MUSIC SOCIETY OFFERS CURTIS ARTISTS FEB. 19

Musical Treat to be Presented by Local Group in Mitchell Hall

PUBLIC INVITED

The Newark Music Society will present the second of a series of concerts given under the auspices of the Curtis Institute of Music, in Mitchell Hall of the University of Delaware, on Thursday, February 19. This concert, which will bring three artists to Mitchell Hall, will be open to the public free of charge.

The program of the concert will be a most pleasing one. The artists, all students of noted musicians, will be Miss Martha Halbwachs, pianist; Miss Irene Singer, soprano; and Jacob Brodsky, violinist.

Miss Halbwachs is a pupil of Josef Hofman at the Curtis Institute, and recently won distinction as soloist with the Curtis Symphony Orchestra in a radio program that was substituted for a regular concert of the New York Philharmonic. Miss Halbwachs has received highest critical praise for her technical accomplishment and musicianship.

Miss Singer is a youthful soprano, who has won notable success in concerts and radio programs. She is a pupil of Harriet Van Emden at the Curtis Institute. Her voice and the beauty of her tones have been acclaimed by critics as superior.

Mr. Brodsky is a pupil of Efrem Zimbalist, and has proven his ability and skill as a solo violinist in numerous concerts and programs.

The program for the concert will be as follows:

- 1. Nine Variations on a Minuet by Dupont, Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart; Ballade in D minor, Opus 10, No. 1, Johannes Brahms; Rhapsody in F sharp minor, Opus 11, No. 2, Ernst von Dohnanyi. Miss Halbwachs.
- 2. Wagonella, Johannes Brahms; "Wahin' Franz Schubert; "Il est doux, il est bon" from "Herodiade," Jules Massenet. Miss Singer.
- 3. Prælude and Allegro, Pugnani-Krieger; Melodie, Gluck-Krieger; Seltano and Rigaudon, Franzen-Krieger. Mr. Brodsky.
- 4. Berceuse, Opus 57, Prelude in G major, Opus 28, No. 3, Scherzo in E flat minor, Opus 51, Frédéric Chopin. Miss Halbwachs.
- 5. My lovely Celia, Old English; Flowers, Abram Chasins; A Spirit Flower, Campbell-Tipton; The Bird of the Wilderness, Edward Bromman. Miss Singer.
- 6. Slavonic Dance in E minor, No. 2, Dvorak-Krieger; Tango, Albeniz-Krieger; Dance of the Goblinks, Antonio Bazzini. Mr. Brodsky.

PROGRAM FOR ORGAN RECITAL MONDAY IS ANNOUNCED

The recital by the Chorus Club, the organization of local singers trained and presented under the direction of Frank Swinnen, on Monday night, Feb. 15, will be well received by the audience in Mitchell Hall. Preceding the recital by the Chorus Club, Mr. Swinnen played four numbers on the organ.

This Monday night, Mr. Swinnen has chosen seven pieces for his program. They are:

- 1. Overture to "Poet and Peasant," F. Suppe.
- 2. Four Songs My Mother Taught Me, A. Dvorak; (b) Cradle Song, J. Brahms.
- 3. Minuet in D, W. A. Mozart.
- 4. The Bells of St. Anne de Beaupre, A. Russell.
- 5. Prælude to "Le Deluge," C. Saint-Saens.
- 6. Scherzando, Rimski-Korsakoff.
- 7. Lobengrin, R. Wagner.

DENTAL CLINIC FOR CHILDREN TO START SOON

CLINIC, SPONSORED BY NEW CENTURY CLUB, IN COUNCIL BUILDING PREPARING ROOMS

Clinic, Sponsored by New Century Club, In Council Building

PREPARING ROOMS

The dental clinic, sponsored by the Newark New Century Club, will be opened shortly, it has been announced, and work is now underway to prepare the quarters for the clinic in the Town Council building.

The clinic is sponsored and maintained by the New Century Club for children in need of dental work whose parents are financially unable to take them to a dentist. The children, before they receive attention at the clinic, will be investigated by the Welfare Committee of the New Century Club, and will have to be recommended to the clinic by that committee before any work is done.

The clinic will be established in the large room on the second floor front of the Council building. The Town Council has agreed to provide the space, light, heat and water for the clinic. The room is quite large, and will provide ample space for a waiting room and for the dental workshop.

Some alterations will have to be made to the room before it is suitable for the clinic. A partition will be erected to separate the work room from the waiting room, and provisions for seating of waiting patients will be provided. It is expected that the clinic will be ready to open in about a week.

STAMPS TO SHOW COOCH MANSION

Sen. Townsend Asked to Aid in Issuing of Special Stamps

Senator John G. Townsend has been asked, in a letter from former Judge Hugh M. Morris, president of the Delaware Society, Sons of the American Revolution, to lend effort in having the Post Office Department issue stamps bearing the picture of the mansion house at Cooch's Bridge, to be sold next year in commemoration of the 200th anniversary of the birth of George Washington.

The letter also asked Senator Townsend to enlist the aid of his colleagues in Congress in this direction.

In his letter Judge Morris writes: "I understand that the Post Office Department is putting out, in commemoration of the birth of our first President on the two hundredth anniversary of that event, fifty or more stamps touching some place or event of his own career. May I suggest that perhaps no more fitting incident should be chosen than that of the place at which the Stars and Stripes were first unfurled in battle and that a stamp bearing the mansion house at Cooch's Bridge would be most fitting not only for the purpose the Postmaster General has in mind, but from the standpoint of Delaware pride as well."

TWO MEN INJURED WHEN CAR HITS TRAIN

Alvin Sparks, of Newark, and Richard Mann, of Elk Mills, had a narrow escape from serious injury or death Saturday night, when the car in which they were riding crashed into the side of a freight train on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad crossing at Elk Mills. Sparks was driving the car.

Both men were cut and bruised. Neither one saw the train until it was too late to avoid hitting it, they said. The car was badly damaged.

J. E. MORRISON RECOVERING FROM FOX-HUNTING ACCIDENT

J. Elmer Morrison, who was injured last Wednesday afternoon while fox-hunting, is recovering at his home. Mr. Morrison's horse reared and stepped on his foot while Mr. Morrison was adjusting the bit, crushing the foot badly. It will be several weeks before the foot will heal.

RUPP INTRODUCES BILL FOR U. OF D. ANNIVERSARY

Representative William Rupp introduced in the Legislature this week a measure to provide the University of Delaware with $300, to be used in the celebration and observance of the centennial anniversary of the founding of the school.

"ARMS AND THE MAN," E-52 PLAY, IS FINE COMEDY

Famous Play of George Bernard Shaw to be Given Friday, Feb. 20

UNUSUAL SCENERY

The wit of George Bernard Shaw at its best will be enjoyed by lovers of the drama when the sparkling play, "Arms and the Man" is presented by the Class E-52, of the University of Delaware in Mitchell Hall, on Friday evening, February 20.

This famous play will be offered to Newark and to the University students and faculty as the second major play of the year directed by C. Robert Kase, director of dramatics of the University, and is one of a series of plays which will be built up into a working repertory in line with the Little Theater plan of the University.

Harold Plummer, a Newark boy, who starred in the character of Tom Prior in the drama "Outward Bound," again has a leading part in this production as the romantic lover. Plummer played a very difficult characterization in "Outward Bound," and is expected to again star in "Arms and the Man." The play is considered one of Shaw's best works, and is the basis for the highly successful operetta "The Chocolate Soldier," which was a great attraction a few years ago.

Three different sets of scenery will be used in the production. The scenery is being constructed entirely by students, and will be the most imposing scenery ever used on the University stage. The costumes will be of the period of the "gay Nineties" on the European continent, and will be highly unusual for a student production.

The presentation of the play is coincident with the observation of National Drama Week throughout the country. In casting about for a play superior to the usual type produced by student groups, yet one that would appeal to students and residents of the town as well, Mr. Kase chose this famous play, and it is expected to be the most successful one of the season in Newark.

The sale of tickets for the production has already started. Reserved seat tickets are now on sale at Rhodes Drug Store, and by various members of the student body. It is expected that a full house will witness the play, as the seat sale is going on rapidly.

CHECK-UP OF TOWN SHOWS 34 HOUSES VACANT

A recent check-up of the town by the carriers of the Post Office revealed that there are 34 vacant houses in Newark at the present time. The check-up was made by the Post Office so as to provide figures for the Real Estate Board.

This is an unusual number of vacant houses for Newark, but it is said that, on account of not being able to find employment here, a number of families have moved to other cities.

THEATER PARTY FOR U. OF D. TO BE GIVEN TONIGHT

All Students and Faculty Members to be Guests of P. S. duPont at Show

EXPECT 1,000 IN PARTY

The entire student body of the University of Delaware, together with the members of the faculty and their wives, and with others connected with the University, will be the guests of Pierre S. duPont tonight at the presentation in the Playhouse in Wilmington of Jane Cowl in the Shakespearean play, "Twelfth Night."

This theater party will be one of the largest theater parties ever given in Delaware. A number of years ago Mr. duPont started giving these parties for the students and faculty and others connected with the University, but some time ago discontinued his custom. The party tonight will be the first one in several years. It is expected that nearly 1000 people will attend.

A special train on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad will carry the party from Newark to Wilmington. At the B. and O. station in Wilmington, a fleet of special street cars will be waiting to take them to the Playhouse. Following the play, the crowd will be taken back to the station by the street cars, and on the return trip to Newark on the train, refreshments will be served.

This theater party will be one of the highlights of the social calendar of the year at the University. It is fortunate that such an outstanding actress as Jane Cowl will be included in the cast of the production, as Miss Cowl is considered one of the artists of the stage. The arrangements for the trip have been made by A. G. Wilkinson, business manager of the University.

SCOUT TROOP ATTENDS ST. THOMAS' CHURCH SERVICE

Troop No. 55, Boy Scouts of America, attended the morning service of St. Thomas' Episcopal Church on Sunday, February 8. Rev. R. B. Matthews welcomed the boys and preached a sermon of special interest to them.

The week of February 8-24 is designated by the National Scout Council as the Anniversary Week of Scouting in America. The scout organization in this country is now twenty-one years of age and nearly five million boys have had the advantages of scout training during this period. The Newark scouts are wearing their uniforms to school during the week as an expression of loyalty to their order.

