Royalty Has Little Effect On Speed Cop; Princess Is LECTURED

Wife of Rumanian Ambassador, Hailed Into Local Court, Escapes Fine

IS SECOND OCCURRENCE

The presence of royalty in the local court of Magistrate Thompson Saturday morning last failed to even disturb the serene atmosphere of the place. In fact, the highway officers and Mr. Thompson alike are getting quite used to it.

Princess Bibesco, wife of the Rumanian minister to the United States, the latest scion of a royal family to be escorted before our bar of justice. The Princess was intercepted in her flight from New York to Washington Saturday morning just east of Newark by Highway Policeman Wardell. He placed the chauffeur of the Embassy car under arrest and proceeded with him to Newark. The Princess, a woman companion and the colored chauffeur all stepped to the railing, gave their names and went through with the hearing. In the meanwhile a curious crowd had gathered outside, quite sure that it was the Prince of Wales getting soaked in the rain.

Let Off Without Fine

Taking his precedent from a similar case some months ago, Magistrate Thompson dismissed Princess Bibesco, but not until he had delivered a lecture on the evils of fast driving. Officer Wardell testified that the royal entourage was "doing better than 65, four honor." The chauffeur protested, but was silenced by the Magistrate. In a few minutes the party were on their way towards Washington, this time at a much milder speed.

The United States Government as part of the courtesy extended to foreign diplomats, has ruled that they are to be exempted from traffic violations, unless said violations result in loss of life, injuries or destruction of property. This rule, it is understood, is also prevalent in other countries where American legations are established.

Some months ago, when Otto Diezler, driver for Baron Cartier, the Belgian ambassador, was caught in the same predicament here, Magistrate Thompson fined him $25 and costs. A few weeks later, the Secretary of State, Charles E. Hughes, got to communication with Delaware officials, explained the ruling of the State Department, and the fine was returned to the Baron. With this precedent before him, Magistrate Thompson had no other course left on Saturday.

Princess Bibesco, it was learned, had just landed in New York from Europe Saturday morning, and was on her way to join her husband in Washington. She was riding in a custom built Cadillac. Although she protested at times during the trial, she took the verdict philosophically and thanked the judge warmly.

New School Janitor

George Russell and family, formerly charge at the Red Men's Home here, have moved into the apartment in the Academy building. Mr. Russell has been appointed custodian of the Newark schools, and is already at the job preparing for their opening in the fall.

"TIE IN" GROUND WIRES

Eliminate Light Poles on Campus of Women's College

The "tiding in" of electric light and telephone cables supplying the Women's College buildings was completed a few days ago, under the direction of Frank McKay, engineer of the College, and linemen from the electric companies.

A long trench had been dug from the spot Road to the buildings, and all ground wires were placed therein, sealed by concrete in cables. The digging over from the pole to the underground system took but a few days.

Work was considerably delayed on the project due to the cloudbursts on Monday. Mr. McKay said that he had about two hours work to do when the storm broke. The trench dug up with surface water and it took two days before work could be resumed.

Saturday Next Is First Registration Day

Next Saturday, July 19, will be the first opportunity to register for the purpose of voting at the Presidential election in November when members of Congress from Delaware, a Governor and other state officers will be elected. The hours for registration will be from 8 to 12 o'clock and 1 to 7 o'clock, standard time. Get registered and be prepared to vote. Registrars will sit at the following places: First district, Deer Park Hotel; Second district, Washington House; Third district, Currier's Store, Christiana.

Newark Golfers Win Over Easton, Md., Team

Dr. Sypher Makes Best Score for Locals—Members Are Jubilant

In the first team match ever attempted at the Newark Country Club, the local golfers downed the strong Talbot Country Club team of Easton, Md., last Saturday afternoon. The point score was 15-10.

The hidden strength of the Newark team was revealed beyond all doubt during the eight matches over the local links. Since this was their first attempt at match play, together with the mental handicap of playing an experienced team from an older club, some skepticism prevailed prior to the starting of the matches.

Those who won the maximum of three points in their matches were Dr. Sypher, Bonham and Norris Wright of Newark, and Spring and Luttrell of Easton. The rest of the field divided their points. In match play the winner of each nine holes gets 1 point, and if he wins the entire eighteen, gets an additional point. Thus the stroke score is disregarded and the match is played hole for hole.

Shepherd Plays Well

Dr. W. O. Sypher, one of the local club's best golfers, had his hands full with Bond of Easton in the first match. Sypher was one up on the first nine and two up on the last round, giving him the coveted three points.

The score of the Sypher-Bond match:
Sypher—

In . . . 6 4 4 5 3 5 6 4 4—41—86

IDA M. TARBELL TO LECTURE ON LINCOLN

List of Events in Summer School Series

On Tuesday evening, July 22, Miss Ida M. Tarbell will lecture in Wolf Hall on Abraham Lincoln. Miss Tarbell is conceded to be the greatest biographer of Lincoln, has published many books on his life and is a world-wide authority on him. The title of her lecture will be "The Political Development of Abraham Lincoln."

Next Sunday evening, the union church gathering will be addressed by the Rev. Murray W. Dewart, rector of Christ P. E. Church, Baltimore. Dr. Dewart preached last spring at the Lenten Series in St. Andrews, Wilmington, and many Newark people are glad of the opportunity to hear him again.

Preceding the sermon, Miss Vera Curtis, of the Metropolitan Opera Co., New York, will give a sacred program. Miss Curtis is perhaps the most important musical personage ever brought to Newark. Her training has been American in every way, something rare in the ranks of Metropolitan artists. Music lovers will no doubt be present in force Sunday evening. Ushers from the St. Thomas church here will take care of the seating. Everyone is cordially invited to all three of these events.

LODGE NOTES

Minnehaha Tribe No. 23, I. O. R. M., will hold initiation on next Tuesday evening, July 22, at 7:30. There will also be other business of importance and all members are urged to be present.

Picnics All The Rage During This Month; Three This Week

Sunday School Parties To Nearby Resorts Start Ball Rolling

From now on until "dog days" arrive, Newark folks will be loyal followers of one of our great American institutions—The Picnic.

Families, Sunday Schools, industrial plants, lodges, women's organizations, Scouts—in fact, everybody must go on at least one picnic or suffer to be entirely out of style.

Most of the parties gather at nearby beaches on either the Chesapeake or Delaware, and there munch fried chicken, deviled eggs, sandwiches and cake to their heart's content.

