's veteran's pension?

A. You should inquire at the office where you filed your claim for the widow's pension as to what effect your employment will have on your right to receive the pension.

Q. If a wage earner dies and lacks a "quarter of coverage" to be "fully insured" for benefits, does the Social Security Administration refund the Social Security Fund?

A. There is no provision in the social security law which permits a refund of contributions to the survivors of a wage earner who dies not "fully insured." If the wage earner was paid at least $50 in each of at least six calendar quarters during the last three years of his life, he may be what is called "currently insured" and certain benefits may be payable in that case. Get in touch with your social security office for more details.

Q. Can a woman over 65, who retires from employment receive Old-Age Insurance benefits for her dependent mother over 65 as well as for herself?

A. The Social Security Act does not provide for old-age insurance payments to dependent parents of living wage earners. Payments can be made only to a wage earner age 65, his wife age 65 or over and his unmarried children under 18. However, in case of death of the wage earner, it is possible under certain circumstances, to pay monthly benefits to the dependent parents over 65 of the deceased wage earner.

Q. I have been working under social security for the past seven years. I have just taken a position with the Federal Government which is not covered by social security. Is there any way that I can continue payments into the Social Security Fund until I become fully insured?

A. No. Under the present law there is no provision for voluntary contributions to the Social Security Fund. However, if in the future, you return to a job covered by social security, the wages you then earn will be credited to your same account and will continue to build up your record towards a fully insured status.

Q. If a person who is receiving social security benefits dies, what becomes of his social security payments? Does his wife who survives him collect said payment in addition to her half?

A. In the situation above, the widow would not collect the deceased's payments in addition to her half. Her benefit would increase from one-half of the amount the deceased was receiving to three-quarters of that amount.

Safety Hints

"How fast is fast?"

This question, according to John D. Reeder, President of the Delaware Safety Council, probably arouses more widely divergent opinion among drivers than any other traffic safety topic.

"When such a marked difference of opinion exists," Mr. Reeder said, "it is obvious why so many traffic accidents each year involve a speed violation."

A dangerous number of motorists, he said, feel that "too fast" is some sort of definite speed above which the laws of physics determine that a driver cannot be depended upon to have complete control of his car.

"Actually," Mr. Reeder said, "'too fast' may be any speed from 10 miles an hour to 100 miles an hour. We can't just arbitrarily say that 80, 70, 60 or 50 miles an hour is 'too fast' and let it go at that. There are times and places, for instance, when 90 miles an hour may not be an excessive speed at all—a supervised race course, for example. Even more often than this, however, there are times and places when 20 miles an hour may be—literally—fatal!"

Mr .Reeder's interpretation of the problem was based on the theory that weather, road surfaces, mechanical factors and the driver's physical and mental condition are the real determining factors in the problem of what is a safe speed and what speed is dangerous .

"Posted speed limits," he said, "give only the top speed at which enforcement and engineering officials feel travel is safe under ideal weather, physical and mechanical conditions. Anything less than that calls for a proportionate reduction of speed."

Mr. Reeder's discussion of speed coincided with the Delaware Safety Council's announcement of its June program of traffic safety education, which has as its slogan: "Speed Kills—Take It Easy!" The program is being sponsored in cooperation with the National Safety Council.

"Year in and year out," Mr. Reeder said, "about 9,000 tragic accidents in which at least one person is killed involve a speed violation of some sort. This is the price that drivers can expect to pay if they forget, or ignore, the fact that dangerous speed is any speed—when weather or other conditions are such as to cancel out an appreciable part of the driver's skill."

Contest For Young Vegetable Growers

Farm Youth Can Aid Defense Effort

Delaware Farm youths were told today they can make a direct contribution to the nation's defense program by taking part in this year's production-marketing contest of the National Junior Vegetable Growers Association.

"Secretary of Agriculture Brannan has called for greatly increased vegetable gardening," said Robert F. Stevens, extension horticulturist, University of Delaware, "and I feel this contest, teaching more efficient methods of growing and selling vegetables, will be very helpful in building up adequate reserves of food suppplies for emergencies."

