

Saturday's Registration Offers Final Chance For April Vote

Last Of Three Official Registration Days Scheduled This Week For Voting In Majority Race, Two Council Contests With Municipal Election To Be Held April 9

Final opportunity to register to vote in the local municipal election next April 9, will be offered this Saturday in the Academy Building council office from 7:30 a.m. to 7 p.m. For voting eligibility in any local municipal or special election, a person must be a United States citizen; a resident of the State of Delaware for at least one year; of the City of Newark for at least three months preceding election day, and a resident of the district at time of registration.

Harold M. Grant is president of the Newark Election Board, which includes Charles M. Elmer and Mrs. Ralph E. Lane in addition to receiving registrations this Saturday, the board will officially record registrations received during regular municipal office hours since the second of three official registration Saturdays.

Three contests for the majority, and for the third and fifth district council seats are to be held in the April election.

A city-wide poll is to be conducted for the office of mayor, with voting machines at all six district polling places, but no conclusions will be elected for the 1st, 2nd, and 4th districts with incumbents Frank J. Osborne, Jr., William M. Coverdale, and William E. Frame having another year to serve in office.

Mayor Norma B. Handloff is opposed in her bid for reelection in a second two-year term, by Francis E. B. McCann.

Dochert Declines
The 3rd district seat to be vacated by Councilman David H. Dochert, retiring after a pair of successive two-year terms, is being contested by Alden H. Bugher and John H. Farnham.

Dr. Arthur P. Mayer in his bid for reelection to a second term as councilman for the 5th district, is challenged by former councilman George M. Wilson.

And in the 6th district, Councilman Olan H. Thomas is unopposed for reelection.

Polls will be established on Tuesday, April 9, at the Downer School for the 1st district; Aetna Fire Hall No. 1 in the 2nd district; West Park High School, 3rd district; Rittenhouse Motor Co., 4th district; 292 West Main Street, 5th district; and at Aetna Fire Hall No. 2 on Ogletown Road for the 6th district.

$252,000 Addition To Newark Office Scheduled By DST

A $252,000 addition to Diamond State Telephone's switching equipment is being planned for the Newark central office which will make 2,125 more lines available to new customers, and provide additional facilities for speeding calls through the local office.

Work is expected to start this month and be completed in September.

During 1968-1969, the telephone company plans to spend $569,000 for outside plant expenditures such as cable lines in the Newark area.

The Newark central office now serves 13,100 telephones, compared with 3,000 telephones 10 years ago.

P. M. Ross Heads Citizens Advisory Group For Newark

Peter M. Ross of 726 Bent Lane, Nottingham Green, was elected chairman of Newark's new Citizens Advisory Committee last week.

M. E. Prettymann, Jr., 34 Fremont Road, was elected vice-chairman and Mrs. R. O. Bauman, 148 Dallam Road, was chosen secretary.

The function of the group is to advise city government on community needs.

Subcommittees on neighborhood improvement, urban renewal, transportation, parks and recreation, downtown improvements, and housing were formed last week.

Another subcommittee will review the city's workable program for capital improvement.

Ross said he hopes to have a progress report from this sub-committee by April 3.

The workable program is a requisite for types of federal grants.

Capital Punishment Fee To Offer Public Lecture

Dr. Donald E. J. MacNamara, head of the American League to Abolish Capital Punishment, will speak at the University of Delaware on Wednesday, March 27.

The lecture by Dr. MacNamara, fourth in a series of lectures on "The Threat of Crime in America," is open to the public without charge, starting at 8 p.m. in the Rodney Room of the Student Center.

Marijuana Charge Lodged By Police Against Students

Lt. Wm. Brierley Reports On Investigation Of Drugs In Possession Of Students

The eighth arrest in the narcotics investigation involving students at the University of Delaware was made Tuesday by Newark police.

More arrests are expected according to Lt. William Brierley, who is conducting the investigation.

Three local high school students were arrested last week on charges of marijuana possession, Brierley said. All three were juveniles, one a 17-year-old girl.

They were released in the custody of their parents for hearings in New Castle County family court.

Brierley said the source of the marijuana in the possession of the juveniles had been traced to the university campus.

Newark police have been investigating use of drugs in the area for more than a month, Brierley said.

Detectives Marvin Fitzgerald and Robert Stafford and Detective Sgt. Paul Morrison have assisted in the probe.

Brierley indicated that the investigation concerned some 40 students.

John E. Rowatt, vice-president of student affairs, said the university has been aware of the police investigation, but that he first heard about arrests from newspaper accounts.

Police Chief Arthur S. Haussler said that campus security officers had not participated in the investigation.

Ensign James O. Reinhardt Returns From Vietnam

Naval Reserve Ensign James O. Reinhardt, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Reinhardt, 215 Orchard Road, Newark, and husband of the former Miss Deanie Crelling of Wilmington, has returned to Long Beach, Calif., aboard the fleet oiler USS Palmetto following an eight-and-one-half-month deployment with the 115th Seventh Fleet off the coast of Vietnam.

The 25,325 ton oiler has a complement of 64 officers and enlisted men, with a cargo capacity of over 6,000,000-gals. of oil.

Employed Seniors Invited To Center For Evening Hours

In effort to extend use of its facilities to persons who may be employed during the day, the Newark Senior Center is open to senior citizens in the Newark area on Thursday evenings from 7 to 9:30 during March.

Persons may use the recreation equipment at the center and participate in any special activities scheduled during evening hours.

Tonight, a Trifly group headed by Debbie Heiken will give a party at the center.

A defensive driving course began at 10 a.m. under auspices of the Delaware Safety Council. Senior Citizens wishing to take the course scheduled for successive Wednesday mornings may call the center for information.

According to Mrs. Gertrude H. Johnson, executive director, the Tuesday luncheon program will feature these topics and speakers:—

March 19 — "Sensible Geriatrics," by Dr. Herbert Walter.

March 26 — "The Iron Hill Museum," by Baynor A. Johnson.

A St. Patrick's Day party will be given this Sunday at 2:30 p.m. by the Newark Business and Professional Women's Club.

3rd District Candidate

Candidate for the Newark City Council 3rd district seat, Alden C. Bugher, introduced Piet H. VanOgrop and Charles G. Maas as chairman of the campaign committee, at a recent meeting of Bugher's supporters.

Bugher announced plans for a series of campaign offices at which he will discuss issues and how he will represent the people of the 3rd district.

Areas of concern noted by Bugher are strong representation for the 3rd district, tax relief from the county, Newark Hospital drainage problems, traffic flow, zoning regulations, and the Newark Library.

Mrs. Melville G. Kershaw, president of the Newark New Century Club, will celebrate the 75th anniversary of its founding next Monday.

In the clubhouse at 1 p.m. with music for this occasion to include officers of the Delaware State Federation of Women's Clubs, past-state presidents, and presidents of clubs in the state.

Mrs. Melville G. Kershaw, president of the Newark New Century Club, will receive members and guests, assisted by Mrs. William D. Siddons, state president.

The program for the day will include a history of the club, and music by the University String Quartet. Past club presidents will be honored. Beginning in 1903, as formed by Mrs. Delaware Clark, Mrs. Alfred A. Curtis, Susan Evans, Mrs. L. Irving Hunter, Mrs. George A. Harter, Frances Ford, Mrs. H. G. M. Keelock and Mrs. T. R. Wolf.

"While these people are just named to most members now, the Literary Club they formed has become a large and active service organization," Mrs. Kershaw said yesterday.

Penni Meyer

Newark New Century Club To Celebrate 75th Anniversary Of Service On Monday

The Newark New Century Club will celebrate the 75th anniversary of its founding next Monday.

In the clubhouse at 1 p.m. with music for this occasion to include officers of the Delaware State Federation of Women's Clubs, past-state presidents, and presidents of clubs in the state.

Mrs. Melville G. Kershaw, president of the Newark New Century Club, will receive members and guests, assisted by Mrs. William D. Siddons, state president.

The program for the day will include a history of the club, and music by the University String Quartet. Past club presidents will be honored.

Beginning in 1903, as formed by Mrs. Delaware Clark, Mrs. Alfred A. Curtis, Susan Evans, Mrs. L. Irving Hunter, Mrs. George A. Harter, Frances Ford, Mrs. H. G. M. Keelock and Mrs. T. R. Wolf.