The Hopkins-Hancock Company has donated the use of a window of its store for the use of the scouts. A special committee has been engaged in decorating this window with scout equipment and specimens of handicraft. This display has attracted much attention from passers-by during the week.

ART EXHIBIT AT UNIVERSITY OPEN TO PUBLIC

Display of Etchings, Engravings and Lithographs Is Interesting One

IN MEMORIAL LIBRARY

The Art Department of the Women's College is holding an exhibition of etchings, engravings and lithographs by contemporary American artists at the Art Gallery, Memorial Library, University of Delaware. This exhibition, circulated by the American Federation of Arts, was selected from the larger exhibition assembled by the Federation on the invitation of the Victoria and Albert Museum, London, and shown in that institution for six weeks in May and June, 1929. More than 400 prints were in that collection, upon the return of which, this group was chosen for circulation to various American cities.

With the aim of truly representing contemporary American graphic art it includes prints of both "conservative" and "modern" artists, exponents of all the tendencies which compose the American school today. Men of international reputation, such as Frank Benson and Childe Hassam, who seldom permit their work to be included in traveling exhibitions, are represented, as well as many etchers prominent in the younger "radical" group.

A number of these prints were specifically mentioned by English critics as having given "particular pleasure," among them the studies in Gothic architecture by John Taylor Arms "Broug"; the satirical domestic drypoints by Peggy Bacon "Vanity"; "The Family" (of feline persuasion) (Continued on Page 8.)

RUMOR NEW DRY LAW MEASURE

May be Offered in Legislature Some Time This Week

Another bill to repeal the Klair law will be offered in the Senate sometime this week or early next week, if rumors current in legislative circles are true.

A Klair law repealer was introduced in the House a few weeks ago by Representative Scheffele, but from indications, there will probably be difficulty in wresting it out of the House Temperance Committee, of which Representative Talley, a dry, is chairman.

Much interest is being shown in the temperance bills in the Legislature. Representative Talley's "baby Volstead act," brought to Dover by the Rev. Roscoe Vining, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of Delaware, is out of committee on its merits. Senator Griffenberg's bill to permit doctors to prescribe liquor for medicinal purposes, is still in committee. It is said, however, that a substitute measure may be offered soon, to make a change in the original bill.

According to reports, the Senate Klair law repealer may be offered by one of the Wilmington Senators.

HIGH SCHOOL TEAMS SPLIT TWIN BILL WITH OXFORD

The Newark High School basketball teams split a twin bill with the Oxford, Pa., team last night in the Armory here, the boys winning their game, and the girls coming out on the short end of the score.

In the opening game between the two girls' teams, Louise Fulton played a fast and snappy game, starting for the local basketweavers, but a strong rally by the Oxford six put them on the big end of a 31 to 29 score.

The boys romped away with their game by a 43 to 26 score. Whiteman and Willis starred for the local team. A good sized crowd of fans was present to see the games.

LYNAM CELEBRATES 31st ANNIVERSARY AT POST OFFICE

William R. Lynam, assistant postmaster of the Newark Post Office, today is observing the 31st anniversary of his entering the services of the government Post Office Department. During that time, Mr. Lynam has seen the Newark Post Office grow from a small, country-town post office into the fine building and plant that it now is, and has seen the staff grow from only one or two men to a staff of more than a dozen.

GRAY, BRINSER AT HEARING ON SCHOOL BUDGET

Attend Meeting in Dover to Discuss Needs of Schools in Future

PLAN NEW COURSES

Harrison Gray, president of the Newark Board of Education, and Ira S. Brinser, superintendent of schools, attended the hearing on the School Budget bill in Dover, Wednesday. The hearing was given before a joint committee of the House and Senate, and was given for the purpose of explaining the items in the budget requests for the coming two years.

The budget of the State Board of Education is made up from requests from the special school districts, the City of Wilmington, and the State Schools. These several budgets are submitted to the State Board by the several boards of education prior to the session of the Legislature, and the State Board of Education combines the several budgets into one budget, which is submitted to the Governor for recommendations to the Legislature.

The hearing on Wednesday brought out the facts that in many of the schools of the State the increased enrollment, as well as the fact that more children are remaining in the schools, presents the problem of more room and more teachers to properly care for the instruction of the children.

Many schools in the State are now providing courses in Manual Arts for the boys, to balance the courses in home economics offered to the girls. Commercial courses, embracing book-keeping and typing, are also offered in many of the schools. Newark is one of the few schools that does not offer instruction in commercial courses nor in manual arts. Heretofore the lack of space has not permitted training in these important subjects, but it is expected that in the addition of the new wing to the present Newark School space for both of these courses will be found.

PENSION BILL FOR TEACHERS IS INTRODUCED

Senator McIntire Sponsors Measure to Retire Aged Educators

AFFECTS ALL TEACHERS

Provision for a teachers' retirement system, something that public school teachers of the State, especially outside of Wilmington, have been seeking for many years, is made in a bill introduced in the Senate by Senator McIntire Tuesday. A similar bill introduced two years ago was passed by the House but was killed in the Senate.

The McIntire bill is the result of a study of the question by a special committee appointed by the State Board of Education consisting of H. Fletcher Brown, Dr. Walter Hüllhien, Miss Ellen Samworth and John Shilling.

The bill would bring under its provisions, if they desire to come under all public school teachers, supervisors, superintendents, business managers of school, members of the faculty of the University of Delaware and of the State College for Colored Students. It would become effective July 1, of this year. Membership in the system is optional for present teachers, who may join at any time up to July 1, 1932. New teachers after the passage of the act will have the option to join any time during their first two years and after that it shall be compulsory for them to join if they continue teaching in the State.

The general administration of the system shall be vested in a retirement board of seven members, the president of the State Board of Education; the president of the Board of Education of Wilmington; two persons engaged in administrative educational work in the State, one appointed by the State superintendent of public instruction to serve for three years, beginning July 1, 1931, and one by the superintendent of the Wilmington schools for two years. Three members shall be elected from the membership of the retirement system, one for one year one for two years and one for three years. Their successors shall be appointed for three year terms. One of the latter three members shall be a Wilmington teacher.

Miss Price of Wilmington was the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Harvey Scott, one day last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Eric Miller and Mr. and Mrs. Orum, of Wildwood, N. J., and Mr. and Mrs. Foster Lenderman of Philadelphia visited Mrs. Norman Burke last week. Mrs. Burke, who has been ill, is improving.

Mrs. Wm. McCloskey entertained the following guests at dinner on Sunday: Misses Ida and Evelyn Kimble, Misses Martha and Lydia Foard of Newark and Mr. Wm. McCloskey, Jr., of Kennett Square, Pa.

Mr. Albert Porter of Wilmington is the guest of Mr. Ralph Frazer.

Miss Hester Morris of Newark spent the week-end with Miss Lillian Brown.

MILFORD CROSS ROADS SCHOOL NOTES

Don't forget the February meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association, to be held in the school room next Wednesday evening, February 18, at 8 o'clock. The Junior Mechanics' entertainers of Newark will be on hand with two laugh provoking skits. "Tom Horseman of Hackinsaw" will be given by "Wes" Dempsey, "Eddie" Shakespeare, "Bob" McFarland and Henry Mote. "Pat Entertainers" will be presented by Messrs. Frank Mote, Charles Colmery and Raymond McMullen.

"The Vision" will be given by some of the older pupils. "Plato," a negro boy's part, will be acted well by Delaware Reed. Gladys Walmsley will do her part as "Phyllis," a negro girl, to perfection. Then there will be Hazel Johnston, as "Mary Washington"; Charles Greer, as "George Washington"; Paul Nelson, as "Dickie"; George's Friend; Robert Walstrum, as "Lawrence Washington"; and Helen Kwiatowski, as old "Aunt Nancy." The state program will be presented in an interesting manner by our program chairman, Mrs. Ambrose Cameron.

Music will be furnished by Miss Helen Register, a sophomore at Newark High School and a friend of Milford Cross Roads School, and by Hazel Johnston, one of our own pupils.

Adult Education

Only three more adult music classes remain this term. Plan to be with us this coming Tuesday evening, February 17, at 8:30 o'clock. Milford Cross Roads wants to put on a good program at the new William Penn School, New Castle, on Wednesday evening, March 4. There will be no banquet this year, but every one is needed to make our adult centre show up as one of the best in the county at the final session. May we count on you?

P-T. A. NEWS NOTES

Millsboro has come to the fore in the membership race. The "Big Five" at the present writing are:

Millsboro, 206; Middletown, 160; Lincoln, 150; New Castle, 150; Clayton, 136.

Of these, only Millsboro and Lincoln have exceeded their last year's memberships. The other three have not yet equalled the records they made last year.

At a postponed meeting of the Hockessin Parent-Teacher Association, Harry Russell, president, the second of the six "Common Objectives for Parents and Teachers" was read by Mrs. Ernest Crossan. James T. Parsons led the discussion, emphasizing the importance of allowing a child to work with raw materials. Mr. Parsons also discussed the Third Objective, read by Mrs. Harry Russell, which suggests the necessity for children to learn to adapt themselves readily to changing conditions. Mr. Parsons explained a unit of work which he plans to present to his class. The organization is interested in the purchase of victrola records for use in music appreciation.

"Old Habits in a New Land" was discussed at a recent meeting of the Pleasant Valley Community Club by Mrs. Samuel Stewart, president. This association also voted to buy victrola records for school use.

The State program was discussed at a recent meeting of the Delaware City Colored Parent-Teacher Association, which has decided to purchase lights and other equipment for night school, a new venture which is receiving hearty support.

Lee's Chapel Colored Parent-Teacher Association reports a successful January meeting.

On January 29, 75 per cent of the members of Mt. Pleasant Colored Parent-Teacher Association participated in the discussion of the wisdom of giving children opportunities to adapt themselves to new situations. Plans were made for a valentine social.

Forty people attended the meeting of Port Penn Colored Parent-Teacher Association, January 30, which was addressed by J. Graham Scott of Milford and Mrs. Anna C. Russum, county chairman, of Mt. Pleasant.

KITCHEN IMPROVEMENTS URGED BY MRS. DAUGHERTY

"Twenty living rooms and ten kitchens that have been entered in the Living Room and Kitchen Improvement Contests in New Castle County have been scored during the past week by Mrs. Helen McKinley, State Home Demonstration Agent," says Kate Henley Daugherty, agent for New Castle County.