"With per capita vegetable consumption now more than 10 percent above prewar levels, and our population steadily increasing, it's easy to see the value of such a program," he said.

Stevens, who serves as the association's state chairman, said all Delaware farm youths from 12 through 21 are eligible to compete in this contest.

Any young gardener may enroll in the NJVGA's production-marketing contest by contacting 4-H Club leaders, county agents, instructors in vocational agriculture or numerous other farm youth leaders who are cooperating with the association in enrolling members. Youths also may join by writin directly to Stevens at the University of Delaware, Newark. Stevens also explained that Delaware youths taking part in the state's Junior Tomato Club project may be able to use their tomato gardens for this contest.

New Ruling By VA On GI Bill Training

Veterans who interrupted GI Bill studies at any time in the past, and later were called back to military service, will be permitted to continue training after discharge even though they get out after the July 25 cut-off date for starting training. Veterans Administration said today in answer to a number of queries.

A veteran need not necessarily have interrupted his GI Bill course specifically for the purpose of going back into uniform, in order to be entitled to post-cut-off-date training. V-A explained.

In all cases, however, conduct and progress must have been satisfactory, for further training to be authorized after military training.

And in all cases, too, training after the deadline date must be resumed within a reasonable period of time after the veteran returns once again to civilian life and must be completed by July 25, 1956.

Delawareans Are Often Sick Away From Home

Delaware members of Blue Cross are Hospitalized away from home more frequently than members from any other state, it was revealed recently in a report by the Blue Cross Commission of the American Hospital Association.

The report, received here by Group Hospital Service, Inc., tabulates the number of cases of Blue Cross members in one city or state hospitalized under the Blue Cross plan in effect in another city or state.

The reason that Delawareans made more use, proportionately, of these out-of-state benefits is that Delawareans, on the average, travel more than people from other states, according to Robert C. Denzler, assistant managing director, who added that the figures do not indicate that Delawareans get sick more frequently than residents of other states while away from home.

The figures reported to the local Blue Cross show that in the first quarter of this year, 759 Delaware members were hospitalized away from home and received 5,620.5 days of care. Group Hospital Service paid a total of $64,987.16 toward that hospital bills of the members hospitalized in the 759 cases.

Delaware's number of cases is exceeded, among the 75 other Blue Cross organizations, only by those in cities or states having a far greater population. Thus, Cleveland had 887 cases, St. Paul, 947 and Philadelphia only 1,073. The largest number was in the New York City plan, which had 3,038 away-from-home cases.

New Weed Curb Eases Asparagus Cultivation

A new weed-control technique cuts hand-labor in seeded asparagus to as much as one-fourth of what it used to be.

E. M. Rahn, associate horticulturist at the Delaware Agricultural Experiment Station, worked out the new method in 1950 on a 12-acre field at Bridgeville. This spring growers used this method on over 100 acres of seeded asparagus.

The asparagus acreage in Delaware is increasing, said Rahn, and there is more demand for asparagus crowns. In the past most growers did not grow their own crowns from seed because of the serious weed control problem.

The method consists of spraying an oil-water emulsion containing pentachlorophenol at 75 gallons per acre just before asparagus emergence. Weeds come up before the asparagus and are killed. It is important, said Rahn, not to cultivate after seeding, until about four weeks after the weed-killer is applied. Otherwise fresh seeds would be brought to the surface and these would quickly germinate.

FILLIN' IN

We made our will one day last week, bade farewell to friends and relatives, canceled all plans for the future and plunged into a Newark barber shop to wait our turn.

After passing around a sheet of foolscap on which we required every person ahead of us to place his signature, we ordered the barber to witness the document as a guarantee of our place in line. Next we singled out the person with the latest issue of Life magazine and watched him like a hawk until he tossed the copy aside. We pounced on it but were stricken to our knees by a blow from the cane of a spry little old man, who told us he had been promised the magazine next.

We retired to a seat in a corner beside a man who was writing industriously in a notebook. He was completely bald. He told us he was using the time he waited in barber shops to write a novel.

