

JUDGES FOR BLOOM SHOW ANNOUNCED BY EASTMAN

Cooperation From All Sources Urged To Compensate for Recent Hot Spell

Final arrangements have been made for the tenth annual fall flower show which will be held in the Newark New Century Club under the sponsorship of the Newark Garden Club, on Saturday, Sept. 20, from two until 10:30 o'clock, and on Sunday, from noon until five o'clock. Entries must be turned in Friday evening from six until nine p. m., and on Saturday up until 10 o'clock.

The schedule this year are several entries which, according to Arthur B. Eastman, chairman of the general committee, should prove interesting. Included in the display will be an arrangement of wild flowers, mirror arrangements, dish gardens, a pitcher arrangement for children under 15 years of age, an arrangement of any material in a container for men only, and a still-life arrangement in a niche.

The bowls, vases and artistic arrangements will be judged by Miss Aileen E. Smith, Mrs. William S. Sellers, and Samuel E. Hornsey, of the Wilmington Garden Club. Specimens and arrangements will be rated by Miller F. Eastman, Howard E. Ball, and Henry H. Whitney, of the Delaware Dabblers.

Various committees have been working with redoubled efforts to make this show a success and all residents of Newark and vicinity are invited to participate in the show. Complete cooperation from every source is necessary," Mr. Eastman said, "in order to compensate for recent dry weather which has created a shortage of flowers."

TALK ON FLOWERS AT CLUB

Arrangements Are Discussed By Mrs. William Dutton

Mrs. William Dutton, of New Garden, was the guest speaker Monday evening at the September meeting of the Newark Garden Club, held at the home of Mrs. Thomas F. Manns, West 12th Place. She was introduced by T. M. Swan, chairman of the club's program.

Mrs. Dutton gave an interesting and illustrated talk on "Flower Arrangements," illustrating her talk with examples made up from a large collection of flowers and accessories. A variety of flower holders, containers, and containers were shown to illustrate various designs and the importance of color harmony, balance, and line. The possibility of making attractive arrangements without flowers was shown by substituting seed pods, branch-cut leaves, cattails, etc.

Mrs. Dutton is president of the Cross Country Garden Club of Pennsylvania, member of the American Rose Society, and of the Pennsylvania, New Jersey, and Philadelphia Horticultural Societies. During the past year she has won first prizes for flower arrangements in the largest flower shows in the country.

COUNTY OFFICES FEEL STAFF REDUCTIONS

Sheriff's And Treasurer's Office Operating Under Handicap

Efficient operation of the Sheriff's office is being unduly hampered by lack of personnel, Sheriff Elias E. Othson said yesterday in commenting on the business of winding up affairs of the May term of court and preparing for the September term, which opened Monday.

Last week, over a thousand Grand Jury summonses were required to be served by the sheriff's office. With the presently curtailed staff this presented a Herculean task and was overcome only by excessive hours and untiring efforts on the part of deputies.

Pledged to give the public an economic and efficient tenure of office, Sheriff Othson declares this is becoming more and more difficult as a result of failure to appoint two deputies requested last week as replacements for two deputies who had previously been dropped from the pay roll.

"We shall continue to do our best to give the public 100% service regardless of conditions," Sheriff Othson said, "but we sincerely hope that the court will see fit to approve the appointment of the two badly needed deputies without further costly delay."

The office of County Treasurer J. Rogers Holcomb has been equally hard hit, Abraham Hoffman, Chief Deputy, said, owing to the court's failure to appoint a replacement for one dismissed employe.

In the midst of their busiest time of the year receiving the peak load of tax collections, the office is tremendously overburdened by the reduction in personnel.

BLUE HEN'S GRID DEBUT CANCELLED BY JUNIATA

Infantile Paralysis Epidemic Forces Indian Officials To Call Off Game

Pennsylvania's infantile paralysis epidemic finally hit home yesterday when it was announced by M. R. Swartz, Juniata College football coach, that the Indians' first two games with the University of Delaware and Drexel have been cancelled. The Huntingdon, Pa., school will not open its doors until Sept. 29, two days after the scheduled Hen clash, and Swartz will not be allowed to call his gridgers for practice until that date.

The move was necessary in order to help prevent the spread of the infantile paralysis wave which has swept the neighboring state.

The Delaware game was listed for Sept. 27 at Newark and the Drexel contest at Huntingdon on Oct. 4. Swartz said it appeared improbable that the Drexel game would be played on another date and that the game with Delaware would be dropped entirely "unless it can be fitted in at a later date."

"We're willing to cooperate with Delaware officials in any way to play the game at another date," he declared, "but the possibilities seem slim now."

