Council Refuses To Re-Open Discussion Of Sewer Accounts

Council Votes 4 to 2 Against Further Consideration After It Is Petitioned: Signers Hold Meeting In Wolf Hall

PETITION

A request to reopen discussion of the items included in the accounting, from which the assessment for the new sewer was computed, was refused by the Council of Newark at its meeting Monday night. The request, which was in the form of a petition signed by 36 property owners in the newly annexed section of Newark, stated the agreement between the annex property owners as it was incorporated in the bill passed by the last General Assembly, and said that the published audit of the town accounts caused the undersigned to request a further discussion of a number of the items from which the assessment was figured.

Councilman Lovett presented the petition to Mayor Frazer, stating that it had been handed him just as he was about to enter the Council meeting. Mayor Frazer read the petition and a motion was made that the matter had been settled and that it should not be reopened. Councilman Hubert stated that it was apparent that the residents of the annex were not satisfied and that a further attempt should be made to come to a definite settlement. The motion was put to a vote and passed, 4 to 2. Councilmen Wolston, Beals, Wilson and Widdoes voting "yes"; Councilmen Lovett and Hubert voting "no".

There was a meeting, held later in the evening in Wolf Hall, which was attended by a number of the signers of the petition. It was the sentiment of the meeting that litigation was a possible outcome of the matter.

The petition presented to the Council read as follows:

Petition

To the Council of Newark:
Whereas, prior to the Annexation of the newly acquired area to the town of Newark, the Council of the "Council of Newark" and the property owners of the said Annex came to certain agreements regarding the part

ORDERED FROM STATE

On Monday Chief of Police Keeley arrested Roy Lynam, 18 years old, who said his home was at Elmont, Virginia, on the charge of larceny of a watch and $11 in cash. When arraigned before Magistrate Thompson he admitted having taken the watch and money from the home of John Kennedy, for whom he had worked since March 1. Lynam returned the watch and money, and as Mr. Kennedy declined to press the charge further, Lynam was released with orders to leave the state.

Ruth Phelps Takes State Essay Prize

Ruth Phelps, of the Newark High School, was the winner in the State-wide essay contest held in the Newark School auditorium, last Friday afternoon, on "Outlaw War Treaties." Her subject was, "The United States and World Peace." Herbert McWalter, of Claymont, was second. Others in the contest were: Elsie Massey, of Laurel, and Eileen Kelley, of du Pont High. Contestants from Harrington and New Castle failed to appear.

The winner will be awarded a medal offered by the Wilmington Society of Friends. The essays had to be original. All of them will be sent to the Peace Society in Wilmington and what is considered the two best will be sent to Washington for the national contest. The judges were Dr. E. B. Crooks, Professor W. G. Levi, Jr., and Professor Henry Clay Reed.

General Ely Inspects University R. O. T. C.

Commander Of Second Corps Area Makes Annual Inspection; Highest Officer Which Ever Inspected Delaware Unit

Major-General Hanson E. Ely, commander of the second corps area, the headquarters of which is at Governor's Island, N. Y., inspected the University of Delaware R. O. T. C. unit on Monday. The inspection took place at noon and did not interfere with classroom work. The usual sham battle was omitted from this year's inspection program.

General Ely is on an inspection trip throughout the area. This is the first time that the R. O. T. C. here has been honored by an official visit from such a high army official. General Ely was accompanied by Major E. Audrey, also of Governor's Island, who recently made the annual inspection of the local R. O. T. C. unit. He was met on his arrival in Newark by Major Robert P. Glassburn, Major Arthur R. Underwood and Captain K. G. Whittemore, all of the regular army and instructors of the R. O. T. C.

On his arrival General Ely was taken for a call on Dr. Walter Hulihan, president of the University, at the latter's office, where he also met several other members of the faculty. The general then reviewed the battalion on the campus. This inspection was followed by luncheon in Old College Hall, which was attended by the cadet officers in addition to the regular army officers present. General Ely gave a short talk to the cadet officers.

During the inspection, the second platoon of Company A was judged the best platoon in the unit, and for this honor, cadet Lieutenant J. F. Wright was awarded a sabre. Last week cadet Captain J. F. Gordy, commanding Company A, was awarded a sabre when Company A won the drill competition.

ACCUSED, ACCUSER FINED

Chief of Police Keeley arrested Andrew Archer, colored, on Monday morning on complaint of Hampden Taylor, colored, that Archer had been drunk, disorderly, and had threatened him. Both men work on the farm of Irvin Dayett, at Cooch's Bridge.

Chief Keeley brought Archer to the office of Magistrate Thompson, where he was found guilty of disorderly conduct and fined $10. While Taylor was on the way to the hearing, he failed to observe the stop sign at the intersection of South College avenue and Main street, and was arrested by Constable Wideman. He was given a hearing on this charge and fined $5.

AMBULANCE CALLS

On Monday night, Mrs. Charles Murphy was taken to the Flower Hospital in the Newark ambulance. Edwin Shakespeare, William Clancy and Alfred Ewing made up the crew. Yesterday, Mrs. Conrad Robinson was brought home from the Homeopathic Hospital in the ambulance by Corbit Crompton and Bert Crow.

Last night, the young son of Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Gravner was taken to the Delaware Hospital, by Alfred Ewing and Loring Cordrey.

Armstrong Exonerated In Fatal Accident

Coroner's Jury Finds Him Blameless in Accident Causing Death of Jeanne Hudson

At a coroner's inquest, held Monday night in the office of Robert T. Jones, the jury returned a verdict exonerating William Armstrong, Sr., from any blame in the death of Jeanne Hudson, seven-year-old school girl, who died in St. Francis Hospital, last Wednesday night from injuries received when she was struck by Mr. Armstrong's car the preceding day.

Jeanne Hudson was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Hudson, of Roseville Park. On Tuesday afternoon of last week she ran around the back of a school bus, directly in the path of the Armstrong car which was passing the bus in the opposite direction. She was thrown on the road and sustained a fractured skull. The little girl was in the primary department of the Newark schools.

Several witnesses testified that the accident was unavoidable. The testimony stated that several children had alighted from the bus and crossed the road and that Jeanne had got out of the bus and run around back of the machine and darted out into the road directly in the path of the Armstrong car. It was also stated that Mr. Armstrong was driving at a moderate rate of speed and stopped his car within its own length after it had struck the child.

Eugene Stiltz, driver of the bus, said that he had repeatedly warned the children to step to the side of the road and look for approaching cars before they attempted to cross.