We pointed questioningly to his head and he chuckled and explained that he had started his book about 40 haircuts ago and had gone bald in the meantime. He said he kept on coming to the barber shop because that was the only excuse he had for killing time and, after all, he only had one more chapter to go.

At that moment the barber said, "Next!" and the author jumped to his feet, said, "That's me. Guess I'll need another non-haircut to finish," and left the shop.

Another man, whom everyone referred to respectfully as "Professor" seated himself in the barber chair. It developed he had used his years of barber shop waiting to make a study of match book covers and had become a world authority in this field. While the barber worked on him, he gave an informal lecture on his specialty, quoting the full text of the first match book cover ever printed and tracing the history of the covers for the past two decades.

Inspired by this example of amateur scholarship, we took to browsing through the fine print on our tobacco can, picturing ourself as a future expert in this field or knowledge.

We just aren't the studious type, however, and soon gave up in favor of brooding over the barber shop situation in Newark. As we see it, there are just too many men growing too much hair for the barbers to keep up with. They mow and reap but the harvest is never in. The waiting line never diminishes.

We have, after intensive study, worked out the following solutions:

(a) Organization of Newark Ape-Man Fraternity open to those who refuse to spend their days off lolling in crowded barber shops. All members would be required to have shoulder-length hair and a fierce, unbowed attitude toward the frowns of the general public.

(b) Stepped up research in methods for increasing baldness in the male population. In this connection, the experience of a friend of ours might serve as a guide and inspiration. He waited for an hour recently for his turn to come up in a barber shop, only to have his placed snatched by a skinny fellow with a hearing aid. An argument followed, and the barber, who always is the supreme judge in these matters, took the easiest course and decided in favor of the half deaf runt. Our friend flew into a passion, stamped his foot, and tore out his hair. Then he brightened suddenly when he realized he accidentally had solved his problem. Hasn't needed a haircut since and claims he never flew into a more profitable rage.

(c) A system of barber appointments similar to that used by doctors, dentists and female beauty parlors. The only trouble with this is that if our barber gets as far behind as our dentist—but let's no go into that now.

Here's a nugget culled for last week's column and passed along to us by a number of gleeful readers. In paragraph five we say 'They (the Town Councilmen) had to learn to talk bigger before they could think bigger." In paragraph nine we say, "This ability to talk big is merely a reflection of the fact that the Councilmen have learned to think bigger."

One critic advised us to do a little thinking before we write.

DELAWARE PARK NEWS

Both Count Turf the Kentucky Derby winner, and Bold, the Preakness hero, are nominated for Delaware Park's Kent Stakes of June 23 and Leonard Richards Stakes of July 4. Which means that the Stanton track might come up with what is regarded as a turf "natural." Since the pair May clash in the mile and a half Belmont Stakes of June 16, it would seem likely that the best chance for a Delaware meeting of the two classic winners would be in the Richards which, like the Kent, is a $25,000 added event. The Richards is at a mile and a furlong, while the Kent is at a mile and a sixteenth. Should either Bold or Count Turf capture the Belmont, or even if some other colt wins that fixture, it is conceivable that the victors in all three of the Triple Crown races will come together at Delaware. Incidentally, all eight starters in the Preakness are eligible for either the Kent or Richards, or both. The same applies to nine Derby starters. Of the Preakness field, five are in both the Kent and Richards, namely: Bold, Counterpoint ,Hall of Fame, Big Stretch and Knowitall. Alerted, Timely Reward and Repertoire are Kent nominees. Other stars which did not go postward in the Derby or Preakness for various reasons, may be seen in Delaware's stakes.

For the protection of jockeys and exercise riders, Delaware Park's two outriders, Eddie Benham and Louis Torryenson, patrol the track's main mile oval during morning training hours. Also during the same period, Vernon Wisner is on duty at the five-eighths mile training track.

—o—

The 10-year-old Adaptable, one of the best stretch runners of the jumping ranks, has been primed for another brush campaign which includes engagements in two of Delaware Park's outstanding steeplechase stakes—the Georgetown, at about two miles, and the Indian River, at about two and a half miles. Although a good stakes winner ,the Happy Hill Farm's veteran has yet to win one at Delaware Park.