Opening of the college classes was postponed from Sept. 10 until Sept. 29 because of the paralysis situation. Only one case has been reported in Huntingdon, Swartz said, but students are drawn from other heavily-affected sections.

In communication with the Juniata coach on Tuesday, Director of Athletics William D. Murray stated that Delaware officials had not given up hope of playing, however, until informed of the story from Huntingdon.

Mr. Murray stated that had the cancellation occurred a week ago, the open date could have been filled. As the situation now stands, Delaware is without an opponent for the Sept. 27 date, but an effort will be made to schedule some other school.

QUALITY OF FOODS IS OVERLOOKED

Condition Of Children, Draftees, Reveals Faults

Nutrition experts maintain that the American people have made sure that there was plenty to eat without paying much attention to the kinds of foods that made up their regular diet.

But the rejection of large numbers of draftees due to defects that can be traced to improper foods and the discovery of surprisingly similar defects in Delaware examinations of pre-school children have awakened people to the need for getting the right kinds of foods as well as enough to eat.

Three-fourths of the close to 1,800 pre-school children examined last year throughout Delaware had some defects. The leading defect was faulty teeth, a condition that is the result of improper diets in nine cases out of ten. Miss Pearl MacDonald, nutritionist for the University of Delaware Agricultural Extension Service, says bad teeth usually result from a lack of calcium, phosphorus and vitamins A, C and D. These minerals and certain of the vitamins are found in milk and fresh vegetables.

Apparent disregard of proper diets has been widespread. Miss MacDonald reveals that in a nationwide survey, Dr. Hazel Siebeling of the Federal Bureau of Home Economics, found that less than a third of the thousands of families questioned had "good" diets, another third of the families were consuming "fair" diets and diets of the remaining families would be considered "poor" according to accepted food standards.

The salaries for these positions range from $1,440 to $2,000 a year. For the lower grades, the optional branches are radio, explosives, chemistry, physics, metallurgy, and fuels; for the Senior grade, radio and explosives only. Applicants must have had high-school study unless they can substitute for this requirement technical experience in addition to that prescribed for each grade. This is only one of many substitutions already made in the Bell System's program to cut down its use of vital defense materials. These substitutions are being made promptly because Bell Laboratories have been foresighted—preparing to meet the shortages before they happened.

Annual Payment Of Rent To Be Celebrated

The oldest deed on record in America calling for the annual rental payment of one red rose is dated in 1731. The annual payment will be celebrated at Red Rose Inn, Jennersville, Chester County, 2:00 P. M., D. S. T., Thursday, September 18.

Over 200 years of history now marks the land which is part of the original grant by King Charles of England to the Penn. and later leased by the Proprietary Governors, John Penn, Thomas Penn, and Richard Penn. This anniversary will be celebrated with an address by one of Chester County's own sons, Mark Sullivan, the present newspaper columnist, a close friend of Ex-President Herbert Hoover, the author of a most entertaining biography, "Education of an American".

Sullivan will make the address Monday day and Chester County's Senator, George B. Scarlett of Kennett Square will make the rental payment of one Red Rose to the direct descendant, Philip Penn-Gaskell Hall, Jr., in direct line from Wm. Penn.

Visitors on this historic occasion will also witness the christening by Dr. Roberson Westbrook Murphy, Rosarian of the Men's Garden Club of Asheville, North Carolina, of a brilliant new Rose from France. Following will be a five-acre tour among 240,000 rose plants in full bloom. Those who prefer a close-up will study an indoor rose show of 100 varieties in as many vases, and 100 miniature rose plants in a perfect little garden 6 ft. x 6 ft.

The public is invited.

The Newark Post

The Newark Post, Newark, Delaware, Thursday, September 18, 1941

Flashes By Bill Fletcher

BILL GILLESPIE, NEWARK HIGH School mentor, who has enjoyed more than his share of victories on the gridiron, is looking forward to a season that may prove to be slightly reminiscent of the late 20's and early 30's.

Despite a lack of experienced material, the Jacket brain-trust has a "hunch" and when the spirits start communing with the Newark chief-of-staff, then city rivals can look for the farmer boys to roll.

Even going so far as to predict victories over Wilmington's "big three," Wilmington, P. S. duPont, and A. I. Gillespie is going out on a limb, even though prospects at the present time wouldn't alarm anyone on paper. "They look terrible right now," he revealed, "and the worse they look early in the season, the better I like it."

ALL OF WHICH SOUNDS PRETTY silly to us, but when you consider the fact that Bill has the finest coaching record in the state, you'll have to suppress your chuckles for a little while and await developments.

