Mr. Hardy started with the Rosin and Hasselbacher Chemical Company in 1929 as a process supervisor at the Niagara Falls, N. Mrs. Pellegre, Mrs. Ufford To Head Feb. 25 Heart Sunday Drive For Newark

Mrs. Charles G. Knodel, Delaware's Heart Sunday chairman, announced today that Mrs. T. J. Pellegre and Mrs. Page Ufford again will head the Heart Sunday drive in the Newark area.

Heart Sunday, Feb. 25, this year is the day set aside throughout the country for door-to-door collection of funds to support the Heart Association's attack against this nation's No. 1 health enemy.

During 1961, diseases of the heart and blood vessels caused more deaths than all other causes combined.

The Heart Association is the only national voluntary health agency devoting its time and energies to these diseases.

"Research, which is the major purpose of the association, is the only way we will be able to solve many of the mysteries that still exist in this field," Mrs. Knodel said.

Deficit Reported With NRA Budget During Past Year

Smoot Reports 10,000 Registrants With NRA Activities For 1961

At the 15th annual dinner meeting of the Newark Recreation Association in the Newark Country Club last week, Treasurer Floyd K. Swipe, Jr., reported a deficit of $700 in a budget of $45,500 for the past year.

The bulk of the association's funds—$11,000 in 1961—comes from the United Community Fund of Northern Delaware, Swipe said, with the balance from city government and fees collected for the use of facilities.

The United Fund has notified the association that Newark's allotment will be reduced by the amount of the $3,000 grant from the city, Swipe said.

Unless a way is found to reduce expenses, some programs will have to be curtailed, he added.

Outgoing President Joseph A. Shields said the association can stay alive only if it gives participants what they want.

The annual report prepared by Glenn Simons, acting executive director, and his staff, disclosed 10,000 registered with the association last year and 105,000 participating in the various programs with 21,000 spectators.

Dr. Edward S. Overman, director of the University of Delaware Urban Affairs Bureau, spoke on the value of a comprehensive plan in putting recreation in its proper place in the community.

Durnall Decides Not To Seek Reelection As Mayor In April

Frank M. Durnall, Mayor For Past Six Years, Veteran Councilman For Three 2-Year Terms, Announces He Will Not Be Candidate For Office; Gives Thanks For Support

Mayor Frank M. Durnall has announced that he will not be a candidate for reelection next April. Mayor for the City of Newark for the past six years, and a veteran councilman for the middle district with three terms in office, Frank Durnall expressed appreciation for his support over more than a decade in public office.

"I have enjoyed being mayor and a councilman for the city," Durnall declared, "and I appreciate very deeply the trust of my constituents in electing me to public office."

"But the time has come," he said, "when I must devote more effort to my personal business affairs."

"The City of Newark is growing, and this growth will soon reach a point where the mayor must have more time than I have to devote to its ever increasing problems," Durnall said.

A lifelong resident of Newark, Frank Durnall graduated from Newark High School, played professional baseball as a catcher and after attending business school, was employed as an accountant.

During World War II, he served as a government auditor and later organized the West-Drase Spring Water Company of which he is president.

Mr. and Mrs. Durnall reside at 78 Kells Avenue in Newark.

City Seeks To Provide Teeth With Law For Demolition Of Substandard Housing

The city investigated the possibility of getting long-range federally supported mortgages for replacement of the homes, but the people involved had inadequate income to be eligible.

The only recourse then seemed to be low rent public housing. The Newark Housing Authority which public housing could be brought to the city.

Now that the housing authority at the end of its first year is ready to move toward building a public housing project, the city is ready to clamp down on the non-complying home-owners. The amendment to the minimum housing law is designed to get prompt action.

After deeming a "dangerous building" and declaring such a place a public nuisance, the amendment states that the building inspector has the power to declare certain buildings to be in this category.

If a building in this category has not been demolished within 30 days after it was ordered to be torn down, and an appeal hasn't been filed within 15 days of the order, the building inspector may issue an order to have the building razed.

The cost will then be submitted to council which shall either set a lien on the property or bring civil suit, or both.

The amendment has passed in a first reading before City Council and is expected to be debated at the next meeting on Feb. 13.

The fourth of 10 registration days for voting eligibility in the Newark municipal election on April 10, will be conducted this Saturday from 7:30 a. m. to 7 p. m. at the Council Building.

