The town library which for years was operated entirely under the Century Club is now an out and out free library and to secure State aid the school district is required to raise a certain amount of money and the money to be raised by this show will go to this fund.

Joseph A. Crockett, Former Employee of Kells, Dies

Joseph A. Crockett, one of the best known residents of this section, died at his home in Appleton, Md., last Monday. He had not been in good health for more than a year.

Mr. Crockett's wide range of activities in Newark and vicinity brought him a large number of friends. In his earlier years he owned and operated several threshing machines here in addition to cultivating a large farm.

At one time, Mr. Crockett was a gardner for the late Everett C. Johnson. After the death of Mr. Johnson, Mr. Crockett became associated with the Press of Kells.

Throughout his life, Mr. Crockett was keenly interested in civic affairs. He spent practically all of his life in this vicinity.

He is survived by a wife and six sons, Alfred, Benjamin, James, John, Clarence and Norman; one daughter and two step children, Margaret and Lloyd Smith.

The funeral will take place Friday, with services at 2 o'clock in the afternoon at Head of Christiana Church, with interment in the adjoining cemetery.

SCOUT TO RECEIVE HIGH AWARD

Local Scout Troop Celebrating National Scout Week

The week of February 5th to 12th is being observed by all the Boy Scouts of the country as the Anniversary of Scouting in America. The local troop, in accordance with its usual custom, is carrying out a special program of activities which terminates this evening with a Court of Honor.

Scout Week was initiated by a special entertainment, with refreshments, at the Legion Room in the Academy Building, on Friday evening, February 5th. Regular routine was set aside while the Scouts renewed their Oath and had an evening of solid enjoyment. Captain Charles M. Myers was the speaker.

On Sunday the Troop met at its quarters and marched to St. John's Roman Catholic Church for the 10 o'clock service. Father Brennan welcomed the Scouts and made a very inspiring address.

The display of Scoutcraft in the window of Rhodes' Drug Store has been attracting the attention of many passers-by during the week. The material on exhibit is illustrative of various phases of Scout activity and includes many articles made by the Newark Scouts during the past year.

Troop No. 55, B. S. A., will hold a special Court of Honor on Friday evening, February 12, at 7.30 o'clock. At this Court the Badge of Eagle Scout will be awarded to Jack Geist. This is the highest rank that Scouting has to offer and its attainment is only possible through the sustained efforts of the Scout in making advancement and through his unselfish devotion to the welfare of his Troop. Jack will be the firt Newark Scout to receive this honor and his many friends will be pleased to learn of his success. Life Scout badges will be awarded to Harold E. Tiffany, Jr., and Harry Wilson. Robert Hancock will receive a Star Scout Badge.

The Court of Honor will be held in the American Legion Room. It is open to the public and the parents of Scouts are particularly urged to attend.

Commander Lester Scotten, of the Newark American Legion Post, will present the awards.

MEMBERS OF BOY SCOUT TROOP No. 55, NEWARK, DEL.

J. P. WILSON, PROMINENT NEWARK CITIZEN, DROPS DEAD

Funeral Services to be Held Saturday Afternoon

While on a business trip to Hockessin, J. Penrose Wilson, Newark insurance man and grain broker, dropped dead yesterday afternoon. Death was due to heart attack.

Mr. Wilson, who was well known in Newark and throughout the State, had been a resident of this town for many years. He was active in Republican politics and at one time was a member of the State Legislature. He had a wide circle of friends in Newark, to whom his death came as a shock.

Mrs. Wilson, who was prostrated by her husband's death, immediately made arrangements to have the body brought to Newark. The funeral will take place from the home at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon, with interment in White Clay Creek Cemetery.

In addition to his wife, Mr. Wilson is survived by two sons, George W. Wilson and John Penrose Wilson, and two daughters, Mrs. Katherine Williams and Mrs. Willard Triggs.

Addresses Masons

DR. H. V. HOLLOWAY

Dr. H. V. Holloway, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, was the speaker at the meeting of the local lodge A. F. and A. M. on last Monday evening.

AETNA COMPANY RECEIVED TOTAL OF $212 IN DONATIONS

During the year 1931 the Aetna Hose, Hook and Ladder Company received a total of $212.00 in contributions from friends in Newark and vicinity. Of this amount, $93.00 was specified for the ambulance fund.

COVERED DISH SUPPER

A Covered Dish Supper will be served on Friday night, February 12, by Friendship Temple No. 6, Pythian Sisters, in their Temple room, for members and their husbands, at 6.30. A social time will follow the supper. Members, come out!

BOY SCOUTS GIVE EXHIBITION IN ANNIVERSARY PROGRAM

A striking exhibition showing the work of the Newark Boy Scouts has been arranged in the window of Rhodes' Drug Store by members of Newark Troop No. 55, in connection with the 22nd anniversary of the Boy Scouts of America being celebrated this week throughout the nation.

The exhibition which was done entirely by members of the troop, shows a camping site prepared for an overnight stay, and around it is arranged an interesting exhibition of the Boy Scout merit badge work.

Probably the most interesting feature of this is the work for the taxidermist merit badge. In connection with this, a number of stuffed birds and animals are included. The largest group, entitled "An Interrupted Dinner," shows two red-tailed hawks fighting over a slain pigeon. The birds are arranged in a realistic fighting posture on a slab of rock.

A stuffed 'possum and rabbit are also included. Those who arranged the taxidermy exhibition are Scouts W. Singles, H. Wilson and J. Geist.

An exhibtion of articles made by candidates for the leather-working merit badge is included. The articles, consisting chiefly of knife sheaths, were made by Scouts G. Wharton and H. Tiffany. Scout Tiffany also constructed a model of an airplane, which is included in the exhibition illustrating the work done for the aviation merit badge.

The work for the carpentry merit badge is illustrated by a small footstool with an upholstered top, made by Scout P. Wilson. A plaque received by Troop 55 as first prize in a first-aid contest is exhibited. The members of the first-aid team engraved on the trophy are, Woodrow Singles, captain; Kent Preston, Jack Geist, Eugene White, William Meredith and A. E. Thomas.

The window display was arranged with the cooperation of Dr. Rhodes, by Scouts Woodrow Singles, Donald Wilson and George Tiffany. T. A. Baker, of the University of Delaware, is scoutmaster of Troop 55.

In connection with the anniversary, the troop attended the 11 o'clock mass at St. John's Catholic Church last Sunday. Each year the scouts attend one of the Newark churches in a body, selecting the churches in rotation.

In connection with the anniversary, members of the Troop's first-aid team gave an exhibition before a meeting of the Newark American Legion Post in Academy Building Tuesday. The team was directed by Woody Singles, assistant scoutmaster.

Throughout the week, members of the troop are wearing their uniforms. The anniversary will close next Saturday, which will be Mothers' Day. Friday night, formal presentation of several awards will be made in Academy Building.

BIRD IN HAND" TO BE PRESENTED BY E 52 CLASS OF UNIVERSITY

"Bird in Hand," a flavorsome medy by John Drinkwater, will be esented by the E 52 Class in Play oduction, University of Delaware, bruary 23, in Mitchell Hall. After run of a year at the Royale Theatre London, "Bird in Hand" was ought to America by Lee Shubert. ere it ran for sixty-three weeks in ew York, fifteen weeks in Chicago, ne weeks in Philadelphia, and toured r six months in the larger cities of e East and middle West.

The story of the play is that of a rovincial tavern-keeper's daughter ho defies exacting parental authorby motoring with the son of Sir obert Arnwood. Her stubborn, crusty ther pursued them when they fail return at the time he considers oper, and humiliates them with his ant insinuations. In his rage, the ther entangles not only his family, t three over-night guests at the inn o the battle. After unusual and lly plot complications, the father conically consents to his daughter's rriage.

The play takes place in "The Bird Hand Inn," and teems with atosphere and characterizations. Each le offers an opportunity for stellar rformances, and in each part is cast outstanding University of Dela- are actor or actress. Joan, the girl, d Gerald, the boy, will be played by rothy Calloway and T. Henry Dickon. Joan's father, loveable in spite his obstinate and opinionated nner, will be played by Marshall Cully, the outstanding University Delaware character actor. The mother, dutiful yet recalling the glamour of her own youth, is to be interpreted by Cecelia Gordon. Three rich comedy parts are those of the inn guests—Mr. Blanquet, a salesman for sardines, to be played by Alfred Joseph; Cyril Beverly, a silly and impudent son of a wealthy yeast manufacterer, sure to be pertly enacted by Roland Erskine; and Godolphin, a pompous barrister, which role will be taken by Stanley Salzburg. Kirk Quinn will play the part of old Sir Robert.