—o—

Hal Price Headley, noted owner-breeder from Lexington, Ky., has a powerful pair named for Delaware Park's $50,000 added New Castle Handicap, mille and a quarter stake for fillies and mares to be decided June 30. The four-year-old Aegina and the year-older Lithe are the ones relied upon to give Hadley his first victory in the richest fixture on Delaware's 1951 program.

Canned Goods Need Good Storage Place

Now is the time to arrange a good storage place for the food you will can this spring and summer. Here are tips from Miss M. Katharine Jones, New Castle County Home Demonstration Agent, for storing food canned in glass jars.

Arrange for a cool, dark, dry storage place. Dampness makes metal lids rust. Heat and light destroy flavor and vitamins. Some foods lose color as well. Keep canned food away from hot pipes, radiators or the furnace. The cooler the storage place, the better, as long as foods do not freeze.

Junior Legion Nine Wins Two Straight

5-Team League Opens; Game Here Monday

The Newark Junior Legion baseball nine won its first two games in the opening of the 5-team county legion league the past week, downing Delaware Post by a 1-0 count on Monday on the Continental Field and turning back Durney Post,8-4, on Tuesday night in Wilmington.

A pitchers' duel between Tom Baker of Newark and Buiano of Delaware Post marked the opener. After seven scoreless innings, the local club pushed across the winning run in the eighth on a hit by Baker, who was brought in by a blow from the bat of Bunny Blaney. In helping to win his own game, Baker had 13 strikeouts to seven for Buiano.

A big factor in the Durney victory was Blaney's fine pitching. After a slow start the O'Daniel boys crashed through with five runs in the third. Newark collected eight hits, with I. Thorp getting three.

The 'O'Daniel nine will play host to the Roberts Post of Wilmington on Monday on the Continental Field. The game will start at 6:15 p.m.

The game will mark the silver anniversary of Junior Legion baseball.

Plans For Chicken Festival Progress

Three Contests, Parade July 10-11

The 1951 Delmarva Chicken Festival preparation is rolling along. July 10-11 will find a huge celebration in Salisbury, Md., according to J. Frank Gordy, extension poultryman, University of Delaware.

The three contests festival goers are familiar with are going to be held again this year.

Mrs. L. A. Karlick, winner of the first chicken cooking contest two years ago, is chairman for this year's contest. The junior cooking contests will be in the State Teachers College in Salisbury, July 10, and the senior contest the next day.

Ed Boyd, Salisbury, is chairman of the Miss Delmarva Contest. It will also be in the State Teachers College, July 10.

The parade is scheduled for the evening of July 11, with Jerry Valiant, Salisbury, in charge. Clarence Hurst, Dover, Del., is in charge of the poultry equipment show.

Maryland's Tri-County Poultry Association will borrow the Delaware Poultry Improvement Association's huge frying pan. They will put on a giant chicken fry in this largest frying pan in the world.

U. of D. Grid Coach To Welcome 4-H'ers

Dave Nelson, new head football coach at the University of Delaware, will welcome the boys and girls at this year's 4-H Short Course. He will talk June 20, at the opening assembly, 4:30, Wolf Hall Auditorium.

Nelson, who is also head of the department of athletics and physical education ,will talk to the 4-H Club members about their sports program at the short course. Then he will introduce members of his department who will be in charge of the program and swimming classes.

Five Team Softball League Will Launch Race Monday Night

Recreation Association Will Sponsor Summer Contests

A 5-team softball league will open competition on Monday night as a phase of the summer program sponsored by the Newark Recreation Association.

Double headers will be played every Monday and Wednesday, starting at 6:45 p.m. on the high school field, according to Fred Sposato, director.

In this Monday's twin-bill, the Spiders, last year's title holders, will take on the Blue Jays and the VFW will meet Curtis.

Next Wednesday, Chrysler will take on the VFW.