Beginning this year, complete new registration lists with the six municipal voting districts is required for eligibility at the local polls next April.

Registration dates are scheduled for Feb. 10, 17, and 24; and March 9, 16, and 23.

The date of Feb. 27 indicated on the registration notice enclosed with the January municipal billings is in error, the Newark League of Women Voters points out.

Chrysler Assembly Plant Plans 1-Shift Operation

The Chrysler assembly plant at Newark will resume operations Feb. 29 on a single-shift basis after its three-shift shutdown this year.

City Seeks To Provide Teeth With Law For Demolition Of Substandard Housing

An amendment to strengthen Newark's minimum housing law by providing for demolition orders for substantial violations is being studied by City Council and the municipal administration.

The minimum housing law passed in July, 1956, was designed to remove houses in which people were living but which were so far below standards and so far below safety and building codes that the cost of repairing them was prohibitive.

Disposition of 317 dwellings by Building Inspector Clarence Bader and Fire Marshal William Donahoe, disclosed 121 buildings in violation of the law. Of these, 35 were ordered razed, with the owners to pay the cost of demolition.

Twenty-three owners complied immediately, but the owners of 11 of the 32 other buildings have done nothing in the time limit set by the ordinance.

City Council ordered City Manager J. Francis Neide to remove those at city expense and charge the cost to the owners.

But Neide discovered that the city had no real power without extensive court action to enforce the demolition order.

This impasse stood throughout part of 1960 and all of 1961. Another factor in the delay was the city's realization that if it tore down the houses most of the residents would have to place to go. All but three of the buildings were inhabited by Negroes.

Traffic Stop Sign Shapes Cited As Driver Guides

"What is the shape of the traffic stop sign?"

Test your knowledge as a driver by asking yourself that question, J. James Ashton, manager of the Delaware Safety Council suggested yesterday.

Some motorists who have been driving for years don't know that traffic signs have easily identified shapes he said.

Sometimes signs have to be identified by their shapes because the lettering has been worn off by the weather or covered with mud or snow, Ashton added.

how to help in case of... HEART ATTACK

- Call the doctor at once.
- Help the patient take the position that is most comfortable for him. (This will probably be halfway between lying and sitting. He usually cannot breathe comfortably if he lies flat.)
- Do not attempt to carry or walk the patient without the doctor's supervision.
- Loosen tight clothing such as belts and collars.
- See that the patient does not become chilled, but do not induce sweating with too many blankets.
- Don't give drugs or anything to drink without the doctor's advice.

ADVICE given above may help save a life. It is a part of the educational message being delivered to homes here and throughout the nation by Heart Fund volunteers when they call on their neighbors on or about Heart Sunday, February 25. The residential visits, climaxing the month-long Heart Fund campaign, will be joined by more than 1,750,000 volunteers. Slogan of the campaign is "More Will Live—The More You Give."

Navy Notes - The U. S. Destroyer

History of the Destroyer
By William P. Mote

Newark High School graduate, Class of 1937, Navy radioman Bill Mote has submitted a series of articles on the Navy's destroyers. On active duty with the U. S. Navy, Bill is the son of Mrs. William F. Mote and the late Mr. Mote. His wife and mother reside in Newark. His articles will appear from time to time in the Newark Post.

The history of the Navy Destroyer spans better than half a century and ranges from "torpedo boats" of less than a thousand tons to today's monsters of light cruiser size.

The first torpedo boat destroyers were small, highly maneuverable ships, designed to press an attack upon capital ships, using the torpedo as their main armament.

World War I brought the submarine, and the depth charge was used by destroyers to destroy them.

The modern destroyer began with the Gleaves/Livermore ships that replaced four-stack World War I destroyers. World War II opened with the Fletcher beginning to see service.

A need for greater fire-power caused the use of twin five-inch guns to replace the single mounts as the destroyers' main battery in the Gearing class, a war-time developed ship.

The war ended and ship-building slowed. The Korean War came, and once again a new type of destroyer.

The Forrest Sherman Destroyer—last type to be armed only with guns—was a departure from the normal in that it has the majority of its fire-power facing aft. These ships are slowly replacing the older destroyers.

Other types of destroyers are the Escorts and the Leaders.

The Escort is smaller and generally used solely for convoy work, while the Destroyer Leader is the size of a cruiser and is a command ship.