Suggestions were also given for each room as to improvements that could be made, such as selection of wall paper and finishes, floors, draperies, furniture arrangement, and proper hanging of pictures.

These contestants will be given until May the first to complete their improvements, at which time they will be visited and scored again by Mrs. McKinley to determine the living rooms and kitchens making the greatest percentage of improvement during the contest period. Prizes will be awarded by the County Home Demonstration Council to the contestants making the most improvement this year.

"This is the third Kitchen Contest put on in New Castle County," continues Mrs. Daugherty, "and many attractive and convenient kitchens have been the result. However, this is the first Living Room Contest put on in the State, and great interest is being manifest by the 200 club members of the county as well as by the participants."

PREPARE FOR YOUR 1931 FLOWER GARDEN NOW

Merely thinking about the flower garden does not produce blooms nor provide bouquets, but planning is necessary before the garden becomes a reality.

Charles K. Hallowell, Philadelphia County agent, urges all who are planning to have a flower garden to order their seeds and plants early. Orders which arrive late at the seed house or nursery cannot be filled as promptly as the early requests, and sometimes the supply of desired types of plants or kinds of seed are exhausted by the earlier demands.

Plant food requirements also must be met. Bonemeal, one of the oldest fertilizers, is applied at the rate of one-quarter pound to the square yard. It adds two of the principal elements, nitrogen and phosphorus, to the garden soil. Superphosphate, another well-known plant food, which adds phosphorus, is applied at the same rate. Ammonium sulphate and sodium nitrate, both carriers of nitrogen, are applied in a much smaller ration. One ounce of either in the dry form per square yard is sufficient. In the liquid form two teaspoonfuls in three gallons of water, applied with a sprinkling can, to each square yard will suffice. Unleached wood ashes, which contain potassium, another essential element, can be applied at the rate of one-quarter pound to each square yard.

Stable manures contain all three of the important fertilizing elements. For best results they are applied in the fall, but in well-decomposed condition they will give good results if used early enough in the spring.

Buying new garden tools and accessories or repairing old ones is another preparatory measure which should not be overlooked. Some of the perennial plants may need division. Preparations for combating insects and diseases also should be made.

Good garden books, periodicals, catalogues, experiment station bulletins and circulars contain a storehouse of information which will help the amateur to grow a better flower garden in 1931 than he has ever had before.

NEWARK SCHOOL NOTES

Written by Students of the Newark School

Prospects of The Newark Senior High School

By Thomas Foster

The outlook for a very successful spring season is seen hidden in every nook and corner around school. A new system of student government has been introduced and is well under way, as a president has been chosen, and the co-operation of the home-room presidents and committees, along with the student body spells sure success. The first semester exams are over and school functions are beginning to get into full swing again; student expressions show a sigh of relief as do the faces of instructors, also, after tireless hours of grading. Parties are advocated for several nearby occasions, and the seniors are getting excited over their play, which has been selected and for the enactment of which preparations are rapidly getting under way. The basketball teams are having a successful season and the participants are headed toward another championship. There will be many of Newark's amateurs out again for baseball which will surely put another banner of state victory in our collection mounted in the library. The new building is fast beginning to take shape and will be ready for the accommodation of next year's pupils. The books in the library are becoming more numerous, and it will not be long until all the shelves are filled with books of all phases of instructive, interesting, and advantageous reading. Come and pay us a visit. Any student would be glad to show you around the buildings and give you some information about our school.

Primary School Assembly

The third grade presented a program at the Primary Assembly, Wednesday, February 11. Miss Genevieve Meixell acted as chairman.

The primary school sang, "America the Beautiful."

The third grade girls gave a play entitled, "The Story of the Flag." In the play they tell how our flag was made in the beginning and what colors were used and what they stand for. They tell us that the prettiest colors to use are in the sky, or our flag is in the sky.

A play entitled "February Days" was presented by the following characters:

The Bear of Candlemas, Alfred Maclary; The Shovel, Robert Stafford; Cupid, William Merrick; Hatchel, Robert Kennard; Cherry, Dorothy Zimmers; Longfellow's Book, Margaret Dean; The Other Days, Charles Rose, Alfred Wilson, Earl Cregg, Roger Attick, Bill Northrup, Law McCabe, Leroy Reynolds, John Waldridge.

The program closed with the singing of "Our Flag," by the third grade.

Mr. William K. Gillespie and Mr. Charles Boone are enrolled in the extension work of the University of Pennsylvania. These courses are offered in the City of Wilmington. Mr. Leon K. Buehler is enrolled in the courses at the University of Pennsylvania which meet Saturdays.

The Lincoln's birthday assembly of the Junior High School was in charge of Mr. Miller. The Life of Lincoln was summarized by Robert Hancock, in which he told of "this patient, kind, foreseeing man, the first American." A very effective part of the program was the participation of the Newark Troop of Boy Scouts. Twenty of these scouts participated, each giving a part of the scout code, and ending with the scout oath, in unison. Their part in the program was very effective, both from the viewpoint of celebrating the twenty-first birthday anniversary of the Boy Scouts of America and from the viewpoint of the close correlation of the Life of Lincoln and the Spirit of the Boy Scouts of America.

The Senior High School Assembly on Thursday, in charge of Miss Anna Gallaher, placed emphasis on the 122nd anniversary of the birth of Abraham Lincoln. Alice Sullivan, in a series of character sketches presented some of the outstanding characteristics of Lincoln, which have made of him such a great national and international figure.

The sympathetic Lincoln was portrayed by Ivy Sommermeier. Among the outstanding incidents which she brought to the attention of the assembly was the Lincoln letter to Mrs. Bixby. The Bixby letter of Lincoln has long since been regarded as one of the world's classics and a letter in which the true Lincoln was seen and appreciated.

The Primary School planned a special assembly on Lincoln with Mrs. Palmer as chairman.

Short stories about the Life of Lincoln were presented by Raymond Ewing, Elsie Blake, Bruce Rankin, Jane Armstrong, Bettie Pie, Holton Hurlock, Eleanor Powell, Marguerite Rittenhouse, Eugene Monahan, Stella Korweck, George Trout and Ann Richards.

The chairman of the assembly was Katherine Weimer.

The Second Grade sang "Our Flag" as the closing number.

HIRAM LODGE MEETS

Hiram Lodge No. 25, A. F. and A. M., was visited Tuesday night by the Grand Master and his staff of the Grand Lodge of Delaware. More than 100 members of the lodge and guests were present.

The American Attitude

Claiming that America is epitomized on the part of the English, French, and Germans by a greed for money, gross materialism and religious absurdities, Carlo Bos, Italian Commissioner and Secretary, Chinese Maritime Customs of Shanghai, writing in a current magazine, makes a plea for national appraisals on the basis of sum-total contributions.

"It is only by taking nations as a whole, by studying their history and the sum of their contributions towards science and civilization that we get a fairly satisfactory picture of human gifts and shortcomings. Nevertheless," says Mr. Bos, "even with these fragmentary picturesque manifestations of the Yankee mind, Europe and indeed the other continents are studying American Babbity, jazz music and philanthropy, gum-chewing and architecture, negro dances and other things good and bad that go to make up the so-called 'Americanism.' Everybody criticizes and everybody imitates.

"Everyone observes the effects of this 'Americanism' with a sentiment made up of curiosity, contempt, amazement, and admiration; and also with fear, for this American attitude towards life is fatally transforming old Europe for better or worse. The machine which created the American mentality is gradually doing to England, Germany, Italy, France, and Russia exactly what it has done to America. The same forces, released by science, which have introduced America to the machine-age and moulded the mental outlook of the Americans, is producing the same inescapable effects in Europe.

"The problem of arriving at world peace by understanding and good-will between the nations has been hitherto the preoccupation of scholars, idealists, and diplomats. It has now passed into the hands of the practical man of affairs. So let us be intelligently consistent and convince ourselves that every people or race has its good and bad points, but not a single one has the divine right of looking down upon others in a delusion of grandeur."

Indeed when one goes back into racial origins he is impressed with the fact that there is no single racial purity. Progress has appeared where mixture of bloods has occurred. This seems to give evidence that there is no superiority of race, for if one race were entirely inferior to another this admixture of bloods would have proved disastrous long ago.

A most alluring picture has been drawn of the biological and sociological factors underlying the propagation of a world peace, by a simple analysis of the lack of racial purity, citing as example the studies being made in Hawaii where, in ten different waves of immigration, the original Polynesian stock has become overwhelmed and absorbed in the greatest racial pot-pourri on earth. Thus basically there can exist no exclusiveness, and patriotism while essential is actually evolving on an international plane, for as Victor Hugo says: "To love our country is only the first half of our duty; to love humanity is the other half."

Isn't This the Truth?

Recognizing the fact that people cannot be legislated into either prosperity or perfection, the State Chamber of Commerce of California met the issue created by new and restrictive laws by adopting a brief, but comprehensive resolution which if inwardly digested by the Legislature will go far in aiding restoration of public confidence, while permitting the business world to speedily find its way back to a sane and normal status without hazardous adventuring into the by-paths and blind alleys which freak and unnecessary legislation create.

This resolution, which sets a new and stimulating corrective standard, reads: "Whereas, government can aid best by giving business, agriculture and industry encouragement and opportunity to facilitate their operations and get back on their feet, and,

"Whereas, one of the handicaps under which business and industry labor during a legislative year is the fear of new and restrictive laws, therefore

"Be it resolved, by the directors of the California State Chamber of Commerce, that they hereby appeal to the members of the California State Legislature and other law-making bodies that during this year they refrain from making laws which would add to the difficulty or expense of carrying on business, agriculture and industry, and in this way help business and industry in their effort to restore normal conditions in a normal way and provide employment without building a burden of public debt."

The only code that humanity needs, as a matter of practice, is the Golden Rule. All legislation ought to square with that. When all legislation does square with it, legislation will really be law.

Instead of enacting more laws, Legislatures ought to start repealing, codifying and simplifying.

EASING UP ON THE MOTORIST

Automotive activities, nowadays, signify more than pleasure. Motoring, in its broad sense, is no longer confined to the realm of luxury, as it once was. The motor car has become a very definite factor in our business life. Nor is it confined to big business. It has become a very important aid in earning a livelihood for many persons in moderate circumstances, as well as some of affluence.