Two This Week

Two local Sunday Schools are taking their annual outings this week. Yesterday morning two big bus loads of children of the St. Thomas Church school left Newark for Augustine Beach, below Odessa. The days was spent in games for the kids, swimming in the water of the Delaware and, most important of all, the bounteous luncheon at noon. David C. Rose and William D. Dean, vestrymen of the church, were in charge of the party and arranged for transportation. Mr. Dean's small truck was loaded down with picnic baskets when he left Newark. The party returned late in the afternoon. Several teachers and parents accompanied the kiddies on their trip.

The Presbyterian Sunday School picnic will be held tomorrow and will be an all day affair. The picnicers will hie themselves to historic Old Welsh Tract, and will leave the church here between 10 and 10.15 a. m.

Sports and games will feature the afternoon, and events are arranged for everyone from "3 to 90 years," says the announcement.

Members of the committee are arranging to have a good place for the kiddies to wade during the day. Amusements will consist of a baseball game, quill matches for men and women, a track meet for boys and girls, and games for the little tots. Prizes will be awarded winners in various groups.

H. K. Preston, superintendent, is general chairman of the affair, and has appointed the following to aid him:

Provisions—Mrs. C. A. Bryan, Mrs. H. E. Hallman, Mrs. Ed. Steel, Miss Leta Waters, and Miss Ellen Crow.
Dishes—Mrs. H. E. Tiffany, Mrs. George Potts.
Games—A. E. Tomhave, T. A. Baker, Paul Lovett and R. W. Heim.
Transportation—H. K. Preston, George W. Griffin and Robert S. Colbert.

The Methodist Episcopal Sunday School's annual picnic for members of the school will be held at Augustine Beach, Thursday, August 24. The members of the school will leave the church between 8.30 and 9 o'clock a. m. Transportation will be furnished through volunteer cars and trucks. The committee on transportation is composed of M. O. Pence, Henry Mote, John Moore, I. N. Schaeffer and Raymond Russell.

Uncle Sam on Outing

Several members of the local post office staff, and other friends and neighbors motored to Town Point last evening for a picnic and outing. All report a delightful supper and swim in the waters of the Elk River.

Elk Mills Youths Back From California In Second-hand Ford

Encounter Sand Storms on Deserts and Intense Cold in The Rockies—But the Little Car "Rambled Right Along"

Three Elk Mills young men, George Ganzmann, Frank Gregson and Edward Walker, returned in state to their native beach on July 11th last, after completing a round trip motor tour to Los Angeles, Cal., in an old Ford, vintage of 1921.

The wanderers left Elk Mills on the morning of May 19th and arrived in Los Angeles on June 9th. While crossing the American desert just east of the Rockies, they encountered a terrific sandstorm, which carried away the top of their flivver; but the sturdy little engine was still present and they didn't even hesitate accord-

TWO MEMBERS OF FAMILY OPERATED ON

Mrs. C. A. Owens and Son Both Very Ill Following Ordeal

Both Mrs. C. A. Owens and her sixteen year old son, Charles, are lying quite ill in the Delaware Hospital, in Wilmington, following operations performed early last week.

Young Charles was operated upon Tuesday for appendicitis, and after a seemingly natural rally from the ether, became violently ill again. Reports this week stated that he was still very ill. His mother was operated upon on Wednesday last, and has also been seriously ill. On Monday of this week, little change was noticed in their conditions.

BITTEN BY ANGRY DOG

Daughter of Farmer Near Here Hurt On Saturday

The ten-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milton G. Potter, tenants on the White Clay Creek Church farm, near here, was badly bitten on the hip by a dog belonging to neighbors, last Saturday afternoon. Mr. Potter immediately brought his daughter to Newark, where she was treated by Dr. Blake. While in Newark, Mr. Potter conferred with Officer Lewis and Magistrate Thompson over possible action against the canine. Although the injury was painful, it is not believed that serious results will occur.

Mr. Potter is a graduate of the Rehabilitation school here and has been farming near Newark for some months.

NEW HOME IS STARTED

Ground Broken on Depot Road Yesterday for Mrs. Wilson

Work was started on a two and a half story dwelling on the lot formerly owned by Knowles Bowen, on lower Depot Road yesterday morning. The house is being built for Mrs. William Wilson, well known to Newark people. Her husband was at one time a resident of this town. Mrs. Wilson is temporarily occupying the Gamma Delta Rho house pending the completion of her home. The price paid for the lot is said to have been $2500. Contractor Lauritsen, of Wilmington, is in charge of the work.

Sprains Leg In Fall

James Hall, colored, employed on a building operation in the East Main street section of town, suffered a badly sprained and bruised leg yesterday morning about 10 o'clock, when a piece of planking gave way under him. He was carrying a hod of mortar at the time, and fell heavily to the ground. Hall was picked up on Main street later by a passing motorist and taken home.

Firemen's Carnival Closes With A Rush; Take In Over $10,000

Figures Fall Shy of Last Year's Mark—Three Big Nights Jump Totals

BARBER WINS THE CAR

The 12th annual carnival of the Aetna Hose, Hook and Ladder Co. of Newark, which ended Saturday evening, was a distinct victory for the optimists.

A report received by THE POST yesterday afternoon from secretary Robert H. Gallaher, states that the gross receipts for the week were $10,180.77. This is about $4,000 less than last year's total and $5,000 short of the record, made in 1920.

Taken by and large, the Carnival easily upheld the standards set in past years—standards by which the Newark event is noted far and wide on the Peninsula. Experience stood the committeemen and women in good stead. There was nary a hitch in the arrangements, and seldom have there been more shoulders to the wheel.

Two Miles of Cars

Reports as to the number of people in Newark Saturday evening vary according to the observed. It is safe to say, however, that there were close to 10,000 present.

There were over two miles of automobiles parked in streets, alleys, lanes, and yards throughout the central portion of town. It would be hard to squeeze an express wagon in between cars on either side of Main street. They came early and they stayed late.

Newark's Carnival enjoyed three big nights, the opening festivities, Firemen's night last Thursday and the closing night, Saturday. The town was overrun on each occasion. The other nights brought good crowds but little activity was noticed on the grounds. The weatherman was in a very good mood, and only once was the Carnival suspended.

Barber Wins the Car

As early as 11 o'clock Saturday night the crowd began to weave about and settle around the platform where the new Buick was displayed. There they stood. As the hour approached for the awarding of the machine they were augmented by other hundreds.

Series CC, Number 53 was the winning ticket. Everybody looked at everybody else for a second until announcer Hancock called the name of John Todd, of Perryville, Md. The crowd then backed and filled in hopes of getting a glimpse of the winner. He was not in town, however.