Those who know E 51 and E 52 performances are sure of seeing finished productions by experienced actors and actresses, trained by C. R. Kase, assistant professor of English, University of Delaware, and director of dramatics. Last year this group presented "Outward Bound" and "Arms and the Man." Two performances are given each school year, a serious one and a light one. The first one of this year was "Liliom," and the E 52 class is now happy to announce the frolicsome "Bird in Hand" for February 23.

ADDRESSES WOMEN'S COLLEGE STUDENTS

Miss Estelle Bonnell, representing the Children's Foundation of New York, addressed the students of the Women's College early this week on "Nursery School." The talk was of special interest at this time when so much consideration is being given to subjects of this kind.

RYE HEADED IN FIELD NEAR NEWARK

Rye in head at this season of the year is another result of the unusually mild winter. T. C. Bradford, real estate agent of 1521 Delaware avenue, Wilmington, has sent to The Evening Journal a head of rye which he pulled from a field near here, on Saturday. The head is almost entirely formed. As far as can be learned this is the first time that rye has headed in this locality in February.

Two Hundred and Twenty-five Ribbons and Prizes Won by Coweview Herd

Two hundred and twenty-five ribbons and prizes were won by the Coweview herd of pure bred Jerseys during 1931 on the show circuit which included seven fairs in Delaware, Maryland, New Jersey, and Pennsylvania. This herd is owned by J. Wirt Willis of Bear and Wilmington, and managed by J. A. Correll who resides on the farm at Glasgow.

A survey of the activities of this herd on the show circuit gives the following facts. The show herd was exhibited at seven fairs, excluding the Parish Show of the Eastern Shore Jersey Cattle Club of which these breeders are members. The Kent-Sussex Fair at Harrington, Delaware, during the last week of July, was the first place of competition in which Mr. Willis entered in 1931. This was followed by the Trenton, New Jersey; Reading, Allentown, Bloomsburg and York fairs in Pennsylvania, and Bel Air in Maryland. In the open classes the herd won fifteen championships; fifty-eight blue or first prize ribbons; forty-nine, seconds; forty-nine, thirds; thirty-four, fourths; fifteen, fifths, and five, sixth places. In the group classes, including exhibitors herd, get of sire, produce of dam, etc., these Jerseys brought in enough of the coveted blue ribbons to cause older money honors was Raleigh's Warder's exhibitors to be envious.

Winterthur Dagan Ormsby Fannie

Never placing below fourth at all of the fairs was the record of Mr. Correll with his exhibitors herd, the pride of all showmen's entries, his young herd and the get of Raleigh Warder's Cherry Boy. The produce of Golden Nobles Frances, No. 518,861, and of her sister, Golden Nobles Malba, No. 518,860, won over one hundred and sixty dollars in prize money for their owner. Raleigh Warder's Cherry Boy is the sire of the four animals shown in these two produce classes and get of sire class, a breeding feature seldom found, according to Mr. Correll.

The individual winning the largest amount of money on the circuit was La Sentes Raleigh Boy, No. 338,327, showing as a senior calf. This animal was judged senior and grand champion at the Kent-Sussex meeting and grand champion at York, with first place at Bel Air, third at Bloomsburg and Trenton, and fourth at Reading, and Allentown. A close competitor for Noble Jack No. 308631 showing in the two years and under three class with blue ribbons at Harrington, York and Bel Air, second at Reading, Allentown and Bloomsburg, and third at Trenton. This bull in 1930 was judged the junior champion male at every one of the same exhibits except Allentown and Trenton.

In the female section, Warder's Fairy Noble, No. 618,871, showing in the over six year old class, was grand champion at Reading, Allentown and Bloomsburg, second at York and Harrington and third at Bel Air with a total of $110 in winnings to her credit. The second highest female was Golden Nobles Frances May, No. 707,001. This cow, a half sister of Raleigh's Warder's Noble Jack, was first at Harrington and Allentown; second at Reading and York; third at Bel Air, and fourth at Bloomsburg and Trenton.

During the year ending April 1, 1931, this herd of 85 cows averaged 398 pounds of butterfat and 7319 pounds of milk per cow, according to the records of the New Castle County Cow Testing Association. This is an increase of 38 pounds of fat per cow over their previous year's record and was exceeded only by the Jersey herd of H. Wilson Price who lives on an adjoining farm. During this one year period, the Coweview herd has always been among the first ten in fat production with the average test of 5.4%.

The high grade A quality milk produced at the Coweview Farm is milked by the latest type of milking machines in new, modern, and sanitary barns, cooled by electric refrigeration and sold at all times by the Clover Dairy in Wilmington.

Since the foundation of this herd by Mr. Willis several years ago, he has always been on the lookout for better show and productive type animals for his herd. Official testing has done much for Mr. Correll in establishing the records on many of his cows, leading all other Jersey breeders in the State of Delaware.

Under the American Jersey Cattle Club supervision, Coweview producers hold the Delaware Championship in Class A, Senior Three Year Olds with 700 pounds of fat and 13,147 pounds of milk; Class AA, Senior Three Year Olds with 638.6 pounds of fat and 11,376 pounds of milk (a silver medal cow; Class AAA, Senior Three Year Olds with 639.8 pounds of fat and 10,649 pounds of milk in ten months, this cow is a gold and silver medal individual. The same cow holds the Junior Three Year Old Class AA and Senior Four Year Old Class A with 574.8 pounds of fat and 551 pounds of fat respectively.

Other state records made at Coweview include the Senior Four Year Olds in Class AA with 560.5 pounds of fat from 11,120 pounds of milk; Senior Mature Cow Class AA with 746.6 pounds of fat from 13,311 pounds of milk; and cow over 12 years old in Class AAA with 415.6 pounds of fat from 7,318 pounds of milk.

IN MEMORIAM

Stewart—In loving memory of our granddaughter, Helen Emily, who died Feb. 10, 1930.

Till memory fades and life departs
You'll live forever in our hearts.
Time takes away the edge of grief,
But memory turns back every leaf.

Sadly missed by her
Grandmother and Grandfather.

Stewart—In loving memory of our darling baby, Helen Emily, who passed away Feb. 10, 1930.

Two years have passed since that sad day,
The one we loved was called away,
But death has left a lonesomeness,
That never can be filled.

Sadly missed by

The Desire to Know

Leonardo da Vinci had it; the shaping of the destiny of the world depends upon it. Some of us have it; but, many of us are satisfied to accept statements merely because their face value appears to be good. The desire to know! How many truly great men have burned with the restful fire of wanting to know why certain things happen as they do? How many countless hours have been spent in the working out of only the elemental and fundamental facts pertaining to any problem which has confronted man since his beginning on earth.

Whether they teach in schools, in lessons, or in everyday life is of little consequence; but the teachers who have fired their pupils with a desire to know something about which they do not understand; to instill the ability to wonder if and to wonder why—those persons are boons to mankind. Common fallacies heard everyday are disheartening, but the teachers are the ones who will set things right in the pupils' minds. Statements (either printed or spoken) must be backed by numerous experiments which have proved the statements to be true.

All of us must benefit by experience, otherwise the world would remain at a standstill; but we must be sure that the experience of which we are making use is dependable and of the right root. Dependability is the foundation of success, but the desire for knowledge is what makes the building an edifice or a hut. Dependability is the foundation of success, the desire to know is the architect, and the will to do is the constructor. Let's lay a firm foundation, make a complete outline of what we intend to do, and build our success to a peak heretofore inaccessible

Physical Education, Fifth Period

The Physical Education Class, 5th period on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, is becoming more interesting every day. Our class advisor, Miss Thomson, did not stop at teaching us marching, dancing and games, for now she is giving us valuable notes and practice in "First Aid."

Today in this class we took notes and practiced bandaging and putting an injured arm in a sling.

A Heritage

Here in the Newark Public Schools we have a heritage. Our parents have paid well for this school of ours. It is modern in every particular. We have large, well lighted class rooms, a competent staff, a modern cafeteria, a good athletic field, beautiful grounds and an auditorium and gymnasium in the process of construction.