Taking over the coaching reins at the local high school in 1928, Gillespie enjoyed nine years of prosperity in the inter-scholastic grid circles and the worst season came up in 1937, ten years later, when his team won four decisions, dropped three, and tied three. Even that wasn't so bad, but it was a poor campaign in comparison to the previous nine years when 57 victories were recorded against 12 defeats, and 11 deadlocks.

If you'll pardon a review of this brilliant era which we have discussed in years past, we'll go back to a story we released in 1937 when the gradual decline began.

When the Jackets' mentor took over the coaching reins in 1928, the extinct D. I. A. A. League was to continue four more years. In that year, the Newark team copped seven games and lost two, including the state championship to Laurel.

A CLEAN SLATE WAS IN STORE for the locals the following season, however, and they walked through a nine-game schedule, winding it up with a 21-7 conquest over Seaford for state laurels.

Another undefeated year, marred only by two ties with A. I. duPont, ended with a 13-0 victory over Delmar for another state championship.

A 0-0 stalemate with Delmar in 1931 left the D. I. A. A. honors in doubt, but in the regular schedule, the Jackets copped six wins, lost none, and tied two. A post-season clash for charity with Wilmington High School saw the Red Devils eking out a 6-0 conquest.

It was 1931 that saw the end of the old D. I. A. A. for a protest by Bridgeville which claimed Newark had used an ineligible player in a 54-0 victory over Dover, aroused such confusion and disgust that the loop was disbanded.

LONG ADVOCATING THE STEP from the league ranks, Coach Gillespie, who saw the foolishness of playing the same team twice during a season, wholeheartedly endorsed Newark's withdrawal from the league and stronger teams were scheduled, many of them nearby with whom natural rivalries have developed. Naturally enough, with the carding of definitely stronger opponents, the percentage of victories was expected to fall off and they did, but only slightly.

The first year after the D. I. A. A. break, the Jackets won six, lost one and tied one. In 1933, the season wound up with four wins, an equal number of losses and two ties, but the following year saw a rebounding to form as six wins were registered against two deadlocks, one with Wilmington, another with the University of Delaware junior varsity. In 1935 and 1936, Coach Gillespie's team scored 11 wins, dropped four tilts and tied two.

A COMPOSITE ACCOUNT OF THE games played from 1928 until 1936 reveals startling facts which are a credit to the local mentor. Including four undefeated seasons, 1929, 1930, 1931, and 1934, Newark teams rolled up a total of 1,204 points against their opponents' 322.

Just average records have been turned in since 1937, but Gillespie says it's "his year" and as we said before, when he starts communing with those spirits, there just ain't no stoppin' him.

STANTON

Stanton, Sept. 17 — Miss Lora Little, principal of the Stanton school, reports there were 26 children from the school receiving vaccination against Smallpox, and 10 Diphtheria immunization treatments at the school this week, when Dr. J. R. Downes, State Health Doctor and State Dept. nurses visited the school.

The Rev. F. O. Baynard, pastor of the Stanton Methodist Church, resumed services in the church auditorium on Sunday after improvements of a new ceiling, and cleaning throughout the building had been completed. The building has been repainted on the outside, as well as the church bulletin board repainted and re-lettered. The morning subject was "Stand By." Mrs. Ruth Robinson was in charge of the Epworth League Service. In the evening, Rev. Baynard delivered the second sermon in a series on the Apostles Creed.

STEADY PROGRESS SHOWN BY DELAWARE GRID SQUAD IN DAILY PRACTICE DRILLS

Expected To Reach Top Shape For Opener; Juniata College Tilt Cancelled; Melvin (Ripper) Brooks And Jim (Moon) Mullen, Are Co-Leaders

Showing steady progress since their regulation game scrimmage on Saturday, the University of Delaware football squad is rapidly reaching top-notch form for its opening encounter.

Just when the Hens will make their debut is questionable, however, since the Juniata game has been cancelled due to the infantile paralysis epidemic. (See story page 2).

The tentative varsity eleven pounded out a 21-0 victory over the reserve contingent and the effectiveness of the Hens' forward passing attack lends further support to the opinion that the aerial offensive will be equally as potent as the ground maneuvers.

Showing beyond a doubt that he can still toss bullseyes, Bill (Red) Hogan, mainspring in the Blue and Gold backfield, scored one touchdown himself and then was on the projecting end of a forward pass-lateral play which produced another six-pointer.

Despite the fact that many faults were evident in Saturday's lengthy skirmish, the Hens, after a slow start, turned in a creditable performance and a good season is anticipated.

