THE HISTORY OF DANBURY

Does not reveal another instance of as rapid growth in a local business as that of this house. From the smallest beginning in a side street it has, by thrift and industry, grown steadily, until now it ranks second to none in this neighborhood; handling more goods and a larger variety than any other.

Its great secret of success, aside from constant and careful attention to business, has been the popular cash plan by which the best goods can be had at lower prices than second and lower grade goods usually cost. Their patronage extends already for miles around Danbury and is constantly extending. Those never having dealt with them will act in their own interest by going there.

The Cleveland Leader Dictionary

is the handsomest and most valuable premium ever given gratis with a weekly newspaper. It contains 320 pages neatly bound in cloth, giving correct pronunciation, spelling and definition of 25,000 WORDS in the English language, with many illustrations. The work was compiled from the standard unabridged Dictionary of the United States and printed by the LEADER PRINTING COMPANY, with the consent of owners of the copyright.

Every Family, every Merchant, every Mechanic, every Farmer, every School Boy or Girl, every Teacher should have a copy for handy reference, when it can be obtained gratis by every yearly subscriber, by mail, to the Weekly, Tri-Weekly or Daily Leader.

The Cleveland Leader now occupies a high rank among the most largely circulated newspapers in the United States. The quality and quantity of its telegraphic news, its interesting stories and selected miscellany, editorials, scientific and religious matter is equal to that of any of the metropolitan papers.

The Farm and Garden and Home Department, of the LEADER commend themselves to every reader. The Commercial Editor of the LEADER is the most experienced man of his profession in Cleveland, and one whose judgment can not be warped by influence of interested parties. The Market Reports of the LEADER are therefore not only complete but reliable.

THE LEADER maintains exclusive News Bureaus at Columbus and Washington, as well as a large and efficient corps of regular correspondents in all leading towns and cities, consequently the readers of the LEADER are supplied with the freshest and most reliable news in advance of all competitors.

Let it be understood,
Mr. Kabyle is good,
Though his teeth do resemble a saw-fish's;
And Kabyle, his son,
Is a very sweet one,
Who often a candy-stick for wishes.

But good Mr. Kabyle
Should know he is able
To give him what's better than candy;
He should let the boy use
SOLLERS' "Silver Tip." shoes,
For they are both handsome and handy.

KIND friends, before buying Shoes you should consult SOLLERS & CO., 636 Arch Street. They manufacture the "Stockwell Tip," "Sole-Leather Tip," and Protection-Toe Shoes for Children,—superior to any others made in the city. Remember, 636 Arch Street is the only place to buy them.