"While these people are just named to most members now, the Literary Club they formed has become a large and active service organization," Mrs. Kershaw said yesterday.

The club has always been a service club. They early began work in welfare for those in need, even providing milk for the schools.

The first sprinkler wagon to combat the dust of Newark's streets was given by the club," Mrs. Kershaw added.

The building has served as a meeting place for many activities. Dressing and clothing for war use were made there. Red Cross nursing and first aid classes met in the building. For years, Girl Scouts met regularly there, and the Senior Citizens used it until their present facilities were ready.

Saturday evening dances for teenagers were held until they became too large for the place, and at present, activities to help people to readjust to society meet for sewing and companionship.

Classes in Braille also were held at the clubhouse on Delaware Avenue, Haines Street.

Activities for the 75th anniversary of the Newark New Century Club will begin at 1 p.m. and end with a tea when the birthday cake will be cut, Mrs. Cornelia V. Mylrea, advised.

Robert Kirkwood's Penni Meyer Wins State Presidency

Honorary president of Newark's Robert Kirkwood Society, Penni Meyer was elected last weekend at the 12th annual state conference in Dover, as president of the Delaware State Society, Children of the American Revolution.

Julie Harrison of the Robert Kirkwood Society was elected recording secretary for the state group and Alan Ford of Mill Creek Hundred, was named registrar.

A junior at McKean High School, and former state society corresponding secretary, Penni also won the oratorical contest for the society's eastern region, and will present her oration at the national CAR convention in Washington, April 19-21.

Other members of Newark's Robert Kirkwood Society attending the state conference were Candy Fader and Lewis Fader, David Mathewson, Mrs. Samuel Fader, senior president; Mrs. Ira F. Jones, honorary senior society state president; Fraser F. Jones, honorary president, and Mrs. Sara Meyer, Penni's mother.

The Kirkwood Society entertained the conference at a coke and record party on Friday evening following the business session.

D'Anna, Hulbert Top Play In Bridge Championships

Vincent D'Anna, 958 Highway Drive, and Fred Hulbert, 562 Rosewood Drive, Newark, were top scorers for their section in the charity pairs event at the spring championships of the American Contract Bridge League.

D'Anna and Hulbert were leaders in a field of 2,552 players.

Six major bridge titles will be decided with the tournament ending this Sunday.

Public Offered Widening Horizons Fare With Varied Program At Christina High

Next Wednesday evening at 7:30, the Newark school district will present the 1968 edition of Widening Horizons, a multi-faceted program designed to do just what the name implies, widen the intellectual horizons of all taking part. The program will be held at Christina High School, Salem Church and Chapman roads.

Mrs. Estelle K. Miller is Widening Horizons chairman.

Lane Givens will talk about contemporary sculpture and display examples of his work, discussing his style of sculpturing.

Mrs. and Mrs. Thomas A. Collier, veteran campers, will present a picture tour of New England, a display of camping supplies, and offer camping tips for novices.

Mrs. Miller will discuss characteristics of American literature for the period 1700 to 1800.

Gene Stone and mineral collecting will feature demonstration and exhibit by the Delaware Mineralogical Society and Iron Hill Museum staff.

Dr. Daniel T. Riebuyck, H. Rodney Sharp Fellow and expert in Columbus history, will speak about this area of the modern world.

Widening Horizons is open to the public, and there will be no admission charge.

Newark Hospital Next For County State Leader Says

Dr. Floyd I. Hudson, State Board of Health Secretary Quizzed By Rep. Murphy

Dr. Floyd Hudson, executive secretary of the State Board of Health said Monday the next New Castle County hospital should be in the Newark area.

Hudson made the statement — and carefully labeled it "my opinion" — at Monday's joint finance committee budget hearing for his agency.

The hospital discussion came after the board entered a request for a $100,000 addition to its budget for maternal and child health services.

Under questioning from Rep. Joseph Murphy (R-Newark), Hudson said his agency works "hand in hand" with the Health Facilities Planning Council, an organization which is having a study to determine hospital bed needs.

Hudson said, the board of health must follow federal guidelines for recipients of federal Hill-Burton Act hospital construction funds.

"Suppose the Health Facilities Planning Council says they won't go along with a hospital for Newark," Murphy asked.

"We would be bound to go along with federal requirements," Hudson answered.

Hudson and federal funds for a Southwest New Castle County hospital would "be available for the first group that came along with funds to put beds there."

Newark Library Expansion Necessitates Loan Cards

Proof that the Newark Free Library is expanding, is the fact that it is issuing cards to persons borrowing books.

Until now, the local library — like others serving a small, stable population — has depended on staff recognition of eligible borrowers.

With rapid increase in Newark area population, this is no longer a satisfactory way of registering Newark library borrowers.

The card method provides instant, convenient proof of eligibility, and protects both borrower and library.

Capt. John T. Cox Gets DFC As C-130 Navigator In Asia

Wichita Falls, Tex. — U. S. Air Force Capt. John T. Cox, son of Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow W. Cox of Newark, has received the Distinguished Flying Cross at Sheppard AFB, Tex.

Capt. Cox was decorated for extraordinary achievement as a C-130 Hercules navigator in Southeast Asia. He helped direct 21 fighter sorties against a heavily defended enemy target which resulted in complete destruction of the target without loss to allied aircraft.

The captain, now at Sheppard in a unit of the Air Training Command, was commissioned through the aviation cadet program.

A graduate of Newark High School, he attended the University of Delaware.

H. Rowell Conklin Succeeds Briggs As Budd Executive

H. Rowell Conklin has been appointed vice-president of the Budd Polychem Division, succeeding Arthur J. Briggs who retired after 42 years service.

In this new position, Conklin is responsible for the nationwide sales of industrial plastics manufactured by the division.

Conklin joined Budd Polychem (then Continental-Diamond Fibers) at Valparaiso, Ind. in 1953 after graduating from UCLA.

He has held various positions in sales and sales management in Milwaukee, Chicago, and Newark.

$2-Million Producer

Providing more than $2-million of life insurance protection for families and business in this area during 1967, Leon W. Adams of 415 Nottingham Road, Newark, has qualified for Traveler's highest award, the Bronze Guard, as well as the Order of the Tower for the third year.

Adams has offices in the Wilmington Trust Building at Wilmington.

City Grows With Annexation; Fair Housing Rules Proposed

Council Approves Annexation Of 9,323-Acres To South Of City Limits With Industrial Zoning; Election Law Amended; Fair Housing Proposal Endorsed In 4-3 Vote

The city limits were increased by 9,323-acres with annexation of land zoned for industrial use and local registration and election laws were revised with the passage of two ordinances; and the first reading of a proposed ordinance for a fair housing law and human relations commission was approved at the regular meeting of Newark City Council last Monday night.

Annexation of land west of the South Chapel Street extension, east of the Newark & Pomeroy Railroad, westerly side of the 10th and north of the Kennedy Turnpike was approved unanimously at a final reading of the ordinance.

Registration and election laws were amended with 7-0 approval of the ordinance read and changes explained by Solicitor Clyde M. England, Jr., to "clean up verbiage — make it in better form." And Mayor Handloff added that the revised law "liberalized requirements for absentee voting."

A proposed ordinance "prohibiting discrimination in housing because of race, color, religion, ancestry, national origin or place of birth," and "establishing a commission on human relations and prescribing the powers and duties thereof, and providing penalties for violations," was approved at the first of two required readings in a 4-3 vote with Councilman William M. Coverdale, William E. Frame, and Olan H. Thomas opposing the measure.

The proposed human relations commission was increased from five to six members at Councilman Thomas' recommendation, and "an immediate first reading of the proposed fair housing law, and that pending its review by the new citizens advisory committee for comparison with state and federal laws."

Councilman David H. Dochert declared that citizens had a right to an immediate first reading of the proposed fair housing law, and that a second reading scheduled for March 25, could be deferred upon advice of the advisory committee.

Coverdale questioned conflict between local and state laws with "power reserved by the state," and England said that the proposed Newark legislation was "covered in part with establishment of a human relations committee" by the state.

And proposed fair housing received preliminary approval in the 4-3 vote.

Appeals Board

William K. Baggott, Charles E. Grubb, and Joseph E. Plotts were appointed to the Board of Occupational Appeals for one-year terms beginning last Feb. 1.