There was a time when it was, perhaps, the proper thing to exact "luxury" taxes from owners of automobiles. But that time has passed; too many motor vehicles are in the "necessity" category and too many owners really are not able to stand taxation beyond just public requirements.

So it is well to consider the motorist, as a class, in the light of the latter angle, and when it comes to taxing him because he owns or drives a car, it ought to be an equitable business proposition, from his viewpoint as well as that of the State.

This obviously is the position taken by the Legislature in passing, as it has done, a bill reducing the operator's license fee from $3 to $1.50. Governor C. Douglass Buck, it will be recalled, in his message to the Legislature, proposed a reduction, suggesting that the rate be lowered to $2. However, as the Legislature considers $1.50 the right amount, we are inclined to agree with its judgment.

This is a good start toward lightening the load of the motorist. If it is possible to do more, say, for example, in the matter of taxing the cars, we hope that will be done.—Every Evening.

LINCOLN ON THE CONSTITUTION

Let every American, every lover of liberty, every well-wisher to his posterity, swear by the blood of the Revolution, never to violate in the least particular the laws of the country, and never to tolerate their violation by others. As the patriots of 'seventy-six' did to the support of the Declaration of Independence, so to the support of the Constitution and the Laws let every American pledge his life, his property, and his sacred honor; let every man remember that to violate the law is to trample on the blood of his father, and to tear the charter of his own and his children's liberty. Let reverence for the laws be breathed by every American mother to the lisping babe that prattles on her lap. Let it be taught in schools, in seminaries, and in colleges. Let it be written in primers, spelling-books, and in almanacs. Let it be preached from the pulpit, proclaimed in legislative halls, and enforced in courts of justice. And, in short, let it become the political religion of the nation.

—ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

LINCOLN'S SPY IN CIVIL WAR STILL LIVING

Called "The Flea" by War-Time President; Relates Amusing Story

IS 92 YEARS OLD

"The Flea" so called by President Abraham Lincoln because of his ability to move quickly as a spy for the Union forces during the Civil War, still lives.

He is Jason H. Edgerly, 92 years old resident of Blue Island, Ill., whose store of anecdotes of the Emancipator was added to the long list recounted with the approach each year of the anniversary of Lincoln's birth. Thursday will mark the one hundred and twenty-second anniversary.

It was after he had stolen the Willow Creek battle plans "from under the nose of Robert E. Lee" Edgerly said, that Lincoln gave him the nickname of "The Flea." Secretary of State Seward had doubted the authority of Lee's signature on the plan, so Lincoln called Edgerly in for a conference.

"Did you ever try to put your finger on a flea?" Lincoln is quoted as asking Seward—"to find he wasn't there. That's the way with my man. He got these plans and immediately wasn't there."

When Confederate General Early started his four day attack on the City of Washington, Edgerly said he escorted Lincoln in an examination of defenses. Lincoln was curious, he said. He stood boldly on the fortifications looking out toward the Confederate lines. Cannon shot fell near him.

"Get down from there Mr. Lincoln," Edgerly said he advised. "They have our range. Get down and let me watch."

"Lincoln said something about my life being as sweet to me as his to him, but right then a minnie ball hit between his feet.

"Get down, Mr. Lincoln," Edgerly said he yelled and reached up to help the President.

"All right," Lincoln is quoted as answering, "I will."

V. F. W. AUXILIARY TO MEET

LADIES OF GOLDEN EAGLE HOLD CARD PARTIES

The "Add-A-Member" 500 Club, of the ladies of the Golden Eagle have made a good start and have held two meetings the past week. Their first meeting was at the home of Mrs. M. F. McAllister on Friday of last week, and the second meeting at the home of Mrs. Wesley Ewing on Tuesday of this week. Prizes were awarded and a delightful lunch served. Quite a few members were added at the second meeting and more are hoped for when Mrs. William Astle will hold the club meeting Tuesday afternoon of next week at her home, 28 Cleveland avenue.

PYTHIAN SISTERS TO GIVE PARTY

Friendship Temple No. 6, Pythian Sisters, will hold a Valentine party on Friday evening, February 13, for members after the regular business session. All members are requested to be present.

DELAWARE-N. J. BRIDGE PLANS ARE DROPPED

Unfavorable Attitude of Pennsylvania Representatives Kill Hopes

MAY COME UP LATER

Chance for enactment of legislation at this session of Congress to authorize the construction of the proposed Wilmington-New Jersey bridge, has passed, it is believed.

Representative Robert G. Houston, author of the pending bill, conferred with Chairman Parker of the Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee, and also with individual members of the committee with a view to obtaining a hearing on his bill at this session of Congress, but was unsuccessful in obtaining any encouragement.

On the other hand, it was learned that Mr. Parker would probably grant a hearing to Philadelphia interest, who so far have been successful in blocking the bill.

Two years ago, the same interest backed by the chief of Engineers of the War Department and also by the Navy Department waged a successful fight against the bill before the committee. However, due to the determined fight put up by Representatives Houston and Wolverton of New Jersey, it was lost only by the narrow margin of 11 to 10.

Representative Houston pointed out that since the committee ordered a favorable report on the San Francisco bridge, the Wilmington project had been placed in much stronger position.

Mr. Houston explained that if he is successful in obtaining a favorable report of the measure, it would go on the consent calendar. One objection from the floor would kill it for the present session, however, and then he would have to start over again. In the bill is not reported now he will re-introduce it in December.

He explained further that when the subject comes up again, the Navy Department and the chief of Engineers is expected to renew objection. The department contends that the construction of such a bridge would be a menace to the Philadelphia Navy Yard. Navy officials at the last hearing were emphatic in their opposition to the project.

Those in this State interested in the pending bill have been unable to see the necessity for a hearing for Philadelphia interest, in view of the fact that Mr. Parker expected to bring the matter up for consideration at this session of Congress.

The fate of the bill in the Senate also is threatened, it being known that Senator David A. Reed, of Pennsylvania, is prepared to object to its adoption should the Senate Commerce Committee report it.

From a general check up this week, it is extremely doubtful if any action whatever, will be taken on the bridge proposition by the present Congress.

THREE AUTO ACCIDENTS MAIN STREET SATURDAY

Three automobile accidents occurred on Main street last Saturday afternoon and evening. These accidents, while all were caused by cars sliding on the slick streets, were directly attributed to double parking of other automobiles. The accidents were caused by the lines of traffic attempting to come to a stop back of some car that was parked double, and then skidding and sliding into each other on the snow-covered street.

BLUE AND GOLD WIN FAST GAME FROM P. M. C. FIVE

Gain 37 to 22 Verdict Over Strong Invading Team; Roman Stars

SWIM MEET SATURDAY

The University of Delaware basketball team came through with another victory on their home floor Tuesday night when they defeated P. M. C., by a score of 37 to 22, for their sixth win out of ten games in the current season.

The game was hard and fast throughout. Before two minutes of playing the Delaware aggregation realized that it was up against one of the toughest teams it will have to do business with this year.

P. M. C. scored early and led by 7 to 2 during the first five minutes. A spectacular demonstration by Captain Johnny Roman brought the Blue and Gold from behind and kept them in the lead until the finish. With Delaware playing a defensive game, Roman suddenly broke loose and scored three field goals in one minute of play to put the Mudhenners ahead where they remained for the rest of the game.

It was one of the most sensational demonstrations of mastery floor work and shooting ever witnessed on the local floor.

Roman scored a total of 12 points on six field goals and was high man for Delaware. Leaky at forward also did good work, again demonstrating his speed and mastery of passing. He tallied ten points on three field goals and four foul shots. Kaufman also proved a valuable point getter for Delaware, snaring three field goals and two fouls for a total of eight points.

In the preliminary game, Beacom's Business College, of Wilmington, defeated the Jay Vees 51-27 in the best preliminary game here this season.

On Friday night Stevens of Hoboken will be Delaware's opponents in the local gymnasium. It has been some years since Stevens was on the Delaware schedule although in past years the Blue and Gold met Stevens almost annually in both basketball and football.

Coach Bardo is working his swimming squad hard this week to get them in shape for the meet here Saturday night with Carnegie Tech of Pittsburgh. This will be the first swimming meet since the mid-year exams and the team looks to be in the best possible condition.

This will be the last swimming meet at home until February 25, when Lafayette will be here and City College of New York here on February 27. On Saturday night of next week the Blue and Gold swimming team goes to Williamsburg, Va., to meet William and Mary.

Delaware has two basketball games scheduled at home for next week, Swarthmore on Tuesday night of next week and Mt. St. Mary's on Saturday night of next week.

Investigating Reindeer

The production of reindeer, although a promising industry in Alaska, is not suited to conditions in any part of the United States. Reindeer grazing is limited to the Arctic and Subarctic regions. The bureau of biological survey is making detailed investigations regarding the food resources of Alaska suited to these animals; also of the management practices that are most successful, and of the diseases and parasites of reindeer.

NOTED SITES IN VIRGINIA ARE MADE SHRINES

Yorktown, Williamsburg, Among Spots Being Improved

FOR CELEBRATION

Historic centers in Virginia, honoring the battle scars of the birth of a nation, which will be preserved by the government.

Rich in the lore of colonial and revolutionary shrines have been proclaimed a national monument by President Hoover to guard their wealth.

The Colonial National Monument, as the area is to be known lies within the few miles between Jamestown Island, the first settlement, and the Yorktown battlefield, where Cornwallis surrendered.

Williamsburg, the old capital of colonial Virginia, where John D. Rockefeller has spent hundreds of thousands in restoring the pre-revolutionary buildings, is the center of the memorial.

A wide, smooth highway will link the island with Williamsburg, and Williamsburg with Yorktown. Across the York river from Yorktown, a Gloucester Point, made part of the monument.

The southern half of Jamestown Island is the beginning of the monument. The heart of Williamsburg, which are grouped the old buildings, and the eastern half of Yorktown, with the surrounding battlefield area, from the rest.

Director Horace M. Albright of the national park service, in charge of the project, says he expects to expedite all work through co-operation with Virginia State groups.

Virginia plans to signalize the memorial proclamation in its Yorktown sesquicentennial celebration next October. The park service is joining in plans for this event.