Destroyers have come a long way and will continue to develop over the years.

Two Local Women Attend Conference On Traffic Safety

If members of the National Home Demonstration Council have their way, every eligible high school student will receive a course in driver education and training.

Mrs. Wilmer P. Alet, state president of the Delaware Home Demonstration Council, and Mrs. Edward Borg, state safety chairman—both of Newark—are representing Delaware at the national leadership conference in traffic safety at East Lansing, Mich., Feb. 6-8.

Mrs. Alet and Mrs. Borg, along with 100 rural women from every state and Puerto Rico, are learning first-hand why today's teenagers must be taught to drive by professional driver education teachers.

Highlighting the conference is a demonstration of emergency driving situations staged in today's high school driver education courses.

Merle Knotts Appointed Organist At Brookside

Merle Knotts, a graduate fellow at the University of Delaware, has been named organist at Kingswood-Brookside Methodist Church.

Total 65 Traffic Deaths Includes 12 Pedestrians

Pedestrians were victims in 12 out of 65 traffic deaths on Delaware Streets and highways last year, the Delaware Safety Council reported yesterday.

Four of the 12 fatalities involved drinking pedestrians. In one case both the pedestrian and the driver were found to have been drinking.

Three of the pedestrian deaths appeared to have resulted from walking in the path of vehicles in darkness.

The other cases all involved walking or running into the paths of moving vehicles, under various circumstances. In one case a child ran out from between parked cars.

Speaking of Money...

"Major Family Expenditure: the Encyclopedia"

by JOHN BUCHANAN

Hello again. This is John Buchanan back on SPEAKING OF MONEY. One of the rather big expenditures every family ponders is the encyclopedia. To buy it or not to buy it. And which one. I'll answer the first question right now: Buy it. Buy it if you have to give up eating for a while. Whoever starved in this country?

The encyclopedia is a university in your living room... The government makes a child out of "deduction" not only to cover his clothing and food. We've got to fill his head, too, on that budget. An encyclopedia makes him owner of just about all the knowledge in the world.

So let's look at some of these encyclopedias. For $135 you get the excellent, highly recommended encyclopedia, written especially for young students. The World Book Encyclopedia. Put out by Field Enterprises Educational Corporation, Chicago. This set of 30 volumes, according to the September, 1960 issue of the Hart Chart, has recently undergone a major revision, making it completely up-to-date. A supplement comes yearly for $1.75. This set has 21,000 excellent illustrations, 4,000 of them in color. There are 1,775 unique new maps. It has an especially good feature: articles are written for the grade in which it is studied. Major articles are signed by the authority who wrote them. A large staff of full-time experts and outside specialists concentrate on making this work up-to-date, interesting and beautiful. It's been a top-grade reference work since 1917. The whole family can read and study this set to their own education and enjoyment.

Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia is another outstanding reference set. Fifteen volumes come for $104.50, more if you choose a more expensive binding. "Accuracy" rating, as with other leaders in the field, is excellent. There are 18,000 fine illustrations, 7,400 pictures, charts, diagrams and maps in color. These articles, also, are written for the grade in which they are usually studied. The "fact index" alone, is wonderful. To keep Compton's up-to-date, a Yearbook can be purchased for $2.95.

Marcantonio's Matmen Stop Co-Champs Of William Penn, Wallop P. S. Dynahs

Newark defeated a powerful William Penn wrestling team last Tuesday night at the local high school gym, 24-15, and near the mid-point of the meet, the score was tied at 13 points between the conference co-champions. But Coach Andy Marcantonio's matmen dominated things in the heavier divisions to remain undefeated with Brandywine, the third co-holder of the Blue Hen Conference crown.

The Yellowjackets have a 6-1 record, the lone loss suffered at St. Andrew's in a non-conference bout.

No pins were registered in the Yellowjacket-Colonial meeting, but decisions were won by Newark's Mike McGlinchey, 103; Richard Hawthorne, 112; Eddie Belote, 130; Lee Hackney, 154; Lee Spayd, 162; Marty Clancy, 180; and Gerry Godbey, unlimbed.

Newark's Andy Stayton, 127, and Frank Scott, 138, drew with their opponents.

Perry Boone, 95; Pete Heuberger, 133, and Jim Russell, 145, lost decisions to the Colonial visitors.

The Newark jayvees defeated the Colonial junior varsity in the preliminaries.