Contracts were awarded for city purchase of a refuse collection packer body at a cost of $4,450 from Thru-Way Equipment Co., and for street lighting luminaires at a cost of $124,400 from Westhouse Electric as lowest and most responsible bidders.

Thomas congratulated the city staff on its street illumination progress, and Mayor Handloff added that it was "rather startling when you go out Paper Mill Road and see how it has been brightened up."

An ordinance requiring display of street numbers on buildings was approved at a final reading in a 6-1 vote, with Mayor Handloff's objection to additional regimentation.

"The house we live in had no number," the mayor observed before No. 4 was assigned by the Post Office upon request, and Thomas as a volunteer fireman added that he knew "an operator of emergency equipment, a great many do not have house numbers."

Scheduled second reading of a proposed ordinance requiring illumination and locking of business establishments was deferred at Dochert's request pending review by the Greater Newark Chamber of Commerce.

Proposed ordinances adding the position title of accountant, and governing compensation of the secretary-treasurer were approved unanimously at preliminary readings.

Mayor's Tax Inventory
At Mayor Handloff's suggestion, inventory on taxes and tax-exempt properties is to be included in the 1968 budget proposal.

In keeping with provisions of Delaware House Bill 452, a proposed ordinance is to be prepared for exemption of low income elderly from certain taxation. Dochert opposed the 6-1 vote with "it's a bad bill."

At Coverdale's urging, an ordinance is to be prepared establishing the fiscal year of Jan. 1, thru Dec. 31, and City Manager Edward H. Saff is to present a report on feasibility of synchronizing fiscal and tax years.

Dies In Battle

Capt. Douglas D. Crowe

Capt. D. D. Crowe Killed In Vietnam With Mortar Fire

Twice Wounded In Earlier Action, Only Son Of Local Couple Killed on March 4

Army Capt. Douglas D. Crowe, 28, son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Crowe, 215 Orchard Road, Newark, died in Vietnam on March 4 at 2 a.m. "from mortar fragments," the 1st Army Command reported.

The 28-year-old Army officer, the Crowe's only child, was stationed in Ban Me Thuot in the central highlands as an advisor to the South Vietnamese in Combat Intelligence.

His fatal wounds came a few hours after returning from his first week and recreation leave after 16 months of continuous Vietnam duty.

He had been twice wounded — for the first time last November during a 10-day combat operation while moving troops out of a village three hours before the mission's extraction time, and the second time in the recent attack on Ban Me Thuot.

The Vietnam city of 85,000, defended only by Montagnards and a small group of American advisors, was 25 per cent destroyed in the late January offensive. Capt. Crowe was caught under a wall when a 140-mm mortar exploded on the other side.

The captain called his parents from Hong Kong on March 1, assuring them he had fully recovered from his injuries.

Capt. Crowe was a graduate of Noble and Greenough School in Dedham, Mass., and of Cornell University, where he was a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity, active in ROTC, and president of Scabbard and Blade.

After special intelligence training at Ft. Holabird, in Baltimore, he served in Kaiserslautern, Germany, and later was on extended duty at the Alkenbury Royal Air Force base in England.

Capt. Crowe was recalled to the United States for a year of additional training in intelligence at Ft. Holabird, in Special Forces School at Ft. Bragg, N.C., and in the Vietnamese language at Ft. Bliss, Tex.

His parents, who live in Newark for three years.

Memorials to Capt. Crowe may be sent to the Noble and Greenough School Scholarship Fund in Dedham, Mass.

Waverly Club elected new officers for the next two years at its meeting last Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Joseph Wolf in North Star.

Mrs. William H. Narvel is president, Mrs. Alex Mitchell, vice-president; Mrs. Edward Heller, secretary; Mrs. LeRoy Troxell, treasurer; and Mrs. Ernest Lomax, director. The election was headed by a nominating committee of Mrs. Ella Pearson, Mrs. Ralph Kleir, and Mrs. Edward Naudain.

The club planned for its annual spring luncheon and card party to be held April 16 at 12:30 p.m. in Harmony Grange Hall on Limestone Road.

Charter members include Mrs. Narvel, tables; Mrs. Naudain, prizes; Mrs. George Purris, luncheon; with Mrs. Pearson, Mrs. Joseph Mitchell, and Mrs. Wolf as co-chairmen.

A request was made for men and women's bathing suits for patients at Delaware State Hospital as they now have an indoor swimming pool. Donations may be given to Mrs. Heller.

Revised rules for the state student loan scholarship fund were read. The program on air and water pollution was given by Mrs. C. Warden Gass who stated the earth is like a space ship and each man has to take care of a special job. She stated Los Angeles was the first city to work on the air pollution problem and Delaware's major problem was north of the canal.

Mrs. John Goyns talked on noise pollution and how it affects the hearing. She said Memphis, Tenn., is the only city where there is a law against noise.

Senator Margaret Manning will be guest speaker next Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Edward A. Naudain with Mrs. W. Sted Atwell, co-hostess.

Mrs. Edward Heller, of Limestone Road, chairman of women's activities for the Delaware State Grange, met with her chairmen from all over the state last Thursday at Capitol Grange Hall in Dover when plans for the year were discussed. There will be two new star projects in 1968 — the growing of corn plants, and making pot holders.

Others attending from this area include Mrs. Paul W. and Mrs. Joseph Mitchell, Mrs. John Tweedy, and Mrs. Harold Pierce, from Harmony Grange and Mrs. Sue Smith and Mrs. Stephanie Winston from Diamond State Grange.

Clarence Hartis from the photo and reproduction department of the Delaware State Highway Department, spoke to members of Y's Owl 4-H Club last Thursday at the home of the leaders, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Usher.

The speaker stressed importance of photography in one's daily living as a hobby and as a vocation. He distributed highway annual report books which were illustrated with his pictures.

Two members, Doug Enns and Alan Ellis, who have photography projects, displayed their pictures and had Mr. Hartis give suggestions for improving them.

The club decided to purchase 10 azalea plants and other flowers for planting at the entrance of the Yorklyn recreation area which the members have been beautifying as a community project.

D. Enns, Monica Schneider, Dorothy Trimble, A. Ellis, and Stephen Dawson were named to arrange for a baked goods sale later this spring. David Trimble gave a report of the junior council meeting; Margaret Ennis, the Reddi foods contest; and A. Ellis, the foods judging contest.

D. Ennis distributed State Board of Health pamphlets on ways to keep well and happy. Twelve members enjoyed the recent bowling party.

Demonstrations night was scheduled for April 4.

Two-Day Seminar On Computer Use Slated This Month

A two-day seminar on application of computers to solution of engineering problems is scheduled at the University of Delaware, March 22-23. Participants in the seminar will receive sample problems in their area of interest during secondary workshops.

The first day's program will provide understanding of computer function and capabilities and how a program is constructed for input.

Participants in the seminar will receive sample problems in their area of interest during secondary workshops.

Registration for the seminar can be obtained by calling the extension division.

Instructors for the first day's or secondary sessions will be Lyle G. Hartman, manager of scientific applications in the computing center; Dr. James F. Leathrum, assistant professor of statistics and committee science; and Jan P. Getting, manager of information processing at the computing center.

Hartman will speak after a dinner at the Tegal Howard Johnson's on Friday evening. Applications of Computers' Discussion will be followed by computer demonstrations.

Workshops will be divided by engineering specializations on Friday. Sessions for workshops will be scheduled as follows: Applications of Computers, DuPont research division, mechanical and aerospace engineering, Joseph T. Lester, DuPont engineering service division; civil engineering, Dr. Cheng Yi Yuen, associate professor at the university; and chemical engineering, Hartman.

About 3 p.m., with programs finished in the workshop sessions, the seminar will move from the Student Center to the Computing Center, where members will be processed.

A critique will close the seminar about 4:30 p.m.

Public Lecture Offered

On School Computer Use
The use of computers by school administrations will be discussed in a public lecture at the University of Delaware next Monday at 4 p.m. in Room 130, Sharp Laboratory, by Dr. Sylvia Chato, director of instructional systems for the Philadelphia Board of Education.

The lecture, open to the public without charge, will provide information on the potential and the present situation of computers in basic education.

Mrs. Harry Dudley of Winterbury will have the Esther Circle meeting next Thursday at 12:30 p.m.

The 859 Club is meeting today at the church with program on birds, given by Mrs. Elma Marshall.