Following the presentation of reports, the future program of the Association will be outlined and the meeting opened to discussion by the members. An address will follow by an eminent speaker on community cooperation as applied to the Peninsula.

Tenny, Chief of the United States Bureau of Agricultural Economics, at Washington, and Dr. Alfred Pearce Dennis, vice-chairman of the United States Tariff Commission and a native of the Eastern Shore. Association officials are keenly elated in having secured men of national prominence to address their members and feel that the Association membership will find much of genuine value presented by the speakers.

Fire Damages Roof of Sigma Nu House

Prompt response and action by the Aetna Hose, Hook and Ladder Company, about 12:30 last night, saved the Sigma Nu fraternity house from serious damage from a fire, which had started on the roof from sparks from a defective chimney. The fire had caught on the shingles of the roof and had eaten its way through to the rafters of the third floor before it was discovered and an alarm sounded. The Fire Company made a rapid run to the fire and soon had three streams on the blaze, which quickly checked it.

The damage to the house has not as yet been estimated, but part of the roof and rafters will have to be replaced, and bedding, books and papers were damaged by water.

Chicken House Burned

Yesterday morning, the Aetna Company was called to the farm of Harry Swayne, near Appleton to fight a fire in a chicken house. When the firemen arrived they found that a small chicken house and a small brooder were practically demolished by the flames, and they turned their attention to saving other buildings from the fire.

Derelicts And Druids Hold "Tap Day" Sat.

Senior And Sophomore Honorary Societies Notify Candidates Of Their Election; 24 "Tapped"

The Derelicts and Druids, Senior and Sophomore honorary societies of the University of Delaware, held "Tap Day" last Saturday afternoon, which is the occasion of tapping candidates, who have been elected to the respective societies. Members of the Freshman and the Junior classes who have been prominent and outstanding in their class and University activities are elected to the societies.

Present members of the Derelicts, the Senior Society, assembled on the steps of Old College while the student body collected around the steps to witness the ceremony. John Leach, a former Derelict, and a member of the class of '25 made a brief speech, in which he stressed the aims, functions and ideals of the society. Mr. Leach pointed out that the organization was formed when conditions at the University were in a turmoil due to fraternity politics, and it was with ideas of removing this state of affairs that the organization was formed. Mr. Leach also stressed the fact that new members were selected without fraternities playing any part in the process.

Two Drys Named For Dry Law Quiz Comm.

Dr. G. Layton Grier, of Milford, and former Judge William H. Boyce, of Dover, both prominent drys, have been named members of a committee to supervise the compilation of the answers to the questionnaire sent out two weeks ago by P. S. du Pont for the Delaware Division of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment. The questionnaire was framed to reveal the sentiment of the people of Delaware on the prohibition question. Both Dr. Grier and Judge Boyce have consented to serve on the committee, it is said. Another member of the committee will probably be named.

It is stated by George W. Abberger, executive secretary of the Association, that 103,000 questionnaires were mailed; 4000 have been returned because of wrong address; and there have been 37,561 answers received to the questionnaire. The answers are being held unopened by the Trust Department of the Wilmington Trust Company.

Certificates of Honorable Mention are awarded for the second best essays on each of the six topics.

The first prize winners in the State and Territorial Contests are eligible to compete in the National Contest. ## Frank Collins Goes To Nat. Convention As Delaware Delegate

Elected at State Democratic Convention, Held Yesterday; Platform Favors State Control of Delaware Bridge

6 DELEGATES ELECTED

Frank C. Collins, of Newark, will go to Houston, Texas, as a delegate from Delaware to the Democratic National Convention. He was elected delegate from New Castle county, yesterday, at the Democratic State Convention held in Dover. He will be one of six uninstructed delegates from Delaware who will probably favor "A1" Smith as the Democratic candidate for president.

The Democratic State Convention was, like the Republican Convention, a tame, cut and dried affair. Josiah Marvel was elected chairman of the convention, and in an address asked the delegates to forget petty differences and unite for the strength of the party. The Convention adopted a platform which approved a bridge over the Delaware river if partially controlled by the State, but opposing it if privately owned. It also favored old age pensions for Delaware. It deplored centralization of government.

The following are the delegates and alternates selected for the National Convention, and the State Committee

Mayor Plans $90,000 Street Improvements

Orchard Row, Park Avenue, Main Street on Program; Suit Entered Against Town; Legion Asks For Room

At the regular monthly meeting of the Council of Newark, held Monday night, Mayor Frazer presented a street improvement program of $90,000 which he suggested be completed this year. The streets included in this program are Main street, Orchard Row and Park avenue. While the estimates of the engineer call for an expenditure of $90,000, it was pointed out that improvements already constructed and paid for would probably bring the cost down to $75,000, and Mayor Frazer stated that he could promise $75,000 for street improvements this year.

The itemized specifications and estimates, which were furnished by A. H. Hartman, engineer for the Town of Newark, are as follows: Paving Orchard Row, $28,612; paving South College avenue from the present paving to the Pennsylvania tracks, $31,000; paving Park Place from Orchard Row to South College avenue, $8,861; paving Park avenue from South College avenue to Academy street, $9,991; resurfacing Main street, $10,000; improving the drainage on Main street, east of Elkton road, $1,000. These estimates were made on the use of Amesite for the paving and resurfacing.

It was pointed out that curbing that has already been constructed and paid for, and curbing which will be paid for by the University of Delaware

Tests To Increase Potato Production

County Agent Holding Fertilization and Spraying Demonstrations

In trying to increase the production of potatoes per acre in this county, the New Castle County Agent, Ed Willim, Jr., has started five demonstrations on the value of proper fertilization and complete spraying. These demonstrations will be conducted this year on the farms of Wilson Pierson, John C. Mitchell, J. Howard Mitchell, William Ford, and L. H. Clark, all of near Hockessin.

In conducting these demonstrations this year, plots have been marked out which should show the value of spraying against no spraying, and value of a double amount of fertilizer over the usual practice of the community. The usual practice, according to Mr. Willim, is to put in about 800 to 900 pounds of a complete fertilizer of about 5-8-7. This formula varies with the different growers, but according to information collected by the County Agents last fall, a 5-8-7 grade is used by a good many of the potato growers in this section. On the second plot 1600 to 1800 pounds of 5-8-7 fertilizer has been applied. Half of the rows of each of these two plots will be sprayed and half will remain unsprayed. With the number of demonstrations being conducted, the results should give a fairly accurate report on the value of these two points.