Last Saturday at P. S. duPont.

The Yellowjackets walloped the Dynahs 29-2 as Dick Laucius of the Dynahs saved his team from a shutout by wrestling Newark Jimmy Russell to a draw in the 145-lb. event.

Hawthorne and Hackney pinned their P. S. opponents, and Boone, McGlinchey, Belote, Stayton, Captain Tom Hannagan, Scott, Spayd, Clancy, and Co-Captain Gerald Godbey won decisions for Newark.

The Yellowjackets return to action on Feb. 17 against Dickinson in a Newark home stand at the high school gym at 8 p.m.

"I'd like to go fishing with you again," Bob Curtin said over the telephone last Tuesday. "It's been a long time!"

Well, it has been a long time since Robert E. Curtin, Jr., and the Post's editor got together on a fishing—or any kind—of trip.

Bobbo, after his first introduction to angling some 15 years ago at State Pond near Delaware's St. Georges, became an enthusiastic and skillful sportsfisherman—lucky, too—extending his rod and reel from bluegill, bass and crappie in the Diamond State to Carolina's Calogee and Great Northern, and Pennsylvania's brook, brown and rainbow trout in the swank surroundings of Split Rock Lodge.

But remember his very first bass—a green-silver beauty of some pound in weight that smashed a surface popper in the northeast marshy cove at State Pond one evening just after dark, and jumped and sailed in quick-silvered brilliance beneath a half moon while Mr. Curtin wondered just how long things like this had been going on. He was converted then and there, and jumped into this sportsmanship business with both feet, too, by releasing his first bass to fight again another day—or evening.

And then there was that cold afternoon in late fall on the Chester River near Millington, Md., when Bob Curtin tossed a plug beside a log at the mouth of a tidal creek, and a beautiful four-pounder blasted the surface water and plug to create a tidal wave and some excitement that rocked the boat and its two occupants. And this bass, safely boated, finally, was not released.

Let's go fishing again, Bob Curtin! Pete Fitzpatrick reports 138 striper weighing more than 50 pounds entered in the 15th Annual R. J. Schaefer Salt Water Fishing Contest last year. This fell short of the record set in the 1960 contest when 175 lunkers were registered.

One of the big ones this year was registered to the credit of Red's Surf Devils by a neighboring angler across the border—Louis J. Spitten of Ontario, Canada, who scored with a 69-lb. striper aboard a boat off Highlands, on Oct. 25.

The heaviest striper in the Fifty Pounder Club was boated by an unattached angler—Frank B. Hunsinger of Glen Cove, Long Island. He caught his 66-lb. striper in Montauk waters on Nov. 12.

The heaviest striper registered by a club member was caught by Paul G. Cook of the New Haven Sportsman's Club. Paul caught his 65-lb., 4-oz. striper from a boat in Cottysunk waters on June 30. On June 24, he boated a 63-pounder in the same area.

The Massachusetts Striped Bass Ass'n anglers registered the greatest number of 50-pounders with 19 monsters, while Worcester Striper Club scored with 17.

The waters of the Bay State yielded the greatest number—90. Rhode Island was next with 19; New Jersey gave up 14; New York had 11, and Connecticut, four.

There were 93 striper in the 50-55 lb. class—34 in the 55-59 lb. range, and 11 over 60 pounds.

Twenty-one of the 128 striper were taken from the surf, while 117 were boated.

Helen Stairwalt Announce Cicada As Top 1961 Filly

American Trainers Ass'n Selects Blue Hen Stakes Champ Over Airmans Guide

In the second largest vote ever cast by members of the American Trainers Association, Cicada, juvenile champion of 1961, was voted the outstanding filly or mare of the season, over Airmans Guide and Bowl of Flowers, winners of other and earlier polls.

In all, 124 votes were cast by veteran horsemen, and they gave the top position to Meadow Stud's best bay by a vote of 51-46 over Airmans Guide, winner of the Delaware Handicap.

Bowl of flowers was third in the balloting with 32 votes. Others to receive recognition were Primonetta with four votes and Shirley Jones with one.

Cicada, by Bryan G from Salsum, was winner of Delaware Park's Blue Hen Stakes. She went on to be the biggest money winner of her age and sex in 1961.