Mr. Todd is a barber by trade and was employed here a few years ago by Ralph Barrow at the Washington House. He has many friends in Newark. At present he is working for Barrow's brother in a barber shop in Perryville.

The award was made promptly at 12 midnight. Within five minutes the grounds were clear of people, and resembled a piece of terrain in the wake of a devastating army. Tired and weary workers packed up what few odds and ends remained and went home. It seemed as if some magic hand had in the twinkling of an eye blotted out the crowd.

The judges of the award of the car were the following firemen from nearby towns: Wilson Jones, Franklinville, N. J.; J. J. Minster and J. Alfred Taylor, Elkton; Clifford Lynam, Marshallton, and Charles G. Smith, Christiana.

Every Stand Depleted

Mathematical calculations could not have had the Carnival goods hold out to the last as they did Saturday. Everything was sold.

The supply of ice cream was exhausted four times during the evening, and the blanket wheel was first to give way under the strain. Then came reports of scarcities at the New Century Club booth, the fancy tables, the "Hot Dog" kennel and other booths. By careful estimating, however, the firemen kept them supplied until the last minute.

The ladies at the lemonade booth were perhaps busier than any one else Saturday. Never in the history of Newark has there been so much lemonade swallowed in one night.

Frank Lutton and his merry-go-round outfit did a roaring business every night, as did Pearce Cann, who sold ice cream tickets. The blanket, novelty and candy wheels, in charge of Messrs. Harry Hill, Ray Jacobs, (Continued on Page 4.)

NEWARK TRUST CO. OFFICERS RE-ELECTED

Charles B. Evans Again Heads Local Banking House

At the annual stockholders meeting of the Newark Trust and Safe Deposit Company, held in the building yesterday morning, the following officers and directors were re-elected for another term of office:

President, Charles B. Evans; vice-presidents, David C. Rose and Dr. H. G. M. Kollock; secretary and treasurer, Warren A. Singles; Directors: Arthur L. Beales, Norris N. Wright, J. Irvin Dayett, George W. Rhodes, Dr. Walt H. Steel, and John K. Johnston.

Out of the total of 2000 outstanding shares of stock in the company, 1809 shares were voted at Tuesday's meeting. The business transacted was of a routine nature, and no important developments were forthcoming. The last statement, as of June 30th, shows a balance exceeding that of last year by about $67,000.

DR. KAMEL RETURNS

Dentist Home After Months Spent In Far East

Dr. Assur M. Kamel, dentist of this place, has arrived in this country, according to word received this morning, and will resume his practice here on Monday next.

Dr. Kamel left early in the spring for an extended visit to his homeland, Egypt, and in touring Europe and the Far East.

REPORTED VERY ILL

Miss Agnes Evans In Philadelphia Hospital

Miss Agnes Evans, formerly a resident of Newark, is reported to be seriously ill in the Philadelphia Women's Hospital.

Miss Evans was a resident of Newark for many years, occupying the old Evans' mansion, now known as Purnell Hall, and a part of the University of Delaware.

DEGREE TEAM IS BUSY

Local Junior Mechanics Install Officers at Two Lodges This Week

The degree team of the Newark Lodge, Jr. O. U. A. M., headed by Deputy State Councilor Henry F. Mote, journey to St. Georges this evening, where they will install a group of newly elected officers of the Mechanics in that village. On Friday evening, the degree team will visit Delaware City on a similar mission. About fifteen members of the lodge will make the trip tonight.

TO IMPROVE M. E. CHURCH

At the monthly meeting of the Officers' Board of the Methodist Episcopal Church, plans were made for improving the church auditorium, such as painting the floors and recarpeting the aisles. The work will be undertaken jointly by the Men's League, the Ladies' Aid and the Sunday School. The committee in charge of this work is composed of Earl Dawson, of the Sunday School, G. W. Phipps, of the Men's League, and Mrs. Williams, of the Ladies' Aid. The start will be made sometime in August.

PAY OFF SCHOOL BONDS

The Newark Board of Education has retired the last of $12,000 bond issue of 1912 on the present grammar school. The last retirement was $4000. The Board also retired the first year's quota of bonds on the new High School, amounting to $6000. Three-fourths of the school taxes of the district have been paid. After the 1st of August, the delinquent amounts will be placed in the hands of legal authorities for collection. The last date for payment without fine was June 30th.

VOTE NEW SCHOOL FOR NEW CASTLE

Referendum Approves Measure by 207 Majority Saturday

Advocates of a modern high school building for New Castle won a victory at the polls last Saturday when the proposed bonding of the town for $125,000 for such a structure was approved by a majority of 207. The total vote cast at the special election held by the Board of Education was but 675 out of a total voting population of 2,000.

The vote on the measure was 437 for the bond issue and 230 against it. Eight ballots were discarded, they being defective in one way or another.

The election officers were: Judge, Patrick J. McGrory; inspectors, Mrs. William W. Leach and John F. Cloud; clerks, Howard L. Wilhelme and Miss Anna Toner.

MAY GET BRIDGE BACK

Secretary of War Informed of Harm in Taking Bethel Bridge Away

Secretary of War Weeks, through the office of Major Milo P. Fox, Engineering Department, has replied to a protest from the Board of Commissioners for Cecil County, against the removal of the bridge across the Chesapeake and Delaware Canal, at Bethel, stating the question is now under his attention, and the needs of the people of that vicinity for a bridge at that point will receive careful consideration.

Two Comments On The Democratic Circus

From the Milford Chronicle: Well, that Democratic Convention that has been staging a political hippodrome performance in New York for the past three weeks, seems to have broken every record for a hundred years past, in the history of political conventions. What the results will ultimately be, no one of the guiding directors would like to venture even a mild statement; but, it is absolutely sure, that if the elections were to be held in July instead of November, the results would closely resemble those of the last general election in 1920, when the Republicans swept the country.

From the Delaware State News, Dover:

Anyhow, the world now knows what little Delaware thinks of its favorite son, Willard Saulsbury: It means something to have one's own State delegation stick solidly for 88 ballots, and in the face of such conditions that existed at the New York convention.

(We might add that the "six musketeers" from Delaware meant more (trouble) to the tally clerks than anyone else in the Garden. And when the stampede did begin, durned if they didn't land on the wrong bandwagon. They made 88 starts and then missed the boat.—Ed.)

Dr. George W. Rhodes Elected Head of State Pharmacy Board

Local Druggist Honored by Colleagues in Meeting Last Week - Started in Business Here

George W. Rhodes, popular Main street druggist, was elected President of the Delaware State Board of Pharmacy at the annual meeting held in the Hotel duPont last Wednesday. Dr. Rhodes served the past year as vice-president.