The seed used on all plots were treated with either Dip-Dust or Semesan Bel, which are two of the proved quick treatments for seed potatoes. On the farms of J. H. Mitchell and Wilson Pierson, additional plots have been left on which the seed planted were not treated with this disinfectant. In this manner a check on the value of seed treatment will be received.

The use of certified seed by the progressive potato growers in the northern part of New Castle County, has become an established practice through the influence of certified seed demonstrations which were conducted by former County Agent R. O. Bauman. These demonstrations showed that certified seed would increase the production per acre, with little additional cost, from 50 to 75 bushels.

"With the new type of demonstration for this year we hope to further increase the production per acre without increasing the cost of growing the potatoes," says the Acting County Agent. "It would be foolhardy," continues the Acting County Agent, "to increase the acreage of potatoes planted this year in view of the forecast by the U. S. Department of Agriculture on potatoes, but if increased production per acre with the same amount of cost of production can be received, then it is economically sound to urge a farmer to increase his production in this way."

CLOVER NEEDS LIME

"In a few weeks will come the critical time for young clover—when some stands will die and others continue a successful growth." This statement was recently made by the New Castle Acting County Agent, Ed Willim, Jr., of Newark. The deciding force in this clover growing is the soil and its lime content. Clover on sour or lime-deficient soil will germinate in the spring and appear to grow satisfactorily, but often later it comes to a stand-still in June or July—for this is the time it most feels the ill-effects of lime shortage. "We may say," continued Mr. Willim, "that it is dry weather that kills the stand, but in reality it is only the dry weather that is bringing out or intensifying the full force of acid damage."

Clover requires a soil fairly rich in lime. In the first place, it is a greedy consumer of lime as food. Hence, on land lean in lime, clover suffers partial lime-starvation. Long years of cropping have drawn heavily upon the stock of lime in the soil. This is the situation on 7 acres in 10 of the Central Atlantic States.

Again, the roots of clover are sensitive to a sour or acid soil. Such a condition is repugnant to them; it thwarts and dwarfs their growth. On the other hand, plenty of lime overcomes sourness, making root growth thrifty and normal. In the same way, the nodule bacteria attached to the clover roots and which feeds nitrogen to the host plant are even more sensitive. The best nodule development is found only in soil well stocked with lime.

This requirement of clover must be met. Liming is the means of doing it.

Seed Corn Treatment

The value of seed corn treatment with commercial dusts to control certain molds and other diseases of corn, is being tested this spring by Ed Willim, Jr., New Castle Acting County Agent. These demonstrations are being conducted on the following farms in the county: George Pierson, Hockessin; J. Howard Mitchell, Hockessin; Enos Slack, Newark; Harry W. Semmans, Odessa; Clarence Nelson, Mt. Pleasant; and Sam Spicer, Middletown.

"There are several commercial seed disinfectants on the market," says Mr. Willim, "which, according to the manufacturers' statements, have increased the production of corn per acre from one to five bushels. The purpose of these demonstrations in New Castle county is to find out if the dusts really do give the increase that the manufacturers claim for it."

On each farm part of the corn will be treated with the dust and a check plot will be left untreated. In this way the increase, if any, with the use of the disinfectant will be noted. According to results found by Kent County Agent R. E. Wilson last year the seed treatment averaged about 2½ bushels increase over that of the untreated plots. "The disinfectant which we are testing," continues the Acting County Agent, "is put out by the du Pont Company and called Semesan, Jr." The treatment is very simple and can be done with a minimum of time and equipment. Two ounces of Semesan dust is used to treat one bushel of seed. Smaller amounts can be treated, of course, with a proportionate amount of dust. An air-tight container should be used in treating the seed. With smaller amounts the corn can be placed in an old lard can, milk can, or similar container, and turned over enough to cover the corn sufficiently with the dust. A regular seed duster can be constructed from an old oil barrel with an iron handle on it, placed on trestles, at a small cost. Since one bushel of seed usually plants about five acres, the cost of treating the seed is a negligible one. The average cost of treating the seed is about 4 cents per acre. If this treatment gives the increase of two or three bushels per acre at the average cost indicated above, it should be an economic factor to be considered in growing corn.

The Extension Agents still have some of the Semesan for experimental work, and will be glad to carry on demonstrations of an acre or two on any farm in the county. The farmer is requested to get in touch with the Extension Agents at Newark.

All truth is an achievement. If you would have truth at its full value, go win it.—Munger.

Soft Drink Bottlers Ready for Summer Rush

ORANGE CRUSH COMPANY HAS MANY VARIETIES OF POPULAR DRINKS

Soft drink time is here, and it finds the Orange Crush Bottling Company prepared for the rush. The plant at 30th and Market streets, Wilmington, has been kept busy all winter, but now with the coming of summer the force has been increased and the various machines are operating at capacity.

A large fleet of trucks are maintained for the distribution of the plant's products, the territory around Wilmington and Newark being covered and efficiently served as far as Odessa. This is quite a large district, considering the great number of stops each truck must make daily to complete its rounds.

Nearly every soft drink store, restaurant, stands along the highway and some private stands are supplied. Whenever you take a soft drink you are most likely drinking product of this company.

Beside its main product, Orange Crush, the firm bottles Canada Pale Dry Ginger Ale, Grape, Lime Crush and many other popular drinks sold daily over thousands of counters in northern Delaware.

H. A. Mundorff, the proprietor, has had a long and successful career in the manufacture and bottling of summer drinks in this section of the country.

FEMINE APPAREL CHARMS FAIR PATRONS

Exclusive apparel is something dear to the heart of every woman—clothes of distinction—something different from that she sees about her.

To secure such individual styles has been the policy of Gray's Shop at 310 West Ninth street, Wilmington, since its opening, over a year ago.

Miss Negendank, who is in charge of the shop, purchases each dress on its merits—does not buy in lots of a hundred or more at a time. Some are from Paris, most from the best makers this side of the Atlantic.

The shop, operating under this policy, has had a most successful business life, more and more fair patrons discovering its charm and letting their friends in on the secret.

BIG CHICK MAILINGS BRING GOV'T DATA

Infants do not require immediate nourishment and water need not necessarily be partaken of frequently to sustain life. At least this is true of baby chicks, says Mr. Hettinger, of the Twin Poultry Yards at Elsmere, Del.

In fact the Post Office Department has issued special instructions for the welfare of chicks consigned by mail and one of the features stressed is that the chicks be neither fed nor watered en voyage. How long a chick may go without these essentials is not definitely known, but they do not finish at a fast of two or three days.