Ken Okenquist is manager of the Chrysler nine, Wayne Pollari the Spiders, Harry McHenry the Blue Jays, Bud Robinson the VFW and Al Scandar the Curtis nine.

The Recreation Association is also sponsoring a hardball league for boys between 12 and 15 years. Competition in this circuit already is underway.

Four teams are playing double headers every Tuesday and Thursday starting at 6:30 p.m. on the high school field.

Newark Tied 3-3 By Newport Vets Nine In County Contest

Tilt Ends Newark Victory Skein; Game Tonite With Yorklyn

Last Thursday night the Newark nine was held to a 3-3 tie by the Newport Vets in a well played New Castle County League game.

Called at the end of seven innings due to darkness, the indecisive contest broke Newark's victory string of nine straight in county loop competition but kept their unbeaten record intact.

Barney Benson, a former Newark hurler, ptched fine ball for the Vets after taking over the mound when Wilkinson was knocked out of the box.

After a shaky start, Fuzzy McCormick hurled steady ball for the local club.

Newark's Manager Leroy Hill pointed out this week that all the clubs in the league have been greatly strengthened by an influx of high school players following the close of the scholastic season. He predicted a much faster brand of ball in the circuit from now on.

Tonight Newark meets third place Yorklyn on the Continental Field at 6:15 p.m. Next Wednesday, the home nine meets the Newport Vets in a replay of the tie game.

Despite the latter, Newark remains in undisputed possession of the league's top spot.

Four Steeplechase Stakes Are Scheduled For Delaware Park

First Will Be $10,000 Tom Roby On June 18; Georgetown And Indian River Handicaps Set For June 27 And July 3, Respectively

America's best jumpers are among the 147 nominations for Delaware Park's four steeplechase stakes to be decided during the 32-day meeting which opens May 29. The 1951 renewals of these brush fixtures attracted a dozen more horses than last year.

Mrs. Ogden Phipps' Oedipus and Kent Miller's Elkridge, the pair that wound up in a photo finish for the 1950 jumping title, both were named for the Georgetown and Indian River Steeplechase Handicaps to be run June 27 and July 3, respectively. The Georgetown is at about two miles, while the Indian River is a half mile longer. Each is a $10,000 added fixture.

Among other stars named for both of these stakes are Happy Hill Farm's Adapable, F. Ambrose Clark's Pontius Pilate, Montpelier's Sea Lega and Lowry Watkins' Tourist List.

Elkridge, the all-time money-winning champion of the jumpers with $225,055, won the last two renewals of the Georgetown and the last three runnings of the Indian River. He also captured the Indian River in 1942 and 1945, making him the only horse ever to win a stake race five times. In his final outing of 1950 as a 12-year-old, 'Elky" bowed to Oedipus in Belmont Park's Broad Hollow 'Chase and that just about gave Mrs. Phipps' colorbearer the title for the year.

Delaware's first brush special will be the $10,000 added Tom Roby Steeplechase Stakes on June 18, at about two miles. This event is for four-year-olds and upward which have never won a sweepstakes, excepting hurdle; Spring Maiden and Hunt meetings. The coming renewal drew 51 nominations as against 38 a year ago.

On June 26, the Delaware Spring Maiden Steeplechase will be decided, this $5,000 added race being at about two miles. It is one of a series of three races to be run at the spring meetings of Belmont Park, Aqueduct and Delaware Park and attracted 45 nominations, two less than in 1950.

The Georgetown, with 28 nominations, drew two more than last year and the Indian River, with 23, through one less than last season.

Owners of the 1950 Tom Roby and Spring Maiden winners will be seeking repeat triumphs this year. John Schiff, whose Philblant took the Tom Roby last year, has Iseeyou in the next renewal, while Mrs. Louis Stoddard, victorious with Port Blair in the '50 Spring Maiden, will rely upon Tintagelation. Mr. Stoddard has named Simoleon for the same event.