What, then, is our duty in view of this heritage? It is to gain from this school such an education and such culture that our lives will be richer and happier and that our posterity will have an environment even better than our own.

The Basketball Game

Wednesday evening the Senior girls and the Sophomore girls are going to have a basketball game.

The Sophomores hope to play a much better game than the one between the Juniors and Sophomores.

The positions will be played as follows:

Seniors—Margaret Waples, center; Dorothy Moore, side center; Eleanor Murray, forward; Bertha Kirk, forward; Esther McDorak, guard; Virginia Thomas, guard.

Sophomores—Mary Burnett, center; Margaret McMullen, side center; Frances Brown, forward; Mary Hayes, forward; Maralee Kennard, guard; Rosaland Ernest, guard.

Moving and Talking Pictures in Junior High Assembly, Feb. 3

Mr. W. E. Woodward, representing the Electrical Research Products of the Western Electric Company, was introduced by Mr. Ira Brinser. In his introduction Mr. Brinser stated that the main feature of the picture would be guidance. The title of the picture was "Choosing Your Vocation."

The star of the picture, a high school boy, was trying to choose his vocation. He had often dreamed of being an aviator, but in order to realize this ambition he would have to take up some line of work which would lead to aviation. He went about this in a wise way. He went to the library and selected several books containing a list of vocations. Bill, the high school boy chose banking from the list and immediately went to a bank and secured a job. Here Bill did a very unwise thing. Had he looked up banking and asked questions he would have found that he was not suited for this vocation. When receiving his first pay check he also received his discharge paper. Of course, he was discouraged in this line of work. We did not see Bill for a short length of time, but when we did he was photographing pictures from an airplane. He had selected this as his vocation.

This picture should teach the boys and girls of the Newark High School not to jump at conclusions, but to study and plan a vocation to which they are well suited.

The Junior High School Traffic Committee Meeting

The Junior High School Traffic or Safety Committee is endeavoring to care for the new building and its surroundings.

In the last few meetings we decided on five things. They were:

1. Single file in corridors going one way.

2. Double lines going down stairs at dismissals.

3. Keep away from lockers during class changings.

Be out of the school building at the most ten minutes after the lines pass.

5. Stay at your lockers until you are dismissed.

The traffic committee wishes the co-operation of all Junior High School pupils.

Secretary of Traffic Committee,
Adelta Dawson.

Summary of What We Studied In Social Science Last Semester, Grade VIII

Grade 8

The first pamphlet we studied about in Social Science was called "The Westward Movement and the Growth of Transportation." It tells how the westward movement started and its progress. It also told of how transportation progressed.

The second pamphlet we studied was called "The Mechanical Conquest of America." This pamphlet told of the inventions and improvements which helped the Industrial Revolution.

The pamphlet we are studying now is called "America's March Toward Democracy." Part I.

Reflections

It was on a certain moonlight night,
When the sky was full of stars;
Across the stream that was clear and bright
The moon shone in silvery bars.

I wasn't feeling like myself
So I betook myself to walk—
I called my collie: he followed me,
But of course we could not talk.

Everything was quiet and calm
It was so deathless still;
I thought how different was the day
When the sun kissed every hill.

At night the breezes have a chill;
At day they're full of cheer;
At night things seem uncertain;
At day they're bright and clear.

I love the quiet of the night,
A calm and peace it brings,
But I love the beauty of the day
Where every bright bird swings.

Charles Dickens

Charles Dickens was born at Landport, England, on February 7, 1812, and died at Gadshill, England, on June 9, 1870. He was a celebrated English novelist. He received an education in private schools and then served as an attorney's clerk. In 1835 he was a reporter. His first story was "A Dinner at Poplar Walk" in 1833.

In 1836 he printed "Sketches of Boz." He married Catherine Hogarth in 1836. He printed the "Pickwick Papers" (1836-37). He was the editor of "Household Words" in 1849. Visited the United States in 1842, and again Charles Dickens came to the United States in 1867 and 68. He produced many great works. His last work was not ended in 1870, when he partly finished the "Mystery of Edwin Brood."

Reid Stearns.

Jules Verne

Jules Verne was a famous French writer of imaginative tales. He was born at Nantes on February 8, 1828, and died at Amiens on March 24, 1915. He wrote a number of exciting adventures. One of these was, "Round the World in Eighty Days." It told how a Mr. Phileas Fogg and his servant circled the globe in eighty days by various ways of transportation. What would he think if he heard of Post and Gatty, who circled the globe in less than nine days? He wrote many other facinating books.

JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

February 8, 1932, marked the twenty-second anniversary of the Boy Scouts of America. The organization of the Boy Scouts of America was brought about by a good turn done by an unknown English Scout for Mr. W. D. Boyce, a Chicago publisher. Mr. Boyce was seeking a difficult address in London. A boy offered his services and led him to the place he was seeking. Mr. Boyce offered the boy a tip but the boy said, "No, Sir, I am a Scout. Scouts do not accept tips for courtesies." Mr. Boyce was surprised and asked the boy more about the Scouts. The Scout led Mr. Boyce to their office which was nearby. Sir Robert Baden-Powell, founder of the British Boy Scouts Association, gave him all the information he wanted. Mr. Boyce was greatly impressed, and on his return to the United States, he, with Edward Stewart and Stanley Willis incorporated The Boy Scouts of America under the laws of the District of Columbia, on February 8, 1910. It was also incorporated in House of Representatives Bill No. 24747. Such men as Theodore Roosevelt, Gifford Pinchot, Ernest Thompson Seton and Dan Beard were among its officials. With these men Scouting was largely out-of-doors. Scouting grew fast, and during the World War Scouts distributed Government literature, sold War Savings Stamps, sold Liberty Bonds, made gardens, gathered fruit pits for carbon for gas masks, and located walnut timber for the Government. Today the Boy Scouts of America is one of the three such chartered organizations. The other two are the Red Cross and the "Y."

The purpose of Scouting is to prepare boys for their future life and make them good citizens. There is nothing military or political about the Scouts. Scouts are taught signalling, first aid, woodcraft and other interesting subjects. A Scout has fun hiking through the woods, camping, going on trips, and he gets privileges which many other boys do not get. A Scout is: trustworthy, loyal, helpful, friendly, courteous, kind, obedient, cheerful, thrifty, brave, clean and reverent. He promises on his honor that he will do his best: (1) To do my duty to God and my country, and obey the Scout Law; (2) To help other people at all times; (3) To keep myself physically strong, mentally awake and morally straight.

The Scout's motto is "Be Prepared." A Scout must pass tests to advance in rank. The lowest rank is Tenderfoot, next are Second Class, First class, Star, Life, and Eagle—the highest rank. Scout troops are divided into Patrols. There are usually eight boys in each patrol and four patrols in a troop. There is a Scoutmaster, Assistants and Junior Assistants. There is also a Senior Patrol Leader.

The Newark Troop of Scouts has a membership of about forty-three. The troop is divided into patrols. They are the: Flaming Arrows, Blue Hens, Silver Foxes, Beavers, and Flying Eagles. The Scoutmaster is Mr. Baker. His Assistants are Vernon Steele and Woody Singles. The troop is sponsored by the American Legion. Mr. Tomhave is Chairman of the Troop Committee. There will be an exhibit during Anniversary Week in Rhodes' drug store window showing some of the Newark troop's activities. The exhibit will be prepared by the Newark troop.

A boy should be twelve years old to join the Scouts. Anyone wishing further information should see the Scoutmaster or some Scout. Some Scout publications are: "Handbook for Boys," fifty cents; "Boy's Life," twenty cents a copy, and "Scouting," a magazine for Scout Leaders.

Edison and the Electric Light

Thomas Edison lived day by day, giving his time to working on inventions, to make a happier world.

Edison did not invent the electric light, but he did much to improve it. At first he used a platinum wire but it was too expensive. He then used a carbon thread instead of platinum. This was all right and it paved a way for the electric light. It was invented in 1879. In the same year it was invented by Joseph Swan, who should receive some of the credit.

David Cronhardt.