Chicks on a journey are little or no trouble for they have gone without food or drink for three days and might have prolonged that period if required. However, once they tasted food and scooped water in their little bills they cannot long sustain themselves if the food and drink are not available frequently and generously.

Thousands of the fluffy travelers are mailed every day from the hatcheries and rushed to their destinations promptly and without mishap, say Mr. Hettinger.

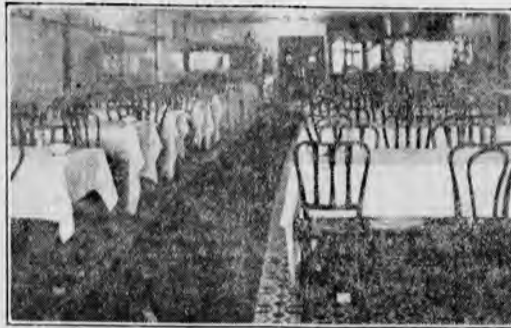

The Twin Poultry Yards are now operating at capacity of course, this being the height of the chick season. The yards are really under the supervision of the Agricultural Department, and even though this regulation is not yet compulsory, it is beneficial to the yards and the public also.

SPEND AN HOUR ON YOUR GARDEN NEW

"An hour spent on your garden at this season of the year is more valuable than a day's work a month or two from now," says Lewis S. Fell, 109 West Fourth street, Wilmington. "Grass seed should be planted on the bare spots, weeds eliminated and some sort of soil food spread to strengthen the young grass."

Mr. Fell, who is well known to Newark people, has been located on Fourth street for many years, carrying a full line of garden equipment, seeds, fertilizers, flower pots, in addition to pets and pet supplies.

LADIES DINING ROOM OF THE NEW YORK RESTAURANT

A partial view of the well-lighted ladies dining-room of the New York Restaurant at 410 Market Street, Wilmington. This well known restaurant is celebrated for its food, service and clean kitchen. Here everyday are served special luncheons at sixty cents and on Sunday regular dinners at one dollar.

SALVAGING OLD ROADS

An ever-present problem facing cities, counties and states, is how to improve gravel and broken-stone road surfaces now in use so that they will adequately serve the traffic, with least possible expenditure.

To replace the gravel or rock worn away annually requires extremely high maintenance costs.

As an economic proposition, it is possible to improve these roads—salvage their present value, by using them as a base for different types of bituminous surfaces which, when properly laid, will give the most inexpensive and practical surfacing possible.

"The press should be an interpreter, not a scavenger."

COMPLETE TOILET LINE CARRIED BY ECKERDS

Service has been one of the most important factors in making the Eckerd stores at 513 and 715 Market street, Wilmington, the successful places of business that they are. However, another reason for the splendid trade the firm enjoys is the fact that it at all times carries a full line of all nationally advertised products. Especially is this true in the toilet department. Here is to be found hundreds of items from the most expensive perfumes to the lesser priced items. Customers who see advertisements of some new toilet commodity can almost always find it at the Eckerd stores. This is true of the patent medicine department as well.

CORPORATION ORGANIZER 19 YEARS IN BUSINESS

Franklin L. Mettler, of 832 Market street, Wilmington whose advertisement appears on this page, observes during 1928 his nineteenth business anniversary. Mr. Mettler during this time has assisted thousands of companies in securing charters under our Delaware Laws.

The incorporating of companies in Delaware, while not as complicated as in some other states, is nevertheless an intricate procedure and one that takes specialized knowledge for the proper handling of the charter.

Each state differs in small, yet important details regarding officers, stock selling, stockholders meetings, etc., and unless these details are known and provided for, trouble may result.

The years of such service rendered by Mr. Mettler and the ever increasing amount of business done, warrants the conclusion that satisfied clients are his best recommendation.

A personal visit to his office by a representative of this paper, with a glimpse of the service he offers, we can cheerfully recommend him to anyone who is seeking a Delaware Charter.

MAY 9, 1928

Mothers

Every man is privileged to believe all his life that his own mother is the best and dearest that a child ever had. By some strange racial instinct of taciturnity and repression most of us lack utterance to say our thoughts in this close matter.

Our mothers understand us so well! Speech and companionship with them are so easy, so unobstructed by the thousand teasing barriers that bar soul from soul!

They love us wisely but too well, it is sometimes said. Ah, in a world where so many love us not well but too wisely, how tremulously our hearts turn back to bathe in that running river of their love and ceaseless charm!

PENNSY TRAFFIC TIED UP BY WRECK AT ELKTON

The derailment of ten cars of an extra southbound freight train at the jail crossing, Elkton, last night, caused a four-hour tie-up of traffic on the Pennsylvania railroad. Local trains were run on either side of the wreck and passengers walked around the wreck, while through trains were run over the Baltimore and Ohio tracks to Wilmington. No one was injured in the wreck.

There were 65 cars in the train and something happened in the middle of the string to cause the cars to leave the track. The wrecked cars were loaded with lumber, feed, piling, cement and telegraph poles. Some of the poles struck the watch box at the crossing and knocked it over. The tracks were torn up for a distance of 50 yards.

"Canny Cameron," who lives at Clover's Corner, is an American of Scottish extraction.

A thrifty soul, he conceived the idea of saving money for Christmas by putting a penny in a money box every time he kissed his wife. This he did regularly and punctiliously throughout the year. On Christmas Eve the box was opened and not only pennies but dimes, quarters, and several half dollars were piled on the table.

EDUCATIONAL BULLETIN BY MISS CLARK

An interesting bulletin entitled, "A Study of Occupations, Other than Homemaking, Open to Women Trained in Home Economics," has come to this office this week. The bulletin is No. 1 of a "Homemaking Education Series," printed by the University of California in 1927, and reprinted in 1928.

In the opening of the bulletin, Professor Clark states the purpose of the leaflet to be: "To present a study of the major occupations, other than homemaking, which are open to individuals who have been trained in home-economics courses; to tell something of the development of the work, the duties involved, the salary range, and the training required in preparation; and to give a brief survey of some of the occupations of minor numerical importance."

The heads of the various chapters are: "The Home Economics Teacher," "The Hospital Dietitian," "The Tea-Room Manager," "The Extension Worker," "Home Economics in Commercial Firms," "Occupations of Minor Numerical Importance," "Openings for the Girl with only Secondary School Training."