Although several freshmen are making outstanding bids for positions on the starting combine, veterans are expected to dominate the varsity team and it is generally believed that all eleven assignments will be handed to sophomores and upper classmen.

The 1940 backfield, with Hogan as a nucleus, will remain intact with Al Newcomb at the signal-calling post, and Melvin (Ripper) Brooks and Walt Paul at the wingbacks. A pair of sophomores, Fred Sloan and Howard Jarvis are lined up for the flanks, while two other second-year performers, Jack Castevens and Bob Furman, are the outstanding bidders for the tackle posts. Hugh Bogovich, a junior, and Jim Mullen, a senior, has first call on the pivot position.

Despite daily rough workouts, serious injuries have evaded the Delaware squad and only three candidates have been sidelined during pre-season training thus far. Brooks, sidelined for a few days due to an infected toe, went back into action on Saturday, while Mullen, nursing a bruised foot, and Lee (Bugs) Baer, a sprained ankle, are still on the injured list.

At a meeting of lettermen held recently, Brooks, a graduate of Newark High School, and Mullen, a Salesianum High School, Wilmington, turnout, were elected co-captains of the 1941 eleven.

Brooks, one of the fastest men on the squad and one of its most consistent ground gainers, has been an outstanding offensive star for the past three years. Mullen, kept out of football during his freshman year because of an injury, was shifted from center, his job with the Sallies, to the backfield in his sophomore term, but last season alternated between the two assignments. This year, he will be handed the pivot duties permanently.

Linksmen Enter Semis Finals In Golf Tourney

Four local linksmen entered the semi-final round of the E. B. Wright Memorial Tournament at the Newark Country Club. J. A. Julian provided the major upset of the quarterfinals when he defeated B. F. (Sank) Richards, 3 and 2.

MILFORD X ROADS A. C. DOWNED, 6-5

Opening Game Of Series Ends In Tenth

The Milford Cross Roads Athletic Club diamond representatives will meet Andrew's Bridge on Sunday afternoon in the second game of the Southern Chester County League play-off series. Milford dropped the opener by a 6-5 score in a game that went 10 innings.

Trailing 3-2 in the fourth inning, the Milford team moved into a one-run lead in the fifth when they came through with a three-run scoring spurge after their opponents had faltered once in their half of the frame. Andrew's Bridge knotted the count in the seventh, however, and then pushed across the winning counter in the tenth.

Milford Cross Roads has enjoyed a brilliant season, winning 31 of 35 games played. Other league teams are: New London, White Horse, Sunset Park, and Landenberg.

DELAWARE BOOTERS TO START

Seven Lettermen To Form Nucleus For 1941 Combine

Seven lettermen will form the nucleus of the University of Delaware soccer team which will start workouts for the 1941 campaign on Monday under the direction of Coach Willis Lawrence. The opening game is scheduled for Frazer Field with Seton Hall on Oct. 11.

The Hen booters were hit hard by graduation which took five lettermen, while one regular has left school and another is now in the army. Despite the losses, however, Coach Lawrence is looking forward to a good season, his fourth as soccer mentor. Last year, the Hens broke even, emerging victorious in five of ten contests.

Lettermen returning are: Capt. Ames Betts, Noah Cain, Warren Greer, Jim Gotshall, Gee Fernandez, Bill Morton, and Malloy Vaughn. Others with experience who are expected back are: Eugene DiSabatino, Harry Irwin, Jack Legates, Norman Maxwell, Frank Hallman, and Lloyd Shurter.

Among those taken by graduation were: Truxton Boyce, Carty Douglass, Bill Gerow, Emil Kielbasa, and Guy Wharton. Leon Chambers has left school while Elmer Harrington has been drafted.

The schedule, including nine games, six of which are slated for the home fields, follows:

Oct. 11 — Seton Hall, home; Oct. 14 — Franklin and Marshall, home; Oct. 17 — Temple at Philadelphia; Oct. 22 — Western Maryland, home; Nov. 1 — University of Maryland, home; Nov. 4 — Ursinus, at Collegeville; Nov. 8 — Stevens, home; Nov. 12 — Gettysburg, home; Nov. 15 — Johns Hopkins, at Baltimore, Md.

California condors, the huge birds that feed on carcasses and are almost extinct, were described by A. M. Shields as clean in habit. "One of its favorite habits is to assemble on the bank of some secluded mountain pool and spend hours at a time in bathing and standing around the margin of the clear, cold waters," he said.

The American Indians, in Colonial days, not only consumed oysters in the fresh condition but dried and smoked them for preservation; some of the tribes using dried and smoked oysters for barter.