Cows To Pick Own Diet This Summer

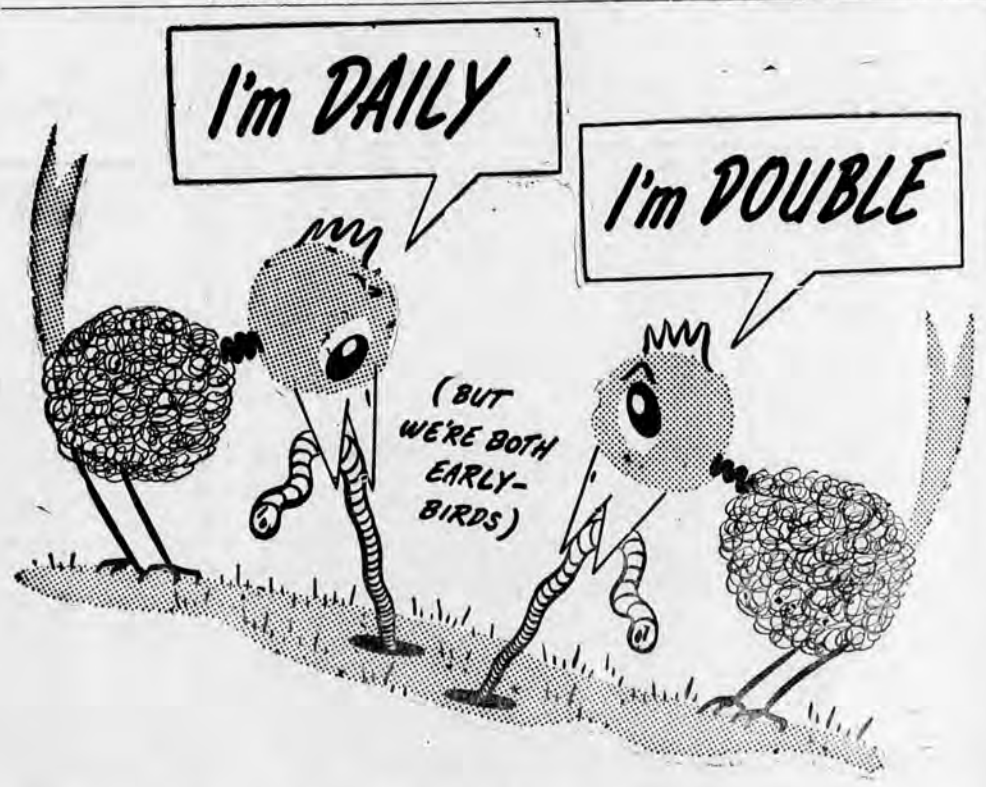
Do you plant the kind of Sudan grass your cows like?

Cows at the Delaware Agricultural Experiment Station Farm at Newark will have a chance to choose the variety of Sudan grass they like the best this summer.

The Agronomy Department is setting up a test plot with six Sudan grass varieties—Common, Sweet, Tift, Sudax, California 23, and Wheeler.

The plot will be grazed, and observations made on grazing preference, the comeback ability of the varieties and disease resistance under grazing conditions. Small areas will be cut to measure yields.

The grass should be ready for grazing by the second week in July, says William H. Mitchell, of the department.



Your patience has lessened our Daily Double trouble

Delaware Park wishes to thank its patrons, who have been patient as they waited in line for the Daily Double. Many are not aware that the congestion is due to two things: an unusual Delaware state law, and a shortage of machines by the totalisator company, which stems from Defense building restrictions. The Delaware state law provides that Daily Double betting may only be by means of machines. Last fall Delaware Park negotiated for an adequate supply of machines, and as recently as this spring was assured that they would be available. Now, however, faced with the stone walls of the law on one hand, and a restricted supply of machines on the other, Delaware Park has done the only remaining thing, which is to open this popular form of wagering earlier than customary. The management can put its clerks on duty earlier, and open its windows earlier, and is glad to do so. Obviously, the congestion occurs toward the end of the Daily Double wagering period. Those who come early can be served promptly. All this is due to Delaware Park trying to give racegoers what they want, and for that reason it has restored the Daily Double after nine years. Again we thank you for patience, and trust that the good racing available compensates for this inconvenience, which we hope will be temporary.