DELAWARE TO SHARE IN AMER. BANKERS AWARDS

It was announced, Monday, that the University of Delaware would be one of the American colleges and Universities to share in the distribution of 167 collegiate loan scholarships awarded by the American Bankers' Association Education Foundation to worthy men and women students to help in pursuing studies in banking and economics.

The awards will be available for the scholastic year beginning next fall and will provide recipients with loans of $250, to be repaid on easy terms after they have completed their courses and are earning their way in business.

As a special feature of the plan scholars who have repaid their loans in accordance with the terms of the scholarship, will be given certificates of honorary membership in the foundation, signed by the board of trustees. These certificates may be used by them as evidence of financial reliability, in starting their business career.

CAPT. WHITTEMORE BACK TO THE REGULAR ARMY

Captain K. S. Whittemore, U. S. A. received notification last Thursday that on June 30 he would be relieved from duty with the R. O. T. C. unit at the University of Delaware and would be assigned to the Eighth Infantry, Regular Army, now quartered at Fort Scriven, which is located 18 miles south of Savannah, Georgia.

Captain Whittemore during his stay in Newark has taken an active part in athletic affairs at the University and at the Newark High School. He is at present coaching the Delaware College tennis team, and has coached the rifle teams at both Delaware College and the Women's College. Last year he gave a great deal of his time in assisting with the coaching of the Newark High School basketball team.

VETERANS ELECT CIVIL WAR VETERAN MEMBER

At the regular meeting of the Newark Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, held last night in Odd Fellows' Hall, Mr. Charles Walters, Civil War veteran, was admitted to honorary membership in the Post. It is planned to take all local members of the G. A. R. into the Veterans' Post.

Colonel S. J. Smith gave a very interesting and instructive illustrated lecture on "Life in the Philippines." Colonel Smith showed pictures taken before American occupancy and afterwards.

The Veterans' Post is now making plans for Memorial Day and will cooperate with the American Legion and the G. A. R. in arranging a program.

CHORAL SOCIETY CONCERT

The Choral Society of the Newark New Century Club will give its concert on Thursday evening, May 17, in the New Century Club House, at 8:30, daylight saving time.

There will be a very good musical program with a number of assisting artists, including Mr. Erwart Matthews and Mr. Kennedy Fell. Following the concert there will be a dance, the music being furnished by the students' orchestra under the direction of Mr. Brannen.

Between the musical program and the dance Miss Rebecca Cann and Mr. William Hayes, Jr., will entertain with exhibition dancing.

No Changes Expected

were visited by George S. Williams, president of the State Board of Education; John Shilling, state superintendent of high schools; H. E. Stahl, superintendent of the Claymont schools; H. B. King, assistant state superintendent of high schools; Warren Yerger, superintendent of the du Pont School; George Thomas, superintendent of the Eddystone, Pa., schools.

On Honor List

Superintendent Brinser has received word that the Newark school has been placed on the list of the Association of Colleges and Preparatory Schools of the Middle States and Maryland. There is but one other school in the state outside of Wilmington that has been placed on this list, that being the Smyrna school.

It was not until last fall that Wilmington High, Wilmington Friends' and Tower Hill schools were placed on this list. The placing of the school on this list means that this particular school is recognized as among the best in high school instruction and achievement. The award is determined by a commission from both personal visits to the school and exhaustive reports on the school work.

STUDENTS VISIT FARMS

Students in the Animal Industry Course No. 27, taught by Professor T. A. Baker of the University of Delaware, have been visiting several general farms in New Castle county within the past two or three weeks to note the value of dairying on a general farm. These trips have been arranged by Acting County Agent Ed Willim, Jr., who is also taking the course for advanced standing. The boys taking the trip are: G. M. Bringhurst, J. F. Gordy, R. T. Jaquette; D. S. Loveland, L. P. Potts, F. T. Warrington, J. L. Willey, M. Doordan, and Ed Willim, Jr.

On April 27 the farm of J. Howard Mitchell, of Hockessin, was visited. At this place the students were shown the value of raising pure bred cattle, pure bred hogs, and also how a 200 acre farm is conducted along these enterprises. The following Friday the farm of Lewis H. Clark on the Lancaster Pike was visited. Mr. Clark has a small farm but follows an intensive type of farming. He has a small herd of ten cows which, according to records kept by him last year, had an average production of around 8000 pounds of milk per cow.

On May 11 the students in this course will visit the farm of George C. Burge, of Middletown. Mr. Burge runs a 200 acre farm on which the general farm crops of the region are raised, besides having a pure bred Guernsey herd of about 25 cows from which he secures milk to run a private milk route in Middletown. Mr. Burge is also a strong Farm Bureau member and has been a local representative in this community for the Eastern States Farmers' Exchange for several years.

SWOYER DIVORCE SUIT UP IN JUNE

Mrs. Addie J. Price Wins As Court Ends Divorce Suit Cecil County Judge Dismisses Bill When Husband Admits Condoning Act; Lived With Wife After "Confessions"

With at least ninety-six witnesses waiting to testify, and a courtroom full of farmers of the First District, and local citizens anxious to hear sensational testimony, Judge Lewin W. Wickes, who was hearing the divorce suit of Alvan A. Price, a Cecilton farmer, against his wife, Mrs. Addie J. Price, in the Circuit Court in Elkton on Friday, brought the case to a sudden end when the husband admitted that he had continued to live with Mrs. Price after she had confessed her misconduct with several men.

Mrs. Price was preparing to prove she was innocent of the accusations heaped upon her on the witness stand by her husband. She was preparing to prove, by her ninety-six witnesses, that her conduct as a wife was above reproach, and that the stories about her alleged misconduct with nine men, one of them alleged to have been a county man who was killed in France, were all wrong from her by a jealous husband through threat on her life. She had previously chosen an open court hearing, so she could vindicate herself. The court, however, brought the sensational hearing to an abrupt close without going into the woman's defense.

The whole of the morning session Friday was consumed by two witnesses, the husband, and his brother, Julian Price. After reconvening after lunch hour, Judge Wickes notified counsel for the plaintiff, that the testimony of the plaintiff, that he had lived with his wife after she confessed misconduct, put him without standing in court, whereupon State's Attorney Locke, secretary; Mrs. Lloyd Balderson, treasurer; district chairmen Cecilton district, Mrs. George W. Padley; Chesapeake City district, Mrs. Edward E. Graves; Elkton district, Mrs. I. D. Davis; Elk Mills and Fair Hill district, Mrs. W. R. Baldwin; North East district, Mrs. Charles Day; Rising Sun district, Mrs. A. B. Keane; Port Deposit district, Mrs. W. G. Jack; Conowingo district, Mrs. Jerome Brumfield.