The announcement was made by Delaware Park's Helen Stairwalt who, in addition to asking the question as to the outstanding filly or mare, also annually asks ATA members: Is your winning selection worthy of displacing any of the Ten Greatest American Race Mares? This ranking of the Top Ten was established in 1955 by the ATA membership.

The answer to this query again was a negative, as it has been since 1955.

The "No's had it 118-16. Interestingly enough, four trainers voted for Airmans Guide to go into the Top Ten, and the same number voted for Bowl of Flowers to have that distinction.

But only three thought the winning Cicada should go up. Things may be different in 1962 when Cicada will be three-year-old and a more seasoned filly.

"If there were more self-starters, the boss wouldn't have to be a crank," —S. E. Mekeel.

Alan Ely paced Coach Cliff Browning's squad with nine field goals and three touchdowns for 21 points and high scoring honors for the game.

Darrell Huff was runner-up for Newark in the scoring department with six field goals and one from the line for a 13-point total.

In last Friday's home stand with Mt. Pleasant, Newark rallied to outscore their guests 18-10 in the third period for a 45-43 lead, but the Knights edged their hosts 18-15 in the final frame to win a 61-60 thriller.

SIXTY-NINE AND STILL GOING STRONG: Archie Compton, one of Britain's former golfing stars, is still swinging a club at the age of 69. The resident professional at the Mid Ocean Club in Bermuda for the last 13 years, Compton's list of former pupils include President Dwight Eisenhower, the late King George VI, the Duke of Windsor and a host of show business personalities. One of Compton's most decisive victories during his career in England was his thrashing of Walter Hagen in 1923. The two golfers played a challenge match (36 holes) for 500 pounds (today's equivalent is about $1,400). Compton won 18 up and seventeen to play, in other words, he won 18 of the first 19 holes.

Browning's NHS Cagers Face De La Warr In Friday Home Stand After Two Losses

The Yellowjacket cagers with a 4-4 conference record, face De La Warr here at home tomorrow night after losing their last two outings to Brandywine's Bulldogs and the Green Knights of Mt. Pleasant.

At Brandywine last Tuesday night, the Yellowjackets lost a 63-53 conference contest after holding a 14-11 first period advantage.

Alan Ely paced Coach Cliff Browning's squad with nine field goals and three touchdowns for 21 points and high scoring honors for the game.

Darrell Huff was runner-up for Newark in the scoring department with six field goals and one from the line for a 13-point total.

Percentages Favor High Flying Hens In MAC Title Bid

Delaware Cagers Score On 45 Per Cent Of Shots From Field, 65 On Fouls

The Blue Hens, who will seek their 12th victory in 14 outings to-night when they entertain Albright, are connecting on 45 per cent of their shots from the floor and 65 per cent of their free throws.

These are the best averages Coach Irv Wisniewski can recall in his eight-year reign, and result in the Hens' 80.5 points a game average, one of the nation's best.

They also reflect the Blue Hens' all-round efficiency. Paced by Dave Sysko's 51 per cent field goal completions, all of the regulars are hitting on better than 40 per cent of their shots.

Nate Cloud, who Wisniewski says should be "all-everything," owns the club's best free throw average—70 per cent—and is the Hens' best all-around performer.

The 6-6 junior center leads the team in scoring with 17.9 points a game, and in rebounding with 14.9 grabs. Responsible for most of the Hens' tap-ins and a strong defensive operative, Cloud has scored 333 points at the midway point in his college career and appears a sure bet to become the fourth Blue Hen in history to cross the 1,000 career mark.

Cloud, who led the team in all categories also as a sophomore, has scored 20 or more points in five games this season, and has missed notable figures only once.

The Wilmington native is a much more poised and polished player than he was a year ago, according to Wisniewski, but has been relieved of much of the offensive pressure. He is receiving fine support from an outstanding sophomore crop and a couple of proven veterans.

Sysko, 6-5 sophomore from Carney's Point, N. J., and Pete Cloud, Nate's 6-4 sophomore brother, rank second and third in all statistical categories, averaging 17.7 and 14.3 points a game.

Wisniewski, who shuttles seven men in and out of the lineup with regularity, has four excellent supporting performers in sophs Bill Haggerty and Ron Smith, and veteran Co-Captains Bill Wagonan and John Barry.