The Hockessin Fire Co. Auxiliary will hold a Tupperware party at the meeting next Monday at the fire hall.

Clothing Fires Are Out Of Fashion

The American Medical Association has for many years annually warned of the dangers inherent in flammable fabrics. There are many injuries and not a few deaths every year — mostly in the winter — from clothing fires.

This winter something new has been added to this danger — paper clothing.

Paper clothing — mostly women's dresses — is so new that as yet there are few data on the potential burn dangers.

A top government safety official warned recently that people who wear paper clothing risk burning themselves if they wear it near an open flame. It has been laundered, dry-cleaned, or worn in a soaking rain.

The Journal of the American Medical Association reports that approximately 2 million persons annually are burned severely enough to require medical attention, and that 100,000 of these require hospital care. About 2,000 Americans die of burns each year. Far too many of these burn victims are injured when their clothing catches fire.

Whether the garment is paper or cloth, it might ignite if the wearer gets too close to an open flame. It's a temptation to huddle close to a stove or fireplace on a cold morning. It also can be fatal.

Richard Bauer, director of planning and zoning for New Castle, spoke to members of Hockessin Friends Fellowship last Friday at their monthly supper meeting.

He emphasized the rapidly growing population in this area and estimated the number of homes, schools, churches and shopping centers which would be needed by 1975.

Hosts and hostesses appointed for April are Mr. and Mrs. Edward Naudain, Mr. and Mrs. John Richter, Mrs. George Buffington and Mrs. John H. Denison.

The Wilmington Trail Club will hold its annual banquet this Saturday at 6:30 p.m. in Harmony Grange Hall. Women of the Grange will serve the meal.

Gilbert Scarborough, Jr., a layman will have the message at the Lenten breakfast service at Marshallton Methodist Church this Sunday at 8 a.m. The men's group have sponsored these services for the Lenten season for the past five years.

Two special Lenten services have been announced emphasizing communion.

The first was held last evening at St. Phil's Lutheran Church where Mr. H. G. Beck, pastor of Sacred Heart Church, Lynhurst, N. J. spoke on "A Roman Catholic Looks at Church Unity."

The second service will be held March 26, at 8 p.m. at St. John the Beloved Church when the Rev. Dr. Hagen Staack, Lutheran historian and professor of the religion department at Mullerberg College, Allentown, Pa., will speak on "A Protestant Looks at the Reformation and Christian Unity."

Members of any church in this hundred are urged to attend.

Simple fireproof or protective shields can eliminate some of the danger from open flames. Check your home today for such potential hazards. If you find one correct it promptly.

Using kerosene or a commercial "fire starter" for the fireplace or barbecue grill also has potential hazards. If there are hot coals in the fireplace or grill, the volatile liquid may flare up or explode, especially in a close room.

Little girls' dresses with flimsy, flaring skirts are obviously a fire hazard. So are flowing robes and night gowns. Small boys in their blue jeans are much safer. But even jeans will flame up if ignited.

If someone's clothing catches fire, roll him on the ground or floor, use a blanket or a rug to smother the flames. If the victim panics and runs, the flames will flare even higher.

The second service will be held March 26, at 8 p.m. at St. John the Beloved Church when the Rev. Dr. Hagen Staack, Lutheran historian and professor of the religion department at Mullerberg College, Allentown, Pa., will speak on "A Protestant Looks at the Reformation and Christian Unity."

Members of any church in this hundred are urged to attend.

World War I Vet George Walker, 76 Dies At Residence

World War I veteran George Walker, 76, employed for years at the Door Park Hotel in Newark, died March 4, at his home, 96 East Main Street, Newark, after a long illness.

A native of Sheffield, England, he moved to the United States and served in this country's armed forces in the first World War.

He retired 10 years ago from his work at the hotel.

Mr. Walker never married, and there are no immediate survivors.

Services were held Saturday night at the William J. Warwick Funeral Home, Newark, with interment in Ballinacree (Md.) National Cemetery.

New Zealand Firm Hospital Services Cited For Newark

The Suburban Newark Hospital Committee met March 5 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Lund, with Peter Harris, field director for Crothall Co. Ltd., a newly incorporated Delaware firm, providing information concerning his company.

Harris is a native of New Zealand, headquarters for Crothall which offers a unique service to hospitals including management of house-keeping, diet, food delivery, administration, and outside rotations, training nurses and physicians from routine administrative work.

These services are being utilized in the Mirvis Cabell Memorial Hospital, Washington, a 450-bed facility.

Hillside Civic Association sent representatives to the meeting, and the Suburban Newark Hospital Committee encourages all civic associations to consider the following plan of action: adopt the resolution, write letters to editors and to governmental representatives, and appoint representatives to attend meetings of the hospital committee.

The next meeting will be held at the Brookside Community Center on April 10, at 8 p.m.

Booklet Prepared By LWV On Local Parks, Recreation

The Newark League of Women Voters has prepared a booklet "Background for Decision" on local parks and recreation. It includes the present situation of park facilities, proposed parkland, playgrounds and municipal pool, and their financing; the park department and recreational program; and use of school playgrounds.

The booklet is available at Bing's Bakery Christen's Beverages, Danemann's, Bank of Delaware, Farmington's Bank, and Wilmington Trust.

The LWV will distribute a flyer in April on total cost, and cost to homeowners for purchase and development of park areas.

Breakthrough

Open-throated snapdragons, a real novelty for your garden, are easily grown, hardy.

Just as occasionally two astronomers in widely separated parts of the world may simultaneously be searching for a new star, so plant breeders, working in their separate establishments, sometimes are breeding for the same new form in a flower.

So it was with the "open-throated" form of snapdragon flower.

Think back to the last time you looked into a snapdragon bloom. Remember, when you were a child you used to squeeze the sides of an individual floret to make it open its "mouth" to snap at a friend?

That "mouth" had a lower lip that humped upward, the top of the "hump" touching the upper lip of the floret. This hump is eliminated from the new form.

Although the open-throated snapdragons, exemplified by the Bright Butterflies and Bellflower strains, are as easily grown and prolific of bloom as any other snapdragons, they look more like penstemons.

These open-throated snapdragons will make visitors to your garden wonder if they can believe their eyes.

The plants of these snapdragons are sturdy, those of the Bellflowers growing 2 1/2 feet high, those of Bright Butterflies in 3 feet and high branching.

Flowers are 1 1/2 to 2 inches across; petals slightly ruffled at the edges. Sometimes the throats contrast with the petals, for instance, golden-orange petals and cream throats.

The title of the program in which the two Newark principals participated was "Middle Schools: A Fresh Start."

Election of next year's officers for the Christiana Junior High PTA will be held following the meeting, President, Mrs. Edna E. Cate; for President, Mrs. Edwin Jones and Mrs. Albert Jones, 1st and 2nd vice-presidents, Mrs. Fred Blough, secretary and Mrs. Joseph Lesiak, treasurer.

The slate of nominees has been submitted by a nominating committee headed by Mrs. J. W. Reiser.

Coverdale asked if such appeal should not be "limited to the person requesting the opening," to avoid "endless harassment," and England replied that the appeal of Attorney Edward J. Sobolewski, Jr., in behalf of J. J. Krehma of 212 Sunset Road, was justified.

"Requests for appeal" should be stated," Coverdale concluded, and the problem was postponed until the next council meeting.

City Manager Stiff presented the report of the air pollution study committee, advising that "state regulations are far superior to meeting the needs of Newark," and giving the "state agency until Oct. 1, to work on this problem."

Diehlert's proposal to extend the 10:30 p.m. meeting adjournment deadline to include first readings of four ordinances, failed to receive a second, and as the meeting was adjourned at 10:30, City Secretary Charles D. Long announced that polls for the 6th district would be at Aetna Fire Hall No. 2.

Narcotics, Topic For PTA Speaker At Christiana High

Do you dig "speed"? Dangers of "pot" (marijuana), "L" (in the Sky with Diamonds) (LSD), heroin, opium, and other narcotics will be explained next Wednesday at 4 p.m. in the Christiana High School auditorium at Chapman and Salem Church roads.

An expert in the field, a representative of the Bureau of Drug Abuse Control, U.S. Department of Health and Welfare, will be the guest speaker.

Jointly sponsored by the Christiana Junior and Senior High School PTAs, the meeting is open to the public with special invitations to all Christiana area PTA members, including Newark, Concord, Dickson, and Middletown school district residents.