LEGION TO PRESENT MEDALS

In an effort to stimulate interest among high school students of the county in those qualities of character and ability, which, if cultivated, are calculated to result in better citizenship, the American Legion Post and Auxiliary for Cecil County will award numerous medals at the commencement exercises to be held in June. The awards will be made on honor, courage, scholarship, leadership and service. A committee from the post and the auxiliary will visit every high school in the county and exhibit the medals and acquaint the students with the conditions of the judging.

"The Public Wants It"

"The Public wants it," is the glib reply which many newspapers employ to explain the policy of publishing crime news in all its morbid and futile detail. The case for crime news of this character is not, however, quite so obvious as such a simple dictum might indicate. As was recently pointed out in these columns, several

NEW FACTORY OF JAMES BRADFORD COMPANY

The completion and opening of the new factory building of the James Bradford Co., at C and Heald streets, Wilmington, marks a step forward in the history of Wilmington's oldest business houses. The James Bradford Co. commenced business at Third and Market streets in 1847 and during the 81 years of their business life, have built up an enviable reputation as paint manufacturers, color grinders and dealers in painters' supplies and the grinding and mixing of paints and colors. Ample space is provided for the storage of a very large stock of all kinds of glass. The retail store and business offices of the Bradford Company are located at 212 Market street. The officers are: Walter M. Francis, president; Howard J. Marston, treasurer; William Berl, Jr., vice-president. I. Newton Sheaffer is the Bradford Company Agent in Newark.

newspapers of a wide and popular circulation have championed the responsibility of the press to refuse to use its columns to spread unfit news. These editors recognize a public responsibility which cannot be exercised with a sole view to circulation figures.

But does the public want this crime news, as is so commonly supposed? Different newspapers will no doubt have different answers, dependent, perhaps, upon the class of readers to which they wish to appeal. The Minneapolis Journal, for one, lately found that its public didn't want the news at least of one crime—the culmination of a notorious case—and that its decision to print but the barest facts of the affair almost inundated the office with words of unsolicited approval from its readers. The current issue of Editor and Publisher quotes from Neil H. Swanson, managing editor of the Journal:

"There was a public reaction beyond my wildest expectations. Not only were there floods of telephone calls and letters, particularly from women, which might have been expected, but we received many spontaneous favorable comments from important business men and leaders of community life, who, ordinarily, do not take the time or trouble to notice what a newspaper is doing. "From about the time the afternoon deliveries began to be made in the residential districts until the office closed at night the telephone re-write battery had little chance to do anything else than answer calls of persons wishing to commend our action. . . The circulation department received some seventy unsolicited subscriptions by telephone. Our general circulation following the execution is at the highest point of the winter."

For its action in this case the Minneapolis Journal deserves the commendation of its contemporaries. Its decision appreciated the responsibility of a newspaper to respect decency of news as well as decency of advertising, and the results showed that after all the public was glad to escape at least the worst of this criminal news. —Christian Science Monitor.

Protect Your Investment in Your Model T Ford

THE Ford Motor Company is making a new car, but it is still proud of the Model T. It wants every owner of one of these cars to run it as long as possible at a minimum of expense.

Because of this policy and because of the investment that millions of motorists have in Model T cars, the Ford Motor Company will continue to make parts until, as Henry Ford himself says, "the last Model T is off the road."

More than eight million Model T Fords are still in active service, and many of them can be driven for two, three and five years and even longer.

So that you may get the greatest use over the longest period of time at the lowest cost, we suggest that you take your Model T Ford to the nearest Ford dealer and have him give you an estimate on the cost of any replacement parts that may be necessary.

You will find this the economical thing to do because a small expenditure may enable you to maintain or increase the value of the car and give you thousands of miles of additional service.

No matter where you live you can get these Ford parts at the same low prices as formerly and know they are made in the same way and of the same materials as those from which your car was originally assembled.

Labor cost is reasonable and a standard rate is charged for each operation so that you may know in advance exactly how much the complete job will cost.

New Century Club

The meeting of the Newark New Century Club was held on Monday afternoon with Dean Robinson at Women's College. A large delegation of members of the Delaware City New Century Club were also Miss Robinson's guests.

A feature of the afternoon was the planting of a Chinese lantern tree, the gift of Mrs. Edward W. Cooch, on the campus, north of the Practice House. Arrangements for the tree planting were made by Mrs. William Barnard, chairman, and the members of the conservation committee of the Club. The presentation was made by Mrs. A. D. Cobb, president of the Club, and the tree was received for Women's College by Dean Robinson. Mrs. Barnard and Mrs. Newcomb assisted in the planting. Mrs. P. K. Musselman sang "Trees." The tree was planted in honor of Mrs. Sherman, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs. Members of forty women's clubs and of ten junior organizations in this State have planned to plant fifty trees in Mrs. Sherman's honor before she visits Delaware when the State Federation of Women's Clubs meets at Rehoboth Beach in June. A number of the trees have already been planted and not two of the same variety.

Mrs. Cobb in presenting the tree to Women's College, said:

"The story of the American forest is a saga familiar to every schoolchild in the country. The pioneers fought it back and won their homes, fields and roadways, while it in turn sheltered and warmed them. Its consumption has become a great industry—its benefits to man are innumerable. The thinking people of the nation have watched its disappearance with foreboding and for many years have endeavored to create sentiment for the conservation of our forests from exploitation and wanton waste. Perhaps the great floods of the Mississippi and Connecticut rivers have brought before the American people the awful results of our extravagance. Commissions are being formed in all parts of the country for reforestation. One of the most tireless workers in behalf of the forests is Mrs. Mary King Sherman, President of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, and it is in her honor we plant this tree today. Because of our interest, pride and love for Women's College we have asked permission to plant it on this beautiful campus. The tree is the Chinese lantern tree and the gift of Mrs. Edward Cooch. It is doubly precious to us because it comes from Cooch's Bridge. Through the activities of the Conservation Committee, of which Mrs. William Barnard is chairman, and in honor of Mrs. Mary King Sherman, the Newark New Century Club plants this tree and presents it to Women's College. We are attempting to show in this small way our sympathy for and endorsement of the reforestation plan and hope our tree will live and thrive and give pleasure for many years to come."