The other officers elected last week were as follows: James W. Wise, vice-president, and J. O. Bosley, Wilmington, secretary.

Dr. Rhodes' connection with the State Board started about four years ago when he became a member of the organization. For the past two years he has been in charge of Practical Pharmacy in examinations to prospective State druggists. Dr. Rhodes, therefore, prepares and gives his own examination to the young men. That he is eminently fitted as an authority in practical pharmacy is easily recognized from a glance at his career.

He was graduated from the Philadelphia College of Pharmacy, and landed in Newark in the early stages of his career. He really made his start here and has been here ever since, save for a period of about two years when the store was taken over by Dr. W. R. Brown.

He first was employed at the store of Dr. J. B. Butler, which at that time stood next to Cornog's grocery store on East Main street. A few years later he bought out the business and established himself.

Dr. Rhodes is ever reticent in talking about himself, and it was with difficulty that he would tell of his early experiences here. He did say, however, that he manned the store single handed, night and day, for the first year, and in the second year, he was able to hire a boy to help out during the summer months.

In 1912 Dr. Rhodes moved his business further up Main street to what is now the Dean meat store, and five years later started work on his present building adjoining the college campus.

Dr. Rhodes is well known throughout the State for his kindness and helpfulness. Perhaps no firmer friends of his exist than recent graduates from Delaware College. Many a time has "Doc" lent a five-spot to a boy who wanted to get home, or to follow the team to a football game. He has extended credit to every student who wants it—never questioning him. This faith and belief in the boys have, we learn, hardly ever been betrayed. In his many years of business, Dr. Rhodes has lost but mighty few dollars to students. And when they come back for a visit, they never fail to drop in for a chat with "Doc." He sees them come and go, and sometimes forgets their names, but they never forget him.

And now he has attained the highest post pharmacy has to offer in Delaware. More power to him!

ELKTON CHURCHFOLK ARE ENJOYING PICNICS

Westminster Guild On Party Saturday; Sunday School Tomorrow

Members of the congregation of the Elkton Presbyterian Church are busy these days with picnics and outings of the various organizations of the church.

Several score people attended the picnic of the Westminster Guild held Saturday last at Town Point, along the Elk River. The party went down in automobiles. A bounteous picnic luncheon was served and the afternoon spent in swimming, and playing games on the beach.

The annual outing of the Elkton Presbyterian Sunday School and congregation will take place at Locust Point on Thursday. It will be held under the auspices of the Men's Association. All baskets should be at the church not later than 9 o'clock that morning. Automobiles will be at the church between 9:30 and 10 and those not otherwise provided for should be there at that time. Should it rain on Thursday the picnic will be held on Friday.

Breaks Her Wrist

Slipping and falling on a stairway in the French street railroad station in Wilmington one day last week, Mrs. James T. Hartnett, of Cherry Hill, Md., suffered a bad fracture of her right wrist. Reports say that she is recovering nicely from the injury.

SPEEDERS ARRESTED

Three speeders, all from Philadelphia, celebrated their deliverance for a day from the talons of General Butler Sunday, but found themselves under arrest near Newark. They were brought at various times during the day before the Bar of Justice in Magistrate Thompson's court here.

Because laws of the State forbid hearings on Sundays, Mr. Thompson required each of the prisoners to deposit $25 bail for a hearing Monday.

As was expected, the speeders "forgot" the hearing, and the Judge kept the bail.

James Mackenzie, on Friday.

Ralph Dunsmore was a home visitor on Sunday and found his father very much improved. Mr. Dunsmore has been very sick for several weeks.

Mabel Irene Dunsmore, ten months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Dunsmore, underwent a slight operation on Friday, at the office of Dr. H. D. Cantwell, North East.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Scott and sons, of Cherry Hill, and Mrs. Ralph Morgan and son were guests of Mrs. Henry Dunsmore on Sunday.

Mr. George Ryan is very ill at his home with the grip.

Maryland Companies Get Two Of The Three Prizes At Big Parade

Newark enjoyed another remarkable show last Thursday evening when firemen from three States gathered here for the big parade as a part of the Carnival of the Aetna Hose, Hook and Ladder Co.

Estimates as to the crowd vary, but observers of authority say that there were over 2000 people gathered along the line of march and easily 500 cars were parked at every available point along the route.

The 20-inch silver loving cup, first prize, went to the Susquehanna Fire Co., of Havre de Grace for the best appearing outfit in line. Union Fire Co. No. 1, of Oxford, Pa., took the second prize, and Singery Fire Co., of Elkton, won third honors. Each winner received a cup.

The judges were Fire Chief William Lutz, Fire Marshall Ainscow, and M. F. Mulrooney, all of Wilmington.

Newark's fire laddies led the parade. Few men were in line, however, as most of the company were back in the Carnival grounds getting ready for the rush of people.

Seven volunteer companies were in line, and five bands kept old Main street full of music all the way along. The companies which responded to the invitation were Havre de Grace, Rising Sun, North East, Elkton, Oxford, Pa., Christiana and Cranston Heights.

The bands in line were Continental Fibre Co. and Red Men's Bands of Newark; Oxford Concert Band, Christiana Band and Ferris Industrial Band.

Parade Pretty Sight

Although the procession began over a half hour late, due to delay at the starting point, the crowds which lined Main street and Delaware avenue on both sides, patiently waited.

Shortly after eight o'clock, Chief Marshal John K. Johnston, astride his beautiful horse, led the parade up Main street. Following him came members of the Board of Directors of the Aetna Co., in H. W. McNeal's car. Then came the big ladder truck of the Newark firemen, driven by Ira Shellender, and manned by a crew. This was followed close behind by the new Buick Six, awarded free on Saturday night. The Continental Band followed immediately after.

Elkton's Splendid Showing

Holding the honor position among the visiting firemen was the Singery Fire Co. of Elkton, and they drew continuous applause throughout the line of march. Seldom has there been seen a more complete and interesting display than Elkton produced Thursday night.

A color guard of three led the procession, bearing Old Glory and the banners of the company.

Then, in double line on each side of the street came the nattily dressed members of the organization, stepping briskly to music from the Minnehaha Band. The Elkton firemen this year purchased complete new marching outfits of deep blue with their insignia done in white across the breast. Their lines were almost perfect and they marched with military precision. There were over sixty men in line.