Cost estimates for the property vary. Upward of $500,000 is expected to be spent by the government, while Virginians may spend an equal if not larger amount before the monument passes directly under control of the government.

PYTHIAN SISTERS ATTEND MEETING AT CLAYTON

A large delegation of Pythian Sisters of Friendship Temple, No. 6, motored to Clayton on Wednesday evening, February 4, when Friendship Temple presented the traveling gavel to Liberty Temple No. 9.

The game was presented in a handsome basket of flowers accompanied by the New Testament, which travels with it, also the emblems from each Temple. The officers were all dressed in white and wore large crepe paper hats to represent the colors of the different stations. The M. E. C. from Friendship Temple presented the gavel to the M. E. C. of Liberty Temple, with a very fitting address to which the M. E. C. of Liberty Temple responded with a beautiful reply.

There were more than a hundred visitors present from different Temples. A very pleasing address was given by Supreme Representative Max Simpson, of Wilmington, after which refreshments were served and a social hour spent.

On Monday evening, February 2, a bus load of thirty members from various Temples motored to Delmar, where they were the guests of Delaware Temple No. 7, about a hundred were present they also held installation of officers after which delicious refreshments were served and a very social time spent.

FACTS TO NOTE IN FILING INCOME TAX STATEMENTS

All net income up to $5,000, whether actually earned or not, is considered earned income for the purpose of the 25 per cent credit. However, 25 per cent of returns are received showing and of returns are received showing net income in excess of $5,000, part of which was earned income and part of which was not earned. Following is an example of how to compute correctly the tax on such a return.

A taxpayer, married and with six dependents, received in 1930 a salary of $4,000, and from a real estate transaction made a net profit of $4,000. His personal exemption is $3,500. The tax rate is 1-1/2 per cent on the first $4,000 in excess of such exemption, and 3 per cent on the remainder:

Net income	$8,000
Less personal exemption	3,500
Balance, taxable income	4,500
1 1/2 per cent on first $4,000	60
3 per cent on the remaining $500	15
Total tax	75

But of the $8,000 net income, $5,000 is considered as earned net income. From $5,000, therefore, is deducted the personal exemption of $3,500, leaving the remaining $1,500 at 1-1/2 per cent amounting $22.50. Deduct one-fourth of $22.50, or $5.62, from $75, leaving payable a tax of $69.37.

CARD PARTY

Friendship Temple No. 6, Pythian Sisters, will hold a public card party on Friday evening, February 27, in Fraternal Hall.

Norris Covington spent the week-end in New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Handloff returned last Friday from a motor trip to Florida.

Mrs. Howard Leak has returned from a trip to several cities in Pennsylvania.

Miss Jane Eissner and Bobby Eissner are both confined to their home with grip.

Little Mark Snook, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Snook, of near Landenberg, is recovering from a recent operation for appendicitis in the Delaware Hospital in Wilmington.

The Sigma Nu Fraternity of the University of Delaware, entertained at a house party Saturday night. Miss Amy Rextrew, of the faculty of the Women's College was the patroness.

The music was furnished by Steubers orchestra from Wilmington. There were several alumni back for the affair including Joseph Cherpak, Allen Frier, Newt Edwards, Vance Mendin-hall, Happy Howe and Oscar Morris.

Following the Junior Prom the usual round of fraternity dances were held last night. Every house on campus entertained at a house dance. Chief among guests at these affairs were the returning alumni who were present in large numbers.

The Newark Chapter of the W. C. D. Alumnae will meet with Miss Anne Gallaher on Monday evening, February 16, at 7:30 P. M. Miss Harriett Bailey will give an interesting talk. A full attendance is desired.

Mrs. John Barrow of Perry Point, Md., is under observation in a Baltimore hospital. Mrs. Barrow was the former Grace Merrick of Newark.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Farro of Cleveland avenue are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son, Jackie, on Monday morning.

CLEAN-UP DAY—WED. FEB. 18

NO LIARS ALLOWED IN CAMBRIDGE CLUB

Nobody is going to make a speech liable to cause international complications or be accused of repeating hearsay at any of the sessions of a newly created club of representative men of Cambridge, Md., if the by-laws of the infant organization are obeyed, for "nothing but the truth" is to be the slogan of the Old Guards' Club, of which Andrew J. Foble is the first president.

Though the clubhouse, just acquired on Poplar street, will be open six days in the week, night sessions, except on Saturday, are barred. Members are admonished to stay at home with their families on all other nights or take their wives out. Club members will be privileged to criticize all public projects and speak their minds openly on all other subjects, both in public addresses and private discussions, but will be required to keep strictly to the truth.

Another requirement of members is that all bragging and boasting be eliminated from public and private discourse and any member found claiming achievements which are not founded on the literal facts will be placed on trial before a jury composed of club members and, if found guilty of misrepresentation, will be expelled from the club.

CLEAN-UP DAY—WED. FEB. 18

H. L. CROAK HEADS ELKTON CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Harry L. Croak, president of the Elkton Supply Company, was selected to lead the activities of the Elkton Chamber of Commerce for the ensuing year at the annual meeting Tuesday evening. The following board of directors were elected, F. duPont Thomson, Standley Evans, Dr. J. T. Trone, Harry C. Marsh, Harry W. Pippin, John M. McCool, William C. Feehley, Douglas J. Ayerst, William Fowler, August Robinson, Robert J. McCauley, Franklin A. Alexander, John W. McCool, Jr., Harry L. Croak, and John H. Minster.

Mr. Croak was chosen president, Mr. Alexander, vice-president; Mr. Robinson, secretary, and Mr. McCauley, treasurer.

CONDIFICO DEFEATS TOME

Condifco defeated Tome in two games during the past week. Last Friday night in the Newark Armory by the score of 20-6, while the local girls were also victorious, 26-20.

Last night on the Port Deposit court the locals again won in a close game, 23-19. The girls were defeated, 40-20.

Condifco closes their home season next Friday night, February 20, in the Newark Armory, playing the Middle-town DeMolay Club, while the girls will oppose the strong New Castle H. S. team.

GRAND MASTER MARRS TO VISIT NEWARK I. O. O. F.

An official visit to his home lodge by William A. Marrs, Grand Master of the Sovereign Grand Lodge, State of Delaware, I. O. O. F., will feature the meeting of the Newark Lodge tonight. A number of the other members of the Grand Lodge are expected to attend also, including Deputy Grand Master Outten, of Laurel.

The Newark Lodge is planning to make the meeting tonight a gala affair. Invitations to members of other lodges have been extended, and a number of acceptances have been received.

On Monday evening, Mr. Marrs and his staff went to Felton for an official visit. The Felton lodge is building a new hall to replace the one destroyed by fire some time ago.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear daughter, Helen, who died February 10, 1930.

Our lips cannot tell how we miss you. Our hearts cannot tell what to say. God alone knows how we miss you. In a home that is lonely today. Sadly missed by Mamma and Papa. Mr. and Mrs. Samuel T. Stewart.

CLEAN-UP DAY—WED. FEB. 18

CENTURY CLUB ENJOYS PROGRAM OF MUSIC

The weekly meeting of the Newark New Century Club was held Monday in charge of Miss Nell Wilson, who had planned several musical entertainments, but owing to the bad weather some of the selections had to be postponed until another meeting. Those who entertained were: Mrs. Beery and Mrs. Reese Griffin, who sang two duets, "Last Night" and "Down South." Miss Sarah Hinkle, a member of the faculty of the Newark high school, entertained with several piano numbers. Mrs. Beery sang a solo, "Love Brings a Little Gift of Roses." There were quite a few members absent, some being ill and others being absent because of the weather.

SCHUSTER ISSUES CIRCULAR ON EMERGENCY PASTURES

G. L. Schuster, Agronomist at University of Delaware has prepared an Emergency Pasture circular. Prof. Schuster states that, "The extreme dry summer of 1930 has resulted in a great loss of fall pasture. This has resulted in early fall feeding of much hay and fodder and has reduced the supply for spring feeding. The rainfall for last September, October, November and December was 56 per cent of normal. Pastures have been closely grazed and have very little reserve. Unless there is abundant early spring rains the pasture situation will be more critical than last season."

The present condition of permanent pastures and the loss of new pasture seedings make it necessary to provide emergency pastures and to give the permanent pastures all the care possible.

The circular gives information as to crops that may be seeded for emergency pasture and suggests methods of caring for permanent pastures. It will be off the press in a few days and will be mailed to anyone upon request.

COOCH'S BRIDGE CHAPTER NAMES D. A. R. DELEGATES

Miss Ruth A. Kinsey, president of the Cooch's Bridge Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, was elected delegate to represent the organization at the National Conference of the D. A. R. to be held in Washington in April. The election took place at a regular meeting of the organization at the home of Mrs. Harvey Steele, of Glasgow, Monday afternoon.

Mrs. McKinsey presided at the meeting which was largely attended. Alternates elected to attend the National Conference were: Mrs. J. Pierce Cann, Miss Agnes Frazer, Mrs. Ernest Frazer, Mrs. A. W. Moore, Mrs. Harvey Steele, Mrs. Arthur Beals, Mrs. Harry Garrett, Mrs. Etta Todd, Mrs. James Smith and Mrs. Amanda G. Hazel.

Mrs. Ernest Frazer was appointed chairman of the nominating committee, for the election of officers for the coming year.

FAMILY FOOD GUIDE

Every meal—Milk for children, bread for all.

Every day—Cereal in porridge or puddings, potatoes, tomatoes (or oranges) for children; a green or yellow vegetable, a fruit or additional vegetable, milk for all.

Two to four times a week—Tomatoes for all, dried beans and peas or peanuts, eggs (especially for children); lean meat, fish or poultry, or cheese.

Practical working budgets for families with annual incomes ranging from $1250 to $2550 have been collected recently by the Bureau of Home Economics, U. S. Department of Agriculture in co-operation with the Woman's Division of the President's Emergency Committee for Employment.

The bureau has found that the budgets developed by different organizations throughout the country were designed, in the majority of cases, to fit the needs of the average or census family which includes a father, mother, and three children. However, a few spending plans are available for families of two, three, and four, with incomes ranging from $1341 to $2251. These budgets are now ready for distribution to the public.

The allowances for food, clothing, shelter, operating expenses, and saving have been carefully calculated in the several budgets recommended by the bureau, in the opinion of Dr. Faith Williams of the bureau. The present employment emergency and the far reaching effects of the drought have reduced many family incomes far below their former levels and careful budgeting is needed to meet demands, she says.