The second part of the afternoon's program was held in the Hilarium in Residence Hall, Mrs. Cobb presiding. The president, in a pleasing speech, told Dean Robinson of the pleasure that the club members experienced on the occasions of their meetings at Women's College. Dean Robinson responded in a gracious welcome. Short talks were given by Mrs. John McCabe, of Rehoboth Beach, president of the Delaware State Federation of Women's Clubs; Mrs. Clarence Fraim, ex-president of the Federation; Mrs. R. W. Heim, first vice-president, and Mrs. A. D. Warner. Miss S. W. Bolster, of Wilmington, played two piano solos and accompanied Mrs. Horace Johnston, of Wilmington, who sang two songs. Miss Bell, of the Aircastle Players, gave a reading.

After the adjournment of the meeting, the members were the guests of Dean Robinson in the Faculty Club Rooms in Residence Hall, where they were received by Mrs. Cobb, Mrs. Warner, Mrs. McCabe, and Mrs. Heim. Ice cream, cake and coffee were served.

U. Of D. Drops Drexel And Haverford Games

Blue And Gold Nine In Slump; Garrett Pitches Good Ball Against Drexel

The University of Delaware baseball team went into a slump last week and lost two games in as many starts. It dropped one to Drexel, here Wednesday, 3 to 1; and another to Haverford, at Haverford, Friday, 7 to 3.

The Drexel game was a close pitching duel between Garrett and Kean, of Drexel. Statistically, Kean had a shade the better of it, but if it had not been for errors on the part of the Blue and Gold infield the game would have gone extra innings. Fumbles in the eighth gave Drexel two runs and the game. Score:

Haverford Game

Garrett worked again on Friday against Haverford and was not up to his usual form, in fact the same was true of the whole Delaware nine, as they played the sloppiest ball of the current season. Delaware started out by getting over 3 runs in the first inning before the Mainliners knew what it was all about, but after that, Haverford tightened and Delaware loosened, and the game went easily out of Delaware's hands. ### High School Wallops Middletown, 8 To 2

Avenges Early Season Defeat In Well Played Game; Junior High School Loses

The Newark High School baseball team exacted revenge from the Middletown High School, last Friday, by defeating them on their home diamond, 8 to 2. This evens an early season beating at the hands of Middletown.

"Winnie" Mayer pitched an even, heady game for Newark and kept the hits scattered so that they did not count much in the scoring. He sent 7 of the Middletown batters back to the bench by the strikeout route. Mayer was given good support with the stick and in the field. The High School boys looked better from all angles than they have in any game so far this season. In Rawley, of Middletown, they faced a sterling moundman and deserve credit for bumping him for 10 bingles. Rawley added 13 strike-outs to his credit in this game. Score:

Juniors Lose

The Newark Junior High School nine, on Monday, traveled to Middletown and lost a close 7 inning game by a score of 7 to 5. The score was tied up to the last half of the seventh, when Middletown pushed over the winning run. Willis pitched a nice game for Newark. Newark's line-up was:

Roberts, catcher; Willis, pitcher; Jackson, first base; Barrow, short stop; Herdman, second base; Barand, third base; Crow, right field; Megilligan, center field; Singles, left field.

Tomorrow, the Junior High School will play the Commodore Macdonough School, here. Monday the High School varsity will play Beacom's College at the Baynard Stadium, Wilmington.

Mayor Plans $90,000 Street Improvement

work and the Red Men's Home will reduce the estimates by about $15,000. It was voted that bids be received for this work.

Councilman Lovett reported several complaints on sidewalks and also suggested that the corners at Choate and Main streets be rounded. These were referred to the Street Committee for action.

Councilman Hubert suggested that the demolished real estate sign of Guy R. Ford, on the property across from Leak's Garage, be repaired or removed. It was stated that Mr. Ford had already been notified of the condition of this sign and that he had made no reply. Another letter will be written him. Mr. Hubert also asked about lights on South Chapel street, and it was stated that work is progressing on them.

Mayor Frazer announced that suit had been entered against the Town for damages resulting from an accident about a month ago, when a car struck a tree projecting out into Main street, just east of the Newark Center tracks. He said that he did not know the amount of the damages claimed. The trees which projected into the street at this point were removed last week.

Mayor Frazer also announced that the Baltimore and Ohio R. R. Company had started watchman service at the North College avenue crossing, on Monday. The watchman will be on duty from 6 a. m. to 10 p. m. From 10 p. m. to 6 a. m. the blinker lights will be in service.

Mayor Frazer stated that $30,000 worth of the 5 1/2 per cent bonds had matured, Monday, and had been paid off.

Councilman Widdoes brought up the question of additional police service, but nothing definite was decided on it.

Professor Ira S. Brinser, chairman of a committee from the American Legion called on the Council and requested the use of the room over the Council Chambers for a meeting place. Mayor Frazer stated that by resolution the Council had decided not to let anyone use the room, and that also the Veterans of Foreign Wars had filed a previous request. Mr. Brinser stated that both the Legion and Veterans could use the room without interfering with each other. Councilman Hubert made a motion that in view that the two organizations asking the use of the room were composed of ex-service men, that the resolution forbidding its use be rescinded, and that both the Legion and the Veterans be allowed to use the room free of charge. The Council decided to consider the proposition and give a decision at the next meeting.

The treasurer reported a balance of $17,849.61 in the Town treasury, May 1. Alderman's fines were reported as $50.

The milk report, prepared by H. R. Baker, read as follows:

CONCENTRATE

It was Emerson who wrote: "When God lets a thinker loose upon the earth, let men beware."

Such a statement coming from so thoughtful a man is enough to frighten the average person and make us feel that there are but few thinkers.

The truth is, there are millions of thinkers. We are all thinking from morn till night, but the trouble is, so many just think of this, that, or the other thing, in rapid succession. In their minds is a medley of all kinds of things and all kinds of thinking.

We do not concentrate enough when we think. We hop, skip, and jump over this and that like the girl on the telephone, who said: "Please hold the wire until I think what I have on my mind."

When we run up against some stubborn problem, we say to ourselves: "Oh! What's the use of trying to figure the thing out. The right way will come to me to-morrow or next day. I'm not going to bother my head now. Everything will work out all right."

The result is, the average thinker throws off the trouble and puts off the problem until "tomorrow or next day," then the darned problem confronts the thinker again and he is unprepared to meet it.

The time to thresh out a problem is while it is fresh in your mind. Putting a problem over until the next day is proof that you are a postponer and the put-it-off man is seldom a success.