Directly behind them came two old hand-pumping engines used actively by the Elkton firefighters 110 years ago. This historical display received loud applause from the spectators. One of the hand pumpers was drawn by a yoke of oxen; the other by a pair of mules. A fireman walked behind each, demonstrating the antiquated manner of operating them.

In direct contrast to this old display came the two huge engines of today, used by the Singery boys. The ladder truck and pumping engine were both shined and polished to perfection, manned by a sturdy crew, and were perhaps the most expensive and complete units in line. President Jack Minster and Fire Chief Rambo marched in line with their associates. Assistant Chief Jeffers rode on one of the fire trucks.

For a practical display of modern fire fighting efficiency and equipment, Elkton won many plaudits from the big crowd, and there is no doubt in the minds of many unbiased spectators that they should have received more than third prize. They took their award smilingly, however, and said they enjoyed the fun just as much as if they had won first prize. The hundreds of Cecil Countainians present were frank in their opinion that the county seat boys should have had better fate. Newarkers were also loud in their praise of the Singery men.

Oxford Shows Up Well

Headed by their own band, and preceded by the Oxford Marching Club, Union Fire Co. of Oxford, made a distinct impression on the crowds and were easily entitled to a prize.

Captain "Clem" Rogers, at the head of the Marching Club with his trusty whistle in action, led his men through many intricate formations while on the march. Back and forth, squads right and left, company front and many other maneuvers were executed without a hitch, and continuous applause greeted the club as they tramped by. The firemen, in white trousers and blue coats, looked very trim and neat as they passed by. One big engine was in line.

Then in order came North East, Cranston Heights and Christiana, the baby company in line. The latter were right up to the mark in everything however, and one of their big displays was a hose cart pulled along by every man in line by means of long ropes. Chief Charles Smith and his men are to be complimented on their showing.

Cranston Heights firemen in brilliant red shirts lent a dash of color to the parade. Their big white engine also was a pretty sight to behold. North East sent a big delegation and their engine to the festivities, and a loyal bunch of followers among the spectators cheered them along.

Havre de Grace Wins

Havre de Grace, with an unusually pretty display, carried off first prize. Their company formed a double rank immediately in front of their engine and this supported a long arch of flowers of many colors. Dressed in white for a background, the display caught the eye of everyone, the feminine contingent applauding particularly hard. The display was a new one in firemen parades, and spoke well for the originality of the Susquehanna Company. Riding atop the Havre de Grace engine was a pert little Boston bulldog, lively as a cricket and barking with happiness at the crowd. This made a hit with everyone.

Rising Sun's volunteer company, although late in arriving at the starting point, and thus somewhat disorganized, brought up the rear of the parade, and made a splendid showing. Many of their rosters were disappointed in their unfortunate start as they were expected to give the leaders a race for the three big trophies.

Streets Are Lined

Long before the parade started, Main street was lined on both sides from Newark Center to the Deer Park Hotel with autos. Never before, perhaps, has the town been so crowded with them. Between the cars parked at the curbs, hundreds of pedestrians peered through at the parade. Every vantage point in window, roof or balcony was filled with spectators. The Academy wall in the center of town was lined, and the crowd at the Opear House corner was so thick it was impossible to get through during the parade. Everything was done to make the occasion enjoyable for the many visitors to Newark. Chief Lewis, aided by volunteer deputies from Battery E, headed by "Jim" Keeley, worked valiantly all through the evening to keep traffic moving. Main street was cleared of moving cars before the parade started.

Following the display, the big engines were drawn up in places of honor fronting the Aetna Fire House, and were the center of admiring people all evening. Almost $100,000 was represented in the equipment here Thursday night. Visiting firemen spent the evening on the Carnival grounds, and inspecting the Newark fire house.

Carnival Chatter

Well, it's all over—and everybody had a good time, except John Todd, and he has an exceptionally good time.

Cars, cars, cars—where did they all come from! From amateur figger experts, there were two miles of them Saturday night.

The grounds Saturday were a raging flood of people, ebbing and flowing without direction,—wash-up eventually to a booth where they anchored for a few minutes. Then out into the current again.

Small boys were on the job bright and early Sunday morning, looking for lost nickels and pennies.

Within three minutes after the announcement of the winner of the car, the grounds were empty. Three hundred people vanished in a twinkling.

While the boys of the Aetna Co. were outside attending to the wants of the mob, others were equally hard at work in the Fire House, keeping track of the materials, checking up returns, getting ready for the car award. Their's was a real task.

THE POST in an unofficial survey, presents these stands as winners of the first prizes for the busiest places on the grounds Saturday night:

- 1st Prize—Lemonade and orangeade booth.
- 2nd Prize—Tie between blanket and novelty wheels.
- 3rd Prize—Ice cream cones.

The ladies at the lemonade booth could have used six hands each. The trays in the money box mounted and overflowed several times. Nickels were displacing lemons.

Daniel Thompson reports that he and Eddie Vogt took in over $163.00 selling cones Saturday night. This means they sold over 3000.

The visiting firemen were liberal spenders Thursday night. They all said Newark had a hunderdinger of a Carnival. Havre de Grace boys were jubilant over their good fortune.

Nearly all the young folks stopped in at the Armory for dancing during the evenings. Les Hill made an efficient gate tender, and Chalmers and his orchestra kept the party going strong.

Pearce Cann started Saturday evening by calling his ice cream patrons towards the "corral." An hour later he had all he could do to supply them with tickets.

"Hit the Coon" is becoming foolproof nowadays. Time was when he would take it on the top of the head and laugh at you. Now he slips a board behind the hole to save his head. Nevertheless, some of the young huskies had him worried.

At midnight Saturday, there wasn't enough food around the Carnival ground to provide a canary with his breakfast.

There were fifteen cars parked on Academy street at five p. m. Saturday, the owners evidently wanting to be right in the center of things.

Great praise on all sides were heard for the Continental Band. When the musicians weren't playing, they were right in the booths helping out.

Guy E. "Shorty" Hancock, did a good night's work Saturday. He drowned out everybody when he started a tour of the grounds selling chances on some dainty bit of women's wear. He was usually followed by Mrs. Bayard Perry, holding the article in question. Later "Shorty" acted as chief announcer during the awarding of the car.

John Todd is a barber, they say. Well, the Perryville Union can now ride in style. We've always felt that barbers have never had the best breaks in this vale of tears. We hope a farmer gets the car next year.

The New Century Club table was swept clean of sandwiches before closing time Saturday. Mrs. Tiffany, Mrs. Heim, Mrs. George Rhodes and Mrs. Manns stuck to the ship until the last horn blew. And when it did blow, they had nothing to take home. It is said that Les Hill had the honor of eating the last cookie.