Franz Schubert

Franz Schubert, German musical composer, was born in Vienna, Austria, January 31, 1797. At the age of seven he began his study of music. Schubert was early skilled on the piano and other musical instruments and by 1815 was composer of five operas, two symphonies and 187 songs. His entire compositions included six masses, ten symphonies and fifteen operas, six hunderd songs. Some productions are "Hark, Hark, the Lark," "Rosamond," "Enchanted Harp," and "Feirabas."

W. A. Singles Upholds War Debts; Plan County Credit Bureau

The United States should refuse flatly to cancel its war debts, declared Warren A. Singles, secretary and treasurer of the Newark Trust Company, addressing the members of the Economics Club of Delaware College in Old College last Tuesday night.

Mr. Singles, who as a banker made an extensive study of the war debt and reparations problems, advanced a large number of reasons in opposition to cancellation of the debts.

In the first place, he said, they are legally contracted debts, being unlike reparations, which were imposed by other nations on Germany. The war debts, in addition, do not add to the German burden, inasmuch as Germany does not owe the United States any appreciable debts whatever.

Mr. Singles also said that the war debts are not a burden on our European debtors. He pointed out that European debts to us represent less than four per cent of their budgets. In addition to this, he said, European countries are spending seven times annually for armaments as much as would be required to pay their debts to the United States.

Wednesday night, Mr. Singles, in company with C. B. Evans, president of the bank, and J. E. Dougherty, vice-president and treasurer of the Farmers' Bank, attended a meeting of New Castle County bankers in the du Pont-Biltmore Hotel, Wilmington, to discuss plans for a credit bureau to keep track of multiple borrowers in the county. The plan will be presented to the Wilmington Clearing House Association for approval, after which it will be set in operation with a headquarters in Wilmington.

MRS. K. W. DUNLEVY LAID TO REST IN PHILA.

The funeral of Mrs. Katharine Norris Dunlevy, wife of Dr. Charles W. Dunlevy, of Newark, was held Monday at 11 o'clock. The services were in charge of the Rev. H. Everett Hallman, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church. The pall bearers were: Orlando K. Strahorn, Dr. G. Burton Pearson, J. Earle Dougherty, Warren A. Singles, Professor Howard K. Preston and Thomas A. Potts. Interment was made at West Laurel Hill Cemetery, Philadelphia, following a service in the chapel, conducted by the Rev. William Barnes Lower, D. D., of Wyncote Presbyterian Church, in Philadelphia.

Mrs. Dunlevy died on Friday following a short illness. On Thursday her condition becoming worse, she was removed to Delaware Hospital, Wilmington, but efforts to have her life were unsuccessful. She was a member of the First Presbyterian Church, of Newark, the Missionary Society, and the New Century Club. She is survived by her husband, Charles W. Dunlevy, D. D. S., of Newark, aister, Miss Emily Kreider Norris, of the Norris School of Expression and Stage Art, Philadelphia, a brother, William H. Norris, D. D. S., of Wilmington, and her two step-children, Mrs. Richard L. Cooch, of Newark, and F. Richard Dunlevy, of Clayton.

STANTON MAN HELD FOR POSSESSION OF UNREGISTERED STILL

William Unitowski, of Stanton, was held under $500 bail for the March term of Federal Court by U. S. Commissioner Albert F. Polk Tuesday. Unitowski, who was arrested by Federal agents operating under General Rowan, deputy prohibition administrator for Delaware, is charged with the possession of an unregistered still and materials designed for the manufacture of liquor.

H. Eugene Savery represented Unitowski. The still and equipment seized, it was stated, had not been set up and was not in operation.

KITCHEN SHOWER

Saturday Night, February 6, a Kitchen Shower was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Morris, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Ubil. The couple received many pretty and useful gifts.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Allen Ubil, Elmhurst; Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Ubil, Elmhurst; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Saxson, Wilmington; Mrs. Mary Fenniman, Elmhurst; Mr. and Mrs. Ermont Johnson, Stanton; Miss Lola Dickerson, Mr. Henry McCleary, Miss Georgianna Lloyd, Mr. Kermit Cassell, all of New London, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. George Alcorn and Children, Stanton; Mr, and Mrs. Earl Morrice. Refreshments were served.

DR. GREENFIELD TO ADDRESS ALUMNÆ

Dr. Kent Roberts Greenfield, several years ago a member of the faculty of the University of Delaware but now professor of modern European history at Johns Hopkins University, will be the speaker at the annual banquet of the Alumnæ Association of the Women's College on Saturday evening, February 27. Plans for the occasion have been announced by Anne Drew Scott, president of the association.

The program has been arranged by Helen G. Baylis, of the class of 1918, chairman of the program committee. Kathryn Poinsett, class of 1931, is chairman of decorations for the dinner.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR NEWS

Newark's Christian Endeavor meeting at 6.45 p. m. Sunday evening, will be on the topic "What Jesus Teaches about Faithfulness." Miss Elizabeth Tiffany will be the leader.

Twenty-seven C. E. members and guests attended the annual banquet which was held last Tuesday evening. Several old members made special efforts to enable them to attend. Mrs. Dougherty rendered two beautiful vocal selections. The speech of Professor Barkley, of the University of Delaware, was a fitting culmination to the events of the evening.

Thursday evening, February 1, at 7 p. m., is the time set for the second meeting of the Newark Expert Endeavor class being held under the leadership of the Rev. E. H. Hallman at the Presbyterian Church. Chapter II, on the "pledge," will be discussed at this time. Nine members attended the first meeting, and a real welcome awaits all young people who may care to attend the second session.

PARKING ON BOTH SIDES OF SHIPLEY ST. NOW ALLOWED AFTER 6 O'CLOCK P. M.

An amending resolution banning parking on the easterly side of Shipley street from Fourth street to Tenth street was given its first and second readings by the Street and Sewer Directors Tuesday morning.

The resolution provides that the no parking restriction shall be from 8 o'clock in the morning until 6 o'clock in the evening. Parking privilege on the east side of the street after 6 o'clock will be the same as that on all other streets, or unlimited until 3 o'clock in the morning. The no parking rule during the day will not affect trucks loading or discharging merchandise.

NEW TYPE SLEEPING CAR ON B. AND O.

For the first time in railroad operation, a new "private section" Pullman sleeping car is in use on the Baltimore and Ohio.

The innovation provides space between the berth and the curtain so that occupants can stand erect while undressing. Curtains may be drawn to give privacy in the daytime also, if desired.

Each section has individual heating and ventilating, lavatory, clothes-hangers, thermos bottle and electric fan.

Smoking is permitted.

There are four of these private sections and ten regular sections in the car. Seats in all sections are adjustable.

The Capitol Limiteds of the Baltimore and Ohio, between Washington and Chicago, have these new cars.

Lodge Notes

K. OF P.

Osceola Lodge No. 5, Knights of Pythias, conferred the Page and Esquire degrees on a class, the work being done by Past Grand Chancellor, Albert Wilhelm and team of Adelphia Lodge No. 8 of New Castle.

After the business session the New Castle boys trimmed Osceola at quoits.

Osceola Lodge has been taking in new members right along, which speaks well for the regular attenders, so if you fellows that stay away on Monday nights would come around once in a while, there's no doubt of Osceola winning the cup this year.

On next Monday evening the members will visit Washington Lodge in Wilmington, where the rank of Knight will be conferred, the members expect to leave about 7.30, so be on hand and swell the crowd.

I. O. R. M.

On last Sunday, Minnehaha Tribe No. 23, I. O. R. M., held services at the Red Men's Home, with Rev. W. E. Gunby in charge; Prof. Myers led in singing. A large crowd was on hand, including all the Great Chiefs of the Reservation.

On Tuesday evening a Bingo Party was held by Minnehaha and was a success. It is the wish of the committee to hold these parties once a month. The next one will be early in March, the date to be announced later.

On next Tuesday night the installation team will practice, and all members are requested to be on hand.

Sunday, February 14, 10 a. m., Sunday School. Walter Miller, superintendent.

11 a. m., regular Church Services. The pastor, Mr. Green, will preach on "The Great Gulf."

Sunday evening is the beginning of the second and last week of special evangelical services, being held at the church. These services have been very well attended and are proving very successful.