"One budget for a family of five with an income of $1525 a year has proved especially helpful to the many families who have used it," Doctor Williams declares. "The food allowance for the year is $638.88. School lunches are $14.80 and rent is $318.00. The clothing for the family is as follows: Father, $55.00; mother, $45.00; son, 14 years old, $40.00; daughter, 12 years old, $43.00; baby, 3 years old, $17.00, and upkeep of clothes is quoted at $16.00.

"The sum set aside for furniture is $41.70 and for insurance $28.50. Operating expenses, which include fuel, light, transportation, school supplies, and miscellaneous, amount to $163.77. Leisure time activities have not been overlooked. Six dollars and sixteen cents has been allowed for the daily newspaper, $12.00 for church or Sunday School, and $56.47 for recreation. Health is allotted $8.52 for the year and savings, $26.00. The total comes to $1524.90 which permits of a monthly expenditure of $127.09."

These figures apply to conditions in Cincinnati, Ohio, in January, 1931, and were prepared by the League of Women Voters of that city.

The money set aside for food in this budget is more than that which is being recommended by the bureau for the present emergency situation, Doctor Williams points out. If a family of five chooses to follow the food guide recently developed by the bureau—a diet which is entirely adequate from the standpoint of vitamins, minerals, and calories—the food allowance can be reduced to $331.76 a year. This figure is an average, collected in 14 leading cities throughout the country, from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast.

The most recent retail food quotations, gathered by the bureau during the last week in January indicates that the cost is tending downward. The average cost is $6.55 for filling a week's market basket for a family of five—as outlined below. Pittsburgh is the least expensive with a price of $5.88 and New York City is $7.08. The other cities in which the prices were obtained are listed as follows: Detroit, $6.23; Chicago, $6.31; St. Louis, $6.33; Los Angeles, $6.37; Philadelphia, $6.39; Kansas City, Mo., $6.54; Dallas, $6.55; Charlotte, N. C., $6.62; Boston, $6.74; Washington, D. C., $6.89; New Orleans, $6.91; Atlanta, $6.97.

A Family Of Five

Including father, mother and three children should buy every week:

Flour and cereal (1 1-2 lbs. bread equivalent 1 lb. cereal), 17-24 lbs.; whole fresh milk, 23-28 qts.; or canned unsweetened milk, 23-28 tall cans; potatoes, 15-29 lbs.; dried beans, peas, peanut butter, 1-2 lbs.; tomatoes, fresh or canned or citrus fruit, 6 lbs.; other vegetables (including some of green or yellow color), and inexpensive fruits, 15-18 lbs.; fats, such as lard, salt pork, bacon, margarine, butter, etc., 2 1-2 lbs.; sugar and molasses, 3 lbs.; lean meat, fish, cheese, eggs (1 doz. eggs approximates 1 lb.), 5-7 lbs.; eggs, (for children), 8 each; coffee, 1 lb.; tea, 1-4 lb.

MENU

Breakfast

Cooked cereal with raisins
Coffee (for adults) Milk (for children)

Dinner

Vegetable Loaf with Tomato Sauce
Baked Potatoes Graham Bread
Raw Cabbage Salad
Cocoa for all

Supper

Quick Turnip Soup
Corn Bread
Apple Sauce with Lemon
Tea (for adults) Milk (for children)
Vegetable Loaf

3 tablespoons melted butter or fat
2 cups soft bread crumbs
1 cup chopped cooked celery
1 cup diced cooked carrots
1 cup cooked or canned peas, or string beans
1/4 cup chopped nuts
4 tablespoons liquid from cooked vegetables
2 eggs, beaten
1 teaspoon salt
Pepper

Mix the fat with the bread crumbs, and reserve about 1-4 cup for the outside of the loaf. Mix together all the ingredients, form into a loaf on a sheet of greased paper, cover the surface with the crumbs, place on a rack in an uncovered pan, and bake in a moderate oven for 30 minutes. The loaf should be hot through and the crumbs golden brown. Serve with tomato sauce.

Plain Tomato Sauce

2 cups canned tomatoes
1 bay leaf
1/2 to 3/4 teaspoon salt
2 all spice
1 teaspoon sugar
2 slices onion
2 cloves
1/2 teaspoon pepper

Cook the ingredients for 10 minutes. Strain through a fine sieve. Measure the liquid. For each cup of liquid allow 2 tablespoons flour and 2 tablespoons butter. Melt the butter, and the flour and when they are thoroughly blended add the seasoned tomato juice and stir until thickened. Place over hot water for 5 to 10 minutes. Serve hot with croquettes or meat loaf.

Quick Turnip Soup

4 cups milk
2 cups grated raw turnip
1/4 teaspoons salt
1/2 teaspoon grated onion
1 tablespoon flour

2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1/4 teaspoon parsley, cut very fine
Heat the milk in a double boiler, add the flour and butter, which have been well blended, then the turnip, the onion, and the salt. Cook until the turnip is tender, or for about 10 minutes. Sprinkle the parsley in the soup just before serving.

With this soup, serve toasted cubes of bread or croutons. An easy way to make croutons is to spread slices of bread lightly with butter. Cut each slice into strips, then into cubes. Brown the cubes in the oven.

Corn Bread

2 cups corn meal
1/2 teaspoon soda
2 teaspoons baking powder
2 tablespoons melted fat
2 teaspoons salt
2 cups sour milk
2 eggs

Sift the dry ingredients and add the milk. Add the well-beaten eggs and the fat. Pour into a very hot well buttered pan. Bake from 40 to 50 minutes in a hot oven (400 to 425 degrees F.)

DR. W. E. BROWN BUYS ELKTON DRUG STORE

Dr. W. E. Brown, who for a number of years conducted a drug store in this town where the Rhodes Drug Store is now located, has purchased the Wells Drug Store in Elkton, and is now located there.

Dr. Brown is well known by many residents of Newark. After selling his interest in his store here, he moved to Florida and entered business there. His return to this part of the country is news that will be pleasantly received by his many friends here.

LIGHTNING IS WEAKER THAN POWER LINES

Bolt Measured in Arkansas Would Not Supply New York for a Second PICTURES TAKEN

The most powerful stroke of wild lightning ever measured by man would run New York City's power lines only half a second.

This stroke, 5,000,000 volts, was caught on an Arkansas electric line (between Camden, Ark., and South Magnolia) and its measurements in watts and amperes was reported to the American Institute of Electrical Engineers. It was trapped with photographic apparatus by Julius J. Torok of the Westinghouse Company, and Ralph E. Pittman, of the Arkansas Power & Light Company.

The figures bear out a statement of the electrical genius, the late Charles P. Steinmetz, that lightning is weak compared with the silent flow of power from man-made dynamos.

The 5,000,000 volt bolt equalled about 15,000,000 watts. Eighty times greater than this was the power which flowed over the lines of the New York Edison Company at 5 P. M. December 23, the hour of the highest peak load of 1930. The New York current then measured 1,247,800,000 watts.

Allowing for the time element, at least two and possibly considerably more lightning strokes per second would have been needed to run the city lines. This means from 120 to several hundred 5,000,000-volt strokes a minute, a noise fit to shake the city for miles.

The Arkansas lightning picture was taken with oscillographs, photographic devices which operated in millionths of seconds. The big shot sent between 100,000 and 160,000 amperes over four miles of power line. Its whole force was expended in about one six-thousandth of a second.

Delicate instruments showed that lightning striking very close to the lines had scarcely any effect, only direct hits being harmful.

them somewhat because it had to be separated from the yellow wealth and thrown out on the dumps—just like that.

Then electricity turned out to be something more than lightning to frighten nice old ladies into cashmere shawls and cattle under trees where they would be more likely to be injured. It came into use as a substitute for other forms of power—which is another entertaining thought, since nowadays any other kind of power is a substitute for electricity. Electrical research experts found platinum was the finest metal known for the purpose of make-and-break contacts and any connection requiring high conductivity with maximum wearing qualities. They began to use it and found it scarce. They still had to have it and it became precious.

Milady heard about this precious metal and demanded it for ring settings, watches and what-not. Any metal worth more than gold must be beautiful, of course. Such is fame in metals, even as rarity makes the orchid famous and beautiful. Verily the potato blossom, a pretty enough bloom, would be a courage favorite, if the potato were rare instead of common and culinary.

PLATINUM AND POTATO BLOOMS

Santiago de Chile reports that two Chileans have found on the Island of Chilhoe platinum deposits believed to be the richest yet discovered in the world. The despatch says the two were made very happy by the assay of ore, and this is interesting, though to be taken for granted, because only a few years ago, as time goes in a fast world, platinum was known but despised.

Platinum can now be very snooty with gold and get away with the behavior, but until late in the last century it was a thorn in the flesh of gold smelters, so to speak, and irked

THE FRIEND OF SINNERS

LESSON TEXT—Luke 7:36-50.
GOLDEN TEXT—This is a faithful and worthy of all acceptance, for Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners; of whom I am chief.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Jesus and Those Who Love Him

SECONDARY TOPIC—Jesus and Wrongdoers

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Jesus the Friend of Sinners

FOUNDED PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Jesus Transforming Sinners

THE PENITENT WOMAN'S ACT OF LOVE

I. The place (v. 37). It was in the house of Simon, the Pharisee, while Jesus was sitting at meat. When she came to Christ's visit in this home, she came to lay upon him her affections.

II. The act (v. 38). She washed Jesus' feet with her tears and wiped them with her hair. Through some means she had heard of the pardoning grace of Jesus Christ and God had opened her heart to receive Jesus as her personal Savior.

III. Who she was (v. 37). Her name is not given. There is no good ground for assuming that she was Mary Magdalene. The implication is that she was of a notoriously bad character.

IV. The Pharisee's Displeasure (v. 40). Simon felt scandalized by such a disrespectful act. He was a respectable man. For Jesus to tolerate such familiarity on the part of a woman of such evil repute greatly perplexed him. Though he believed in Jesus, he questioned within himself as to whether, after all, he was not mistaken. He reasoned if Jesus were a real prophet, he would have known the character of this woman and would have either withdrawn his feet from her or thrust her back with them; or if he knew her character, his tolerance of such familiarity proved that he was not a good man.