PHILLIES TO MARK CHESTER DAY ON 27TH

Two Native Sons To Be Honored At Double-Header

For many months the citizens of Chester, Pa., have been going "all out" for national defense. In many of the industrial plants have been going "all out" to think about. But now that they are in the swing of the tense industrial activity, they are going "all out" another way. This time it is for Chester Day at Shibe Park on Sunday, September 21 when the Phillies play two games with those pennant mad Brooklyn Dodgers.

The reason Chester is all agog on this day is because of two native sons who are members of the Phillies. One is Johnny Podgajny, the young batted hurler, whose excellent major league work in his freshman year in 1937 marks him as a future major league pitcher. The other is Danny Murtaugh, second sacker who joined the Philadelphia mid-season and has done everything but steal the show from the rest of the National League race.

Chester has every claim on the remarkable youngsters because Podgajny and Murtaugh were born there and after the games at Shibe Park each returns to the home of a widowed mother. In each boy's room hangs a diploma from Chester High School and both played ball on junior teams sponsored by the City Post of the American Legion.

Murtaugh got further training for his baseball career playing on the Seton Hall teams around Chester, first with the crack semi-pro outfits, the Lloyd A. and Chester Club. When Danny went into organized ball with Cambridge, Md. in 1937 it did not stop his activity in the whirl of Chester athletics as during the winter months he captained the Sun Ship basketball team in the Delaware River Industrial League.

Podgajny's hometown record is just star-studded as his neighbor's. From his age eliminated him from further competition with the American Legion teams, the lean righthander attended baseball school conducted by the Chester Times and then played with the Blossoms, a club composed of the best players in the school. For a couple of seasons he did his pitching for Hedwig's and Resurrection Boys Club in the local Twilight League, then he signed to do mound work for Bordentown in the Delaware Valley League. After a couple of games with the Sun Ship Oil club he accepted an offer from Moultrie in the Georgia-Florida circuit.

One of the admirable traits about these youngsters is that they never stop trying. Even on the sandlots of Chester when they were striving for more diamond experience and looking forward to the day when they would reach the ultimate goal, fans agreed that it was an important part of the game. CALLS FOR PRODUCTION INCREASES

Appeal To Farms Made By Sec. C. R. Wickard

One of the biggest recent developments in the nationwide Food For Democracy program, announced by Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard, is an appeal for farmers to increase production of vital foods during 1942.

Next year's campaign for greater production of certain farm items will be under the direction of U. S. Department of Agriculture Defense Boards in each State and county. In Delaware throughout the nation, these defense boards are made up of representatives of Department of Agriculture and State agencies working with farmers.

Delaware farmers have already boosted production of dairy, poultry and vegetable products in line with the original Department of Agriculture plan issued late last spring.

Announcing the 1942 production campaign, Secretary of Agriculture Wickard stated:

"The goals for 1942 call for the largest production in the history of American agriculture, but we are not going to plow up the hills and the mountains to get it. We have adequate resources of food grains for increased production of livestock products and it will not be necessary materially to increase total crop acreage next year."

The five-point program recommended by the Delaware-U. S. Department of Agriculture Defense Board as a guide for farmers includes these suggestions:

1. Make the best possible use of winter wheat seed; apply lime and phosphate fertilizers and cover crops that are plowed under; conserve all kinds of manure and reinforce this manure with lime and phosphate; increase acreages of rye, oats, barley and rye grass, and pasture, and for feed supply the subsequent production of milk products for defense.

2. Increase the production of red clover, crimson clover and lespedeza in Delaware.

PRAISES PRESS

Senator James M. Tunnell, Delaware's junior representative in the United States Senate, is the author of the following excerpt from the September issue of the American Press.

"I am glad of an opportunity to say a few words for the small newspapers. The local newspaper with its intimate touches of both news and advertisements holds the attention of millions who do not see the city daily or magazine.

"American men and women must read in order to know. They must begin as boys and girls to acquire knowledge. Take from America its local newspaper and you remove one of the greatest aids to education and refinement as well as to national business solidity.

no matter what the odds, they are going. Now that they have had a taste of success, Podgajny and Murtaugh have changed. When they are at home with their friends they are unassuming except for the admiration each shows for the other. During the off season, they have jobs to go to because they are being idle.

That's why Chester is turning out next Sunday. The largest delegation ever to leave Chester will be in his hands to pay tribute to Podgajny and Murtaugh. Not only baseball fans are taking part in the celebration. Serving as the municipal government, schools, industrial plants and other organizations are taking an active part.