Following the talk there will be a question-and-answer period of audience participation.

Election of next year's officers for the Christiana Junior High PTA will be held following the meeting, President, Mrs. Edna E. Cate; for President, Mrs. Edwin Jones and Mrs. Albert Jones, 1st and 2nd vice-presidents, Mrs. Fred Blough, secretary and Mrs. Joseph Lesiak, treasurer.

Husband-Wife Duo On Clarinet, Flute In Sunday Concert

A husband and wife team will present a wind instrument concert in the Rodney Room of the University of Delaware Student Center this Sunday at 4 p.m.

Featured on the clarinet will be John Anderson, instructor of music at the university. His wife, Wendy, a bride of less than a month, will play flute for the concert sponsored by the music department.

Anderson joined the Delaware faculty in 1966 after receiving his bachelor and master of music degrees from the University of Michigan.

Mrs. Anderson, also a graduate of Michigan, is director of music at Gunning Bedford School in Delaware City.

Mrs. Anna Culling, pianist will be the accompanist.

The performance is open to the public without charge.

The parking problem on Hillside Road, and traffic with the driveway bank window on Academy Street, were referred to the traffic committee.

A walking lane for school children it to be provided on Hillside Road at Council Arthur P. Mayer's urging, and as a temporary measure, a one-hour parking limit is to be enforced on the east side of Hillside Road.

Cheesy Pastry Tops Apple Cobbler

This spicy, hearty Apple 'n Cheese Cobbler, a long-time family favorite, is as delicious as it is easy-to-bake. Nestled inside decorative circles of flaky, tender-textured cream cheese pastry are full-flavored apple chunks, spiced with cinnamon and sugar. The tart, all-purpose Washington Wisconsin variety was chosen for this "mouth-watering" cobbler, as its wine-like, pungent taste lasts from tree-to-table.

Fresh Apple 'n Cheese Cobbler 4 tart Washington apples, 1 tsp. cinnamon, pared, cored, and sliced 1 recipe cream cheese 1/2 cup sugar, pastry (below)

Arrange apple slices in buttered 1 1/2 quart casserole. Sprinkle on combined sugar and cinnamon. Cut thin slices from ball of chilled cream cheese dough. Place overlapping circles of dough over fruit. Bake at 425° F. for 35 to 40 minutes, or until pastry is browned.

Cream Cheese Pastry: 1/2 cup chilled, salted butter 1/2 pound chilled cream cheese 1 cup sifted flour

Cut butter and cream cheese into flour until pieces are size of peas and each piece of butter is well coated with flour. Work with hands to form a small ball of dough. Chill several hours.

*Preferred variety: Washington State Watsop

Have Your Next Cookout Indoors

CALL IT a wienie roast, a clambake, a barbecue, a cook-out or a cook-in. The name is different, but the fun is the same. Enjoy cookout flavor with indoor convenience, everyone pitching in to help and lots to eat. And the best thing about a cook-in is the roasting-broiling crisp barbecue chicken, without mess, fuss or smoke. Cooking indoors with outdoor flavor is fast becoming a favorite form of partying.

To round out your indoor barbecue menu serve a scalloped potato casserole, and hot buttered rolls. Then, with a large salad, the meal is complete with a minimum of effort.

CAPTAIN DOUGLAS D. CROWE

The only child of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Crowe of 215 Orchard Road in Newark, 28-year-old Capt. Douglas D. Crowe was killed in Vietnam by Communist mortar fire a week ago last Monday while most of us in these grand United States were occupied with the comparatively petty problems of daily living.

Another fine American young man is added to the long list of heroes who have made the supreme sacrifice for liberty, and each of us may well dwell on the terrible price for freedom — the freedom too often taken for granted — and remember with reverence, those who have paid the price.

"We thought we were over the hump, with the law of averages working for us," Captain Crowe's father said this week.

"He had been wounded twice," Mr. Crowe concluded. And the Captain's courage is matched by that of his father and mother in facing their immeasurable loss here at home.

EASTER HOPE — SAVE THE CHILDREN

For nearly 2,000 years, a large portion of the world's population has been celebrating Easter as a time of rebirth, renewed hope. From time immemorial, people have rejoiced that springtime is a season of new growth, an awakening from the somnolence of winter.

Save The Children Federation, international child welfare organization with headquarters in Norwalk, Conn., has the year-round task of injecting new hope into the lives of children beset by poverty. Despair knows no season. But during this time of widespread celebration, it seems more urgent than ever to ask those with an abundance to share it with the underprivileged children in the United States and in free countries abroad.

Founded in 1932, the Federation has been working for more than 35 years with the children of Appalachia; with needy American Indian children on reservations; and with youngsters in under-developed areas abroad.

Its program includes self-help sponsorships, scholarships, and annual collections of used clothing.

The promise of Easter can endure the year around. Why not make an Easter gift to some child who has never dared dream that life can be better? Or initiate a sponsorship that will enable some child to complete education and find a meaningful place in today's complex society.

HEMOPHILIA HELP

During March, the Wilmington division of the National Hemophilia Foundation is asking this community's support of its drive to raise funds to help hemophilia sufferers in this area.

Although this disease in which blood lacks ability to clot normally, is as old as recorded history, no cure for it has been found. Hemophilia is hereditary but it can skip as many as eight generations. Over half the known hemophiliacs in this area have no family history of the disease.

For the hemophiliac, a cut, bump, or fall can mean weeks in the hospital and countless transfusions of blood or plasma. Internal bleeding which can start from no apparent cause, can put the hemophiliac in a wheelchair or brace, sometimes for life.

But hemophiliacs can be helped in their daily struggle to lead a normal life. The Hemophilia Foundation provides direct patient aid and sponsors research programs at the local and national level to alleviate and eventually find a cure for the disease.

Four Fellowships For 2-Years Each To Aid Counselors

Dr. Victor Mankin Heads Guidance Internship Plan Offering Master's Degree

The University of Delaware has received four 2-year fellowships for prospective guidance counselors, from the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Delaware and Arizona State University are the only universities in the nation to receive fellowships for the preparation of secondary school guidance counselors.

Prospective teacher fellowships were awarded to the college of education under the Higher Education Act of 1965. Four similar awards were made to the university in 1966, and those original fellowship recipients graduate in June.

Dr. Victor Mankin, director of the counselor preparation program, said the developmental guidance internship program places Delaware in a unique position on the national level because it is open to non-education majors, as well as to those whose backgrounds are in education.

Each fellowship, for study starting in September, is worth $2,000 the first year, and $2,200 the second year. Eligible dependents will receive $400 each year and university tuition also is provided.

Students completing the two-year program will be awarded a master's degree, their first step toward certification as a school counselor in the State of Delaware.

Scheduled to graduate in June after completing the two-year fellowship program are Mrs. Mary A. Anderson, 1123 Mayflower Drive, Newark, sponsored by Skyline Junior High School; and Mrs. Lois R. Fritche, Glen Farms, sponsored by Newark High School.

Information on the fellowship program may be obtained from Dr. Mankin at the university.

Interested persons are invited to attend a fellowship information meeting scheduled at 4 p.m. in the new college of education building next Wednesday.

State Conference On Human Service Slated On Campus

May 16-17 have been selected as dates for a statewide conference on human services at the University of Delaware, with some 400 representatives of public and private agencies expected to attend.

Nationally-known speakers will provide insights into pressing problems of providing services in the areas of health, and social welfare.

Dan Cantera, conference chairman with Richard Pryor, said "The conference is designed to give direction to the many groups trying to make life better — socially, economically, and in the field of health — for all Delaware citizens."

"We hope that conference participants will go away with a greater sense of purpose and awareness of their immense potential for good."

Franz F. Kriwanek To Head Art Dept. In UD Expansion

Acting Chief Julio Acuna Lauded By Dean Lippert For Interim Contribution

The appointment of Franz F. Kriwanek as chairman of the University of Delaware's expanding art department has been announced by Dr. Arnold L. Lippert, dean of the college of arts and science.

Presently director of a ceramics school in Silverton, Colo., Kriwanek is a native of Czechoslovakia and a graduate of the School of Fine Arts of Vienna. He has studied at the Art Institute of Rome and received his master's degree at the University of Iowa in 1961. He will join the Delaware faculty in September.