The program for the second week is as follows: Sunday evening at 7.30, Rev. J. C. McCoy, pastor Rising Sun M. E. Church; Tuesday evening, Rev. Oliver J. Collins, pastor Marshallton M. E. Church; Wednesday, Rev. Claude Heillman, pastor New London M. E. Church; Thursday, Rev. Walter Fosnocht, pastor Edge Moor M. E. Church; Friday evening, Rev. J. E. Layton, pastor Holly Oak M. E. Church; and Sunday evening, February 21, the pastor will speak on "Why Tarriest Thou?" This is the concluding evening of the services.

On the following Sunday evening, February 28, candlelight and communion services will be held.

BRIDGEMEN ATTRACT MUCH ATTENTION AT THE SCHOOL

A dozen men working together like a finely drilled football team and swinging steel girders several tons in weight, into place by means of a mast, boom, cables and an engine, attracted a lot of attention on the part of the student body of the Newark School. Instead of the work being in the nature of a hindrance it has been a valuable aid to teaching throughout the school. Of such interest was the placing of the balcony girder, weighing nearly eight tons, that pupils, from a place of safety, were invited to observe the important event. This week finds the steel all in place, which makes the building ready for the bricklayers.

CECIL CO. ROBBERY SOLVED BY ARREST OF TWO MEN

A letter found in the pocket of a man arrested in North Carolina with a companion as suspicious characters has enabled police to solve a four-month-old robbery at Colora, Md.

Last September 25, while Albert Barrett, an aged farmer, was working in the field, two men overpowered him and robbed him of $1500 which he carried on his person. The men first blinded him with snuff so that he could not furnish police with a description of his assailants.

The North Carolina prisoners gave their names as Don Wingler and Harry Lyall. In the pocket of one of them was found a letter from a sister, a resident of Colora, stating Barrett was in the habit of carrying large sums of money on his person because of his distrust of banks, and could easily be robbed.

COOCH'S BRIDGE CHAPTER D. A. R. HOLDS MEETING

The February meeting of the Cooch's Bridge Chapter, D. A. R., was held last Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. Frank Wilson, Park Place, Newark. The treasurer reported having paid out since last meeting $87.90 and having a substantial balance in the treasury.

In regard to the prize to be given at a Citizen's Training Camp the secretary was directed to confer with Maj. Wildrick, the C. M. T. C. officer for the Delaware district, as to his wishes in the matter.

One new name was presented by the registrar, for membership in the chapter.

Mrs. Cann, Regent, appointed Mrs. Edward W. Cooch, chairman of National Defence, and Miss Greta McKinsey, chairman of Patriotic Education.

Mrs. Cooch, State Regent, announced that the State Conference will be held in the du Pont-Biltmore Hotel February 22, 1932, at 9.30 a. m.

Nine alternates were elected to the National D. A. R. Congress, to be held in Washington the week of April 18, the regent being the voting delegate by virtue of her office.

A program suitable to the Washington Bicentennial year was planned for the next meeting, in which each member present will take up, very briefly, some phase of the life of George Washington—without whom there would probably have been no Daughters of the American Revolution..

Oriental Lodge No. 12, I. O. O. F. Observes Anniversary

On February 11, 1847, Oriental Lodge was instituted with five charter members and has grown both numerically and financially since its institution.

In 1850 they built the building known as Odd Fellows' Hall, and since that time have made two additions to the building. At the present time they are preparing to place a new front in the building and thus beautify its appearance.

Since institution, Oriental Lodge has paid over $60,000.00 for relief of its members.

A complete history of the Lodge will be read at its Anniversary on Thursday and guests will be present from various lodges throughout the State, including the Grand Master and Deputy Grand Master, with their staff of officers.

At the close of the meeting there will be an entertainment and refreshments will be served.

MR. AND MRS. CHAS. DENNISON ENTERTAIN FRIENDS

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Dennison, of Marshallton, entertained a number of friends at their home on Saturday evening. The evening was spent in games and music. Prizes were awarded to Mr. Hanks, Mr. Rector, Mrs. Parsons, Raymond Edwards, Gene Edwards and Herbert Gee. Vocal solos were given by Miss Nellie Parsons, vocal instructor, of Oxford, Pa., and Mrs. R. V. Hanks, of Oxford. Refreshments were served. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. Reeves Hanks and family, of Oxford, Pa.; Glenn Chappell, of Virginia; Herbert S. Gee, of New York City; Page Jennings, of Belair, Md.; Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Galyen and family, of McClellandsville; Mr. and Mrs. Quince Edwards and family, of Salem; Mrs. Elva Kemether and son, of Salem, Del.; Mr. W. G. Rector and family and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Fanning, of Wilmington; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hubert and family, of Marshallton. All had a very pleasant evening.

NEW NASH CARS BEING SHIPPED

Special to the Newark Post.

Shipments of the new Nash models, soon to be publicly announced, are going forward from Nash Motors plants, it was learned today. These shipments consigned to Nash distributors and dealers in all sections of the country, include cars of all five of the new Nash series.

They will be in the hands of dealers everywhere in time for the extensive announcement displays and public presentations, which is said to be scheduled to be about March 1st.

Neurocalometer

In our effort to render that character of service which will insure permanent, pleasant and profitable relations with all whom we serve, we have recently added to our equipment a NEUROCALOMETER, an instrument that locates the pressure causing disease to as fine as 1/100 of a degree. It is the latest, most scientific method used by the Palmer School of Chiropractic.

When a vertebra or bone of the spine gets out of its normal position and presses upon a nerve the resistance produced increases the heat at that point just as when you press upon your finger that point becomes hotter than adjoining parts. Increased heat is sent along the spinal column indicates pressure, this the NEUROCALOMETER records—it has practically taken all the guesswork out of making an analysis in the practice of Chiropractic. It eliminates all guesswork.

The Neurocalometer technique appreciates fully the responsibility assumed when a patient entrusts himself or herself to his care. The technician realizes that in order to render worthy service, one promising satisfactory results, time must be spent studying the patient's trouble. The fact that the Neurocalometer technician devotes time and study to your case should convince you that he is worthy of your confidence. He must know about your case before he will assume the responsibility of caring for you.

We will be glad to tell you more about Chiropractic and the Neurocalometer without obligating you in the least.

CLUB MEETING

All members who attended the Glasgow Club's last meeting, held at Mrs. George Davis's home, now feel sure they know how to buy sheets, bolster cases and pillow slips more intelligently than ever before. Mrs. Dougherty's talk as to what to look for and why when purchasing bed-coverings was helpful as well as enlightening. The ensuing discussion brought out many points of interest. All members feel it is now up to the bed clothes' manufacturer to label his products fully as to number of threads per square inch in woof and warp, as well as the length and width of the finished product. Samples of the new materials for spring were examined and admired. Fifteen or twenty minutes were spent secing how many words we could make from "Washington." Next month an all-day meeting is planned and each member brings a covered dish for luncheon. Mrs. Oliver Suddard's home is the meeting place.

Goodyear Has New and Silent Tire

Introduction of a new Silent All Weather Tread on Goodyear tires has been called, by a leading automobile engineer, the first scientific approach to silence in tires.

The manner in which silent operation of the tire is accomplished is explained by Henry F. Mote, Goodyear dealer at Newark. Mr. Mote says that the hum or noise in most tires is produced by the rhythmic effect of regularly spaced blocks in the tread design coming in contact with the hard surfaced road.

Goodyear engineers have eliminated this rhythmic effect by introducing a variation in the size of the sharp diamond shaped blocks of the tread. Patents have been applied for covering this method of eliminating tire noise.

The effect of breaking up the regularity of tread design might be made clearer if you think for instance of the effect of soldiers in rank marching across a bridge in regular step. If they keep step, their rhythmic footfalls would set up a vibration so severe that the bridge would crash if not a strong structure. So soldiers break step when they cross bridges.

Unless you examine the tread very closely, you can't tell that there is any variation in the size of the blocks in this Silent All Weather design, yet in that tread is the application of a principle that eliminates objectionable hum.

The Silent All Weather will be used as original equipment on 1932 automobiles and later on when these 1932 cars need renewals, Goodyear dealers will have these Silent All Weathers in stock.

MANY ARTICLES OF INTEREST IN FEBRUARY "SIGNPOSTS"

The Report of the National Advisory Committee on Federal Relations to Education is reviewed for the February issue of "Signposts," the State Bulletin of Education, by Dr. H. V. Holloway. The same number contains a report of a thought provoking talk, "Education and the Sports Business," delivered at the dedication of the Women's College Gymnasium, University of Delaware, by Miss Mary Channing Coleman, Professor of Physical Education, North Carolina College for Women.