YELLOWJACKET HIGHLIGHTS

New Amplifying System Due At NHS

At last it's official: the amplifying system for the Newark High School is finally becoming a reality. The system which has been debated upon for some time by students and administration is going to be put into effect this year, no doubt, over the school vacation. The student council which has been pushing this program ahead for sometime had only two hundred and twenty-nine dollars towards the system, which left three hundred dollars still short. Through the help of Mr. Frederick Kutz, the Council has been able to acquire the extra three hundred, therefore making the program possible.

Mr. Kutz received a letter from the Educators' Service in Wilmington, stating the entire price which is about five hundred and fifty dollars, and guaranteeing the work for a period of one year.

This system includes six loud speakers, two in the lunch room, two in the gymnasium, and two in the play court, and of course, a Webster Model 100-37 three-speed record changer.

So students of Newark High School, maybe the seniors of fifty-one who helped you work toward gaining this great improvement in the school won't be able to enjoy it, but they certainly will be happy to know that you are going to enjoy it, and they that they had a hand in this project.

A total of 143 persons benefitted by the Mobile T.B. X-ray Unit at Kemblesville. The attendance did not equal that of two years ago when the area included London-Britain and Franklin Townships alone. This time Penn and New London Townships were included in the service but the attendance fell.

We can imagine how pleased the Colmans were to welcome their daughter, Mrs. Tyler Combs, and her two children, Carol and Buzzy, from Japan, where Major Tyler Combs is still located. Mrs. Combs has taken an apartment in Newark.

Jack Alcock and Gerry Filipi drove to the St Louis Cardinal versus Phillies game at Shibe Park recently and "rode herd" on Joey Alcock, Davey Ness, May Barrow, Ruth Ann Akerman, Kenny Knauer, Tommie Filipi, Elise Filipi, Donnie Gouge—all youngsters who had served on the safety patrol this past year.

Mrs. Walker and her Southbank students entertained their mothers at a wiener roast at Southbank School, May 31.

We'd like to mention anonymously a very lucky child who escaped losing an eye or being killed by a very narrow margin the other day, with the ropes that it may prevent a similar happening for someone else. This child didn't think of a bullet ricocheting and decided to use her brother's BB gun while no one was around to witness her timidity. Closing her eyes tightly, she pointed the gun at the ground and pulled the trigger. Two minutes later, a thoroughly demoralized little lady was showing her parents a pair of glasses which were scattered around the clean bullet hole in the center of the lense. Her eyelid was cut by the glass. The several dreadful things which might have happened will be all too apparent to anyone at this point. Personally, I'm against any guns being left around—even BB guns. We heard not too many weeks ago of a bigger baby in a play pen surprising his parents by moving the pen over to a cupboard, somehow, and getting open a difficult door behind which were his daddy's collection of some wicked guns. The totally unreasonable and unlikely does have a way of happening once in a while. If the guns aren't there, no one will be hurt.

Since this seems to be Safety Week for this column, we might mention that the swimming season has started and children just shouldn't be allowed to swim or play in the water without adequate supervision. This community was spared a possible tragedy when a local gentleman fished a certain visiting child out of his pond the other day. The children were ducking each other and having lots of fun, and this youngster didn't come up until the Mr. X did the rescue act. It isn't fair to put the responsibility of your children on someone else—anyone who accords others the privilege of their pool ought to be spared that as a matter of courtesy. And children are too valuable to let go off to swim on the assumption that the fates will be kind, and nothing will happen to them. Right?

The New London Bowling League held its annual banquet at the Grange May 31. Mim Heath received the highest average award, Sue Lester the highest single game award, Paul Bush the most improvement award. Miller Nelson crashed through with the highest men's average, and Andy Ford copped the highest single game. The Cardinals were the winning team. On this team are Alice Swan Johnson and Wilbur Johnson, Gladys and Cal Volk, Tom Baker and Ellis Astel. Everyone enjoyed the square and social dancing after the presetnations.

The Sanborns returned recently from a week in the Florida Panhandle, where they visited Grandma Prescott and son, Jimmie Sanborn.