For the last two years, Associate Professor Julio Acuna has directed the department which has added several new faculty members and expects to have 11 full-time teachers by September.

The number of art majors has grown significantly, and two new degree programs are contemplated. "Professor Acuna has done an excellent job," Dean Lippert said. "He has recruited several outstanding faculty members and assisted in locating a new chairman of the first rank."

Mr. Acuna has devoted time which he might profitably have used as a producing artist to the effective performance of necessary administrative tasks. Although he was an interim chairman, the art department made notable progress under his leadership.

Kriwanek is considered a specialist in ceramics, but also is an expert in silversmithing, jewelry and all levels of art education. An associate professor of art at Texas Technological College since 1963, he also has been head of the art department at Iowa Wesleyan College. Before coming to the United States in 1952, he studied privately in Sweden.

His works are found in collections in Austria, Sweden, Czechoslovakia, England and the United States.

He and his Austrian-born wife have three daughters—one born in Austria, one in Sweden, and one in the U.S.

In addition to the new chairman, other September appointees include Michael S. Miller, who earned his BS degree from East Carolina College and his MA from Penn State University, who comes as a printmaking specialist.

Thomas Schneider, with BS and MS degrees from the University of Wisconsin and an MFA from Pratt Institute, will teach courses in art education.

Expansion of the art department faculty began under Acuna's direction during the last two years. Major additions to the staff have been Victor A. Spinski, who holds a master of fine arts degree from the University of Indiana; Gus V. Serzys, a teacher of painting with an MFA from Wisconsin; and Robert

Sounds In Stereo Concert Scheduled At Christiana High

On Friday, March 22, at 8 p.m. the Christiana High School Concert Band will present the third annual Sounds in Stereo Concert in the school auditorium, with the program including a variety of instrumental music from composers past and present.

A trumpet trio of Jim Owen, Tom Passmore, and Earl Thompson will feature Leroy Anderson's "Bugler's Holiday."

Another attraction will be the Dixieland group known as the "Scorful Seven."

The concert band will present a program ranging from the more serious type of music to the lighter, semi-classical.

The Stage Band will interlude the Sound in Stereo Concert with the swinging beat of contemporary "pops."

The concert will end on a serious note as special guest Isaac A. Mapp joins with the Concert Band to narrate the finale.

The concert will be conducted by L. Jerome Rehberg, Christiana music director.

F. Stein, specialist in painting and graphic design who taught as a graduate assistant at Tyler School of Art where he received his MFA.

Acuna, whose fourth New York painting show will open March 26, said that the competence of the enlarged faculty will permit the department to establish several new degree programs in the near future.

Plans for BFA and MFA degrees are being developed; new courses in graphic design are being added; and programs in ceramics, jewelry and printmaking will be enlarged.

Five Seminars Scheduled On Executive Development

A five-seminar program in executive development will open at the University of Delaware on Thursday, March 28.

Designed to provide management personnel with better understanding of modern concepts used in the management process, the seminars are required as part of the university executive development certificate program.

Robert D. Stuart, Research Institute of America, will be the instructor.

Registrations can be arranged by calling the university extension division.

'The Happy Haven' To Be Presented By E-52 Theatre

A new comedy by one of England's leading playwrights will be presented March 20-24 by the E-52 University Theatre.

"The Happy Haven" by John Arden deals with the lives of 100 old patients in a home for the aged somewhere outside of London.

Dr. Copperthwaite, superintendent of the home, wishes to experiment on the unwilling patients with a youth serum he has invented.

Traditionally, audience sympathy would be with the old people, but Arden has made every effort to write the play from both the doctor's and the patients viewpoint. The tough, unsentimental characterizations of the old people with all their foibles gives the play more humanity than would have resulted from a rose-tinted fantasy.

"The Happy Haven" will be presented each evening at 8:15 in Mitchell Hall.

Walk Extra Mile To Lose Weight

Want to lose ten pounds in the next year?
One way you can do it is to walk an extra mile every day.

The American Medical Association's home health book, Today's Health Guide, reports that a walk of just an extra mile per day for 365 days is a "simple, pleasant device for shedding an extra pound of fat." In a year this would amount up to about ten pounds. The extra mile means just that—a mile of walking in addition to the customary walking you now do each day.

Once regarded as a major factor in losing weight, physical activity was later accorded less importance. It was realized that considerable effort was required to shed even one pound of extra tissue. Would-be reducers found comfort in some expert opinion that calories expended through exercise would be immediately replaced, due to an automatic increase in appetite.

Fortunately for fitness as well as for fatness, exercise has been restored to grace and enjoys respectability. Exercise helps expend calories; within the usual range of activity, it need not stimulate appetite excessively. The energy you require to offset a pound of fat is approximately 3,500 calories, but the weight need not be lost all at once.

Instead of the exhausting, often impossible, 30-mile hike within a span of hours, a walk of just one extra mile a day for 365 days will get rid of that extra

... pound. Weight gain usually is relatively slow, and the extra mile will—for most of us—help keep our weight down to a reasonable figure.

Exercise also furthers physical, mental, psychological, and social fitness. It provides an outlet

... for emotional tensions, promotes self-confidence, wholesome social activity, and good sportsmanship. It enhances the sense of general well-being that enables us to confront and master a reducing regimen.

To be effective for both weight reduction and for general physical conditioning, exercise must be a regular part of your way of life, and not something that is overcome spasmodically.

So, if you want to lose ten pounds in the next year, just arrange to walk that extra mile today.

Timothy Steele, Jr. Dies In Hospital After Long Illness

Timothy Wesley Steele, Jr., 53, of 26 Myers Road, Robcoast Manor, Newark, died Thursday in Wilmington General Division after a long illness.

Employed in the DuPont Chestnut Run plant for 12 years, he was a member of New Castle Methodist Church.

Surviving his widow, Mrs. Pauline Steele; a son, Thomas of Pennedrew Manor; a daughter, Mrs. Rebecca McCall of Wilmington Manor; his mother, Mrs. Myrtle Steel of New Castle; two brothers, Merion of Swanswick and Rodney of Bellevue Manor; and a sister, Mrs. Marie Bright of New Castle.

Friends called Monday night at the Gebhart Funeral Home, New Castle.

Former Resident John Clancy Dies

John F. Clancy, 65, of 443 South Union Street, Wilmington, died Thursday at Memorial Division after a short illness.

Mr. Clancy, a native of Newark, had lived in Wilmington for the past 40 years.

He retired in 1967 from the Pennsylvania Railroad's Wilmington shops after 40 years of service. He was a member of the Holy Name Society of the Pennsylvania Railroad and St. Thomas Catholic Church.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Catherine C. Clancy; a son, John F. Jr., of Woodland Park; a daughter, Mrs. Patricia C. Clancy of Elmer; a brother, David of Paterson, N.J.; a sister, Mrs. Edward Field of Philadelphia; and six grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Monday morning at St. Thomas Catholic Church, Wilmington, with interment in Cathedral Cemetery.

"If there's one God, why are there so many religions?"

That's a question that has plagued thoughtful people for centuries.
Religions often have seemed to divide men rather than join them—which could hardly be God's will.
In our time, so full of wonders, we're witnessing what may be the greatest wonder of all: the growing force of inter-faith understanding. It seems to promise a fuller flowering of God's hopes for man. You and me.
Great new things are happening in churches and synagogues these days. But find out for yourself. This week. Then take your strengthened faith out into the world—and put it to work.

Annual Pest Control Course Offers Aid Against Being Stung By Flying Family

Bees, yellowjackets and hornets have one unfortunate characteristic in common — they sting. Their control was described by John Amos, entomologist with Virginia Polytechnic Institute at the University of Delaware's annual Pest Control Short Course.

Bees are beneficial, but not when they nest in your home. They may be difficult to locate and remove even with modern chemicals. Amos recommended calling in an experienced pest control specialist; it's a do-it-yourself job.

A swarm of bees on your front lawn some warm spring day can be frightening. Swarms usually occur between 11 a.m. and 3 p.m.

Some of the easiest saving you'll ever do!

Just make one checkmark on your Federal income tax return, and you can be certain your refund—if you have one coming—will go into savings.

Here's how it works: You check the box on Line 25 that brings your tax refund to you in the form of a United States Savings Bond. Then, when you get it, just tack the Bond away.