V. Jesus Teaches the Pharisee (v. 40-50). He taught him by means of the parable of a creditor and two debtors. It is to be noted that Jesus made it very clear that he not only knew the woman but knew Simon also.

VI. The common debt (v. 41). The woman was a sinner—so was Simon, though he was not the same kind of a sinner that she was. There were two debtors though the one owed ten times as much as the other. This is still representative of all sinners. The Bible declares all to be sinners, yet recognizes degrees of guilt. Full credit must be given to the man who is honest, virtuous, generous, and kind, yet such a life will not secure entrance into heaven. Much harm has been done by even evangelical preachers through failure to recognize the essential differences in human character. On the other hand, the Savior's words are a severe rebuke to the respectable Pharisees who are sitting in judgment against sinners of a lower type.

VII. The common insolvency (v. 42). "And when they had nothing to pay," Jesus freely granted the difference in the degree of the woman's sins and those of the Pharisee, but drove home to him the fact that they were both debtors and had nothing with which to pay (Rom. 3:23). As sinners we may quit our sinning and hate our sins but that does not make satisfaction for the sins of the past. What we have done is irrevocable—it has passed from our reach. Every transgression shall receive a just recompense of reward (Heb. 2:2). We must confess and acknowledge our insolvency and accept the kindness of Jesus Christ who bore our sins in his own body on the tree (1 Pet. 2:24).

VIII. The relation of forgiveness and law (v. 41-50). Simon's reluctant answer to Jesus' question showed that he was at the point of Jesus' teaching. In order to make his teaching concrete, Jesus turned to the woman, calling Simon's attention to what she had done in contrast to what he had done. Jesus had neglected to extend to her the common courtesies of a respectable guest, but this woman had lavished upon him her affections and gifts. The measure of one's love is determined by the measure of the appreciation of sins forgiven. The one most forgiven will love most. Frequently the worst sinners make the best saints.

IX. Become Like Him. The all-important thing is not to live apart from God, but as far as possible to be consciously with him. It must needs be that those who look into his face will become like him.—Charles H. Brent.

X. Pity. Pity is love mingling love drawn down by helplessness and want. Pity is love touched with sympathy, love moving and entering in our sorrow.—C. R. Spurgeon.

CAPITATION TAX OF $2 IS URGED BY P. S. DUPONT

Would Equalize Burden of Tax; 102,000 People Now Exempt in State

COLLECTIONS INCREASE

Perre S. duPont in a report of the State Tax Department submitted to Governor Buck last week renews his recommendation that a capitation tax of $2 be levied on every adult resident of the State for school purposes. Mr. duPont is State Tax Commissioner.

The report shows tax collections last year showed an increase of 41 per cent over the previous year.

Mr. duPont points out in his report that of the total number of taxables in Delaware about 17,000 persons are now taxed and 102,000 are exempt from taxation.

"For a purpose (support of the public schools) in which the exempt are far more interested than the taxed, a more reasonable and fair apportionment should apply," said Mr. duPont. "This leads to a renewed recommendation that a capitation tax be instituted in accordance with the State Constitution, requirement that now lacks observance in Wilmington.

"A tax of $2, about one-third or one-half that charged in the rural sections of adjoining townships of Pennsylvania, would amount to about ten per cent of the total to be raised from the income tax. The remaining 90 per cent would continue to be paid by 14 per cent of the taxables.

"In providing for an annual capitation tax of $2, the counties will be saved the expenses of collecting this tax but will continue to receive it." During 1930 Mr. duPont's office collected taxes totaling $7,055,488.04, which represents an increase of forty-one per cent, as compared to collections for the preceding year.

"No part of this increase," Mr. duPont said, "was due to increased tax rates and a very small portion to the collection of delinquent taxes. General prosperity throughout the United States as well as Delaware during the major portion of the income year of 1929 accounts for this large return of both the income and franchise taxes. The recession in values in the stock market in the last months of 1929 had no effect upon the revenue during 1930. In fact, taxable income in the State continued to increase for the entire year."

The total number of persons taxed under the Income Tax Law was 17,406, an increase of 259 or 1.5 per cent. The total number of corporations taxed under the Corporation Annual Franchise Tax was 33,966, an increase of 5,240 or 18.8 per cent over the previous year.

While the per dollar cost of last year's tax collections by the tax department is not set out in the report, the total of operating expenses for the year which is given indicates that Mr. duPont's office collected the $7,055,488.04 at a cost of slightly more than one and one-half cents per dollar.

The fact that State revenue from these taxes increased 41 per cent with a comparatively small increase in the number of taxables, again calls attention to the necessity of maintaining just laws clearly worded and fairly administered in order to serve the revenue required, Mr. duPont said.

RELIANCE ON THE PEOPLE

We are glad to see the President has courage enough to go straight to the water-power, politics back of the Senate's attack, in a statement truthful and caustic, says the New York Evening Post.

The people will "pass unerring judgment." It is part of our national faith that they will do so, whenever an issue is made clear to them.

In this case the President has made it clear.

He has turned to the use of a weapon that has been unused but ready to his hand at every crisis during these first troublous years of his administration.

We are rejoiced that he has discovered it at the moment when he is preparing to face a new Congress more evenly divided, more unstable and less definitely responsible than has ever been the case in the history of the Republic.

He will need it. So will the country at large.

May he continue to use it as bravely as he has done in resisting the Senate's attempted encroachment upon the constitutional rights of the Executive in the case of the Federal Power Commission.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR NEWS

Bad weather forced the absence from meeting of all but three of the Newark C. E. members on Sunday last. These three, Mrs. Hazel Wakeland, Miss Blanche Malcolm, Mr. Alvin Wakeland, attended what was to have been a Union meeting of the Newark and West C. E. Societies in the West Presbyterian Church, of Wilmington. Here Mr. Raymond Sharp led a meeting which in addition to the regular weekly topic, C. E. Week, stressed the History of Christian Endeavor.

Mr. Kent Preston will lead the Newark meeting on February 15. His topic will be "The Church as a Family."

EARLY CHICK TROUBLES

By Prof. H. D. Munroe

If the early baby chicks develop bowel trouble during the first three weeks, you may be sure that they have been chilled or over-heated—about five chances of chilling to one of over-heating.

If, during the first three weeks, the chicks are weak but do not show much signs of bowel trouble, you can be quite sure that you waited too long before feeding them, or that they have not had enough to eat. Lack of enough feeding boxes and no feed in these boxes are the most common causes of this trouble.

After the third week, crowding is probably the most common trouble. This condition shows up in several sizes of chicks, and results in te and tail picking and weak chicks. A crowded house never has enough hopper space.

Over-heating shows up more after the third week than ever before. As the chicks grow and get feathers, more ventilation and a lower temperature should be allowed.

Rickets or leg weakness will show up in a flock in three to five weeks if cod liver oil is not fed or if the birds are not allowed to get out into the sunlight. Most poultrymen neglect the feeding of green feed and this helps to develop unthrifty flocks.

The above mistakes develop a weakened condition in the flock which results in disease germs getting a hold on the birds. Coccidiosis is present in all flocks. It can be prevented from doing much damage by good management.

TWO YEARS' WAGES FAIR AMOUNT FOR MAN TO PAY BUYING A HOUSE

Paying two years' salary for the keys to his own home is sound economics for the American workingman, according to the Home Building and Home-Owning Committee of the United States Building and Loan League. This is the 1931 answer to the ancient question "How much shall a man pay for his home," based on a survey conducted among the League's nation-wide membership.

The questionnaire sent out by the committee asked estimates on capital costs of a home to be undertaken by families earning from $100 to $400 a month.

Answers from Honolulu and from cities from Portland, Me., to Portland, Ore., held that the head of the family might jingle the keys to his own $4000 home in pockets where the maximum receipts are $175 a month. This ratio, 1.9 times the annual income, held true between estimated home costs and salaries from $175 to $400 a month. For incomes of $100 and $150 a month, the average estimate of suitable home costs was 1.75 times the year's income.

These figures came from associations in towns of more than 20,000. Slightly lower estimates are reported from building and loan officials in smaller towns.

Simultaneously with the publication of the survey results, the Home Building and the Home Owning Committee of the League emphasized the need for every prospective home buyer to consult with experts in house financing before deciding on the capital cost of the home to be. Many of the replies to the questionnaire stated that too many personal factors entered into every individual case for any general estimate to be made.

"In many cases more than twice the year's income may be invested safely in a home," the committee members agree. "When a man is using his payments on his home as his plan of systematic savings, including that part of his budget set aside for savings as well as that set aside for shelter in the amount paid each month to a building and loan association, his home costs may reasonably be greater than those outlined here. The home owner should have assurance of steady employment where a home more costly in proportion to income is undertaken."

A majority of those answering the questionnaire claimed that families with incomes of less than $100 a month could afford homes on the installment plan if tastes did not run too high.

"All of the building and loan associations registering opinions plead that the circumstances and locality of the individual wishing to acquire a home must be considered before he can decide definitely how much to invest in it," says the Home Building and Home Owning Committee. "Six or seven factors which may vary with the particular case were listed as determinants in the all-important question of what shall a man give in exchange for his home.

The methods of financing the home loan, whether or not junior loans will be necessary and the method of purchase, whether upon a cash basis with first mortgage only or first and second mortgage, are also to be considered in the capital cost decision."

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of my dear son, Orlando Smith, who departed this life five years ago, February 6, 1926. Dearest son, how I miss you, Miss you more than tongue can tell; But in heaven I hope to meet you, There Jesus does all things well.

No one knows the silent heartaches Only those who have lost can tell; Of the grief that is borne in silence, For the one I loved so well. Sadly missed by his mother.

ART EXHIBIT AT UNIVERSITY OPEN TO PUBLIC

by Mabel Dwight; Thomas Handforth's "Leda" and Arnold Honnebeck's New York lithograph "Brooklyn Bridge."

The choice of distinctly American subjects is frequently commended by critics in this country as well as abroad. While subject per se seems less important to the American Federation of Arts than the manner in which the etcher carries on the fine traditions of his medium, many of the prints in the current exhibition are distinctly of the United States. "Happy" by William Auerback-Levy depicts one of the East Side, New York, types which this etcher delights to portray. This old fellow's happiness is an emotion which comes all too seldom to the slum dwellers of the metropolis, a wistful and quite different happiness from the light-hearted gaiety of those who have never known sorrow and poverty.

