Dear Dannie:

I am sending you herewith a copy of a statement which Lamar Fleming, who is now the head of Anderson, Clayton and Co. in Houston and who worked with the Randall Commission, made on February 1 before the National Cotton Council of America. I am sure you will be very much interested in reading it. I am also sending you a copy of a letter which I have sent to Mr. Fleming, who is an old friend of mine.

The firm of Anderson, Clayton and Co. of Houston, which is the principal firm in cotton I think in the world, was formerly headed by Will Clayton, who retired several years ago. Mr. Fleming, who was a senior partner, is now head of the firm. He is a man of very real capacities, as this statement shows.

Believe me, with all good wishes,

Cordially and faithfully yours,

D. N. Heineman, Esq.,
Deer Park,
Greenwich, Connecticut.