As easily as that you've saved money that otherwise could trickle away. As easily as that you've put something aside to be part of a down payment on a home, or added something to your child's educational fund, or provided a bit of extra security when an emergency comes along.

Another thing, when you choose to take your tax refund in a Savings Bond, your money grows. Bonds pay you back $4 for every $3 invested in only seven years.

It's nice to know, too, that every Bond dollar helps to keep our country strong, and shows our men in Vietnam that they have our support.

So think it over when you file for your tax refund. Taking it in Savings Bonds is some of the easiest saving you'll ever do—and the most important for your country.

Bond facts: Savings Bonds pay you back $4 for every $3 in only seven years... are replaced if lost, destroyed or stolen... have special tax advantages... can be redeemed whenever the need arises.

Habbersett Anniversaries Celebrated At Media, Pa.

At a dinner dance held in the Masonic Hall, Media, Pa., on Feb. 24, Habbersett Bros. Inc., employees celebrated the golden anniversary of their company's founding in 1917 as a partnership, and the 100th anniversary of the founding of the company to market fine quality country sausage and scrapple under the Habbersett name.

Habbersett is the oldest company still producing original "Philadelphia Scrapple" which was "invented" by Dutch colonial forebears.

"A hangover is something that occupies the head that wasn't used the night before" — James E. Patterson, Big Sandy and Hawkins (Tex.) Journal.

SURE WAY to a man's HEART!

"Through his stomach!" An old adage still true when you serve Habbersett. A long-lasting energy start at breakfast. Or after a hard day give him a lift with a delicious protein-rich Habbersett dinner, Delaware Valley's most famous food.

Try it for sighs... HABBERSETT (You BET!) sausage & scrapple

Gary Hayman's 15 Pace Fulghum Cagers To Win Over Archmere In State Tourney

Gary Hayman paced Coach Frank Fulghum's 15-pace Newark High School basketball team to a 76-65 victory over Archmere in the Blue Hen Conference semifinals for a scheduled meeting with Milford last night at Caesar Rodney High School.

Against Archmere after scoring nine points in the first quarter, Hayman picked up his third foul with just one minute and four seconds of the second period.

Hayman promptly left the contest, and Archmere surged away from a 16-16 tie.

Paced by 6-4 Fran Korwek, the Archers piled up a 30-23 halftime advantage.

Korwek, however, picked up his third personal just before intermission.

With Hayman back in action and Korwek on the bench at the start of the second half, Newark quickly charged into the lead.

Korwek came back to stem the tide, and seconds later Hayman left again, this time with his fourth foul.

The Archers regained the lead with Korwek scoring five points.

At the start of the fourth period both Korwek and Hayman had paired both three and four-pointers and three each. With Newark trailing 30-26, Fulghum gambled and started Hayman.

Archmere Coach Vince Filburn figured it safe, and Korwek stayed seated.

Fulghum's gamble paid off. With Hayman in the lineup, the Yellowjackets outscored Archmere 13-4 before Korwek could get back in.

Hayman scored four points in the burst, and Korwek's appearance failed to stem the tide. He fouled out with six seconds left.

"We were behind at the start of the last quarter," Fulghum explained. "I decided to use Hayman, and figured we had to have him to win."

"When I saw Archmere wasn't starting Korwek, I knew I had made the right decision. We picked up momentum in a hurry."

You don't have to be a bird watcher or a student of a night owl and be alert at the sight of an eagle and report it to the nearest warden. The Bombay Hook Wildlife Refuge is open and ready for everyone. It's probably provident on Nature's part, that eagles are not as commonplace as turkey buzzards - but we wish they were. An eagle has it all over the turkey vulture in appearance, but a buzzard is almost as big and a whole lot more abundant. But while man has long admired the regal eagle for its look of nobility and evident power and prowess, man has been the eagle's worst enemy - and the buzzard's best friend.

For generations, gunners have killed eagles as trophies or in the mistaken belief that they are undesirable predators, and now that the judiciary has been rendered by law, widespread use of insecticides with mosquito control has resulted in lifeless eagle eggs.

And during this same period, man has provided increasing larceny for the turkey and black vultures with a highway kill of animal and bird life.

Ahazard nests generally on the ground in the springtime woods where few people venture with the tick season open and the hunting season closed, while the eagle eye is conspicuous indeed - and the great nest in a tall tree presents our national emblem with the perilous problem of hazardous housing.

We can pretty well remember each eagle seen over a lifetime - from a great white-headed, eye-belt, brown-bodied, yellow-footed, taloned beauty glaring with wonderful golden eyes from a tall longleafed pine beside a Florida highway - to the magnificent bald eagle that swept from the wooded ridge behind Ray Ott's house on the Elk River in quest of a crippled duck after some gunfire from our blind.

We had that Florida eagle dead to rights with a double-barreled shotgun taken from the back of the car braked beneath the tree - back for a day when it eagles were protected, and if shooting from a highway was forbidden, we weren't aware of it. But after looking down the barrels into those eagle eyes, we uncocked and unaimed the gun and drove off to leave the eagle unharmed after drinking deep of its wonderful wildness.

With Rugged Ray Ott on the Elk River, we wing-tipped a black duck that sailed down into a tangle of reeds far from shore where a search by skill proved futile. We don't give up easily on a downed duck, but back in the blind at last and without the duck, suddenly thrilled at the sight of an eagle sliding from the woods and out over the marsh.

Eight Hen Heavyweight Weikert To Enter NCAA Tournament

Delaware's Marty Weikert, Middle Atlantic Conference heavyweight wrestling champion, has entered the NCAA wrestling tournament at Penn State, March 21-23.

Weikert, a 265-pound sophomore, has compiled a record of 18-1 in his first season of varsity competition. He was 12-1 in dual meets, dropping a 3-1 decision to Temple's Marc Baretz, and avenged that defeat by winning a referee's decision over Baretz in the finals of the MAC tournament in Annapolis, Pa.

Weikert's only other loss was a 5-1 decision to Richard Schumaker of East Stroudsburg in the finals of the Wilkes Invitational tournament in December.

"Marty has improved a great deal since he lost those two matches," Blue Hen coach Paul Billy says. "He is only a sophomore and he is improving as he gains experience. The biggest improvement has been in his approach to his matches. He was trying to win only with his speed and strength, but he has become a smarter wrestler through experience."

Lee Swayze, Bob Tucker Win Top Honors As Christiana, Yellowjacket All-Staters

Lee Swayze of Coach Al Mann's Christiana High School Vikings, and Bob Tucker of Coach Francis Fulghum's Newark High School Yellowjackets have been named to the 17th Delaware All-State High School Basketball Team selected by the Wilmington Sportswriters and Broadcasters Association.

Tucker, a junior, quarterbacked Coach Bob Hoffman's State Championship Yellowjackets to an undefeated 1967 season, and was named to both the All-State basketball and football teams in the same school year. Only three other Delaware athletes have been so honored: Newark's Bernard "Bunny" Blaney for the school years of 1950-51 and 1951-52; Wilmington's Charley Cox, 1953-54; and Salesianum's Tom Hall, the school year of 1957-58.

Blaney did it twice, and Tucker has a chance to equal this feat.

The rest of the All-State basketball squad included Al Bantz of Bridgeton, Bill Johnson of Seaford and Ken Hefland of P.S. duPont. It was the first time ever for players from Bridgeton, Christiana and Seaford to be named.

Four Events Won By Carol Thomson At Frostbite Meet

A Newark High School sophomore, Carol Thomson of the Delaware Track and Field Club won four events Saturday to highlight the first annual Women's Frostbite Track Meet at Tower Hill School.

Carol won the 80-yard hurdles in 2 seconds to set a DTCF record. She also won the 50 dash in 6.4 seconds, the 100 dash in 11.6 and the long jump with a flight of 16-3.5.

Viking Roger Reed, Newark's Nau, Lane Win State Championships In Wrestling

Roger Reed of Coach Ken Kilmek's Christiana High School Vikings won the 130-lb. championship, and Craig Nau and Bradley Lane of Coach Andy Marcantonio's Newark High School Yellowjackets won the 112 and 138-lb. crowns last Saturday night at the 12th annual Delaware Interscholastic Wrestling Tournament in the new university fieldhouse.

Reed, a junior at Christiana, who finished third in the recent Blue Hen Conference tourney, defeated Smyrna's Kendall Robinson 15-2 in the finals to win the state title.