Here is a suggestion that will help you organize your thinking forces and lead you to success. When evening comes, after a very active day, take a little time, all alone, and think over what you have done during the day and what you want to do on the coming day.

You will learn nothing from your experience except when you muse upon it.

You will never be prepared to meet a problem until you meditate over it.—Silent Partner.

"RED HAIR"

That irrepressible comedienne, Clara Bow, chose the color of her own luxuriant locks for the title of her new picture, "Red Hair." With its romantic nonsense and delicious love theme, it is to be at the Aradia Theatre for the entire week of May 14.

Clara Bow is called the "It" girl for many reasons, chief of which was her appearance in Elinor Glyn's story of the same name.

"Red Hair" tells of a pretty, peppy manufacturer who is the object of the affections of a trio of middle-aged professional men. She fails to find romance in their attentions but does find the real love with a nephew of one. The elderly gentlemen consider her a gold-digger and try by various methods to break off her engagement. All the complications are laughable and clever.

Lane Chandler is Clara's newest leading man.

The habit of saving is itself an even greater asset than the savings; for a habit is for life, and a sum of money or measure of any other valuable thing is a mere incident, replaceable once or a score of times by a habit of saving.

MUSICAL COMEDY STOCK COMPANY AT QUEEN

On Monday, May 14, the Queen Theatre will inaugurate a summer season of musical comedy stock. The Eviston-Napier Players, numbering in all about thirty-five entertainers, principals and chorus girls will present the musical comedy hits of Broadway.

The price scale at the theatre will not be changed and there will be two different Broadway musical comedies each week at regular Queen Theatre prices.

The first to be offered will be George M. Cohan's "Mary." Few successes have made the records that "Mary" did on Broadway. Its tuneful "Love Nest" is one of the sweetest of melodies and is the theme song in a score that sparkles with other hits. "Mary" will be presented on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, May 14, 15, 16.

Annie Nichols (author of "Abie's Irish Rose") is also the producer of the famous musical play "Linger Longer Letty," which is to be presented on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, May 17, 18, 19. It will be remembered that Charlotte Greenwood starred in this show when it was presented in New York for two solid years.

"Little Nellie Kelly," "The Demi-Virgin" and "Sally" are some of the other shows that will be presented at the Queen. There will be three performances each day, one in the afternoon and two each evening. On Saturday there will be four performances.

MONEY VALUE OF BIRDS

The figures of a careful observer show the immense loss incurred to horticulture by the loss of only one brood of birds. The average bird's nest contributes five birds. The average daily ration of each bird includes fifty flies or other insects. They partake of such supply for at least thirty days. The number of insects so destroyed in thirty days by a single brood of birds amounts to 7,500.

Each fly or insect will consume an amount of buds, flowers and leaves equal to its weight. In the course of a month it will have eaten thirty flowers or fruit buds. The 7,500 flies that a brood of birds could consume can cause a loss to horticulture of 225,000 apples, plums, or whatever fruit may be so affected, within one short month!

The producer and the consumer of fruits can readily see the advantage of the preservation of birds.—Eleanor Daily in Our Dumb Animals.

FIFTH GRADE VISITS CAPITAL

Saturday a number of pupils of the fifth grade of the Newark Public Schools visited Washington, making the trip in a Stiltz bus. On arriving at the Capital City, about noon, they visited the Capitol, and were fortunate enough to see both branches of Congress in session, Vice-President Dawes speaking while they were in the Senate gallery.

At the White House, a special letter permitted the children to see all rooms on the main floor except the private dining room of the President. They were also fortunate enough to see President and Mrs. Coolidge.

The children took a trip to the top of the Washington Monument, and visited the New National Museum and other points of interest. They took dinner at the home of Miss Mary A. Kauffman, 122 Third street, N. E., shortly before starting for home.

Miss Wingate and Miss Lemly, teachers of the fifth grade, had charge of the trip. They were assisted by Mrs. Carey, Mrs. Morris and Mrs. Smith, who also made the trip.

The school pupils in the party were: David Cronhardt, Eva Gregg, Alex. Cobb, William Hanna, Arthur Huston, Dorothy Barrow, Dorothy Handloff, Pauline Duhadaway, William Frazer, Jack Daly, Alice Fisher, Josephine George, Neal Smythe, Helen Krapf, Orville Richardson, Joseph Maxwell, Anna Slack, Eric Mayer, Frederick Kindelhardt, Helen Smith, Ethel Hauber, Martha Moore, Virginia Morris, Marshall McDaniel, Virginia Phillips, Edwin Krauss, Sarah Williams, Jennie Williams, Ruth Hamilton, Carolyn Johnston, Augusta M. Kaufman and Catherine Fell met the party in Washington.

HEALTH LECTURE

Dr. Hurdle, of the State Board of Health, co-operating with the Welfare Committee of the Newark New Century Club, gave a health talk last Friday evening at the school for colored children on New London avenue. More than one hundred and fifty parents and children attended the lecture and were most appreciative of the talk and the movies which showed in story form how colds are caught and the development of tuberculosis.

A similar lecture was scheduled for the previous Friday evening at the High School, but the heavy rain-storm prevented a good attendance and the lecture was postponed.

"He that loves reading has everything within his reach."—William Godwin.

cedure. Mr. Leach also urged all of the undergraduates to take a greater part in the activities of the school and to make membership into this society their aim, as it represented the last word in Senior honors at the University.

The following members of the junior class were chosen as members of the society for the coming year: William Reybold, of Delaware City; Louis DiJoseph, of Jenkintown, Pa.; Harold Roser, of Kennett Square, Pa.; Floyd Hubert, of Newark, Del.; Richard French, of Richardson Park; Edwin Murray, of Wilmington; James Jaquette, of Newark; Richard Long, of Delmar; Virgil Van Street, of Dover; Robert Burton, of Philadelphia; Max Glasser, of Westfield, N. J.

The Druid Society of the sophomore class made their selection during the annual track and field meet on Frazier Field. The Druids formed a triangle on the bank of Frazer Field and as each new member was tapped he was led into the triangle by the present Druid who tapped him. The following men were chosen from the freshman class: William Brown, of Wilmington; Frank Gladden, of North East, Md.; John Russo, of Wilmington; Joseph Moran, of Wilmington; Caleb Boggs, of Cheswold; Louis Smith, of Norwood, Pa.; Robert Ely, of Wilmington; William Doordan, of Newark; Robert Glover, of Wilmington; John McDowell, of Philadelphia; James Hill, of Wilmington, and William Morgan, of Wildwood, N.