A description of the Activity Program in the Wilmington High School by Samuel P. Maroney, Director of Extra-Curricular Activities, will be of particular interest to those concerned with the possibility of a carry-over into adult life of the leisure time activities of youth.

Other features are: The Work of the Research Department as revealed by the report of the Director, R. L. Herbst; and School Men Discuss Guidance, a report of a conference called by John Shilling.

For the benefit of members of local Parent-Teacher Association program committees and possibilities in a study of the School Child's Time at Home, which is being developed in four centers in the State by Dr. Agnes Snyder, is suggested.

How the School Cafeteria Operates in Bridgeville as described by George T. Macklin, is an instance of the follow-up work that is a logical outcome of a meeting devoted to study of the Nutrition problem.

The Excursion as a Primary Activity, is contributed by Miss Flora E. Joseph, a member of an Extension Course, for which credit is given, offered by the University of Delaware, under the direction of Miss Josephine Wright of the State Demonstration School.

A carry-over of the work of this class is shown in the record of An Excursion to a Button Factory by Miss Helen E. Morgan, Third Grade teacher at Seaford.

Other units of work reported are: The Production of Coal and Iron by Thelma E. Daisey of Grade Seven, Frankford, Mrs. Martha Pugh, teacher, and An Excursion to a Farm, with a review of its outcomes by Miss Pinkie Benjamin, Frankford Colored School.

As usual, there are a number of illustrations.

GEORGE WASHINGTON'S TRAVELS

Historically Correct Sketches By CALVIN FADER

IN FEBRUARY 1778, BARON VON STEUBEN—NOW COMMEMORATED IN MARBLE ON LAFAYETTE SQUARE IN WASHINGTON—CAME TO VALLEY FORGE AS A PRUSSIAN MILITARY EXPERT. TWENTY MILES AWAY IN PHILADELPHIA, BRITISH OFFICERS SPENT THE WINTER BEING ENTERTAINED, WITH THEIR MINDS FAR FROM WAR. VON STEUBEN MEANWHILE WAS WHIPPING WASHINGTONS RAW TROOPS INTO AN EFFICIENT FIGHTING FORCE.

SIR HENRY CLINTON WHO HAD SUCCEEDED LORD HOWE MADE AN ATTEMPT TO GET HIS TROOPS OUT OF PHILADELPHIA AND UP TO NEW YORK. HE MADE A HURRIED MARCH TOWARD MONMOUTH ON JUNE 18, 1778, HOWEVER WASHINGTON WAS ON HIS TRAIL AND BEAT THE BRITISH IN THE BATTLE OF MONMOUTH. IT WAS IN THIS BATTLE THAT CHARLES LEE PROVED HIMSELF A TRAITOR. IT WAS AT MONMOUTH ALSO THAT MOLLY PITCHER TOOK THE PLACE OF HER HUSBAND AT A CANNON AS HE LAY DYING AT HER FEET.

The Financial Genius of the Revolution

George Washington would probably rebuke the country if it celebrated the 200th anniversary of his birth without at least some mention of the man who financed the Revolution and upon whom Washington at times, leaned hardest of all. This man was Robert Morris, who was born on January 31, 1734.

At the age of fourteen, we are informed by the United States George Washington Bicentennial Commission, Morris emigrated from Liverpool, his birthplace, to join his father who had settled at Oxford, Maryland, where the elder Morris acted as American agent for a large firm of Liverpool tobacco merchants. The father was killed in an accident when young Morris was seventeen, but before the elder's death, Robert had found a job in the counting room of a mercantile house in Philadelphia. There his business ability soon showed itself to such advantage that he became a member of the firm. From then on he steadily added to his fortune until he became one of the richest men of his time in America.

But money was not the sole interest of Morris. He early joined the movement again England, and was among the first to resist the Stamp Act. Also, he was a signer of the first non-importation agreement and later was made warden of the Port of Philadelphia.

When the Revolution opened, Morris was forty-one years old, in the prime of his mental and physical vigor, and he threw himself into every important enterprise except the military. In 1775 and 1776 he was vice-president of the Pennsylvania Committee of Safety. From 1775 to 1778 he was a member of the Continental Congress, and so was a signer of the Declaration of Independence. In 1778 he retired from Congress, only to devote his tireless energies to the Pennsylvania State Legislature, of which he was a member.

But his greatest, his outstanding and most gratefully received, public service was his financing of the War of Independence. The embattled States turned to this financial genius to manage their fiscal affairs, but even more they relied on his bursting and open purse for the sinews of war.

General Washington's agonies of mind over the problems of financing his army lasted throughout the Revolutionary War. At best they were always a worry, and at times the worry became acute distress. One of these financial crises came when he found it absolutely imperative to strike for the victory at Trenton, to revive public spirit which then was at a very low ebb.

In order to keep his unpaid men with him for the attack, the General was forced to take the extreme risk of promising them a bounty of ten dollars per man. He then addressed to his friend, Robert Morris, a plea for $50,000, with which to make his promise good. The next day he received the money. Morris had stripped himself of his own ready funds and had borrowed the remainder from wealthy Quaker friends in Philadelphia. Receipt of this money in the nick of time furnished one of the occasions when the supposedly frigid Washington was shaken with emotion.

It was of such stuff that the winners of the Revolution were formed, and Robert Morris was among the best of them. Not to think of him in this bicentennial year would be an affront to Washington himself.

When the Federal Government came into being in 1789, Morris most likely could have had the Secretaryship of the Treasury. Instead, he urged the appointment of Alexander Hamilton. Throughout the Revolution, and before, he had served in various key capacities in the Continental Congress. In 1781 the Congress chose him to be its Superintendent of Finance, a post that might be regarded as the precursor of that as Secretary of the Treasury. Robert Morris became one of the first United States Senators from Pennsylvania.

As the country settled down to peace and progress, Morris went in for land speculation, and at one time or another owned wholly, or in part, the entire western half of New York State, 2,000,000 acres in Georgia, and nearly 1,000,000 acres in Pennsylvania, Virginia, and South Carolina. He helped in the development of the new national capital in the District of Columbia.

But his speculations brought on disaster, and for three years the financial savior of America was confined in a debtors' prison. On his release he was obliged to live on the bounty of his family and his friends, and five years afterward, in 1806, he died, a broken man. He was buried in Christ Church Yard in Philadelphia, without honors, and has never since been accorded the honor due him.

Grade 3, Miss E. B. McLees

These are stories written in English class after we had looked at and talked about a picture of a little boy hugging his dog with a picture of a big red heart floating over their heads.

Valentine Day

Bobby's mother was calling for him to get up. So Bobby came down and had his milk and toast.

The doorbell rang, Bobby went to answer it. There was a box outside and a valentine that said "Guess." Bobby opened the box. Out jumped a little puppy. Bobby said, "I am going to name him Pal."

Jane R. Eissner.

Valentine Day

On Valentine morning, after Howard had eaten, he went to see Jack. Jack was in his dogbox. Howard picked Jack up and hugged him in his arms. Jack loves Howard and Howard loves Jack.

Do you have a dog? If you have, do you love him?

John Waldridge.

A Valentine

Jerry is a new dog. Ralph has just received Jerry. He is so happy to think he was a valentine dog. Ralph has named the dog Jerry.

I think Jerry is a nice dog.

I think Ralph is thinking about a valentine he is going to give Jerry. He is smiling.

Betty Brimijoin.

Valentine Day

Valentine Day, Billy woke up bright and early. He hurried to get dressed; don't forget it was Valentine Day. He got his breakfast. Then he went to see if the mailman was coming. Yes, he was! When the mailman reached Billy's house, Billy ran to meet him. When he got his valentines, he opened the door to go back into the house. Just as he did so he heard some one calling him. It was his grandmother. She was coming towards his house. She was carrying a little puppy. When she reached Billy she said, "Here is a little present for you." Billy hugged his dear little puppy. After that he told everybody that he was going to call him "Pal." That was the happiest Valentine Day he had ever had.

Betty Dean Pié.

Valentine Day

A man in a certain land, on the day we call Valentines Day, used to send cards and greetings to the children who loved him and other people, too. His name was St. Valentine.