Nau, who was state and conference champ last year at 98-lbs., defeated Frank Wright of Wm. Penn in a 4-0 decision to add the state to his current crown as top 112-pounder.

Wright handed Nau his only defeat as a high school wrestler, by winning a decision at Newark during the past regular season. And Nau defeated the Wm. Penn 102-lb. champion of last year, to win the conference title.

Lane, 138-lb. conference champion, and second in the state last year, won the state title by defeating Mt. Pleasant's Randy Mulhern 6-2 in Saturday's finals.

From Matthews' Newark's Brian Hen Conference champion at 103-lbs., was defeated by Milford's Steve Hayes in a 5-4 decision for the state championship.

Newark's Steve Jones and Gerry McCormick won third place state standings by taking the consolation finals.

Jones, 133, defeated Glenn Flemming of Seaford in a 10-3 decision.

Dave Bent Elected Captain Of Hens' Swimming Team

Dave Bent, a junior from Wilmington, has been elected captain of next year's Delaware swimming team.

The former Mt. Pleasant High School athlete secured record-setting freestyle Bob Loeke of Sharrow Hill, Pa. the only senior on the team that posted a 7-3 record this season.

"Dave will do a fine job as captain," veteran coach Harry Rawson says. "He is a hard worker and will set a fine example for the younger swimmers on the team."

Bent is the Delaware Interstate 200-yard freestyle record-holder. Mel Mroczek of Newark set the "Automation hasn't cut out red tape," lamented Porphyry Pote, "it merely performed it!"

Jim Flynn's Hens Face Outdoor Card With 12 Meets

Delaware's track team will appear in 12 meets this spring, and Coach Jim Flynn's Blue Hens, who completed their indoor schedule with an appearance in the ICA meet in New York last weekend, have seven dual meets on the outdoor schedule.

Flynn's Hens will meet Lehigh, Salisbury, Temple, Gettysburg, Bucknell, Lafayette, and St. Joseph's in dual meets and will run in the American University Mountaineer, Penn, and Quantic relays.

In addition, Delaware will host the Middle Atlantic Conference championships for the second year in a row.

"This is a very ambitious schedule," Flynn says, "but it will give our men a chance to run against some of the best competition available. We are looking forward to the start of the season."

The American University Relays in Washington on April 6, is the first meet on the schedule.

NHS Cagers Win

Newark valoped Milton 65-51 last night in the Caesar Rodney High School gym down-state, to earn the finals of the Delaware High School Basketball Tournament. The Yellowjackets will face P. S. du Pont in Delaware Fieldhouse in Newark this Saturday night for the state championship.

Gary Hayman paced the Yellowjacket scorers with 24 points, and Coach Francis Fulghum's Newark cagers were on top of the 38-50 halftime count.

Ten Yellowjackets saw action against Milton last night, with All-Stater Bob Tucker. Hayman, Bill Mills, Wayne Massado, Pedro Swan, Gary Ludwig, Jeff DiFebbia, Roger Ludwig, Drew Crowe, and Steve Strumbeck on the court.

Couch, Pratt Head Peterson's Cagers For Next Season

Sophomores Jim Couch and Loren Peterson have been elected co-captains for the 1968-69 Delaware basketball team.

Blue Hen Coach Dan Peterson is delighting with results of the team's balloting, saying "Jim and Loren will make excellent captains. They are hard workers and they will lead by example. Both are very serious about their basketball and they have the respect of their teammates and the younger players coming up from the freshman team."

This year's team elected Pratt as the most valuable player.

"In naming Pratt as the most valuable player, the team indicated its appreciation of his hustle and desire," Peterson says.

Both Couch and Pratt were instrumental in leading this year's team to a 16-7 record and the Middle Five title.

Pratt, a 6-4 forward from Maywood, Ill., was third in both scoring and rebounding for the Hens this year, averaging 13.5 points and 6.7 rebounds.

Hampered late in the season by a back injury that slowed him in several games, he missed the last two contests entirely.

Pratt and senior center Ken Barnett received honorable mention on the Middle Atlantic Conference university division all-star team.

Pratt's top scoring night was a 25-point effort in a losing cause at Bucknell.

Couch, a 6-2 playmaker from Pexico, Ill., averaged 12.1 points and was one of the team's steadiest players. He appeared in every game and gave a consistently reliable performance.

Couch and Pratt succeeded senior co-captains Charley Parnell and Mark Waganan.

"Naturally, we are going to miss Barnett, Parnell, Waganan and all of our six graduating seniors very much," Peterson says, "but I think that Couch, plus Eddie Roth and Steve Jackson will give us a good nucleus for next year."

Dapper Dan knows whereof he speaks.

The Hens are 21-16 in his two years as head coach.

Robinson, Yates Slated By Hannah For Double Play

Delaware's baseball team is slowly rounding into shape for the start of the 1968 season, with Coach Bob Hannah's Blue Hens opening the season by hosting Syracuse at Delaware Field on March 25.

"It is difficult to judge just how good we are going to be because we haven't been able to do anything on the field," Hannah says. "But I do think we are going to be better defensively than we were last year."

That will come as good news to Blue Hens fans who watched their team compile a 10-9 record last year in spite of 60 errors.

Hannah has some sophomore in-laws he feels will help correct their fielding problems.

Two newcomers from Wilmington - Jimmy Robinson and Dave Yates - should break into the starting lineup as the double play combination.

Robinson, second baseman at Conrad High, and in American Legion play, has been switched to shortstop and looks like a future star at his new position.

"Jimmy has a fine arm and great fielding," Hannah says of the Red Sox. "I think he will make a fine shortstop and he has indicated that he can do the job with the hit."

Yates, a two-sport standout at Mt. Pleasant two years ago, looks like the starting second baseman. An aggressive player, Yates is a former shortstop and has a fine arm.

"Dave can make the doubleplay pivot as well as anybody I have had," Hannah says. "He has an excellent approach to the game and seems to work well with Robinson around second base."

The addition of Robinson and Yates gives the Hens good strength up the middle. All-Middle Atlantic standout Chuck Pease is the catcher and veteran Dave Cathcart runs center field.

Pease, the team captain, is strong defensively and led the Hens in batting last year with a .347 average.

The speedy Cathcart hit 209 a year ago and led the team in stolen bases with 12 thefts in 35 attempts.

Senior Wayne Evans, who hit .277 last year, appears to have the inside track in the race for the left field job, but right field, first base and third base are still up for grabs.

SPORT NOTES BY THOMPSON

THREE PLAYERS WHO SURPRISED EACH OTHER BEAUTIFULLY WERE EVERS, EVERS AND CHANCE OF THE CHICAGO CUBS. THEIR FAMOUS DOUBLE PLAY TINKER, CEDER AND EVERS AT SECOND WHO INSTANTLY ADDED IT TO CHANCE AT FIRST, CAUSING AUTHOR P.P. TOMAS TO MOAN THAT THE SADDEST WORDS HE KNEW WERE "TINKER TO EVERS TO CHANCE."

WOODROW WILSON TURNED TO THE SUPPORT OF BASEBALL AFTER HE FAILED TO MAKE THE TEAM BECAUSE OF HIS POOR VISION. HE MANAGED THE PRINCETON NINE, AND LATER BECAME A TOP STRATEGIST AND GRIDIRON WIZARD FOR THE UNIVERSITY.

WHENEVER AN ATHLETE NEEDS EXTRA SUPPORT FOR WEAK KNEES, ANKLES, OR SHOULDERS - ACE SPANDEX BANNERS COME INTO PLAY. MADE OF LONG-STAPLE COTTON AND BEST QUALITY SPANDEX FIBER-THREAD, THIS FAMOUS BANNER STRETCHES TO DOUBLE ITS LENGTH, AND IT WITHSTANDS MANY LAUNDRINGS WITHOUT LOSS OF ELASTICITY!

A Dream For Brandywine Raceway

Jack (tie) Willets (right) one of Delaware's foremost trainer-drivers, shows off his promising two-year-old pacer Sally's Dream, a son of Knight Dream, to three-time Hambleton winner Del Cameron, at Pinehurst, N.C., where both have been training large stables for the Brandywine Raceway campaign of 160 nights opening May 13. Willets thinks he has a potential champion in Sally's Dream.