They had a great run on "dogs" Saturday. The market was firm until closing time, when the "bulls" broke its back, and the

NIGHTLY RECEIPTS AT THE CARNIVAL

The official report of the gross receipts for each night of the Firemen's Carnival here has been compiled by Secretary Gal. Laher and is herewith printed in The Post:

Saturday (Opening)	$1,378.43
Monday	448.32
Tuesday	1,061.49
Wednesday	2,041.94
Thursday	1,243.11
Friday	4,907.57
Saturday (Closing)	4,907.57

Total $19,188.77

The record income from a Carnival here was made in 1920, when $15,063.89 was taken in. It is reported that nearly half of this year's receipts will be cleared by the firemen.

and J. I. Durnell, respectively, never lacked attention from the crowd, and whenever a let down appeared on the horizon, Ira Shellender would let out a few whoops that could be heard at Cooch's Bridge and back came the crowd. "Sam" Watson, the duty target for the ball throwers, also enjoyed himself.

Mrs. Bayard Perry, and her ladies committee deserve great praise for their attractive booths and contents. They worked hard and faithfully, and their section of the grounds was the prettiest of all. As far as could be learned Saturday night, every article had been sold.

The New Century Club refreshment tent, managed by the ladies of the club, proved a popular place, indeed. Delicious home made sandwiches, cakes and coffee were on tap every night. On Saturday the ladies noticed in the booth were: Mrs. George W. Rhodes, Mrs. T. F. Manns, Mrs. R. W. Heim, Mrs. H. E. Tiffany, Mrs. J. K. Johnston, and Mrs. Walter Geist. The booth was decided upon through the efforts of Mrs. J. P. Cann, working as a representative of the club, with Mrs. Bayard Perry, chairman of the Women's Division of the Carnival. It proved a very popular feature. The ladies took turns taking care of the wants of the crowd each night.

Chief Lewis and his two deputies, James and John Keeley, the latter boys members of Battery E of Newark, deserve a great deal of credit for their faithful work during the nights of the Carnival.

closing was disastrous. "No. 1 Dogs" were almost unbuyable. "Preferred Rolls" were entirely off the market, and there wasn't anything left to do but to close down the tickers.

OLD STATE PAPER GOES INTO 70th YEAR

The following editorial appeared in last week's issue of the Smyrna Times, lower Delaware's pioneer newspaper:

"The Smyrna Times, with this issue starts its 70th volume. While reference was made at the du Pont Road Celebration at Dover, last week, to the evolution of transportation, we could not help but think of the struggles the early editions of the Times had in gaining a foothold. The first issue of the Times was printed on a Washington hand press before the days of power revolution presses and was mailed to its subscribers by the old stage coach route before the Railroad reached Smyrna or Kent County. And now the 70th mile stone has been reached by Delaware's oldest consecutively published newspaper and this with a record, so far as we know, of never having missed an issue since it was founded by the late Robert D. Hoffecker, Sr., in 1854. We are proud of this record, proud to be able to continue the Times along the high plane of endeavor upon which it was founded. Whatever measure of success we have attained, slow as it sometimes seems, and hard to obtain, has been due to the patronage of the community. Since the present management has been in control, modern and up-to-date machinery has been installed and so equipped the Times has been able to meet the demands of the public not only in its newspaper but in its job printing department. We are 70 years young on "this birthday" and want more than ever to serve you."

BIG FRUIT DISPLAY AT DEL. STATE FAIR

The greatest display of fruit that has ever been made at any agricultural exhibition in this state is being planned for the Delaware State Fair to be held September 9 to 13 inclusive. With bumper crops of early apples and magnificent tater crops, with the best crop of peaches the state has harvested in ten years, with the biggest acreages in grapes ever attempted in the state and with excellent prospects for the best crops of pears and quinces in the annals of fruit culture in Delaware, the exhibit at Elsmere the second week in September will be a record breaker in quality, size and number.

There are 31 different varieties of apples for which premiums will be offered. For the growers of early apples, samples of their best fruit will be placed in cold storage so that they may be just as good when the Fair opens as when they were picked this month. The early crop of apples from lower Delaware this year is the best the state ever produced, the growers assert, and they are obtaining the best prices in competition with all other states of any time in the state's history.

For the best general display the prizes range from $10 to $25. For the best plate display the prizes range from $2 to $5. Then there are premiums in cash for the biggest apple and for t hebest in all varieties grown. The classes are divided between early and winter varieties.

In peaches there are fourteen varieties for which cash premiums are offered. These varieties are those kinds that produce most abundantly in Delaware and Eastern Shore of Maryland soils.

Seventeen kinds of pears will offer two premiums in each class to exhibitors. These embrace all the best known varieties.

In grapes there are fourteen classes consisting of all the best known varieties and some special brands peculiar to Delaware with two premiums in each class.

With quinces there will be six classes with two premiums for the best in each.

In the judging the fruit will be accorded honors for the best form, size, uniformity, color, condition and quality.

Richard G. Buckingham, one of the oldest and best known orchardists in the state, will have supervision over the display.

Big Game Fizzles

Despite the considerable interest aroused during the past week or two concerning the New London-Continental game, the advertising did not bear fruit. Saturday afternoon came and went and nary a bat met ball on the Continental field.

It is reported that the Fibremakers have disbanded for the season, and no further games will be played by that team.

Newark Drops Hard Game To Yorklyn 3-0

Ewing Pitches Great Game for Locals—Hits Lack in Pinches

In one of the tightest, exciting battles waged in the County League this season, Yorklyn took the measure of Newark Saturday by the score of 3-0.

That Newark deserved better fate than a shut-out was the opinion of most of the rooters present. True, the locals couldn't do much with George when a hit would have meant runs, but nevertheless they played better ball than the score would indicate.

According to fans who saw the game, Newark lost one run by a poor decision on the part of Umpire Briscoe. In a dash for home plate, a Newark player was said to have cleanly slid under McDaniel, although the latter stabbed at him twice with the ball. The umpire called the Newarker out, and aroused a storm of protest.

For the locals the all-round work of Tribbet and Pete Ewing featured the game. The big pitcher, with the exception of a lapse in the first inning, held the hard hitting Yorklyn team at his mercy. He pitched his best game of the season. Tribbet ran the bases well and gathered two hits for his day's work. The return of Steedle to the Newark lineup was welcome to the fans. He played a good game at first base. The Newark team played a flawless game afield. The score:

Providence visited Rising Sun Saturday and lost to the home team by the score of 5-2. Loose fielding by the visitors gave Rising Sun the game after Providence got away to a good start when Peterson hit for the circuit in the first inning.