Film On Bang's Disease Available At University

"Triple Threat," a technicolor movie on brucellosis or Bang's disease, is now available from the University of Delaware Agricultural Extension Service at Newark.

Brucellosis causes huge losses in the livestock and dairy industry each year. It takes many human lives as well, because it causes undulant fever. The half-hour movie deals with the three phases of the disease in animals. It shows how to recognize the disease, control measures, and how to get rid of it in your animals.

It's suitable for agricultural classes, farm organizations, 4-H Clubs, or dairy organizations. If your organization would like to show it at a meeting, just write to the Visual Aids Room, Wolf Hall, Newark, Delaware, give the date of your meeting, and ask that the film be reserved for you for that date. There is no fee.

Town Recreation Is Rotary Talk Topic

Dr. Paul Dolan Speaks At Meeting

Dr. Paul Dolan, of the University of Delaware Political Science Department, and president of the board of directors of the Newark Recreation Association, discussed recreation in a talk at the Newark Rotary Club last Monday night.

He asked the question, do kids enjoy Newark? He pointed to the great number of kids in town, and to the fact that few vacant areas are now available. The recreation association, he commented, is trying to channel the capacities of Newark youth into supervised areas.

"We must make Newark a place where most of the kids will seek a good time," he said, "and we should provide for adults to keep an eye on them."

Then Dolan traced the history of organized recreation in Newark, and told the results of the recent survey. The latter, he said, calls for a permanent year-'round recreation program, supported by taxes and administered by an elected commission which includes a member of the town council.

Public Lauded For Cancer Crusade Aid

Officials Also Thank Volunteer Workers

Mrs. J. Owen Ely and Mrs. Samuel Handloff, co-chairmen of the recent Cancer Crusade here, this week formally thanked the public for its generous support of the campaign.

A total of $1851.08 was collected during the drive.

"On behalf of the Delaware Division of the American Cancer Society and of the Newark Cancer Committee, may we take this opportunity to thank publicly the 86 workers through whose tireless efforts the sum of $1851.08 was collected in Newark during the recently concluded Cancer Crusade.

"The efforts of the Cancer Crusaders were greatly assisted also by the cooperation of the Post.

"The many contributors to the Cancer Crusade have given not only immediate help to the suffering. They have each purchased a share in the eventual victory over this dread disease."

DHIA Reports Better Output In Delaware

The state summary for the Dairy Herd Improvement Association, just released by Delmar J. Young, extension dairyman at the University of Delaware, shows a seven pound jump in the state fat average.

Two-thousand, one-hundred and sixty cows made an average 8622 pounds of milk and 361 pounds of butterfat per cow. This fat average is seven pounds higher than last year's state average, Said Young, "This may equal the national average for cows on DHIA test, and if it does, another record will be broken in the history of the Delaware dairy industry."

"All DHIA demonstrators are doing a better job," added Young, "and that's what counts.

The eight high herds in the state this year are, in order: Maurice Adams, Harrington; Tull Brothers, Seaford; W. Levis Phipps & Son, Centerville; Clyde Betts, Milton; Albert Bryant, Warwick, Md.; Edgar Dill, Kenton. B. B. Brinsfield & Sons, Vienna, Md.; Wilbur Jump, Houston.

4-H'ers To Take Over Farm Radio, Publish Newspaper

When Delaware 4-H boys and girls go to college, June 20-23, they'll take over the Delaware Farm and Home Hours, said Maurice B. Field, County 4-H Agent. Through this and a daily newspaper they will tell the state what 4-H Short Course is about.

Four club members will be on the Farm and Home Hour at 12:30 Thursday and Friday, June 21 and 22; and on the 4-H Review, Saturday, June 23, at 1:30 over WDEL-AM and FM. The programs will be planned in the radio class which is part of the short course curriculum.

Another group of the 4-H'ers will publish a morning newspaper, the University 4-H'er, for three days. They'll pick their own editors, reporters and lay-out staff. The'll cover the short course activities and have the news "in print" by breakfast each morning.

These are only two classes out of the 25 that boys and girls can choose from at the short course.