Soon after his death the children and everybody sent greetings on this day which we call Valentines Day in his memory.

Don Stephan, Grade 5.

Valentines

Big hearts and little hearts
On our valentines;
They all have their meanings.
These curious signs.

When the postman comes up our front walk
With his pack as big as big can be,
And oh! how I wonder
What he has in it for me.

Why here's a card from Betty Jane
And there's a heart from Lilly!
I don't see how people say,
Valentines are so silly.

'Cause I think its very nice
To get these little valentines,
For they are tokens of love, they say,
And I like to send them any day.

Kathryn Strikol, Grade 6.

Abraham Lincoln

Abraham Lincoln, brave and true,
Always ready to serve the red, white and blue.
You have served your country so brave and true,
We all feel like we would like to reward you too.

Abraham Lincoln, loved by all,
Always responding to his country's call.
You were truly a man
"With malice toward none, with charity for all."

Louise Talucci, Grade 6.

Abraham Lincoln

Abraham Lincoln, as he was called, was born in Kentucky February 12, 1809. When Abraham was seven years old, his family moved to Indiana. At first they lived in a little log cabin. Then later Abraham and his father made a new cabin. In it they had a table, some chairs, and for Abraham's bed he had leaves.

Not long after his family moved into a new house, Abe's mother died. Thomas Lincoln married again.

When Abe grew up to be a man his stepmother said, "Abe never said a cross word to me in his life."

Lincoln was President of the United States in the year of 1861.

Mary Louise Campbell, Grade 5.

Valentine Day

Our valentines we make and buy,
To send to people for surprise.
We receive just as many as we send,
Which broken hearts they sometimes mend.
They bring us joy all the time,
And in them little verses rhyme.

Anna May Gehrold, Grade 6.

The Valentine That Brought Joy

A little crippled boy sat by the window. He was looking out over the snow and he was watching the children at play. He knew he could never go out and play.

The other children were having a fine time. He thought they were not thinking of him, but he did not know that they had a surprise for him.

Suddenly the door-bell rang. The maid answered it. It was a number of children. They said, "Wh... into the play room. Do you... we are here. The maid wheel... in. PARENT-TEACHER ASSOCIATION NEWS

How can the home best reenforce the work of the school? Do you approve of "home work"? Should children do "chores" after school?

If you are interested in such questions as these, come to the meeting of the Newport Parent-Teacher Association on Monday evening, February 15. Dr. Agnes Snyder will represent the State Parent-Teacher Association program committee in the discussion of the reports of five committees on the School Child's Time at Home. Program chairmen of New Castle County Parent-Teacher Associations are invited to observe Dr. Snyder's method. The meeting is one of a series illustrative of the type recommended by the State Parent-Teacher Association program committee.

Mrs. Orville R. Wright presented plans for the study of the "School Child's Time at Home" to representatives of New Castle Colored Parent-Teacher Associations at a meeting at the Newport Colored School on February 4.

All members took part in a round-table discussion of Proper Foods for Children at a recent meeting of Port Penn Colored Parent-Teacher Association at which Mrs. Anna C. Russum spoke. A paper was read by Miss Pauline Williams. The school demonstrated a suitable lunch for children. Two members subscribed to "Signposts," the State Bulletin of Education.

At a recent meeting of the A. I. du Pont Parent-Teacher Association, Dr. J. R. Downes talked on the need for a Health Center in the community and the possibility of establishing one at the school. The association, of which Howard E. Berg is president, agreed to back such a project and steps are being taken to carry it out.

Before the business meeting, "Dark Bits of Color," a black face sketch was presented by Grades S.ven and Eight.

Miss Mae Wagner talked on Dental Hygiene at a recent meeting of Commodore MacDonough Parent-Teacher Association. Nutrition was the subject for general discussion.

The school orchestra played several selections under the direction of Prof. Charles L. Edwards. Solo parts were played by some of the children. Eighth Graders appeared in a humorous dialogue.

During the business meeting the association of which Mrs. Erving Wolfe is president, voted to purchase book shelves for the Fourth Grade and an aquarium for the First Grade.

Mrs. Eugene Deakyne, president, led the discussion of Nutrition at a recent meeting of the Deakyneville Parent-Teacher Association. A poster made by one of the pupils illustrated the five groups of foods essential to health.

The children's program of recitations and songs were on thrift, snow and winter. Ice cream was sold for the benefit of the association.

Nutrition and Health was the subject of a meeting held recently by the Pleasant Valley Parent-Teacher Association. The school gave a demonstration of the work done in music. The association, Mrs. Samuel Stewart, president, has recently presented the school with rhythm band instruments costing $15.

Mrs. Anna C. Russum talked on Nutrition at the January meeting of the Mt. Pleasant Colored Parent-Teacher Association. John W. Brown and the Rev. Russum took part in the discussion emphasizing the importance of a hot dish for lunch and the value of corn bread in the diet.

For several years Mrs. Russum has been responsible for a hot dish for the children at noon. Supplies are brought from home which the older girls prepare for all the children. Aid has also been given this year by the Governor's Relief Committee. The association wishes to express publicly its appreciation to Mrs. Martha I. Barnes, visiting teacher, and to Miss M. Phyllis Mason and Miss Ella J. Holley, supervisors, for their support in helping the needy.

The Kirkwood Colored Parent-Teacher Association discussed ways and means of providing articles needed by the school at a recent meeting. A. Valentine Party is planned for February 11. This association has already held a Nutrition meeting. The membership has increased to 20.

All but six of the reports of January Parent-Teacher Association meetings received to date by the State Publicity Chairman indicate the use of material on Nutrition, as suggested by the State Program Committee. This recommendation was made after conference with representative people all over the State. In most instances very practical and simple suggestions in regard to suitable foods for growing children were made. Miss Pearl MacDonald, Nutrition Specialist, Extension Division, University of Delaware, who helped plan the program, Miss Emily A. King, Home Economics Instructor, University of Delaware, and the Home Economics teachers in the Special Districts have cooperated to bring the relation of Nutrition to Health vividly before the parent members of local associations.

The importance of an adequate school lunch has been stressed. At the Yorklyn meeting, Mrs. Thomas H. Harrison, president, trays of food suitable for school children were prepared by members. The value of these dishes was explained by Miss King.

At Lord Baltimore, Miss Sara Neff, Home Economics Instructor, talked to the parents on Nutrition in the schools. Then Mrs. Clara McCabe, manager of the school cafeteria, assisted by Third Grade children, demonstrated the service of lunch in the cafeteria. The younger children are aided in the selection of their lunch.

A report on the Bridgeville cafeteria made by George T. Macklin, indicates that the children of the first three grades have guidance in purchasing their lunch. No candy is sold until after lunch. The amount a child may spend for candy is limited.

Quite a varied program, arranged by Mrs. Gertrude Lewis, was presented at Laurel, Mrs. Harvey Phillips, president. Several musical numbers and a reading were used to "leaven," the parent education lesson on Nutrition, which was presented by more than fifteen people. Instead of straight lecture or discussion, there was a "breakfast scene," "cereal scene," etc.

Health plays were presented at a number of meetings. At Milford Cross Roads, Mrs. Leonard Nelson, president, adults presented a sketch. Original playlets were given at Oak Grove-Elsmere, F. R. Phillips, president, and at Harrington, Mrs. William Reed, president.

At Cedar Grove No. 11, Mrs. A. E. Nunn, evaluated a large number of lunch menus, using the blackboard. This same method was used at Greenwood Colored, at Middleford Colored, where meals were worked out at very low cost, and at Willow Grove Colored.

At Wainwright's, Mrs. John J. Hughes, president, many samples of sandwiches and desserts suitable for the school child's lunch were exhibited. The interest of the parents was indicated by the fact that they took notes. Sandwiches were also displayed at the Milford Colord Parent-Teacher Association.

Leafy vegetables, fruits and cereals were exhibited with food posters at the meeting of the Ellendale Colored Parent Teacher Association.

As a result of interest aroused by the presentation of facts on Nutrition, hot lunch is now being provided for the colored children at Ebenezer, Lee's Chapel, Clayton, Greenwood, Trinity and at Middleford, where 45 children are fed.

Milford colored parents have volunteered to come to the school to help prepare lunch for the children. This is also true at Willow Grove, where a kitchenette has recently been arranged.