Peterson's hitting was the feature of the game, he collecting a double and single besides his homer in the first inning.

Riale was the leading hitter for the home team with a triple and two singles out of four trips to the rubber. The score:

Belair Beats Elkton In Furious Rally

Push Over Seven Runs in Last Two Innings Saturday—Potts Stars

With a six run lead in the eighth inning of a Susquehanna League game in Elkton last Saturday, the home team saw victory slip away into bitter defeat, when the Bel Air team staged a sensational rally in the last two times at bat. Before the smoke had cleared away in the eighth, Elkton led by one scant run. In the last inning, Bel Air took up the torch again, and completed the job. The final score was 7-6. It was a heart-breaking game for the Elkton boys to lose. As a result they are now in second place in the race.

Elkton had five errors chalked up against them—something very unusual for Boulden's men. These misplays during the last two frames, combined with savage hitting by Bel Air batters, sewed up the verdict. As usual, the Cecil Countians went out to a lead in the first inning, and kept pecking away at Baldwin all through the early stages of the game. Dyed-in-the-wool fans wept and strong men moaned in dismay when their favorites failed to stop the onslaught of the visitors.

One bright spot in the gloom, however, was Cleaver Potts, earnest and hardworking catcher for Elkton. Cleaver stepped up to the plate four times and slammed out four clean hits, for a perfect day at bat. His hitting and general all round good work featured the game. Dutch Robinson and Peterson contributed two hits apiece to the totals. Arrants yielded fourteen hits to Bel Air batters, and Elkton gathered eleven, making it a good slugger match all the way through. The box score:

Other "Susky" Results
Elk Mills took a terrible drubbing at the hands of Perryville Saturday last, losing the verdict by a 10-1 score. The Perryville batsmen swarmed over the offerings of three Elk Mills twirlers for 13 hits, and whaled out 7 runs in one inning.

On Wednesday last, Perryville beat Elk Mills in the first playoff game for the first half championship, and Saturday's game by no means boosted the up-county boys' stock. Score by innings:

Perryville	0 1 0 7 0 0 2 0—10 13 3

Batteries—Elk Mills, Foster, Jackson, Allen and Spence; Perryville, Robinson and Bailey.

Aberdeen copped a nip and tuck struggle with Havre de Grace, 9-7, by means of a 6-run rally in the eighth inning. The score by innings:

Aberdeen	0 0 0 1 0 2 0 6—9 6 2
Havre de Grace	2 2 1 0 1 0 0 1—7 7 5

OPPOSING STARS DON'T BOTH FIVE POINTS

Naylor's Men Overwhelm Diamond State Team Saturday, 22-5

The fact that Diamond State was advertised to be the ultimate winners of the second half County League banner, together with minute descriptions of the various stars which infest their lineup had little effect on the Five Points team Saturday. Perhaps they never read the descriptions. The Pointers went right to work and demolished the Staters' fondest hopes right off the pulley, score 22-5. The figures don't exactly tell the story of the slaughter. It was worse than the box score.

Johnny Naylor celebrated his team's return to the House of Swat by connecting with five consecutive hits during the game, which is probably a

DELAWARE BOYS SWEEP HONORS AT PLATTSBURG R. O. T. C. ENCAMPMENT

The high military standards of the University of Delaware have been shown by the work of cadets at the R. O. T. C. Infantry Camp, Plattsburg Barracks, N. Y.

Not only did the students from the University of Delaware win the trophy in the Inter-collegiate Rifle Match, but they stood first in the machine gun and pistol shooting.

The inter-collegiate rifle match trophy was competed for by teams picked from the different colleges having men at the camp. It was won by the Delaware team with a total score of 1050.

The Delaware team was composed of the following men: J. P. Skeewis, Milford, Del.; W. M. Donaldson, Wilmington, Del.; W. S. Jackson, Dover, Del.; G. H. Shuster, Elkton, Md.; H. C. Lowber, Dover, Del.

At 200 yds slow fire, R. P. Rinard, of Wilmington, Del., fired for H. C. Lowber.

J. P. Skeewis not only led the Delaware team in this match but had the highest individual score of the match, making 224 points out of a possible 250.

In the Machine Gun Record Practice firing, Delaware led the camp, qualifying the following men: Expert—Russell P. Hunt, Aldan, Pa.; John MacMurray, Newark, Del.

First Class—Howard C. Hurrif, Elmer, N. J.

Second Class—Albert V. Krewatch, Delmar, Del.; Vincent E. Tempone, Philadelphia, Pa.; Ralph S. Siegrist, Hollyoak, Del.

The score of Russell P. Hunt, 311, was the highest at the camp. In Pistol Record Practice Course, Delaware again stood first, making the following qualifications:

Sharpshooters—G. M. Gum, Frankford, Del.; P. Rinard, Wilmington.

Marksman—J. H. Deputy, Milford, Del.; K. J. Crothers, North East, Md.; R. W. Jones, Wilmington, Del.

Here again, the high man, G. M. Gum, was shigh man for the entire camp.

The students in this year's camp have set up a high mark for those in next year's camp to shoot at.

KLAN MEETS IN CECIL Parade Through Chesapeake City As Part of Program

What was reported to have been an unusually large meeting of the Ku Klux Klan was held last Thursday night along the Elkton-Chesapeake City Road, near the latter town. Burning crosses, fireworks and a parade were features of the gathering. A large class was reported to have been initiated into the Order.

"Religion Is Betting Your Life On God", Says Dr Hugh Black

Famous Scotsman Thrills Hearers By Wonderful Sermon Sunday Evening In Wolf Hall

Dr. Hugh Black, one of the most important figures in the Presbyterian Church, and an internationally known theologian, thrilled a local audience which packed Wolf Hall last Sunday evening. He spoke at the second of a series of union religious services being held in conjunction with the Summer School here.

Dr. Black, a Scotsman from head to foot, eloquent, and fascinating, inspired his audience with thoughts and doctrines of utmost simplicity.

He chose for his subject "Faith." But he approached it in a far different manner than was expected. He went further, "The Foundation of Faith" was his real topic—and back of that—"What is Faith?"

Bringing his subject squarely to the minds of laymen, he outlined faith in Science, in the business world, in our social life, and in our spiritual existence. He drove home point after point through sound, sensible reasoning built upon his splendid methods of thinking through the problems.