George Elbert Burr ("Evening, Navajo Country") devotes his work almost entirely to the American southwest, with its limitless expanse of arid land, its spectacular mountains and curious desert growths. Distinctively American too are the various interpretations of New York which provide infinite variety for the etcher. "Building a Babylon" by Martin Lewis gives an unusual nocturnal aspect of the city, in which lighted windows, searchlights and a strong flood-light out of the print make an interesting composition. Other New York subjects, "Hellgate Bridge," by Louis Lozowick and "Brooklyn Bridge" by Arnold Ronnebeck, led a writer at Carnegie Institute, Pittsburgh to say, "The etching with the delicate line, indefinite form and romantic atmosphere is gone and in its place has come the etching of strong line, powerful forms, realistic, clean cut scenes from a raw, bleak and intensely industrial civilization." But such an impression is completely offset by other prints in the exhibition which are equally expressive of the American scene.

The exhibition will be on view from February 19 to February 27 and is open daily to the public from 8.30 to 4.30. Sunday from 2.30 to 4.30.

PICTURE OF CAMPUS TO BE SHOWN AT ALUMNI DINNER

A. J. Taylor, chairman of the special committee in charge of arrangements for the program of the University of Delaware Alumni Association's Mid-Winter banquet, announced this week that another feature has been added to the program. This feature will be the showing of pictures, depicting scenes of beauty and interest at the University and on the campus. The annual banquet is to be held at the Hotel du Pont-Biltmore on Saturday evening, February 21.

The pictures will include various views of activities, the new and old buildings, members of the faculty and students and many of the institutions athletic activities also. The principal speaker at the banquet will be Major Ralph Sasse, head coach of the football team of the U. S. Military College, West Point, N. Y. He will talk on "Intercollegiate Athletics," and he will make special reference to collegiate football.

The banquet will start at 6:30. Former Congressman William H. Heald will be toastmaster and the Rev. C. W. Clash, rector of Immanuel P. E. Church will pronounce the invocation. Other prominent persons, including many members of the faculty of the University will be present and take part. A special committee has made the arrangements for the affair.

Mermaid

Members of Hockessin Grange, No. 4, were hosts to Newark Grange, No. 59, on Monday night, in the I. O. O. F. Hall at Hockessin.

Lewis Colmery, master of Hockessin, presided. Plans were made for Hockessin to entertain the New Castle County Pomona Grange on March 5. The committee on arrangements comprises: Mrs. Samuel Dennison, chairman; Miss Edith Flinn, Mrs. Estella Crossan, Taylor Flinn, Wilson T. Pierson and Laurence Colmery.

On February 23, Delaware Grange, No. 46, of Newport, will be the guest of Hockessin.

Mrs. H. S. Gabriel, lecturer of Newark, was in charge of the evening's program, which opened by group singing led by A. D. Cobb. A report of the recent Outlook Conference pertaining to agriculture, poultry and the dairy, was given by Ed William, Jr., county agent. Mrs. Kate Henley Daugherty conducted a "Rabbit and Hunter" game in which all participated. A one-act play was presented by the following cast: Mrs. Gabriel, Mrs. K. H. Daugherty, Mrs. A. D. Cobb, and Miss Miriam Newcombe. Refreshments were served.

A Valentine party was enjoyed following the business meeting of Harmony Grange, No. 12, on Monday evening. Mrs. Norman Klair was acting lecturer. In observance of Scout Week, three Boy Scouts, John L. Pierson, Harry Harrington, Jr., and John Askins, of Red Clay Troop, sang their Scout song, "Tramp, Tramp, Tramp." Mrs. L. H. Pennington read a poem, "A Valentine." Marvin Klair entertained with an accordion solo.

Three young women, Misses Emilie L. Mitchell, Amy T. Hicks and Mildred Dennison, read original poems and articles on their "Ideal Man," after which three young men, Steele Atwell, Ralph Klair and Lewis Springer, gave their ideas on "The Ideal Woman." A mail box filled with valentines of many shapes, sizes and colors, brought much merriment to all as the mail carriers, Mrs. R. M. Walker and Mrs. Kemper Pierson, delivered them to the members.

On Monday evening, February 23, a community covered dish supper will be held in the hall. Old-fashioned costumes will be the style of dress for that evening. Following the supper to be served at 6:30, games and a social hour will be enjoyed. The hospitality committee is arranging the affair.

The Missionary Society of White Clay Creek Presbyterian Church will be entertained for the February meeting at the home of Mrs. Walter Hammill, in Cranston Heights. The leader for the month's topic, "American Indians and Chosen," is Mrs. Samuel Johnston. The annual election of officers will be held.

Miss Elizabeth Dillon, the teacher of Fairview rural school, visited the Demonstration Schools at Georgetown.

Mrs. Elsie W. Stradley, teacher of Milford Cross Roads School, has been ill with the grip for the past few days. Her condition is improving and she expects to resume her school duties the latter part of the week.

Edwin Ball is confined to his home at Milltown suffering from sinus trouble.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Pennington spent Tuesday in Philadelphia.

The board would organize during May of this year. Members of the board shall serve without pay except actual expenses.

The State Board of Education is authorized to choose a reliable insurance company to enter into a contract to provide for the financial administration of the system.

Each member of the system shall pay five per cent of the salary to the insurance company. The State Board of Education shall pay the actual expenses for carrying transaction of the business of the system.

The pay of the members of 5 per cent of their salary will be deducted by the Boards of Education, colleges, university, etc.

A member may retire at the age of 60 under certain conditions and must retire at the age of 65. Upon retirement for age, the teacher shall receive an annuity equal to 2 per cent of the salary for each year of his service after July 1, 1931, and if a present teacher, 2 per cent of his average salary since July 1, 1921, multiplied by his number of completed years of service in Delaware after the age of 35 and prior to July 1, 1931.

Special arrangement is made in the case of Wilmington teachers where there is a pension system at this time. A member with 15 years service may be retired on account of disability. Provision is made to discontinue the Wilmington retirement system and merge it with the State system.

URGES CHECK ON IMMIGRATION

By W. H. DEAN, NEWARK

The present unemployment situation brings to mind the fact that quite a number of aliens are now working at work that would be gainful to citizens of the United States. It is so easy for a foreign-born person to get a job, earn money and send it out of the United States that it makes a scarcity of work sometimes for the native born and naturalized citizens of the U. S. A.

Put a penalty on immigration and this country will soon change from the present condition. The citizen should have better opportunities than one who is not, yet there is no distinctive line drawn in the employment of labor. If we had a requirement that all aliens should deposit a sum of $1000 with the U. S. Government before entering this country then there would not be much need of any other restriction to immigration. That sum of money placed in the hands of the U. S. Government would become more of a guarantee of good behavior. It would eliminate a lot of radicalism by putting that money up as a guarantee of good behavior for a period of ten years. The alien pays no taxes, yet earns money in competition with those who do pay taxes and sends a portion of those untaxed earnings out of the United States, where they were created, to his former homeland.

The idea of making a deposit when entering this country and leaving that sum on deposit without interest for a period of ten years, subject to the alien taking out citizenship papers, would soon change the ideas of the alien.

Quite a lot of the crime is committed by foreign born persons and to a large extent alien members of our population.

During the World War, started by foreigners, a check was made on a large part of the population working in or near the war industries. This check should be made all the time and all employers of foreign labor should be compelled to keep a record of aliens. This would check up the labor situation and by putting a premium on American labor would soon make a vast difference in the unemployment situation.

What Others Say

The New Jersey judge who decided that the wet law is all wet can now sit back and wait for the United States Supreme Court to look into the dry facts.—Indianapolis News.

Our own prediction is that the less respectful dries will soon be referring to that historic document as the report of the Lieckeraham Commission.—Norfolk, Virginia.

When Dad jammed his finger in the door of the car, he didn't seem to need any song to help him to pack a lot of meaning into "three little words."—Boston Herald.

Contemporary publishes an editorial on "uses of radio." Since that day's edition was only forty-eight pages there wasn't space to discuss the misuses of radio.—Little Rock Gazette.

Language is employed to conceal thought in diplomacy and train announcing and the man who leads a dog's life at home does his barking somewhere else.—Grand Rapids Press.

Germany is still trying to find some one to blame for the World War. She must have broken her looking-glass. Which would be cheaper for all of us—another war or another drought?—Atlanta Constitution.

The average woman cries first and opens the telegram afterward. Do they put a woman's head on a silver dollar because money talks?—Jacksonville Times-Union.

The men who robbed the Interstate National Bank buried their loot on a farm. Evidently they reasoned that a farm is the last place to look for wealth nowadays.—University Daily Kansan.

Lodge Notes

I. O. R. M.

Minnehaha Tribe No. 23, I. O. R. M., are making arrangements for its big drive for membership that will take place early next month.

Our Deputy Great Sachem John W. Buckingham has his raising-up team lined up and hopes all the members will turn out on next Tuesday evening.

Another important announcement for next Tuesday is that our indoor baseball team will cross bats with the crack Jr. O. U. A. M. team, so be out and root for Minnehaha.

K. O. P.

Oseola Lodge No. 5, Knights of Pythias are preparing to initiate a class on next Monday evening.

The quoit team is also practicing and hope to have a first-class tournament on before long. The members that do not attend are missing a whole lot, so next Monday evening be on the job and give degree master Jarmon and team a big hand.

Is there ever a time when you don't need Hot Water

At two in the morning, a sudden call for the hot water bottle . . . at six, an early morning shave . . . after dinner, a hurry-up dishwashing before going out . . . how valuable is an adequate, unailing supply of clean hot water at times like these! And what a joy it is to know that you do not have to wait, tend fire, or run up and down stairs to have hot water. A cupful or a tubful is ready at the faucet the minute you wish it.

At less cost than you can do it any other way, a Self-Acting Gas Water Heater will keep an abundant supply of piping hot water on tap twenty-four hours of the day, the whole year round. It is the least expensive (furnace coils not excepted) and the most dependable way to have convenient, effortless hot water service in your home. Why put up with a costly makeshift when you can actually save money by heating water the automatic gas way?

Installed prices are lower than ever before and the terms of purchase more liberal. Let us put one in your home on approval. Convince yourself you cannot afford to be without it. Telephone today.