At the Nutrition meetings, colored parents of Ellendale, Milford, Parker's Chapel, St. Jones and Willow Grove agreed to help with the hot lunch by sending supplies to school.

Artificial Light Provided for Class Rooms In Newark School

By recent action of the Board of Education, lights were authorized to be installed in four rooms of the first floor of the old part of the new building. These rooms having north exposure did not provide sufficient light properly distributed throughout the room. This especially was true of cloudy days. A special type of light shade has been provided which makes the distribution of light serve the best purposes for seeing and reduces eye strain to the minimum.

Another recent development of the General Electric Company is the development of the application of the photo electric cell which regulates lights in class rooms. This photo cell is more sensitive than the human eye in that it detects the lack of light and turns on artificial light before the human eye is made sensitive of the necessity through eye strain. The photo electrical cell is now being investigated.

The lights were placed in the rooms by the Arrow Electric Company, who are the contractors for the electrical work in the Auditorium and Gymnasium. Economies were also effected throughout the new building through the authorization of individual control of lights. This improvement makes it possible to have artificial light where it is especially needed with a great saving in financial expenditure as well as conservation of human eye-sight. Mr. Samuel Slack made this very necessary improvement.

Demonstrate Talking Films In Newark School

Through the courtesy of the Western Electric System, talking teaching films were demonstrated in the Newark School last week to all the assemblies. In the Primary and Elementary Assemblies the "String Family" of the symphony orchestra was demonstrated and the explanations were given by Dr. Walter Damrosch. The demonstration seemed to be appreciated and in a great part understood by the boys and girls.

Professor Kitson, noted psychologist and interpreter of Guidance, presented a talking film on Guidance. Professor Kitson showed how the school organization, the home, the class room, the home room, the intelligent use of the library, all assist tremendously in a growing boys development of his own judgment as well as in getting information founded in truth in regard to the work of the world. On such information and through actual trial interests, abilities, and personalties of the young citizens, are adjusted in the world and its work. This picture, dramatized by a boy of the Horace Mann School, added much interest and meaning to the presentation.

In the Science classes a Unit lesson o nthe frog was presented, which was a talking demonstration with very excellent photography. This film considered the entire life history of the frog and in less than fifteen minutes, information of the most accurate source was presented. The frog, through his various stages, was the actor throughout the performance, the interpretation of the actions, development, life habits, and life cycles being presented by the Head of the Biology Department of Harvard, the author of the film.

THE GEORGE WASHINGTON BICENTENNIAL CELEBRATION

With the appointment of the entire staff and student officers of the Newark School as a committee for the practical observance of the George Washington Bicentennial, Mr. Brinser hopes to encourage a thorough study and understanding of this great American in accordance with the spirit of the George Washington Bicentennial Commission.

It is hoped that with this plan new meaning of the true Spirit of America and of this great American will reach every pupil in every grade, every subject and every school activity. The George Washington Bicentennial begins with his birthday on February 22 and ends with Thanksgiving Day, November 24, 1932.

Senator John G. Townsend has already supplied every pupil in the Newark Schools with material for beginning the study and for the making of individual scrap books in which each pupil through this Bicentennial Year practically writes his own history and understanding of Washington. To Congressman Houston, the Newark School is also indebted for providing every class room with a colored rotogravure of the famous unfinished portrait of Washington by Stuart.

The Newark School Library is arranging convenient material so that every pupil throughout the school has the opportunity of having an abiding acquaintance with one of the greatest characters of the World, The Father of Our Country, George Washington.

MILFORD CROSS ROADS SCHOOL NOTES

The February meeting of the Milford Cross Roads Parent-Teacher Association will be held in the school room this coming Wednesday evening, February 17, at 8 o'clock. The first part of the evening will be given over to Mrs. Edwin Guthrie, program chairman, who will present the topic of "Home Study."

The children are spending every spare moment in the preparation of a program that they will present after the educational part of the program.

The entertainment will open with several selections by the toy orchestra.

Some of the first and second grade children wil show you how well they can recite. Scottie Guthrie will give "My Country's Son"; Betty Reed, "Something Better," and Edward Kwiatkowski, "Washington."

John Wooleyhan has consented to play a cornet solo, after which Paul Ayars will tell us, "He Never Told A Lie." Everyone will enjoy "Mr. Nobody," as given by William Kwiatkowski.

The first play, "Jack's Scheme," will be enjoyed from start to finish. Ruth Reed as "Mrs. Lee," the mother; Betty Hollingsworth as "Minnie Lee," and Carolyn Guthrie as "Amy Lee," the daughters; Charles Greer as scheming "Jack Lee"; and Helen Kwiatkowski as "Aunt Pauline," promise to give an excellent performance.

Hazel Johnston, one of last year's students, now a Newark Junior High student, is always willing to help us. Hazel will give "Washington's Maxims."

The third and fourth grade Reading class, assisted by Ruth Reed and Gladys Walmsley, sixth grade, is preparing a Washington exercise. Those who will take part in the two grades mentioned are: Grayson Greer, Norman Reed, William Kwiatkowski, Annie Kwiatkowski, Kathleen Starkey, Paul Ayars, Alfred Phillips and Charles Nelson.

After a selection by the orchestra will come a play, "The Two Detectives." This play has a good plot and will be acted well by Helen Kwiatkowski as "Mrs. Morrow," Gladys Walmsley as "Catherine," the cook; Charles Greer as "Carl Atwood" and Annie Kwiatkowski, dressed as "Lewis Morrow."

A Washington Acrostic will be presented by William Kwiatkowski, Daniel Reed, Norman Reed, Alfred Phillips, Karl Greer, Annie Kwiatkowski, Stanley and Edward Kwiatkowski, Betty Reed and Scottie Guthrie.

Karl Greer will recite "The Cow"; the first and second grades will sing "Twinkle, Twinkle, Little Star." There will be another selection by the orchestra before the play, "The Country Cousin."

You will certainly enjoy "The Country Cousin." The characters will be "Belle Lane," Agnes Kwiatkowski; "Frank," Belle's brother, Charles Nelson; "John Gilmore," the Country Cousin, Paul Nelson; "Earl Lexington," Lewis Fisher, and "Maude," Earl's sister, Ruth Reed.

Kathleen Starkey will amuse you with her recitation, "My Ma." Grayson Greer will follow with a more serious type of recitation, "A High Resolve."

The last play of the evening will be "A Pair of Scissors." Betty Hollingsworth as "Hannah," Agnes Kwiatkowski as "Pricilla," Carolyn Guthrie as "Deborah," Gladys Walmsley as "Betsy Ross" will leave everyone with the true spirit of the Washington holiday season.

Now, mark the date, February 17, on the calendar, and plan to be with us this coming Wednesday evening.

Honor Roll

The following pupils made no grade lower than "B" forthe month of January: Agnes Kwiatkowski, Annie Kwiatkowski, Edward Kwiatkowski, and Helen Kwiatkowski (all A's); Karl Greer, Betty Hollingsworth, Carolyn Guthrie, Paul Nelson, Ruth Reed and Gladys Walmsley.

Adult Education

The twelfth meeting of the Adult Music Class was held on Tuesday evening. The class will meet three more times this winter. Every member is urged to be present for all three meetings.

Personals

Mrs. Edwin Guthrie, Mrs. Leonard Nelson and Miss Sara Pennington attended the Adult Education Conference held in Wilmington last Thursday evening.

Hot Lunch

The lunch period continues to be one of the most important parts of the school day. Charles Greer and Charles Nelson have been in charge of the cooking this week. Carolyn Guthrie and Kathleen Starkey have made excellent little dishwashers.

For Ready Cash

"BILLS, BILLS, and there's more feed to buy!" Robert Helm leafed through the papers and jotted down the totals. "Here's $150 in feed bills alone."

Mrs. Helm came to her husband's desk. "I'd sell some stock," she counseled. "Those calves and the two Holsteins will eat their heads off before winter's over!"

Mr. Helm hesitated. "Prices are awfully low, Sue. But wait a minute." He hunted through the desk and found a card. "Here's the name of that dealer who wanted to buy last month. I'll call him by telephone."

In a minute or two the deal was in progress and in five minutes it was closed.

"Not so bad, Sue!" exclaimed Mr. Helm jovially. "He'll be over tomorrow and the price is all right!"