Dr. Black stated that "the man who walks the road of Science, has Faith and doesn't know it. He must have faith in his own thinking machine, faith in the continuity of nature. In short, he takes a whole lot for granted whenever he starts an experiment. But he says he is a scientist—he proves things practically."

"Those men, and I know one of them, are has beans," said Dr. Black.

Betting Our Lives

Dr. Black perhaps inspired his hearers more than at any other time, when he told of the faith in the trenches during the war. He said that out of the few real books which came out of the War, there was one which had the trenches for its scenes, Hankey's "A Student In Arms." Faith was there. Through the squalor, dirt and despair of the firing lines, there was a faith in Something—a confidence in Someone. The author called it "betting your Life on God."

The speaker showed that he was first of all a believer in the Fundamentals of religion. "This thing, Faith," he said, "I can't prove it to you—but I believe it."

Continuing he said, "Those who say that Christianity is false; that religion is unfounded—they can't prove anything they claim. And what do I say about it? I say that I'll die before I believe them."

Interspersed throughout his sermon

Dr. Black Defines the Term Faith

In the course of his sermon in Wolf Hall Sunday evening, Dr. Hugh Black defined in his own way the term Faith. He said: "Faith is the venture the soul makes in Life, on the World, and upon God."

were bits of true Scottish wit, which, combined with the strong burr of his accent made listening to him a delight. In speaking of a congregation he presided over in Scotland years ago, he enumerated some of the types, and professions, represented in his pews, ending up his list with a reference to "old ladies—of both sexes."

Dr. Black was introduced by Rev. H. Everett Hallman, pastor of the Presbyterian Church here. Rev. Hallman pronounced the invocation and presided at the service. Prof. W. A. Wilkinson announced from the platform the coming events in the Summer School lecture series.

The audience joined wholesomely in singing two old favorite hymns. Miss Nell B. Wilson, organist at the Presbyterian Church here, accompanied.

Sacred Concert Pleases

One of the most pleasing of the summer concerts was that given by an instrumental trio preceding the service Sunday evening. The artists were Harry E. Stausebach, violin; Bertrand Austin, cellist; and John A. Thoms, Jr., at the piano.

Perhaps their most appreciated number was Massenet's little "Air De Ballett," played with a splendid interpretation by the three men.

Mr. Strausebach procures a beautiful tone from his instrument and charmed the audience by his solo. He played "Reverie" by Svendsen.

Other number which were exceptionally well done were "Songs Without Words" by VanGoens, and "Romance" by DeBussey.

Wolf Hall Filled

Long before the hour for the service, Wolf Hall held a comfortable crowd. When Dr. Black started to speak, practically every seat in the auditorium was taken and scores stood or sat in the lobby. The ushers from the Presbyterian Church handled the throng well.

TENNIS TOURNEY AT DU PONT CLUB SOON

Tennis players of the State of Delaware are invited to enter the Delaware State Clay Court Championships which will be held at the duPont Country Club in Wilmington, from July 19 to July 26. This championship tennis tournament has been authorized by the National Lawn Tennis Association, and is the only official tournament which will be held in the State of Delaware this year.

The entrants' fees are $1.50 for men's singles; $1.50 for women's singles; $2.00 per team for men's doubles and $2.00 per team for women's doubles.

The duPont Country Club announces that on the evening of July 19 there will be a dinner and dance at the duPont Country Club to which all entrants are invited. The courtesies of the Club are extended to all contestants during the time of the tournament. Entries should be sent to Miss Ethel Macklem, Assistant Secretary, duPont Country Club.

LEVY COURT SETTLES ELSMERE POLICE ROW

Edict Grows Out of Alleged Overzealousness of Officer

Elsmere's town commissioners must provide police protection for motorists on the streets of that town, except the Capital Trail, according to an edict of the New Castle County Levy Court. As a result, A. M. Fooks, county officer at Richardson Park, who has been doing duty as a traffic officer at the Five Points baseball diamond along the duPont road, Elsmere, will not be called on to perform such duties again. The main highway through Elsmere is policed by the county police force.

The edict directing Elsmere to police its own streets followed an argument between Fooks and an official of Wilmington at the baseball diamond two weeks ago.

MIDDLETOWN TAXPAYERS LOSE LIGHTING INJUNCTION SUIT

Chancellor Wolcott has handed down an opinion in Chancery Court dismissing the bill filed and argued some time ago by a group of Middletown taxpayers who sought an injunction to restrain the Mayor and City Council of the town from entering a contract for the installation of a new light and pumping plant in the town.

The agreement tentatively arranged between the Mayor and Council and Fairbanks, Morse and Company provides that the new power plant could be rented by the town for three years at an expense of $11,356.80 a year. At the expiration of the third year the town could purchase the plant for $1. At the end of the second year the plant could be purchased by the town for $11,140.01 and at the end of the first year for $21,598.25.

At the present time the town has what is characterized as an "anti-quated and worn out" power plant which is expensive to operate. The Council contended that the modern plant was very greatly needed.

The complainants who filed the bill for an injunction are Edith Cochran, William Price, Julian H. Fourd and May B. Janvier.

Started As Messenger;
Now Gets $100,000 a Year

"Pat" Crowley, since leaving the farm, has advanced from an Erie Railroad messenger boy to president of the New York Central lines. His new position is said to carry a salary of $100,000 a year. There are still many opportunities to rise as Crowley did. They are more easily grasped if the young man builds a reserve as he climbs. Build yours here.

GIVING MORE TO GET MORE

This Store makes no pretense of being a charitable institution—we are in the clothing business to make a living.

To be entitled to make a living we must render you service. By service we mean selecting good merchandise for you, and selling it to you at the lowest possible price.

This "lowest possible price" must cover the cost of the goods and the cost of selling.

The cost of the goods we can control only indirectly. We keep it down by buying from firms who, because of their immense volume of business, can, and do, produce fine clothes more cheaply than any manufacturers we know of.

Keeping down the cost of selling is our job. That includes rent, salaries, heat, light, insurance, taxes and all the other expenses of operating a store.

All these go on whether the store is busy or not, and the cost must come out of what we sell, whether the articles are many or few.

The only way to keep the cost down is to sell more goods.

And the way to sell more goods is to give greater values.

Most merchants want to give greater values; intend to do so when they can sell enough goods to justify it.

This store has the courage to give you the values first and depend on your appreciation for the greater business.

We are now determined to increase our business very greatly this season and are lowering our prices on the assumption that we are going to do it. You'll get the values anyhow, whether we get the business or not.

Come in and let us show you how much more we are giving you now—in the hope that by so doing we may get more later on.