Maryland Racing Returns At Bowie With Friday Card

Racing returns to Maryland after a hiatus of less than two months when Bowie opens a 10-day meeting this Friday. Daily post time for the nine-race cards will be 1:30 p.m. With no carry-over days from last year, Bowie will run six days a week through March 27, and will have the three days following that date to make up for any postponements before racing shifts to Laurel on March 31.

John P. Loomer, Bowie vice-president and general manager, is highly optimistic concerning the prospects of the meeting. "A well-balanced racing program, which has attracted a number of new stables to Bowie should create high interest with race fans," Loomer said.

An even better in the weather would make the 1962 season one of the most successful in track history."

a year ago; John Strode, of Haddonfield, N. J., leftfielder who batted .318; Ralph Groves, outfielder from Whippany, N. J., .282, and third baseman Bruce Greene, of Philadelphia, with .271.

Coach Raymond, who enters his seventh season with a sparkling 92-30 record, will have veteran pitcher Demman Smith, right-hander from Little Silver, N. J., who had a 4-1 record with a 1.3 earned-run average last year.

Enhancing the Hens' outlook will be the eligibility of Reeves Montague, switch-hitting transfer third baseman from Duke nine after playing high school ball at Tower Hill in Wilmington.

Veterans include second baseman Bob Grends, of Wilmington, the Hens' top hitter with a .356 average

Sysko Paces Delaware To 87-79 Victory At Rutgers For 5-0 Conference Record

Unbeaten in Middle Atlantic Conference play, Coach Irv "Whiz" Wisniewski's Fighting Blue Hen cagers scored their fifth conference conquest of the campaign at New Brunswick last Saturday night, beating Rutgers 87-79—and handily.

Dave Sysko led the Hens with a 22-point scoring spurge, as Pete Cloud contributed 22; brother Nate Cloud, 14; and Bill Wagonan, 12.

This was the second time around for Rutgers this season — and Delaware edged the Scarlet Knights in a 75-74 thriller at Carpenter Field House in a first meeting.

Delaware plays at home tonight—the first of four successive home stands — against non-conference Albright, and then the Hens run into five straight MAC opponents.

Wisniewski's Wild Kids play here against St. Joseph's on Saturday; meet LaSalle on Monday, and LaSalle next Wednesday, with all varsity games slated to begin at 6:15 p.m.

After the Lehigh test, the Hens play away at Muhlenberg on the 17th, and return home to face Gettysburg on the 19th.

Delaware's win over Rutgers was the Hens' 11th against two setbacks. Muhlenberg topped Delaware in the non-conference Loyola Invitational Tournament at Baltimore, and the powerful Quinceo Marines beat the Hens last week in Virginia.

At Rutgers, Delaware edged into the lead just before the half ended when Wagonan shattered at 20:08 dead-end with a field goal and Steve Smith scored on a free throw.

After intermission, Delaware outscored Rutgers 15-4 in the first six minutes of play, and breezed home. Delaware's fresh quintet piled up a 33-29 margin in the first half to Hauber of Mrs. Mildred T. Hauber, 112 Capitol Trail, Newark, Mr. Hauber died last Thursday in Delaware Hospital after a long illness. A member of the class of 1906, he was a star end on the football team despite his diminutive size. He was an ardent follower of Delaware football.

Mr. Hauber received a bachelor of science degree in civil engineering.

A native of Wilmington, he was a member of Corinthian Lodge, No. 20, AF&AM, Delaware Consistory, and Nur Temple of the Shrine. Mr. Hauber had retired from the County Engineer's office in 1954. He served as assistant county engineer.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Joseph Crowe, Newark; a sister, Mrs. George Darbyshire, Philadelphia, and two grandchildren. Interment was private, in Silverbrook Cemetery, and in lieu of flowers, the family suggests contributions to the Delaware Association for Retarded Children, 1035 Philadelphia Pike.

Dick Noble Heads Advertising Week Program For Club

The Advertising Club of Wilmington is taking a page from its own book for the observance of National Advertising Week, Feb. 11-17.

According to Richard Noble, Ad Week chairman for the club, the group will plug its cause via newspaper and radio advertising, rather than through usual proclamations. Noble, of the Radio Station WDOV staff at Dover, says an introductory luncheon on Monday at the Surrey, 1101 Philadelphia Pike, will serve as the kick-off and J. Gorman Walsh, president of John Gilbert Craig, Inc., will be principal speaker.

The observance will close with the annual dinner at Hotel duPont on Saturday evening, Feb. 17.
